FAVOR CHANGE OF SCHOOL DATES

ALL THE SCHOOLS VISITED SEEM TO FAVOR CHANGE OF DATES FOR SCHOOLS TO BEGIN

CROP SEASON OF PLAINS NECESSITATES CHANGE

Since Cotton Farming Has Become More Common It Is Found That Labor Problems Are To Be Solved And Interests Of Children Protected

Tuesday, March 2, in company with Judge Moore, Mr. Webb, president of the County School Board, and Mr. Sheely and Mr. Crump, members of the board, Mr. Moine, photographer, Mr. A. B. Conley, of the Conley store, Mr. Ellis, cashier of the Security State Bank and Trust Company, R. E. Karper, superintendent of the State Experimental Farm, Carroll Thompson, county Farm Demonstration agent, and Miss Halsey, a trip was made through the northeastern portion of the county, on the same mission as was outlined in the articles of last week.

Center School

This was the first school visited on this day, and is located about eighteen miles northeast of Lubbock and is being superintended by Mr. Monroe Pevehouse. It is a remodeled building to conform with the requirements of the State. In addition to the improvements on the school building, the trustees had a neat and comfortably constructed teaching, which in no distant future time will be necessary at every rural school. We did outrun the balance of the party, and arrived at the school in advance of the rest of the bunch and had an opportunity of observing some of the work of the school pupils, and if Mr. Pevehouse is as successful in teaching all the subjects as he is in the classes in written and oral arithmetic, there need be no fear among the patrons of the success of their children in making good their time in school, this year.

Only a few patrons of this school were present to hear the discussions of the subject which occasioned the visit, the matter was unanimously endorsed by patrons, teachers and pupils after it had been fully explained by Mr. Webb. After the school matters were discussed and that part of the program was over Mr. Karper explained some of the work of the Experiment Station and especially the one that is located near Lubbock. As on the day previous he explained to the people of Center that the station is offering to supply every school in Lubbock county with trees grown at the station in sufficient quantities to plant the grounds. All that is necessary to secure the trees, is for the trustees to plat the school grounds and come to the station and get the number necessary for their school, and see that the trees are properly cared for. This is certainly a great opportunity for the schools to get a fine lot of trees at practically no cost, and trees that are acclimated to this section, and are likely to do better than trees from other sections of the State. Messrs. Conley and Ellis voiced the sentiment of the business men and banks of Lubbock, toward the work being done by the rural schools the clubs and after this Mr. Thompson spoke of the club work, assuring the boys that there would be greater inducement to the club members this year than ever before and urged as many as would be ready to compete for prizes when the county fair is held this fall. Miss Halsey also urged the girls to get busy in their club work as there will be equally as attractive prizes offered in their line as for the boys. After these talks a discussion of poultry was entered into and many interesting things were said among which was a statement from Mr. Pevehouse to the effect that his farm flock of poultry was producing about $60 worth of eggs per month.

Bledsoe School

We were late arriving at Bledsoe, but they were kind enough to wait for us and, oh people, you should have seen and partaken of that dinner they had prepared for our coming. There was a large crowd present, but there was dinner and to spare for all who came, and a general good time was had.

Bledsoe, like Center, was a remodeled building, but is modern in every respect, and entirely adequate to the present needs of the community. This was not so however, till another room was added this year. Three teachers are employed in this school, Miss Althea Fulton, Miss Marjorie Lyon and Mrs. Luce. This splendid school has sanitary drinking fountains for the children. After dinner the various visitors made talks along the same lines as outlined for Center, and the school question was favorably voted upon, and the party took their leave, and departed for the next scheduled for the day.

Idalou School

Idalou was the last stop for Tuesday. This place is about twelve miles northeast of Lubbock on the Crosbyton branch of the Santa Fe, and it is a thriving little village with churches, stores, garage, lumber yard, nice little depot and several hundred progressive, wide awake citizens. Last year they built a splendid brick school house to replace the old wooden building which had become too small for the school requirements. This school has experienced a wonderful growth which shows how rapidly that part of the county is settling up and what progress the little town of Idalou is making. Three years ago there were only thirty-five pupils enrolled, with two teachers over them. This year there are 195 pupils enrolled and five teachers are employed in the school. When the new building is fully equipped, which will be soon, Idalou will have one of the best equipped schools in the county, outside of the city schools in Lubbock and Slaton.

The Idalou school is under the efficient supervision of Mr. C. R. Beane, Miss Bratcher, Miss Paige, Miss Martin and Mrs. Beane. The general line of speeches were made and very profitable discussions were entered into, during which it was learned that the school has a pig, which pig is receiving the closest attention from members of the school, and there will no doubt be some great developments in pig club work as a result of this visit. We hit the trail for home from this point and arrived in Lubbock just a few minutes before the sun sank behind the Western horizon marking the end of another perfect day, so many of which are experienced on the great South Plains.

Wednesday--Vaughn School

Wednesday the personnel of the party changed up a bit and the following left Lubbock about nine o'clock to visit three more of the splendid schools of the rural districts: Judge Moore, J. P. Webb, W. O. Sheely, J. W. Ellison, Carroll Thompson, Miss Halsey, Mr. Moine, Mr. Meskimen and the Avalanche man. The day's schedule included Vaughn, Monroe and Caldwell. We arrived at Vaughn just about the time for recess period in the morning, and the period was spent in playing ball, taking pictures of the school and building, using the visitors as a background. Play time ended, we assembled in one of the class rooms, of the school building, which is a good building, remodeled and fully up to the State requirements, and the object of the meeting was outlined by Judge Moore. He was followed by Miss Halsey who presented the girls' club work, showing one of the new style club aprons, which will be part of the sewing work of the club girls this year. Mr. Thompson then talked briefly to the club boys about becoming members of the various clubs, and assuring them of the substantial prizes that would be offered by the banks and from other sources. Mr. Meskimen then assured them that the Chamber of Commerce was very much interested in the success of the schools and the fair, and told them of plans to form the South Plains Fair Association which would have plenty of exhibition space for all exhibitors this fall and offered every encouragement possible to the boys and girls to do their dead level best to have an exhibit on hand at the fair this fall. At this point the Avalanche was given an opportunity to express his appreciation for the patronage of the good people of that community, and the news items furnished by the school, and to assure them the Avalanche is tooth and nail for every progressive movement.

We were followed by Mr. Webb who spoke of the proposition the school board had in regard to changing the time of the opening of the schools. He explained as at other places about the work on the farm, the hard time the farmer had in securing competent help, and the extreme high prices of labor, and other members of the board—Mr. Sheely and Mr. Ellison also spoke briefly on the same subject after which Judge Moore invited expression from the few patrons and trustees that were present also from the children. The majority seemed favorable to the proposition though some were not altogether sure of its being the proper thing to do, but like all Westerners are willing to abide by the majority, and are for everything that will make better the schools and for the betterment of the country.

We excused ourselves from this school and left facing one of the worst sand storms from the northwest that we have ever had in a long time, bound for Monroe.

Monroe School

After battling against the wind all the way from Vaughn to Monroe, we arrived without accident at the splendid brick school building that the people of Monroe built last year. There was a good attendance of the pupils at this school, and they had turned out for the noon period. Quite a number of the patrons and the trustees were present with their families and in response to Judge Moore's request for "an inexpensive lunch" for the visitors, they had brought out a sumptuous spread. A long string of seats were backed up in the center of the hall and there was served a sure enough good dinner, and there was plenty and to spare of meats, salads, cakes, pies, etc., and all enjoyed it to the fullest extent.

After the meal the teachers, Misses Cox and Greenhill assembled the school pupils in the auditorium, this by the way, is one of the best we have seen in the rural schools of the county, and there together with the parents and trustees, the visitors proceeded to expound their artillery of oratory in a promiscuous manner.

Judge Moore had heretofore made quite a lengthy introduction of the mission of the party but at this particular time he was very brief and we have been wearying in the tremendous dinner that he ate had to do with abbreviating his speech or the race he had after his hat which insisted in going back to Vaughn. In any event, he asked Mr. Webb to speak on the subject, which he did, giving an outline of the plans and closed by asking an expression from the patrons, trustees and pupils on the question, and we believe it was unanimously in favor of the change. Mr. Sheely was too full for utterance, while Mr. Ellison managed to muster enough energy to refute the statement made by Mr. Webb that the members of the board were all farmers and lived on the farm except Mr. Ellison, who had become rich enough to move to town and retire from the arduous duties of tilling the soil. He did not deny moving to town, but did deny having quit the farm. Mr. Meskimen of the Chamber of Commerce then came forth and in his easy silvery tongued manner told of the plans of the Chamber of Commerce in helping the schools, the clubs and all matters that pertain to the development of the country. Following him, the Avalanche man was again turned loose on the innocent hearers and for something less than an hour held the audience spell bound trying to figure out what we were talking about, but managed to wind up by thanking the ladies for the fine dinner and assuring them that we were "fer them right or wrong," and assured them that an invitation to come back at any future date would be given favorable consideration. The Avalanche has a bunch of strong admirers (we mean the paper) in the Monroe community, and we certainly appreciate the many kind compliments from the people of that vicinity. Mr. Thompson then gave the club boys some dots on their work and Miss Halsey challenged his statement that the boys were going to beat the girls (if they can). Our visit to this school must now come to an end, and we headed our cars toward Caldwell, the next place on the schedule for the day.

Caldwell School

It only required a few minutes to cover the distance between Monroe and Caldwell, the wind had rose again, however, and as we drove up in front of the school building which is a tent, the wind was at its worst. We were warmly welcomed by the teacher Miss Cox, and several of the patrons of the school, who had gathered there to meet the party and hear what they had to say on the proposition. Judge Moore introduced the subject and also the various speakers, and regardless of the flopping of the tent in the wind, Mr. Meskimen spoke to the school regarding the interest the Chamber of Commerce has in the schools and the clubs, and closely following him all the other speakers had a turn and delivered practically the same speeches as at previous meetings, and the school and all the patrons present unanimously agreed that the changing of dates from September first to December first would be better. Mr. Moine braved the wind and took a photograph of the school using their present quarters as a background, which will be quite a contrast to the splendid brick building they are going to build. The people of this community, as we have explained in these columns before, faced a serious proposition when time for opening school came around, inasmuch as they had contracted for the new building—had all the material on the ground—had sold their old building which had been moved away, and the contractor failed to start the building, on account of the scarcity of labor, which left it up to the trustees to either miss the entire school term or use a tent. Rather than choose the former, they decided to start in the tent, and the brave little woman who was to teach was equal to the emergency, and has taught a most successful term. After the visitors had spoken and their part of the program was over, the teacher made the statement that a number of the children had prepared speeches for a former occasion and on account of conditions were disappointed in delivering them, she had promised them they might on this occasion, so we enjoyed their program, after which we pulled in toward home completing another day's schedule, covering three more of Lubbock county's fine rural schools.

LUBBOCK COMMANDERY K. T. HAVE LARGE INITIATION HERE

Probably one of the largest classes ever gotten together in West Texas will be in our city Friday and Saturday nights of this week to be initiated in the Knight Templar's Degree of the Masonic Commandery. Visitors are expected here from Spar and other surrounding towns. About twenty-five or thirty men will be here to participate in the initiation.

J. C. DUFF AND FAMILY MOVE TO PLAINVIEW

J. C. Duff and family left this week for Plainview where they will make their home in the future. Mr. Duff informs us that he has purchased a furniture store in that city from his brother and that his son, Riley, who was formerly in the furniture business in this city, is now in charge of the new business.

Ben Price of Eldorado, Oklahoma, passed through here the first of this week enroute to Lorens, where he was called to attend the bedside of his sister, Mrs. L. J. Mathis, who is seriously ill.

LUBBOCK PROMISED NEW $100,000 SANITARIUM

At a meeting called by citizens of this city last Monday evening in the Court House, a movement was started that had for its purpose an assurance of a new modern sanitarium which is promised to Lubbock in the very near future. Drs. W. L. Baugh and R. J. Hall, practicing physicians of this city, and C. J. Wagner, well known surgeon who was formerly with the West Texas Sanitarium, were present and no doubt will consist of the men under whose management the new institution will be operated.

C. A. Burris, assistant cashier of the Citizens National Bank, was elected temporary chairman of the meeting Tuesday evening and a discussion of the plans to be outlined and worked upon took up the greater portion of the evening. There were subscriptions taken also Monday evening and we are informed that approximately half of the total amount wanted was subscribed, thus assuring that within a very short time a charter will be applied for and the additional stock sold, ready for the commencement of the construction on the new building.

A board of directors were elected, comprising the following which were furnished to us: W. K. Dickinson, Sr., J. T. Brown, W. A. Carlisle, M. C. McCrummen, S. B. Arnett, E. P. Earhart, George R. Bean (who is the attorney appointed), Dr. C. J. Wagner, Dr. W. L. Baugh, Dr. R. J. Hall and Ura Embry, vice president of the Citizens National Bank, who will serve the new organization in the capacity of trustee.

It will be the plans and the purpose of the promoters of the new institution to solicit the patronage of the whole South Plains country and it is also their plans to ask many people of the different sections to become members or stockholders in the new institution. The business of this institution will be strictly under the supervision of the permanent directors which are to be elected by the stockholders. A competent business manager for the sanitarium is promised by the promoters.

Under the present construction plans, with the new institution Lubbock will have two of the best equipped sanitariums in the State, two that will help in making this city the permanent headquarters of the big things of West Texas.

RANGER CAPITALISTS BUY MERRILL HOTEL BUILDING

One of the largest deals in the city of Lubbock this year, was closed last Saturday when Messrs. Jones and Hodges, two wealthy oil men of Ranger purchased the Merrill Hotel building from M. E. Merrill. The entire consideration is reported to us as being $100,000.00, $80,000.00 being paid outright for the building and $20,000.00 paid to Messrs. Bauers and Kelley for their unexpired lease and possession of the hotel April 1st this year.

Under the terms of the recent sale we learn that the buyers have promised to remodel this building by laying tile floors, re-tinting the walls, the erection of another story and the installation of a fine water system. It is said that the buyers will start this work on the building in April, probably finishing it before the hotel opens again for business.

With the location of this property it provides one of the best in the city. This hotel has been the mecca for traveling men and cattlemen of the South Plains since its erection some few years ago. At the time it was built, it was doubtful whether or not Lubbock could afford a hotel of such proportions. Today under the present existing conditions, we find this city in a helpless condition for the proper care of transient people and visitors. The city now demands the reconstruction of this once "too large hotel" and also the erection of another.

Messrs. Bauers and Kelly, who have been managing this hotel, will give possession April 1st. It is not the intentions of either of these men to leave our city. Mr. Bauers has purchased ranch property and informs us that he will probably move there permanently in the future. Mr. Kelly will probably remain in the city and enter into another business.

LAWYER BURTON SHOT AND KILLED TUESDAY MORNING

Judge J. W. Burton, well known practicing lawyer and the first man to settle in the present town of Crosbyton, was shot by one of his employees named Sam Cates, at the former's home in that city Tuesday evening. A shot gun was used, two shots being fired, one barely bruising the right arm near the shoulder and the other taking effect in the left side ranging upward. Burton lingered unconsciously until about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning.

As the preliminary trial was waived by Cates, nothing of actual facts is known, although it has been told that the shooting occurred directly after the arrival of Cates and Mrs. Burton from this city Monday evening about 10 o'clock. It is said that Mrs. Burton had been in Lubbock receiving medical treatment in a sanitarium and that Monday Judge Burton requested Cates to drive over here and accompany Mrs. Burton home. A quarrel evidently followed on their arrival when the shooting occurred.

Cates is a young man, probably 22 or 23 years of age. It is said that he had been formerly implicated in the death of another man and it was through the efforts of Judge Burton, who was his counsel at the time, that he escaped imprisonment, and

A LUBBOCK TO SILVERTON RAILROAD

TWO ENTHUSIASTIC MEETINGS HELD MONDAY NIGHT AND TUESDAY MORNING

RAILROAD PROMOTER WILL REMAIN IN LUBBOCK

Committees Are Appointed To Perfect Permanent Organization Preparatory to Securing Charter For Road—Visitors Prefer Lubbock.

A delegation of interested business men representatives of the sentiment of the town of Lockney, Petersburg and Silvertown, accompanied by Mr. Soontag, railroad promoter were in our city Monday of this week. They were met and welcomed by a representation of the Directors of the local Chamber of Commerce. Arriving here late Monday afternoon, the Chamber of Commerce entertained the gentlemen at the Elk Cafe, then met in consultation with them at the county court room. Those present from the above towns named, were: Fred Bell, J. A. Dane and R. E. Douglas, three merchants of Silvertown, and J. N. O. Burson, president of the First National Bank of the same city. F. C. Goodman, county official of Briscoe county and A. E. Frieze, real estate dealer of the same county, also France Baker, president of First National Bank of Lockney and Judge Thompson of the same city.

These men made known immediately after the session opened Monday night their desires and wishes for a railroad connection, also the fact that they wanted this connection with Lubbock and preferred it to any other, although they would gladly accept connections with any point. Several talks were made by the different visitors, bearing mostly upon the fact that they had a rich and productive country and that it could only be developed by connections with a railroad. It has been experienced by the men of Briscoe county, we were told Monday evening, that farmers were absolutely unable to raise two successful crops succeeding and sell their crops by reason as was said that "it practically takes a year to haul a crop to market."

There has been purchased by parties of Briscoe county more than fifty trucks for hauling purposes during the past year and they would purchase at least that number for the coming year.

The country has hardly entered the field of agriculture, yet it possesses a soil equal "to any of that on the plains." Their desires for a railroad connection is equal to that only demanded by the progress of agricultural development.

A concrete proposition was not made Monday evening by Mr. Soontag, who proposes to manage and promote it, to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce. The evening was spent mostly in discussion of the feasibility of building a road connecting Lubbock and Silvertown. The visitors named were anxious for an expression from the Chamber of Commerce of a representation of the sentiments of the citizens of our city. Mr. Peck of Concordia, Kansas, who is president of the Farmers National Bank of this city, and who was instrumental in bringing Mr. Soontag and the visitors to a meeting with our people, was called upon for a discussion of the proposed road and to give his expression as to the country through which the road would run. Mr. Peck had been in the Silvertown community several days preceding Monday and has had occasion to thoroughly investigate the conditions of that section. In his talk Monday evening he told of how when he went to Kansas, that the wind-swept prairies were thought to be only a practical desert and that it was a grave possibility of that country ever developing. He gave the visitors at the meeting a verbal vision of that country's development brought about by the action of the railroads. He then told of the same experiences in Oklahoma's development and closed by remarking that it was his candid opinion "that no soil in the two states had anything on the soil of the Silvertown country and the country through which the new road would pass. It was Mr. Peck's opinion that the haulage of the road would be great enough to justify the building, giving one reason of the fact that it had been said that if the freight traffic through which the Silvertown country derived its provisions were cut off from its present source, that the traffic of the present town would be cut half into.

later was hired by Judge Burton. The remains of Burton were prepared by the Rix Furniture and Undertaking Company Tuesday and the body, accompanied by Mrs. Burton and Judge Dalton, a close friend of the deceased, was shipped to Ottumwa, Iowa, Wednesday, the place of the Judge's birth. Burton was born in that State in September, 1873.

Dr. A. R. Ponton of the Lubbock sanitarium, was called to Crosbyton directly after the tragedy, to attend the wounded man. Tuesday, District Judge Spencer of this city and District Attorney Gordon B. McGuire of Lamesa, were also in Crosbyton, evidently for the purpose of hearing a preliminary trial which was completed and Cates was brought to the Lubbock county jail.

There were two ladies in the Burton residence, relatives of either Mr. or Mrs. Burton at the time of the Nearly every business man of the city who was out that evening and the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, promised the Silvertown and Lockney delegation that they would receive the support of Lubbock in building the new road, if after investigation and careful deliberation it promised to be a sane and business undertaking. Mr. Klett, president of the Chamber of Commerce gave his assurance of the moral and financial support of the city if proper investigation proved it a good thing for the citizens of the city, telling them, "that it would be right for a concrete promise to be made before proper investigation, because the Chamber of Commerce now had the confidence of the citizens of this section and that it was their hopes and aims to protect this confidence by investigating thoroughly any proposition before stamping the approval of the Chamber of Commerce."

Another Meeting Tuesday Morning
Mr. Soontag promised to give financial reference satisfactory to the Chamber of Commerce and to make a more concrete proposition to the directors on Tuesday and the delegation from Silvertown and Lockney were requested to remain over until that date which they did.

Unfortunately, Mr. Soontag was taken sick Tuesday morning with heart trouble and was unable to be present at the meeting, although he had written out his proposition in a general way and which was submitted that morning for discussion. In effect the proposition as submitted by Mr. Soontag read: That at a capitalization of $1,500,000.00 the road could be constructed and offered his services as promoter and manager of the construction by receiving 3 per cent of the total cost of the construction; or that he would work for the organization to be perfected at a salary of $1000.00 per month.

A general discussion again followed the reading of the note from Mr. Soontag and more enthusiasm was aroused. Business men of the city expressed their willingness to back the undertaking of the new project shoulder to shoulder with all of the banks of the city, who were also represented at the meeting. Motion was made that a committee be appointed of five men of this city to confer and investigate further with Mr. Soontag and receive his financial reference and other preliminaries before calling a mass meeting of the townspeople. On this committee appointed, was O. L. Slaton, chairman, who is president of the Lubbock State Bank; C. E. Maedgen, president of the Security State Bank and Trust Company; L. T. Martin, vice president of the Farmers National Bank; H. T. Kimbro and A. C. May. After this committee had investigated matters, Silvertown and Lockney will be immediately informed and if it has a favorable outlook the citizens of this city will probably be called together in a mass meeting, where they have the reputation of "putting it over every time."

It is now the plans to build the proposed road over the old grade built here several years ago before Lubbock had a road and which caused the erection of the Santa Fe into this section at the time it was built. This grade is complete within a few miles of Silvertown, passing through the very heart of the "best agricultural lands of the three counties," and through Lockney terminating at Silvertown under the present plans. It is also thought that conditions will arise that will complete the construction of the road on to further territories connecting with trunk lines.

Other matters, equally important were spoken of Tuesday morning, one being the directors meeting of the Panhandle Short Line which is to be held at Dalhart in the coming month for the purpose of recapitalization for the purpose of building the road from Dalhart to this city and on to where? Lubbock will have a committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to attend this meeting to assure these people of the moral support of this section in the construction of their road.

More news as it develops will be published in this paper.

shooting. Mrs. Burton was probably the only witness to the occurrence. It is said that Judge Burton was conscious until the last and talked frequently and most of the evidence will probably come from the expression made by the dying man.

LOCAL PARTIES SHIPPING HOGS TO MARKET

Messrs. Joe Henderson of the northern part of Lynn county, and Harry Copeland of the southern part of this county, shipped a car of hogs to Fort Worth last Saturday for sale on Monday's market. Mr. Henderson will attend the Fat Stock Show in that city this week, returning home about Saturday.

Mrs. W. E. Walker of Bronco, Texas, is in the city for a few weeks visiting with friends.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Wild Turkey
For many years past, the months of November and December was the open season for hunting wild turkeys.
The last legislature changed this to the months of March and April.
Quite a number of Lubbock sportsmen go hunting in the wild sections of Southwest Texas and the following description and information about the Wild Turkey may prove of interest to them:

The Wild Turkey is the largest American game bird. They are natives of the Southern and some of the Eastern and Western States. All of them are Democrats, therefore, were never known to live in the Northern States. They were plentiful in the early days, but like the Indian and the buffalo, they passed slowly away in front of settlement and civilization. The few that are left range in the unsettled sections of the Southern States. Perhaps there are more of them along the Southwestern border of Texas than anywhere else. The Wild Turkey is the wildest and most cunning of all wild birds. Their sense of seeing is equal to that of the eagle. If they have curiosity, they never let it influence them when there is danger.
Antelope and other wild game will often linger in the vicinity of danger through curiosity to know what the dangerous object is. Not so with the Wild Turkey. When he sees an enemy, he leaves that place by a safe route and at once. He takes no chances. The Wild Turkey is seldom in danger of the hunter, so long as he does not yelp, strut or gobble.
With his body concealed by high grass, weeds or small bushes, and only his small neck and head exposed, he can not be seen by an enemy only at close range, while he can see the hunter a long way off. When a turkey sees a hunter in the distance he sneaks noiselessly out of sight and the hunter never knows he was there.

Many amateur hunters have come into camp from a long hunt and reported no turkeys in the range; and an old experienced hunter slip out the next day and come in with several turkeys.

The Wild Turkey is of a quiet and serious nature in all seasons except in the spring time; which is their courting and mating period. During this period they become to some extent, reckless. They yelp, strut, gobble and hold noisy social entertainments. It is easy for the hunter to locate them while this is going on.
An old hunter who can imitate their language well, can sneak into the range, hide behind a log or bank and call them to him during this reckless period; but the turkey seldom heeds these imitations of his language in other seasons of the year.

My hunting comrade and I pitched camp one evening on the bank of a large creek far away from the walks and talks of man. The absence of roads, the thick jungles and voice of many wild song birds was proof of the virginity of the country and delightful to the old hunter who loves the wild woods and original nature, unscarred by the pruning knife of Art. X I felt that perhaps not so many years ago, and on this same beautiful spot, an Indian brave had wooed his dusky maiden in the moonlight, told her that her eyes were soft and beautiful like those of the fawn, and that her figure was as graceful as that of the Gazelle. Told her the sweet and complete old story of love that has been handed down by romance through all the ages and races of men; how they would hand in hand roam these beautiful forests through life, and on to the happy hunting grounds together. Not so long ago, large herds of the great muffled buffalo roamed over these hills like waves of the ocean, and none but the red man was here to bask in these scenes of pure nature. But the white man came, and like a tidal wave, ever moving westward swept over this country and virgin nature vanished forever. I have diverged into a dream. Back to the subject.

After putting the camp in order,
John and I pocketed a supply of ammunition, loaded our guns and struck out on our evening hunt. John went up the bottom, following the meanderings of the creek. I skirted the foot hills where they joined the swamp. We kept each other located by signal. Occasionally I would holler in perfect imitation of the swamp owl and John would answer with the same sound. When I reached about one mile from camp, I got in the run of a dry branch where I could not be seen from a distance and imitated the wild turkey call.
Do not consider me vain when I say that I have never known a man that could make a better imitation of the wild turkey call than I. I can talk fluently in their very language. I can fool all the hunters and nearly all of the wild turkeys. I immediately heard an answer about three hundred yards up the branch.
After a short time I repeated the call several times and an answer scame back each time but it did not come any closer. An amateur would have imitated them there for an hour, expecting them to come every minute. I knew from long experience that there was a bunch of them who were satisfied with each other's company and would not go to a long distance call. I crept cautiously up the branch keeping well concealed behind its banks, for about two hundred yards; then I peeped over the bank.

About 100 yards away, I saw turkeys leisurely picking around under a hackberry tree. The ninth one, a large glossy gobbler, was standing a little apart from the others perfectly still and his head high. Evidently he was their sentinel. I made a low turkey call in a kind of confidential tone. The turkeys quickly huddled together and seemed to engage in a consultation. I knew they could not see me because, only from my eyes up was above the bank and that was obscured by some frasseled grass. It was between these blades of grass that I was looking and I was still as a king fisher on a button willow snag. It was interesting and exciting to watch those big, graceful wild birds in their natural movements when ignorant of immediate danger.
Few men have such an opportunity because 999 times out of a thousand the wild turkey sees the hunter first and is running or flying before the hunter sees them, if he sees them at all. After watching them a short time, I yelped again. Three of them answered at once and started toward me. A homely looking old brown hen back in the main bunch made a low cluck. Two of the three that had started toward me turned and went back to the bunch. I think I know what that old hen said. She told them that the call they heard was from strange, and probably dangerous company. The third one did not heed the old hen's warning, but came on yelping and frisking coquetishly every step. She evidently believed she would soon be enjoying herself in fast company. When she was in about fifty yards of me, I fired. Badly cri-pled, she scrambled off into the brush while the others flew away to safety. I had shot off her beautiful tail.
She was seen several times that winter by some trappers. She was always alone. On account of her horrid appearance, and the absence of her once beautiful tail, her former companions refused to associate with her.

MORAL: Young people, beware of fast company, and always heed warnings from your true friends.

REVISED CITY ORDINANCE WILL BE PUBLISHED SOON

A revised ordinance of the city of Lubbock, giving various information regarding the new standard of laws of the city, will be published in an early issue of the Avalanche. There will be several important matters that should be carefully read by our citizens, such as the ruling of the sanitary conditions of the city.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

As children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance, GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will thus throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

TO MY FRIENDS AND FORMER CUSTOMERS:

I have sold my business to Mr. West, of Post City, who now has the store in charge, and I wish to extend to you, one and all my hearty appreciation of the business you have given me during the past few years. Your liberal patronage enabled me to build up a fine business, and it was not through any lack of patronage that I disposed of my business, but purely a business proposition. I am still a citizen of Lubbock and expect to remain here, and shall ever have a warm spot in my heart for my friends and former customers in Lubbock.

Mr. West is a business man of experience, and he will appreciate your continued patronage, and I hope that you will be as liberal with him as you have been with me.

SHEEP AND WOOL GROWERS WILL HAVE MEETING HERE

An important meeting of the South Plains Sheep and Wool Growers' Association has been called to meet in this city March 16th, by the secretary-treasurer, Carroll Thompson. The meeting will be held at 2 p. m., that date, in the court house.

Many matters of vital importance are to be brought up to the members of the association. Plains will be worked out for the sale of wool and the wool, an election of officers for the coming year and other numerous and equally important topics to be discussed and passed upon by the association.

Arrangements have been perfected for securing the services of a specialist to be here at the meeting to talk to the members regarding various issues and especially the marketing of the wool crop and the best methods for sacking and caring for the wool. There will also be talks made relative to the best rations for feeding of the sheep.

The secretary urgently requests the members of this association to be present at the meeting, and especially extends an invitation to those of adjoining counties. It is thought now that at least one-half million pounds of wool will be stored in Lubbock this wool season.

H. H. Griffith returned Wednesday morning from Marietta, Ohio, and other points north, where he has spent several weeks.

PEOPLE WHO WANT YOUR VOTES IN JULY

This week a number of good men have signified a willingness to serve the "dear people" in various capacities as county officials, and here they are:

A. Judd has tossed his hat in the ring as a candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace Precinct number one, which office has been held by Mr. Fain for the past two years. Mr. Judd has been a citizen of Lubbock for a number of years and has boosted the town and helped in many ways to build up Lubbock and develop the country in general. He feels capable of taking care of the office and asks that you give his candidacy due consideration at the July primary. Mr. Judd expects to receive a good vote from the ladies especially.

B. W. Casey, who was appointed by the Commissioners' Court last fall to fill out the unexpired term of M. E. Merrill, announces this week for the office he is now filling, as commissioner of Precinct No. 1. He is proving himself an efficient officer, and has made a success of his own business and is therefore capable of taking care of the county's finances. He is a farmer, and a successful one, but proposes to spare enough of his time from the farm to look after the duties of the office and if elected, will look well after the county's interests.

M. M. Crawford also has an ambition to become connected with the Commissioners' Court, and believes he can serve well in that capacity. Mr. Crawford has been a citizen of Lubbock since 1893. He has been in various lines of business in Lubbock and for a number of years has conducted a plumbing business. He has been successful in a business way and is capable of filling the office. He is a Wilson Democrat and has always voted the Democratic ticket. He asks due consideration at the polls by both men and women and will appreciate the honor of serving the voters as their commissioner.

H. D. Talley of Slaton, elected two years ago to serve as County Commissioner of Precinct No. 2, asks for re-election to that office. Mr. Talley has made an efficient officer and has looked well and conservatively to the best interests of his constituency. He is progressive and believes in development of the country, and realizes that the county is just now at a very critical stage of development, and that much importance is attached to the Commissioner's office and will require much of his time, but is willing to sacrifice his own business interests to the extent necessary to carry on the affairs of the county in a business-like conservative manner, and we believe that the people will not find a man who is more competent than Mr. Talley to fill this office, and we doubt if he has an opponent.

B. N. Wheeler, business man of Idalou, yielding to the strong solicitation of his friends, announces this week for the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 3, which office has been so efficiently filled by L. O. Burford for several terms. Mr. Wheeler is not altogether inexperienced in the duties of commissioner, having served an appointive term as commissioner in one of the Oklahoma counties before coming to Texas. Mr. Wheeler has been a citizen of Lubbock county for three years, having been in business in Idalou ever since coming to the county. He has made quite a success of his business there, which shows his qualifications in a business way, and he said to the Avalanche man that he was willing that any voter investigate his record anywhere he had been, and if elected, it will be his policy to represent the people as he sees best for their general good, and give all parts of the county due consideration in all matters. He will appreciate due consideration of his claims at the July primary.

OVERLAND FOUR

This is to certify that on Sunday, February 22, 1920, I drove an Overland Four touring car from Amarillo, Texas to the place of business of the Texas Motor Sales Co., in Lubbock, Texas, a distance of 141 miles, as shown by the speedometer on said car, and only consumed five gallons of gasoline, making an average of more than twenty-eight (28) miles to the gallon of gasoline. This was a new car and had not been driven previous to this trip.

The Twentieth Century Club met Tuesday of this week in the ladies' parlor of the Methodist church. Mrs. Griswold as leader, presented the introduction to Shakespeare's "Tempest" in a most capable and helpful manner. The lessons are very interesting to those who attend.

Mrs. W. B. Powell proved a charming hostess to the K. K. Klub last Tuesday. A luncheon consisting of creamed shrimp on toast, hot nut bread sandwiches, olives, cheese balls, snow pudding, cake, coffee with whipped cream, was served at the noon hour. The following members enjoyed Bridge in the afternoon: Mesdames L. T. Martin, Neil Wright, Chas. Rush, L. H. McLarty, John Jarrott, J. J. Noone, O. L. Slaton and the hostess, Mrs. Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Briggs entertained the husbands and wives of the First Presbyterian church last Wednesday night, March 3rd. The occasion was one of delight from beginning to end. Old fashioned games created much merriment, reminding one of their childhood days. Refreshments of cheese straws, wafers, mince pie and whipped cream were served the following guests: Messrs. and Mesdames S. Wilson, C. E. Priest, Shelby Robbins, Curry, Fred Oliver, T. E. Duggan, T. H. Ellis, John Bacon, E. L. Robertson, L. C. Ellis, and Judge and Mrs. Spencer; Mesdames May, James, C. L. Wagner and Johnson. Mr. Priest captivated the entire company with the following clever toast which is reproduced:
Here's to the First Presbyterian church,
And each individual member;
Here's to those who are present,
The absent, Lord-help us to remember.

Here's to the whole bunch of us
Big, little, old and young
And may each help get a preacher,
That is second to none.

Here's to our new church building,
A gem, if all will do their best,
And not shirk from responsibility,
When it comes the time to test.

Here's to Mr. and Mrs. Briggs
And their minor heirs,
Who made this meeting possible
And let's remember them in our prayers.

Here's to Him above all,
When a fellow needs a lift
To remember that He is the giver,
Of every good and perfect gift.

The Auction Bridge Club will meet next Tuesday with Mrs. L. T. Martin.

Charles Ernest Maedgen Jr. was the honoree of a delightful birthday party given last Saturday afternoon by his mother, Mrs. C. E. Maedgen in their home on Post Office street. The afternoon was spent in playing games which so much delight the children's heart. The little guests were ushered into the dining room where they found their places by means of ribbon to which was attached a package containing all sorts of good things to eat. A beautiful birthday cake on which burned five lighted red candles, adorned the centre of the table, a candle for each year. On both sides of the cake a larger red candle in candle sticks, burned brightly, adding charm to the scene. Ice cream and cake were then served the following little guests: Fred Oliver, Jr., John Peebler, Kathleen Klett, Charlotte Hopkins, Ruth Wagner, Padgett Maddox, Mary Wilson, Frances Wilson, Felix Ballenger, Robert Karper, Jr., Edward Karper, Ruth Hutchinson, Thomas Hutchinson, Elisha Lenox Robertson, Annette Teel Jones, Martha Spencer, John Bill Spencer, Belin Egan, Kathleen Cole, Ruth Mildred Elyander, Dorothy Elyander, Aaron Pettit, Grace Rankin and the honoree, Charles was the recipient of many beautiful gifts from his little friends and they all departed wishing him many more happy birthdays.

Cheapness in Electrical Work Seldom Brings Satisfaction

There are so many ways that electrical work may be "skimped" by unreliable workmen that for your own protection you should see that your wiring is done by a thoroughly reliable firm.

Our policy has not been to see how close we can come to the minimum standard and "get by." We aim rather to give you BETTER WORK than is absolutely required—thus assuring you of complete satisfaction, for the future as well as for today.

Land Loans

Sooner or later you will likely consider putting a loan on your land and it is a thing you should not do hurriedly, until you consider carefully the terms and the company.

First, see that the options granted apply fully to all the notes, including all interest.

Second, know who will be holding the notes.

My people hold all their own notes, take only one deed of trust and will release portions of your land if you should sell off during the life of the loan. These are things more than important to you.

SHALLOWATER GIRLS SERVE DINNER TO COUNTY BOARD

Among the many courtesies shown the County Board and parties accompanying them on their recent tour of all the rural schools of Lubbock county, there was one dinner which caused a great deal of comment, due to the fact that it was a new thing to be seen in a rural school.

At Shallowater, under the direction of Miss Jewel Broadfoot, head of the department of music of that school, but also a specialist in domestic science, the older girls of the school served a delicious dinner to about sixteen visitors, including the members of the County Board, the County Judge, county agents and several business men of our city, the local trustees of the Shallowater school and other visitors.

The dinner was served in the blue room of this magnificent school which was set aside for the work done by the women and girls who are under the direction of Miss Halsey, Home Demonstration Agent. The good women of the Shallowater community are procuring funds to install equipment, a part of which has already been purchased and is now in use, to make this a regular domestic science room. We congratulate the thrifty people of the Shallowater community for providing a way and means for their girls to receive this training in their local school and we feel sure that other schools of this county will make their arrangements to prepare their children the same and equal opportunity.

If you live out of town and want a demonstration of Overland "4" call 213 or drop us a card and we will come to see you. We keep an expert mechanic and full line of parts to take care of our customers who buy one of these cars. Should he have an accident, he does not have to wait long to get it fixed. The car you will eventually buy. Texas Motor Sales Co. 372

Motion Pictures Are Silent Teachers

All kinds of pictures teach silently. Motion pictures teach more impressively than painted pictures. Parents must realize the fact that the movies are teaching children either good or evil. This is because motion pictures possess in a marked degree, the first quality essential to teaching—the element of interest. They often are accepted by children as greater authority than home, school or church.

Psychologists agree that it is the detail which instructs, rather than the long-drawn-out theme. A picture may end wholesomely and yet be unwholesome in its effect, if every detail is not pure. A thread of good running through a story is not sufficient. The texture must be all good if the effect is to be all good.

Children live the story depicted. They temporarily become the villain or hero, as the case may be, so strong is their imagination and power to project themselves into the story. Instruction in crime educates our young people to become criminals. The constant portrayal of evil "popularizes evil." A child is usually ready to do what he sees everybody else doing.

Constantly to inject into the mind thoughts of killing, of death, of anger, jealousy, and revenge, of suffering, both mental and physical is to stifle tenderness and sympathy. To see suffering without making an effort to relieve that suffering, reacts unwholesomely upon the spectator.

Vulgarity, immodesty and situations generally termed as "slapstick" have a tendency to lower the standard of taste, thus weakening the moral fibre.

At first children do not understand many suggestive situations, but the constant portrayal of the same, finally enlightens them. Far more children than we are aware, understand these suggestions and questioning a child on this subject rarely secures a frank statement of his knowledge.

Lurid posters displayed outside a motion picture theatre brand the house as a menace to the community and limit the audience. Many people will not enter a theatre displaying such posters. The theatre is an eye-sore to the very patrons whom the manager seeks to attract. The peculiar fact is, that the posters often are not a true representation of the picture on the screen. Many children crowd about these posters drinking in every degrading detail, even though they do not attend the performance.

The best kind of censorship is selection, which builds up the things which are worth while to the final exclusion of the worthless.

The establishment of carefully planned children's matinees for little children and family programs for adolescents, furnishes a counter attraction. Pictures on the plane of the child's thinking are, after all, more attractive to them and persistent effort in this method of exhibiting wholesome films will help to restore the poise and culture which our over-stimulated children are now in danger of losing.

PUBLIC OPINION

About The West Texas A. & M. College. Welton Winn, Muieshoe, Bailey Co. Texas.

I am sending you thanks and congratulations from West Texas on your excellent editorial in your splendid paper of Jan. 30 in favor of an agricultural and mechanical college for West Texas. Your suggestion is both timely and rational. The reasons you give in favor of such an institution are eminently correct.

First of all, if our boys go down to the A. & M. from this high and healthful altitude, their health is first endangered. Then, as you have well and correctly stated, any experiment made at our A. & M. is totally inapplicable to this section, and the further fact that this section of our great State is now coming into its own.

We need the special teaching and experiments that will pave the way to success for those who will develop this vast territory of Texas. We have room here for thousands to come and establish homes, especially our young people, and we are beginning to see that it is right to make room for and encourage their coming. We are glad to see the tendency to cut up and sell these large holdings into smaller homes. When this is more fully accomplished, this plains section, which comprises the largest body of rich land in one uniform class there is, we think, in these United States, and we doubt if there is another tract of the size of this, all good and almost alike, in the world.

With shame, we have to admit that, by the wrong kind of legislation, this great expanse has been permitted to get into too few hands; or in other words, has been so sold that too vast holdings are held by individuals and corporations. It is and has been common for seven years to see our Texas people pass by my place here going to New Mexico to acquire homes, because of its more liberal land law. Texas has fine laws on paper, but they have failed to accomplish the purpose of those brave heroes who made the extreme sacrifice at the Alamo and San Jacinto.

But, forgetting the things of the past, let us have an agricultural and mechanical college up here in West Texas, as any experiment we would make here would be applicable to any other part of West Texas. The best efforts of all producers will be taxed to feed the world's millions.

We should have the advantages of special training for this great task, and we are free to say that no other part of the great State of Texas is capable of contributing more to the upbuilding and material advancement of Texas than are these plains.

Our Monetary System

I AM NOT A MONEY LENDER, NOR DO MY DEPOSITS IN BANK AMOUNT TO MORE THAN ENOUGH TO MEET CURRENT EXPENSES. I SIMPLY GIVE MY IDEAS OF WHAT I THINK IS RIGHT, IN OUR MONETARY SYSTEM. ALL SHOULD SHARE ALIKE—RICH AND POOR. GOVERNMENT BONDS FOR LARGE OR SMALL AMOUNTS SHOULD NOT BE TAXED.

Money on deposit in banks should not be taxed, because it means money in circulation, which helps general business as well as it does the depositor and the bank.

In Texas money at loan by a resident citizen should not be taxed. If money is loaned in Texas by a non-resident, and the note to secure is made payable out of the state then it can't be taxed in Texas. True, our lords would tax this note if they could, but they cannot.

In the broadest sense, money strictly speaking is not property. It has no intrinsic value, except that given by law, it is only a measure for settlement of business affairs, between man and man. A legal tender in the payment of obligations due by the government and man, a convenience

Unusual power and control, quick pick-up and extraordinary acceleration to real speed, are features inherent in the Cleveland Six and features with which Cleveland owners are delighted.

Many a Cleveland Six owner has said, "It would be hard to tell you what a good car the Cleveland honestly is. It's wonderful."

The Cleveland is wonderful because it is a splendidly developed and finished product, not a car rushed into the market. Three years ago the plans for production of this car were far advanced. But, with war approaching, production and marketing were delayed though experimental and engineering work were continued and test cars kept on the road. When war ended, came the Cleveland. Built in a fine big factory, with all conditions and equipment assuring the very best of manufacture, and built by men whose successful experience had been wholly in the production of fine cars, the Cleveland Six began rolling out to the world last August. Since then thousands have gone to delighted owners, and thousands more are going every month.

REPORT SHOWS MATERIAL DECREASE IN PRISON POPULATION

Austin, Texas—In the annual report of the warden of the State penitentiaries received at the Governor's office it shows there was a material decrease in the prison population during 1919; that a larger percentage of young men were convicted; that the prohibition law violations substantially decreased; that fewer negroes were sent up and that no newspaper men or lawyers were among those placed in prison.

From Jan. 1 to Dec. 31 of last year the convicts dwindled from 3,209 to 2,726, the ratio of reduction being thus: Discharges 54 per cent, pardons 25 per cent, escapes 13 per cent, paroles .07 per cent and deaths .02 per cent. The lead long held by Dallas county was taken by Harris with eight-eight convictions, Tarrant had fifty-eight, Dallas fifty-seven, El Paso fifty-five, McLennan forty-nine and Bexar forty-three.

Of the 1,053 convicts received in 1919 a total of 257 were farmers, 102 cooks and waiters, 57 chauffeurs, 44 machinists and engineers and 41 bookkeepers and clerks, the remainder being widely scattered. There were 690 native born Texans, including 42 of Mexican descent. Louisiana continued to hold second place with 40, Alabama and Mississippi 23 each and Kentucky 19. Of the Northern States, Illinois led with 15 while New York had 9. Canada and Germany furnished 5 each.

In the classification of crimes burglary was high with 300, miscellaneous theft 155, forgery and passing 135, murder 43, man-slaughter 36, violations of the prohibition law 39, as against 127 in 1918. Sentences ranged from one year to life imprisonment, about 250 were short-termers of two years.

Convictions of persons between 16 and 20 years of age showed unusual increase over 1918, the figures being 254 and 218, respectively, further accentuated by the fact that 1,284 convicts were received in 1918, as against 1,053 in 1919. The same ratio is shown for men between 60 and 70 years of age, with 22 and 13, respectively. All other ages showed marked decreases.

In 1919 a total of 455 whites and 475 negroes were received, against 482 whites and 669 negroes in 1918. The negroes showed a material decrease. Of the 1919 convicts received 219 were totally illiterate, against 376 in 1918. Some 834 had from common to good education.

The religious belief of the new convicts showed as follows: No church 598, Baptists 184, Catholic 137, Methodist 74, Christian 28, Presbyterian 19, Lutheran 4, Jews 2 and Congregational 1.

No epidemic occurred, says the report, hence the death rate was low, having been but forty-three. Of these twelve were due to tuberculosis, which was the leading cause. One was killed by lightning, one suicided and three drowned, two were killed by fellow convicts and nine by guards in attempting to escape.

D. M. Devitt of Fort Worth and Ed Crocker of Kansas, were here one day this week enroute to the Mallett ranch in Cochran county. Mr. Devitt is the owner of the Mallett ranch and Mr. Crocker, a cattle dealer, will probably purchase some of the Mallett cattle.

ALL WORN OUT

Does morning find you with a lame, stiff and aching back? Are you tired all the time—find work a burden? Have you suspected your kidneys? People around here endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor. You can rely on their statements.

S. B. Farris, retired farmer, Plainview, Texas, says: "Last winter my back began to give me some trouble. It was sore and lame and ached most all the time. It bothered me mostly when I had to stoop over my sharp pains would shoot through my back and shoulders and mornings when I first got up my back was so lame and stiff I could hardly straighten. I felt tired and worn out and had dizzy spells. I also suffered from headaches. My kidneys were weak and the kidney secretions were scanty in passage and bothered me a great deal. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and bought some. One box of Doan's cured me of the trouble. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly to all my friends." 60c at all dealers. WELL KNOWN TEXAS WOMEN

San Antonio, Texas:—"In my early married life I became very ill with feminine trouble and no doctoring or medicines gave me any relief until I started to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was down in bed, unable to do my own housework, but it was only a short time before I was feeling stronger and all my pains left me. I took about six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and can say positively that it cured me of all feminine trouble for I have been in perfect health ever since. I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to all women suffering with inward trouble."—Mrs. ANNIE F. EDGS, 224 Rogers St.

Houston, Texas:—"For more than thirty years I have always spoken a good word for Dr. Pierce's Medicines. The 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets' were my 'standby.' 'Favorite Prescription' was the medicine I would take for nervousness, weakness and run-down conditions and the 'Pellets' for constipation and sluggish liver and these medicines have never failed to give me just the help and renewed health that I needed. I still take the 'Pellets' when I require a mild laxative, and consider them the very best medicine of that kind I have ever taken."—Mrs. M. PARRISH, 911 Dowling St.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret remedy for all the ingredients are printed on the wrapper. Contains no alcohol or narcotics.

Sold by druggists in liquid or tablets. If your druggist does not keep it, send 60c for tablets, or you can send to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package.

Thos. Elmore Lucey

Poet---Actor---Song Humorist

The lover of pure entertainment finds it hard to imagine as many artistic gifts in one person as Mr. Thos. Elmore Lucey possesses. If he goes to the auditorium to hear a lecture, he meets a delightful surprise in this quaint personality, who so strongly resembles a composite photograph of Sol Smith Russell, James Whitcomb Riley and Edwin Booth. He is a master of many accomplishments—singer, impersonator, crayon artist, actor, reader, lecturer, on the platform.

Mr. Lucey has traveled in many lands, and embodies the best things he has seen and heard in his charming entertainments, personating in rapid make-up such celebrities as Twain, Riley, Poe, Lincoln, Pope Leo, Gough, Nye and many others, interspersing all with a charming flow of wit, mimicry and ludicrous fun, and sending the audience home radiantly happy for "A Night in a Poet's Workshop."

GUATEMALA CITY—La humorista americano Sr. Tomasso Elmore Lucey ejecuto muchas personaje teatro con mucha perfeccion.—La Republica.

MEXICO CITY—With marvelous versatility he entertained two fine audiences at Bucareli Hall. His original songs, illustrated with crayon, and the Shakespearian costumed recitals were features.—Daily Mexican Herald.

U. S. A.—San Saba (Texas) Star: The first performance in the lyceum course was given by the artist, actor and impersonator, Thomas Elmore Lucey. It was dazzling in its versatility. Whether drawing a sketch, singing a song, reciting a classic, or impersonating the great or near great, Mr. Lucey showed himself a past master of his art. From Shakespeare to Bill Nye the actor passed apparently without effort and adapted himself with equal ease to the grave or gay. In some of Shakespeare's greatest roles, Mr. Lucey was charming, and his funny characterizations were irresistible.

All citizens of Lubbock should show their appreciation of Mr. Lucey's work for our boys while in the training camps of France by according him the largest audience ever given to any entertainer in our city. Buy your tickets early.

No matter how old the battery may be it has its full supply of acid, and that acid keeps its strength unless some of it happened to spill out. Perfection's Price In Tire Building

A tire-maker's first problem is to decide how much he can give for the money. This, and every other question in tire building, depends upon policies.

A super-tire, such as The Brunswick, can be made only by a concern which knows well and appreciates that there is nothing exclusive in the tire industry except high standards.

Since 1845 the House of Brunswick has held first place in every line it entered. Brunswick Tires, as more and more motorists come to know them, will certainly be awarded that coveted place held only by the superfine.

Motorists who buy one Brunswick usually adopt it for complete equipment. Yet this is not strange, since the first one so completely proves its superiority.

If the name of Brunswick certifies to you, as to most men, an extraordinary tire, at no higher price, would it not be good business to test one or two Brunswick Tires?

Maybe your home isn't exactly as attractive or comfortable as you would like it to be. If not, interior improvements will make it so. Put in some beautiful hardwood floors, add some spacious windows and a fireplace, refinish the woodwork so that it will harmonize better with your furniture.

We'll be glad to plan with you for any additions or changes. Our stock of Southern Pine, Oak, Oak Flooring and California White Pine is adapted to the best interiors. See our plan books.

You Know These Tires Will Not Skid

There's a sense of security in motoring with the unusually non-skid Horse-Shoe Cord Tire. You know your tires will not skid even when you turn corners at 20 miles an hour on wet and slippery pavements.

Each little shoe in the Horse-Shoe tread forms a near-vacuum that takes hold of the road with a stubborn grip which is as effectively anti-skid as tire chains.

Then there is the satisfaction of knowing that the wider tread of this tire gives longer life by wearing down slowly and evenly, making your tire cost-per-mile surprisingly low.

We shall be glad to prove to you by actual tests why the Horse-Shoe Tire is the safest and most economical tire local motorists can buy.

HOTEL FOR RALLS PEOPLE

Tentative plans and estimates have recently been furnished to John R. Ralls for the erection of a modern two-story brick hotel for the city of Ralls.

Under the plans submitted and which probably will be used, the building will be constructed with a large basement containing a boiler-room, fuel room and sample room. The first story will have a large lobby, dining room, kitchen and pantry and ten guest rooms with private baths. The second story will have twenty-one guest rooms, all with baths and one public toilet.

Plans have also been submitted to the city of Ralls for the erection of a high school building to cost approximately $50,000.00. The plans have not been officially accepted, although they have been spoken favorably of by men who are interested and who think these plans will be used.

BRANCH LINE TRAINS MAY MAKE TURN HERE

The fact that there has been certain difficulties occurring in the efficient handling of the traffic on the two branch lines extending out from this city, has brought about a rumor that the two trains or crews will make turns at Lubbock instead of going through, as at the present time, and return to this city for their nights' rest, also Sunday. It has happened in the past that engines held at the present lay-over places, Crosbyton and Seagraves, have gone dead and caused the company a great deal of trouble and expense in sending other crews after the dead ones. Although this information is unofficial, we are assured that this program is being seriously considered by the officials and may be in operation very soon.

NEGRO ASKS FOR DIVORCE AND MARRIAGE LICENSE

A Lubbock "colored gentleman," accompanied by two couples of the same color, and his fiancée, walked quietly up to the clerk's office last Saturday and requested a license for marriage with his intended bride, who is an extreme brunette. He, at the same time requested the clerk to give him a divorce from his former wife. When told that both instruments could not be secured at the same time, he then says, "boss, give me some way so we can go ahead and marry." He entered his plea for divorce with the clerk and walked sadly away, with his intended bride weeping because of the fruitless visit for the license.

Cannot raise this Remedy too Highly

THE WAY ONE LADY FEELS AFTER SUFFERING TWO YEARS

Judging from her letter, the misery and wretchedness endured by Mrs. Charlie Taylor, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 144, Dillon, S. C., must have been terrible. No one, after reading her letter, can continue to doubt the great healing power of PE-RU-NA for troubles due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions in any part of the body. Her letter is an inspiration to every sick and suffering man or woman anywhere. Here it is: "I suffered two years with catarrh of the head, stomach and bowels. Tried two of the best doctors, who gave me up. I then took PE-RU-NA and can truthfully say I am well. When I began to use PE-RU-NA, I weighed one hundred pounds. My weight now is one hundred and fifty. I cannot praise PE-RU-NA too highly, for it was a Godsend to me. I got relief from the first half bottle and twelve bottles cured me. I advise all sufferers to take PE-RU-NA."

As an emergency remedy in the home, there is nothing quite the equal of this reliable, time-tried medicine, PE-RU-NA. The usual place their sole dependence on it for coughs, colds, stomach and bowel trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins and to prevent the grip and Spanish Flu. To keep the blood pure and maintain bodily strength and robustness, take PE-RU-NA. You can buy PE-RU-NA anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

HOME AMID A CHANGING ORDER.

Article II.

Article I considered the influence of the modern apartment house and the rent house on the home. The present article deals with the problem of girls, women and children in industry, and its influence on the home.

The last three decades have witnessed phenomenal changes in home life. In earlier times woman's activities were restricted to the home and household duties, but that day has passed. Modern industrialism has laid its hand upon women and children, and thousands now know the home only at night and morning.

Of the 4,083,041 male children reported by the census of 1900, between the ages of ten and fourteen, 875,640 were wage earners; and of the 3,997,193 female children of the same ages as stated above, 321,982 were workers. In all, 1,197,324 of the nation's children, between the ages of ten and fourteen, were earning their bread and helping to support the home.

There are two explanations, chiefly, for child labor: one is poverty, the other is greed. To a large extent present conditions make it necessary for each member of the family to be a producer, if possible. Industrialism is merciless in its grind, exacting in its demands, and inhuman in its greed. Children are employed because their labor can be had for a pittance. This maiming of children and blighting of the nation's childhood constitutes one of the darkest blot upon the industrial life of our nation. Recent legislation has made some progress in safeguarding our children from industrial crime.

The effect of child labor has been physiological and psychological in its relation to the home. If the home is to survive and perpetuate itself, each generation must produce another generation strong in mind and body. Child labor so dwarfs and injures physical and mental powers that when maturity is reached such one can hardly become the parent of a strong, virile, and capable offspring. When Charles Dickens came to America he went into a manufacturing center to study its industrial life. He remarked that the employees looked like "human beings," not like "beasts of burden." A writer, commenting on this, says that if he were to come today to the same center, he would see "the product" of the evolution of two generations. He would see no smiling children, moving about with songs on their lips, but children coming perilously near having the mien of "beasts of burden," so greatly have conditions succumbed to a system brutalized by greed and the exigencies of modern industry.

In the second place, when the child becomes a laborer he loses the influence and companionship of home life. The day is spent in the workshop. At night he wearily drags himself home to supper and to bed, to be off again early in the morning. Home means only a place to eat and sleep. Then, self support gives him the spirit of independence long before he is ready for it. He soon begins to chafe under the restraints of home, and to rebel against parental authority. He seeks his favorite haunts for any idle time he may have, and thus breaks up the unity, co-operation and love of home life. What of the girls and young women in industry?

It is estimated that there are now no less than seven million of these in the United States, engaged in work outside the home. In mill, factory and office they spend their days. In 1900, 18.8 per cent of all the women in the nation were engaged in gainful occupations other than agriculture. 125,000 young women contribute their labor to the industrial life of Chicago. Fall River has a population of 104,863, of whom 16,170 are wage earning women. Lowell has an enrollment of 17,600 wage earners, of whom 6,000 are women. New York City has 409,000 women workers; Iowa has 100,000, Michigan 125,000, and New Jersey has 150,000 sixteen years of age and over. A recent report gives one Texas city 25,000 and another 30,000 young women wage-earners.

In many cases these have become wage-earners because of necessity. Thousands of them have no home of their own, hence, are thrown upon their own resources and the only thing to do is work. Again, their presence in industrial life is due in part to the present development and organization of civilization. The wife no longer spins and weaves the family's supply of clothing. These are made by the factory and purchased from the merchant. The making of butter and cheese has been transferred to the creamery; the cannery cans the fruit, and the baker delivers the bread and cakes to our door. We have transferred the activities of the home to factory and store and thither go the daughters, wives and mothers to supply the demand for the labor once done in the home. Quite naturally the daughter seeks some means of expressing the inherent energy of mind and body and so turns to some gainful occupation.

This breaks up the solidarity of spirit of sympathy and co-operation the home. Unity of effort and the are fearfully weakened, and in many instances lost sight of altogether.

Daily absence from the home silently but surely weakens the deeper affection for it, and interest turns elsewhere. It is a significant fact, and universally true, that great numbers of our working girls who marry continue their work in preference to the quiet and retirement of the home. In such cases there is danger that the wife may forget that marriage is the most precious of human relations; that the home has the first claim upon her; that motherhood is woman's queenliest crown.

This by no means intimates that woman's activities should be restricted to the home. Her influence has been wielded mightily in the social and moral spheres for the uplift of humanity, but we must recognize the fact that society pays a terrible price for the economic activities of woman when such activities lead to the weakening of the home.

With the toiling wife and mother, its influence on the home goes deeper still, and strikes a still more vital point. When she is absent from the home, family life is broken up, home loses its charm and almost becomes a meaningless word.

Nature has not endowed the average woman with physical strength necessary to carry properly the large social and economic burdens plus the cares of the home. The average mother finds herself wearied from the ordinary round of family cares during the day; often her face betrays a care-worn expression as the evening shadows fall and the day's work is done. If a wage-earner, the home often goes childless, but in case children do come, they come with lowered vitality, the price of the heavy burdens borne by the mother. In either case, society suffers and the future of the home is jeopardized.

As Dead as the Dodo

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults.

Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't grip or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

SLIDE HAPPENINGS DURING THE PAST WEEK

We are having some cool cloudy weather at present, which we hope will turn into rain.

The farmers are very busy plowing and getting ready for the much hoped for rain which is very much needed for sod breaking.

The box supper at Foster school house Saturday night was a success and a good crowd present while I am sure there would have been several more present owing to the sand storm which came up just at dusk and I am sure kept several away that would have come. It is not known how much was made at this writing at the supper.

Mrs. W. B. Copeland's mother and brother of Jones county, Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell spent a few days of last week with Mrs. Copeland of Slide.

Mr. Claude Moore had a car accident while coming home from the box supper Saturday night. His car

What causes Indigestion

An excess of acid in the stomach sours the food and starts fermentation. Digressing gases form. Your meals don't digest, but lay like lumps of lead. Then you have heartburn, flatulence, fullness, belching, headache, and real misery in the stomach and intestines.

A few tablets of "Pape's Diapepsin" give relief almost as soon as they reach the stomach. "Pape's Diapepsin" costs little at drug stores.

There will be a box supper at Slide school house, March 20, for the benefit of the school. Remember the date and everybody come Saturday night, March 20th.

Joe B. Reiger and Tommie Canon visited C. L. Reiger Tuesday night. Mrs. M. L. Williams was called to Lubbock to see her daughter, Mrs. Claude Dean Saturday night, who was real sick.

Mrs. B. T. Sumner is on the sick list this week.

Miss Thelma and Jack Foster of near Lubbock attended the box supper Saturday night.

Lorraine Quinn, editor of the Lorenzo Enterprise, was over to visit his parents Monday and looking after business matters. He reports business good in Lorenzo and every indication points to a rapid growth during the remainder of this year.

How Prices are Fixed

There's been a lot of price fixing during the past few years—the price of wheat all over the country, for instance, and a lot of local prices.

But that isn't what we mean.

Every merchant has to pay so much each year for rent, so much for salaries, so much for heat and light. These items constitute the expense of doing business—and they're about the same no matter how big a business a merchant does.

When a business is new and small, prices are fixed by adding enough to the cost of an article to cover expense of doing business and to afford a reasonable profit.

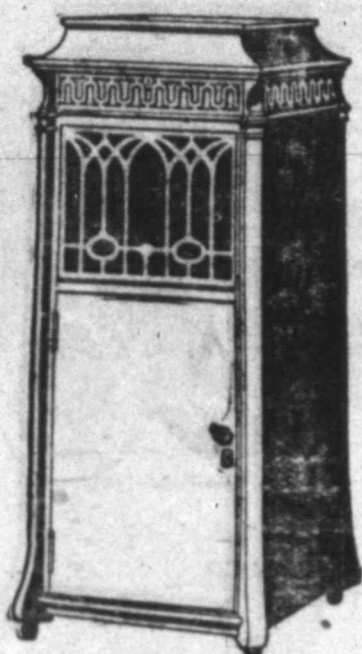

It's pretty easy to see that as a business grows, profit grows much faster unless the margin of profit is materially reduced.

This business enjoyed a big growth last year. We were mighty glad to see the growth but we don't want the extra profit nearly as much as we want the good will of our customers—and additional growth during 1920.

That's why we're turning the extra profit back to you in the shape of lower prices.

There was a larger crowd at Acuff Sunday morning than we expected on account of such a norther. We are glad a little interest at least was manifested.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rush and son, Volney, are at his father's, Mr. S. S. Rush, this week and last.

The crew at Acuff are all rejoicing because they are through threshing in last.

Davis Pounds was cleaning out his Dodge garage last week and the door slammed and hit him over the eye and close to the temple, bruising him up right sharply. However nothing serious.

There will be two sermons at Acuff Sunday. We invite everyone to come out and hear Brother Taylor, who is from Lubbock.

Mrs. Fuller spent part of last week with her sister, Mrs. Jackson who lives in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Evitt ate dinner with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Davis, Sunday.

Davis Aubrey and E. C. Pounds visited R. G. Russ Sunday after church.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Evitt and Miss Olive Pounds motored to Lubbock Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Evitt attended the show at the Lindsey, "Saintly Hypocrites and Honest Sinners." They report a very pleasant time.

Attention! There will be a program at Acuff school house Saturday evening, March 13th. Lots of good music and a very entertaining program. Everybody come and bring some one with you. We'll do the rest. March 13th, don't forget the date and be sure to come.

We enjoyed having the Lubbock visitors very much last Monday. Everyone seemed to have a good time and we invite them back again.
