

SECOND CONVENTION DAY BRINGS MORE DELEGATES

PROMINENT SPEAKERS ADDRESS CONVENTION MORNING AND EVE

THE ATTENDANCE HAS BEEN CUT CONSIDERABLY ON ACCOUNT OF THE VERY BUSY TIMES AMONG THE PLAINS FARMERS WHO ARE IN THE WHEAT FIELDS TRYING TO GET THE CROP HARVESTED BEFORE RAIN COMES AND DESTROYS IT.

The second day of the Farmers Union Convention brought an increased number of delegates and speakers for the Convention. One speaker stated he had just finished a seven hundred mile trip in order to reach Lubbock yesterday afternoon on the one forty five train.

The convention went into session this morning at ten o'clock with only members of the Union being admitted.

O. F. Dornblaser, of Cleburne, who is National Lecturer for Iowa, was the first speaker on the program, being slated for ten o'clock. He is a very able speaker, and has had many years experience in the work of the Union. He is more than eighty years old, according to the introductory remarks of the President when this gentleman arrived yesterday afternoon, and was introduced to the Convention.

F. I. Townsend, President of the Wichita Valley District Union, who spoke yesterday in response to the welcome address, was heard by the Union members this morning at 11 o'clock, during which time he discussed the Marketing plans at length and much to the benefit of the Union members. Mr. Townsend is well known in this section, having been instrumental in aiding many of the farmers in this section to dispose of their cotton last year at a price considerably above the price offered them on the local markets, and he has addressed the farmers on a number of different occasions, and his address this morning was none the less interesting than his former speeches, and was greatly appreciated by the Union members, who heard him.

The convention adjourned until 1:30 p. m.

Afternoon Session. While the various committees are hard at work on their reports the balance of the Union members were enjoying good speaking and getting some valuable pointers to carry back home with them to their local unions. The first speaker in the afternoon was Hon. A. C. Davis, National Secretary of the Union. Mr. Davis' home is in Gavitt, Arkansas, and he is one of the leading Farmers Union men in the United States. His address was full of good for the farmers and the cause of the Farmers' Union. Mr. Davis is an enthusiastic speaker, and full of his subject, and one cannot hear him without becoming interested in the work that he is doing.

Following Mr. Davis, Hon. E. F. Shropshire, manager of the Cotton Division Texas Farm Bureau Federation and American Cotton Association, addressed the Convention, and brought a great message to his hearers on conditions of the market and the work of his department.

This address closed the session of the Convention for the day, and the members were taken for an auto drive through the rural districts, to see more of the Lubbock County crops and farms, and we are sure this part of the program was enjoyed about as much as any.

Tonight at 8 o'clock, there will be a meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Farmers Exchange.

The Convention will meet tomorrow morning at ten o'clock to finish up the work of the Convention for the year.

During tomorrow the election of officers will be held and the executive board will be named.

President D. E. Lyday, who is presiding over the Convention, is rounding out his fourth year as the head of the organization in this State, and from all indications, if he is not elected Governor of Texas, as was indicated in some of the speeches yesterday, he is likely to hold the important office that he now has for some time to come, as he seems to fit admirably into the office and is doing a wonderful work for the cause of the farmers of this State as well as throughout the bounds of the Farmers Union. Mr. A. L. Baker, of Houston, seems also well suited to his job as Secretary of the organization, and it would be hard to get another man who is so well informed on matters pertaining to the order, and he too, has been holding office for four years, with almost a cinch for re-election tomorrow.

These two gentlemen are editors of the Farmers Union Messenger, the Farmers' Union paper published at Houston, Texas, and have shown the Avalanche many courtesies while here that has enabled us to give a good account of the Convention.

UNION NOTES.

President Lyday read his annual report to the Convention Monday afternoon which showed real progress in the work of the Union during the past year.

Lubbock seems to be taking care of the delegates to the Convention in grand style. We have heard of none who had to sleep on the pavement or eat their meals in the alleys.

THE RALLS COUNTRY IS PAVING A VERY PROMISING FUTURE—MANY NEW PEOPLE ARE COMING

Keep your eyes steadfastly on the South Plains, and especially on that fertile section known as the Ralls territory. Development and progress in the past has been so astounding but nothing to be compared to what may be expected in the future.

Never before in the history of our country have such splendid crops been promised, and now that conditions are rapidly becoming normal, our section may be expected to take a step forward that will place it very near the top round to the ladder.

Many new people are now coming in and inquiries for land are becoming numerous. Such being the case we may expect to see land values take another advance in the next few months that will place our soil on a footing with prices now prevailing in the old states, and in the eastern portion of Texas, hence those expecting to secure farm homes here are urged to do so as quickly as possible if they desire to secure advantage of prevailing prices.

If you are not acquainted with our country, we extend you a special invitation to come and look it over the next time you are prospecting, and we feel sure you will seek no further for a desirable home in the West.

70 Cars of Wheat Have Left Ralls. Up to Monday 70 carloads of wheat had been shipped from Ralls. We think it safe to say that more than one hundred cars will have been shipped before the end of the week.

The great bulk of wheat produced here is yet to be marketed, and before it is all in the capacity of our three large elevators will be required to house it, notwithstanding the rapid manner in which it is being shipped.

We are informed that our buyers will pay $1 up to the 15th of July, but will make no guarantee of any price after that time.

A survey of our country, and reports from other countries indicate that the 1921 wheat crop will surpass any that has been produced in many years, and as a consequence we expect to see the price decline materially before the first of August.

Farmers are urged to get their wheat on the market as early as possible.

Contract Let For Addition to School. The contract for building the addition to our school building was let this week to Mr. Brown, a contractor of Floydada.

Mr. Brown arrived in town Thursday and work will be commenced at once and vigorously pushed until the building is completed.

In making this addition about $34,000 will be expended for building and equipment, and will result in providing our school house with 12 additional classrooms. This should give us ample room for many years to come, and will open the way for affiliation with the State University, something we have long needed, and for lack of which our school heretofore failed to measure up to the high standard desired by our people.

When Ralls High School opens this fall it will occupy a position second to no institution of learning of the kind in this section of the State, and doubtless many new families will move here for the sole purpose of giving advantage of our excellent school to their children.

Be it resolved that we petition the Congress to create a Financial System specifically for agricultural needs, which shall at all times function for agriculture and agriculture only.

Resolution No. 9 Liberty Bonds. Under present agricultural conditions any rediscout rate in excess of 5 per cent will be prohibitive, therefore we demand that the Federal Reserve Board fix the rediscout on agricultural products at a rate not to exceed 5 per cent.

Whereas, our patriotic people of every class strained their financial resources to the breaking point in order to buy Liberty Bonds and thus finance our government and the allied powers in the prosecution of the great world war, and whereas, these bonds were bought in good faith at their par value and actually represent dollar for dollar, and

Whereas, certain interests have by manipulation reduced their value in order to profit therefrom, and whereas, our government is just as stable as it ever was, no possible reason can exist for this lowering of value, therefore,

Be it resolved, That we petition Congress to enact such legislation as will enable Liberty Bonds to circulate as a medium at par value, legalized for the payment of all debts, public and private.

State Expense Bills are Saved By Committee

Austin, July 10.—Progress was made Saturday by the House and Senate Finance Committees sitting in joint session considering appropriation bills for the operation of the government for the next two fiscal years. The committees adopted the appropriation bill for the support of the judiciary for the next two fiscal years, after having cut $8,630 therefrom, leaving the total $2,872,061. This did not include the budget of the Commission of Appeals, the figures for the commission having not as yet been presented to the committee. The small amount cut from the bill was for fixtures, furniture, etc., which the committee did not think absolutely necessary.

The committee cut $45,480 from the budget of the Board of Control for the next two fiscal years, leaving a total of $346,180 for the support and maintenance of the board. The cut was mostly on estimates made for printing.

Consideration was given to the budgets of the Deaf and Dumb Institute and State Blind Institute, but definite action was not taken, as the committee is considering a slight reduction in salaries. Chairman Lee Sailer White said.

Following a suggestion made by Representative John Davis of Dallas that citizens of Texas be permitted to address the committee, the committee decided that any citizen or delegation having some specific recommendations to make as to how appropriations may be reduced would be welcomed to appear before it. Representative John Davis was so advised. The committee, however, does not care to have the public generally appear before it without having any definite plan in view.

BLEDSOE AND BALDWIN SAY THEY WILL TRY TO BLOCK LEGISLATION TO CONSOLIDATE AGRICULTURE DEPT.

Senator Bledsoe, in his address to the State Farmers' Union Convention Tuesday afternoon assured those present that he was strictly opposed to the idea the Governor had of merging the various departments of agriculture and pledged his efforts to block any such legislation. He stated that he supposed the Governor would bring this matter before the special session of the legislature which will convene next week, but was sure that the chief executive would have one lively time of putting any such legislation through, as there were some strong opponents to the idea, who would stand pat and fight it to a finish. He says the Governor has no right to put his pet economy over at the expense of the farmer, and if this merger bill was to pass that is what it would mean exactly.

Senator Bledsoe stated that he was opposed to any useless tax being placed upon the people, but said that the appropriations for maintaining the various state departments and institutions would have to be cared for, and the tax route was the only way in the world that they had to raise the money and he could give them no assurance of the tax rate the coming year, except that he would be in favor of keeping it to the lowest possible amount.

He called attention to the constitutional amendments that will be submitted to the people on the fourth Saturday in this month, as he believes them to be of great importance to the people of the state. The two that he called special attention to was the one asking for the raise in pay for the Governor and Representatives. He is strongly in favor of the amendment, not that he hoped to be benefited by it, as his term of office would expire long before the time that this raise would go into effect even if it should carry, but he believes it will be more saved the people of the state, as it will not cost any more in the long run and he believes that better legislation will result from an increased pay of the legislators. The usual rush of putting a lot of bills through right on the last hour of the session would be avoided, according to his idea and the great expense of called sessions would be avoided, then too, the railroad fare would be reduced to the actual amount, which would mean a considerable saving in mileage, and he believes that the increased pay would attract more of the able mind of the state, which in itself would mean closer consideration of the needs of the state. The second amendment that he called special attention to was the one abolishing the present prison system, which according to his statement, is corrupt to the core. Mismanagement is evident on every hand, and he charges a great lot of graft in connection with it. He says there are millionaires he believes made so by grafting on the penitentiary system of Texas, taking from the men that are imprisoned there things that they should have. He stated that he hoped to see the old system abolished and a new arrangement perfected for the operation of the prisons. He was in favor of moving the South Texas prisons out of that section entirely and placing them in a more central location, and is also in favor of dividing the prisoners up into three classes. The first class those who are familiar with farming, and let them produce food and such like on the farms for the support of the prisoners during their time within the walls, and second to create a factory in which many of the useful things can be made, and sold to the people of the state or elsewhere at reasonable prices to help pay the expenses of that institution, and third, he believes that forty per cent of the prisoners are men who will stick by their word, and could be worked on the roads in the state without guards. He says this is being successfully carried out in the State of Colorado, and he is sure that Colorado has no better men in the penitentiary or out than Texas has.

Baldwin Also Promises to Strongly Oppose Such Legislation. Representative R. A. Baldwin also pledges his strongest efforts to prevent the passage of any bill that will be detrimental to the farmers interest, and is strongly opposed to the merging of the agricultural departments. He stated that a better marketing system was needed, and that the organization of the farmers was the only means of getting down to this point. The bonded warehouse system came in for his approval, and he believes that this is the only solution to the problem of better prices for farm products. The farmer who has to borrow money to meet his running expenses is not going to make much money, and so long as the farmer does not have any say as to what he shall sell his products for, they cannot hope to make farming pay. With a well organized marketing system, whereby the farmer does not have to take just any price that is offered for his produce, the prices are bound to improve, and the farmers will see better times. The grand rush from the farm to town will stop, and greater production on the farm will result. Mr. Baldwin stated that the Governor was trying to practice economy, but was trying to economize on the wrong things. He agreed with the Governor that a lot of fellows around Austin, who are drawing a salary from the state should be kicked out and their salary used for better and more important causes, but believed that the warehouse department should be maintained. He stated that he had information in his office in Slaton to show that this department had saved the farmers of Crosby County alone the past year in the price of cotton above what they were offered for it on the local market more than pay the cost of operating the Warehouse department.

State Faces Big Loss Thru Boll Worm, Report Says

Dallas, Texas, July 7.—The State of Texas faces a loss of $75,000,000 during the next five years, unless the pink boll worm is eradicated, according to Dr. W. B. Hunter, of Houston, member of the Federal horticultural board, here today.

"The average damage to the cotton crop from the pest has been 50 per cent in those localities where it has been found," Dr. Hunter declared.

"The worm will cover the state in five years. A conservative valuation of the annual crop is more than $150,000,000. This indicates the enormous loss."

A committee has been appointed to deal with the menace and formulate proposed legislation providing remuneration for the farmer who can not grow cotton under the law.

The members of the committee are: Chairman, W. D. Farris, Ennis; J. W. Garrow, Houston; A. P. Borden, Pierce, and Charles M. Bassett, El Paso.

OKLAHOMA MAN BOOSTS FOR LUBBOCK

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marshal and daughter, Miss Lucy Bell, of Duncan, Oklahoma, who passed through Lubbock Monday enroute to Roswell, New Mexico, complimented our city as being an ideal health resort. "All you lack is having a little more paving and advertise your city as a health resort," says Mr. Marshal, "for this is the most wonderful climate I have ever visited." Mr. Marshal also stated that spending a summer night on the Plains, in his estimation, was just as pleasant as it would be in Colorado.

W. D. Lewis, of Coryell County, one of the oldest exponents of the Farmers' Union doctrine, is here this week in attendance upon the State Farmers' Union Convention, and aside from being a practical farmer he is also a newspaper man of considerable experience. He stated that he, for a number of years published a newspaper and ran a farm both at the same time. Different from the usual way of doing this, he did not live in the city and go out to the farm in his automobile and see after things out there, as is the style now, but he lived on the farm several miles out from town, looking after the affairs of the farm, gave the work his personal attention, and then drove to town and got off his paper. This was his experience in the newspaper business, and while he has been out of that work for many years, he still has the greatest sympathy possibly for the newspaper folks, and can have an opinion about what they have to contend with and the difficulties they often meet in the publication of newspapers.

He is one of the oldest of the Farmers' Union men, and is still very active, made chairman of the county crop reports, by President because of his wide experience. Farmers' Union work, and his familiarity with the crop conditions the general run of the Farmers' Union work.

Census Bureau Reported On Nativity Of The Texas Farmers And Stockmen

Washington, July 6.—Facts about the race and nativity of men who conduct Texas' 463,033 farms were given out today by the Census Bureau.

Running far ahead of any other State in the number of farms, Texas was also far ahead of any other state in the number of native white farmers, with 327,408 as compared with 318,988 ten years ago.

Texas had 29,760 foreign born white farmers as contrasted with 28,864 ten years ago. Negroes, Indians, Japanese and Chinese are listed together as "colored" farmers, and hence it is impossible to contrast negro farm population with that of ten years ago. But the four races of "colored" farmers now amount to 78,865 as compared with 69,918 ten years ago. Of the 78,865 "colored" farmers now in Texas 78,664 are negroes, 154 Indians, 29 Japanese and 18 Chinese.

The native white farmers in Texas now comprise 75.1 of the total farmers in the State as compared 69.3 ten years ago. Foreign born white now amount to 6.9 of the total as compared with 6.8 ten years ago and colored 18.1 per cent of the total as compared with 16.7 ten years ago.

Oklahoma has 167,460 native born white farmers, 5,790 foreign born white farmers and 18,737 colored. Louisiana has 167,460 native born white farmers, 5,790 foreign born white, and 62,059 colored. Arkansas has 158,273 native born white farmers, 2,049 foreign born white farmers, and 72,282 colored farmers. New Mexico has 29,593 native born white farmers, 1,876 white foreign born and 1,875 colored.

Of the 6,448,366 farmers in the United States in 1920, 5,498,359 were white and 960,037 were colored. The number of negro farmers in the nation increased 9.7 per cent between 1910 and 1920.

TAHOKA WINS TWO GAME SERIES FROM POST CITY

Tahoka, July 6.—In a two-game series of baseball played at Post City Sunday and Monday, the Tahoka baseball team won both games, taking the first by a score of 7 to 3, and the second 17 to 4. Hundreds of fans filled the grandstand for both games.

Tahoka has lost only one game out of eleven played this season.

TWO MEN HURT IN STORM AT FLOYDADA

Gusts of wind during a heavy rain storm at Floydada last week upset a header barge and injured O. C. Payne and George Barkham who were riding on the wagon at the time. Payne's arm was fractured and Barkham was painfully cut and bruised. Harvesting has been delayed by the rains.

CROPS ARE BETTER IN COKE THAN FOR MANY YEARS

With timely rains coming every few days, and intervals of splendid growing weather, which seems to assure plentiful crops in Coke county, and West Texas generally, the farmers are jubilant over the prospects, says a visitor from that section a few days ago. Some of the old settlers say that the outlook is better for this time of the year, than they can remember them to have ever been.

FARMERS MARKETING WHEAT CROP RAPIDLY

Happy, Texas, July 4.—Farmers in this community are unloading their wheat on the market as fast as it is threshed. Elevators are being crowded to take care of the grain. The crop is producing from eight to twenty-five bushels an acre and is testing from fifty-eight to sixty pounds.

W. J. Chesney, sheriff of Mitchell County, and son Gus, passed through Lubbock Monday enroute to Amarillo, where he will attend the State Sheriffs' Convention, which is to be held in that city Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Dr. Wade M. Lockman, formerly of this city, but now residing in Weatherford, passed through Lubbock Saturday of last week enroute to the coast. Mr. Lockman states that he will take up some special work before returning to Texas.

K. G. Balch, of Borden county, was here the first of this week looking after business matters.

State Surplus Is Greater Than it Was Last Year

Austin, Texas, July 7.—There will be a surplus in the State Treasury to the credit of general revenue of $449,000 on Sept 1 next, as against $5,336,000 on Sept. 1 of last year. This condition was developed today at a conference between State Treasurer John W. Baker, Comptroller Lon A. Smith and members of the State Board of Control. It will be communicated to the Senate Finance and House Appropriations Committees tomorrow for their guidance in building the general appropriations bills for consideration at the coming special session of the Legislature. Likewise, it will be accepted by the State Automatic Tax Board as one of the units of calculation in making the State tax rates this year.

It is this difference of nearly $5,000,000 which has been worrying the Governor and causing him to confer with business men and others in an effort to find some sources of revenue to make up the deficiency ahead. It also compels the Governor to cast about for new sources of taxation to be imposed by the special session to meet the situation and maintain the state on a cash basis.

With the appropriation committee meeting here tomorrow, it is generally accepted that pruning will be the order of things and that many appropriations will be trimmed and quite a few eliminated.

Christian Church Revival Meeting Begins Wednesday

Ben M. Edwards and team, of Kansas City, will arrive here next Wednesday to hold a series of meetings for the First Christian church. For the first three days the services will be held in the church building; after that we will meet in the big tent on Broadway. Mr. Edwards is one of the greatest preachers in the South today. And the singer, Mr. Pollock, is second to none. If you will take time to attend these services you will find that I have not exaggerated. Mr. Edwards is not what you call a professional evangelist, for he has spent nearly all of his ministry in the pastorate. You will enjoy his preaching and the fine music under the leadership of Mr. Pollock.

Come—You are welcome.

NEFF ASSERTS TEXAS COUNTY HAS SALOONS RUNNING

Austin, Texas, July 5.—Governor Neff declared today before the rotary club that in a certain county of Texas a saloon and several pool halls are running wide open under the protection of a deputy sheriff of that county. He said if it was not for the federal officers Texas would have no law enforcement in that county and a number of others.

The governor's speech was made in behalf of his enforcement bill which he intends to submit to the special session of the legislature. In referring to law enforcement the governor said that the federal officers in Texas enforced entirely the prohibition laws and that if it was not for them Texas would have no prohibition laws enforced.

The governor cited statistics on the suspended sentence law and showed why he thought it should be repealed.

Two Prominent Slaton Citizens Died Last Week

About 7:30 o'clock last night A. K. Green received a message from his mother at Corpus Christi, which read as follows:

"Daddy died at 4:35. Will go to Slaton."

Lee A. Green was about 56 years of age, was a member of the Christian church and Woodmen of the World. He had been in failing health for several years, but not until last winter was his illness considered serious. He suffered from heart trouble, and hoping that a lower altitude would be beneficial to his health he went to Dallas last December. In a few weeks his condition became worse and Mrs. Green joined him there at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. C. Drennan. About two and a half months ago Mr. Green sufficiently recovered that he was able to go to Corpus Christi. Deceased is survived by his wife, three daughters and two sons, as follows: Mrs. W. C. Drennan, of Dallas; Mrs. A. J. Bannon, of Billings, Montana; Mrs. Richard Ragsdale, of Slaton, and Harry Green, student in a Fort Worth college. Another daughter died in infancy and is buried in Corpus Christi.

Mrs. Drennan of Dallas, and Mrs. Ragsdale of this city, were at the bedside of their father when the end came.

Mr. Green resided in Amarillo for about forty years, moving to Corpus Christi during that interval, at which place he lived for three years, returning to Amarillo, and moving to Slaton January 1, 1916. During his residence in Slaton he had surrounded himself with a large circle of very warm friends who held him in the highest esteem, and a pall of sadness fell over the entire city when the news of his death spread. About 10 o'clock last night another message was received stating that the remains of Mr. Green would be shipped to Slaton, arriving here at 12:45 Sunday afternoon. Burial will follow in Slaton Cemetery at 3 o'clock the same afternoon.

Michigan Ladies Go Shopping in Bathing Suits

It seems that people cannot stop at reasonable things but must run everything "ragged." Over in Michigan recently a number of the fashion plates of the city appeared on the streets of the town in their bathing suits, and of course a number of the "class followers" appeared also, and the police had to inform them that they would not allow them on the street with so little clothes on and told them they must put on a bath robe if they came to town in their bathing suits. This of course happened a way up in Michigan, but it does not take long for styles to travel, and who knows, before another week that some of the Lubbock people will be parading the streets in a bathing suit. Here's hoping that they do not, but you can't always tell.

ONE WAY TO KEEP RATS OUT OF THE CORN

Wilson Reed has recently returned from a Fourth of July celebration at Clovis, and tells how the farmers in that part of the country keep the rats out of their corn. Last year the rats were so bad that it was almost impossible for the farmers to store their corn anywhere, that these rats would not destroy it. It was finally decided to transform the corn into a liquid. Mr. Reed says in some parts of the New Mexico county, corn made thirty gallons to the acre.

THE PAST FIFTEEN YEARS PROVES GREATEST PERIOD OF DEVELOP- MENTS IN THIS SECTION OF TEXAS

Speaking of progress and what it takes to show a record, we are making it.

In the past fifteen years the broad Southplains has developed from a desert-resembling scope of country into one of the most beautiful and profitable farming countries in the world.

With three rains a season our rich, sandy loam will make better crops than the average country with a rainfall of a great deal more. In conversation with R. C. Burns and J. A. Wilson, two of the first settlers of this country, who now reside in Lubbock, we find many interesting things have happened in the way of growth and settlement of this country.

Mr. Burns came to the Southplains in the year of 1881, and at that time was employed on the "22" Ranch, owned by John Hensley. At that time there were only four houses in Lubbock County. One being the sheep ranch located on the Yellowhouse Canyon, which at the present time is on the George Boles ranch, the other three were built about four miles northwest of the present site of Lubbock.

These houses were at one time stores or trading places on the old cross roads between Fort Sumner, New Mexico, and Colorado City, Texas, and were owned by Z. T. Williams and a Frenchman by the name of De Quasay.

In 1890 land was worth about fifty cents per acre—that is land located anywhere on the Southplains. In 1906, Mr. Burns tells us that he purchased a tract of seven sections within two miles of the present site of the town of Slaton, for the price of $1.50 per acre for four sections and $2 per acre for three. At that time this was the top price for Southplains land.

Today at the very least figures the same land is selling from $60 to as high as $100 per acre. Mr. Wilson tells us of a trade he once made when he got a section of land within two miles of the site of the town of Idalou. He gave the fancy price of $150 for the section with the improvements. He later sold the improvements and let the land go back to the State. Today we are conservative in saying that the land could not be bought for $50 per acre.

At another time Mr. Wilson and his brother went in together and purchased two sections four miles south of Lubbock for $75. Mr. Wilson then traded his half of the land to his brother for a saddle pony. A short time later the brother traded the two sections off for one mule. Today the land, if it could be bought for $60 per acre would be a big bargain.

Only twenty years ago Mr. Wilson traded a pair of boots for two sections of land and they are worth this very minute, or they will sell for a total of $44,800.

In the year 1891, the County of Lubbock was organized. The town of Lubbock was an old round-up site. At that time R. C. Burns owned a section which is today known as the Overton addition to the town of Lubbock. This was given to W. M. Lay, provided he would enter the race for the office of sheriff. Mr. Lay ran and was elected sheriff. Mr. Burns, who gave away part of the town that is worth, without improvements, more than a half million dollars, for the rebuilding of the county.

Not more than fifteen years ago lots on the square in Lubbock sold for $15 and $20 each. The lot on which the Lubbock State Bank is located at one time sold for $55; those where the Citizens National Bank is located sold for $75. In fifteen years this property has increased from a value of $15 to its present value of $100,000.

The first cotton ever grown on the plains came up voluntarily in the Spring of 1889 on the "I-O-A" Ranch. During the winter months cattle were fed on cotton seed hauled from Colorado City. In the spring this cotton came up and developed in the sod land without cultivation. Last year Lubbock county alone ginned and shipped out more than twenty thousand bales of this staple crop. Outside of the cotton we shipped away over one hundred and sixty thousand bushels of wheat, and more than eight hundred and ninety-six thousand bushels of sorghum grains. Besides this we supply the world with Sudan grass seed. Our poultry and egg industry amounts to more than forty thousand dollars monthly.

These are a few of the reasons why we boast of our country. We urge, while we have visiting farmers with us, to show them just what we have and we feel confident that they will not go away disappointed and say that this paper has over-estimated the great Southplains country.

Misses Margaret and Louise Crawford, of Childress, are visiting in the J. T. Griswold home this week.

Summer Fabrics Vie with Summer Flowers in Loveliness

THE aisles of our piece-goods department are like garden paths bordered with colors exquisitely delicate or sun-warmed into vivid beauty. Organdies, voiles, dotted swisses, crepes, linens—the sturdy morning and sports variety of fabrics, and the delicate evening blossoms.

To look at them is a delight—to transform them with your own fingers into frocks is happiness. And it's a joy to realize that this Summer, when styles and fabrics are lovelier than ever, our prices are considerably lower than they have been for many Summers past; more than that, they are reinforced with another saving—a brand-new saving, made possible by a wonderful invention that performs three invaluable services to every woman who makes her own clothes—

The DELTOR

A picture guide with every new Butterick Pattern that saves you 50c to $10 on every frock you make

First, in simple-to-understand pictures, it shows you how to lay the pattern you have chosen in your size on every suitable width of material, and in every view. As fast as you can follow the pictures, you pin the pattern to the cloth, and you have used from 1/4 to 1 3/4 yards less material than you have ever used before, saving 50c to $10 on every frock you make.

And then, you learn how to put your garment together with the skill of an expert. Something more than just a dress grows beneath your fingers. Miraculously you have sewn the charm of Paris—the distinction of a creation into your gown.

And then, the finishing hints of the Deltor—they solve the problem of how to do the last detail professionally. The perplexing questions of finish and adjustment are explained to you in simple words—and not each is the expert's way.

Eleven Modern Brick Buildings in Lubbock County

Twenty-one Rural Districts compose the schools of Lubbock County, outside of the City Schools. Of these eleven have modern brick buildings and fourteen have passed the special $1 tax allowed by the State.

More than 1800 pupils are enrolled in these schools and their course of instruction includes music, domestic art, agriculture and other homely and useful subjects.

Consolidation and motor transportation is being developed throughout the section with the increase in population and development. Electric light plants are installed in several of the schools and regular community programs are a part of the school activity each year.

A County Agent works with the public schools and has an enrollment of more than 400 Club members in the 17 active clubs of the County.

All of this spells satisfaction, prosperity and community pride and a higher grade of citizenship for the upgrowing children.

Petition asking Election For Paving Ave. K

A petition is being signed readily by citizens of Avenue K this week, asking for an election upon which they wish to vote bonds for paving that Avenue, beginning at Broadway and extending as far north as the corporate limits of the city.

We are informed that some of the heaviest holders of property on this street have signed the petition. It is almost an assured fact that the request for election will be granted by the City Commissioners.

FORMER CONTRACTOR IS HERE TO ATTEND COURT

J. P. Hope is here from DeLeon, where he has been making his home since moving away from Lubbock some time ago. Mr. Hope is here in connection with the case in the District court styled, Alfalfa Lumber Company vs. J. P. Hope, et al, in which the lumber company is suing Mr. Hope and bondsmen for a balance alleged to be due by Hope on the material bill on the Methodist church. This case was tried here last year and the defendants won. The case was appealed and reversed, so that a second trial is necessary. This case will likely be heard some time next week.

A WORD TO FARMERS

A welcome to our store is awaiting the farmers of this community as well as the visitors. This welcome holds good every day in the year.

The prosperity of any country is governed by the class of farmers to be found in that community.

Judging by this, we should have the most prosperous community in the state, as we believe there is no better class of farmers to be found any where.

We want you to get in the habit of making our store your headquarters. Come and bring your family with you. You are always welcome and we will be glad to entertain you by playing a Victrola or Edison for you.

FARMERS' CONVENTION CLOSED THIS FORENOON

STATE REPRESENTATIVES VISIT LUBBOCK EXPERIMENTAL FARM AND FIND ITS WORK IMPORTANT

Senators Joe Burkett and W. H. Bledsoe, and Representative Baldwin, were guests of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce on a tour of inspection of the State Experiment farm three miles east of this place this week.

The officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary club planned the tour and accompanied the legislators. Superintendent R. E. Karper pointed out the developments made by the farm in the past ten years with particular attention given to the alfalfa, grain, sorghum and other feed crops that are being adopted to this section for the greatest yield.

Refreshments were served in a naturally by turning the delegation in on the ever-bearing strawberry patch. These berries have been found by the experiment farm to be particularly fitted to this section with the result that a wide distribution of the plant is being promoted over the entire section.

Special work has been done in alfalfa and this year a considerable amount of seed was distributed among the individual farmers of the county and is being grown under supervision of the farm. Sudan grass that is so widely being grown as a forage crop all over the United States was first developed through the Lubbock experimental farm. It is estimated that that crop alone has paid the State of Texas many millions of dollars since its introduction into the United States and development by the Lubbock State Farm in 1911.

All three legislators expressed their amazement at the scope of work being accomplished by this station and were surprised at the smallness of the appropriation granted for carrying on this work in view of its value to the farmers of the state.

Superintendent Karper reports that there has been an increase of more than 100 per cent in the average number of inquiries and visitors to the farm in the past six months—especially seeking information on feed crops and truck farming.

BRO. SMITH CLOSES SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT PORTALES

Bro. Smith has just closed a very successful meeting at Portales, New Mexico, returning home Wednesday of this week. He will fill his pulpits Sunday morning and evening. The church extends a cordial welcome to all to attend these services.

Bro. Smith always brings a message to us that is good to feast upon; come, there is a seat for you.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT OIL CASE GOES TO TRIAL

The case of C. W. Alexander, et al vs. C. H. Grollman was called for trial immediately after the McGugin-Cox suit was disposed of. The jury chosen consists of E. A. Abrey, Sam L. Darby, W. C. Grimes, Joe Penney, H. K. Porter, C. L. Quillen, Marshall Rhoades, Frank Riddle, Carol Thompson, C. C. Porter and L. W. Squires. This suit involves a commission for the sale of oil royalties, wherein Chas. Alexander and J. P. Posey acted as agent for the owner. It is thought this suit will consume two or three days.

F. F. MAYS AND FAMILY BACK FROM AN EXTENDED VISIT

F. F. Mays and family are back from Dallas and other points east where they have been spending a few months. Mr. Mays said that the report that got started that they had moved away from Lubbock is all a mistake. Lubbock is their home and so far as he can tell it will continue to be.

FORMER CITIZEN HERE AFTER TEN YEARS ABSENCE

John W. Dale and sons, Grover and Luther, passed through Lubbock Monday, enroute to Plemont, Texas, where they will attend a reunion of the Hedgecock family. Messrs. Dale were citizens of this city some twelve years ago. The senior Dale was editor of the Lubbock Leader for a time here, and many of the old timers will remember the family.

MRS. J. H. STANDIFER HERE FROM LAMESA FOR OPERATION

Mrs. J. H. Standifer, from Lamesa, is here for an operation in one of the Lubbock hospitals. This family for many years resided in Lubbock County, but have been away for some time and Mr. Standifer, stated that the town had grown and improved till he hardly recognized it.

Rev. Branham who has been conducting a meeting for Rev. Hendricks at Slaton, was in Lubbock Wednesday looking after some business. Rev. Branham reports great interest is being taken in the meeting.

W. G. Murray of Abernathy, was a visitor to Lubbock yesterday, looking after some business matters.

Pioneer Cow Man Died Suddenly Wednesday

James Mallard died here yesterday in a local sanitarium after only a few days illness. His death was a surprise to his many friends, as very few knew of him being ill. For many years the deceased has followed the cattle business in this part of the country, and for several years was proprietor of a blacksmith shop in this city. For the past three years Mr. Mallard has been foreman of the Gordon ranch in Terry county. Deceased leaves many friends and loved ones to mourn his death. He is survived by a wife and four children, mother and father, one brother and five sisters. Funeral services were held at the Mallard home at 3 o'clock Wednesday, conducted by Rev. W. A. Bowen, and interment made in the Lubbock Cemetery.

G. C. Barrier Left This Week for Wholesale Market

G. C. Barrier, general manager of Barrier Brothers Department Store, left this week for New York, via steamer from Galveston, to study new fashions in women's apparel for fall and to purchase a large stock of fall goods for the local store. He will be gone for several weeks, visiting all the leading dress, skirt and coat designers of the East on his trip.

According to word from the large manufacturing centers, the fashions in women's apparel this fall will be more attractive than any put out since the war. All of the large concerns making women's dresses, skirts and coats have had time to readjust since the big price drop of the last year and it is reported that some unusual values will be put on the market this season.

By visiting the larger producers personally Mr. Barrier expects to reap the full benefit of this change in obtaining the latest fashions at the best prices obtainable.

GRAND JURY WILL RECONVENE MONDAY, JULY 18TH

The grand jury will re-convene Monday, July 18th. It is expected they will be in session all week, as there are many things of minor importance to be investigated. So far only seven indictments have been returned, four of which were misdemeanors, and three felonies.

PROMINENT FLOYD COUNTY MEN ATTEND CONVENTION

A. A. Beedy and Joe. W. Howard, prominent farmers of Floyd County, were in attendance at the Farmers' Union Convention this week. Mr. Howard, was formerly County Judge of Floyd County, but is now busily engaged in looking after his large farming interests in that section. Mr. Beedy is also engaged in farming, and is the owner of the Beedy farm, one and one-half miles south of the Plains. Both of these gentlemen were greatly pleased with the success of the convention, and spoke highly of the hospitality shown them while visitors in our city.

CUMBERLAND MEETING IS MAKING GOOD PROGRESS

The meeting at the Cumberland church is moving along nicely, according to the pastor, Rev. A. A. Collins. He says they are having a good old fashioned revival. Have had a number of conversions and some re-animations, and the public is extended a cordial invitation to attend services at 10:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. The regular services will be held during Sunday.

POST MAN NEARLY BLINDED BY FLY POWDER IN EYES

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gosnell of Post City, formerly proprietors of the Algona Hotel at that place have been in Lubbock the past ten days, while Mr. Gosnell was receiving treatment from one of our local eye specialists. Mr. Gosnell had the misfortune sometime ago, while dusting fly powder about the room, to have some of it blown in his eyes. It was first thought total blindness would be the result, but we are glad to report the vision has been partially restored and in time it is thought the improvement will continue.

If We Want the Weeds Cut We Will Have to Cut 'Em-City Short of Money

The City of Lubbock has a weed cutting ordinance, but this is the way it works according to information given out by Curtis A. Keen, at the Rotary Meeting last Wednesday when the question was brought up.

Mr. Keen says: "Lubbock has a weed cutting Ordinance. The Health Officer can declare the weeds a nuisance and order them cut, the city has a right to cut them and charge the expense up to the property, holding it against the title to the property, but it cannot be collected until the property is sold, which might be in 1924 or '48, which means that the city must tie up its finances in that way, and as it would require approximately $1,000 to cut the weeds on vacant property in Lubbock, this is out of the question with the city. They haven't the money to spend in that way. The Chamber of Commerce hasn't the money to spend that way, neither has the Rotary Club, or the Federation of Clubs, so the question revolves right back to the original proposition." It is up to the civic pride of the individuals to cut the weeds or have them cut.

Since it has reverted back to this state of affairs, it is up to each of us to assume the responsibility of keeping the town clear of weeds by seeing that the weeds are cut, not only around our place of business, but reach out and clean off another block or two. This could be done, and if our people will get busy on the weed cutting in a systematic way it will not be long till the town will take on an entirely different appearance.

We will meet this kind of opposition before this article has been read through that "I am not going to cut the weeds off of someone else's property." Well, if there was a den of rattlesnakes on that other fellow's property that threatened the life of your children you would not wait fifteen minutes to make a raid on them and exterminate them, yet they might be there for a year and never bite one of your children, and the weeds may be the cause of one or more of them contracting some sort of disease that will transplant them in the cemetery and you will have another plot of ground that you will have to keep the weeds cut off and plant flowers on. There is no question that aside from the general appearance of the community, the weeds are a menace to the health of the community and should by all means be removed.

If we want the weeds cut, we will have to cut 'em!

Heavy Hog Shipper Declares the Panhandle Country Is the Best Hog Raising Country in the World

"The Panhandle of Texas is the best hog raising country in the world," declared L. S. Palmer, familiarly known as "Hog" Palmer, who left Amarillo early Thursday morning with fifteen carloads of hogs for California markets.

Mr. Palmer owns and operates a ten-acre hog ranch at Canadian and has been shipping the animals from that city for the past ten years. He has been in the hog business for 28 years and believes that he has shipped more hogs than any other man in his age.

Nine cars of hogs shipped out last Thursday morning will go to Los Angeles packers and six cars will go to San Francisco. The shipment averages 95 hogs to the car, and with another shipment of four cars in the same train belonging to Strader and Whately of Canadian, more than 1,800 head were shipped. Mr. Palmer expects to load out at least 300 cars this season, and while on the present trip he will look into the matter of watering and tending the cars through the Arizona desert.

The hog train left early Thursday morning over the Santa Fe and additional cars will be added to the regular enroute, and Mr. Palmer expects a solid train of thirty cars of hogs to leave Clovis. The hogs in the shipment will average 165 pounds and are considered a very choice lot. In discussing the Panhandle as a hog country, Mr. Palmer was very enthusiastic. He declared that he has paid out approximately $150,000 for hogs in the past four months, and by way of emphasis, he declared that the "hog" money was the best money in the world, and it all stayed at home.

"Why, there is enough garbage in Amarillo, if properly conserved, to fatten 4000 hogs every year," declared Mr. Palmer. "Hogs can be turned every three months and 1000 head can be kept on garbage feed the year around," he continued.

"The city of Wichita, Kansas, is maintaining from 1800 to 2500 hogs on its garbage, and by turning them every three months there are from 7000 to 10,000 hogs fattened every year."

Mr. Palmer declared he could buy a section anywhere in the Panhandle, take ten brood sows and ten milk cows and pay for it in five years. He expressed surprise at the indifference displayed in the hog market and added that "if the people would raise hogs and establish a production he would have a man in Amarillo to provide a top market."

"The Santa Fe or the Rock Island should by all means establish a regular weekly hog special," he continued, "for California will have to depend upon Texas for its meat for the next fifteen months, and there will be a demand for four or five cars of veal a week in addition to the hog demands."—Amarillo Tribune.

The Lubbock Country is Well Adapted to the Dairying Industry and Much More Attention Should Be Given Dairy Herd

Joe Hess, one of our most prominent real estate men and secretary of the Lubbock Building and Loan Association, gives us some good pointers on the South Plains making an ideal dairy farming country. "Every thing can be said in favor of dairy farming in this part of the country, and absolutely nothing against," said Mr. Hess. The first reason that this enterprise can be made the leading industry on the South Plains is our long growing seasons, and room for grazing on inexpensive pasture, and the fact that every grain and product will grow here that is necessary to produce the largest amount of butterfat. While in the place of using up our own product to an advantage that will net one hundred per cent more profit fed to a dairy herd, we ship the product to other states which profit highly. Some may say that milk is much cheaper here than in Illinois, and other states that lead in dairy farming, but it is not. The price however, is probably set by the Illinois, but we have the same advantage of the price, and butter-

DELEGATES BEGAN TO DEPART ON THE NOON TRAINS TODAY

TODAY'S SESSION PRINCIPALLY OCCUPIED BY ELECTION OF OFFICERS AND DELEGATES TO THE NATIONAL CONVENTION—LUBBOCK COUNTY MAN IS HONORED BY ELECTION TO MEMBERSHIP ON EXECUTIVE BOARD FOR ENSUING YEAR.

Tuesday Session (From Tuesday's Extra)

The farmers are here. They are here from every portion of the state in attendance upon the State Convention, which convened this morning, and will hold a three days session. The advance guards arrived Monday, and the executive body established quarters at the Merrill Hotel, where they will maintain their headquarters during the three days here in convention business.

The attendance Tuesday morning was not quite up to the expectation of the officials of the convention, however, owing to the railroad connections getting them to this point there was a good representation at the first session, and many more came in on the noon and afternoon trains, and by this evening it is expected that the attendance will be greatly increased. Owing to the exceedingly busy season of the year in this section, when many farmers are in their wheat fields, the attendance will not be as heavy as first expected, but the fact that representatives are here from every quarter of the state, the meeting will no doubt be a great success and extremely beneficial.

The first session of the State Convention of the Farmers' Union was held in the First Methodist church this morning at 10:00 o'clock. The meeting was called to order by the president, who introduced Rev. J. T. Griswold, pastor of the church, who assured the visitors from far and near, that the Methodist people of this city counted it a great privilege to be able to offer them the use of the Methodist church for assembly purposes and told them to feel at ease in the building, use it, and make themselves comfortable there while in the city. President Lydie in behalf of the Union, expressed appreciation for the use of the building, and announced that the meeting this morning was merely a preliminary one, and that the regular meeting would be held at one-thirty in the afternoon.

In the morning session the roll was called and delegates seated, which showed that a large number of the delegates had not yet arrived, but were expected to show up during the day. The several committees were appointed as follows:

Resolution Committee—F. I. Townsend, Scurry County; Flem T. Gillespie, Crosby County; A. K. Huckleberry, Fisher County; W. D. Lewis, Coryell County; J. P. Lane, Cherokee County; James W. Beard, Lamar County; J. D. Henderson, Knox County.

Committee on Good of the Order: B. Adams, Lubbock County; J. W. Howard, Floyd County; William Holzapple, DeWitt County; I. E. Tomlin, Clay County; W. J. Burkhardt, Lynn County; J. W. Grayson, Crosby County; Ed A. Does, Milam County.

Committee on Crop Conditions:—W. D. Lewis, Coryell County, Chairman; P. J. Trchalek, Burleson County; J. H. Lehman, Washington County; H. C. Edlar, Crosby County; J. D. Garner, Dawson County; L. J. Kuch, DeWitt County; A. Beedy, Floyd County; J. J. Sullivan, Fayette County; A. D. Bradshaw, Fisher County; C. H. Thompson, Lavaca County; J. D. Williams, Limestone County; T. A. Dyess, Lubbock County; S. W. Ellis, Lynn County; Rudolf Von Gonten, Milam County; T. L. Parker, Swisher County; F. S. Roundire, Briscoe County; W. R. Butt, Tom Green County; John Chapman, Fannin County; J. W. Gregg, Cherokee County; W. E. Gould, Reeves County.

These committees at once returned to their rooms and began their work. The President then announced a recess till 1:30 o'clock.

Afternoon Session

The afternoon session began at 1:45. Rev. J. T. Griswold offered the invocation, after which Mayor Parks in a few words expressed words of welcome to the Farmers' Union Convention to the city. He said that he considered it a great honor to have these farmers bring their state convention to the West and especially to the hub of the Plains—Lubbock, and assured the visitors that it was the wish of the people of this country that they enjoy thoroughly every moment while here. He assured them that they need not be uneasy of being "run in," while in the city, for all of the Policemen had been sent on a fishing trip, so "just make yourselves at home."

J. B. Adams, President of the County Farmers' Union, and extended the borders of the city to cover the entire county, and wanted the boys of the convention to feel the welcome throughout the county, and we are sure that he expressed the feeling of every farmer present, and the visitors will receive a cordial welcome wherever they go in the West and especially in the Lubbock country.

F. I. Townsend, President of the Wichita Valley District Farmers' Union, responded to the addresses of welcome in his usual easy and forceful manner, and gave the people of Lubbock to understand that the Farmers' Convention considered it a great opportunity to come to the great West with their meeting as we appreciated them being here, and expected to enjoy the entire three days of their stay in the city. That he had been here before and knew how well the people of the Plains could treat visitors, and the other members of the Convention would soon find it out if they had not already. He spoke along important lines regarding the mission of the Farmers' Union of which we shall have more to say tomorrow.

Senator Bledsoe followed with an able address, but the hour of going to press prevents any details of his address, but it was greatly enjoyed, and was given in the true spirit of a faithful representative in the Senate. R. A. Baldwin, representative in the lower house was next introduced and gave considerable discussion of the need of more laws for the protection of the farmers, and fewer "foolish laws," and pledged his support to the farmers interests while in the Legislature.

Senator Burkett was slated for a speech, but court duties prevented him being present, and at the hour of going to press the President of the Union, is delivering his annual address a report of which will appear in tomorrow's paper.

Wednesday Session (From Wednesday's Extra)

The second day of the Farmers' Union Convention brought an increased number of delegates and speakers for the Convention. One speaker stated he had just finished a seven hundred mile trip in order to reach Lubbock yesterday afternoon on the one-forty-five train.

The convention went into session this morning at ten o'clock, with only members of the Union being admitted.

O. F. Dornblaser, of Cleburne, who is National Lecturer for Iowa, was the first speaker on the program, being slated for ten o'clock. He is a very able speaker, and has had many years experience in the work of the Union. He is more than eighty years old, according to the introductory remarks of the President when this gentleman arrived yesterday afternoon, and was introduced to the Convention.

F. I. Townsend, President of the Wichita Valley District Union, who spoke yesterday in response to the welcome address, was heard by the Union members this morning at 11 o'clock, during which time he discussed the Marketing plans at length and much to the benefit of the Union members. Mr. Townsend is well known in this section, having been instrumental in aiding many of the farmers in this section to dispose of their cotton last year at a price considerably above the price offered them on the local market, and he has addressed the farmers a number of different occasions, and his address this morning was none the less interesting than his former speeches, and was greatly appreciated by the Union members, who heard him.

The convention adjourned until 1:30 p. m.

Afternoon Session

While the various committees are hard at work on their reports the balance of the Union members were enjoying good speaking and getting some valuable pointers to carry back home with them to their local unions. The first speaker in the afternoon was Hon. A. C. Davis, National Secretary of the Union. Mr. Davis' home is in Gavitt, Arkansas, and he is one of the leading Farmers Union men in the United States. His address was full of good for the farmers and the cause of the Farmers' Union. Mr. Davis is an enthusiastic speaker, and full of his subject, and one cannot hear him without becoming interested in the work that he is doing.

Following Mr. Davis, Hon. E. F. Shropshire, manager of the Cotton Division Texas Farm Bureau Federation and American Cotton Association, addressed the Convention, and brought a great message to his hearers on conditions of the market and the work of his department.

This address closed the session of the Convention for the day, and the members were taken for an auto drive through the rural districts, to see more of the Lubbock County crops and farms, and we are sure this part of the program was enjoyed about as much as any.

Tonight at 8 o'clock, there will be a meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Farmers' Exchange.

Wheat Harvesters in the Plains Country Are Using the Latest and Most Up-to-Date Machinery to Be Had in This Year's Work

Speed is the outstanding feature of the harvest season in the wheat belts of the Plains. Farmers and business men are agreed, too, that more speed in harvesting has been developed this year than in any former season. There is a frenzy of haste in the fields, a rush in railroad yards and along highways and an expenditure of nervous energy that normally would be drawn over a period of months.

There is a double desire urging farm owners along greater efforts. They want to turn the wheat into money before rain has opportunity to work havoc to their fortunes and they want to plow their land so that it will get the benefit of summer rains.

At all of the principal towns three or four elevators are jammed full at the close of each day and cars stand along the siding taking cargo from elevators and from small portable power machines that have been installed at small sidings as well as at elevator points. Amateur statisticians who have watched the growth of wheat farming in the Panhandle estimate that around 90 per cent of the early wheat crop will have been threshed and hauled from the field by the middle of this month. For the rest of the crop more leisurely movement until well along in the fall.

Notwithstanding the extraordinary haste employed this year and the increased speed that has been made possible by a greater use of combines and motor driven apparatus, there has as yet been no congestion and no serious shortage of freight cars. The situation was called to the notice of the car service section of the Interstate Commerce Commission early in the season by Frank R. Jamison, secretary of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, and the railroads have co-operated to facilitate the movement of cars.

Under the system of harvesting that is being generally employed there is no delay in the movement of the wheat from the moment the sickle ends its standing career until it rests in the holds of ships in Galveston.

The combine made its advent into the Plains only within recent years and is declared to be gaining rapidly in popularity. The machines cost from $2,000 to $5,800, and cut a swath varying from twelve to thirty-six feet in length. By the employment of various ingenious devices farmers this year have lengthened the width of the cutting power of the combines and added that much to the daily acreage that is traversed. On farmer near Plainview has fashioned an extension of the sickle bar on his combine so that it cuts a 35-

DORT

Quality Goes Clear Through

Doubtless no year has thrown a clearer light upon the Dort and its high standing in the esteem of the American public than this year.

Enthusiasm towards the car and appreciation of its remarkable performance ability and operative thrift have grown and extended further and further, day after day, and month after month.

The regular Dort clientele that inevitably replaces one Dort with another has augmented with a rapidity that has outstripped our closest calculations.

And the only conclusion that can be drawn is that more and more people who in past years have sought other cars are now turning to the Dort as the most desirable automobile investment they could make.

Why a Name on Lumber?

The Long-Bell Lumber Company trademarks its lumber for the same reason—the manufacturer of good merchandise stamps his shoes or hats with his Trade-mark.

Trade-Marked goods are usually reliable merchandise. The manufacturer of a good product takes pride in it and naturally wants to be given credit for the goodness he builds into it.

The Long-Bell Lumber Company believes that the buyer is entitled to the same protection on lumber that he gets on other merchandise, hence the LONG-BELL brand on all Long-Bell Lumber.

Cotton Industry Threatened By Pink Boll Worm

Dallas, Texas, July 11.—The pink boll worm will cover the entire state within from three to five years unless something is done to check its spread, according to Dr. W. B. Hunter, member of the Federal Horticultural Board, with headquarters at Houston.

Because the pink boll worm may be carried in cotton seed it is not confined to certain areas. It may break out hundreds of miles from the point of original infestation, according to the doctor.

The Pink Boll Worm Commission which returned from Mexico last fall found that the damaged done by these pests averaged 50 per cent of the yield and in extreme cases 80 per cent of the crop was destroyed.

Damage to the Texas crop within the next five years will approximate $75,000,000 a year, according to Dr. Hunter, and it will cost from a million to a million and a half dollars to eradicate the pink boll worm in Texas.

He states that it has been definitely proven that the pink boll worm can be eradicated by a three year non cotton zone such as put into effect in the section around Hearne and where at the present time the pink boll worm does not exist.

It is planned that the farmers shall receive full compensation for such losses as may be suffered under the non cotton plan of eradication. It is expected that one third of the expense of eradication will be borne by the National Government and two-thirds by the state.

There are two sections in the state now suffering from the ravages, one in South Texas consisting of Jefferson, Harris, Galveston, Liberty and Brazos Counties, and the other in West Texas consisting of El Paso, Hudspeth, Pecos, Ward and Reeves.

The Central Pink Boll Worm Committee representing 17 states commercial and agricultural organizations has appointed a subcommittee to assist in the formation of a law and a plan of extermination. Following is a personnel of the committee: J. W. Jarrell, Houston; A. P. Gordon, Pierce; W. L. Stallings, Houston, and C. M. Bassett, El Paso.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, it can be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Medicine. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by constitutional means. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, E. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

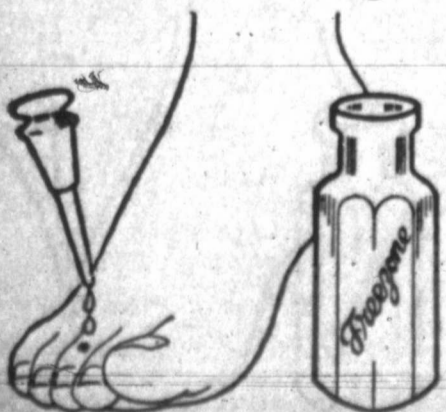

GARZA RAISES BEST CROPS SINCE 1914

Garza County has the best crops this year she has produced since 1914, according to reports from various parts of that county. The wheat harvest is practically finished and the yield was much better than was expected. Early row crops are now maturing and promise abundant yields. Several good showers have fallen over the county since the first of the month, which are a great aid to growing crops and pastures.

M. K. Crow, of Tulia, was here the latter part of last week visiting with friends and relatives. Mr. Crow states that the wheat in around Tulia is turning out from two to five bushels more per acre, than was expected.

Texas Farmers Are Joining the Texas Farm Bureau

Dallas, Texas, July 12.—Thirty thousand Texas cotton growers from 142 different counties have sent in contracts to deliver a total of 560,903 bales of cotton to the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association and contracts are still pouring in according to report made by Walton Petree to the Committee of Twenty-One, which originated the movement expect to make the million dollar pool.

Ellis County leads the state in the number of signers, having put in 43,800 bales. Numerous counties signed between fifteen and twenty thousand bales. Board County in West Texas, got its full quota nearly a week before the close of the drive.

The greatest interest in the cotton pool was shown in South and West Texas. Nineteen bales was the average number signed in each growers contract.

Complete plans have been made for the election of the Board of Directors and for the setting up of sales agencies to dispose of the cotton.

Keeping Cows Plain Duty of Every Farmer

In this day of diversified farming and better living conditions on the farms, a farmer whether farm owner or tenant, is not doing his full duty toward his family, his community and the nation, if he fails to keep enough dairy cows to supply all the milk, butter and cottage cheese his family can consume.

Do you know that where milk and its products are used extensively, there is little need or desire for meat? That dairy products are the most healthful foods that can be used and at the same time, the most economical.

The dairy cow will produce more pounds of digestible human food per hundred pounds of feed consumed, than any other animal on the farm.

Milk Necessary.
Babies must have milk to live; older children must have milk or they do not develop normally. Children that do not have milk in their diet, are in most cases, under weight and the adult will have better health if a liberal amount of milk is consumed, than if not.

Milk Appetizing.
An otherwise very meager and tasteless meal can be completely rounded out and made both appetizing and satisfying by the use of the dairy products.

Milk and butter should form a part of every meal. Other fats cannot take the place of butter.

There are over a hundred receipts for combining milk and its products with other foods, to make them more palatable and nourishing.

For health, economy and appetizing meals, every farm should have sufficient cows to supply dairy products without stint for all members of the family.

Dairy Products for Market.
After the needs of the home are supplied, it is always found profitable to have butter or cream for market. This gives a weekly cash income to take care of the current expenses.

When butter is made or cream is sold, the by-products (skim milk) becomes available for use in the feeding of such livestock as pigs, chickens.

BACK BAD TODAY?

Backache is usually kidney ache and makes you dull, nervous and tired. Use Doan's Kidney Pills for weak kidneys—the remedy recommended by your friends and neighbors. Ask your neighbor, L. J. Akers, farmer, Plainview, Texas, says: "Some years ago my back was all out of whack and caused me a lot of trouble. My back was weak, sore and lame and ached most all the time. When I stooped over sharp pains would catch me in the small of my back so I could hardly straighten up. In fact, my back bothered me all the time and mornings when I first got up it was so sore and lame I could hardly get around. My kidneys were weak and irregular in action and bothered me a great deal. A neighbor advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I used one box of this medicine and they relieved the pain in my back and fixed my kidneys up in good shape. I use Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally to keep my kidneys in good condition."

A MAN WHO LIVED IN CROSBY FORTY YEARS AGO

Mr. W. R. Davis received a letter the other day from his friend C. L. Ammon, now living in New York City, in which he acknowledges to being a product of Crosby county, and doubtless he will be remembered by some of our very early settlers. Following is that portion of his letter referring to his days in Crosby county.

"I have been away from Texas so long that I didn't know where Crosbyton was located but I have looked it up on the map and find that it is in Crosby county, a county once very familiar to me since I knew more about it many years ago than has been the case more recently. I see your town is the county seat. In my own days, when I was a small boy, so many years ago that I hate to think about it, Estacado was the county seat and incidentally, Crosby county has "shrunk" in area considerably since those days, as the county at that time was as big as almost any of the Eastern states. My father was in the cattle business out there, Estacado was our postoffice, and my cousin, who was the ranch foreman, was also sheriff and tax collector.

When I reflect that I haven't been in the county for nearly forty years I can imagine that great changes have taken place. The entire county, as big as it was, didn't have much of a population in those days, and it was pretty wild."—Crosbyton Review.

HALF BILLION DUE RAILROADS, SAYS MELLON

Washington, July 7.—The United States will have to pay approximately $500,000,000 to the American railroads in addition to the moneys already paid as the result of Government control during the war, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said today.

The secretary said he might find it necessary to ask congress for an additional appropriation of $300,000,000 to meet the claims of the railroads.

The money which is yet to be paid to the railroads is chiefly for claims of various sorts and is in addition to the guaranty money and reimbursements which have already been appropriated for.

Why an Optometry Law?

Forty Seven States in this country have passed legislation regulating the scientific fitting of glasses (OPTOMETRY). Texas alone has no such restriction hence outcasts from the regulated States are flocking here and defrauding our people and often selling them glasses that strain the eyes instead of making them comfortable. Every citizen should see his legislators and request them to favor such legislation in Texas.

FARMERS CONVENTION
CLOSED THIS FORENOON

The Convention will meet tomorrow morning at ten o'clock to finish up the work of the Convention for the year.

During tomorrow the election of officers will be held and the executive board will be named.

President D. E. Lyday, who is presiding over the Convention, is rounding out his fourth year as the head of the organization in this State, and from all indications, if he is not elected Governor of Texas, as was indicated in some of the speeches yesterday, he is likely to hold the important office that he now has for some time to come, as he seems to fit admirably into the office and is doing a wonderful work for the cause of the farmers of this State as well as throughout the bounds of the Farmers' Union.

Mr. A. L. Baker, of Houston, seems also well suited to his job as Secretary of the organization, and it would be hard to get another man who is so well informed on matters pertaining to the order, and he too, has been holding office for four years, with almost a cinch for re-election tomorrow.

These two gentlemen are editors of the Farmers Union Messenger, the Farmers' Union paper published at Houston, Texas, and have shown the Avalanche many courtesies while here that has enabled to give a good account of the Convention.

Thursday Session.

Thursday noon the business of the Nineteenth Session of the State Farmers' Union Convention came to a close. Every day of the convention has been full of business, and the chair has kept things humming in order to get through with the great volume of business to come before the organization.

The officers are as follows: D. E. Lyday, president; F. I. Townsend, vice president; A. L. Baker, secretary; J. P. Law, Chaplin; J. E. Bean, doorkeeper; J. W. Gregg, conductor.

Executive committee: C. D. Stevens, chairman; J. H. Lehmann, secretary; James H. Beard, Ed. A. Doss, and J. B. Adams.

We are unable to use the president's report of the work of the Union this week, but will give it in full next issue.

We find that the visitors enjoyed the few days in Lubbock and they are loud in their praise of the hospitality of this city and the farmer hosts of this community. They all express themselves as having been entertained in the very best way possible.

Among the measures now pending in Congress which we desire to see enacted speedily, are: 1. Packer control Legislation; 2. Regulation of Grain and Cotton Exchanges;

3. More ample provision for the efficient operation of the Land Loan Bank Act; 4. Financing through government loan and government control of an export corporation to aid in export marketing;

5. Legislation eliminating Farmers' Co-operative Organizations from the provision of any anti-trust laws. We are especially gratified that through the efforts of the National Union, that Congress has created the joint Agricultural Inquiry Commission with power to subpoena witnesses and otherwise secure information about conditions that have caused such unwarranted deflation of agricultural products, and to make comparison between agriculture and other great industries of our country, with the object of arriving at a solution of the agriculture problem.

We pledge our support to this laudable effort, and urge that the commission do not content itself with a few short hearings in Washington, but that they visit all sections of the country and ascertain from actual farmers at first hand just the true condition affecting agriculture in its various ramifications, and actually discover just what becomes of the tremendous margin that now exists between the farm price and the consumers price of our commodities.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were adopted this morning in the rotation which they appear:

Resolution No. 1. Whereas, the Farmers' Exchange of Texas, located at Houston, Texas, was organized by the Texas State Farmers' Union, and its capital stock is owned by members of this organization, and

Whereas, There is a large quantity of this stock still unsold; Therefore, Be it resolved by the State Farmers' Union, in convention assembled at Lubbock, Texas, this the 14th day of July, 1921, that we urge all members of this organization, who now hold stock in the Farmers' Exchange, who possibly can, to buy more of this unsold stock, and that every member who does not own stock in this company be earnestly urged to buy at least one share and more where they are able to do so.

We further recommend that each delegate to this convention take this matter up with the locals in his county immediately and use his utmost influence to see that this surplus stock is taken up and by so doing place the Exchange on a sound financial footing.

Resolution No. 2. Whereas, at the recent session of the Legislature an effort was made to have the markets and warehouse departments consolidated with the State Department of Agriculture, and, Whereas, Governor Neff has stated that he would submit this matter at the special session of the Legislature, soon to convene.

Therefore, be it resolved by the Farmers' Union of Texas, in convention at Lubbock, Texas, July 13, 1921, that we are opposed to the consolidation of these Departments. We request the Legislature to maintain the Markets and Warehouse Departments, as a separate, distinct and independent department, and that it be supported by adequate appropriations.

Resolution No. 4. Whereas, The unprecedented contraction of the national currency and of Bank Credits, forced on the nation by the arbitrary decision of the Federal Reserve Board, has caused an unprecedented slump in prices which has ruined thousands of tradespeople, thrown millions of workmen out of employment and produced in a few short months, a nation-wide wave of crime, suicide and despair, and

Whereas, These are the logical and inevitable results of rapidly falling prices, which are invariably caused by contraction of the currency and Bank Credits, and

Whereas, The people very generally believe this action of the Federal Reserve Board was taken at the instance and under the dictation of the financial oligarchy centered in New York, which has so long controlled the finances of our country and which has precipitated many panics in former years, and

Whereas, Our people had generally believed the establishment of the Federal Reserve system had made such manipulation of our finances impossible, and

Whereas, This terrible financial paroxysm has seriously impaired public confidence in the Federal Reserve System, therefore,

Be it resolved that we ask President Harding to remove at once those members of the Federal Reserve Board who are more largely responsible for this unwarranted action, and especially do we urge that the Chairman be immediately removed as an administrative rebuke and as an indication that future acts of this character will not be tolerated.

Resolution No. 5. National Legislation. We heartily recommend our National officials for their efforts to have Congress to enact legislation tending to relieve the present critical conditions affecting agriculture.

Our judgment is that the enactment into law of those measures proposed by our officials or endorsed by them will materially aid so far as it is possible for legislation to aid in restoring a market for surplus farm products, which if properly utilized by co-operative sales efforts will permit the selling of our products at figures at least approaching their economic worth.

Among the measures now pending in Congress which we desire to see enacted speedily, are:

1. Packer control Legislation; 2. Regulation of Grain and Cotton Exchanges;

3. More ample provision for the efficient operation of the Land Loan Bank Act;

4. Financing through government loan and government control of an export corporation to aid in export marketing;

5. Legislation eliminating Farmers' Co-operative Organizations from the provision of any anti-trust laws. We are especially gratified that through the efforts of the National Union, that Congress has created the joint Agricultural Inquiry Commission with power to subpoena witnesses and otherwise secure information about conditions that have caused such unwarranted deflation of agricultural products, and to make comparison between agriculture and other great industries of our country, with the object of arriving at a solution of the agriculture problem.

We pledge our support to this laudable effort, and urge that the commission do not content itself with a few short hearings in Washington, but that they visit all sections of the country and ascertain from actual farmers at first hand just the true condition affecting agriculture in its various ramifications, and actually discover just what becomes of the tremendous margin that now exists between the farm price and the consumers price of our commodities.

Resolution No. 7. War Risk Bureau.

In our judgment immediate relief to agriculture can come only when adequate arrangements have been made for the sale of commodities in foreign markets. In order to facilitate as speedily as possible, this much to be desired end, we respectfully petition Congress to,

1. Broaden the power and scope of the War Finance Corporation so that they will be authorized to extend credit upon foreign bills of lading properly secured;

2. That the War Risk Bureau, or a Bureau with purposes similar to the War Risk Bureau, be re-established, with power broad enough to be really effective in our foreign trade.

Resolution No. 8 Separate Finance

Whereas, The Federal Reserve

Banking Act has in the present crisis been proven entirely inadequate to meet the needs of agriculture, due largely to the fact that the Federal Reserve System as now functioning, operates to the relief of ordinary or short term commercial paper only and is not effective as a stabilizer of long term credit, such as agriculture must necessarily require, therefore, Be it resolved that we petition the Congress to create a Financial System specifically for agricultural needs, which shall at all times function for agriculture and agriculture only.

Resolution No. 9 Liberty Bonds.

Under present agricultural conditions any rediscunt rate in excess of 5 per cent will be prohibitive, therefore we demand that the Federal Reserve Board fix the rediscunt on agricultural products at a rate not to exceed 5 per cent.

Whereas, our patriotic people of every class strained their financial resources to the breaking point in order to buy Liberty Bonds and thus finance our government and the allied powers in the prosecution of the great world war, and whereas, these bonds were bought in good faith at their par value and actually represent dollar for dollar, and

Whereas, Certain interests have by manipulation reduced their value in order to profit therefrom, and whereas, our government is just as stable as it ever was, no possible reason can exist for this lowering of value, therefore,

Be it resolved, That we petition Congress to enact such legislation as will enable Liberty Bonds to circulate as a medium at par value, legalized for the payment of all debts, public and private.

NOTES OF THE CONVENTION

Lubbock County was honored by the election of one of her substantial farmers as a member of the Executive Board. J. B. Adams, president of the County Union having been elected to take the place of J. C. Webb, of Wichita Falls, who had moved to South Texas.

This climate, Oh, boy! That is the way one of the delegates expressed his delight at the great climate of the Lubbock country. He crawled under a blanket before morning, so he says, "and when the call for breakfast came I was enjoying the finest sleep I have had for months. Down my way its too hot to sleep."

With a stream of water coming out of the ground as big around as a stove pipe, clear and sparkling, cool and fine out at the City water plant, the eyes of some of those fellows who have been used to a small spring in the side of a ravine, popped out like a toad, and it was hard to get them away from the well, to resume their journey. Lubbock's water supply is unquestioned by the farmer's delegation.

President Lyday read his annual report to the Convention Monday afternoon which showed real progress in the work of the Union during the past year.

Lubbock seems to be taking care of the delegates to the Convention in grand style. We have heard of none who had to sleep on the pavement or eat their meals in the alleys. It is just Lubbock's natural way to take care of all its guests whether they come in large or small numbers.

The Chamber of Commerce Band furnished fine music Tuesday evening for the entertainment of the visitors in the city, and many were the compliments heard as to the music, and the progressiveness of the city in maintaining such an organization.

We find that many visitors to the Convention are enjoying their first trip to the Plains country, and they are agreeably surprised at the development of this section of the state as well as the fertility of the soil and the general climatic conditions. Many express a desire to return here soon, and no doubt many will be sending some of their kinfolks out here for an excuse to visit this section often. We invite you to come any time.

EVANGELIST WILL DISCUSS THE WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC

Next Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. Rev. Mrs. Emma Irick will lecture on the above subject under the large tabernacle close by the Nazarene church of Lubbock.

She will give some reasons why over one hundred and fifty thousand girls lose their way in life every year in the nited States, and she will also give some thrilling experiences of those who have been redeemed by Divine Grace from a life of sin, sorrow and misfortune.

She will have on display some photos of a number of young ladies who have been rescued and restored to virtue, to eternal life and to home and loved ones. This service will be held in the interest of Rest Cottage, at Pilot Point, Texas, an institution of prayer, faith and love, where in the past 18 years over 900 mothers' and fathers' daughters have been rescued, cared for and restored to all that is sacred and sweet to womanhood. This will be a great service and we invite all the christians and friends in and around Lubbock to this great rescue rally Sunday afternoon.

COULD BEAT HANDS SHUCKING HIS CORN

At Least J. A. White Would Bet So, After Being Relieved Of Dyspepsia By Tanlac

"My wife and myself have had stomach trouble," says Mr. J. A. White, residing near Leestown Pike, R. F. D. No. 6, near Lexington, Ky, "and both have been nervous and run down."

"We could not see anything without suffering afterwards and could not sleep at night. We were regular nervous dyspeptics. We tried many remedies without permanent benefit until we heard of Tanlac. I got this medicine and began using it. We noticed immediate results. We are both greatly improved by Tanlac. We give all credit for the change of health to Tanlac. It is a remarkable medicine.

"I personally feel so good that I told my hands a few days ago that I could beat any of them shucking corn. I meant it and I believe I could have beat 'em all."

Of all the maladies that afflict humanity chronic dyspepsia, such as Mr. and Mrs. White suffered from, is probably the most prevalent and hours might be consumed in describing the sufferings, mental and bodily, of the victims of chronic dyspepsia.

Amorbid, unreal, whimsical and melancholy condition of the mind, aside from the nervous physical suffering, is the usual state of the average dyspeptic and life seems scarcely worth the living.

Tanlac, the celebrated medicine, was designated especially for overcoming this distressing condition and millions of people have taken it with the most astonishing and gratifying results. It seems to go straight to the spot, toning up and invigorating every organ in the body.

Tanlac is sold in all leading drug stores.

THE LUBBOCK AVALANCHE

THE FIRST TERM OF DISTRICT COURT HELD IN LUBBOCK COUNTY

Doubtless, many of our old timers will recall the first term of District Court held in Lubbock County, and to the new-comers it will prove interesting as well. The first term of District Court, after the organization of the County, was held Monday, June 22, 1891, some 30 years ago. The court was very busy at this session and consumed two full days, and although short compared with the crowded dockets which take up six or eight weeks now, it was then considered a busy term, especially being the first session, and some half a dozen cases were disposed of during the session.

The officers of the Court then were: W. R. McGill, Judge of the 56th Judicial District, of which Lubbock County was a part; W. L. Henderson, District Attorney; Geo. C. Wolfarth, District Clerk, and W. M. Lay, Sheriff.

It was necessary to appoint Jury Commissioners, that being a new duty imposed since the county was organized, and J. B. Mobley, W. D. Crump and John B. Green were chosen to act in that capacity. It might be well to state that these gentlemen are still citizens of Lubbock County, and although their hair is frosty and their steps a little slower, they are hale and hearty; we are proud to have them with us, and hope their years will be many.

The Grand Jury empaneled consisted of: G. W. Singer, Albert Clark, W. S. Clark, Henry Crump, John Kennedy, W. P. Nelson, J. F. O'Harrow, M. A. Wood, Isham Tubbs, Wm. Tubbs, E. H. Estes and F. E. Wheelock. W. F. Cobb served as Grand Jury Bailiff. G. W. Singer was chosen foreman of the Grand Jury. No Petit Juries were necessary at this term. It will be noted that the majority of the Grand Jury that served then are still on the job, while a few of them are numbered among those who have passed to the great beyond.

The following term of District Court was held December 21, 1891, the same officers presiding, and the Grand Jury selected and who served were: T. C. Bromley, J. C. Brown, R. H. Crump, D. M. Ealey, M. P. Washburn, S. P. Leach, W. C. Bromley, M. L. Handley, Albert Clark, W. H. White, E. C. Knight and C. W. Mallard.

WEAK, NERVOUS, ALL RUN-DOWN

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. "I saw after taking some Cardui... that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person."

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me. My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments. For sale everywhere. E.33

FIRST CIVIL CASE FILED IN LUBBOCK COUNTY

June 17, 1891, was the date on which the first civil case was filed in the District Court of Lubbock County, after the organization of the County.

The plaintiff in that particular suit was J. D. Caldwell, who is still one of our most prominent citizens, and Mr. J. F. O'Harrow was named as defendant. It seems that Mr. Caldwell had given the defendant a contract to supply all material for the construction of a modern frame hotel on the site now occupied by the J. J. Richards Tire Company. The building was to be 14x36 feet, 14 feet high, and 1-1/2 stories, containing two rooms below and two above, as the petition recites. Upon the failure of the part of defendant to supply such material, suit was instituted asking damages of $114.50. However, the case was tried at a later date, and rebuttal testimony showed that the defendant had more than complied with his contract, and the judgment rendered, gave the defendant judgment against the plaintiff for $32.25.

The attorneys employed in this proceeding were W. F. Hendrix representing Mr. Caldwell and W. C. Henderson was employed by Mr. O'Harrow. The last number on the District Court file docket is No. 1468.

Hubert Wolfarth, who has been visiting at the Beal Ranch in Borden county for the past two months, returned home Tuesday.

ADVANCE IN HOGS; CATTLE HIGHER AND SHEEP STEADY

Kansas City Stock Yards, July 11, 1921.—Hog prices made another advance today which took the market into the highest position since early this year and $2.25 to $2.50 above the low point in June. Today's advance was 25 to 40 cents, top $9.75, bulk $9.50 to $9.70. Demand was urgent. Cattle ruled strong to 40 cents higher. Yearlings and light-weight steers sold up to $9.00 and $9.10, and the highest price in a number of weeks. Stockers and feeders were higher also. Sheep and lambs sold readily at steady prices.

Today's Receipts.
Receipts today were 10,000 cattle, 7000 hogs, and 7000 sheep, compared with a holiday a week ago, and 18,265 cattle, 10,100 hogs and 5500 sheep a year ago.

Best Cattle.
Receipts of cattle today were below expectations, and the light supply furnished a protest against the recent low prices, and reflected a more optimistic view of cattlemen because of promised relief in the loan situation, arising from the bankers $9 million dollar cattle loan fund. This fund will be available by July 18th. The market today was strong to 40 cents higher. Prime yearlings and light weight steers were fully 40 cents higher, top $9.10. Other choices to prime steers sold at $8.50 to $9.00. Grass fat, short fed and plain killing grades were mostly 15 to 25 cents higher. Cows and heifers showed about the same advance as steers. Calves were 25 to 50 cents higher, and bulls strong.

Stockers and Feeders.
Demand for thin cattle was active at 25 cents higher prices. Inquiry for good feeders was large, while bargain hunters gathered in odd lots, and common kinds. The trade would have developed considerable volume had receipts been larger.

Hogs.
Hog prices rose 25 to 40 cents and the top was within a quarter of the $10.00 mark. Demand was urgent from both packers and shippers and all classes sold readily. Hogs weighing 260 pounds sold up to $9.65, and both medium and light weights sold up to $9.75. Pigs were 50 cents higher, top $9.50. The market is in a firm position at the advance, as current receipts are hardly equal to the most urgent requirements.

Sheep and Lambs.
Prices for sheep and lambs were quoted unchanged compared with last week's close. Trade showed a fair degree of activity. Native lambs sold up to $10.00, and wethers $4.25 to $4.50. No western lambs arrived.

Horses and Mules.
Light receipts of horses and mules sold slowly at steady prices.

Gov. Neff Urges Strict Law Enforcement in Texas

Governor Pat M. Neff brings us sharply to attention with the startling declaration that Texas is now, and for the past two years has been, experiencing the greatest crime wave in the state's history. Or is it startling? With perhaps a slight allowance for exaggeration by the governor for sake of effect, perhaps we feel his statement to be substantially true. And this has not been startling. Although from the pulpit, on the street and through the press men have been outspoken of late months in declaring crime was being encouraged by the verdicts of stupid juries, careless of law, and by the public's easy tolerance of lawbreaking, nothing has resulted. Interest flickered momentarily and was gone. "The law no longer has terror for the evil doers," says the governor. "We have minimized punishment for crime until it has stripped the law of its power."

"A traditional and parasite growth of technicalities has sucked the life-blood out of the penal code." Here the governor is hitting at hair splitting judges who throw out indictments for insignificant errors, perhaps trivial clerical errors; petty-fogging judges in whose minds a legal quibble obscures justice; courts which become partners in crime, accessories after the fact, by allowing criminals to get clear on technicalities. The delays made possible by our legal system; the new trials, retrials, and almost endless appeals from one court to another, result many times in defeating justice and allowing the guilty to escape. Far different is it from the quick, direct positive action of the English courts.

Nothing saves us but the conscientious, clear thinking judge and jury. Were it not for them, and there are many of them, we might as well have no laws at all.

Governor Neff intends to submit a program of law enforcement legislation at the coming special session of the legislature.

Something may be accomplished thereby, but not without the determination of judges and juries not to let criminals be acquitted. If that determination were sufficiently widespread now, there would be no need for Governor Neff to go before the legislature. There are laws enough, if they were enforced.—El Paso Herald.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S PASTELLESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS FROM THE TERRY COUNTY HERALD

While the Terry county farmers were not making much to do over the rain situation, there being plenty of moisture still from the big rains of the first and middle part of June, just the same a rain is nearly always in order anywhere in the west, and not one tried to close the gates on the cloud that came up about four o'clock Tuesday afternoon and rained about an hour and a half. The total precipitation in Brownfield was .85 inch and seemed to get lighter north, and was probably heavier west and south of town. A bumper crop is now assured providing insects let the stuff alone, and we have heard nothing along that line to date.

We understand that Rev. J. E. Anderson has tendered his resignation as pastor of the local Baptist church. We regret to learn this as he and his excellent family have many friends at this place who will regret their going away. We hope however, that he will find work at his new location just as good or better.

AN EXPLANATION IS GIVEN BY JUDGE GEO. L. BEATTY

The Avalanche: In the cause, Beatty vs. Pond, pending in the Justice Court, while the trial was on, Beatty struck Pond. Your reporter in giving an account of the affair, says: "It was stated by those who saw the trouble that Pond made no attempt to hit the Judge, owing to his age and hard of hearing."

That is, that Pond had a respect for Beatty's old age and deafness—this is not true—can't be.

If Pond had had a respect for Beatty's old age and deafness, he would not have insulted him in the cruel manner in which he did. So cruel, that even some of the jury and those in the court room have said openly that Beatty did right in striking Pond.

If Pond had been the president of the United States and the case had been on trial before the Supreme Court of the United States, and he had said what he did say, I would have hit him, and I am sure that the Court would not even have attempted to punish me for making the hit.

There was no legal issue between Pond and myself. I, as a law abiding citizen appealed to the Court to decide the issue, and while the issue was on trial, I was grossly insulted by Pond. It was not the issue that caused me to hit, but the insult, only.

In the war between the states, as a Confederate soldier in my teens, I helped to battle for what I thought was right, and as to politics and business, I shall continue to do so as long as life lasts.

Two Prominent Slaton Citizens Died Last Week

About 7:30 o'clock last night A. K. Green received a message from his mother at Corpus Christi, which read as follows:

"Daddy died at 4:35. Will go to Slaton."

Lee A. Green was about 56 years of age, was a member of the Christian church and Woodmen of the World. He had been in failing health for several years, but not until last winter was his illness considered serious. He suffered from heart trouble, and hoping that a lower altitude would be beneficial to his health he went to Dallas last December. In a few weeks his condition became worse and Mrs. Green joined him there at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. C. Drennan. About two and a half months ago Mr. Green sufficiently recovered that he was able to go to Corpus Christi.

Deceased is survived by his wife, three daughters and two sons, as follows: Mrs. W. C. Drennan, of Dallas; Mrs. A. J. Bannon, of Billings, Montana; Mrs. Richard Ragsdale, of Slaton, and Harry Green, student in a Fort Worth college. Another daughter died in infancy and is buried in Corpus Christi.

Mrs. Drennan of Dallas, and Mrs. Ragsdale of this city, were at the bedside of their father when the end came.

Mr. Green resided in Amarillo for about forty years, moving to Corpus Christi during that interval, at which place he lived for three years, returning to Amarillo, and moving to Slaton January 1, 1916. During his residence in Slaton he had surrounded himself with a large circle of very warm friends who held him in the highest esteem, and a pall of sadness fell over the entire city when the news of his death spread. About 10 o'clock last night another message was received stating that the remains of Mr. Green would be shipped to Slaton, arriving here at 12:45 Sunday afternoon. Burial will follow in Slaton Cemetery at 3 o'clock the same afternoon.

Robert H. Hoffman, aged 55 years, 6 months and 15 days, unmarried, died Wednesday, July 6. Deceased

Built on Service

In the building of a large business such as this yard there must be, for its foundation, a service that is of the superior kind. Without it the business would not thrive.

At this yard you will find superior lumber service to-day the same as of the past. The same lumber service that has made this company known far and wide is available to you.

Builders anywhere in the Southplains will find the McAdams Lumber Company a company of genuine builder's service—Lumber and its kin.

We know the Plains Country and can furnish complete information about any portion of this great western section of the State.

Crop outlook is fine and now is the time to buy land. Because of the financial depression of last year many are in debt too much and their loss is your gain. We have a number of excellent buys at this time, which can be tied up with reasonable forfeit until fall.

Below we mention a few listings worth your attention:

220 acres two miles from town, 175 in farm, has large well and surface tank, four room house, good medium barn, was priced at $125.00 per acre less than a year ago, can be bought at great bargain, but has $5,000.00 debt coming due January, 1922 to be assumed by buyer.

224 acres 8 1-2 miles of Lubbock and 2 1-2 miles of good brick school with 200 acres in farm and six room house, large well and tank, not a waste acre on it, adjoining land refused $100.00 per acre but $75.00 will buy this, easy terms.

40 tracts of fine land in the new county of Hockley just west of Lubbock County. Each tract has 147 acres, unimproved, price $21.00 an acre $2.00 an acre cash and balance runs to 30 years.

Michigan Ladies Go Shopping in Bathing Suits

It seems that people cannot stop at reasonable things but must run everything "ragged." Over in Michigan recently a number of the fashion plates of the city appeared on the streets of the town in their bathing suits, and of course a number of the "close followers" appeared also, and the police had to inform them that they would not allow them on the street with so little clothes on and told them they must put on a bath robe if they came to town in their bathing suits. This of course happened a way up in Michigan, but it does not take long for styles to travel, and who knows, before another week that some of the Lubbock people will be parading the streets in a bathing suit. Here's hoping that they do not, but you can't always tell.

THE PAST FIFTEEN YEARS PROVES GREATEST PERIOD OF DEVELOP- MENTS IN THIS SECTION OF TEXAS

Speaking of progress and what it takes to show a record, we are making it.

In the past fifteen years the broad Southplains has developed from a desert-resembling scope of country into one of the most beautiful and profitable farming countries in the world. With three rains a season our rich, sandy loam will make better crops than the average country with a rainfall of a great deal more.

In conversation with R. C. Burns and J. A. Wilson, two of the first settlers of this country, who now reside in Lubbock, we find many interesting things have happened in the way of growth and settlement of this country. Mr. Burns came to the Southplains in the year of 1881, and at that time was employed on the "22"

Ranch, owned by John Hensley. At that time there were only four houses in Lubbock County. One being the sheep ranch located on the Yellowhouse Canyon, which at the present time is on the George Boles ranch, the other three were built about four miles northwest of the present site of Lubbock. These houses were at one time stores or trading places on the old cross roads between Fort Sumner, New Mexico, and Colorado City, Texas, and were owned by Z. T. Williams and a Frenchman by the name of De Quasay.

In 1890 land was worth about fifty cents per acre—that is land located anywhere on the Southplains. In 1906, Mr. Burns tells us that he purchased a tract of seven sections within two miles of the present site of the town of Slaton, for the price of $1.50 per acre for four sections and $2 per acre for three. At that time this was the top price for Southplains land. Today at the very least figures the same land is selling from $60 to as high as $100 per acre.

Mr. Wilson tells us of a trade he once made when he got a section of land within two miles of the site of the town of Idalon. He gave the fancy price of $150 for the section with the improvements. He later sold the improvements and let the land go back to the State. Today we are conservative in saying that the land could not be bought for $50 per acre. At another time Mr. Wilson and his brother went in together and purchased two sections four miles south of Lubbock for $75. Mr. Wilson then traded his half of the land to his brother for a saddle pony. A short time later the brother traded the two sections off for one mule. Today the land, if it could be bought for $60 per acre would be a big bargain.

Only twenty years ago Mr. Wilson traded a pair of boots for two sections of land and they are worth this very minute, or they will sell for a total of $44,800.

In the year 1891, the County of Lubbock was organized. The town of Lubbock was an old round-up site. At that time R. C. Burns owned a section which is today known as the Overton addition to the town of Lubbock. This was given to W. M. Lay, provided he would enter the race for the office of sheriff. Mr. Lay ran and was elected sheriff. No one probably deserves more credit than our present tax assessor R. C. Burns, who gave away part of the town that is worth, without improvements, more than a half million dollars, for the upbuilding of the county.

Not more than fifteen years ago, lots on the square in Lubbock sold for $15 and $20 each. The lot on which the Lubbock State Bank is located at one time sold for $55; those where the Citizens National Bank is located sold for $75. In fifteen years this property has increased from a value of $15 to its present value of $100,000.

The first cotton ever grown on the Plains came up voluntarily in the Spring of 1889 on the "I-O-A" Ranch. During the winter months cattle were fed on cotton seed hauled from Colorado City. In the spring this cotton came up and developed in the sod land without cultivation. Last year Lubbock county alone ginned and shipped out more than twenty thousand bales of this staple crop. Outside of the cotton we shipped away over one hundred and sixty-five thousand bushels of wheat, and more than eight hundred and ninety-six thousand bushels of sorghum grains. Besides this we supply the world with Sudan grass seed. Our poultry and egg industry amounts to more than forty thousand dollars monthly.

These are a few of the reasons why we boast of our country. We urge, while we have visiting farmers

How is That Row Crop Mr. Farmer?

Have you made your arrangements to harvest those wonderful crops which are growing so fast and are looking so fine?

Before you know it you will have to begin harvesting. We want you to know that the John Deere row binder, which we handle, has so many good features that you cannot afford to try to harvest your row crop without a John Deere.

The drive or bull wheel, the foundation of any binder, is a steel wheel. It will stand more strain than a cast iron wheel. It is of extra large diameter and wide face. This gives greater power and more tractive surface.

The elevator chains, of which there are three sets, carry the stalks farther back towards the packers and hold the stalks in an upright position until the packers can get hold of them. Hence you get a better bundle and can handle shorter stuff. Also, you can take care of long stalks to the very best advantage.

The grain wheel is a large wheel with four inch concave tire and runs on a large axle with a roller bearing. This makes light draft and long life.

All bearings are equipped with roller bearings, where the best service is secured by having them so. This makes a very light running machine and lengthens the life of the bearings.

The John Deere Bundle Carrier is the greatest invention, for row binders, of the age. It is power operated. That is, you do not have to dump the bundles with your foot and then by the same method throw the heavy bundle carrier back into position to receive the next bundles. With a light pressure of the foot, a clutch is engaged, throwing the bundle carrier in gear and dumping the bundles. The bundles are thrown completely out of the way of your team so that the outside horse does not have to walk over the bundles. This not only saves the horse but prevents tearing up the bundles.

The quick turn tongue truck relieves the team of all neck weight and side draft. That is one of the greatest savers of your team that could be devised.

Call at our store and let us show you this most efficient Row Binder.

Eleven Modern Brick Buildings in Lubbock County

Twenty-one Rural Districts compose the schools of Lubbock County, outside of the City Schools. Of these eleven have modern brick buildings and fourteen have passed the special $1 tax allowed by the State.

More than 1800 pupils are enrolled in these schools and their course of instruction includes music, domestic art, agriculture and other homely and useful subjects.

Consolidation and motor transportation is being developed throughout the section with the increase in population and development. Electric light plants are installed in several of the schools and regular community programs are a part of the school activity each year.

A County Agent works with the public schools and has an enrollment of more than 400 Club members in the 17 active clubs of the County.

All of this spells satisfaction, prosperity and community pride and a higher grade of citizenship for the upgrowing children.

Come West, where a man feels at home and is proud to be there.

Petition asking Election For Paving Ave. K

A petition is being signed readily by citizens of Avenue K this week, asking for an election upon which they wish to vote bonds for paving that Avenue, beginning at Broadway and extending as far north as the corporate limits of the city.

We are informed that some of the heaviest holders of property on this street have signed the petition. It is almost an assured fact that the request for election will be granted by the City Commissioners.

A WORD TO FARMERS

A welcome to our store is awaiting the farmers of this community as well as the visitors. This welcome holds good every day in the year.

The prosperity of any country is governed by the class of farmers to be found in that community.

Judging by this, we should have the most prosperous community in the state, as we believe there is no better class of farmers to be found any where.

We want you to get in the habit of making our store your headquarters. Come and bring your family with you. You are always welcome and we will be glad to entertain you by playing a Victrola or Edison for you.

OIL WELL WILL BE DRILLED NEAR ABERNATHY SOON

Abernathy, Texas, July 5.—W. E. Bledsoe will begin the erection next week of the derrick for the test to be made for oil on his ranch five miles northwest of Abernathy.

He informs us that he will not wait any longer on Plainview helping him finance the proposition, but will sink the well on his own responsibility.

Mr. Bledsoe returned this morning from a trip to the Santa Anna District, where he had been on oil business. He will buy a standard derrick, and expects to begin actual drilling within the next month. He will do the drilling himself, and expects to find oil at about 1720 feet.

Mr. Bledsoe has invented an appliance by which he claims he can find and locate oil and gas, its depth and extent of the pool. He has tried it out down in the Ranger, Breckenridge and Santa Anna fields with success, so we are informed by other parties.

In case oil or gas is found near Abernathy it will prove of great benefit to Hale county and the Plains country and especially Plainview, and will bring great wealth and increase realty values.

HALE CENTER BOY INSTANTLY KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Harry Douglas McIlroy, sixteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McIlroy, was struck by lightning between five and six o'clock Tuesday afternoon and instantly killed, while riding a horse three miles southwest of Hale Center.

The bolt struck him on the top of the head and tore through his body, going out near the groin, then passing through the horse. Both were killed instantly and when found he was still astride the horse, with one leg under the horse's side and the other on top. The boy was burned about the neck and on one side, and his clothing and the slicker he was wearing were torn into threads.

He was enroute from the home five miles southwest of Hale Center to get the mail, and was passing through a lane when the tragedy occurred.

The barb-wire on either side and the fence posts were torn up for quite a distance.

A rain was falling at the time, and he lay quite awhile until some passing strangers found his body and that of the horse. Only by the part of a letter he was going to mail was his identity established.

FORMER ABILENE MAN BUILDS HOTEL IN LUBBOCK

George Pickle, formerly of this city but now of Lubbock, and John Dalrymple, also of Lubbock, have completed a handsome new brick two story hotel, known as the "Cova" at Lubbock. The new 25 room hotel is thoroughly modern, with hot and cold water in every room, and has a dining room of 34 by 40 feet and a lobby of 20 by 34. New furniture is used throughout.

The foundation is so constructed to accommodate two more stories should the occasion demand. The cost of the structure is approximately $30,000. Mr. Pickle, who was in Abilene Monday to attend the races, stated that he and his partner would soon begin the erection of four more brick business houses in Lubbock, which they will lease to business firms.—Abilene Reporter.

FORMER CONTRACTOR IS HERE TO ATTEND COURT

J. P. Hope is here from DeLeon, where he has been making his home since moving away from Lubbock some time ago. Mr. Hope is here in connection with the case in the District court styled, Alfalfa Lumber Company vs. J. P. Hope, et al, in which the lumber company is suing Mr. Hope and bondsmen for a balance alleged to be due by Hope on the material bill on the Methodist church. This case was tried here last year and the defendants won. The case was appealed and reversed, so that a second trial is necessary. This case will likely be heard some time next week.

HOCKLEY COMMON SCHOOL DISTRICT VOTES BONDS

At a recent school election Common School District No. 3, in Hockley County, voted to issue fifty thousand dollars of bonds for the purpose of building and equipping a school building, and County Judge Evens was here the latter part of last week and arranged with the Avalanche job department to print the bonds. Judge Evens says bonds are rather slow sale at present. The State is not able to take them on account of so many being issued over the state and individuals are not looking very keenly for six percent paper, but they believe they will be able to dispose of them within a reasonable length of time.

200 CARS WEEKLY NEEDED TO MOVE WHEAT AT TULIA

Tulia, July 6.—The wheat harvest in Swisher county is in full swing, and with the aid of about fifty combines cutting twelve feet, and four that cut thirty six feet the wheat is coming into the elevators much faster than was expected. The car shortage will become acute unless relief is furnished at once. The eleven elevators in the county will need 200 cars a week for the next four weeks.

The Chamber of Commerce is making every effort possible to move the wheat as it is received.

NEFF ASSERTS TEXAS COUNTY HAS SALOONS RUNNING

Austin, Texas, July 5.—Governor Neff declared today before the rotary club that in a certain county of Texas a saloon and several pool halls are running wide open under the protection of a deputy sheriff of that county. He said if it was not for the federal officers Texas would have no law enforcement in that county and a number of others.

The governor's speech was made in behalf of his enforcement bill which he intends to submit to the special session of the legislature. In referring to law enforcement the governor said that the federal officers in Texas enforced entirely the prohibition laws and that if it was not for them Texas would have no prohibition laws enforced.

The governor cited statistics on the suspended sentence law and showed why he thought it should be repealed.

ONE WAY TO KEEP RATS OUT OF THE CORN

Wilson Reed has recently returned from a Fourth of July celebration at Clovis, and tells how the farmers in that part of the country keep the rats out of their corn. Last year the rats were so bad that it was almost impossible for the farmers to store their corn anywhere, that these pest would not destroy it. It was finally decided to transform the corn into a liquid. Mr. Reed says in some parts of the New Mexico county, corn made thirty gallons to the acre.

W. D. Lewis, of Coryell County, one of the oldest exponents of the Farmers' Union doctrine, is here this week in attendance upon the State Farmers' Union Convention, and aside from being a practical farmer he is also a newspaper man of considerable experience. He stated to an Avalanche representative that he, for a number of years published a newspaper and ran a farm both at the same time. Different from the usual way of doing this, he did not live in the city and go out to the farm in his automobile and see after things out there, as is the style now, but he lived on the farm several miles out from town, looking after the affairs of the farm, gave the work his personal attention, and then drove to town and got out his paper. This was his experience in the newspaper business, and while he has been out of that work for many years, he still has the greatest sympathy possibly for the newspaper folks, and can have an idea about what they have to contend with, and the difficulties they often encounter in the publication of newspapers.

He is one of the oldest members of the Farmers' Union in the State and is still very active. He was made chairman of the committee on crop reports, by President Lyday, because of his wide experience in the Farmers' Union work, and his familiarity with the crop conditions and the general run of the Farmers' Union work.

Pathfinder Bred Sow and Gilt Sale--Aug. 8, '21

SALE WILL BE HELD AT THE FARM, 1 MILE WEST OF LUBBOCK
Lunch Will be Served at 1 O'Clock---Sale Starts at 2 O'Clock

We will sell 25 bred sows and gilts, a few service boars, and a few spring pigs. The most of the offering will be sired by HIGH PATHFINDER and bred to MY ROYAL PATHFINDER. You know what HIGH PATHFINDER has done for the Plains Country, he has put more good hogs of the correct type than any other boar in the southwest, that is a pretty strong statement but just get in your car and visit the hog men and farmers of this country, then you'll agree with us.

High Pathfinder

Is getting better every day. We honestly believe after the shows this fall that his get will be in greater demand than ever.

SUCH SOWS AS THESE WILL ROOT THE MORTGAGE OFF ANY FARM.

MY ROYAL PATHFINDER

This young boar is not as well known as the old boar. We have made it a rule not to "hollow" our heads off about a boar until we can see what he is going to do as a breeder. We have just visited several parties that bought High Pathfinder sows and gilts in our winter sale bred to My Royal Pathfinder and have never seen more real quality than we saw in these litters. We have never seen such HIGH BACKS, long straight legs anywhere. Watch this young boar's get this fall and if we "hollow" a little louder you may know why.

We are going to have a real sale attraction, and that is in all the hog men know this sow and what she has done. Her daughter topped our winter sale at $500, four of the pigs in this litter sold for $1,250. We do not believe that every sow will do this, but she is a real breeding sow, she is bred back to the old hero HIGH PATHFINDER for a fall litter. She is two years old now and should produce a still better litter. You will do well to look her over sale day.

TERMS—We are not going to have a strictly CASH sale. If you need a good sow and do not have the money just now, come talk the matter over with us and we will take care of you.

BLED SOE AND BALDWIN SAY THEY WILL TRY TO BLOCK LEGISLATION TO CONSOLIDATE AGRICULTURE DEPT.

Senator Bledsoe, in his address to the State Farmers' Union Convention Tuesday afternoon assured those present that he was strictly opposed to the idea the Governor had of merging the various departments of agriculture and pledged his efforts to block any such legislation. He stated that he supposed the Governor would bring this matter before the special session of the legislature which will convene next week, but was sure that the chief executive would have one lively time of putting any such legislation through, as there were some strong opponents to the idea, who would stand pat and fight it to a finish. He says the Governor has no right to put his pet economy over at the expense of the farmer, and if this merger bill was to pass that is what it would mean exactly.

Senator Bledsoe stated that he was opposed to any useless tax being placed upon the people, but said that the appropriations for maintaining the various state departments and institutions would have to be cared for, and the tax route was the only way in the world that they had to raise the money and he could give them no assurance of the tax rate the coming year, except that he would be in favor of keeping it to the lowest possible amount.

He called attention to the constitutional amendments that will be submitted to the people on the fourth Saturday in this month, as he believes them to be of great importance to the people of the state. The two that he called special attention to was the one asking for the raise in pay for the Governor and Representatives. He is strongly in favor of the amendment, not that he hoped to be benefited by it, as his term of office would expire long before the time that this raise would go into effect even if it should carry, but he believes it will be most saved; the people of the state, as it will not cost any more in the long run and he believes that better legislation will result from an increased pay of the legislators. The usual rush of putting a lot of bills through right on the last hour of the session, would be avoided, according to his idea and the great expense of called sessions would be avoided, then too, the railroad fare would be reduced to the actual amount, which would mean a considerable saving in mileage, and he believes that the increased pay would attract more of the able men of the state, which in itself would mean closer consideration of the needs of the state. The second amendment that he called special attention to was the one abolishing the present prison system, which according to his statement, is corrupt to the core. Mismanagement is evident on every hand, and he charges a great lot of graft in connection with it. He says there are millionaires in Texas made so by grafting on the penitentiary system of Texas, taking from the men that are imprisoned there things that they should have. He stated that he hoped to see the old system abolished and a new arrangement perfected for the operation of the prisons. He was in favor of moving the South Texas prisons out of that section entirely and placing them in a more central location, and is also in favor of dividing the prisoners up into three classes. The first class those who are familiar with farming, and let them produce food and such like on the farms for the support of the prisoners during their time within the walls, and second to create a factory in which many of the useful things can be made, and sold to the people of the state or elsewhere at reasonable prices to help pay the expenses of that institution, and third, he believes in the honor system. He believes that forty per cent of the prisoners are men who will stick by their word, and could be worked on the roads in the state without guards. He says this is being successfully carried out in the State of Colorado, and he is sure that Colorado has no better men in the penitentiary or out than Texas has.

Baldwin Also Promises to Strongly Oppose Such Legislation.

Representative R. A. Baldwin also pledges his strongest efforts to prevent the passage of any bill that will be detrimental to the farmers' interest, and is strongly opposed to the merging of the agricultural departments. He stated that a better marketing system was needed, and that the organization of the farmers was the only means of getting down to this point. The bonded warehouse system came in for his approval, and he believes that this is the only solution to the problem of better prices for farm products. The farmer who has to borrow money to meet his running expenses is not going to make much money, and so long as the farmer does not have any say as to what he shall sell his products for, they cannot hope to make farming pay. With a well organized marketing system, whereby the farmer does not have to take just any price that is offered for his produce, the prices are bound to improve, and the farmers will see better times. The grand rush from the farms to town will stop, and greater production on the farm will result. Mr. Baldwin stated that the Governor was trying to practice economy, but was trying to economize on the wrong things. He agreed with the Governor that a lot of fellows around Austin, who are drawing a salary from the state should be kicked out and their salary used for better and more important causes, but believed that the warehouse department should be maintained. He stated that he had information in his office in Slaton to show that this department had saved the farmers of Crosby County alone the past year in the price of cotton above what they were offered for it on the local market more than pay the cost of operating the Warehouse department.

Dawson County Citizen Is Dead

Monday night, after a lingering illness of several weeks, A. C. Wristen passed to his eternal reward. Mr. Wristen was one of the best men we ever knew. He was as true to his word as the needle to the pole. He was an early settler of this country and was quite old. He leaves a large number of children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. His companion, only a few weeks ago preceded him to the home that knows no death or parting. Their marriage was a beautiful one of that type which was built upon the foundation of love. They had lived and loved and when she went away the dear old soul had nothing to remain for. He was oh, so lonely, and now again they join their lives to part no more. May these who remain to mourn, have that sweet consolation that they only need to be true and they will meet them beyond the river where life is real and eternal. Lean thou upon the strong arm of their God and he will comfort and bless you. Follow in their footsteps and your reward is sure. They have the sympathy of the entire community.

A small matter, this—yet only one of the risks incurred in sending the washing "out."

In what you wear, as in what you eat, purity and sanitation are important—and these you can be sure of only in a thoroughly modern laundry like ours.

Consider these things—what you send us is washed in billowy, purifying suds, in four fresh waters; it is rinsed not once, but three or four times, in more clean, clear water. Then ironed at 212 degrees and more, and wrapped, finally in a sunlit room, and in a dust-proof package.

Not mere cleanness—but practical sterilization.

State Faces Big Loss Thru Boll Worm, Report Says

Dallas, Texas, July 7.—The State of Texas faces a loss of $75,000,000 during the next five years, unless the pink boll worm is eradicated, according to Dr. W. B. Hunter, of Houston, member of the Federal horticultural board, here today.

"The average damage to the cotton crop from the pest has been 50 per cent in those localities where it has been found," Dr. Hunter declared.

"The worm will cover the state in five years. A conservative valuation of the annual crop is more than $150,000,000. This indicates the enormous loss."

A committee has been appointed to deal with the menace and formulate proposed legislation providing remuneration for the farmer who can not grow cotton under the law.

The members of the committee are: Chairman, W. D. Farris, Ennis; J. W. Garrow, Houston; A. P. Borden, Pierce, and Charles M. Bassett, El Paso.

Census Bureau Reported On Nativity Of The Texas Farmers And Stockmen

Washington, July 6.—Facts about the race and nativity of men who conduct Texas' 468,033 farms were given out today by the Census Bureau.
 Running far ahead of any other State in the number of farms, Texas was also far ahead of any other state in the number of native white farmers, with 327,408 as compared with 313,988 ten years ago.
 Texas had 29,760 foreign born white farmers as contrasted with 28,864 ten years ago. Negroes, Indians, Japanese and Chinese are listed together as "colored" farmers, and hence it is impossible to contrast negro farm population with that of ten years ago. But the four races of "colored" farmers now amount to 78,865 as compared with 69,918 ten years ago. Of the 78,865 "colored" farmers now in Texas, 78,664 are negroes, 154 Indians, 29 Japanese and 18 Chinese.

The native white farmers in Texas now comprise 75.1 of the total farmers in the State as compared 69.3 ten years ago. Foreign born white now amount to 6.9 of the total as compared with 6.8 ten years ago and colored 18.1 per cent of the total as compared with 16.7 ten years ago.

Oklahoma has 167,460 native born white farmers, 5,790 foreign born white farmers and 18,737 colored. Louisiana has 167,460 native born white farmers, 5,790 foreign born white, and 62,059 colored. Arkansas has 158,273 native born white farmers, 2,049 foreign born white farmers, and 72,282 colored farmers. New Mexico has 29,593 native born white farmers, 1,376 white foreign born and 1,875 colored.

Of the 6,448,366 farmers in the United States in 1920, 5,498,359 were white and 960,037 were colored. The number of negro farmers in the nation increased 3.7 per cent between 1910 and 1920.

CROPS ARE BETTER IN COKE THAN FOR MANY YEARS

With timely rains coming every few days, and intervals of splendid growing weather, which seems to assure bountiful crops in Coke county, and West Texas generally, the farmers are jubilant over the prospects, says a visitor from that section a few days ago. Some of the old settlers say that the outlook is better for this time of the year, than they can remember them to have ever been.

State Surplus Is Greater Than it Was Last Year

Austin, Texas, July 7.—There will be a surplus in the State Treasury to the credit of general revenue of $449,000 on Sept 1 next, as against $5,336,000 on Sept. 1 of last year. This condition was developed today at a conference between State Treasurer John W. Baker, Comptroller Lon A. Smith and members of the State Board of Control. It will be communicated to the Senate Finance and House Appropriations Committees tomorrow for their guidance in building the general appropriations bills for consideration at the coming special session of the Legislature. Likewise, it will be accepted by the State Automatic Tax Board as one of the units of calculation in making the State tax rates this year.

It is this difference of nearly $5,000,000 which has been worrying the Governor and causing him to confer with business men and others in an effort to find some sources of revenue to make up the deficiency ahead. It also compels the Governor to cast about for new sources of taxation to be imposed by the special session to meet the situation and maintain the state on a cash basis.
 With the appropriation committee meeting here tomorrow, it is generally accepted that pruning will be the order of things and that many appropriations will be trimmed and quite a few eliminated.

Christian Church Revival Meeting Begins Wednesday

Ben M. Edwards and team, of Kansas City, will arrive here next Wednesday to hold a series of meetings for the First Christian church. For the first three days the services will be held in the church building; after that we will meet in the big tent on Broadway. Mr. Edwards is one of greatest preachers in the South today. And the singer, Mr. Pollock, is second to none. If you will take time to attend these services you will find that I have not exaggerated. Mr. Edwards is not what you call a professional evangelist, for he has spent nearly all of his ministry in the pastorate. You will enjoy his preaching and the fine music under the leadership of Mr. Pollock.

Gov. Neff Gives Some Suspended Sentence Figures

The figures for more than fifty counties in Texas, including the big-city counties of Tarrant, Dallas, Harris and Bexar, quoted by Governor Neff in his speech at Neff's Park yesterday, illustrate in striking fashion how the suspended sentence law has operated.

They show that during the years 1919 and 1920 there was 1,423 suspended sentences granted in those counties, and that 758 others were either pardoned, paroled or escaped from the penitentiary. During the same period only 1,059 were sent to the penitentiary.

Even those who defend the suspended sentence as a good thing cannot escape the palpable fact that these figures show that it has been flagrantly abused. And no guarantee will be given that it will not continue to be abused so long as it remains on the statute books. Tarrant county has not been as bad as some of the other counties in this respect, and yet there were 102 suspended sentences granted in this county during the period, as compared with 110 convicted persons sent to the penitentiary. And in addition, seventy-four persons sent to the penitentiary from Tarrant county were either pardoned or paroled or escaped from prison.

This condition, added to the further fact that the law makes absurd distinctions between the crimes to which the suspended sentence may be applied, calls for its repeal.

Gov. Neff summed up the absurdity of these distinctions when he said: "If some dashing cavalier matrimonially bent should marry two wives, and suspended sentence offers him no aid, and if convicted a penitentiary term is inevitable; but he can shoot both wives to death and under the court's charge of manslaughter walk out of the Courthouse, beneath the shield of the suspended sentence, a free man." He gave a whole list of such cases. One that has particular significance at the present juncture is that which permits the bootlegger to obtain the benefit of a suspended sentence but inevitably sends to the man who may have stolen a dollar from another.

Even if the suspended sentence were a good law in any particular, this feature of it and the fact that it has been universally abused, condemns it as a whole. We are free to say that we recognize no features in it which are of such importance as to justify retaining it on the statute books. The law ought to be repealed.

The Avalanche will pay you good price for clean rags.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarettey aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

He felt however, that the work in the church here was too heavy for a man of his age, and hence insisted that he be let go to another field where the work is not so heavy, and Crosbyton was glad of the opportunity of having him, and they seem to be going to keep him. Rev. Cole has a happy way of making people enjoy his association, whether Baptist or Methodist or whatever denomination, or none, and his fellow pastors always found in him a splendid worker and co-operated beautifully in all undertakings for the betterment of

The local will meet Thursday night in each week until enough members are secured in the Slaton territory to insure the erection of a warehouse at that place.

Melon Aphids Plentiful
The melon aphids that were so plentiful last year are beginning to put in their appearance again. As soon as a badly infested vine is found it should be pulled and burned or buried. The remainder of the vines should be sprayed thoroughly with a solution of one teaspoonful of Black Leaf 40 to a gallon of water with a little laundry soap dissolved in it. These aphids are sucking insects, hence the poison must be applied to the bug by direct contact. They cannot be destroyed by poisoning the vines.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

FATS WIN GAME BY QUITTING IN THE FIFTH INNING

One of the most interesting ball games of the season was played last Friday afternoon in the Lubbock County Park and Fat Grounds when the fats won by a score of 13 to 11 against the leans of the Methodist Sunday school.

To give a line-up of this game, would almost be impossible owing to the fact that many of the star players were either run down or knocked out before the game ended.

The game started with the Leans at the bat. Inmon came up and slipped in a clean hit. Hunt followed and duplicated Inmon's work. Single walked, Inmon stealing a score. Dow sacrificed, scoring Hunt. Sims was struck out by the fine pitching of the Fat mound inhabitant.

Wheelock then for the Fats knocked a pretty one to the Lean moundman, who gently tossed him out at 1st. Campbell slyly reached out for a 2-base hit, followed by "Daddy" Dickinson who did likewise, scoring Campbell. W. K. Dickinson, Sr., got a clean hit and was relieved at 1st by Spikes. Wheelock then went down before the formidable twirling of Hunt, and at the same time Spikes stole second and third. Walter Royalty picked out a mallet and shouldered it just in time to knock a good straight ball Hunt let, nearly out of creation—possible for two homers, bringing two scores of course for the Fats. Campbell for some reason or another was the next man up for the Fats, and he again knocked Hunt's pretty pitched ball for a three-bagger, but died on third, when Payne fanned.

Wiley came up for the Fats and by some method got on first base. Hutchinson's throw to first trying to get Wiley, gave Wiley an opportunity to take second. After the ball was passed through the field a few times Wiley was given a chance to reach home and scored without reaching a danger stage.

Throughout the game, wild throwing, dodging and long hitting featured. By getting on their toes in the fourth and fifth innings the Leans gleaned enough scores to scare the whey out of the Fats who saw that their victory was in doubt if the game continued, and who had some awful good excuses to stop the game. The sixth inning never materialized for some unexplained reason. The Fats were victors therefore by a little default and the Leans are in a humor to take them to a cleaning the next time, unlike any other ball game ever experienced in the annals of history. The Fats are quiet and are giving out but little information about the team's attitude for another trial.

COLORADO AND LUBBOCK BREAK EVEN ON GAMES

Monday's game between the Lubbock Elk baseball team and Colorado's team was won by the locals by a score of 12 to 3. Colorado won the last game played Tuesday by a score of 5 to 4. Tuesday, Lubbock has so far won three of the four games played against Colorado.

Out of the thirty-three games played this year by the Elks team of this city, they have won eighteen. Nine different towns have been encountered by the locals, two of which gave us a good beating, the reason—because there always has to be a reason—was that these two towns maintained a regular salaried team.

The following towns have been played, resulting as set out below:

Towns	Games Played	Won	Lost
Slaton	4	3	1
Post City	2	2	0
Big Spring	6	5	1
Clovis	4	1	3
Roswell	7	2	5
Brownfield	1	1	0
Tahoka	3	1	2
Floydada	2	0	2
Colorado	4	3	1
Totals	33	18	15

The locals will play the Big Spring team at Big Spring next Sunday and Monday. The following Thursday Tahoka's crack team will be met on the local grounds.

Edgar Inmon, of the Rix Furniture and Undertaking Company, made a business trip to Slaton on Monday of this week.

IDALOU ITEMS OF THE PAST WEEK

We are having lovely weather. Everyone is as busy as bees sowing weeds and harvesting wheat. So much wheat is coming into Idalou that enough cars cannot be secured to ship it out. The buyers are having to store lots of it.

An accident occurred in the Edgar Ross home last week, which was very exciting. Some of the family stepped out into the yard and found their little baby floating on the tank black in the face. The baby was rescued and Dr. McCoy was called at once. It is thought probably that the baby was playing around the tank and fell in. It is doing very well now.

Mrs. L. M. Shepherd and family, of Lubbock, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Summit this week.

Dr. Summit returned Monday from Mineral Wells, where he has been spending a few weeks recovering his health. He says he feels better after his trip.

Harland Holt, who has been working in Seguros for the Santa Fe, is spending a few days vacation with parents this week.

Will Glaze and family, spent Sunday in Dallas.

Mr. Dennis is suffering with rheumatism pretty badly. He intends to make a trip to Hot Springs, Arkansas, soon.

Carl McDaniels went to Petersburg, Wednesday.

Mr. Vanderville and family, motored to Plainview Sunday, to see Mrs. Vanderville's mother. Her sister, Miss Clyde Johnson, returned home with them for a few days visit in Idalou.

A picture show was in town Monday and Tuesday nights.

Miss Pauline Harrison has been suffering with appendicitis pretty badly this week.

Bro. Brabham preached a good sermon Sunday. There was no church Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brabham were Lorenzo visitors, Sunday afternoon.

Prof. Beene gave a party to the young people Saturday night. A large crowd was present and all report a fine time.

A few of the ladies met at Mrs. Jim Brabham's Friday afternoon for the purpose of organizing an embroidery club. Mrs. Brabham was elected president and Mrs. Morris was elected secretary. The name chosen was "Worth-While Club."

Lubbock County Affords a Wonderful Opportunity to People Who Want to Secure a Home of Their Own—Soil Very Productive

Lubbock County has just a few of every ten quarters in the County thousand more than a half million will comfortably support a farm acres of land of which fully 95 per cent is profitably tillable. Of that send the kids to school nine months number of acres less than 20 per in every school year and leave cent is now in cultivation. Nine out enough surplus to erect a granite slab at the head and foot of every member of the family who dies of old age or the gout.

Every crop known to a temperate climate is grown in this country. The leaders being grain sorghums, including maize, feterita, kafir corn, in the dozen or more varieties of each. Sudan grass is the second big feed and seed crop, producing the cheapest, most abundant forage crop known in the world and this new feed was produced and developed in Lubbock County and distributed to the rest of the United States from this county—all of that within the past ten years.

Alfalfa is dependable and the best hog and dairy forage grown in this or any other country. It yields best when planted in eighteen inch rows and cultivated like other feeds, as found by the State Experimental Farm here, yielding three and four cuttings without irrigation, of from one-half to three-quarters of a ton per acre, which at the current price at that time was only $67.50 per acre for the seed, not counting three yields of hay. Of course that was a little better than the average but entirely possible through correct farming methods.

Corn is a crop growing in favor throughout this section. Seagraves shipped 350 cars last year with less than 5 per cent of their land in cultivation. Lamessa shipped 250 cars last year and is more than doubling their acreage this year. Corn in Lubbock County today bids fair to yield as high as 60 bushels to the acre.

Cotton is the so-called money crop and pays in this section even at the prevailing low price on account of the low cost of production. One man easily farms one hundred acres of land. Cotton is not chopped in this section and there is a great saving of labor and cost of production in that item alone. Crabgrass, carpet weeds, Johnson grass, Russian thistles, sunflowers, cockle-burrs, and the thousand and one other weed pests of the other sections of the state are not known in this section.

Fruits, berries, garden produce—all produce in abundance throughout the South Plains section of this country. Sweet potatoes is possibly the most productive garden produce crop with the least attention in this section and the field for this commodity is unlimited. Beans and peas grow almost past belief and a great commercial industry in this connection will spring up as soon as the section is more developed.

Dairy cattle, hogs, poultry and sheep are growing in favor as a

HEAVY FEEDING RESULTS IN GOOD MILK YIELDS

During the last two years a number of the purebred Holsteins at the Government farm at Beltsville, Md., have been run on official test. In order to increase the milk yield their rations were made decidedly more liberal than those called for by any of the feeding standards. During the milking period they received daily about 13 pounds of alfalfa hay, 20 pounds of corn silage, and as much grain as they could clean up without getting sick; they usually ate 18 to 20 pounds a day of grain mixture F. They were fed heavily also before their calves were born; for 60 days or more before calving they usually received about 15 pounds of grain mixture F, 12 pounds of alfalfa hay, and 25 pounds of corn silage, a ration containing approximately four times as much protein and two and one-half times as much total nutriment as the routine ration fed to the dry cows of the general herd.

The cows on test gave from 15,000 to 20,000 pounds of milk in one year; that is, three to four times as much as most of the cows in the general herd. A part of the larger yield is due to the fact that the test cows were better bred, but a part also is due to the larger quantity of feed they consumed, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture in charge of the tests. How much of the increased milk yield to attribute to each of these factors is a question of great practical interest.

BILLIONS ARE USED ON LUXURIES YEARLY

Washington, July 8.—Approximately $13,000,000,000 a year now is being spent on luxuries, recreation, movies and other amusements and personal finery, Federal tax receipts show.

More than $1,000,000,000 a year in taxes now is being received by the government as a result of purchases of foibles.

This is nearly one quarter of the total ordinary receipts of the government. Sporting goods, automobiles and motorcycles, amusement parks, fancy bathing suits, summer hats for women and panamas for father are now netting the government thousands daily.

Cigarettes, cigars and candy bring in millions each month.

The pennies that are paid with the purchase of soft drinks and soda water are helping to pay the annual interest charge of $900,000,000 on the national debt.

AS A MAN THINKETH SO IS HE YOUR TOWN IS WHAT YOU MAKE IT BOOST-EVERY GOOD WORD HELPS

"As a man thinketh—so is he"—the wording may be a little off but the meaning is there. The same thing will hold true of a city. When every human that lives in a town believes that the town is the best in the state, the cleanest, most progressive, constructive, winningest town in the whole country you are going to find just such a town right there.

Whenever the majority of the folks that live in a town think it is rotten, dead and going to the bow wows, it is time for the real folks to move for it certainly is on the road to that very place or condition. The story is told of a traveler that stopped at the town pump in a small town to water his team one evening about sundown. His covered wagon was piled with all of his worldly goods, and trailing behind was a run down buggy with tubs, stove pipes and saddles tied on to it. They were moving.

A farmer stopped his team at the same pump and the two fell into conversation. The traveler, after the usual remarks about the weather, politics, crops, etc., asked:

"What sort of folks live here friend? This looks like a mighty good sort of country and I might locate here if the folks are the right kind."

"I don't know," said the farmer who lived there, "about like all other folks I suppose. How were they where you came from?"

"I tell you friend (that sort of a bird always calls everybody and everything friend)—that is just why I am moving. I had the rottenest bunch of neighbors I ever saw in my life. They would lie and steal and gossip about you with you looking them right in the eye. They were the sorriest bunch of folks I ever saw in my life. I just had to move to get away from them."

The farmer shook his head "I'm sorry Mister, but I am afraid you will find them about the same way here."

We usually find what we are looking for. Any fool can find fault but it takes a man to start something constructive!

In every town you will find folks who will sit flat and wait until somebody starts something progressive or constructive and then come alive just as though you had stuck a hot wire to them. They kick and howl until you can hear them a mile and folks made want to believe that the whole town is against the move just because a measly little half dozen howlers yell themselves hoarse. They have never made but one mistake and that is living for that is all they have ever done. A stranger, standing on the street corner of a little town pretty much like Lubbock one afternoon, saw a funeral procession pass. A native of the place said: "There goes Old Spivins—I never heard a man say a word against him in his life. He never made an enemy or hurt anybody's feelings."

The stranger looked the native over to see if he really was sincere. "Did you say he never had an enemy or made anybody mad and was never criticised?"

"Never in his whole life, I don't suppose!"

"Then he was a disgrace to the town and it is the best thing that ever happened because he is dead, for I'll bet my head he never did go anything. Was he ever on the School board, a Steward in the church, an officer in the Chamber of Commerce, on the Board of Equalization, a city officer, a Red Cross director, on the Draft Board, Clean-Up Committee, Retail Merchants' Association?—Did he ever do anything?"

Towns do not happen—they are built! and most of the building is done against some folks' feelings. There was nothing ever done in the world that suited everybody, if it was of enough importance to amount to anything. Some folks even object to the way the streets were named and numbered. They had lived here twenty or thirty years and had never made a move to improve conditions in that connection. Nobody knew where they lived nor could they tell you where they lived. A Committee of Six was appointed—three from the Chamber of Commerce and three from the City Commission, of men whose business made it most important that the streets be effectively named and houses numbered. This committee included an attorney, an abstractor, a light man, an insurance man, a tax man, and one other. If there is anybody in the town competent to appreciate the needs of an effective system of naming and numbering streets and houses, it is representatives from these lines of business, and effectiveness was the basis of their operation.

New York City, Washington, D. C., and some of the other small towns in the country furnished the suggestion for the present system. If more than six million folks can find their way under this system it should be easy enough for our five or six thousand to get around fairly well.

Every member of the committee had a different idea as to how the streets should be named but there was not so many of them but that some sort of an agreement could be arrived at. If every man in town was given an opportunity to suggest a plan for the same thing, there would not, at the end of ten days, be any two suggestions alike. We all have notions. But the present system was worked out and has been officially adopted by the City Commission and has received very favorable consideration from men who are acquainted with the systems in force over the country and know what an efficient street naming system means to a city.

The wild idea seems to have gotten into some folks' heads that it will cost thousands of dollars to change the existing abstracts to the deeds effecting all city property. But according to abstract men that is all wrong for there is no deed that concerns itself with the street name or house number but is based absolutely upon block and lot divisions of section numbers that is in no way effected by street names or house numbers.

There was one lawyer that got very irate on just that point—and if anybody should know how deeds are made it should be a lawyer. He threatened to stop his Chamber of Commerce dues because they had fostered something that would cost the city so much money. He was shown his mistake and still belongs to the Chamber of Commerce.

It is funny the things folks threaten to stop their Chamber of Commerce dues on account of. One dear brother rushed into the office recently, called the Secretary out to one side and broke the sad news into his ear that unless the city did a certain piece of street work within the next thirty days he was going to stop his Chamber of Commerce dues.

Of course he knew that the Chamber of Commerce was not running the city's business but unless this was done he was going to stop his dues.

So it goes—If your hens are not laying as many eggs as you think they ought to lay—come down and clean up on the Chamber of Commerce and stop your dues. Incidentally it might be well to mention the fact that the slow business and so-called hard times of the past six months has reduced the Chamber of Commerce budget less than twenty-five dollars through canceled subscriptions and reduction and that during the same period more than fifty dollars a month of new members have been signed up to counter-balance that loss.

The Chamber of Commerce, the City officials, the County officials, the School board, and every other body of men who do things make mistakes. Everybody does, that does anything. A dead man never makes a mistake, and that holds true regardless of whether he has been buried or is just dead and don't know it and still hangs around town and kicks.

We are about what we think we are, as individuals or as a city. It is time we began to think of Lubbock more as a city than an overgrown country town. Use your house number. When you tell anybody where you live, say "1324 Seventh Street," when you call the tailor say "284 Thirteenth Street." Get to thinking in up town class.

"Any fool can find fault—it takes intelligence to do things"—pick your own class.

State Expense Bills are Saved By Committee

Austin, July 10.—Progress was made Saturday by the House and Senate Finance Committees sitting in joint session, considering appropriation bills for the operation of the government for the next two fiscal years. The committees adopted the appropriation bill for the support of the judiciary for the next two fiscal years, after having cut $8,630 therefrom, leaving the total $2,872,061. This did not include the budget of the Commission of Appeals, the figures for the commission having not as yet been presented to the committee. The small amount cut from the bill was for fixtures, furniture, etc., which the committee did not think absolutely necessary.

The committee cut $49,480 from the budget of the Board of Control for the next two fiscal years, leaving a total of $346,180 for the support and maintenance of the board. The cut was mostly on estimates made for printing.

Consideration was given to the budgets of the Deaf and Dumb Institute and State Blind Institute, but definite action was not taken, as the committee is considering a slight reduction in salaries, Chairman Lee Satter White said.

Following a suggestion made by Representative John Davis of Dallas that citizens of Texas be permitted to address the committee, the committee decided that any citizen or delegation having some specific recommendations to make as to how appropriations may be reduced would be welcomed to appear before it. Representative John Davis was so advised. The committee, however, does not care to have the public generally appear before it without having any definite plan in view.

Attorney Roscoe Wilson left Sunday for Galveston to be with his father, who is very ill. It is thought that Mr. Wilson's father will have to undergo an operation, but just at this time, his general health will not permit. Latest advices are that he is doing very nicely.

WEEKLY CONCERT TO BE GIVEN BY C. OF C. BAND

First regular Chamber of Commerce Band Concert will be held on Tuesday evening from 7:30 until 9:00, at the Courthouse band stand. The citizens of the town and county are invited to attend but to be careful and not get on the lawn of the courtyard on account of the fact that these have recently been seeded to grass and it is just now getting started. It is going to be necessary to nurse this grass along until it gets a good tight turf formed on the lawn and then it will be thrown open to the public.

Every Tuesday at 7:30 through the summer months. If you know any old band men that might be interested turn their names in to the Chamber of Commerce office. If you know any boys or young men that would like to take up band music, receiving regular and private instruction without cost ask at the Chamber of Commerce office about the plan. Come out and spend an hour—it will do you good.
