LARGEST ROW CROP IN PLAINS' HISTORY THIS YEAR

WORK ON NEW SANITARIUM IS MAKING SPLENDID PROGRESS— WILL BE COMPLETED BY JAN. 1

John Gelin, contractor and associate architect on the building being erected by the West Texas Hospital Company, informs us that everything in connection with the erection of that splendid building is coming along nicely. The framework is all up to the fourth floor, and nothing is now in the way of going steadily on to completion. The building is being constructed of reinforced concrete and brick throughout. It will be strictly fireproof. Not a stick of timber will be used where fire could ever touch it. The floors will be of cement, tile and terrazzo, and the building will be ready for occupancy by the first of next year. The new building will have accommodations for sixty beds and the fourth floor will have commodious splendid solariums, which will be a wonderful convenience to convalescents. Mr. Gelin stated that the building complete will cost between $90,000 and $100,000, and that a saving was realized by the company of about forty thousand dollars by waiting only about four months to begin the building and buy their material. A large force of men are kept continually at work on the building and the progress has been rapid the past few weeks. There is a tremendous amount of material on the ground and there sure seems to be nothing now to prevent the work going steadily on till the building is completed. The furnishing of the building will be strictly modern in every way, and in keeping with the splendid appearance and quality of the building.

Prominent Motley County Citizen Is Shot to Death in Church Choir By an Enraged Neighbor Saturday

Marvin A. Washington, aged forty, married, was shot and instantly killed in the Flomont Methodist church, Saturday night, and E. A. Preston, aged thirty-seven, married, went to Floydada and gave himself up to officers, admitting the shooting if it is alleged, according to information received from that point. Washington was singing with the choir, and the song had just been concluded. The choir was seated, Preston entering and seating himself in the front row of the choir reservation. As the choir arose to begin the next number, Preston left his chair and turned to Washington, saying, it is alleged: "I am going to kill you—there is the cause!" With these words, with a pistol in his right hand, he thrust it toward Washington with his left. Preston is alleged to have fired six shots in quick succession, four of them taking effect, and Washington dying instantly. To the comparatively few people remaining in the church, and while standing above the lifeless body of Washington, Preston is alleged to have calmly faced the audience and said: "I surrender—here is my evidence!" But failing to find an officer, or other authorities connected with the peace department, to whom to surrender, he left the church and gave himself up to the sheriff of Floyd County, in Floydada. The fatal document, alleged to have been the cause of the tragedy, is a letter alleged to have been written by Washington to Preston's wife. This epistle is the one pushed towards the doomed man as he arose to sing in the church choir, and was later tendered to some one in the audience, as the slayer faced about in the choir. Washington is an old-time resident of the Flomont community, and his family consists of a wife and three children, the eldest of the latter being a married daughter, and the latter are sons, about ten and twelve years. He is a man of means and has been a prominent member of the Methodist church for years. His slaying was prominently identified with the church and community, his family consisting of his wife only. It is alleged that the affair culminating in the tragedy Saturday evening in the quiet little Motley county community, was the outgrowth of an incident of approximately eight years standing. The prominence of the parties, the setting of the tragedy, the suddenness of it all, created a profound sensation, and the community is greatly shocked. Little is given out as to the details of the trouble leading to the killing.

CROPS ARE NOT SUFFERING FOR RAIN YET AND YIELD TO BE HEAVY

FARMERS SHOULD BEGIN NOW TO ARRANGE FOR SYSTEMATIC MARKETING AND NOT GLUT THE MARKET WHICH WILL FORCE PRICES DOWN TO WHERE COST OF PRODUCTION CANNOT BE REALIZED.

The weather for harvesting has been ideal for the past month, and those who have had small grain have had a fine time to make it, and this has been a great blessing to them. Row crops are looking fine. None of it has stopped growing a minute, and is thrifty and is now reaching the point of maturity, and the point where some additional moisture would help it to fill out better, and increase the yield greatly. Corn is looking fine. Some places we hear this particular crop would do better with a good rain.

The wheat farmers, many of them have turned in and broke their stubble land, and the ground plows well, and the land will be in fine condition to receive the first rain that falls. In the Lubbock country the diversification of crops has been practiced pretty generally throughout the community, and farmers have quite a variety of stuff to place on the market. The cotton acreage is much less than last year. It is even less than the farmers expected to make it at first, caused by heavy rains having covered the seed to deep to come up in many places and it was too late to plant cotton again, hence was planted to other row crops, which will not doubt yield abundantly. From all indications there is going to be the greatest row crop raised in this country this year that has ever been known, and the farmers are going to have to find some other way to market it besides throwing it on the market in the usual haphazard manner.

The Farm and Ranch asks this question and comments upon the outcome: "Will farmers glut the market?" "Word has gone out through the daily press that the farmers of the Middle West have decided that a dollar in the pocket is worth two in the warehouse and they will market their crops as fast as they are harvested. In other words, those responsible for such reports would have the world believe that notwithstanding the organized effort being made to create a new marketing system, that the Middle West farmers are going to try again the old system of dumping their crops upon the market within a period of a few weeks, permitting a score of middlemen to secure the profits made by holding until the consuming public demanded their release at a good price.

"It is generally understood that the farmers of the Middle West had taken kindly to the movement to create a new marketing system, the demand as it is created and to prevent the glutting of the markets at harvest time. That being the case, then the report that crops will be sold at the first opportunity is wide of the mark.

"The old, haphazard system of marketing crops has always been uncertain. Producers are ready to try something new. The general trend is toward co-operative marketing organizations. While not all producers organizations, enough have joined them to give them a trial. Farmers have cleared to produce and now their efforts are toward learning salesmanship. If the marketing organizations under the auspices of the Farm Bureau, the Alliance, the Farmers' Union or under any other name fail in any particular or in all of them, there will yet be an opportunity to profit by the mistakes made and another effort made.

"Producers of agriculture and livestock products are thinking. They are thinking of the same thing, and that is how to sell their products at cost-plus. They may be approaching the subject from different angles, but eventually they will get together and adopt a system of marketing which will compensate themselves for their industry and give the consumers the value of their money. Those interests which have profited by the old system had better be looking around for another job."

Along this line this good farm paper offers a suggestion that in all probability would be a wise plan. It says: "It looks like we of the Southwest are going to have a big feed crop and no market. Even if it can be sold at all, the producer, unless exceedingly well located as to demand, will find prices so low that it won't pay to move the market regardless of cost of producing.

"Within a few miles of a big city there is a farmer who has on hand more than 100 tons of excellent Johnson grass hay put up last year at actual cost of cutting, ties and baling of $8 per ton. This hay has been offered delivered on track or at dealers' warehouse at $8 per ton and no buyer found, although same kind and quality of hay is selling at retail for more than $8 per ton. This farmer is mowing and curing the first crop this year, instead of haying and valing. Although the hay can be saved for less this year than last, there is no reason for doing it, so long as the supply on hand cannot

Abilene Attorney Died Following Gunshot Wounds

Abilene, July 23.—Attorney Clint Chambers, who was shot in his office Wednesday, died early this morning. Attempts of local surgeons to save his life by the transfusion of blood were futile and the attorney grew gradually weaker during the night Friday, death coming at an early hour this morning. Officers indicated that the examining trial of Harry Carter, waiter in a local cafe, who did the shooting, will be held in Abilene Monday. However, if the feeling continues to remain threatening the examining trial may be postponed. It is not thought that Carter will be allowed bail. After he surrendered to local officers a few minutes after the shooting, he was spirited away to avoid any complication that might arise from the threatening attitude of friends of Judge Chambers in this city.

Jos. B. Neal Died Early Thursday At His Home Here

Jos. B. Neal, one of Lubbock's highly respected citizens, died at an apoplectic stroke. Mr. Neal was in apparently good health yesterday, and rested as well as usual during Wednesday night, and died suddenly about five o'clock this morning, living only a few minutes after the stroke. Grandpa Neal was born in Walker County, Ga., July 17th, 1842. He was married to Miss Shropshire in 1866. Six children were born to them, all of which have died. When ten years of age Grandpa Neal was converted and joined the church, and has lived a true, Christian life ever since. He was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at this place when death called him away, and was much loved by the membership. At an early date in life he moved to Texas and settled in Parker county, afterwards moving to Lubbock, which was about fourteen years ago. At the time of going to press today, no definite arrangements have been made for the funeral on account of not having heard from relatives in various places at a distance from here. He leaves his aged companion to mourn his departure from this life, to which we extend sympathy and condolence.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce Accomplishes Much in General for People and Towns of West Texas

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is an organization appreciated in a general way but the detailed activities of the organization are little understood by the average business man as they effect the city of Lubbock. Geo. W. Briggs, who has been a director of the organization since its organization, assisting in its preliminary organization, is summing up some of the actual accomplishments of the organization that directly effect this city, cited the following: "Relief in car shortage last year saved this section thousands of dollars. Assistance in the movement of coal cars through the winter. Exceptionally fine work that resulted in passage of A. & M. College Bill by both the House and Senate. Constructive publicity through more than a hundred magazines and newspapers of the North and East that has resulted in a better appreciation of West Texas conditions than ever before and that is resulting in immigration that is the major need of this country. Great educational campaign put on through West Texas exhibits at 17 State Fairs last year that netted this city more than 300 direct inquiries, many of whom are still interested in the section and possible immigrants for the future. Assistance in the cattle and wheat fights before the Interstate Commerce Commission that did fair to be of greatest benefit to the West. Direct attention to West Texas through the defeat of East Texas in the open competition at the Cotton Palace with exhibits from this section of the state against their exhibit from East Texas. Remarkable fight for re-districting and other West Texas interests before the Democratic convention last fall and a continuation of pressure upon the present legislation looking toward the guarding of the interests of West Texas at Austin. Future plans that immediately effect this city are: A fight to restore Plainview, Lubbock, Post City, etc., the common freight station, taking off the differential that has existed against these cities since the establishment of these railroads. This discrimination costs the shippers of the city and in turn the buyers of the city from $16 to $39 per car on every car of goods shipped from another state into Lubbock. This fight is to be made without cost to the city or the local Chamber of Commerce. This alone will save the city several thousand dollars each year and will result in the location of additional wholesale houses at this point. To make this fight alone would cost not less than $2500 and more than likely, a great deal more. An extended enlargement of the State Fair Exhibit idea to include more state affairs with a larger, more comprehensive exhibit. This was worth a great deal to Lubbock last year and under the present plans will be worth a great deal more this coming year. A continuation of the legislative fight for re-districting, the A. & M. College Bill, and other matters looking toward the protection of the interests of West Texas. In short, the past history of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is one of constant attention to every possible means of fostering and protecting the interests of West Texas, of keeping the section before the public of the entire state and nation, and of constructive promotion of every step or measure toward the increase of population and prosperity of the section. The future program of the organization is simply a continuation of that same policy, plus the vital freight fight for a common point status for Lubbock, Plainview and the other towns between Sweetwater and Amarillo. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is the largest commercial organization in the world with the one exception of the United States Chamber of Commerce with headquarters at Washington. With its membership of approximately 70,000 leading business men of West Texas, its directorate composed of the outstanding individuals in this great number, and an executive force headed by Porter Whaley, the interests of West Texas as a distinct section of the great State of Texas are assured, not only of adequate protection but of broad-gauged constructive development.

No Deficit for Texas During Next Two Years

If the figures compiled by Chairman Satterwhite of the House Appropriations Committee are correct, there will be no deficit in the State's finances during the next two years, unless new appropriations, in addition to the regular support of the government, are passed in the meantime in excess of $10,000,000. The committee has completed all the regular appropriation bills, and on the basis of the information now at hand, Chairman Satterwhite has compiled the estimated appropriations and revenues for the next two years. They show total appropriations to be expended during the year ending August 31, 1922, of $21,549,964, and total revenue and cash on hand for the same period of $24,750,605. For the year ending August 31, 1923, the figures show a total of appropriations recommended of $11,220,538, with estimated revenue of $18,431,034. This shows that there will be a surplus each year, possibly in excess of $3,000,000 for the year ending August 31, 1922, and in excess of $7,000,000 for the year ending August 31, 1923. Certainly this is a different story from what we have been led to expect. Governor Neff particularly has insisted that unless the Legislature kept its appropriations down to the limit there would be a deficit. If the predictions made by the Governor of the disparity between the probable revenue and prospective appropriations were correct at the time they were made, and the figures quoted by Chairman Satterwhite are correct, then the Legislature is certainly following the Governor's admonition to practice strict economy and not to provide for the spending of any more money than the State has in sight. We have no way of checking up Chairman Satterwhite's figures, but as chairman of the Appropriations Committee he has unusual means of obtaining accurate information, and in the absence of any other estimate we must assume that his figures are correct. If this is true, then things are moving along a great deal better at Austin than seemed possible a few weeks ago.

Fifty Thousand Post Cards Will Advertise Lubbock

The Chamber of Commerce announces they have 50,000 post cards of Lubbock City and County and that any man, woman or girl in the country can get just as many of them free of charge as they will agree to send to the folks anywhere in the world. There are no strings to this. One of the purposes of the organization is to keep Lubbock before the eyes of the world. It is believed that fifty thousand post cards with pictures of the schools, hospitals, courthouses, crops, farms, experiment station, etc., of Lubbock county, going into that many homes in the United States will result in Lubbock being better known everywhere than it is today. They are here for you—come and get them and spread the news of the prosperity and progress of Lubbock City and County. The only cost is the one-cent stamp you will have to stick on them.

Cumberland Revival Closed Last Sunday; Report Good Results

The Cumberland Presbyterian Revival closed last Sunday night, after two weeks of real, old-fashioned Holy Ghost outpouring. By unanimous request of the session, A. A. Collins, the pastor, done the preaching, he being the oldest pastor in town in point of service and he preached the old time gospel to the perfect satisfaction of all who heard him. He was assisted by T. Q. Dyess, who had charge of the song service. He sang as only Bro. Dyess can sing. The results of the meeting was about 15 conversions, real, old-fashioned altar conversions. There was 13 additions to the church, and the church was greatly helped and built up. It was the most successful revival ever held in this church for which we are all thankful to God, and giving Him all the glory. —A Member.

Organization to Oppose Operation of the Ku Klux

Beaumont, Texas, July 26.—Through a communication to a local newspaper, it became known today that an organization was being formed in Southeast Texas to combat the Ku Klux Klan. The avowed intention of the organization is to conduct an open warfare against members of the Klan. The letter was addressed to the Klan. Special service men, it was stated, have been employed to ferret out the members of the Klan, who are threatened with summary punishment. "We have waited patiently for the officers to do their duty," the communication says, "but it seems they have not the nerve or desire to place under arrest members of your Klan who violate the law. We have formed a club, or a mob you may call it, of more than one hundred fearless men and we are going to stop you people with hot lead and hot steel at the first opportunity and that will not be far off."

"We have sworn vengeance on such people and will shoot them down like a mad dog, men whom we learn to be members of this Klan. We are going through you people like a bull through a pile of shucks. We are in squads of twelve to twenty-five men and will gang up on any occasion to meet you people at any time or place that we are notified you are to parade or do your dirty work. There are going to be many widows and orphans left in Southeast Texas if the gang is not disbanded upon the reading of this notice."

The communication is signed, "Anti Ku Klux Klan of Southeast Texas."

Country Club to Be Organized and Grounds Bought

Plans are under way for the purchase of a 200-acre tract of land for a permanent country club two miles from this city on the famous Yellow House canyon that forms the head waters of the Brazos. The head springs of this river will feed the artificial lake that is planned in connection with the club. A nine hole golf course will be put in, the lake enlarged and restocked with fish—it already is well supplied with bass. A club house will be built in the coming spring. The present Golf and Gun Club is located on leased grounds whose lease expires in January. It is expected that the new grounds will be improved by the expiration of the present lease. This is the first season that golf has been played in this city but more than a hundred golf enthusiasts are taking part in the sport. The first West Texas golf tournament was held in this city early in May. A late summer tournament is being planned for the first of September that is expected to bring together seventy-five West Texas golfers.

Reduction of pressure will be made in order to keep the water from pushing some fellow's head off to one side. Come to the Tuesday evening Band Concert.

CHILD TRAINING AT HOME

By Anna Mae Brady

The Imaginative Time.

Mothers, did you ever stop to realize the importance of that period in your child's development when his little mind is free to wander over the hills of fancy and he is finding so much difficulty in linking up the real and the unreal? It is the opportunity time of life and every one of us to whom is entrusted the care and development of a little child needs to study and understand it in order that we may make the most of it.

All of us are dreamers of dreams, and it is well that it is so, for every worthwhile act that has been given to the world was first a dream in the mind of some person. Every book that was ever written, every picture painted, every field cultivated, was first just a flight of imaginative fancy. All of us go this far, but it is not enough to dream; we must do as well. The successful person is the one who thinks over his dream and organizes his thinking until finally it is no longer a dream but a reality.

We grown-ups would give the gold of Midas, were it possible, if we might have developed in us the power of vision, the power to see life imaginatively. Yet our little tots from three to six have this power and instead of fostering and organizing it we do our best to stifle it as a trait not to be desired. The seed of genius lies in many of our children, and parents and teachers who do not understand, do their utmost to crush out the very thing which later they wish them to have.

"But," you say, "if I encourage this, will it not make my child untruthful? Already he juggles the truth in most alarming ways." As mothers and leaders of children, we must be able to distinguish between a flight of fancy and a deliberate intent to deceive. Fortunately for us the latter cases are very rare. If in doubt ask the child; if it is a flight of fancy he will tell you so.

What we need to do is to help the child see his vision clearly and then furnish him with some plastic material with which he can make his dream come true. Fairy tales are excellent for the imaginative child. He is living in their world and they help explain for him that almost inexplicable thing called life. Free hand cutting, clay modeling and the sand table furnish material which will enable him not only to see the picture more clearly, but will also lead him to be a doer as well as a dreamer, both of which are necessary.

The imaginative period, the opportunity time, comes but once, so let us make the most of it.

No Worms in a Healthy Child
All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 50c per bottle.

O. FOR TRUE AND TRIED FRIENDS!

"Next to a match that won't light if a friend who won't stand up for you in an emergency—How true: if there is anything disappointing, anything that may cause disaster, to words and conscience, it is a match that won't light. You are in sore need of light; maybe a burglar has invaded your privacy and is busy with his burglarious intentions. He may work on with perfect unconcern if the match doesn't light. You have a friend who says in sunshine days, "I'll stand by you through thick and thin," but when the time comes and you need some one to lean upon, you will find your friend is a "match that won't light," and you are disappointed, not only in the person in whom you place confidence, but in the professions of friendship which were made. Oh, how many matches there are in the world that won't light! And how many friends there are who are ready to praise when praise is needed, but are scared and fly away when the cat of disaster appears. Oh, for tried friends, who, knowing what friendship is, will stand by you in evil report as well as good; who do not condemn without a hearing; who will measure your worth by your actions, and not refuse sympathy when you need it, or when you are destitute.—Sovereign Visitor.

REV. VINING CLOSED A GREAT REVIVAL AT KERENS

The Dallas News of last Friday carried a photograph of a baptizing at Kerens, following a rousing revival held by Rev. E. W. Vining, of Belton, Texas, during which ninety-six members were added to the Baptist church at Kerens. Rev. Vining held a meeting for the Baptist people here last summer, and is one of the best pastor-evangelists in the State. Many of the people of this city will remember him most kindly, and will be glad to learn of his continued success in the evangelistic work.

Leonard Dysart, of Dallas, is here spending a few days with his aunt, Mrs. F. T. Dysart.

Rev. Wallace, pastor of the Nazarene church, will assist Rev. J. E. Oden in a meeting at Woodrow, commencing Sunday night, July 24.

OUTSIDE OF 9 PUNCTURES THEY HAD A GOOD TRIP

A picnic party, consisting of Louis F. Moore and wife, Mrs. S. T. Carter and Fred C. Oliver and family, made a trip to the brakes in Crosby County the first of this week. On the way over they report nine punctures, which delayed them for several hours, but on their arrival a splendid day was spent. The party left the camping ground about midnight and arrived home in the morning. Louis says outside of badly blistered hands and a sleepless night, with a head ache the next day, he enjoyed the trip very much.

Roy A. Black, of near Seagraves, was in Lubbock the latter part of last week to consult a local surgeon. After examination it was found that an operation would be necessary, which was performed and the patient is reported as getting along nicely.

House Party at Ivey Ranch in Yoakum County

On Saturday afternoon, July 9, a jolly party left Brownfield for T. C. Ivey's ranch ten miles west of Plains, where they have a beautiful ranch home. Arriving we were greeted and made to feel at home by Mr. and Mrs. Ivey, who are past masters in the art of entertaining. Next morning we were called to the dining room, where a delicious breakfast was served. Later in the forenoon the entire party left for the lakes, where amidst much fun and hilarity on the part of the merry-makers and woe and distress among the finny tribe, enough were drawn to the surface for a bountiful feast. In the afternoon the entire crowd enjoyed a delightful plunge in the bathing pool. It might be mentioned here that one member of our party was followed throughout the day by a series of accidents, which resulted in much laughter by all but the party concerned. He being a good sport took the teasing good naturedly and says, "there will be another day." Later in the afternoon, supper was served picnic style. No better repast was ever spread for the "fatted calf" had been killed. The special dish prepared by Messrs. Ivey and Rentfro is well known to cowboys and has many names. Music and dancing prevailed throughout the evening, and it seemed the crowd was endowed with a sense of humor and one lady with an acute sense of smell detected some foreign odor, which suggested apples, thus—apples is now the standing joke of the party. We enjoyed a delightful drive over the ranch looking at Mr. Ivey's registered cattle. Tom Ivey is a cowboy of the old school type, big hearted, broad minded and chivalrous and as full of fun as a boy in his teens. Mrs. Ivey, his charming wife, numbers her friends by her acquaintances.

The house party consisted of Messrs. James Hall, Rutherford, Rentfro, Snodgrass and Mathis; Misses Hamilton and Payne; Messrs. Snodgrass, Rentfro, Mathis, Rutherford, and Hall.—Terry County Herald.

THE LITTLE AVALANCHES WERE ROASTING EARED

Last week, our good friend A. B. Jones, drove up to the office and inquired which car belonged to the editor of the group that were parked on the front curb. Giving him the desired information we watched to see what he wanted to know for and to our great delight he tossed an armful of nice tender, juicy roasting ears over in the car and drove on. We certainly appreciated this treat, and the little Avalanches were thoroughly roasting eared for several days afterwards. Thanks, Mr. Jones.

JUNIOR PARTNER TAKES CHARGE LUBBOCK PRINTERY

Last Thursday morning the junior partner in the Lubbock Printing Co. arrived, and we understand has taken complete charge of the affairs of that concern. M. B. Hilburn, Sr., will continue to hang around the place of business and keep his eye on the operations and developments of the young man who succeeds him, and possibly on frequent occasions will venture to offer the young man some good advice. We wish for Mr. and Mrs. Hilburn and Marvin B. Junior, all the success and happiness that they can carry through life.

Frank Maddox and family, returned this week from a vacation and fishing trip on the Concho. While away, they visited with Mrs. Maddox's parents at Ballenger. A fine trip is reported, and "oodles of fish" as Frank says.

DO YOU KNOW WHAT THE HOLY BIBLE CONTAINS?

Contains directions to the City of God; it is given to man for inspiration, doctrine, correction, instruction in Holiness, that the man of God may be perfect in all good works. In Genesis 3:1, we find the Old Serpent making his first appearance to destroy man. All through the 1,189 chapters we find man fleeing, and God pursuing, until in Revelation 20-2, we find the Angel of God binding the Old Serpent, who has been called by fourteen different names, but who is finally chained and cast into the bottomless pit. For this cause was the Son of God manifested that he might destroy the works of the devil, and to reconcile man to God. We find that the Bible contains 66 books; 39 in the Old Testament, 27 in the New. 1,189 chapters. 31,173 verses. 773,692 words. 3,585,489 letters. The longest chapter to be Psalm 119. The shortest chapter is Psalm 117. The middle verse Psalm 118, 8th verse. The Ten Commandments are found in Exodus 30th chapter. The Lord's Prayer is found in Matthew, 6th chapter. Beatitudes, Matthew 5th chapter. Each verse of the 136th Psalm ends alike. The longest verse in the Bible is Esther, 8-9. It contains ninety words. The shortest verse is St. John 11-35. It contains two words. We find that Moses lived to be 120 years old; Adam, 930; Methuselah, 969; Noah, 950. We find in Proverbs 6th chapter the six things God hates; a proud look; a lying tongue; hands that shed innocent blood; a heart that deviseth wicked imaginations; feet that be swift in running to mischief; a false witness that speaketh lies and he that soweth discord among his brethren. When in sorrow read John 14. When men fail you read Psalm 27. When you have sinned read Psalm 51. When you worry, read Matthew 6:19-34. Before church service read Psalm 84. When you are in danger read Psalm 91. When you are lonely, or in danger, read Psalm 23. The 7th chapter, 21st verse of Ezra contains all the letters of the alphabet except J. When you forget your blessings, read Psalm 103. Holy Bible Book Divine, Precious treasurer thou art mine, Mine to tell me when I come. Mine to tell me what I am. Mine to shield me when I rove, Mine to show a Saviour's love, Mine thou art to guide, to guard. Mine to punish, or reward. Mine to comfort in distress, Suffering in this wilderness, Mine to show by living faith, Man can triumph over death. Mine to all of joys to come, And the rebel sinner's doom. Oh thou Holy Book Divine, Precious Treasure, thou art mine. So I will live by faith in God, trusting and believing, warning sinners to flee the wrath of God.

YOUNG SAN ANGELO MAN IS KILLED AT A DANCE
T. F. Hickox, former Rankin ranchman and prominent Reagan County stockman, surrendered this morning to Sheriff Garner of Reagan County following the killing shortly after midnight of Lamar Schrier, a young stockman, at a dance in Rankin that concluded an all-day celebration. A report from Big Lake said that early in the evening Schrier and a son of Hickox had trouble of an unknown nature and that later the father took up the quarrel. A bullet from a .45-calibre pistol pierced Schrier's back below the point of the shoulder blade and ranged into the stomach, causing death within a few minutes. It was understood that Hickox was taken to Fort Stockton to await his examining trial. Attorney Roscoe Wilson returned from Galveston last Thursday morning, where he had been attending the bedside of his aged father, who is critically ill. Mr. Wilson reports his father's condition improved.

Quality Goes Clear Through

Doubtless no year has thrown a clearer light upon the Dort and its high standing in the esteem of the American public than this year.

Enthusiasm towards the car and appreciation of its remarkable performance ability and operative thrift have grown and extended further and further, day after day, and month after month.

The regular Dort clientele that inevitably replaces one Dort with another has augmented with a rapidity that has outstripped our closest calculations.

And the only conclusion that can be drawn is that more and more people who in past years have sought other cars are now turning to the Dort as the most desirable automobile investment they could make.

Greatest Drouth In History of the British Isles

London, July 10.—England is sweltering and suffering in the worst drouth in a century.

Sunday was the seventy-eighth virtually rainless day. The entire country-side is baked hard. For the third successive day temperatures have exceeded 100. Some of the largest lakes in the north of England have become mere mill ponds. The River Shannon, the largest in the British Isles, can be forded at almost any point. Fruits and crops are burned and a majority of the streams are mere rivulets. The rainfall for the year is less than one-third normal to date.

As a result of the drouth England has been forced to turn from food rationing to water rationing. The rationing of water supply has been instituted throughout the country. Numerous country districts are importing water at 2c per bucket.

The situation in North Scotland has become so serious as to necessitate the removal of cattle and sheep. Seven hayracks on the Earl of Derby's farm took fire from spontaneous combustion.

"Drouth throat," according to physicians, has affected thousands of persons. The infection is caused by dust and germs from diseased vegetables. The public health departments are instituting stringent regulations governing the distribution of milk, meat and perishable food products. Meantime, owing to a shortage, caused by the drouth, prices of milk, eggs and vegetables have increased.

Six deaths and scores of prostrations were reported Saturday.

Carlock is Lining Up Campaign for Khiva Diamond

The Avalanche editor is in receipt of a letter from our friend Carlock, who is now editor of the Paducah Post, at Paducah, thanking us for the favorable mention of his candidacy for the next Khiva Diamond Ring, and giving us a more complete outline of his platform which covers the following ground:

"I believe in Jazz, Jazerines and Jazeritas. I am for the Jazz saxophone and believe in making all male and female boys and girls learn saxophone jazz (all other kind of children to be exempt). I also believe that women's skirts should be made shorter in order to make men look longer—we have too many short men anyway. I believe that every Shriner should assist our State Health Officer, and therefore recommend that all grass widows be exiled that hay fever may be brought to a minimum. Carlock is a mighty fine fellow, and the Avalanche editor would like to see Lubbock Shriners get in the push for him. The editor is not in that class himself, but we can do a lot of boosting for him, and if our friends who are Shriners will help us we can land the big diamond right square on Carlock's finger, and we assure you that he will appreciate it very much. Being an editor, he has never been able to own a ring of that calibre, and we would like to see the honor bestowed upon him.

PUBLIC AUCTION SALE

Monday, Aug. 8, 1921

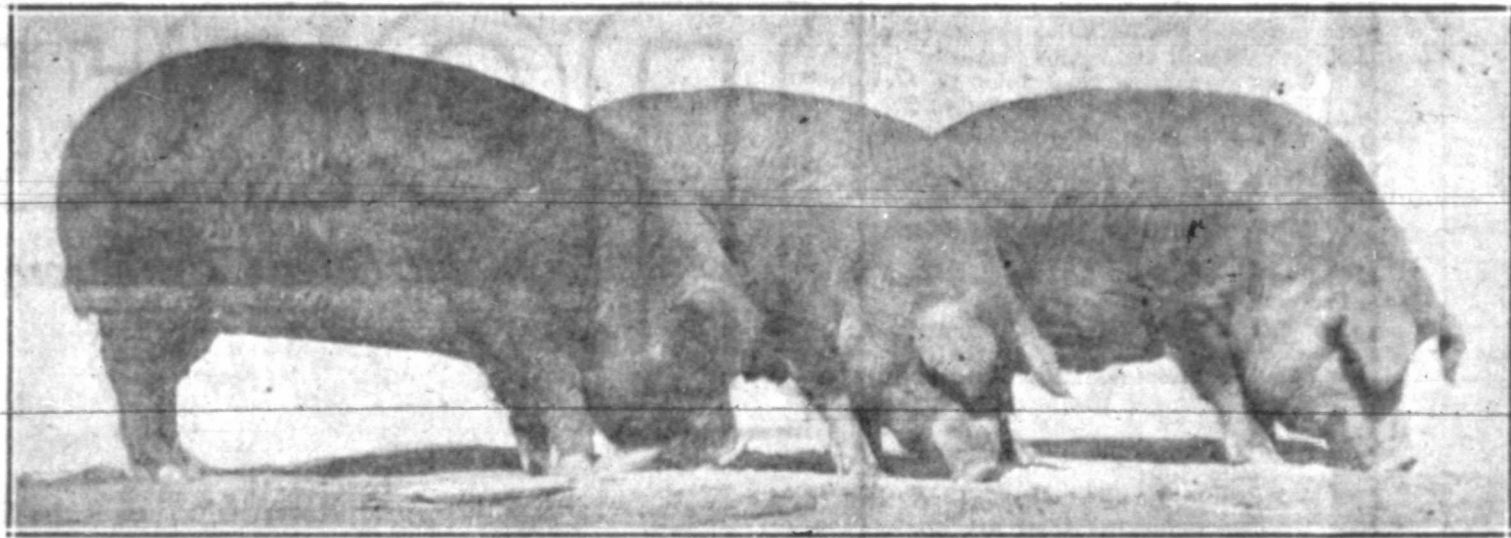

Sale will be held at the farm, one mile west of Lubbock. Lunch will be served at 1:00 o'clock.

WE WILL SELL 25 BRED SOWS AND GILTS, A FEW SPRING PIGS AND SERVICE BOARS

We are very much gratified that there has been a large acreage planted to feed this year. Taking the SOUTHWEST as a whole there will be more feed, corn maize and other grain than has ever been known and most every farmer has grain in his barn from last years crop. If the present outlook for a feed crop continues favorable we will be up against a hard proposition this fall unless we have some hogs to feed the cheap grain to. We make the assertion after considerable investigation, that there are fewer hogs on the farms of the Southwest today than any time in the last ten years. The present price of pork bears us out in this statement.

WHY BUY PUREBREDS—Because they will give you more pounds of pork for the same amount of feed than will the SCRUB. Why feed a hog ten to twelve months to get him to the 300-pound mark, when you can get the BIG-TYPE that will do it at seven and eight months. If you are not using the BIG-TYPE you are working from 60 to 120 days overtime.

SUCH SOWS AS THESE WILL ROOT THE MORTGAGE OFF ANY FARM

The greater part of the offering will be sows and gilts sired by the old hero HIGH PATHFINDER and bred to MY ROYAL PATHFINDER, a son of the CHAMPION AGED BOAR OF THE WORLD at the NATIONAL SWINE SHOW in 1919 and 1920.

PATHFINDERS, THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONS:—The Pathfinders stand today the Champions of the Duroc universe. They are the breeds most popular family and they stand alone the leaders of the BIG-TYPE Durocs. PATHFINDER stands out preeminently as the true king of all the sires of the Duroc history. Never before and perhaps never again will one boar live to see his sons and daughters rise to such heights of favor among the breeders of AMERICA.

Our opinion is that conservative prices will prevail at this sale. If interested in a sow or gilt or a litter of good pigs for founding a herd or infusing new blood into your present herd, do not stay away from this sale or hesitate to send in bids because you are afraid they will sell above your limit. There are always many bargains in a sale and we are confident this will be no exception.

TERMS—Naturally we would like to have the CASH. But if you need a good brood sow and do not have the money come talk the matter over, we will try to take care of you.

AUCTIONEERS—Cols. J. W. McCrery, Wayside, Texas and Louis H. Gould, Sulphur Springs, Texas. Fieldmen: H. S. Hilburn, Southwest Poultry & Swine Breeder, Plainview, Texas.

Boerner's Duroc Farm Lubbock, Texas

Many People Cutting Weeds and This Helps Much

In a drive over the city this past week it was noted that a large majority of the property owners were cutting the weeds, not only around their own property, but on adjoining vacant lots. That is the best indication of a full fledged loyal citizen it is possible to imagine these hot days.

But less than ten per cent of the weeds of the city have been cut. The ladies of the Federated Clubs of the city have made every effort to get these weeds cleaned off. The Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, and other organizations have discussed the proposition and yet the weeds remain.

Continued rains have made the general crops of Lubbock County grow—and they have made the weeds of Lubbock city grow proportionally as well. The result is that we have a rather serious weed situation. For some reason it does not seem to be as bad as last year, but it is nothing to be proud of even at that.

As been told before—no one organization has the necessary $800 to $1,000 to have this work done. It is a more or less private proposition anyway—so why not every citizen get out and clean off a block and see how much better off we are at the end of the week.

An Enjoyable Reunion of S. A. Graham Family

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Graham, of the Monroe community, on July 23 and 24, there being thirty-five members of the family present.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham are sixty-two years of age and enjoy good health. They are the parents of eight children, four boys and four girls, all living and married.

All children were present at the reunion except one son Olin, his wife and five children, of Hollis, Okla. Those present were: Mrs. J. T. Stanfill and four children of Lubbock (Mrs. Stanfill being the eldest child); Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Graham and five children, of Winters; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Jarmon and three children, of Gurdon, Arkansas; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Graham and three children, of Monroe community; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Curry and two children, of Goldsboro, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald B. McCasland and baby, of Graham; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Graham and baby, of Winters, (Paul is the youngest child).

All of Mr. and Mrs. Graham's children and their companions are Christians, with the exception of one son-in-law. Some of the grandchildren are also church members.

Jewell, age 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Graham, is the oldest grandchild, and the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Graham, who is almost two months old, is the youngest. There were nine babies present, all less than three years of age, and all of them well.

Sunday morning the whole family attended church at Monroe, where three of the sons and two of the son-in-laws took turns leading in the song service after which the oldest son gave an interesting talk to the congregation.

On returning to Mr. Grahams' all were able to do justice to a splendid dinner, after which time was spent in singing, conversation, and taking pictures.

Some of the friends of the family came in and listened to the splendid singing.

Mrs. Wood and daughter, mother and sister of Mrs. Andrew Graham, were also present at the reunion. They left Monday morning for their home at Harper, Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham received congratulations for the splendid bringing-up of their family. It is hoped that they will be able to get their children together for many more such reunions.

Mrs. L. O. Jarmon and Mrs. G. B. McCasland will stay for an extended visit at the parental home.

COCA COLA COMPANY WINS FEDERAL CASE

The celebrated case of the Coca Cola Company vs. the Koke Company of America, the Southern Koke Company, Ltd., The Koke Company of Texas, the Koke Company of Oklahoma and the Koke Company of Arkansas, which was tried in the United States District Court for Arizona about five years ago, reached a final conclusion yesterday when, in accordance with the mandate of the Supreme Court of the United States, Judge Sawtelle signed and filed his final decree.

The contention of the Coca Cola Company was that the defendant companies were infringing its trade mark and were guilty of unfair trade in the use of the word "Koke" and in representing their product as the genuine Coca Cola, the word "Koke" having become a nickname for Coca Cola all over the country. Judge Sawtelle, United States district judge for Arizona, decided the case in favor of the Coca Cola Company and his decision has now been upheld and affirmed by the Supreme Court of the United States. Joseph E. Morrison, represented the Coca Cola Company and Judge Richard E. Sloan the Koke companies. The genuine Coca Cola is bottled only in Lubbock by THE LUBBOCK CREAMERY

MARTIN WILL BAKE 2500 EXTRA LOAVES THIS WEEK

Outside of Mr. Martin's weekly trade, which is around 10,000 loaves of bread weekly, he received an extra order this week for 2500 more, for a picnic to be held at Snyder. At the present this bakery has more than forty-five customers outside of the city trade. Last year this firm's payroll was $14,000. Many of our citizens remember a few years ago when Mr. Martin was baking bread in the rear end of a grocery store with probably only a few pans and stove. The product he has turned out these years has made him the second largest baker in West Texas, if not first, and furthermore he has made it all at home and is spending it likewise. Stand by a man if he is a builder and booster.

LUBBOCK MAY HAVE POTATO CURING PLANT

If the potato growers of the country will assure as much as 2500 bushels of sweet potatoes, E. B. Wheelock will assure them a potato curing plant.

Mr. Wheelock says if the farmers are really interested and will communicate with him within the next few days and give him an idea of how the outlay and acreage of potatoes are running this year, he will commence the plant within the next few days. Furthermore, he says he will cure and store the potatoes for a share of the crop, and this way it will take no cash investment to have the crop put up in the proper way.

Mr. Wheelock requests that those who are interested in this plant will do him a great favor by letting him know their ideas as soon as possible, as there will be quite a lot of work to be done in building and installing machinery between now and harvesting time.

J. T. Lofton, Cattle Raiser Found Dead

John T. Lofton, retired cattleman, was found dead in the yard of the home of W. K. Stripling, his son-in-law, in River Crest Thursday morning shortly after eight o'clock. A revolver was found nearby and death resulted from a bullet wound in the head. Lofton had been in ill health for more than two years and had a short time ago suffered a nervous breakdown. He had disposed of his home at Summit and El Paso streets a few weeks ago and was living at his daughter's pending arrangements for a trip to California. The family had planned to leave Monday and Lofton had appeared in better health and spirits for the past few days, and had shown much interest in the plans for the trip.

Lofton was a native of Georgia, and came from a family that had distinguished itself in the affairs of that State. His father was Col. John T. Lofton, the ranking Colonel of the famous Sixth Georgia in the Confederate forces. He was born and reared in Lexington in that State, was graduated from the University of Georgia when but 16 years old, and at 18 was clerk of the House of the Georgia Legislature. He came to Texas thirty-six years ago, locating in Fort Worth, and had been actively engaged in the cattle business with ranch interests in West Texas until a few years ago when ill health forced his retirement. He was 56 years old.

The survivors are his wife, his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Young, who made her home with him, and two daughters, Mrs. A. F. Spangler, of Montecello, California, and Mrs. W. K. Stripling, of River Crest.

The funeral services will be held from the Stripling residence in River Crest Friday at 10:30 a. m., conducted by Rev. F. P. Culver of the First Methodist church, of which Lofton was a member. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

PLAN FOR REDUCING POSTAL OUTLAYS FIFTEEN MILLIONS

Washington—Plans for cutting down expenditures of the post office department approximately $15,000,000 during the next twelve months are understood to have been outlined to the cabinet by Postmaster General Hays. He was said to have declared the proposed economies would in no way weaken the efficiency of the service.

The plans involve the dropping from the payrolls about one and one-half per cent of the 300,000 postal employees over the country; assurances, however, that no efficient employees will be discharged. In many instances vacancies that occur will not be filled, making a substantial cut without discharge of any employees.

The department plans to cut $2,000,000 from the allowances for city carriers and like amounts from provisions for temporary carriers, the railway mail service, and mail bag equipment.

BORDEN COUNTY HAS A FINE RAIN—CROPS ASSURED

While it was beginning to get a little dry in Borden county our farmers were not complaining about the crop situation, as the feed crops were doing nicely and cotton was growing and putting on forms and doing as well as could be asked for, but about three o'clock Wednesday afternoon a cloud came up from the southeast and rain fell here for more than two hours. The total precipitation was something more than one inch and seemed to get lighter north, and was probably heavier south and west of town. A bumper crop is now assured providing some disaster does not overtake it between now and gathering time.—Gail Gazette.

PIONEERS OF THE '70s MEET AND TALK ABOUT OLD DAYS

Motley County News: There were a number of the early settlers of Motley and Crosby Counties met at the ranch of Harry H. Campbell Sunday and enjoyed the day recalling the dear old times of pioneer days of West Texas. Among these were Mrs. Hank Smith who was the first white lady to settle in Crosby County, coming to that county in the Seventies, and Mother Campbell who was the first white lady to settle in Motley County, making this her home about the same time. Mr. Van Leonard, another one of the guests, came to this country in 1878, and in about '82, he was joined by his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Leonard. Mrs. Smith and Mr. Van Leonard came over from Crosby County and simultaneously all of them had a get-together meeting. Harry Campbell, at whose ranch they were entertained, was the first white child born in Motley County.

Catarrial Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrial deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrial Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed it has a tendency to close or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are cured by the use of an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrial Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surface of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrial Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrial Medicine. Circulars free. J. W. HENNEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Deputy Sheriff Bardwell, from Sweetwater, arrived in Lubbock last Friday to take charge of O. A. Colman, who was sentenced a short time ago to eight years imprisonment for theft. Mr. Bardwell carried the prisoner to Sweetwater, where a penitentiary agent took charge.

The poets write of love and home and other simple lays,
Of people far across the foam and ancient times and ways.
But somehow modern things are missed and taken as they are,
So I am here to write about a classy motor car.

There's only one that interests me and soon will interest more,
For smarter folks will want none but the Overland Model Four.
Some dealer of another car will tell me all along,
"Now why talk of the Model Four, I'm sure you are quite wrong."

But in this world, if we be old, or in the days of youth,
No matter, good or bad, or how me always like the truth.
So to that dealer who contends my statements are not true
I give an explanation, as I give one now to you.

In the first place, in the old U. S. six thousand dealers sell
This little car, the Model Four, the one they like so well.
And after it is sold to you, the service that is due,
For your especial benefit, repairs it all for you.

Most cars that you folks buy today are owned by several firms,
Assembled propositions, these are facts you do not learn.
But the Model Four is modeled, as likewise each well made part,
By the Willys-Overland Company and there only gets a start.

Let us study just a little of the engine it contains
A strong, three-bearing motor, helps to win the car its fame.
And the wonderful transmission with the engine is combined,
Is another star of favor, and the first one of its kind.

No pumps for oil and water and the mechanism good,
Is inclosed for your convenience in a wear well cast-iron hood.
As to tires they are not heavy, they're the well known much used Fisk.
Being small and priced quite nicely, cause the owner little risk.

In fact the combination is the thing you're looking for,
Has the comforts as to riding of a real expensive car.
As to gas, you get more mileage and more miles on tires as well,
And the baked enamel finish, makes you little Four look "swell."

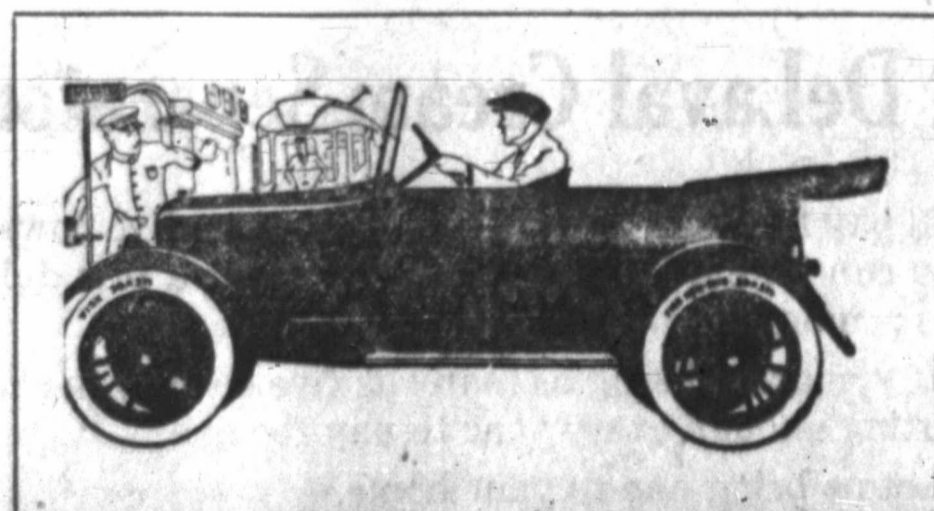

Now the bearings, there's the Timken, for it's known throughout the land,
As the universal bearing and will please most any man.
Then the springs, they're light and mighty and where're you hit a rock
You just seem to slide around 'em for you never get the shock.

They are patented by Willys and the newest thing that's out Should primarily be remembered of the things I write about.
As to feats, we have to offer hurdling six feet in the air,
Many times it's been accomplished, can you beat it anywhere?

In the test, on springs, in hurdles on many famous grounds
The blow at one time tested over forty thousand pounds.
So I've told you and I'm certain that you have begun to know
The wonders of this Model, little, mighty, full of "go."

It's a roarin' sporting beauty, it's a wonder on the street,
It's a car for any lady, it's a car that can't be beat.
Fraught with pep, with speed and purpose, riding comfort, everything.
Makes us wonder if it really is almost a human thing.

So sing on your earnest praise and proclaim to earth and stars
That all other makes are dandy when it comes to motor cars,
But if you desire real service—service proven o'er and o'er,
I can tell you what you're seeking, it's an Overland, Model Four.

COMPILATION CONCERNING WEST TEXAS HAS BEEN MADE FOR DALLAS NEWS BY ROBERT R. PENN

Some months ago the News received a letter from a prominent West Texas lawyer suggesting that it should gather and publish data showing the population and area of West and East Texas, respectively, together with the number of State institutions in each, the investment in same and the number of inmates or students in the institutions of each group. To comply with this suggestion has involved much investigation, but the work is now completed and the report is here made.

First of all, the News was confronted with the question "Where does the West begin?" Appeal was made to many persons who ought to know, including Porter Whaley, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. His reply was typical of the others. Nobody ever has definitely fixed the boundaries of West Texas. Sometimes the ninety-eighth meridian has been used as the eastern line; sometimes a line running through Fort Worth; the West Texas conference of the Methodist church reaches far enough east to include Austin and Gatesville. Mr. Whaley says the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has no defined territory. It has members in Dallas and farther east—even London, England.

In this situation the territory set up in the West Texas A. & M. College Bill has been used as a basis for the compilations. This bill provides that the college should be located west of the ninety-eighth meridian and north of the twenty-ninth parallel. There are 253 counties in Texas. Of these, 127 counties are wholly or mostly west of the ninety-eighth meridian and south of the twenty-ninth parallel.

A compilation of the population figures given by the 1920 census for those 127 counties shows a total of 1,255,869 persons living in that area, out of a total for the State of 4,668,228, or slightly more than one-fourth of the entire population of Texas. If the sixteen Southern counties west of 98 degrees longitude be considered part of West Texas, population figures give a total of 151,356 persons in those counties, or a grand total west of 98 degrees of 1,407,225 for 143 counties of 253 in Texas.

The area of counties included in the West Texas A. & M. bill totals 151,588 square miles for the entire State, or not quite three-fifths of the entire area of Texas. If the other sixteen counties be included, the West Texas area would be 173,852 square miles, or nearly seven-tenths.

The total assessed valuations of property for taxes in Texas for 1920 ran $3,390,953,149, it is shown by the report of the State Comptroller. The 127 counties in the territory included in the bill showed total renditions of $1,185,799,141, or slightly more than one-third of the total for the State. Including the other sixteen counties, the total was $1,294,408,856.

Using the term "West Texas" as referring generally to the territory defined in the West Texas A. & M. bill, the following is presented:

West Texas has three-fifths of the area and slightly more than one-fourth of the total population of the State and pays approximately one-third of the taxes. The number of State institutions in West Texas is approximately one-third of the total in the State, and from standpoints of numbers of employees and of students or inmates of State institutions, of operating costs expended by the State, and of value of buildings and grounds, compares with the other sections of the State in about the same ratio.

West Texas Institutions.
The following State institutions are located within the area set apart in the West Texas A. & M. bill: State Epileptic Colony, Abilene; Southwestern Insane Asylum, San Antonio; State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Carlsbad; Northwest Texas Insane Asylum, Wichita Falls; Sanatorium for Tubercular Ex-Service Men, Kerrville; John Tarleton Agricultural College; Stephenville; Southwest Texas State Normal College, San Marcos; Sul Ross Normal College, Alpine; University of Texas School of Mines and Metallurgy, El Paso; West Texas Normal College, Canyon City; State Experimental Farms, Spur, Lubbock, Pecos, Chillicothe and Sonora. Total, fifteen.

The following State institutions are located in counties immediately contiguous to the territory embraced in the West Texas A. & M. bill—in fact, both Austin and Gatesville are included in the West Texas conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South; State Confederate home, State Colony for Feeble minded, Confederate Women's Home; Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institute for Colored Youths; State Lunatic Asylum; State Pasteur Institute; Texas School for the Blind; Texas School for the Deaf; University of Texas, and State Capitol, all at Austin; State Juvenile Training School, Gatesville. Total, ten.

Other State institutions located in what may be considered East, Southeast and Northeast Texas territory, having more than two-thirds of the population of Texas in slightly more than one-third of the area, are as follows: East Texas Hospital for Insane, Rusk; State Girls' Training School, Gainesville; North Texas Hospital for Insane, Terrell; State Hospital for Crippled and Deformed Children, Galveston; State Orphans' Home, Corsicana; Agricultural and Mechanical College, College Station; Grubb's vocational College, Arlington; North Texas State Normal College, Denton; Prairie View State Normal College, Prairie View; Sam Houston Normal Institute, Huntsville; University of Texas Medical Branch, Galveston; State Experimental Farms, College Station, Beville, Troup, Angleton, Beaumont, Temple, Denton. Total institutions, 19.

Thus it is seen that out of a total of forty-four State institutions, fifteen, or slightly more than one-third are in West Texas; ten are in Austin and Gatesville, and nineteen are in what may be termed East Texas, as contrasted with West Texas. If one should consider a Gatesville and Austin as West Texas, as is done in the Methodist church conferences and in some other classifications, the total would be twenty-five for West Texas, as against nineteen for all of the rest of the State.

State Expenditures Now.
From reports from the numerous State institutions, educational, eleemosynary and reformatory, scattered over the State, compilations have been made by numbers of employees, numbers of students or inmates, operating expenses, and values of the State's investments in West Texas, as West Texas territory set apart in the vetoed West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical bill, and those in the remainder of the State.

Including the Austin institutions, with the exception of the State Capitol and the State departments, it is found that East Texas' State institutions employ 3,146 persons, including the penitentiary system, while those of West Texas give employment to 692 persons.

The number of students, inmates or patients in the State institutions located in East Texas totals 29,702, as against 8,962 in West Texas, or not quite one-third as many. Operating expenses of the East Texas State institutions in 1920 totaled $5,579,952, as against $1,615,630 for West Texas. Values of the State investments in East Texas totals $21,065,614, as compared with $6,305,600 for West Texas. All of the figures from which these totals were compiled were obtained from the heads of the State institutions.

Our best vintage, though it may not appear so then, is gathered from our misfortunes.

Wheat Harvesting Is About Over In Floyd County

According to the Lockney Beacon the harvesting of the wheat crop in Floyd County will be about completed this week. The Beacon says:

"This and next week will wind up the harvest season in this section. After last week's delay on account of the rains, harvest began again the first of this week generally throughout this section. The wheat has been rolling into the elevators all this week at a very lively rate. Everybody that can get trucks and other conveyances is marketing their grain as fast as it is being threshed. The market this week has greatly improved, and has advanced from around one dollar five to one dollar twenty per bushel. This fact has been pleasing to our wheat growers, and has caused additional activity in marketing same.

"The last rains brought a quantity of weeds up in the wheat, which has proven a draw back to threshing; however, the grain is being threshed and saved.

"The Beacon's original estimate of around ten bushels to the acre still holds good. The best reported North and East of Lockney, some fields ranging from 15 to 20 bushels to the acre."

Re-Organization of Democratic Party and Why?

The Avalanche: In the last two months a great deal has been said about the re-organization of the Democratic party. This virtually admits that the party has become dis-organized.

Now, what is meant by the term "Re-Organization?" Does it mean that the party is to be brought back to the old American fundamental principles of constitutional government and Democracy, as created by Jefferson, and other great and big men?—or does it mean the adoption of the modern ideas of so-called progressive Democracy, which means we stand for anything that expedient and looks good for a winner?

NEW BREED OF POULTRY DEVELOPED BY UNCLE SAM

Lamena is the name given to a new breed of poultry that has been developed at the Experimental Farm of the United States Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Md. It has been named by Secretary Wallace after the originator, Harry M. Lamson, senior poultryman of the Bureau of Animal Industry. It is a white fowl with red ear lobes that lays a white shelled egg. White Plymouth-Rocks, Silver Gray Dorking, and White Leghorn were the breeds used at foundation stock.

The fowls are larger than Leghorns, with long, deep bodies, well feathered, and comb and wattles of medium size. The new bird is not ready for introduction and neither eggs nor fowls can be secured. When a sufficient stock of birds has been raised specimens will be sent to State agricultural colleges and experiment stations to test their adaptability to different sections and conditions.

RECORDS SHOW THAT MANY PRISONERS ESCAPED PENITENTIARY FIRST HALF OF YEAR

system in Huntsville show a total of 290 escapes between January 1 and July 1, 1921, as against 256 escapes during the entire year of 1920.

Against the debit of 290 prisoners escaped in the first half of 1921 there is a credit of 250 prisoners recaptured—mostly men who escaped during 1921, but some of them men who escaped before 1921 and were not recaptured until 1921. During 1920 the credit was for 182 men recaptured, as against 256 escaped.

Assuming that the number of escapes during the remainder of 1921 equals the first half, the total will be 580 for the year, as compared with 256 in 1920, or slightly more than two and one-fourth times as many prisoners escaped. There have been two "wholesale deliveries," in one of which, or rather as a result thereof, two prisoners were killed, five others were wounded and two guards were badly wounded. This was the delivery from the main penitentiary on May 12, in which forty prisoners made a break for liberty.

"Why so many more escapes this year than last?" was the question asked of Captain J. A. Herring, chairman of the Board of Prison Commissioners, following an inspection of the prison records.

"Our reports show almost uniformly that the men responsible for these jail breaks are long-time, desperate criminals, who have not now and could not have at any time any possible hope of pardon or parole," he said. "In fact, there seem always to be two classes of prisoners in any big escape. The first is the small group of men by which the plan is made and executed; the second is the number, usually much larger, of otherwise peaceable convicts who cannot resist the temptation to take advantage of the opportunity offered when the other group, their companions, effects a delivery. Such was the case in the Huntsville delivery in May. Only half a dozen men seem to have been 'in' on the plan and the plot to escape; most of the others simply saw an opportunity to run and took it."

Mr. Herring said he did not believe Governor Neff's refusal to grant pardons or paroles to prisoners had had much to do with the number of escapes from the penitentiary. He said the system always has among the convicts a considerable number of desperate men, and those are the fomenters of the prison deliveries. As to the escapes of men singly or in small groups from the prison farms, where it is simply a matter of catching the guard off his watch and running for freedom, he considers that they also are not affected in number by the policy of the Governor of Texas with reference to pardons and paroles.

"As long as the men think they can get away, they are going to try it," he continued, "and the principal means we have of checking them is to make sure that the great majority of them are recaptured. Such is the case now—we are recapturing six out of every seven who escape. When the men know they are almost sure to be brought back, losing their grades and their commutations for good behavior, they are not so likely to run the risks that are involved in an effort to escape."

Due to the cessation of all pardons and paroles and to Governor Neff's recent order revoking half of the 142 paroles shown on the prison records, the State's prison population has increased nearly 15 per cent since Jan. 1. At the beginning of the year there were 2,500 prisoners on hand; now there are 2,870. However, part of the increase is due to increase in newly received prisoners, the total for the first half of 1921 being 785, against 1,189 for the whole of 1920.

It was almost impossible for me to get up when I was down on account of my back hurting so and there was just a steady ache there all the time. It was a task for me to do my housework and the minute I stooped over, knife-like pains would catch me in the small of my back, making it hard for me to raise up again. My kidneys were irregular in action and there were other annoying symptoms of kidney disorder. I tried different remedies, without help until one of the family gave me Doan's Kidney Pills. The first few did me so much good, I continued their use. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me entirely. I have had no return of the trouble." 60c. at all dealers. FARM AND RANCH LOANS—I can handle that loan for you at a rate and terms you will like. Claude B. Huribut, City, Farm and Ranching, Lubbock, Texas. 4-21

If This Were Your Washing

A small matter, this—yet only one of the risks incurred in sending the washing "out."

In what you wear, as in what you eat, purity and sanitation are important—and these you can be sure of only in a thoroughly modern laundry like ours.

Consider these things—what you send us is washed in billowy, purifying suds, in four fresh waters; it is rinsed not once, but three or four times, in more clean, clear water. Then ironed at 212 degrees and more, and wrapped, finally in a sun-lit room, and in a dust-proof package.

Not mere cleanness—but practical sterilization.

And you'll find it economical, and clothes-conserving, too. Try this modern way by sending us your next family washing. Phone today.

ROTARY CLUB GOES OVER THE TOP WITH SCHOOL DESK MOVEMENT

The campaign, put on by the Rotary Club to buy one hundred school desks and donate to the school of Lubbock, was very gratifying to the Club, when its committee reported, that they had gone over the top with 102 desks subscribed. The desks cost $9.45 each and the business men of Lubbock seemed more than pleased to get their names on the list for such a worthy cause. The school needs 200 desks and the fact that the Rotary Club in fostering the movement to secure subscriptions for 100 of the 200 does not eliminate any patriotic citizen from handing in his name to the committee. While the Club only agreed to secure 100 desks the school will gladly accept further donations.

The Rotary Club can be depended upon to get in behind any movement for the good of Lubbock, Lubbock County, or the good people who have made this the kind of a town you want to live in.

The business men of Lubbock is not a molly-coddle, nor a jelly-fish, nor an acrobat who tries to carry water on both shoulders. He possesses that essential stuff of character—backbone; he can look any man in the face and tell him if necessary, where he gets off, and upon occasion whither he may go.

He does not whine about rotten politics, corrupt courts, and bad government. He charges himself with his due share of civic pride and responsibility; he wades in, calls a spade a spade, a liar a liar, a grafter a grafter, and a plain old fool a plain old fool; he serves on a jury when he is summoned and he usually expedites justice; he rallies his fellows together when necessary and cleans out the bunch, regardless of party, who would appropriate the public purse for private ends. He does not sit on the side lines and cuss the umpire. He gets into the game, knocks a home run now and then slides in safely to the home plate.

Tell your friends to bring their children in to school, for these are the men that will see there is a nine months school in Lubbock with all the credits necessary to send your boy or your girl to college any where.

The committee consists of Jed Rix, J. O. (Bud) Jones and L. T. Martin. Make your checks to L. T. Martin, treasurer and hand them to any one of the committee or mail them to L. T. Martin.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE LAW MAY BE AMENDED BUT NOT REPEALED

The action of the House in adopting a substitute for the bill repealing the suspended sentence law kills definitely one feature of the Governor's program. It is the one feature above others that appealed to us as being desirable. The legislature, however, seems to think otherwise and from the present outlook will adopt a substitute measure. While regretting the action of the House in this matter, it should be said that the substitute bill is a great improvement over the law as it stands at present, and as it has been administered in a majority of the counties of the State. It exempts from the benefit of the suspended sentence persons charged with any of the following crimes: Murder, rape, perjury, burglary of a private residence, robbery, theft of an automobile, arson, incest, bigamy, abortion and violation of the liquor laws. Most of these crimes figure in the records of suspended sentences granted in Texas during recent years, and to abolish the practice, so far as these crimes are concerned, is a long step toward curing the evil which has grown up in connection with the suspended sentence. A bill similar to this was passed at the regular session and vetoed by the Governor. With the possibility of obtaining the repeal of the entire law at the special session, Governor Neff was probably justified in this veto. But if this substitute bill is passed at the special session the Governor ought to sign it. While the repeal of the entire law may be necessary to eradicate abuses entirely, this bill should do much to stop those abuses should it become a law.

THE ROUTE THE REDISTRICTING PLAN MUST TAKE

Speaking of the redistricting of the State, the Star-Telegram says: The Senate Committee on Senatorial Districts has appointed a subcommittee composed of Senators Bledsoe, Darwin, Floyd, Page and Richards to consider three redistricting bills pending before the committee and to report back a bill drawn on a basis of three three. These bills are two Senate bills, one by Senator Bledsoe and the other by Senator Burkett, and the House bill by Representative Hill and others, which already has been passed in the Lower House.

THE ROUTE THE REDISTRICTING PLAN MUST TAKE

The appointment of the subcommittee is a decided step toward the completion of a redistricting bill at this session, but it will require steady and conscientious work to insure its completion. The session is already one-third gone, and even after the subcommittee has drafted a bill and the Committee on Senatorial Districts has reported it out, it is not likely that it will get through the Senate without some amendment. It will then have to go back to the House, with the probability that the House will not readily concur in all the changes made by the Senate. From this it will be seen that the bill will finally be decided upon in a conference committee. Experience with redistricting measures in the past proves that an eleventh-hour deadlock between the two Houses over a conference report is a real danger. For this reason it is to be hoped that the subcommittee, which is composed of Senators of genuine ability, will labor to report a bill that will stand up under fire, and the honesty and fairness of which will carry it through the intricate process ahead of it.

Smile if it breaks your face.

LACK OF CONFIDENCE KILLING THE HOME BUSINESS

Commissioner of Insurance and Banking, Edward Hall, turned a machine gun on the people of Ranger when he said, speaking of a recent run on a local bank, "every dollar of non-interest bearing and unsecured deposits of the Guaranty Bank will be paid depositors. If you people insist on destroying your banks by an unreasonable lack of confidence and by making demands that no bank can meet, you cannot expect the State Banking Department to grant a charter for another bank in Ranger. The State Banking Board has now $2,500,000 to pay depositors and is collecting assessments from something more than 1,000 state banks in the State of Texas." This should be a lesson to depositors everywhere who are unreasonable. "When they destroy their banks by their cowardice or their timidity, they destroy themselves, their business prosperity, their industry and their community. Now is the time for men to sit steady in the boat. Now is the time for men to guard their tongues, to throttle newspaper gossips and discontinuance at all times malicious or mischievous manufactures of stories which reflect on their fellows or the institutions of their cities and towns. Regardless of the pessimist, there is an upward trend and conditions are much more encouraging than they were ninety days ago.

LUBBOCK SHOULD DO LIKEWISE

W. S. Maggard, E. H. Horton and J. M. Cooley left Tuesday morning for New Mexico, where they will locate a camping site for Hale Center.

The government allows each incorporated town in the states of Texas and New Mexico to file on a claim in New Mexico for a place for the people of each town to have a camping ground. —Hale Center Record.

We believe that Lubbock should go and do likewise. There is a great pleasure in camping, and especially when one can go to some place where they know there will be accommodations for them. A number of the cities of the South Plains have secured leases on land in the mountains of New Mexico, and these are becoming favorite places for the people to go to spend a few weeks camping and recreating.

The legislature seemingly has reconsidered the experimental stations and has restored all of the Texas Stations to a place in the Senate Budget. It looked for awhile as though six of the stations were going to be choked to death, but will probably get by with small appropriation. This is a very important work, and the average legislator does not really know the importance of these stations. Take the Lubbock station for instance. Its usefulness cannot be calculated in dollars and cents, and comparatively few of the legislators really understand what the station is doing. If they would take the time to investigate the great help this station has been to this section of the country they could not conscientiously withhold the support of the state from it, and would no doubt be more liberal with the appropriations for the work. The stations have never had sufficient appropriations to do the work that they should.

Eternal vigilance is the price we pay for freedom from disease. The community that is indifferent to its health problems pays the toll in both a high sickness and mortality rate. We now have many grave problems pressing upon us, but none is more important than that of safeguarding the public health. Lubbock is just naturally a very healthy place. It is ideally located geographically and if we will half way try to keep the town clean of weeds and rubbish, the health of the community can be made ideal and there will be little or no danger of the unusual diseases caused by these things.

A statement is sent out from Washington that a big cut in the expense of operating the postal department will be brought about by the discharge of about one and one half per cent of the postal employes throughout the United States. This may be alright in some places, but so far as the Lubbock postoffice is concerned, we do not see that any can be spared. Fact of the business the Lubbock postoffice has been running short handed for the past two or more years, and to take out any more of the help would be to the detriment of the service, which is none too good now on account of short handedness.

Those who are going to build new houses this fall should get at it now. Slack times throughout the country makes carpenters easier to get. Painters are now plentiful, and the people who have material to sell are not crowded so badly and can supply your orders without extra help and greater expense. Build in Lubbock now. There is not an empty house in the city and people are here every day trying to rent a place to house their family.

A fellow down near San Angelo was convicted several days ago and fined five hundred dollars and sentenced to serve one year in the county jail for unmercifully beating his three year old step-daughter. It is said that he used a half inch rope and doubled it, lashing the little girl's bare body till it was bloody. Such brutes as that should be given a double dose of the same medicine besides the fine and jail sentence.

Plainview is still debating whether or not they will have a fair this fall. There is no question about a fair being held in Lubbock. The dates have long ago been set, and every arrangement for the greatest fair ever pulled off in the South Plains territory are being worked out. The premium list has already been partially made up and the catalogue will soon be on the press. The Panhandle South Plains Fair is a cinch. Come to Lubbock.

Lubbock is going to need between fifty and one hundred new residences this fall. Some for rent and others for people who want to buy. If you are in position to build we are of the opinion that now is a good time to begin.

WHAT IS THERE IN A HEADLINE?

Much some times. Many people read a newspaper almost entirely by scanning the head lines, and read no more of the articles. Some times an injustice is done a person or a community or a state, a church or a nation by a mere mis-statement in a newspaper headline. Some time ago—several weeks we will say, an article was sent out from Lubbock regarding the crop conditions, and mentioned the heavy reduction of the cotton acreage, and stated that some of the Lubbock gins would not start up for business this fall—that is probably all four of the gins in Lubbock would not operate this fall, on account of the great reduction of the acreage. The head-writer for the paper that it was sent to, put this heading over the article: "Lubbock Gins May Not Run During This Season," and the article has been copied promiscuously throughout the Panhandle and the Central part of the state, proclaiming to the world that our gins will not run this season. This is a mistake and the article following the heading does not state that, but a person glancing through the papers will infer from the headlines that no gins will run in Lubbock this season. There is sometimes much to a headline, and this is one that we feel does Lubbock an injustice. Lubbock has four of as good gins as will be found anywhere, and Lubbock county will produce a lot of cotton this fall, and as many of the gins will operate as is necessary to cut the cotton that is brought here, and in all probability all of them will be in first class shape for cutting the first bale that is offered.

The value of advertising is clearly brought out in the remarks of an out of town reader of the Avalanche who visited this city last week. He does not live within a hundred miles of Lubbock, but has been reading the Avalanche regularly for a number of years. He remarked that he was not very well acquainted with the city, yet he felt quite at home when it came to recognizing the names of business firms and individuals in the paper so much that he had become very familiar with them. When your firm name is kept before the reading public you will become familiar to them, and no matter whether they live here or elsewhere, when they come to town they will feel a kind of familiarity that will bring them to your store.

Lubbock tourist camping ground is being extensively advertised now, and many tourists will avail themselves of the opportunity of stopping over here for a night or a few days, and get acquainted with the Lubbock people. See more about the country and learn a great deal about the town of Lubbock and her people.

The Republican leaders have no doubt been a great disappointment to those weak-kneed democrats who flopped over to the Republican ranks hoping to swim in prosperity as soon as the administration machinery was handed over to Mr. Harding and his republican congress.

The voters at Abilene rejected the proposition of the city maintaining a Board of City Development, by taxation. The vote was heavy according to the reports and stood 509 votes for and 628 against.

No need to stand back on coming to Lubbock. The superintendent of the schools is assured that the school will run the usual nine months.

Write to your friends and relatives about the fair this fall and have them make arrangements to attend.

Boost or move!

WITHOUT FURTHER COMMENT

The Plainview News came clean and printed a four page paper—the size in keeping with the volume of advertising. The record is bluffing along on eight pages when four are really enough. Oh, well, we always have to have a mid-summer period of inactivity each year. The merchant takes out, and then wonders "where in thunder business has gone to, anyway." The progressive merchant gets out and cops the business while the other fellow waits for the oil well to come in.—Canadian Record.

A subscriber told us the other day that the only thing he did not like about this journal, was that we boosted the town, the churches and schools too much. He stated that it took too much money from the people to carry on and keep up all of these institutions; that the preachers use to preach without pay and that we paid them too much now. We ask him how much he paid the preachers; he said nothing. We don't see where he is injured. Show us a man who is against the schools, churches, preachers, women and all the good things in life, and we will show you a man who is walking around to save funeral expenses—dead and doesn't know it. Flowers are not bad things to pass along to our friends and neighbors.—Exchange.

Ferguson's photograph will hang in the rotunda of the State capitol along side those of other chief executives from Sam Houston to the present incumbent. Senator Bledsoe of Lubbock, in introducing the resolution in the Senate said: "Out of simple justice to a man who served two years with an honorable record as the Governor of Texas but who fell by the wayside and was removed from office by impeachment, I move the adoption of the resolution." It is true that Ferguson was impeached by the Legislature itself, but in reflecting over the incidents leading up to his impeachment can it be said that he committed so much graver a crime than some of those who preceded him?—Exchange.

AN AUDITORIUM BADLY NEEDED IN LUBBOCK

Probably no town in the west is more in need of an auditorium than Lubbock is at the present time. We have no place for large crowds to assemble, except the Methodist Church or the court house, and neither of these places can be had at all times, and are not suitable nor large enough to accommodate the crowds that often have occasion to meet here. Lubbock is centrally located, and will always be a convenient place for people to gather from the surrounding counties, and we should provide a suitable place to accommodate them when they come.

The most feasible solution to this problem at the present time is the erection of a tabernacle large enough to seat three or four thousand people. This can be done at a reasonable price we believe and could be used for public gatherings of all kinds and if properly seated and built could be used at any season of the year.

There is a demand for a place of this kind for revival meetings and for lectures, etc., and if all church denominations and all organizations that have occasion for the use of such a building would do their part toward building it the burden would not fall very heavily upon anyone. The city is certainly in need of the auditorium. Why not get busy on it.

A great many northern farmers we understand come South and buy stocker hogs from the stockyard companies and take them north, fatten them and return them to the Texas farmers in canvas bags and make big money on them. We wonder why the Texas farmers cannot do the same thing and save a lot of freight both ways, and the cost of packing, wrapping, etc? It has been a mystery to us for years and years why Texas cannot feed herself. We raise enough of many products to do so, but we do not finish the product. We get our cattle up to the age the size that the finishers want them, and take anything they offer us for them and then buy them back in cans at a great big profit. Guess we are a lot of Texas suckers.

O. B. Colquitt is going to be a candidate for United States Senator from Texas next year, according to an announcement sent forth from him a few days ago. Colquitt is venturing out on a platform that he believes will be popular. Reduction of taxes and a soldier bonus appropriation are two of the things that he states he is in favor of.

We understand that there is a movement on foot among the employees of the City to have the city block cleared of weeds. They are a loyal bunch, and we are sure that within a short time the city block will be cleaned off in good shape.

Through the courtesy of Representative R. A. Baldwin, the editor of the Avalanche will be furnished a copy of the House Journal giving a complete record of the proceedings of the House during the special called session.

Three cent letter postage is likely to be restored as one of the means of raising funds to conduct the affairs of the government.

"A READER OF THE AVALANCHE" ROMPS ON US AND ASKS US TO APOLOGIZE TO UNKNOWN BEING

Cast a metaphorical trout fly into the mellifluous stream of the Avalanche's pure English vocabulary and did she get a rise? You can tell the world, hook, line and sinker!

You pass the buck beautifully Mr. Dow. I understood that Mr. Lowrey contributed the article. I "just wondered" if you agreed with him and then tried to step on the toes of any man who did. You say I missed my mark. Your denial of "any such" sentiment would have been more convincing had you let it go at that.

As for "spitting slang" (an ugly word, Mr. Dow), but you men are always accusing us of being "catty."

Just what particular "cuss word" in my slangy effusion gave you the rabies Mr. Dow? I want to avoid it in the future—I might say it in Sunday School. Wouldn't that be awful, if it had the same effect it had this time? Read my display of "slang" over again in a moment of sanity—how do I know you have 'em. Oh, I read the Avalanche and attend Sunday School too. I defy you to point out either a "cuss word" (oh for the language of our mothers), or a "slang" expectation. "You can tell the world" is a genuine, pure Americanism, coined by the grand old A. E. F.

have supposed a Sunday School Superintendent capable of such an extreme exaggeration? Or were you quoting Mr. Lowrey? From your description of him I am sure he must know "everything" and will not misunderstand my defense of my "sister in overall" "I am 'Will yet'!"

A READER OF THE AVALANCHE

The "woman in overalls," comes back at us this week with a conglomeration of quotations and abbreviations, accusations, explanations, and other "ations" attacking our disposition, our position, our reputation and denunciations. She justifies her use of slang by stating that she said nothing worse than "darn," and that her mother, and our mother, used the word darn in connection with mending pa's sox, and evades the subject with a lot of so-called justifiable adjectives, adverbs, and prepositions. We are sure this lady is right by the way she goes ahead and lambasts ve editor, (woman never talks till she knows she's right) and as we have long since learned not to talk back to a woman more than once, we are going to agree with her in everything and let her have her way. This is the way we evade any trouble with our wife, and we find it is the only safe way for a man to do. A woman will have the last word regardless, and no argument, no matter how sound, or where it comes from, is strong enough to convince them they are wrong. We might risk our life and our ability to argue the point if the writer was not an unknown quantity. We are not good at guessing riddles, and so in order to get out of this controversy, are even going to say that overalls are pretty, (but not in women or men) something that we never thought we would say. That every style that the woman adopt is beyond criticism, (we doubt) that their language is always proper; (we don't think) that when they say "darn," they mean to "darn" her mother, and that they say damn they mean a pile of dirt across the canyon or stream. That when they go stronger, (if they ever do) prefix it with the deity they are merely in devotion, and mean no harm and hence no condemnation can possibly be brought against it. The fair sex are angels, without wings, and we imagined we saw one of them sprouting wings at the swimming pool a few days ago, but it might only have been one of those things they place around their bodies under their arms to keep from sinking. We are mistaken so often that this might be just one more of our blunders. Any way we apologize for ever saying anything about this good woman's language, she said we owed her an apology and we always try to pay our debts, both morally and physically, and we hope she will send us a receipt in full and sign her name. When we borrow money we sign our own name to the note and we are not ashamed for the people to know who wrote it. A document could never be of any value whatever if it is not signed by someone, and we place about the same worth to an article that is unsigned. If this woman is not ashamed of her position she takes she should certainly be willing to show the world that she is not by signing her name and making her statements above board instead of concealing her identity under five thousand others who could sign themselves as "a reader of the Avalanche." Come out in the open and show yourself in overalls cutting weeds and doing the numerous other duties about the home. Finis!

When I said "darn," I was quoting the masculine contingent in reply to the question, "Would you wear a dress?" I am not saying I can't tell a lie but that I won't. I say darn, other times too, for instance, when I have to darn the other fellow's overalls. But I am sure our mothers used it a lot more than I do, so it could not have been that which shocked your "Mid-Victorian" ideals (for women) of English. Eh, what? Is that English, or isn't it?

Really Mr. Dow, I believed you a fair-minded man. May be you can't tell a lie but you openly and deliberately (you were a week behind with your reply) implied that I used "cuss" (your English, please) words and swear words, and for that you owe me an apology.

Mr. Gentry is our present Sunday School superintendent, and a young man of whom we are proud. He has lived in this community for several years and his sterling qualities have won for him many friends.

Miss Annie is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Johnson, who moved to our community last fall. She has many friends, for none knew her but to love her. AMERICAN LEGION WILL RIDE IN STOCK CARS TO EL PASO, TEXAS

Dallas, Texas, July 23.—The delegates from John W. Low Post of the American Legion at Dallas, are planning to make the trip to the next convention which is to be held in El Paso, in stock cars. Royall R. Watkins, the Post Commander at Dallas, is now working with the railroads to this end. Mr. Watkins said today: "It will be just like the railroad trip in France some 3 years ago, only the cars will be a bit larger, and we hope the trains somewhat faster. Along the way there will be Red Cross canteens and Salvation Army workers. We will ask the Legion Posts at the principal stops to properly label the drinking water that is safe for the American Soldiers. We will also ask them to dress the Red Cross workers in French costume and assemble them on the platform to shout 'vive les soldats Americains.' "It may be possible for us to pick up delegates from the other Posts along the route to the convention. "Of course the cars will bear the familiar labels, '30 hommes, 8 chevaux, so that every doughboy will know what we are and where we are going, and we will like yeast at most every stop, we at least will want to do this, and sincerely hope that arrangements will be made to carry out this—the most important feature."

YOUR EYES

As a general proposition there are but few near-sighted persons, but those whose eyes have such a defect require most careful attention by trained Optometrists.

A near-sighted eye is one that is slightly longer than the correctly focused eye. For that reason the rays of light do not form a perfect picture and no effort on the part of the individual can aid them to do so. After a careful examination to determine the exact kind of glass required, the Optometrist, orders lenses which will diverge or spread the rays of light with such lenses on the wearer frequently sees as well as those who are fortunate enough to possess optically perfect eyes.

Competency and care on the part of the Optometrist are quite as essential when he is correcting near-sightedness as when he is aiding an eye having any other kind of defect. If he is untrained and makes a mistake of prescribing a glass too strong he will then create a condition that is similar to far-sightedness and is associated with the same kind of distressing eye discomfort.

Among all the learned sciences and professions there is none which has made greater progress toward human helpfulness in the last decade or two, than Optometry. With this work being taught by leading universities, in their department of Physics, it is a crime for untrained people to impose upon the public.

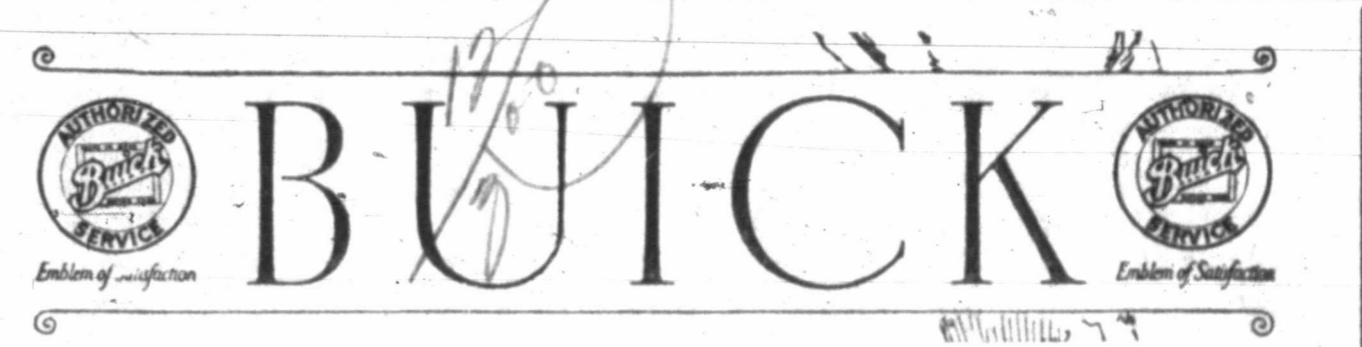

In only one state of the Union—Texas, is such imposition and fakery still possible. All of the other forty-seven states regulate the profession of Optometry by law and it is to be hoped that the learned law makers of this state will soon place Texas in line with other states having this constructive and protective legislation.

CHILDRESS MAN KILLED BY CLAN; WAS A MEMBER

C. L. Burden, 30 years old, was killed Friday morning at 2 o'clock when a clan of men went to the home of Henry Adams of the Northfield community, twenty miles southwest of Childress. It is reported that the clan was calling on Adams for unknown purposes and when called, a shotgun was fired from within the house. Burden was a member of the clan. Burden lived about an hour. Citizens are indignant and further trouble may occur.

NOTICE TO KILL PRAIRIE DOGS

Everybody ought to exterminate the prairie dogs on his own land because the law requires it and especially because it is necessary for the protection of himself and his neighbors.

The Commissioners' Court has expected the people to comply with this law without being forced. But many complaints have been filed recently and the Court is ready to enforce the law. Therefore, we beg and demand that every citizen of this county who has any dogs on his land kill them all now. This is the last warning. If this is not done we will proceed according to law.

This legal procedure is unpleasant both to the Court and citizens; besides it is expensive to the land owners.

The Court will purchase the poison at wholesale price and distribute it to the people at cost if they desire it. Get serious about this now and give us your names if you want us to secure the poison at wholesale.

By order of the Commissioners' Court.

Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 85

Meeting of Farmers' County Union Was Held at Shallowater Last Friday, July 22

Ho, you deadheads, layouts, and slackers of the Farmers' Union: You don't know what you missed by failing to attend the County Union meeting at Shallowater Friday, July 22, and also if you failed to attend the Texas State Union meeting at Lubbock. This does not apply to those that couldn't attend, for the State meeting came at the busiest time and greatest rush for farmers—neither does this apply to members that didn't know of the County Union meeting, but it seems like in farm organizations there are more deadheads and "let Bill do it" kind of people, than in any other class. Why it is so I can't tell, for even with the last eighteen months' experience, it certainly does look like any farmer with brains enough to grow a crop ought to see the great necessity of the farmers educating, co-operating, buying, selling and working together for the betterment of their business and conditions, as other crafts have so successfully done. The farmer is the bone and sinew—the foundation and support of all crafts, classes, and all public institutions, yet they are the worst exploited, the easiest fleeced, and the most careless, unconcerned and dilatory about their own mutual and co-operative interests of any class, and they have more in way of risks, losses, mishaps, pests, insects and parasites (human and inhuman) and other things to contend with. Then where is there a people that needs education and co-operation in their business more than the farmers?

But I must get back to the Shallowater meeting. Through the courtesy of Mr. McNeeley, the big man of Lubbock, (not just big in size either) three others and myself, got a free and enjoyable ride out there and back. I was very much surprised to see such a good brick three-story school building, large, commodious, and well arranged. The Shallowater people had arranged a fine program for the forenoon and beat all the movies in the way of stage performance, speaking and music. The training and performance of those children was just about as near perfect as is possible and that part of the day's program was greatly enjoyed. I am sure, by all that were present. Next was the fine barbecued meat, bread, pickles and coffee. After all were filled (maybe some a little too full) there were several baskets of fragments taken up, but I was enjoying the occasion so well that I didn't count the baskets of fragments taken up to see whether they corresponded with the number taken up after the great Teacher of Galilee had fed the 5,000, or not. Anyway, the people sat down on the grass, were well filled and plenty left, and all seemed happy and sociable.

We are hoping for a recurrence of such a time at Shallowater, and even a greater time at Abernathy on August 12, at the dedication of the Farmers' Union Flour Mill, for State President D. E. Lyday assured us, when here, that he would try to be there on that occasion, and we are expecting other good speakers and workers in the great farmers' movement.

Come and be benefitted and enjoy the day. Also come to the District Union Meeting at Lubbock, August 11th.

After dinner on the ground, we assembled in the upper story of the school building for the business session of the County Union, which was highly interesting from beginning to close. I was glad to see a number of Farmers' Union ladies present. If more of our wives and daughters belonged to the Union and would attend the meetings, think it would be better.

After passing several resolutions, and attending to other business, we took up the annual election of officers, and the efficient president, J. B. Adams, was re-elected for another year. Bro. Ward, of Slaton, was re-elected Secretary, and G. A. Starnes, Business Manager, and J. T. Shaw, Vice President. The meeting then adjourned to meet again the Third Friday in August, at Lubbock.

A meeting was called for the representatives of the different locals to meet in the Lubbock County Courthouse next Saturday, July 30th, at 2 p. m. to formulate plans for a Farmers' Union Warehouse at Lubbock. This is badly needed and would have saved enough in the last eighteen months to have built two good warehouses.

Wake up and get busy and save as well as produce, and don't depend on somebody else looking after your business and your interests, but go after it and do it yourself.

I just have three of the resolutions passed which are as follows:

Resolution No. 1.
Resolved, that the Lubbock County Farmers Union, in session assembled at Shallowater, July 22, 1921, do hereby express our thanks and appreciation to the Lubbock Avalanche for the many courtesies shown us and the active part taken in making the Texas State Farmers Union meeting at Lubbock a great success, and.

Be it further resolved that we do hereby express our appreciation to the Pastor and membership of the Methodist church for the use of their commodious church building in which said meeting was held; also we are thankful to all others who gave assistance to said meeting.

Resolution No. 2.
Whereas, there is millions of acres of the best farming lands held out of cultivation by big residential and non-residential land holders for speculation and for grazing purposes, and whereas, lands used for stock raising are as remunerative as cultivated land, and

Whereas, the value of unused lands held for speculation is produced and advanced by settlement and improving or surrounding or community lands.

Therefore, We, the Lubbock County Farmers Union, respectively request the Legislature and Officials of the State of Texas to use their best efforts to regulate taxation so that this land will be as highly assessed and as highly taxed as same grade of improved and cultivated lands.

(This resolution met with some opposition, but I feel sure it was from misunderstanding or lack of understanding the meaning of said resolution.)

Resolution No. 3.
Whereas, a great wave of crime overshadows our fair land, and

Whereas, false impressions, absurdity, obscenity, banditry, robbery, incendiarism, suicide and murder, as often exhibited in moving picture shows, is, as we believe, largely responsible for same;

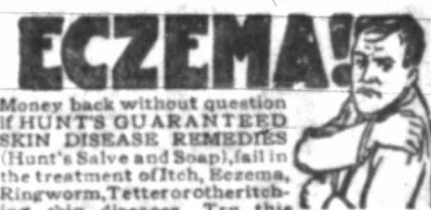

Therefore, we do hereby place ourselves on record as opposed to such exhibition, and as favoring wholesome, instructive, intellectual and beneficial scenes.

(This resolution was warmly contested but carried by a small majority. Here again, I think some misunderstood the intent of the resolution. It was neither intended as a legislative measure or as a censor over the management of the "movies," but only as a protest against immoral and injurious exhibits, and as favoring the useful, educational and beneficial scenes. Have we got to where those kind of pictures interest the people no more, but everything must be sensational?)

Why Did They Use Texhoma Gasoline?

The Three Fastest Drivers in the Automobile Races Used

TEXHOMA GASOLINE

Here are the facts gathered by the Automobile Editor of the Abilene Reporter, Abilene, Texas, after the Auto Races recently held in that city: Glenn Breed, of San Antonio, driving a Hudson Special, (the car that beat them all and won every race it entered) used TEXHOMA GASOLINE. Breed won $800 in money, being first in three races.

George Clark, of San Angelo, driving a Hudson Special, won $400 in money, being second man in the three races, and he used TEXHOMA GASOLINE.

Red Shafer, of Fort Worth, driver of the Chevrolet with a Duesenberg Motor, winner of $400 in money, being first man in one race, second man in one race and third man in one race, used TEXHOMA GASOLINE.

Of the eight cars that entered the 25-mile race, six were filled with TEXHOMA GASOLINE. The only three cars that finished the 25-mile race, the two Hudsons Specials and the Duesenberg, used TEXHOMA GASOLINE.

If TEXHOMA GASOLINE is good enough for racing cars, it is good enough for any motor. The BEST is none too good for racing cars. We always sell the BEST Gasoline and Oils that the market affords.

Out of the total of $2,200 in Prize money, the winners of $1,875 used TEXHOMA GASOLINE.

Six of the nine racers who won prize money in the Automobile races, used TEXHOMA GASOLINE. The following table shows the winners who used TEXHOMA GASOLINE and the amount of money they won.

Glenn Breed, San Antonio, Hudson Special	$800.00
Used Texhoma Gasoline.
Red Shafer, Fort Worth, Duesenberg Motor	$400.00
Special	$400.00
Used Texhoma Gasoline.
George Clark, San Angelo, Hudson Special	$400.00
Used Texhoma Gasoline.
Tennill, Taylor, Ford Special	$125.00
Used Texhoma Gasoline.
Fields, San Angelo, Ford Special	$100.00
Used Texhoma Gasoline.
King, Cleburne, Mercer	$ 50.00
Used Texhoma Gasoline.

The majority of all the money of the twenty racers used TEXHOMA GASOLINE. Why did they choose TEXHOMA in preference to all other kinds of gasoline? There is only one answer. They were taking no chances of losing and selected the BEST Gasoline on the market.

Harvesting Nearing Completion in Crosby County

With fine weather throughout the harvesting period, Crosby County is nearly through with the wheat crop of 1921. A total of two hundred cars of wheat has been shipped up to the present time while a small quantity is in storage. Conservative estimates of the Crosby wheat, that is the section immediately served by the town of Crosbyton, has been placed at three hundred cars. The estimated loaded average of the three hundred cars is placed at fifteen hundred bushels each. Thus Crosbyton will receive from wheat this year approximately $450,000.

More than twice the amount of acreage has been sown to wheat this year in Crosby county than in 1920. Early last fall, farmers having large acreages of cotton, prepared their ground by plowing under the cotton and began preparations for their present wheat crop. Some crops have made as high as twenty-seven bushels per acre this year. Practically the entire crop of Crosby county will average from twelve to fifteen bushels per acre. One man in the Crosbyton section averaged twenty-two bushels per acre off of a farm of six hundred acres.

Five combines have been added to three already in use in that county costing approximately $2,100 each. People are realizing a profit from their crops this year in Crosby county, we are informed by those in a position to know. The use of the combines have greatly lowered the cost of harvesting and labor prices have been held down throughout the season. Many farmers, who owned farms, but rented them out during the past few years have taken over their farms and are cultivating them.

Crosby county is going strong on hogs and at the present time we are positive that Crosby County has as fine herds as any county to be found in Texas, if they can be equalled anywhere. Crosby county farmers are beginning to feed the crops they raise and to ship them out in the form of live stock flesh. Five cars of fine hogs were shipped to California from Crosbyton last week. The California market on hogs at the present time offering much better prices than elsewhere. Pure bred hogs are far in the majority in Crosby county. N. E. Dupre, son of our townsman, M. M. Dupre, who has a hog farm a few miles south of the town of Crosbyton, has one of the finest herds of pure bred hogs to be found in this section of the state. Mr. S. A. Guy, well known throughout the State for having one of the finest and most expensive herds of imported Jersey cattle in the world, has a lot of fine hogs, as well as numerous other people of that immediate section.

Diversified farming is well under way in Crosby County and the reflection of diversification in the way of visible prosperity is enough to convince anyone that the South-Plains country, with the proper cultivation, combined with good live stock, is offering the finest opportunity to be found in any section. Crosby County is leading this section when it comes to diversification and Crosby County's prosperity is a direct result of encouragement of that kind of farming. Watch Crosby County!

S. H. Graham and wife, who have been married over forty years, entertained all their children and grand children in their home last Sunday. They all came out to worship the Lord and each one sang or gave a word of exhortation, and ate the Lord's Supper with their dear old father and mother once more. All the children are Christians but one. This fact reflects great credit to the training of this household of interesting children, who are named as follows: Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Jormain and children, of Gurdon, Arkansas; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. McCasland, of Graham, Texas; L. N. Graham and wife, of Winters, Texas; Homer Curry and family, Goldsboro, Texas; Paul Graham and family, Winters, Texas; John Stanfil and family, Lubbock, Texas; and Andrew Graham and family, Route 2, Lubbock. The joy produced by this reunion caused each face among them to look smiling and happy. All their friends rejoice with them and express congratulations to the father and mother, who are yet in the prime of life and very active in the duties of their home and farm. As a result of the enthusiasm I felt in witnessing this meeting, I wish to add these lines:

'Tis 40 years since the happy day,
When we were married, both young and gay;
We solemnly swore before God and men,
To cherish each other till life shall end.
Oh, gladly we toiled, and sang and prayed—
Our happy children about us played.
On Sunday we went to worship our Lord,
And sing His praise, and learn His word;
And many blessing so rich and rare
Have come to us here in this land so fair,
But our children have left us, yes
one by one,
Each making a home for the sweetheart they'd won;
Yet, we felt in giving, our loss was none,
For we gained two children and gave up one;
Their business has carried them far and wide
From the old home roof and their mother's side,
And God has given them children
fair,
Who to Grandma and Grandpa are very dear;
And now they return with their families once more—
In gladness we greet them with wide open door;
The joy that we feel is hard to express,
But we thank the Dear Jesus, our lives that are His.

Why Baggy Clothes are Expensive

Baggy clothes wear out more rapidly than those which are kept cleaned and pressed.

The explanation is simple. The constant stretching of the fabric thins it and weakens it at the baggy spot—the cloth reaches a point where it can't stand the strain.

And that means a new suit—which costs money.

The suits you send to the cleaner regularly do not bag. He keeps them pressed, the fibres close-knitted and strong. He keeps them clean—there are no tiny particles of grit to cut the threads and ruin the fabric.

The price of one new suit will dry-clean forty old ones.

Shall we get after those baggy spots for you? Telephone.

Rain Greatly Interfered With Lorenzo Barbecue

A slow drizzling rain began falling Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock and growing heavier later, lasted for nearly two hours and prevented many people from coming to the picnic here on the 20th. Many of the speakers and the orchestra from Plainview, could not come on account of the rain. The program was thusly broken into, only one speaker, Mrs. W. P. Fullingim being here. Judge Parrish of Crosbyton was here but left about noon. The program arranged by the committee follows:

10:00 in Tabernacle.
Master of Ceremonies—J. G. Levret.

Song—Junior Girls.
Welcome Address—Mrs. W. P. Fullingim.
Music—Plainview Orchestra.
Song—Junior Girls.
Masonic Lecture—G. W. Shearer.
12:15 Noon—Barbecue and basket dinner.
1:30 p. m. in Tabernacle.
Address—Hon. P. L. Parrish.
Music—Plainview Orchestra.
Address—R. A. Underwood.
Reading—Miss Wanona Laird.
Old Fiddlers' Contest.
4:00 p. m.—Ball game between Lorenzo and Floydada.

Everybody who had enough to eat—a majority of the barbecue was given away before dinner was spread, and at this time it seemed the best thing to do as the men had no place to protect the meat from the weather. Nearly 2,000 pounds of meat was barbecued and about 700 or 800 people were here.

Immediately after dinner Mrs. W. P. Fullingim delivered her address which was well received and in her pleasing manner and unique way welcomed the crowds of visitors to Lorenzo. Following this address, the Junior girls sang "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

Judge J. M. Mabe of Crosbyton, and "Little" Travis of Ralls, delivered speeches in the afternoon.

The old time fiddlers contest was another feature of the program that was greatly enjoyed by everyone.

The ball game between Floydada and Lorenzo resulted in a score of 8 to 2, in favor of the visiting team. —Lorenzo Enterprise.

Chamber of Commerce Items

"Out west where a man feels at home" is a phrase that is being added to the Chamber of Commerce slogans. There are several of these that are gradually gaining attention over the State as representing Lubbock and are being quoted as coming from Lubbock.

One of the northern Chamber of Commerce Journals this month carried the slogan, "Cities do not happen—they are built," that the Chamber of Commerce has been using and gave Lubbock credit for it.

The "Go West young man and grow up with the country" advice given years ago by the world known orator Horace Greeley, has been quoted at every Fourth of July Land Agents Barbecue since that time but the little Lubbock addition, "But pick your country" is being noticed all over this state. The one hundred automobile banners that declare to the world that Lubbock is the Hub of the Plains have already more than paid for themselves a dozen times in publicity.

Judge Bledsoe, of Abilene, was in the city this week and saw one of these banners in the Chamber of Commerce office. "You know," he said, "I saw one of those last Sunday morning beating it right down the middle of Jurez, across in Mexico from El Paso. The next one I saw was flagging it around the corner in the heart of San Antonio, and from there on I have seen one, it seems, at least every day somewhere on the road."

And that is the proper idea exactly. That is what they were bought for—just to call the attention of the world to the fact that Lubbock is the Hub of the Plains, and that we are not asleep. There is now being run a special run of 50,000 post cards for free distribution all over the United States. Any human that can write and buy a one cent stamp is welcome to come to the Chamber of Commerce office and write post cards all day if they want to. And if they can't afford the stamps, we will stamp and mail them. Fair enough, is it not?

The whole idea is to keep Lubbock before the world in a favorable light.

But—"Out West where a man feels at home"—What have you done in the past six weeks to make some stranger feel at home? There are more than a round hundred of them in the city every day. You have met 25 this morning and will meet as many more before you walk half across town. Have you ever cracked that superior crust of self satisfaction that surrounds you enough to beam forth an honest to goodness, from the bottom of your heart—"thank goodness, I am alive—howdy!" to a single one of them? If you have got one of the best feelings of sunshine and joy in living and a feeling way down deep in your boots that the world is a pretty good sort of a place after all. If you haven't, you are a fake and really don't belong in West Texas.

A Lubbock man who has been away three weeks on a tour across the country, said the best impression he had of a town since he left Lubbock was in Clovis, New Mexico, when one of the business men there stepped down off of the curb and asked him if there was anybody he wanted to find, any service in the city that he needed, or any directions pointed out for a camping site, road or anything of that kind. It didn't take that business man two minutes to do that thing—it left a lasting friend for the City of Clovis.

A family came all the way from Fort Worth two weeks ago to spend a month or more in Lubbock for the mother's health, (some day our summer population seeking health, climate and recreation will more than balance our winter population seeking schools and town work for the winter). It was a compliment to Lubbock that they picked our city. It was not a compliment to our city that they got homelick and started home at the end of the first week.

A combination of circumstances delayed them a few days, they met more Lubbock folks, got a little of the "at home" touch, and although they were called home on private business, they left as loyal Lubbock boosters with the avowed purpose of buying a home in this city and moving here just as soon as conditions will permit them getting loose in Ft. Worth.

Visitors come into the city for an hour, a day, or a week, or a month, and unless they happen to be a tag end relation of some of the upper-crust—we don't have time to meet them.

A tourist car should never stop on the streets of this city for longer than five minutes before some citizen should drop out and offer his services to that traveler in helping him find what he wants and directing him to the Chamber of Commerce for information about the roads out of the city, the tourist park, maps, literature, or what ever other services they may require. It pays.

"You can't sell goods to a beautiful country"—is the way the Crosbyton bunch express the need of this whole section for more folks. We have the beautiful country and the goods to deliver, what we need and want and are going to have is simply more folks, and the quicker a stranger feels at home the quicker he thinks of hanging up his hat and calling it home.

Just because we are threatened with prosperity we must not lose the personal touch. New York, Chicago, and possibly even, Dallas can afford to be a little hard-boiled and cold-blooded—but in spite of all our great confidence in the future for the present we are just a nice overgrown country town, and we will get a lot more out of living, if we try being 99 per cent human.

Saw "howdy" just like you mean it. Put a kick in your voice that will loft away that far-away stare in the stranger's eye—he's just thinking about back home. Throw a howdy in to him that will give him the same "at home" feeling right here and watch his face light up.

"Out West where a man feels at home"—How about it? It's up to you.

Explanation of Secretary Keen.
Secretary Keen, of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, turns the following clipping in as he explains it "howdy" to a single one of them.

"It has been said that I get a bit extravagant in the use of words when I start to talking about Lubbock. I just want you to look over this and see how wild some secretaries do get. I have never been able, with a clear conscience, to string more than six adjectives together in one descriptive sentence. I may hang a participle or slice an infinitive but I try to have some regard for the sanctity of family adjectives."

This article was written by the Glen Rose Secretary of Chamber of Commerce:

"Beautiful Glen Rose, the dipple in the cheek of Texas, over in Somerville County; wonderful Glen Rose, on the banks of the picturesque Paluxy, which winds and winds, like a silver snake, through the ever green shade of spreading trees, high bluffs and scenic hills; Glen Rose, close beside its clear, sparkling, pure, plentiful, peaceful, perennial waters. The bluffs and hills are covered with cedars, which perfume the air like unto the cedars on the sloping hills of ancient Lebanon. Glen Rose, the paradise of par-excellence, the real panacea for many of the ills to which humanity is heir. Our National Government in its geological survey of Texas, declares that the flowing wells of Glen Rose are the nearest approach to the famous waters of Carlsbad, Germany, of all other American waters. The great architect of the universe has shaped and fashioned the valley of the Paluxy at Glen Rose, as a place in which the sons of men and the daughters of Eve can find perpetual joy, a real Garden of Eden, where fruits, berries, grapes, melons, vegetables, and crops of every kind are raised in abundance, and excellent quality. A world wide traveler, journeying from Alaska to the South Sea Islands, from Japan to South America, and many other remote parts of the earth states that the waters of Glen Rose is unsurpassed in all the world. Come over to Glen Rose and spy out a spot for your home where the cool health-giving waters of hundreds of flowing wells will delay the shadows of your life."

And that man didn't care for Glen Rose in particular.

privileges of the other fellow to think and believes as he wants to think and believe, just as long as he makes a good citizen, pays his taxes, votes according to the dictates of his conscience and carries his end of the Civic problem to the best of his ability.

In order that the citizenship of the city may become acquainted with the form of certificate the Chamber of Commerce issues to all solicitors, subscription representatives, etc. who come to them for investigation, the certificate in question is copied below. Hold this in mind and read what the Chamber gives any man that comes to you with any proposition, saying that he has been investigated or endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce, then act in accordance with your individual judgment in the matter:

"Members of the Chamber of Commerce and Citizens of Lubbock:

The Investigating Committee of this organization have found that Mr. N. C. Easton and J. D. Gilmore are authorized representatives of the Central Labor Union and are working through the Carpenters' Union, Local No. 1884 of this place, and we recommend them to you for your individual consideration of their proposition upon it's merits.

"It is not the policy of this organization to endorse any such propositions, as an organization, but merely to investigate the credentials and determine that the representatives are bona fide representatives of the organizations that they work under."

Signed: Executive Secretary.

If you will consider no advertising scheme or solicitor, or promoter until they have established their representation before the Investigating Committee many thousands of dollars will be saved in Lubbock every year.

After the Chamber of Commerce certifies that as far as they can determine they are bona fide representatives of the organization they claim to represent, then you can go into their proposition and do with it just what you think it deserves. But it is not the fault of the Chamber of Commerce if they talk you into buying something that is not worth the money. The committee only vouches for the fact that they represent their organization and not that their proposition is good.

"Go West young man and grow up with the country," said Horace Greeley. But even Greeley never hid the pleasure of seeing the South Plains of Texas.

If a certain young fellow that lived in Lubbock County some twenty years ago could add a word to that statement he would say, "But don't trade your boots."

It was a bad year, such as come in every section of the world now and then and he wanted to see some more of the world. He owned two sections of land but there was little market for land then. He finally traded his two sections of land for a pair of fancy sewed, shop-made boots and all dressed up he left Lubbock County. That was a little less than twenty years ago.

Those two sections sold for fifty dollars an acre last year.

"Go West young man and grow up with the country—But don't trade your boots."

"A cow, a sow and a hen," yoked together would make a funny team but pulling together on a West Texas Farm spreads a grin of satisfaction over the farmer's face.

A farmer in this county made the remark this week that he believed that it should be against the law for any one farmer to own more than 160 acres. Not because it was wrong to own more but because every farmer that owned 160 or less was making money while the more a man had the less he made and the harder he worked.

Diversity spells dividends on your work, your farm investment and your time. It is paid in happiness, pros-

The Chamber of Commerce credential committee ran into a snag this past week in its report of two representatives of Union labor. A number of the Chamber of Commerce members whose views are strongly against Labor Unions mistook the report on credentials as being an endorsement by the Chamber of Commerce and the fat was in the fire.

It is not the policy of this organization to endorse any advertising, solicitation or similar activity brought to the town by outside parties other than to investigate their credentials and see that they are actually bona fide representatives of the organization they purport to be and such was the action taken in this case.

It is very important that whenever any such parties present their propositions to you that you read the Chamber of Commerce Certificate and do not be misled into the belief that the Chamber of Commerce is endorsing them. That is not the function of a Chamber of Commerce. They endorse the Red Cross, Civic movies, the School Board, Fair Association—broad constructive movements for the civic interests of the city as a whole, but they do not endorse political parties, religious denominations, take sides on labor questions, political issues and that sort of things for the simple reason that the organization is composed of pros, antis, union laborers, single taxes, Democrats, Republicans, Baptists, Methodists and every sort and kind of belief and faith in the world and every town that gets any where must be tolerant of the rights and perity, satisfaction and strong, healthy, well educated children.
