VOLUME XXII

LUBBOCK, LUBBOCK COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 4, 1921.

NUMBER 6.

FIFTY THOUSAND POST CARDS ARE TELLING ABOUT LUBBOCK COUNTY

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OFFERS THEM FREE TO ANYBODY WHO WILL MAIL THEM OUT

ROAD SIGNS FROM GALVESTON TO DENVER

People All Along the Highway Will be Reminded of Lubbock, The Hub of the Plains at Every Turn of the Road—More Street Signs Ordered.

The Fifty-Thousand Lubbock Post Cards are going at a rapid rate. It was thought when they were run that they would last six months at least. At the present rate they will be exhausted in six weeks.

There are nine different scenes on these cards showing farm scenes, fair scenes, and Lubbock city homes, a bird's-eye view of Lubbock from an aeroplane, and the State experimental farm. Each card carries a few Lubbock facts. All you have to do is stick on a stamp, scribble a note if you want to say anything to Cousin Sue or Uncle John, and stick it in the Postoffice.

The Postal clerks tell us that these are going to Arkansas, South Carolina, Missouri, Tennessee, Alabama, East, Central, South and North Texas—let them go! That is exactly what they were printed for and what they are being distributed free of charge for—to call the attention of the world that Lubbock is still here but not here still.

Lots of folks are sending in for post cards and we are glad to mail them out for you. Drop us a letter of just how many you can use and they will come out on the next mail.

The Chamber of Commerce will furnish the cards just as long as you will furnish the stamps—but don't waste them for they cost you money, even if they don't cost you anything.

Send them a Lubbock Card!

One hundred road signs were received by the Chamber of Commerce this week and already are being posted on roads all the way from Galveston to Denver. They arrived at 8 o'clock Monday morning and at one o'clock the same day two cars left one for Galveston and the other for Colorado Springs, with plenty of signs, to post a Lubbock sign every fifty miles on these highways. Lubbock citizens were making each of these trips and very gladly agreed to post the signs.

An additional hundred of the Red Arrow signs are being ordered and will be used to fill in the gaps between the main signs. Each sign advertises Lubbock the Free Auto Tourist's Park.

The street signs that have been ordered several weeks will be in within fifteen days, according to a letter from the manufacturers. The machine that drills the lettering on these signs has been out of repair and has tied up large orders being made for this city, El Paso, and other cities of this state.

As soon as the signs are received they will be placed on the streets under way on the Free City Delivery proposition and some day we will be a real city where folks live on streets and avenues, instead of "on the corner just across from the red windmill."

The requirements for Free City Mail Delivery include such items as, (1) All streets must be marked with permanent signs; (2) All houses must be numbered; (3) Sidewalks must cover the entire route with satisfactory street crossings; (4) Fifty per cent of the property on the route must be improved and occupied. These and other details must be worked out and proof submitted through an actual examination by a Postoffice Inspector.

All of these takes time and work. Lots of both, but before anything like action can be had on the proposition more street signs must be erected. If you have not ordered a sign for your block; get busy—$7.50!

CONTRACT HAS BEEN LET FOR COUNTY PARK DAM

The work on the County Park dam will commence in the near future, or as soon as the material can be secured. The dam will be eighty feet wide, eight feet high and sixteen feet long. The walls will be built of cement and braced with cross bars bolted to the walls. After this the center will be filled with dirt and a cement cover. The dam will be eight inches lower in the center so as to prevent the water from washing the dirt from the ends in case of flood.

After this work is done the county will build drive-ways through the park, set out trees, stock the lake with fish, and many other things for the benefit of the public. The contract was let to J. B. Pryor, and the order of material has been placed for the job.

PREMIUM LIST FOR SWINE DEPARTMENT NEXT WEEK

We have received the premium list for the Swine Department in the Panhandle-South Plains Fair this week, but too late for publication in this issue. It will appear in the issue of August 11th. Keep your eyes open for it. It is very complete, we believe, and should prove very interesting to swine breeders of the South Plains.

H. Lowrey, of the Southland community, spent last Friday in Lubbock, visiting and shopping.

Governor Neff Submits Five Subjects to Legislature

Austin, August 2.—The senatorial redistricting bill was agreed upon today by the senate redistricting committee and the bill was reported favorably as a substitute for the House bill.

The Senate recessed until 3 p. m. Governor Neff in a special message to the legislature, submitted the subject of the American Legion memorial hospital at Kerrville, for the purpose of amending the law creating the hospital so as to authorize the board of control to lease it to the Federal government. The matters were submitted at the request of American Legion members of the legislature.

Such a measure would save the state the expense of maintaining the institution for which $1,500,000 was appropriated in the bill creating the hospital. The Governor did not mention the cutting of the appropriation. However, submission of the subject will permit a reduction should the legislature desire.

In addition to the American Legion memorial hospital bill, Governor Neff submitted five other subjects. They were:

To make necessary appropriations for running the prison system the coming year.

To establish legal rate for publication of all legal documents.

To establish drainage districts and construct canals, drains and ditches where needed.

To change statute regarding method of acquiring and disposing of oil and gas in state school lands.

To amend state depository law.

Special Program Arranged for Tues. Band Concert

A special program is being arranged for the Tuesday evening Chamber of Commerce Band Concert from 7:30 to 9:00, on the Courthouse lawn and around the square. These have been growing in favor and attendance until the following special program is announced:

Bicycle Races—All boys in the city between the ages of 8 and 16 are eligible to enter these races in the following events and classifications:

1. Two blocks, paved street race for boys between the ages of 8 and 12; first winner, $1.00; second winner, two picture show tickets; third winner, one picture show ticket.
2. Twenty block race—Boys between 12 and 16; same prizes as first.
3. Relay Bicycle Race—To be composed of four boys to the team, each boy to ride two blocks—Winning team, prize gallon of ice cream; second team, half gallon of ice cream; third team, tickets to picture show.

Barrel Races—Four boys to a barrel, to race one block. Limited to four teams of four boys each; the barrels to be empty and to be rolled by hand. First team, $2.00; second team, half gallon of ice cream; third team, tickets to picture show.

All boys and teams that desire to get into the contests must register at the Chamber of Commerce office on Tuesday afternoon between 2 and 5.

Water Fights, Races, Sports—Four hose connections will be made by the Fire Department from the City mains with reduced pressure so as not to hurt the boys, and with all four streams flowing anywhere and on anybody at any time, races will be run to include bicycle, foot and barrel races. Boys will choose up into four groups and each group will be given one hose and a grand water fight will conclude the program.

Bathing suits, old clothes, overalls, and what-nots will be worn. During the entire program of races and band concert the Clover Leaf creamery will hold an informal opening of their plant on Eleventh street, and will serve ice cream to all who visit their plant between the hours of six and ten. In order to expedite matters, it is requested that all children accompany their parents if they want to be served.

Everyone is invited to take part in the evening's program.

WAYNE GREEN DIED IN LOCAL SANITARIUM YESTERDAY

Wayne Green, aged 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Green, died yesterday in a local sanitarium following an operation.

We understand that the boy had been operated on several days ago and was getting along nicely, when yesterday while his mother was in the sanitarium visiting him, he took dangerously ill and died almost instantly. It was reported that the poison from excessive smoking led to the young man's death. The deceased is survived by a mother and father, a sister, Mrs. G. Bealey, of Fort Worth, and two brothers, J. O. Green of Snyder, and Wint Green, of this city.

REVIVAL MEETING BEGINS AT CANYON SUNDAY MORNING

Rev. Tom W. Brabham, requests us to announce that the revival meeting under the auspices of the Methodist church, will begin at Canyon Schoolhouse Sunday morning, August 8, and everybody is extended a cordial invitation to attend the services as often as possible.

J. D. Fuller, of Hale county, was in Lubbock Wednesday of this week attending to business matters.

May Place $10 Tax on Every Automobile

Washington, August 1.—A tax of two cents on bank checks, a flat license tax of $10 on automobiles, irrespective of cost or horsepower, an increase in first class postage rates to three cents and an added levy on cigars, tobacco, and cigarettes are understood to have been among tax suggestions presented today by Secretary Mellon to the House ways and means committee, meeting in executive session. Other suggestions were said to have included:

A reduction of 50 per cent in transportation charges, both passenger and freight, next year, and their elimination the year following.

Repeal of the taxes on soda fountain drinks and ice cream.

Repeal of the excess profits tax and elimination of the $2,000 exemption on corporations' incomes.

Increase of the normal income tax on corporations from the present 10 per cent to 15 per cent.

Elimination of the income surtax brackets above 40 per cent with the surtax rates on incomes ranging from $6,000 to $50,000 increased.

The revenue bill as revised in accordance with these suggestions would be designed to raise approximately four billions of dollars next year, it was said.

Mr. Mellon's memorandum embodying his views was with-held, but Chairman Fordney promised to make it public tomorrow.

Representative Garner of Texas, the ranking Democratic member of the committee, attacked the treasury secretary's proposals, declaring that every one of them constituted a shifting of the tax burden from the classes to the masses.

Mr. Mellon was said to have estimated government expenditures for next year at $4,675,000,000, but Chairman Fordney said this was depending on how much of the $500,000,000 due to the railroads would have to be advanced out of the federal treasury, the cost of operation of the government merchant fleet, and the size of expenditures for the army and navy.

Revival Meeting Continues at Tent Till Sunday

The meeting under the big tent on Broadway is progressing in a fine way. The attendance and interest has been good from the first day. Evangelist Edwards is bringing to the large crowds from day to day some really great messages. Quite a few are saying that Edwards is the greatest preacher they have ever heard.

Mr. Pollock, as a singer, is also meeting with large success. There have been several additions up to date, and there will be quite a few more before we close. The services will close under the tent Sunday night. On Monday night we will come back to the church building for a social meeting and a reception to all new members.

A. N. JULIEN, Minister.

Weather the Past Week Has Been Varied in County

The weather the past week has been varied in this county. Hot, sultry weather has been the predominant condition, with cloudy afternoons. Showers have scattered about all over the county. Some places very heavy rains fell. Some places destructive hail hit and completely ruined the crops and destroyed all growing vegetation. About a quarter of an inch fell in Lubbock city. East at the experimental farm .57 of an inch was reported, further east and over toward Dalou the fall was heavier with streaks of hail which damaged crops considerably in places.

This cloud swung around east of Lubbock, through Posey, south around in Woodward community, and spots of hail was reported throughout the South part of the county. As a rule the rain has been very beneficial, while in some places as stated above the destruction by the hail was complete, and no crops were left standing, which will result in heavy losses to some of the farmers. None of them that we have heard of carried a dollar's worth of insurance, which falls a total loss to them. Out Shallowater way we understand plenty rain has fallen and crop conditions good.

TO GROUP WEST TEXAS BOOTHS AT STATE FAIR

Assurance has been received from the Texas State Fair management that a special effort will be made to group the Panhandle and Southwestern counties at the coming fair in order that this section may be most effectively represented.

Through the efforts of Col. R. P. Smythe of Plainview, and the Lubbock secretary this arrangement has been effected and all Panhandle are planning to take advantage of the arrangement.

Mr. C. B. Blakely, of Monument, New Mexico, is in a Lubbock sanitarium rapidly recovering from a serious illness and a surgical operation, which he underwent a week ago.

A NUMBER OF INTERESTED CITIZENS WERE PRESENT TO DISCUSS MATTERS PERTAINING TO GROUNDS, ETC.

Land Will Be Purchased and Improved But Definite Location Has Not Been Decided Upon But Will Select the Place at Another Meeting This Week.

Reports Indicate Business Conditions Improved

Reports from sources which are considered reliable indicate that there is a general revival of business throughout the state. They show a feeling of confidence on the part of the people from the farms to the factories. They show crop conditions to be good, live stock to be in excellent shape, and harvests satisfactory. Industrial plants are increasing their forces, closed mills are reopening, and trade is picking up. West Texas has generally had a good crop season and plans are being made by the farmers in this section for intensive efforts the coming season. East Texas is more confident and the farming and lumber industries in that region are looking forward to resumption of good business in a short time, the conditions having shown improvement for several weeks.

Summer sales by the merchants have stimulated activities in retail sales. Numbers of merchants are now in the markets purchasing their fall stock of goods.

High priced merchandise that was in the stores has been reduced to a minimum, and merchants anticipating a heavy fall business are buying stocks of goods, believing that this fall's business will reach a normal base.

The prospects of the cotton crop is about 50 per cent normal, the poor condition being due mainly to a cut in acreage and the presence of the boll weevil in unusual numbers in sections of the state.

A large yield of truck crops has been beneficial to business in many places. The largest acreage of corn ever planted in the history of the state promises a heavy production.

Climatic conditions generally have been favorable to growing crops. Wheat harvest in the South Plains is rapidly drawing to a close. Practically all of the shocked wheat has been threshed and the separators are now working on the stacked wheat in some parts of the territory.

The average yield throughout this section is about twelve bushels.

E. J. WILSON DIED AT BRAZORIA AUGUST 2, AT BRAZORIA

E. J. Wilson, aged 76, a retired lawyer, and father of Roscoe Wilson, one of Lubbock's most prominent lawyers, died at his home in Brazoria, Texas, Tuesday, August 2nd.

Mr. Wilson had been in failing health for several months, there being very little hope held for his recovery, by members of the family. He was in Lubbock some two months ago visiting for the benefit of his health, but received very little benefit.

The deceased is survived by four children, three sons of which are all lawyers, Louis J. Wilson, of Angleton; W. D. Wilson, of Bayessa, and Roscoe Wilson, of this city; Mrs. McGreggor, of El Paso, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson were attending the bedside at the time of his death.

HOUSE ON BETTERTON ROW BADLY BURNED LAST NIGHT

A house owned by Will McCrummen, and occupied by Melvin Walker and Joe Williams, was badly burned early last night, the origin of the fire being unknown.

The fire started in the kitchen on the side occupied by Mr. Walker, but there had been no fire in the house since noon, and all the occupants being at church, the house was in flames before the fire alarm was turned in.

Mr. Walker had some insurance on his furniture, and the house was partially insured.

BOY IS BADLY CUT WHEN HORSE RUNS THRU FENCE

Guy Johnson received a severe cut on the lower part of his left leg when a horse he was riding home from church Sunday night became frightened at an automobile and ran into the fence. He was rushed to a local sanitarium, and after a long and very complicated operation the wound was dressed and he is getting along nicely. The leg was cut to the bone all way round with the exception of about two inches. Mr. Johnson says he does not suffer from the wound but is forced to lay very still and in one position on account of the soreness.

A. J. Crump, of Pampa, Texas, was in Lubbock Wednesday of this week prospecting and looking the country over in general. Mr. Crump says he is very well pleased with this part of the country and is planning to move here this fall.

The progressive spirit of Lubbock citizens, when time comes to act, was again displayed Wednesday afternoon when thirty-five of the good-fellows of the town met at the Justice court room and took preliminary steps toward securing a full grown country club for Lubbock.

It is planned to organize a country club, incorporated under the State laws with $25,000 capital stock, and to purchase and improve a tract of land between 120 and 200 acres, with fishing lake, golf course, club house, tennis courts, lawns, trees and drive-ways. The membership will be limited to 100 invited members. More than 60 of that number have already been secured and it is expected that definite action will be taken before the end of the week to close for the proper tract of land.

The present golf and gun club organized in the early spring, was upon a temporary basis to see if the golf idea would take in this section. With membership at only $10, the experiment did not cost anyone enough to hurt and has thoroughly shown the need for some such recreational center for this city. The lease on the present golf course terminates in February. It is expected that the country club course will be in shape by that time.

Kid Powell is temporary president, Curtis A. Keen, temporary secretary, and other members prominent in the organization of the club are Walter Posey, C. E. Hunt, Charles Adams, R. H. Martin, Geo. W. Briggs, and many others.

Rev. J. B. Cole Writes of His Long Automobile Trip

Rev. J. B. Cole, who has recently returned home from a visit to El Paso and other points in the extreme western portion of the state, has the following to say about it in the latest issue of the Crosbyton Review:

"Long auto trips have become common, we do not think of them more seriously than we once thought of a horseback ride to our next county site. But a drive of 500 miles and back is really interesting to those who take it, at least. On such a trip we passed through Lubbock, Tahoka, Lamesa, Big Spring, Stanton, Midland, Odessa, Barstow, Pecos, Van Horn, Sierra Blanca and Yaletta, the old county site of El Paso county, and on to El Paso. We touched three or four other counties but did not pass through their county towns. From Lamesa to El Paso the country is sparsely settled and little farming is attempted. Pecos River Valley has considerable irrigation, as has the Rio Grande Valley. But for the most part this vast country is a stock raising country. It has been greatly favored this season by rains and has many grass and shrubbery than for many years past. The cattle, horses, sheep and goats are in fine condition. Of course we saw no county so favored by good crops as is Crosby county and no place so homelike. The roads generally were good with just enough rough places to cause us to enjoy the long stretches of fine road. We heard little talk of hard times or big oil deals. The people seemed to be getting down to business and old time living. We passed through the famous Davis Mountains, and feasted our eyes once more on their sublime grandeur, strength and beauty. Few of even our Texas people know that these are by far the highest mountains in all our Southland, some of their peaks rising to more than nine thousand feet above sea level. In their caves and canyons there is to be found considerable timber as well as small shrubbery and grasses of many varieties. Many thousands of cattle graze upon these vast hills and much game is still there, such as bear, deer, wild sheep, wolves and panthers and many smaller animals and birds. There is much talk of prevailing on the Federal government to establish a great Southern Park in these mountains as well as a national pleasure resort. El Paso is the gem city of all the West. Texas country and is rapidly growing to be a real city. It is a center for cattle men, a smelting place for southwestern mines, a central depot for building materials, a general clearing house for vast sections of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, and our only border city to Mexico."

BIBLE STUDY SUCCESS IN HEREFORD PUBLIC SCHOOL

Hereford, Texas.—Bible study improves discipline in the public schools, declares the superintendent, after trying it for three years here. He further states that he would never superintend a school again where he could not get a bible into it.

Banker Begins Work.
G. A. F. Parker, president of the Western National Bank of Hereford, a ranch town of 2,000, succeeded in getting a Bible course started in 1917 and paid the salary of a teacher from the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. After he had supported the work for a year, the churches saw it was a "go" and asked that they be permitted to take care of the expenses, which they are doing now. Course Provided in Grammar School.

In the high school the Bible study is elective, but in the grammar school all students are required to take it. There are two forty-five minute periods a week for Bible study, in the high school and of a total attendance of about 250, 65 have enrolled in these classes. The pupils are given examinations on the Bible every two months, as they are examined in other subjects.

Two Classes Weekly.
In the grammar school there are two twenty-minute Bible classes a week. The classes are made just as interesting as possible, everything being told in story form. The children are taught the books of the Bible by divisions, memorize four or five Psalms in a year, and a great many verses, with their locations. They are given an outline on the way of salvation, memorizing the verses that go with each step. They are encouraged to study at home, and those who cannot read are told to ask their parents to read to them and to locate memory verses—a method of getting the parents interested also in reading the Bible. The children often say, "I wish we had a Bible study every day."

Sunday School Teachers Have To Prepare.

This Bible work is highly recommended by the parents, and Sunday school teachers say they have to give more time to preparation to be able to teach the children, who already know so much of the Bible. The teachers are hardly able to ask a question that the pupils cannot answer. The superintendent of schools says he noticed a difference in the discipline of the schools since the children began to study the Bible, and that he "would never superintend a school again where he could not get the Bible into it."

JOHN ASHER IS GIVEN FIVE YEARS IN PENITENTIARY

John Asher, former Amarillo policeman, was given five years in the penitentiary for the killing of L. Welch at Claude last April. The case was given to the jury last Saturday night about 11 o'clock and the verdict was returned Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The trial of the case began Thursday afternoon when the first evidence was introduced.

MONROE NEWS ITEMS OF THE PAST WEEK

Farmers are very well up with their work, except a lot of weeds, which proves we have very rich soil. Hayden Warren's thresher did work for Mrs. T. H. Cox, Champ Stephenson, Rufus Bundy and Mr. Hoddack last week.

Grandfather Ditto and wife, left last Tuesday to visit another one of their sons, after visiting at the home of Ben Ditto, of this community.

Our meeting began Sunday morning with a housefull and Rev. J. T. Smith preached a great sermon. We have services at 8:30 o'clock each evening. The singing is being led by Mr. C. H. Carr, who has a fine voice and correct interpretation, and everyone enjoys the entire service.

Quite a number of people from Lubbock, attended church here last Sunday. Among the number was Mr. Payne and family, Mr. Stanfil and family, Mr. Darby and wife, Mr. Adams and family, Mr. L. H. Hooker and two sons, and many others whose names I failed to remember; also Messrs. Samuel and Robert Poyner, of Millsap, Texas.

Hurrah for Monroe! Did you know our singers won the banner at the singing contest at the Courthouse last Sunday? The Singing Convention will meet with us next time and we hope to entertain visitors from all the communities.

I cannot name all those who attended the Singing Convention from here—space forbids—but I will say a large crowd from Monroe were present, and all report a pleasant day.

Our meeting continues with interest and each sermon is a grand lesson from the Bible, which is presented in a pleasing and forceful manner. Come out and enjoy this feast of gospel truths with us.

We are enjoying the discussion in the Avalanche between "A Reader of the Avalanche" and Mr. Dow, on the subject of a woman wearing overalls. Mr. Dow has said just what I wanted him to say to her, and some of her arguments are pretty strong. Let all the reporters from different communities say which side they are on—for overalls or not—and we can vote the overalls in or out. Please put me on the negative. I am a farmer woman, paint houses, make wire fences and milk the cows, but I do not wear overalls.

WELLINGTON MAN KNOCKED DOWN WITH MALLET SAT.

While standing on the street of Wellington Saturday, Otto Burger, of that city, was hit on the head with a croquet mallet and knocked unconscious. Burger was carried to the City Drug Store of that place by friends and waited on by two doctors. It was thought for a while that he would not live, but he regained consciousness in a few hours and asked who hit him. E. E. Jones was taken to the jail.

The trouble seems to have occurred over Jones firing a gun near Mrs. Burger the evening before and Burger reporting the affair to the officers. Jones was under the influence of booze the evening he shot the gun, it was said.

There is much excitement over the affair. Mr. Burger is a very peaceful and law abiding citizen and has scores of friends.

Texas citizens to the number of 176,547 made personal income tax returns for the calendar year of 1919, as shown by figures from the Internal Revenue Bureau, returning net income to the total of $643,172,301, which was 3.18 per cent of the total incomes returned to the Government, and they paid in tax $32,302,280, or 2.45 per cent of the total tax paid. But 3.79 per cent of the State's total population filed returns, and the average net income reported by them was $3,643.07, for each person reporting. The average per capita amount of income tax paid by Texas was $182.96.

Residents of Oklahoma to the number of 61,500 made returns for that year, returning a net income of $242,184,301, which was 1.22 per cent of the total returned, and they paid in tax $12,207,129, less than 1 per cent of the total tax paid the government. Three per cent of the total population made returns and the average net income was $3,937.96.

For the entire country the number of persons making returns for the calendar year of 1919 was 5,332,760, and the total amount of income reported was $19,859,491,448. The average income per return was $3,724.05. There were filed sixty-five returns, showing net incomes of $1,000,000 and over. The largest number of returns was 1,924,872, filed by persons with incomes from $1,000 to $2,000.

Chamber of Commerce Items

The question is very properly asked from time to time of the Secretary and Directors of the Chamber of Commerce as to just what they "have on" for the future. The problems presented to an active Chamber of Commerce in a city making the progress that Lubbock is now making, are many and just as varied as they are numerous. For example, during one day this week there was 34 visitors at the Chamber of Commerce office, one committee meeting, thirteen letters, five telegrams, two long distance calls and two tickets registered—all in addition to the regular work of the office. And it wasn't such a busy day at that.

But among some of the major problems under discussion and investigation there are three or four whose solution will require the best efforts of the strongest business men of the city, plus co-operation from the citizenship of the town and county and a considerable element of time and natural development along with the other requirements. It is hardly possible to list these according to relative importance for they are so entirely different in scope but all seemingly necessary for the best interests of the city.

A cotton warehouse is one of these problems. The waste each year that results from the present method of handling and marketing would well pay for a cotton warehouse but to get the right bunch together in the right form of organization, method of financing, operating and handling such a proposition is quite some problem. The size, type, cost and method of operating such a plant must be studied not only from government bulletins, but from a wide territory where these warehouses have been in operation. Twenty letters were received on that one subject the past week—in an effort to get dependable information in hand for the consideration of that one problem.

The matter is referred to a committee of three men, especially interested in such a proposition and best qualified to go into the matter. The Secretary provides the information through correspondence with other secretaries, warehouse managers and other business men connected with similar plants. This committee studies all these reports and from them and their own judgment in the matter make their report to the directors. They are either instructed to take steps to put the recommendation into execution—or if it is decided impractical for any reason at that particular time the problem is tabled for future investigation—for everything that comes up could not possibly be done and leave any time for anybody in town to do anything else but work for the Chamber of Commerce.

A Sweet Potato Curing Plant is of almost as much importance to the county. As high as 200 bushels of sweet potatoes are easily produced on SECURITY STATE BANK AND TRUST CO.

"Wants to help those who try"

Lubbock County soil according to verified reports from many sections of the county. These potatoes, in the green state, as they call potatoes just dug, are worth around 50 cents at harvest time. Unless they are cured they are worth considerable less about six weeks later because they cannot be stacked or bedded in any considerable quantity, without rotting. Consequently, there is a comparatively small acreage planted to sweet potatoes.

By curing these potatoes in a regular plant upon a commercial basis it is possible to market them at from $1.25 to $1.75 per bushel throughout the entire year with a curing cost of approximately 25 cents per bushel. The development of that industry would bring many thousands of dollars into this county and make the individual farmers even more independent of cotton as a money crop year after year.

It takes time and effort and money and management to organize such an industry, secure the capital, management, and co-operation of the farmers to plant the necessary acreage. That work again is done by committees, working without pay, and with time taken from their regular business. Of course the Secretary secures the information through correspondence and all that, but it takes time and effort to put over these things.

A practical zoning system should be established in this city while it is still small and before such a system would be of such an expense to the city. It is estimated that the recent zoning system decided upon by the city of Dallas will cost them $60,000,000 before it is completely finished. Amarillo is working upon a zoning ordinance that will cost them more than $100,000 to put into effect. Lubbock expects to grow into a sizable city and it is only common sense to realize that a fair, efficient and effective Zoning System should be worked out and the city built according to that plan from this very day.

Just another problem looking toward the future of the city that will take not only time and effort but considerable exercise of brains, tact and unselfish ability. Incidentally it is hard to put over such a proposition without a lot of criticism, hard feeling and similar flarebacks and make the life of some of the disgruntled brethren. Problems such as these are not even presented to the full board of Directors until dependable information, reports and recommendations are secured from cities who have had experience along this line—for it is something that not one man out of ten thousand knows anything about, off-hand.

Traffic Problems—Why does Lubbock have to pay from $16 to $65 more for a car load of beds, for instance, shipped here from Kansas City, than Sweetwater would have to pay for the same car shipped thru Lubbock and unloaded there? A hundred such instances can be cited where we are doing that very thing. It is cheaper to ship a car load of supplies through Lubbock to Snyder, Sweetwater, Big Spring etc., from out of the state and then local them back to Lubbock, than it is to ship them direct to Lubbock and unload them.

It is the common freight point or different freight rate form of insanity existing in our railroad tariffs, books—and that is a problem that if a single man in this city was really familiar with, he could get a dozen jobs in a week from $7,000 to $12,000 a year and not have to work half as hard as he is now working. But still such problems must be solved if the city is to continue to grow and develop and receive her just deserts. It takes time, brains and hard work—we have lots of the first but it is somewhat hard to find the last two. A City Auditorium large enough to seat a good sized Sunday School class at least, is needed in this city almost as badly as anything that can be named in a solid week of naming the needs of such a growing city. There is only one building in town large enough to start to hold even a reasonably sizable audience and what is a 1500 capacity house in a 5,000 or 6,000 population town?

Such a building could be used for band concerts, public speaking, Chautauques, school programs, summer meetings for the churches, American Legion plays, mass meetings, community programs, singing conventions, political speaking—just about a million needs each year are felt for just such a building. It would cost less than $2 per head for every human living in the city and would save almost that much every year in tent rentals, erecting temporary seats, theatre hire, inconvenience, and such.

Such a building, open to every legitimate organization for conventions and meeting places would indeed make Lubbock the Hub and Center of the entire South Plains and the There is not a real convention hall in the Panhandle, with the exception of the show barn at Hereford, at this time.

To vote bonds to build a permanent building at this time would be foolish for the simple reason that the city is growing too rapidly to be able to estimate just what capacity house we must need. To build for the present needs would be to handicap ourselves for the future. To build for the future upon a basis of the present indications, would bankrupt us at this time, and there you are.

A 3,000 capacity tabernacle, with swinging sidewalks, elevated floors, wide stage, with dressing rooms underneath, plenty of light, could be built at a cost that is comparatively nothing when set besides its uses and needs and with a half dozen large heaters and sheetmetal jackets it could be comfortably heated in the winter and a meeting place for every large gathering in this entire section.

But it takes time and effort and money and management, and a lot of other things to put over such a proposition. The Red Cross, the Chamber of Commerce, the Swimming Pool, the Golf Club, the Church, this club, that lodge, and the other things—they all take time and effort and money until it seems that a real citizen has little time left to attend to his own business—but that is all because the same dozen have to carry the whole load in the Red Cross, the Churches, the Lodges, the Clubs and everywhere else—while a flock of able-bodied huskies with a mind active enough when it comes to thinking up excuses for not doing anything or picking flaws in the things that are done, sit around on the side lines and howl because the world is not being run to suit just their particular style or fancy.

If through some wish or supernatural power it were possible to convert all the energy spent in this, or in any other average city of its size in the world, in criticizing and grouching and causing the officials, the taxes, the Deacons, the Directors, the Secretary, into efficient, useful work it would not be possible to recognize the old town after thirty days of such pulling together.

Old Ina Ginit foreclosed on a block of city property in the year One, built him a two-room shack on the back corner of it and waited for the progressive citizenship of the city to build around it and make it worth something. He's paid school taxes, street taxes, park taxes, sewer taxes, and every other form of progress. He won't sell his property to any man that wants to improve it because he knows the town is growing in spite of him and that his property will be worth more later. He hasn't cut the weeds on his block since he has had it, and won't until the city sticks a few of them and makes him.

But the very day the progressive citizenship starts something constructive, old Brother Ina Ginit comes alive and of all the howling and kicking and snorting and suggesting that he sets up. You wonder how he has been able to keep it all inside of his old hide so long. And it just takes three times as long to put the thing over as it would if they had of buried the old hound ten years ago when he died, civically speaking.

These are just a few of the problems of the Chamber of Commerce. It is impossible to list them all—for before the paper could be published there would be as many more. Every day is something new and vital and it looks like it simply must be done right now—but there is a limit to what the first hundred can do—and even a more definite limit to what the next hundred will do—so where are you?

Come around to the Chamber of Commerce meetings now and then, and see what is going on—each second and fourth Tuesday morning at 8:00 o'clock sharp. Drop in the Secretary's office now and then—but have a heart—don't kill the whole morning. His time costs you something, whether it is worth it or not.

Report new-comers into the city—their names and where they live. Hunt up new folks to come into the city. Write letters, send post cards furnished by the Chamber of Commerce—get down in under the town and help pull it over. Fundamentally the prospect for the future of Lubbock is better than any single town or section in the whole world. The proper conditions are obtained here.

The surrounding trade territory is sound, the people are progressive, the room for development is here, the transportation facilities are adequate—every fundamental asset upon which solid growth and development depends is to be found in the Lubbock section and our future depends only upon the capacity of our citizenship to work together for the future possibilities of the town and section. But "Towns do not Happen—They are Built."

"I am in good health for the first time in thirty years and I give Tanlac the entire credit," said Professor C. J. Budlong, well-known and highly respected citizen of Manchester, N. H., living at 42 School street.
"From the time I was a boy I couldn't sit down and eat a meal without being in misery afterwards from indigestion. During all these years I was afflicted with rheumatism, too. It was all over my body, but especially bad in my feet and legs and at times I couldn't get from my bed to my chair without help. I was almost a nervous wreck from all these years of suffering and could not half do my work. I hoped for nothing more than temporary benefit from Tanlac, as I believed it impossible for any medicine to give me entire relief, but this is exactly what Tanlac has done.
"For the first time since I can remember I eat anything I want and digest it without trouble. I haven't an ache or pain and I have put on eighteen pounds in weight. I just feel good all over and enjoy life as I never did before. Having put Tanlac to the test I do not hesitate to say that it is the greatest medicine of the age for stomach trouble and rheumatism."
Tanlac is sold in all leading drug stores.

AVALANCHE FAIR SPECIAL INTERESTS CROSBY FOLKS

Quite an interesting little meeting of the Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce was held in the Courthouse Monday night to meet with Messrs. J. A. Rix, president, Curtis A. Keen, secretary, of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, and J. E. Griffith, a representative of the Lubbock Avalanche. The object of the meeting was to discuss a large trade edition of the Lubbock Avalanche that is to appear in September. The edition is to be 10,000 copies of 100 pages each, setting forth the many advantages of Lubbock and the adjoining counties, each being invited to take space in same.
The proposition looked good to our people, there not being a dissenting voice against it, and it was agreed that Crosbyton take a full section of eight pages. Advertising is the life of any community or business and our people are to be complimented upon their good judgment. The Avalanche is already one of the best country papers published, and we feel sure that this particular edition will be a success, as Messrs. Dow and Griffith of this excellent paper are wide-awake and never go to sleep on a proposition they promote.—Crosbyton Review.

Little Mable Andrews, 13 year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, living five miles northeast of town, died at her home Friday afternoon at 2:30, having been a patient sufferer for more than a year. The family has only been in our midst for a short time. They moved here from Erath County, and many of their old friends were with them during their sorrow. The remains were laid to rest in the Idalou Cemetery Saturday at eleven o'clock. The funeral services were conducted by their pastor of the Methodist church. A large contribution of flowers from old friends and school-mates were offered as the last tribute of love. The community extends their deepest sympathy to the family in their deep sorrow.

The citizens of Idalou met Friday afternoon and discussed the subject of locating a park in our midst. The plan was largely due to B. N. Wheeler, county commissioner, and very much interested in our having a park. Another meeting will be held in the near future and further arrangements will be made.

The little infant son of Paul Hufschneider was laid to rest in the Lubbock Cemetery Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. Many friends and relatives from Idalou, were present at the funeral.

A VERY GOOD SHOW.

I commenting on the merits of the Omar Dee Big Fun Show, which will play a week's engagement in Lubbock under canvas, starting next Monday night, one of our East Texas Exchange says:

"The Omar Dee Big Fun Show, which has been holding forth in this city this week, and will until Saturday, has attracted a great deal of patronage, and people speak highly of the entertainment offered. The manager states that it is better and easier to make people laugh than to cry, and his experiences has been that the man who laughs is not one to complain that his wife isn't a good cook and that he has indigestion. The performance was good, and seemed to suit the spectators down to the ground. The tent facilities are ample, and the care that spectators get their money's worth was evident. The staff of performers was made up of people noticeably above the usual run of traveling shows, on which the management is to be congratulated."

The Omar Dee Show comes here under the auspices of Allen Brothers Post, American Legion. Liberal attendance at the show will swell the treasury funds of the local post.

LEADER SENDS THREE BUYERS TO MARKET

H. E. Wheelock, Miss Della Easter, and Mrs. Barnes, all of the Leader Dry Goods Store, left Tuesday morning for St. Louis, Chicago, and other eastern markets, and will probably be there a month or six weeks.

Mr. Wheelock will buy the general merchandise, Miss Easter the ladies ready-to-wear, and Mrs. Barnes the millinery for this large store. Mr. Wolfarth says there is no definite time for their arrival home, but some of the fall and winter goods will begin to arrive in the next week or ten days. He also says they will use every precaution to buy the very best merchandise at the lowest price.

The Origin and Progress in the Development of the Building and Loan Association is an Interesting Story

Joe Hess, who has made a study of building and loan associations for the past 23 years, tells us of the origination, its relation to the banks, and the attitude most of the banks have toward it.

The first building and loan company was organized in Frankfort,

Penn., in the year 1831. The organization was known as the Oxford Provident Association of Frankfort. The organization was run on a peculiar plan at that time, but our building and loan companies of today is based on the same principle. The way it was carried out at that time, for instance, the association would start with one hundred members, paying in at the rate of ten dollars a month. This would be a total of one thousand dollars in the treasury monthly, which at that time no doubt would build a splendid home. The way it was determined which man would build out of the hundred members, they were required to draw a number which was dropped into a box, and the man holding the lucky number was next to build. But when all of the homes were built they were through, while today there is no stopping place and the organization may grow for years to come.

The oldest perpetual association was organized in 1861 and is still in existence. We mean by perpetual, the same as the organizations of today.

Oklahoma is one of the youngest states in the Union, and has taken advantage of this kind of an association, probably more than any of the other states, and by so doing have built one of the finest little cities in the country—Oklahoma City. At present the Oklahoma Association has more than 46,343 members with total assets of more than $28,500,423.00.

Had Texas started in the Building and Loan that early, it would have been one of the leading states, and some of the small towns would have been cities. As it stands today there are only three states in the Union that have less investments in Buildings and Loans than Texas. However, it was not until 1913 that the State of Texas had a law that would protect the investors.

Mr. Hess was the organizer of the Oklahoma City Building and Loan Association, which was organized in 1898, and today the same organization has a membership of more than 4088, and assets of more than $6,260,800.74. In 1910, Mr. Hess organized another association in Oklahoma City, known as the Local Building and Loan Association, and today the assets of this association is more than $7,541,490.82. These are some examples that the Secretary of the Lubbock Building and Loan Association have set, and if Oklahoma City can go over that big, Lubbock can go just as far if not further. Our local association has only been organized three months, and there have been two loans made and before the fourth month rolls around there will be three

Call Address "Edison, New York"
From the Laboratory of
Thomas A. Edison,
Orange, N.J.
May 31st, 1921.

Read this Letter

It is a reproduction of Mr. Edison's Letter to Rachmaninoff, the famous Russian composer, pianist.

Will any talking-machine company dare to let Rachmaninoff record his "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" and other famous compositions, which he has recorded for Edison? We fear that no talking-machine manufacturer will permit this deadly parallel. However, you do not have to wait. Rachmaninoff has recorded other selections for talking-machines. You can draw your own parallels.

Sergei Rachmaninoff, Esq.,
22 East 95th Street,
New York City.

My dear Mr. Rachmaninoff:

Under a contract between yourself and Thomas A. Edison, Inc., dated the 24th of April, 1919, it is provided, in effect, that the royalties payable to you on various selections, which you have recorded for us, shall continue, only so long as you do not make phonographic recordings of such selections for anyone else.

I shall be very glad to give you permission to record these selections for others, without the loss of royalties under the aforesaid agreement. This will give you the opportunity to record your "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" and other important works, which you have already recorded for us.

Yours very truly,

Thomas A. Edison

Hear Rachmaninoff on the New Edison

Come to our store and hear Rachmaninoff exactly as he plays; then listen to him as he sounds on a talking-machine.

The New Edison is not a talking-machine. It is so much different from all talking-machines that Mr. Edison has offered $10,000 in prizes for phrases, which will best emphasize this difference. Ask for folder giving full particulars.

loans made—and this organization is going to help Lubbock build more home than any other one thing.

The Building and Loan companies are one of the largest assets to a bank that they have. Still some of the banks will stand back and knock them, thinking they are getting beat out of a big per cent of deposits. This may be true, but all of the money that goes into the Building and Loan is handled through banks. Banks are organized for the purpose of doing business for a profit, and the profit to be distributed not to the large number who contribute to the business, but to the exclusive few. The promotion of banks and their purpose and policy is primarily not to produce wealth but to acquire and possess part of the wealth produced by others. The banker is required to pluck a feather from every bird that flies over his head. On the other hand, the Building and Loan promoter must be prompted by altruistic spirit of service. He can expect little for present labor, and he cannot look forward as a reward for his work to share in the immense value of the stock of the institution he must spend much of his life building up.

Mr. Hess says: "I do not want you to get the impression that I am knocking the banking profession in any respect, for I know and appreciate the fact that bankers stand closer to the people and have their confidence in a higher degree than any other profession. So long as society is organized as it is, the banker will be a powerful factor in the world's work. My criticism is that too many bankers are money grubbers and seem to be too much obsessed by the sordid view of the late Russell Sage, of whom it was said that nothing that a dollar would ever buy looked as good to him as the real dollar. My observation is that few bankers are students of economics, and the vision of many of them does not reach beyond the merchants 90-day note, or the life of a farmer's chattel mortgage, and their prejudice against Building and Loan Associations is caused by ignorance of laws as immutable as some of the laws in ancient history."

"And here we will endeavor to explain the point of contact—here it is that banks and building and loans can meet and work together in the same field of human endeavor and answer the service of the people for the betterment of social conditions, and the making of the world a better place in which to live. Here they can, if they will, join hands and unite one another as co-workers for the moral and spiritual uplift and betterment of the communities where they function, and in the sure confidence that both will participate in the prosperity that their joint works helps to produce."

THE INFANT CHILD OF REV. AND MRS. C. E. LYNN DIED

The infant daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Lynn died last week. The little one only lived about ten days to brighten the home of these good people and its death was rather unexpected. It was seemingly a very healthy and robust child when born, but from some cause was not spared long in this world. The remains were laid to rest in the Lubbock Cemetery last Wednesday. Funeral services were conducted by the pastor of the Methodist Church of this city, assisted by Presiding Elder Geo. W. Shearer, and Rev. Oden, preacher in charge of the Lubbock Mission, in the presence of quite a number of sympathizing relatives and friends.

OATS 15 CENTS A BUSHEL WITH NO PURCHASERS

Denison, Texas, July 28.—A record low price is being paid for oats at Achille, Oklahoma, a small town fifteen miles northeast of Denison, according to farmers who visited Denison today. Oats are being offered for 15 cents per bushel with no market at that price, and it is said that much of the grain is lying in the fields and will never be threshed on account of market conditions. Cotton around Achille is said to be in excellent condition with few weevils. Other sections report weevils doing great damage, while in many fields where weevils started work some time ago it is said the hot weather has done much good towards eliminating the weevil.

CURED SWEET POTATOES BRING BETTER PRICES

Curing of sweet potatoes to prevent spoilage is giving good results in Hempstead County, Arkansas, under the instruction of the county agent of the United States Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural College, who reports a price of $1.50 per bushel on the first car of sweet potatoes shipped from the new curing plant of the Farmers' Potato Curing Company, which was built last fall. At digging time the farmers could have sold these potatoes on the local market for fifty or sixty cents per bushel. In loading the car it was found that the potatoes were keeping in good shape. Less than two per cent of them were found to be damaged. In Jefferson County, Georgia, the county agent says 500 bushels of sweet potatoes were shipped from the curing house at $1.37 1/2 per crate, f. o. b. Louisville, and less than one per cent was damaged. The Lenoir County, N. C., agent reports visits to two potato storage houses. One contained 800 bushels and the other was a 500 bushel-house. Both storage men said they had less than one per cent of bad potatoes. In Louisiana, St. Landry County, 1,100 barrels of kiln-dried potatoes sold at $4.50 per barrel. Another man in the same district was unable to sell his potatoes, which were not kiln-dried for $3 per barrel. The first man remarked after he had made the sale, "No more cotton for me." In Allendale County, S. C., the county agent stated that cured potatoes were furnished to a large hotel all through the fall and gave entire satisfaction.—Farm and Ranch.

AGE

I'm growing old so strange it seems,
Tomorrow has no charms for me;
But come unbidden youth's sweet dreams,
Old friends I clasp in love's fond arms,
Not lost, I still the loved enfold,
And yet I know, I'm growing old.
What then is age? not to forget,
Nor cease to feel love's true-heart beat;
And quickened memories which let
One feel afresh love's cheering beat,
All life touched by fresher tints,
As setting sun throw brighter glints.
Age is to life, times final touch,
A flaunting picture toning down,
When sober thoughts comes on, and
Of life's deep mystery is found.
The play is closed, the curtains fall,
The lights extinguished—is this all?
And is this all—to act no more?
To be forgotten by the throng?
A fading photo on time's share,
The dying echoes of a song?
The speaking lips now cold and mute,
A broken chord, a rifted lute.
"I'm Growing Old," I've had my share,
Of good and ill as years rolled by,
I've had my days so bright and fair,
With hours when tempest shook the air;
Well if they say when ends the strife,
She has not proved a wasted life.

MEDLOCK WILL INSTALL MORE MACHINERY

Some of the experienced dairymen over the country say that Mr. Medlock has the best equipped dairy in this part of the country. And more, he is installing more equipment as it is necessary. Mr. Medlock has recently ordered a new, large sized De Laval separator and clarifier and both will be operated with steam. The clarifier is used to separate all dirt from the milk without separating the cream. The entire dairy is operated by machinery, and the milk is not handled by any human hands. Furthermore, he has a bottle washer and sterilizer, the milk bottles are steamed for several minutes before being filled. Another asset to this plant is a large cooler in which the milk is cooled to a very low temperature before being delivered, and with the milking machine and all other mechanical equipment, the plant is kept very sanitary.

No Worms in a Healthy Child.

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS chill TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 50c per bottle.

COUNTY AGENT AND FARM BUREAU DEPARTMENT

How Will The Farmers Dispose of This Year's Crop? It is very necessary at this time that the farmers of this section of the country should be giving some consideration to the question as to how they will dispose of this year's feed crop. Judging from the present prospects this country will produce heavy yields of corn, grain sorghums, and in fact all kinds of feedstuffs. The market for these products in the raw state, on account of heavy yields, is apt to be weak, and that coupled with the high freight rates will make the shipment of our feeds in bulk very disadvantageous.

When one considers the advantages of livestock feeding there should be no hesitancy about converting our raw products into finished livestock. By so doing we will accomplish a three-fold purpose, namely: (1) Finished livestock commands a better price on the market than half fat or grass fed stuff. (2) Grain and roughness, when fed into livestock, and marketed as a finished product, will bring double the price that it will in the raw state. (3) Feedstuff when fed into livestock is reduced 87 1/2 per cent in volume thus effecting a saving of that much in transportation costs.

Taking for granted that we are determined upon this method of disposing of our livestock and feed, the next question is what is the best class of livestock to put this feed into (assuming that no livestock are maintained on the farm)? This will also depend upon the individual person's choice, and also upon the kind of livestock most available for this purpose. For a permanent proposition dairy cattle, hogs and poultry is the best combination, but for a temporary proposition, and one that will satisfy an emergency, the feeding of cattle or hogs would be more satisfactory. Of the two, hogs will produce the quickest turnover and possibly the greater profits on the investment, and labor necessary to put the mon the market.

In selecting feeder hogs, one should be careful to select only individuals that conform most closely to approved types. A hog of poor type is high at any price as they will not make the gains that should be made, and furthermore an animal of the proper type will cost very little more, and the consequent gains and profits will more than repay the difference. This same argument will apply equally to feeder cattle.

Every farmer should avail himself of any opportunity to acquire some good brood sows at the earliest possible date and begin laying the foundation for a good purebred herd, and make hog raising a permanent feature of his farming operations. This should not be done with the idea that all the pigs raised can be sold as registered breeding stock, or you are doomed to disappointment. Everyone should recognize the fact that the ultimate end of the majority of hogs is the pork barrel, and it is for this purpose that hogs are produced. However, if there are one or two extraordinary individuals in a litter that can be disposed of for breeding purposes, the breeder can add just that much more to his profits. Someone will say what is the advantage of breeding purebred hogs, if they must be sold to the packers? The answer is this: A purebred hog is a most economical pork machine that we have; will make the most satisfactory gains in the feed lot, and will bring much the best price when put on the market.

tive in California, which has less than 15,000 members.

E. B. Guthrie, a prominent cotton man of Dallas, has been tendered the salaried position as manager of the association.

Ample finances have been secured to guarantee the successful operation of the association. Of the $15,000,000 pledged, $10,000,000 is furnished by the War Finance Corporation, $2,500,000 by the Texas Bankers Association, and $2,500,000 by the Federal Reserve Bank. New York financiers have also pledged additional funds if needed. The world's money market has been tapped again in the interest of the producers which is conclusive evidence that the money kings are just as willing to assist in financing the producer as the speculator, when the producer puts his business into shape so that it can be handled according to business principles.

This can only be done under the contract system under which the association has absolute control of the products it proposes to market. This guarantees the orderly marketing of all cotton signed up in the association and is a big step toward breaking up the past wasteful and speculative methods of marketing our farm products.

The Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of the Cotton Association which has the immediate charge of business transactions of the Association is composed of the following members: Jno. T. Orr, Dallas; W. D. Farris, Enis; Jeff Montgomery, Titus County, and Phil Mason, Nolan County.

A Warehouse committee was appointed at the meeting of the Board of Directors at its meeting July 23, to ascertain the number of available warehouses in Texas that can be used for concentration purposes, and to determine where others should be located. The next meeting of the Board of Directors will be held in Dallas, August 3, at which time the unfinished business from the last meeting will be completed, and reports will be received from the committee that attended the conference of all co-operative cotton marketing associations from the various states in Memphis August 2.

The American Cotton Growers Exchange which is to be the central sales agency for the various cotton associations in the South is to have headquarters in Dallas, and will be the largest spot cotton exchange in the world.

LUBBOCK SHUTS POST CITY OUT HERE LAST SUNDAY

In the game between the Elks' Baseball team and Post City Sunday, the Lubbock boys showed their speed, playing the game in one hour with only two errors, in a shut-out game. Lubbock got five double plays off of the Post City team and in one instance could have made a treble, but there was one man down and the play was not necessary. Much credit can be given to young Sanders, having only pitched three games this season and winning two of them, and outside of pitching a shut-out game, he scored twice.

Lucey pitched for the visiting team holding them down fairly well but didn't have the proper backing. But at any rate the Post boys played a good game and sent away a well pleased crowd. The score was 4 to 0, in Lubbock's favor.

J. V. Murphy, special agent for the Business Men's Accident Association of Texas, at Austin, Texas, was here the early part of this week, looking after business for his company.

Tom Efrid, of Monument, New Mexico, was a visitor to Lubbock the first of this week visiting with relatives and friends.

Big Springs Man May Open Tailor Shop in Lubbock

J. Athans, of Big Springs, was here this week for a few days looking over the city with a view of locating here.

Tired

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't ever hungry. I knew, by this, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—

CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

"I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Thousands of other women have found Cardui just as Mrs. Burnett did. It should help you.

At all druggists. E. 87

He has a large tailoring establishment in Big Springs, and stated that if he could make the necessary arrangements for a building, he will move his plant to this city. He is well pleased with our town, and while he recognizes that Lubbock already has among the best plants of this kind in this country, he believes in the future of this country, and the opportunity of building a still bigger trade in this line. Mr. Athans says he not only does cleaning and pressing work, but makes clothing for men and women right here at home, which would be an added feature to the tailoring business in the South Plains.

He had not closed a deal for a building, and had not fully determined to locate here, but is figuring on several propositions in town, and will make another trip here in the very near future, and will likely close a deal within the next few days.

WEST TEXAS IS READY TO BUY KINE AND HOGS

Considerable interest has been aroused in West Texas by announcement of the livestock campaign of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, according to officials of that organization. Plans for the campaign contemplate sales at cost of carload lots of well bred dairy cattle and hogs to the different communities. An educational tour will be made over the territory in the early fall, during which time orders will be taken for stock. Arrangements have been made by one community to purchase two carloads of cattle.

J. W. Ridgeway, chairman of the livestock committee, will leave July 30 for a tour to the Northeastern States on the Texas Farmer-Banker Special and, while away, will arrange to obtain shipments of well bred cattle for West Texas.

C. C. French, of the Fort Worth Stockyards Company, will handle the hog shipments and it is expected that the record of thirty carloads shipped last year to West Texas will be doubled. The hogs are fed thirty days by the stockyards company, immunized and sold to the farmers at cost.

—Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

The Avalanche this week printed a large number of double page circulars for J. T. Howell of Lorenzo, advertising a big sale which will be put on at his store beginning in a few days.

NEWS ITEMS FROM THE CROSBYTON REVIEW

Joe McCauley happened to a very damaging accident with his Overland while at Ralls one day last week. While leisurely running the connecting rod came loose from the crank shaft, throwing the piston through the side of the block, bursting the block and pump and setting the car on fire. The fire was soon extinguished, but the damage cost near $100.

Arthur Swearingin carried his son Darrell, to a Lubbock sanitarium last week to undergo an operation for a sore on the neck. His many friends are glad to know the trouble is not serious and hope that he will be entirely well soon.

J. W. Lemon and family, and the children of Rev. C. E. Lynn, came over from Lubbock yesterday afternoon to visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Glover, and all went to the canyon this morning for a picnic.

Presiding Elder G. W. Shearer of the Lubbock District, held quarterly conference in Crosbyton last Friday night and preached an excellent sermon at the Methodist church Sunday morning.

W. A. Milligan sold his bakery business the latter part of last week to J. K. Burke and we hear he contemplates moving to a lower altitude on account of his health. It will be a distinct loss to Crosbyton for this family to move away for Mrs. Milligan has been a factor here for the better things of life, she now being president of the Civic League and also president of the Presbyterian Ladies Auxiliary, and is an untiring worker in any cause that has merit in it.

Mayor A. B. Spencer has been off for a week or more on important business and among other places visited is Washington, D. C. He is expected to return home within a few days and doubtless will be able to tell something about the doings around the National Capitol.

Rev. J. B. Cole and daughters, Miss Lena and Ruby, accompanied by two little granddaughters, who visited them last year, returned some few days ago from their visit to El Paso. We have not yet had the pleasure of a hand-shake with Bro. Cole, but from a distance he looks o. k., and we feel sure he will have an interesting message for his people at church Sunday.

Marvin Overton, who is attending school in Amarillo, was called home Sunday on account of the serious illness of his grandmother, Mrs. G. B. Overton.

J. L. Benton, of the New Hope community, was among the visitors here Saturday. He has a son in one of the hospitals here, who recently underwent an operation. He reports the little fellow doing nicely, and will be able to return home sometime during this week.

Mrs. L. A. McDams and daughter, of Canadian, Texas, were in Lubbock Saturday of last week.

OH, WHERE IS MY (GIRL) BOY TONIGHT

Parked on Polk Street Saturday evening was a coupe car in which were two young men and two young women, the latter seated upon the laps of the former.

No, they were not married, nor were they brothers and sisters. They were sons and daughters of some fathers and mothers, and therefore entitled to care they were not receiving, from society as a whole, as well as from their parents or guardians!

Did you see them? They were not difficult to see nor were they seemingly embarrassed by reason of their attitude out there on the city's most prominent street!

If, these girls had been your girls instead of the girls of some other parents, what would be your attitude about it?

While Amarillo has no monopoly on it, there is a polite laxity of moral attitudes and standards here, that is detrimental to the best interests of society. This is largely a result of the prevalence of a fact: "What everybody's business is nobody's business." Men and women will not feel burdened by responsibility for young people, outside their own families.

It is not necessary that reference should be made to the undesirable psychological effect of such action as young people sitting in each other's laps, when both sexes are involved. Men and women know the evils of this character of conduct, and they likewise know that it should be stopped in the interest of the individuals involved, and in the interest of society at large.

When reference is made to an incident on Polk Street, let it be known that while this is a fact, and not a fanciful sketch, it is by no means an isolated case. On the other streets, on the country roads, on the inside of fenced enclosures in close proximity too, and in points more remote from the city, these things are witnessed, and always to the detriment of the community.

Girls of tender years, mere children who are not out of the grades in the schools in some instances, it is reported dress and deport themselves in manner formerly attributed to hardened brazen women of the streets. With carmined lips, rouged cheeks, with betweezered eyebrows, with frowned hair, with the swager of daring attributes of the public characters, invite attention to the coarse, grosser members of the opposite sex. In view of these facts, and they are facts, and only part of the more repellant facts at that, what are the parents, the teachers, the ministers, the publicists going to do about it?

Yes, we must admit that this is not very polite, not an over aesthetic matter to place in print, and yet The News feels that it has a duty in connection with the public morals, and particularly as to those dangerous attitudes affecting the young life of both sexes. It is for this reason that this newspaper dares to bring the existing undesirable state of affairs in this manner, to the minds of those who are concerned for the welfare of the community.

Amarillo has a duty to perform in the interest of public morals—duty that is not being discharged at present. Question: What are we going to do about it?—Amarillo Daily News.

Yes, it is an awful condition! The statements made in the article above regarding Amarillo can be duplicated as to Lubbock, and it is only a matter of time till some dire calamity will befall some of Lubbock's young people, in fact it has already befallen some of them, but others will be in the same awful predicament if the parents of the young folks of this community do not show more concern regarding their boys and girls.

The very same capers are pulled in Lubbock as in Amarillo. The parents seem unconcerned. They allow their girls to frolic till a late hour with young men, and auto ride till late in the night, and they seem to care nothing about them further than to turn them "hog wild" and let them ramble.

They seem to think it nothing wrong for their girls to go to the dance halls, auto ride and attend base ball games, races or what not. They let them go when they want to and where they want to, and what they are sowing now will reap a harvest of heartaches or we will be badly fooled.

The days of restrictions are no more! Many parents know nothing about where their children are, or where they are going when they leave, they guard not their character, because they are not careful who they go with or how they go. Never in the history of our lives have we seen conditions just as they are at present, and we offer this as a warning that many hearts will be broken as a result of the seed that is being sown now.

Take this for what it is worth, but parents you should think! Think deep and long! Think far into the night, and concern yourself, now as to where your girl is, and call a halt. It is time!

This bit of prophecy: If something is not done you will regret it. Trouble is sure to come. Will your home be undisturbed? Will your good name be blighted? Will it? It will if the breaks are not applied and that immediately on some of the girls of this town. They are going entirely too fast! Slow down! Be ladies! Be nice! Be modest! Be refined!

LUBBOCK CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PATRONIZES HOME INDUSTRY.

Memphis has two good newspapers who are constantly supporting their city in everything that is undertaken in a commercial way. These newspapers have job plants capable of producing the ordinary line of job work. These papers are boosting the county fair. Yet, when the fair officials wanted their catalogues printed, they sent the job to Fort Worth. These fair officials expect the Memphis newspapers, to give the fair association page after page of free publicity. The newspapers will do so because they stand for Memphis. Yet these fair officials send away work which carries with it a little expenditure of money. This is a great old world. The harder the home man hammers for his community, the harder some business men will hammer the local man.—Canyon News.

No complaint of this kind can be registered against the present Chamber of Commerce organization. There was a time in the history of the various chamber of commerce organization in Lubbock that worked very much on the same principle as the Memphis organization, but those days have passed in Lubbock, and the Chamber of Commerce here turns every sheet of its printing over to the local printers, that can be done in this city, and few jobs there are that the Avalanche Job Department can't turn out in first class shape, and the Chamber of Commerce is well aware of this fact.

The Board of Directors in Lubbock is composed of the very best business men in the city, who are boosters for the city, and for the South Plains. They believe in spending Lubbock money in Lubbock when ever it is possible, and their loyalty to home institutions is appreciated to the full extent of the term.

The Avalanche believes in the Chamber of Commerce work, and we are willing to cooperate with them in furthering the best interests of the community, and if we can be of service to them in giving information about their work and the progress of the country, we are only too glad to do so. We consider this part of the mission of the local paper, and The Avalanche wants to do its full share.

CLOTHES REFORM MUST COME.

Girls hoping to teach school in San Francisco will kindly roll up their silken hosiery above their knees and lick any surplus carmine from their lips.

Mrs. Helen P. Sanborn, president of the San Francisco Board of Education, issued that edict recently when she laid down these plans and specifications for proper dress of school teachers:

No lipsticks, for "they are the last word in bad taste."

No hand-painted-eyebrows, for "they are silly."

No "beauty windows"—"they are scandalous."

No rolled-down hosiery, for they are "idiotic."

No jet earrings, for a teacher must not pose as "an amateur Carmen."

No "wasp waists," for "they are unhealthy and insane."

And don't wear too short a skirt, too low a waist or bobbed hair—for, Mrs. Sandborn said, she had no words to describe them.

Mrs. Sandborn issued her warning that violators of these rules could not hope to pass teachers' examinations after the country school district wrote to the State Board of Education asking help in finding a teacher who was clothed below the knees and above the waist.—Under San Francisco date line August 1.

There is much truth in the above statement. While it may be overdrawn to some extent. The "fashions" are extreme ridiculous, nonsensical, and disgusting. Why not be reasonable in dress? And this is not only true of the women, but men as well. Styles often make the men look hateful. The style of cutting hair is often as bad as the dress. Men shave in the most ridiculous styles some times.

We will admit that some of us need a lot of fixing over to get by and the drug store complexion that many use is a lot of trouble to put on, and keep straight. We have noticed some folks have such a time with it that they have to carry a shipment along with them to church or the picture show, or shopping, in order that they may keep themselves covered up, that nobody will be able to see the real person behind the embankment of powder and paint.

Why not be our real selves? Have conservative men and women teach our schools, and pay more attention to the instructions they should give their pupils than to see the "set" of the complexion or the hang of a few garments we wear. This woman has started the reform. May she succeed!

HOWLERS

The fellows who howl about the farmers ordering goods are often the same ones who order their stationery form out of town printers. It is a fact and can be proven that a good publishing and printing plant in a town usually is a greater financial help to merchants than to the publisher but they don't see it.—Rotan Advance.

Lubbock people, as a whole sent enough money for printing out of Lubbock every year to keep a good sized job printing establishment busy while many of of business and professional men are absolutely loyal, and have every line of printing done at home.

And as it is stated above by the Advance, the firms who patronize the out of town printers are the fellows who howl the loudest about the other fellow trading with mail order houses.

There is no reason in the world for any Lubbock firm having to send one dollar away from Lubbock for their printing. There are two well equipped printing establishments here, who are ready to do the work and can do it. We sometimes hear the complaint of Lubbock printer's prices being too high. The trouble usually is that the fellow who is kicking will get prices on a small amount from the local printers and compare these prices with a big order price from the out of town man. Be fair with the local printer, give him a chance at every order and then if satisfactory figures cannot be obtained, we have nothing to say when the order is sent out of town, but at the same time these people should also take into consideration the difference in the prices of their goods in Lubbock and the place where they order their stationery. There is sometimes two sides to the question.

Bailey County Stockman-Farmer Is Disappointed in Rules Governing the Panhandle-South Plains Fair

Muleshoe, July 31, 1921.
Editor Avalanche.
Dear Editor:

We made a flying trip to your city recently, and made a pleasant call upon you—you were all out but the call was so pleasant we have decided that when we have another chance to call, we would notify you so you could be gone again. Anyway, we love to see you and shake your honest, progressive hand.

Our county is in fine shape. All crops good; wheat harvest about over, grass and range conditions never better; about the only thing we need is more good people to buy land and make homes among us.

Well, after two years of pleading, our County Court will send out a jury of view to look over some road propositions to try and locate State highway No. 7, that came through your county. It is indeed funny to get men's ideas of roads. Some with whole leagues of land don't want any road at all across it, no matter how badly needed, and some other fellow living way out in some corner wants the road to run by him, no matter how much detriment to the general travel and cost of road—so we have had trouble, galore.

When we received the Avalanche today, as usual, it took precedence over other papers, as it is so full of good things, and so much news, but in looking over the premium list for your coming fair, we were astounded when we came to Rule 4, where in the beef breeds only the American Shorthorn Herd Book, American Hereford Record and Herd Book of the American Aberdeen Angus Association will be recognized and allowed. Now early in the spring we had some correspondence with your commercial secretary and he assured us there would be a class made for Polled Herefords and just why they were ignored we do not understand. We had intended to try to interest Polled Hereford breeders and have a creditable exhibit of this leading beef breed, and possibly a sale of some cattle at the close of your fair, but this settles that project. We cannot understand why this was done. Surely your directors are not ignorant of the wonderful progress this Polled breed of Herefords have made in the past 18 or 20 years. It is said of them without successful contradiction, that no other beef breed in the world ever made the progress in the same time the Polled Herefords have. We had hoped your Fair Association would put up a nice list of premiums for baby beef, and let the boys and girls of the South Plains have a lively and educational exhibit of baby beef. What could be more beneficial than to have our "youngsters" fit and show a lot of baby beeves either registered or unregistered, under the usual arrangements of all our fairs? A few professional exhibitors who make a business to attend the shows with their exhibits, get all the money put up, and it has about gotten to where they make more money than the parties really engaged in raising the supply of beef to feed the hungry world on.

Now we are a firm believer in fairs, have helped organize both County and District fairs, but we hold and have always held that people should be interested to bring out their stock and other exhibits, and learn what other people are doing. The first efforts are usually disappointing, but the exhibitors go home wiser, if not better stock growers. We have always opposed the idea of putting breeding stock in high flesh which is injurious to their future usefulness. Now, if we can secure a wagon yard some where near the fair grounds, we will likely show a few polled herefords. Our 12-year-old girl has a polled Hereford baby beef calf she was shaping for the fair. She will be disappointed, but we may have the calf there anyway.

If you fair management is ignorant of the progress and merits of the Polled Herefords, we are sorry for them; if they were actuated by any other motive, we are sorry for them still.

EXPERIMENT STATIONS ARE RESTORED TO SENATE BUDGET

Austin, August 1.—The six experiment stations conducted by the Agricultural and Mechanical College, which had been left out of the bulger for that institution, were stored recently when, by a viva voce vote, and with but little dissension, the Senate voted to include them in the budget.

The motion for the restoration of these stations was made by Senator Clark, who did so in accordance with the action of the Joint Finance Committee of the House and Senate. The adoption of Senator Clark's motion does not mean that the Senate has repudiated the joint committee, but rather that it joins with the committee's action because, after it had once voted to discontinue the stations at Angelton, Beaumont, Nacogdoches, Pecos, Temple, and Chillicothe, it later practically rescinded that action and instructed the preparation of the motion which was presented by Senator Clark.

Many Plead Cause. Delegates from Beaumont, Chillicothe, Temple and other places appeared before the committee and told of the constructive work that these stations are doing. The Chillicothe station is a pioneer institution, established in 1907, and there the preliminary work for the introduction of Sudan grass, feterita and other small grains was done.

Senator R. M. Dudley, the chairman of the Finance Committee, said in a speech in support of Senator Clark's motion, that it would be a mistake if the State adopted a retrogressive attitude toward experimentation in agriculture, using stations at places where different kinds of soil could be tested. Failure of the Legislature to appropriate funds for the maintenance of these institutions would practically junk them, with a tremendous loss in real estate to the State.

Bills Are Passed. Senator Wood of Williamson, also spoke in favor of the Clark motion. Senator Bledsoe of Lubbock was in the chair.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College appropriation and the University of Texas appropriation bills passed through the Senate during the afternoon. The bills, as prepared in the Joint Finance Committee, were adopted without serious change.

Senator Woods of Navarro, made an unsuccessful attempt to effect a graduated reduction in the salaries paid the faculty members of the University of Texas. His amendment for the salary reduction was tabled, 13 to 12 by the Senate.

P. B. Hudson, of Canadian, was a Lubbock visitor Saturday of last week, on his way to New Mexico, where he expects to close a deal for a number of steers.

DORT

Quality Goes Clear Through

Doubtless no year has thrown a clearer light upon the Dort and its high standing in the esteem of the American public than this year.

Enthusiasm towards the car and appreciation of its remarkable performance ability and operative thrift have grown and extended further and further, day after day, and month after month.

The regular Dort clientele that inevitably replaces one Dort with another has augmented with a rapidity that has outstripped our closest calculations.

And the only conclusion that can be drawn is that more and more people who in past years have sought other cars are now turning to the Dort as the most desirable automobile investment they could make.

"DE DUCKS EAT UP CORN PROFIT, SAYS IOWA FARMER"

Dubuque, Ia.—When a local farmer sold his corn recently and tried to explain to a banker the necessity of a loan to tide him over a lean period, the niceties of market problems are faced by the farmer now was outlined.

"But," the banker said, "I don't understand why you should want to borrow money when you have just shipped your corn. What did you do with the money?"

"De ducks got it," replied the farmer. "What do you mean by 'de ducks'?" "Well," the farmer explained, "I shipped the car to market and sold it for 52 cents per bushel. They de duck freight; that left 31 cents; de duck 1 cent commission, that left 30 cents; de duck elevator charges, that left 27 cents; de duck husking, that left 15 cents; de duck hauling, that left 5 cents; de duck the hired man's wages from that, and you are a darned sight better farmer than I am if you can find anything left."

ECLIPSE WINDMILLS

Pump More Water for Less Money for a Greater Number of Years Than Any Other Power

The constant economical pumping service given by the ECLIPSE Windmills—year in and year out—is the result of practical design and skillful construction from durable materials.

Note these important facts each of which contributes its share to the supremacy of the ECLIPSE WINDMILLS: Main Vane is set so that sails are held to receive greatest steady pumping power from winds at all speeds.

Regulating Side Vane gives easy positive movement in and out of wind. Makes mill run safely in strong winds. Sensitive to light breeze.

Direct Stroke gives greatest power applied direct to pump—no gears.

Practically storm proof. Automatically turns out of wind when wind becomes violent.

Wheel parts all rigidly built together. Sails firmly held in girts, making self-bracing sections; cannot shed sails; girts bolted to wheel arms; have protecting clips which hold sections from working loose.

Unusual strength from tough, well seasoned wood, selected for the work to be done, carefully painted, well braced.

Long life—Simple, few parts, slow speed, steady motion—mean little wear.

Guaranteed by over fifty years of windmill experience and Fairbanks-Morse quality.

Call at our store and let us show you many other important features which make the ECLIPSE Windmills of such unusual value and long life.

The ECLIPSE Windmills will give you so much better and longer service and with the minimum cost for upkeep that they are CHEAPER THAN OTHER MILLS, regardless of difference in first cost.

Here We Value Quality and Service as Well as Price

Disappointment is the natural result of trading where one considered the price only. You know that the cheaper the goods are in price the cheaper they are in quality—and no one wants to eat cheap dope.

We are watching carefully the price, the quality and the freshness of the goods we sell. We want your patronage a year from now as well as at the present. Satisfaction makes customers that last; price sells goods only once—trade here for the sake of the satisfaction derived.

EXPECTATIONS

Because a man's ambition is judged by what he expects and intends to do, one should expect and look forward to making more money, saving more money and thus receiving more happiness and the blessings of contentment. Money is not, by any means, the only source of happiness and contentment, but it surely is a nice thing to have 'round the place.

NEWS ITEMS FROM LAST WEEK'S RALLS BANNER

A few more days of pretty weather and the wheat crop will have about been harvested, most of it threshed and the bulk of it marketed. Contrary to expectations, the price is still holding at about $1.00, and there is no prospect that it may go higher. While unfavorable conditions early in the season curtailed the yield of wheat more than half, yet the large acreage planted gave us a great deal more than was produced last year, and the money received for same has been a "shelter in the time of storm," for our farmers, and will go a long way toward helping them successfully weather the prevailing adverse conditions.

Announcing

The New

"Four"

Here is a Thoroughbred Four Completing the Famed Buick Line

The new Four-Cylinder Buick, here announced, is a thoroughbred—a pedigreed car well worthy of its name.

Down to the very last detail, this new model possesses every quality of enduring serviceability, complete comfort, and distinctive appearance that have always characterized Buick automobiles.

The advent of this new Four makes the Buick 1922 line complete. It offers to purchasers of a car of this size all the quality and service that go to make up the name "Buick."

*The Buick Valve-in-Head
Engine—A Power Plant
That Has Proved Itself*

The engine, of course, is of the time-tested Buick Valve-in-Head type. The year-after-year concentration of Buick's engineering skill and experience in building Valve-in-Head motors assures the highest standard of performance obtainable today.

Every other unit is of a quality equal to the power plant. The whole assembly constitutes a perfectly balanced chassis which is of typical Buick construction. The equipment of Cord Tires is merely evidence of the quality which characterizes the entire car.

Two open and two closed body types mounted on the Buick built chassis comprise the new series.

Even the most casual inspection of the details of design and workmanship will reveal that full measure of quality which motorists have learned to associate with Buick.

*A Great Car—Prices
Make It An Even Greater Value*

Obviously a high grade automobile—a genuine Buick production—the prices listed below make this great Four even greater. A value such as this is possible only because of the combination of Buick engineering skill devoted to the one ideal of quality, Buick production facilities developed over nearly a quarter of a century, and Buick's nation-wide distribution and service organization.

The Buick Motor Company is proud of the Buick Four. It has the faith of long experience in this newest addition to its line. It places upon it unreservedly the Buick guarantee carried by every Buick automobile produced. That its confidence is well placed is manifested not only by the keen interest with which motorists have awaited this announcement, but also the advance orders placed by distributors, dealers, and the general public.

BUILD A GARAGE

A garage, like any other building, adds or detracts from the property value, according as it is attractive or otherwise.

A garage may be an ornament or a detriment to the appearance and sales value of a property. It depends on design.

A garage, especially Design No. 10 adds more to the value of a property than it costs to build. It has good looks, good proportions, and it is roomy.

We have the right plan and material for the garage you need. Be sure and see us before building.

LIBERAL RECEIPTS OF CATTLE AND HOGS ABOUT STEADY

Kansas City Stock Yards, August 1, 1921.—The first run of grass fat cattle this season arrived today and prices were lower. Fed steers were scarce and remained firm. The large receipts brought out considerable new demand and trade was active. Eastern shipping orders were in evidence and inquiry for feeders showed an increase. Hog prices were weak to a shade lower with sheep steady and lambs higher.

Today's Receipts. Receipts today were 25,000 cattle, 7,500 hogs, and 5,000 sheep, compared with 16,000 cattle, 8,500 hogs and 5,000 sheep a week ago, and 29,336 cattle, 7,250 hogs and 6,000 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle. The bulk of the fat cattle received today were off of grass and they were sold mostly at 10 to 25 cents lower prices. There was a fair supply of wintered Kansas grass fat steers that sold to $7.50 to $8.00, or only slightly lower than last week's close, and choice to prime fed steers were scarce and fully steady at last week's advance. Demand is keeping pace with the increasing movement, and requirements from new on will be large. The extreme range in straight grass fed steers was $5.50 to $7.35, and though no finished corn fat steers arrived, those here sold at $9.00 to $9.40. Best cows and "canners" were steady, with other grades 10 to 25 cents lower.

Stockers and Feeders. In proportion to the liberal receipts of cattle, stockers and feeders were in moderate supply, and prices for all classes with quality were steady with others 10 to 15 cents lower. Inquiry from the corn belt is increasing.

Hogs. With prices elsewhere lower, and a fairly liberal supply at more eastern markets, hogs were down 10 to 15 cents. The top price was $11.15, and bulk of sales $10.25 to $11.10. The wide spread in the bulk of sales is due to the large number of rough heavy hogs coming. Most of the smooth hogs in all weights are selling at $10.75 to $11.10. Pigs are selling up to $10.50.

Sheep and Lambs. Sheep were fully steady and lambs 25 cents higher. Arizona ewes sold up to $5.00. A band of 1600 Idaho lambs weighing 69 pounds brought $9.75, straight and fair quality native lambs sold at $9.25. The movement of Western range lambs will start about the middle of the month.

Horses and Mules. General conditions in the horse and mule market remain unchanged. Receipts today were slightly larger than on preceding Mondays. CHARLES M. PIPKIN, Market Correspondent.

WE NEVER KNOW HOW WELL OFF WE ARE

Some years ago Dr. Frank Crane told a story in one of his editorials about a farmer who had become tired of his farm. He had lived there on the place all of his life. He was born there. When a boy he drove the cows in from the field, gathered apples in the orchard, swam in the creek, and carried his hogs across the meadow and through the woods-pasture to the little box of a school house down the north road. As a young man he ploughed and harrowed in the Spring, made hay and bound oats in the Summer, and hauled fodder to the cattle in the winter. To the old home he had brought his bride. There his children were born that were now grown up and gone. He was sick of the place. He dreamed of some nice, quiet spot where conditions were ideal, where he could pass his declining days in comfort. So he went to a real estate agent in town and listed his farm for sale. The agent drove out and looked the premises over. He said he thought he would have no difficulty in finding a buyer as the property seemed to be in fine condition. When the farmer got the next week's issue of his county paper he read the real-estate agent's advertisement. It stated that the Perkins farm of one hundred and sixty acres was for sale. It was all fertile. A crop failure had never been known. There were forty acres in excellent timber, a good artesian well, plenty of pasture land, and a charming dwelling house, with adequate barns, bins and sheds. The place was well stocked with cattle, horses, pigs, and poultry. It was of easy access to the city, and had telephone and rural free delivery advantages. Anyone looking for an ideal farm would do well to consult the agent at once. The next day the farmer called at the agent's office and said: "Say, I read your advertisement of my place in the paper, and as near as I can figure that's exactly the kind of farm I've been looking for. I'll keep it myself." That's the way Dr. Crane tells the story. How much happier all of us would be if some clever advertising agent could write up our jobs, our homes, and our businesses, so that we could see them as others see them! —Type Metal Magazine.

SUGGESTS COLLEGE CAREER

Adolphe Menjou, whose screen villainy has made him famous, says a college education is indispensable to a picture-player. It gives him intimate knowledge of things he is often required to know in the parts he is called upon to interpret. Menjou is a Cornell grad. During the war he took 750 fellow Cornellians from Italy over the Lower Alps to participate in the festivities at St. Mihiel. The first man to enlist from the Lusk Studios, Menjou saw twenty-two months of fighting. Although many of his buddies were wounded or killed, he was lucky enough to escape without a scratch. Entering the service as a private, he came out a captain. Menjou plays an important role in "Through the Back Door," starring Mary Pickford, Aug. 8th and 9th.

Baptist Evangelist Unable to Conduct Meeting in Lubbock

It is with deep regret that the announcement was sent out last week that Dr. Scharbrough, whose services had been secured for holding a revival meeting for the Baptist church at this place, will be unable to do so on account of a break-down in his health, and his physicians have ordered him to absolute rest for an indefinite period. Dr. Scharbrough is one of the leading Baptist Evangelists for the South, and the announcement that he had been secured for Lubbock was received gladly, and the people of this section were looking forward to his coming with considerable interest.

Just at this time the Baptist of this city have not been able to secure another evangelist, on account of the lateness of the season, and no announcements have been made public as to when they will now have their revival services.

The Tender Magic of Live Steam

There's tender magic in the live steam with which we press your garments—it's marvelously gentle and yet wonderfully efficient.

This vital force, as it surges through and through the fabric, has the same effect on woolen fibres that life-giving oxygen has on the human system—it rejuvenates, renews life and youth, and at the same time it sterilizes.

Things cannot go wrong with the American Steam Garment Press which we use in pressing your garments—there's no possibility of scorching—there's no iron surface to rust, no hard rubbing to roughen the fleecy woolen fibres and leave seams and pockets shiny.

Keep your garments wholesome and looking fit—you'll find it an investment in personal pride that's profitable.

Six army cantonments will be abandoned by the War Department, Secretary Weeks announced recently. Two of the six are Camp Devans, Mass., and Camp Meade, Md. The remaining four were not named.

The secretary said one big cantonment, somewhere in the South, would be maintained permanently because of advantages due to climatic conditions.

True economy will be practiced by the department in re-organizing the army down to the 150,000 total fixed by Congress for the enlisted strength, it was said. The men "hike" from posts where they are now stationed to places to be selected for permanent posts, he said, cutting transportation cost. Many commands will be reduced to bare skeletons.

RED CROSS WILL HAVE EXHIBITS AT MANY FAIRS

Exhibits at 200 fairs in the Southwest are planned for this summer and fall by the Southwestern Division of the American Red Cross, according to an announcement by Lubbock County Chapter of the American Red Cross. The local chapter will be represented in this number with a booth at the aPhandle-South Plains Fair this year, held at this place September 29 to October 1st, and plans are under way for a number of displays showing Red Cross service at home.

During 1920, the Southwestern Division of the Red Cross, of which the local chapter is a part, participated with exhibits and booths at more than 160 state and county fairs, with a total attendance at the various booths of 505,000. It is planned to increase this number during the fair season approaching.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than in any other section put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure, send for circulars and testimonials.

The poets write of love and home and other simple lays,
Of people far across the foam and ancient times and ways.
But somehow modern things are missed and taken as they are,
So I am here to write about a classy motor car.

There's only one that interests me and soon will interest more,
For smarter folks will want none but the Overland Model Four.
Some dealer of another car will tell me all along,
"Now why talk of the Model Four, I'm sure you are quite wrong."

But in this world, if we be old, or in the days of youth,
No matter, good or bad, or how me always like the truth,
So to that dealer who contends my statements are not true
I give an explanation, as I give one now to you.

In the first place, in the old U. S. six thousand dealers sell
This little car, the Model Four, the one they like so well.
And after it is sold to you, the service that is due,
For your especial benefit, repairs it all for you.

Most cars that you folks buy today are owned by several firms,
Assembled propositions, these are facts you do not learn.
But the Model Four is modeled, as likewise each well made part,
By the Willys-Overland Company and there only gets a start.

Let us study just a little of the engine it contains
A strong, three-bearing motor, helps to win the car its fame.
And the wonderful transmission with the engine is combined,
Is another star of favor, and the first one of its kind.

No pumps for oil and water and the mechanism good,
Is inclosed for your convenience in a wear well cast-iron hood.
As to tires they are not heavy, they're the well known much used
Fisk,
Being small and priced quite nicely, cause the owner little risk.

In fact the combination is the thing you're looking for,
Has the comforts as to riding of a real expensive car.
As to gas, you get more mileage and more miles on tires as well,
And the baked enamel finish, makes you little Four look "swell."

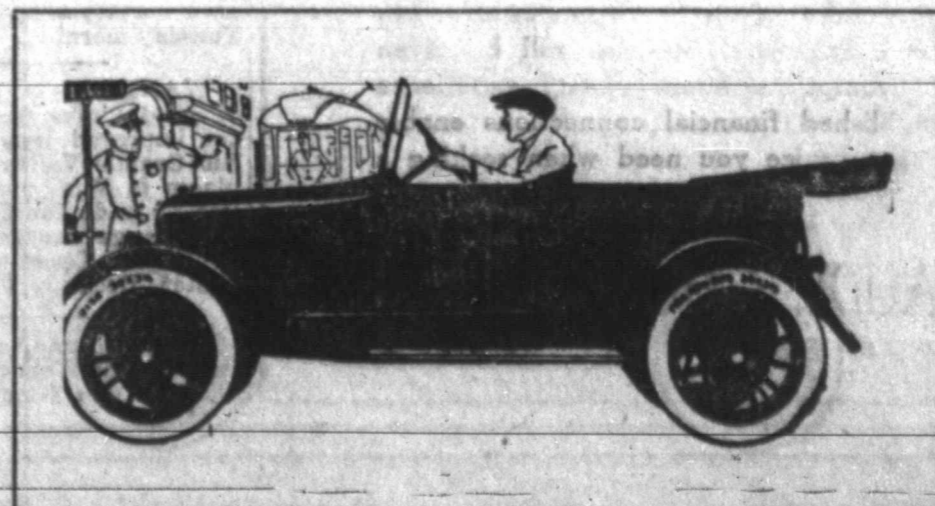

Now the bearings, there's the Timken, for it's known throughout the land,
As the universal bearing and will please most any man.
Then the springs, they're light and mighty and where're you hit a rock
You just seem to slide around 'em for you never get the shock.

They are patented by Willys and the newest thing that's out
Should primarily be remembered of the things I write about.
As to feats, we have to offer hurdling six feet in the air,
Many times it's been accomplished, can you beat it anywhere?

In the test, on springs, in hurdles on many famous grounds
The blow at one time tested over forty thousand pounds.
So I've told you and I'm certain that you have begun to know
The wonders of this Model, little, mighty, full of "go."

It's a roarin' snorting beauty, it's a wonder on the street,
It's a car for any lady, it's a car that can't be beat.
Fraught with pep, with speed and purpose, riding comfort, everything,
Makes us wonder if it really is almost a human thing.

So sing on your earnest praise and proclaim to earth and stars
That all other makes are dandy when it comes to motor cars,
But if you desire real service—service proven o'er and o'er,
I can tell you what you're seeking, it's an Overland, Model Four.

THE LOCAL WEATHER PROPHECY

PEANUCKLE JR.

The prophet was perched on the edge of the curb
Observing the dust of the street;
His face wore a look of prophetic concern
As he talked of the drought and the heat.
"The country is ruined," he solemnly drawled,
As he shifted his quid in his mouth,
"It's hotter by half, and its drier by far
Than it ever has been in the South.
"The grain will be scorched until it withers away,
"The corn will be burned on the stalk;
"There'll be not enough fruit in this part of the state
To furnish dessert for a hawk.
"The driest I've seen it since '74,
"When everything parched on the ground;
"Burned to a cinder, not moisture enough
To dampen the tongue of a hound!
"My advice to the farmers is: Get what you can,
"And sell off your stock and your land;
"Then go where there's rainfall enough for a crop,
"You can't make a living on sand!"
Then came on a soaker the very next day,
The water descended in sheets;
The prophet now perched on a counter inside,
Looked out at the mud in the streets.
"The country is ruined," he drawled with a sigh,
"Potatoes will rot in the soil;
"The wettest I've seen it since '76,
"When all of our gardens were drowned;
"The hay stood in water and couldn't be mowed,
"So we left it to spoil on the ground.
"My advice to the farmer is: Sell your land,
"Don't wait until you're caught in a flood,
"Then go where the sun shines a part of the year,
"You can't make a living on mud!"

Boerner's Second Hog Sale Will be Held Next Monday

F. W. Boerner will conduct his second Registered Duroc Hog sale at his farm west of town next Monday. In February, last, he sold thirty-two head of fine registered hogs, and the selling was fast at a good figure, the average price being $139, which is a good indication of the quality of his hogs. Buyers were present from a distance, and bid freely.

Mr. Boerner says he expects a much better attendance at the second than the first sale, on account of the weather being better, and the news of his first sale and its success having been pretty well scattered through the country, giving the hog raisers a better idea of the excellent quality of his offerings.

Thirty head of registered Durocs will be offered at the second sale. Twenty-three of these will be bred sows and gilts and the balance will be spring pigs and several boars. This is a fine bunch of hogs and no doubt the bidding will be strong and lively.

Lunch will be served at the farm at one o'clock, and the sale will begin at two. Col. J. W. McCreary, of Wayside, and Louis H. Gould of Sulphur Springs, Texas, will have charge of the sale. A. L. Ward, secretary of the Swine Breeders Association, of College Station, will also be present.

Mr. Boerner invites you to be present whether you wish to buy or not. He has a dandy bunch of hogs, and it will do you good to look his herd over, to know that such fine hogs are raised in this section of the country.

POST DROUTH BROKEN BY HEAVY RAINFALL

Post, Texas, Aug. 2.—Three and one-fourth inches of rain fell here today. This relieved a prolonged drouth which was badly damaging row and cotton crops. Telephone reports received here indicate no rain fell very far south or east of Post.

GOOD RAINS FALL ABOUT LITTLEFIELD

Littlefield, Texas, Aug. 2.—Splendid showers fell over this country Sunday. In places it amounted to heavy rains and in others was lighter. This rain will be of great benefit to row crops and assures good feed. Cotton will be helped and grass also. Threshing of wheat is progressing rapidly.

W. T. Ward, of Benjamin, and his brother Grundy Ward, of Bronco, came in Monday from their ranch in Yoakum County, where they went recently, hoping the change would be of benefit to W. T., who has been very ill and is still in a critical condition. They were met here by his family, and after a short visit in the home of J. O. Jones, and consulting with local physicians, it was thought best that Mr. Ward return home at once, so they took the train for home Tuesday morning.

WANTED—To hear from owner of good Plains farm that will trade for improved irrigated farm in the Rio Grande Valley; also have choice places in Wise and adjoining counties to trade for Plains land; also some large ranches in West and Southwest Texas for trade. M. G. Foster, Decatur, Texas. 6-1p

More Money

More Homes

School season will soon be here; then more homes will be needed.

The Lubbock Building and Loan Association is three months old and has made two loans; one to help pay for a home and the other to help build a beautiful home in the southwest part of town, and will help build another soon on Broadway.

If you want to help yourself and help others and at the same time build Lubbock, put your money, large or small, into the Association and get more than 10 per cent on your money and no bother to you. We have now loaned $4,750.00 and the security value is $9,250 and as the loan decreases monthly the security increases.

Can you invest your money more safely and profitably?
