Lubbock Health Officers Report for 1920-21 Compared

The Lubbock Health Officer, Dr. Wm. L. Baugh, has furnished us the following report of the deaths and births of Lubbock, in comparison, 1920 to 1921. These figures are interesting, as but few people have any idea as to their totals for the two years or any previous year, but the two year's records are all that we have at this time.

1920	Deaths	97
	Births	124
	Death, tuberculosis	4
	Death, typhoid	2
	Death, suicide	2
	Deaths, murder	0
	Deaths, Cont. Dis.	3
	Deaths, accident	5
	Deaths, Cancer	2
	Children under 1 year	13
	All other causes	66
1921	Deaths	94
	Births	153
	Deaths, tuberculosis	5
	Deaths, Typhoid	1
	Deaths, Suicide	3
	Death, Murder	6
	Deaths, Cont. Dis.	5
	Deaths, Accident	5
	Deaths, Cancer	4
	Children under 1 yr.	16
	All other causes	49

The percentage of births per thousand is three and three-fourths and is considerably short of the average. The death percentage per is two and one-fourth.

Since the city of Lubbock has been incorporated, 980 births have been reported by the physicians.

It is to be noticed that the death rate for Lubbock is greatly increased by the number of people who come here in serious condition to be under treatment of our specialists, who die here, with the deaths recorded in this county, when they have never been citizens here, which makes this report a little unfair to the healthful conditions of Lubbock county, however we wish to remind our readers that this is a good report in spite of this condition.

FIZ AND FRANCOIS

By Anelle Greene

Kiwawa was very weak from his experience in the sand and water, but he soon came to himself enough to know that there was something unusual the matter with his toe. He gave a quick leap that landed him on his feet and then he saw the turtle hanging on for dear life. He gave a kick that he thought would surely send the hard shelled creature to the moon, but when his foot touched the ground the turtle held on as secure as ever. Again Kiwawa kicked, but still the turtle held on. Kiwawa sat down and tried to prize open the creatures mouth, but it seemed that the jaws were locked, for even his strong fingers could not budge them.

Then Kiwawa reached for his hatchet but Kinchiko said: "No! this creature shall remain on your toe as a punishment for your evil attempt to take the life of these birds and of Kincho. If you kill it, its mouth will remain closed forever and its head can never be removed from your heap big toe. As long as you have anger in your heart and wish to harm these birds or these children or Kinchiko, this turtle shall feed upon you until the clouds grow black and angry and fall upon each other and he hears their thundering voices."

"But if you should forget your anger, and learn to love and to help those who have saved your life, then will all the tribe of your brothers be brought together and with the strength of their mighty voices, make a sound that will deceive the turtle and he will let go his stubborn hold upon your toe."

Wiwawa was more angry than ever when he heard these words. He wanted to kill the turtle—in fact, he wanted to kill them all, but he dared not do this for Kinchiko was chief of the tribe and all his people loved him. Kiwawa himself had loved him until that moment when he was overcome with anger, but his experience in the river had given him time to think and to learn that it is not always best to do just what a fellow feels like doing.

W. G. FRAZIER ANNOUNCES FOR TAX ASSESSOR

The first candidate to announce for an office this year in the counties of Hockley and Cochran through the Avalanche is being made this week by perhaps the first man who established a home in that county and remained permanent since 1902, the same being W. G. (Walter) Frazier for Assessor.

There is not an old-timer in these counties who is not acquainted with Mr. Frazier. For information to new ones we present the facts, that in 1902 he established his home a few miles west of J. W. Gordon's headquarters; that for years he worked on ranches in that section at the customary salary of $20 per month; that he steadily acquired a few head of cattle and throughout the time has held his own, of course until the drought of 1917-18 and the steadily declining market for cattle, and is yet counted as one of the prosperous small cattlemen of that county.

Mr. Frazier is easy to get acquainted with and remember and the voters of that county will do well to give him serious consideration, which we are sure he will appreciate.

R. F. Felty and wife returned the first of the week from Wolf City and Leonard, where they spent several days with friends and relatives.

Plains, the Best Hog Country in United States

Another good crowd of business men met at the City Cafe last Monday and talked over the problems of the community. The committee that attended the railroad meeting at Plainview reported and general discussion was held as to the probabilities of the future. Details of the coming swine convention and poultry show consumed most of the time of the diners.

Ludwig Irlback of Happy was called on and he spoke about the hogs, chickens and milk cows, the things that make a bank account all the time. He made a distinction between the hogs raised here and ones farther south and east. He said they were getting four and five cents for pork while we were getting seven and eight cents. "The best hog country in the U. S.," said Mr. Irlbeck.

F. H. Britain reported some elderly people youth in Castro County in distress. A small collection was taken and the matter referred to the proper committee.

SHOE SALESMAN SAYS TIMES GETTING BETTER

F. P. Fray, salesman for the Indict-Johnson Shoe Company, was here Thursday on his regular trip, calling on our merchants. Unsettled conditions at this time make selling very slow in places, Mr. Fray said, but he is of the opinion that there is but little time between the business men and a revival of trade.

Optimism may not be constructive of better conditions, but we are of the opinion that the optimist is a better judge of conditions after all than the fellow who would not be so prone to boost things along.

PRO AGENTS FIND
BOZE IN COCONUTS

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 10.—Two hundred coconuts which contained not their own natural milk, but a pint each of strong Jamaica rum, were seized by Federal Agents Monday at a Minneapolis railroad station. A cork plug coming out of the eye of one of the coconuts led to the discovery of the rum.

TWO FORDS COLLIDE ON MAIN STREET THURSDAY

The little green Ford speedster of Cecil Carruth and a Ford truck, of the Thomas Grain, Feed & Fuel Company, loaded with about a ton of coal, collided at the corner of 11th and Avenue I, near Watkins Jewelry Store Thursday.

The cars were going very slowly, but the heavy loaded truck forced the roadster around, narrowly escaping being turned over, with the left rear tire pushed off, but no other noticeable damage was done.

From an onlookers viewpoint, all that kept the occupant of the roadster from being severely hurt was that neither car was going fast enough to cause much of a jar, as the truck hit the side of the roadster near the center, which would have proven fatal to the driver and his car would have been crushed.

Cecil Carruth was recently discharged from the army, where he spent one year in the second division with the second engineers, and is now here with homefolks, and expressed himself as being mighty glad to be in civilian life again.

T. J. Cook, Western Representative of the Southwestern Life Insurance Company, of Dallas, with headquarters in Post City, was a business visitor in our city this week.

Mrs. Charley Smith and mother, Mrs. Shields, of Littlefield, were here Saturday.

When a Man Shakes Hands With You

It is an easy matter to determine in most cases his attitude toward you; some betray a coldness—aloofness—and go through the hand-shaking merely as a formality and not as a genuine greeting.

Another man can speak with a warm smile and the genuineness of his interest in your welfare is instantly noted. Another can raise his hand in greeting and in a moment's glance give more significance of friendship than can other who shake hands and pat you on the shoulder. But what has this to do with this bank?

No pussy-footing or pretense-making over customers for the sake of policy goes here. We know our customers. Men who have done business with us for years and years know that at all times we keep our customer's interests at heart. If we greet you with a hand-shake you will know that we feel an interest in you. If you transact business here you will always be met with a smiling—"good-morning"—a genuine greeting, not a false greeting.

We believe in real men and that real men believe in sincerity in all matters—even greetings, if only casual.

ROTARY NOTES

By L. T. Martin

Last Wednesday's Rotary luncheon was held at the Cova hotel with over fifty present, and the meeting under R. E. Karper, as master of ceremonies was full of pep from start to finish, and Robert and his committee are to be congratulated for the good talk and music.

Secretary Keen gave a report on the Plainview meeting held Tuesday night in honor of the Rotary-Ann's. There was 115 present with the following Rotarians from Lubbock: C. E. Hunt and wife, Earl Hunt and wife, Curtis A. Keen and wife. There were nine present from Amarillo. They had a 12-piece orchestra, Rotary Quartette, the mixed Quartette who sang for our club at the educational meeting for music. (Some music). To make the meeting an entire success they borrowed the Raja from the Lubbock Rotary club, who tells your innermost thoughts. He never fails! He never fails! The speaker of the evening was Levi Solomon Kinder, on Rotary Spirit. Levi is from Amarillo, and from all accounts must have made a wonderful talk. Wish it could have been my pleasure to have heard him. My what a name. You know a man with a name like that does not talk with his tongue alone.

Martin S. Ruby was instructed into the working of Rotary by Rotarian Roscoe Wilson. Roscoe has a knack of driving the points of Rotary home so the new members do not soon forget and we predict that Martin S. Ruby will make as good a Rotarian as he does a City Manager and if he does we will all take notice. He will be known in the club by the nickname of "Shorty."

Mr. Claud McDaniel, of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., and a resident of Lubbock, told what he was doing with a class of boys' Radio work. These boys have constructed a receiving station at the Court House where they can any night receive messages, hear music, sermons and etc. by wireless from as great a distance as the Hawaii Islands. It doesn't sound reasonable does it? These boys have done this with no expense scarcely and should be encouraged. There is nothing that would put Lubbock on the map so quickly as to have a well equipped Radio station here. To be able to get the world news, to know what is going on about us, to hear sermons by noted ministers and music from Grand Opera is almost unbelievable, but if these boys are given the proper encouragement and support they will put it over for Lubbock. President Walter appointed the following committee of Rotarians to co-operate with Mr. McDaniel in this good work. H. L. Allen, Martin S. Ruby and H. D. Phillips. This is a good committee on this work and do you notice boys, they are all new members. Nothing like putting them to work. "Service above self." He profits most who serves best.

Rotarian J. W. Jennings spun a few yards of very good jokes. But why take the book kind. Why not make some of the members tell of their most embarrassing moment. Good joke.

Mr. R. E. Overstreet told of how the Texas Farm Bureau is co-operating with the Cotton and Wool Growers' Associations in marketing their produce. It was a very interesting and instructive talk and Mr. Overstreet is doing a great work for our farmers.

Yes, Highpocket, your Hub of Rotary is readable now as far as the printing goes. As one of our good Rotarians said to the writer: "You did one good thing with your Rotary notes; you got him to clean up his old press so that the type showed through. It was awful to follow his hope when half of the letters were missing." But say, "Ye Editor," of the Hub, I am with you in your article where you ask the "Brethren" how they stand in regard to the Hub. I like it, although you do not get enough fun for the amount of work it takes to get it out. Misery likes company and you must keep it up. Possibly some one will appreciate it enough some day to give you a little dope for your sheet. It is pretty hard to blow bubbles without any soap. Notice the number of Rotary locals at the tail-end of these notes. Some day a Rotarian is going into the Avalanche office and whip Jimmy of the Bouncing Dominoes, because Lu the editor of Rotary notes did not chronicle to the good people of Lubbock that his mother-in-law from Sweetwater or Bitter Creek, was visiting his wife's husband.

Talk about music! That was some Quartette Robert induced to sing for us at the luncheon Wednesday. To pass the following boys on the street you would not think they had it in them, now would you. But believe me, when T. Q. Dyess, L. L. Wendell, R. L. Wilson and R. A. Holland get together with their well-blended voices on some of their catchy songs, everybody sits up and takes notice. Come again boys. It was fine and words cannot express how the club appreciate your singing for them.

The following guests were present: R. E. Overstreet, T. Q. Dyess, L. L. Wendell, R. L. Wilson and R. A. Holland as guests of the club.

R. P. Lehr with Walter Myrick. Mrs. Curtis A. Keen with Curtis. Glen Hunt with Earl (Skeeter) Hunt.

Claude McDaniel with H. L. Allen. Amos Howard and Bennie Hull with Chas. Adams.

J. G. Goodman with H. D. (Telephone) Phillips.

F. R. Friend with A. V. Weaver.

Mr. R. F. Friend and guest of A. V. Weaver at luncheon, is now the Vice President and one of the Directors of The Security State Bank and Trust Co. We are glad to know that Mr. Friend has decided to make Lubbock his home.

Rotarian O. F. Sensenbaugh's father has been visiting him the past few days. Good thing to come down and tell the boy where to head in once in a while.

Rotary Ann Rix of the Episcopal Church, with Rotary Ann Duggan of the Presbyterian Church were soliciting adds for the cook book the Episcopal ladies are getting out. This cook book will be made up from the best cooking recipes of the ladies of Lubbock and from some of the spreads it has been my pleasure to sit down to, it will be some cook book. I want one for my library on this art.

Woody says we will eat at the Cova next Wednesday. Say Woody, tell the little blackeyed lady to leave a little space between the chairs. This is supposed to be a Stag Club, and one don't appreciate having Jed, Deacon, Mike, Mico, Highpocket, Skeeter or Butterflake shoving his elbow into your ribs just when you start to take a drink of coffee.

Have you seen a copy of the Mission Times, of Mission, Texas. It is the local paper of that thriving little city, and is in three sections, and is chock full of Rotary dope and the biographies of every member of the Rotary Club of Mission. I am indebted to Mr. G. C. Barrier for the copy.

Miss Mina Ellis, secretary of the Lubbock Chapter of the American Red Cross is starting a school to teach english to the adult Mexicans of Lubbock, and the teachers of the city schools are donating their services providing they have means of getting to and from the school house in Mexican town. The proposition of transportation was discussed at last luncheon and Miss Ellis can depend on the Rotary Club to assist her in this work by getting her teachers to and from the school.

THOS. L. BLANTON WILL NOT RUN FOR SENATE

Washington, Jan. 12.—Congressman Thomas L. Blanton today gave out a formal statement announcing that he would not be a candidate for the United States Senate, but would again be a candidate for Congress from the Seventeenth District of Texas. The statement follows: "Although when making thirty speeches in my district, by rising vote about 90 per cent of the people in each and all of my audiences endorsed my work in Congress, and pledged me their support for the United States Senate, I find that I am financially unable to campaign the State, hence will not make the race for the Senate. I shall be a candidate for re-election to Congress in the Seventeenth District of Texas."

Note how the "Mileage Strip" provides a continuous unbroken surface of thick, solid rubber in the Autocrat Cord

Why the McClaren "Mileage Strip" means more miles

EVERY motorist realizes that the center of a tire's tread wears down fastest. It comes in full contact with the road—receives all road shocks. In fact, it is the tire's "life."

Experience has taught McClaren engineers that in order to get a tire that will guarantee more miles and longer life there must be a continuous strip of thick, tough rubber running through the center of the tread, and entirely around the tire.

Notice the famous McClaren "Mileage Strip" in the above illustration. This strip of rubber, unbroken by tread design, withstands road shocks and this prolongs the life of the tire. It gives more miles.

We have conducted tests under every conceivable condition, over the hardest kind of roads. We saw McClaren Autocrat Cord prove its quality. It won us completely, as it will win you. We call this McClaren Autocrat Cord our tire. We back it with our name and our money. And one test will make it your tire, too.

The Lubbock County Chapter of the American Red Cross Makes Report of Activities During Month of Dec.

The December report of the Red Cross Secretary as submitted to the Board of Directors at their first meeting in January reads like an impossible fairy tale. The real things they accomplish gives satisfaction to every citizen that is interested in the unfortunate inhabitants of our town and section and the difficulties they have to contend with touch any one with pathos and are sometimes religiously funny.

During the month of December 38 visits were made into homes in the city reported as needing help or investigation. Forty-seven office interviews were held upon as many different problems. Thirty-nine letters were written upon the business of the organization exclusive to the claim for compensation and vocational training handled for two ex-service men. Employment was found for 5 applicants and a home was found for one orphan boy. More than 400 garments were received in the drive for old clothes and approximately 150 of these have been given out to families in the city needing such help. During one day, Christmas week, 87 visitors registered at the Rest Room and no doubt as many more took advantage of this courtesy maintained for out of town people. Those are the big, constructive things accomplished. Some of their problems that offer pathos, humor and sometimes drives the Secretary to the verge of insanity to a desire to commit murder might be recounted in the form of a brief story as follows:

One big able bodied man with a wife and three children sobbed out a tale of woe that would make a crocodile weep stone tears and he touched the Secretary's heart to the tune of seven dollars. A position, or at least a job was secured for him. He finished about half of it—drew a part of his pay and evaporated. At least it is supposed that he evaporated for no one has seen them since. Seven dollars wanted—but what are you going to do? A wife and three children, hungry, without clothing, nothing to eat for two days and no where to sleep. But such losses are very few.

A cripple man setting on the sidewalk held out his hat. The Secretary stopped and told him to come to the Red Cross office, but he worked the trade an hour or two first. Finally appeared in the afternoon with a real tale of woe. He had only collected five dollars during the whole day and his usual day's run was ten to fifteen dollars per day. Oh yes, he sent all he could make home to his invalid wife and poor starving children. It was a sad, sad tale, that would make you weep—but he would not give the address of his wife, nor his home town, nor any other definite facts concerning himself and consequently he did not receive much assistance from the Secretary. During the same day a young fellow with one arm worked the town, soliciting funds to go to school. He finally found that everybody in town referred him to the Red Cross and he came over. In telling his tale of woe to the Secretary he forgot how his petition read and told her he was sending his money home to support an invalid wife and a flock of children.

"I thought you were trying to get money to go to school?" the Secretary reminded him. "Just where does your wife live," was her next question and the indignant fellow walked out of the office. He had a most unprofitable day according to all reports. He emphatically stated that he did not know the crippled man that was begging on the street and was indignant when the Secretary insisted that they must be traveling together.

A week later the following letter was received by the Secretary, signed by both of these men who had been in the Red Cross office and who had declared that they didn't know each other: "Dear Madam: We the undersigned believe that we should donate to you according to the amount of help you extended to us. So please find enclosed check," signed C. E. Griffith and John Foulks, and enclosing a check made out for No Dollars and No Cents. The checks were upon an Amarillo Bank and mailed at Clovis.

Fakes, pure and simple, both of them and working this territory like a regular traveling salesman—but they found Lubbock far from a beggars paradise.

A big strapping negro man came into the office last week, "White Folks! We got to get some work, and I got to get it right now. I aint et nuthin' for three days and I gotta work. Within a few hours he was placed on a temporary job and from all reports he was a wonder at working. If at any time you need any kind of labor from the commonest ditch digging, yard work or what not, around the place, or servant girls, cooks or other work, phone the American Red Cross Secretary. She usually has from two to twenty families lined up wanting something to do. Make Lubbock unprofitable for professional beggars of all kinds.

Both the Large and Small Investors

To the small investor and wage earner this opportunity of investing in stock of the Panhandle Cigar Company is extraordinary and exceptional. The man with small capital cannot as a rule put his money into enterprises of this nature. He does not have the opportunity. Twenty years ago this investment harvest was gathered in by comparatively few people.

The tremendous wealth represented by the wholesale houses of our country are not as well understood as they might be. It is known, in a general way, that wholesale houses are immense money makers, that they pay out each year enormous sums in dividends, that the stockholders receive large returns on their investments, but actual facts and figures which show what these earnings are, are not made public. Once familiar with these facts, you could readily understand why wholesale houses are the back-bone of conservative investment,—and why stock in wholesale cigar houses are considered among the safest, most permanent and profitable investments to be had.

Every share of stock issued will be taken care of and looked after in the same way, so that the man at a distance who owns but one share of stock will be looked after and taken care of in the same manner as the President of the company himself.

There is no other way out of it—it is the only way that it can be done—the only way it will be done. Every man shares alike ac-ording to the amount of stock he holds. Every stockholder receives exactly the same treatment. When one earns dividends they all earn dividends. For this is the stockholder's company, owned and controlled by the stockholders. The officers are surrounding themselves with practical and experienced salesmen and others who are expert in their lines, to whom is delegated the practical part of the work. Every officer, every member of the board, is devoting their time and their ability to this company, believing that when the plans are developed, their efforts will be amply rewarded by the increased value of stock and by the good dividends.

Their untiring efforts and devotion to duty protects their stock and protects every share of stock that will be issued.

It only goes to show that this company is being managed in the interest of the small stockholder as well as the large stockholder and that the small stockholder will have his voice in the control and management of the company in which he is partner.

SOME ASPECTS OF FARMERS' PROBLEMS

By Bernard M. Baruch
(Reprinted from Atlantic Monthly)

The whole rural world is in a ferment of unrest, and there is an unparalleled volume and intensity of determined, if not angry, protest, and an ominous swarming of occupational conferences, interest groupings, political movements and propaganda. Such a turmoil cannot but arrest our attention. Indeed, it demands our careful study and examination. It is not likely that six million aloof and ruggedly independent men have come together and banded themselves into active unions, societies, farm bureaus and so forth, for no sufficient cause. Investigation of the subject conclusively proves that, while there is much overstatement of grievances, misconception of remedies, the farmers are right in complaining of wrongs long endured, and right in holding that it is feasible to relieve their ills with benefit to the rest of the community. This being the case of an industry that contributes, in the raw material form alone, about one-third of the national annual wealth production and is the means of livelihood of about 49 per cent of the population, it is obvious that the subject is one of grave concern. Not only do the farmers make up one-half of the nation, but the well-being of the other half depends upon them.

So long as we have nations, a wise political economy, will aim at a large degree of national self-sufficiency and self-containment. Rome fell when the food supply was too far removed from the belly. Like her, we shall destroy our own agriculture and extend our sources of food distantly and precariously, if we do not see to it that our farmers are well and fairly paid for their services. The farm gives the nation men as well as food. Cities derive their vitality and are forever renewed from the country, but an impoverished countryside exports intelligence and retains unintelligence. Only the lower grades of mentality and character will remain on, or seek the farm, unless agriculture is capable of being pursued with contentment and adequate compensation. Hence, to embitter and impoverish the farmer is to dry up and contaminate the vital sources of the nation.

The war showed convincingly how dependent the nation is on the full productivity of the farms. Despite Herculean efforts, agricultural production kept only a few weeks or months ahead of consumption, and that only by increasing the acreage of certain staple crops at the cost of reducing that of others. We ought not to forget that lesson when we ponder on the farmer's problems. They are truly common problems, and there should be no attempt to deal with them as if they were purely selfish demands of a clear-cut group, antagonistic to the rest of the community. Rather should we consider agriculture in the light of broad national policy, just as we consider oil, coal, steel, dye-stuffs, and so forth, as sinews of national strength. Our growing population and a higher standard of living demand increasing food supplies, and more wool, cotton, hides, and the rest. With the disappearance of free or cheap fertile land, additional acreage and increased yields can come only from an impoverished or unhappy rural population.

It will not do to take a narrow view of the rural discontent, or to appraise it from the standpoint of yesterday. This is peculiarly an age of flux and change and new deals. Because a thing always has been so no longer means that it is righteous, or always shall be so. More, perhaps, than ever before, there is a widespread feeling that all human relations can be improved by taking thought, and that it is not becoming for the reasoning animal to leave his destiny largely to chance and natural incidence.

Prudent and orderly adjustment of production and distribution in accordance with consumption is recognized as wise management in every business but that of farming. Yet, I venture to say, there is no other industry in which it is so important to the public—to the city-dweller—that production should be sure, steady, and increasing, and that distribution should be in proportion to the need. The unorganized farmers naturally act blindly and impulsively, and, in consequence, surfeit and dearth, accompanied by disconcerting price-variations, harass the consumer. One year potatoes rot in the fields because of excess production, and there is a scarcity of the things that have been displaced to make way for the expansion of the potato acreage; next year the punished farmers mass their fields on some other crop, and potatoes enter the class of luxuries; and so on.

Agriculture is the greatest and fundamentally the most important of our American industries. The cities are but the branches of the tree of national life, the roots of which go deeply into the land. We all flourish or decline with the farmer. So, when we of the cities read of the present universal distress of the farmers, of a slump of six billion dollars in the farm value of their crops in a single year, of their inability to pay mortgages or to pay current bills, and how, seeking relief from their distress, they are planning to form farmers' organizations, farmers' strikes, and demand legislation abolishing grain exchanges, private cattle markets, and the like, we ought not hastily to brand them as economic heretics and highwaymen, and hurl at them the charge of being seekers of special privilege. Rather, we should ask if their trouble is not ours, and see what can be done to improve the situation. Purely from self-interest, if for no higher motive, we should help them. All of us want to get back permanently to "normalcy," but is it reasonable to hope for that condition unless our greatest, and most basic industry can be put on a sound and solid permanent foundation? The farmers are not entitled to special privileges; but are they not right in demanding that they be placed on an equal footing with the buyers of their products and with other industries?

Senior and Juniors Entertain the Freshmen and Sophomores

During an election for the most popular girl and boy in the school, several days ago, the Sophomore body voted solid for the seniors, and the Freshman body went solid for the juniors, which, because of the latter's outnumber, the contest was won by the Juniors, and Friday evening entertainments were given by the Seniors for the Sophs and Juniors for the Freshmen.

The High School building was a scene of much merriment in the early evening, as the alert Freshmen waited the call for lunch, as the Seniors were busy as a bunch of bees making proper arrangements, and soon the guests were called to the dining room in the basement, where a most enjoyable time was spent as the culinary art of the students was to be appreciated, and the guests and members of the class joined in a program of many songs, speeches, and lectures.

The pupils of this school are awake to everything that is liable to create more interest in the work, and are making themselves capable of tending the larger problems of the school. All work and no play is poor policy, they have learned, and have made some ideal examples of what can be done with their spare time by engaging in some of the most thrilling and entertaining sports, wherein they have made records that are outstanding features of the years work.

The Freshman body was entertained with a most enjoyable house party at the beautiful home of J. A. Wilson on 1319, 19th street. Many games of forty-two were played, with many other entertaining features, followed by a well prepared and beautifully arranged supper.

It is to be hoped that this evening of entertainment for the school pupils will be followed by another before many weeks, as there is more enthusiasm created through such meetings than can be brought out in any other way.

Illegal for Women To Serve On a Texas Grand Jury

Waco, Jan. 7.—Leonard White of Cameron, who is on the State convict farm in Bowie County, will be released by Judge R. L. Munroe as soon as he arrives here. The penitentiary authorities did not receive a habeas corpus in time to reach Waco for the hearing set down for 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

White was convicted here in February, 1921, for criminal assault and given five years. His attorneys applied for a writ of habeas corpus, seeking his release on the ground that the grand jury that billed him was composed of two women and ten men when the Constitution requires twelve men. Judge Munroe heard the case in chambers and announced his decision, but will not enter the order until White appears in court.

The drought of the past several months was broken Monday afternoon when rain and hail began falling, totalling .35 inch, according to the local U. S. rain gauge.

A man by the name of Remes, who has worked for several different farmers in Lynn county, was lodged in a jail the past week, charged with stealing cotton from the field of J. T. Wade. Young Remes and wife hail from Comanche county, Texas. He was released from custody after paying a light fine for the offense, and the couple went on their way rejoicing.

The County Teachers' Association of Lynn county will be organized, and a meeting is called by County Superintendent J. W. Elliott, for this purpose to be held at the court house Saturday, January 14th.

KANSAS PEOPLE WILL LOCATE ON THE PLAINS

Mrs. Joe Noyes and little daughter, Betty Jang, left Friday for their home at Coffeyville, Kansas, after spending several days here prospecting. Mr. Noyes has been in the vicinity of Floydada the past few days, also looking for a place to locate, and they will make their home somewhere on the Plains in the near future. Mrs. Noyes told an Avalanche reporter she was well pleased with Lubbock, and regretted that modern homes were so scarce here.

If the men who have large tracts of lots, and money to construct modern homes here understood the necessity of them, and knew what handsome returns could be received as rental on such, we are sure there would be no one leave Lubbock because of house shortage. Build it in Lubbock, and build it as soon as it is at all possible, and there will be no end to the good you will do for the town.

NOTED YOUNG WOMAN TO TEACH VOICE HERE

Miss Irene Swan, of Tyler, is here the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Niblack.

Miss Swan has been studying for the past six years in New York City, under such eminent instructors as Frederick Schneider, Florence Maley, Andrea Sarto, and Alice Motl, which equips her well to teach voice.

She also is a graduate of Guillemont Organ School, of New York City, Wm. Carl, Director, and has had experience in concert work.

While in New York she was director of the Morning Side Presbyterian Church choir, and in Brooklyn she directed the Forrest Park Reform Church choir.

It is indeed a pleasure to have such talent available to instruct the young people of Lubbock as Miss Swan contemplates starting a class here in the near future. The ideal climate of the Plains induced her to leave her people at Tyler, where she is well known and has many friends, and we are sure that in her coming here Lubbock has gained a most competent social benefactor.

CHIROPRACTIC

THE WORLD'S GREATEST HEALTH SCIENCE

Try Chi-ro-prac-tic once, if you have tried everything else without results. Chiropractic is the science of removing the cause of all disease or abnormal conditions of the body.

It is humanities greatest benefactor, and it is daily accomplishing wonders, which are amazing, startling and even dumfounding, because it is a scientific, efficient and successful method of relieving suffering humanity.

Thirty-seven million people are praising Chi-ro-prac-tic in the U. S. and ten thousand Chi-ro-prac-tors are kept busy relieving all manner of human ailments. Every kind of disease known has been relieved through the Chiropractic science in the last few years, which you will readily see by carefully reading this advertisement, which you will gladly hand to your afflicted neighbor as a token of friendship and help from one to another, for by so doing you will lend a greater opportunity to suffering humanity than any other reformer since the days of Christ.

Chiropractic is recognized, as legal in twenty-three states, and twelve supreme courts have held that Drugless Healing is not the practice of medicine, it is recognized by two foreign nations, and by 77 insurance Companies in the United States.

"The Drugless Healer is one of the best things that has come into the life of the present." Chas. Mayo, M. D., Rochester, Minnesota.

Chiropractors are obtaining results that I could not have obtained with medicine or surgery." E. G. Rutherford, M. D., Birmingham, Alabama.

"The skill of some Drugless Healers in curing diseases should make the most brilliant surgeons in the land ashamed of their capacity." Alfred Walton, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

"I have been astonished by the great results of Chiropractic." F. A. Hall, Indianapolis, Indiana.

"I am convinced of the superior method of the Chiropractic form of healing." Wm. Vore, M. D., City Point, Va.

"Under spinal adjustments, acute diseases are cut short and absorted, and chronic diseases recover, which have been believed incurable." A. A. Gregory, M. D., Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

"The Drugless Healers are giving more real service to humanity than any other science that has ever been discovered." M. T. Council, D. C., Ph. C., Lubbock, Texas.

"I use the drugless method of healing because I can get marvelous results and I consider that my patients are entitled to the very best results as they pay me to restore their health for them." Hulen K. Finley, M. D., Lubbock, Texas.

BECKMAN FORTUNE OF POST CITY, TEXAS CURED OF SLEEPING SICKNESS BY CHIROPRACTIC

As some of the papers have failed to give Doctor Council justice in the Sleeping Sickness case that was brought to Lubbock from Post City, we, the undersigned, parents of the boy, hereby volunteer to give all of the facts to whom it may concern, as we believe the people are entitled to know the whole truth:

Beckham Fortune, our son, had Sleeping Sickness for nineteen days when our family physician at Post City advised us to bring him to Lubbock Sanitarium for treatment, but the doctors there were honest enough to tell us that they could do nothing for him and that the end was very near, so we took him to Doctor Council, the Chiropractor at Lubbock, and he awoke Beckham, for the first time, the second day that he adjusted him, and he is now able to go home and return daily for his adjustments after having been treated two weeks. Beckham could hardly swallow liquid when he arrived at Lubbock Sanitarium and had been absolutely unconscious for several days.

Witness our hand at Lubbock, Texas, this 26th day of February, A. D. 1921.

CANCER

To whom this may come greeting:
This is to certify, that I had a cancer on my face, which had been treated by the medical doctors for eleven years and it was growing worse all the time. Dr. Council treated me six weeks and at this writing there is not even a scar where the cancer was, he also cured me of a severe stomach trouble and I highly recommend him to all suffering humanity.

Alx. Shipp, Rotan.

INSANITY

To whom this may concern:
This is to certify that Dr. Council has completely cured my brother, who had been in the Asylum at Austin for over a year without any relief or benefit. He was completely cured in ten weeks, and his mind is so clear and bright now that no one would ever think that he had ever been in ill health. He can follow any occupation or trade with efficiency. Dr. Council also cured my little boy of Pneumonia by one treatment after he had been in bed for five days. I have known Dr. Council's success as a healer for some time and I therefore gladly recommend him to anyone who is suffering from any acute or chronic disease of any nature.

APPENDICITIS

This is to thank Dr. Council for his great work in my case, and to say to anyone that this may concern, that I was on my way to the sanitarium to be operated on for Appendicitis and not being able to make the full trip on account of my suffering and great swelling, I was persuaded by my cousin (Miss Rilla Hull) to try Dr. Council for relief before I tried to travel any more. I was treated eight days by Dr. Council and I came home well and have been working in the store every day since. I am indeed thankful to get well without an operation.

Mrs. K. Y. Lee, Peacock, Texas.

HEART TROUBLE

Know all men by these presents, that I this day gladly certify that I suffered with heart trouble for three years, and the doctors advised me to quit the Stamford College, where I was in my graduating class, as they knew of no cure for me, which advice I had taken when I heard of Dr. Council of Rotan, Texas, who cured me in three weeks. At this writing I have stood the army examination and been accepted in the best of health.

Andrew J. Matthews, Lubbock, Texas.

KIDNEY STONES

This is to certify that I have known Dr. Council and his great work for many months and I cannot say too much for him and his practice, as he cured my wife of Renal Cramp after she had been drawn up in severe cramp for several days and the medical doctors had failed to give her any relief. I know of many incurables, who have been cured by Doctor Council. For further information write.

L. C. Hayter, Hobbs.

CANCER

To whom this may be of interest:
I had suffered three years with a cancer of the stomach and had given up to die, as I had been treated by many noted physicians. Dr. Council treated me for three months and now I am happy to say, I am as well as I was ten years ago, and I can do any kind of work on the farm. I praise Dr. Council as the king of all healers, and I commend him to you regardless of your trouble.

Mrs. Hank Trout, Electra.

PNEUMONIA

I hereby take pleasure in recommending Dr. Council in any pneumonia case, as I was suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia and was getting worse from day to day under the treatment of two medical doctors. I saw I could not live at that rate so I called Dr. Council to treat me and in three days I was sitting up and feeling fine.

Mrs. Rollo, Rotan.

STOMACH TROUBLE

To whom this may concern:
This is to certify that Jim Cheyne, 18 years old, was brought to my house at Crosbyton to be treated by Dr. Council after he had been given up to die by several medical doctors.

This young man was in a deplorable condition as he would lay on his bed and cry as a child, he had lost his mind to a great extent and he only weighed between 75 and 80 pounds.

I want to say that he was completely cured in ten weeks and is now breaking sod every day with a walking plow and he weighs 140 pounds.

J. M. Reed, City Marshal, Crosbyton, Texas

PELLAGRA

Mrs. E. L. Spivey, Rotan.

APPENDICITIS

To whom this may concern:
This is to certify that Olin Bartley was taken with the Appendicitis and the family physician advised an operation and he was taken to Lubbock for same and there was advised that nothing short of an operation would save him, but for some reason they decided to try the drugless route first and he was brought to Dr. Council and completely cured in two weeks.
