

A SCHOOL OF GRAIN GRADING WILL BE CONDUCTED AT COLLEGE STATION JUNE 12 TO JULY 22, '22

Beginning June 12 and ending July 22, 1922, the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas will conduct at College Station, Texas, a School of Grain Grading for the purpose of giving detailed instruction in the matter of grading grains according to the Federal Standards. These standards have been provided for by the recent Grain Standards Act which was approved by Congress August 11, 1916. The purpose of this act is to provide for a single set of standards of quality and condition for the various grains, and to provide for their uniform application to the shipments of grain by grade in interstate and foreign commerce. The act specifically prohibits the use of any other grades whatsoever for any grain which comes under its requirements.

To enforce the provisions of this act and to supervise the inspection of grain, in order that the Federal grades may be uniformly and properly applied, a Federal Grain Superision service has been created in the Bureau of Markets of the United States Department of Agriculture. In carrying out the provisions of this service the actual inspection and grading of grain is done by inspectors licensed for that purpose. In Texas these inspectors are licensed by Honorable Chas. E. Baughman, State Commissioner of Markets and Warehouses. In order to secure such a license it is necessary that the applicant first pass a satisfactory examination before a State Board of examiners for grain graders, which board has been appointed by the Commissioner of Markets and Warehouses of the State of Texas. This examination is held in accordance with the Federal Grain Standards Act and the like standards of the Markets and Warehouse Department of the State of Texas. It is the plan of the Department of Markets and Warehouses to have a large number of people in the grain growing belt of this State prepare themselves for the classing and grading of grain. One of the important objects of the Grain grading School is to prepare persons who desire to enter this field of work for the examination mentioned above. The personnel of the State Board of Examiners is as follows:

Mr. John F. Ross, Amarillo, Texas, Chairman.
Mr. R. R. Travis, Ralls, Texas.
Mr. R. V. Crowder, Quanah, Texas.

Again, the use of the Federal standards in the grain markets has stimulated a desire among grain farmers and grain dealers to gain a knowledge of the methods of applying the standards. This knowledge will enable the farmer to know when his grain is being graded at the country mill or elevator, that it is being done properly. These facts, together with the generally increased interests in the last few years in marketing of farm products, has greatly increased the demands made on the agricultural colleges for information on the market grading of grains.

Licensed Inspector Employed
The work of the 1922 Grain Grading School will be under the direct supervision of Mr. William Cuning, a licensed grain grader of many years experience. Mr. Cuning has been connected with the Federal Grain Supervision service practically all of the time since the passage of the United States Grain Standards Act in 1916. During the greater part of this time he has been stationed at different points in the Southwest where he has handled a large volume of commercial grain, shipped both into and out of Texas. He is, therefore, quite familiar with grain grading problems affecting the State of Texas.

Nature of Work
Students taking the work of the Grain Grading School will cover, in detail, the grading of wheat, corn (both in the ear and shelled), oats, rice, and the grain sorghums (both in the head and the threshed grain). No Federal standards have been established for the grain sorghums. However, the State Commissioner of Markets and Warehouses has recently established standards for the grading of grain sorghums, and the work of this school, relative to grain sorghums, will be given in accordance with the standards fixed by the Commissioner of Markets and Warehouses.

Instruction will consist of both lectures and laboratory exercises. The lectures will be confined, in the main, to the United States Grain Standards Act as regards its value in foreign, interstate, intrastate, and local trade, and how this act affects the farmer; also the classification and grades provided by the Federal Standards; the organization to carry out the provisions of the Act, including a detailed consideration of the qualifications and duties of the licensed inspector, the district supervisor and the board of review. The latter part of the lecture course is devoted to a discussion of the bases upon which the grain grades are established.

Laboratory Practice
The greater part of the time will be devoted to practice work in grain grading. A large number of samples of the different grains are obtained from various sources, such as the local experiment station, feed stores, and farmers of the State, and assigned to the students. The first laboratory period is used in demonstrating the use of the grain probe in obtaining samples, the apparatus used in grading, and in discussing various phases of the different operations. In the following laboratory periods the students are furnished with direction sheets to be followed in grading the assigned samples, and with the use of the small handbook, "Official Grain Standards," and type samples, the students are able to go ahead with a reasonable amount of help from the instructor. The grain grading laboratory is equipped with all of the modern apparatus needed in official grain grading.

Expenses
The expenses for the six weeks course are as follows:
Laboratory fee, $25.00
Medical fee, 2.00
Room and board per term of six weeks, 43.00

BABY CHICK DISEASES, THEIR PREVENTION AND CURE

(By F. W. Kazmeier, Poultry Husbandman, A. & M. College)

In discussing baby chick diseases and troubles, it is well to call attention to the fact that it is almost impossible to cure them. To control these diseases, it is necessary to employ preventive measures. It is well to study the causes of the various diseases, so that we may be able to prevent the disease, and remove the cause.

Sanitary Measures
In controlling chick diseases, sanitary measures are the most important to give very careful consideration. Keep the yards and coops scrupulously clean, and the matter of controlling chick diseases becomes an easy matter. We have repeatedly noticed that the broods we handle under sanitary conditions always do the best. If for any reasons we find it impossible to get the cleaning and disinfecting done as regularly and promptly as we should, we always soon discover that the chicks do not appear as healthy and active.

The brooders should be cleaned out at least once a week, and disinfected thoroughly. Any coal tar disinfectant 1 to 2g solution is strong enough, and may be applied with a fine mist hand sprayer.

The feeding dishes and drinking fountains should be scalded once a week, or better twice a week.

Crowding
Crowding baby chicks always leads to trouble. This has been mentioned before. It is so very important that it is worth repeating. Over-crowding causes all kinds of troubles, bad habits and diseases. Too much can not possibly be said about the crowding of baby chicks.

Leg Weakness
This disease among chicks is caused by too close confinement, resulting in a lack of exercise, and improper feeding. The first thing we do is to allow the chicks more yard, range or room, then we add about ten per cent of pure fine ground bone meal to their dry mash mixture, we feed more milk and green food. Milk especially is important; and should be kept before them. We make them exercise more, by feeding all fine cracked grains in the litter so they will have to scratch for it. Do not feed so heavily, especially on flattening foods. What the chicks need is more bone and muscle forming material, more exercise and room.

Poisoning
When chicks begin to die in great number every day without any apparent cause, and they appear in good condition, their death may frequently be traced to some form of poisoning. Some times moldy feed, or a low grade of meat scraps will kill them in large numbers. Moldy or musty corn meal will poison the chicks. Moldy or musty litter, also causes a great mortality in baby chicks. The mold spores, get into the air and breathing system of the chick, developing into so-called "aspergillus." We know of no cure. The only chance is in removing the cause. Any feed, that is not pure, fresh and wholesome, should not be fed to the little chicks. Their digestive system is very delicate and easily upset.

Non-Absorption of the Yolk
Examining the digestive system of a chick carefully you will find the yolk to be attached directly to the intestines by a small duct or tube. Any thing that you do to retard the proper assimilation of the yolk, will most certainly kill the chick. The yolk should be completely absorbed by the tenth day. If the yolk is not absorbed properly at a certain time, it turns poisonous and when, finally some of it does get into the digestive system it kills the chicks. We have frequently noticed baby chicks ten days old, to show by their large abdomens, that they have not absorbed the yolks properly, and although they may appear apparently healthy at the time; it will only be a question of time before the chick will die. We have had them to hang on until they were three weeks old, and then die of "non-absorption of the yolk." Whenever you can notice the abdomens to appear out of proportion with the rest of the body, it is time to look for mortality due to improper assimilation of the yolk. This trouble kills each year thousands of brooder raised chicks. There is no remedy. The disease must be prevented. Some preventive measures are: not to feed too soon, never over feed, only feed easily digested foods, do not let them become chilled or over-heated. Feeding too soon and over feeding are the two most common causes.

Colds and Pneumonia
When the chicks eyes become watery, it is well to look out for colds. All such individuals should immediately be removed. We know of no cure in baby chicks for this disease. When the chicks are 5 or 6 weeks old, and develop colds, we recommend spraying them, especially their heads and necks, with the following mixture to be applied with a fine mist hand sprayer once a day, namely: 10 parts water, 10 parts gasoline and 5 parts kerosene or any other local tar disinfectant. The same spray should be used in disinfecting the entire inside of coop and fixtures.

Brooder pneumonia is caused by the chicks becoming chilled. They appear dull, drowsy and listless, and breath with difficulty and have a high fever. We know of no cure.

Cannibalism or Toe-Picking
In small chicks this trouble is caused by too close confinement, lack of animal food. Give the chicks more room and make them exercise. Feed more milk and other animal food.

When it is caused in chicks, before they are to be fed, we recommend darkening the brooder in the day time to check this bad habit. Remove the chicks with sore toes or eyes. We have found it good to place a little hot tar on the injured toes of the chicks.

Feed more milk, and add a small amount, (not more than 10 per cent) sifted meat scraps to their dry mash mixture.

White Diarrhoea
This disease in baby chicks is very contagious, hard to control, and not always due to mismanagement. It is a disease that is transmitted from the parent to the chick. The "bacteria polorum" is found in the ovary of the hen, and in the yolk of eggs. The symptoms are a lack of vitality, small stunted body, droopy wings, a drowsy disposition, and a bowel disorder or diarrhoea. The disease gets its name from the predominating odor of the voidings.

We know of no positive cure. It has been found very satisfactory to feed plenty of sour milk, all they will drink, the first week, and as early in life as possible. The sour milk, contains a lactic acid, which when taken into the intestine forms an unfavorable field for the disease germ.

Anything you can do to build up the health and vitality of the chick will help you control this disease. Copyright, 1922 by F. W. Kazmeier.

Flour Mill Companies Will Make Test Case of Recent Charges Filed Alleged Short Weights at Sweetwater

What amounts to a test case regarding the constitutionality of the state weights and measures law opened today in the District Court here, between the state of Texas and the Great West Mill and Elevator Company of Amarillo.

The case developed as the result of a number of charges brought against several milling companies of the state by Cam H. Murray, inspector of weights and measures, alleging short weights in shipments of flour to local merchants. The state is represented by W. E. Fonder, county attorney of Nolan county and E. I. Hill, district attorney, and the Great West Mill and Elevator Company by Judge A. J. Haner, assisted by Ellis Douthitt, C. E. Mays, J. H. Beall, Henry Beall and Judge C. H. Smith of Sherman, Texas.

Objections made by the county attorney to the effect that the facts in the local cases be omitted and the constitutionality of the case passed upon were overruled by the court. Also the objection to the effect that the state law be pre-emptive over the federal ruling was not sustained.

Paul B. Sorenson, who was called to the witness stand by the defense, testified regarding the weights of the shipment of flour which was inspected and alleged to have been found wanting by inspector Murray. Mr. Sorenson testified that a number of the sacks were overweight and some of them under the standard weight. Also that when re-weighed under different weather conditions that the flour showed varying weights, indicating the loss or gain of moisture.

E. P. Humphreys of the Great West Mill and Elevator Company of Amarillo, related the manner in which the flour was ground and prepared for shipment, but stated that he was unable to estimate the amount of the shrinkage which might result in transit.

Discussion of the variation of the weights of commodities in changing atmospheric conditions and in transit continued throughout the afternoon.

Six large milling and elevator companies of the state had representatives at the trial. The following mills were represented: W. P. Bomer, Bewley Mills, of Ft. Worth; E. T. Fant, Fant Milling Company, Sherman; B. R. Neal, Standard-Tilton Milling Co., of Dallas; E. K. Humphreys and R. C. Smith, Great West Mill and Elevator Company, of Amarillo; T. P. Duncan, Wichita Mill and Elevator Company, of Wichita Falls.

Prohibition Notes

And so our thoughtful government is going to send sub-chasers after the whiskey runners. Which is perfectly proper, as a good drink

A prominent prohibition officer is named Nutt. No doubt, lots of wet people think he is one.

Oh, well, we are managing to stagger along under prohibition. It is rumored that the bootleggers are making up a fund to erect a monument in honor of St. Volstead, their best friend.

At any rate, Col. Nutt reported he had a good time during his recent rum-hunting trip to Florida, and of course that's something.

According to News Reports
"Mary Garden wept when kissed twice on the Pacific coast," says a headline. Another part of the body we haven't located yet.

Where shall I find my heart's desire? wails a modern poet. Advertise, son, advertise. "Dr. Jackson went hunting yesterday, but killed nothing," says the country correspondence. He would no doubt have had better results by staying at home and attending to business.

"Women are not punctual," claims a special writer. Quite true. They become such victims to the habit of being late that half of them never get to be thirty-five until long after they are forty.

Most Likely
You can lead a horse to water. But you cannot make him drink. You can lead a souse to soda. The result's the same, I think.

Different Animal
Miss Burden—I overheard that dear young man telling you I danced like a zephyr. Miss Bright—He said heifer.

A Fact
Man is like a sausage. Stuffed up in a skin, and you can't always tell how much hog is within.

Can You Remember?
When a man went to prayer meeting with his girl and got a thrill out of holding the hymn book with her. When Bryan first ran for President?

When all the women wore bustles? When a dollar was a lot of money? When a doctor carried a case of small bottles and filled his own prescriptions on the spot?

When a fellow never kissed a girl until after marriage? When real elegance was a two-seat two-horse buggy? When "Turkey in the Straw" was the most popular dance music?

When ham and eggs were twenty cents an order? When women turned a spinning wheel instead of a steering wheel? When "After the Ball" was making hearts weep all over the country?

If you can remember any of these, you're pretty darned old.

Ready to Oblige
"John, can you let me have a little money?" "Certainly, darling. How little?"

Mizzpah
Thou goest thy way, and I go mine. Apart yet not afar; Only a thin veil hangs between. The pathways where we are. "God keep watch 'tween thee and me."

This is my prayer. He looketh thy way, He looketh mine, And keeps us near.

Facts are Facts and a Policy is a Policy

But always an Insurance Policy is not a protective policy. We have had our attention called to the fact that a Mutual Fire Insurance Company with which all gin and elevator men in Texas are familiar has had a decrease in Assets from December 31, 1920 to December 31, 1922 of $156,464.25. Decrease in surplus from December 31, 1920 to December 31, 1921 of $115,370.60. With these figures at hand and future prospects not bright, how long will it be until an assessment will be necessary? Some policy-holder will get "stung." Is it right to rob Peter in order to pay Paul? It is up to you to study fundamentals and insure in a RELIABLE COMPANY.

THINK IT OVER—INSURE TODAY IN A RELIABLE COMPANY.

MAN TO DIE TODAY IS BAPTIZED IN BATH TUB

Belton, Texas, April 13.—George F. Hornsby condemned to die on the gallows tomorrow for the murder of L. M. Westberry of Brownwood on October 1, 1920, was baptized in the county jail here this afternoon by Rev. Ross A. Marcus, pastor of the First Christian church. Hornsby requested administration of the spiritual rites upon his return from the Travis County jail in custody of Rangers today. A bath tub in the jail was converted into a baptistry, where the sacred service was held. The prisoner broke down during the ceremony, and weeping bitterly, protested his innocence. He was, however, composed, however, and talked without any show of nervousness over the fate the morrow holds in store. He ate heartily three times today and congratulated the Sheriff upon the meals prepared.

I. F. Holland, deputy County Tax Assessor, was out of town the most of last week in the interest of the Tax Assessor. He reports conditions through the country as fine, and never have we had a better prospect for a banner crop as we have this year. The farmers are all in the best of spirits, and are entering their work with enthusiasm.

However, the slogan is not only to make Lubbock Beautiful—but to keep Lubbock Beautiful and throughout the year this will be the plan of the Civic League, which work may be accomplished only thru co-operation of every citizen of Lubbock. Remember the date, April 29—Clean Up Campaign.

TWO PLAYS THIS YEAR
 Premier Circuit Chautauqua to have "Friendly Enemies" and "Turn To The Right."
 Charles F. Horner is presenting to the patrons of the Premier Circuit this year two plays instead of one as heretofore. Either of these would prove of tremendous success, but in offering two plays to Chautauqua patrons Mr. Horner has taken a step that has been unheard of heretofore in Chautauqua business.
 "Turn to the Right" has been called the greatest comedy ever produced in America.
 "Friendly Enemies" made an impression in England which equalled that created in America and it is without doubt the greatest comedy drama produced since the beginning of the War. It is not a War Play.
 Louis Mann and Sam Bernard appeared in the original cast of "Friendly Enemies" at its first production in Washington, when the President of the United States was in the audience and made a speech following the play, in which he commended it to every American.

SIXTEEN YEARS IN FRONT RANKS
 No doubt you are interested in knowing the reason for giving the name THE PREMIER CHAUTAUQUAS to that circuit of which your town is a part.
 Sixteen years ago there were being made the first well defined efforts to arrange a number of towns in a circuit for the purpose of supplying them with a first class Chautauqua Program.
Circuits the Great Southwest
 There were two circuits formed, one in Iowa, and one in this southwest territory. The latter was the circuit on which your own town now has a place. It was one of the first two circuits, and it was named THE PREMIER CIRCUIT.
 In these sixteen years it has been the leading circuit in the United States, and the only one of its class in the western part of the United States, including Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Colorado, New Mexico, and states west.
First in Excellence
 Not only is it a Premier or First Circuit in point of history, but it is the best circuit in type of towns served and in excellence of program rendered.
 There are many Chautauquas in the whole United States. However, there is none better, and there are only two or three others that are considered to be in the same class with this PREMIER CIRCUIT, and there is none other in this section of the country that can approach it for cost, service rendered, quality of cities visited, and general excellence of its program.
Best in the Country
 So, with your town a member of the PREMIER CHAUTAUQUA CIRCUIT you have the very satisfactory assurance that you have the very best that the country affords.

A GIRL'S FACE IS HER FORTUNE

Because it is the greatest of all womanly charms, a skin which is fresh, smooth, and alluring with the radiance of health, predicts a happy future.

Don't be content to have a lifeless, sallow and bluish complexion—begin at once to remedy these defects.

Every girl can have a beautiful attractive skin if she will only learn to give it proper care.

Thorough cleaning with a fine mild soap once a day, is the secret. Cold cream is beneficial when applied to a clean skin, and rouge and powder are harmless beautifiers—but start clean every day on a clean foundation.

Keep your skin active and it will be clear, fresh, youthful and attractive.

Soap to be thorough need not be harsh. The mildest toilet soap is the most thorough of cleansers, as you will know after you try Palmolive.

Its mildness and thoroughness are due to the same source—the scientific blending of Palm and Olive oils, the natural cleansers discovered thousands of years ago in ancient Egypt and made use of by Cleopatra.

Palmolive freshens, livenes and stimulates the skin, leaving it delightfully fresh and rosy.

You can buy Palmolive Soap at all first class groceries and drug stores.
