

Hereford C. of C. Would Organize All Plains Club

Hereford, Texas, April 26.—The Hereford Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the movement for the organization and perfection of the plans for the Sulphur Park Country Club being organized here. This wonderful club is to be located on the waters of the Frio and Tierra Blanca Creeks, four miles east of the city of Hereford. 1,200 acres of land have been secured as a site. Two miles of everlasting running water flow through the creeks. Excellent fishing is at hand. There are now a number of trees along the banks and there are more than 300 acres of sub-irrigated land where trees and shrubbery may be grown in abundance. Members will be accepted from all parts of the Plains country. More than 400 members will be included when all of the stock has been sold. Already 250 shares are in the hands of the purchasers. The organization of this splendid country club, is says the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, but another evidence of the great cultural advancement of West Texas. Country Clubs, Golf Clubs, play ground movements and other kindred cultural projects have been or now being projected in more than 25 West Texas towns and cities. Some really handsome and excellent buildings have been constructed for many of these different projects.

INDIGESTION AND CONSTIPATION

"Prior to using Chamberlain's Tablets, I suffered dreadfully from indigestion. Nothing I ate agreed with me and I lost flesh and ran down in health. Chamberlain's Tablets strengthened my digestion and cured me of constipation," writes Mrs. George Stroup, Solvay, N. Y.

Money in It—Build a Hen House

What is nicer than a rosy combed flock of hens, singing "Cut-cut-Connecticut. Just laid an egg and I'm proud of it"—and eggs worth 40c a dozen.

We'll guarantee the above pictured hen house to put any flock of hens in a good humor—but you must do more.

Cull your flock—examine the hens and select the good layers, its easy to do, but if you don't know ask your county agent. Get rid of the loafers.

Select the pullets from eggs of good layers—the cockerell too, and hatch them early. They will lay good the first winter if well grown before cold weather.

Feed well, of course, but make them work for it. Keep them busy—get them off the roost early with artificial light if you like to experiment—and see us for poultry house plans and just the right lumber to build them.

We have several modern up to date plans to show you any time you will stop in—you incur no obligations.

CAMPBELL SAYS HE IS LIKE A BRAND NEW MAN

He Has Never Seen Anything To Equal the Way Tanlac Built Him UP, Declares Houston Man.

"It's a mystery to me what was the matter with me, but whatever it was was very serious and Tanlac is the only thing that has ever done me any good," said Jerry P. Campbell, 3402 Center St., Houston, Texas.

"Nothing I ate agreed with me and I had frequent headaches, my back across my kidneys hurt me dreadfully and I had an intense pain in my left side all the time. I tried everything and cut my diet down to almost nothing. I was operated on twice, too, but I still continued to go down hill.

"Since taking Tanlac I am like a different man. I eat anything I want, never have a headache and that awful pain is gone out of my side. Another fine thing is that I never have in my life seen anything to equal the way Tanlac is building me up."

Tanlac is sold at all leading drug stores.

SOLDIER BONUS HITS ANOTHER SNAG

Washington, April 24.—Soldier bonus legislation struck another snag today when representatives of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars were informed by the Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee that President Harding's opposition to the bill would prevent its passage in its present form.

Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion, and R. C. Woodside, commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, had previously told the Republican committee members that the House bill was acceptable to the ex-service men they represented.

People Should Not Jump Into The Poultry Business Without First Making Preparation Thoughtful Study

Many people are today turning their attention to poultry farming. Some are planning on developing back yard poultry keeping. Some farm poultry keeping, and a few are venturing into the more hazardous phase, specialized poultry keeping. I shall make an effort to discuss each separately.

Many people go into the poultry business who are not going to make a success. They are absolutely uninformed in the business. Many have never seen more than 100 chickens at one time. These people have a jumped-up enthusiasm that soon vanishes. They are not (sure enough) poultry enthusiasts. One little rough place knocks the foundation out and they quit.

Here is an illustration: A man this Spring suddenly became a poultry enthusiast. He bought 1,000 day-old chicks and tried to brood them in a make-shift brooder. Everything went along fine until one cold and wet spell. The make-shift brooder went wrong. The chicks got chilled and soon nearly all were dead. Our poultry enthusiast was sick of the chicken business. He lost about $300 of hard earned money. Whose fault was it? No one's but his own. He did not understand the business. He should have realized that there is only one way to making a safe start and that is on a small scale and grow up with the business.

Back Yard Poultry
Back yard poultry keeping from the market standpoint cannot be developed profitably. For the production of market table eggs and chickens a back yard cannot be profitably kept. Most back yard poultry keepers have too many fowls. They overcrowd the yards and houses. That soon leads to poultry diseases of all kinds.

I know many back yard poultry breeders who are very successful and derive considerable profit from their flocks. They raise only the very finest grade of stock. Instead of selling cockerels for $2.50 each, they sell them for $25 and $50 each, at the same cost of feed and labor. If you wish to build up a profitable back yard poultry flock select a good breed. Buy the very best foundation stock you can get and raise a small number of exceptionally fine birds, that you can sell for fancy prices. In order to do this it is necessary for you to study the business and try showing and advertising. Keep your stock before the public. In this way it is possible to make a back yard flock of twenty or maybe twenty-five hens return a net profit of from $500 to $1000 per year. These results must not be expected the first year, but only after one has mastered the science and art of poultry keeping.

The back yard flock can be fed on many things that would otherwise go to waste around the home. The eggs they produce are perfectly fresh and cannot be questioned, like eggs purchased from the store. Sometimes the back yard flock is the only insurance for fresh laid eggs in the Fall and Winter.

We know of cases where the eggs produced by back yard flocks cost more than $1 per dozen for feed and labor. In such instances back yard poultry keeping is not profitable.

This condition, however, only exists where faulty management is practiced.

Farm Poultry Keeping
The farm is the ideal place for chickens. That is where they belong and where they will do the best. Whenever it is necessary to yard chickens very closely, sooner or later trouble begins. The eggs will not hatch as well, the chicks won't do as well and the hens won't lay as well.

Farm poultry keeping has unlimited opportunities and as yet few Texas farmers have realized the great money making possibilities. Few farmers have realized that 200 good hens, (average stock on the average West and North Texas farm can easily return a net profit of $400 per year. In one year this sum may appear insignificant, but on the basis of farming twenty years it would amount to the neat sum of $8,000 without compounding the interest. This is much more than 50 per cent of the farmers have after they have tried to farm for twenty years. This farm flock of chickens is an economical necessity on every farm. Keeping 200 hens does not mean to reduce any of the other farm operations. It takes little if any more time to take care of 200 hens than it does fifty hens. Cheap houses may be used. There is no question in my mind but what the farm hen is the greatest asset on any farm. She is the greatest money maker. She is the most efficient transformer of raw material into finished product. With all due allowance to her worthy competitor, the cow.

Farm poultry keeping is the safest branch for farming in West Texas. Farm poultry keeping involves but small risk, and only little investment.

A farm flock of 200 hens on a farm will buy all the groceries and clothing for a family of five. It will pay for many home conveniences like electric light plants, sewing machines, washing machines, home water system, etc., sewer system and even paint the house. We repeat, that the farm poultry flock is the backbone of West Texas farming, and the sooner our farmers realize that fact the better. Place 200 standard bred hens on your farm and let them work for you, rain or shine. Every day in the year, including Sundays and holiday. The farm poultry flock is a busy machine. Often transforms waste products into reliable finished products like eggs and broilers.

A net profit of $2 per hen kept under farm conditions is a low average. Many flocks exceed this by a great deal.

Specialized Poultry
The last few years many people have gone into commercial poultry farming, especially around Fort Worth and Dallas. No doubt it is true that these big cities furnish an excellent market for large numbers of eggs and chickens. An experienced man or woman can safely invest in a small poultry farm, but an inexperienced person will waste money going into extensive poultry keeping. Many people at Fort Worth and Dallas are contemplating a small one-acre, two-acre or five-acre poultry farm, somewhere between or near to these two great and growing cities of Texas. I can only say to them if you are inexperienced, go slow. Very slow, or even slower. If you don't, disappointment is most certainly ahead of you. To my mind there is no better place for specialized poultry farming than in the territory of these two cities. To my mind there is room for several hundred of these small specialized poultry farms.

In some localities, so-called poultry communities are being developed. This is about the only safe place for inexperienced men and women who are interested in specialized poultry farming. I have in mind one place between these two great cities where at present they are busy planning a community hatchery and marketing organization to help those who are establishing poultry farms. This solves their incubation and marketing problems. An outlet is assured them for their products. They can get a start by buying these chicks from the community hatchery. Several experts are available to give personal aid without charge. Under such conditions an inexperienced person has a much better chance to win success. I can only repeat to the inexperienced person make haste slowly. Do not rush into it without some experience. Start small and grow up with the business. It absolutely is a mistake to begin on a large scale.

The man who wishes a comfortable suburban home with a good income, the one, two and five-acre farms are ideal. He may rest assured success is his if he has, or in some way has got the experience that is necessary to make a success of anything. I am not going to give any figures regarding the possible profits from commercial poultry farming, for fear I may be mistaken. All I can say is that I am doing commercial poultry farming devoting all my time to it, making a little more than a comfortable living.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GOW'S TASTELESS SAFE TONIC, given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or digest the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. Six per bottle.

RAIN REPORTS FROM ALL OVER WEST TEXAS INDICATES THAT THERE IS PLENTY OF MOISTURE

Heavy rain fell over a large portion of the Panhandle and South Plains Sunday night, and rains ranging from one-eighth to two and one-half inches were reported from all sections of the Panhandle and portions of Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Rainfall at Amarillo registered 1.10 inches, according to the United States weather station, and Monday was cloudy, and threatening practically all day.

Reports from the several railroads serving this section indicate that the rain was heaviest in the Panhandle and immediate vicinity of Amarillo. From one-half inch to one and a half inches was reported from Clovis to Panhandle on the Santa Fe; one inch from Panhandle to Mendota, and two and a half inches from Mendota to Fargo, Okla. At Sudan, on the Santa Fe cut-off near Farwell, the rain was reported very heavy. One inch and one-half was reported at Canyon, one-eighth at Kress, one-half at Tulia, one-half at Muleshoe, one-fourth to one inch from Justiceburg to Sweetwater. On the Pecos division of the Santa Fe, three-fourths inch was reported from Clovis to Roswell, New Mexico, and from Otis to Carlsbad, one-half inch was reported.

was recently planted, will especially benefit. Much winter wheat will also make a big yield. Hale county farmers are planting much cotton and row crops since the rains of two weeks ago.

Rain At Hale Center.
Hale Center, April 24.—A general rain has been falling here since 8 o'clock last night and is still falling. A good wheat crop is assured. Stockmen as well as farmers and business men are much elated.

No Rain at Nacogdoches.
Nacogdoches, April 24.—No rains since last Tuesday. Roads in fair condition.

Rain at Floydada.
Floydada, April 24.—Floydada had three-quarters of an inch of rain Sunday night. It rained at intervals all day Monday. Rain was of great value to growing crops.

San Saba Visited.
San Saba, April 24.—A good rain, which will be of great benefit to crops and ranges, has been falling since 11 o'clock.

Anson Crops Benefitted.
Anson, April 24.—About 1.70 inches of rain fell here Saturday night and Sunday morning. This rain, following the recent rains, makes a good season for Spring crops. Farmers are especially optimistic. All lines of business will benefit by the rains. A large percentage of the row crops has been planted and cotton planting will be started as soon as the ground is dry enough.

The rain fell slowly unaccompanied by wind or electrical disturbance.

Over Two Inches at Westbrook.
Westbrook, April 24.—Two and one-half inches of rain fell here Saturday night, which farmers say was much needed, as much seed that has been planted would not come up without additional moisture. Grass is coming fine.

Two Inches at Sylvester.
Sylvester, April 24.—About four and one-half inches of rain fell here Saturday night and Sunday morning. It was the heaviest rain in two or three years. Considerable cotton had been planted, which will have to be replanted, as it was covered deep and the hard rain packed the ground.

Slow Rain at Alvord.
Alvord, April 24.—A nice, easy, continuous rain fell here Sunday from about 8 in the morning until after 12 o'clock. Several fine rains have fallen here during the past thirty days, but this one was the best of all. Coming without wind and falling slowly, it has been absorbed by the earth. Gardens in this section are looking fine, and this rain will be a great boost to the splendid stands of corn reported by the farmers.

Good Season at Quanah.
Quanah, April 24.—A perfect planting season in the result of rains yesterday and today. It is still raining.

Three Inches at Clarendon.
Clarendon, April 24.—The biggest rain of the season fell here last night, the amount being 3.6 inches, and is still raining this morning.

Fine Prospects at Loraine.
Loraine, April 24.—Saturday night and early Sunday morning Loraine and vicinity received a rain varying from one-half to one and one-half inches. The rain fell slowly and the soil received the full benefit. Crop prospects were never better.

Small Grain Helped.
Lockney, April 24.—More than an inch of rain fell here last night and it is still raining this morning. This will put wheat and oats in good condition. The rain covered a large area and will insure fine grass.

Dollar Day!

Monday, May 1, 1922

The last Dollar Day was by far the best success we have had. We think the reason is the fact that so many of our customers have learned that our Dollar Day is the one day each month to buy Real Bargains. You will not be disappointed this time. Look over the few items listed below and be on hand Monday to enjoy the feast. Your friends and neighbors will be there—you can't afford to miss it.

Inch at Hartley.
Hartley, April 24.—A one-inch general rain fell here last night.

Rain Aid to Crops.
Ballinger, April 24.—This county was visited by a good rain last night. Farmers had been busy with a week's planting and the rain came in time to bring up the crops and keep the rapid growth of the range up. The county already has forgotten the nine months' drought which ended on April 7, and prospects are all that the farmers can wish for.

Colorado is Rising.
Colorado, April 24.—Rainfall Saturday night totaled one and one-half inches. The Colorado River here is rising.

Gardens Aided.
Breckenridge, April 24.—A fine rain fell for twelve hours, beginning at 2 yesterday morning. Precipitation is above two inches. All gardens and small grain crops are looking fine. The thermometer stands at 60 degrees.

Rain at Stamford.
Stamford, April 24.—2.03 inches of rain fell here during the early hours Sunday morning, with the weather unsettled. The rain did not go west as far as Spur, but general in other directions. The rain came in good time here, as the farmers were about through with planting, and were beginning to need rain. The rain will be worth millions to this section of the state.

Fisher Gets Rain.
Rotan, April 24.—At least a half-inch of rain has fallen over Fisher county in the past twenty-four hours, with prospects for more.

Slow Fall at Baird.
Baird, April 24.—A slow, driving rain of about one inch fell generally over Callahan county this morning. It will be of great benefit to the farmers. The rain that accompanied the late tornado was so delugic that a large portion of it drained to the lowlands and the uplands soon dried out. Today's rain fell slowly and soaked into the ground.

Big Rain at Breckenridge.
Breckenridge, April 24.—Rain has been falling for two days constantly and for the first time in more than two years Walker street in the business section is muddy enough to bog a wagon. It required eleven hours for a local service car to make the trip between here and Mineral Wells yesterday. It is ordinarily a three-hour trip.

Two Inches at Brady.
Brady, April 24.—Another timely rain covered this entire section at noon today, two inches falling in a period of about an hour and a half. All creeks are reported bank full and Brady Creek is on a rise. The rain came at a most opportune time. Corn and feed planted after the big rain of three weeks ago are already up and practically all the farmers have their land ready to begin planting cotton.

PREVENTATIVE MEDICINE

The tendency of medical science is toward preventative measures. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. Pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, often follows a cold or attack of the grip. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the pneumonia germ. The longer the cold hangs on, the greater the danger. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the first indication of a cold appears so as to get rid of it with the least possible delay. It is folly to risk an attack of pneumonia when this remedy may be obtained for a trifle.

BAPTIST REVIVAL AT FLOYDADA IS CLOSED

Floydada, April 25.—The revival meeting at the Baptist Church which has been in progress for the last two weeks under the leadership of Rev. Frank Nix of Portales, closed Sunday night. There were twenty-seven conversions during the meeting, besides a number of recommitments. Sixteen people were baptized Sunday afternoon by Rev. J. Pat Horton, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Rev. Nix left for his home at Portales Monday morning.

The Farmers Are Not Getting Fair Deal On the Freight Rates, Says Transportation Investigation Com.

Washington, April 22.—Transportation rates on products of agriculture as on many commodities now bear a disproportionate relation to the price of such commodities, and should be reduced immediately, according to findings of the joint congressional commission of agricultural inquiry, announced today by Chairman Anderson.

Not only should these freight rates come down, the report declared, but in the future rate-making bodies and railroad traffic officers should give greater consideration to the relative value of commodities in the making of rates, and let existing charges on high priced finished products stand, if necessary to remove cost burdens from basic materials.

Exhaustive review of the transportation situation has convinced the commission chairman Anderson said, that "pyramided advances" of the freight rates during the war and following years "caused dislocation between rates on agricultural and industrial products and between competitive enterprises and competitive territories," which dislocation should now be removed. The object of rate making bodies should be, he said, "to readjust rates so far as practical to the relationship existing prior to 1918."

Rates Disproportionate
Effects of freight rates are emphasized, it was said, because on perishables, "they amount normally to one-third of the selling price, and frequently two-thirds," and "purchasers and farmers are dependent in a marked degree upon transportation charges" in prices. They generally result in increased railroad rates and depressed commodity prices was to bring railroad rates on farm products in October 1921, to an index average of 169, or roughly sixty-nine per cent over pre-war levels while farm products stood at 102, or barely two per cent above pre-war.

The commission advanced three specific proposals to better transportation service for farmers, the first being the enlargement of "competitive avenues of distribution through which the largest number of consumers can reasonably be reached," the second was the extension of through rates on grain "to points of consumption through two or more competition primary markets," and the third the extension of the principle that coarse grains, such as corn, should take lower charges than breadstuffs. Adequate car equipment should also be maintained, it was added.

Impositions Hit
Further, the commission found that livestock shows "marked fluctuations on the shipment volume" and that railroad stock yards and shippers should co-operate to even out the supply at market points, thus preventing price and charge impositions, while hay, as the bulk-iest farm commodity, required a reduction in both freight and sales margin before there can be resumption of normal shipments." Costs of livestock distribution also must be brought down, it was held.

On dairies products and on cotton the commission concluded that freight charges had not had so serious an effect as upon some other farm stuffs and as to wool, Mr. Anderson remarked that its price "to the producer has been depressed somewhat by freight rates, but primarily by disorderly and unscientific marketing."

As to lumber, it was suggested that railroads could "better afford assessment of relatively higher rates on short haul business to give needed relief to long haul traffic," while petroleum products were found to be influenced "little if at all" by the freight exactions. Dry goods and other commodities were in this category too, in the commissioner's expressed opinion.

MOTHER OF J. A. WILSON DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Mary A. Wilson, died at Englewood, California, April 23, 1922, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the age of 76 years. Mrs. Wilson was formerly Miss Mary McCorkle, born in Indiana in 1846, moved to Iowa with her parents when a very small girl, in which state she met and was married to Mr. Wilson. About 45 years ago they moved to Boulder, Colorado, where they lived for 19 years, after which time they moved to Lubbock, where they remained only one year, going from here to Alvin, Texas. From there they moved to Roswell, New Mexico, where they were located for a number of years, when they went back to Colorado, where Mr. Wilson died. The next several years Mrs. Wilson has spent with her eldest daughter in California, at which place she died.

Mrs. Wilson is survived by nine children. One son and one daughter reside in California; two sons and one daughter in Colorado; one son in Arizona; one daughter in Iowa; a son in Albuquerque, New Mexico, and a son, J. A. Wilson of Lubbock. She has been a member of the Methodist church for the greater part of her life and lived a consistent, consecrated Christian life.

The message of death came to Mr. Wilson here as a very great shock and surprise, as he had a letter from her only a day or two prior to receiving the sad news, saying that she was recovering from a recent cold, and was about able to be up again. But she was taken with a serious attack of pneumonia, after writing the letter, to which she succumbed very suddenly. On account of the distance and sudden news of her death, Mr. Wilson was unable to attend the funeral.

Burial took place at the Englewood Cemetery.

Mrs. Wilson was well known to many of our people, and has a host of friends who extend heartfelt sympathies to the bereaved in this sad hour.

LOCAL ITEMS FROM THE LORENZO ENTERPRISE

Deputy Sheriff Dillard and Constable Welch went out somewhere near here last Saturday afternoon and dug up a portion of a still. The can was of ten gallon capacity but a portion of the essentials such as worm, etc. were missing. The officer has refused to make known the place where the still was found and are endeavoring to find out to whom it belonged.

The Estacado and Lorenzo senior boys played ball on the Lorenzo court, Trades Day, Monday April 17th. Both teams were full of pep and put up some excellent work considering the fact that they had had absolutely no practice to speak of since last year. The game was highly enjoyed by at least four or five hundred spectators, a great portion of whom, however, were school children. The results were in favor of Lorenzo, the score being 10 to 3. J. P. Boyd is remodeling his home this week and is adding on two more rooms. He has turned the present house around to face the North and will enlarge the house from 14x28 to 26x28. Mr. J. C. Mitchell has the contract for the job. All the merchants of Lorenzo have agreed that beginning with the first week they will close their places of business each evening at 6:30 o'clock, except on Saturdays and trades days.

The repair crew of the Fuller Cotton Oil Company which has been here for the past week will go to Ralls and Crosbyton, where they will do repair work for Fuller until new machinery arrives here at which time they will return and install same.

Some time Saturday morning Le Roy Huckabay found quite an assortment of men's clothing in the attic of the school building here. He was sweeping and cleaning up the building when he went to the attic for some needed article and found the clothing, consisting of overalls, trousers, etc. amounting to about ten or fifteen dollars worth. The boy notified his father Mr. Ed Huckabay, who immediately let the find be known. Lorenzo merchants then began to look over their stock. Mr. Howell of the Lorenzo Cash discovered that some articles were missing and identified the goods. It can not be easily determined just when the goods were taken as the store was not broken into. So far the official have not been able to determine who the thieves are, but believe it to be local talent.

With the new issue of Treasury Savings Certificates, registered series, yielding a higher rate of interest—if held until maturity—than any obtainable on the market, investments in these securities locally are perceptibly increasing, according to Postmaster H. Held for a period of five years, Treasury Savings Certificates return a total yield of 25 per cent for the period; or, in other words, every dollar invested in this security increases itself by one-fourth in five years," the postmaster pointed out. "The following tabulation gives investment yield information in Treasury Savings Certificates asked for almost daily by patrons of this office: $4,000 invested in Treasury Savings Certificates purchased five of the $1,000 Certificates and be-

IF YOU WANT GOOD PEACHES SPRAY; SAYS J. W. STUBENRANCH; CONSIDERED GOOD AUTHORITY

What are our prospects for a crop of peaches? The cold blow of the 1st and 2nd of March played quite some havoc with many fruit buds, especially on old trees that had become enfeebled by the long drouth, as well as from overbearing and more or less neglect last year. There is always a deficiency of vitality in a neglected tree. Permitting a tree to overbear, particularly in a dry year, will often prove the cause of its death. There is not a tree that responds more quickly to good treatment and that is more quickly injured by neglect than the peach. That should ever be borne in mind. The hardest of all, of course, are the old time Indians. I had some of them just starting to bloom at the time of the freeze and but little injury resulted. While those old-timers are hardy in bud, they are, however, no freer from attacks by the curculio, (worms) scab and brown rot than are any others. And being generally of an inferior quality, it is not profitable to plant many of them, especially since we have many much better peaches that bloom later and for this reason prove to be equally hardy and successful. In the writer's orchard, the damage by the cold amounts to but little. On some of the oldest trees, the buds were severely thinned, but there are enough left for a fair crop, barring accidents from now on. On trees just in their prime, (seven years old) no damage to speak of resulted, and the way it appears now, there will have to be a lot of thinning done again, as usual.

Does Not Grow Elberta.
I do not grow any Elberta peaches nowadays, having found them years ago to be much more tender and less profitable than others of same season. The peach I grow in the place of it is the "Tena." It is a cross of the Mamie Ross with a superior Elberta. It is also a large yellow freestone, has better color than the Elberta, is much firmer and of better quality. While the fruit ripens with the Elberta and is of the Elberta color, the bloom is the same as the Mamie Ross, large, white and opening late at about the same time with Carman. The trees are just now, April 3, in full bloom. None of the buds of this peach were hurt by the cold.

Making Tree Selections.
In making selections for planting especially for marketing purposes, it is ever well to have an eye to late bloomers, because they very often escape injury from cold when many earlier bloomers go under. We have, for instance, the Carman, Swan and Victor. They are always on the job, because they bloom out late, when danger from cold is generally past. Among my new varieties there are a number more late bloomers. One is a sister of Tena, in all respects the same, only ripening about ten days later.

From the foregoing it might appear that we are in the swim, have a fine crop in sight, etc. This would be true, if it were not for various other drawbacks we have to contend with. For the last two years, curculio, scab and brown rot have gotten a good foothold in our orchards, and it now appears unless we make a strong fight, by repeated thorough sprayings, we can no longer expect much of a success. Fully realizing this condition, we have prepared to start the fight with the first spraying with milk of lime and arsenate of lead, for the curculio, as soon as the blossoms have fallen. About three weeks later, we aim to give a dose of lime-sulphur with more arsenate of lead for the scab. This is a skin disease, often causing the skin to crack, which is then an invitation for the brown rot. A third spraying will be given about a month before the ripening of the fruit; this for the purpose of controlling the brown rot. The arsenate of lead will be omitted from the lime-sulphur solution for this last dose.

They are having the same trouble in other states that we are having with peaches here. But by close attention to spraying and giving trees proper cultivation, etc., they have overcome these obstacles and are producing profitable crops. We can do the same in Texas if we but will. We have today better markets for peaches right in our own state than we ever had. There are more peach-hungry people who are willing to pay a good price for good fruit than we ever had before. For the benefit of you readers, I am to keep close data and will report results of operations at the close of the season.

Watch For Blight.
Growers of fruits for the home should watch their fruit trees carefully and be ready at any time to take heroic measures to prevent trouble with the trees. In the case of pear blight, the first appearance of it should be enough to cause the grower to cut out the blight and burn the blighted twigs and old branches. It does not make any difference what season of the year blight appears, it should be cut out and all diseased parts of the tree taken off and burned.

One of the worst forms of the blight is twig blight. This has been noticeable more in wet seasons than in dry seasons, and sometimes pear trees and apple trees are almost ruined by it before the grower notices it. It is likely to begin on the tips of the branches and the leaves soon wither and the wood near the end of the branches die.

When one finds this condition he should get his pruning equipment and clip off the diseased twigs, disinfecting the pruning knife each time, then the twigs that have been cut off, should be gathered at once and burned.

Next Week National Health Week; Lubbock to Hold Free Dental-Medical Clinic For the School Children During Week

In as much as next week has been designated as National Health Week, and the fact that different clubs and organizations of Lubbock that interest themselves in child welfare have long felt the need of free dental and medical examinations for the school children, the Parent-Teachers' and Twentieth Century Clubs, together with the Red Cross, have joined forces in an effort to secure such a clinic, whereby every school child may obtain free of charge a thorough examination and written report of the condition of eyes, nose, throat and teeth.

At the request of these organizations the dentists and doctors of the town have offered their time and services free and it is hoped that all parents will see that their children do not miss this opportunity, for it is a well known fact that many people of all classes and financial conditions go through the world suffering and handicapped and unable to make the best of themselves and of life, simply because of some physical defect of which they were not aware. The late war brought this unfortunate truth home to us and taught us that the fact that we have no definite pain is no assurance that all is well with our imperfect bodies. It is doubtless true that many of our boys who went down in that awful conflict of strength and endurance would be with us today had their parents had such an opportunity of knowing and correcting their physical defects as will be offered to the parents of the children of the Lubbock Schools next week.

Definite plans as to time and place have not yet been decided upon, but will be made known as soon as they can be arranged.

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup. 11-4

Late Ambassador Says Can't Trust Russia or Germany

America's Last Ambassador to Russia, former Chief of United States Mission which recognized Republic of Russia; also former Mayor of St. Louis, Governor of Missouri, and Secretary of the Interior.

St. Louis, April 25.—The signing of a treaty between Germany and Russia was no surprise to me. My book "Russia From the American Embassy," shows that Lenin was a German agent and was sent to Russia for the purpose of demoralizing the Russian army and withdrawing Russia from the World War.

Many times, while ambassador, I recommended that the Bolshevik Soviet government be deposed because it was an ally of the Central Empires, with which the entente was at war.

Further more I predicted that, if Germany got control of Russia she would organize Russia's man power and utilize Russia's immense resources to begin another war within ten years.

I would not trust Germany or the Bolshevik Soviet government, as I feel they would not respect their agreements if it was to their interest to violate them.

I am glad the American government is not participating in the Geneva conference. Not that I am opposed to the United States aiding in reconstructing Europe economically and financially.

But I think it would be a mistake for the United States to recognize even a de facto government the Russian Bolshevik Soviet regime, or do anything to strengthen that government—beside which the horrors of the French revolution, compared with Bolshevik excesses, pale into moderation.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES

Apricot Marmalade.
Soak two pounds dried apricots in four quarts of water over night. Stew up, add five pounds sugar, cook until thick. Add juice of two lemons, one-eighth pound almonds, blanched and shredded. Put in jelly glasses and cover with paraffin. This is delicious, not expensive, for it makes about twenty glasses and can be made anytime during the year, especially in the spring when the winter supply of jam and jellies are gone.

Jellied Fruit Salad.
Take three cups mixed fruit, fresh or canned, cut in small pieces. Oranges, grapefruit, pineapple and bananas make a good combination. Cherries, peaches or grapes, if accessible, are also delicious. Soak two tablespoons gelatin into one-half cup cold water, add three cups boiling water or part water and part fruit juices (taken from canned fruit), one-half cup vinegar, juice of two lemons, one-half cup sugar. Strain on to fruit and mold. This served on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise makes a very refreshing and hearty salad. This recipe makes a large quantity but it keeps several days where it is cold and it is economy of time and labor to make a full rule. For it can be served as a dessert by topping with whipped cream.

Stuffed Pork Spareribs, with Cinnamon Apples.
Take two meaty spareribs about the same size. Flour and season. Make a well seasoned dressing of dried bread or for stuffing any meat or fowl. Spread on one sparerib, place other on top and sew together. Cook in double roaster three hours in moderate oven. This is very inexpensive and yet appetizing. Instead of serving apple sauce with it, make a syrup of one cup sugar, one-half cup water, stick cinnamon. Peel and core apples, cook in syrup until tender but not too soft. Serve with tenderloins.

Panned Oysters.
Clean one pint large oysters. Place dripping pan small oblong pieces of toast, put several oysters on each piece, sprinkle with salt and pepper and bake until oysters are plump. Serve with lemon butter.

Lemon Butter.
Cream two tablespoons butter, add one-quarter teaspoon salt, one teaspoon lemon juice and a few grains of cayenne pepper.

Mashed Sweet Potatoes.
Cook three good sized potatoes until soft. Force through potato ricer. Add one-quarter cup brown sugar, large lump butter, one-quarter teaspoon cinnamon, one-quarter cup of hot milk. Beat until creamy. Serve.

Tomato Jelly Salad.
To one pint can stewed and strained tomatoes, add one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon sugar, and one-third box of gelatin which has been soaked fifteen minutes in one-third cup cold water. Pour into small cups and let stand four hours to set. Serve on lettuce leaves and garnish with mayonnaise dressing.

Swiss Eggs.
In a buttered dish put a thin layer of grated cheese. On this break carefully six eggs, add one-half cup of white sauce seasoned with salt, pepper and butter. Sprinkle with grated cheese and cracker crumbs. Bake brown.

SUGGESTIONS
If you use an old cook stove you will find your iron heat better if you turn a pan over them on the stove. Use a granite pan.

Cleaning fluid for washing clothes, also for bedbugs.—One gallon hot water, one cake any good white soap, one and one-half bottles ammonia, one ounce salt-peter. For washing use one-half cup in soaking clothes, one-half cup in boiler. For bugs, put on bed.

To Take Stains Out of Clothes, use peroxide. For white clothes, wet with peroxide, let stand one-half hour then boil as usual. For colored clothes, wet with peroxide, let stand one-half hour, and wash.

WORK PROGRESSING NICELY ON ROSS HOME NEAR TOWN

Work is progressing nicely, or was up to the time of the rain Tuesday, on the cottage being built near Lubbock, at Rev. Ross' place which the people of the Lubbock District have so kindly provided for him. This will be a neat cottage, nicely finished, and comfortable when completed, and we understand it will be completed within a very short time now. It will take quite a sum of money to yet pay for the material and work in full and if anyone wishes to contribute to this worthy cause, it will be greatly appreciated.

Poultry Expert Claims West Texas Is the Coming Poultry Raising Part Of State and Shows Its Advantages

West Texas as a coming poultry section of the Southwest, it has advantages that no country has, first it is the greatest country in the world to grow feed with but little work, maize, Kaffir corn and other row crops. They grow the finest wheat in the world, the finest oats. Now think of a better advantage for a beginner starting the poultry business, nine out of ten of them fail the first year or two on account of not being able to take care of the feed bills, they will tell you there is nothing to the chicken business, it costs too much to grow them that a profit cannot be made. If I were beginning in the poultry business over I would go out to West Texas where lands are reasonable and I would buy me some land close up to a small town on account of buying it cheap enough to have enough land to grow my own feed and be handy to express and postoffice. The chicken business is no good miles out in the country, away from the express and postoffices. Your orders must all come by mail and delivery by mail and express. The extra cost of land close to a large city would do lots of advertising. Just a few days ago a school teacher visited me and wanted to talk poultry with me. He said I am a chicken crank, I cannot help it, I want to get me about 200 day old chicks of White Leghorns and start me a poultry farm and supply the hotels in Dallas and Fort Worth with fresh eggs. I told him he was on the wrong road, to start a market poultry farm he should have several thousand White Leghorns. He would have to build houses that would cost him hundreds of dollars and his land would cost him money. I advised him that I did not want to keep him out of the poultry business by this talk, but my advice would be to him to go out West and get him a school in some small town and at the edge of town buy him a few acres of land, build him some small hen houses and start a Standard Bred poultry business and grow into anything he wanted to grow into. He could keep on teaching and in the evenings and mornings take care of a nice flock of high class birds, he could run trap nests and get records on his birds, so when he did want to start an egg farm he would have the foundation layers to start and know the records of hens to breed his egg farm birds from. He would be in a country where feed was cheap and lots of the best kinds. He could, when his business was large enough, send his eggs in to the markets from most any point for less express than it would cost him to freight his feed from the west, back to east Texas to feed his birds.

I am glad to see the West Texas Chamber of Commerce work for the poultry business in West Texas like they are, it is a good move, they are the Association that can put the industry over in a large way. I like to talk to bankers in West Texas and hear their praise of what poultry is doing for the country. Poultry is making money in West Texas for most all the farmers. It gives them money every week in the entire year. Bankers and business men back it up, farmers are interested in poultry. If you don't believe me attend a poultry show in West Texas and see the crowds it brings to the town. I judged several shows in West Texas this year, and am still judging them and not a town or show have I judged but what it is a job to get room and light to judge on account of the large crowds. The farmers like poultry, and they take out and visit the shows. Just a few days ago I noticed an article from Col. R. L. Pen-ick of Stamford. He told of what poultry was doing for West Texas. Mr. Penick is a business man that knows. He has been in business for years in West Texas and has learned that the fellow on the farm that keeps good chickens can pay his debts. Out at Plainview, Texas, take one of the best banks in the town, and there is E. J. Morehead and James Anderson, both in the poultry business. They are bankers and good ones at that. They are poultry breeders and good ones at that. Take Monday, Texas. Here you will find Edwin Heald, a banker in the poultry business. He breeds high class birds, he talks more poultry to the farmers gets out and puts on poultry shows. Go to Wichita Falls, and there is Floyd Billingsby, a banker in the poultry business and running the poultry show. Fred Weeks, the best lawyer in Texas, at Wichita Falls, in the poultry business. I could go right on and tell you of many more, but this is enough to carry my point that West Texas is a poultry country when you find men like these running and backing an industry. Go out West beginner, and you cotton farmer that wants to live easy the rest of your days, and start a business that will take care of you—start a poultry business. Get standard bred poultry to begin with and don't start large, but start advertising with the business and you will make money from the beginning. It is a paying business. I know for I am in it. West Texas is the place to start—feeds are cheap and lots of it of all kinds.

"DIXIE" PLAYED BY 1,500 MUSICIANS

The stirring strains of "Dixie" should be heard for miles when the massed bands which are to assemble at Dallas during Durbar Week play that favorite air in the evening concert in front of the Grand Staid at Fair Park, on the opening night of the festival, Monday, May 22.

It is stated that at least fifty bands will enter the championship contest in the afternoon and all of them will play in the night concert. As the average number of men in each band will be 30, it is assumed that at least 1,500 musicians will participate—the largest number of instrumentalists ever brought together in the Southwest, it is claimed.

The afternoon-championship contest is attracting much attention. The prizes are said to range from a silver trophy and $400 in cash for the top prize down to $25.00 for the lowest prize in the easiest class. The premium list totals over $1,750.

Orient Railroad to Get a New Lease On Life and Contract Will Extend Time Two and a Half Years

Judge W. A. Wright is empowered to enter into an agreement with W. T. Kemper, receiver of the Orient Railroad, extending the time for the return of the line's offices to San Angelo two years and a half from the time Judge Wright conferred with Mr. Kemper. That was the answer of the Board of City Development Friday morning to Mr. Wright's report on his conference a week ago last Thursday with Mr. Kemper at Hot Springs.

Action of the Board, of which 8 members were present, was taken following the report of Mr. Wright that it was his firm belief that Mr. Kemper honestly intended to bring the offices back here. He said he was in conference with Mr. Kemper from 9 in the morning to 4 in the afternoon and that Mr. Kemper seemed sincere in his intentions regarding the Orient, and that whether the period of limitation obtained or not, it was his intention to bring the offices back here, but that the time must be dependent on his own good judgment, which he said would not be later than two and one half years. He expressed a willingness to enter into a written agreement to that effect.

Feeling that the best interests of the city would be served by such an agreement, the Board upon motion by C. C. McBurnett, voted to give Judge Wright the power to draw up the written agreement. Those voting were Herbert O'Bannon, C. C. McBurnett, H. K. Penny, C. C. Kirkpatrick, Jared P. Hill, J. A. Haley, H. H. Allen and E. I. Jackson.

Kemper's Position Explained

Mr. Wright explained Mr. Kemper's position and under present conditions the road could be operated 50 per cent cheaper from one office and that it would throw it on the rocks immediately it was forced to double its operating expense. He said that it would do no good to throw the Texas end into receivership, because there would be only a road-bed, and that the rolling stock, most of which belonged to the Kansas end, would be removed.

Mr. Kemper recognizes the moral responsibility of bringing the offices here and it is his firm intention to do so, said Mr. Wright. Mr. Kemper, he said, gave his adequate assurance that the completion of the Del Rio extension would then have by the end of two years and a half, the offices back and would be a real metropolitan.

Just what would happen if the city took action now forcing the road to live up to the contract is a matter of speculation, the Board held in discussion. Possibilities of other roads getting possession and voiding the contract were discussed. All joined in the idea that it were better to give the line a chance to fulfill its contract rather than taking a chance of being left in the cold altogether.

Send Yaggy as Delegate

Two lines, it develops, are anxious to gather in the Orient properties on the bargain counter, and what they would do in the event of ownership is only a matter of speculation. It is not believed that either would operate it, if they purchased it.

The Board voted to send Walter Yaggy, secretary of the Board, to San Carlos for the celebration on the 24 of April of the first passenger train run from Allende to San Carlos. The possibilities of the line being diverted by way of Eagle Pass were discussed, and the Board went on record as giving the moral support of San Angelo to making Del Rio the end of the line as it was first proposed.—San Angelo Standard.

Soft Coal Prices Show Marked Rise Ample Supply Yet

Washington, April 20.—The third week of the coal strike has brought definite evidence that soft coal prices are stiffening in spite of an ample supply, small demand, and Government warnings.

The balance sheet of the industry, according to Government surveys, finds:

That stocks on hand total around 60,000,000 tons of soft coal, enough for at least a month without any mining activity.

That the output as of April 15 approximates 5,000,000 tons per week, about one-third normal.

That 32,000 full cars of coal are on sidings at the mines without any one to buy them. This means that 1,760,000 tons of bituminous coal are unconsigned—more than half of one week's production.

Prices Show Stiffening

In the face of this balance sheet, which Government officials characterize as "unalarmed," definite word has reached the Departments of Justice, Labor and Commerce that prices have advanced on an average of 10c a ton at the mines.

Attorney General Daugherty's retail price investigators are said to be on the alert for any substantial price boost. And, upon their findings, it is understood, Daugherty will take such steps as he may believe necessary to protect the public.

The most marked signs of price stiffening have been observed at the mines of Southern West Virginia, both union and nonunion.

Despite the coal strike, which officials hold to be the only serious obstacle in the path of a more rapid business recovery, general production today has reached a point within 85 to 90 per cent of normal.

Two outstanding features in this recovery, according to the Department of Commerce, are the marked increases in iron and steel activity and the building industry. Owing to the exceptionally heavy stocks of coal on hand at the mills, the strike so far, it was said, has not retarded this growth.

Iron and Steel Increase

The production of both pig iron and steel ingots has been on the increase since last July, but an advance of from 25 to 30 per cent in March, compared to February marks by far the largest increase for any single month. Pig iron production of 2,035,000 tons is over 600,000 tons greater than either the output of February or in March of last year, and has not been equaled since January, 1921. Steel ingot production totaled 2,816,000 tons or 850,000 tons more than in February and the largest production for any month since November, 1920.

ROTARY NOTES

The Rotary Club held their weekly luncheon at the Manhattan Parlor, Wednesday, April 19, with a large attendance. After the luncheon, the meeting was called to order by President Walter Myrick, who introduced E. L. Robertson and L. T. Martin as both being candidates for the office of Rotary director, and called upon Mr. Robertson to make a short campaign speech for his opponent, L. T. Martin. Mr. Robertson spoke as follows: "I did not know that I was going to have to make an oration for this high office, but I do not see why L. T. Martin should not be the next director. He knows a great deal more about Rotary than I do, and I make a motion that he be elected. He is really the one that should be the next director, and if this election goes all right, I may pass the cigars. I am in favor of L. T. Martin being the next director of the Rotary Club. I see no reason why he shouldn't be."

President Myrick called upon L. T. Martin to make his speech which was something like this:

"Now, brother Rotarians, I don't think Robertson made any kind of a speech for me at all. I think you are right when you call it rotten. He gave no reason at all for my being elected director of this Rotary Club, but I am going to give you some reasons why I think he should be elected. I got this straight, and I got it right. I want you to stand up Robertson so we can all take a look at you. Take a good look at him and see what he is now. Now then when he came here he came straight from New Mexico where he had been a driller of wells—I don't know what kind of wells, maybe artesian—anyway, he was a well driller, and when he arrived in Lubbock he had a beard on his face a foot long, a dirty looking tramp—just a common shepherd. He dropped into Sam T. Davis' barber shop, and didn't look like anything so much as what he was—a shepherding tramp. Sam T noticed him sitting there waiting for his turn to come, and said to him, 'I'm going to hurry up on this one and get to you, you look like a $1.10 proposition to me.' Sam said he looked like the man who would neither take a bath, cut his hair, or get a shave before next Christmas."

Now just think what he came from, and then think what he is today. He is owner of a fine drug store, and is making about $10,000 profit a year and stands ninth on the list of the Retail stores, no stores ahead of him excepting large cities. Fort Worth stands first with nine stores, Dallas second with three, San Antonio third with four, Houston has one, Amarillo seventeenth, and Plainview nineteenth. Last year he stood nineteenth, but this year he has changed places with Plainview. Now considering all this, I think he should be the next director."

Following this last speech, a vote was taken, and Martin was elected as next director.

The Club next sang the following song, "Get Together."

(Tune: "Auld Lang Syne") We're here for fun, right from the start.

Pray drop your dignity. Just laugh and sing with all your heart.

And show your loyalty. May other meetings be forgot.

Let this one be the best. Join in the songs we sing today.

Be happy with the rest. Jas. L. Dow, Jed Rix and Martin S. Ruby were next called upon to express their ideas on "What Gets My Goat."

They all seemed to have plenty to talk about on this line, but being put on the program seemed to be their special grievance.

Song by Rotary Club: (Tune: "Coming Thru The Rye") If a fellow meets a fellow.

Walking down the street. Why not smile in happy style.

When'er a friend you greet? CHORUS:

Rotary makes us all good comrades. When we understand;

One learns the worth of other men. By joining heart with hand.

The following poem was given by Dr. C. A. Wagner:

"My name won't rhyme with any word.

Or name of man, or beast or bird; I have searched all those of flowers and fruit.

But not a name or word would suit. Driven at last to farm and field.

In search of something that might yield.

I find alone the name of barley. Will fairly rhyme with Uncle Charlie."

An educational lecture by Walter Posey, with charts exhibited by Dr.

George Reed, was a very interesting number, the text of which was as follows:

Chairman, Fellow Rotarians, and our Guests:

The Rotary Club and its weekly meetings will not be presented to you in strict accord with the title assigned, but with the hope in view that the object of and a clearer conception of the benefit to accrue from a Rotary Club weekly meeting may be brought better to your attention.

A lot of the manuscript of this article is taken from the files of the Rotarian so that it is almost impersonal in its nature, nor are the articles selected the result of a may-hap, but were carefully and deliberately considered, and no credit is taken except for the manner in which the subject is introduced.

Your attention is first called to the advertised, a conception of one of our large packing industries to advise the public of the distribution of their purchases, overhead and profit. The purpose in calling your attention to this particular advertisement is the fact that you are all familiar with it, together with the fact that the comment it created has stamped it indelibly on the minds of most people as the Dollar which Swift advertised, and as a mental suggestion to the subject to be introduced.

Your attention is now called to the $ which procured for your admittance to this luncheon, without which, or rather the continued absence of which—and yourself included, means the forfeiture of your membership. It is not the desire to dwell on a subject so unpleasant, but to illustrate in succeeding charts how much you can get out of our Rotary Club luncheons, or in other words to show to you how much you can get for your $—and leave it to you to ask how much you are putting in. Is the other fellow getting your dollars worth?

Now don't understand this subject is to be treated from a strictly mercenary standpoint, the idea being that the $ represents 100 per cent luncheon activity. The first card bears the title of attendance and represents you seated at the table, same crowd each week. You are not accomplishing the purpose of Rotary—you have paid for your luncheon 100 per cent—you are an unassimilated member and are enjoying a luncheon club that anybody can organize.

The next card is intended to illustrate the member who pays a 100 per cent admission, but makes it a point to change his associates at every meeting. His luncheon expense is only 50 per cent, the other 50 per cent being absorbed in acquaintance.

The following card brings a substantial decrease—in that this member profits by his acquaintance and creates a fellowship; he has lost the concern for self, and realizes there is a law of compensation. Friendship, mysterious cement of the soul, Sweetness of life, and soldier of society.

I owe thee much; thou hast deserved from me Far, far beyond what I can ever pay.

"I have a friend—Friendships are more readily broken than made and in order to secure that tie—no man can sit idly by; friendship countenances no drones—friendship demands respect gained by co-operation.

Co-operation in a Rotary Club means prompt reply to all communications sent out by the Secretary or any member engaged in the club's activities; prompt payment of your dues; diligent effort in committee work; reading of papers; coming to the aid of the entertainment committee, etc.

Play—Shakespeare says: "All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players." Rotary welcomes play, stunts, music, singing, etc., prompted by the spirit of the occasion and demands that no man hide his talent—no better still—his light under a bushel measure.

Conduct—The third paragraph of the Rotary Code of Ethics reads: "To realize that I am a business man and anxious to succeed; but that I am first an ethical man, and wish no success that is not founded on the highest justice and morality."

Participation means that you are to welcome the new members, to meet the other fellow's guests, to take part in debate, do a stunt, come to the aid of the entertainment, and music committees, and to further Rotary principles. Having accomplished these you now come to the realization that Rotarians put "service above self"—and "He profits most who serves best."

I am how little more I know, Whence came I? Whither do I go? A centered self, which feels and is; A cry between the silences; A shadow-birth of clouds at strife With sunshine on the hills of life; A shaft from Nature's quiver cast Into the future from the past. Between the cradle and the shroud, A meteor's flight from cloud to cloud.

The male quartette consisting of T. Q. Dyess, R. I. Wilson, R. A. Holland and Lee Wendell favored the club with a number of snappy songs. The negro song, "I couldn't hear nobody praying way down yonder by myself," was especially good. This quartette can make a negro ashamed of himself when it comes to singing a negro camp-meeting song. This song was put on for the special benefit of Nell Wright.

The guests introduced by Curtis Keen, and were as follows: Judge Kinder of Plainview, guest of Chris Harwell; A. B. Slagle, guest of J. A. Medlock; Neal Douglas, guest of Jimmie Dow; Rev. Lewis and Miss Ione Brand, guests of L. T. Martin; E. L. Noy, guest of L. C. Montgomery; A. J. Curry of Pomona, California; W. O. Stevens and E. A. Morgan, guests of Jed Rix; Gerald V. Smith, guest of L. E. Hunt; Mrs. Keen, guest of Curtis Keen. "Finally believing in the universality of the Golden Rule—all things

LOCAL OFFICERS CAPTURE CHICKEN THIEFS THIS WEEK

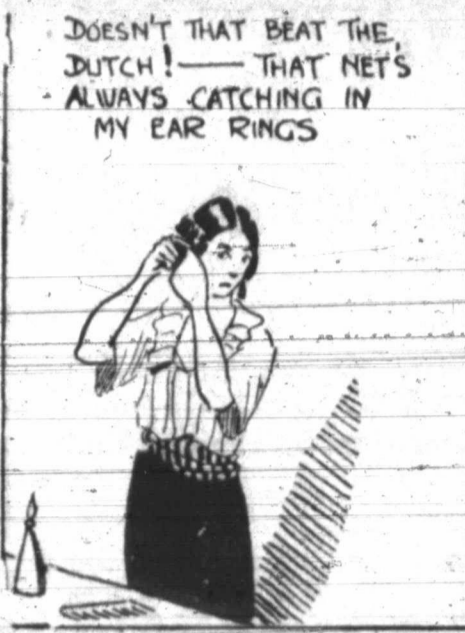

The first of the week the local authorities were instrumental in bringing to justice two men who have been for the past several months engaged in the practice of visiting chicken roosts of the neighbors and helping themselves to whatever they saw fit to take. They have been under surveillance of the officers for the past few weeks and the net has gradually been drawing closer about them. The first of this week they brought a bunch of their booty to town, investigations were made of them, and they were placed under arrest. One of them immediately admitted the whole plot, and implicated the other, the first of whom paid his fine on three charges and was released, but the other now is confined to jail awaiting the action of the grand jury. FORD DEALER NARROWLY ESCAPES BEING KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR CANYON LAST SUNDAY NIGHT

Paul Barker, dealer for the Ford automobile at Plainview, barely escaped with his life when his car dashed off a washed out bridge crossing Spring Branch of the Palo Duro Canyon and plunged into the flood waters, Sunday night about 8 o'clock. The incident took place about a mile north of Canyon on the main highway to Amarillo.

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver.

Theford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which griped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive.

The car, a new Ford sedan, was a total wreck, and the demolishing of the top of the car in the fall was all that enabled Barker to extricate himself and save his life. He went to the home of Jim Foster nearby, where he spent the night. A searching party worked all night trying to locate Barker, who knew nothing of the excitement until about 9 o'clock Monday morning. The car was taken from the stream about 200 yards from the place it went off of the bridge.

Barker left Amarillo about 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening to drive to Plainview. Efforts were made to stop him as he approached the bridge by J. M. Hager and Hugh Tolleson of Amarillo, but they were unable to attract his attention.

The first report of the accident was given by a man at Canyon, who declared that he had crossed the bridge and met Barker enroute to Canyon. He said he saw Barker's light disappear, and then reappear in the water. He spread the alarm and the searching party was mobilized.

The flood waters came down Spring Branch Sunday evening, following heavy rains at Canyon and in the vicinity north. The entire lowlands in the canyon are covered and J. L. Pritchard and Herman Wragge, who reside near the highway crossing were forced to abandon their homes. Pritchard lives at the old T. Anchor ranch headquarters near the bridge. Many hogs, sheep and chickens were strewn up and down the creek.

Heavy rains and hail were reported west of Canyon, hail in some instances being piled as high as two or three feet. Considerable damage to crops was reported.

Spring Branch, a tributary of the Palo Duro Creek, heads about six or eight miles north and west of Canyon, and high water frequently comes down, but heretofore the bridge has always stood.

Reports Show That Revival In Building Industry Is General

In view of the far-reaching influence of developments in the building industry on general business throughout the country, the special survey of the construction situation just made through correspondents of Dues' Review is especially interesting and timely. Reports from nearly forty centers in widely separated sections of the United States demonstrate that the revival of building activities, of which there has been multiplying evidence during recent months, is steadily gathering momentum, and that the future is regarded with optimism.

Practically without exception, the dispatches show that a protracted period of deferred undertakings, has been followed by a resumption of work on an important and enlarging scale, with accompanying expansion of demand for construction materials, and favorable prospects for further improvement in these lines. The reduced costs of labor and materials and the pronounced shortage of housing accommodations, both in the cities and suburban towns, had clearly foreshadowed a revival of building operations of magnitude, and advices from some points indicate a record year. In not a few cases, permits for new construction this Spring have reached the highest mark in several years, in number as well as in value, and in certain instances all previous totals have been surpassed. With an aggregate of more than $218,000,000, the March permits are fully 110 per cent above those of the corresponding month of 1921.

An outstanding feature of the present situation is the centering of activities mainly on the erection of dwelling houses, under the stimulus of the urgent and widespread demand for accommodations of this character. While some important industrial construction is in progress or contemplated, the volume of such work is comparatively moderate in most sections, current undertakings being confined chiefly to the building of small homes and apartments, and to re-modeling operations. Public improvements now under way or in prospect, however, involve considerable expenditures, both in the larger centers of population and in the smaller cities. On the whole, speculative projects are of small proportions.

It is clearly evidenced by reports from all sections of the country that the easier conditions in money markets have proved a stimulating factor in the building industry. A conservative policy in granting loans is still adhered to in virtually all instances, but less difficulty is being experienced in securing financial accommodation to be applied to construction activities, and rates of interest are somewhat lower, as a rule. In certain sections, second-mortgage money is more readily obtainable. Many of the operations are being financed through trust companies and building and loan associations, with rates ranging from 6 to 8 per cent.

The labor situation has unmistakably improved, reports of a scarcity of workers now being the conspicuous exception, and there being a surplus in most quarters. Wages, especially for common labor, are considerably lower, and no strike of magnitude impede progress at present. Many different trades are being favorably affected by the current activity in the building industry, and the revival in this line will have a constructive influence on general business throughout the country.

LUBBOCK COUNTY SINGING CONVENTION AT SLATON

The regular meeting of the Lubbock County Singing Convention will meet at Slaton next Saturday night and Sunday. The session Saturday night will be held at the Club House and on Sunday at 10:15 a. m. at the Methodist Church. The Slaton class is making every arrangement possible to entertain the Convention and we are expecting a number of visitors from out of the County, among whom we have noticed that the Vaughn Quartet, headed by V. O. Stamps, will be on hand — so we are expecting the best meeting ever held in this County and all classes are urged to be on hand at the opening, bring all your best singers, song books and be prepared to help us put over our Community Tabernacle at this meeting. Come one, come all. T. Q. Dyess, President. R. I. Wilson, Secretary.

Solving Cotton Problems of the South By Building Cotton Mills In This Section of the Country

A magazine, "Texas Today," published in San Antonio, prints the following information about cotton and cotton mills:
Solving the Low-Priced Cotton Problem.
Texas produces one fourth of all the cotton produced in the United States.
The eighteen cotton mills in Texas utilize only about two per cent of our annual crop, the bulk of which goes to the cotton mills of England, to the mills of Massachusetts, North and South Carolina, and Georgia, and coming back to us in the form of finished product. The remainder of the crop is absorbed by mattress makers and textile manufacturers.
There is not a cotton by-product or cotton fabric used or worn in Texas but could be more economically made in Texas.
There are approximately two hundred and fifty cotton seed oil mills in Texas, using only Texas-grown cotton seed; and wherever there is a cotton seed oil mill, a cotton mill would prosper.
The greatest argument for more cotton mills in Texas is the fact that of the eighteen mills in the state sixteen of them have doubled their facilities within the past two or three years. The other two mills were only recently built.
Texas produces nearly four million bales of cotton during normal years. All the cotton mills in Texas utilize between one hundred and fifty and two hundred thousand bales annually.
South Carolina produces more than two million bales a year and uses practically the entire crop. North Carolina uses more than half of its annual crop and so does Georgia.
Can it be that these states are more progressive than Texas?
"All the Texas cotton mills are making money and stock is at a premium. They have doubled their plants out of the earnings and declared dividends ranging from thirty to sixty per cent. This is a matter of public knowledge.

Every time we buy cotton-made goods we are paying tribute to the cotton mills of Massachusetts and other states. The cost of building cotton mills now is less than when the Texas cotton mills were originally built; yet when labor and materials were the highest every cotton mill in Texas doubled its capacity. Their output is sold in advance, sometime two and three years ahead, and there is absolutely no expense to the mill owners in selling their products.
—Within fifty years from now Texas will be the leading textile state in the Union, but why wait fifty years and allow others to reap the benefits? Why don't the cotton growers themselves get in behind the movement and build their own mills—fifty or a hundred of them?
The most recent mill in Texas is that of the Merchants and Planters mills at New Braunfels now under construction, which will be the most up-to-date mill in Texas and probably the most economically operated, owing to water power facilities.
The New Braunfels mill is being built by S. M. Ransopher of Austin, Joe D. Gilliland of San Antonio, and their associates, among whom are several prominent bankers, business men and farmers of New Braunfels community and other parts of Texas. The New Braunfels Mill, which will have 10,000 spindles and 350 looms, is one of a chain of mills to be built by the Merchants and Planters mill of San Antonio, a ten million dollar corporation headed by S. M. Ransopher, a practical and successful engineer and former director of trade and industrial education at the University of Texas. All of the mills will be local and community affairs, with local men behind each project. They will be located in large cotton producing and cotton concentration points, and in charge of experienced mill operators.

WEEKLY MARKET LETTER

Kansas City Stock Yards, April 24.—Cattle receipts here showed a moderate increase, and heavy runs were reported in Chicago and Omaha. This caused a decline in prices. Here the market in the extreme was steady to 25 cents lower, mostly 10 to 15 cents off. Hogs were steady to 15 cents lower, top $10.15. The prices at more Eastern markets were down 10 to 20 cents. Sheep and lambs were higher.

Today's Receipts
Receipts today were 13,000 cattle, 13,000 hogs, and 3,000 sheep, compared with 9,000 cattle; 42,000 hogs, and 7,000 sheep a week ago, and 16,000 cattle, 16,125 hogs, and 16,765 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle
More than 50,000 cattle arrived at the fine Western markets today, and about half this supply was in Chicago. Prices there were lower, causing declines at other markets. Here fat steers were mostly 10 to 15 cents lower. Demand was fairly active as soon as the decline was established. All weights and classes were wanted. Prime grades were scarce. Most of the fair to choice kinds sold at $7.85 to $8.25. Sales included light, medium, and heavy weight grades. Comparatively few Western or Southwestern cattle were offered. Cows and heifers were $3 to $5 cents lower. Veal calves and bulls were steady.

Stockers and Feeders
This cattle were in moderate supply, but the lower prices for fat cattle caused a moderate decline in the plain to fair stockers and feeders.

Hogs
Hog prices started 5 to 10 cents lower and closed 10 to 15 cents lower. The plain hogs sold at the close. Shippers bought most of the good hogs early. The top price was $10.15 and bulk of sales $9.50 to $10.10. Pigs sold at $9.00 to $10.25. Decline at more eastern markets owing to liberal receipts caused the general decline.

Sheep and Lambs
Trade in sheep and lambs was active at strong to 35 cents higher prices. Shorn sheep were in active demand. Texas wethers sold at $8.60 to $8.75. Some fairly good woolled lambs brought $15.25 and prime woolled lambs sold up to $15.85.

Horses and Mules
General trade in horses and mules was much the same as last week. Big mules and horses are wanted. Light weight kinds are slow sale.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Avalanche: I want to express my appreciation and endorsement of the two great articles that appeared in Tuesday's Avalanche. One of them, "Discussion of dress for school girls, and conduct of parents," by Mrs. Frank Leavelle, and the other, "Established prices for farm products is the great need in order to prosper," by Phebe K. Warner.
Both of these articles ought to be carefully read, thoroughly digested and preserved for future good. Every word of both articles is most timely practical and of immense importance to both parents and children. If you failed to read them it will pay you well to hunt them up and read them yet and let your neighbors read them, too. And your mothers, be sure to read Phebe K. Warner's article, anyhow, and have your own precious daughters to read it. These two articles are so timely and of such great importance that they do not only deserve preserving but are worthy of nice frames and decoration of your homes. May God bless such noble women. They have a vision—an insight into the future and are living for a noble purpose.

T. J. ESTES.
I don't want to dictate, but I will venture to suggest to our "City Dads" that the best work that could be done on our rocky and even streets just now, while the ground is soft, would be to put heavy rollers on and make the streets firm and level and solid. This work could be done rapidly, cheaply, and I think would prove of great value. Solid streets, that will shed the water instead of holding it, is what we need, and to keep cars and wagons off in muddy weather, as much as can well be done. They are our streets and we should all try to preserve them.

T. J. ESTES.
10 NEW REVENUE DISTRICTS ARE REPORTED FAVORABLY
Washington, D. C., April 25.—Ten new internal revenue districts would be created for the convenience of federal taxpayers in a bill reported favorably by the house ways and means committee.
The measure authorizes the president to redistrict the country. That action is expected to be taken largely in accordance with plans presented to the committee by officials of the internal revenue bureau which contemplated 15 new collection centers.
Recommendations for the increase in collectors' offices was made by the committee after officials of the bureau had voiced a plea for a more efficient sectional machinery for collecting federal taxes. The plan was urged by commissioner Blair and efficient sectional machinery for collectors' offices, as the only method of meeting the enormous increase in the number of taxable persons in the last few years. They assert it would do much to relieve congestion in the offices of collectors, a condition which is pictured as submitting taxpayers to numerous hardships. Eleven Persons Drowned at Fort Worth When Cloudburst Puts Streams on a Rampant—A Heavy Property Loss

Fort Worth, April 25.—Eleven persons were drowned, at least 1,500 made homeless, the city water plant put out of commission, other public utilities endangered, property damage of $600,000 inflicted, all interurban traffic was suspended and street car service crippled as a result of a storm, the most terrific that ever visited Fort Worth and vicinity, Monday night and Tuesday morning.

Nine inches of rain fell here between 10 o'clock Monday night and 10 o'clock Tuesday morning breaking all previous records.

The river gauge today showed 36.7 feet, a rise of 29.7 feet in twelve hours. In the flood of '08, the gauge was 38 feet but it was not so serious as it came gradually.

Danger of fire was added to the horror of the flood. The west side yards of the Cameron Lumber Company were destroyed by flames this morning, high water preventing firemen from reaching the yards. Monday night many alarms were turned in as a result of houses having been struck by lightning.

At noon Tuesday reports from the north side and at other localities indicated that the water was receding and that the water was receding. At that time a fall of six inches was reported at Eleventh and North Main Streets in a half hour. Because of the flooded conditions at the Nutt Power House and the danger that the city may be without lights tonight, the American Legion Post has called its members to meet at the Legion hall, Fourth and Main Streets at 7 o'clock for the purpose of assisting the police in patrolling the streets.

Lake Worth Dam Safe
Although the water at noon was receding, Weather Observer Landis could promise no relief from the flood stage, his forecasts being to the effect that the unsettled weather and probably showers would continue through Tuesday.

All ambulances in the city and scores of automobiles were pressed into service to rescue stricken families, citizens volunteering their services and cars. Ten flood victims were taken to hospitals but most of them were rushed to the headquarters of the Fort Worth Welfare Association, where hot coffee and restoratives soon revived them. The spillway at Lake Worth has suffered no damage, despite reports to the contrary and Water Commissioner Lord said that only 24 inches of water was pouring over the dam at 9 o'clock this morning, which is far below the record, 72 inches once having been recorded.

Ball Park Flooded
Residents of Arlington Heights and the North Side are completely marooned. Showing the depth of the water north of the Paddock viaduct, the right field grand stand at Pather baseball park is half submerged and the fences of the ball park cannot be seen. The flood broke through the levee protecting the park and went through the grounds in a raging torrent.

The great loss of life was chiefly due to the suddenness of the storm, the worst of which came while the city was asleep. Two women were drowned near the Van Zandt Bridge when a rescue boat was overturned. Street Commissioner Gilvin was one of the rescue party in the boat. After much difficulty they succeeded in getting the women out of the house in the river bottom and shortly after they were in the river bottom and shortly after they were in the boat it capsized. At about the same time the body of a white woman floated beneath the bridge.

Two other women were swept from a tree at the foot of Florence Street and two more drowned in the West Side flood district.

About 8 o'clock this morning a white man imprisoned in a house that was swept down the river near Paddock viaduct, lost his life.

Major L. G. White, world war veteran, tried to save a woman and two children in the West 7th Street district, but they were swept away before he could reach them.

A six-week-old baby, whose family is believed to have been drowned, was rescued by residents in the Van Zandt addition from a box floating in the water.

$50,000 DAMAGE REPORTED FROM FLOOD IN DALLAS

Dallas, April 25.—United States Weather Bureau reports here indicated the crest of the flood in the Trinity River was near Fort Worth unless there should be more heavy rains.

The stage at Dallas was 22.2 feet, with 4.96 inches of rain fall in the previous twenty-four hours, and cloudy. A stage of possibly 40 feet or more in the river may be expected at Dallas in the next twenty-four to forty-eight hours. Officers have gone through the lowlands and notified owners of stock to move the cattle to higher ground, and also warned these living in low places to move.

The heaviest rains were reported from the water shed of the West Fork of the Trinity. Wire communication was hampered and reports from several sections of the state missing.

Rainfall in East and Southern Texas was light.

In Dallas damage was estimated early today at $50,000. Several houses occupied by negroes on Wall Street were flooded and when a bridge west of Wall Street was washed out, the timbers damaged some nearby structures. Street-car traffic was interrupted early today and some basements were flooded.

Interurban traffic to Waco and Fort Worth was interrupted.

THE WEEKLY NEWS FROM AROUND CENTER

Quite a few of the farmers have quit planting until it rains. But I think that they can soon get ahead planting from the hocks of the clouds at this writing.

Mr. Jennings, the county demonstrator was at the school house last Tuesday. We hope he has great success in getting the boys and girls to join the club.

The teacher as well as the pupils are very sorry to see Mr. George Baker quitting school. He will be greatly missed.

Mr. Dick Habbings was seen passing through these parts one day last week.

Mr. D. W. Williamson and family were seen in these parts one day last week.

Miss Cathern Johns has been working for Mr. N. A. Myers for the past week.

Mrs. W. J. Baker has been staying with her daughter who lives north of here.

Mr. Daniel Myers has been windmilling some the last week.

I think it would be a good idea for all of us to watch our chickens. On last Tuesday night Mr. H. O. Pinson and a bunch of his special friends of Abernathy had a chicken fry at the school house. At this writing I have not heard any complaints of loosing chickens, but we are trying to find out where they came from.

Mr. W. E. Emery took a hog to Abernathy last Wednesday.

Messrs Edgar Abney, A. W. Jones, H. D. Habbings, W. A. Dunn and son, Renefield, Osborne and W. J. Baker and wife were among the Abernathy visitors Saturday.

Mr. E. A. Abney and wife were seen in these parts hunting eggs last Saturday.

Mr. Eugene Emery and family, and Mr. Daker were the Sunday visitors of the J. H. Emery home.

Mr. W. E. Emery and family and Misses Emma and Martha Abney, were the callers of the R. H. Haney home Sunday.

On account of it looking so rainy there was only a few present at Sunday school Sunday. But we want everybody to be sure and come next Sunday.

The following program was rendered last Friday, April the 21st. The following visitors were present: Mr. Hall Looney and family, Mr. Wesley Hardisty, Mr. Miller, of Abernathy, little Miss Belle Moore and Mr. Forest Osborne. They say the program was very interesting.

Texas Christian Missionary Convention Meets in San Antonio the Ninth to Twelfth of Next Month

The Thirty-Seventh Convention of the Texas Christian Missionary Convention will be held in San Antonio, May 9 to 12, according to the announcement of the President, Chalmers McPherson of Fort Worth. Railroads have granted fare and a half on the certificate plan, with May 7 to 15 limit. It is possible that a special train will be run from Fort Worth carrying delegates from the western and northwestern parts of the State.

Co-operating with the Convention in the programs are the Texas Christian Missionary Society, of which J. B. Holmes of Fort Worth is superintendent; The Bible School and Young People's Department, of which S. W. Hutton of Fort Worth is superintendent; the department of Benevolence, of which M. Boyd Keith of Dallas is superintendent; the department of Education, of which H. E. Beckler is secretary, representing Texas Christian University and Brite College of the Bible, Fort Worth. E. M. Waits, president, Carr-Burdette College, Sherman, Cephas, Shelburne, president, and Midland College, Midland, J. T. McKissick, president, and the Women's Missionary Work, of which Mrs. Bertha McMaster of Fort Worth is superintendent.

The Convention sessions will be held in the Central Christian church, of which Dr. Hugh McClellan is minister. The San Antonio Chamber of Commerce and the Commercial Clubs of the city are co-operating with the local Christian Churches in promoting the meeting, and the slogan has been adopted, "The Best Yet Convention." Entertainment features include a special tour of the city; two banquets, one for the men and one for the women; and free camping grounds, wood and bathing privileges in the Brackenridge Park, for those who come by automobile.

Addresses will be delivered by prominent speakers from Texas and other states. Wednesday afternoon there will be a demonstration of the work of the Mexican Institute, which is maintained in San Antonio by the United Christian Missionary Society of St. Louis. Friday night there will be a special Christian Endeavor feature led by Jack Huppertz of Dallas.

An open forum will feature the Friday afternoon session, at which time voluntary speeches on any phase of the work will be made.

All adjunct Boards and Convention committees will hold one hour sessions daily, clearing the way for action in the general program.

The music of the first evening will be led by Edwards McKenzie of San Antonio. After that Glenn C. Hutton of Dallas will lead all song services; he has arranged some special features, using the prominent musical talent of the Churches of Texas.

President McPherson's address will be given on Tuesday evening.

The Texas Christian Missionary Convention was organized in Austin in 1886, and elected the late W. K. Homan, then a member of the Texas Senate, as president. The committee forming the resolution of organization consisted of Chalmers McPherson, James E. Rosenkrantz, now of New York; B. F. Gooch; D. W. Pritchett and J. S. Kendrick, (deceased).

The officers of the convention at this time are, Chalmers McPherson, President, Fort Worth; John Bradley, Vice President, Wichita Falls; Logan Martin, Secretary, Garland; Ernest J. Bradley of San Angelo, and Tolbert F. Weaver of Houston, assistant secretaries. The Board of Trustees includes, Will H. Evans, of Conham; A. J. Bush, of Waco; H. R. Ford, of Houston; W. O. Dallas, of Abilene; Jesse F. Holt, of Sherman; F. N. Calvin, of Corsicana; Sam J. McFarland, of Dallas; Mrs. Colby D. Hall, of Fort Worth; J. W. Holsapple, of Temple; M. Boyd Keith, of Dallas.

Chalmers McPherson of Ft. Worth, President of the Texas Christian Missionary Convention has attended all of the thirty-six annual sessions of the Texas Christian Missionary Convention and is planning for the Thirty-Seventh, which will be held in San Antonio, May 9-12. He is a teacher of New Testament in Brite College of the Bible of Texas Christian University, and was a member of the organizations committee which wrote the resolutions forming the Convention at the first gathering of Christian Church representatives held in Austin in 1886. No other person has equalled his record.

Coming to Texas in 1879, he took up the pastorate of four small churches in and near Waxahachie, and was chided by some of the older preachers as a "stall-fed divine," as he received $500 a year. He rode horseback from place to place each week, calling it home where ever he staked his horse.

"The best church house in Texas, at that time, was the old Christian Church that once served the present First congregation of Fort Worth, and there were only twelve Christian Preachers in Texas who were fully supported by churches. The rest farmed, taught, practiced law, or did other work and preached when the opportunity was afforded," said Mr. McPherson, in recalling the pioneer days of the Texas Christian Church.

"Now the State department of Missions supports more than fifty in the field and more than four hundred strong Churches are established in the State. Texas Christian University, and the other schools have been built. The Women's Missionary enterprises have become well established. The Bible School and Young People's work, as has been the case with the Missionary department was led first by A. J. Bush, (deceased), and succeeding his came J. W. Holsapple, G. S. Kimberly, J. C. Mason, A. D. Rogers, and the present Superintendent, J. B. Holmes."

A COMMON ERROR

The Same Mistake Is Made By Many Lubbock People.

It's a common error. To plaster the aching back. To rub with liniments, rheumatic joints. If the trouble comes from the kidneys. It's time to use Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is convincing proof of merit. G. W. Filler, 2001 East Ave., Colorado, Tex., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me so much good I cannot say too much in praise of them. A couple boxes of Doan's entirely cured me of kidney trouble several years ago."

Seven Years Later, Mr. Filler said, "I don't have occasion to use Doan's any more as they gave me a permanent cure."

Dallas Will Try to Bar Klansmen From Jury Service

Dallas, April 24.—The first actual attempt to bar members of the Ku Klux Klan from jury duty here will be made Thursday when the case of Henry Hall, negro, charged with assault to murder in connection with attempting to slay Patrolman Crawford, goes to trial. It was announced today that jurors would be asked if they are members of the Klan and if they refuse to answer an effort will be made to have the court send them to jail for contempt of court.

The charge of assault to murder grew out of an attempt to make an arrest at the home of Phillip Rothblum, merchant, recently shipped by masked men. At that time Crawford fired at the negro. The shot went wild and Crawford killed his working partner. It is alleged that Hall tried to knife Crawford before the shooting, after he had been surprised in the Rothblum home.

Phillip Rothblum will be brought back under guard to testify at the trial. Mrs. Rothblum will also be brought back. It is said they have been in St. Louis since the trial of Crawford on a flogging charge in connection with the whipping of Rothblum. Crawford was acquitted in thirty minutes.

Judge Seay has not indicated how he will treat refusals of jurors to answer questions relating to Klan membership. No questions as to Klan affiliations were asked at the Crawford trial, it being admitted that Crawford was not a Klansman.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

Friendly Enemies is one of the great plays produced in America. It carries such a lesson in patriotism and loyalty as has seldom been written or dramatized.

Charles F. Horner has secured the rights of production for the Chautauque. This intensely interesting play will be produced on the Pioneer Circuit with an excellent cast as is usual with all Redpath-Horner productions.

Friendly Enemies was given its first showing in Washington. In the cast were Louis Mann and Sam Bernard.

The President of the United States was in a box near the stage. The audience reached a high state of excitement. The president was called upon for a speech. He said the following:

"All that I can say has already been said most admirably in this beautiful play. All the sentiments I could express have been admirably represented—sentiments that I hope will soon grip the world!"

King George of England saw the first production of Friendly Enemies at the Haymarket Theatre in London. After laughing heartily throughout the play he called the producer and expressed his appreciation for the wonderful play.

Below is illustrated one of the tremendous climaxes. This furnishes a very wonderful lesson as well as gives opportunity for remarkable acting.

SAN ANGELO MAY SEND SPECIAL TO PLAINVIEW

Plainview, April 24.—Word has been received from the San Angelo Board of City Development that San Angelo is coming to the convention here in May several hundred strong. Their avowed intention is to get the convention for 1923. They will probably come in a special train. The San Angelo Cowboys band, and old and highly trained musical organization, will accompany the delegates and will also enter the band contest during the two days of the convention.

Fish are coming out of a California oil-well, according to dispatches. Lots of poor fish wish they could get out of the wildcat oilwells as well off as they went in.—Houston Chronicle.

FLOYDADA BUREAU TO BE OPEN AT W. T. C. C.

Floydada, April 24.—The Floydada Chamber of Commerce will maintain an office in Plainview during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce according to arrangements made today for the benefit of giving information relative to Floydada and for the convenience of the large delegation from Floydada that will be in attendance at the convention. The headquarters for Floydada will be in the O. K. Drug Store on North Broadway.

CALOMEL SALIVATES EVEN WHEN CAREFUL

Treacherous Drug can not be Trusted and Next Dose may Start Trouble

Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue, and excessive saliva dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel. It is mercury; quicksilver.

If you feel bilious, headache, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. 11-11

FLOYDADA SCHOOL HEAD IS NAMED

Floydada, April 24.—At a regular meeting of the Floydada school board, J. N. Johnston was elected superintendent of the Floydada schools for the next session.

Johnston has been superintendent at Newcastle the past session, and is home in Graham. Mrs. Johnston has also been elected to a place on the faculty.

Sacramento, Capital of California, Will Bring Back the "Days of '49" In Great Celebration, May 23 to 28

Sacramento, California, April 27.—The "Days of '49," around which are written the most romantic chapters of California's history, will be revived in a gigantic six-day celebration in Sacramento, May 23-28. The entire city and surrounding sections are today bristling with activity in preparation for the event and no detail is being overlooked in the determination to accurately depict the thrilling annals of the Gold Rush period.

For months the California State Library has been collecting facts and information to insure a flawless reproduction of the life, customs and outstanding historical features which have made the "Days of '49" a household expression throughout the United States. Under the leadership of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce men and women throughout the expansive area traversed by the "Old Gold Trail" are bending their energy to the task of developing the facts into a celebration of vivid realism.

"GOLD RUSH" STYLES

So genuine is the enthusiasm of Sacramento citizens and their desire to faithfully fulfill the true spirit of '49 that they will discard modern dress and revert to the styles of the Gold Rush days. Some of the most enthusiastic of the male population are even now vying with one another for the honor of exhibiting the most characteristic crop of '49 whiskers. Many thousands of dollars put in construction of mining towns, duplicating those of Gold Rush times, on a twenty-acre tract near the heart of the business section. Street cars and automobiles will give away to ox-teams, prairie schooners, stage coaches and burros as means of transportation over the principal business streets. All sections of the old mining country have contributed treasured relics and paraphernalia which are now being assembled into a most extraordinary exhibit.

Surrounding Sutter Fort, most famous of '49 landmarks, will be clusters of Indian villages inhabited by real Indians. The Fort was the first interior settlement by white men in California, and when one of General Sutter's men discovered gold it became the rendezvous of gold-frenzied thousands. It is around this old structure, with its colorful historic setting that the celebration will revolve.

Real Gold Nuggets.

Within the shadow of the Fort real gold nuggets will be washed out with pan and cradle as in the Days of '49. It will be the starting point for trips over the Old Gold Trail and for elaborate pageants which will be a daily feature of the celebration. There will be a river regatta depicting the founding of Sutter Fort; a "Gold Rush Parade" made up entirely of ox-teams, stage coaches, burros, prairie schooners, and grizzled miners; the coming of Fremont, E. J. Carson, Vallejo and other historical celebrities will be re-enacted. Sixteen thousand school children will participate in an allegorical floral pageant; the first locomotive driven on the Western terminal of the first transcontinental railroad will be piloted up the main street by the original engineer, John E. Loneragan, now a millionaire manufacturer of Philadelphia. Rounding out the program will be staged the biggest rodeo in the history of the West.

Transcontinental railroads, recognizing the national scope of the celebration, have decided to put California excursion rates into effect on May 15, giving Eastern people an opportunity to attend the entire celebration.

Indians will go on Warpath for Days of '49 Celebration.

Several tribes of Sioux Indians will move on Sacramento from their reservation in Nevada next May, going over the pioneer trail blazed by General Fremont, and arriving in the California City when the Days of '49 Celebration opens May 23. They will go on the warpath during the Wild West Contest, which is to be one of the features of the celebration.

Movie Stars to Have Big Day at Gold Rush Show.

Noted film personages will hold forth on May 27 at the Days of '49 Celebration in Sacramento. It will be Movie Star Day. Special features have been arranged, including the entrance of famous movie riders in the $10,000 wild west contest.

Dresses and Whiskers Vie For Days of '49 Prize.

Two of the most unique contests ever scheduled will terminate during the Days of '49 Celebration in Sacramento, May 23-28. One will be a fashion event, with prizes awarded to the women who appear in the most characteristic Days of '49 gowns. The other—a whisker-growing contest. On March 17, scores of Sacramento men, starting with a smooth face, entered a race to see who could grow the most whiskers by May 24. Both events will be judged in public.

Jazz Barred in Days of '49 Dance Halls.

They didn't jazz in the Days of '49. And they won't in 1922—in the Mining Town dance hall at the Days of '49 Celebration in Sacramento May 23-28. Committees on Historical Research say it won't do at all. Villages will see that there isn't a bit of one-stepping or foot-trotting on one of the 16,000 square feet of the hall. Saxophones, drums and cowbells are under the ban, too. Nothing but fiddles and Spanish guitars.

Building a Mountain for Days of '49 Show.

A "mountain" the height of a modern office building will be one of the features in the Mining Town of the big Days of '49 Celebration. Pine trees were transplanted on the site and will deck the slopes. Burro trails will lead around it, and by entering a tunnel, visitors can experience all the thrills of descending into a genuine gold mine. The mountain was built by the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce.

Historic Prize Will Put Out Gold Rush "Extras."

"Extra-a-a! Extra-a-a! All about Marshall discoverin' gold!" The press on which was printed the issue of the newspaper which first announced the discovery of gold in California will again be put into service during the Days of '49 Celebration. Facsimile copies of the gold discovery "scoop" will be printed. The press was shipped around the horn in 1847 and for many years has been in the Golden Gate Museum, San Francisco.

$1,000 in Cash Prize for Best Rider at Days of '49.

Included in the $10,000 prize money for the Wild West Contest, will be a cash prize of $1,000 for the best all-round rider. This contest is open to all riders in the world.

Championship Trapsnoot.

Crack trapsnooters of Nevada and California will compete in a championship meet during the Celebration.

A FARMER CURED OF RHEUMATISM

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and told him to use it freely" says C. P. Rayder, Patten Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment; I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'"

IN MILADY'S REALM BY MRS. CURTIS A. KEEN

A though for today: If there be memory in the world to come, If thought recur to some things silenced here, Then shall the deep heart be no longer dumb, But find expression in that happier sphere; It shall not be denied the utmost sum, Of love to speak without or fault back to the club with change sweet, But utter to the harp with change sweet. Words that, forbidden still, then heaven were incomplete. —Jean Ingelow.

Twenty-first Century Club
In spite of the heavy rainfall, there was a large attendance at the Twenty-first Century Club on Tuesday afternoon, to hear the report of the delegate to the District meeting of Federated Women's Clubs, which met in Plainview last week. Many inspiring messages were brought back to the club, encouraging it to press onward in the work it has set out to accomplish. It is gratifying to every member of the club to know that the work of the club for the past year received favorable comment from some of the State officers, present at the Seventh District meeting. Mrs. C. M. Ballenger was elected alternate from the club to the civic league, Mrs. Percy Spencer being previously elected delegate.
An interesting program, conducted by Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, followed the business session. Papers were read by Mrs. W. H. Bledsoe, and Mrs. W. H. Meador, and three minute talks were given by Mrs. Kimbro and Mrs. Boerner. The new members were guests of the club for the afternoon.

Clean-Up Campaign
Are you ready to give your cooperation and help in the efforts to clean up our city? Under the direction of the Civic League the Clean-Up campaign will begin on the morning of the 29—Saturday. One week will be given to the gathering up of all trash and the following week is to look after hauling it away. So get your yard cleaned up and have all the old trash ready to be taken away. Make Lubbock Beautiful.
Merry Bidders
The Merry Bidders Club met last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Spikes, with Mrs. Earl Hunt as assisting hostess. There were six tables and this was one of the most enjoyable club parties for many weeks. The ladies present for the afternoon were: Mesdames Cliff Hunt, Sam Cooper, A. B. Ellis, O. B. Trinkle, John Lemond, Howard Wheelock, Rufus Rush, Forest Robbins, Walter Myrick, Cardwell Maple Wilson, H. Bradley, O. E. Sears, C. E. Maedgen, Sam Davis, F. Brown, Annie Pearson, W. C. E. M. M. Club
Last Friday evening at 8:15 the E. M. M. Club entertained the Senior class at the home of Annie Simpson. A large crowd assembled at the appointed hour, and forty-two were enjoyed throughout the evening. The Plainview boys, who were here to play baseball, were invited and one of them, Jimmy Bryan won high score at the close of the evening, delicious refreshments of brick ice cream and wafers were served. The E. M. M. Club then went to the home of Ala Burrus, where they were to participate in a slumber party. They reported a splendid time, even if it did turn out to be a "slumberless" party. The following girls were said to have been seen yawning all day Saturday: Annie Simpson, Edith Wheelock, Sylvia Wilson, Pearl Warren, Eva Franks, Pauline Trippett, and the hostess, Ala Burrus.
C. I. A. and A. & M. C. Entertained
Members of the Ex-students of C. I. A. and A. & M. C. and their club guests were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kuykendall, Friday evening, April 21, when they entertained with a delightful 42 party. The color scheme of red and white which is the class colors of C. I. A. was artistically carried out in all of the decorations, hand painted score cards and the plate favors. At a late hour the host and hostess served a delicious two course luncheon consisting of bread and butter sandwiches, chicken salad, iced tea, and red and white brick ice cream, and caramel cake with Red-and-White-Carnations used as plate favors.
The club members were: Mrs. O. F. Schenck, Joe Kuykendall, G. S. Reed, N. L. Peters, Misses Flo Benson, Irma Pryor, Alice Bledsoe, Clara Price, Lottie Struve, Maggie Brashears, Mr. C. E. Maedgen, J. W. Jennings, N. L. Peters, Grover Merrill, Frank Gaines, R. C. Mowery, T. J. Davis, and Dudley Farrell. Guests of the club were: Mrs. C. E. Maedgen, J. W. Jennings, Misses Grace Boone, Margaret Robbins, Mr. O. F. Schenck, Joe Kuykendall, G. N. Atkinson, A. E. Coffey, Jr., J. C. Marr, and Dr. G. S. Reed. At the close of the evening the guests departed declaring that Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall were the best entertainers ever.

The Lubbock Hubbers will be home Saturday for the opening game on the home grounds against the Glovis aggregation. Wetzel's bunch say that they are coming as strong as "horse-rndiesh" and what they think they are going to do to the Hubbers is a shame. But, are they going to do it? Sled Allen's sluggers say they can't. We'll see!
Although the grounds may be a little wet, unless it rains between now and Saturday it is going to be a great day, and by all means you should see this game, for it is going to be a hummer. And that attendance cup is going to mean something. We cannot sit by and see Sweetwater, Clovis or Stamford get off with that. We can put this over in the usual Lubbock style. Let's all root.

SOME RAIN!
This promises by far to be the best year that Lubbock county has seen, and this country is going to be flocked full of people seeking our good farms as homes. But—is the indebtedness against your land such as to make it sell well, or is it such that you can make the farm take care of itself?
