THE IMPORTANCE OF PRODUCING INFERTILE EGGS

(By F. W. Kazmeier, Poultry Husbandman, A. & M. College)

At this time of the year too many people are persistently following the path of least resistance, and are continuing the production of fertile eggs. Fertile eggs in Texas are responsible for the very low price. Farmers and farm wives selling eggs today, are paying the penalty for producing fertile eggs.

It is a regrettable fact, that our people do not appear to be more interested in the production of infertile eggs. On every side we hear the complaint—"eggs are not worth anything." Some people actually become discouraged and sell many of their hens.

Many people think they are not getting a fair price for the eggs. It is true that the few producing infertile eggs are not getting a fair price, because, ordinarily, the egg buyer does not get sufficient eggs to ship infertile eggs, without mixing them with fertile eggs. For this reason the buyer can only pay the price of fertile eggs. As soon as more infertile eggs are produced, egg buyers will find it to their interest to pay more for them.

Fertile eggs, spoil very rapidly in a temperature of 65 degrees or above. In warm weather it is of course impossible to keep the eggs in a cool place, hence many spoil long before they reach the consumer. The production of fertile eggs in Texas alone is responsible for a monetary loss of one million dollars. Just think of this great unnecessary waste.

A few people still believe that the males are necessary in a flock to insure good egg-production. It ought to be necessary to use much space to disprove this assertion. Let it be sufficient to say that laying hens will actually produce more eggs without male birds, and most certainly the egg that will keep much longer and better.

Eggs remain fertile from ten to fourteen days after the males are removed. As a rule it is safe to guarantee infertile eggs two weeks after the males have been removed.

Some people raise the question, "What shall we do with the roosters?" The average rooster found on our Texas farms is such a poor individual that selling them is the best thing to do. Get rid of them. One male bird eats as much feed out of breeding season as a laying hen in an entire year. Catch up the cockerels, and either confine them in a roomy pen or better sell them on the market. A mongrel cockerel is a very poor investment at any time.

Infertile eggs are the best for storage and preservation. We have found that infertile eggs will keep in the very hottest weather. They will of course evaporate, but they will not spoil or rot.

The Farmer
The farmer should produce nothing but infertile eggs. If he produces fertile eggs, they should be consumed at home. Remember you are lowering the price of eggs, and increasing the already bad reputation of Texas eggs, by selling or placing fertile eggs on the market in warm weather. We must make a united effort to build up a better reputation of Texas eggs. The best way of doing it is by producing and selling only infertile eggs in warm weather. Remember the infertile egg will keep, and the fertile egg will not. Get your neighbors interested in producing infertile eggs.

The Egg Buyer
To encourage the production of infertile eggs, egg-buyers should be willing to pay a premium for them. Nobody can deny the superiority of an infertile egg. It is better and should therefore bring more money. We have found that from a business standpoint egg-buyers can well afford to pay a premium of five cents per dozen for infertile eggs. Display a sign something like this: "We Pay a Premium For Infertile Eggs." Unless egg buyers and merchants are willing to pay a premium for infertile eggs it will always be uphill work to interest the farmer in the production of infertile eggs.

Consumers
Consumers can increase the demand for infertile eggs, by insisting that their grocer handle them. Truly, it is remarkable, how hard it is to break an old habit. Habit alone, is responsible for people eating fertile eggs in warm weather. A fertile egg is a very poor egg to try to eat. You are taking many chances, for in warm weather they are seldom fit to eat. Most people prefer to buy their chickens and eggs in separate packages, but too many are willing to take a chance of getting both in the same package, or they could not think of buying fertile eggs in warm weather.

We have observed eggs in 30 dozen cases, out on a warm railroad platform to hatch out full developed chicks. We have seen cooks in restaurants throw many dozens away as unfit to use, and, sorry to say that many more they should have discarded. An egg is either all good or all bad, as food. A fertile egg in warm weather is always all bad, while an infertile egg in warm weather is always good. Call for infertile eggs. You can really afford to pay ten cents per dozen more for infertile eggs than for fertile eggs. When you buy a dozen infertile eggs for thirty cents you get 12 eggs fit for food. When you buy a dozen fertile eggs, you may and you may not get six or eight good eggs and the rest are doubtful, and who likes to eat a doubtful egg.

Swat The Rooster
After May the first or earlier, put on a community, "Swat The Rooster Day." Gather up all the old male birds and market them. Set a certain day for all the farmers to bring in the surplus males. In this way as many as a carload may be shipped at one time. Some communities make a regular thing of this once a year. These male birds will bring more on the market now than later, not to say anything of the great amount of feed they would consume in the meantime.

New Soldier Bonus Bill Worked Out In the United States Senate Is Less Objectionable Than the First

Washington, April 25.—A brand-new soldiers' bonus bill, said to be much less objectionable than the one passed by the House, was brought forward as a basis of agreement at a conference behind closed doors between the Senate Finance Committee and representatives of the World War veterans' organizations yesterday.

The new measure is the handiwork of Senator McCumber, North Dakota, chairman of the committee. Other members of the committee look upon it with friendly eyes. They have high hopes that it will furnish the long sought bridge to span the gap between Congress and the Administration over the bonus issue.

Cuts Cash Outlay.
The feature of the new measure which has won favor particularly with members of the finance committee is the fact that it would require an estimated outlay of about $100,000,000 next year compared with the Treasury Department's estimate that the House bill would cost about $300,000,000 next year.

The McCumber plan would spread the cost lightly over a long period of years and considerably reduce the strain upon the Treasury. The details have not been disclosed.

Hanford MacNider, commander of the American Legion, and Robert O. Woodside, commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, were present at the conference. They told the committee at the outset that they favored the House bill. Senator Watson, Indiana, who conferred with President Harding about the bonus last week, told them pointblank that it would be futile to consider the House bill as the President certainly would veto it.

"I do not believe that any member of this committee thinks that a Congressman would be elected that would neglect the men who were disabled through wearing the uniform, no matter what the financial condition of the Treasury happens to be in the future."

Maize Brings $1.00 Per Bushel When Put in Pig Skins

There is absolutely no doubt that the hog is responsible for saving many a man from being bankrupt this year.

The range cow and range steer has for so long a time been looked upon as the staple crop of this section, that it was very confusing to the big cow man to find that his fortune had vanished almost overnight, and that the cow of the range has disappeared so far as his equity was concerned.

Likewise the small farmer had raised a big row crop last year, and found that to place it on the market the grain would no more than pay operating expenses, say nothing of paying debts.

Both the big operator and the small farmer learned that hogs were an excellent well in this country if given half a chance. All classes of farmers and stock raisers turned to hogs and have greatly profited therefrom.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE IS POSTPONED AT MATADOR

"Two school boys from Moore sold a yearling each on the San Antonio market Monday at prices that knocked the regular schedule silly. These boys had raised these yearlings on the famous 'baby beef' plan, and did it as part of a school program. The boys came to market with their yearlings, via truck, and were a happy, and deserving pair. W. M. Blediger was the name of one; H. R. McNeal the name of the other. The yearling of the first named weighed in at 650 pounds; that of the second named

The Cotton Outlook As Discussed By The Wall Street Journal Predicts A Cotton In This Country Soon

The Wall Street Journal, continuing its discussion of the cotton outlook and its prediction of a "cotton famine," has the following to say: "World cotton consumption may soon overtake the supply. Consumption in the six months ending Jan. 31, 1922, was 80 per cent of mill capacity, according to the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers. This compares with less than 70 per cent in the preceding six months.

"The statement of this authority, with the facts and figures of present consumption, makes the question of future supply an anxious one. Money and much energy are spent to encourage cotton production outside the United States, but consequential results have yet been achieved. The United States, India and Egypt are still the only sources of supply, each producing a different kind. If the report is true that the pink boll worm is in Mesopotamia, the outlook for the world increase is still more discouraging. Egypt's territory is limited, and India cannot increase its acreage for years to come.

"Plainly, whatever increase in supply there is must, for some years yet, come from the United States. The situation calls for a making over of Southern agriculture, more food, feed and livestock raised, less acres to cotton and more, many more pounds to the acre, if the world demand is to be met."

Manufacturing Industries in United States Gradually Moving Westward The South is Awakening Requirement

The trend of the manufacturing industries of the country is westward. The factories are getting close to the course of raw materials and near to the fuel supply. A half century ago more than two-thirds of the manufacturing were located in the states touching or close to the Atlantic; these same states now manufacture less than one-half of the country's output.

The westward movement of the manufacturing industry is chiefly in the Mississippi valley, which produces most of the cotton and wool, iron and copper and lead and timber, and likewise the bulk of the fuel with which it is moved to the manufacturing centers, according to the trade record of the National City Bank of New York, which says:

"The seventeen states of the Atlantic frontage supplied 68 per cent of the manufacturers recorded by the census of 1870, 64 per cent in 1880, 56 per cent in 1900 and 49.7 per cent in the census of 1920. The total output of the manufacturing establishments of the Atlantic frontage in 1919 was eleven times as much, in value, as fifty years earlier, while the output of the other parts of the country was twenty-two times—as much as a half century earlier."

The southern states were content until within recent years to ship out their cotton and their wool, their hides and other raw material. It went to factories chiefly along the Atlantic, and was transformed into manufactured products, after which such part as the South needed was shipped back to the South. The carriers got the freight rate each way; the manufacturers in the North and East got the profits on the finished products. The South got what it could for the raw materials.

But this condition is changing. The South is waking up, and Texas, too, is waking up. Here is the heart of the cotton belt, here is the kingdom of the sheep which supplies the wool and the goat which furnishes mohair. Texas has large supplies of coal, natural gas and oil, and there are possibilities of hydraulic power, some of which has been partially developed. With an admirable climate that make for delightful living conditions, there is no more desirable part of the country for a laboring man's home. The combination should make one of the greatest manufacturing states of the Union.

Since the manufacturers are getting away from the Atlantic coast, more of them should be encouraged to come to Texas. There are a few pioneers in the state, and the success that has come to them should encourage others to follow their example. A small steel manufacturing plant business here at Fort Worth is on the eve of being developed into a mammoth proposition, and other industries, too, are looking and headed this way. Just a little encouragement on the part of the people of Fort Worth and this city will become a manufacturing city of first importance. —Fort Worth Record.

BARCLAY AND DESHAZO SELL OUT BUSINESS

Barclay and Deshazo the past week have sold out the business formerly owned and run by them, to J. T. and Edgar Inmon, well known at this place. The business will be opened up by them formally on Saturday morning.

Mr. Inmon has been associated with Martin and Wolcott for a number of years, is a man of good sound business ability, and knows the grocery game from A to Z. His son, who is also well known here, having been connected with the different business firms of the city for some time, is a man whom we all know and whom to know is to appreciate.

These men are widely known among the residents of the city and county, and have built a reputation in the business world as being honest and four-square in all their dealings, and it is with a great deal of pleasure that we announce that these men have taken this step. May they ever prosper in their endeavors.

A Good Business Proposition.
The Bonham Sweet Potato Curing Association, would be glad to sell some suitable business man its new plant. Someone who is qualified and able to run the plant and know how to cure sweet potatoes. We would consider land in Lubbock county at a fair price. This plant cost $30,000 in cash and is up in good shape every way. Fully paid up. Write Philip Wise, Bonham, Texas. —18-4

AN INTERESTING BATCH OF MOODY NEWS

I am glad to note that the sand is resting well this morning. It took a moderate dose of rain last night at about 8:00 o'clock and the dose was repeated in about two hours, which doubtless is the cause of its restfulness.

There is a slow rain falling this morning, which makes the farmers all smile. Their checker games are more easily won, and even the tobacco juice as it passes from mouth to esophagus makes its way without so much as a drop being wasted on the chin as they sit by the fire-side and industriously calculate the profit to be made on this year's crop.

Mrs. Nickell and little granddaughter, Willie Mae Hice, visited Mrs. J. L. Thorp Monday afternoon. Mrs. Bob Swofford spent Monday with Mrs. Bill Chism.

Weldon Teague and Fred Reeves were at the County seat Monday evening.

Mrs. J. L. Thorp visited with Mrs. Teague Tuesday.

Wilsie Teague called on Mrs. Claud Haven Thursday. Mrs. Haven returned with her and incidentally visited the store.

Kenneth Chism spent Thursday night with Beecher Swofford.

Messrs Robertson, White and Evans of Ropes, were through our community on a prospecting tour last week.

Oree Gunn and Wilsie Teague were in Lubbock Tuesday. Oree was taking a treatment from an ear specialist.

Gentry Murray and Ulis King made a business trip to Lubbock Tuesday.

Miss Annie Lou Thorp spent Friday with her sister, Mrs. Viola Williams.

T. C. Swofford and Irvin Patterson made a business trip to Lubbock Thursday evening. They returned Friday via Leveland where they remained for the night.

Messdames Bill Murray and White were at Mrs. John Swofford's Wednesday.

Mrs. Bill Meares and three children spent Saturday with Mrs. A. E. W. White.

Messdames Lillie Swofford and Lillie Patterson spent Saturday with Mrs. Bob Swofford.

Messrs Bob Swofford, White and Teague have each been putting some improvements on their places the past week.

Mr. Cecil Gunn left Friday for a visit to his old home in the Acuff neighborhood. His wife has been visiting her parents at that place and she expects to return with him. Mr. Charlie Thompson and his friend and family all of Slaton, were visiting the family of J. L. Thorp the latter part of the week.

Mr. White has just effected a sale of some of his oil land property in Arkansas. He gets ($1,500.00) fifteen thousand dollars in the deal.

Moody's first serenade (or shivoree) was had last Tuesday night, when a crowd met and gave Mr. and Mrs. White a serenade. It was rather novel one as Mr. and Mrs. White had just moved to themselves for the first time in their married life, of ten years. Mrs. White has three children, Ulis, King, Mrs. Harry Palmer and Mrs. Bill Murray, by a former marriage and they have either been living with some of the children or some of the children with them, until now. The people thought they would spring a great surprise until, when the light was lit inside, and all peered into the window, they saw Mr. White peering in, too, and heard him say: "Ain't we searining em though." They were all invited in and the men were treated to cigars and the ladies to candy. The wedding cake had already been eaten.

Quite a jolly crowd went to Leveland Friday afternoon to attend the baseball game. The game was very evenly watched, and went well but for outside influence, which caused a great disturbance by the discourtesy shown our captain. This caused the game to be held up for some time and the latter part was played mechanically and without pep.

Sunday school was well attended despite the fact that we had had

ROTARY NOTES

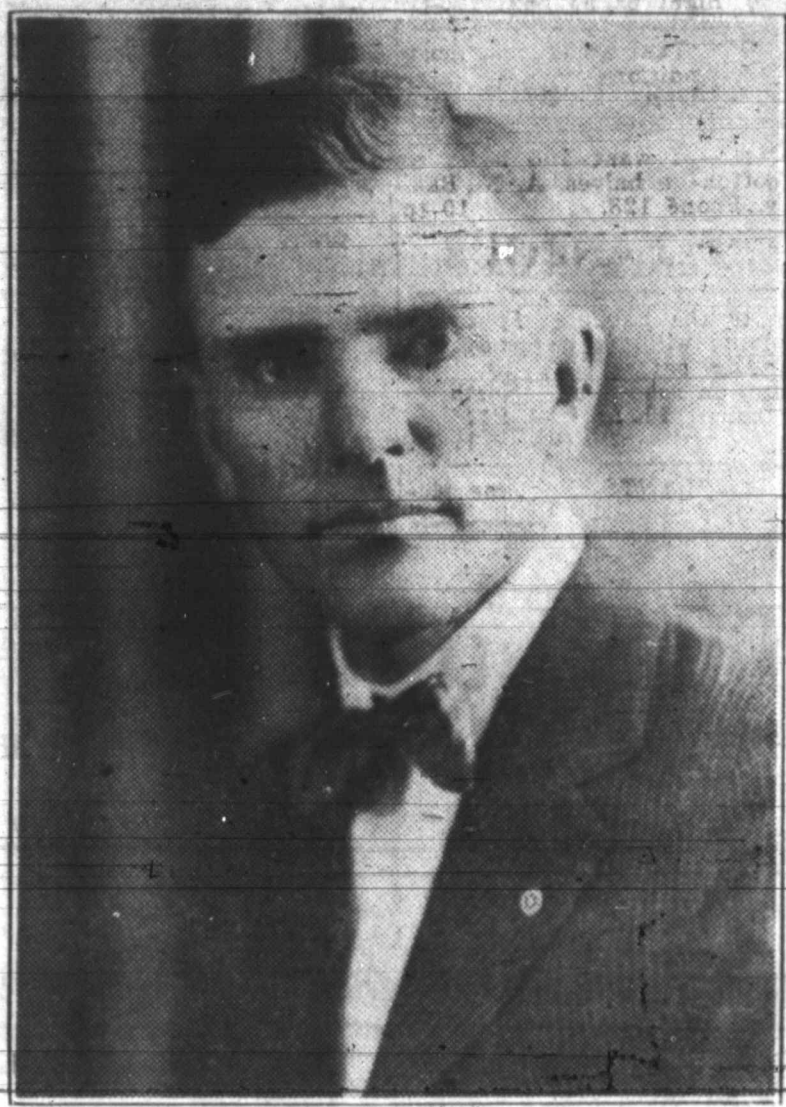

By L. T. Martin

The Lubbock Rotary Club held its weekly luncheon at the Manhattan Parlors Wednesday, April 26, with over fifty present. Rev. Lewis, the Presbyterian pastor, offered invocation.

The meeting was called to order by President Walter Myrick, who asked Mr. Keen as retiring secretary to give a report on the work of the club for the past year, making mention of the fact that there is now a bank balance to their credit of $375.00, and also that a great spirit of friendliness has been developed between this town and our neighboring towns through the work of the club.

tary, in Town and Country." He mentioned the fact that as civilization advances to all become more dependent upon each other; but as we become more dependent, we also become more self-absorbed and more self-centered. But Rotary has done much to counteract this tendency by bringing the town and country people closer together, establishing the bonds of friendship and of mutual interest between them, and giving them a better understanding of the problems that each one has to work out in their different business, and occupations. He said that one of much I appreciate being made president of this Rotary Club. To me it is one of the greatest honors in the world. It is through the efforts of our retiring president, Walter Myrick, that this club has been successful. We all know that there has been no movement for the good of the whole community in which the Rotary Club has not taken the lead in putting it over.

J. R. RIX Who takes the reins of Rotary in Lubbock, succeeding Walter Myrick, who has faithfully filled the office of President for the past year.

the main purposes of Rotary should be the narrowing of this gulf which lies between the town and country citizens. Common sympathy between them is necessary, and this can be best brought about by wholehearted co-operation. Friendship is founded on respect, and gained through co-operation. And it is by co-operation alone that the community can benefit as a whole. If each Rotarian would try to cultivate a close friendship with the farmers, it would help a great deal in bringing the community closer together.

For instance, I hardly knew Walter Myrick before this club was organized, and I believe this applies to every other member. This friendship alone has made Rotary worth while to me. They overlooked one feature when they elected me as next president, and that is that the president should be a well-informed man. This fact was illustrated the other day when a lady came into Walter's store and insisted on having a private interview with him.

done much for Lubbock. To know Jed is to like him, and that is how he has kept us working so hard both in the upbuilding of Lubbock, and Rotary work as well. But if you are a good Rotarian you will be a civic worker.

Where you lead, we will follow, and I am sure this is the sentiment of every Rotarian.

Track Sinks As Engineer Backs Train

Brownwood, Texas, April 28.—A tragedy was averted at 10 o'clock Tuesday night by Engineer Ed Freeman of northbound passenger train No. 5, when he stopped and reversed his engine as he felt the track sinking upon reaching the Clear Creek bridge and trestle twelve miles south of Brownwood. The headlight of the engine was out of order and not burning, which caused Engineer Freeman to run slowly through the flooded area, feeling his way through the darkness. On a high embankment with deep water on either side and Clear Creek half a mile wide roaring just in front, the passenger train started across the long trestle. Just as it did so the engineer felt the track sink. He instantly applied the brakes and reversed his engine, backing to a point of safety, shaking up the passengers considerably. It was found on investigation by the wrecking crew today that a long stretch of track had been washed out.

OPINION GIVEN ON FRUIT CONTAINER LAW

Austin, April 26.—It was held today that chapter 181, acts of the Thirty-Fifth Legislature, providing for standard containers for fruits and vegetables and establishing grades and packs and providing for inspections at the point of which the produce is shipped, can not be invoked on shipments moving to points beyond the State of Texas; that when so shipped the produce becomes interstate commerce and it can not be regulated by the laws or regulations of any state, such regulations being prohibited by the Constitution of the United States. This construction of the law was made by first assistant Attorney General B. F. Smith in an opinion to George B. Terrell, Commissioner of Agriculture who had asked to be advised with regard to the law.

Mr. Smith did hold in today's opinion that the law was valid and enforceable when applied to shipments of fruits and vegetables between points in Texas. In such shipments containers must be used and inspections can be made. In his opinion Mr. Smith says that Texas is limited to its boundaries in according beneficial power and that it owes no legal obligation to other states to protect citizens there; that those states are privileged to make laws, rules and regulations for their own safety and protection and likewise the Federal Government may regulate commerce between the states for the protection of the general public.

Parent-Teachers
On April 27 the Parent-Teachers' Association held their literary meeting at the Primary building and in spite of the rainy weather a good record was made in attendance. The first part of the program was under the direction of Miss Mary Meador, and her pupils gave a number of readings and musical numbers, in a well trained manner.
Mrs. Tubbs presided in the absence of Mrs. Wolffarth. Several instructive and interesting papers were read, bearing on the different phases of "The Moral Training of the Child." Mrs. Baugh brought out many points of interest to both Parent and Teacher in her discussion of "The Function of Morality in Human Life" and splendid papers were also given by Mrs. Sims, who discussed the subject from the home view point, and Mrs. Lon Mullican on "The Best Method of Giving Moral Training in the School." Rev. Bowen emphasized the importance of athletics and games—bringing out the point that these were needed particularly during the vacation period, when the child was not at school and his mind was not active on study. Professor Dupre spoke on the parents responsibility and teachers obligation in the moral training of the child.
A short business session followed the social program. Miss Garrison spoke, asking the Parent-Teachers' Association to cooperate with the senior students in the paying of the expenses of the two girls who

Just Sew Club
The Just Sew Club was the guest of Mrs. Bates Hoffer and Mrs. Paul Barrier, when they entertained on Wednesday afternoon, at Mrs. Hoffer's home. After an hour and a half of needle work and the social visit that always goes with an affair of this informal type, the hostesses served the following ladies with dainty refreshments of hot tea and sandwiches: Mesdames A. W. May, B. F. Maxie, H. Wheelock, H. Griffith, Chas. Pierce, Clark Mullican, and Mrs. Clifton Lindsey the club guest.
The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harold Griffith with Mrs. J. R. Germany, as assisting hostess, Wednesday, May 10th.

The beaded straws have strips of bead work interlaced with the straw and are usually trimmed with a single beaded ornament or a heavy tassel. The tatted straw straws are not really tatted at all, but are overlapped so that the brim seems to be made of fine tucks.

Mariposa Bridge Club
Mrs. Morton J. Smith was club hostess to the Mariposa Bridge Club, on Thursday afternoon. In addition to the members, Mrs. J. W. Jarrott and Mrs. K. Powell were guests. Dainty refreshments were served after the pleasant afternoon of bridge.

Theater Party
Some twenty husbands found the Thursday luncheon rather quiet, the result of a suddenly planned theater party, composed of about twenty ladies, with a noon luncheon engagement preceding the theater.
Very often the most hastily planned affairs are the most enjoyable, because we don't have time to do to much fussing, perhaps, and surely there was never a daintier array of good things for any luncheon, than was found at Mrs. Walter Posey's home, when each guest arrived, bringing the best in lemon pie, salad or sandwiches. After lunch ample time was allowed for an enjoyable visit, with a good deal of fun along the way, and at two o'clock promptly the following ladies went en masse to the Lindsey theater: Mesdames O. L. Slaton, Walter Posey, J. S. Johnson, W. O. Stevens, Kimbro, Jed Rix, Floyd Beal, W. H. Meador, Claud Hurlbut, Roscoe Wilson, T. Duggan, Neil Wright, A. V. Weaver, Curtis A. Keen, and Miss Delia Wilkinson.

In spite of the rainy weather the Idle Hour Club met with Mrs. O. R. Collier on Wednesday, April 26. The ladies present for the afternoon were: Mrs. Harvey L. Hicks, Mrs. Virgil Morgan, Mrs. W. K. ### Cotton Seed for Planting

You would not fool your labor and money away growing Scrub Livestock. Neither should you grow Scrub Cotton. There is as much or more difference in cotton as there is in livestock.

Our Panhandle grown Acala cotton seed are as pure as are to be had. They have been bred for Earliness, Strength and Length of Staple, Quantity Production, Lint Turnout, Storm Proof and Drouth Resisting Qualities.

It has proven to be one of the earliest if not the earliest cotton grown. It is a medium boll. Stays in the boll well, yet because of its staple it picks easily.

Following is a comparison of the average results of our cotton last year as compared with common cotton that only thirds itself which you have considered good:
1500-lb seed cotton ACALA 38 per cent; lint 575-lb bale at 19 1/2c. $111.02. 1500-lb seed cotton, ordinary, 33 per cent; lint 500-lb bale at 18c. $90.00. Difference 5 percent, 75 pounds, 1 1/2c; $21.02.

This is enough to pay for the picking. Or in other words the Acala was worth as much in the field as common cotton in the bale.

All our seed are state tested. PURITY test 99.7 percent. Germination test 93 per cent. Price $2.00 per bushel delivered. Buy from your dealer or write direct.

DEBS FREE—WHY NOT DADDY, SAY CHILDREN
New York, April 27.—Twenty-five little children from Oklahoma and other Western States on their way to Washington to ask amnesty for their fathers and brothers, who are at Leavenworth for wartime offenses, ranging from conscientious objection to seditions utterances, left today for Philadelphia and Baltimore.

The children were taken care of yesterday by society women and a fund of several hundred dollars to aid them was raised at a meeting. The children, who carried banners reading: "Debs Is Free—Why Not My Daddy?" will be received by President Harding in Washington on April 29.

A Small Army Is A War Menace According to Secretary Weeks, In Speech Before Appropriation Com.

Washington, April 25.—The 150,000 enlisted strength Army bill passed by the House, provides military structure below the safe minimum of the Nation, Secretary Weeks told the Senate Appropriations Committee in urging that appropriations for the next fiscal year, permit a force of 13,000 officers and 150,000 men to be maintained in the Regular Army. Should the House proposals prevail, he added, not only would the regulars suffer, but overseas garrisons would be "inadequate" and the development of "citizens' components of our national defense system" would be seriously checked.

"I am aware of no issue that at the present time threatens to involve us in international complications," Weeks said. "There is no evidence of foreign designs against us; we must, however, recognize that throughout the greater part of the world a condition of instability prevails which renders the permanence of world peace uncertain."

Would Invite Aggression.
"It is certain that to remain weak and unprepared in the face of such a situation is to invite aggression. It is moreover essential not only that we maintain a reasonable state of preparedness, but that it should be a matter of international knowledge that we are so prepared."

The Army needs "stability" more than anything else, Weeks said, recounting the double cut in the strength of the force made last year and that consequent reorganizing required.

Weeks said the House bill made "inadequate provision for the healthy growth of the National Guard and for its proper field training." "As to organized reserves," he pointed out that it was sought in peace times only to create the officer framework and the annual training of the reserve forces, on whom the war time machine would depend. The War Department had asked for only funds to train 20,000 of the 65,000 reserve officers during the coming year, as no "adequate provision" for keeping up their training since the war had been made, he said.

Weeks said he had been much impressed with the testimony already before the committee as to the physical, moral and educational value of military training, statements by governors, educators and others on the point "had been most impressive," he said, and in his opinion "these collateral nonmilitary benefits" alone justified the department's training plans and the expense they involved.

Service System Important.
The Army service school system is of vital importance in the national preparedness plan, the war secretary declared.

As to the Army's gas warfare work Weeks said that while ultimate abolition of such warfare might come by international agreement, "it would be fatal to us to give up the series of experiments and investigation, which were conducted during the war and have been carried on since, until that moment had arrived. As to aviation, he expressed desire that provision for its development in the Army should be larger than the department was now asking, and added:

"I do not hesitate to predict that in any future war its importance will be greatly increased."

Could Have Prevented War.
The United States with adequate military preparation and under strong leadership could have prevented the occurrence of the World War, General Pershing declared in testifying before the committee on behalf of the War Department's plea for an increase in the military establishment over that proposed by the House.

Failure to recognize the existence of "envy, jealousy and hatred" among all nations as among individuals, he said, has invariably sent the United States unprepared into a great crisis and caused unnecessary loss of life, and left us staggering under financial burdens."

SLATON PLACES $25,000 BONDS FOR CITY HALL

Slaton, April 27.—The Attorney General's department at Austin has approved the $25,000 bond issue of the City of Slaton for the construction of a modern city hall in the center of the public square. The bonds have been sold at par and accrued interest and work will commence at once on the actual construction of the building.

The city hall will be thoroughly modern, and with commodious auditorium with a seating capacity of from 800 to 1,000 persons.

The bond record was approved within one week after its receipt by the Attorney General's department.

Religion Is Called the Basis of Nation By Vice-Pres. Marshall

Sherman, April 26.—Former vice president Thomas R. Marshall closed a series of six lectures given in Sherman under auspices of Austin college on fundamental principles of good citizenship, with a lay sermon delivered from the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening, in which Mr. Marshall discussed "The Contribution of Christianity to America's Greatness." The former Vice President left Sherman early Monday morning for St. Louis, where he has accepted an engagement to speak before leaving immediately for a tour of Europe.

Mr. Marshall began his discourse with a reference to a man reputed to be a politician occupying the pulpit of a Christian church, but declared that it was his observation from a number of years' contact with the great and near-great at Washington that no man was really great who did not have the spirit of service for his fellowmen exemplified in the life of the Nazarene.

Mr. Marshall dwelt on the fact that this country was founded by men of Christian character, and pointed out that even Thomas Jefferson, reputed agnostic, was by his acts and words, not a real agnostic. The Declaration of Independence, of which he was the author, began with an invocation of divine guidance, and for the motto of the University of Virginia which he founded he chose the words of Jesus: "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make ye free."

The speaker pointed out that while the government founded by the fathers guaranteed freedom of worship according to one's own conscience, this had resulted in many citizens developing peculiar consciences. Too many, he declared, have taken this to mean that they do not have to worship at all.

Mr. Marshall pointed out the shadow principle which is too often the guide of men in business and economic affairs today. Whereas, it was formerly asked the lawyer "Am I right?" such a question is never asked, but "Can I get by with this?"

FIRE IN DALLAM COUNTY THREATENED COURTHOUSE

Dalhart, April 27.—Fire originating in a small work room in the Dallam County courthouse about 6:00 o'clock yesterday evening threatened to destroy the entire building, which contains the public records of the county.

Prompt work on the part of the fire department brought the fire under control, and damage by smoke and water is apparently small. None of the records in the vaults were damaged.

Big Spring, April 27.—The flood waters in Big Spring have receded less than 12 inches in the past 12 hours, and the Texas and Pacific tracks here have been under water since Tuesday. Seven culverts and bridges between here and Iatan, 20 miles east, are out. It will be impossible to send work trains until the water recedes.

Trains are running from Stanton to El Paso, but it may be ten days or more before a train can be expected from the east. Railroad officials hope to get a train here from the west by Saturday. No loss of life and very little property damage is reported.

Colorado, Texas, April 27.—The heaviest rain in forty years fell at Colorado Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 4.50, amounting to five inches. The entire city was flooded. The Colorado river was on a 25 foot rise here Wednesday morning.

Scores of bridges and culverts in Mitchell county are out. Roads were damaged by washouts everywhere. County Judge J. C. Hall states that the roads and bridges are damaged $400,000. No train has arrived at Colorado since Monday night.

April Shipment of Cattle to the Northern Pastures—Heaviest Report Shows 597 Cars Have Been Shipped

The heaviest shipment of cattle to northern pastures of the year for preparation for market was recorded last week by inspectors of the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers' association, when 597 cars were shipped from Texas ranges to Oklahoma, Kansas and Iowa grazing grounds. Added to this number were 45 cars shipped to other ranges in Texas for preparation for market, making a total of 642 cars to pastures for market purposes.

Shipments to Fort Worth market and other markets tied, there being 34 cars received here and the same number consigned to other markets.

Laredo reported the only poor condition in Texas, due to extreme dryness in that section of the country. The cattle are too poor to be dipped, and therefore the movement has been practically stopped except where they are consigned to northern pastures.

General range conditions are reported to be excellent, with grass coming in fine shape and the weeds showing up well. The report follows: Hebronville: Range very good; no rain; cattle doing well where we had rain. One hundred and fifty-nine cars of stock shipped to northern pastures. C. C. Craighhead, inspector.

Alice: Range good in sections; rainfall averaged about one inch, needing more badly. Two cars to Houston market; 13 cars to Wichita, Kans. market; 43 cars to northern pastures. James Gibson, inspector.

Good Range Condition. Beville: Range good; no rain. One car to Houston and 82 cars to other ranges. John E. Rigby, inspector.

San Angelo: Range has had good moisture, but grass seems to be slow; heavy rain seemed to have washed away most of the old grass; weeds are beginning to come; no rain in the past week; cattle and sheep are doing fairly good. Eighty-eight cars of stock to Oklahoma and Kansas pastures. T. C. Rutledge, inspector.

North Pleasanton: Range good; no rain; range getting green as wheat fields and cattle improving very fast. One hundred and nine cars to Oklahoma pastures, with 67 cars dipped. J. F. Martin, inspector.

Decker: Range getting green, with grass coming fast; some bad sand storms. Six cars to Fort Worth market. John Southworth, inspector.

Laredo: Range to south and southwest very dry; have had no rain; range north and west of here in very good condition and brush coming fast, but need more rain; no rain for the past week. The dipping has practically stopped the movement of cattle in this section except what cattle in this section that are going to Oklahoma and Kansas for grass. There have been several buyers in market here for spring steers and cows but cattle are so poor they can't stand dipping. Some stockmen had stood very heavy losses of cattle the past winter and are still feeding. There is no fat cattle in this section. Four cars shipped into Mexico. Graves Peeler, inspector.

Cattle Beginning to Mend. Clarendon: Grass growing fast; Cattle are beginning to mend. Two cars to Fort Worth; 17 cars to Kansas pastures. A. T. Jeffries, inspector.

Post: Range slowly improving; on Friday night the 7th, had 1 3-4 inches of rain; covered most all these western counties, but very little at Lubbock. Sixty-two cars to northern pastures and 25 cars to other Texas ranges. W. D. Alsob, inspector.

El Paso: Range dry, no rain. The wind has been blowing here for 15 or 20 days the worst seen here; the sand has blown all the roads full. Eight cars to El Paso market; one car to Los Angeles; 32 cars to northern pastures and eight cars to other Texas ranges. Lee Bell, inspector.

Pecos: Range very dry; no rain. Twenty-five cars to Ft. Worth market; 12 cars to other Texas ranges. H. D. Slack, inspector.

HARDY NEWS ITEMS OF THE PAST WEEK

We are surely in receipt of a fine rain, which we should be very thankful for. Most everybody is through planting feed and will plant cotton as soon as it is dry enough. Some have already begun planting cotton.

We are sure glad to see Mr. Pete Hardy back home again from the hospital.

Miss Vivian Hardy, who is attending school at Lubbock, visited home folks Saturday and Sunday.

Your pencil pusher and family visited the Monroe singing class Thursday night. There we found a bunch of fine singers. They propose to win the banger again at the convention which meets at Slaton next Sunday.

If it was not for Hardy they might win, but that being the case there isn't a chance.

Rev. Tenneyson of Plainview, filled his appointment here Sunday afternoon.

Our singing class was to have gone over to sing with Shallowater Sunday evening, but were rained out. Come to Lubbock.

NEWS ITEMS FROM THE PLAINVIEW HERALD

Reports of floods in the cotton district of Texas and the Mississippi Valley have stimulated the planting of cotton in Hale county. It is conservatively estimated that more than 10,000 acres will be planted in the county. The recent rains have put a good season in the ground and there is much land prepared for wheat which is available for cotton. Cotton, spring wheat and the sorghum grains promise a good yield and it now appears that 1922 will not be such a bad year for farm production in the Plains as it was thought several weeks ago would be the case.

Since Sunday night there has fallen in the Plainview territory a total of 2.57 inches of rain. The rain fell slowly, every drop of it seemed to soak in, thus doing the maximum of good. Wheat growers say that this is sufficient almost to insure at least a small crop of grain in this county. Grain men predict a large crop of maize and other row crops. Reports from other points over the Panhandle indicate that the rain was very general, and at some points was exceeding the amount which fell here. W. J. Klinger, local weather observer, states that during the last eight years Plainview has received a rain on the 25th of April five years out of the eight. This, he says, is a fairly good criterion of the time of year that the rain usually falls.

The Happy Union School closed last night with the delivering of diplomas to two graduates and with a special program which was given by the pupils. Judge L. D. Griffin, ex-officio county superintendent attended the exercises. W. T. Hamilton, member of the board of trustees, delivered an address and awarded the diplomas. Certificates of promotion were given five of the pupils of the intermediate department. Several prizes for the best conduct, best grades, largest number of headmarks and best attendance were given. One boy made the record on not having missed a single school day. Miss Minnie Wilson is principal of the Happy Union school, and Mrs. Myrtle Saffle Murphy is the assistant. Closing exercises will be held at Liberty and Ellen tonight, each school rendering a program.

Flood Loss Placed At a Million Dollars In Fort Worth

The flood damage in the growing manufacturing and commercial district in the "bottom lands between Fort Worth and the North Side will range around the $300,000 mark and possibly higher, according to estimates made Wednesday.

Some of the buildings in the district were damaged beyond repair, according to S. D. Shannon, county tax assessor, while the majority of them can be repaired. Many tents were turned over and their contents lost. The value of the buildings in the district was $1,250,000, he estimated.

The latest estimates on the flood damage in Fort Worth and vicinity place it at the $1,000,000 mark.

The following concerns were damaged by the flood in the district: Fort Worth Power and Light company plant, First National company, Buie Body Works, Humble Oil Company, V. M. and C. M. Davis, contractors; Bowdry and McKinley Iron Works, Southern Street & Construction company, Fort Worth Mechanical company, Tarrant County warehouse, Northern Texas Traction company yards, Continental Supply company, Producers Supply company, Central Electric company, Cunningham Body Works, Standard Battery Company, Fort Worth Cold Storage company, Panther Park, Magnolia Petroleum company, Southern Marble and Stone company, Fort Worth Marble and Granits Works.

As we go to press, our good friend Joe McFarlin is not far from that country from which no traveler returns. It was reported that he had passed away, but it was not true. #### RANCHMAN DIED IN FLOOD NEAR JACKSBORO

Jacksboro, Texas, April 27.—After a twenty-four-hour search by a posse, headed by Sheriff Sam J. Rogers, the body of Jerry B. Fowler, 26, an employee of the Tom H. Cherryhones ranch, east of Jacksboro, was found lodged in a tree on Carroll's Creek yesterday. Fowler had attempted to swim his horse across the swollen stream. No one accompanied him; apprehensive because of his failure to return to the ranch headquarters, searching parties were assembled. His horse was soon found near the creek crossing. The skull and body of the dead man showed bruises which indicated the rider had been struck by the horse and rendered unconscious. He is a son of the late J. C. Fowler and is survived by his mother, Mrs. Stella Martin, and two brothers, Joy and Ira Fowler, of this county, and one sister, Anise Fowler, of Fort Worth. Funeral will be held Thursday.

"Silas"—The man who took your watch around the corner to have your initials engraved on the case in remembrance of your first visit to our city will not return it.

"Clarence"—By no means telephone your question to her. As she lives only eleven miles away, you can go and tell her before you can get the right number.

"Why," replied the Gargoyle, "He became an Ace because He loved his fellow men."
