Mrs. Everett Barrett Slain Monday Buried at Hale Center Tuesday; J. F. Barrett Being Held In Unknown Jail

Mrs. Everett Barrett, 20, residing in the Big Square community, about 16 miles northeast of Muleshoe, is dead from shotgun wounds, and her father-in-law, J. F. Barrett, a prominent and well-to-do farmer of that community, is in jail at some unknown point. The killing took place at the woman's home last Monday morning about 10 o'clock.

Following the killing, J. F. Barrett went to the home of a neighbor, George Keller, telling Keller he had better come over to the house of his son, that something was wrong. Keller, accompanied by his wife and Barrett, responded at once. Upon their arrival at the scene of the tragedy, the body of the slain woman was found in the back yard or her home, near the east porch, according to Keller, who made the first examination of the remains.

When the body was discovered she was lying face downward on her breast according to Keller. Her head was somewhat twisted to one side. Barrett reached down and straightened her head, brushing back her hair in a caring manner. He remained over her body several minutes, according to Keller, talking to her in a mumbled manner, none of the words being understandable by Keller or his wife. He is stated that at times Barrett seemed to be speaking to her in an affectionate manner.

Upon arising, Barrett suggested that they take the body into the house, and he assisted Keller in carrying her in and placing her on a bed, after which Barrett requested Mrs. Keller to get some water and wash off her face, which she did. Keller then covered the body entirely with a quilt from the bed. Shortly afterward Barrett went to the bed and pulled the quilt down from off her face to about her waist, then leaning over her body with both hands placed on the bed.

St. Clair Variety Store Moves; Will Enlarge The Stock

The St. Clair Variety store, last Tuesday moved into their new and larger quarters recently purchased on Main street.

During the past two weeks carpenters have been busily engaged in changing the building over into this particular line of merchandise. The interior has been done in white, and there is a full complement of shelving and show-counters.

Manager Irvin St. Clair states that in their new location they will be able to greatly enlarge their stock supplying patrons with new lines which heretofore they have been unable to carry for lack of space, and will also be able to give greater accommodations to the customers of their rapidly growing patronage.

Lariat Is Trimmed By Muleshoe In Fast Game There Sunday

Members of the Muleshoe baseball team took "sweet revenge" Sunday afternoon on the return game with the Lariat team, playing at Lariat. A game noted for its hits and runs in a final score of 28 to 15 favoring the Muleshoe players. There was a good attendance at the game, about 100 fans from Muleshoe being present.

The Muleshoe line-up for the game was: Bigham, p; Sterling, c; Weight, lb; Carr, 2b; B. Gwyn, ss; Mardis, 3b; Bennett Gwyn, lf; Young, cf; Givens, rf; Angeley substitute pitcher.

Muleshoe players got seven hits in their first inning, while in the ninth inning there were 16 runs made. Muleshoe is scheduled to play next Sunday with Friens.

MASONS ELECT OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the local Masonic lodge was held here Tuesday night, and officers elected as follows: J. B. Roberts, worshipful master; Arnold Morris, senior warden; J. E. Adams, junior warden; J. S. Glascock, treasurer; Connie D. Gupton, secretary; M. P. Collins, tier.

Installation of these newly elected officers will occur at the regular stated meeting to be held the evening of July 14.

The local lodge has been progressing nicely during the past year, according to Secretary Gupton, several members having been recently re-elected to the order.

WIFE TESTIFIES FOR HUSBAND IN DIVORCE

El Paso, J. F. Barrett, Anna Du Bois Cameron helped her absent husband, J. J. Cameron, obtain a divorce in 65th district court by testifying for him.

It is believed this is the first time such a divorce has been granted in Texas. She said that charges her husband made in his petition against her were true. These charges were that she found fault with him with respect to excise, had outbursts of temper and told him she never loved him.

Governor Putting Final Touches To Legislative Acts

A bill re-enacting the law requiring officers making arrests on state highways for traffic violations to wear uniforms of blue or gray materials was signed Thursday last week by Governor R. S. Sterling. The old law was declared unconstitutional by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The new one makes officers not in uniform when making traffic arrests liable to a fine on a misdemeanor charge. It was designed to curb indiscriminate arrest of motorists. It was passed as an emergency measure.

Governor Sterling used his blue pencil for the first time last week when he vetoed a bill to require public cotton ginners to be licensed by the State Department of Agriculture to maintain a staff of gin inspectors and enforce ginning regulations.

The bill would have repealed several articles of the present statutes, one of them being the provision requiring ginners to execute a bond. "This bill also places on the ginners of Texas additional expense and burdens which I regard as burdensome, without providing any additional benefits to the farmers and producers of cotton," the veto message stated.

Another bill vetoed by the Governor was one to appropriate $1,000,000 to repay West and North Texas farmers for expenses incurred in pink boll worm eradication and East Texas cotton raisers for tick eradication expenses.

Another would have prohibited the state highway commission from routing a designated state highway around a town of more than 200 population. The third would have given independent school districts the right of eminent domain.

Funeral Rites For Judge Kinder In Plainview Friday

The funeral services were held in Plainview Friday afternoon for Judge L. S. Kinder, 65, pioneer lawyer, jurist, banker, and civic leader, who was killed in an automobile accident near Melrose, N. M., the Tuesday night before.

Judge Kinder was well known in Muleshoe, having made frequent visits here on court matters, and his death was a distinct blow to his numerous friends and acquaintances residing here.

The services were in charge of Rev. E. E. Madela, pastor of St. Mark's Episcopal church, of which Judge Kinder was a member. Rev. Madela was assisted by Rev. Pat Horton, pastor of the First Baptist church and Rev. G. S. Hardy, of Chillicothe, former president leader of the Methodist church in Plainview.

An eulogy was delivered by Judge A. J. Fries of Childress, judge of the 100th judicial district, and for 40 years a friend of Judge Kinder. Judge Kinder met his death while enroute to various New Mexico points in company with Fred Love, Plainview business man. Love was driving the car in which they were riding. Passing an approaching car, the driver was blinded by its lights, according to report, and did not see a truck and trailer parked alongside the road into which they crashed. Judge Kinder was thrown from the car, his neck and one arm broken and skull crushed. Love was severely cut and bruised.

CITIZENS OF TEXAS WILL VOTE ON NINE DIFFERENT AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION IN NOV. NEXT YEAR

As a result of the labors of the regular session of the Forty-second Legislature, some nine amendments to the Constitution will be on the ballot which will confront the voters in November of next year. These nine represent only a fraction of the total number of proposals which engaged the Legislature's attention. Some of the others were, of course, impossible. Others failed to obtain submission simply because the Legislature did not find time to go through the usual procedure of reversing the vote often before adjournment time arrived. One of the latter undoubtedly was the Beck proposal for home rule for the larger counties. Another which failed because repeated balloting failed to muster the required strength was the road bond proposal. Still another in this class was the amendment to change the procedure of seizure and sale of property on which taxes become delinquent.

The nine which are to be balloted upon by the people are as follows: Fixing a $3,000 exemption for homeowners in levy of state ad valorem taxes.

Limiting voting in bond elections to citizens who have rendered property for taxation.

Combining the offices of county tax assessor and county tax collector.

Permitting retired officers of the Army Navy and Marine Corps to hold public office in state and county expense.

Changing the method by which property sold for taxes may be redeemed.

Empowering the Legislature to establish 100-day limitation on delinquent tax collections.

Authorizing the Legislature to make appropriation for Texas centennial celebration.

Correcting the present regulations upon voting of sea wall bonds by cities and counties so as to allow a two-thirds majority instead of three-fourths.

Correcting the university funds amendment adopted last year so as to permit investment of university permanent fund in the university's own obligations as well as other securities.

Most of these amendments are worthy of adoption. The change which would be wrought by most of them would be minor insofar as the major interests of the State are concerned, being largely taken up with details. The greatest fundamental change is that involved in the homestead tax exemption amendment. It would free practically every homesteaded and many farms from the state ad valorem tax, complaint against which as contributing to the heavy burden upon the "little home owner" and the farmer has been mounting in recent years. This amendment, if adopted, would cut the ground from under the agitation for abolition of the ad valorem tax, since the tax would be left to apply to few others than the well-to-do whose real property was assessed for taxation at considerably more than $3,000, the amendment's maximum exemption.

Of the others, the amendment combining the offices of county tax collector and county tax assessor is calculated to effect a considerable economy in state and county expense. The fate of the amendment authorizing legislative appropriations for the contemplated Texas centennial celebration will determine whether or not Texas will celebrate its 100 years of existence on an impressive scale.—Port Worth Star-Telegram.

Amarillo Wins Fight For 27 Cent Gas Rate Saturday of Last Wk.

Amarillo's gas war is over. The city commission of that city last Saturday accepted the 27-cent gas rate. By request the City Commission amended its franchise to the gas company specifying the 27-cent rate and passed a resolution rescinding its proceedings to condemn the gas company. The city has retired from the gas business and all contracts for city gas have been cancelled. The Amarillo Gas Company has bought the Huber pipeline and has settled with the bonding company.

The spectacular and successful battle of the City Commission for lower gas rates came to a sudden and unexpected climax Saturday morning when the gas company agreed to the terms of the city commission. Negotiations have been in progress for a week or more and as soon as an agreement was made a meeting of the city commission was called and action was taken to permit the gas company to remain in Amarillo.

"I am elated and gratified," declared Mayor Ernest Thompson after the meeting yesterday afternoon. "I have spent weeks and months neglecting my personal affairs in this fight for the people and everybody should be happy.—Amarillo News.

MULESHOE BOY GETS HIS DEGREE FROM CAL COLLEGE

Eugene Kistler, native Muleshoe Texas boy, and former teacher in the Texas Public Schools, will receive a degree of Bachelor of Arts, from the University of Southern California at Los Angeles, this week, according to reports reaching here. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kistler, who live five and one-half miles north of Muleshoe.

Mr. Kistler was graduated from the Muleshoe High School six years ago, and immediately following his graduation, attended the West Texas State Teacher's College at Canyon, for two years. He taught for two years in the Texas Public Schools and was one of the most popular teachers here at that time. For the past two years, he has been attending school in Los Angeles, and during that time, he has defrayed his expenses by working for an electric company on the coast. He will be graduated from the University at the age of twenty-four.—State Line Tribune, Farwell.

PLAINVIEW DAIRY NAMED

The directors of the Texas Panhandle Plains Dairy association, at a meeting held in Plainview Friday of last week, fixed April 11 to 14 as the dates for the 1932 dairy show to be held there.

Wheat Hail Damaged

In the Baileyboro community the rain coming in heavy gusts, accompanied by considerable wind, also carried more or less hail. Spring row crops were said to not have been much damaged, but the wheat, of which there is a considerable acreage in that section, was damaged in some places from 15 to 25 per cent of the total estimated production.

Two Children Hurt

Just south of the Muleshoe store a mile or so, there was considerable wind and electrical display accompanying the storm, said by some citizens to be nearly a young cyclone, the no twisting effect was noticeable in the winds action.

Two rooms were blown down and demolished from the home of G. A. Garth, one mile south of Needmore, and practically all the furniture in those rooms was destroyed.

Sleeping in the room were a boy and girl, children of the family, who suffered serious injuries. The little girl received a bad cut across the knee, and a severe jaw chip wound, apparently caused by the blunt stick of some kind being driven into the member when the crash came. The boy was badly cut about the mouth and several scalp wounds, also is suffering from a severe back sprain.

A banner on the place of a man by the name of Hunter, in the same neighborhood, is also said to have been seriously damaged by the storm.

Muleshoe Delegates Report An Excellent Abilene League Meet

Muleshoe delegates to the North-west Texas Conference of Epworth Leaguers held at Abilene last week returned home Saturday, reporting a very profitable and enjoyable session, all of them taking special courses in young people's instruction work, aside from attending the various inspirational meetings on the program, all sessions being held in McMurray college.

Van-ee Swinburn, of Memphis, was re-elected president; Miss Edith Day, Amarillo named vice-president; Robert Curry, Lubbock, district publicity superintendent; Shirley Shook, Canyon, re-elected corresponding secretary and Miss Thelma Bradshaw, Bradshaw, re-elected treasurer.

It was reported that more than $11,000 was now in the fund to assist worthy young people in educational pursuits. There were about 300 delegates present for the meeting. Those attending from Muleshoe were Coy Eukelcher, Woodrow, Gaede, Misses Adella Beavers, Marguerite Hicks and Mary Frances Willis.

Williams Wins Golf Ball In Sunday Game Of Local Tournament

A golf tournament of considerable interest to local members was held on the course here Sunday afternoon, participated in by 12 players, nine of which were eligible to the contest.

First place was won by J. W. Williams, who made the nine holes in 40 and 41. Jess Osborn made second in 90, and Delma McCarty third in 92, according to Secretary Wm. Garrett.

This week the foreway is being mowed and put into first class condition for summer playing.

There are about 30 members in the local club, Connie Gupton being president.

KIWANIANS WANT COURT

The principal items of discussion at the Kiwanian meeting held last week was that of establishing a Corporation court in Muleshoe to take care of such violations as originate within the municipal limits. There was considerable discussion in this matter, the majority leaning toward the advisability of such a court.

J. C. Weaver, local tire dealer was brought into the presence of the august body of distinguished citizens who had resolved themselves into a "Kangaroo" court. Weaver was charged with dumping refuse onto city block 1045, but denied the allegation and "charged" the allegators.

Rain Damages Wheat; Houses Wrecked; 2 Hurt

A general rain sweeping through this area of the South Plains country Monday night left 68 of an inch of moisture in Muleshoe and vicinity, according to Judge R. L. Klump, local government record keeper. North of here in the Lashbuddy and Big Square communities the rainfall was around an inch. Also, in some sections south and east of here the rain was an inch or more.

County Farm Agent Urges Planting Of More Sudan Grass

That sudan grass is one of the best pastures for dairy cows in various parts of the United States is becoming more evident each year. Louisiana, Missouri and Wisconsin have recently expressed their appreciation of this summer pasture grass, according to Fred S. Reynolds, farm agent for Bailey county.

One farmer from Louisiana ordered seed direct from Muleshoe. Lo plant for summer pasture for his dairy herd. County Agent Meeker of Clay County, Missouri, reports that a herd of 57 dairy cows increased their production 50 miltons a day when turned on a sudan grass pasture five weeks old. These cows had been on a blugrass pasture. County Agent Meeker goes on to say:

"The solution of the summer pasture problem for dairy cows in this territory seems to lie either in the use of a summer pasture or in sudan grass. Of the two, sudan grass is by far the cheaper and on most farms would be considered the most practical."

Here is what George B. Mortimer, agronomist of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture has to say of sudan grass:

"Sudan grass is a sure crop. It is palatable and nutritious, and the seed is cheap. It resists drought wonderfully well and it yields an abundance of green feed clear up until frost. It recovers rapidly from close grazing, and is everything a man can imagine in the way of a great summer milk crop."

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE HERE

Rev. M. M. Beavers, presiding elder of the Lubbock district preached here last Sunday evening at the Methodist church, delivering an interesting sermon on "The Parable of the Trees."

Following the sermon, a business session of the Quarterly conference was held. The Elder complimented the church and pastor upon the excellent character of reports handed in.

SUDAN WOULD HAVE PAVING

A petition circulated in Sudan last week asking for an election to vote bonds for the paving of Main street that city.

It is understood that engineers are now being consulted regarding the ultimate cost of the project, and majority sentiment seems to favor the paving.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven; a time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance.—Ecc. 3:1-4

I wasted time, and now doth time waste me.—Shakespeare.

DANGER IN OLD CARS

Of course, it is but naturally good business for Muleshoe automobile dealers to want to sell their customers new cars, but after all there may also be a bit of humanitarian sentiment in that desire, for no auto dealer would like to feel that he is contributing to the accident or death of any of his customers by selling him an old car that would go to pieces on the road in a sudden, like manner with disastrous results to life or pocketbook.

It is a fact that many of the old worn-out automobiles now being operated on the highways constitute a menace not only to the particular occupant, but to other people as well. To Muleshoe citizen should think of having such a wreck as endangers his own occupants or those whom he may see straggling along or gets on the tail-spin of its final demise. Various suggestions and some means have been taken by both local dealers and the manufacturers to do away the old worn out gas buggies, but perhaps a systematic inspection of automobiles by officials who shall have the power to order out of service obsolete cars that are dangerous to other vehicles and pedestrians would be the best idea. The Journal makes bold to make it, whether it is accepted or not.

The number of accidents on our highways amounts to an alarming total each year and some means should be adopted that would be effective in lessening the toll of life and accidents. Barring rambling wrecks and worn-out cars would be a good step in that direction.

After David killed Goliath that time, we suppose somebody asked him to endorse some kind of shaving cream or cigarettes.

CORPORATION COURT

A few weeks ago the Journal suggested it would not be a bad idea for Muleshoe to have a Corporation court, where many of the misdemeanor cases coming to trial in the municipality might be heard and the city get the benefit from it. The City Commission has now decided that to be a good idea, and this court will probably be soon organized and a judge appointed, provided the Mayor does not choose to act, which is his province.

This court should not only prove a financial benefit to the city but should have a general wholesome influence upon its citizenry. For a long time we have been living together with very little special respect for law and ordinances other than is inherent with us as naturally good citizens.

There are plenty of this city's ordinances that are fractured every week, perhaps largely from carelessness or thoughtlessness. A few fines in Corporation court will serve to assist the memory and make some folks more heedful.

There isn't much use having city ordinances unless they are enforced. If they are good ordinances they should be enforced, and if not, repealed. It is believed those on the statute books of Muleshoe are in the main all good ones, and with the proper legal machinery they may be enforced, otherwise the City Commission has no more power in this matter than any other citizen.

Let's have the Corporation court.

Our idea of a lucky man is one who has dyspepsia while his wife is on a strict reduction diet.

"FLUNKING" COSTS

Perhaps few citizens of the Muleshoe school district ever stopped to realize that every time one of their children or some one else's child "flunks" in school it costs the taxpayers of this district enough to pay half the salary of one of our school teachers for a month; but that is about the size of it, according to the way members of the El Paso school board recently figured it out.

Here's what they say about it: "Every year that Little Johnny flunks out in school, it costs the taxpayers $65. It costs that much to teach him over again so he can pass a year later.

"Johnny and his dull fellow pupils—just these in the grade school—cost $92,500 yearly. Add $30,400, which high school sluggards cost the taxpayers, and the total price on failure in all El Paso public schools is $122,900 annually.

"That is almost 10 per cent of the entire sum spent to operate all the schools and could be saved if all pupils were bright enough to know their lessons.

"The per cent of the 14,656 grade school pupils each year falls by the wayside and must be taught over and over again. Mathematics accounts for most of the failures all thru high school, with Spanish the next most difficult subject, then English and science.

"In the grades, arithmetic and language are the stumbling blocks."

We've often noticed that the advice people offer us shows no signs of ever having been used.

FACING THE PRESENT

The Journal does not aspire to become a chronicle of pessimism, but neither does it wish to be considered a chirper of senseless chatter about how good times are just around the corner.

Truth to tell, many eminent observers of things economic say so, and they are backed up by gentlemen of political learning, and they may be right, but all we can advise, at this time, is for every citizen to look carefully to his or her future.

There is no reason why the United States should be in the midst of a great economic depression. We have in this country ample gold, and considerable surplus of commodities. The men who produced the wealth of the past have not departed. The "makings" of good times are in our midst.

In the present era the wise man does not become despondent, because he knows that things could be much worse, but he does not become foolish and kid himself about the facts. Every one of us should strive to do as much work as we can and keep out of additional debt while we try to pay what we owe.

Another reason for so many divorces is due to the fact that too many girls get hitched up before they are able to support a husband.

HARD TO EXPLAIN

Every once in a while an editor comes across incidents in life that are hard to explain. For example, take the following story from Salisbury, N. C., as summarized from the Associated Press:

"A woman received a letter from her husband, in another city, saying he had dreamed that one of their children had been killed. He asked for an immediate answer. The wife wrote him that all were safe and well. She gave the letter to their four-year-old son to mail. As he crossed the street to a mail box a truck ran over and killed him."

Psychologists and a few others, will have learned stories to tell you, most of which will be based on "coincidence." Yet, there are a lot of people who will read the learned explanations with the question unanswered in their minds.

Outside of something to brag about, rich relatives are about as useful to their other relatives as a deck of cards would be to a catfish.

ONE FEATHER—NO BED

Remember the old story of the Indian who heard about feather beds and thought he would try one? He took one feather, laid it on a plank, and slept on it all night. In the morning he woke up with a crick in his back, and growled: "White man say feather bed heap soft, white man big fool."

Some retail merchants try advertising like that. They run an advertisement once or twice, and because they do not note a big increase in business say that advertising is not good for them.

One feather is all right, but it takes more than one to make a feather bed. The same principle applies to advertising. If intelligently planned and used, satisfaction and profitable returns are certain.

BILL GARRETT WOULD HAVE FARMERS CONVERT PASTURES INTO GOLF LINKS AND HELP CURTAIL OVER-PRODUCTION

No one would suspect that so seriously minded a young business man as Bill Garrett, local tonsorial artist, to be a budding humorist, yet the following interview has all the earmarks of that proclivity.

time a country club is organized and its members begin wearing knickerbockers, they are boosting the price of kaffir, wheat and cotton, and incidentally assisting the clothing dealer and the golf paraphernalia manufacturers.

It is generally conceded, according to Bill, that the farmer has as much right to leisure and pleasure as the town and city man. He has a right to juggle his radio and enjoy an intimate acquaintance with the new talkie stars, and to eat ice cream while listening in on his favorite jazz program.

ROUTINE VACCINATION IS REMEDY FOR POX

New Method Being Used by Nevada Poultrymen

Control of chicken pox in Nevada has been facilitated in Washoe county by a method new to poultrymen of the state, one that has proved itself speedy, economical and effective, according to Edward C. Reed, county agriculturist.

Advantages over the subcutaneous method, by which the fowls are vaccinated with a hypodermic, consist in the much greater speed, often running as high as 2,000 vaccinations a day; less resulting illness among the pullets; and smaller expense for vaccine, as less is used.

The method was first used extensively in Holland, but experimental work in agricultural experiment stations in the United States, particularly in California and Oregon, has resulted in some improvement in the European method.

MRS. EVERETT BARRETT SLAIN MONDAY, J. F. BARRETT IS HEAD

Barrett Confesses. Tuesday afternoon J. F. Barrett signed a statement of confession, according to a story appearing in the Wednesday issue of the Amarillo News, in which he confessed to the slaying of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Nora Barrett. In the statement he said he had been intimate with the woman for nearly three years. Six months ago she professed religion in a revival meeting held in the Big Square community, after which she returned to her home in Barrett.

LIKE THE DRUG HABIT

The Portland Oregonian points out that when a high public official in the discharges of his duties, sets an example of economy and retrenchment, it will soon be reflected in lesser subdivisions of government and by lesser public officials. Thus a cumulative result is secured. To be effective, economy must start at the top.

Too many states governments, like private citizens, for some years past bought recklessly on the installment plan—loading the payments onto the future. For two years we have been paying up. Legislative bodies, however, are still mortgaging the future on the theory that borrowing and spending will benefit the situation.

There are cases where such public mortgaging is necessary. But mortgaging just to spend, in order to keep money in circulation, is something like the drug habit—the victim enjoys the sensation until the effect has worn off and then his condition is worse than before.

SILVER REVIVAL IMPERATIVE

Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, in a recent address, asserted that the slump in the price of silver was an important contributing cause to the present world-wide economic depression and blamed the governments of the leading powers for delay in taking steps to remedy the silver situation.

Mr. Borah emphasized that reduction in the value of silver was steadily reducing the purchasing power of the overwhelming portion of the world's population, lowering world trade and more than doubling indebtedness of the countries using silver.

He outlined in detail the dependency of many countries on silver as their basis of credit and said: "The silver problem is one which requires governmental action, it cannot be solved or settled by resolutions or through the action of the citizens. Governments must deal with it. And it is somewhat difficult to understand the delay."

LOWER LIVING COSTS

According to figures compiled by the Massachusetts Department of Labor the cost of living in April reached its lowest point since December 1917. Using the average retail prices of 1913 as the basis of 100 the "cost of living index" for April was 70.

Some still maintain that the cost of living has not decreased much but the Massachusetts index figures for April 1930 and 1931 show a considerable decline in the five elements of the home budget, as follows: food, 142 to 118; clothing, 173 to 154; shelter, 153 to 156; fuel and light, 178 to 166; sundries, 167 to 161; and all combined 157 to 141.

Therefore, it appears that the cost of living has decreased considerably in the last year and money is worth more today than then.

Club Meeting

June 4th the Lazbuddie Study club met in the home of Mrs. R. Peritz, 15 members responding to roll call, with an Indian name of a place in Texas and its meaning. This proved very interesting, as our subject was on pre-historic Texas.

Life and Customs of the Early Indians by Mrs. Roy White. Story, The Mysterious Woman in Blue Mrs. Fins Jennings.

The Meeting was most ably directed by Mrs. Ralph Ditch. Mrs. T. G. Roper told of the Feast and Funeral Customs of the Oklahoma Indians years ago.

Mrs. Ralph Ditch described a "stomp" dance of the Indians which she once attended.

Our next meeting will be on "Early Spanish Claims to Texas." Mrs. Cecil Matthews of Y. L. and Lazbuddie sent in her application for membership in our club by Mrs. R. L. Bledsoe. SENTIMENTALITY OF GREATER ABSENT MINDEDNESS OF WOMEN APPARENTLY EXPLODED BY NEWS HOUND'S QUERIES

Are Muleshoe women more absent-minded than men? That is a mooted question, sometimes much discussed by Muleshoe citizens, both masculine and feminine, the women invariably denying and the men persistently insisting.

Tradition, from time immemorial, has accused those of the fairer and weaker sex of being more flighty and forgetful than their sturdier counterparts, yet science stepping in, has a tendency to disprove any such charges no matter how dear the illusion may be to the hearts of men.

Overhearing the subject discussed early this week, the Journal's news sleuth started out on a tour of interrogation and investigation of his own to check up on the matter.

It is the conviction of Mrs. R. A. Thompson, who does the leading portion of running her husband's store, that men are more forgetful than women. "Women used to be charged with the proverbial falling of always forgetting their purses, and now that they have gotten out more into the business world they seldom do. Men often do, will go off and we have to call them back for their change when they have made a purchase. Occasionally a woman will go off and leave a package, but she invariably comes back after it in a few moments, and knows exactly where she left it and what it looks like."

At the postoffice it was learned from Postmistress Mrs. B. W. Carles that men are continually putting letters in the office without having stamps on them, and she had the nerve to accuse the editor of this great Sunday school periodical of recently depositing a letter he had marked "registered" without following up the necessary legal procedure and crossing her palm with the required number of nickels. Incidentally, the editor's wife is VERY positive men are more forgetful than women, and he calmly accepts the statement without argument, having learned sometime ago that the only way to win an argument with any woman is to just state one's case and then run.

Mrs. A. V. McCarty, local cafe proprietress, admits men more frequently than women forget to pay for their meals, probably, she added (stily) because they are more frequently interested in some conversation when they have finished. (Another masculine ideal shattered.)

Miss Lola Lipscomb, in the County Clerk's office, is rather hesitatingly willing to admit that more men forget to pay their instrument filing fees than there are those who offer double the required amount.

The young ladies at the local telephone office haven't any doubt in the matter, but since they have to transact business daily with both sexes deponeths sayeth not.

Mrs. G. C. Danzer, efficient caterer at the Muleshoe hotel, where the local Kwanians go for their weekly square meal, and she taking pity on them gives them about two and a-half for the price of one each, will tell you that because now and then a man finds himself in the hoosegow taking his meals at the hands of a deputy sheriff just because he forgot to pay his board bill, is no reason there are not plenty of others afflicted with similar absent-mindedness who never became enmeshed in the toils of the law.

One young lady, whose name we dare not call told us her boss had an excellent head for business, but would miss most of his special engagements if she didn't call them to his attention.

There were several men interviewed on the subject, and all more or less were either reticent or evasive in their answers, some to the extent of our wondering if there wasn't a reason. The bus driver from Lubock drove up about that time and we blazed a pointed interrogative at him. "Well," he replied, "women leave a few more things on the bus than men do, but they are generally less important. It's sometimes surprising how many things a man is accustomed to carry around with him all the time, and yet will occasionally forget them, such things as a hat, a coat or a brief case."

Traditions may be beautiful things, but who is there that can sponsor a sentimentality to forfeit truth. In fact, what man is there in Muleshoe that will dare try with any hopes of getting away with it!

TOWN ALRIGHT, MAN WRONG "This is a h— of a place."

We once heard a fellow make such a remark about a neighboring town—and a fairly good town at that. Investigation disclosed a few interesting facts.

The man was a chronic kicker. He was a confirmed loafer. He was an inordinate bragg. He considered only one side of a question.

He was intollerent of opinions that were at variance with his own.

Like the recruit in the parade, everybody but him was out of step. Some day he will be gone, but the town will still be there.

He will not be missed, because he never does anything worth remembering.

Ours is a good town.

Safety Glass

Ford cars are now equipped with safety glass in all doors and windows at a small extra charge

$15 for the Coupe, De Luxe Coupe, Sport Coupe or Convertible Cabriolet $20 for the Tudor Sedan, Standard Sedan, De Luxe Sedan, Town Sedan or Victoria

THE Triplex safety glass windshield has always been an outstanding feature of the Model A Ford. By reducing the dangers of flying glass, it has saved many lives and prevented countless injuries in automobile collisions. Now comes a further assurance of safety to every Ford owner... polished plate safety glass in ALL DOORS AND WINDOWS at slight additional cost. The charge for this extra protection is unusually low because of large production and the development of new methods of manufacture. Simply tell the dealer when you buy the Ford that you want "safety plate glass in all doors and windows" and the car will be factory-equipped for you in that manner. Today, as before, the safety glass windshield is furnished as standard equipment on all Ford cars without extra charge.

FORD OWNERS This announcement refers only to NEW CARS. Ford dealers are not in a position to install safety glass in the windows of your present Ford at the above prices.

Chow Dog Is Chinese
The native home of the chow is China, particularly the northern portion, in which country it has been bred for a great number of years. No specific data are available regarding the breed's origin, but from the general characteristics exhibited by representative individuals today is practically certain that the ancestry traces back to dogs of the Arctic, particularly the Eskimos.
