PROGRAM WAS PEPPY AND INTERESTING

W. S. Posey Was Elected President And W. G. Stevens Vice President For The Ensuing Year. Many Optimistic Talks Made By Members And Visitors At Banquet.

By L. T. Martin
The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce held its annual banquet and election of officers at the Cova Hotel Tuesday evening at 8:00 p. m., May 9, 1922, with approximately one hundred twenty-five of the members present. Rev. J. T. Smith offered invocation.
The first number on the program was a song by the very popular "Home Brew Quartet" which was greatly enjoyed by all.
Rev. W. A. Bowen delivered a very interesting lecture on: "Play In The Schools."
"Ours is a day of discovery, progress, and readjustment. Things new today are old tomorrow. The open, growing mind is surprised at the many revisions and readjustments it has to make in its thinking."
"There was a time when folks thought that play was just play, and attached no importance to it, certainly none of a moral or educational nature. But that day has passed. Since we have come to a better understanding of the mental, moral, and physical mechanism of the child, and to a better understanding of the nature and function of play, we have discovered that play is not without its value."
"Having the physical development that comes from play, we note its moral influence. The development of the will is not instantaneous, but gradual and continuous. It begins in early childhood and continues into the years of maturity. Play is a great will-developer. We must distinguish between learning that is right and doing what is right. By precept we learn that is right, but this form of teaching, whether it be in the home, Sunday school, or public school, is weakened by the fact that the child is not there acting as a free agent. He follows the instructions and ideals of his elders rather than his own inclinations and desires. It is in play only that he becomes a free agent, following his own inclinations and expressing himself accordingly. It is there, as nowhere else, that one sees the real child exhibited. Again: the will is strong in proportion to the desire and interest, hence a second point of weakness in teaching by precept. Too often the child is not interested in the thing taught. We usually do the thing we most desire to do, and have the most interest in. In play only do these reach a degree with the child, ordinarily speaking, for play is his only real world, and there he finds his greatest interest and satisfaction."
"Not only is the will strengthened by play, but it is trained to act promptly. This is vital to life's welfare. Frequently, the only way to escape moral or physical disaster is to decide and to act instantly. Your own experience convinces this. To listen to suggestions, to stop to reason it out, and weigh all arguments is fatal. Many a person has gone down because of the inability to meet a given situation with promptness, firmness and decision. Whoever saw a successful athlete who was a weak-willed dandy? The school necessarily cultivates a type of will that defers judgment and action until the entire field is surveyed and all evidence in. This will not meet all the situations of life. We had better provide for the development of both phases as they support each other and are necessary."
"Play has a large place in habit-formation. Play is not idleness, as some suppose. Idleness is mere loafing, with one's powers inactive, but play is a form of work in which practically the sum-total of mental and physical energy is in action. Idleness is an increasing problem in the larger towns and cities, due to shorter working hours and the lack of places where this time might be satisfactorily employed. The larger the town the more acute the problem. Not from play but from loafing come most of our law infractions. This is one of Lubbock's problems, that will become more intense with the growth of the town."
"One of the most effective solutions yet found to the problem is the play-ground, properly equipped, lighted and supervised. The school-teachers and social-welfare workers know what is being accomplished through this medium. A splendid play-ground may be made more attractive than dark alleys and cars on country roads and dark streets. It reduces moral dangers and handicaps the work and influence of immoral characters. It is a discouragement to, and preventive for, idleness, smoking, gambling, drinking, and unclean language. It becomes an enemy to the cigarette and the drinking habit. The director will teach the children that these evils produce heart irregularity, and prevent the free development of lung capacity. Physical examinations at Yale University, through a long period of years show that smokers average 30 cubic inches less lung capacity than non-smokers. In their

Kiwanian Made Record Drive in Ford To Attend Weekly Luncheon At the Manhattan Cafe Thursday Noon

The Kiwanis Club in Lubbock is a live organization, and reflects exactly the spirit of the men who are associated with it, as was shown at the meeting at the Manhattan Cafe Thursday noon.

One new member, a realtor, who found himself twenty-five miles from town showing a choice piece of real estate to a client at eleven thirty-five, almost ran the wheels off his Ford to make the meeting, coming in in plenty of time to eat with the crowd. The realtor is J. E. Alexander, of the Texas Land Exchange, whose interest in Lubbock is keenly felt by all with whom he is associated.

He certainly was not disappointed in the meeting in the least, as there was no room for disappointment when Alvin Davidson, chairman of the day, started things to going, the first thing being awarding of the attendance prize, a large, handsome home grown cucumber, presented by the chairman, the laugh on the receiver being terminated when Raleigh Martin, after being introduced as one whose experience in community work and town building had qualified him for the subject at hand, got down to the sterner, more business-like side of the meeting with a red hot speech on the value of more Road Markers for Lubbock County. Mr. Martin is a man whose business training has long since given him a thorough understanding of the value of advertising, discussed the road markers from an advertising standpoint, and expressed the opinion that the real work of starting things in the good roads movement would be to properly mark the place where almost impassable roads will soon be made into highways.

Mr. Martin's address was followed by a well ground and instructive discussion "Better Roads for Lubbock County" by Judge P. F. Brown, which was handled from a statistical standpoint. Judge Brown's knowledge of local road conditions being emphasized when he said: "At the present method of carrying on the road building program we are spending all our effort and too much money repairing roads with materials which the destructive elements so detrimental to the roads in West Texas soon overcome. The only way to build economically is to build for permanence, and spend our money for roads that will remain as a monument to our efforts instead of repairing roads that are not in keeping with the high ideals of progressiveness which lies in the hearts of the progressive element of this section."

Judge Brown's efforts to carry on the work in which he is in the complete satisfaction of the thinking people of Lubbock county are highly appreciated, and the Kiwanis Club was

Republicans Seek to Postpone Bonus Bill to Future Date

Washington, May 8.—Some of the more powerful influences in the Republican party are at work now to effect a postponement of any bonus legislation at this session of Congress.

Party lieutenants, occupying strategic listening posts all through the country, have been asked the question: "What would be the political effect of deferring action on the soldiers' compensation until the next Congress?"

And from some of the most influential of the lieutenants has come back word that the party might lose some soldiers' votes but not so many as has been repeatedly stated—and certainly would more than make up this loss in retaining the confidence of big business which otherwise would be shaken.

As stated several weeks ago, Chairman John Adams, when he went to New York recently to see about reducing the national deficit, found the Republican financial leaders of New York and New England vehement in their denunciation of any bonus legislation.

Revenues Insisted Upon.

It is believed here that President Harding will continue to insist that the Senate, if it passes a bonus measure, provide revenue for paying the bill. His attitude may mean one more drive for a sales tax, which is supported by many of the big business interests. In fact, so anxious are some of these financial leaders to have a sales tax, that they would not oppose a bonus bill financed by such a tax, feeling that the cost of the bonus would more than be repaid by the benefits of the sales tax.

If the Senate follows the course of the House and ignores the wishes and suggestions of Harding by passing a bonus bill minus adequate and practical provisions for financing it, Harding will be subjected to the most tremendous pressure he has yet experienced, to veto the bill. It is the confident belief of many of his intimate advisers, including both pro and anti-bonus Republicans, that Harding will veto any bill not providing revenue, as he has repeatedly indicated.

Mrs. E. C. Priest Died Here Last Tuesday Morning

Mrs. Priest was called to her eternal reward in the forty-fifth year of her age last Tuesday morning at 2:30 o'clock after an illness which continued for more than four years. At the time of her death she was in the home of her sister, Mrs. Jessie Summers, Lubbock, Texas.

She was born in Rusk, Texas, Dec. 6, 1877, where she continued to live the greater part of her life. During early womanhood she was united in marriage to Mr. E. C. Priest also of Rusk, and to this union was born one daughter, Leone Maurine Priest. Both husband and daughter remain to mourn her untimely departure.

She moved with her husband to Lubbock during the year 1908 where they continued to live until her death, except for a part of last year, when they made their home in Austin, Texas. The nearest relatives of the deceased who reside in Lubbock are Mrs. Jessie Summers, Edwin Summers, and Herbert Crawford.

A short service was held at the home of Mrs. Summers in Lubbock by Rev. A. E. Miller and Rev. J. M. Lewis after which the remains were taken back to Rusk for interment.

Mrs. Priest united with the First Presbyterian Church of Lubbock on a simple profession of her faith in her Lord and Savior on Sept. 3, 1915, and since then has lived a consistent and consecrated Christian life. At the time of her death she was an untiring member of the First Southern Presbyterian Church of Austin.

This record commemorates the passing of a noble life which was spent in exemplifying daily the tenets of her faith and in the blessing of humanity. Her bright and happy disposition, her undaunted cheerfulness, her untiring energy, and her devoted loyalty to her church and Lord, was an inspiration to everyone who touched her life. Her place will be difficult to fill and we cannot understand why she should have been taken. However, the wisdom of Him who doeth all things well is not questioned. We bow in humble submission to this call of the Master of life and death.

Mrs. Priest was an example of true womanhood. A long and distressing illness was unable to dis-

Murderer of Two Motley Co. Boys Arrested in Okla.

Sheriff J. E. Russell came in Monday with Price Clements, a fugitive from justice. Clements is charged with the murder of Carpenter and Aikens in New Mexico last January. Although it was the business of the New Mexico authorities to secure this murderer, yet there seems to have been no effort made on their part to do so.

Mr. Russell has kept a line on Clements for several weeks, and know most of the time of his whereabouts and conduct. At the proper time he secured co-operation of some Oklahoma authorities and went over there the last of the week and brought Clements in.

Clements is now in the Matador jail, and soon will be taken back to New Mexico, where he will be tried by the courts of that state. We understand that he has already made a clear exposure of the deed.—Roaring Spring Review.

$150,000 LOSS IN LAMESA BLAZE

Lamesa, May 9.—Three brick buildings were destroyed at a loss of approximately $150,000 and for a time all the buildings on the west side of the courthouse square were threatened early this morning by a fire of undetermined origin. The flames were discovered about 3:30 o'clock.

The buildings that were destroyed included Lowry & Clark's drug store, Williams Hardware, and Strong, Holloway and Dixon's dry goods. The losses were partly covered by insurance.

REV. HARDY IS ATTENDING THE GENERAL CONFERENCE

Rev. G. S. Hardy, presiding elder of the Plainview district of the Methodist church, is attending the General Conference at Hot Springs, Ark. Rev. J. W. Story, presiding elder of the Amarillo district, and formerly pastor of the Methodist church here, is also attending. Rev. Story is the father of Robert Story of the Conner-Mathas Battery Company. There are only five ministers from the Northwest Texas Conference attending the General Convention as delegates. The delegates are elected by the members of the conference and it is one of the coveted honors among the members of the conferences.—Plainview Herald.

AUSTIN POSTAL NOMINEE IS G. O. P. COMMITTEEMAN

Austin, Texas, May 8.—George H. Sparenberg, who was today nominated by President Harding for postmaster at Austin, is a real estate dealer and committeeman of the Republican party in Texas. He has been a resident of Austin three and one-half years, coming here from Big Spring, where he was postmaster for sixteen years. He had the endorsement for Austin postmaster of F. E. Seobey, E. B. Creager, Congressman Wursbach and other Republican leaders. He was selected from a list of twelve applicants.

CONDITIONS REPORTED GOOD BY SAN ANGELO WOOL MEN

San Angelo, Texas, May 8.—Wool contracted for on sheep's backs at forty cents a pound, Mohair selling at fifty cents per pound, the lamb crop predicted as high as 33 per cent of normal, and plenty of weeds and grass, eliminating feeding, were some of the optimistic reports that were brought here today by members of the executive committee of the Sheep and Goat Raisers Association of Texas, which met in quarterly session.

The committee will arrange for the annual convention, show and sale to be held in San Angelo June 27-30.

COMMERCIAL REPRESENTATIVE TEXAS UTILITIES HERE

Frank A. White, commercial representative of the Texas Utilities Co., arrived the first of the week, and will make this his headquarters and home in the future. Mr. White has been with the Company for the larger part of his life, having been engaged at different points through the State, in fact, throughout the South. He is a strong booster for Lubbock and the State generally, and expressed himself as being more than pleased for being given the privilege of locating among such a live bunch of boosters.

His family will come up from Sweetwater as soon as necessary arrangements can be made. We are always glad to welcome such men as Mr. White to our town.

Texas Prisons Are Hopelessly in Debt Reports Say

It is a long time since we had one of those monthly reports that were wont to set forth the fiscal affairs of the Prison System for such enlightenment and edification as the citizen might be able to extract from them. If memory is not at fault, the last of them appeared almost a year ago. Maybe it was because they got to be so much more mortifying than edifying that some one, in a spirit of compassion for the citizen, had them sequestered from the inquisitive eyes of the reporters at Austin. But if the monthly report of the Prison System's affairs has disappeared from the menu of "hand-outs" that was offered to the reporters at Austin, there has lately been vouchsafed an annual report. A liberal synopsis of it was printed in The News the other day.

It is not a very gratifying recital. For such as may have harbored to them, it sadly disappoints the hopes and promises of such reforms of its regimen as would relieve the Treasury and the taxpayer of the heavy demands it has been making on them from a time to which the memory of many of us does not reach. Or, to be specific, this report, which results from an examination of its books by a former auditor, Mr. Arnold, shows that the Prison System lost a million and a quarter last year—$1,293,586; to be exact. Its debts are shown to total $575,793, exclusive of the $750,000 lately borrowed in Kansas. Of this indebtedness, $411,153 is owed on the purchase of land owned presumably on open accounts, or to the Treasury. Maybe some part of this indebtedness can be liquidated out of the money borrowed; but much of the greater likelihood is that all of it will be needed to pay current operating expenses until the next crop harvesting season, in which case it will be in debt to the extent of a million dollars or more by that time. If the crops should not turn out in the way hoped for, but in the way they usually have, its indebtedness by the time the next Legislature shall meet might easily be much more.

Perhaps these heavy losses come in part of unwise management; but only in small part, at most, undoubtedly. It is questionable if even the Lieutenant Governor could take the Prison System and make it pay under the handicap that is put on its operations by their location. It will be seen, on examining the report, that all of its farming operations were carried on at a loss, and that the only activities which yielded a profit were industrial. The cabinet shop, for instance, yielded a revenue of $3,202 above its expenses, while the shoe shop achieved a profit of $609. These seem to be the only exceptions; everything else that was undertaken with convict labor cost more than it yielded.

It seems pretty clear to everyone that there can be no hope of permanent escape from such results so long as our convict labor is used so nearly exclusively for farming in circumstances which make the cost exorbitant and the chance of success negligible. Of course it is not to be expected that convict labor will be as productive as free labor, and it is equally obvious that the expense of directing such labor must be heavy. But after making liberal allowances for these expenses, there is still a lack of justification for the failure to employ the energies of more than 3,000 men and women, most of them able-bodied, in ways that will at least defray the cost of guarding and sustaining them.—Dallas News.

ABILENE HAS WATER SUPPLY FOR FIVE YEARS

Abilene, Texas, May 4.—Lake Abilene, the city's recently completed reservoir in the mountains seventeen miles southwest of town, now holds enough water to last the city five years, without additional rainfall, Mayor Dallas Scarborough announces. The lake now is about forty-two feet deep. Rains of recent days have been sufficient to fill the lake completely, but the dam is being given a chance to settle before being subjected to any great strain. The pipe line is not quite completed, lacking a few hundred yards, but the water is coming into town by gravity, being picked up in the creek bed a short distance below the dam.

Texas School System Is Facing Serious Situation

Austin, April 28.—"It was the unanimous opinion of members of the educational conference which was held at the University of Texas recently to consider the teacher problem in this state that a most serious situation is confronting the public school system in Texas because of the fact that it is threatened with such want of school revenue for the scholastic year 1922-23 as to make certain an undesirable and possibly inexorable deterioration in the work of all the schools, rural and urban, elementary, secondary and higher," said Dr. W. S. Sutton, dean of the school of education of the university and member of the executive committee of the conference.

"It was believed that if sufficient funds be not provided in time the children throughout Texas will necessarily suffer greatly with the respect to the quality of the teaching that will be provided, and thousands and thousands of them will find the length of the school term unwarrantably short."

Dr. Sutton expressed satisfaction with the large attendance at the conference. He said that they came from all sections of Texas and consisted of colleges, universities and normals, professors of education in these institutions, county and school superintendents, representatives of the state department of education, and various other persons who are interested in promoting higher educational standards of the state. A total of 228 persons registered for the conference.

"It was a bona fide conference," he continued. "No papers or formal addresses were read or given except at one session, that session a message to all who may be interested in education in the state was delivered by President Livingston C. Lord of the Eastern Illinois State Normal college. His talk was full of practical and helpful suggestions, as were the remarks which he made at other sessions. The conference devoted its time largely to the consideration of the fourteen studies which had been previously made and published in a bulletin of the university. These studies serve as the basis for the discussions, and that they will be productive of much good there is no doubt."

HOUSEHOLD

Escalloped Meat—Grind up meat from knuckle of veal or large beef steak bone used in making soup stock. Place in baking dish. Add layer of well cooked macaroni. Then pour over one cup well seasoned tomato or cheese sauce. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake till well browned.

Fruit Salad—Slice pineapple, half pear, quartered marshmallow, Place on lettuce leaf. Serve with sweetened whipped cream, flavored sharply with lemon juice.

Cheese Scopes With Hot Milk—Take two slices of bread, butter slightly, cover one slice with a layer of cheese sliced; press other slice down on it and toast in a moderate oven. The bread should be as brown as possible but the cheese must never get hot enough to be stringy. Just before serving, put a poached egg on top, pour hot milk over the whole and serve at once. It is not difficult to prepare, and for those who do not care for such a hearty dish the egg can easily be omitted. The layer of cheese should be thinner more as a flavor in it.

Spanish Green Olives Ring Sandwiches—The old question "What shall I serve?" loses its terrors where you have a bottle of stuffed green olives and a few pecans stored safely away for emergencies. The unexpected guests drop in for the evening. The question "What shall I serve?" almost forces "Why, how do you do?" out of your mind. With green olives and pecans in the refrigerator and coffee in the canister, the emergency is met.

Some Novel Ways of Preparing Eggs for breakfast: This year biddy-ben is doing her best and the supply of eggs is large, so everybody can serve eggs lavishly. These recipes may be just what you've been looking for.

Breakfast Eggs.—Four eggs, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk, parsley, paprika. Melt butter without bubbling. Stir in flour. When smooth and well mixed slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt and a few grains of pepper. Butter custard cups or ramekins. Put two tablespoons of sauce in the bottom of each cup. Add an egg, being careful to keep the yolk unbroken. Cover with 2 tablespoons sauce. Set in a pan of hot water and bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes. Sprinkle with paprika. Garnish with parsley.

Egg Omelet.—Two cups bread crumbs, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 5 eggs, hot milk, butter. Moisten bread crumbs with the milk. Add one egg and salt and pepper and mix thoroughly. Heat gem irons and butter well. Put a spoonful of the mixture in each ring, add an egg, dot with bits of butter and bake ten minutes in a hot oven.

Egg en Coquille.—Cut slices of bread about one and one-half inches thick. With a large biscuit cutter cut rounds of bread and with a smaller cutter cut half through each slice in the center. Cut out this smaller round, making a sort of patty shell. Dip in melted butter and brown in hot oven.

Arrange these on a fire proof platter. Drop in each cavity an egg, being careful not to break the yolk. Pour over and around the following sauce. The proportions are for four servings:

Four tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1-2 tablespoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups milk, 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon grated cheese. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper and cook five minutes. Add cheese and cook over hot water till cheese is melted.

Orange Omelet.—Four eggs, 1 tablespoon powdered sugar, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons orange juice, 1 tablespoon grated orange peel, 2 tablespoons hot water, 1 teaspoon butter, orange marmalade. Beat whites and yolks of eggs separately. Add salt, sugar, rind, orange juice and hot water to yolks and beat with a Dover beater till thick and lemon-colored.

Beat whites of eggs with a whisk till stiff and dry. Cut and fold into first mixture until the whites have absorbed the yolk mixture. Heat omelet pan and butter sides and bottom. Pour in omelet mixture. Cook over slow fire until the omelet is puffy.

Then finish in a hot oven. Spread half of the top with orange. Fold and turn onto a hot platter.

Oven Panned Chicken.—Joint a year-old hen. Roll in flour. Fry in fat until brown. Place in a small pan, cover with milk and bake in oven until tender, then remove chicken to hot platter. Garnish with parsley or celery tops. Add flour and water to remaining broth for gravy.

Dandelion Salad.—One quart of fresh dandelions. Blanch three minutes in boiling water, drain and pour over following dressing; Fry one slice Bacon, cut in cubes, until brown. Into this stir one egg and one-half cup vinegar, beaten together. Season highly and garnish with hard cooked eggs.

Seed Cake.—One-third cup butter creamed with one cup of granulated sugar, two beaten eggs, two and one-half cups flour sifted with one-half teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon caraway, one-half cup of sour cream added last. Drop from tip of teaspoon. Bake quickly. They keep for weeks.

"Leftovers."—Almost every housewife or cook has a prejudice against some sort of leftover vegetable. Some insist that you cannot make use of leftover onions or cauliflower, while others have no use for baked white sweet potatoes that have been left over. As a matter of fact there is some way of using almost every leftover vegetable with the possible exception of the French fried sweet or white potatoes. When they are made of very thin slices of potato they may be reheated in the oven, but the fairly thick pieces are seldom good when reheated.

TWO BURNED TO DEATH UNDER CAR
Wichita Falls, Texas, May 6.—William Saylor, 50, and his daughter, Miss Emma Jo, 18, were burned to death, and Robert Fletcher, a son-in-law, probably fatally burned Friday night at 9 o'clock, when their automobile was wrecked twenty miles south of Wichita Falls on the Windthorst road. Mr. Saylor is a well-known farmer of Archer County.

According to Fletcher, the daughter was driving when the car fell off of a bridge. The injured man said as far as he remembered no one was hurt but that he struck a match and from that time on remembers nothing. The charred bodies of the two victims were found in the car after officers from Scotland arrived.

Fletcher ran to the nearest farm house, a mile away, and told of the accident.

The three had attended the rodeo here Friday.

Mr. Saylor is survived by a widow and five children.

C. M. EVANS DISCUSSES FEED AND OTHER METHODS FOR PRODUCING MILK AT A PROFIT BY THE FARMERS

A fair price for milk is one that includes cost of production plus a reasonable profit. It would be easy for the producer and representative of the general public to agree on a per cent that would be termed by both as a reasonable profit—but as soon as we start considering the cost of production, then the argument begins.

The main factors which enter into the cost of production are the cow, the feed, the labor, the interest and insurance on the investment and the depreciation. At the present time good cows are expensive to begin with. The insurance against death from any cause amounts to 8 per cent per annum. The average useful life of a dairy cow is five years.

The source and cost of feed is a very variable factor and the question of whether a return will be had for the use of certain feeds, depends largely on the skill and knowledge displayed in mixing and feeding the different feeds. As an indication of the fact that the supply and price of feeds govern the retail price of milk, I have tabulated the reports of the retail price of milk in three different districts, viz the northern and eastern states, the extreme western states and the southern states. In the west where there is an abundant supply of cheap alfalfa, retail milk prices are the lowest. This is also a section where a grade of cattle giving large amounts of moderately rich milk are used. In the northern and eastern states we find the price of milk at retail runs a little higher. In those sections the same class of cattle are used and there is also an abundant supply of all kinds of feeds. In the southern states I find the retail prices are considerably higher. This is a section where as a general rule, the acreage of feed crops is greatly reduced on account of the competition from cotton. It is also a section where breed of cattle is being used largely, that give a moderate amount of milk very rich in butterfat. In this section there is a greater outlay for ice and other refrigeration due to the long periods of warm weather.

The next consideration in the study of the cost of producing milk is the labor problem. The actual milking of cows, cleaning the barns and feeding, on account of the fact that it is usually done at very early and very late hours, is perhaps the most disagreeable task of labor known. Heretofore this work has been done either by the farmer's family or by a class of labor that had been trained in this particular branch of farming. Present milk prices are based on a presumption that labor can be had at about 20 cents per hour. The indications are that this class of labor will not stay with the dairy job in the face of higher offers and more desirable hours being made by other industries requiring no more skill.

When we begin to consider the same means of reducing the cost of producing milk, the greatest improvement seems to be in the selection of better cows. In the tabulation of 5,587 cow test association records in various parts of the United States, some remarkable information has been secured. The first is, that there are large numbers of cows being milked that cannot possibly produce milk at a reasonable cost. The cost of production varies greatly with the total production per cow. For instance it is found that cows producing 150 lbs of butterfat per year at the time the data was taken, produced an income over the cost of feed of $21.00 while in the case of individual cows producing 500 lbs. of butterfat in a year, the income over the cost of feed was $118.00. The ratio of progress was as follows: When the production of a cow was doubled the income over cost of feed was trebled; when the production of a cow was trebled, the income over

W. J. Bryan's Daughter to lecture At Chautauqua

Redpath-Horner Chautauquas consider themselves very fortunate in having been able to make an exclusive Chautauqua contract with Ruth Bryan Owen.

Mrs. Owen is famous entirely in her own right and does not need to depend in any way upon the great reputation of her father, W. J. Bryan.

She is one of the most eloquent women on the platform. By all odds, she is the most eloquent that the writer of this story has ever heard.

Her lecture, "Modern Arabian Nights," is as fascinating as those stories that have delighted us all our lives.

It is the resume of her experiences in the West Indies, in London, in Egypt, in Palestine, as well as a trip around the world. She has the humor, the ease, and the delightful narrative style of her father. She has a wonderful voice which she never finds occasion to force.

She has the mastery of a man with the grace and sweetness of the most feminine creature in the world. Ruth Bryan Owen's lecture will mark one of the high points of the 1922 program.

However, it must not be supposed that the mission of Ruth Bryan Owen is simply to entertain or to delight her hearers with her most unique and interesting experiences.

Mrs. Owen has a decided mission. She has a lecture of tremendous force and of definite value. She makes one of the most sensible and logical arguments for world peace that has been presented on the Chautauqua platform.

LUMBAGO

This is a rheumatism of the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every moment aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. F. J. Dann, Brockport, N. Y., writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it, I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."

"In other climes and other lands some have been born great and others have had greatness thrust upon them. Here you must achieve your greatness. There those who are born poor or lowly generally remain so, their way blocked by tradition or royal blood. Not so in America. Our fathers wrote into our government 'Equality.' They made good on the battlefield equal rights and birth."—Governor Pat M. Neff.

Ku Klux Released and Not Required to Answer Questions

Austin, May 8.—The court of criminal appeals Wednesday ordered H. D. Miller, Wallace Martin and Jim Jennings, all of Wichita county, released from the custody of the sheriff of that county. These men were committed to jail and fined $100 each by District Judge E. W. Napier for failure to answer questions propounded by the Wichita county grand jury. The questions asked these men and which they refused to answer all pertained to the Ku Klux Klan.

The reason given for the order of release was that the questions were not in the form of a criminal investigation by the grand jury, and therefore the men were not in contempt of court for refusal to answer. The first question asked each of the men was: "Have you ever been a member of the Ku Klux Klan?" Another was: "Do you know any one that is a member of the Ku Klux Klan?" To these questions the men refused to answer.

Both the county and district attorneys were displeased with the grand jury when these questions were asked and both later said that when the questions were asked that no crime was being investigated by the grand jury.

In the opinion rendered by the court of criminal appeals it was stated that the questions would have been pertinent if they had been asked during a criminal investigation wherein the answers to the questions would have brought to light any lawlessness. An excerpt from the grand jury report is as follows:

"We have not been investigating any crime which we have any thought or reason to believe has been committed at the instance of the Ku Klux Klan in Wichita county."

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Ralph O. Bowers, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 72nd Judicial District; to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Lubbock County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the 2nd Monday in June, A. D. 1922, the same being the 12th day of June, A. D. 1922, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 4th day of May, A. D. 1922, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 3572, wherein Winnie Bowers is plaintiff, and Ralph O. Bowers is defendant, and said petition alleging that she and the defendant were lawfully married about November 11th, 1912, and lived together as husband and wife, until about the 17th day of January, 1921, at which time the defendant abandoned the plaintiff, and they have not lived together as husband and wife since. Plaintiff alleged that the defendant associated with lewd women, cursed and abused the plaintiff and struck her with his hands and fists on divers occasions; plaintiff says she conducted herself as a loving wife would, and that said cruel treatment was no fault of the plaintiff, and that all of said cruel and harsh treatment continued up to the time of the separation as aforesaid. And all of which was of such a nature as to render their living together insupportable. Plaintiff asks that her maiden name be restored, to-wit: Winnie Davis and that the court decree her in fee one-half of lot 8, in block 102, and that she have the rents and revenues arising from rents and use of the other half so long as she remains single, this being the homestead occupied by plaintiff and defendant, and that the court order said lot 2, in said block for the purpose of paying the costs of this proceeding. Plaintiff asks for attorney fees for a piano, and all household and kitchen furniture, all of said property, both real and personal, being the community property of plaintiff and defendant. Plaintiff says that said marital relation now exists and asks that said marital relation be dissolved.

All of which more fully appears in Plaintiff's petition filed in the District Court.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this 4th day of May, A. D. 1922.

(Seal) LOUIE F. MOORE, Clerk District Court, Lubbock County, Texas. 22-4F

Hereford Men Decide to Hold Sale Next Year

Panhandle Hereford Breeders' Association's executive committee held a business meeting in Amarillo yesterday afternoon and decided to hold the annual sale in 1923. The committee also decided to appoint a special committee to investigate the cost of land for a site for a sale pavilion and also the probable cost of a suitable building. Co-operation will be given the Texas Hereford Breeders' Association and the American Hereford Breeders' Association in employing a field man for Texas.

Those present at the meeting included President B. H. Connor of Claude, P. J. Pronger, H. T. Neely, W. M. Gouddy, and Secretary W. E. Bennett. Gus B. Coots of Dalhart was not present.

It is said that Dalhart and Hereford men have promised to build a suitable sales pavilion provided the association will agree to hold its annual sale in that city.—Amarillo News.

Citizens Military Training Camps To Open In July

During July and August, at twelve regular army posts in all sections of the country, 10,000 young Americans between the ages of 16 and 35 will be offered free military training for thirty days.

The Government pays all the expenses of this training, the candidate giving only his time. In return, he will learn how to serve his country in time of peace and war; how to take care of the body, build up his health, and live a happy, vigorous life; he will learn habits of self-control, resourcefulness, self-reliance, and other elements of manly character; he will learn discipline, precision and a sense of order; he will learn co-operation and team work. Properly conducted military training directly contributes to the physical, mental and moral development of those participating, and not only this, but the building of such real Americans is a patriotic duty, since it provides one of the surest safeguards against war and is an important element in the National defense.

Everything necessary to carrying on the camp will be furnished by the Government. Students will be paid five cents per mile of travel from their homes to camp by the shortest routes.

The course is divided into three branches, the Red Course intended for those who have never had military training, except in Cadet Corps or School units; the White Course, intended to train enlisted men of the organized Reserves as specialists of non-commissioned officers.—19 years of age is the limit on the White Course. The Blue Course will provide advanced training for Warrant Officers and non-commissioned officers of the Regular Army, National Guard, or Reserve Corps, who will reach the age of 21 before graduation.

The camp handling this section of the State will either be Fort Sill, Okla., Fort Logan, Colo., or Camp Travis, Texas. Detailed information can be gotten from Dr. Starnes, local officer in the Reserves, or Dr. W. E. Craven, commander of the local American Legion. Applications will receive consideration according to priority of date received at Headquarters, provided the applicants are fully qualified. It is practically assured that over 800 applications will be received, from which only 3,000 can be approved.

This is a great opportunity for the young manhood of the country to receive mental, moral and physical training, and a good summer's outing at no expense whatever, for the Government furnishes everything including transportation to and from camp.

Westbrook Area Badly Washed by Recent Floods

Westbrook, Texas, May 4.—Recent rains were the heaviest in some localities ever known. Morgan creek, north of Westbrook, was higher than ever known before. Buildings, bridges, fences and stock were carried away.

A Mr. Walker and family living northwest of here, made an attempt to wade to higher ground, but finding the water too deep they climbed on some boards in a stable where they spent many hours, in the night included. During the time a rattlesnake was washed under them, floating around under their feet until hit with a can (the only thing in reach) when it moved out to the current and was carried away.

E. P. Gressett, living two miles north of town, had his poultry house washed away, losing some chickens and turkeys.

The wagon bridge over Morgan creek was carried away. The railroad bridge was damaged, necessitating the driving of some piles and other repairs. Westbrook got its first mail again Tuesday for a week.

Oil operations have been suspended since the 25th. Many drilling sites were flooded, water being over the floor of some derricks. The operators waded out, leaving their cars, trucks and other equipment to the flood.

Farmers lost all kinds of crops. The fields were badly washed, and feed and cotton must be planted over. Water is running or standing in many fields. Cotton seed is hard to get for replanting.

Schleicher County Ranchman Faces Murder Charge

Eldorado, May 2.—David Sheen, Schleicher county ranchman, was on his way here Tuesday morning to arrange for bond on complaints charging murder following the death at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening of O. L. Hopkins, who was shot April 17 on the Mrs. Davis Sheen ranch, 35 miles northeast of here. The body of Hopkins was removed to San Angelo Tuesday, where burial will be made Wednesday in Fairmount Cemetery.

Both Sheen and Hopkins had been under bond of $750 each since April 17 following a double shooting on the Mrs. Sheen ranch said to have arisen from domestic difficulties. Hopkins, who was 36 years old and unmarried, had been employed by Mrs. Sheen following a recent division of property made by herself and husband. Mr. Hopkins was shot in the left arm, an artery being severed, and the consequent loss of blood resulting in death. Sheen suffered only a slight flesh wound, on the side of the head.

The body of O. L. Hopkins arrived in San Angelo at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and is being held at the Chas. A. Robison Undertaking Company. The funeral will be held under the auspices of the Masons here at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the parlors. Burial will be in Fairmount. All Masons are requested to meet at the hall at 2:30 o'clock in preparation for attending the funeral in a body.

Frank Hopkins, father of the dead man, was notified immediately following the death of his son. He left his home at Voca, McCulloch County early this morning and is said to be on the way to San Angelo. A brother called from Brady here this afternoon saying he would arrive on the Santa Fe Wednesday afternoon in time for the funeral. A mother and several other brothers and sisters also survive.

Germans Want American Soldiers to Stay On Rhine

Washington, May 3.—Two battalions of Americans now at Coblenz on the Rhine are being delayed at least one month in their return to the United States, Secretary Weeks said today, because of requests received from various countries, including Germany, that American troops be retained on the occupied soil beyond July 1, the date now set by the war department for complete evacuation by American forces on German soil.

It was intimated, however, that the request for retention of American forces in Germany beyond July 1, would not be granted. In any event, Mr. Weeks said, the two battalions of the 8th Infantry will not return to the United States this month, as had been expected, but, according to their present schedule, would arrive some time in June.

Mr. Weeks said these requests were under consideration and that no decision had been reached. He did not disclose the specific character or source of the requests beyond saying that he had heard that Germany was among the countries, which desired American troops to remain in the Rhineland beyond July 1.

It was indicated that requests for retention of American troops in

Grade Crossing Accidents 6,868 In Year 1920

Chicago, May 4.—In addressing the safety section of the American Railway Association here, C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, declared the correct solution of the problem of reducing grade crossing accidents is the cooperation of the public with the railroad in bringing pressure to bear upon all drivers of motor vehicles to "stop, look and listen."

Mr. Markham had figures showing that in the last thirty years crossing fatalities increased 345 per cent. In the same period non-fatal injuries increased 682 per cent, while the population of the United States increased only 63 per cent.

"In 1920 (the last year for which we have complete returns) 1,791 persons were killed and 5,077 persons were injured in grade crossings accidents and 76 per cent of the deaths and injuries resulted from automobile accidents. There were more than 3,000 automobiles struck on crossings," he said.

The president pointed out that to elevate the grades on all crossings in the country would be prohibitory as the cost he estimated would be approximately $12,000,000,000.

FARM PRODUCTS OF 1921 VALUED AT 12 BILLIONS

The department of agriculture estimates that the gross wealth produced by the farmers in 1921 had a value of $12,366,000,000 or about two-thirds of aggregate value of the farm products of 1920, and little more than one-half the aggregate for 1919. During the same period, 1919-21, production of 10 crops which represent about 95 per cent of the total crop acreage fell 8 per cent.

The total value of crops, the department said, declined from $15,423,000,000 in 1919 to $10,000,000,000 in 1920 and to $7,028,000,000 in 1921.

The decline of the total value of animal products on the farm was from $4,321,000,000 in 1919 to $7,354,000,000 in 1921.

Four crops of 1921 together had a value greater than one-half of the total value of all crops for that year.

Corn was valued at $1,303,000,000, or 18.5 per cent of the total; hay and forage, $1,165,000,000, or 16.6 per cent; cotton lint and seed, $755,000,000, or 10.5 per cent, and the four crops $3,950,000,000, or 54.6 per cent.

Several groups of crops are prominent the department added, cereals $2,563,000,000, or 36.5 per cent of the crop total; the vegetables, including potatoes and sweet potato, $1,104,000,000, or 15.7 per cent; fruits and fruit products, $525,000,000, or 7.5 per cent, and fruits and vegetables together, $1,679,000,000, or 23.2 per cent.

Of the total value of animal products in 1921, the dairy products were nearly one-half, $2,419,000,000, or 45.1 per cent; the animals raised, $1,937,000,000, or 36.3 per cent, and the poultry and eggs produced, $943,000,000, or 17.7 per cent.

Citizens Military Training Camps To Open In July

During July and August, at twelve regular army posts in all sections of the country, 10,000 young Americans between the ages of 18 and 35 will be offered free military training for thirty days.

The Government pays all the expenses of this training, the candidate giving only his time. In return, he will learn how to serve his country in time of peace and war; how to take care of the body, build up his health, and live a happy, vigorous life; he will learn habits of self-control, resourcefulness, self-reliance, and other elements of manly character; he will learn discipline, precision and a sense of order; he will learn co-operation and team work. Properly conducted military training directly contributes to the physical, mental and moral development of those participating, and not only this, but the building of such real Americans is a patriotic duty, since it provides one of the surest safeguards against war and is an important element in the National defense.

Everything necessary to carrying on the camp will be furnished by the Government. Students will be paid five cents per mile of travel from their homes to camp by the shortest routes.

The course is divided into three branches, the Red Course intended for those who have never had military training, except in Cadet Corps and School units; the White Course, intended to train enlisted men of the organized Reserves as specialists or non-commissioned officers. 19 years of age is the limit on the White Course. The Blue Course will provide advanced training for Warrant Officers and non-commissioned officers of the Regular Army, National Guard, or Reserve Corps, who will reach the age of 21 before graduation.

The camp handling this section of the State will either be Fort Sill, Okla., Fort Logan, Colo., or Camp Travis, Texas. Detailed information can be gotten from Dr. Starnes, local officer in the Reserves, or Dr. W. E. Craven, commander of the local American Legion. Applications will receive consideration according to priority of date received at Headquarters, provided the applicants are fully qualified. It is practically assured that over 800 applications will be received, from which only 3,000 can be approved.

This is a great opportunity for the young manhood of the country to receive mental, moral and physical training, and a good summer's outing at no expense whatever, for the Government furnishes everything including transportation to and from camp.

Westbrook Area Badly Washed by Recent Floods

Westbrook, Texas, May 4.—Recent rains were the heaviest in some localities ever known. Morgan creek, north of Westbrook, was higher than ever known before. Buildings, bridges, fences and stock were carried away.

A Mr. Walker and family living northwest of here, made an attempt to wade to higher ground, but finding the water too deep they climbed on some boards in a stable where they spent many hours, in the night included. During the time a rattlesnake was washed under them, floating around under their feet until hit with a can (the only thing in reach) when it moved out to the current and was carried away.

E. P. Gressett, living two miles north of town, had his poultry house washed away, losing some chickens and turkeys.

The wagon bridge over Morgan creek was carried away. The railroad bridge was damaged, necessitating the driving of some piles and other repairs. Westbrook got its first mail again Tuesday for a week. Oil operations have been suspended since the 25th. Many drilling sites were flooded, water being over the floor of some derricks. The operators waded out, leaving their cars, trucks and other equipment to the flood.

Farmers lost all kinds of crops. The fields were badly washed, and feed and cotton not be planted over. Water is running or standing in many fields. Cotton seed is hard to get for replanting.

Henry Ford Says We Have Not More Than Scratched The Surface In Matters of Development in U. S.

"We have only started on the development of our country—we have not as yet, with all our talk of wonderful progress, done" more than scratched the surface."

Thus writes Henry Ford in collaboration with Samuel Crowther, in an article entitled "My Life and Work," in the May issue of McClure's Magazine.

Excerpts from various portions of the article follow:

Shaking Up The World.
Since 1914 a great many persons have received brand new intellectual outfits. Many are beginning to think for the first time. They opened their eyes and realized that they were in the world. Then, with a thrill of independence, they realized that they could look upon the world critically. They did so and found it faulty.

The intoxication of assuming the masterful position of a critic of the social system—which it is every man's right to assume—is unbalancing at first.

They actually managed to start a new world in Russia. It is here that the work of the world can best be studied. We learn from Russia that it is the minority and not the majority who determine destructive action. We learn also that while men may decree social laws in conflict with natural laws, nature vetoes those laws more ruthlessly than could the czars. Nature has vetoed the whole Soviet republic. For it sought to deny nature. It denied, above all else, the rights to the fruits of labor.

Sale is Only an Introduction.
A manufacturer is not through with his customer when a sale is completed. He has then only started with his customer. In the case of an automobile, the sale of the machine is only something in the nature of an introduction. If the machine does not give service, then it is better for the manufacturer, if he had never had the introduction, for he will have had worst of all advertisements—a dissatisfied customer.

Labor Waste on Farms.
The farmer makes too complex an affair out of his daily work. I believe that the average farmer puts to a really useful purpose only about 5 percent of the energy that he spends.

Not only is everything done by hand, but seldom is a thought given to logical arrangements. A farmer doing his chores will walk up and down a rickety ladder a dozen times. He will carry water for years instead of putting in a few lengths of pipe. His whole idea, where there is extra work to do, is to hire extra men. He thinks of putting more money into improvements as an expense. Farm products, at their lowest prices, are dearer than they ought to be: Farm profits, at their highest, are lower than they ought to be.

On my own farm at Dearborn we do everything by machinery. We have eliminated a great number of wastes, but we have not as yet touched on real economy. We have left more undone than we have done. Yet at no time have we failed to turn a first-class profit.

The moment the farmer considers himself as an industrialist, with a horror of waste either in material or in men, then we are going to have farm products so low priced that all will have enough to eat, and the profits will be satisfactory that farming will be considered as among the least hazardous and most profitable of occupations.

"Settling Down."
I noticed a feeling among many men in business to feel that their lot was hard—they worked against a day when they might retire and live on an income—get out of the strife. Life to them was a battle to be ended as soon as possible. That was another point I could not understand, for, as I reasoned, life is not a battle except with our own tendency to sag under the down-pull of "getting settled."

I saw great businesses become but the ghost of a man because some one thought they could be managed just as they were managed, and though the management may have been most excellent in its day, its excellence consisted in its alertness to its day, and not in slavish followings of its yesterdays. Even the man who most feels himself "settled" is not settled—he is probably sagging back.

I have noticed a great love for regularity. Seldom does the cobbler take up the new fangled way of soiling shoes, and seldom does the artisan willingly take up with his new methods in his trade. Habit conduces to a certain inertia, and any disturbance of it affects the mind like trouble.

It will be recalled that when a study was made of shop methods, so that the workmen might be taught to produce with less useless motion and fatigue, it was most opposed by the workmen themselves. Business men go down with their business because they like the old way so well they cannot bring themselves to change. There is subtle danger in a man thinking that he is "fixed" for life. It indicates that the next jolt of the wheel of progress is going to fling him off.

Grade Crossing Accidents 6,868 In Year 1920

Chicago, May 4.—In addressing the safety section of the American Railway Association here, C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, declared the correct solution of the problem of reducing grade crossing accidents is the co-operation of the public with the railroads in bringing pressure to bear upon all drivers of motor vehicles to "stop, look and listen." He urges the passage by communities and states of ordinances and laws calculated to enforce this rule.

Mr. Markham had figures showing that in the last thirty years crossing fatal injuries increased 345 per cent. In the same period non-fatal injuries increased 682 per cent, while the population of the United States increased only 68 per cent.

"In 1920 (the last year for which we have complete returns) 1,791 persons were killed and 5,077 persons were injured in grade crossings accidents and 76 per cent of the deaths and injuries resulted from automobile accidents. There were more than 3,000 automobiles struck on crossings," he said.

The president pointed out that to elevate the grades on all crossings in the country would be prohibitory as the cost he estimated would be approximately $12,000,000,000.

FARM PRODUCTS OF 1921 VALUED AT 12 BILLIONS

The department of agriculture estimates that the gross wealth produced by the farmers in 1921 had a value of $12,366,000,000 or about two-thirds of aggregate value of the farm products of 1920, and little more than one-half the aggregate for 1919. During the same period, 1919-21, production of 10 crops which represent about 95 per cent of the total crop acreage fell 8 per cent.

The total value of crops, the department said, declined from $15,423,000,000 in 1919 to $10,000,000,000 in 1920 and to $7,028,000,000 in 1921.

The decline of the total value of animal products on the farm was from $4,361,000,000 in 1919 to $3,004,000,000 in 1921.

Four crops of 1921 together had a value greater than one-half of the total value of all crops for that year.

Corn was valued at $1,305,000,000, or 18.5 per cent of the total; hay and forage, $1,165,000,000, or 16.6 per cent; cotton lint and seed, $755,000,000, or 10.5 per cent, and four crops $3,960,000,000, or 56.3 per cent.

Several groups of crops are prominent the department added, cereals $2,563,000,000, or 36.5 per cent of the crop total; the vegetables, including potatoes and sweet potatoes, $1,104,000,000, or 15.7 per cent; fruits and fruit products, $525,000,000, or 7.5 per cent, and fruits and vegetables together, $1,629,000,000, or 23.2 per cent.

Of the total value of animal products in 1921, the dairy products were nearly one-half, $2,419,000,000, or 45.1 per cent; the animals raised, $1,937,000,000, or 36.3 per cent, and the poultry and eggs produced, $943,000,000, or 17.7 per cent.

The Chamber of Commerce is planning to take a caravan of from four to five hundred people to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention, leaving Lubbock—the morning of May 22 at 8:00 a. m.

Invitations have been issued to all the surrounding towns to come to Lubbock and join the caravan. A band of from thirty to forty pieces will head the procession. Every man who has a car is requested to report to L. T. Martin, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and give the number of people he will have in his party. Special delegation hats will be furnished all the men who go.

OFFICE EQUIPMENT COMPANY UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

A deal was consummated Tuesday by which the Wichita Typewriter Exchange of Wichita Falls, Texas, and S. B. Henderson of Vernon, Texas, became the owners of the local establishment.

This business has, in the past, been owned and operated by B. W. Frank and D. E. Lane of this place with office and station in the Merrill Hotel building.

Mr. Henderson has been in the city several days looking over the situation, but the deal was not closed until Mr. J. B. Reighard, manager at Wichita Falls, arrived Tuesday. Mr. Leo H. Franklin, came up with Mr. Reighard and will have charge of the repair department of the business.

Mr. Franklin is an expert in his line, having had more than twelve years' experience in the typewriter business.

Mr. Reighard left Wednesday for his home in Wichita Falls and Mr. Henderson for his home in Vernon. However, Mr. Henderson will return to Lubbock within a few days to take active charge of the business.

Mr. Henderson is a business man of wide experience. He was secretary-treasurer of the R. B. Edwards Company at Crowell, Texas, for a number of years and has also been connected with the Dixon Dry Goods Company at Vernon, Texas, for some time.

Mr. Henderson will not bring his family to Lubbock just now on account of his children being in school at Vernon, but hopes to move here as soon after the close of school as possible.

Rev. W. C. Hart, pastor of the Methodist church at Roaring Springs was here Monday en route home from a visit to Mitchell county. He was accompanied by his family, and they report a very enjoyable visit with relatives and old friends at Colorado. Rev. Hart says the damage to farms in Mitchell county was quite heavy on account of the heavy rains the past two weeks, and that most all crops will have to be planted over. The roads were likewise very greatly damaged, and the county will have to replace a great many bridges.

CAN'T DO THE WORK

It's too much to try to work every day against a constant, dull backache, or sudden darting pain in the small of the back. Be rid of it. Try Doan's Kidney Pills. Your neighbors recommend them. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. E. L. Boruff, Plainview, Tex., says: "When I first began using Doan's Kidney Pills my back and kidneys were in awful condition. At times I couldn't do my work and I couldn't get around for a week or two. There was a steady, bearing down pain through the small of my back and when I stooped, sharp, knife-like pains caught me in my back so I could hardly straighten. I suffered constantly and every muscle in my body was sore. I often became so tired, I could hardly stand and I had headaches. My kidneys didn't act right and when I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I bought some. Two boxes of Doan's cured me of every symptom of kidney trouble."

PARENTS AS EDUCATORS

Blessed are the Tactful

By Mrs. Lydia Lion Roberts
Two boys went up to a house and sat down on the steps, shuffling their muddy feet and dragging a heavy cart back and forth on the path. It was not their house nor even their own neighborhood, yet they had taken noisy possession. Presently a man opened the door, watched them quietly a moment and then said pleasantly: "How do you do? Won't you come in?" The boys looked up in abashed surprise, sheepishly got up and hurried away without a word. The man smiled and closed the door.

The man could have shouted, scolded, threatened or abused the trespassers with doubtless unpleasant results before the boys went away. Because he was pleasant and tactful the annoyance ceased at once and the incident was closed.

We admire diplomacy; we sigh when we meet untactful persons who rub us the wrong way. A person may be good and yet lack the soothing balm of tactfulness. We realize this between older people but I wonder why we do not practice it more with children? Too often we are careless and blunt, hurting sensitive little feelings and often making it twice as hard for children to be good and kind because we are so untactful.

On a pretty suburban street there were ten boys who played together, and problems of property rights often came up. Every time a mother approached, the boys in a friendly, reasonable spirit, the boys responded, and there was no trouble. One day a mother looked out of the window to see two boys fighting furiously over her smooth back lawn, while an admiring crowd of playmates gathered near. She thought a minute and then went out and stepped up to the antagonists, and said goodnaturedly, "I don't like to have my pretty lawn torn up, so would you boys please go over to the vacant lot across the street to finish your fight? You see, this is my land and I can't have you fighting here, but there is plenty of room over there."

The boys stepped a minute, looked at each other, then each slowly grinned, gave her a cheery, "Sure!" and the whole crowd moved amiably up the street without finishing the fight.

Children do not like to be talked over as if they had no ears, and they are hurt and antagonized when their likes and dislikes are laughed at or their mistakes ridiculed.

A little girl, whose family had indulged in a hearty laugh because in dressing herself she had put her underwear on over her stockings instead of underneath, said reproachfully to her mother, "I don't like you to laugh—it makes me feel so mean at myself!"

We would not dare treat our friends in such a manner, for we would soon be friendless. Then why treat little children that way when we need to be friends with them if we are going to teach or guide or help them? The friendship of little children is one of the sweetest, most precious gifts with which life can bless us, and unto the tactful shall it be given.

WETTEST APRIL SINCE 1896 WAS RECORDED HERE

It wasn't the wettest April on record, but it was the wettest since 1896. The monthly meteorological report of Observer W. H. Green of the United States observatory here shows that the rainfall for last month was 8.71 inches, as compared with 9.80 inches in April 1896. The rainfall for the month was 6.43 inches in excess of the normal for that month, and rolled up an ac-culated excess of 5.82 inches for the year.

The 24 hours of April 25-26 got the heaviest precipitation, the total being 3.22 inches. There were eleven days on which rain was recorded. In addition to four on which traces were registered. There were but seven clear days as compared with 18 cloudy and 5 partly cloudy.

The greatest wind velocity was 46 miles per hour on the 10th, the wind passage for the month being 5,684 miles, or an hourly average of 12.4 miles.

The highest thermometer reading was 94 degrees on the 16th and the lowest was 37 degrees on the 19th. The mean for the month was 65 degrees, as compared with normal mean was 64.4.—Abilene Reporter.

A memorial to Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary was unveiled at Arlington National Cemetery on April 6. The monument is of white granite and was placed at the grave by the National Geographic Society.

CLOUDBURSTS IN WESTERN TEXAS CAUSE HIGH WATER AT SNYDER AND HAMLIN

Stamford, May 8.—A waterspout visited this immediate section at an early hour this morning, precipitation being four and fifty-six one hundredths inches in three hours time. This coming in the week of recent rains caused the nearby streams to make new records of high water. The Wichita Valley track on Paint Creek north of town is washed away and also south of town on California creek. Report from Rotan, forty miles west of Stamford is to the effect that water is standing four feet deep at the depot in that town. Heavy rainfall was in Stamford and vicinity west. The Ranger base ball team was to have played Stamford, is marooned on the north bound Wichita Valley between Stamford and Aason.

Snyder, Texas, May 8.—A cloudburst visited Snyder late Sunday night and the rain did not cease until early Monday morning. All creeks overflowed their banks, the streets in the business section were washed and water stood six inches deep in the stores on the east side. The extent of the damage has not yet been determined.

Hamlin, May 8.—Hamlin was deluged by a tremendous rain, starting Monday morning at three o'clock. The rain registered 3.90 inches. The headwaters of California Creek went on a rampage at once and at noon it was evident that the stream would go still higher. The water was within one inch of the flood stage reached a short time ago. The old lake at Hamlin was not damaged in the least and this city has plenty of water for all purposes.

Private advices from Hamlin just after noon said California creek was higher than ever known, that the water was a foot deep in the Nazarene College, and was also invading some of the business houses. The rain, it was said, fell in a brief space of time.

The Abilene & Southern suffered the washing out of 1200 feet of its track in the Hamlin section.

Spur, May 8.—Heavy rains last night all over this section did much damage. All creeks are out of banks and much farming land is under water. At some places the water stood five feet deep in the houses. Highway and railway beds were washed out. Two and a half inches fell at Spur and much damage was done by the flood waters in this section.

WINNERS IN THE GOLDEN RULE MEDALS

The committee appointed by Napoleon Hill's Magazine has awarded the Napoleon Hill Golden Rule Medal to B. J. Palmer, head of the Palmer School of Chiropractic of Davenport, Iowa.

This medal is the first of a series that will be awarded to those who are rendering the greatest service to humanity, based upon the Golden Rule. The purpose of the award is to popularize the application of the Golden Rule to business and industry.

The decision to award the medal to B. J. Palmer was based largely on the number of votes he received. He led the other three chief candidates by more than 150,000 votes, many of which came from foreign countries: Japan, Italy, England, Australia, New Zealand and Canada.

Woodrow Wilson ran second to B. J. Palmer and then followed Harriet Luella McCollum, the lecturer on Applied Psychology.

The gold medal was designed by the well-known sculptor, Adolph Wolff. On one side are the words: "The Greatest Among Ye Shall Be The Servant of All." On the reverse side, "B. J. Davenport, For Serving the World through Chiropractic."

B. J. Palmer's popularity is due to the spread of chiropractic, which was discovered by his father, D. D. Palmer, and developed by himself. Doctors of Chiropractic, and their patients from all over America and from many foreign countries literally bombarded the editor of Napoleon Hill's Magazine with telegrams, letters and special petitions, requesting that B. J. Palmer be awarded the first medal, which convinced the committee that he was the popular choice.

This is the first medal ever offered for service to the world, based upon the Golden Rule. A similar medal will be awarded periodically as a means of directing the attention of all the world to the possibilities available to all who apply the Golden Rule in their business and professional dealings. The plan was originated by "Golden Rule Hill," which began his career in the coal mines of West Virginia, and gives the Golden Rule credit for his rapid rise to an influential position in American journalism.

MONROE NEWS ITEMS OF THE PAST WEEK

We have not mentioned the wonderful rains which this community has received, but we are very thankful for it. The hail did some damage to fruit and gardens.

A campaign to organize the county for the "Farm Labor Union of America" was started at Monroe on last Friday night when a local was started with eleven charter members. Some young ladies from the Caldwell community furnished music for the occasion, which was appreciated and enjoyed by all who were present.

Another free-for-all meeting will be held here on Friday night, May 19. A speaker, able to explain the object of the organization will be here for that meeting and we invite the entire community to attend. Ladies are especially invited to be present and let us make this a grand start for union on our farm labor.

Abernathy has won two games out of three from Monroe in playing baseball this last week, and some pleasant hours spent by all participants.

At a meeting of the Church of Christ last Sunday morning, it was announced that Mr. O. M. Reynolds of Plainview, will begin preaching at Monroe on a protracted meeting on the 29th of July, and will continue for two weeks. Mr. Reynolds is a fine speaker and has a wonderful voice in song, and we invite all to hear him in a sweet message he brings.

Mrs. Hurzit and two daughters, from Route 2, were calling on Mrs. C. G. Stephenson last Saturday.

Mrs. Jack Merrill was visiting in the Clutter home and in the home of Grandma Stephenson on last Friday afternoon.

Mr. Andrew Graham has returned from a trip to Colorado. He did not make any trade for land there and says the Plains look good to him.

"Ting-aling—a voice over the wire—Please come over and tell me what I can do with a plain house to make it good looking and desirable."

It was a sorry old house on a good lot—but by the addition of a porch, pergola, some dormers, better windows, awnings and oak floors it was transformed into a very attractive cottage pictured above.

The cost was little compared to the extra value the improvements gave the property.

Few people realize what improvement can be made in a house by simple alterations; it is a mistake to build a new house, when by spending a few hundred dollars an old one can be made desirable and home like.

We are prepared to offer practical suggestions about remodeling. Talking with us incurs no obligation.

Brownfield school closed last Friday after a reasonable successful term considering a bad start. Most of the parents are well pleased with the progress made by their children during the term. Practically all of the children passed to higher grades.

The graduating class composed of three boys and three girls held their exercises at the high school auditorium last Friday night. The graduates were as follows: Alfred Stone, Lillian Williams, Violet McBurnett, Lou Binham, Alfred Daniel and Roy Redford. The following program was rendered by the class: Song, America by Audience; Invocation by Rev. J. W. Baughman; Salutatory by Alfred Stone; Class History by Lillian Williams; Class Prophecy by Violet McBurnett; Song by Class; Valedictory by Alfred Daniel; Graduating Address by Rev. C. E. Ball; Farewell Song by Class.

Mrs. Evans, wife of M. L. Evans, of this city, died Saturday morning at 6 o'clock and was buried in the Brownfield cemetery Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Evans had been complaining for several days and in fact was in bed most of the time, but few expected her death so suddenly. About 5 o'clock Saturday morning she awakened her husband and told him she was dying, and passed away in another hour. On account of the inclemency of the weather, funeral services could not be conducted at the church. Elder Glasrod made a short talk at the home after which the body was laid away to await the resurrection morn. The Herald deeply sympathizes with the bereaved in the loss of the wife and mother.

Tahoka high school baseball team came over last Friday and walloped it on our school boys, to the tune of 15 to 11. However, they can claim no advantage for the Brownfield boys on account of the strange diamond as the game was played on the regular baseball diamond instead of the school diamond.

Lubbock Building Loan Association Increases Capital

On last Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Lubbock Building and Loan Association, loans were granted aggregating nearly $16,000, says Mr. Hess, secretary of the organization. Eight men were the recipients of this loan, and such is the ruling governing the organization that no one man can procure a loan beyond that necessary for the erection of a nice, ordinary sized home. In this way a more equal rating is gained, for no one can take out an extra loan and force the man behind him to wait longer for his loan.

All of the original $200,000 stock has been sold and the corporation is now being increased to $100,000 capital stock. The organization is

2,000 Steers to Be Trailed As In Olden Days

Pioneer days will be re-enacted shortly when 2,000 head of two-year old steers from the Lee Russell ranch at Midland will be trailed to the Byrd & Armstrong property near Dalhart. Dick Byrd will leave this morning in a wagon for Midland to take charge of trailing the steers to the Panhandle.

The steers were bought from Russell some time ago but delivery is just being made. They are the mated "O" brand. It is estimated about 30 days will be required to trail the cattle the distance of 230 miles.

Reason for trailing the stock is the high cost of transportation. It is said by one cattle man that the transportation would be $5,000 by rail, and that the total cost the other way would not run much over $1,000.

Old-timers yesterday recalled other days when it was learned that the cattle would be trailed. They recalled the time when cattle from the south plains and West Texas were trailed to Canyon for shipping purposes. At the cattle shipping time, it is said that it was not unusual for there to be as high as 100,000 head of stock in the Canyon section.—Amarillo News.

Next Dose You Take May Salvate and Start World of Trouble

Calomel is mercury, quicksilver. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel. It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. 10-13

WEEKLY MARKET LETTER

Kansas City Stock Yards, May 6. Though receipts were fairly liberal trade in fat cattle was active at strong prices. Quality of the offerings was below the average of last week. Stockers and feeders were in active demand at strong prices. Hog prices were 10 cents above the high close last week and the highest since early April. Top price was $18.54. Sheep and lambs were lower with trade quiet.

Today's Receipts
Receipts today were 11,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs, and 10,000 sheep, compared with 10,000 cattle, 11,000 hogs, and 7,000 sheep a week ago, and 12,050 cattle, 13,975 hogs, and 17,150 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle
The few choice steers here today sold at $8.35 to $8.50 and the fair to good kinds which predominated brought $7.50 to $8.25. Prices, quality considered were quoted strong. All classes found a ready outlet. Demand from local killers was especially active, and for all classes. There was a good shipping demand for medium and strong weight steers. Cows and heifers were steady at last week's close.

Hogs
Hog prices today were up 10 cents, compared with last week's close and 50 cents above a week ago. Trade was active and the full advance was maintained on the close. The top price was $10.65 and bulk of sales $10.40 to $10.65. A good many salesmen expect a further advance this week. Demand is large, with packers buying more freely than in April. Pigs sold at $9.50 to $10.35.

Sheep and Lambs
Prices in the sheep division were 40 to 56 cents lower. Large shipments direct to Chicago packers caused a big decline there and turned other markets down. Woolled lambs here sold up to $15.00, clipped lambs $13.75, spring lambs $16.10 and clipped Texas wethers $9.50.

Horses and Mules
Moderate receipts of good heavy horses sold readily at steady prices. Plain classes were slow sale. There is evidence of a fairly good demand for mules at Tuesday's auction.

Chas. M. Pipkin, Market Correspondent.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN FLAG

Every country has one or more symbols that represent the principles and ideals of its government. The most familiar symbol of a nation is its flag. The flag stands for the nation itself. When we uphold and honor our country's flag, therefore, we are supporting our country itself and all that it means to us. There is more meaning than we sometimes realize in the slogan—Daily round the flag.

There were several different flags in Colonial times, but the first real American flag had its origin in the American Congress, June 14, 1777: "Resolved, That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation.

According to the story, a rough pencil drawing, made by Washington himself, was taken to Mrs. Betsy Ross, who kept an upholsterer's shop in Philadelphia. "Can you make a flag after this design?" she was asked. Her answer was, "I don't know, but I'll try." She did try, stitching the seams of every stripe and sewing in the stars. No wonder that an association has been formed to buy and keep for patriotic purposes, the home in which was made, by the hands of Betsy Ross, the first real American flag.

Although there has been no material change in the flag as originally designed, its present form was adopted only about one hundred years ago. It was first planned, you will recall for the thirteen original states. As other states were admitted to the Union, a stripe and star were added to the flag. This plan was continued well into the first quarter of the nineteenth century and until the flag had twenty stripes and twenty stars. It was then seen that if a stripe and star were added for each new state it would be necessary to increase the size of the flag indefinitely. So on April 4, 1819, Congress enacted:

"That from and after the fourth day of July next, the flag of the United States be thirteen horizontal stripes, alternate red and white; that the union have twenty stars—white in a blue field; that on the admission of every new state into the Union, one star be added to the union of the flag, and that such addition shall take effect on the fourth of July next succeeding such admission."

And thus on July 4, 1819, our flag

Report of Productions of Various Minerals and Other Products of the United States From Census Figures

According to conservative estimates made by the United States Geological Survey from the incomplete returns available April 1, the quantity of phosphate rock sold in the United States in 1921 was about 1,962,000 long tons, valued at $10,928,800, as compared with 4,103,982 long tons, valued at $25,079,572 in 1920.

The total production of Florida was approximately 1,675,000 long tons, valued at $9,036,000.

Tennessee followed with an approximate total of 293,000 long tons valued at $1,892,300, which included a small quantity of brown rock from Kentucky.

The Western States were represented by only one producer, and South Carolina dropped out entirely.

The general business depression of 1921 is illustrated in the decline of the production of phosphate rock. The decrease in the selling price of agricultural products, combined with the high freight rates, prevented farmers from purchasing fertilizer, and the low rates of exchange discouraged exporters in the industry.

Production of Calcareous Marl
The output of calcareous marl in the United States in 1921 amounted to 53,730 short tons, valued at $183,743, according to reports made by the producers to the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior. The quantity decreased 45 per cent and the value 43 per cent as compared with 1920. In 1921 the average value per ton was $3.42; in 1920 it was $3.31. Nearly all the calcareous marl sold in the United States in 1921 was used for liming the soil. Some was used as a filler in patent fertilizers. More than 63 per cent of the total output—33,978 short tons—was produced in Virginia and was valued at $105,821. The other producing States were California, Maryland, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, and West Virginia. Deposits were developed in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Grindstones and Pulpstones
The output of grindstones and pulpstones in the United States in 1921 amounted to 26,340 tons, valued at $1,227,322, according to figures reported by the producers to the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior. This was a decrease from the output in 1920 of over 50 per cent in quantity and of 28 per cent in value.

The grindstones produced amounted to 16,310 short tons, valued at $477,258, a decrease of 63 per cent in quantity and 61 per cent in value.

The pulpstones produced amounted to 10,030 short tons (2940 pieces) valued at $750,064, an increase of 16 per cent in quantity and 63 per cent in value. The demand at paper mills, which were very active late in 1920 and early in 1921 and which during and after the war could not renew their supply of English stone, increased the market for domestic pulpstones. If the depression that has followed this activity continues there will probably be a considerable decrease in the output of pulpstones in 1922.

The imports of grindstones and pulpstones were valued at $81,880 as against $11,046 in 1920. The exports of grindstones were valued at $281,976 as against $424,322 in 1920.

Sulphur, Pyrites, and Sulphuric Acid
The quantity of sulphur produced in 1920—1,255,349 long tons—was the largest produced in any year except 1918, when the output reached 1,353,525 long tons, according to the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior.

The shipments in 1920, amounting to 1,517,625 long tons, exceeded those of any other year. Two mines in Texas and one each in Louisiana and Nevada furnished all the sulphur produced in this country in 1920. The value of the shipments in 1920 is estimated at $30,660,000. The sulphur produced in 1921 amounted to 1,879,150 long tons, which is about one-third more than was produced in 1920. On the other hand, the shipments in 1921 were nearly one-third less than in 1920, amounting to only 954,344 long tons, as against 1,517,625 long tons. It is therefore evident that large stocks of sulphur are now on hand.

Two mines in Texas and one each in Colorado, Louisiana, Nevada, and Utah contributed to the output in 1921. In 1920 and 1921, as in former years, more than 99 per cent of the sulphur produced in this country came from mines in Texas and Louisiana.

The exports of sulphur in 1920 amounted to 477,450 long tons, valued at $8,994,350, and in 1921 to 285,762 long tons, valued at $4,524,783, according to records of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce. It is therefore apparent that the exports of sulphur decreased about two-fifths in 1921 and that there was a drop in value of $3-a-ton from 1920 to 1921. The imports of sulphur dropped from 136 long tons in 1920 to 50 long tons in 1921, and the value decreased about $7.50 per long ton.

Pyrites
The production of pyrites in 1920 as compiled from figures collected by the United States Geological Survey, was 310,777 long tons, valued at approximately $1,597,000. This quantity was almost twice that produced in 1921—157,118 long tons—estimated to be worth about $700,000. In 1920 California led in production, contributing 128,114 long tons, which was only a few hundred tons less than in 1919, and 98,252 long tons in 1921. The average value per ton for the total pyrites produced in the United States was somewhat less in 1921 than in 1920, being about $5 for 1920 and $4.45 for 1921.

The reports received from producers indicate that the market for pyrites has been very poor for the last two years, because the manufacturers of sulphuric acid, who have heretofore been the principal purchasers of pyrites, are now using more native sulphur, which is not only cheaper, but more easily handled. The slack market is also reflected in the imports of pyrites (reported by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce), which fell off about one-third in 1921 from those in 1920. The imports in 1920 amounted to 332,606 long tons, valued at $1,660,832. About 200,000 long tons came from Spain, 100,000 long tons from Canada, and small quantities from France, Cuba, Chile, and Hongkong. The imports in 1921 amounted to 216,229 long tons, valued at $818,852. The price per ton of the imported ore was about $1 less in 1921 than in 1920.

Sulphuric Acid
According to the United States Geological Survey sulphuric acid was produced in 30 States in 1920 to the amount of approximately 5,600,000 short tons, of 50" B. to 66" B. computed as 50" B. acid. The estimated value of this acid is $59,000,000. Production of the stronger acids amounted to 502,970 short tons, valued at approximately $10,600,000. Figures relative to the production of sulphuric acid in 1921 will be compiled by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce.

Records of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce show that 14,494 short tons of sulphuric acid, valued at $738,188, were exported from this country in 1920, and 5,409 short tons, valued at $87,973, were imported.

Production of Stone in 1921
About 52,400,000 short tons of stone was quarried in the United States in 1921, according to the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior. This is more than 20 per cent less than the production in 1920. The estimated value of this stone is $92,500,000, a decrease of 30 per cent as compared with 1920.

Producers all over the country stated that both wages and prices had been reduced, and nearly all reported a decrease in the cost of production. High freight rates are said to have contributed largely to the general depression in the industry.

Building stone was in but little demand, and the return at hand indicate a decrease in output of about 25 per cent. The output of monumental stone, which has shown practically no diminution during the last five years, apparently decreased more than 45 per cent. Paving blocks were in great demand, and increases were shown in the sales of curbing and flagging, facts that indicate a revival in street work in cities and towns. The campaign begun for the betterment of suburban and country roads caused an increase of nearly 8 per cent in the output of crushed stone. Depression in the metal-smelting industry was reflected in a decrease of more than 50 per cent in stone sold for fluxing and for use as refractory material. Decreases were noted also in the demand for agricultural limestone, and for stone used by alkali works, sugar refineries, paper mills, and in other manufacturing establishments.

Production of Gypsum
According to conservative estimates made by the United States Geological Survey from the incomplete returns available April 1, the quantity of gypsum mined in the United States in 1921 was approximately 2,870,000 short tons, as compared with 3,129,142 tons in 1920. The combined value of the crude and calcined gypsum sold was approximately $20,820,000, as compared with $24,533,065 in 1920.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County, Greeting:

You are hereby Commanded to summon R. S. Duke, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 72nd Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest District to said 72nd Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Lubbock County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the 2nd Monday in June A. D. 1922, the same being the 12th day of June, A. D. 1922, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 11th day of March, A. D. 1922, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1560, wherein Lena Duke is Plaintiff, and R. S. Duke, is Defendant, and said petition alleging: A cause of action for divorce.

Plaintiff alleges she is a bona fide resident of Lubbock County, Texas, and has been for more than six months next preceding the filing of this suit, and that she has resided in Texas for more than twelve months next preceding the filing of this suit. That she and defendant were married February 24th, 1919, and separated on March 20th, 1921, on account of the cruel treatment of the defendant. That soon after they were married the defendant began a course of harsh, cruel and unkind treatment toward her and continued such until about the time they were separated; that he assaulted plaintiff with his fist and threatened her life without just cause; and that the defendant wholly failed to support and maintain plaintiff—such treatment was of such nature and character as to render their further living together insupportable.

She prays for citation by publication against the defendant and that on hearing, she be decreed a divorce and for any other relief she may show herself entitled. Herein I do not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this 4th day of May, A. D. 1922.
(Seal) LOUIE F. MOORE,
District Court, Lubbock County, Texas. 20-4F

What the United States Has Done And Is Doing For Her Veterans Of Wars Many Years Ago

Washington, April 29.—Senator Bert M. Fernald of Maine was in charge of the bill recently passed unanimously by the Senate appropriating $17,000,000 for the construction of more hospitals for the accommodation of disabled service men. In the course of his remarks on the measure Senator Fernald gave statistics of what the United States has done for its soldiers in the world war as compared with what was done in former wars, and with what other governments have done for their veterans that should be brought to the attention of every person who thinks this country has been negligent in that respect.

"Senators may be surprised to know the difference in the treatment of the soldiers by the different governments," said Senator Fernald. "Outside of Australia and New Zealand, no government that was in any way connected with the late war has paid anything like what the United States has paid her soldiers. Canada alone paid her soldiers $33 per month. Great Britain paid her soldiers but $11.40 per month. Germany paid her soldiers $3 per month. France, Austria-Hungary, Italy and Japan paid their soldiers less than $2 per month. So Senators may see in comparison to what other governments has paid, the United States has been exceedingly generous.

"No soldier of the Revolutionary war received a pension for over 40 years after the close of the war, of more than $5 per month, and that only in case of disability to such an extent as to prevent his performing manual labor.

"No soldier who served in the war for independence was allowed a pension for any reason except for injuries or disability incurred in the service, for 42 years.

"No soldier of the war of 1812 was pensioned for any cause, except for disability incurred in service, until 60 years after the war.

"No widow of the war of 1812 received a pension until the act of 1816, and then only $4 per month.

"No soldier of the Mexican war received a pension, except such as were wounded or disabled in the service, until 40 years after the close of the war.

"Those totally disabled as the result of service received $8 per month.

"No soldier of the Civil War who was not injured or disabled by his military service received any pension from the government until the act of 1890, 25 years after the close of the war.

"Those totally disabled received only $8 per month in case of privates, and only $50 per month in case of lieutenant colonels and those of higher rank.

"No widow of a Civil War soldier was granted a pension until 25 years after the close of the war, and then only upon proof of the soldier's death being of service origin.

"At the close of this fiscal year we will have expended during this 12-month period for the benefit of the soldiers $438,000,000, twice as much as was ever expended before in aid of the soldier of any war.

"From the beginning of the Revolutionary war until July 4, 1836, 53 years after the close of the war—no widow of an enlisted soldier who served in the war for independence was ever allowed a pension. But by the act of July 4, 1836, and several amendatory acts, widows of Revolutionary soldiers were allowed a pension at first of $4 and later $8 per month. They were never allowed more than that until the act of 1886—more than a 100 years after the war.

"Until the act of 1816 no widow of the War of 1812 received a pension. But by that act widows of soldiers who were killed in the service were allowed half pay, or $48 per year—$4 per month.

"Widows of soldiers killed in the Mexican war received half pay of $48 per year for life, and it never was increased above that amount until 1887—40 years after the close of the war—and then increased to $8 per month.

"In 1886 pensions of widows of Civil war veterans were increased to $12 a month, so that no widow of a Civil war veteran whose death resulted from injuries received, disease contracted in the service received as much as $12 per month until over 20 years after the close of the war. Their pensions remained at $12 until 1916, when they were increased to $20 per month, so that it was not until 25 years after the close of the war that the widows of Civil war veterans could receive a pension except upon proof that the soldier's death was of service origin.

"Widows of veterans of the Spanish war have never been allowed a pension of more than $12 per month; and prior to the passage of the Sells act they were never allowed that, except in cases where the soldier's death was due to injury received or disease contracted in the service.

"I want to say, in connection with insurance, that 148,000 claims have already been allowed; that there is still in force insurance to the amount of $3,500,000,000, and no government ever made such provisions before for any soldiers of any war. They are handling at the department 1,000 new claims every day, in addition to the 1,200,000 already on file, and employing 4,000 ex-service men in carrying out the work.

"In addition to the above, the Veterans' bureau has allowed 305,000 compensation claims, and has paid out in compensation benefits $500,000,000. We are mailing out 650,000 checks a month, representing an expenditure of $43,000,000 monthly, giving vocational training without cost, to 100,000 disabled ex-service men; providing hospital care for 30,000 ex-service men at an annual expenditure of $60,000,000; expending $1,000,000 in cash every day for ex-service men and their dependents.

"Since 1918 this government has expended $1,410,000,000, and from now on, under the provisions of the laws we have already enacted, it will cost this government $483,000,000, twice as much as was ever expended before for the soldiers of any war."

RED STAR

Cooking efficiency on any oil stove depends upon the burner. Oil stove progress is expressed in its most convincing form in the RED STAR Burner. Due to this burner, real heat is now a fact in an oil stove. No housewife need put up with medium heat from her stove. No woman need deny her home the good things that require intense heat to cook.

This burner requires no wicks. It uses no asbestos rings or wick substitutes of any kind.

The Red Star Burner gives two rings of hot blue gas flame instead of the one as is usual. In addition, the burner becomes red hot and adds this steady heat to the double ring of flame.

A feature which pleases all women is the extreme durability of the RED STAR BURNER. It is made of grey annealed iron and weighs 8 1-2 pounds when assembled. It will last for years and years. It is easily kept clean. And besides, producing such wonderful heat it saves 25 percent of your fuel.

WHOOPIING COUGH.

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no paregoric, codeine or other opiate is given, is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.

Post City, May 5.—Mrs. J. A. Burgess, who formerly operated the Blue Bird Inn dining-room at Abilene has moved to this city where she has secured a lease on the Algierita Hotel, which she will operate on the same splendid basis that it has heretofore been operated on. C. Gilliland, former manager of the Algierita Hotel has gone to Lubbock to make his home.

BABY SHOW HELD WEDNESDAY NIGHT SUCCESS

The Baby Show held last Wednesday at the Lindsey Theater by the Johnson Studio was declared by all concerned as a great success. From the number of entrants in the contest, it is apparent that a great deal of interest was taken, there being possibly the largest crowd of babies ever gathered in the Theater at one time in its history.

The contest was divided into four classes, according to age as follows: Ages 1 month to 6 months; 6 mo. to 18 months; 18 months to 3 years; 3 years to 5 years.

Four babies were selected from each class by the judges from the pictures on the screen, then these four went before a different set of judges composed of three doctors of the city for a physical examination. Thus the health and physical condition of the child as well as beauty was a governing feature of the contest.

The final results as turned in by the judges yesterday morning are as follows:

Prizes awarded from 1 to 6 mo.:
1st prize—Ruth Elizabeth Franks, 3 months old.
2nd prize—Amy Jane Atkins, 6 months old.
From 6 to 18 months:
1st prize—Jim Bob Bailey, 11 mo. old.
2nd prize—Ruth Hunt, 19 mo. old.
From 18 months to 3 years:
1st prize—Dorothy Lawson, 19 months old.
2nd prize—Sallielane Atkins 2 years
From 3 years to 5 years:
1st—Charlotte Hopkins, 5 years.
2nd prize—E. I. Robertson, Jr. 3 years.

GOSSIP SPREADS DIS-EASE SAY AUTHORITIES

West Hoboken, N. J., May 3.—Gossip is one of the worst causes of the spread of contagious diseases, Chief Inspector Rudolph Kunz of the Board of Health said yesterday. Reporting ninety-seven cases of measles and several of diphtheria and scarlet fever in the community, the chief inspector said gossiping mothers were chiefly to blame for the combination of all these diseases.

"After our inspectors have done all they can to isolate cases, the mothers of afflicted children go abroad or gossip over the back fence with neighbors, and show the germs are carried to other children," said Kunz. "I can't find a law which prevents gossiping, so the only thing we can do is to enforce more drastic isolation of the afflicted children."

A thought for today:
"Nature never did betray
The heart that loved her."
'Tis her privilege,
Through all the years of this our life, to lead
From joy to joy; for she can so inform the mind
That is within us, so impress
With quietness and beauty, and so feed
With lofty thoughts, that neither evil tongues,
Rash judgments or the sneers of selfish men,
Nor greetings where no kindness is,
nor all
The dreary intercourse of daily life,
Shall e'er prevail against us or disturb us.
Our cheerful faith, that all which

K. K. Klub
The Kolonial Kard Klub was the guest of Mrs. O. L. Slab on Tuesday afternoon at the regular club meeting. A pleasant afternoon was spent in bridge and the joy of a social afternoon, which an occasion of this kind affords, was made dou-

ly enjoyable with the beauty and spring time charm of the Slaton home as its setting.
Almost a full membership was reported. The place of meeting will be announced later through Milady's Realm.

Mrs. S. E. Ross and two little sons who have been the guests of her parents, Mrs. W. S. Clark, left on Tuesday morning for their home in Chicago. They have been in our city some few weeks and left with much admiration for Texas. It is an assured fact that Lubbock will be heard of in the bustling old city of Chicago, as the two little boys returned, eager to depict the Texas cowboys and looking forward to their next holiday here.

South Side Methodist Church
Members of the Christian Church met on Monday afternoon at the church parlor for a short business session. In the absence of Mrs. Parkhill, who has been ill in the Lubbock Sanitarium for several days, Mrs. Kelly acted as secretary. The ladies of this church recently gave a bazaar and had several pieces of silver and cut glass left over, which they are anxious to sell and which will be at the home of Mrs. J. O. Jones for that purpose. With the whisper of numerous May weddings there is no doubt that a few pieces will soon go. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Whipp on Monday afternoon at 3:30.

Presbyterian Ladies Auxiliary
The Ladies Auxiliary met for a delightful social afternoon on Monday, at the home of Mrs. H. A. Davidson, with Mrs. Effry Miller and Mrs. Sid Miller hostesses for the occasion. This was the tenth anniversary of the Auxiliary and many dainty and original plans were carried out to make it a memorable day. A pretty birthday cake was the center of attraction, each lady present placing a candle for one year's growth, with a verse of the scripture, while the eleventh candle was a very large one, representing the future growth and significance of the spirit of hope and purpose that was in the hearts of the workers. Each member was requested to bring the number of pennies according to her age and in this way the splendid sum of nineteen dollars was realized.

Next Monday will be Bible Study Class and the members and friends are reminded that the hour has been changed and the class will meet at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Wagner will conduct the Bible lesson.

At the eleven o'clock hour will be a special service in memory of "Our Mothers and their sacred responsibility, and Holy influence." The subject will be a "Special Call for Service" and it is hoped that the parents of every child that attends the Cumberland Presbyterian Sunday school or whose name is on the Cradle roll will be present. If not your child will wonder why you were not present when the service shall have come to an end. In the name of your Mother and your children you are asked to arrange to be present.
Rev. O. N. Baucom, pastor of the Floydada Cumberland Presbyterian Church will fill the pulpit at the evening hour. Come all ye lovers of the Old Time Religion, and let us worship together in all these services.
