The "Hub" of the Plains Representatives Did Not Take a Conspicuous Part in the Program, But Will Make a Hard Fight Next Year for the 1924 Convention.

Lubbock, the "Hub of the Plains" the center of West Texas activity, the most beautiful little city in West Texas, was well represented at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Plainview Monday and Tuesday.

The opening day was a great success and it is gratifying to know that Lubbock had a most conspicuous part in the program.

Our band, while smaller in number than others present, represented the spirit of the town and the personality of our people in making good with the crowd, and taking its place among the successful entertainers of the occasion.

After a few minutes delay in getting the Lubbock automobiles massed to invade our sister city and attract just as much attention as it was at all possible, the cars were lined up, and made their way thru the main thoroughfares, attracting attention of the people, and proving beyond any reasonable doubt that Lubbock was for the convention, and wished to participate in every phase of the entertainment.

The long drawn out, lonesome, wailing cry of the Lubbock fire department announced to the delegates there assembled and the entire city of Plainview that the Hubbers were there, and naturally on the arrival to the main section of the city anxious eyes greeted the caravan of town builders and representatives of the greatest agricultural center in the state.

The cars were driven in single file to the main street leading along the front of the beautiful new auditorium, which is, and properly deserves to be, the pride of the entire city, where, led by the band, the Lubbock delegation filed through the auditorium, across the stage and back into the rear and made exit through another door, making it appear that an endless chain of persons had assembled there, and the band, having lingered long enough in the front of the building to please the spectators with a beautiful, properly executed number, which was indeed a credit to every individual in the band and the entire city and trade territory of Lubbock.

The largest delegation at the convention, Lubbock, however, did not become overly conspicuous after the first performance, as conspicuousness was deemed unnecessary inasmuch as the "Angelo" and Brownwood bunches were making headway and competitive racket in trying to draw the 1923 convention to their respective cities. Like the old story of "every dog has his day" was Lubbock's part in this program, as was told by L. T. Martin, at the Kiwanis-Rotary luncheon at the Wayland College at the noon hour when he said: "We are going to let you have your way on this occasion, and stick with the crowd that offers the best opportunities and advantages to the 1923 delegates, but in the 1924 convention we will be on the job, fighting from the first moment to the last for the 1924 convention," which expressed the sentiment of every business man in this section.

Certainly Lubbock was not willing to go into any competitive struggle in the 1923 convention when it deemed it more appropriate that that convention be held somewhere off the "cap," in due courtesy to our fellow members who so desire to hold the convention in their cities.

The most noisy and conspicuous "bunch" in the crowd, and about the ruckiest little bunch that ever walked upon the Plains was the rowdy, jolly, hard hitting, inimitable fighting San Angelo delegation, which took a hand in everything that came up throughout the program, always letting their hearers and followers know that they were on the lookout and greatly desired to hold the 1922 convention in their city. Very well gotten up posters were displayed, old man Angelo, grinding his 1923 convention was featured, with the explanatory note: "San Angelo has but one ax to grind" while one that lead that one bit was the Angelo infant occupying all the time of its mother, West Texas, crying for the 1923 convention milk bottle. The little fellow appeared to have more appeal to its whines than did the delegates from that thriving city, but the wide mouth and abundance of tears did not indicate in the least that it was beyond its sponsors in making noise—a characteristic which could have not been added by the most noted and expert artist.

Angelo was good, noisy and entertaining, but did not have anything, especially on the Brownwood delegates, whose ambition to entertain the 1923 delegates was beyond expression, and enthusiastically heralded to all present. Brownwood may be brown, but from the appearance of that "mob" we could not convince ourselves that the coast denoted and withered or deadened limbs, but even with this we do not mean to say they were a bit green, nor did not know how to go after what they craved for they did, and a statement of that sort would be misleading. Brownwood is a live bunch of wood, and the fact that the convention axe was featured with the failed to get the convention is not because they were not on the job.

France Threatens to Use Military Force to Collect Debt If It Is Necessary, Says the Authorities

Paris, May 22.—The French parliament will reconvene tomorrow in an atmosphere of anxiety, due chiefly to the prospective use of military force to bring pressure on Germany, but augmented by the Russo-German treaty and other complications growing out of the Genoa conference.

Expiration of the time given Germany to accept the reparation commission's conditions is only one week off, but there will be no immediate action, since premier Poincaré, although determined to go ahead alone if necessary, will take time to induce the allies to join him if he can.

The cabinet is regarded by the best posted members in parliament as sure of a big majority in approval of its policy of energetic action. Some apprehension is felt lest this situation makes still more acute the differences which have arisen among the entente.

U. S. Position is Discussed. Washington, D. C., May 22.—Participation of the United States in economic councils abroad—when the governments of Europe are ready to eliminate political questions from their discussions of world rehabilitation—is forecast in official circles. The American government, according to officials, in close touch with the administration would be willing to join with other nations to

Methodist General Conference Holds Consecration Services For Bishops Last Tuesday

Hot Springs, Ark., May 22.—Meeting half an hour earlier than usual this morning, the General Conference here of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, closed through the remaining business on hand, held closing devotional services and adjourned finally at 11 a. m.

Solemn and impressive were the consecration services which ordained five new bishops in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, yesterday. These were elected at the present session.

Special services in which all of the members of the college of bishops took part were held in the Central Methodist Church at 11 a. m. The bishops entered from the rear marching in procession to the altar. The bishops-elect were seated in front while the active bishops took places within the chancel. Each of the new bishops were accompanied by two elders chosen from among his new friends to perform the office of presentation for consecration.

All active bishops took part in the service. Bishop Warren A. Candler, senior bishop of the college, preached the sermon, after which the consecration of the recently elected bishops was consummated. In this service Dr. F. P. Culver of Fort Worth read the epistle. Standing before the altar, the bishops-elect were presented by their elders to the bishops for consecration, the elders saying to each candidate was presented: "We present unto you this holy man to be ordained bishop."

The presiding bishop then examined the candidates before him concerning certain articles before admitting them to office and administration of bishop. The "Veni, Creator, Spiritus," was said with Bishop Darlington leading. The candidates knelt while being consecrated to the work.

Bishop Ainsworth, four years president of the Texas conferences, delivered to each a Bible, accompanied by an exhortation. The consecration was completed by the laying on of hands of the elders and bishops.

Elders who performed presentation offices for Bishop S. R. Hay were Dr. W. J. Johnson of Dallas and Dr. W. Mills of Beaumont and Bishops Darlington and McMurry were the bishops laying on hands, together with Drs. Johnson and Mills. Similar offices were performed as follows: Bishop Dickey, who is assigned to Texas for the next four years; Dr. J. H. Eakes and W. J. Laprade, Atlanta, elders and bishops; W. F. McMurry and Collins Denny; Bishop Hoyt M. Dobbs, Drs. S. J. Dobbs (his father) and A. J. Lamar, elders; Bishops E. D. Mouton and J. M. Moore; Bishop H. A. Boaz, Drs. A. D. Porter, Hillsboro, and G. S. Slover, Clarkesdale, elders; and Bishops W. B. Beauchamp, Drs. E. H. Rawlings, Nashville and Asbury Christian of Virginia, Bishops Murrab, Darlington and Candler.

The memorial service for the five bishops who have died during the quadrennium was held Sunday afternoon. Among the latter are listed the "coal roads."

Rail earnings in the East have developed a recent tendency to rise, it was argued by railroad managers while western roads are still at low earning points indicating a necessity for treating the rate problem regionally.

EXERCISES ARE HELD FOR LUBBOCK SANITARIUM GRADUATES

WITH MUSIC AND FLOWERS THE PROGRAM WAS CARRIED FORWARD IN AN IMPRESSIVE MANNER.

MANY COMPLIMENTS BY COL. MULLICAN

Told of the Great Work the Lubbock Sanitarium Was Doing—Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, President of Nurses School, Presented Diplomas—Graduates Make Vow.

The graduating exercises of the Nurses Training School, of the Lubbock Sanitarium, given at the Methodist Church Tuesday night, May 23, was one of the most beautiful and impressive services that has been held in Lubbock in many days.

The stage was literally covered with flowers, denoting the season in all the color and dignity a well arranged floral offering could depict, which was enhanced greatly by blending with the beauty thereof the splendid numbers rendered by Raleigh Brown, violin, and Roy West, saxophone, they having given two selections for the occasion.

The choir, as usual, had a very impressive and well directed part to lend to the beauty of the program, their first number "Forward" pleased their hearers beyond expression.

Clarke Mullican, well known attorney, and in our estimation, the most able orator in West Texas, addressed the graduates, impressing more forcefully upon the audience the great work the young ladies had completed, and upon them the big responsibility which they, as graduates entering into their professional life, would be forced to meet.

Col. Mullican, having had occasion to be intimately associated with the entire sanitarium personnel during the days of his recent illness, spoke frankly, openly and complimentary of the great work they were doing, and especially of the kind attitude and helpful attention the nurses extended all those who were under their care throughout the days of their schooling.

The fact that the training period for a nurse extends throughout twelve long months, not abbreviated by holidays, as are the other institutions of learning, was used by the Colonel to impress upon the minds of his hearers the stability which they possess the fact that through the first three months of training, the probation period, they were brought under the keen scrutiny of their trainers, whose business it is to see that the young students possess that character necessary to rendering the very best possible service, the aptitude to grasp the meaning of their profession, and the cheerfulness necessary to emanate that feeling of good-will necessary to the comfort and happiness of those whose ability to remain cheerful might be impaired by long suffering, realizing that cheerfulness is the greatest asset to the success of that work.

The diplomas were presented by Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president of the school, with the pins by one of the graduates, which immediately followed the Florence Nightingale Pledge by the class, an impressive vow, which was appreciated by all.

With the class colors, White and Gold, and the class flower, White carnation, beautifully portrayed, the full meaning of the insignia was realized by all, when the meeting closed with invocation by Rev. W. A. Boyer, immediately after Miss Johnnie Spencer expressed her feelings of gratitude to the audience, their instructors, the founders of the institution from which they graduate, and the young ladies in training who worked with them, and who will graduate in one and two years.

The Lubbock Sanitarium is an institution of which we might all feel proud, and instead of letting self conceit get the overhand of us all, we should look upon her warning sounded by Col. Mullican in his address, that it is human nature to forget the rugged experiences of life, and at the same time be unappreciative of the advantages given us by our fellow man.

Dr. Hutchinson, Krueger, Overton and Peeler, of the Sanitarium were in attendance, and Miss Spencer's words of gratitude were directed to them when she spoke of the assistance they had received from the faculty.

The auditorium was well filled with an attentive audience.

Man Lived In Five Counties But Did Not Move

Cason, May 22.—J. W. Wardlow, 86, who died here recently, lived in five different counties, yet never moved. He was born in 1838, five miles West of Daingerfield and spent his entire life in that community. The county first was known as Red River, with Clarksville as the county seat. Soon part of the county was cut off to form Paschal County. Later this was abolished and it became known as Bowle, with Boston as the county seat. Another division and Wardlow found himself living in Titas County with Mt. Pleasant the county seat. Then the last division was made, Cason going to Morris County, where he lived until death.

Wardlow, if not the oldest, was one of the oldest Masons in Texas, joining the lodge at Daingerfield in 1857. He was in Ross' brigade during the war between the States, serving as a lieutenant in the first legion. Wardlow also lived under three flags in Texas, that of the old Republic, the Confederate and the Stars and Stripes. He was a Justice of the Peace for eighteen years, was an Odd Fellow and a Methodist. His eight children all are still living. He had eighteen grand children and three great grand-children. His children are: J. W., D. T., and O. E. Wardlow, of Cason; John Wardlow of Pittsburg, Texas; Mrs. O. F. Jones of Midland, Texas; Mr. W. L. Allison of Eastland, Texas; Mrs. Mary Evans and Mrs. J. J. Cason of Cason.

Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. J. W. Ross and J. W. Jr., son of the latter, left the first of the week for Swenson, Texas, where they will visit for ten days or two weeks.

County Clerk Smith of Leveled, was here Wednesday looking after business.

Rate Reductions By Railroads Are Promised

Washington, May 23.—Administration intervention into railroad rates problems as instanced most recently in President Harding's dinner conference with carrier-executives has disclosed the close relationship between these and problems of pay scales and railroad financing it was indicated today at the White House.

Railroad managements, it was said, while voicing approval of the general proposal that rates be brought down in the interests of general business betterment and expansion of enterprise have taken the opportunity to tell of their own troubles with wage scales which they consider too high, with the financing of new equipment and repair of old, and the maintenance and betterment of their lines. The result is said to leave President Harding, the belief however, that tangible immediate reductions can be obtained.

Railroad executives were told by the President and Secretary Hoover at the Saturday night conference if they would leave class rates practically unchanged at existing levels they could go into session with the Interstate Commerce Commission and at once cut sharply existing charges on coal, iron, ores, brick, paving materials and other heavy tonnage—less unit prices commodities. This, in the administration view, would remove burdens which have acted to retard the wheels of commerce and at the same time leave high rates on traffic which can bear the burden because of its high unit price.

Many roads regard the proposal with favor, but others look with concern on the plan as comprising a reduction in their chief source of

YOUNG SCHOOL TEACHER AT HOME FROM HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Nancy Dupre, daughter of Prof. M. M. Dupre, of the Lubbock schools, returned Wednesday from Clarksville, where she taught Spanish in the high school throughout the past term. En route home Miss Dupre stopped off at Denton to visit her sister, Miss Margaret, and other Lubbock girls, who are there attending C. I. A. Needless to say Miss Dupre is welcomed to Lubbock by her people and a host of friends, her personality having won the friendship of those with whom she was associated while a resident of Clarksville.

YOUNG LADY FROM LUBBOCK WROTE COLLEGE SONG

We learned from Prof. M. M. Dupre, of the Lubbock schools last Thursday that Miss Ruby Peak, graduate of the Lubbock high school but now a student at C. I. A., won the prize for writing the best college song, in a contest, for which she received the first prize of twenty-five dollars.

Miss Peak is also a graduate of music from the Lubbock school and has not carried on the work since leaving here, and her winning in this contest reflects favorably upon the ability of her instructors here, and especially upon her aptitude to the work.

Many friends were welcome the news of her success in the contest.

NOTICE CONFEDERATES!
I have been requested by the committee on decoration, to ask all Confederates to be at the south side of the court house at 8:30 a. m., May 30. Business Improving In the Vicinity of Roaring Springs, Tex.

In conversation with our business men this week all of them expressed themselves as being well pleased with conditions.

Most of them were buoyant in saying that business is good.

Saturday was one of the best days we have had this year was the general term used by most of them.

There are two reasons for this encouraging condition of business. First, our merchants selling goods to their customers at prices that are reasonable.

Again they are placing goods in the possession of their customers that are of the best quality to be secured on the market.

We say, unrestrictedly, that we have not found a town that is selling goods as cheap, taking everything in general, as are being sold in Roaring Springs.

Of course, there are some things in some towns that can be bought at a little less price.

But, if the customer will investigate the situation a little they will find these articles which are sold at less price are just thrown out as leaders to draw trade, and many times the next article you purchase will be higher than the price our merchants ask for it.

The second reason we assign for the good business condition, is that we are one of the best bunch of farmers around our town that is found in the world. They do their trading with their home merchants. There may be a few who accommodate the mail order houses, and probably a few articles from other towns, but these are rare. This mutual co-operation between the man that sells and the man that buys is a great factor to good business.

It is reasonable to say that no country can get along without its town as a trading center. It is just as reasonable to say that no town can get along and build without the co-operation of the farming class around it. The farmer's success is always welcomed by the merchants in the town. They are anxious to see the farmer prosperous, for this means a prosperous community and good business for both the farmer and the merchant.—Review.

CROP PROSPECTS AROUND LITTLEFIELD PROMISING

Neal A. Douglass, Sr. of Littlefield was here Saturday visiting his sons, Neal A. Junior, and Jim Douglass, and also looking after some business matters. Mr. Douglass reports prospects most promising in his section of the country. He says there is at least five thousand acres of cotton planted in the Littlefield section and that there is at least fifty percent of it up a fine stand now. He believes that a conservative estimate will place the yield at 2500 bales, and with what they might get from nearby communities in other counties Littlefield ought to receive this fall between 3500 and 4000 bales of cotton. They will probably have another gin in that town to help to take care of the crop, and if not that, the present one will be greatly improved and enlarged. Mr. Douglass says he never saw better prospects than at this time.

NEXT DOSE CALOMEL MAY SALIVATE YOU

It is Mercury, Quicksilver, Shocks Liver and Attacks Your Bones

Calomel salivation is horrible. It swells the tongue, loosens the teeth and starts rheumatism. Here's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic—a perfect substitute for calomel. It is a pleasant vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Calomel is a dangerous drug, besides it may make you feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic instead and you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tonic acts better than treacherous calomel your money is waiting for you.

Conference Opposed to Change in the Prohibition Law

Hot Springs, May 18.—Declaring that one of the vital issues confronting the American people is whether they will stand by those members of Congress who have voted to maintain the prohibition amendment, a report of the committee on temperance and social service to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, here today, calls upon members of the Church "to keep the friends of Federal Prohibition in Congress."

"The only certain place to determine the issue is in the primary and general elections," says the report, and added "indifference means defeat; united activity means victory."

The report declares unequivocally against the manufacture of light wines and beer, demands that "while the eighteenth amendment is a part of the constitution it should be honestly and uniformly enforced," and says that Congress, in spite of desperate efforts of wet members has by overwhelming majorities done its sworn duty.

Election held the center of interest again today, and the delegates continued to choose secretaries of the various boards under the supervision of the conference. More than a dozen secretaries remained to be named.

While the conference waited for the tellers to cast up the ballots transaction of calendar business proceeded. The body has made rapid progress in transacting business the last two days and this morning only two or three important matters stood out from the remaining business. Those were the questions of unification with the northern branch of Methodism and merging the southern body's interest with those of the church of the United Brethren in Christ and as to the time ministers shall remain on pastorate assignments. Under the present system the pastors remain at one station within the discretion of the bishop and presiding elder. A majority committee report on the calendar would leave the present plan unchanged while one minority report would abolish any limit and another minority report would restore the four-year limit as prevailed until changed four years ago.

In revising the legislation governing the operation of the Missions Board the conference wrote up a new constitution for the Board which abolished the office of general secretary and provided that the body shall reorganize under three departments—foreign missions, department of women's work and home missions. Each department will have two secretaries who will co-ordinate in authority.

It became known today that members of the College of Bishops are at work on assignments as to episcopal districts and it was said that the assignments may be announced before the conference adjourns.

The Missouri Episcopal District, embracing three annual conferences in the state, together with the annual conference of Denver, Colorado, has invited Bishop W. P. McMurray of Louisville, Ky., to take charge of that district.

Swisher County District Put Up to The High Court

Austin, Texas, May 22.—The test case of the representative redistricting bill based on the omission of Swisher county, finally has reached the state supreme court.

An effort to pass this bill was made at the regular legislative session in January 1921, in accordance with the law requiring that the state shall be redistricted both senatorially and representatively at the first legislative session following a Federal government decennial census. The effort proved futile and it came up at the two called sessions in July and August of last year.

It was finally passed at the second called session. The final act taking place in the last hours of the session. The legislators then went home, feeling that their work had been accomplished.

Then it became known that Swisher county had been left with no representation. The question as to the bill's constitutionality arose. Could it be held with a county omitted in the passage?

Representative Lee Satterwhite, chairman of the house appropriation bill, started a test case but abandoned it on account of the expense attached. Representative John T. Smith of Travis county then filed a test case. He sought to have his name placed on the Democratic ticket under the old law. County chairman J. M. Patterson refused and filed his name under the new bill. Mr. Smith brought court proceedings to force him to allow his name to be filed under the old law. Mr. Patterson's contention is that it was the intention of the legislature to include Swisher county in its proper district but it was omitted in typing. Mr. Smith holds that the intention of the legislature is not sufficient, that the acts were what counted.

The supreme court's decision in the case will be final.

COAL AND LIGNITE OUTPUT IN TEXAS

Washington, May 21.—In 1920 bituminous coal was produced in six Texas counties and lignite was produced in eleven counties, as shown by figures announced by the United States Geological Survey. The counties of Erath, Maverick, Palo Pinto, Webb, Wise and Young Counties produced 545,227 net tons, of an average value of $5.11 or a total value of $2,787,000. All was shipped from mines save about 22,000 net tons, sold to local trade and used for mine steam and heat. The total number of men employed was 1,679 and the average number of days worked was 243 for the year.

The lignite production was in the counties of Bastrop, Henderson, Hopkins, Houston, Lee, Leon, Medina, Milam, Nacogdoches, Shelby, and Wood Counties. The total production was slightly more than 1,000,000 tons for the year, at an average value of $3.06 per ton, or a total value of $3,275,000. All was marketed away from mines but about 16,000 tons. The number of miners employed was 1,271 and the average days worked 242 for the year. The total coal production for 1920, of Texas, was valued at slightly more than $6,000,000, the number of men employed being 2,950 and the average number of days worked 242.

AFTER THE FLU

If the Flu Left You Weak, or You're in Need of a Tonic to Build You Up, Take This Advice

Houston, Texas—"I was in a terribly run-down condition of health after a siege of pneumonia poisoning, and then influenza. I could not seem to regain my strength and was really not able to do my housework. I knew I needed a good tonic and builder and remembered how my folks used to regard Dr. Pierce's remedy in my girlhood days, and then I decided to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. After taking the second bottle I found it was doing me a world of good, strength returned rapidly and I felt better in every way. I am glad indeed to recommend the medicine that did me so much good and do not hesitate to sign this statement."—Mrs. Gertrude Sell, 1236 Rutland St.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

Advertisers, contributors and all parties interested in the Avalanche please remember these things: We print the Tuesday Avalanche on Monday, press hour, 3:30 p. m. Friday Avalanche on Thursdays, press hour 3:30 p. m. Please have copy for local notices in not later than noon Mondays and Thursdays. Ad changes and copy should not be later than 8:00 a. m., Mondays and Thursdays. It takes a schedule like this to get your ads in the paper in good shape, and helps us give our readers better service, which means that the paper will be of better service to you, which we earnestly desire it to be. We do not want to be exacting but we must demand some things of you, if you expect us to come up to the notch.

STABILIZATION OF FARM PRICES

The Avalanche is for some kind of stabilized farm produce prices. We believe the farmer has raised stuff on a hit and miss market plan—we started to say system, but there is no system about it—too long now, and has kept the farmer down to a very narrow margin of profit, and some times even taking a tremendous loss, or producing stuff at a price greater than he can get for it. The Southland Farmer published at Houston, Texas, says along this line: "Last fall, while serving a sentence in jail in Minnesota, the injustice of which was apparent to every fair-minded man acquainted with the facts, A. C. Townley started a movement for re-establishment of the U. S. Grain Corporation or a similar body, for the purpose of stabilizing the prices of main farm products to the end that fair prices might be assured to producers. The movement has progressed rapidly since that time and today farm organizations all over the country are behind it. The Farmers National Council—a strong and representative body of farmers farmers, has urged it in every way possible, and now a very strong and representative body of acting through their organizations, has been formed to urge the enactment of such a bill as has been introduced by Senator Ladd and Congressman Sinclair. This National Stabilization Committee, as it is called is composed of J. S. Wannamaker, S. C. President of American Cotton Association; W. J. Mozley, N. D., Farmers Union; Vernon Campbell, Calif., Cooperative Canneries of California; C. J. Osborne, Neb., President Farmers Union; S. C. Barrett, Ga., National President Farmers Union; W. M. Burlingame, Mont., President Society of Equity; Milo Reno, Iowa, President Farmers Union; G. L. Sands, Ark., President Farmers Union; J. M. Anderson, Minn., Manager Equity Exchange; J. W. Batchelor, S. D., President Farmers Union; John Quincy Adams, Wash., W. H. Lyon, S. D., H. D. Gray, Calif., G. S. Woodcock, Colo."

There is no reason in the world that Lubbock should not have had all of the money raised for that Army fund. It is just simply ridiculous for us to fool along this way and not put up that $1300 without another word of exhortation or solicitation from anyone. The proposition is simply this: The Government furnishes everything including full equipment for about seventy-five men and thirty or forty horses, pays the men salaries amounting to $1800 a year, bears the expense of these men and the horses and furnishes a building for the armory equipment, and all they ask the people of Lubbock to do is to build the stables for the horses, and that is what this $1300 is for. It is certainly a good thing from a purely business view point. The first plan was to get 130 people to donate ten dollars each, and this should have brought forth a very liberal response, but the other fellow seems to be waiting for the others to do it, but "George" never does anything much when it is left up to him individually, so we want a hundred men to flock in and absolutely snow our office force under to take the money on this proposition and get it off our hands. In another place in this paper will be found the names of those who have contributed to date. Look and see if your name is on that list and if it is not you should not stop for anything till you get down to this office with a check.

While it seems that there is something all the time to take money in matters of improvements in the city, and public utilities, we must remember that we are growing, and growing rapidly. This being the case whether it by a town or a boy or a family, the result is very much the same. The amount necessary for new garments is greater, and the need for such garments absolute. Lubbock is going to have to have an extended water system. The water mains will have to be extended to the new school building site. The same of the sewer, and this is also necessary in the residential section of the city. Hundreds of pretty homes are far removed from water mains and fire plugs, hence the insurance rate is higher, and almost prohibitive in many instances. The difference in the insurance rate will go a long way to pay interest on water and sewer bonds. The light plant should also be extended. Lubbock is growing, and we must arrange to keep her clothed in necessary garments to permit her growth. Crowd her up in tight bandages and see how stunted she will be. Put the right kind of clothes on her and watch the development. The voters will have an opportunity to vote an extension soon. Look at this matter from a broad viewpoint, and go to the polls and vote for bonds to increase the water supply, the sewer and you will be doing a good thing for the town.

Some fellow up in Kansas has started a boom for McAdoo for President. If things keep going like they have the past twelve months, it will be little trouble to elect most any fellow who will offer for the job on the Democratic ticket.

There will be a great swarm of immigrants to this section of the country this year. There is a lot of land in large pastures that should be opened up some way for settlement. We realize that the main trouble just now is the heavy income tax that is required on land sales. This is doing more at the present to retard the development of the Plains country than most any other one thing. We believe that there should be something done to have this situation relieved. It has certainly held down the development of this section, but if this land cannot be sold, we suggest that the owners at least put a lot of it under cultivation, and rent it to those fellows from the East to farm. If Lubbock county does not take care of them, they will go elsewhere, and we should have them in this immediate territory, because we need them to help develop this great agricultural section. The Lubbock section is better adapted to the kind of farming those people do than any other section of the West. Let's get this country in shape to take care of them. They are coming, be ready for them.

Some people are always ready to help when the opportunity comes. There is a movement on foot now to create a milk and ice fund for the needy children of this city, and there will no doubt be something worked out on this proposition within the next few days and we will probably be able to announce something definite. The mention that was made of this proposition was well received last week, and Mr. Vaughn, of the Vaughn Dairy, called to see us about it and offered to sell milk for this purpose at a liberal discount from the regular price, which will mean quite a donation from him, and will, at the same time, mean a great deal to the people who are trying to work this proposition up. The Avalanche wants to give this matter all the publicity possible, and if you are interested in the proposition, now is the time to wake up, speak up and help boost this matter along.

Remember folks, on the 20th of next month the people of the Lubbock Independent School District will vote on the question of raising the tax rate from fifty cents on the $100 valuation of property to ninety cents, which amount will be necessary to maintain the school next year. It is just as necessary that this tax be voted as it was for the bonds to carry, and it will be just as necessary that the people who favor this proposition to get out and work for it. No real progressive citizen should flinch at paying ninety cents of the $100 valuation of property for the maintenance of the schools, but you know, bud, that they are not all progressive. We have some few folks who are agin anything that will cost them a penny, and they are opposed to school tax.

The prospects for the cattle industry seems to be on the incline. This is certainly good news. The cattlemen have had a terrible tussle. Many of them have gone broke, but the upward trend of the markets may bring some of them out on top, provided that they can get the friendly assistance of men who have money. They will have to grow 'out, many of them, at least, and this cannot be done in one year. It will take several years, but we believe it would be a good investment for men of means to place their money at the disposal of conservative cattle men, and thereby protect one of the greatest and most important industries of the country.

The Texas Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that the representative redistricting bill was constitutional. The constitutionality of the bill was questioned on account of Swisher county being left out of the list of counties when it was finally passed. The court based its opinion on the grounds that it was the intention of the legislature to include Swisher county in the new 120th district, and holds that the reapportionment of the population as made was valid. This decision will put an end to a lot of uncertainty of candidates who are offering for election to positions in the legislature, and did not know whether they were running under the old districting plan or the new one.

The United States is inclined to want to be at peace with the world, and entered into the agreement not to build war ships for some time, and it is supposed that all nations of importance are carrying out this program. We are inclined to look with suspicion upon the actions of some nations, Japan for instance, and believe that those waspy little fellows are not going to pay no more attention to that agreement than is possible. They will devise some means of whipping around the stump, and will pop up with a full grown fuss and a fighting navy in proportion. They are now watched.

Two or three persons have told us they are willing to build a brick business house for any reputable firm, that wants to come to Lubbock and enter into business and we ask that you tell your troubles to us and we will put you wise to parties who will build according to your own plans, and to suit your special line of business. Now don't go way kicking about no houses in Lubbock, until you have tried the folks who have told us that they are willing to build.

The Plains section got a wonderful lot of fine advertising by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention, and there is no way of estimating the benefits this section will derive from the convention held last Monday and Tuesday. The delegates realized that there was a greater number of boosters to the square mile in the South Plains than could be found in any man's country.

Crop prospects are looking mighty good in this section of the country. Some trouble was experienced in getting crops up to a good stand on account of the heavy rains last month and the first half of this month, but for the past week or so crops have begun to come through in fine shape, and there is promise now of the best crop stand for years, and the acreage is greatly increased.

With five or six new brick business houses now under construction or just on the eve of beginning, it looks like the South Plains hub is going to keep up its past reputation of "keepin' buildin'."

HAILEY TO GO AFTER EP. WORTH LEAGUE CONVENTION

E. E. Hailey, of Lubbock, secretary of the Lubbock District Epworth League is after the 1923 convention to be held in Lubbock, the main artery of the district in which he works. Hailey is a hard worker, and will no doubt win in the fight long before all the others begin to get ready, as he is trying to bring a good thing to a good town, and has the united efforts of all the leagues in his district behind the movement he is inaugurating. With our nice auditorium about completed it will be an easy matter for Lubbock to entertain the delegates, and the entire town is backing Mr. Hailey in his efforts to bring them here. Lubbock can and should take its place among the really big convention towns of the Panhandle, and by going after every one available our people can soon be known as entertainers of the first class.

PUBLISHED TWICE A WEEK

There's a Hot Time in the "Hub Town" For Building Contractors, As Can Be Seen From the Number of Buildings

Who in the world started that "pour it on 'em" stuff? and for why in the duce was it started?

Anyhow, what we are driving at is that it is not at all applicable to our local contractors, for they don't "pour" it on, they just get their workmen together, assemble all the equipment necessary, and start to "build" it in Lubbock, as was plainly shown Wednesday morning when a lot of workmen were doing their best to get the foundation work of the two twenty-five by one hundred and fifteen feet brick buildings that were contracted for by Geo. Morrow, local townsmen. These buildings will be occupied as soon as they are completed.

Hunt's grocery to take one and Abilene parties will operate a nice furniture and hardware business in the other.

The contract is also made for the old red building now housing the Broadway garage to be torn down, work will start Monday, and a Mr. Blair of Dallas, will have a brick building, 50x125 erected on the lots.

These buildings are all on Broadway, and will add greatly to that portion of Lubbock, which bids fair to become the business center of the city.

A Plainview contractor somewhat got his bait grabbed without the "fish" getting on the hook, at the convention Monday, when he talked with a fellow tradesman from Lubbock, the conversation, having naturally gotten down to the talk of their work. The Plainview man, anxious to know how his old friend was getting along, asked hurriedly: "Well, old fellow, how's everything in the Hub city?"

"Derfine," replied the local, "left there about six hours ago, and there's no tellin' what those fellows have started since that time," which expresses the true spirit of the times.

The writer hasn't a thing in the world to do but keep up with these fellows, and if it were a strict rule of the management that none of these happenings be passed up we would get fired every few minutes. Things are just naturally too fast in this little city to be kept up with. There are too many people wanting to do their bit toward making this the best looking city on the Plains for their every activity to be recorded. There are too many business men here selling the goods and getting the cash on the barrel head, then turning right about face and investing their profits in city development enterprises for an exact account of their activities to be kept.

Lubbock "is the hub of the Plains" and even if there are a good many of the spokes that are doing fine, their renewed activity place another "peg" of confidence in the Plains country, that has to be given room for somewhere on the "hub".

Come to Lubbock, the Hub of the Plains, the center of activity, the most beautiful city in West Texas.

Baptists Renew Drive to Collect Big Sum Money

Jacksonville, Fla.—Plans for completing the $75,000,000 fund of the Southern Baptist convention will be outlined, and an intensive Southwide campaign launched at a conference of Baptist leaders in Nashville June 20-21.

Plans calls for forming an organization somewhat similar to the one that obtained the original subscriptions and in addition to members of the conservation commission, including the State and general secretaries, the president and secretary of the Women's Missionary Union, secretaries of other auxiliary organizations and a few representative pastors and laymen, invitation will also be extended to the executive committee of the convention and of the Women's Union, State secretaries of the union, editors of Baptist papers, the executive committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, and others. Frank E. Burkhalter, Nashville, was re-elected secretary and publicity director of the convention conservation commission.

Discuss Missions.
While the meetings of the Women's Union was devoted largely to reports on its work toward the $75,000,000 fund with election of officers set for late in the day, the convention turned its attention to home missions and Sunday schools and the reports of those boards were made public.

Statistics on Southern Baptist work since the last convention show large gains for the convention year of 1922. The total contributions amounting to $33,886,982, a gain of $995,099, and the value of the church property $102,404,038, an increase of $4,671,048. Cash Bonus Is a Feature of the New Measure Proposed in Connection With Soldier Bonus Bill

A soldier's bonus bill based upon the extradition of money from foreign governments an account of their indebtedness to the United States was introduced by Senator Bursum of New Mexico. It was offered as a substitute for the house bill with which the senate finance committee has been struggling for several weeks in an effort to draft a measure that will win President Harding's approval.

Essential features of the Bursum bill are that it provides for a cash bonus to all former service men to the extent of one-half the sum to which they are entitled by way of adjusted compensation. Alternatives in the shape of money payments for land purchases or for vocational training are offered.

The bill would authorize the President to sell bonds based upon the foreign debt, the money thus derived to be used to make the cash settlements and the extension of other forms of aid to the service men.

Meet Harding's Objection.
Senator Bursum believes that this provision will remove the objection of the President to the house bill and to all other proposals, which offered a bonus without providing any method of raising the money with which to pay it.

Under the new bill, adjusted compensation would be made on the basis of $1.25 a day to all men who had overseas service and $1 a day to all men who served at home, the total not to exceed $625 in any case for the overseas veterans or $500 for those who had home service.

It would apply to all except officers above the rank of captain in the engineer corps or coast guard, and passed assistant surgeon in the public health service. Civilian officers and members of the reserve army corps are excluded.

Each veteran who served between April 5, 1917, and Nov. 12, 1918, would have the right to avail himself of one or both of the following plans:

- 1.—To receive adjusted pay service.
- 2.—To receive land purchase aid.

Each veteran would also have the right to avail himself of one, but only one of the following plans:

Gives Additional Credit.

- 1.—To receive vocational training aid.
- 2.—To receive farm or home aid.

The farm aid provision would extend to the veteran an additional credit of 25 percent of the amount due, the money to be used for the sole purpose of making improvements on a farm or suburban home. The provision relating to land purchase would enable the veteran to make a homestead entry, the government to pay for the land at the regular price of $1.25 per acre.

The bill provides that all applications must be made in person on or before July 1, 1923, and directs the secretaries of war and navy to issue a pamphlet fully explaining all the terms of the act.

Senator Bursum prepared the bill after conferences with several organizations interested in soldier welfare work. He said he had not discussed it with the President and does not know what the President's views might be respecting the plans offered.

The bill was referred to the finance committee which will study it in connection with other bonus measures now before it.

NEWS ITEMS FROM THE PLAINVIEW NEWS THURSDAY

Joe H. Hall, born August 10, 1862, died at his home in Plainview Tuesday night. He had been an invalid for quite a while, though able to go about his business affairs. He leaves a widow and a son, and a brother, W. R. Hall of this city. The funeral was held at the Baptist church, of which he was a deacon, Wednesday afternoon, quite a number of sorrowing friends being present to pay their respect to him. Pastor H. J. Matthews made a short talk telling of the christian life of the deceased since he has lived in Plainview, and Rev. J. P. Siler, who knew him in Jones county, told of his activity in church and community affairs there, eulogizing him.

T. J. Vines of the Plainview Gin, estimates between twenty and twenty-five thousand acres of cotton will be planted in Hale county this year. He makes his forecast on the amount of seed that has been bought by the farmers. On account of the floods nearly all over the South it is very likely the total crop will be small, and the price high.

J. J. Simpson received a message yesterday stating his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Simpson, age 83 years, had died that morning at her home in Cave Springs, Ark., from paralysis of the heart. She will be buried there. Mrs. J. A. Line of the Ellen community, is the youngest daughter. The deceased had been a widow for seventeen years. She was the mother of eleven children, five of whom are living.

WHOOPING COUGH.

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no paregoric, codeine or other opiate is given, is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.

H. H. Porter, business man of Dallas, was in Lubbock the first of the week, looking after matters pertaining to his firm.

A thought for today:
Be broad and tolerant; all wisdom is not in your brain; exploded errors have had their dogmatists. Be a follower of the Golden Rule; it is not only the highest morality, but is a fruitful source of true politeness, and is withal but simple justice. —J. D. O'Conner.

Senior Picnic

Last Thursday afternoon at 1:30 the Seniors met at the home of Edith Wheelock, with Mrs. E. R. Haynes as chaperon, to go on a picnic at Igo. About 3:15, six cars, well filled, arrived on the scene, and then real excitement began. Pupils were seen scattering out over the hills far and wide, and this continued until about 6:30, when a delicious lunch of regular picnic eatables was served in regular picnic style. After this phase of the occasion was over preparations were made to return. All went well until I. A. Witt lost control of his car, and the car also lost control of itself and turned over. There were six occupants of the car, but all came out of the wreck unharmed. Everyone reported a fine time, and Mr. Witt may be seen driving a new Overland Sedan.

Farewell Party

Almeda Murray entertained with a Farewell Party Tuesday evening in honor of Pauline Trippe, who left on an extended visit to Fort Worth and other Eastern points, to be gone the major part of the summer. Forty-two and other games were enjoyed until a late hour when dainty refreshments of cream and cake was served. Pauline was then accompanied to the train by Sylvia Wilson, Pearl Warren, Alta Burrus, Ruby Caultie of Big Spring, Almeda Murray, Ala Burrus, Jim Stahl, Chardo Pierce, Paul Clark, Clarice Phillips, and Rankin Dow.

Senior Farewell Party

Sylvia Wilson gave the Seniors a Farewell Party at her home on Saturday evening. The Seniors together with the high school teachers met at the appointed hour, and the evening passed all too quickly. Some were engaged in filling out their memory books, while others were engaged in different games. During the evening an Alumni Club of the class of '22 was formed, with J. R. Dow as president and Ala Burrus as secretary. The date, June 25, 1927 was set for a reunion of this class. At the close of the evening delicious refreshments of fruit salad, whipped cream, and cake was served. Farewells were then given by all, some for a long time, some for only a short time. Though the leave-taking was sad, we all hope to be together again in 1927.

The saddest thing under the sky is a soul incapable of sadness.—Caspary.

Reception Honoring Mr. and Mrs. George Atkins

Last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Atkins entertained with an evening reception from eighty-three to eleven, in honor of their son, Mr. George Atkins and his bride, who were recently married in Cisco.

The large Atkins home made a pretty setting for the occasion and was attractive in pink and white roses, in large bowls, while tiny bud vases graced the rooms and rose garlands added a dainty touch of color.

Mrs. Cannon received at the door while in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Atkins, Mr. and Mrs. George Atkins, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Atkins, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Atkins and Mrs. Stubblefield.

Mrs. Barnes took the guests to register in the brides book, a dainty handpainted memory book in pink and white, where Miss Rhea presided while the guests registered. Misses Mary and Martha Cosby conducted the guests into the dining room, where they were served with pink and white ice cream, cake mints, salted almonds, with a delicate pink rose bud as plate favor.

Those assisting Mrs. Atkins were: Mesdames Cosby, Grover Merrill, John Simpson, H. T. Kimbro, and Miss Lila Porter. Miss Winnie Bates sang and played several appropriate numbers during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. George Atkins were the recipients of many good wishes from a large number of their friends.

Myrick-Wolfarth

For several weeks the social calendar has been crowded with receptions, showers and more showers, in compliment to one of the younger set, Miss Bernice Wolfarth who on Wednesday afternoon at five-thirty o'clock, became the bride of Mr. Russell Myrick. The charming and picturesque wedding ceremony at the Wolfarth home came as a fitting climax to the many social affairs given in the honor of the approaching event.

The two reception rooms were made attractive in their dainty dress of pure white roses and ferns, while the large dining room and living room was pretty in a color scheme of gold with pink and white roses.

An impressive ring ceremony was performed, by the Rev. J. T. Griswold, an old friend of the Wolfarth family, and their pastor at one time. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white crepe romaine, with an arm bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Nancy Lee was maid of honor, Miss Mary Meador, bridesmaid, and Mrs. J. T. Krueger and Mrs. Claude Ruhlert were matrons of honor.

Mr. Eric Posey was best man, and Herbert Lowrey escort to the bridesmaid, Misses Katherine Weaver and June Wheelock were the two pretty little flower girls, and Miss Dorothy Wolfarth and Roberta Myrick were sweetly piquant as the ring bearers.

Mrs. Floyd Beal played the wedding march and Mrs. Joe Hilton sang "A Thought of You" by Burleigh, and Mrs. Edwin Wheelock sang "Love-Like the Dawn Came Stealing" by Cadman. Mr. Raleigh Brown accompanied Mrs. Beal and soft strains of music were heard during the ceremony.

Those of the house party were: Mesdames H. T. Kimbro, S. C. Arnett, W. A. Bacon, W. S. Posey, Albert Taylor, Neil Wright, Eastin Wolfarth, F. E. Wheelock, Roscoe Wilson, A. V. Weaver, Paul Roberts, Elmer Conley, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Myrick Sr., from Dallas, were guests of the Wolfarths.

Mr. and Mrs. Myrick left for Dallas shortly after the ceremony, where they will make their home for a while.

Twentieth Century Club Luncheon

Mrs. W. R. Spencer was club hostess on Tuesday afternoon, at the Twentieth Century Club annual luncheon.

Members, guests and members-to-be, arrived at the pretty Spencer home at one thirty and were greeted by Mrs. Spencer.

The large veranda porch afforded a delightful place in which to enjoy a social visit and to meet the guests of the club. Mrs. J. L. Randall, Mrs. Percy Spencer's mother, were with us and those who know Mrs. Randall, can now understand the ability and charm of her daughter, in club work. Our other guests were Mrs. Merryweather of Clovis, New Mexico, and Mrs. Ellen Perkins, guests of Mrs. W. R. Spencer.

The new members were present to be officially received by the club, viz: Mrs. Marvin Hilburn, Mrs. Floyd Beal, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Dr. Krueger and Mrs. Curtis A. Keen. The absence of Mrs. Bledsoe was regretted, and we hope for her a speedy recovery.

At one forty the hostess announced luncheon and members and guests gathered around the beautifully appointed tables, from whence springs the rarest and most lasting friendship, which makes for a richer service, in all that pertains to individual, community and national

A vote of thanks was extended to the hostess and the committee in charge of the luncheon, Mrs. Briggs, Cole and Overton, for the delightful luncheon. The two little ladies, Miss Kathleen Cole and Virginia Bacon assisted in serving in a most gracious manner.

As a tribute to our retiring President, Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, and as a tangible expression of our appreciation of her whole-hearted and generous service as President, the club presented her with a gift.

Following the luncheon, the ladies met on the veranda parlor for the club meeting, which concluded the year's work. The club disbands until September.

After the adoption and reports of officers and committees for the year, Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, retiring President, turned the presiding over to Mrs. Ballenger, the incoming President, who read the following list of officers and standing committees for the coming year:

Since there are more requests for membership in the Twentieth Century Club, than there are vacancies, it was decided that the Club foster a new club to be known as the Junior Twentieth Century club.

A committee was appointed to submit plans for the carrying out of such decisions. The club voted to send suitable magazines, once each month to the Juvenile Training school at Gatesville, and the Girls School at Gainesville, in accordance with a request coming from the State Federation of Womens Clubs.

It was decided to place other magazines in some central place in Lubbock. Mrs. Rylander and Mrs. Keen were appointed as a committee to arrange for a table to receive these magazines.

The lesson for the afternoon was conducted by Mrs. Geo. Briggs, the subject being glass and glass making.

Papers were read by Mrs. Overton and Mrs. Meador and three minute talk given by Mrs. Niblack.

Why You Should Insure Your Crop Against Hail!

Be prepared to meet your obligations in case your crop is destroyed or damaged by hail. If you cannot afford to lose a crop then you cannot afford to take the risk of losing it by hail.

Hail destroys the crops in whole communities and frequently in whole counties. The loss of crops unless repaid by insurance, lowers the purchasing power of a community, drains the home bank of its deposits, depreciates the value of the land, and has repeatedly changed prosperous communities from the credit class to the debtor class.

This year especially credits are strained almost to the limit and if the farmer's crop is not hailed out he will have no trouble in paying the premium for Hail Insurance, and in case the crop is hailed out the Insurance Company pays him, and thereby enables him to satisfy his obligations, which he had expected to pay from the proceeds of his crop.

The indications are that we are going to have a quite a lot of Hail this year and no doubt it will be good business on the part of the farmer to insure his crop.

We represent one of the best companies and cheapest rates, and if you are interested come into our office and see us.

Texas Pageant at Simmons To Be Elaborate Affair

Work on the pageant to be given at Simmons College on the evening of May 29, has been progressing rapidly during the past week, under the direction of Misses Olivia Hobgood and Agnes Riser. The entire student body is being drilled during each afternoon, parts having been assigned several weeks ago.

The outline of the pageant "Texas Under Six Flags" is historical altogether, and in a unique manner portrays the conditions actual happening that have occurred in the making of that history. It is divided into six different periods, each of which is graphically portrayed. These periods are:

- 1.—The efforts put forth in establishing of missions by the Spaniards and the coming of the whites, Texas, under the name of New Philipinas, became a province of Spain and was allowed also entire control of her government affairs as early as 1727.
- 2.—French. In 1714 a settlement was made at Nacogdoches by the followers of Saint-Denis.
- 3.—Mexican. In which the union of Texas and Coahuila is shown.
- 4.—Texas. A detailed account of the struggle for independence and the gaining of it from Mexico.
- 5.—United States. Texas admission to the Union in February, 1845, when the congress of the United States passed a bill annexing Texas, and July 4 of the same year a convention called by Dr. Anson Jones accepted annexation.
- 6.—Confederacy. Texas secedes on January 28, 1861, but in February 1874 when she had ratified the 14th and 15th amendment she was admitted back to the union.

"While the earth remaineth, seed-time and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter and day and night shall not cease."—Genesis 8:22

This blessed promise is being fulfilled today in our perfect seedtime and the promise of a harvest—makes the labor lighter, and the farmers are content and happy as they follow the rows of mellow soil and replace the seed in moist beds of this wonderful soil. Let us be thankful Mr. Steve Collier is able to be up again after an attack of appendicitis.

The Shallowater baseball team came over to play our boys last Wednesday evening and brought some charming lady fans with them, but on account of a misunderstanding, as to date, our boys failed to appear. Mrs. Ward Crim spent last Saturday in Lubbock, and visited her sister, Mrs. Shipman of Union, who is in a sanitarium, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Smith, who lives on the Right-Bundy place, has returned from Lubbock, where she had been under treatment. We are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Smith to our community.

The many friends of Finis W. Vaughn, are rejoicing and congratulating him on his success in the schoolwork and his graduation at Lubbock high on last Friday evening.

There was a real Gospel feast in the two sermons delivered here on last Sunday by Brother S. A. Ribble, and many heard him at Monroe, before noon was "The Heart of a Man," and he gave proof that it is the understanding of man. Then in the afternoon he gave a lesson on "The New Man," the new name given to the disciples of the new religion which Christ built—the new religion which astonished the Jews, leaving all the old laws before the Gospel was preached, as not pertaining to us who live in this Christian dispensation.

Messrs. W. S. and A. J. Clark and the following named beautiful and charming young ladies, namely, Misses Stella Brown, Lena Darby, Leta Witt, and Mrs. Hightower, all of Lubbock, attended church here last Sunday and were dinner guests at the George Robinson home.

High School Grad. Has Very Sensible Views of Farming

Jenkins Ater, local school boy who will be in the Lubbock schools two more years, convinced the writer of the practicability of present-day methods of teaching school Thursday, when the question of practical economy on the farms of Texas was being discussed.

Riding through the most fertile farm lands in the State of Texas, the conversationists passed a beautifully improved farm, the home was finished with all the refinement of one in a most popular residential section of a modern city, thoroughbred fowls and milch cows were seen about the place and fine horses and mules that were being used in the field nearby proved the proprietor a farmer of the first class and one who had enjoyed considerable success in his work, but the sight of several farming vehicles that were not in use at the time, standing in the open, subject to the wind, rain, sun and the kindred elements of destruction to machinery, attracted young Ater's attention and in few, but well chosen words he discussed the impracticability of such waste, and took the position that the farmer who realized that the thoroughbred hens laid more and were no more trouble to keep than the ordinary kind, the farmer who realized the value of good teams to his work, the farmer whose attitude toward his family was considerate, attentive and kind enough that he homed them in the most beautiful structure possible, and the farmer who had realized favorable returns from his labor, had forgotten that a few dollars spent in a nice building to protect the valuable farm machinery would cost but little and save much.

It is indeed gratifying to note that our school teachers have instructed the young men in practical economy, the lack of which costs the American people millions of dollars annually, and have proven to them the applicability of sound business judgment to farm work, or any other work in which one might be engaged.

Of course teaching economy should begin at home, and some are unwise enough to believe that all persons should realize that it would not require schooling to lead one into practicing such economy as that of which Mr. Ater talked, but nevertheless, the facts stand out in bold emphasis that such extravagance is ruining more farm machinery than is being worn out in actual service, and for the fact that that is one of the biggest problems of today we believe too much emphasis cannot be placed upon offering a practical solution to it, even by the school teachers of Lubbock and Lubbock county.

WEEKLY MARKET LETTER

Kansas City Stock Yards, May 22.—Owing to light receipts trade in cattle today was active at strong to 15 cents higher prices. Practically all the good steers were up 10 to 15 cents. Stockers and feeders were strong. Chicago had more cattle than all the other markets combined and prices there were lower. Hogs broke 15 to 25 cents owing to 62,000 arrivals in Chicago. Here receipts were moderate, sheep were 25 cents lower, and lambs steady. Spring lambs sold up to $14.25.

Today's Receipts

Receipts today were 7,500 cattle, 14,000 hogs, and 9,000 sheep, compared with 10,000 cattle, 14,000 hogs, and 8,000 sheep a week ago, and 14,500 sheep, 13,000 cattle, and 14,725 hogs a year ago.

Beef Cattle

The cattle market the middle of last week was at the low point for some time past. Before the close there was a moderate rally, and today prices were strong to 15 cents higher. The market now for good to choice fat grades in practically all weights is only slightly lower than ten days ago. Most of the good steers are selling at $7.85 to $8.25 and finished classes $8.35 to $8.65. Strictly prime grades would bring $8.75 or better. Plain to fair killing classes are selling at $7.40 to $7.65. Cows and heifers were quoted steady and mixed yearlings strong to slightly higher. Veal calves were strong and bulls no more than steady.

Stockers and Feeders

Demand for thin cattle was more active than late last week with the prices 15 to 25 cents higher. Good stockers were scarce. Few stock calves are offered.

Hogs

The fine Western markets received 115,000 hogs or the largest supply on any day in several weeks past. More than half the total run, $2,000, was in Chicago. A sharp decline there caused weakness elsewhere. Here prices were down 15 to 25 cents with the top price at $10.00, and bulk of $9.75 to $10.55. Pigs remained steady selling up to $10.75.

Sheep and Lambs

Spring lambs sold up to $14.25 and the general market for spring and clipped lambs was steady. Clipped lambs sold up to $11.85. Clipped sheep were weak to 25 cents lower, clipped wethers and mostly at $7.00 to $7.50, and clipped ewes $6.25 to $6.50.

Horses and Mules

With receipts light there was a better tone in the horse trade. Mules

Manufacturers Must Put "Truth" Labels On All Goods If It Gets By the Federal Laws, Says the Supreme Court

Hereafter manufacturers can be prevented from labeling an under-shirt "all wool" when it is really 90 per cent cotton, even tho its composition may be no secret throughout the underwear trade. Not only is such misleading labeling illegal but, according to the United States Supreme Court's decision, the Federal Trade Commission has a right to order any manufacturer to cease using any label or brand which might deceive the ultimate consumer. Under the Clayton Act, says Justice Brandeis "trade-marks which deceive the public are denied protection, altho members of the trade are not misled thereby." The decision is welcomed by the press, which realize that the court, in the words of the Indianapolis News, "decided from the view of the retail purchaser rather than from that of the trade," altho, as the New York Journal of Commerce remarks, "the elimination of deception in labeling or branding should aid honest business as well as the consumer." "Common sense," it may be noted, is the most popular editorial characterization of the decision.

It seems to one of the counsel for the Trade Commission that as a result of the Supreme Court's decision against the Winsted Hosiery Company, which appealed from an order of the Commission, "there will come a revolutionary change in advertising. It will be possible to give the public full protection from unscrupulous firms which mislabel, misbrand or misrepresent the article they are offering on the market." But the New York Commercial thinks that the word "revolutionary" is rather too strong for the case, "in as much as first-class periodicals have for a long time been enforcing this law in its strictest interpretation; in fact, none but second-rate publications will knowingly accept advertising that in any way deceives the buyer. In this respect the efforts for clean advertising have been supplemented by the first-class advertising agencies until straight advertising has become so wide-spread among the advertising fraternity that its general enforcement by the Federal Trade Commission could not be called revolutionary."

Taken by itself, as affecting only the practices of the Winsted Hosiery Company, the decision read by Mr. Justice Brandeis on April 24 would not appear to have very far-reaching consequences, several editors admit. But, they contend, the case is typical of a large number of misbranding cases now before the Trade Commission, which will probably be settled on the lines of the decision. Besides, as we read in the New York Times, it will, taken in connection with the recent decisions in the shoe machinery and price-fixing cases, "serve to remind certain classes of prominent persons that they can not break the law with impunity."

This means not merely the protection of the general public from exploitation by conscienceless producers of one kind or another, but also the protection of the humbler and poorer of producers from the capacity of those strong enough to dominate in certain industries, and who have, in the past, been wont to use their power to crush competition. Live and let live promises to be the new slogan in business.

The strengthening of the hands of the Federal Trade Commission is emphasized by other commentators. "This is almost the first real victory the Commission has won," says the Boston Herald, "and it may prove to be a great significance." To the New York World all important that the Commission and "the law of its creation" should be so fully sustained:

This is a pioneer body in the Federal Government. It was designed not to supersede but to aid in the enforcement of the anti-trust laws. It has been fighting for its life ever since its establishment, and having upheld the hand of every manufacturer or dealer or coal operator or others engaged in doubtful practices under the laws to maintain fair competition has been set against it, and quite too often have the lower Federal courts been disposed to give them refuge.

Now the Supreme Court has spoken in the matter and with but a single dissenting voice. This little game of hamstringing the Federal Trade Commission will have to stop. That body represents a line of Government trade regulation which is here to stay for a while.

D. 1922, the same being the 12th day of June, A. D. 1922, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 11th day of March, A. D. 1922, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1566, wherein Lena Duke is Plaintiff, and R. S. Duke, is Defendant, and said petition alleging: A cause of action for divorce.

Plaintiff alleges she is a bona fide resident of Lubbock County, Texas, and has been for more than six months next preceding the filing of this suit, and that she has resided in Texas for more than twelve months next preceding the filing of this suit. That she and defendant were married February 24th, 1919, and separated on March 20th, 1921, on account of the cruel treatment of the defendant. That soon after they were married the defendant began a course of harsh, cruel and unkind treatment toward her and continued such until about the time they were separated; that he assaulted plaintiff with his fist and threatened her life without just cause; and that the defendant wholly failed to support and maintain plaintiff—such treatment was of such nature and character as to render their further living together insupportable.

She prays for citation by publication against the defendant and that on hearing, she be decreed a divorce and for any other relief she may show herself entitled.

Presbyterians Of The North Seek To Merge The Churches Of North And South At Charleston Meeting

Charleston, W. Va., May 23.—Montreat, N. C., 16 miles from Asheville, today was chosen as the 1922 meeting place of the Southern Presbyterian general assembly. Montreat is the Summer assembly ground of the church.

The Southern Assembly today received a second communication from the Northern Presbyterian Assembly in session at Des Moines, regarding the closer relations action taken by the Southern body last Saturday, and reaffirming the willingness of the Northern organization to take any steps in the direction of actual union of Presbyterian and Reformed churches.

However, the communication expressed the opinion that the portion of the constitution of the Presbyterian churches adopted by the Southern assembly on closer relations obtains no closer union than is already made possible by the constitution of the general council of the reformed churches now in operation.

No Action Taken.

It was suggested that for the present, the two assemblies endeavor to promote that co-operation made possible through the council of churches, and its amended articles of agreement, which would continue until such time that the Southern organization is willing to proceed further and adopt a measure which will obtain actual organic union.

The assembly took no action on the communication, other than to refer to the standing committee of foreign correspondence.

Lengthy discussion followed the presentation of the report on the minutes of the general council of the Presbyterian and Reformed churches in America, the principal point in question being that the council had acted without authority in adopting an amended constitution.

Re-election is Sought.

A substitute to the report recommending withdrawal from this council and that recommending the sending to the presbyteries the action regarding the amended constitution before approval of the same is given by the assembly were lost and the report of the committee was adopted.

Included in the report of the standing committee on publication and Sabbath school work is the recommendation that the assembly elect R. E. Magill of Richmond, Va., secretary and treasurer.

Grain Sorghum Growers Will Have Organization to Sell the Crops Through System Sponsored by Farm Bureau

(By David Preston McCalib.)
If you were to mention to the average citizen of the United States that the grain sorghums were among the finest feed for fattening hogs, cattle, lambs and other livestock for the market, and that such feed is one of the greatest grain rations in the world for poultry and dairy cattle, the chances are that they would say: "What? Why you cannot make me believe poultry and hogs will eat hay!" They know so little about the grain sorghums that they would think you were referring to the sweet grass or hay sorghums, as they are properly called.

Practically all of the grain sorghums grown in the United States are grown in the southwest part of the country. The Panhandle-Plains of Texas, with Amarillo as the leading city, are in the very heart of the region growing kafir, milo, feterita, dorso, higara and other grain sorghums. As a matter of fact, probably much more than one-half of the commercially grown grain sorghums are grown in Texas. Western Oklahoma, southwestern Kansas, southeastern Colorado, eastern and other limited parts of New Mexico and certain regions in California and Arizona grow the grain sorghums.

In 1919, according to the United States census, there were 1,486,663 acres of kafir, milo, etc., grown in Texas. The production was 36,455,343 bushels. The value was $41,924,803.

Compare the value of the grain sorghums crops with that of the wheat crop. In the same year there were 2,414,903 acres in wheat with a value of $75,404,421. There were 36,427,255 bushels of wheat reported for that year.

The value of wheat for that year, per acre, was about $31, and that of the grain sorghums was $28.

Up until the formation of the Texas Wheat Growers' Association for the purposes of orderly and systematic marketing, wheat had been dumped on the market at the best available price. Of course, this disorderly system will now be changed by the growers' association, but even so, they will have no way of increasing the value of their wheat grown by feeding it at home, like they have always had with their grain sorghums.

Many cases are on record in the Panhandle-Plains counties of Texas where kafir, milo and other grain sorghums have been fed to hogs, lambs, beefs, poultry and other livestock and poultry on the farm, and at from two to three times the profit received by those selling the feeds soon after harvesting time.

In 1919 Floyd county grew over 2,500,000 bushels of the grain sorghums. It is not strange that Hale county, the county on the west adjoining Floyd county, and the one having the best present railroad connections, is one of the greatest poultry producing counties in Texas. Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of poultry and eggs are sold from these two counties every year. One poultry association in California consumes about 50,000 tons of grain sorghums every year and there are five such associations there, all demanding grain sorghums, and getting much of their supply from the Panhandle-Plains regions. The poultry and dairy associations in California would buy the entire output of southwestern grain sorghums, if they could get them. Only the prohibitive railroad rates now keep them from consuming all they can buy from Texas.

But there is no reason for selling the grain sorghums out of the state of Texas. There is a demand from south, central, east and north Texas for all the grain sorghums that can be secured. It is well authenticated that George Frank of Umberger, Randall county, was offered $22 per ton for his kafir by an old east Texas consumer when the best local price was $12 per ton. The freight would have cost him $5 per ton.

There are hundreds of growers in Texas who can duplicate George Frank's offer, if they are organized to do it. Sufficient to say that immediately after receiving such an offer, Mr. Frank became one of the most enthusiastic booster for a farmers' co-operative grain sorghums marketing association. Mr. Frank's offer had come through the Texas Farm Bureau Federation headquarters at Dallas.

The Texas Grain Sorghums association will soon be organized by the Farm Bureau, working through the office of the Panhandle-Plains supervisor. It is expected that the association will be completed within 60 days after being launched, and will be ready for operation long before the new crop is ready for delivery. It is even said by the most enthusiastic organizers that it will be in a position to handle the parts of the old crop remaining in the possession of the members, and at a fine increase over the prices they are now offered. Their assertions are not without foundation, either. Amarillo will be the center of the grain sorghum business of the United States, and her banks and business men are going to back it in every possible manner. Grain sorghums are king of sure crops.

CLAUENE NEWS ITEMS OF THE PAST WEEK

Busy! Well, that doesn't half express it for the farmers now-a-days. The pass-word of the men is "Did you get a good stand?" while that of the ladies is "How many little chickens and turkeys have you?" And the answer is a good report in each case.

Kenneth Chism was real sick a few days the past week. He was suffering with a cold and tonsillitis.

John Swafford made a business trip to Lubbock Thursday. He was accompanied home by John Heart of Lubbock, who will spend the summer working for Mr. Chism.

Fred Reeves made a business trip to Meadow the past week.

Miss Beryl Cheney, of Roswell, is spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. Claude Havens.

Mrs. Ona Murray and Miss Wilkie Teague were at Mr. Gunn's Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Nickell and son Earl, are planting cotton for Mr. Pepper this week.

Messrs. Cosby and Posey, real estate men of Lubbock, were in the Clauene vicinity Friday. They took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. White.

These men are predicting a great future for this place. We know it, of course, but it is always encouraging to hear others, whose judgment we can rely on, say so.

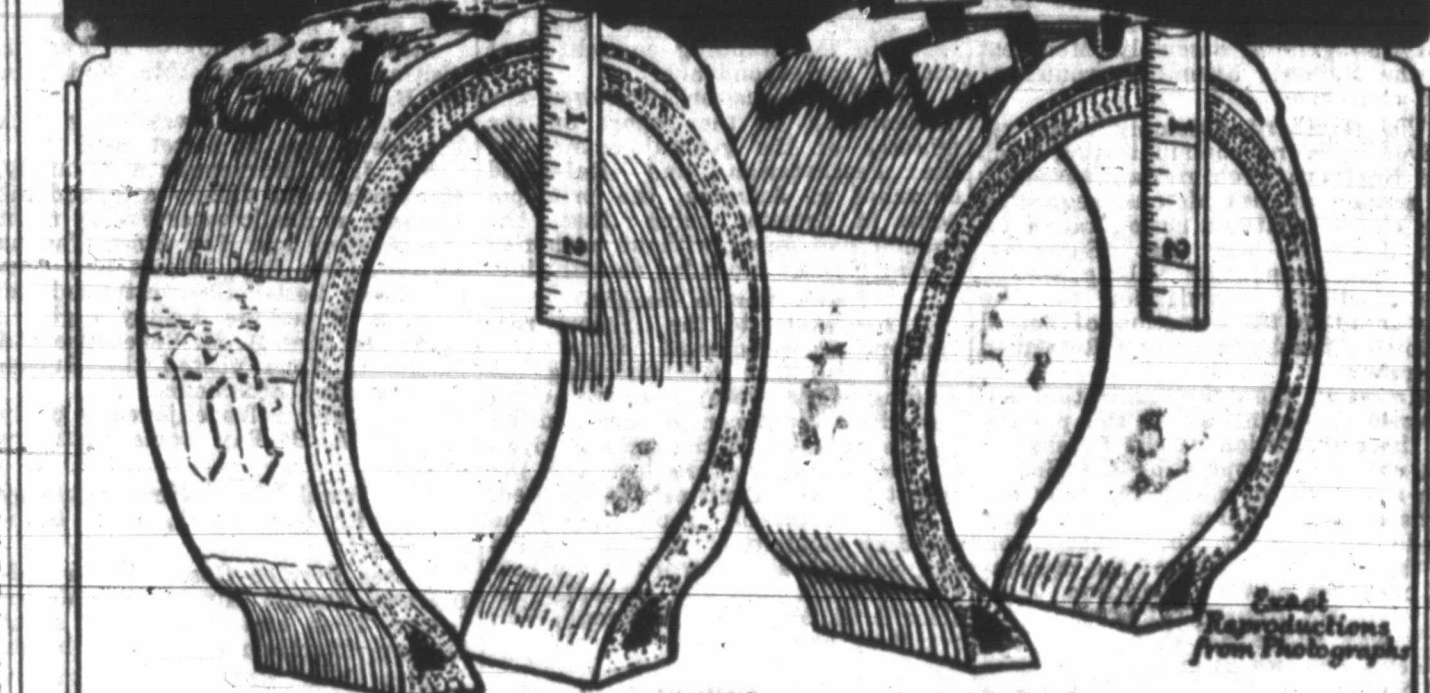

Mr. Cannon of Leveland, candidate for county treasurer, was electioneering in our community Friday. Miss Winnie Simmons, who has been teaching the Boyd school this past term, left Saturday for her home in East Texas.

Mesdames White, Murray, Palmer and Teague, Wilkie Teague and Teddy Joe Palmer, visited in the Claude Havens home Friday.

Mrs. Havens has just returned from an overland trip to Roswell, New Mexico. While on their journey, when they were within a few miles of Roswell, they happened to the misfortune of having their car run off of a bridge twelve feet high.

As the car fell, it threw the little boy, Dean Cheney who was asleep in the back seat, upon the bridge, but it turned completely upside down pinning Mr. and Mrs. Havens under the car. They managed to get out from under the car before they were

MOST MILES per DOLLAR Firestone CORD TIRES

The section at the right was cut from a new Cord of the same size. Careful measurements show that only 1/3 of the tread of the tire on the Yellow Cab has been worn away after this long, grueling test. The carcass is intact after more than 11,000,000 revolutions.

Firestone Cords have averaged over 10,000 miles on Chicago Yellow Cabs (1,200 cabs all Firestone equipped). In thousands of instances, they have given from 15,000 to 30,000 miles.

Look at the tread—scientifically angled against skid, massive and heavy in the center where the wear comes, tapered at the edges to make steering easy and to protect the carcass against destructive blinging action of high tread edges. The carcass is air bag expanded to insure uniform tension and paralleling of every individual cord. It is double "gum dipped" to make sure that each cord is thoroughly insulated with rubber.

This is the reason why Firestone Cords unflinchingly deliver extraordinary mileage. It explains the unanimous demand of thoughtful tire buyers for these values. The local Firestone dealer will continue to provide the personal service that makes Firestone tire comfort and economy complete.

Topeka Man Says He Suffered For Sixteen Years—Gives Tanlac Praise for Complete Restoration to Fine Health.

"Tanlac completely restored my health after I had suffered sixteen years from stomach trouble," said J. C. Welsh, 213 Harrison St., Topeka, Kas., carpenter for the Santa Fe Shops.

"My appetite was extremely poor, and although I ate little it lay in my stomach and distressed me terribly. I also had rheumatism in my arms and legs, also headaches, nervousness and was unable to sleep well.

"Friends at the shops who had been benefitted by Tanlac advised me to try it and after my second bottle my improvement began. The rheumatism is now gone. My appetite is fine, I sleep well nights and have gained several pounds. I think Tanlac is simply a grand medicine." Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

PRISON COMMISSION FUNDS AGAIN REACH LOW EBB

Austin, Texas, May 22.—Of the $750,000 loan obtained by the State Prison Commission from the Brown-Crummer Company of Wichita, Kan., a total of $269,850 has been used. It transpires that the net amount of the loan is about $100,000, as the interest is to be paid out of the $750,000. Of the $700,000 net loan only $170,156 remains, and there will be no crops harvested before September.

In view of the bonding of 24,000 acres of State prison farm lands, necessitating the expense of replanting and delaying the harvest the Prison Commission may soon find itself in need of another loan and ultimately embarrassed to pay the one negotiated some time ago. It will have to be maintained until the crops are harvested next fall and the minimum cost per month has been estimated at about $50,000. The $170,000 balance will soon be exhausted, with no income in sight.

Under the terms of the present loan, it may be repaid in whole or in part at any time between Oct. 1, 1922, and March 1, 1923. No provision is made for the State defaulting in payment. The Legislature will convene in regular session early next January and may be called upon to make an appropriation to repay part or all of the loan.

Mrs. Neal A. Douglass, Jr., spent the first of the week with relatives at Littlefield.

Southern Bankers Endorse Tariff— Thousands of Institutions—Texas Urge Protection of Southern Products

Bankers of the South, and particularly of Texas, are overwhelmingly in favor of a protective tariff on southern products, and particularly on the raw materials raised on farm and ranch. Just how strongly the bankers have lined up behind the program of the Southern Tariff association is demonstrated by the signatures to the resolutions outlining the policy of that organization. Nearly two-thirds, well over 1,000, of the bankers in the state of Texas have signed these resolutions, placing themselves squarely behind the movement for protection of southern products.

Let there should be any charge that the big banks are influenced by eastern financial interests allied with industrial concerns it should be noted that the signatures of banks and bankers affixed to the Southern Tariff association resolutions are overwhelmingly those of the country banks, which are close to the producer, the farmer and stockman, and which have plenty of cause to know and understand his needs. The large banks are also signers, so that banking sentiment seems to be strongly defined as in favor of protection along the lines advocated by Hon. John H. Kirby and his associates in the tariff movement in the South.

Ed Woodall of Hillsboro, one of the active tariff advocates of this section of the country, addressed the Texas Bankers' Association Friday on the subject of protection, and his words reached many responsive ears. Fort Worth has already proven fertile ground for the tariff gospel, and the great areas of production about this city are coming to learn the logic and the inevitable nature of the arguments advanced for protection on Texas raw materials.

The doctrine of free raw materials has kept the producer on farm and ranch in economic slavery to the manufacturer of the North and East for years, and it is time that the people of the South and West assert their right to an equal and equitable division of protection. The South makes the plain demand that its representatives in congress see that if we have free trade we have it on raw materials and manufactured products alike, or that we have protection on both. The first alternative is not really a practical one, because we must have a measure of protection to maintain American standards of living and prevent the dumping of cheap products of cheap labor on our shores. The question, then, resolves itself into a matter of equitable protection for raw materials and manufactured products.

The big thing, as Mr. Kirby has pointed out from time to time, is the removal of the tariff question from partisan politics. It is a strictly economic question and should no longer be the football of designing and insincere politicians. The South is being woefully misrepresented in congress on this subject, and merely because it is used for the gaining of political vantage ground. We shall never have the prosperity that is due us until our representatives represent our real interests and we get a fair and even break with the northern and eastern manufacturers.—Fort Worth Record.

Big Rise in the Price of Gas Will Be Investigated

Austin, Texas, May 19.—Attorney General Walter A. Keeling has taken official cognizance of the recent prices of gasoline in Texas and with Thursday's advance to 25c a gallon instructed A. W. Taber to make an investigation of the fluctuations. Mr. Taber is special agent for the department.

"Recently the price of gasoline went very low and now it has soared very high," commented Judge Keeling, "and we are going to try and ascertain if those fluctuations were due to the law of supply and demand or effected artificially."

"These price variances were notable in Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston and this department is going to conduct a fair and impartial investigation."

Discussing the law of the matter the Attorney General said: "Gasoline increases are violations of the Texas anti-trust laws only when it can be shown by competent evidence that the increase was brought about by a combination, agreement and understanding between two or more persons, firms or corporations."

"Any person, firm or corporation has the right to sell any commodity at any price desired, except where it is sold below the cost of production and for the purpose of destroying competition. No person, firm or corporation, however, can directly or indirectly, by words or acts, make form or carry out any agreement affecting the price of any commodity."

It is the combination, agreement or understanding, which constitutes the gravamen of the offense."

Lay Aside Prejudice

Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments should be used in the first signs of sickness, not as a last resort. So many people make the mistake of allowing their illness to run until the body is in a hopeless condition when they should have consulted their Chiropractor in the start. We can handle the most of these chronic troubles, if given sufficient time, but why not let us have your case before it runs so long?

Acute conditions yield very quickly to Chiropractic adjustments. Fevers, colds, rheumatism, headaches, pains and the like should at once be submitted to a Chiropractor for spinal analysis. We very often can check the development of the disease so that nothing serious comes from the initial trouble at all.

More and more people are becoming educated to the value of spinal adjustments. Sick folks are learning that to get well in the shortest possible time, with the least possible suffering the CAUSE of their sickness must be corrected. They are learning that Chiropractic does meet these demands—ABSOLUTELY.

HEALTH is within YOUR reach, if you will only lay aside all prejudice and investigate sincerely and thoroughly what Chiropractic can do to get you well. Having once investigated you will be convinced that we can do all that we claim to be able to do with spinal adjustments.

Spinal analysis free at my offices in the Burrus Building.

HUBBERS SWAT THE SWATTERS HARD MONDAY

Monday afternoon in the first game away from home in this series the Hubbers shut out the Sweetwater Swatters at Sweetwater by a 5 to 0 count, opening up a winning streak for the "away from home series." Since that time they have taken two straight from Abilene with Abilene playing at home, and Thursday they take Abilene on for the third and last of this series, going from there to Stamford, where they open up Friday for a four game series. And no doubt they are going to "pour it on 'em" for at least three of the four. They are now playing only two games behind the big lead gained by Amarillo while they were playing at home.

len bases, King 2, Burch, A. Gober; bases on balls off Keisler 6, Swenson 2, struck out by Swenson 3, Cantrell 3. Time two hours fifteen minutes. Umpire Price.

HUBBERS ANNEX CANTRELL TO PITCHING STAFF

Joe Cantrell, who was recently farmed out by the Shreveport club of the Texas League, has been annexed to the pitching staff of the Hubbers, meeting them in Abilene Tuesday morning. Cantrell has worked with the Shreveport Club several times this season, and in the pinches has shown up mighty good. Only recently he beat out Fort Worth in a fast game, but on account of Shreveport being overloaded they were forced to release him.

Cantrell played with the Ballinger Bearcats last year, and is well acquainted with the Hubbers lineup. He is a strong baseball man and a heavy pitcher, and no doubt is going to be instrumental in helping to wave that pennant over Lubbock at the end of the season.

HUBBERS SWOOP DOWN ON EAGLES FOR 1ST OF SERIES

The Hubbers took the first of the series from the Abilene Eagles at Abilene Tuesday by 9 to 8. A lead of four runs was gained by the Hubbers in the first three innings, with three more added in the seventh, but by a ninth inning rally on the part of the home club, six runs were made, lacking one of tying the count. Etheridge smashed a homer with two on. The batting of Speegle, King and Battle featured, King getting four out of five. The score:

LOCAL METHODISTS TO CLASH WITH ABERNATHY FRIDAY

Friday afternoon on the Fair Park the local Methodist Sunday school crosses sticks with the hard slugging team from Abernathy. Some time ago the local boys went up to Abernathy and were beat out by them, and it is expected that this is going to be a good, interesting contest, but the locals are confident that nothing can transpire to keep them from taking this game from our neighboring city. A good game is assured at a most reasonable price. Come out and help root. Friday the 26th. Game called at 5 o'clock.

LOCAL AMERICAN LEGION TO TIE UP MEMORIAL DAY

On Tuesday, May 30th at the local Fair Park, a representative team from Allen Bros. Post No. 148, the American Legion will probably tie up with some other fast amateur baseball team on the South Plains. An account of who this will be cannot be given out at this time, but plans are under way for a game with Lamesa. They have a fast amateur club there, and a snappy game is assured. This will be a national holiday, and it is expected by the local officials of the Legion that the town will close up solid, under agreement made by them some time ago when they signed a contract for five holidays during the year, one of them being memorial day, May 30th. Detailed announcement will be made of this game in the meantime. This is going to be one of the snappiest amateur games of the season. Let's have a great bunch of rooters for the local boys, and show them what we think of them, both as a Legion and as baseball players.

EAGLES UNABLE TO FLY ABOVE HUBBERS

Lubbock made it two straight from Abilene Wednesday on the Abilene diamond, by taking the second game of the series from them by the score of 6 to 5. Swenson worked on the mound for the Hubbers, and pitched good baseball for four innings, but in the fifth by a series of hits, the Eagles posted up three runs. Swenson was replaced by Cantrell, the new twirler, who broke up the rally, and held them scoreless for the balance of the fracas. With a man on third in the ninth inning and one out, it seemed as though the Eagles were going to be able to tie the score and force extra innings, but Cantrell took Etheridge's pop fly and doubled Whitehead at third unassisted, ending and winning the game. King's superb batting featured the game, he getting four finibles out of four times up.

ROTARIANS OVERRIDE KIWANIS IN EXHIBITION WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Wednesday afternoon on the local park in one of the "fetest" exhibitions of good baseball yet witnessed here this season, in a five-inning rough and tumble contest, hot from beginning to end, the local Rotarians "poured 'em" the Kwanians by a 12 to 8 victory.

Each contestant seemed to have a full corps of pitchers, almost every man from each side acting in that capacity, none of them seeming to be able to check the heavy slugging engaged in by both clubs. Home runs and long two and three baggers dotted the fracas throughout, from both divisions, pitchers being jerked constantly from this cause. Sensabaugh, for the Rotarians seemed to be the "Ace," remaining on the mound longer than any other.

This was a game of pep from beginning to end, a hotly contested fight, both teams seemingly anxious to show the other up. Superb fielding, especially in the outfield was enjoyed by the grandstand, not a ball to the outfield being caught during the entire fight. Louie Moore and Neal Douglass, for the Kwanians, especially showing themselves fleet of foot in chasing after they had missed a catch or gotten hit in an attempt to field one.

One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed the game, the entire proceeds going to the benefit funds of the local Red Cross, they netting something over $200.00.

Time after time "Sheriff" Walter Posey was called into action on account of disturbance on the field, and man after man was put out of the park for contesting decisions of the umpire, or other causes. Umpire Red Kuykendall was in charge, and in the pinches and close plays very readily rendered as he weighed, depending on which side was ahead at the time.

Facts of the business, this was the funniest exhibition of the season, and everybody present entered into the spirit of the game, and cordially and a hearty good time was enjoyed by all. The lineups included such fast baseball men as follows: Rotarians—Dude Germany, Oscar Sensabaugh, Bennie Hilburn, Skeeter Hunt, Geo. Reed, Asa May, Charlie Adams and others; just as famous.

Kwanians—Roger Pierce, Boyce Cardwell, Herb Stubbs, Doc Krueger, Lefty Simmons, C. C. Pearson, Louie Moore, Neal Douglass, Gerald Smith, Harry Miller and other fast stars of the national sport.

$100 PER ACRE FOR LUBBOCK COUNTY LAND IN THE ROUGH

The fact that a diamond in the rough is a great deal cheaper than the polished one is not an indication that all things are on the same basis. Lubbock county land in the rough is about the most valuable unimproved land on the market today, and hard times do not keep Mr. Buyer from realizing the fact, another statement that was substantiated in what happened here Wednesday, when J. E. Alexander turned loose a sizable tract at the neat sum of one hundred round iron men, with such nice cash consideration that it would be well to state that the money was in the deal before the papers were signed.

Yes, they are realizing the value of Plains agricultural lands, and when it is realized that ninety-eight percent of the land of this great domain is agricultural lands one can take a glimpse of what the Plains are really worth.

The coming of the dawn of day for the agriculturalist on the Plains is the coming of finance and commerce to the people of the Plains. Our large ranch lands will be small-gardens by any means, but small enough that there will be a home-owner on every three hundred acres of it, and a large per cent of it will be under cultivation, instead of as it now is, only about five per cent being cultivated. With the modern way of feeding and the immense crops we can raise here it is indeed fortunate that the plainsmen are learning that farming and stockraising is altogether prudent and profitable, that many crops are better and safer than a few, that the deflated price of one product will be made up by the rise in the article that is in greater demand—all these terminate in making the Plains bigger, better, and richer.

YOU WILL DO IT?

Everybody's reading Sid Caraway's and Martin & Wolcott's ad in this issue. Are you? 26-11

It Takes Money to Build An Armory Make It Snappy

"Lubbock, as the Hub of the Plains" is taking on a great many building propositions at this time, of which we are all proud and of which there is much comment on, giving us considerable publicity as builders of the first class, but building and town improvement does not depend entirely upon the individual builder—we as a unit must go forward with the municipal buildings, and what can take a more conspicuous part in the appearance of our town than the Armory which is to be built for the Battery of Field Artillery of Lubbock?

There is nothing more important before the people of Lubbock at this time than the completion of the necessary fund to build the Armory. There is no investment one can make for the town that will return greater interest in appearance, prestige and substantiality of Lubbock.

The fund is still unsubscribed by a long shot, why not accept this opportunity to do something for your town by subscribing to this fund at once. Don't wait until it is necessary for someone to hunt you up, just send a check to the Avalanche Armory Fund at once:

CLARENDON PASTOR PERFORMS WEDDING HERE

Rev. Griswold, formerly pastor of the Lubbock Methodist Church is here for a few days visit, having been brought here to perform the wedding ceremony for Mr. Russell Myrick and Miss Bernice Wolfarth, which was performed at the Wolfarth home Wednesday at 5:30 p. m. Rev. Griswold has many friends in Lubbock who were delighted to have him here again, and needless to say the homes of the city were opened for his entertainment. Rev. Griswold is now pastor of the Methodist Church at Clarendon.

LUBBOCK MAN JOINS FORT WORTH AUDITING COMPANY

Lair, who has been with the Lubbock Produce Company for the past several months, and a prominent citizen of Lubbock whose activities were directed to the development of Lubbock, left last week for Fort Worth, where he will join an auditing department of one of the big auditing companies of the state.

With much regret the people of Lubbock bid farewell to the accountant, and assure him that in the days of the future a hearty welcome awaits his return to the city.

ROTARY-KIWANIS WILL LOCK HORNS AGAIN, TUESDAY

It was a big game the Rotary-Kiwanis teams played on the local diamond Wednesday of last week, and owing to the fact that the Kiwanis bunch is after the scalp of their adversaries, and the revenge in their hearts, it is naturally to be expected that the game, which they will play Tuesday will be a hotter contest than ever.

The Rotary nine are good players, and have wonderful pep, and the Kiwanians will no doubt have to hustle to keep up with their onslaught of hard hitting and exact fielding, but nevertheless it is believed that among the Kiwanians can be found someone who can, without harming themselves, check the hard-fung, unhittable products of Herbert Stubb's left handed twirling, and if so, the Rotary are doomed to a not-hit no-run score.

Sensabaugh was found very easy by the Kiwanians, and it is hoped that the batting practice they had in the last game will develop some ability among them to hurl the old pill into the field, as it was evident they would have gone beyond the confines of the park had those that took to the air back over the grandstand gone in the right direction.

Kiwanians with revenge and the Rotarians underestimating their ability to participate in the great American game with any accuracy, whatever, will undoubtedly prove very active ingredients in placing the score at a lopsided position.

LOCAL FURNITURE MAN LEASES BRICK BUILDING

E. C. Simmons, of the Simmons Furniture and Undertaking Company is mixing gray matter, energy and confidence in the future possibilities of Lubbock and reaching out in his business to make Lubbock the center of the largest furniture distributing house on the Plains.

His latest move was to lease the new brick building which will be erected by Mr. Blair, Dallas grain man, which will be built on Broadway, where the Broadway garage is now located.

The building will be fifty by one hundred and twenty-five feet, with balcony store room half the size of the bottom floor space to enable proper display of the large stocks. Mr. Simmons has been in the furniture business in Lubbock for a long time and has gained the confidence and made his customers know that through dealing with him they are given a square deal and just as good merchandise as the market affords.

We are indeed glad to note the improvement in the building this change in location and housing space will give, and are assured Mr. Simmons will conduct the business to the credit of himself, Lubbock and the Lubbock trade territory.

IT IS NOT TOO LATE TO PLANT THE JONES Acala Cotton

Probably 90 percent of the cotton from which our seed were grown was planted after the first of June last year. Much of it after the 20th of June, yet we had no bolls. Some of our growers were picking 200 pounds per day, 105 days from planting date.

"I was through gathering four months from the day I finished planting. That is quick enough for me."—J. K. Green, Paducah, Texas.

"I finished planting the JONES Acala Cotton, June 18th, On November 20th I had gathered my entire crop of 23 bales off 83 acres."—W. T. Fonville, Paducah, Texas.

"It is the earliest, quickest growth cotton I ever grew in thirty-five years of farming."—L. E. White, Paducah, Texas.

This is what the men who grew our seed have to say about this cotton. Your cotton will not grow off properly until the ground is warm and if planted too early and the tap root perishes it will not resist the droughts effectively. Our cotton has a long, well developed tap root.

We are offering you pure bred, culled and re-cleaned ACALA SEED at our regular price of $2.00 delivered by express or from your local dealer.

Swank Proposed Bill Affecting Sale of Indian Lands

Washington, May 18.—Restrictions would be removed from the sale of about 1,000,000 acres of surplus Indian land in the Five Tribes under terms of a bill introduced today by Representative Swank of the Oklahoma City District and will affect approximately 1,000 Indian allotments. Under existing law, all Indians of the Five Tribes of three-quarters or more Indian blood are restricted as to the sale of their lands, and no sale may be made, unless the congressional embargo is removed by order of the Secretary of the Interior. Indians of tribal blood of one-half to three-fourths are empowered to dispose of their surplus, but not their homestead lands, while Indians of less than one-half Indian blood may dispose of any or all of their land property at will.

Sell Surplus Lands. The Swank bill would permit the Indians of three-quarters or more of Indian blood to sell their surplus lands only, and then under the supervision of the Secretary of the Interior, but the bill does not give any additional authority for disposal of the homestead lands. Under terms of the bill, if the Indian desired to sell his surplus holdings, he would make application to the Secretary, who causes the land to be advertised and sold to the highest bidder at public auction. Soldiers of the Spanish and World wars are given preference to take the property at the highest bid made. Protection is afforded the Indian owner in the Secretary's authority to reject the bid if not satisfactory.

Payment From Sale. The payment and disbursement of the Indians' money derived from such sales would be under the direction of the Secretary as a means of conserving the Indians' funds, and all sales are to be made on ten years' time, with privilege of the purchaser to discharge the payments within five years. Cash sales of the property are not contemplated by the bill. After the first payment is made on the land, under the Swank bill, the land which now is not taxable would go on the State, county and other tax rolls, the taxes to be paid by the purchaser. In case of a default in payments the land would revert to the Indian owner, and automatically be relieved of State and other taxes.

REGARDING AUDITORIUM By L. T. Martin For the benefit of those who are skeptical as to the safety of the auditorium, wish to say that the Building Committee made a thorough inspection of the construction and that they have perfect confidence in the contractor, Mr. John Gelin, as an architect. This building is trussed in every way, and is absolutely safe. The propaganda put out in regard to this building should be stopped. All good citizens should put their faith in the business men whom they put in charge of letting the contract. It would have been nice to build a fire proof structure costing from $50,000.00 to $75,000.00 but with the many issues the people are called upon to finance, it was thought best at this time to build something that would answer the needs of the citizens of Lubbock temporarily. Then we trust that we can build a city hall and auditorium which will answer the needs for all time to come. While this building may not be so much for looks, rest assured, it is like the dutchman's wife, it is bulky for stout.

JIM SCOTT FOR PUBLIC WEIGHER PRECINCT NO. 1 In this issue of the Avalanche will be found the name of Jim Scott, who offers as a candidate for the office of Public Weigher of Precinct No. 1. Mr. Scott is a most deserving man, and entirely competent for the duties of the office, and we are sure will appreciate very much your vote and influence. Mr. Scott is an old timer in West Texas, and has been on the Plains a long time. He has been a citizen of Lubbock for several years, during which time he has been engaged in well drilling. Several years ago he was unfortunate in getting one arm ground off in a well machine, but he has continued at his well drilling, and is a hard worker. He asks that the voters of this Precinct give his claims consideration at the July primaries.
