NEW PASSENGER STATION FOR LUBBOCK IN VERY NEAR FUTURE

WORK IS ALREADY UNDER WAY LAYING ADDITIONAL WAGON TRACK THROUGH SWITCH YARDS

LOGICAL RAILROAD CENTER OF THE PLAINS

The Possibilities for the Future Development of Lubbock and the South Plains Section Are Limited Only by the Capacity of the Citizenship in This Great Country.

Lubbock is to have a new passenger station!

It is a mighty strange week that does not bring forth some new construction announcement that will run into a hundred thousand or so dollars—and the funny part of it all is that the actual construction work exceeds the announcements, before the job is done. For more than a year the Chamber of Commerce has been discussing with the Santa Fe the absolute need for additional passenger facilities for this city.

The Santa Fe officials on this Division have repeatedly recommended the expenditure necessary to erect a station to meet the needs of the city, but due to the well known financial stringency all industries have been facing for the past eighteen months nothing has ever been done before.

But announcement was made this past week that bids have been asked for a new passenger station—or rather an extension of the present one to practically double its present capacity through the addition of a separate waiting room for men and women for white people and separate waiting rooms for colored men and women. Also additional platform space, pavement between the other tracks in front of the station and considerable general improvement to bring it to the capacity and standing the increasing volume of traffic demands.

Bids have been asked for on this station and it is expected that the contract will be let within the next ten to fifteen days. Work will be rushed in order to complete the enlargement in time for the heavy volume of traffic to be handled through the cotton season.

An industrial or wagon track practically a mile long, is under construction now through the Santa Fe yards to help care for the growing volume of freight handled through the yard. With the 28 wholesale houses in Lubbock and others announced for the near future the present track facilities are entirely inadequate to handle the volume of freight moving in and out of Lubbock.

If the Chamber of Commerce is able to satisfactorily settle the matter of traffic they have under discussion with the railroad officials, there is no reason why Lubbock should not have more than 50 wholesale houses within less than two years.

The new industrial track will have a modern inclined unloading platform for both end side doors for the handling of automobiles, heavy hardware and such equipment that requires such platforms for unloading.

Around 400 workmen will arrive in Lubbock sometime during July to replace the present steel on the main line South of Lubbock to Sweetwater with the heaviest steel customarily used in railroading. The Santa Fe and equipment in serviceable condition at all times, but constantly improves its equipment to meet the growing demands of the sections they serve.

Every town in West Texas can show you maps, blue prints and give you weighty argument proving beyond the possibility of a doubt that the coming Ft. Worth (or is it to be Dallas?) Plains Railroad is going to never give much time to wild claims upon the WHY's of such a road—but has ever let it be known that when the proper time comes for definite ACTION toward the construction of such a road that they would be there with the stuff that it takes to build railroads.

Students of business, railroading and related matters throughout the nation predict two additional railroad connections for Lubbock, at least, just as soon as conditions will permit of the construction of additional railroads. One of these is, of course, a Ft. Worth or Dallas connection. The other is just as important—not more so—in the development of Lubbock and if conditions break just right may even be expected before the Ft. Worth and Dallas connection—and that is a feeder, due west into Cochran county or even into the New Mexico Plains country.

Hockley and Cochran counties and Eastern New Mexico offer the greatest opportunity for development with the run of business conditions to be found in the United States and a fifty mile railroad West of Lubbock is practically a sure thing in the very near future.

Certain calamity howlers paint direful pictures of poverty, starvation, stagnation and whatnot also as a result of the rapid growth of the city of Lubbock. They point out to you in doleful tones, that the city has already outgrown its trade territory—that twenty-eight grocery stores are too many for any town of this size and that it is merely a matter of a few months until not only will construction stop but the town will actually start backwards.

Maybe it will! There is no doubt but that it would if the majority of the people doing business here thought like that. But there is another side to the pitiful story. A new business man opening here with a pretty heavy investment looks at it differently. "Yes, there are three or four other stores handling the same lines I handle. But instead of killing our business they are going to help us. We will know that we have got to work harder, cover more territory, treat our customers better and really get right down and do business right. Fundamental conditions are right in the South Plains territory and we are not afraid to locate in Lubbock and develop with the section."

With the present development of the public service utilities in the city, plus the bond election for water and sewer extensions—and there can be no argument here if sane thinking business men will study conditions and realize what must be done to build a city—Lubbock will be in position to really develop along constructive lines for the next five or six years. The plant being put into operation this week by the Texas Utilities Company is not only a credit to Lubbock but would be a credit to any town in the State two or even three times the size of Lubbock. They are not building for today. Neither do they think the city is growing too fast for the surrounding country. Their building is of a size to carry more than double their present equipment for they will serve not only Lubbock, but the surrounding territory, and small towns through high lines, covering the entire South Plains territory.

Plans are already bearing completion for such a high line to Ralls, serving the intermediate towns. The present high line to Abernathy, Hale Center and Plainview will be served largely from this plant in the future. Other extensions will be made as conditions warrant the investments.

The Lubbock Cotton Oil Company, materials for which is already arriving, will be built not only for this year and next year, but for the coming twenty years. A four press mill for this fall with buildings, acreage and plans call for an eight press mill just as soon as enough cotton is produced in this section to warrant a mill of that size. More than half a million dollars will pass through this mill each season in seed and seed products.

Fortunately for the town and section this company is an established one with only capital ability and experience to keep the mill in operation but can be depended upon as a permanent addition to our city instead of any one of the hundred or more fly-by-night stock propositions that were only too anxious to get located in this section—unload a lot of second-hand machinery on a company composed largely of local stock holders—and leave the burden of operation upon inexperienced men.

Lubbock and all of West Texas will be flooded as never before in the history of any section, with an endless procession of Get-Rich-Quick propositions during the coming year. Already they have started to coming this way. Promoters of every conceivable proposition known to human development will be attempted. Some of them worthy. Some of them real—but a lot of them decidedly questionable. It is a matter of sane, sober judgment to pick out the real ones and discard the fakes.

The future of Lubbock, the South Plains Section and West Texas is limited only by the capacity of its leaders to lead and the mass of its citizenship to co-operate with the leaders. With the stride that we have already set there is no limit to where we may go, if we just hold together, use common sense and hold steady. Let's Go!

PHILLIPS BUILDING IS BEING REMODELED THRUOUT

J. A. Phillips, owner of the brick building housing the Thorp Shoe Shop, is making some splendid improvements on that structure, a five year case having been made to Mr. Thorp, the improvements being made according to his plans, which are designed to have the building made just as convenient for that business as it is at all possible.

Mr. Phillips is a live wire, who understands building values thoroughly, and is always working to the better interest of the town and those who occupy his building.

MITCHELL COUNTY ASKS FOR ANOTHER FARM AGENT

Colorado, June 26.—The county commissioners have been asked by the Mitchell County Produce Association to employ a home demonstration agent for the county. The request has the endorsement of the Civic League and the women of the county. The county now employs a farm demonstration agent.

Officer Who Shot Deputy Was Exonerated

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.—Recommendation that W. H. Flynn, city plainclothes policeman, who shot and killed Spear H. Crossley in a gun battle between county and city officers Thursday night, not be prosecuted was made by the coroner's jury which sat thru the inquest in the court of T. F. Donnell, justice of the peace, Saturday.

The jury reported at 1:30 o'clock. Dr. A. R. Springs was foreman of the six men who listened to the testimony introduced at the hearing.

The jury found that Crossley came to his death from a bullet from Flynn's gun but that the killing was neither premeditated nor fired with malice.

The policeman was absolutely vindicated by the verdict of the coroner's jury. They recommended that "much greater caution be exercised in the future to prevent such unfortunate accidents."

That county officers fired the first shot in the gun battle which resulted in the death of Crossley, was the testimony of Flynn, plainclothes policeman, who alleged to have fired the shot that killed the deputy sheriff.

"Crossley fired first. Then I think Downer fired once. They fired about the same time. Not a word had been spoken before the first shots were fired," he said.

Flynn, who for six years was sheriff of Lubbock county, Texas, and two years with the police department here, appeared on the stand voluntarily in the coroner's inquest held in the court of T. F. Donnell, justice of the peace, Saturday morning.

Flynn went on to relate that after the first shots there was a lull and that one of the county officers then called "Stick 'em up" and the city officers believing they were the thieves returning for the stolen car answered by calling "Stick 'em up yourselves." A volley of shots followed.

D. W. Downer, deputy sheriff, who was with Crossley, said he fired two shots from behind a tree. None of those on the stand could state exactly how many shots were fired.

Downer shouted that he was a county officer and the police called they too were the law. Lights were turned on and Crossley was found dead in the road, a bullet hole through his head above his left eye. He had fallen face forward in the sand.

All testimony was introduced by noon and the jury began deliberation without lunch.

BANKERS TO MEET AT PLAINVIEW NEXT

Amarillo, Texas, June 26.—Plainview was today selected as the next meeting place for the Panhandle Bankers' Association which closed its annual convention here. Officers were chosen as follows: F. E. Chamberlain of Clarendon, president; C. W. Harrison of Clovis, first vice president; W. H. Fuqua, of Amarillo, second vice president; D. L. C. Kennard of Memphis, secretary, and Grady Oldham, of Canyon, treasurer.

The convention opened this morning with an address by Ed Hall, State Banking Commissioner. Mr. Hall praised the courage and faith of bankers during the recent trying times. He said the State law on deposit of public funds was a menace to the people.

Frank M. Butler of Plainview, addressed the bankers on "The Fundamental Need of the Proper Kind of Character."

Resolutions to appoint a publicity committee to have Mr. Hall's speech printed and indorsing the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, were passed.

The morning session was concluded with a round table discussion, led by W. H. Patrick of Clarendon. The bankers were guests of the Board of City Development at a luncheon today. Judge J. C. Paul of Panhandle, was toastmaster. Speakers included Charles O. Austin of Dallas, W. H. Patrick of Clarendon, O. V. Vernon of Amarillo, Sam R. Lauder of Dallas, and M. C. Driscoll of Yoakum.

BETTER LAWS AGAINST DOGS NEEDED TO PROTECT SHEEP

Although 48 States have dog laws designed to protect sheep, many of them are so poorly planned or so poorly enforced that dogs still do much damage to flocks, especially in the farming states where flocks are small and dogs are plentiful. There is need for improvement in these laws, but, says the United States Department of Agriculture, a poor law that is enforced with energy may produce better results in sheep conservation than a much better law that is not enforced.

SHEEP AND GOAT RAISERS AT SAN ANGELO NEXT WEEK

San Angelo, June 22.—The program has been completed for the convention of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, which is to be held here next week, commencing Tuesday, June 27, and lasting thru Friday. There will be band concerts morning and evening, dancing, ball games, a street carnival, open house at Elks and Country Club houses and special entertainment for the ladies. Over 1,000 visitors are expected.

W. T. C. of C. Directors to Meet At Brownwood

Stamford, June 26.—President A. B. Spencer of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has issued a call for the board of directors of the organization to meet at Brownwood at 10 a. m., July 10. The program for the year's work for the organization will be outlined. The budget for the ensuing year as fixed by Manager Porter A. Whaley is $81,400.

Among the other items of business which will come up will be the confirmation of staff appointments, the scheme to enlarge the size of West Texas Today, the official publication, and issue it monthly instead of quarterly.

Brownwood will give a banquet to the 100 directors and visitors and take the party for a tour of the oil fields.

Arrangements have been made for the holding of a meeting of the board of directors twice a year instead of more frequently as in the past. During the meetings of the directorate matters of vital importance to come up for decision will be secured through correspondence and referendum vote, it was announced today by Manager Porter A. Whaley. The next meeting of the board after the Brownwood conference will be either late in the fall or early next spring.

Lot of Highway Money Is Coming To Texas Soon

Austin, Texas, June 19.—At the conclusion of its regular monthly meeting, which was begun today, the Texas Highway Commission plans to announce allotments covering the $3,000,000 Federal appropriation which is to be apportioned to Texas for highway construction for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The meeting probably will close tomorrow afternoon. The early allotting of the Federal aid, it was explained, is to be made in order to give the various counties receiving the allotments time in which to make arrangements for carrying out their projects.

While no official statement has yet been issued by the commission on the subject, it is expected that the allotments are to be made to the counties where aid is most needed, and attention probably will also be given to important highways on which there are serious gaps of missing links.

For the next three years Texas will receive from the Federal Government approximately $11,500,000 for highway construction. For the year beginning July 1, Texas' share of Federal appropriation will be $3,000,000, for the second year $4,000,000 and approximately $4,500,000 for the third year.

MAKES $1,000 BOND FOLLOWING SHOOTING

Kress, June 21.—J. B. Slade of this place gave bond in the sum of $1,000 on a charge of assault with intent to murder, following the shooting of W. W. Cobb, also of Kress, this morning about 7:30 o'clock. The cause of the shooting is unknown. Preliminary hearing was held this morning before W. G. Botts, justice of the peace.

Slade is said to have fired one charge of buckshot into the left arm and shoulder of Cobb in the store of the latter at Kress, Cobb dodging behind a glass show-case and the charge of shot going thru the case before entering Cobb's shoulder. Cobb was not seriously wounded.

Both men are married and have families and both reside here. Cobb is about 50 years of age and Slade is about 21.

ORIENT MAY CEASE OPERATION ABOUT JULY 1ST

San Angelo, June 22.—Merchants and ranchmen in or near towns served exclusively by the Orient Railroad are advised by Alex Collins, general attorney for the road, to get supplies they need and can store before July 1, as it is practically a certainty that the road will cease to operate after that time. Mr. Collins returned yesterday from Wichita, where he attended a conference between employees of the road and W. T. Kemper, receiver. Mr. Collins sees no chance for the road to continue operations, as the $46,000 fund now on hand will carry operations but a few days.

Unless concessions of 20 per cent wage cut and the petition now before the Interstate Commerce Commission for a 50 per cent division of the joint rate on all freight is granted, for which there is little chance, the road will be forced to quit, Mr. Collins declares.

PRESIDENT BASEBALL CLUB ATTENDS MEETING AT DALLAS

George Benson and Joe Dick Slaughter, of the Lubbock Auto Co., spent a part of last week in Dallas on a combined business and vacation trip. Both have been very busy in the work of their firm, and the rest and trip was a greatly deserved one. While in Dallas, Mr. Benson attended a meeting of baseball men, he representing the Lubbock club, of which he is president.

GOVERNOR PAT M. NEFF SPOKE TO LARGE, ENTHUSIASTIC CROWD HERE

WAS ACCOMPANIED FROM PLAINVIEW BY FRIENDS WHO WERE GLAD TO WELCOME HIM TO LUBBOCK

ECONOMY IS MOST HAMMERED KEY-NOTE

"Give Unto Caesar the Things That Are Caesar's", Was the Text Used to Drive Home the Fact That the People Should be Served Without Fear and Without Prejudice.

One of the most enthusiastic gatherings that has met in Lubbock since the day when Joe Bailey and Pat M. Neff were carrying on their heated campaign for Governor, assembled at the community auditorium Saturday evening, and heard Governor Neff give an account of his stewardship during the past seventeen months, with reference to his candidacy for re-election.

The revival meeting that is being conducted in the auditorium, for the First Christian church, by Rev. Mr. Wright, pastor of that church at Plainview, gave way to the Governor, a very interesting talk being made to that effect by Mr. Wright. The choir, led by Tony Q. Dyess, rendered several well executed numbers before the speaking.

Mayor Percy Spencer had charge of the meeting, and asked Judge Geo. R. Bean to introduce the Governor. Mr. Spencer, in introducing Mr. Bean, said he had been active in all political affairs of this section for many years, and was "one of the men who takes an active part in politics because he wants clean, honest, representative men in office in Texas." He further stated that Judge Bean is deeply interested in the success of Governor Neff and believes the governor is that sort of man.

A brief introductory speech was made by Judge Bean, who declared the stewardship of Governor Neff stands upon its own merits, and that he was going to offer his services to the people for re-election through "patriotism and love for the Lone Star State."

Governor Neff opened his address in a most appealing manner, expressing regret that the church meeting was postponed because of his presence, and declared it his intention to make his address as near along the lines of church work as possible.

"Inasmuch as this is a church service hour, and inasmuch as I am to speak to the people who are interested in this meeting, I will take my text from His book," he said, holding to a large Bible which was unable to hold his hands, "I will use those wonderful words: 'Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's,' which he handled in a most pleasing and able manner.

The Governor's key-note was "practical economy," the necessity of which he declared to be just as useful to the affairs of state as in the affairs of individuals, declaring that "No state is one bit richer than the people who compose that state, and as your representative and servant, I have vetoed certain measures calling for appropriations to be used in worthy work, which I did as a matter of economy, and not because I did not realize the value of the appropriations in question, and the things they would have built in Texas." He cited the recent financial depression as a great burden to the people, and were unable to build homes, barns, or any other kind of improvements last year, and inasmuch as the burden of state building would be placed upon the people he was unwilling to add to their burdens.

"Texas has wonderful institutions, and needs many more, but we have had enough to do to maintain those already built, which I have done with the interest of the people at heart, having brought about every economical condition possible," he said, emphasizing the fact that the people of Texas had honored him with the office in which he had worked untiringly and incessantly for the past seventeen months, and he expected to represent them to the very best of his ability, using right and justice as the leading paths of procedure, regardless of the consequences to himself, "regardless of criticisms by political enemies or uninformed individuals."

He spoke at length upon the inadequacy of certain laws in the state, declaring that bootleggers, gamblers, automobile thieves, burglars and other criminals were running at large in Texas because of the slackness in certain laws. Referring to the suspended sentence law as a gigantic loophole in the penal institutions of the state, through which dangerous and unworthy characters marched through and back upon society by the score. My greatest ambition is to write into the constitution of this state laws which are designed to protect the young men who are out of the penitentiaries of this state. It is alarming to know that a large majority of the prisoners in the penitentiary are white boys of from nineteen to twenty-five years of age, who are there because of the influence of older, more dangerous criminals who are using the young men of this state as tools with which to carry on their fiendish work," and in a most impressive manner told his hearers that he had a great deal of sympathy for the men in the penitentiary, and had put forth every effort to make life just as sweet and good to them as it was at all possible, but that he wanted society protected from criminals and not criminals protected by society which the suspended sentence undoubtedly suggests.

Referring to his candidacy but very little, but speaking as an informant to his people, Governor Neff delivered a worthy address, which should have been heard by every individual. The necessity of good people taking a hand in politics was referred to as a "duty" which no "loyal, worthy citizen should shirk. A neglect of which will place the affairs of this state in the hands of men whose intentions are not to elevate our people or to place Texas upon a higher plane of development.

Referring to the schools of Texas, Governor Neff declared it his opinion that "the boys and girls of Texas deserve, and must have, the same educational advantages as anyone, and to that end I have a special committee of educators, both in and out of the state who are working on a better plan than is now being used," and he certainly drove home a great fact when he said: "It does look like the State of Texas is spending more money on her educational institutions than she is getting in return, which shows there is a weakness somewhere in the system, and it is my ambition to put into operation a system which would place every institution from the little red school house to the great state university upon a more effective footing."

The Governor opened his campaign at Plainview Saturday afternoon, and was met there by a delegation of Lubbock friends, who accompanied him to Lubbock.

He has many friends and supporters here, who will fight for him until the last vote is polled, and until they know that the people of Texas are properly informed as to the principles he advocates and the things he has done as governor.

SHERIFF CAPTURES TWO AUTOMOBILE THIEVES

Sheriff C. A. Holcomb returned Monday morning from Aspermont, Texas, with Neal Duke and Byron Henry (alias R. H. White), prisoners, wanted for the theft of two automobiles from Slaton, last Thursday night.

The cars stolen and recovered by Sheriff Holcomb, were the property of Rev. J. P. Hardesty and Mrs. Reising, of Slaton. Both were stolen from the homes of the respective parties on Thursday night, and thru the efforts of local officers both the thieves and the cars were located at Peacock, Stonewall County on Saturday morning following. The new Fords have been returned to their rightful owners, and the thieves are now making their home in the Lubbock county jail, to await the action of the Grand Jury which reconvenes July 10th.

Since the above arrest was made, Sheriff Holcomb has been advised by the Stonewall county officials to hold the boys after conviction here, as they are also wanted in Stonewall county on a charge of burglary. This is quite a coincidence, as after the arrest it was learned they had broken into a dwelling house in Aspermont prior to their short visit in Lubbock county, where they had attempted to appropriate to their own use and benefit two brand new Fords. They gave their former residence as Jakhanson and Desdemona, Texas.

LOCAL ORGANIZATION WILL COST GOVERNMENT $250,000

Do you know that Lubbock has a new quarter million dollar property valuation enterprise?

No doubt you had not thought of it that way, but the Federal Government will spend a total sum of that much money establishing the 131st Regiment Field Artillery, Battery C, in Lubbock.

There is something to that battery being organized and maintained in Lubbock, and if the people do not think there is, they should get a few figures on the amount of money spent maintaining it in Lubbock that will be put into circulation here, and we are sure you will admit there is something to that organization that is worth while.

At this time there are sixty-nine men in the organization here, four of whom are officers.

They are drilled once each week, one and one-half hours, for which time the men get one day's pay, on the same basis soldiers were paid in the army.

Yes, Lubbock has something of which any town might feel proud, and we are mighty glad to have the battery of light field artillery here.

Mrs. Giles Monell, of Post City, is in a local sanitarium, under care of specialists.

ROTARY ITEMS

By L. T. Martin.

The Rotary luncheon held at the Manhattan Parlor Wednesday, with George Briggs as substitute chairman of the entertainment committee, was one of the peppiest Rotary programs we have had for some time. It looked like a one hundred percent attendance, and if we keep on growing, the managers of the Manhattan Parlor will have to extend the tables out onto the sidewalk. Woody Bowen got home from his vacation, and was present to ask the invocation. Percy Spencer, our distinguished mayor, a Kiwanian, and a guest of the club, made announcement that Pat Neff, Governor of Texas, would speak at the auditorium Saturday night, and requested that the news be spread about so well that all might come and hear him. Jed Rix made an announcement that District Governor, George Holmgren, had requested that the club send in the names of boys who would join the Citizens' Training Camp. Members of the club were requested to solicit the boys who would like to go, and Aey May and Bennie Hilburn both offered to send their boys. The meeting was then turned over to George Briggs, chairman of the entertainment committee.

Col. Mulican, the first one called upon, responded to the subject of street peddlers and fakers, and gave a very interesting and instructive talk upon this evil. It is not right to bring goods into a town and sell them on the street corners without contributing to the city government. It is a question as to just what is responsible for this evil. Possibly our own merchants might be at fault by not putting prices down to the proper level. He does not make that as a statement for Lubbock, but it might apply to some towns. Along this same line, the men who are running a legitimate theater or picture show, who are paying taxes, maintaining the proper kind of places of amusement, and are with us the year around, should also have the same protection that the city merchants have against the street faker. This year especially, the farmers in the boll weevil district have not the money to spend to go to cheap tent shows, and these shows are all headed for the prosperous West Texas country. Every few days one of them lights in Lubbock. There should be an ordinance against the cheap tent show which comes in for a day or two and takes the money from our people and goes elsewhere to spend it.

Curtis Keen (Highpockets) requested permission to make a statement in regard to the prices the merchants of Lubbock are charging for goods, saying that he made an itemized list of groceries—things the average farmer would use—and sent this list to different cities about the size of Lubbock with the request that the merchants figure the bills. The result was that the average was less than 5 per cent on 25 pounds; thus showing that the merchants of Lubbock are making the right kind of prices for groceries.

A novel feature of the program was the fact that subjects were assigned and men asked to talk on them without any preparation or knowing that they were to be called upon—thus testing their oratory. The first subject was "Shall Lubbock County bond itself for public roads?" Walter Posey was first called upon to respond to this subject, and said that he was opposed to the $25,000.00 bond issue for public roads, and would vote against it. He gave as his reason for this that other counties that have done this had roads with surfaces that were worn through before the first bond came due, and there was no money for their maintenance. The people were taxed high for these roads, and in the long run they did not have as good roads as the county that maintained good dirt roads.

Jed Rix was next called upon to respond on the same subject, and he said "Amen" to Posey's argument. He said that good dirt roads, well maintained, were better in the long run than the hard surfaced roads unless they were maintained, which is very expensive. Walter Myrick also responded to this subject, stating that he had been to Dallas and back recently and had had a chance to see the high-priced roads around there. He was of the same opinion as Posey and Rix.

The next subject for discussion was, "How far shall the city go in

Hill was hit by a pitched ball in the fifth, and after going to second on a single by Moore, became sick but continued the game, advancing to third on Meador's hit. Comstock then singled over short, but Hill was caught out at the plate on a force

The Hubbers took the first of the three-game series Friday from the Abilene Eagles, at Abilene, 6 to 3. Wooldridge, for the Hubbers held the Eagles to six hits, but walked five men which was probably responsible for the lead gained by the home club.

Brown led the hitting, getting three out of four, Wooldridge got two out of three, and King and Langford each got three out of five, Langford getting a couple of doubles and a triple. The score:

HUBBERS DROP SECOND TO ABILENE

By two hits, a sacrifice and a couple of costly errors on the part of the Hubbers in the tenth inning Saturday, the Eagles took the second of the three game series there 4 to 3, evening up the count.

The Eagles counted for two in the second when Etheridge walked, Burch singled, stole second, Sain sacrificed, scoring Etheridge, and Scoggins followed with another sacrifice, scoring Burch. In the fourth Burch doubled, and scored when Gober threw Sain out at first, and Speegle threw wild to third trying to catch Burch.

The Hubbers first count came in the third when Brooks walked, took second on Green's sacrifice and scored on Speegle's single. Again in the fourth, Langford walloped one to the center for a triple, and scored on Gober's double to right. In the ninth the Hubbers tied the count when Brooks singled, took second on Cantrell's sacrifice, Speegle went out Moore to Lyall, Earnshaw singled, scoring Brooks.

The Eagles untied the count in the tenth and carried off the second game, when Etheridge led off with a single, was sacrificed to second by Burch, Gober missed a hop on Sain's hot one to third, but recovered, resulting in a close decision at first in favor of the runner, which Gober contested and was sent to the bleachers by Umpire Price, Allen soon following him for the same reason. Scoggins singled filling the bases, Moore tapped an easy one to Speegle, who took a throw to the plate but threw wild and scored Etheridge.

Green was relieved in the seventh by Cantrell, after filling the bases with nobody down, and the Eagles were unable to score off him until the tenth when the winning run crossed on an error. The score:

The Hubbers took the last of the series from Abilene Sunday, by a score of 2 to 1. Cantrell was too much for the Eagles, holding them to four hits, and their only run came in the fifth by a homer by Moore, who bounced one over the fence.

Langford, Gober and Cantrell each binged out two-sackers, and McAbee was sent to the bench in the eighth, with men on. He was relieved by Miers. This is the second of the series taken by the Hubbers. The score:

AMARILLO FAN OUT OF LINE

A telegram was received at the office of the local Western Union, following the Amarillo series played here last week, addressed to the Lubbock fans, which rather lightly and sarcastically touched on the qualities of the Hubber aggregation as a club.

Before this paper comes out again the first half will have been decided. But what I want to tell you is that those old Hubbers are in there fighting all the time for that honor, and it is up to us to fight to the last as they are doing.

Stay right in there. Use the telegraph wires a little if necessary, and you feel so inclined, but let them know that you are still for them and we are backing them to the last. This first half can yet be won, and we must have it. STAY IN THERE.

SOME FAN SIDELIGHTS

Notwithstanding the fact that the Hubbers are close to the top in the percentage column, and have been playing some mighty good baseball it is a very evident fact that these games have not been won from the sidelines and grandstand, neither has a great deal of encouragement for winning come from that source.

Many times have we witnessed contests on the local park when it seemed that right at the time when the fellows needed help from the sidelines, when they had gone behind in the run column—everybody closed up like a clam, and sometimes, even began to "throw dirt."

Hubbers yet have good chance for first half. Follows, here we go for that first half pennant. Now, don't say we can't do it, or that we haven't a chance to do it, but I'll tell you, boys, that first half must be ours, and we have a better chance to win it right now than we have had for some time, and that is nothing but good, "Common, Hawse Sense," we are preaching either. Talk about a ball club coming back in a pinch, or one losing in a pinch, the jury which heard the case of William Meadows, 18, charged with the murder of Asa Rows, this afternoon returned a verdict of guilty, fixing the penalty at 99 years in the penitentiary. Rows was killed in Andrews County on May 17. The case has been on trial here all this week and the widow of Rows was the principal witness of the prosecution.

Andy Meador, father of the defendant, is charged jointly with the killing of Rows, but has been granted a separate trial. Rows was killed while in the rear seat of the Meadows automobile, according to the evidence. William Meadows took the stand in his own defense yesterday, saying that he attacked Rows when the latter assailed his father.

Rawls Was Tied.
Rawls' widow, in her testimony declared that Meadows and his son visited the Rawls' home and that after some words the elder Meadows fired upon her husband. This was denied upon the stand by Miss Ola Meadows, sister of the defendant, who said that Rawls was the first to attack. The evidence showed that Rawls was tied and placed in the car to be taken to town. His wife said he was shot while still tied and prostrate, but both the defendant and his sister declared that the prisoner had worked himself free and went for Meadows, at which time the shooting is said to have occurred. Ola Meadows said she did not witness the shooting, having left the car just previously.

Said He Hit From Behind.
Although young Meadows testified that he hit Rawls from behind with a pair of pliers, an undertaker declared on the stand that the victim sustained bruises and cuts on the face.

The two families engaged in a dispute, according to the testimony, when Mrs. Rawls accused the Meadows of having taken a diamond ring. The elder Meadows is a wealthy rancher.

RHEA HAS CHARGE OF POTATO CHIP PLANT

Stanton S. Rhea, well known locally, and one of the leading young business men of the Plains, who recently bought half interest in the old plant of the B. & H. Potato Chip Factory, has bought the other half interest in the plant, and the work and management of the factory is now under his management.

The plant is now conveniently located in the rear of the Hunt Grocery Company building, where his factory is running at full capacity. A traveling salesman has been placed on the trade territory adjacent to Lubbock, who will push things along, and the factory will be so orderly conducted by Mr. Rhea that local grocery and confectionery men will be glad to handle the famous potato products.

We are mighty proud of any young man who has sand enough to get up against a business proposition with the enthusiasm Mr. Rhea has shown, and we are sure that he will find that hustling and go-get-it-ness pays. At any rate we are sure there is another business in Lubbock which has a promising future, and have complete confidence in the ability of its energetic pilot.

HOWARD PAYNE STUDENTS AND DEAN TO COLORADO

A lively troupe of vacationers passed through Lubbock Saturday morning, and on investigation, it was learned that the crowd was from the Howard-Payne College, at Brownwood.

There were about fifteen persons in the crowd, who were all in a Reo truck and trailer, chaperoned by the College dean and his wife, both boys and girls being in the crowd. They will spend several days in the invigorating coolness of the mountain country of Colorado.

C. W. Smith of Amarillo, district manager for the Woodstock Type-writer Company, was in Lubbock Friday and Saturday, looking after the interests of his company. He contemplates establishing an agency here.

New Achievement in Car Manufacture Announced by Dodge

Behind the simple phraseology of an announcement which Dodge Brothers, Detroit, automobile manufacturers, are publishing today in every important city and town in America, lies the story of a new achievement in automobile development. "Dodge Brothers announce a business coupe; conservative changes in the body design of all other types," the advertisement reads.

The business coupe is the first all-steel closed car ever marketed. In this respect it takes a new and distinct place in automotive history, for it involves an entirely unique principle of coupe body construction. The steel body not only practically eliminates the problem of limited production, due to the tedious and costly individual workmanship required on wood bodies, but also enables the manufacturers to give the coupe the same lustrous baked enamel finish which has already contributed so much to the reputation of Dodge Brothers open cars. This process in itself will also facilitate quantity production, as an enormous amount of time was consumed heretofore in applying the numerous coats of paint required on wood.

Naturally, these are important factors in the determination of the selling price, resulting in economies which Dodge Brothers are passing directly to the purchaser. "Wood is practically eliminated from the construction of this car," said W. W. Royalty, the local dealer. "Even the framework and panels are of steel, the natural result is a lighter, quieter and more durable car. Steel prolongs life and reduces the possibility of squeaks and rattles."

"The Business men of America have been expecting such a coupe and Dodge Brothers have given it to them."

"It is in reality a coupe at roadster price. While it is easily attractive enough for any use, it is particularly designed for the business man—who needs the comfort and protection of a closed car in his work, but who can easily get along without a few of the luxuries which, in the past, have made the closed car so expensive. The business coupe is built inside and out to withstand the year and tear of every day use—and yet it retains the same lightness and beauty of line which everyone is accustomed to look for in Dodge Brothers closed cars. It lacks only what I might term the depreciation liabilities of the more expensive coupe. It is upholstered in genuine leather, has a wide, comfortable straight seat, is equipped with cord tires, heater, dome light, windshield cleaner and adjustments for raising and lowering windows. The doors are unusually wide and are fitted with new easy closing Yale locks. There is more than the usual amount of leg room and convenient and spacious luggage compartments are provided. Doctors, real estate men and salesmen of all kinds will find it just the car they need. We already have good indications of a tremendous demand."

"The change of design in the other Dodge Brothers cars indicate that while Dodge Brothers have always adhered closely to the practice they are also progressive and abreast of the time. It is Dodge Brothers policy to make improvements year after year and month after month and this is simply another step forward."

HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL, THE "WESTERNER" IS FINISHED

Not in shapps, spurs and a red handkerchief drawn over a well-whiskered face, but neatly packed in a large box, the "Westerner" arrived in Lubbock the first of the week, and members of the Senior Class have been mighty busy distributing it to those who placed their order several weeks ago.

The Westerner is the 1922 Annual of the Lubbock High School, a two hundred page volume, which is not equaled by any school in West Texas, containing more pictures than any other annual of its

"ROPE OF TAILS" TESTIFIES TO WORK AGAINST RODENTS

A rope made of 3,000 gopher (ground squirrel) tails was recently on display at the office of the Montana Extension Director, awaiting shipment to the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. The rope was made by the Blackfoot Indian chief, Spitz-Ear, and his tribal assistants, who live near Browning, in Glacier County, Montana. The Indians have taken an active interest in the campaign against the rodents, and after burying more than 1,500 ground squirrels, decided to save tails for the 19-foot rope now on exhibition. It is estimated that at least 15,000 rodents were destroyed by the Indians during the drive.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

Advertisers, contributors and all parties interested in the Avalanche please remember these things: We print the Tuesday Avalanche on Monday, press hour, 3:30 p. m. Friday Avalanche on Thursday, press hour 3:30 p. m. Please have copy for local notices in not later than noon Monday and Thursday. Ad changes and copy should not be later than 8:00 a. m. Mondays and Thursdays. It takes a schedule like this to get your ads in the paper in good shape, and helps us give our readers better service, which means that the paper will be of better service to you, which we earnestly desire it to be. We do not want to be exacting but we must demand some things of you, if you expect us to come up to the notch.

On the 19th of July another very important election will be held in Lubbock. It is the question of whether or not the city of Lubbock shall be bonded in the sum of $150,000. This amount of money is needed to put the water and sewer systems in condition to take care of the requirements and without this extension and improvement we cannot make any progress, either in a commercial way or in keeping health conditions as they should be, the best in this section of the State. We are face to face with two problems, that cannot be solved without more water and sewer lines. The water supply is not adequate to the needs of the city. The present system was designed for a city of not more than twenty-five hundred or three thousand people, having been put in when there were less than fifteen hundred people in the city limits, hence it cannot possibly answer for a city of more than six thousand. The insurance companies know this and the fire insurance commission knows it, and for that reason the insurance key rate has been increased this year, and the difference in the insurance will run into many thousands of dollars in premiums, which within a few years will amount to more than the bonds we are asking. By passing these bonds, which are described in the notices running in each Friday issue of the Avalanche this can be corrected, and by making a few other minor changes, we can not only get the key rate reduced, but can get other credits which will mean considerable reduction in the fire insurance premiums of the city. As we have stated before, it is a matter of business and people should look at it from a business view point. It will really be a saving to the people of Lubbock in dollars and cents to vote this bond issue, besides it will give hundreds of homes water and sewer service that they cannot possibly have under the present conditions. Then the sewer system is entirely too small, and a very small percent of the people of the city are enjoying the privileges of sewer service, which places us at the mercy of disease germs because of the fact that we are unable to keep the sanitary conditions up to the standard that we should and which is necessary to keep disease at the minimum. A trip through the larger portion of the residential section of the city will reveal this fact, and there is not a single person who would vote against the bond issue for the extension of the sewer system if they will just take the time to investigate the real conditions that exist. There is considerable complaint about the odor that emits from the cess-pool. This is caused, so say the authorities, by the plant not being large enough. This will be corrected when the sewer bonds are passed and the sewerage lines extended.

FARMERS' ORGANIZATIONS

The Avalanche is and ever has been in favor of everything that is destined to offer any assistance to the Plains farmer in any manner, and we heartily endorse the plans of some of the organizations which have as their aim the elevation of that industry. We believe in the Plains farmer, in the farmer of Texas, and the farmer of any other section of the country and want to see them progress in every conceivable manner, and we are strong for any organization which has as its objective the bringing about of better marketing, producing and living conditions for that great mass of people, and want every man who reads this paper to know that the farmer has always, and will, receive a square deal so far as the Avalanche is concerned. But we want the farmers of this section to know what is back of the organizations which they join. The Farm Bureau is a great institution, and has saved thousands of dollars for the people of the Plains, and Lubbock County. The Wheat Growers' Association is a great institution, which is doing some effective work. The Livestock Breeders' Association is equally as substantial, and equally as productive of good. There are number of organizations which have splendid opportunities to develop into effective agencies for the elevation of the farmer as a class, and we heartily endorse them. But we think there are too many organizations based upon a constructive, legitimate basis for any farmer to waste good time and money dabbling with organizations which have as their object the winning of some "scrap" which is wholly unimportant, whose organizers are waiving a red handkerchief into blank space, and howling for the hard-working farmer who is too busy to look into the matter very closely to follow them in an attempt to bring the rest of the world, both financial and industrial, to a realization of the fact that they are powerful, and should be recognized. Such organizations are not founded upon the solid basis of constructive-ness, and any farmer who will think the matter over seriously for a few minutes will readily see that his would-be leader is a self-appointed agitator, whose sole purpose is to pile the hard-earned money of the working class into the coffers of the head office of his organization.

ALWAYS BETTER SOMEWHERE ELSE

It seems strange, yet it is true. People are the most dissatisfied creatures on earth. They always seem to think they are getting the worst of the deal. This subject was discussed at a recent Rotary Luncheon. It was brought on through the discussion of the street peddlers, tent shows and other such concerns that are continually pushing themselves onto the people of Lubbock as well as other cities of like size. It was stated by one of the speakers that it was some times intimated to him that the reason the people bought from peddlers and medicine show folks and such like was because the prices were too high in the Lubbock stores, but this statement was challenged by another member of the club, who was not in the mercantile business, but had occasion to make investigations and comparisons, and found that the same cry was heard from people of other towns. He said that Lubbock people would contend that they could buy dry goods cheaper in Plainview than they could in Lubbock, and Plainview folks would swear that stuff was higher there than any town in the State and there it goes. We are of the opinion that if people would stand by their home concerns and give them the benefit of their cash purchases instead of riding the home man on a credit and sending their cash to the mail order house or buy gas at a local garage on a credit and go fifty or a hundred miles and pay cash for stuff that could be bought at the home store just as good and just as cheap there would be better prices everywhere, and there would be real satisfaction in living. Stand by your home merchant, and you merchants take this prescription, too. Stay with the home producer. Buy what he has to sell. Pay him the top market price and he will learn to appreciate you more and will be a booster for you rather than a knocker. In other words, apply the golden rule and there will be little use for so much argument, and attempted oratory on the part of both sides.

SOMETHING ABOUT OUR SCHOOLS

Superintendent Dupre has just completed his report to the State Department of Education, and this report reveals some interesting figures. First, the enrollment attracts the attention of people who have not been keeping up with the growth and development of the Lubbock Independent School District. 1893 pupils were enrolled last year and more than 2000 will be enrolled this coming school term. Of the number enrolled last year 923 were boys and 915 were girls. Forty three teachers were employed to teach this bunch, or an average of more than forty-two pupils to the teacher. Of the number of pupils enrolled, 29 were colored, 15 of these being girls and 14 boys. One colored teacher is employed. The total daily average for the nine months was 1348. 1141 were promoted to higher grades during the term and forty-two graduates were turned out. The total teaching cost for the year per pupil was $34.57; this is for the teaching alone.

The Lubbock school is classed by the State Department as A-1, and is the best school of its size in the State. If this can be said of it under the conditions that have existed during the past two years, how easily it will be to outstride our neighbors when we get these wonderful new buildings in operation and the money derived from school taxes will come in to help keep the school climbing. Our good schools will attract many of the very finest people in the land to our city and it will be worth many times what it will cost us to have these magnificent schools. Come to Lubbock!

There will probably be more real building activities in Lubbock during the next six months than in any other West Texas town, if indeed this is not true of the conditions at this very moment. The oil mill will begin construction work soon which will employ a large number of men, of various trades. The materials is beginning to arrive now in car load lots. Everything is shaping up for the early beginning of work on the high school building, which will be a big job and will furnish employment for many men. Then the extension work by the city will begin within the next ninety days, if the bond issue carries (and there seems to be no good reason why it should not) which will make a long job for several hundred men. It will also put into circulation large sums of money from the different sources. Now do not get it into your head that there will be work here for four or five thousand men, and flock in here expecting to get a job at big wages the minute you arrive in town. There are already a lot of folks here who are anxious for the jobs as soon as they open up, and we do not want to leave the impression that there will be anything extra-ordinary here for the thousands of people in other sections who are wanting work. The information given here is for the encouragement of the people who have toughed it out, and have skimped along trying to make an honest living.

When Mr. Neff made the statement that we had not built any farm houses or business houses or residences, he evidently was judging our condition by some other sections of the country. He evidently was very ignorant of the real conditions around Lubbock and in Lubbock County. A half a hundred business houses have been built and building in Lubbock during the past twelve months, and several hundred dwelling houses besides a lot of farm homes. Better post yourself Mr. Governor before you pop off again in a progressive place like Lubbock. We Lubbock folks are rather sensitive, you know, and might not vote for you if you do not get more accurate figures on our building program than you seemed to have Saturday evening.

We heard the remark made a few days ago that half the men who make this territory would make their headquarters in Lubbock if they could get rooms, apartments or buildings in which to house their families comfortably. There is a fine work for some fellow with money to provide a few more houses and an apartment house or two. We believe this statement is very conservative, and we dare say that a large number of others, who are not making this territory now, would also be delighted to live in Lubbock if they could get a place to live.

Santa Fe Making Big and Expensive Improvements

By July 15, four to five hundred men will be put at Lubbock on the Santa Fe for making the following improvements:

New 90 pound steel will be put in to take the place of the 75 pound rails now in use. New track will be put in with end and side door industrial platform. This track and platform will be put in within the next week.

Bids are now being received for the new addition to be built to the passenger depot. The new depot when completed will have separate waiting rooms for colored people. It is nice to live on a railroad such as the Santa Fe, managed by real men who see the needs of the public and make the improvements necessary to cope with the growing conditions of the increased traffic over their roads which demands the heavy steel on the branch lines; men who are awake to the fact that adequate passenger depot service should be maintained. The people of Lubbock will welcome these new improvements.

Prospects for all crops in Lubbock territory were never better, and a railroad like the Santa Fe which comes into an agricultural section such as they have on the South Plains demands additional trackage and improvements from time to time.

We hope that the Santa Fe will always keep the same high class of men who can look into the future and prepare for the handling of it. The payroll of these men will mean quite a bit to the merchants of Lubbock.

PASTOR AT STRATFORD DIES WHILE IN DALHART

Rev. T. G. Huffman, pastor of the Methodist church at Stratford, died Friday morning at the Methodist parsonage at that place. Rev. Huffman had been in indifferent health for some time, and it was while seeking medical treatment at Dalhart that the end came. He was attended by his wife while there, and Mrs. Huffman accompanied the remains Friday afternoon to Claude, where burial will take place. He was pastor at Claude three years. Rev. Huffman was very prominent throughout the entire district of Methodist Churches, and many members of the local church met the southbound Fort Worth and Denver train bearing his body and accompanied it to Claude, among whom was Rev. J. W. Story, presiding elder.—Amarillo News.

BIG MAIZE CROP SURE ROCK ISLAND REPORTS

Large maize crops seem assured in the Texas Panhandle, according to the semi-monthly report of the Rock Island. The report in full on the Panhandle and New Mexico lines, follows:

In the Panhandle section rain fell averaging about two and a half inches. Cool and wet weather retarded farm work, but reports indicate warm weather will insure a large crop of corn, maize, kafir, beans, broom-corn, watermelons and potatoes. Wheat crop will be short in the vicinity of Groom and Vega. Green bugs appeared near Groom, Texas, doing some damage to oats. Watermelon acreage increased near McLean and Ramsdell. Ranges in fine condition.

Very little change in condition of crops since last report. Little rain fell west of Tucumcari and some crops suffering from lack of moisture. Ranges in good condition.—Amarillo News.

WISCONSIN HAS ONE-FOURTH COW-TESTING ASSOCIATIONS

The 115 cow-testing association in Wisconsin, kept in operation with the assistance of county agents and specialists employed co-operatively by the United States Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural College, equals almost one-fourth of all the associations of the country. Twelve of these associations have been organized since December 1, 1921, and the membership in the State now numbers about 3,300 farmers owning 55,000 cows. The aims of the associations have been to weed out unprofitable cows and to feed the animals on balanced rations for maximum milk production. Records of the associations show the value of high-grade cows and purebred sires. Last year 335 purebred bulls were purchased by the associations and 83 scrub bulls replaced by purebreds in 59 associations.

WORK TO BE STARTED ON SCHOOL BUILDING SOON

C. E. Maedgen, president of the Security State Bank and Trust Co., returned from Austin where he had the $150,000.00 worth of school bonds approved and registered, and in turn sent to the Chicago attorneys for final approval. Messages of the final approval have been sent to the purchasers, drafts have been drawn, and the money should be received in Lubbock today or tomorrow.

Taylor & Peters, architects, say that plans will be here on this morning's express. Contracts will be let without delay, and building started on the new high school for Lubbock.

TEXAS ADVANCED $22,000 OF STOCK AND FARM LOANS

Washington, June 19.—Approval of fifty-one advances for agricultural and live stock purposes aggregating $959,000 was announced today by the War Finance Corporation. Distribution of the loans included: Alabama, $14,000; Arkansas, $75,000; Iowa, $32,000; Nebraska, $49,000; Oklahoma, $20,000; Texas, $22,000.

BENSON ATTENDING MEETING OF OFFICIALS AT ABILENE

Geo. Benson, Pres. of the Lubbock Club of the West Texas League, is now in Abilene attending a meeting of all the officials of the League, in session in that place.

Many matters of importance will come up before the meeting for consideration, among other things being the question of a change of the President of the League; also, the adoption of the schedule for the second half of the season, which may possibly be changed slightly.

It is thought that a new President will be placed at the head of the League, replacing Mr. Northern, the present head of the organization. Mr. Benson will probably return today.

BONUS BILL FAILS TO GET ATTENTION

Washington, June 20.—An effort to get the soldiers' bonus bill before the senate today failed, the senate adopting 51 to 22, a motion by Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, to lay on the table a motion by Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, to displace the tariff bill with the bonus.

HARVEST STARTS AROUND PLAINVIEW

Plainview, June 22.—Wheat harvest has started in the Plainview section. Farmers all over the county are busy limbering up their headers, binders or combines. It is expected that marketing of the new crop will start Monday, and elevator men are making preparations to handle the rush.

LORAIN BANK WILL HAVE A NEW HOME

Loraine, June 20.—The First State Bank of this city will begin the erection of a new brick building for its home in the near future. It will be located where the present bank building sits. S. E. Brown, head of the bank, has developed it into one of the most substantial institutions of its kind in the west.

LUBBOCK PEOPLE ON PLEAS-URE TRIP AT ROSWELL

Roswell, N. M., June 24.—Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Craven, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Noah and family passed through Roswell a day or two ago. "We should like to end our trip right here in Roswell" they said. "This is the best town we have been through on our trip."

MISS IMA SMITH UNDERGOES OPERATION SATURDAY

Miss Ima Smith was operated on Saturday in a local sanitarium for appendicitis. At this writing she is doing nicely, and it is expected that she will be out again in a few days. Her many friends here will be glad to know she is doing so nicely, and hope for her an early recovery and a speedy return to complete health.

Mrs. Ben Broughton of Brownfield, died in Lubbock Saturday the remains being shipped to Brownfield that night by the Rix Company. Mrs. Broughton has been a resident of Brownfield for some time, the home being seven miles west of that little city. She was forty-five years of age, and has been active in the social, moral and civic betterment of that community throughout the time spent there.

A. L. Jarrott and son, Albert Jr., of Austin, Mack and Jordan Sutthin, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jordan, of Lubbock, visited at the home of R. G. Way, at Ralls, Sunday.

Mrs. W. R. Lotspeich, who has been in Lubbock for the past week, visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jordan and family, returned to her home at Crosbyton, Sunday.

General Shake-Up Places Lubbock One Step Ahead

The practicability of moving about has not been made clear to the writer as yet, who never took a move but that something went wrong, bringing about the absolute destruction of patience and a collapse of temper control, but this time we think all Lubbock is going to be greatly improved by a little moving about.

The shake-up will begin with C. C. Hornsby Machinery & Supply Company, who have contracted for a brick building to be erected on their trackage property near the Waples Platter Grocery Company, into which they will move their business after its completion.

Following in the wake of that move, Joe Hilton will move his Cadillac Garage into the building now occupied by Hornsby, and as soon as the building in which he is now located has been completely remodelled to the purpose for which it will be used, W. S. Hodges of Stanton, will establish a general merchandise business there.

We are reliably informed that Mr. Hodges will put in about five thousand dollars worth of furniture and fixtures, and a stock of about twenty-five thousand to thirty thousand dollars value, which will be a great asset to Lubbock. Inasmuch as the Cadillac Garage building is located on Avenue I, in the center of Lubbock's most active district, we are sure Mr. Hodges will enjoy a good patronage.

The business will, we understand, be conducted by Mr. Hodges, assisted by his son and son-in-law, Hodges and Hornsby of the Hornsby Grocery, now located on Avenue J, between 10th and 11th Streets.

While this change will necessitate some moving about, which will prove a little expensive and inconvenient to the participants, it is marking another step forward for Lubbock, and we are mighty glad to know the new building the Hornsby people are to start soon will be a great addition to the town, and which has had a most conspicuous part to play in the development of this city.

Miss Lena Mae Pierce, of Clovis, New Mexico, is here visiting friends, among whom are E. A. Moody and family. Miss Pierce was at one time a resident of Lubbock, and has many friends here who are always glad to have her visit with them.

IN MILADY'S REALM

A thought for today—
Beyond the stars that shine in golden glory,
Beyond the calm sweet moon,
Up the bright ladder saints have trod before thee,
Soul! thou must venture soon.
Come, then my soul, be brave to do and bear,
Thy life is bruised that it may be more sweet,
The cross will soon be left, the crown we'll wear,
Nay, we will cast it at our Savior's feet.
—Henry Burton.

weines, eggs, ham, and other outdoor eats to go with the potato salads, pickles, cheese, fresh fruit, cakes and other picnic numbers. While the cooks were spreading the good things a large part of the bunch went in swimming. A real appetite was developed and when the call for supper was given it was indeed a hungry bunch that flocked around the groaning tables. Everybody had all they wanted—and they all wanted more than was good for them—even before the fresh fruit, cakes and other dainties were passed around. Some folks told about feeling bad for the past few hot days—but came back for a third and fourth plate. We just naturally wonder how they are feeling by now.
At nine-thirty the party began to break up and by a little after ten they were all back in town—many of them stopping to hear the Governor speak, and others stopping by the picture shows.
Mr. and Mrs. Hurbut have the secret of real hosts—that of giving the bunch something to do and leaving them alone. The party was well planned and after it got started carried itself out. There was nothing that could have been added to it to make it pleasant. Some few of the men that went out early in the afternoon reported that Claude had slipped something over on them about some fish but they grinned when they told it, so we suppose it was all right.

Impertinent Paragraphs
Home is all the dearer to some men because they are seldom there. When a baby cries in a man's arms, he quickly concludes that it would do better with its mother. While all men may be born equal, few of them die that way. Unless a man has horse sense, he is apt to make an ass of himself. Learning and wisdom are not always on good terms. Some people refuse to lay up money for a rainy day because they fear a prolonged drought. Good liars are scarce, but we've heard some pretty fair ones. The poor man seldom worries over the trouble of the millionaire. Lots of folks would rather listen to bad news about others than to hear good news about themselves.

If Ananias were alive today, he wouldn't have a chance. Many a fellow gets married because he needs the money. A martyr is a man who meekly wears the clothes his wife selects for him.
Once Removed
Have you observed that most of the women who are inclined to be fat are also disinclined to be fat? We are prompted to this observation by hearing the other day of a lady who went to the hospital and had her appendix removed, simply because she had been assured it would make her thinner. Well, the operation was successful, but the patient thrived. Instead of growing thinner, she grew fatter. Having sacrificed a perfectly good appendix—which she figured she would miss less than her ice cream sodas—she rapidly assumed the proportions of a blimp, together with the weight which one associates with a heavier-than-air machine. Naturally, the lady is considerably peeved, as well as plump. She declares she will never do business at that hospital again. Her drastic efforts to reduce, however, merely show the general public attitude toward hospitals and operations has changed in recent years. People of independent means almost think up excuses to go to hospitals now-a-days, simply to bask in the luxury of being waited on—with complete freedom from business and social obligations. The man whose home life is dull can install himself in the hospital with a pretty trained nurse, and have a good time for two weeks. Not so long ago, if you told your friends you were going to a hospital, they hurried out and grabbed an option on a cemetery lot. If you said you thought you'd have to have an operation, it was the same as saying you'd have to have a tombstone. Your friends went around with long faces, and had their arms measured for mourning bands. And your relations went around with whatever faces God had given them, and wondered if they were mentioned in your will. But now, if you remark that you are going to a hospital, it's no more seriously regarded than if you were to announce that you were going to the mountains or to Bermuda. And if you say that you are going to have an operation, your friends regard you enviously. They realize that you are going to have plenty of time to loaf—no business worries, no responsibilities, no need to dress for dinner, no taxis to dodge or taxi drivers to placate. On top of all that, your acquaintances will send you books to read, candy to eat, and flowers to give a touch of exotic luxury to your sanitary surroundings. Also, don't overlook the possibilities of the chic little nurse who humors your slightest wish. When the time comes for the operation, you have your choice of several fancy anesthetics—all pleasant and soothing to the nerves. The day of the old-fashioned ether is past; you now inhale something which has the odor of orange blossoms. You imagine that you are at a wedding, and just as you are beginning to speculate on whether you'll have a chance to kiss the bride, you slip into oblivion. This brand of anesthetic is quite popular, we understand, with spinners, who thus get closer to the altar in the operating room than they do in the parlor with the lights turned low. After the operation comes the happy days of convalescence, when you wander about and compare notes with the other patients to see which lost most. Then, when you are ready to leave the hospital, comes the most painful part of all—going to work again, leaving the nurse, and paying the bill!

Willing, Anyway
"See here, young man," stormed the irate father, descending the stairs at one a. m., "do you think you can stay in the parlor with my daughter all night?"
"I'll try, sir," responded the imperturbable youth modestly, "but really, I'm afraid I'll have to leave about four or five o'clock."
Did You Know That—
The Garden of Eden has been located in Ohio—but the serpent is still at large? Some of the most fashionable women in New York do not dress well? Some of the fashionable women of New York scarcely dress at all? A business man who makes notes and memorandums on his cuff doesn't get a discount from the laundry? In dressing a fish, it is always best to begin on a small scale? In cold weather, you always leave your face exposed; in hot weather, you always cool your face first?

Disillusionment
Hiram Peterson, of Green Springs, S. C., says that the reason he doesn't praise his wife since their marriage as he did during the happy days of their courtship is that he has discovered he was hugging a delusion then.

Yesterday
The flowers you gave me are dead, long dead,
There is dust on the pages we loved to read;
The leaves have fallen, the swallows fled,

The garden is tangled with thorn and weed.
Others are singing the songs you sang,
Others are walking our old sweet way!
And, alas, I know it is years ago,
But it seems, it seems, like yesterday.
Love, it was long ago,
Love, it was far away;
And we stand apart, faithful heart,
But we love, we love, like yesterday.

What does it matter, O heart of my heart?
Withered and dead the flowers may lie,
And the book be closed and laid apart,
But the words within it will never die.
O love, I look through the mist of tears,
I see you coming again to me
With all the love of our golden years,
Mine forever thru days to be.

Love, it was long ago,
Love, it was far away;
And the days grow late, but I watch and wait
For the love, the love of yesterday.

Bankers Bring Optimistic Reports To the Bankers at Amarillo in Their Convention a Few Days Ago

Amarillo, June 26.—The Panhandle-Plains sections of West Texas are facing what bankers and reputable business men consider the best crop year in its history. People in those sections will be able to swim, bathe and boat in silver dollars this fall, according to information gathered today by the Amarillo district offices of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Substantiation of prosperity tidings is made by practically every banker who recently attended the Panhandle Bankers' Association convention held here. Attestations are:

E. C. Nelson, Floydada banker: "We are going to make a real cotton crop in Floyd County. Hard times will soon be forgotten, along with war and other things that occurred at the same time."

Henry Wilkinson, First State Bank & Trust Co., Hereford: "Deaf Smith has lots of chickens, hogs and cattle. Our country is in fine shape."

Alley Brothers, Hale Center, Panhandle pioneers: "Our whole community is flourishing. There is a good wheat crop in our section."

C. B. Goodell, Drovers Cattle Loan Company, Kansas City: "We are making cattle loans at present. In fact, we are hunting good loans. And you'll be surprised to know that cattlemen are not hunting loans at the present time. The majority of them are staying with the banker who stays with them during the fearful period of depression."

S. L. Rushing, Floydada: "Crop prospects in our locality are wonderful. How crops promise to be the largest in the history of our county. Our county is producing most of the hogs of this section."

J. W. Graham, First State Bank, Mobeetie: "Good crops are assured and our community is thriving. We have every reason to believe that the prices will be better this fall than last year."

C. E. Waite, Stockyards National Bank, Kansas City: "Texas is in a wonderful condition. The return to normalcy is here. The days of tight money and financial stringencies are almost over."

Casey Hughes, First National Bank, Plainview: "We are in the center of the garden spot of the world this year. That's what visitors at the big West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention told us. They ought to see our country since then."

F. V. Sturder, First National Bank, Canadian: "Cattle are in fine shape, better prices are being received and the farmers are assured of a good row crop. We are making great headway in the Canadian country."

Ben Smith, Security State Bank, Portales, New Mexico: "We people in Eastern New Mexico consider that we are really a part of the Panhandle and we are glad that the people of the Panhandle have opened their arms to us."

Bill Johnson, banker and cattleman, Canadian: "Cattle which our firm sent to Kansas pastures are getting 'very fat' and we cattlemen as well as the farmers have every reason to be optimistic over the future."

Loh McCrary, Citizens State Bank of Dalhart: "Good rains have made a good season, which causes 'good crops, good prospects and makes for good business in our section.'"

A. C. Harrison, First State Bank, Happy: "Call the name of my town and you have the feeling that permeates every citizen of my section. Happy is what we are. Good rains insure splendid business conditions this fall."

Beal Broadus, Stockyards National Bank, Kansas City: "You bet we are making loans. The bankers of the country realize that the farmer and cattlemen must be aided if the nation is to prosper."

A. B. Brown, Lockney, banker: "All the people of the Panhandle are urged to come to Lockney and spend the Fourth of July with us. We will have big doings in our city at that time, and we want to see representatives from every town in Texas."

A. B. Crump, Citizens State Bank, Wheeler: "We have more registered hog breeders in our county than in any county in the Panhandle. Our country is in good shape and will continue to be in that condition for our people as diversifying."

The Amarillo District Offices of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce are receiving information from practically every town on the Plains and Panhandle telling of numerous new business houses being built, en-

ORDINANCE NO. 207

An Ordinance fixing the times within which taxes due the City of Lubbock for the years 1910 to 1920, inclusive, shall be paid to the City, prescribing penalties and interest if same are not paid by such fixed time; providing for returning of a delinquent list of such unpaid taxes, for publication thereof, notice and such procedure after delinquency as aforesaid as provided by the General Laws of the State of Texas for collection of delinquent taxes, and declaring an emergency account of same being long unpaid and the need of the City for the Revenue. Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Lubbock, Texas:

Section 1. That all property subject to taxation within the City of Lubbock, Texas, for the years 1910 to 1920, inclusive, as shown by the supplemental roll approved June 8, 1922, shall have the taxes paid thereon by the owner, owners, or persons in charge before the 20th day of September, 1922, and all such taxes are due and payable as of this date. Whether such taxes be for one or more years.

Section 2. On all property and assessment on which any taxes due shall not have been paid before the said 20th day of September, 1922, there shall be added a penalty of ten per centum of the amount of such taxes, and interest from such date at six per centum per annum, payable when such taxes are paid, which shall be a lien on the property.

Section 3. Immediately after the 20th day of September, 1922, the City Secretary shall compile and return to the City Commission a true and complete list of all property delinquent for taxes within the City, showing interest and penalties accrued, with the name, or names, of the owners if he can ascertain the same.

Section 4. After the return of such delinquent list as provided in Section 3, the collection of such taxes, penalties and interest shall be governed by the laws of this State governing collection of delinquent taxes, which laws are hereby adopted.

Section 5. The fact that there is a large sum due the City which is imperatively needed to support it, creates an emergency and necessity that the rule requiring an ordinance to be read at two meetings before adoption be suspended, and this ordinance shall be effective on the date of its adoption, after publication for the time required by law and the charter.

Approved this 22nd day of June, 1922.

(Seal) Percy Spencer, Mayor, City of Lubbock, Texas.
Attest—J. R. Germany, City Secretary of Lubbock, Texas.

Approved as to form: R. A. Sower, City Attorney. 35-TF

Big Automobile Race Program Is Being Worked Out For Abilene On the Fourth of July That Will Eclipse All Events

Abilene, Texas, June 26.—One of the biggest July Fourth gatherings in Texas is expected at Abilene for the Second Annual Independence Day Automobile Races at the track of the West Texas Fair. The first event of this kind, staged last year, drew a record breaking crowd for this part of the country, and in anticipation of an even larger attendance this year the Fair directors have made valiant efforts to enlarge the racing plant and provide seats in abundance. The grandstand has been enlarged and improved and bleachers with a seating capacity of 2000, erected. Seats are therefore assured for more than 5,000, which is double the seating capacity of last year when a large part of the crowd had to witness the races from "standing room only."

Interest in the races centers in the assured class which will occur between Glenn M. Breed of San Antonio, rated as the premier dirt track driver of America, and Phil E. Shafer of Fort Worth, who has just returned from Indianapolis, where he drove in the Memorial Day classic in competition with the best drivers and fastest cars of Europe and America. Shafer drove as a member of the Dusenberg team and put his car across the mark at the end of the 500 mile grind in fourth place.

Breed will again be at the wheel of his big white Hudson, while Shafer will ride in a Dusenberg, reputed to be one of the fastest things on wheels ever brought to this State.

That either of these favorites will win the fifty mile event in which more than $2,000 in cash prizes is hung up, is by no means assured as there are fifteen other contestants to be reckoned with. There is Texas George Clark, a veteran of the racing game since the days of Barney Oldfield, and always a dangerous driver in any contest. He will drive Blocker's Hudson, from San Angelo, a sister car to Breed's speed boat. There is Fred Milburn of Fort Worth in a very fast Cole job, and some others who may prove the dark horse in the battle and come through for first honors in the long grind.

The program, which will start at 2 o'clock the afternoon of July Fourth, will be composed of four events. First will be time trials for place. Then two five-mile events for cars failing to qualify for the big show in which only eight can run. And last comes the fifty mile clash in which the eight fastest entrants only will participate.

WOODROW SCHOOL NO. 21 CLOSED EIGHT MONTH TERM

The Woodrow school No. 21, closed Friday after a most successful term.

Misses Rosa Mae Jones, principal, and Willie Bratcher, assistant, have been untiring in their efforts to make the work just as profitable and pleasant for every individual pupil as it was at all possible, and to them a great part of the success of the school may be given.

In the meantime the people of that community have been mighty glad to know that the teachers were heartily welcomed to teach the school another term. It is not known at this time, however, whether they will accept the place or not.

The success of the schools of the county depends altogether on the faculty, and we are certainly in hopes such splendid teachers as just closed the Woodrow school may be employed in every school in the county.

GIRL SCOUTS RECEIVE INSTRUCTION BOOKS, ETC.

Mrs. Fred W. Boerner, director of the local organization of Girl Scouts, received a shipment of books, guides, patterns, etc., for the task of carrying on the work. The equipment received has been needed very badly, in fact the work has been held up considerably by it not being here, and we are sure that the organization will make a rapid headway from here out.

Mrs. Boerner and Spencer are heading the work and through their efforts everything has been going along nicely in spite of the fact that they have been seriously handicapped for the need of equipment.

The books in question have full instructions for scout work, and patterns for all the clothing they will need, including scout suits, pack rolls and hats, also cooking utensils and the like.

With these instructions the scouts can make many of the articles they have been needing to conduct their work.

DAUGHTER OF SHERIFF HOLCOMB IN HOSPITAL

Eunice, twelve year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Holcomb, was taken to a local hospital the first of the week, where an operation for appendicitis was made Wednesday.

Friday morning her condition was made more critical when a well developed case of mumps set in, but in spite of all that, she is getting along mighty well at this time.

LOCAL MEN GOING OUT AFTER WHOLESALE TRADE

Gerald V. Smith and J. D. Lindsey, proprietors of the Texas Variety Company, spent Friday in Lamesa on business pertaining to their wholesale trade.

Messrs. Lindsey and Smith are live wires, and we are mighty glad to know they are reaching out after the business. While they have had the wholesale department of their business established only a short time, they have been doing a lot of work in that department, and are filling large orders every day.

There is something about a hustler that makes people want to deal with them, which possibly accounts for the success of the Texas Variety Store.

"Honest Frank" Wilkins, a pioneer of the Littlefield community, was in Lubbock Friday transacting business. Everything in that section is going along fine and dandy according to Mr. Wilkins, as the farmers have a splendid crop, which bids fair to outstrip all previous records for productions.

BREAKING UP BROODY HENS

(By F. W. Kazmeier, Poultry Husbandman, A. & M. College)

At this time of the year, among the breeds like Rhode Island Reds, Orpingtons, Rocks, Wyandottes and the large and medium weight breeds, many of the old hens and some of the young hens show signs of broodiness. The older the hens the more broody they become. The large breeds also have this characteristic more developed than the small breeds like the Leghorns. The Leghorns and other small breeds are considered non-setters, but even among these when they get old many show signs of broodiness.

In happy days past—the saying originated that it is time to "break up" the broody hens. The methods proceeded or used would clearly indicate that the procedure has been properly named. Many people today actually "break up" broody hens.

Many old and impractical ways have been suggested, but I shall endeavor to name only a few. Some people have put alarm clocks under the hens; others have tied red neckties around the hen's neck; still others have put them in a sack and tied the sack to the clothes line and reel; some put rocks under the hen; some duck them into a barrel full of rain water; some others put the broody hen into a merry go round—some few try to starve the hen; all, as you will see, real methods of breaking up setting hens.

The best way of breaking up broody hens is by giving them care and feed that will start them to laying again. It is not so important to break them as broody hens as it is to start them to laying again.

The easiest way to break up a broody hen is to put her in a box that has a slat bottom and hang the box up so that it will swing. This gives a good circulation of air under the hen which has a tendency to keep them cool. While a hen is broody, her temperature is several degrees higher than at other times. Be sure and give her plenty of feed and water, also milk and green food while in the prison. If she is taken from the nest the first night she attempts to set, and put into the slat bottom swinging prison, she will be completely broken up in two days, and they should be laying again in a few days. Cruel and abusive treatment may stop her from laying for several months.

Broody hens, if allowed to remain on the nest will ruin dollars worth of eggs, not to say anything about the fact that they are not producing.

In the spring and summer months it is advisable to place the broody coop outside in the open, because there is more to attract the hen's attention, and it is cooler. These conditions tend to break up broodiness.

Indications of Broodiness
When a hen becomes broody she remains on the nest longer when laying, she leaves a few soft, downy feathers in the nest. When approached while she is on the nest, she begins to cluck, ruffle her feathers, and peck at the intruder. If left on the nest, soon most of the feathers on her breast drop off.

Female water fowls when broody, give a warning hiss at the male is likely to do at any time when molested.
Among the ducks, the Pekin and Indian Runner are mostly non-setters. In Geese, turkeys, and the common kind of poultry, broodiness is general.

As a rule, increased egg production is accompanied by decreased broodiness.

MAYFIELD HOPEFUL THAT ORIENT WILL BE SAVED

Austin, June 19.—Allison Mayfield, Texas Railroad Commission chairman, returned today from Wichita, Kansas, where he attended the meeting of Governors and Railroad Commissioners of States intersected by the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient Railroad. The conference was called by William T. Kemper, receiver of the Orient, who said the road's credit has about been exhausted and that it must either be junked or some way found to finance it.

Mr. Mayfield said that while a gloomy picture of the future was painted, he is hopeful that the Orient will yet be saved and not junked. Mr. Mayfield attended the meeting as a representative of the Railroad Commission and did not represent the Governor of Texas, as stated in Wichita dispatches.

Recalling the history of the Orient, Mr. Mayfield said that the blow given it by the Federal Railroad Administration and financiers when the Government first refused to take it over came during the severe drought and that the property had never been able to recover from so many adversities happening at one time. He declared that it is well situated and when connected up would no doubt be a valuable property.

TEXAS LAND EXCHANGE TO OCCUPY NEW OFFICE

The new office for the Texas Land Exchange is nearing completion, and the company will move in within a few days.

Elaborate and expensive furniture, rugs, etc., will make that one of the most attractive offices in town, and as it is located on 11th Street, north of the Postoffice, it will be a very popular place.

The Alexander Brothers, proprietors of the Exchange, are live wires, and know how to reach out and get the business, and we are mighty glad indeed to know that they will be so conveniently located.

A show window in which a typical fair booth will be placed, is arranged, and the finest specimen of all kinds of field crops grown here will be used to fill the space, which we are sure will be a great drawing card for that business.

Nice rooms adjoining the office are being equipped for work-rooms where circulars, etc., may be folded, and made ready to mail. This office will be a credit to Lubbock, and the fact that those fellows have already made a reputation as land dealers of the first class, assures their continued success in selling and exchanging the greatest farm-lands anywhere.

AT THE CHURCHES

NOTICE—The Avalanche is sparing no effort to make this column just as interesting and as informational as it is at all possible, but inasmuch as the Creator has a monopoly on omnipotence it is impossible for us to attend all church services, and therefore we have to gather a great deal of the items in this column at random, and suggest that it would be a good idea for some church member, an active worker, in every church, and in every department, to be appointed press agent for that church and for the different departments.

If such member is too busy to write the accounts of the work, we will be glad to relieve him or her of that responsibility—just give us the notes on what was done, and we will call for them regularly each Monday morning, and this column therefore will be a great deal better.

We are deeply interested in church work in Lubbock, and we are willing to promote the cause in every manner possible. Let's pull together.

Church of the Nazarenes
 The close of the great revival meeting Sunday night, June 18, left everything in the church going along in a greatly improved manner. More interest is being shown in all lines of the work, prayer meeting, Sunday school and church services are so greatly improved that we feel that the time spent in holding that meeting was beyond question the time of greatest achievement for our work.

In that meeting forty-six were saved and sanctified, eight new members were received in the church, and a great revival spirit seems to predominate.

—Church Reporter.

Methodist
 Sunday School is taking a little step forward, but still there is plenty room for improvement yet. However, when the pastor called on all who would try to bring an extra member next Sunday to stand up, a goodly number responded. Let's go with that work. Nothing but indifference can keep the Sunday School from taking a great step forward.

Preaching services were attended by a large number, and especially in the morning hour was enthusiasm and interest evident.

The League attendance has doubled within the past month. E. E. Hailey and the district representatives to Glendon are inserting new pep into that organization with much success, and willingness to carry the work along themselves.

One hundred and twenty-five persons, it is reported, attended prayer meeting Wednesday night. Pretty good, but there should have been two hundred and twenty-five to that great service. Only thirty minutes are spent in that work, the most profitable thirty minutes anyone could spend.

Remember there are to be meetings of the various committees on next Wednesday night.

First Christian Church
 Sunday School was conducted at the Community Auditorium with the usual attendance, with more enthusiasm shown in all departments by all the classes.

A large crowd assembled at the preaching hour, the revival making good headway, with large numbers at each service.

There should be, and is, an awakening of the revival spirit among the church people of Lubbock, it seems, and we are glad to see you taking part in this work.

Mr. Wright has something worth hearing to say at every meeting, and the more who come to hear him the better.

—Reporter.

Baptist
 About two hundred and sixty persons attended Sunday School, and the congregation was greatly enlarged for the morning preaching service, to hear Rev. Bowen speak on "The Awakened Church," which was interesting throughout.

At the evening hour the congregation was not so large, but a mighty interesting service was held, "The Successful Life" being ably handled by the pastor.

Prayer meeting evening offers the people of this church splendid opportunities to work together for a great cause, and we insist that more interest be taken in this work.

The fact that ten new members were received in the church Sunday, speaks for the efforts the leaders are making to enlarge and better the church.

—Reporter.
