PLANS ARE BEING MADE TO LOCATE ORPHANS HOME NEAR LUBBOCK

CHURCH OF CHRIST CONGREGATION IS BACK OF THE MOVEMENT—RECEIVED ENCOURAGEMENT

LAND OFFERED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Advantages of Locating the Home Here are Realized by Lubbock People Who are Willing to Meet Any Financial Requirements Placed Upon Them by Those Heading Institution.

Lubbock is to have an Orphans Home. This conclusion has been made after W. L. Sweeney, a Canadian, operator of the Sweeney Orphanage of that city, has made his proposition to the people of Lubbock, going before the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce last week.

Bro. Sweeney is a member and worker in the Church of Christ, and the movement here is back of the movement one hundred per cent strong. Bro. Sweeney has preached to the people of that church on several occasions, and his many friends are glad to support him in every manner possible.

Judge Thomas Tripp, president of the Fort Worth Investment Bond & Mortgage Company, has been here with Bro. Sweeney the past several days, and has put his proposition for financing the home before the people here. He spoke to a fair representation of the prime movers of the various churches and civic organizations Friday night, and it is the consensus of opinion that the plan as outlined by him will be adopted for financing the proposition.

The Sweeney Orphan Home located here would be a great thing for Lubbock people, in that along with the material advantages that are being so miraculously made here, something in the line of being directly in touch with a proposition designed to offer a kindly, helpful service to the unfortunate children of the land will be their opportunity.

Bro. Sweeney is a dreamer, whose dreams have not been his master, but his servants. He had an ideal to which to work in maintaining a home, and he believes that in making Lubbock the location for his home he will be given a better opportunity to construct such buildings as will best suit his ideal.

He plans to ultimately build a home here within a class of its own, and he is very optimistic that the accomplishment of that work will be realized before many years have passed.

The home will be complete in every conceivable manner.

A children's hospital with the most modern fixtures will be one of the features.

The Chamber of Commerce has agreed to donate to the Orphanage one hundred and sixty acres of fine land three miles south of the city on the Tahoka road. This location is ideal, and the land very fine. The home will operate its own dairy and farm, maintain a large flock of chickens, and some hogs, and in fact all features common to the average farm home will be enjoyed.

Texas Rotarians Are Aiding Many of the Boy Scouts

Galveston, Sept. 6.—Rotary as an increased moral force and power for good was envisaged for Texas in the discussion of plans for the coming year and problems confronting Rotary Clubs, at the conference of club executives of the thirteenth district, Rotary International, which opened here this morning for a two-day meeting. Seventy-five presidents, secretaries and past governors of the thirteenth district, which includes all of Texas, with the exception of El Paso, were here at the meeting, representing forty-seven of the sixty-four clubs in this district.

Among definite measures decided on in the session today were decisions to attempt the raising of $15,000 in Texas for the purpose of furthering the Boy Scout movement and to hold a spring conference next year among newly elected district governors, past district governors and club executives.

The spring conference will largely be in the nature of an experiment. Money for furthering the Scout movement will be collected under the auspices of Rotary Clubs in the State and will be used principally for employing scout experts.

Practically all of the visiting Rotarians were present at the weekly luncheon of the Galveston Rotary Club today. John V. Singleton of Waxahachie, governor of the thirteenth district, and J. W. M. M. Dallas, Litcher Stark of Orange, T. S. Reed of Beaumont and George Holmgren, all past governors of the district, were speakers at the luncheon.

This afternoon the Rotary executives enjoyed a dip in the surf and at night were guests of the Galveston club at a dinner given at Hotel Galvez. Tomorrow afternoon the visitors will be taken on a boat sail. Tomorrow's program will consist

Engineers Have Finished Survey On The Proposed Railroad Across Plains Project Promoted by Colonel Powell

Engineers have completed the survey of the Texas, Panhandle & Gulf railroad between Tucumcari, N. M., and Seymour, Texas, where connection of the proposed railway would be made with the Gulf, Texas & Western, supplying an integral part of the proposed through railroad from the Dawson coal fields to Fort Worth. Colonel C. H. Powell, who is promoting the road, and E. J. Noonan, nationally famous railroad engineer and contractor, were in Fort Worth Wednesday and gave out the information just before leaving for their Chicago headquarters, where they will compile their information and co-ordinate statistics preparatory to securing, financing and permit from the interstate commerce commission for the early construction of the line.

"It will require several months for us to get our figures compiled and in presentable condition for submission to financial interests in the North and East," declared Colonel Noonan. "After several months of continuous work along the route, running the surveys and mapping the route, securing all the available data as to present and potential tonnage, we have completed the huge task and are now in a position to take concrete action in the premises."

E. J. Noonan, engineer, declared that in his entire experience of railroad construction and engineering he had never been identified with a proposed railroad which offered greater opportunities for capital, for development of the country it would traverse and for making dividends from the start than the proposed railroad from Tucumcari to Seymour.

Great Opportunity

"It will develop the greatest latent scope of country in the United States not now served by a railroad."

"It will be a road that will fit into the railroad geography of the country. At Dawson it will pick up the immense tonnage of fine coal, and after ascending the caprock near Tucumcari it will penetrate the greatest wheat country in the Southwest, not to speak of the great shallow-water territory where irrigation is destined to play an important part in the next decade. The line will serve the great livestock interests by providing a short and direct line with the Fort Worth market in competition with the Kansas City market, now securing the bulk of cattle shipments of that section. Below the southern caprock the proposed line will operate through what has been considered the finest cotton country in Texas. The entire line can be built economically and the bugbear in the form of the caprock can be scaled by means of a low gradient stretch up Cottonwood canyon near Silverton."

"The proposed Panhandle & Gulf railroad, as surveyed, will have its northern terminus at Tucumcari. It will intersect the Santa Fe's Amarillo and Clovis line at Friona, the Santa Fe's Amarillo and Sweetwater line at Tulla, the Quanah, Acme & Pacific line at Paducah, the Orient at Truscott, and will have its southern terminus at Seymour, where direct connections will be made with the Gulf, Texas and Western for shipments to Fort Worth, and where direct connection with Oklahoma points will be made by the Wichita Valley."

Has Not Asked Finances

Something unique in the way of railway promotion was revealed by Colonel Powell and Engineer Noonan in this project. Not a single town along the proposed route was asked to bear a cent of expense in connection with the surveying or preliminaries. All the expenses were borne by Colonel Powell. In order that facts that will convince northern and eastern capital questionnaires were sent to every farmer residing within a distance of eight miles on either side of the proposed route from Seymour to Tucumcari. This questionnaire sought to obtain information as to the amount of acreage each farmer has, how much is in cultivation, how much not in cultivation, production of the various commodities last year, and such other questions by which the promoters might arrive at definite information as to the potential tonnage status of a railroad built along the route selected.

"This road will be built," said Colonel Powell. "It is a question of a few months until something definite will be announced. We have gone to heavy expense making the surveys and we are quite sure that when we are all set, the project will be put over in a big way." We have no hesitancy in saying that when we have arranged all our statistics and compiled our figures we shall secure the financial support of capitalists who are interested. The line will mean a great deal for Fort Worth, for it will bring the livestock here, with the greatest coal fields on the North American continent, and it will bring great wheat and cotton production of that immense territory to Fort Worth's market. Ultimately we expect to build our own line from Seymour to Fort Worth," said Powell.

Prominent Promoters

Colonel Powell, the man behind the project, has had liberal experience in railway construction, has been identified with big interests in Mexico, and other countries. He is a strong character, liberal in his views, and a thorough developer of territory. He has associated with him some of the nationally known figures of finance. Noonan is known in Texas and the North as one of the biggest engineers in the country. He has built a number of railroads and his advice and counsel in an advisory nature is always sought by members of the interstate commerce commission and the owners of railway securities not managing railroad properties. Noonan was engaged for a time in connection with the construction of the Panama Canal. In a statement to The Record representative Mr. Noonan declares that the present project he has undertaken for Mr. Powell has greater potentialities than any other that he has handled, and he declared emphatically that there was not a doubt that the line would be built within the shortest time, that the interstate commerce commission would give its sanction to the building immediately that it had been financed, and referring to the matter of financing, he said laconically:

"And that will be the easiest part of the whole thing."

Colonel Powell and Engineer Noonan left over the Katy late Wednesday for Chicago, where they will be engaged for some time in compiling information and statistics from the mass of questionnaires which they collected on the surveys. They will also figure out the details connected with the cost of construction. Then they will submit their figures to interested capital and shortly thereafter expect to make a definite announcement, they said. Fort Worth Record.

The first week of school last year found a few more than twelve hundred scholastics in Lubbock ready for school, and just to prove that the talk about Lubbock's rapid growth is true we will cite you to the fact that the first week of the present term closed Friday with fifteen hundred and sixty-two bright-eyed scholars clamoring for a place to receive their instructions.

These figures can be taken for what they may. We take them for concrete indications that Lubbock is making leaps and bounds in growth, and we look with pride upon her development.

We are going ahead at a tremendous rate, and anyone who would throw a monkey wrench in the machinery that propels this city along would have a hard time to find a more vital artery to affect than our schools, but we hope that in spite of crowded conditions such close cooperation on the part of the patrons will be realized that the school will go along in a creditable manner in spite of the unalterable condition.

EVERYTHING IS READY FOR FAIR THREE BIG RED LETTER DAYS HERE

HEADS OF THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS HAVE BEEN UNTRING IN MAKING NECESSARY ARRANGEMENTS

AGRICULTURAL HALL HAS BEEN ENLARGED

Businessmen, Stockmen and Farmers Have Worked Hand in Hand to Make the Fair the Big Event of the Season on the Plains. Will Stimulate Interest in Resources of This Country.

Arrangements are being rapidly perfected for the big South Plains Fair, which promises to be better than ever before. The new agricultural building has been erected, sixty by one hundred feet, which will give ample space for all agricultural exhibits. Despite the size of this building indications point it being filled to the limit.

A large number of counties have already signified their intention of exhibiting. It is gratifying to see the full co-operation of the South Plains counties in the South Plains Fair. All seem to take the attitude that it is the fair for the entire South Plains country, and are anxious to make it bigger and better each year. This co-operation by the surrounding counties is certainly appreciated by Lubbock, and the city of both city and county are working hard to make the fair worthy of such co-operation.

The largest number of community booths that has shown for years will exhibit this year. The communities of this section are proud of their own neighborhood, and are glad to show what they can do by a community exhibit. Those who won premiums last year are coming back with a vim this year, and a large number of others are planning to make these communities hustle for their laurels. Such work by the people of these communities brings its own reward whether a premium is won or not.

In the livestock department, everything is being done to make this a big attraction. This year additional facilities have been provided for stock, and it is thought that there will be space for all. This department has attracted much attention each year, and the Superintendent, J. W. Jennings, is planning to make it better this year.

An attractive program of entertainment has been arranged, and the visitors will find plenty to do after they have looked over the exhibits. The airplane stunts will no doubt draw many, as the Curtis Airplane Company has a reputation of putting on a good program. The fireworks at night, the community baseball games and the carnival will make things interesting. The diamond rings to be given away during the fair by the Chamber of Commerce is exciting much interest.

In fact September 28, 29 and 30, will be red letter days for the South Plains.

A big day in Lubbock means a big one for every individual whose selfishness will permit whole-hearted participation in the events, and we are sure that in no way can the people of this city do greater credit to themselves than to throw off the shackles of self-conceit, if there be one here restrained by such, and turn yourself, your automobile, and your good humor free to help those attending the fair have a nice time.

We are given an opportunity to display some genuine western hospitality, and of course everyone wants Lubbock to lead in every manner possible, and we suggest that the better way to get about maintaining that reputation is for every individual to appoint himself a special committee of one to show the visitors a good time.

There may be those who are at loss as to what to show the visitors who come, but we are sure that it is not so much what you show them, but in the spirit your services are offered that impress them, and we are sure that anyone can see enough of Lubbock in a very short time to cement their regard for this city.

We want to show those who attend the fair a good time.

Pump up the tires of that old Liz that hasn't been on the streets since the last rain and get ready for the fair. Take a bunch of the visitors out to see some of our fine dairy or hog farms, take them anywhere they want to go, and we are sure that before they are ready to return to their homes, Lubbock will have a place in their heart big enough to move them here in little while.

Lets all have lots of fun at the fair.

Lets show the other fellow a good time.

SOMETHING THAT OUGHT TO BE OF INTEREST TO ALL

The first week of school last year found a few more than twelve hundred scholastics in Lubbock ready for school, and just to prove that the talk about Lubbock's rapid growth is true we will cite you to the fact that the first week of the present term closed Friday with fifteen hundred and sixty-two bright-eyed scholars clamoring for a place to receive their instructions.

These figures can be taken for what they may. We take them for concrete indications that Lubbock is making leaps and bounds in growth, and we look with pride upon her development.

We are going ahead at a tremendous rate, and anyone who would throw a monkey wrench in the machinery that propels this city along would have a hard time to find a more vital artery to affect than our schools, but we hope that in spite of crowded conditions such close cooperation on the part of the patrons will be realized that the school will go along in a creditable manner in spite of the unalterable condition.

ers are brought together in this new organization which is designed to do helpful work for every legitimate business institution in the city.

"There are two ways to do everything. A big way and a little way, and the bankers of this city want to conduct their business in an admirable manner, and are going to continue to do so," Mr. Stevens said, complimenting the other bank presidents for their big view of the situation.

Businessmen in Lubbock have too great an ideal for the genuineness of the city in which they operate, and have too much respect for the other fellow to waste time in unfair competition, and that we believe, is the keynote to the success of this growing city.

Lubbock businessmen and citizens are building, working, growing and prospering together. "In unity there is strength."

SISTER OF MRS. J. H. MOORE DIED AT SHERMAN THURSDAY

The many friends of Mrs. J. H. Moore were grieved to learn of the death of her sister, Mrs. Eula Day, which occurred at Sherman Thursday of last week.

Decensed is survived by four children, and many other relatives and friends. Her home was at Gunter, Texas, where the remains were laid to rest near the grave of her husband who died several years ago.

FIVE GINS AT COLORADO RUNNING FOR THE SEASON

A total of 788 bales of cotton had been received at the five gins at Colorado up to noon Thursday and the staple is just now commencing to move on a large scale. The daily receipts are gradually increasing each day and within the next week the five plants will probably be running night and day. Gin receipts Wednesday were 134 bales, while during the day Thursday it is estimated that 182 bales were received. Prices paid for the staple during the week have ranged from 19 1/2 cents to 21 cents. Seed is selling at the gins at $25 per ton. The seed cotton is unusually clean, as no rain has fallen on the crop since it began to open.—Colorado Record.

LUBBOCK PEOPLE VISITING IN ROSWELL THIS WEEK

Roswell, New Mexico, September 6.—S. E. Coleman and wife of Lubbock, were recent registrants at Roswell's tourist camp ground while on their way to El Paso.

London taxicabs are said to suffer from old age. The disease has spread to this country.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR CROSBY COUNTY FAIR

E. C. Young attended a mass meeting of the Chambers of Commerce of Ralls, Lorenzo and Crosby, at Ralls Thursday night, and reports that the Lorenzo Chamber of Commerce 35-piece band was much in evidence at the meeting, and that the music they made was a credit to the town.

The band has been organized only two months, but during that time much effort has been placed back of it, and we are sure that when Crosby County Fair is pulled off the county bands will have something to offer the visitors.

The meeting Thursday night was called to discuss the Crosby County Fair and we are glad to know that the people of that county are pulling together to make that one of the big events of the year. We hope they find no hindrance to lessen their enthusiasm in that great work.

LIGHTNING FIRES GRASS IN SPADE PASTURE SATURDAY

Lightning fired the grass in one of the pastures of the Spade ranch Saturday night, and more than three hundred acres was burned over before the fire was gotten under control.—Colorado Record.

Jack Henderson, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Henderson, of the Avalanche, Friday and Saturday. He was enroute home from Slaton, where he had spent several days visiting his aunt, Mrs. Ely. His mother is an instructor in the Plainview school, and the youngster was given the time to visit his relatives while she attended the Teachers' Institute at Canyon. He is a bright chap, and we were mighty glad to have him visit in Lubbock.

Community Base Ball Will Be Great Attraction at the Fair; Silver Loving Cup Offered Champion Contestants

Community baseball will be a main feature of the Fair. This announcement was made Thursday by Geo. W. Briggs, who is working out a schedule for the games. It is planned that all teams of this section will be entered, the games to be played each day, and the losers eliminated, leaving the winning teams to play for the championship on the last day of the fair. It is hoped to have enough teams entered to have a game each day, and from the management Mrs. Briggs has received, it seems altogether likely that at least that many teams will be entered.

As we understand the rules of the contest no team is to be allowed to participate whose home is a town of more than one thousand people. Communities are to play a big place in these events, and as there are several teams who have stacked up an enviable record throughout this season amateur baseball with them is almost as good as professional.

Working lot, and we are sure that when they meet for supremacy in the great American game they will certainly make a showing.

Briggs is quite a hustler, and we are sure that the games will be carried out successfully.

The Fair association is not to let those fellows play just for the fun of it either, as they are to present the champions with a beautiful silver loving cup, on which is to be engraved the name of the recipients, the date of the game, together with an inscription from the Panhandle-South Plains Fair Association.

Baseball leaders should get in touch with Mr. Briggs at once and see that their teams may enter. There are a few particulars that should be learned about, when, where and how to enter the teams, and Mr. Briggs will appreciate the closest co-operation on the part of all community team leaders in making this part of the arrangement complete.

Remember that in getting your team lined up in this contest you are going to run a mighty good chance to become known as the champion of this section, and those who attend the games will have occasion to see just what kind of fellows make up your community. If you are proud of them get them in the Panhandle & South Plains Fair Association baseball contest.

Mrs. M. A. Baumgardner and children, returned Saturday from Tulsa, Oklahoma, where they spent several weeks visiting at the home of her father, J. W. Moseley. She reports everything looking mighty good here, as compared with the appearance of that country, and we are glad to know that her high regard for Lubbock was strengthened by a comparison of the section visited and the plains.

HOW TO PREVENT AND CURE SORE HEAD AND CHICKEN POX

By F. W. Kazmeier, Poultry Husbandman, A. & M. College

In the fall of the year on the farm, in the back yard and on the specializing poultry farm there is one disease that is looked upon with great dread and fear. Only this morning a man told me that chicken pox was all over his side of town, among the chickens. This disease spreads very rapidly. At this time of the year, the germ appears to be in the very air the chickens breathe. If your chickens are not affected now, be on your guard, because it will only be a question of a short time before signs of it will be cropping out. Watch for it!

We have found that there are two forms of sore head or chicken pox; there is one, the sore head alone, this is easily cured and seldom causes any great mortality. The other is sore head accompanied with colds and rous. This is extremely hard to cure and generally causes a great mortality.

The big thing to remember in controlling all poultry disease is to resort to preventative measures rather than curative measures. This is especially true with reference to this disease. One of the greatest ways of preventing this disease is by feeding the chicks so they are full and properly nourished. We have found that improperly nourished fowls are much more likely to contract that disease. For this reason, we place great stress on the feeds and feeding at this time. We see to it that the hens have plenty to eat and drink at all times. We also see to it that the feed is properly mixed. We have experienced this year more than ever the importance of feeding chickens skim milk in some form. It develops them rapidly and keeps them so very healthy and well nourished that they are much less apt to contract the disease. This is very important. First, go out to the feed house and see to it that your hens are not under nourished. Feed them well, give large quantities of milk and green food.

We feed the following dry mash, which is kept in hoppers before them all the time: equal parts by weight of wheat bran, wheat shorts, and corn meal and 20 per cent of meat scraps. In addition, we give one feeding a day of screened corn chops. They have all the grit, green food, milk and fresh water, they can drink. They have plenty of shade, and we place the feed hoppers and drinking vessels in the shade. This ration as given is fed to our growing stock.

Culling and Isolation
We cull our stock closely every week. All weak and stunted looking individuals are at once disposed of. We have found that the weaklings are always the first ones to contract the disease and spread it to the rest of the flock. Dispose of all runts. Every day the entire flock is carefully examined for signs of the disease. If any signs are found, regardless of how small the infection, the bird is at once isolated. This is important, because the disease spreads so very rapidly. It pays well to go to this little extra trouble. During September and October, especially is it important to be on the lookout for this disease. After a rain or spell of wet weather, this disease is more apt to show itself. Watch for it! If you discover birds with slight colds, be sure to remove them also, because colds often are the forerunners of sore head.

Crowding and Ventilation
Of all the many causes, overcrowding in the houses and on the floor or on the ground. In the case of growing chicks, it is important that you teach them to roost early in life. The earlier the better. Get them on the roost.

Chickens overcrowded on the ground are almost sure to contract the disease sooner or later. Give the chickens more room. If necessary move them into movable houses and scatter the houses out about the farm. This will do much to help control the disease.

The Ventilation is Important
Only this week we entered a hen house so close and stuffy it is a miracle that not all chickens had colds and chicken pox. Go around to your hen houses and coops and see that they have large openings on all four sides. Do not be afraid of drafts. A draft on the chickens at night while they are on the roost, at this time of the year is desirable. It is also true that if you have liberal openings on all four sides of the house there will be less drafts thru the house than when only two sides are open. Anyhow, we know that at this time of the year fresh air in abundance is our only chance of preventing chicken pox and fall colds. A lack of air is what is causing all the trouble, and not too much air as some people are prone to think. Get out there with a saw and hammer and increase the ventilation. Do not be afraid of drafts, now. In the winter time, of course, we do not want drafts upon the hens at night; but now, it is a different thing.

Cleanliness
We have observed that flocks of chickens that are kept under more or less filthy conditions contract the disease much earlier than those kept under more sanitary conditions. We recollect one flock kept in a dirty back yard, much too small, with the kitchen slop thrown in with the chickens, no green food and lacking a grit, that every fall, earlier than usual, contracted this disease. Clean up and give the chickens at least a half a chance to live. Plow and grade up the ground if necessary and reduce the number of chickens.

Symptoms of the Disease
Very often, but not always, sore head is accompanied with colds in some form. The symptoms of colds are running at nostrils, sneezing and coughing. These are accompanied by a characteristic odor. In the case of sore head, patches of sores covered with scabs, resembling nodules from the size of a pin-head to that of a pea, on the surface of the comb, wattles, earlobes, face and other unfeathered parts of the head, appear. Sometimes these sores increase so in number that they make the bird blind and very unsightly. We believe that the symptoms are so well understood it is not necessary for us to devote much space to that purpose.

Introducing the Disease
The disease is caused by a filterable virus, and it spreads very fast. It may be introduced by pigeons, birds, or by fowls from shows from infected coops, etc. It is a good plan to quarantine all fowls purchased or returned from exhibitions, for a period of ten days.

Treatment
Many remedies have been recommended. We have found the use of a special vaccine the best for preventing this disease. This vaccine is now being prepared by the Veterinary Department of A. & M. College of Texas, at College Station. It is supplied at cost, together with the proper syringes for injecting it, also full instructions. We would suggest that you write this department for the vaccine. Remember that the vaccine is not a cure, but more of a preventative, and must therefore be injected in the very early stages of the disease or before it has started. It is a preventative vaccine and used quite extensively in California, in the Petaluma district.

A good remedy is epsom salts about once every two weeks. This salt is to be given at the rate of one half teaspoonful per half grown chicken and in case the disease is present, we increase this dose by doubling the amount. We give it dissolved in water and use the water to moisten a part of the dry mash mixture. In this way all of them will get a dose of epsom salts.

We paint the sore with tincture of iodine and keep it up until the bird improves.

To each 100 pounds of dry mash we add five pounds of powdered sulphur. This is placed before the affected fowls as a feed.

P. H. JOHNSON SELLS STUDIO INTERESTS

P. H. Johnson, well known photographer and picture man, has sold out his business here, and will leave immediately for Colorado, where he has accepted a responsible position with the Eastman Kodak Co. Mr. Johnson has had quite an extensive experience in the picture business, and was at one time a specialty man for the Eastman people.

Since coming to this city he has enjoyed a nice patronage from the local people, and has many friends here who will regret to see him leave. Mrs. Turnbeau and Miss Lula Jones will have charge of the studio, having bought the business from Mr. Johnson.

AD CLARK AT HOME FROM FT. WORTH & CORPUS CHRISTI

Ad Clark, whose absence from Lubbock for the summer has occasioned great regret by his many friends, returned Saturday from Corpus Christi and Fort Worth, where he spent a great deal of the summer fishing, and after the cotton season opened got into his work of buying the staple, and now that Lubbock county farmers are gathering some of their crop he is here to buy just as much of it as it is possible.

Ad has been one of the most energetic members of the Kiwanis club, and we are sure that in no other organization in which he might have worked could there have been more members as happy as they were among the Kiwanians in

CHIROPRACTIC

Chiropractic teaches that the backbone is composed of movable segments (vertebrae), between which the nerves emit that lead from the brain to all parts of the body; that these spinal joints sometimes become slightly misaligned and press upon the spinal nerves and that this pressure impairs the work of the nerve so that it doesn't properly transmit either mental impulses or vibrations.

For instance: If the nerves leading to the stomach are pressed upon or pinched, we have stomach trouble; if it be the nerves to the liver that are pinched we have liver trouble; pressure on the optic nerve will produce blindness, on the auditory nerve deafness and so on through the entire list of incoordinations, i. e., diseases.

Chiropractic teaches that all that is necessary for the complete restoration to health is that he point of impingement be found and the vertebra adjusted to its normal position, thus permitting "Innate Intelligence," the only power on earth that heals, cures or mends, to restore the organs to health.

Chiropractors do not cure, they simply ADJUST THE MIS-ALIGNED VERTEBRAE, thus permitting NATURE to cure, heal and repair the member.

Mrs. J. P. Fulton, who resides in the Fulton apartments on Ave. I, attempted suicide here Wednesday morning about 8:30 o'clock by taking carbolic acid, but was intercepted in that attempt. A little later she attempted to secure a knife with which to cut her throat, but it was also gotten away from her before she had a chance to use it.

She is now in the care of a physician, and is constantly guarded. Despondency and worry are given as the cause of the act.

WAYLAND COLLEGE OPENS FALL TERM SEPTEMBER 12

Plainview, Sept. 5.—Wayland Baptist College will open its fall term September 12 and its president, Dr. E. B. Atwood, is anticipating a large enrollment despite the untoward conditions in business and agriculture in its territory. A very strong faculty has been secured, most of the members having taught here last year. In addition they will have a commercial school.

The football team promises to be very strong this season, as a number of the old players and several good new ones are to be on the team. The squad will begin its training today, as several of the young men have already arrived.

Text of the Platform Adopted By The Democratic State Convention At San Antonio Last Wednesday

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 6.—The platform as adopted today by the State Democratic convention follows:

1. The Democracy of Texas in convention assembled, renews the pledge of party fealty to those grand principles of the protection and advancement of organized society, formulated by Thomas Jefferson and as exemplified by the long list of illustrious party leaders in the Nation and State whose patriotic and capable public service has marked the progress of the Government of the United States.

We heartily endorse the administration of Governor Pat M. Neff for its wise, economic and constructive policy and we especially commend the earnest efforts that have been made by him to suppress lawlessness in every form and his fearlessness in upholding the majesty and dignity of the law. We commend his determination that the violation of the law should be followed by a punishment of such violation and his recommendation that the pardon powers for evil doing should not be left in the hands of a jury; that the violation of the law should be followed by the punishment for the same. And we especially commend him for his fearlessness in enforcing the law in those districts of the State where lawlessness was rampant and the officers of the country were unable to suppress it. Accepting his past administration as a prophecy of what his future shall be, we unhesitatingly commend him to the voters of Texas for the high honors for which he has been selected. While appreciating and recognizing the necessity of assisting the educational interests of the State and particularly the demands of the public schools, he, at the same time, realized that the tax payers of the State were staggering under burdens too heavy to be increased.

Constitutional Construction.
2. We reaffirm the traditions and principles in favor of a strict construction on the Federal Constitution and the preservation of the rights of the States and the liberties of the people, the political equality of our citizens, freedom of conscience, the separation of church and State and the freedom of the press as among the fundamental doctrines embodied in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, and at all times adhered to by the democracy of the Union.

3. We commend to the people of Texas a comparison of the many great and progressive achievements of the Democratic party in the eight years from 1912 to 1920, with the vacillating and inefficient policies and the lack of accomplishment of the present Republican national administration. Coming into power on a wave of reaction from war conditions, with many pledges of promises to the people, the Republican party today stands discredited before the country with ranks demoralized and with pledges unredempted and promises unfulfilled. The Democracy of Texas was a part of the organized political force which wrought so well for the national welfare under the patriotic and far-seeing national Democratic administration and it now points the way to a return of constructive statesmanship, industrial peace and agricultural prosperity so greatly enjoyed while it was in power.

4. We give our grateful tribute and enthusiastic endorsement to the administration of that great Democrat and world figure Woodrow Wilson, and we hail him as the leader of the progressive Democracy of America and of the liberal thoughts of the whole world. The achievements of his administration for the welfare of the American people, and of mankind, will stand for all time as an imperishable monument of his genius for government, his devotion to the public weal and his unsurpassed service to Christian civilization.

Reaffirms Allegiance.
5. The Democracy of Texas reaffirms our allegiance to the eighteenth amendment of the Federal Constitution and favors its strict and continued enforcement. We urge our representatives in Washington to initiate the needed legislation to cure its defects and provide the necessary supervision to have the law fully enforced throughout the United States, and on the high seas on all vessels licensed by the United States, and every other vessel entering our ports. And we urge our Legislature at its next session to enact the necessary legislation to bring about a closer and more effective co-operation between the Federal and State authorities for the enforcement of the Volstead act. And we demand that the Legislature of Texas shall pass such laws as will make more speedy and more effective the absolute prohibition of the sale, manufacture and transportation of intoxicating beverages of any character whatever in this State.

6. The Democratic party of Texas again announces its allegiance to its ancient doctrine of a tariff for revenue only and we denounce the tariff bill recently passed by the Senate of the United States known as the Fordney-McCumber bill as an act "to increase the high cost of living and to prevent the restoration of international trade," and we declare that its baneful effects are already felt in the increase in the prices of food and clothing and all the necessities of life.

7. We declare our continued adherence to the doctrine of the autonomy of the States and their surrendered sovereignty, and to the principle that every power not specifically delegated to the Federal Government is reserved to the States. We declare our opposition to every encroachment upon either the legislative, executive or judicial powers of the State, and this end we declare the rights of the State to regulate and control all purely intrastate commerce and urge our United States Senators and Congressmen to exert their best efforts to have repealed the Esch-Cummins transportation act and to have restored to the State Railroad Commissions their rate making power.

Co-operative Marketing.
8. Recognizing that our present system of the distribution and sale of farm products appears to penalize both the producers and consumers, through the speculative control of prices, wasteful methods of handling, and unnecessary overhead expenses, we commend to our Senators and Representatives a careful study of the problems of co-operative marketing and recommend the enactment of legislation that will aid both the farmer and the stockman in the realization of higher prices which their products may bring. And we further declare that these two great industries, which give employment to more labor and have invested more capital than any other American enterprise, are of supreme importance to the welfare and prosperity of all of our people and that there should be secured to them adequate and dependable credits on longer and more favorable terms than our present commercial banking system affords. And it is our opinion that the importance of this issue demands the highest type of constructive statesmanship for its solution.

9. We heartily endorse the Shepard-Towner act and call upon the Thirty-eighth legislature to pass such legislation as may be necessary to secure to the women of Texas the benefits of this law.

10. We again affirm the ancient and accepted doctrine that the Democratic party is a white man's party and unreservedly recommend the continued observance of that principle.

11. We congratulate the people of this State for the splendid progress made in recent years in the building of public roads. We recognize the improvement of the facilities for the exchange and distribution of products of commerce and industry, as of paramount importance to the people of this State, and at the same time we realize the inability of the State by itself to secure a system of State highways of uniform type existing under constitutional limitations which place all initiative in road constructing and financing in the several counties of the State, and denies to the State itself the authority to construct and operate its highways. Accepting the recent act of Congress, which declares that in the near future Federal co-operation in roadbuilding will be extended to those States only that provide that the State, through a properly authorized and equipped agency, shall finance from the funds under the direct and exclusive control of the State the construction, maintenance and operation of a State system of public highways; there is an imperative demand that we accept the provisions of the Federal act as our only hope of assistance and we therefore recommend and urge upon the Thirty-Eighth Legislature the necessity of favorable action on all legislation, whether constitutional or statutory, that may be deemed requisite to enable the State to take over the construction, maintenance, control and operation of a system of public highways without prejudice to the constitutional rights of the counties and of the State.

Agricultural Work.
12. We recognize the necessity for the unification and centralization of the agricultural work of the State of Texas under one head, and for the purpose of relieving the people of such burden of taxation as may have been caused by the duplication and multiplication of the several agencies of the State in the matter of agricultural work, we recommend that the Legislature consolidate the administration and control of such work with the Department of Agriculture in this State.

13. We believe that the administration of court procedure in this State can be made more efficient and less costly to the people at large, and to that end that justice may be had, and business more quickly disposed of, we approve the efforts of the Texas State Bar Association in bringing about this much-desired result, and we recommend that the next Legislature provide for the keeping open at all times possible of the various courts for the transaction of business.

14. The Democracy of Texas recognizes that a conservation and utilization of all natural resources of the State in the interest of the people of the State, and pledges itself to secure such legislation as may be necessary to secure the same; the great losses occasioned by the periodic drought in certain sections of the State, and the inundation of lands in other sections, constitute an important factor in our economic life and materially affects the public welfare. We recommend to the Legislature such action as will place the agencies and facilities of the State government in accord with a movement to promote and develop water conservation and to prevent the loss against excessive floods, and to the end that such may be done we recommend such surveys by the Engineering Department of the State government as may be needed to demonstrate practical plans for the conservation of flood waters and the reclamation of arid lands.

15. The forests of the State of Texas having been largely exhausted, with no plans for their reclamation, and no efforts to reclaim them with merchantable timber, we recognize that in time a great loss must follow by reason of the fact that there will not be sufficient material for the home building of the people in our State, we therefore recommend that the State of Texas join efforts with the Federal Government for the restoration of lands not profitable for agriculture where under such conditions it may be found practical, and that the State bear a just and active part in such constructive plans of the National Government.

Election Laws.
16. The provisions of the existing election laws of the State of Texas have been found to be ineffective and restrictive of the free and just expression of the will of the people of Texas, and we urge upon the Legislature the revision and enactment of such laws as will meet the will of the people.

17. We affirm that the right of assemblage is an inherent right of the American people. That labor has and should have the right to organize for its own protection, and has the right both of peaceful argument and the legal use of its resources for the benefit of its brethren in distress. We reaffirm the right of workers to organize and give our approval to the principle of collective bargaining. Legislation to the end that the State operate the insurance system under the employees' compensation act should be adapted and should provide for a more equitable compensation than is now had.

18. It is the opinion of the Democratic party of the State that the present system of administering the prisons of Texas is obsolete and inefficient, and this convention recommends a law providing for the re-location of the penitentiary and calls upon the Thirty-Eighth Legislature to furnish the re-locating committee a scientific survey of plans made by experts of national reputation, which said plans and surveys, which shall include a prison for the criminally insane, shall be acted by the committee on re-location; provided, however, that said survey shall not delay the re-locating committee in submitting its plans to the forthcoming Legislature.

19. We recommend the amendment of the primary election law to be so made that all judicial offices from District Judge to Judges of the Supreme Court be made by conventions.

Officers' Removal.
20. We favor the enactment of a law by which any officer of a county who is unwilling to enforce the law and where it can be shown that he for any cause willfully refuses to enforce the law and discharge the duties of his office may be by the courts removed from such office, and his place filled by the Governor during the pendency of such judicial inquiry.

21. This convention indorses the national defense act of June 4, 1920, as a sound foundation for the military policy of the nation and urges adequate appropriations for the National Guard, organized reserve and the Citizens' Military Training Camps, to carry out the purpose of said acts.

22. The Democracy of Texas declares its sincere belief that the men who entered into the defense of this nation, leaving their homes and business pursuits during the days of the war, are entitled to just compensation for the losses sustained by them in so doing; and we further declare that those men who suffered physical or mental infirmities by reason of their service are entitled to the best of care and attention which the Government can afford to give.

23. The Democratic party of Texas in the matter of taxation stands for equal and exact justice to all. It has consistently stood for the minimum of tax burdens essential to the efficient administration of the public service, and it is our belief that the next Legislature of the State of Texas should undertake through the means of a distinctly State agency the equalization of tax renditions among the counties of the State.

24. We believe that the universal dissemination of knowledge is the only sure guaranty of the rights and liberties of the people and we pledge the Democratic party to make adequate provisions for assuring to the children of the State equal opportunity to secure the benefits of instruction through the public schools. We recognize the insufficiency of the financial support heretofore given to the common school districts of the country, together with the irregular terms of instruction as conditions of affairs demanding immediate remedy. We urge such changes in our law, both constitutional and statutory, as will make ample provision for the maintenance of every public school in the State for an equal number of months in each year, with like facilities for instruction, and which will provide that degree of flexibility in adaptation to future scholastic requirements as will result in giving to Texas a real State system of public schools. To that end we urge upon the next Legislature liberal appropriations to supplement the available school fund reasonably consistent with the public revenue. And we further believe that the judicious policy for the support and development of the State institutions of higher learning and of vocational training is through a tax levy, supplemented whenever necessary by suitable appropriation. Such tax levy to be subject to legislative determination in order to provide for flexibility of adjustment in increasing institutional requirements and subject to legislative direction for distribution among the institutions.

25. The increasing problem of municipal government in providing for, controlling and regulating public service utilities essential to the welfare of the people demand grave consideration and we recommend that the Legislature authorize the establishment of a State agency to co-operate with such municipalities in the solution of the public utility problems which are constantly arising.

26. We favor a convention for a new Constitution for the State of Texas.

27. We favor the giving of all men and women who are in the army, navy and marines from the State of Texas, the same voting rights that other citizens of the State may have.

28. Feeling that adequate and essential facilities should be provided without discrimination for every section of Texas, therefore, we urge upon the Thirty-Eighth Legislature to establish a branch agricultural college in West Texas under the direction of the board of directors of the Agricultural & Mechanical College of Texas, and closely co-ordinated with the parent institution at College Station.

11-A. Be it further resolved that the next Legislature be requested and instructed by this convention to pass suitable laws, providing for the amount of tonnage to be carried by vehicles using such highways, and providing such penalties as will forever protect these highways from the destructive use of those who seek to commercialize them.

11-B. Be it further resolved that the Legislature be requested to pass suitable laws looking to the protection and maintenance of such highways when built.

Idaho Kiwanians Are Trying To Effect Better Marketing Conditions For Their Enormous Potato Crop

The effect of Kiwanians influence placed back of the economic problems of the nation is yet to be learned, but we admit that the following letter is worthy of one's consideration, and believe that in the writer's attempts to create better marketing conditions for the products mentioned he is pulling some mighty strong levers for bringing about a practical solution to the problem.

This, it happens, is the first letter of its kind brought to our attention—this is the first instance of a local Kiwanian club getting back of a national problem, and we heartily congratulate the writer for taking such practical steps for discovering a medium through which to deliver his message to the people.

The Kiwanian club is one of magnificent possibilities, just like the Rotary, Lions' and all other similar organizations.

These clubs are composed of men whose efforts are to be so directed that constructive work might be the ultimate results of their labor, and we believe that the Nampa Kiwanian Club secretary has started something that will discover the great influential power of the Kiwanian club.

The letter is as follows:
Nampa Kiwanian Club
Nampa, Idaho

Kiwanian Club,
Lubbock, Texas.
Dear Kiwanians:

Our attention has been called to the fact that the potato crop in America this year is menaced by the most unfavorable market conditions that have ever confronted the industry.

It is apparent that the great potato crop, which the American farmers have produced is, on account of bad market conditions, not an asset but a liability in many sections of the country. The farmers of Idaho have produced and have ready for market, over 20,000 cars of the finest potatoes grown in the world, with no market at the present time and with the farmers in many instances unable to bear the expense of harvesting their crops.

The total potato crop in the United States is estimated by the Department of Agriculture at 440,000,000 bushels which, with one single exception, is the largest crop ever produced in this country. This condition, together with the railroad and coal strikes and other economic drawbacks, has caused our potato crop in many sections to be of practically no value and to be worth less than the cost of production in practically every producing section in the country.

Our Chamber of Commerce has started a "Buy a bag of potatoes" and "Buy your winter's supply of potatoes now" movement, which they intend to extend to every other State producing potatoes in commercial quantities and they have asked us to send this letter to every Kiwanian club in America with the suggestion that each of your members buy a bag of potatoes or buy their winter's supply now, at a fair market price and that each of your members suggest this to his associates and neighbors. We do not ask that you buy Idaho potatoes but do ask that you buy any kind of potatoes that are available and suitable.

Since one of America's greatest agricultural industries is on the verge of bankruptcy and potatoes are a necessity in every home, we urge every Kiwanian to heed this request, believing that your purchases and your influence will have a tremendous effect in improving the potato market at this time and that not only the potato growers but the entire country will be greatly benefited by saving the industry from ruin.

We have hesitated about taking the matter up through Kiwanians but concluded that a service could be rendered here by each Kiwanian as an individual and that it would not be improper to ask that publicity be given the fact by reading this letter at your next meeting and would appreciate your advising us just what action is taken in the premises and greatly obliged.

Respectfully submitted,
Nampa Kiwanian Club,
Vic F. Stolle, Secretary.

SHEPPARD AT LITTLEFIELD TO START SCHOOL MONDAY

Hamilton Sheppard, of San Angelo, superintendent of the Littlefield school, passed through Lubbock Friday, enroute to that place from Canyon, where he attended Teachers' Institute. He was accompanied by O. O. Hilburn, superintendent of the Sudan school, and M. F. Merrill, instructor in the Littlefield school, and assistant coach of athletics in that school.

Sheppard had one of the fastest basketball teams in the district last season, and declares that he is going to make the winning team this year, else make the team that does win get up and hustle.

He is well known by the Senior students in the Lubbock high school, and in other schools over this territory where he took active part in all athletic events, he having refereed some of the fastest games played in the district last year.

School will begin there Monday.

ELMER P. ANDREWS FIRST MAIL CARRIER AT PLAINVIEW

Plainview, Sept. 1.—To Elmer R. Anderson, carrier on Route A, out of Plainview, goes the honor of being the first mail carrier in Plainview. He started on his rounds this morning with the shrill whistle common to his fraternity. An examination will be conducted here in a short time to secure an eligible for the place now held by Anderson on the rural route. L. L. Estes of Quanah, will be substituted on the city route.

Funny things happen. A Mexican general died a natural death.

88 AUTOS SEIZED IN WHISKY RAIDS

Austin, Sept. 5.—During August Federal prohibition officers in Texas arrested 389 alleged violators of the Volstead prohibition law, according to the monthly report of David H. Morris, Federal prohibition director in Texas. Director Morris said that the Texas National prohibition unit was busier in August than in many previous months.

The officers seized property of a value of approximately $8,774. Of this amount of property $964 was destroyed, while $7,810 worth of property was retained either for evidence or to be sold as confiscated property.

Thirteen distilleries were seized and destroyed and three seized and not destroyed. Twenty-eight stills were seized and destroyed and eight were not destroyed. Eleven still worms were seized and destroyed and thirteen seized and not destroyed.

Liquors seized during the month consisted of 488 gallons of spirits; 689 gallons of malt liquor, 871 gallons of wine, 3,784 gallons of mash. Eighty-eight fermenters were seized.

Eighty-eight automobiles, in which it is alleged liquor was being transported, were seized during the month. Their value is estimated at $6,950.

A number of large seizures of extracts and 455 pounds of sugar were made.

A CONCRETE EXAMPLE OF UNFAIRNESS OF STRIKES

A young fellow passed through town the first of the week, who was returning home from the Kansas wheat fields. Said he had been following a harvester gang from Denver plumb to the northern border of Kansas.

Work was plentiful, and the pay good, and everything went along swimmingly until the railroad strike was called. Then the harvest fields suddenly swarmed with railroad men out of a job, and our Denton boy found himself out of work.

He tried several places but found the same conditions everywhere, meanwhile his money gave out and he had to beat his way home.

"Why didn't you go to the cities and get a job that the railroad men had thrown up?" he was asked.

The boy grinned: "That's different. I wasn't ready to commit suicide yet, and you know while a union man has no scruples in taking a non-union man's job away from him, if the latter should turn the tables on him, it would mean trouble—odds of it for the scab."

WARD V. CROFT LEAVES FOR CALIFORNIA

Ward V. Croft, who has been in Lubbock the greater part of the summer to organize a Junior Chamber of Commerce Boys' Band, left Friday for California, where he has a band under instruction in one of the leading towns of that state. Mr. Croft made many friends while here, and the fact that his band was making rapid progress, and that all of the boys enlisted in it were enthusiastic about the work speaks well of him, and it is regrettable indeed that sufficient salary had not been received to induce him to stay here until the band was well enough along to go without an instructor. He took an active part in everything designed to help Lubbock become a better city during his stay here, which was admired by his many friends.

We understand a number of experienced hand men will build up an organization and be ready within a few weeks to offer concerts, etc., and their success is greatly desired by everyone interested in Lubbock.

SIMMONS COMPANY MOVED TO BUILDING ON BROADWAY

The big stock of the E. C. Simmons Furniture Company was moved into the new brick building on Broadway between the Leader Department store and Joe Baldridge's recovery Wednesday and Thursday, and all hands are making preparations to serve their customers there in the least time possible.

Simmons is one of the progressive merchants of Lubbock, and we are glad to know that he is given additional space in which to display his splendid stock of furniture.

Broadway is one of the busiest streets in the city, the many new buildings that were constructed there this summer are now housing thriving businesses, and we are sure that Simmons will keep pace with that section of the city in beautifying his spacious building.

THOUSANDS SEE AMARILLO KLAN INITIATE CLASS

Amarillo, September 5.—A crowd estimated from 15,000 to 20,000 witnessed the first public initiation by the Ku Klux Klan in the Panhandle last night when 378 candidates became members at a ceremony held in a valley, two miles west of Amarillo. Two thousand automobiles jammed the side of a rolling hill overlooking the huge fiery cross in front of which hundreds of robed figures played their part in the induction of the candidates into the order. Scores of Klansmen and visitors were here from many Panhandle and New Mexico towns, especially large delegations being reported from Clarendon, Claude, Memphis, Canadian, Pampa, Clovis and Portales, N. AMERICAN LEGION

La Societe De 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux Organized

Allen Brothers Post, American Legion has had more new life inserted into it in the past several days than in a like period since its organization.

The fact that the American Legion needed a little play program added to its national calendar has long been recognized, and now Lubbock is joining hands with the buddies about over the states in making "La Societe De 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux" the playground of the Legion, there being held here just recently a meeting where the society was organized, Clark Mulligan acting as chairman of the meeting.

There is no limit to the fun the boys will have in carrying on the various programs of the new society. The name of the society is a joking reminder of one of the most seen signs in France throughout the war, and few of the men who were there will fail to recall some laughable incident connected with it.

The society is to be still greater and more prominent than the origin of its name. The time has come when a little fun is needed to stimulate pep and energy, and if nothing happens to retard the progress of the new organization, one of the greatest stimulants that was ever unworked has been brought to Lubbock.

The Allen Brothers Post has not been asleep by any means, and the things the Post has accomplished is monumental to the membership's energy and ability to do things, and with the new organization to add zest to the work, we are sure that even greater progress will be made.

It is rumored among the veterans that the fair committee will be requested for a day to be designated "Legion Day," during which time a little action on the part of the 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux will be witnessed.

At any rate, Mr. Ex-Service man, there is something in the Legion for you that is really and truly worth while, and unless you get an touch with the Legion heads who are putting the new society in action in Lubbock, you are missing something.

Boost, back, boom "La Societe De 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux" and see if the reaction of your boosting doesn't benefit all concerned.

Sheriff Boyd Craig and his deputies are seeking the other two who escaped. The prisoners still at liberty are Chas. Knight and Bib Miller.

The jailer is not injured.

Locking Ross Stark, jailer, in cell, three prisoners, two of whom are said to be notorious criminals, escaped this morning from the county jail here. ROTARY NOTES

In the absence of Jed Rix, president of the Rotary Club, Roscoe Wilson wielded the gavel. After having Woody offer the invocation he introduced the visitors himself. Owing to the lack of time changed

It's toasted. This one extra process gives a delightful quality that can not be duplicated the usual procedure for introducing the visitors calling on them to rise when he called their names, and then in a few well chosen words welcomed them to Lubbock and to the Rotary Luncheon. He then turned the meeting over to High-Pockets (Curtis Keen), chairman of the entertainment committee for the day. Curtis, in a nice introductory talk then outlined his program, he placed an hour glass in front of him and said time waited for no man, that when the sands run through the glass they were going to close their program regardless of who was talking. One of the principals of Rotary at one of their luncheons is to start promptly on time and quit on time and the hour glass is a good idea if they will only live up to it. He closed his remarks by asking, "How do you spend the priceless gift of time," and called upon O. F. Sensabaugh to respond to the subject, "How I get things done." Sensabaugh has a very good method which he lives up to strictly in his business. He takes the railroad method for his example—he has a schedule for the same the train dispatchers have in dispatching trains. From the efficiency that we get in our express business through Sensabaugh we know that he lives up to his schedule. Our bodies are dispatchers and we must keep them in the best physical condition so that they may function properly. Have a time for work and time for exercise and a time for play. Sensa's talk was very instructive and lots of good things in it that if we would follow would make all of us more efficient.

E. L. Robertson was called upon to discuss the importance of "Time and Investment." The fact that we had a visitor with us from Canadian, Texas, Lish called upon him to respond to his subject. Rev. W. L. Swinney is in Lubbock for the purpose of getting a location to move the Orphans Home from Canadian to Lubbock. He has visited towns as far south as Waco and considers Lubbock the logical point for the home. There is now in this home one hundred children besides the keeper and it was a surprise to all of the Rotarians to know that seven of the children in that home came from Lubbock. Rev. Swinney wants us to give the location. A Bonding company will take care of the financial end of this institution and will have available $50,000.00 for the building of the first unit as soon as said title is past upon the site given them.

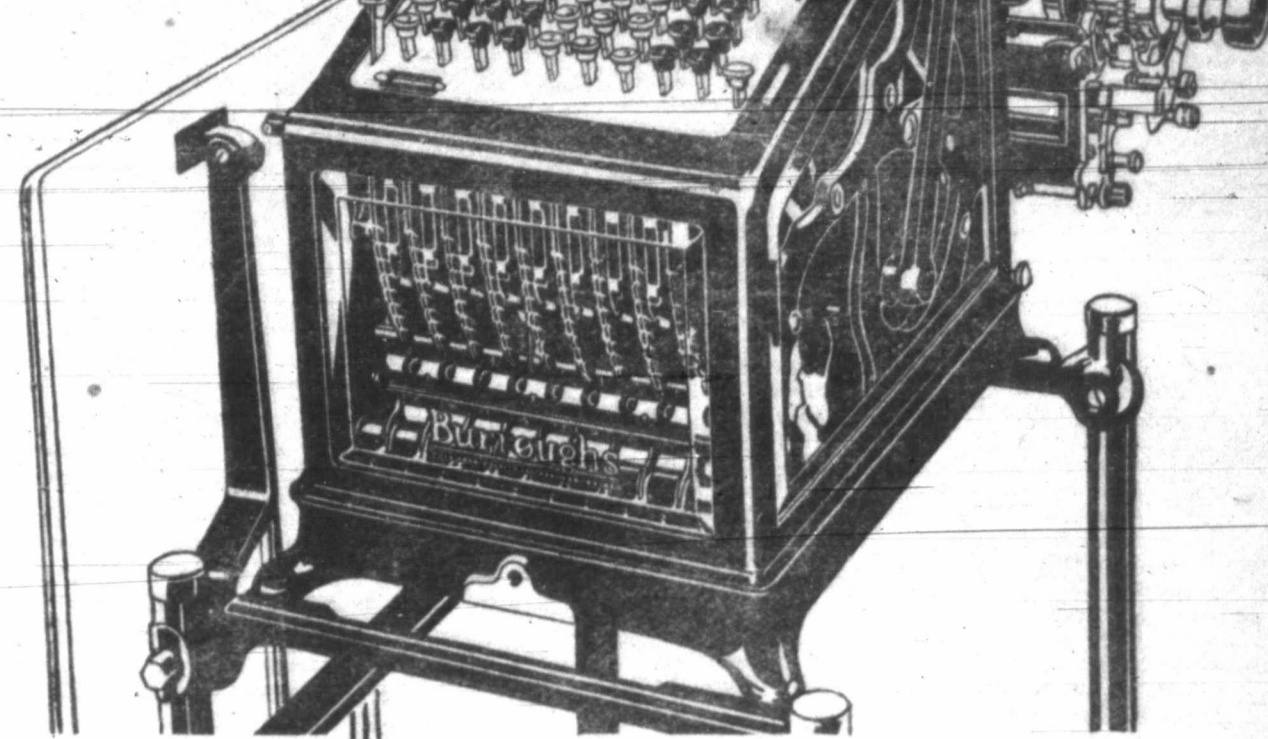

Judge Thomas Tripp will speak to the mass meeting Friday night at the Auditorium at 8:00 p. m., telling them how the bonds will be issued and floated for this enterprise. This home will be located from two to four miles from Lubbock, will have its own school and will conduct an industrial school. It is the object of Rev. Swinney to turn out these boys and girls with a finished education so they will be recognized by the best citizens of Texas. The boys and girls of today must be men and women of tomorrow. There is no question but what this will be a great thing for Lubbock and one that Lubbock people will take pride in. The railroad companies are greatly interested in orphan schools and this orphanage being on the Santa Fe, Rev. Swinney tells us that all he has to do is to wire not only in the State of Texas, but in the far east as far as the Santa Fe runs for people to deliver orphan children to the conductor and that they will be taken and cared for on the train and safely delivered to this orphanage by the Santa Fe Railroad Company. One of the children from Lubbock is featured in the September number of the Texas-Oklahoma Railway Guide, and a story is carried in the Santa Fe Journal telling of these orphan children. Every interested citizen should attend the mass meeting at the Auditorium Friday night, September 8th.

Woody Bowen was then called upon to respond to the subject, "How to improve my time," but he understood his subject to be, "How to improve our spare moments." He said that Curtis was the son of a preacher and should have known better than have assigned a subject of this kind to a preacher. It takes more time to get ready to do a thing than to do it. That in his work he had no regular schedule but has to take care of the minutes and hours and the days will then take care of themselves. He gave a very good illustration of this in how we should value our time, in telling the story of a man who wanted to purchase a book. The clerk in the store told the customer that the book was worth $1.00. He tried to purchase the book for less amount but could not do so. He then asked if the proprietor of the store was in and being informed that he was but that he was very busy, he insisted that his business was of such importance that he wanted to see him. The clerk then called the proprietor and the customer explained how he had tried to purchase the book for less than the purchase price and wanted to know what he could buy the book from him for, and being informed that the book would cost him $1.25 he objected, saying that the clerk had only asked $1.00. The proprietor informed him that he had not only taken the clerk's time but had taken his time away from important work and that the book would now be worth $1.25. He says, well what can I purchase the book for and the proprietor replied it would now cost him $1.50, that he had used three of his time and that he would have to charge it up against the purchaser of the book. The customer wanted the book and seeing the fairness of the proposition paid his $1.50 for a $1.00 book and went away. He said that we all should get away from our work for a time each year and that he went as far away from the cities as he could for his vacation, where he could rest and relieve his mind of the duties that fall upon him whenever he was in the city.

Curtis Keen then announced that he wanted something humorous on the program and asked Daddy Dickinson what he did with his time. His response was contained in four words, "Get even with Keen." The meeting was then turned back to Roscoe Wilson, vice president, who in a few well chosen words thanked the high school class for serving the luncheon. Made an announcement that a mass meeting would be held Friday night at 8 o'clock to discuss the Orphan Home.

URGES BOUNTY PAID FOR RATTLESNAKES

Austin, Sept. 4.—Representative John T. Smith of Travis county will introduce at the regular session of the Legislature next January a bill providing for a bounty to be paid for the killing of rattlesnakes. It was announced today by V. O. Weed of Austin, who has been for several months past engaged in gathering rattlesnake statistics.

Mr. Weed finds that the rattlesnake is more plentiful this year throughout Texas than in any previous year, and that scores of persons have been bitten, in a number of cases the bites resulting fatally. He reports that within the last two months there have been four persons to die in Travis county from the bite of rattlers.

Rattlers of enormous size have been found this summer, according to Mr. Weed. Recently, at a point a short distance west of the city of Austin there was killed a giant rattler. Mr. Weed declaring it to have had twenty-seven rattlers. It was probably the largest rattlesnake ever killed in Texas. Recently Mr. Weed was in Fisher county, where he found rattlesnakes in large numbers and great size. He reports the killing of eighty-one rattlers in one day by C. G. and Floyd Kiser at Sylvester. All of these snakes were found under one rock. The largest snake had nineteen rattlers.

"We believe that the time has come when the people of Texas ought to take some action in ridding the State of the deadly rattlesnake," said Mr. Weed. "With a bounty of 25c or 50c for every rattlesnake killed, we believe that it will not be long before the snakes are killed out. I don't believe that there is a taxpayer in the State who will object to such a bounty if he will only stop long enough to consider the number of deaths which occur every year as the result of the bite of rattlesnakes."

Always carry a can of SUNOCO in your car.

The exclusive qualities and scientific accuracy of SUNOCO Motor Oil are the reasons it saves repairs and increases the service value of a car.

But you must use SUNOCO exclusively—not mix it with ordinary oil—if you want the best results.

For this reason, a 1 or 5-gallon reserve can of the right type of SUNOCO should always be carried under the seat or in the back of your car.

If you are not yet using SUNOCO, begin at once. Don't neglect this opportunity to save money and improve the operation of your car.

Here's the way to begin. Have the nearest SUNOCO dealer drain the old, dead oil from your crankcase before refilling with SUNOCO.

With SUNOCO in a clean crankcase you'll be astonished at the greater mileage you get from gas and oil. Also at the renewed power and "pop" of your engine.

GOOD INDICATIONS FOR GREAT FAIR

Lubbock, as the home of the South Plains Fair, is being watched with a great deal of interest and admiration in some instances, because of the fact that we are going right ahead with the fair, just the same as if we were in the middle of the most prosperous and promising crop year. Many of the county fairs throughout the State have been abandoned this year on account of the close times and the short crop, but Lubbock never once considered skipping a year, in fact in the case of Lubbock, where she is putting on a fair of the general scope of some twenty South Plains counties, there was no necessity for such, and the directors are going forward with one of the most gigantic programs that the South Plains has ever seen in the way of a South Plains fair, and as a result there is an outlook now that seems to eclipse every former effort along this line. The management of the fair is depending upon the people of the South Plains to help them make it a success and every farmer and stockman, should respond to their requests for agricultural exhibits that will do credit this great South Plains. It is even a greater achievement to show up a creditable exhibit this year than in the years where there is a fine crop everywhere—when the rains came just right, and there could be nothing else but an abundant yield. If the South Plains exhibit shows up well this year in the face of the long dry spell during the growing season, there can be no argument against the productiveness of the country in an average season. Those of us who have enjoyed living in the splendid country for the past fifteen to twenty years, know that there is no need to be the least bit uneasy that the South Plains is going to dry up and blow away, for we know that a year as dry as this is not a common thing, and with the country better developed now than it ever was, and with our farmers diversifying, in crops, and raising chickens, pigs, sheep, etc., and producing cream and butter, that there is going to be more money made off the farms in this section of the country per capita than ever before. Anyway, there is plenty of good crops in this section, even in the middle of this dry spell to put the South Plains people in clover and there is enough to attract the attention of the hundreds and hundreds of prospectors who are coming here every month, to seek out a new home. It looks good to them, and they are familiar enough with growing crops and soil to know that there is something remarkable in this country, and are anxious to come here. The thing we want to impress upon the people of this section is to co-operate with the fair management and let the visitors have a fair example of the products of the farms of this section this year. A member of the committee in charge of the agricultural exhibits says he is meeting with a liberal response, both from Lubbock county and many of the adjoining counties, and there is going to be a real exhibit of farm products from all over the South Plains.

It was a commendable act of the Slaton people to vote bonds for better roads across the canyon. Bonds are the best way to build roads and the easiest way to pay for them.

Local American Legion Post Will Have Wortham Bros. Show Here For One Week, Beginning September 30

Following the regular meeting on last Thursday night, of Allen Bros. Post No. 148, American Legion, at which meeting the question of bringing the John T. Wortham Shows to this place was discussed and decided upon, the local officials of the Legion closed the contract the following morning with their representative for a week's engagement of the Wortham Shows, beginning September 30, and running through October 4th.

The John T. Wortham Shows are the largest of the kind in the world, carrying five separate and complete shows, consisting of 155 railroad cars and twenty-five hundred people. They have the reputation throughout the country as being the cleanest Carnival Company that ever toured the United States, and are heartily endorsed and recommended by every city or organization in or through which they have ever staged a show. After thorough investigation by the Ministerial Alliance of Arkansas City, Kansas, they having showed there, they gave them a written recommendation as being the cleanest, most moral show ever having attempted to show in that place. Mr. Wortham absolutely refuses to permit any manner of so-called "rough stuff" and has recently thrown out of his show concessions which he found to be of that type. They carry nothing whatever of any nature that will not permit a man carrying his family through the entire grounds.

With their five shows they play all the larger Fairs of the United States and Canada, and an effort

LUBBOCK—The POWERHOUSE OF THE SOUTH PLAINS

Lubbock will soon be known as the power house of the South Plains, if everything comes to pass in the development of the Texas Utilities company, that they have in mind at the present time. Already the plant at this place is the best equipped and largest in the west, and the end is not yet. The plant will be added to within the next few months that will make it second to none in the southwest. Since the old plant was destroyed some months ago, the head officials of the company have visited this section of the State and the wonderfulness of the South Plains has been revealed to them, as descriptive literature and personal letters, newspaper stories and such like never could. They at once grasped the vision of the greatest opportunity on earth, and have mapped out one of the greatest programs of extension in the section that was ever known in any state. The extensions to Ralls, and other places around Lubbock, to be supplied with electric lights and power, from the main plant in this city is as a drop of water in a bucket compared with what they have in mind to do. Within the next few years the South Plains will be a network of electric wires running into the plant here, and light and power will be furnished the many towns within a radius of fifty or seventy-five miles, as well as the farm and ranch homes at intermediate points. This means that Lubbock will be the power house of the South Plains. The ice business of this same firm will be developed in the same proportion as the electrical equipment, and this will add still more to the wonderfulness of the Lubbock territory. This firm is not the only one, either, that is doing big things in the way of developing the South Plains and Lubbock will be the central point of the greatest body of agricultural land that can be found anywhere.

LUBBOCK SCHOOLS FILLED TO CAPACITY

Lubbock schools are taking a prominent place among the problem manufacturing institutions of the city. The people of this section have done everything possible to stem the tide of abnormal increase in population, but even at that our schools are overcrowded, and the superintendent is wondering where he will put the ones who enroll next week. The enrollment as reported in the various departments last Thursday noon by Superintendent Dupre was: High school 336; Primary department 333; Grammar school, 809; East Ward 24; West Ward 18; Mexican school 28. This enrollment is about equivalent to the seating capacity to our schools, and still they keep coming. People are coming to Lubbock from many other sections of the State to have their children enter our splendid schools, and something will have to be done to meet the demand. The magnificent building to be constructed this year will easily care for the enrollment for another year, but now is the time that the problem seems biggest, and our buildings are inadequate to meet the demand. The school, nevertheless will be a success. The various department heads realize that their co-operation is necessary to make the term a success, and are doing everything possible to make the school run along just as smoothly as it is at all possible, and there is no need of anyone worrying about the school problems of their children for the demand for more room will be met adequately.

This is just to remind you that Lubbock is growing!

REPUTATION FOR SOCIABLENESS

There is just as much difference in the way people are received in the different towns as there is in the way different families receive guests in their homes. This being true, the town that makes their visitors and guests feel at home the most will be the town that will make the best impression on them. We have heard it said of Lubbock that the people here as a rule are the kind that just simply make people feel at home, and makes a fellow feel like he is welcome, and gives them a desire to live here. This probably accounts for the rapid growth of the town. If so, we congratulate the citizenship of the community, and hope that this may ever be the reputation that we have. There is one thing, however, that we probably do not give as close attention to as we might, and that is our tourists. Hundreds of car loads of people come to our city every year. They stop on our streets, and visit our stores and places of business. We should see to it that every bit of information is given them in a courteous way, and we might go further and become more interested in them by meeting them in town and volunteering such information as might be helpful to them. Give them welcome to our town a personal touch that will always be kindly remembered, and it will mean a great deal to Lubbock. When a tourist's car stops in front or near your place of business, let a member of the firm make it a point to see them personally. Let Lubbock be known as the most sociable place on the highway.

was made to have them come here to play for the South Plains Fair, but they were already booked up past that date and couldn't make this place at that time. They are heartily endorsed by the local Chamber of Commerce.

They always put on their shows through some civic organization of the city in which they locate, giving them a percentage of the proceeds derived. They will set up here for a week's run beginning September 30, through the American Legion, and the officials of the Legion invite careful investigation of the shows as soon as they arrive. Of course their largest show will not be brought here, for it would probably cover practically the entire site of this city, but one of their smaller shows will come carrying eight or ten riding devices, and many other attractions and concessions that will be entirely new to the most of the local people.

S. A. Guy Will Exhibit Livestock At Lubbock Fair From His Fine Cap Rock Jersey Farm at Crosbyton

S. A. Guy, owner of the famous Cap Rock Jersey Farm at Crosbyton, informs the President of the South Plains Fair Association Klett, that he will exhibit some of his livestock at the fair to be held at Lubbock September 28, 29 and 30.

Mr. Guy probably has the largest and finest herd of Jerseys in America. He has one hundred imported cows on his farm. Most of them were purchased on the Isle of Jersey, and cost him from $2,600 to $10,000 each. He has one bull that has taken prize everywhere exhibited, and has been shown in fairs all over the world. He also has one bull calf eleven months old, valued at $10,000.

The Cap Rock Jersey farm is one of the most complete arrangements of buildings anywhere in Texas, and the things Mr. Guy has had built there for the betterment of the farm prove his confidence in the country, for the investment involved is gigantic. A water, power and electric line, furnishing those needs of the farm, and for the city of Crosbyton, is one of the main attractions, with the modern dairy buildings, warehouses, barns, etc., making the farm look like a little city.

Crosbyton, where the farm is located, is the county site of Crosby County, forty-five miles from Lubbock. Crosby County will be one of the large exhibitors at the fair, and Mr. Guy is doing his part to push and boost the fair along which covers all the Plains country.

It is encouraging to know that men like Mr. Guy are getting back of the fair proposition. Their influence will be felt, and we are sure that with that force back of them that propels the plains country to a higher state of refinement and pride in her resources—the fair will be made one of the great events of the year.

It is wonderful indeed to know that Lubbock businessmen have devised a medium through which to bring the better class of agriculturists of the various counties of the great plains country together for a few days consideration of the possibilities of the various industries here. It is gratifying to know that the things Mr. Guy has been able to accomplish on his farm can be looked into by the many stock enthusiasts who will be here, with a view of learning his methods.

The good that is to be derived from the fair is hard to estimate. The enthusiasm of getting in touch with the men who have made stock raising here a success that will be gotten into our farmers, will go a long way toward stimulating that work, and we are sure that if Lubbock county continues to prosper her people must continue to develop these resources.

We welcome the news of Mr. Guy's participation in the fair, and realize the importance of his influence placed back of it.

PORTALES NEWS EDITOR VISITED HERE LAST WEEK

Editor J. G. Greaves and family, of the Portales Valley News, were here Friday and Saturday visiting at the home of Mrs. Greaves' sister, Mrs. L. M. McKinney.

While in Lubbock Mr. Greaves made the Avalanche a very pleasant call, and we were glad indeed to welcome him and his good family to the city. We learn that the Portales section is enjoying an era of prosperity, and were not at all surprised to know that that fair city is enjoying substantial growth, for Mr. Greaves is the kind of an editor that goes after things for his home town, and we are sure that under his management the News has been instrumental in gaining much for Portales.

CLOVIS AND AMARILLO BATTLE TEN-INNING TIE

Although outfit fourteen to ten the Buzzers played spectacular ball in Friday's exhibition at Clovis, coming from behind several times, and held the Gassers to a tie score for ten innings, when the affair was halted by darkness.

The Gassers had an edge on the hitting column, but used three of their hurlers in an attempt to hold the Buzzers, while Sewell went all the way for the Buzzers.

The Gassers took the lead in the run column by counting one in the first and another in the fourth, but the Buzzers came back in the sixth for three, Holloway's homer being responsible for two. The Gassers made a spectacular comeback in the ninth, counting five, taking a two run lead, but Chaney's wild throw to first in the latter half gave the Buzzers two runs to tie up the count. The tenth was ineffective, neither side being able to score, and darkness stopped the contest. The score:

AMARILLO TAKES LEAD IN PLAYOFF SERIES

Joe Cantrell was hit hard in the pinches Saturday, giving up eleven safeties, while his team-mates were getting seven off Maples, and the Gassers took the lead in the playoff series of the "Little World Series," winning the exhibition 9 to 3. Five home runs dotted the contest, two being hit by Williams, two by Anheier, and one by Comstock. Williams, lead-off man for the Buzzers, set one over the center field fence in the opening stanza, and smashed another for four sacks in the fifth. Cantrell was hit hard all the way, and allowed bunched hits, four in one inning for three runs and three in another for four more, while Maples was never in danger.

CARLISLE AND VAUGHN SCHOOL TEAMS PLAY BALL

The Carlisle school baseball team motored over to Vaughn school Friday to cross bats with the boys, only to learn on arriving that unless some five outside boys were sent for and he, no game could be played. Mr. Pevehouse was not, and is never in favor of playing outside boys in a school game, but under the circumstances, and he being well acquainted with all of the Vaughn boys, he agreed, not telling the boys what stiff work we had on hand. The game was called and from the first we seemed to be outclassed, but in the 4th inning we rallied and pushed in 3 scores. In the 6th we bunched again and tied the score on 6. The Vaughn boys scored again and though at one time we had a man on second and third base, we failed to count, the score ending 7 to 6 in Vaughn's favor.

Prof. Hale umpired the first half, and our teacher the last. Let me say, it was the cleanest, nicest little game for a moral standpoint one could ask for. Not a cross word or a blackguard. We challenge any rural school team going.

The personnel of the teams were as follows:

Carlisle—Johnnie Heffington, Everett Price, Newman Casey, Pransis Jerden, Reagen Coffey, Max Brownlee, Sterling Jerden, Hubert Stone, Orville Burroughs.

Vaughn—Jim Lawson, Guy Lawson, Cassino Hettler, Paul White, Raymond Cone, Lee Phillips, Wilbur McQuary, and two Barron brothers.

LONG ELECTRIC CO. TO OCCUPY SIMMONS STAND

J. C. Long, of the Long Electric Company, is moving his store from the Lindsay Theatre Building to the brick building recently vacated by the E. C. Simmons Furniture Co.

The new location is ideal, and we are sure Mr. Long will continue to make his store attractive, and the success of his business is only natural.

Mr. Long has been in Lubbock for several weeks, and it is regrettable that on his arrival in the city with his splendid stock and fixtures, a building of sufficient size for a good display of his goods was not obtainable.

He is a hustler who knows how to enjoy good patronage.

TAKE A TIP FROM UNCLE SAM!

What is your greatest problem today? Greater volume of sales. My service is one of the greatest aids in sales promotion. An optimistic outlook on the present situation is essential to successfully cope with it. You cannot afford to neglect your advertising at such a time as the present. Every person living in the community is a potential buyer. If we are content with a narrow margin of profit on each sale—the result will be greater volume. Swift & Co. claim that the fraction of one quarter of a cent is their entire margin on each dollar of their sales. Volume counts. The sign painter and the printer are the best friends you have in your present keen struggle for more business. The first law of business is progress. He who makes no progress is wasting time and effort. The procession will not wait for you. Cheerfulness and optimism are positive attractions. My service is at your command.

The liberal patronage of the public has enabled the writer to expand and increase his facilities and equipment for producing high grade sign work.

Even Uncle Sam finds that he cannot do business right without signs. He has ordered all post-asters to hang out their sign. Why? So people may know where to mail their letters and buy their stamps. And yet there are a few business houses that think they are so big and so well known they don't need a sign.

TELL THE WORLD WITH SIGNS.

RIX AND HUNT AT HOME FROM GALVESTON

Jed Rix and L. E. Hunt, President and Secretary of the local Rotary Club, spent Wednesday and Thursday in Galveston attending a meeting of the executives of the Club.

Lubbock's Rotary Club executives are men of vision, and we are sure that those two fellows played a conspicuous part in the convention.

While Rix has been president of the Chamber of Commerce, and has been identified with the executives of the several civic organizations, there is no work which he enjoys more than the Rotary work, and the pep and enthusiasm with which he gets into the work is encouraging to the balance of the members, who are in nowise asleep on the job of making the Lubbock Club one of the liveliest in the country.

As secretary of the Club, L. E. Hunt has shown great ability in carrying out the work assigned to him, and we are glad to know that he had the opportunity to discuss club problems with executives of other clubs.

They report a fine time, and though L. E. was somewhat fascinated by the bigness of the Gulf waters, Rix is a conservatist and declares that as a place to engage in aquatic sports Tumble N is sufficiently spacious for him.

Rev. Jack M. Lewis is in Littlefield holding a revival meeting, and there were no church services held on that account. Sunday school was well attended, and in spite of bad weather the report was a credit to the school membership.

All are hoping for Bro. Lewis' much success in his Littlefield work.

Methodist Church

Threatening weather had its effect upon Sunday school attendance, but not on the spirit with which the members got into the work.

Books that they have been studying for this quarter, and the various members are eager to complete the work with credit to their classes.

Rev. Ferguson seemed to have all the pep and energy accumulated on his recent vacation saved up for his sermons, for he certainly showed a lot of enthusiasm. It is hard to say that the time has come when a man grows younger at the approach of years, but that seems true in the case of Rev. Ferguson. He is a hard hitter, and works just as hard as he hits, and the congregation was made to know however that he was not unmindful of the things that had been accomplished in the church, and commended them for the good that had been done.

Baptist Church

287 enthusiastic members of the Sunday School made their appearance at the church in spite of the bad weather, and displayed great interest in the work.

Rev. Bowen inspired his congregation with two wonderful messages delivered in his usual straight-forward manner.

The Laymen of the church are doing a great work in helping Brother Bowen create greater church interest by all our people, and the good work that is being done is to accomplish much toward bringing His kingdom on earth.

The dead explanation is that we have to live, and driving mules is a dead occupation.

Ten Wounded Soldiers
(A poem by K. A. Bigbee, dedicated to the Disabled Veterans Bureau).
Ten wounded soldiers, standing in line,
One died from Governmentitis, then there were nine.

Nine wounded soldiers, resigned to their fate,
One was examined 'till he died, leaving only eight.

Eight wounded soldiers, their only hope in heaven,
One choked to death on red tape, leaving only seven.

Seven wounded soldiers, in a terrible fix,
One swallowed a bunch of promises, leaving only six.

Six wounded, thankful for being alive,
One went blind looking for help, leaving only five.

Five wounded soldiers, fed on compensation lore,
One died of mental indigestion, leaving only four.

Four wounded soldiers, pining to be free,
One drank all the iodine, leaving only three.

Three wounded soldiers, eating hospital stew,
One died upon finding meat, and then there were two.

Two wounded soldiers, wishing they had a gun,
One was helped out by God, leaving only one.

One wounded soldier, he a general's son,
Was granted compensation, then there were none.

FEED GATHERING UNDER WAY IN FLOYD COUNTY

Harvesting of fall crops has been under way in Floyd county for more than a week, and for the first time in many years the first of October is going to see the bulk of the feed crop in the county gathered and in the bins and stacks. A large percentage of the crop is being gathered in bundles and with an apparent probable shortage in feedstuffs in the southwest this season the crop will be cleaned from the fields more closely than in a number of years. This section will be more fortunate in the matter of feedstuffs than other sections of the southwest this year. Practically every farm is going to have enough feed to run thru to another crop while a few will have surpluses.

Cotton gathering is also opening up much sooner than has been the case in former years. A dry season since the middle of July, with extremely hot weather for this section are attributed as the causes for the early opening of the crop. Several bales were received for ginning at local gins last week and this week the movement from the fields is becoming more pronounced. A marked livening up of business over the county is expected to result from this harvest. Estimates on the yield vary so greatly that anybody's guess looks almost as good as another. Extremely pessimistic persons put the yield very low while some still claim it will run four to six thousand. The thing which makes an estimate so difficult is the tremendous acreage over the territory.

The first four bales which came in last week had good color and staple with indications, if weather is good, that the quality this season is going to be good.—Floydada Hesperian.

DROUGHT HAS LITTLE EFFECT ON FALL BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Optimistic prophets of Lubbock estimate the cotton crop for Lubbock county at 15,000 bales, which is several thousand more than last year. It is believed that the light yield for this season will be more than made up by the increased acreage. Strict middling sold on the streets this week around twenty cents, however under that figure was the rule, nineteen cents being the lowest figure given for this class of cotton.

Although the feed crops of this county are short the value of the cotton crop in dollars and cents looms up around more than a million and a half. It is on account of this estimated yield that we find the merchants of our city in an optimistic mood and stocks for the fall business are greater than in years.

Business is much better with most of the merchants. New firms that have opened up for business within the past few weeks are feeling good over the business outlook although they made their preparations for coming here when conditions were much more promising for fall business.

By October 15th, of this year there will be not less than fifteen stores in this city engaged in retailing dry goods, men's furnishings, etc. These figures being made from what businesses are now here and those which have closed deals for business houses to be occupied within the next few weeks.

"Competition will create more business" is the attitude other dry goods houses are taking toward the new firms.

LORENZO NEWS ITEMS
FROM THE ENTERPRISE

Monday, September 18, is our next regular Trades Day and although last month's trades day was a dandy and large crowds thronged our streets, this one is going to be even greater. Besides many special prizes that our merchants will offer there will be thirty or more cash prizes, or premiums offered on the best products, poultry or livestock that is brought to town.

One of the main purposes for the varied premium list this month is the object of collecting the exhibits for the County Fair. It is hoped that everyone will bring something to town next trades day and bring the best of that which you have, as the committee wants to make up an exhibit from Lorenzo for the Crosby County Fair which will meet now within a few weeks. Lorenzo wants to make a good showing in her exhibits and everything from this place will be labeled and placed in a separate booth, as Lorenzo's exhibits. Everybody is asked to take a part and create all the interest possible in this affair.

Large circulars have been issued and will tell you of the things wanted and the things for which a set prize has been offered. If you want to bring something that is not listed on the circular, bring it and the committee will see that it is properly classed and if a winner in its class, they will also see that it is awarded a prize.

Let everyone take notice and do their dead level best to make Lorenzo's exhibit the best at the county fair.

Special music by the Lorenzo Band will be rendered and we are sure this is one feature that will be enjoyed by everyone. Besides the music a program has been arranged and ample provisions made for your entertainment and don't fail to make it but try to be the first one here.

But whether raised or "rustled" by the host it matters not, as they were the best it has ever been our privilege to help devour, and it proved the ability and superiority of Mr. Ferguson in selecting watermelons that satisfy.

Of course, before opening the melons, it became necessary for the band to render several selections from opera which it did in the most cheerful and pleasing manner, but in no measure repaid the Fergusons for the treat given and the most excellent time spent at their home.

Besides the band boys, those present were: Mesdames W. B. Dillard, Guss Hendricks, Foster Pearson, John Gentry, W. A. Ferguson and A. J. Bryant; Misses Lillian Ferguson, Carrie Buck Edwards, Pearl and Wanona Laird, and Messrs. A. J. Bryant, Gentry, Pearson and Hendricks.

The Parent-Teachers' Association met Friday, September 1, this being the day set for those who would come and help clean up the school yards. The meeting was well attended. At noon the ladies of the town and surrounding community spread a nice dinner and everyone enjoyed a feast, and there was much good accomplished. There were several different suggestions discussed, of various ways in which we might raise funds for the payment of the debt on the new piano, which has recently been purchased, and is now in the auditorium. It was decided that an entertainment will be given Thursday night, September 14. The Lubbock entertainers will help furnish the music for the occasion, and we want you to come as it will be worth-while.

Come and join the Parent-Teachers' Association next meeting, which will be Friday afternoon, September 15, at 3 o'clock. We expect to have a speaker with us at this time, so everybody come.

ESTABLISH BRANCH OF AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS BUREAU.
The federal bureau of agricultural economics will establish a branch in Fort Worth on September 1, according to reports. This bureau was organized through the efforts of Representative Fritz Landrum of Austin. Another branch will be established at Austin. The Fort Worth drop will be the first in Texas between the headquarters in Kansas City for the Southwest and Austin.

This service will result in giving the Texas farm, ranch and orchard products shippers more than an even break at the big markets of the nation.

It will keep the supply and demand, receipts and movements, general market trends and actual market sales. It will result in a general extension of markets to which Texas shippers will have access.

Over this wire all of the important crops of Texas will be reported from a market viewpoint. Complete information and data which can be secured by personal representatives actually on the ground will be dispensed.

The headquarters will be established in the Livestock Exchange building, where an office force will be established, and data on fruits and vegetables, as well as livestock, will be dispensed. Information on the condition of the beef, mutton, pork and poultry trade in all the leading cities in the United States will be sent out, also on vegetables, melons and fruits.

In the livestock division, estimated receipts will be sent out early from the twenty-one leading markets of the country, which includes Fort Worth.

At the close of the day, a market gram containing the general report will be furnished the radio distributing plant. A general report containing approximately 1,000 words will be transmitted to the press. This leased wire service of the government will give the people of Texas the most complete wire market service it has ever given.

C. H. Hearn and son, Claude, of Seagraves, were here Friday on business.

If living isn't any fun why is some taken off for bad behavior?

EUROPEAN CRISIS VERY GRAVE, SAYS E. M. HOUSE

A report comes from Colonel E. M. House of Texas, who is now traveling in Europe, and at one time confidential advisor of President Wilson, and a member of the Paris Treaty Council, made a statement, after being in conference with several men of note in that country, that Europe's crisis is now as grave as it was in 1914, and need but a match to set off a terrible explosion which would engulf all Europe.

He suggests the following remedies to save the world from another great war:

1. Reconvancing all of the international bankers' conference to take up the whole reparations and European financial situations simultaneously.
2. Revitalization of the League of Nations by new non-aggression pledges among its members.
3. European disarmament, both physical and mental.
4. American assistance if Europe thus disarms.
5. Reduction of the German reparations, balancing of budgets and stoppage of paper currency issues.

All Europe is still an armed camp and each nation is seeking to trample down its neighbor in order to profit thereby itself. Until European lay down their imperialistic designs, and begin to reduce armaments and the great expense there-to they will continue to go from bad to worse.

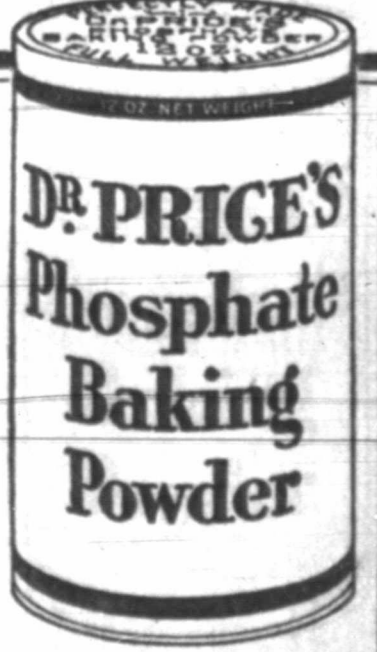

But, a far greater stride toward world peace and worldwide prosperity would have been taken had the Republican party under the leadership of Senator Lodge not joined in a political conspiracy in 1919 and encompassed the defeat of the League of Nations, which threw the world into chaos, from which it is now suffering. There was never such another terrible conspiracy in the history of the world.

However, if Europe does get into another big war, America should take no part in it, nor allow arms, ammunition, food or anything else to be sold to the belligerent nations. There are millions of people in this country who still feel that America should have kept out of the other war. If, since the other terrible war, Europe has not learned enough to keep out of another conflagration, it deserves little sympathy.

ABERNATHY NEWS

FROM THE REVIEW

The citizens of the town and surrounding country are preparing for a box supper to be held at the tabernacle on the evening of September 16th, the proceeds to be used in helping to defray the expenses of Heard Whitfield, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Whitfield, who was thrown from his horse three weeks ago, and has been in the sanitarium where the expense has been very heavy. It is not to be understood that the family is in destitute circumstances, but the expense in caring for the son in the sanitarium has been very heavy and the good people of the town and community have adopted this plan to relieve to some extent this burden.

Every one in and around town is requested to come and bring a box, well filled, which will be sold to the highest bidder and the money to be used as stated above. It is requested by the managers that each lady prepare and bring a box, which will be sold separate. This is for a worthy cause and should be well attended.

Mrs. J. O. Jones entertained with a house party in honor of her daughter, Miss Thelma, recently, and the following guests were present: Misses Francis Wyatt, of Canyon; Rosa Mae Jones, Golda Jones, Lottie and Irma Struve; Messrs. Emery Burns of Lockney, Mr. Brower Hannah of Petersburg, Emmett Bufford and Geo. Burns of Lubbock.

After a week end of fun making, the departing guests reported a good time and with the goodbye's the hostess declared she never had a more congenial crowd in her home.

Labor Day passed off very quiet in Abernathy Monday, only a few observing the holiday. This was in the way of a small sized crowd going to the Hart ranch for a day's picnic and outing.

Practically all of the schools of Hale county will open Monday, September 11th, and every child should be ready to enter at the beginning that can possibly do so. Some may not be able to attend regularly at the first of school, but by all means they should be there at the opening so that they can be graded and books and classes assigned to them. By so doing, a student can study at home, when absolutely necessary to stay out of school, and keep up pretty well with their classes.

Jasper Bogue of Dalhart, District Missionary of the Christian church, is very anxious to get in touch with all members of the Christian church—living in the Panhandle territory where there is not a Christian church, or where they are not identified with local congregations, and would appreciate it very much if each one would write him at Dalhart, Texas.

Lonnie Campbell took charge of the City Cafe Saturday and is now prepared to serve the hungry patrons with good substantial meals, or short orders, which ever is called for. He has secured a first class cook who will be on the job to see that the meals are properly cooked and served promptly.

Jack Pipkin of Canyon, spent two or three days last week in Abernathy visiting with friends.

Miss Thelma Jones spent a couple of days with friends in Plainview, the first of this week. Both gins are ready for the fleecy staple when it begins to arrive, which will be in the next few days, possibly the last of the week, as the cotton is beginning to open and the fields are putting on a sea of white and before long they will have the appearance of a distant snow bank.

Heard Whitfield, the young man that was thrown from his horse some three weeks ago, and who has been in the sanitarium since the accident, was brought home this week, and though somewhat improved, is still confined to his bed. The flesh, where the bone penetrated through, has not healed yet and is giving the young man considerable trouble.

Otto Stalley is having a nice four-room rent house erected on his farm three miles west of town. Mrs. Dr. Pickett and Mrs. Wofford of Plainview, visited in the home of R. M. Hardesty Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Annie Mae Hardesty left Sunday for Canyon, where she will attend the five days' session of the Teachers' Institute. From there she will go to Black, Texas, where she has a school for this year.

Miss Maymie Ripley left Saturday for Crosby county, to be on hand ready to begin her school duties Tuesday, the day set for the opening. She will teach a school a few miles out from Crosbyton.

Considerable building is going on in and around Abernathy these days and it looks like hard times have "gone forever."

Miss Kate Arnett, who has been sick for the past two weeks, is again able to be at the office waiting on her postoffice customers.

Frank Esery of Tennessee, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Raglands, is here visiting and will remain several days, and probably de-locate in Abernathy.

The boiler for the new gin has arrived and is now being placed in position, and the manager, Mr. Felmet, informs us that everything will be in position ready for ginning when cotton starts coming in.

The dove season opened last Monday, September 1, but sportsmen of the Plains country will not be benefited much, as the opening season is late and the birds are leaving for their winter quarters. It is said by some that have been out that the plovers are coming in pretty plentiful and some good shooting can be had.

The resignation of Prof. Ray Pinson, who was principal of the Abernathy school last year, was received and accepted last week, and his brother Bert, has been appointed to fill the vacancy occurred in his resigning.

The Union baseball boys came over Saturday afternoon and matched a game with the home team with the determination to clean up on the home boys, but before they were through with them they were forced to acknowledge that they had struck a snag that was hard to get around. After the close of the game the score stood 11 to 8 in favor of Abernathy.

The Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Company, under the direction of their manager, S. W. Smith, is having a new office building erected. The building is a structure covering a wide floor space and will be cut into two rooms for office and store-room. The work is being done by D. O'Neal and his helper.

Homer E. Rantz received a letter a few days ago from his old friend, W. R. (Sue) Holton, who, for several years made his home here. He writes Mr. Rantz that he is now living in North Carolina and is married and has a home of his own. He joined the army and spent some time in France. He has many friends in Abernathy who will be glad to learn of his whereabouts and to know he has settled down and is doing well.

Mrs. Ola Legg and son, left Friday for Plainview, where they will make their future home for the next two years. Mrs. Legg goes so as to be ready to take up her duties at County School Superintendent the first of the year. She will familiarize herself with the office work between now and that time, and be ready to take up the work the first of the year.

J. B. Gould, of Brown county, was in Abernathy a few days last week and was so well pleased with the town that he rented the building now occupied by the City Bakery, and will open a drug store in same. Mr. Gould returned home Sunday and will begin placing orders for a stock of drugs and will be ready for business for the 15th of the month. We understand it is his intentions to build a brick building in the near future.

The citizens of the county line held a meeting last Friday at the school house to take up the matter of the interested in this line of school work to accommodate the citizens of that part of the county. A committee was appointed to look over the route and ascertain the number living on the route to be served, the distance and condition of roads, etc. After this work is done the committee will report to the postoffice department all facts gathered, and try to get the department to send a representative here to present on the proposition. This would be a great benefit to that community and to every one living on the route. The committee is composed of three of the leading citizens of the community, Leonard Harrell, Harry Pettit and Austin Vaughn, who will push their claim to the limit to secure the route.

The entertainment announced last week in the Review, to be given by Misses Gladys and Lucy Maxey, will be held at the high school auditorium on September 9th. The entertainment will be free and will consist of piano duets, reading, piano and vocal solos, and for those who like popular music they will give a few pieces of them, as well as a number of classical pieces. This will be a rare treat for the music loving public, and those especially who are interested in the line of school work should not miss it.

Last Saturday evening Mrs. J. B. Magee was taken suddenly sick and Dr. McBride was sent for at once; who, after an examination, pronounced it paralysis. After the doctor had given medicine to relieve her suffering she seemed to get better, but at this time is still unable to have any use of herself, but hopes are held out for her recovery. The revival meeting that has been going on for the past ten days under the direction of the Apostolic church, closed its meeting at the tabernacle Sunday night. The preaching was done by Rev. S. J. McKaughan, and was well attended and listened to with close attention by everyone attending these services. Rev. McKaughan is a man of wide experience and a strong speaker, and the people of this community had a chance to hear the gospel preached and explained from his standpoint.

The revival meeting, conducted by Rev. J. T. Howell at County Line school house, closed Sunday night after a successful meeting, which placed that community on a higher spiritual level than ever before. Rev. Howell spared no pains in this revival and gave himself wholly and reservedly to the work and it is not strange that such faith and efforts bring results. The meeting resulted in several professions of faith in Christ and some of whom joined the church, promising to lead a better life. Large crowds attended each service.

Mrs. Ed Harden is in receipt of a box of lemons sent her by a brother living in Mission, Texas, from his orchard which he has several acres of a large variety of fruit. The lemons he sent to his sister are above the average in size of other states and fine in flavor.

Methodist People at Kerens Pay Tribute to Mrs. A. B. Keen

A beautiful surprise party was given Mrs. A. B. Keen, of Kerens, on her birthday, August 22. Mrs. Keen is truly a Dorcas in the Methodist Church of Kerens, an untiring worker for the Master, and a friend whose love and sweet understanding inspire devotion and admiration in all who know her.

Bro. and Mrs. Keen have been pioneer mission workers in West Texas. The call came to them 22 years ago. They left a lovely home, remunerative business, family and friends to take Christ's divine message to the "cowpunchers" of the Western plains. Their health broke down under the deprivations and hardships of pioneer life, and they returned to Kerens—but not to rest, however, but still to give unstintingly of their talents, but in fields of less arduous labor.

The organizations represented in the gathering were the Woman's Missionary Society, of which Mrs. Keen is President; the Builder's Sunday School class, of which she is teacher, and the Church, for which she prays and labors tirelessly. Mrs. Keen's sympathetic support of every forward move in the church inspired our pastor, Rev. Elmer Crabtree, to present an original poem of eulogy to her. Mrs. B. S. Brown, former teacher of the Builder's Class, in a fitting words spoke of the love the members of the class held for her. Mrs. John Holland, in behalf of the Woman's Missionary Society, gave birthday greetings, and in a bit of rhyme expressed the sentiment of the society. At the conclusion of the speeches Mrs. Calvin Glass paid tribute to Mrs. Keen's devotion to duty, and urged a closer bond of love and fellowship among the members of the church; then in a gracious way presented a love gift to Mrs. Keen from those she so cheerfully serves.

Mrs. Keen was so touched that words of thanks refused to come forth, but with a happy smile, brimming eyes and the sweet words, "You know I love you all"—those present felt sure they had brought a gleam of joy to one they love and revere.

A birthday cake was then cut and punch served. A joyful intercourse of kindred spirits and a feeling of sweet comradeship made the meeting a blessed occasion. It was with full hearts that Mrs. Keen's favorite song, "Blessed be the tie," was sung. A beautiful prayer was offered by Bro. Crabtree, and friend left friend thankful that God has made our hearts receptive vessels for the all-consuming love one for the other.

MRS. E. P. NORWOOD, Kerens, Texas.

Mrs. Keen is the mother of our fellow townsman, Curtis A. Keen, and we are pleased to report this instance of where the tribute is not withheld till life is gone. We are sure that this sainted old lady is worthy of every kind word spoken and we are further more glad to know that people are more often found bestowing flowers and loving words while those who receive them can enjoy them.

Catholic Priest at Ballenger Whipped By Unmasked Mob

Ballenger, Sept. 5.—Eight unmasked men seized Father Josef Meiser, priest of Olfen parish, ten miles south of Ballenger, at 10:30 o'clock Monday night, took him to a point about three miles south of Olfen and gave him a severe flogging. He was attended last night by Dr. W. B. Salley.

Sheriff Flynt was on the job early, but Meiser stated he was unable to recognize any of the flogging party.

Meiser was called to the door at shortly after 10 o'clock and fearing trouble armed himself with a pistol, loaded him into an automobile and tied a handkerchief over his face. He stated that the men traveled in Ford and Chevrolet cars. The flogging was done with a twisted rope.

Members of the party informed him that the action was done on account of his stand against public schools and his teaching school in the German language, also his record in Schulenburg, where he formerly lived and from which community it is alleged he was ordered to leave.

Meiser has under charge the erection of what is said to be the finest rural church in the Southwest, costing $50,000, and being built by assessment of one dollar per acre against the land of the parishes.

The school in the Olfen community was built by state aid and received state aid for two years. It has been removed from the control of the county superintendent and placed under the control of two Catholic sisters.

Meiser came to the Olfen community early in 1921 from Schulenburg, Germany. About the same time, it is alleged, documents came to the American Legion post here requesting that Meiser be watched. The community school since his coming here has been broken up, a parochial school taking its place. Catholic teachers are being secured, and the German language taught, it is charged.

R. H. Martin Off to Attend Chicago Convention of Bakers In An Attempt To Learn Newest Methods in Baking

R. H. Martin, of the Martin Bakery, better known in Rotary circles as "Butterflake," left Saturday for Chicago, where he will spend twelve days attending a convention of bakers from over the States.

"Those conventions are always worth while and the fact that the most up-to-date machinery that is built to be used in a bakery is displayed, one can get an idea of what a progressive bakery is, and I always enjoy the time spent with my fellow bakers," he said, declaring that a convention like the one he is attending is designed to insert new pep and better ideas into anyone, and if those fellows up Chicago way have anything to spring on our aggressive Mr. Martin that will add any pep in him, or give him any ideas that will result in his operating his place in a more progressive manner we would like mighty well to be up there and see the things they are doing, for Martin already has one of the best bakeries on the Plains, and we are sure that anyone who is familiar with the work he has done will admit that as a peptomist he is hard to beat.

At any rate he thinks they can show him a few things at the convention and has gone up there to find out what the other fellows have to say about the business, and we are sure that this is one trip in which everyone in Lubbock will be interested and benefitted.

The merchant who thinks because his store is just as good as the other stores in town that he has an easy thing, and needs not worry about advancing his business in the least is off the track, and we are sure he knows that the owner of one of the most attractive and best conducted businesses in Lubbock wants to do something for the advancement of that business. Butterflake is just that sort of a fellow, and that is one reason why his bakery has had such wonderful patronage.

It is hard to find a store where a heartier welcome is advanced than at the Martin Bakery, and the neatness of the place immediately overwhelms one. There has not been anything left undone in making that the really attractive store of the Plains, and now that we have already given Martin's store credit for having reached that stage of perfection, to learn that he is going away to learn a few new ideas about that business, we wonder just what kind of a convention that will be. Those fellows will certainly have to step to show Martin anything.

BOB KING TAKES OPTIMISTIC VIEW OF FARMING CONDITIONS

Bob King was in town Friday from his farm five miles northwest of Lubbock, with a bale of cotton gathered this year. Mr. King said that the cotton on his place varies in average yield, as some places as much as one-fourth bale is gathered, while in other sections of his field about ten acres is required to produce a bale.

COURT DECLARES WRIT APPLIES ONLY TO ILLINOIS

One thousand striking shopmen in mass meeting recently held in Omaha, voted unanimously to ignore the injunction.

Campaign For More Members In Farm Bureau Will Be Launched Soon Local Members Are Very Enthusiastic

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Lubbock County Farm Bureau, Wednesday, September 6, it was unanimously agreed that a membership campaign should be put on in this county and accordingly arrangements were completed for a three weeks intensive campaign to begin Monday, September 11. It was also decided to make the membership dues $10.00 and for the first payment to go to the Cotton Association to pay for the expenses of the campaign. It was agreed to maintain a Farm Bureau Booth at the South Plains Fair September 28, 29, and 30. This booth will be in charge of the County Membership Director who will be able to answer any questions that might be asked.

The following schedule was adopted for community meetings with the chairman in charge:

- Slaton, September 11, Carroll Phillips.
- Shallowater, September 12, M. J. Barton.
- Posey, September 13, W. E. Bennett.
- Grovesville, September 14, O. W. Benson.
- Idalou, September 15, Frank Ross.
- Acuff, September 16, S. S. Rush.
- Canyon, September 18, S. M. Hufstetter.
- New Hope, September 19, S. D. Stewart.
- Bledsoe, September 20, J. B. Reed.
- Woodrow, September 21, A. V. McCarty.
- Union, September 22, Mr. Tilman.
- Carlisle, September 23, B. W. Casey.
- Lubbock, September 23, Mass Meeting at 2 o'clock p. m.
- Estacado, September 25, S. W. Egan.
- Badger Lake, September 26, N. M. Hightower.
- Monroe, September 27, H. H. Johnson.

All meetings will begin at 8:00 o'clock p. m.

The Avalanche has had great interest in the Farm Bureau, and we think it altogether appropriate and fitting that we let our readers know that we believe it to be the best farmers organization in existence. The fact that the Farm Bureau is an organization of farmers, and that the farming business has heretofore been conducted on such ill-arranged plans that that great profession or vocation has become lessened in importance in the minds of a great many people, in no wise indicates a weakness on the part of the Bureau, for its officers have proven their business judgment in bringing about improved marketing conditions for the farm products. The Bureau has massed such great quantities of the staple that loan companies, Government Banks, and other great financial institutions have awoken to the tangibility of the Bureau, and expressed their confidence in it with magnificent loans.

This condition is to receive applause from the heart of every individual interested in the welfare of our agriculturalists, and we heartily endorse the operation of a branch of the Farm Bureau in Lubbock County.

The farmers are going after production costs plus a reasonable profit for their labor in the cotton growing business, and all indications are that in the Farm Bureau they have an organization which will stand the test of individual and co-operative competition, and if they place their products in the hands of the organization heads, they will be so well distributed that the markets will never be overstocked, and this it seems is the solution to the farmers' greatest problem.

An Avalanche representative attended the meeting at the courthouse Wednesday evening, and it was encouraging for us to see that the very most substantial farmers in this section are casting their lot with the Bureau. They have pledged their aid in making the above membership campaign a success, and we are sure that with their influence brought to bear upon the campaign it will be a success throughout.

The Farm Bureau is an organization based upon sound business principles. Its local members are men who have made good in the farming business inspite of adverse marketing conditions, and who are eager to do something for the advancement of their work.

Sign-Up Campaign Is Opened Up in Two West Texas Districts

Two new districts have been opened up in West Texas for the cotton sign-up campaign, J. F. Bagwell, director of field forces, announces. One of the districts takes in the following counties: Brown, Callahan, Coke, Concho, Coleman, McCulloch, Mitchell, Nolan, Runnels, Taylor, and Tom Green. The other district is composed of the following counties: Lynn, Garza, Kent, Dickens, Crosby, Lubbock and Dawson.

R. E. Overstreet, president of the Lubbock County Farm Bureau, is in charge of the campaign in the first district, while J. V. Ormond is directing the sign-up in the second district. They will rely as much as possible on local help so as to keep down expenses.

The campaign in central and south Texas is meeting with fair success in most of the counties, Mr. Bagwell says. Although the sign-up is not bringing as many contracts as it was hoped for by the directors, the workers find that discontent in the minds of individuals is dispelled when they tell them the facts about the workings of the association. County-wide meetings are being held at schoolhouses. Many farmers are tempted to sell their cotton because the market is going up, but speakers are pointing to the fact that the cotton associations of the South were responsible for every penny which cotton brought above fifteen cents. Proof of this fact was shown when the cotton market jumped up when the War Finance Corporation announced a loan to the cotton marketing associations.

Nearly 200 contracts have been received already, despite the fact that in most of the counties the campaign is still in the preliminary stage. These contracts are for from 3 bales to 200 bales. The average is 25 bales, making the total gain so far almost 5,000 bales.—Farm Bureau.

FERGUSON PLEADS HARMONY IN PARTY

Houston, Sept. 5.—Declaring he was for harmony in Democratic ranks if possible but for principle at any price, James E. Ferguson, defeated senatorial aspirant, Monday evening wired Frank Davis, chairman of the Democratic executive committee at San Antonio his regret at being unable to participate in the deliberations of the convention opening Tuesday.

Mr. Ferguson declared for strict enforcement of all laws, especially the prohibition laws and urged resolutions demanding legislation forbidding members of the Ku Klux Klan holding office in the state.

His wire was:

"I will appreciate it if you will read the following to the convention when it opens tomorrow:

"I congratulate the Texas Democracy as it assembles in the historic city of the Alamo. The place is inspiring and the time is auspicious for great public service.

"I trust the convention will declare for economy in government, for strict enforcement of all laws, especially the liquor laws, and that it will demand the passage of a law disqualifying all officers drinking bootleg liquor.

"I entreat the convention to put forth a platform condemning the Ku Klux Klan and demanding the passage of a law prohibiting a member of such organization holding office. Let us put Texas Democracy in no false light before the national Democracy.

"While regretting that I am not permitted to take part, I am no less concerned that we at this time consecrate ourselves to a republican form of government and not an empire. And to the rule of the people and not to a king in an imperial palace.

"Yours for harmony if possible, but for principle at any price."

JOHN HUGHES WILL ATTEND SCHOOL IN LUBBOCK

John Hughes, of Pocahontas, Arkansas, arrived in Lubbock last week to visit at the home of his sister, Mrs. Neal Douglass, and to attend the Lubbock school. John is an energetic young man, and we are sure he will make an account of himself in the school activities. He played on the football team of the Pocahontas school last year, and had become quite an expert in the wrestling art, and but for dislocated ligaments of the right ankle would no doubt make a place on the Lubbock football and track team, and it is regrettable indeed that he will be unable to participate in these events. It is possible, however, that the ligaments will have grown strong again before mid-term, and that he can take an active place in the various athletic events toward the last of school.

CAR SHORTAGE IS REPORTED AT FLOYDADA

Floydada, Sept. 5.—For the first time in many months there exists a car shortage of stock cars in Floydada. Local shippers have always gotten cars as they requested them for the past several months until right recently. The dry weather conditions causing a heavy shipment of cattle from West Texas is attributed as the reason for the shortage. Many raisers are shipping out their stock.

JUDGE MOORE AT HOME FROM LAY LEADERS MEETING

Judge J. H. Moore returned Wednesday from an extended trip in North Carolina and Alabama. He left Lubbock the last of July for Lake Junaluska, N. C., to attend an executive meeting of the Laymen of the General Conference, the organization for the furtherance of the Lay work, in keeping with provisions made at the last meeting of the General Conference at Hot Springs. While in that part of the country Judge Moore took the opportunity to visit friends and relatives at his old home at Center, Alabama, where he had a most enjoyable stay. He was called upon to make a talk at the Center Methodist Church Sunday evening, which was a sure he did with great credit to Lubbock and himself.

Judge Moore is one of the most enthusiastic church workers in this section, and spares neither time nor money in taking care of the work that is placed upon him by the church. He is instructor of a large class of men in the Sunday School, where his knowledge of the Bible, and close application to the various subjects discussed are winning features in accomplishing the work the place brings upon him.

Lubbock's churches are a credit to the entire section of Lubbock county, and anyone acquainted with the work that has been accomplished along those lines will certainly have great respect for the leaders in that work here.

Wednesday Needle Club
The Wednesday Needle Club will meet at the home of Mrs. W. B. Atkins at three o'clock.

Parent-Teachers' Association
The Parent-Teachers' Association will hold an important meeting on Thursday afternoon, September 14, at the grammar school. A discussion of the work for the coming year will be given time, and all of the old members are requested to be present. New members are urged to come and be convinced of the necessity of an active Parent-Teachers' Association. Wonderful work was accomplished last year and since each new year brings its problems to solve, there is a big field ahead for real constructive worth-while work. Everyone interested in the welfare of Lubbock and Lubbock's boys and girls should make it a point to be at the meeting at four o'clock.

1911 Needle Club
The 1911 Needle Club met with Mrs. Fred Oliver, last Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. Germany as assisting hostess. This was the first meeting of the club after the summer holidays and everyone was enthusiastic over the coming month's work in the club.

The discussion of the afternoon centered around new fall clothers and reports of summer vacations, and things to be during the coming months.

Refreshments were served with the charm and daintiness usual with Mesdames Oliver and Germany.

Post City Picnic in Lubbock
"Just when is a picnic not a picnic?"—or rather "Can a picnic be a picnic if it is rained out?" Sunday morning at four o'clock several cars of young married folks were scheduled to start for Post City for a picnic and outing. The rains stopped the first car at Slaton and the bunch was forced to turn back. But they were far from outdone.

A picnic breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Griffith, on Eleventh Street, with bacon and eggs and honey and toast and all of the picnic trimmings, noise and tales of past records in fishing and hunting and ruins that you did get caught in—or almost did get caught in. This installment of the indoor picnic broke up at 10 o'clock in time for Sunday school and church.

At 2:30, the same group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Moore on Avenue L, to eat the chickens, salads, cakes and other trimmings that had been fixed for the noon meal on the Post City picnic together with many delicacies added by Mrs. Moore. Still dressed in picnic clothes the bunch, told yarns, played the Victrola and read through the afternoon.

At seven-thirty the second installment of the indoor picnic closed and the bunch moved to H. L. Allen's home on Avenue H, to enjoy a Radio concert picked up from Kansas City, Denver, Dallas and intermediate points. Refreshments were served and the party finally adjourned at a late hour, and as is said of all picnic parties—"Tired, but happy from their day's outing,"—that was not out.

Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Moore, Mrs. Carter, and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis A. Keen.

"CARDIGAN" IS MOST HUMAN REAL FILM EVER SEEN HERE

The greatest struggle for independence whether it be for country, for home or for business was never more forcefully presented, and will be at the R. & R. Lindsey Theatre Wednesday, where "Cardigan," one of the season's greatest motion pictures, will be shown for the first time.

Little do we expect that we are going to see such an all important, thrilling and historical motion picture with such an entertainment value behind it. It is more than interesting. It is educational and it will bring home to us how easy it is for us today in comparison to the hardships of those who fought for the independence of what is today the greatest country in the world.

"Cardigan" is from the historical romance by Robert Chambers, the well known author. It is a story of a most beautiful romance which threads its way into the outbreak of the American Revolution, but such deft hands has shaped the production that it possesses the highest dramatic power and as a dramatic picture has not been equalled by any motion picture shown here this season.

It truly can be called the first big American historical feature. It is more than that. It is a picture that will live on for many, many years and is one which should be seen by every man, woman and child in town. Nobody can afford to miss it and we predict an unusual success for it.

It should especially appeal to all red blooded Americans and should prove a boom for the younger generation. They are the ones whose minds must now be moulded.

Baker-Hemphill House Will Be Located Here

The Baker-Hemphill Company announces today that a new store will be opened next month by this firm in Lubbock and that the Cash Economy Store, the named under which it has operated the Grand Leader here will be closed out.

M. L. Price, for 21 years in the dry goods and clothing business in this city and until his health left him a year ago treasurer of the Baker-Hemphill Company, and manager of their wholesale department, will be the manager of the new store.

Spencer Wells, who has had charge of the Cash Economy Store since it was purchased at the bankrupt sale of the Grand Leader by the Baker-Hemphill Company, will be the assistant manager. Mr. Price and Mr. Wells, together with Louis Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Price, and who has been in the goods furnishing department of the Baker-Hemphill Company here for the past two years, will probably be the only members of the local organization that will go to Lubbock.

Cash Out Cash Store.

The Cash Economy Store will start a sale Saturday to clean out all the stock carried here so that the fixtures of this store can be moved to Lubbock the last of this month and be installed before the new goods which have been purchased for the new store arrive. Mr. Hemphill says he hopes to open the new store between October 10th and 15th.

Mr. Hemphill thinks Lubbock is going to be the best city between San Angelo and Amarillo. He says Lubbock will be the center of the cotton production of West Texas in a few more years and believes that the wonderful growth of this plain town is unexcelled in this section. He has rented a building on one of the best corners of the city 50x115 feet, with a basement under the entire building. The first floor is doubled decked to take care of the millinery and ready-to-wear departments.

The new store will be known as the Baker-Hemphill Company though it is contemplated that the name will be changed after a few months of operation. Other stores under the same joint ownership are: Baker-Poston Co., Weatherford; Moore-Poston Co., Amarillo; Baker-Hanna Company, Quanah; Poston Dry Goods Co., Mineral Wells; Dixon Dry Goods Co., Vernon; Baker-Hanna Brothers Co., Altus, Okla.; Hemphill-Fain Co., Brownwood, and Baker-Hemphill Co., San Angelo. This chain also has a wholesale house here and an exclusive wholesale house in Oklahoma City, known as the Baker-Howard-Blake Co.

Here Since 1901

Mr. Price came to San Angelo in 1901. He was with L. Swartz Co., the concern which sold out to Baker-Hemphill in 1909. For a number of years he has had charge of various departments of the business here and is considered one of the most capable men in the organization of now ten stores. He will either sell or rent his residence on East Hard street. He expects to move to Lubbock the last of this month.

Mr. Wells, aside from a couple of years in the army, has worked for some store in this group since his youth. He started with the Baker-Poston Co., at Weatherford, came here to manage the shoe department and was later credit man of the wholesale house the firm opened up
