The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the relief and cure of bowel complaints, both for children and adults, has brought it into almost universal use, so that it is practically without a rival and as everyone who has used it knows, it is without an equal.

A BUNCH OF MONROE NEWS ITEMS OF INTEREST

The reapers are making charming music now, especially where the feed stuff has fine heads, and the gin here is getting the last touches before blowing a call for cotton, and many farmers are making ready to pick this week, and are so glad to have the gin so near.

Mr. Jeff Scott, of the Hardy community, visited his sister, Mrs. Matheny and family, one day last week.

Misses Thelma Stephenson and Ara Carr, who attend school in Lubbock, spent the week-end with their parents at this place. They enjoy the school work and like their teachers.

Mr. Adrain Merrill will attend school at Abernathy this term. Adrain is an exemplary young man and will make a pleasant pupil for the good school at that place.

Mrs. B. C. Clutter and son, Clem, of Lubbock, spent the week end among friends here, while looking over crops on their farm.

Mr. Claude Blanton and family, of near Slaton, visited Saturday night and Sunday in the home of Grandma Stephenson. Mr. Blanton is anticipating buying a home in this community at some time in the near future.

Mr. Tennyson of Plainview, filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church at this place on last Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night.

Mrs. Williams, who is visiting in the Teal home, is improving after a few days illness. Miss Vera Teal is some better, after spending a few days in bed.

Mr. Paul Morgan spent last Sunday in Lubbock, after keeping "pitch" on the Clutter ranch.

CALOMEL MAY TURN ON YOU NEXT TIME

Next Dose You Take May Salivate and Start World of Trouble

Calomel is mercury; quick-killer. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bowels and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel. It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. 10-18

TAKE A TIP FROM UNCLE SAM!

What is your greatest problem today?—Greater volume of sales. My service is one of the greatest aids in sales promotion. An optimistic outlook on the present situation is essential to successfully cope with it. You cannot afford to neglect your advertising at such a time as the present. Every person living in the community is a potential buyer. If we are content with a narrow margin of profit on each sale—the result will be greater volume. Swift & Co. claim that the fraction of one quarter of a cent is their entire margin on each dollar of their sales. Volume counts. The sign painter and the printer are the best friends you have in your present keen struggle for more business. The first law of business is progress. He who makes no progress is wasting time and effort. The procession will not wait for you. Cheerfulness and optimism are positive attractions. My service is at your command.

The liberal patronage of the public has enabled the writer to expand and increase his facilities and equipment for producing high grade sign work.

Even Uncle Sam finds that he cannot do business right without signs. He has ordered all postmasters to hang out their sign. Why? So people may know where to mail their letters and buy their stamps. And yet there are a few business houses that think they are so big and so well known they don't need a sign.

TELL THE WORLD WITH SIGNS.

Texas Cotton Crop Report Shows Great Damage Last 30 Days; Indicates Production of About 2,462,400 Bales

The report of the acreage and condition of the Texas cotton crop, up to September 1, was compiled by R. E. Yantis, Statistician, and made public today by Commissioner Geo. B. Terrell. The report shows great damage to the crop caused mostly by drouth, during the last thirty days.

In giving out the report, Mr. Terrell said:

"This report covers 193 counties, practically all the cotton producing counties, with from one to fifteen reports from each county. The reports received are from presidents and secretaries of Farmers' Institutes, County Farm Demonstration Agents, County Commissioners, Merchants, Bankers and individual farmers, and verified, as far as possible, by our field men. The drouth seems to be the cause of the greatest damage, as a large per cent of the cotton was late, especially in the western and northwestern parts of the State and in the flooded districts, and had no mature bolls when the drouth set in. Damage by boll weevil and leaf worms was also reported. The report indicates a condition of 58.67 per cent, and a yield of one-fifth of a bale per acre, while our report for August 1st, indicated a condition of 71 per cent and a yield slightly more than one-fourth of a bale per acre.

Taking the Government figures of 12,512,000 acres, planted, which, I believe to be too high, it indicates a yield of 2,462,400 bales, as compared with 2,179,143 bales produced last year.

If the yield in the other States is as low in proportion as that of Texas, the total crop of the South will be less than 10,000,000 bales, and warrants a price of at least 30 cents per pound. There will be a cotton famine next year, and nothing short of a conspiracy can keep the price from advancing.

The report by districts, and the average for the State are as follows:

Western group, 30 counties, acreage 113 per cent; condition 84.74 per cent; yield 4.6 acres to bale.

Northwestern group, 44 counties; acreage 122 per cent; condition 55.64 per cent; yield, 6.1 acres to bale.

Southwestern group 45 counties; acreage 112 per cent; condition 57.61 per cent; yield, 6.4 acres to bale.

Central group, 35 counties; acreage 29 per cent; condition 64.74 per cent; yield 4.6 acres to bale.

Eastern group, 39 counties; acreage 94 per cent; condition 68.75 per cent; yield 4.4 acres to bale.

For State, counties 193; acreage 108 per cent; condition 58.67 per cent; yield 5.2 acres to bale.

Queer Feelings

"Some time ago, I was very irregular," writes Mrs. Cora Robie, of Pikeville, Ky. "I suffered a great deal, and knew I must do something for this condition. I suffered mostly with my back and a weakness in my limbs. I would have dreadful headaches. I had hot flashes and very queer feelings, and oh, how my head hurt! I read of and of others, who seemed to have the same troubles I had, being benefited, so I began to use it. I found it most beneficial. I took several bottles and was made so much better I didn't have any more trouble of this kind. It regulated me."

Cardui has been found very helpful in the correction of many cases of painful female disorders, such as Mrs. Robie mentions above. If you suffer as she did, take Cardui—a purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, in use for more than 40 years. It should help you.

It is real dry up here, but south of this place is not so dry. There is quite a lot of building going on in this city. The county judge and the elevator man are just finishing up their residence-

es. But the nicest thing I see is a carload of Rocky Ford (Colo.) cantaloupes. I was invited to inspect the car which was soon to go out to Dallas. The car was packed and iced, and would net the growers about $700 per car. These cantaloupes were grown near town, irrigated with shallow water from wells. The growers will have 8 or 10 cars more. South and East Texas are sold out, so these people have good demand for their cantaloupes from now till frost. The growers are organized and will greatly increase their acreage next season. They have an expert to grade and pack their product. I have never seen as nice, smooth uniform lot in my life.

This little city has shipped about 25 cars of hogs this year, making an average of a car a week. This helps them along wonderfully.

Sudan has a new up-to-date gin now about ready for a splendid cotton crop, and say, they have some of the best cotton near my ranch and around Sudan that I have seen in the whole country. There are also some good corn crops in that section and they have promised to have some products at our fair. Taken all together, this section is in about the best shape of any place I have seen lately and I have been over quite a lot of the country. Respectfully, WELTON WINN.

BANDS

Ever since we can remember the problem of maintaining a band in a town, of ten thousand or less population, it is one that has vexed the minds of the people, and this matter has agitated the minds of the people of Lubbock for the past eighteen years to our certain knowledge.

WHY LUBBOCK GROWS

Lubbock grows and continues to get new business firms all the time because there is a spirit of progress here that is not found in many places.

W. J. Garrett, proprietor of the W. J. Garrett Goods store and the Garrett Style Shop, is forced to move his establishment elsewhere because he cannot find an unoccupied store building in Big Spring and has decided to move to Lubbock.

The above is a dispatch from Big Spring, and while there is not a vacant business house in Lubbock, this firm was able to make a deal for a business location, by means of a progressive spirited man coming forward and saying: 'I'll build you a house according to your own plans and specifications if you want to come here.'

TAX SLACKERS

Governor Neff at the recent State Convention, scored the fellows who did not pay their taxes last year, which is a shame for any man who claims to be an honest, upright citizen of the State.

END OF STRIKE IS NEAR

From the latest report from the convention of railroad men and strike leaders it looks as though the end of the strike is near at hand.

Governor Cox of Ohio, is of the opinion that America will become a member of the League of Nations within a short time.

Lubbock is now the largest city between Abilene and Amarillo and she is no doubt the fastest growing city of the three mentioned.

Within a few weeks it is expected that a large force of workmen will be put on the extension work of the city water, gas and sewer system which will furnish employment for quite a number of men for several months.

There are several bands within the territory represented by the South Plains Fair, and we would like to see them all represented at the South Plains Fair.

Senior Very Aably Present Their Splendid Play

The 1922 Senior Class of the Lubbock High School, gave the play, "A Daughter of the Desert," Saturday night before a large house at the Community Auditorium.

The following students took part in the play in the characters as listed: Harold Morton, a Railroad Surveyor—Clarice Phillips.

Jim Parker, a Gambler who is on the square—Jim Stahl. Bill Jones, a sure-fire Sheriff—Biscuit Meredith.

Ruth Arlington, a Daughter of the Desert—Sylvia Wilson. Luck Hopkins, her College Chum—Ala Burrus.

Mrs. Mary Odgen, an Arizona Widow—Alta Burrus. White Bird, an Apache Indian Girl—Pearl Warren.

Cowboys—Royce Waters and Glenn Hunt. It is impossible to list the individual stars, for with an amateur group like this they play pretty close together.

Claud McDaniel Now Heads Sales Dept. of Bakery

Claude McDaniel, for a long time an integral part of the local station of the Bell Telephone system, has resigned his position in the service department of that company, where he has made an enviable record, becoming one of the best salaried men in that department of the West Texas stations, and is now with the sales department of the Martin Bakery Company.

Mr. McDaniel is a live wire, and we are sure he will make a record as a salesman, in that the Butterflake bread, the most noted product of the bakery, is already a good seller and as Mr. McDaniel knows how to get into a proposition like that, we are sure the saleswork of the bakery will be ably handled.

Mr. McDaniel is a member of the local Kiwanis club, has organized and instructed a class of local young men in Rudin work, is an enthusiastic booster for everything designed to add to the material development of Lubbock, and has in many ways conducted himself in a manner that has brought applause from the people who are acquainted with his work.

We feel that in receiving the assistance of Mr. McDaniel in the bakery, Mr. Martin has made a step forward, which he will realize before many months have passed.

He is now in the new work, and we are sure will be glad to have his friends call on him at the bakery.

Mrs. T. E. Benson and son, Hank, and Miss Adeline Bellah, returned Tuesday evening from an extended trip through Colorado, Nevada, Wyoming, and other states, where they enjoyed the greater part of the summer.

Captain W. P. Bailey and wife, of The Salvation Army, have made their home in Lubbock, and will be active in their work in this district. We understand plans are to be made to establish a mission band here.

Progressive San Saba County Farmer Will Cultivate 640 Acres of Lubbock County Land He Purchased This Week

W. R. Waller, of San Saba county, one of the big landowners and substantial citizens of that county, was here the first of the week and purchased six hundred and forty acres of fine land ten miles south of Lubbock.

Mr. Waller has made arrangements to have modern farm buildings constructed on his new property, including a modern home, barns, etc., and we understand he will occupy the home just as soon as it is completed.

Mr. Waller is one of the kind of men who add materially to the entire section of West Texas. He will cultivate his farm in the best manner possible, making production records of the country just that much better, and his influence brought to bear upon that community will do a great deal in making this country more progressive.

We heartily welcome the San Saba man to the plains. There are wonderful opportunities here for the wide awake agriculturist, and we are sure that in purchasing lands near Lubbock Mr. Waller has marked himself well as a man of genuine business ability.

The city of Lubbock has undergone great growth within the past few months, and there are those lacking acquaintance with the greatness of this country who are wondering what will create sufficient business here to support the many firms that are entering business, but lack of knowledge of the country's greatness in no wise discounts it one bit, and we are sure that within a few months they will realize that the growth, though apparently normal, has been no more, nor less than the result of wise business judgment put into practice.

Lubbock's growth is not abnormal. Anyone familiar with the rural school population last year can easily glimpse at the present enrollment and see that the various communities adjacent to Lubbock are growing every day, and that the cultivation of these lands enables Lubbock businessmen to enjoy greater patronage.

Every acre of land that is put into cultivation here is adding its wealth to the plains country. West Texas lands are proving their value each season, and before many years even greater value will be realized. Maximum production on minimum acreage instead of maximum acreage regardless of production will no doubt soon be the hobby of all the farmers, and the dawn of their awakening to the value of that as a standard slogan will bring the morning of greater business conditions all over this great country.

Again and again we welcome Mr. Waller to the plains, and realize that his coming is a great help to the developing force of the country.

S. D. Pate was in town Tuesday from his fine farm nine miles south of town with a bale of cotton. He has one hundred acres in the fleecy staple this year, and like other farmers, has experienced a short crop, but nevertheless is grateful to say that he is glad his crop is as good as it is, and looks forward to an increase in price of the staple.

LOCAL MAN ATTENDED GREAT MEETING OF LAYMEN

Following is an account of the meeting of the Laymen of the M. E. Church South, held in Asheville, N. C., which was attended by Judge Moore, of the local church:

Judge W. Erskin Williams, prominent attorney of Fort Worth, Texas, was elected president and Judge T. H. Tatum, of Sumter, S. C., Recording Secretary of the General Board of Lay Activities of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, at the first meeting of the board at Lake Junaluska, yesterday. The board will remain in session three days. Other executive and associate secretaries will be elected later.

This board was created by the General Conference of the Church at Hot Springs, Ark., last spring and met yesterday for organization. This board will have charge of all distinctive activities of laymen in the church. It is to be the great promotional board of the church and assist all other boards in the development of their work. The ultimate end is to make an active working force in all the 10,000 local churches in Southern Methodism. It is not a board to carry forward its own purposes, but will plan and work for the promotion of the whole church. This is the first time in the history of any church that a great board of laymen have been created with such authority, it is stated.

The membership is composed of one representative of each of the 38 conference boards of the church. The conference boards in turn are made up of district boards, averaging eight to the conference. In each district there is a separate church board, in all about 19,000. Thus the main board heading and promoting all the activities of the rest is the General Board organized yesterday.—Asheville (North Carolina) Citizen.

McLEMORE AND BASS BLDG. IS NEAR COMPLETION

George W. Pickle continues to add his lot to the building up of Lubbock. He has been about the busiest contractor in town for several days as the urgent need of the McLemore and Bass Building which is being erected on Broadway, has inspired him to push his men along, and we are sure that when building Lubbock is concerned, George W. Pickle can be counted on as one of the great factors in accomplishing that work.

As a Kiwanian, George is there with the goods, but has worried the secretary with the problem of finding a plenty for him to eat at the weekly luncheons, and when a few days ago he was overwhelmed with so many varieties of delicious foods that he had to admit that for once he had satisfied his appetite, the energetic secretary realized that there is always a way to meet every problem with a practical solution.

The old gag about "leave it to George" will work mighty well in Lubbock, for George W. is there with the goods, and always carries his part of the load.

His many friends are eagerly awaiting the completion of the buildings in which he is now interested, for he has the building fever mighty hot and they want to see what he will build next.

Lubbock people are building a city second to none and when all is said and done, George Pickle will have made a pretty good record in the building world.

COURTESY IN TEXAS IMPRESSES JOURNALIST

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 12.—Speaking before the Dallas Advertising League this week, Herbert Smith, former professor in the University of Missouri, said since coming to live in Texas he has been impressed most of all with the courtesy of employees and executives of the public utilities.

Next to that he has been impressed with the politeness of people met on street cars and of the car men.

"The utilities of Dallas are building solid public relations by their methods of meeting and treating people," said Mr. Smith.

RALLS

The Ralls Banner

P. B. Ralls returned this week from a visit to Ryan, Oklahoma. In making the trip he passed over a territory covering about 700 miles, including Fort Worth and Dallas, and says our country and people are in the best shape of any territory that he has passed through. It will always be found thus here. It is well known that we have the best country to be found anywhere, and it suffers less from unfavorable conditions than any section of the country.

The work of building another school house in Crosby county is in progress. The house is being constructed on land belonging to D. H. and Dave Benton, and will be named the Benton School House. Miss Kate Reagan will be teacher, and it is expected that about 30 pupils will attend. We cannot have too many schools and the Banner feels that this new school will be a good one.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. McCain, and Dr. Clifford McCain and wife, returned home Sunday from a week's visit in West Texas. They report the West in apparently good condition. Fair crops prevail in most sections visited, especially in the Plains country, where good feed crops have been made. They also promise a fair yield. They met a number of former Red River county people in Crosby and Lubbock counties, who appear prosperous and contented in the new country. Mr. McCain visited the farm of Dinch McCall and found his family well-pleased. Mr. McCall has a splendid farm of 320 acres well improved and has a good crop. Dell Evans, another, and other former Bogata citizens are making a success at farming in the west. He and his small boy cultivated 240 acres of land this year. He has plenty of feed stuff harvested to run his farm a year and will make forty or fifty bales of cotton. Bud Lee Hinson, a former Rosalig citizen is proprietor of a cafe and meat market at Ralls and appears to be doing well, and all appear to be well pleased with the country.—Bogata News.

If the above is the way strangers look at our country under present conditions, what do you reckon they would think should they visit us when we have an average crop?

CROSBYTON

From the Review

Jim Griffin, another one of our valued subscribers, is spreading himself on cotton again this year and we are told that he has a good prospect for 200 bales or more from 655 acres on his farm four miles west of Ralls. The crop has been worked well, is not thick in the drill and is yet green and growing. His feed is reasonably good and he believes he will make enough to tide him over for another year. His cotton is now opening brisky and he says he could use a number of extra pickers.

The Dickens County Boys and Girls Club terminated a two-day picnic in Blanco Canyon, three miles east of here last Friday. The club has a membership of 346, eighty-six of which were present. The party was in charge of R. B. Johnson, Dickens County Agricultural Agent, assisted by Miss Winnie Wilkins, Home Demonstration Agent for the same county. Johnson, Judge W. L. Powell, and W. E. Lee, all of Spur, made interesting talks.

Lee, who is vice president of the Spur National Bank, stressed the importance of the work, as well as offering financial assistance aid through his bank in the feeding of baby beef and pigs, as he has done in the past. Miss Wilkins taught the youngsters songs and yells. Barbecue was served each day, and camping, swimming, base ball and other games furnished the amusements.

Rev. H. C. Gordon performed the marriage ceremony at the Methodist parsonage last Sunday uniting Elza Moore and Miss Ethel Brown, both of Old Emma, and Robert E. Welch of Meadow, and Miss Hattie Swain of Ralls, in the holy bonds of wedlock.

C. W. Miller, one of the thrifty farmers and hog men near Ralls, expects to be on hand at our county fair with some fine swine. Mr. Miller is making a good crop for the year. Besides making plenty of feed he thinks he will get about thirty bales of cotton.

Post City Post

Judge and Mrs. J. M. Boren entertained with a week-end house party at their ranch for Miss Merety Suggs of Fort Worth, Misses Wanda Drago and Mabel Browning, and Messrs. Claude Beall and Garland Vinton of Sweetwater, and Misses Helen Joe and Forest Wicker, and Messrs. Stokes and English, all of Snyder.

The Cloes City school opened last Monday with a great deal of enthusiasm. The patrons of the school together with the school board, gathered at the beautiful school building and with speeches and music, opened the school term for this year. Prof. Singleton, from Gorman, who is principal, with four able assistants, was present and the school opened with almost a full enrollment, which is something like 200 students. The Cloes City school promises this year to be the best in the history of the school.

The Post school opened Monday with a large attendance and all teachers present. The present term promises to be the best we have ever had.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis and friend, all teachers in the public schools at Garden City, Texas, have been visiting Mrs. Davis' cousin, Mrs. Allen Bird, at the ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Grey of Breckenridge, brother and sister of Mrs. Allen Bird, have also been visitors at the ranch, and last Sunday evening these visitors and the Bird families took supper at

Two Draw Lake afterwards returning to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bird in South Post, where they enjoyed music by Miss Francis Guffin, violin, and Mrs. Allen Bird, piano.

Mrs. H. S. Ury, of the Midlothian Argus, of Midlothian, Texas, left Monday after a week's visit with her brothers, Jim and Neal Douglass, of Lubbock, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Douglass, Sr., of Littlefield. While in Lubbock Mrs. Ury visited the Avalanche office and was shown through the mechanical department, and was highly impressed with the modern equipment used in turning out the work here. She was complimentary of the progressiveness of Lubbock businessmen, and expressed the opinion that Lubbock will some day become the Fort Worth of the Plains.

THE KEY THAT UNLOCKS THE DOOR OF LONG LIVING

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund, well-fed, but thin, spare men, who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much of some article of food not suited to his constitution, causing indigestion or constipation and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets to move his bowels and invigorate his stomach. When this is done, there is no reason why the average man should not live to a ripe old age.

Don't fail to read the Avalanche.

KANSAS CITY MARKET

Kansas City Stock Yards, September 11.—Cattle receipts were larger today than on any previous Monday this year. Most grades held steady and some common kinds were slightly lower. Demand showed considerable value, and the general railroad situation was improved. Hogs opened fully steady and closed 10 cents higher in the face of declines at more Eastern markets. Sheep and lambs were steady.

Today's Receipts
Receipts today were 35,000 cattle, 8,000 hogs and 9,000 sheep, compared with 25,000 cattle, 9,000 hogs and 8,000 sheep a week ago, and 30,550 cattle, 7,150 hogs and 10,150 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle
Demand for cattle today was active, and in keeping with the large supply offered. Some of the best fat steers and butcher cattle were slightly stronger, with bulk of sales of all kinds except common grades steady. Fed steers were in moderate supply, and none showed prime finish. Most of the offerings sold at $9.75 to $10.35. Grass fat steers sold at $4 to $9.25, and maintained about the same price spread as last week. Good to choice grassers sold readily but there was some dullness in the ordinary classes. Veal calves, cows and heifers sold freely.

Stockers and Feeders
The large supply of thin cattle here gave country buyers a chance to operate freely and prices held steady. Offerings included all kinds and classes. Rains from Central Kansas east have increased demand.

Hogs
Notwithstanding 10 to 15 cent declines at more Eastern markets, hog prices here ruled 5 to 10 cents higher under an active demand. The top price was $9, and bulk of sales $8.50 to $8.90. Local receipts were moderate, while the run in Chicago was larger than for several Mondays past. Pigs were in active demand at $8 to $8.85.

Sheep and Lambs
Trade in the sheep division was active at strong to 25 cents higher prices. The better grades of lambs showed the full advance. Western lambs sold up to $12.90, and native lambs at $12 to $12.50. Light weight ewes sold at $6.50 to $6.75.

Horses and Mules
Receipts and volume of trade in the horse and mule market showed further increases. Prices held steady. There is considerable inquiry from Southern States.

SIGNS ON SLATON ROAD ARE VERY ATTRACTIVE

The Avalanche city editor is grateful to Hay Davidson for an automobile trip to Slaton Friday evening of last week.

We found everything in that little city going along mighty well, and though building is not as active at this time as it was several weeks ago, there is still much evidence of progressiveness on the part of the citizens.

The striking shopmen seem optimistic as to the final outcome of their strike, and feel confident that they will be ordered back to work within a short time.

We had an opportunity to observe the nice signs placed along the Slaton-Lubbock road by Lubbock businessmen, and they certainly are nice. The signs are well painted, and built of substantial materials, suspended on two four by four posts set in the ground, and placed so they may be read for a long time before being reached. "Welcome to Lubbock," and the like sentences invites attention, and one is made by reading those signs that Lubbock businessmen really and truly want them to visit their city.

SLATON ASSESSED VALUES SHOW BIG YEARLY INCREASE

Slaton, Sept. 8.—The Board of Equalization, acting for both the City and School appraisement, consisting of T. J. Overby, M. A. Pember and E. E. Barton, have completed their work. The valuations as rendered show a total for the city of $1,650,000 while that of the Independent School district, comprising Slaton and a portion of the immediate farm territory surrounding is set at $3,200,000. This is an increase in both cases of approximately $300,000 over rendition for 1921 and does not include the major part of new buildings, etc., which include a cotton compress, two new gas, ice plant, laundry, half dozen brick business buildings and approximately 100 residences, which were completed this year too late to appear. School tax rate has been set at ninety cents, seventy-five for maintenance and twenty-five to retire outstanding bonds.

The city rate has not as yet been set but will probably be in the neighborhood of $1.25.

Four hundred hands are needed in Slaton vicinity to handle the large acreage of cotton, which on account of the drought is opening fast and badly in need of attention. There is near double the acreage this year as compared with last and a conservative estimate of the yield of the crop is placed at one-fourth bale to the acre. The Chamber of Commerce is sending out special calls for labor and all responding will be promptly placed.

Elder Liff Sanders, for many years a citizen of this city, and minister in the Church of Christ, was here Tuesday from Lockney, visiting relatives and friends.

MITCHELL COUNTY HAS BEST CROPS IN STATE

The cotton fields of Mitchell county are beginning to look white, and if the present dry, hot weather continues for long it will not take a great while to gather the greater part of the crop in this section. In spite of the adverse conditions the farmers are gathering an average crop. It is taking from four to seven acres to get a bale, and when first put on the market was bringing around 22 cents, although it has dropped to about 19 cents at the present time.

The big problem now is the getting of hands to gather the crop while it is at its best and the good weather lasts. Cotton picking is bringing $1.00 per hundred bays, but there has been some effort made in some sections to shove the price above that.

Up until Wednesday night of this week there had been about five hundred bales weighed at the yard here, and that will be about the amount that has been ginned, as most of the farmers are selling it as they bring it to the gin—Lorraine Leader.

FARM BUREAU MEN CAN VASSED SLATON MONDAY

County Agent Jennings and T. E. Davis, field man of the Farm Bureau, went to Slaton Monday evening in interest of the Farm Bureau Cotton Association, where they made a canvass for members of the association.

These men are awake to the needs of the farmers, and have been energetic in bringing just as many of the farmers into the Bureau as it is at all possible, and we are sure that facts and sensible men ought to reach sensible conclusions. The cotton crop this year as estimated by the government in the report of September 1, indicates a yield of 10,575,000 bales.

George B. Terrell, Com. of Agri. Appeals to Farmers and Business Men Not to Force Cotton on the Market—Should Bring 30c

Geo. B. Terrell, Commissioner of Agriculture, reviews the cotton situation and urges bankers, merchants and farmers not to force cotton up on the market, depressing the price and causing heavy losses to the producers.

"The Texas crop is estimated at 3,644,000 bales, which I believe to be one million bales too high. The reports furnished my office from reliable men in all parts of the State indicate a crop of 2,462,400 bales as compared with a crop of 2,179,145 last year.

The average cost of producing this cotton crop is estimated to be 22 cents per pound. The spot market is below this price now, and cotton has lost more than five dollars per bale in the last few days, caused by the rapid gathering and selling of the Texas crop.

"This crop is several million bales short of the world's needs, and every consideration justifies a price of thirty cents.

"I appeal to the farmers, merchants and bankers, not to force all the cotton upon a declining market, causing lower prices, and the loss of millions of dollars so badly needed to pay the farmers' debts and revive the business of this country.

"The total crop of the South last year was 8,039,673 bales. The domestic consumption and exports for the year just closed are 11,799,381 bales, or nearly 4,000,000 bales more than was produced last year. The big surplus of 1920 is practically used up. The crop this year will possibly not reach ten million bales, or nearly two million bales less than consumption this year.

"Nothing could keep the price of cotton from going to 30 cents, if it were not dumped on the market as fast as picked.

"Don't take my word for it. Consider the facts I have given and take the word of P. H. Naughton, a cotton manufacturer, as published in the Daily News Record of New York."

He says: "The world's annual requirement consumption of cotton is 20,000,000 bales. This quantity of cotton cannot be produced today from the cotton growing countries of the world. A liberal estimate of the world's cotton crop for 1922 would be about 15,500,000 bales. The United States will produce about 9,000,000 bales. With all due respect to Mr. Wallace, United States Secretary of Agriculture at Washington, and his various theoretical bureaus, issuing kaleidoscopic estimates for Wall Street—fluctuating, liquidating, profit-taking,—erroneous big crop estimates emanating from Washington are prejudicial and a deterrent factor in the dry goods business. The legitimate business in dry goods is halted by 'crying big crop of cotton, lower prices.'

"All cotton growing countries indicate poor crops.—Cotton famine is inevitable. The whole world wants cotton. The world is hungry for cotton goods. Middling cotton will sell at 30 cents before the beautiful snow flies."

In view of these undisputed facts, it seems to me that the business interests of Texas and the South, which must depend upon cotton for existence could not afford to force this crop upon the market at prices less than cost, causing a loss of millions of dollars to the farmers, and all interests dependent upon the cotton crop. As soon as pressing debts are paid, all interests should unite to stop the rapid sale of cotton, and the price would reach 30 cents in 30 days if the sale of cotton could be stopped that long.

What is there in all life that is more beautiful or more sacred than a mother's love for her boy or a boy's love for his mother?

Remember how she used to scold you, while she worshipped you with all your boyish faults?

Remember how you idolized your mother and how often you neglected her when she needed you most?

And remember how you forgot your mother in your wild life in the city where other things put such thoughts as mother out of your mind? ROPEVILLE SCHOOL ATTENDANCE INCREASED THIS YEAR

J. A. Humphries, superintendent of the Ropeville school, was in the Avalanche office Saturday to renew his subscription to the paper.

He reports that the Ropeville school was started Monday morning with a full attendance, and that the building was filled to full capacity. Such developments noticed in the rural schools of this section is indicative that the rural population of the plains is also increasing at a great rate, and as those people are playing a great part in the development of the plains country, one can readily see that this country is going to the front in a hurry.

Mr. Humphries is an able instructor, and we are sure that under his leadership the school will be successful in meeting the educational needs of the people of that section.

can get the Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News at that price. The Dallas News has such a large circulation that it can sell its advertising space at about fifteen to twenty times what the Banner gets for its advertising space. The Dallas News sells its publication for really less than the white paper costs, sells it at a big loss compared with the cost of production. However, it makes up this deficit by letting its advertisers pay the loss. If the Banner could get even half as much for its advertising space as the Dallas News, it could afford to give away a yearly subscription to every family in Smith and Cherokee. But we submit that you can't find in East Texas another small town paper in the same class with the Banner for less than $1.50 per year. In many parts of Texas, particularly the West and Southwest, small town papers with by no means so good a news service sell at $2.00 per year, and in a few instances even higher.

Again the Ladies' Home Journal and the Saturday Evening Post are sold to their subscribers at a price that will not even pay half the cost of the white paper in a copy. Why will these shrewd publishers then sell millions of copies of their publication at such a great loss? They do it to keep their circulation up to the millions. With a circulation of near two million copies they can sell a page of advertising for $7,500 to $10,000; and, if they print that page in colors they can sell it for $15,000. But the small town paper's circulation is limited and it can't sell its space at a price that will justify its selling its subscriptions at a loss.

So there you are: To compare the subscription price of a small town paper with the Dallas Semi-Weekly News, or with some great national magazine, and by that reach a conclusion as to their values is an unfair, improper way of arriving at the real truth of the matter.—Troup Banner.

WEST TEXAS NEEDS AN A. & M.

Tarrant county's delegation to the Democratic states convention at San Antonio will urge a plank in the platform pledging the party to a creation of a West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College of the first rank. The Republican state platform already pledges such candidates of that party as may be elected to the same thing. But the Democratic party has the power to put the plan into execution, though it is something that all West Texas, irrespective of partisan affiliations, desires.

There is opposition to the plan from the present Agricultural and Mechanical College at College Station. That is natural. Its officers, faculty, students and alumni are loyal to it, and want the state's energies and the state's funds placed behind it. Why not make a greater A. & M. at College Station? they say. Sometimes one hears the question asked as to why not two universities. A junior agricultural college like John Tarleton is suggested. But there are logical reasons for the thing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the people of West Texas are asking. A university of general culture is as important, but not so close to the life of the people in the agricultural sections as the A. & M. College. It is supplemented by many good private universities and colleges. It is true that West Texas is not as well supplied with collegiate institutions as it should be as yet, though it has some very excellent colleges. But this is not the first and most pressing need.

West Texas is a great agricultural country. It is also developing much of industry and activities requiring mechanical and technical training. The average boy who wants to take this type of study is unable to go far from home and to expend large sums of money. The expense of travel to College Station from most of West Texas is almost, if not quite, prohibitive to the student who must earn his own way. Then, too, West Texas is an empire whose agricultural and other problems are radically different from those of East and South Texas. It needs an A. & M. college of its own, fitted for its special needs, of a spirit akin to its spirit. There is no reflection on the present fine college at College Station in that statement.

The flood of students who poured into the new state normal college at Canyon is a demonstration of the need for education institutions of college rank there and of the response that will come if the youth of that section are given collegiate advantages near their homes.

West Texas deserves an Agricultural and Mechanical college of full rank, and the need should be filled by action at San Antonio and following action when the next legislature meets.—Fort Worth Record.

LET'S TRY IT OUT

Various inquiries have come to the Plainsman concerning the article about the Mammoth French Artichoke which appeared in a recent issue and a number of our farmer and ranchman readers seem interested.

We believe that a test of this plant should be made in this part of the Southwest, since it gives promise of being a very valuable addition to our forage crops. We all know what a hardy, drought resistant plant the sunflower is and how it will persist in growing in the driest weather. While it is probable that the improved artichoke would not prove so hardy, there is reason to believe that it would do well in this section and its feeding value has already been proven by tests in other parts of the country.

The experiments at River Ridge Farm have convinced Mr. Sibley, who is somewhat familiar with Western Texas and our problems in agriculture, that this plant should be of incalculable value to the stockman of this region. This seems reasonable when we remember that it belongs to the same family as the sunflower which is indigenous here as elsewhere over the United States. While there have been a good many tests made of the Jerusalem artichoke in different parts of the country, the other varieties have proved most inferior to the Mammoth French White, which is the product of French scientists. Its abundant leafage makes it an excellent forage plant and its perennial habit insures a crop every year without replanting. It is also free from blight and insect pests to an unusual degree.

Of course, methods of cultivation for this section would have to be worked out by the experimenter but we hope that a number of our farmers will try the artichoke next season. It is said that all stock will eat the forage and the tubers are an excellent substitute for potatoes for the human family as well as being greatly relished by hogs.

Mr. Sibley has no interest in the artichoke other than that of any experimenter who has found a plant in which he sees wonderful possibilities and it is for this reason, alone, that he has published the story of his work with it.—Southwest Plainsman.

Women and Cigarettes

An article in the June number of the Ladies' Home Journal gives some information and affords cause for real anxiety on the part of all who have the best interest of humanity at heart. The article shows that the sale of cigarettes has greatly increased in recent years, the increase being due in the main to the use of cigarettes by women. Most of the leading hotels tolerate the spectacle of women smoking, some of them furnishing special rooms for the purpose. The custom prevails most conspicuously among the theatrical set and the mis-called "smart set," but it is creeping rapidly into circles where ideals of conduct are supposed to be higher and more exacting. It is said to prevail to a greater or less extent in some girls' schools and colleges. It is becoming the fad in many social sets whose members are deemed very respectable. Would-be "swelldom" is adopting the custom with something like enthusiasm. Jewelers are employing their artistic skill in producing elegant cigarette holders and cases for women. Some members of the gentler sex have taken to cigars and some to pipes. The editor of the United Presbyterian, in speaking of considering marriage to a woman who habitually smokes, says: "If we were proffering advice to a young man concerning the choosing of a wife, would we solemnly counsel him to select as his life partner one who habitually fills the circumambient atmosphere with ill-smelling exhalations? If we were confronted with the alternative of entering into wedlock with such a specimen of womanhood or living an exile amid the tall timber, we would choose the latter without a moment's hesitation."

A WEST TEXAS A. & M., TOO

One thing which the Legislature must do in addition to submitting to the people the question of providing direct and independent support for the educational institutions is to create a West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College.

The time has passed when it is necessary to defend the justice of the claim of West Texas in this matter. Every unbiased and enlightened citizen, no matter what section he hails from, must recognize that in order to have a well-balanced system of education in Texas, contributing to the proper development of the whole of the State, a great institution of this kind must be established in the great empire of West Texas.

The only question that can be raised at all is whether the time is propitious for its establishment and we do not hesitate to say that it most certainly is the time to establish it. Now is the time to lay its foundations, for the development of West Texas and the Panhandle, while it has been very great during the past two decades, is only begun. There should be such an institution to contribute toward this development and to grow as the section grows. As a matter of fact it already has been postponed too long and should not be put off another year. It is a necessity and the whole State will profit in the long run from its establishment.

Influential Young Business Man Off To Denver, Colo.

P. H. Johnson, who has for a long time been one of the livest young businessmen of the city, whose activities in church work have won for him the admiration and respect of a great many Lubbock people, and whose efforts to advance Lubbock in every manner possible have been noticeable, left Wednesday morning for Denver, Colo., where he will make his home.

He is making the trip by automobile, accompanied by Homer Bivens, who will return to Lubbock after a short visit in different parts of Colorado.

Mr. Johnson established the Johnson Studio here several years ago, and the high class work he turned out there proves his superior knowledge of the photographing business, and in his going to Denver, is indeed receiving a good one at Lubbock's loss.

The work Mr. Johnson has done in Lubbock will last for many years as a monument to his skill and efficiency, and his kind personal attention to all who went into his studio will be long remembered.

Mr. Johnson took an active part in the Epworth League, the Sunday school and other branches of the Methodist church, where his absence will be keenly felt.

Mrs. Johnson has been in Colorado a good many months for her health, and their little son will join them there. Mr. Johnson's many friends will be glad to learn of his well being there, and he leaves many people here who wish for him and his all the good fortunes that can go their way.

The Kiwanis club of Lubbock also loses a mighty good and active member, and finding one who will take his place in promoting the work of the club will be found a difficult task.

Mr. Johnson was also a member of the school board, and has interest in the high school that has been marked with much effort.

The photograph work for the 1922 High School Annual was done by him, and reflects well upon his ability.

He was a prime mover in raising the necessary money to take the Stock-Judging team to Fort Worth last year, being one of the hardest workers on the committee appointed to raise the necessary fund.

One familiar with the work Mr. Johnson has done since coming to Lubbock will readily realize that in his going we are losing one of the most influential young businessmen in the city, and it is hoped that it may be our good fortune to have him return to the hub city again, where he is assured a hearty welcome will greet him from his many friends.

YAGER OF ABILENE WILL OCCUPY HUNT'S OLD STAND

C. E. Yager, of the Yager Shoe Company of Abilene, who was here several weeks ago looking after a location for a house, was unable to make any statement as to the location of the house at that time, but that at this time the matter is settled, and that Mr. Yager will occupy the old Hunt Grocery stand is known.

The Yager stores are good ones and we are sure the people of Lubbock will welcome the opening of that business. They handle shoes exclusively, which will permit their handling a splendid stock in that line.

We are in hopes one of the Yager brothers will locate here with the new house, for they are live wires, and will add greatly to the boosting force of Lubbock.

TRAIN STRIKES STALLED AUTO; TWO ARE KILLED

Eastland, Sept. 7.—Miss Muriel Davidson, 18, and Kingsley Johnson, 11, were killed and Miss Dorothy Johnson was seriously injured when their automobile stalled on the track and was struck by an eastbound Texas and Pacific train this afternoon.

The train was just entering town when the accident occurred. It is said that the engineer, seeing the plight of the victims applied the brakes, but it was too late to stop.

All the occupants were residents of Eastland. They were rushed to a hospital, but Miss Davidson and young Johnson died soon after reaching there.

Mrs. Neal A. Douglass, Sr., of Littlefield, who has been here visiting her sons, J. T., and Neal A. Jr., returned home Wednesday.

Old Timer Says No Crop Failures In Crosby County

Matt Davis, one of the substantial citizens of Ralls, had his name placed on our mailing list for the Review the other day. "Uncle Matt," as he is familiarly known, is one of the early settlers of this country, coming here twenty-one years ago from Collins county. He is the father of Mrs. Stanley Carter and Hub Davis of our city, and is favorably known to nearly all the old settlers of the county. He first settled near old Emma and was engaged in ranching and farming for several years, finally selling out about the time the town of Ralls was established, moving there where he has since continued to reside. He has great faith in Crosby county and says he has never known a complete crop failure in the county, and that crops are about as short here as he has ever known before, and that he thinks enough feed will be made in the county on which to make another crop if it is used economically, and that some cotton will go half a bale per acre. He says the farmers have been leaving the cotton too thick in the drill and have been trying to work too much land, and that when they cut the acreage to what they can work well and thin it to a reasonable stand, there will be fewer crop failures and more prosperity in the land.—Crosbyton Review.

TEXAS SCHOOL CHILDREN WITH HEALTH PENNANTS

Austin, Texas.—Texas school children are the happy winners of six national pennants in the seventh National Tournament of the Modern Health Crusade. These pennants are awarded twice each year by the National Tuberculosis Association for health work done in schools all over the United States. D. 1922, the same being the 29th day of November, A. D. 1922; and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 12th day of September, A. D. 1922, in a suit, captioned as follows: J. B. Earhart is plaintiff, and P. H. Eddy, is defendant, said petition alleging that November 17, 1920, defendant and G. W. Burns executed and delivered to plaintiff their certain note due on or before January 1, 1922, for $495.00, payable at Lubbock, Texas, with interest from date at 10 per cent per annum, and providing that if same was not paid when due and placed with an attorney for col-

TRUSTEES OF CALDWELL SCHOOL ARE OPTIMISTIC

J. I. McDonald and J. C. Shaw, of the Caldwell community, trustees of the Caldwell school, were here Wednesday to make application through the county superintendent's office for State aid for the school. Last year Mr. McDonald gathered fourteen bales of cotton from twenty-six acres, and this year he expects to gather six bales from ninety acres. Mr. McDonald is not discouraged about conditions in the least and declares that he will double his efforts to make up for the crop he failed to make this year. Just to see how the old plainsman felt about the country we asked him if he was going to move to a country where it rains more, to make his next crop, and he abruptly answered that he didn't know where he would go if he wanted to, declaring that he thinks the "Plains just can't be beat."

Such men as Mr. McDonald are making West Texas. They are the fellows who have been here long enough to know what they are talking about when the plains is the subject, and their boosting is certainly worth a lot to the country.

In speaking of the school, Messrs. McDonald and Shaw are optimistic about the future of the youngsters of that community and are of the opinion that the best school in Lubbock county is located at Caldwell. Stay in there fellows.—Everybody likes a fellow who is willing to hold up for his home school.

If you will not hear reason she will rarely rap your knuckles.

If you would amend men, begin with yourself.

Problem of Finding Headquarters Building for Use of the Scouts During Winter Months Has Been Solved

O. F. Sensabaugh, director of the Boy Scouts of Lubbock, is about the happiest fellow in all Lubbock at this time, for he has solved the problem of finding a suitable place for a headquarters house for the boys through the long winter months that shall approach before many days.

C. E. Howard has kindly given Mr. Sensabaugh and his Scouts six months free rent of the basement at the rear of the Texas Variety Company Store, and carpenters have been busy making necessary improvements to fit the building up to meet the requirements of the Scouts.

A reading room, 14x22 feet, will be well lighted, and comfortably furnished, adjoining which a room 25x25 feet will be used for a play ground for the scouts. This room will be equipped with such athletic goods as Mr. Sensabaugh can provide, including a mat for wrestling and boxing, boxing gloves, and the like.

Mr. Sensabaugh has worked faithfully in the interest of the boys, and he was emphatic in declaring that without the assistance of some such organization as the Scouts, finding a profitable manner in which to pass away the time in the long winter evenings would be a difficult task for the boys, as well as for their parents. As it is the boys are assured of congenial, young associates, whose sports and games will be well and ably directed with their best interests looked after in every instance.

The Lubbock Scouts are a fine lot, and we are sure that anyone acquainted with the work they have accomplished will admit that they are an aggressive lot of youngsters.

Copas Bowen, one of the most enthusiastic members of the local organization, was put through a swimming test at a local pool Saturday evening, and met all requirements to win another merit badge, making his 18th award received since he entered the work. Swimming twenty yards in sixteen seconds, Scout Bowen proved his knowledge of the aquatic sport, and we are sure that should the opportunity come to him to rescue a drowning person he will make good, and receive another badge, making his last requirement to become a Star Scout. Young Bowen has worked harder on all tests than was required, and through this extra effort has made rapid promotions in the work.

While there are but a few days until the swimming season is over, and there may be some difficulty encountered in doing this necessary rescue work to acquire the remaining merit badge, we are sure that young Bowen will do his part in every instance, and should the long season between swimming times find him still waiting for an opportunity to accomplish this work, we are sure he will be no less enthusiastic about the other work, and believe that the Scouts will have opportunities in such manner that it would be well for them to follow his example.

The Rotary Club has done a great work in fostering the Boy Scouts, and we are glad indeed to know that they have been as successful as the members such able workers as Mr. Sensabaugh, Rev. Bowen, and others who have shown great interest in the work.

While some may believe that the tasks of the school will be sufficient to offer necessary employment for the boys, the Scoutmaster doesn't seem to think so, and we learn that the reading room will be well supplied with such literature as is most suited to the boy's needs, and which offers the best educational features. The Geographic Magazine, dating back for many months and kept up to the latest issue, will be supplied, while scout manuals will be available for all boys unfamiliar with the Scout laws. Mr. Sensabaugh has planned to have the boys become well versed in the work of their organization and has met with much encouragement from the members.

gether with his family, has arrived in Slaton to reside in the future. Rev. McKinney has accepted the pastorate of the Church of Christ, and will preach here two Sundays in each month.

There are no new building activities to report this week. Work started last week is being carried along to an early conclusion. There is still a heavy demand for rent houses, there being very few vacant. The public work on the school buildings and the city hall is progressing nicely.

Commissioner Talley reports good progress being made in cutting down the hill on the middle of the McClung road. Everything is in readiness to throw a large force of men on this work as soon as the State authorities approve the bond issue. The lower road will also receive attention.

The new, modern brick school building of Wilson, Lynn county, will be ready for occupancy Monday, September 18, at which time the fall and winter session will be opened, and on the same day the people of that progressive community propose to give a big free barbecue and invite everybody from Slaton, Southland, Tahoka and surrounding country to attend. You are especially urged to be present on this occasion. The latching hangs on the outside and you are not only promised plenty of good eats but sports and speeches by prominent speakers, and music by the band. Wilson is surrounded by one of the best farming communities on the South Plains, occupied by farmers of the most progressive type; the town is populated by progressiveness of the right sort, and the community is rapidly forging to the front in every respect.

LAMESA

Lamesa Reporter A new brick is going up on the east side of the square. It is to be occupied by a dry goods stock, so we understand. Dirt was broken for the foundation Monday morning.

Bill Thompson, who was operated on for appendicitis and then took typhoid recently, was on the streets again recently, and we are glad to state that Bill is much better and able to be about after a long siege. He is the son of C. B. Thompson, pastor of the Lamesa church.

Mr. Olen Upchurch of Lamesa, came down Saturday and married one of our fine young girls, Miss Evelyn Holloway, daughter of Mrs. Simp Holloway. They returned to Lamesa where they will make their future home. The Reporter joins with the host of friends of those splendid young people in wishing for them a long career of happiness and prosperity.—Stanton Reporter.

On Sunday of this week the following witnesses and others, left for Fort Sumner, New Mexico, to attend the trial of Harvey Burkett for killing a party there more than a year ago in alleged self-defense: H. J. Price, W. M. Norris, Homer Bartlett, Dick Kilgore, Marvin Mitchell and T. S. Bradford. If this case was tried in Texas, there would be no question about the verdict, but just what the status of the New Mexican courts are we do not know. We believe however, that an acquittal will be the verdict.

The second primary resulted in the election of Tom Cooksey for sheriff, W. M. Norris for tax assessor, J. E. Williams for county judge, and J. E. Debnam for commissioner.

Drs. Bennett, Gilliam and Lovetras performed an operation on the daughter of Mr. Kennedy for appendicitis this week. At this writing she is doing fine, we are glad to report.

Mrs. Fitzgerald has a brother and sister visiting her this week, from Columbia, South Carolina.

Billy Baker has bought 30 acres of the Weaver estate and will build a handsome residence on it in the near future.

CROSBY COUNTY PIONEER VISITED LUBBOCK SAT.

Sam Botts, of Lorenzo, was here Saturday on business. Just why he associated with Neil Wright, W. R. Spencer, and a few of the other questionable characters of this city while here is unknown, but there are rumors afloat that Sam's parents were not very cautious in selecting his associates when he was a little fellow, and possibly it is not his fault that he has been caught with the above mentioned characters here. It is reported that in the "good old days" when fat steers were worth six bucks a head, and corn was sold at every road crossing that a financial difficulty arrived in the Crosby county section, and that it was during that time that Botts and Wright became so well acquainted that their association has been marked with a degree of comedy, which we have been unable to catch.

At any rate Wright and Spencer will testify that when a hind quarter of the fattest beef that was ever slaughtered on the plains could be bought for five cents, Mr. Botts had a reputation of providing for his family in a more liberal manner than any of the fellows in that section, and a few such virtues will no doubt hide the fault of illy-selected associates, and we will have to admit the old timer plainsman is always welcome in Lubbock.

In the parlor isn't enough. Before proposing go back and see how she looks in the kitchen.

Wheat Yield Is Low in Oklahoma By Govt. Report

Oklahoma City, August 31.—Oklahoma's wheat crop for 1922 will total 24,647,000 bushels, according to revised estimates of the local United States agricultural bureau.

This estimate is based on the report of 3,728 acres sown in the grain, with 20 per cent abandoned, and with an estimated average yield of 8.7 bushels to the acre. The low yield this year, results from the lack of moisture on the late wheat, ravages of the green bug, sudden heat wave at ripening time and damage from black chaff, according to the bureau.

Recent hot weather has resulted in considerable deterioration to the corn crop in the state, according to the bureau. Doubt was expressed for corn not yet made. In the western part of the state, and in the Texas Panhandle prospects for kafir, milo maize and other row feed crops are poor. Continued drought in that section has caused considerable damage in drying up. Rains this month would not remedy the situation, the agricultural bureau said.

Owners of horses and blooded stock are large users of Liquid Boron. It heals wounds, festering sores, barbed wire cuts by a mild powder that leaves no disfiguring scars. Price 30c, 60c, and $1.20. Sold by City Drug Store.

Government May Buy Post Office Site Rather Than Rent

Washington, Sept. 7.—Uncle Sam is going to invest in real estate, as soon as the plan of Postmaster General Work is authorized by Congress. It is proposed that the government buy or build its own post-office.

President Harding has approved the plan. It is national in scope and when put into operation will save the government $500,000,000 in ten years.

Tried Paying Rent Postmaster General Work in his letter to President Harding explained that the department now pays an annual rent for buildings, which house all of our postoffices, totaling more than $12,000,000. These figures have been growing at a tremendous rate recently as leases expired and owners demand and obtained substantial increases.

It was also pointed out that shameless speculation on the part of those who try to prey on the government will be abolished for all time.

The Government can borrow money at 4 per cent to buy or build postoffices, which will be taxed free, says Work. Whereas, when leased, the government pays a rental high enough to permit the lessor to borrow money at 7 to 10 per cent and still profit.

Business is Booming 5,836 of Uncle Sam's post offices are in leased quarters. Only 1200 are in homes owned by the government.

The parcel post and other adjustments have resulted in earnings which have more than doubled in the last ten years, and are constantly growing.

Administration leaders in Congress favor the plan and Treasury officials have expressed the opinion that it is essential to economical management of the postal system.

PROMINENT MCKINNEY PEOPLE HERE ON TOUR OF WEST TEX.

Judge H. L. Davis, of McKinney, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Carrie Jean, were in Lubbock recently visiting with old friends who have located here.

They have made an automobile tour of West Texas, and declare that no country equals the Plains insofar as good crops are concerned, and we were glad to know that Judge Davis has such high opinion of this country.

We are sure that as a Plains booster he will prove one hundred per cent efficient, and we are in hopes that after drinking our deep wells, and breathing the atmosphere known only to the plains, he will decide to return here to make his home.

The people who visit the plains are walking advertisements for this great country, and we are always glad to welcome such people as the Davis family to a close consideration of the merits of this country.

TO THE VOTERS OF LUBBOCK COUNTY

I wish to thank each and every one who so loyally supported me in my recent campaign for Tax Collector. From the fact that I received an equal number of votes as my opponent, it became lawfully obligatory that the tie be cast off by lot and I was simply unlucky in the drawing. But I wish to say that I am still a Democrat and haven't got a sore spot on me.

I wish to remain, Yours gratefully, A. J. CLARK.

Genuine Round Oak Heaters Cost More —and They Are Worth It

—If you figure the price of a Genuine Round Oak Heating Stove by the number of dollars required to possess it, Round Oaks do cost a little more immediately. If you figure the price per pound, they probably cost less.

—when you examine it you will see why the extra pounds assure uniform heat distribution, why the doors are riveted on—not bolted, why the ash pit is seamless, why the double fire pot assures a life-time of superservice, why the body is made of cold-rolled boiler-iron, why the cone-center grate prevents clinkers.

—In this day and age, folks, you get just what you pay for—no more or no less. We would rather have you a satisfied customer in after years than to sell you something for less money now, with promise of future regrets. This is briefly why we are selling Genuine Round Oak Heaters.

An Interesting Discussion of the Needs and Requirements of the State University, by a University Student

Those of you who know what the University of Texas lacks in the way of equipment and buildings are, no doubt, in sympathy with every movement for betterment in that direction. There are, however, many of the citizens of Lubbock county who, I believe, would like to know more about what the University needs to make it the educational center that the State should maintain.

Students who register for courses in the session of 1922-23 in the University of Texas, will be face to face with one of the biggest movements ever fostered by the student body of that institution. At the beginning of the fall term a million dollar campaign will be launched on the campus. This campaign has been looked forward to with great enthusiasm on the part of every student, for it is to build a Texas Memorial Union. Success in this campaign is the aim of every loyal Texas student. To gain the greatest success by reaching the goal they have set, the student must have the good will and hearty co-operation of the parents at home. We believe that by telling you what is needed, why it is needed and what it is for that we will, through your loyalty, gain your approval and boosting power, if not your financial support.

The constitution of Texas calls for a first class University equipped and maintained by the State taxes. Take notice of the word, "first-class." There are too few buildings on the University campus that may be termed first class buildings, and one of these was given to the University by a friend. We are forced to admit that the State Legislature has done very little for the University. Do you know that the largest and the most used building on the campus is a veritable fire trap, and has been condemned on that account? It is the main building to which I am referring. At one time this structure was a first class building, and amply fulfilled its purpose, but now that the number of students has passed the four-thousand mark and will soon be five thousand, this building is far too small. Every little corner is partitioned off and made into an office for some professor. The large rooms are cut up into five or six smaller ones for class rooms or other purposes. This method of furnishing room in a crowded house is unhealthy and unsanitary and dangerous. Those of you who know what the English Channel is in the main building will agree that it reminds one of a row of stalls in a stable. For that matter the main building is no better than the clumsy wooden shacks which are crowded about the campus. Only last year the cafeteria and two laboratories were demolished by fire, and others are in as great danger of the same thing. These shacks are used for class rooms and laboratories. There is no room elsewhere. Consequently there is valuable equipment kept in constant danger of fire. Moreover, the most of the shacks are sultry hot in the summer, and sometimes cold and poorly ventilated in the winter.

I am not knocking on the University for I am not a chronic kicker. I am merely trying to arouse your conscience to a sense of duty to your University. I am proud to say that I think the University of Texas ranks first in standing among the colleges and universities of the South. The University has an excellent faculty, even though they are poorly paid by the Legislature. I think that you should know these facts about the University, so that if you have the welfare of the State at heart and have any influence, you may use it to make Texas first among the states in education, rather than so near the bottom of the list. Although Texas has had a well equipped university in the past, it is becoming deficient as the mass of the student body increases. The things I have mentioned would make an excellent beginning at telling you what the University really needs. I would go further, but the main purpose of this article is to let you know that the student body is fully aware of the urgent needs of the University.

A Texas Union has been talked for some years, but not until this year has there been any definite steps taken to get the movement under way. At the request of the student committee elected to get the Union movement under way, President Vinson suspended classes in order to hold a convocation. At this meeting the proposal for a Texas Memorial Union was presented to the student body and they voted unanimously to launch a campaign for a Texas Union building, and pledged their moral and financial support to the movement. The convocation elected a committee which was empowered to organize and conduct the campaign. At this time organization work is being pushed on the campus, and it is expected to put over the campaign in the fall session of 1922-23.

The University professors, as a whole, realize the importance of this movement. They have given their approval in the following resolutions:

Whereas, the students of the University of Texas have become interested in the erection of a students Union Building, and

Whereas, it is obvious that Students Unions in other State Universities are rendering large service in making student activities more democratic, more wholesome and more loyal to proper University ideals, and

Whereas, the faculty is interested in every movement looking to the betterment of student life in this institution; therefore be it resolved:

1. That the faculty considers the movement to secure students Union as a worthy, patriotic and highly valuable undertaking.

2. That the members of the University staff, individually and collectively, pledge their moral and financial support to the end that a Students Union may be wisely planned, financed and erected at an early date.

The ex-students of the University in a meeting on March 20th, thoroughly discussed the memorial union project, and the plan met with hearty approval. Now that the movement has the support of these three bodies of Texas citizens, it is expected that all other loyal Texans who had a relative in the great World War, and the rest of you who have the interests of Texas at heart will line up with them and carry the movement to a glorious success.

This movement cannot be financed by the Legislative body of Texas. The law requires that only the academic needs of the University shall be financed by the Legislature. The Texas Memorial Building will, therefore, be financed by those of you who are able to pay, who are willing to work, and sacrifice just a little or a great deal, as the case may be, for a monument and a tribute to the dead; an inspiration and a service to the living.

The object of the Texas Memorial Union movement is to erect a building, the purpose of which will be:

1. A fitting memorial to Texas men and women who served in the world war.
2. To bring the people of Texas in touch with the University.
3. To educate the students and alumni to a sense of responsibility to their University.
4. To unite the students, ex-students, faculty, and friends of the University in a really great, unselfish undertaking, and, by so doing, mobilize all Texas forces and resources in such a way as to lead to a bigger, better, and greater Texas University.

A University Union is a combination of the students, faculty and alumni for the general welfare of the university. The building will serve as a club for every student of the University. It will furnish quarters for various organizations that are essential to University life. It will be a working recreation center for University activities. It will afford every student an opportunity for practice in civic and social life. It will create a spirit of solidarity in the student body, and enable students from all parts of the State to foster acquaintances and ripen friendships. It will provide a medium to develop a real Texas spirit. It will provide accommodations and headquarters for ex-students and visitors of the University when in Austin. It will tend to deepen the loyalty of every former student of varsity. It will radiate the spirit of democracy throughout the University and throughout the State. It is planned that this memorial shall be a worthy tribute—a minimum goal is set at a million dollars.

The above are a few reasons why you should be a booster for this movement. Here is another good reason: There has been some talk of a West Texas A. & M. College in the past year or so. Do you not think that if Lubbock county shows interest in higher education, and consequently in this Memorial Union movement that it will be a point in our favor when the location of a West Texas A. & M. College is to be decided upon. Lubbock needs this college as we all know, but we do not deserve such favors unless the citizens of this county are enthusiastic boosters for higher education and willing to help a worthy undertaking to the limit.

Let us co-operate in this campaign and show the rest of Texas our quality of citizenship. Then we may more conscientiously say to the best citizenship of the State, "Come to Lubbock, the Hub of the Plains."

TAX COLLECTOR CANDIDATES TIE IS AMICABLY SETTLED

The final returns in the August 26th run-off, found S. C. Spikes and A. J. Clark, candidates for Tax Collector of this county tied for the nomination. Of the 2720 votes cast they had 1360 votes each, and the decision had to be made according to election law, Article 3124, Revised Civil Statutes, which provides that the chairman of the County Democratic Committee shall cast lots before the candidates to determine which shall receive the nomination, which was done with the result that Mr. Spikes was the lucky candidate.

Both men were willing to accept the decision of the lot, and though Mr. Clark might wish he had had better luck, he took the decision as a fair method to settle the tie, and has ill will toward no one.

KANSAS CITY MARKET

Kansas City Stock Yards, September 4, 1922.—Though cattle receipts were not as large as a week ago, they were heavy when considered that other commercial activities were closed for the Labor Day holiday. Prices for fat grades ruled weak to 15 cents lower. Stockers and feeders were quoted strong to 15 cents higher. Hogs were strong to 10 cents higher than Saturday. Sheep and lambs were weak to 25 cents lower.

Today's Receipts
Receipts today were 25,000 cattle, 9,000 hogs, and 8,000 sheep, compared with 28,000 cattle, 8,000 hogs and 6,000 sheep a week ago, and 21,500 cattle, 6,439 hogs and 12,300 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle
Though packing houses were closed on account of the Labor Day holiday killers bought a good many fat cattle, and there was a fairly good shipping and other demand. Receipts were liberal and the buyer side gained 10 to 15 cent concession in prices, for all except good fed grades, and they were steady. The latter applied to most kinds good enough to sell at $9.50 or better. Grass fat steers sold at $4.50 to $8.75, showing about the usual percent of common quality. Cows and heifers were quoted weak compared with last Friday. Yearlings were steady.

Stockers and Feeders
The ability of railroads last week to handle more than 35,000 stockers and feeders on outboard shipments encouraged demand today and prices ruled strong to 15 cents higher. Demand was for all classes, and active.

Hogs
Saturday hog prices touched a new low spot for the season and demand was indifferent. Today there was a better inquiry and the market strengthened in most cases showing a 10 to 15 cent advance. The top price was $8.95 and bulk of sales $8.50 to $8.90. The extreme advance prevailed on the close. Pigs were quoted stronger, top $8.75.

Sheep and Lambs
Utah lambs sold up to $12.75, and native lambs up to $12.60. The general market, though quoted 25 cents lower was relatively high compared with more Eastern markets and higher than at upriver points. Sheep were in light supply and steady.

Horses and Mules
Trade in horses and mules has improved some in the past two weeks. Prices are slightly higher than early in August and demand is about double compared with that period.

MRS. HAILEY AT HOME FROM VISIT AT MCKINNEY

Mrs. E. E. Hailey is at her place again in the office of Campbell and Vickers, where she does all the stenographic work of that busy law firm. She left Lubbock several weeks ago for McKinney to visit her father, and her absence was keenly felt, for she is very popular in Lubbock, and is a leader in social activities of the young people.

She was accompanied there by her sister, Miss Meacham, who remained with her folks at McKinney, but is expected to return to Lubbock in the near future.

Vacation time is about over, and the people of Lubbock are turning their attention to home town amusements, and we are glad to have Mrs. Hailey here to take her place in social and church circles, where she is very popular.

GASSERS TAKE FIFTH GAME IN TENTH, 5 TO 4

Errors by Dean and Bupp in the first gave the Gassers a two run lead while fumbles gave them two more in the fifth and Dean's fumble in the tenth permitted Anheier to single, driving in the winning tally.

HUBBERS ARE VACATING GREAT VACATION TRIP From all accounts coming in from the Hubbers on their vacation trip in the West, they are having a great trip outside of playing winning baseball, having not lost a game since they left home, however in a recent game played with Fort Baynard, N. M. it is rumored that an El Paso high school boy almost beat them out holding them to nine hits for a total of four runs, while Edgar was being gotten to for eight hits and three runs. Cohen, the high school boy, seemingly had the edge on the affair, striking out six to Edgar's four, also having the advantage of a hit batsman and a wild pitch. AMARILLO TAKES CRUCIAL GAME, WINNING PENNANT

Liz Smith held the Clovis Buzzards to six hits and struck out thirteen of them in Tuesday's exhibition, and the Gassers emerged from the fracas winners, not only of the game, but of the season pennant. Wetzel was hit for ten safeties, three of them going for two-baggers. The first count of the Buzzards came in the first, after Williams and Clary had struck out. Holloway hit to left for two bases, then stole third. Reynolds parked the ball for four sacks. The Gassers came back in the second for four runs on two walks, single and two doubles, after which Smith was never in danger, seemingly being able to retire the Buzzards whenever necessary. Wetzel hit for four sacks in the seventh. Meador of the Gassers, lead the hitters, getting four out of five, with Holloway and Reynolds for the Buzzards each getting two out of four.

AMARILLO WINS WEST TEXAS LEAGUE PENNANT The Amarillo Gassers emerged victorious over the Clovis Buzzards in the play-off series for the West Texas League pennant by taking the fifth consecutive game from them. The Buzzards took the first of the series, but were unable to go any further towards a win, although they put up a bold fight, and the pennant has been held in the Panhandle of Texas. The Gassers made it five straight off the Buzzards after losing the first exhibition, however, errors in the crucial stage of the game was responsible for Clovis' loss of at least two of the affairs. One game was thrown away by the twirler in the ninth inning, and the other was lost by the infield, giving the Gassers a big advantage of the series. But, the old pennant has been saved for West Texas, and regardless of who was fortunate enough to put over the winning team, we are just

WOOLDRIDGE HOME FROM CHICAGO

Sport Wooldridge, who recently reported to the Chicago Cubs from the Hubber line-up, having been sold to them several months ago, has been given leave of absence by them, and has returned to Lubbock for the winter. The Cubs have a fighting chance for the pennant, and are in position now to use only the old tried and safety-men. Wooldridge will report to them next spring for further training.

RANGER MERCHANT HERE TO ENTER DRY GOODS BUSINESS

S. Romick of Ranger, arrived in Lubbock this week and immediately started making arrangements to open a dry goods business here. He will occupy the building now in the possession of the Sanitary Grocery Company, which will be moved to the new brick building of McLemore and Bass of Abilene, which is to be completed within a few days. Mr. Romick comes to Lubbock with all the enthusiasm known to a merchant of his calibre, and we are glad to know that right off the reel he became so thoroughly sold on Lubbock that as a booster he is a regular old timer of the plains. He declares that Lubbock is destined to become a city of even greater industrial and business possibilities than the Fort Worth of today, and while speaking to the young men of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at their annual banquet Wednesday evening he expressed a desire to become a part of the boosting force that will build Lubbock. Mr. Romick will no doubt become an asset to our city.

HALEY EXPECTS BIGGER CROP ANOTHER YEAR

H. F. Haley, one of the kind of Lubbock county farmers who believes in getting things done by going after them in an optimistic manner, was here Wednesday with a bale of cotton, which he sold at the neat sum of nineteen cents per pound. Haley says the farmer who is not looking after every item of interest on the farm is losing out, and that though the cotton crop is a little short there are too many big things to look after to worry about a small crop, and that he is going to care for his feed, gather his cotton close, and get all his stock ready for a big year's work for another crop. When it comes to downright efficiency Lubbock county farmers are in a class to themselves, and we are sure that a short crop is not going to hurt conditions here very much.

BAPTIST LAYMEN ARE DOING GREAT WORK

They will go to Lorenzo Sunday evening, to hold services at 3 p. m.

One Thousand Pounds of Tomatoes From Small Patch Proves Adaptability of Profitable Gardening On the Great South Plains

An example of what can be done in the truck business in Lubbock county, was demonstrated this year on the farm of C. H. Williams, nine miles north of Lubbock.

with a load of tomatoes grown on a garden spot forty by fifty feet. He had three hundred pounds of the juicy vegetable in this load, making a total of one thousand pounds sold from that patch this season.

Last year his tomato patch was only 22 by 40 feet, and $26.50 worth of tomatoes were sold from the patch. He is well equipped to care for the tomatoes. His garden is near a large boxed-in earthen tank, with an escapement allowing him to irrigate the entire garden in a very few minutes.

The tomato vines have been watered each evening for the past three weeks, and at this time the vines are looking fine, and no doubt Mr. Williams will bring in many loads of the tomatoes before the season is over.

He sold a few watermelons also from the garden, and the family table has been supplied since early spring. Mrs. Williams has canned sufficient amount of edibles from the garden to make the grocery bill very small throughout the coming year, and we are sure they realize the advantages of living on the Plains, where everything that is well cared for will grow.

Mr. Williams admitted that his good wife had done most of the caring for the garden, as his farm required a great deal of attention, and his crop, in spite of the dry weather, was well worked, and the field will be above the average on some things.

He hopes to gather six bales of cotton from a thirty-acre patch, and his feed crop is holding up under the drought mighty well. The fact that there is little market at this time for vegetables, makes going into that business on a large scale quite different, and even unprofitable, but we hope that before many years a shipping and marketing system will be worked that will enable our people to receive the full benefits of the ideal soil here.

Lubbock county people are living at home at any rate. The farmers have long since learned that depending entirely upon the grocery store as a source from which to supply the table is unnecessary, and the fine chickens, hogs, gardens and dairy cattle that are to be seen on the farms in this section indicate that awakening.

Mr. Williams also proved that good chickens and gardens can be kept on the same farm, as he has about one hundred thoroughbred hens which are adding their lot to making the living on the farm, and as his garden is fenced from the chickens, and they are given an opportunity to run loose about other places on the farm, their feed bill is minimized. We are very grateful for Mr. Williams having so kindly given us the information on the things that have been done on his farm, and if there are any of our farmer friends who have grown anything that is a credit to this great country, we will be mighty glad for them to pass the good news to us, and we will in turn give it circulation to the fellows "back yonder."

PARENTS AS EDUCATORS

Let's Not Nag!
(By Alice Wingate Frary)
Nagging is one of the surest ways of clouding the atmosphere of our homes, and we know how children thrive in happy surroundings. It is a temptation to talk endlessly about an undesirable state of affairs rather than to think and act.

One mother's problem was getting her nine-year-old son to come home from play at a stated time. Though he had a watch he would delay starting for home until the time when he ought to have reached it. When at last he came in one evening with his father, the mother said in despair: "I have talked for weeks without making the slightest impression. Do you think of some way to settle Jack's tardiness?" "Jack," said the father sternly, "this must stop! Now what can you suggest to make you come home promptly?"

Jack said (whether nervously or perty his mother was not quite sure—"Oh, a pound of candy.") "Very well, come." Solemnly his father took him out into the winter dusk, walked to the drug store, and brought back a glass jar of candies. He placed it ceremoniously on the boy's book-case, told him at what time he might eat from it, remembering with each candy the reason for its purchase. Whether the father's unexpected attitude or pride in being entrusted with the candy worked the charm, it is hard to say, but there was no further difficulty with late homecoming.

The pleasant way of securing obedience is often more effective than the harsher way because having the child's co-operation wins half the battle. I know two adventurous youngsters who, after persisting in running away regardless of consequences, stayed within bounds for several weeks in order to earn a tiny star at bedtime. Indeed a ten cent box of stars from the stationer's is a priceless help to mothers! There seems to be a peculiar happiness in having won the privilege of sticking one on a card at night, and counting those already earned.

Some mothers suffer from their children's nagging, especially when guests are present or they are in a public place. One wise mother who found all-day shopping trips with the children an occasional necessity, avoided any possibility of prolonged discussion at lunch time by deciding upon a simple, nourishing luncheon that her children liked, and invariably ordering it. The expedition did not occur often enough so that there was no danger of monotony, and she saved her own nervous energy as well as her children's.

To exhort mothers never to say "Don't," seems to me sentimental. Prompt response to a decisive "No" has as important place in child training as obedience to a positive request. After the "No" has been grasped and acted upon the positive suggestion ought to follow, but the "No" should be clearly understood first.

Above all, our children are entitled to fairness. Even parents who have their children's best interests at heart sometimes let appearances, convenience or fatigue, dull their sense of justice. A child may profit by a severe penalty, provided it is just, when a lesser unjust punishment will rankle bitterly.

BROWNFIELD
The Herald
Rev. Hardesty of Slaton, assisted by the pastor, Rev. Heath, of Lynn county, closed a very successful meeting for the Gomez Baptist church last Sunday night. There were fourteen additions to the church.
Rev. L. E. (Jack) Conklin, from El Paso, began a meeting for the Methodist people of Gomez Monday night. Prospects are good for a great revival. Rev. Conklin will hold a meeting at Union, beginning some time next week. The people of Brownfield have a cordial invitation extended them to attend these services.

Manager John Gathing of the West Texas Gin Company, has estimated the cotton crop in Terry county at 3600 bales this year, compared with about 2300 last year. He is basing his estimate on the fact that there are some eight to ten acres more in cultivation this year to one last year.

Robert Welch, who was reared in Brownfield, but who is the popular manager of the Cicero Smith Lumber Company at Meadow in the East, returned with Mrs. Welch, who was formerly Miss Hattie Swain of Ralls. We congratulate the happy young couple, and ask the readers to notice the account of the chivaree given him and bride here Monday night by the old timers.

A few of the farmers and business men interested in the matter met in the district court room last Saturday afternoon to make final arrangements for the Terry County Fair, which is to be held Thursday and Friday, September 21 and 22, and to also arrange an exhibit for the Lubbock Fair, and possibly the Dallas Fair. Several new committees were named to help the other committees that were named some time ago. Quite a nice sum will be raised to pay for premiums on the products, and the ladies department will be allowed just double of what they had last year. The larger premiums will go to the farm, garden and orchard sections, as no livestock will be exhibited by the association in other fairs. This can be done by individuals if they so desire. There are many sections of the county that have as good crops as last year, portions that got showers in July and August, and from these will have to come most of the exhibits. The exhibitor must understand and agree that his exhibits may become the property of Terry County Fair Association to be carried elsewhere, if they see fit, whether the exhibit draws a premium here or not. This does not apply to canned goods, we understand.

W. J. Abby of El Paso, was here last week giving the Brownfield Nursery the once-over, and in conversation with the Herald man, Mr. Abby stated that the local nursery was in the class with the best, and superior to most nurseries he had inspected. He said any experienced man had but to glance through the Brownfield Nursery to know that Mr. John B. King, the proprietor, knew his business. He said that he found the trees all healthy and they had made a big growth this year. Some apples he noticed had grown about six feet. Few people realize the fact that a nursery in Texas must undergo rigid inspection in order to ship trees over the state. This is to keep diseased and poor stock from being palmed off to the public, and is a safeguard to the buying public. We are therefore proud that our nursery was found by the inspector to be among the head of the list.

Lynn County News

J. B. Nance, promoter of the Tahoka Oil and Gas Company, returned Monday evening from Fort Worth. He was accompanied here by Messrs. R. C. Showalter, of the American Bank & Trust Company of Fort Worth, and Parker Haight, of the same city. In conversation with these gentlemen they stated that they would be ready to drill for oil in this county just as soon as their drilling material could be loaded on the cars and shipped to this point. Of course no definite time could be set owing to the railroad strike now on over the United States, but it is an assured fact that a well will be drilled here. J. B. Nance has worked long and hard to get a well drilled in Lynn county and at last his efforts are about to be fulfilled, which will be joyful news to many people in this immediate section of the South Plains.

The annual session of the Brownfield Baptist Association is in session at the First Baptist Church in O'Donnell, beginning Wednesday night, September 6, and continuing through until Friday. Not only the Baptists of O'Donnell, but all denominations are helping to entertain the delegates. We know all of O'Donnell gave them a hearty welcome.

Work was begun on the new school building at Redwine Monday of this week, according to information received at this office from citizens of that community. The building will be erected of interlocking tile and will contain three large and commodious rooms. The interior of the building will be equipped with the very latest school supplies, making it one of the most modern rural school buildings in Western Texas. The citizens of this community are indeed to be congratulated for their progressiveness along this line.

The fall term of the district court convened in Tahoka Monday morning, with District Judge W. R. Spencer of Lubbock, presiding. There being only one contested case during the week, it was exceedingly quiet during this term. As stated by Judge Spencer Tuesday morning, "You people are too good in Lynn county," therefore not much court this term.

Dean Hays, residing in the southwest portion of Lynn county, brought in the second bale of cotton for the 1922 season, last Thursday, and was ginned by the West Texas Gin Company. The bale was sold to Paul Miller for 21 cents per pound.

It is understood that all bids for the paving contract have been rejected by the city officials, and it is not known for certain at this time when actual construction work will be in operation.

The members of the Church of Christ, of Lynn County, had a rally in Tahoka last Sunday to plan their work of the church over Lynn county during the coming year. There was a large representation from different parts of the county. An immediate result of the gathering was the securing of Evangelist W. A. Kerchville, of Coleman, Texas, to devote his entire time in this territory. He will move his family here in a few days. Bro. Kerchville comes highly recommended as a Christian gentleman and an able minister. The church in Tahoka is looking forward to a great year of service in the cause of Christ, and ask the co-operation of all of God's children.

GOVERNOR SCORES LAXITY IN PAYING TAXES TO STATE

Austin, Sept. 8.—An appeal for greater efficiency and promptness in handling state moneys was made by Governor Neff today, addressing the annual convention of Texas tax collectors. The convention also was addressed by Attorney General Keel, Commissioner of State Lands, J. D. Faustler, the state highway engineer.

"Every fifth man in Texas has not paid his last year's taxes," Governor Neff declares, "This, together with delay by the tax collector in sending in tax money, is the chief cause of the present deficiency in the general revenue fund. Approximately $2,000,000 is due the state for taxes at the present time."
