SCHOOLS GREATEST FEATURE OF GREAT SOUTH PLAINS COUNTRY

LUBBOCK INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT WARD BUILDINGS A DRAWING CARD FOR THIS SECTION

BEST INSTRUCTORS AVAILABLE EMPLOYED

Success of Boys and Girls in Higher Institutions of Learning Who Attended Local Schools Reflects Well Upon the Character of Our Schools in Past Several Years.

Anyone who thinks that the educational needs of the children of the South Plains country are not being adequately met has only to make a little trip about over the country to see just what is going on in the way of maintaining schools. If the possibilities along other lines were only one-half as plentiful as they are, the fact that our schools are far ahead of those in other states and other parts of the state would alone be a great drawing card to bring substantial citizens to the plains country.

Much of the credit may be said about our industrial, agricultural, or business developments, but these are indeed secondary, as forerunning these must be the development of fine schools, churches and civic organizations designed to back up these two great institutions, and certainly one cannot overlook these institutions in summing up the things that are going into the making of the great South Plains country.

There is a bigness somewhere about our citizens that accounts for the erection of such fine school buildings about over this section, and we believe that the bigness is to account largely for the success our citizens are making in developing what was at one time purported to be "vast acres of barren waste on the plains of West Texas."

Schools, better schools and more schools have always been the keynote of West Texas, until today as a monument to those who have spent their lives building and helping to build the very foundation upon which the future success of the young generations of today depend, stand splendid structures in which well regulated nine months terms are taught by instructors chosen from the best in the State.

It is a privilege and a pleasure to become associated with the school people of the South Plains, and especially those school men whose service through many years is shown, who have ripened in a life of experience, and from a source of knowledge is the boon to the ambitious youths of our country, and the writer is indebted to Prof. M. M. Dupre, superintendent of the Lubbock City Schools, for a part of an evening spent with him going to the South Ward School Wednesday evening, looking after the interest of that school, and offering such assistance to the teacher as was possible.

Through the generosity of the tax payers and voters of the Lubbock Independent School District, the Ward schools here are the best to be found anywhere, and it was encouraging for us to go through that building and see the splendid equipment, part of which had not been installed, but we understand workmen were to be on the job early Thursday morning, and before this time no doubt the task has been finished, which is instrumental in furthering the work of the school.

Miss Denman, sister of J. M. Denman, of the Lubbock State Bank, is the one who has been instrumental in the erection of the building.

Decisions In Favor of Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association

Dallas, Oct. 19.—Thirteen cases in which legal action has been brought against members of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association for alleged violation of contract resulted in favor of the association, Milton Sapiro, legal counsel for the association, announced in a report to the directors at their meeting here.

Temporary restraining orders have been granted in eight cases in four counties and permanent injunctions have been granted against five men in another county.

Temporary injunctions have been granted against Vergil Kyle, J. W. Lamm, W. D. Smith and T. N. Griffin of Bowie County, R. L. Cashion and J. S. Ezell of Johnson county, G. D. Riche of Taylor county, and J. F. Fisher of Travis county.

State Superintendent Urges Raise in the Salaries of Employes

The United Press. Austin, Oct. 19.—Material increase in the salaries of the State Superintendent and employes in the department of education, are urged in the report of Miss Annie Webb Blanton, retiring Superintendent of Public Instruction, made public here recently.

The superintendent's salary should be $5,000 a year, an increase of $1,000, Miss Blanton said. Salaries of $4,000, $3,800, and $3,600, respectively, should be given the first, second and third assistant superintendents, she declares.

A number of new positions should be created within the educational department, Miss Blanton said. What these new positions would be was not explained.

Recommendations that the state department of education's budget be included in the educational appropriation bill on the grounds that the state department of education is a part of the educational system of the state, and should be placed on the same basis as requires educational requirements and remuneration of state colleges, was also made by Miss Blanton.

Prohibition Agent To Be Tried in Dallas On Murder Charge

The United Press. Austin, Oct. 20.—Date for the trial of Bassett Miles, federal prohibition agent, charged with the murder of Peeler Clayton, service car driver, near the entrance of the alleged Ku Klux Klan hall, here December 15, 1921, has been set for Nov. 6, in criminal court here.

Miles' trial will be the beginning of legal action to clear up a case that stirred the entire state at the time of its happening. Clayton was killed near the hall late at night under mysterious circumstances. Because of the close proximity of the alleged Klan building, investigation from a Klan standpoint was under way for several days.

Eighteen Austin citizens were charged by complaint with connection with Clayton's death but the complaints were later quashed.

New Series of Postage Stamps to Appear Soon

The United Press. Houston, Oct. 19.—A new series of postage stamps recently issued from the Postal department at Washington will make their appearance in Texas soon, according to Roy Nichols, Houston postmaster.

The stamps are an entirely new series and bear designs that differ materially from previous issues. Among the unique stamps issued is an 11-cent stamp with a portrait of Rutherford B. Hayes.

These stamps were first placed in circulation in Fremont, Ohio, Hayes' birthplace, on the 100th anniversary of his birth, recently. The first stamp of this issue off the press was presented to Mrs. Harding.

Another new design is the 50-cent stamp bearing the picture of the Arlington amphitheatre on one side and the tombstone of the Unknown Soldier on the opposite. They will be placed on sale, Armistice Day, November 11th.

Many Farmers Are Coming to Texas to Make Homes

The United Press. Dallas, Oct. 20.—Texas is welcoming to her fertile bosom, thousands of potential citizens from all parts of the country.

The Rio Grande Valley "Magic Valley" of this state, with innumerable uncultivated acres, is attracting train-load after train-load of homeseekers who desire to take a livelihood from its soil.

The number of farmers coming to the Lone Star State to settle, has been greater this fall than for years, according to officials of railroads entering Texas.

A special train of nine sleepers passed through Dallas several days ago enroute to the Valley, where the homeseekers who inspect the irrigated lands with the idea of settling there.

Thousands of acres of now idle land will be put into cultivation by these men, and they will not be the only ones to profit by the movement. The people of Texas will reap a rich reward by increased production and the state will find its coffers strengthened by increased taxes, it was pointed out.

Are Stockholders Liable for the Debts of Stock Ass'ns.

The United Press. Houston, Oct. 20.—One of the most mooted questions existing in Texas—whether stockholders in a joint stock association are liable for the concern's indebtedness—will be decided by the Supreme Court of Texas in the near future, according to a report to Houston lawyers.

A writ of error has been granted by the Supreme Court in the case of George B. McCombe, against the Hollister Company, involving the question, and a decision in the case is expected soon, local lawyer say.

Many oil and other companies have been organized in Texas as joint stock associations, and it was assumed for many years that shareholders could not be made liable for the company's debts.

The outcome of scores of cases in Texas courts hinges upon the decision in the McCombe-Hollister suit. Many of them have been on the docket for years, awaiting a judicial opinion to clear up the doubt.

Firemen Entertained Their Wives Monday With a Banquet

The United Press. Fort Worth, Oct. 19.—A new series of postage stamps recently issued from the Postal department at Washington will make their appearance in Texas soon, according to Roy Nichols, Houston postmaster.

The stamps are an entirely new series and bear designs that differ materially from previous issues. Among the unique stamps issued is an 11-cent stamp with a portrait of Rutherford B. Hayes.

WATER AND SEWER MAINS TO BE EXTENDED AT A COST OF $150,000

GREATEST PART OF THIS MONEY WILL BE SPENT FOR LABOR—WILL BE PUT IN CIRCULATION HERE

Business Men of Lubbock Are Optimistic As to the Future Development of This City, as Prospects for Increase in Property Values Loom Up As Result of Extensions.

Prosperity reigns supreme in the great South Plains country, and Lubbock, the Hub, is reaping the benefits of the activity as products of the ranch, farm and stock-farm are shipped to outside markets.

This prosperity, or rather this reign of prosperity is here for keeps. The city of Lubbock is going to turn loose in this immediate section in the near future something in the neighborhood of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

This one hundred and fifty thousand dollars is to be spent for water and sewer extensions in the city. Bids will be read at the City Secretary's office on November 3, to determine who has the job of doing this work, and immediately thereafter actual construction and sewer disposal work will be started.

The sewer disposal plant on the canyon is to be rebuilt throughout, the new plant to be of much greater capacity than the present one. Sewer and water mains will be laid, all this work requiring greater expenditure for labor than for materials, and it is known to all that the greater per cent of what is spent for labor will be put into circulation in this immediate vicinity, and as the work that is to be done will require no little time, it is altogether likely that this money will be released in a period of time which shall greatly stimulate business for Lubbock merchants.

The cotton and livestock shipments that are being made from Lubbock daily are of such proportions as to make anyone interested in Lubbock and the South Plains proud, and the happy expressions that are seen on the faces of our people are indications of these prosperous times.

The city of Lubbock has made wonderful strides in growth for the past several years as we all know, but through increasing efficiency and service of the water works, a new avenue of developments is opened, through which many needed and worthy improvements will be made.

Percy Spencer, Mayor of Lubbock, says the noticeable developments that shall come in Lubbock as a direct result of the water and sewer main extensions will make the most optimistic booster in this section wonder at the immediate change, and we are not at all surprised at this assertion. The Hub of the Plains is destined to become the greatest city in all West Texas, and why should we look for some miraculous something to happen to bring about that condition? Lubbock will never grow overnight. This city was not started that way, and

Game Will Be Extinct In a Few Years if It Is Not Protected

The United Press. Austin, Texas, Oct. 18.—Game of all kinds, especially antelope, deer, and mountain sheep in the Western part of the State, and migratory birds, such as quail, doves, etc., all over Texas will be practically extinct in a few years unless protected by additional game laws, and stricter enforcement of those standing, according to the recent report of W. W. Boyd, state game, fish and oyster commissioner.

Sheep and antelope are fast disappearing from the slopes of West Texas and in the northern part of the State one will drive for miles without seeing quail or doves, the report states. In districts of West Texas, quail are expected to survive civilization, due to the importation of 1200 quail from Mexico.

To the heavy rains and high waters this spring are due to a large part, the scarcity of deer. Many of them were drowned by the waters this spring or driven into the open where they were slaughtered by unscrupulous hunters.

A large State game refuge in the Panhandle and readjustment of the open seasons, are suggested as remedies for this condition in Mr. Boyd's report.

LESLIE RIORDAN IS FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING MOON

The United Press. San Angelo, Oct. 15.—Leslie Riordan, ranchman of Sterling county, was found guilty of the killing of T. E. Moon of Seagraves, by a jury in the Tom Green District Court, in a verdict returned today. His penalty was fixed at ten years' imprisonment. Riordan's attorneys said a motion for a new trial will be filed.

EDITORS TO HAVE BIG PROGRAM AT COTTON PALACE

The United Press. Waco, Texas, Oct. 18.—One of the most interesting programs ever to have been arranged for such a gathering has been worked out for the annual convention of the Texas Editorial Association to be held here three days, beginning Nov. 2, according to announcement by Fred E. Robinson, president of the Association.

The convention will be attended by editors from all over Texas and will be addressed by leading figures in the newspaper world, including Charles L. Martin, John G. Rankin, Eli T. Merriman, and others.

A number of entertainment features have been planned, included in which are visits to the Cotton Palace, the Texas A. & M.—Baylor football game, banquet, luncheons, and other diversions.

Special railroad rates of a fare and one-fifth from all points in Texas during the Waco Cotton Palace will be taken advantage of by members of the fourth estate.

ANNUAL ASSEMBLY OF C. OF N. ATTENDED BY LOCAL PEOPLE

The Annual Assembly of the Church of the Nazarene at Amarillo throughout last week was attended by local people, among whom were Mrs. Helen Barnett and daughter, Miss Mary Barnett, Mrs. M. Green, and the local pastor, T. B. Wallace.

NEW VARIETY FIRM TO ENTER BUSINESS AT SLATON

The United Press. Slaton, Oct. 18.—A concern operating a number of variety stores in West Texas, with Dublin as the operating point, have leased the M'Atee building, and will open for business October 23. They have taken over the Mack's Variety Store, Slaton Slatonite.

An express driver caught with 56 suits was arrested. He should have posed as a landlud.

Interesting Events Recalled By Some Pioneers of Texas

Washington, Oct. 8.—The gradual development of Texas from a vast expanse of prairie land infested by Indians into a state imperial in its extent, with rich farm lands, is recalled by C. F. Greenwood, of Dallas, whose parents were among the pioneers in the state.

"Texas has an early history which is unique and at the same time interesting, in view of the state's development into a vast agricultural commonwealth, with timber resources and an extensive business of cattle raising," said Mr. Greenwood. "Texas was once a republic itself, and its area today is as great as that of several of the other states of the Union combined. In the early days it was a vast undeveloped country, through which Indians roamed at will. I recall my own father taking part in the expeditions against the marauding Indians. The word would come that they were abroad, and immediately the settlers would organize and go out after them. The women and children were left home defenseless. It had to be. It was a warfare of extermination, and many of the white settlers fell in it. Many were scalped and killed. On the other hand, many of the Indians were killed, since the settlers treated them in the same way as they treated the settlers.

"I remember my own experiences during those times when my father would leave to go out against the Indians. My mother would take me, only a child, and we would go into the depths of some thicket nearby, because we were afraid to stay in the house, knowing what the results might be. We would remain away from the house all day, and as night came on go cautiously back to the house under cover of darkness."

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock county, greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Mary J. Niblack, Lizzie E. Morrison, Hattie Studebaker, and Margaret S. Vesey and their unknown heirs, if dead, W. J. Vesey and L. F. Kimball and his unknown heirs, if dead, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Lubbock County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the 2nd Monday in December, A. D. 1922, the same being the 11th day of December, A. D. 1922, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 14th day of October, A. D. 1922, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 1640, wherein D. B. Carnes, J. K. Shipman, J. L. Martin, J. C. Royalty, N. A. Walker, J. S. Rabik and Henry McKinley are plaintiffs, and Mary J. Niblack, Lizzie E. Morrison, Hattie Studebaker and Margaret S. Vesey and their unknown heirs, if dead, W. J. Vesey and L. F. Kimball and his unknown heirs, if dead, are defendants, and said petition alleges:

That plaintiffs severally own in fee simple, certain parts of block 32, of the Low and McNabb subdivision of the Roberts & McWhorter addition to the town of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, to-wit:

D. B. Carnes, lots 4 and 5, in said block 32; J. K. Shipman, lots 12, 13, 14, 15, in said block 32; J. L. Martin, lots 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, in said block 32; J. C. Royalty, lots 1, 2, 3, 6, 10, 11, 21, 22, 27, 28, 29, in said block 32; N. A. Walker, lots 25, 26, and 29, in said block 32; J. S. Rabik, lots 7, 8, 9, in block 32; Henry McKinley, lots 23 and 24, in said block 32.

Said plaintiffs derive title thereto from a common source, to-wit: B. O. McWhorter and L. W. Roberts. Plaintiffs allege that each of them owned said property as above stated, being lawfully seized and possessed of their lawful portions of the lands above described, owning the same in fee simple, on and prior to January 1, 1922, and that on said date, the defendants unlawfully seized and possessed said lands and are claiming title and ownership and an interest therein to the damage of plaintiffs and each of them.

In this connection, plaintiffs say that the defendants claim and assert title, ownership and an interest in all of said block 32, above described, by virtue of a transfer of three vendor's lien notes transferred them by B. O. McWhorter and L. W. Roberts, by an instrument dated April 24, 1908, and recorded in volume 19, page 495, of the deed records of Lubbock county, Texas, which said notes were originally executed by J. C. Royalty and payable to said Roberts & McWhorter and were fully described in warranty deed from said B. O. McWhorter and L. W. Roberts to J. C. Royalty, dated Oct. 29, 1907, recorded in volume 17, page 572 of the deed records of said county and the records do not show that said transferees, defendants above named, have released their lien and title and interest in and to said block 32, to secure the payment of said notes. But plaintiffs and each of them say that said defendants did in truth and in fact, transfer, convey and assign, all their right, title, and interest in and to said notes to one W. J. Vesey, for a valuable consideration and that said W. J. Vesey, did thereafter collect and receive pay for all of said notes and therefore said vendor's lien title and interest of said defendants were extinguished. That said W. J. Vesey did foreclose vendor's lien above described against the above described block 32, in the District Court of Lubbock County, Texas, by a judgment against J. C. Royalty on November 3, 1914, and all right, title and interest, owned and claimed by the said defendants passed to the said J. C. Royalty, by virtue of said Sheriff's deed, which is of record in volume 46, page 115, of the deed records of Lubbock County, Texas.

Plaintiffs further allege and represent that the above described vendor's lien notes of which the defendants assert and claim ownership and an interest are outlawed by limitation; that it appears from said notes that they are more than four years past due, to-wit: twelve years and that the maker of said notes, nor none of the plaintiffs nor any one else, owning and claiming said land have ever renewed said notes of record, as required by Art. 5694 and 5695 of the Revised Statutes of Texas, and hence said notes and lien retained are extinguished and said plaintiffs specially plead such Statute of Limitation.

Wherefore, plaintiffs pray that upon final hearing they and each of them have judgment for the title and possession of their respective lots of land, severally claimed by each of them herein, and that any and all claim of title or interest of the defendants in and to the above described lots of land be declared null and void; and that the title of the plaintiffs in and to their respective lots of land be quieted, and that they and each of them recover all and every relief to which they may be entitled, etc.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

BROOM CORN AND BEANS MAKE MONEY FOR FARMERS

Texline, Oct. 19.—Broom corn and beans are crops in Dallam county this year that brings to the farmers a silver lining for their private ex-chequers, according to the Texline Luncheon club. One hundred ears of the former product shipped this season has brought farmers $175,000, or about $175 per ton. Ten or fifteen cars of pinto, or red beans, have also gone forward to northern markets.

The prosperity of the farmers who do their shopping here is reflected in mercantile progress. Among the new enterprises being established is a forty-room Van Noy hotel costing $60,000; a new $100,000, public school; a water and light plant, just completed, valued at $85,000; and a new Baptist church to cost on completion $20,000. Other improvements are noted.

PLAINVIEW TRUCK FARMER MAKES BIG PROFIT ON 5 ACRES

Plainview, Oct. 15.—The carefully kept books of Fred Nicklaus show that he has taken in more than $5,000 from a five-acre truck patch this year. Nicklaus has an irrigated truck farm on the outskirts of Plainview and he has made more money from his five acres than the majority of Texas farmers have made from a quarter section. The tract has grown from one to eight crops of vegetables during the spring and summer. Nicklaus says that he has averaged about sixteen hours' work a day for the last seven months, but that he has a good rest coming during the winter and that he can have the satisfaction of a fat bank account in Plainview.

Nicklaus is a native of Iowa and it was in that state that he began truck farming. He tried his luck in several states and came to Plainview a few years ago when he heard of the abundance of water for irrigation here. He worked for a local nursery two years and then ventured into the truck business for himself. He rented the land and borrowed the money to get his start. His profits from the one year's work enabled him to pay for the land, buy twenty acres more, pay all his debts and still have money left.

Her Rheumatism Has Entirely Disappeared

The successful treatment of rheumatism by taking Tanlac is one of the outstanding features of that remarkable medicine. Thousands of people everywhere have testified that it has brought them complete relief from this torturous disease. Mrs. N. E. Sutton, 2529 Prospect Ave., Kansas City, Mo., says:

"I had rheumatism in my shoulders, knees and ankles so bad I suffered all the time and could hardly do my housework. Tanlac surely was the right medicine for me. I can now do my housework with ease and I feel just fine in every way."

When the digestive system, liver and kidneys are not working properly, uric acid and other impurities accumulate in the muscles and joints, causing rheumatism. Tanlac quickly overcomes this condition by enabling the vital organs to perform their functions properly. Get a bottle today, at any good drug-past.

Hallowe'en in the Country

Of all the year there is no time like October in the country. "When the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock," October then the Autumn leaves turn to crimson and gold, when the little squirrels are so busy storing up their Winter rations. When the ripened nuts are falling. Did you ever sit in a little old country school in the timber and listen to the nuts falling every few minutes in the rustling leaves? Makes you sort of home-sick to think "Them days is gone forever." But every Autumn and every October has its glories no matter where you are in the open country.

Then is when the city folks will drive for miles and miles to spend a few hours in the gloriously tinted country. Cider time, Oh Joh, Oh Boy! Don't you wish you were a boy again just for one day in the woods? If country folks only knew how home sick city folks get about this time of the year for old walnut trees and the sumac bushes and the old apple orchard and the hickory nuts and butter nuts, pecans and hazen nuts, pop corn balls, apples, doughnuts, pumpkin pie and fried chicken, sweet cider and good old home made ginger bread and sorghum. And October and Hallowe'en stands for all these things in the country.

Oh, the farce of a Hallowe'en party in the city. Where you have to BUY the pumpkins and the apples and the pop corn. Where you go down to town and get the nuts instead of rattling them down from their hiding places in the tree tops, hulling them yourselves and drying them on top of the coal house; and climbing every day or so to see if they will be good and ready by Hallowe'en night. And the difference between the doughnuts and the pumpkin pie and the ginger bread you buy at the bakery and the kind our mothers use to make for us when she had all the butter and lard and eggs and milk she wanted to put in them. How thin and caved in are those bought pies as compared to the nice, juicy, fat ones you were reared on.

There is nothing so artificial as a Hallowe'en party in the city. There is nothing so natural as a Hallowe'en party in the country. And we hope this little paper will reach every teacher and every school in every county it appears. And let's make this the happiest Hallowe'en in all our lives. Look it up right now, and you will see that the last night in October comes this year on Tuesday night.

How many of you have Sunday School at the school house? Let's decorate the school house for that Sunday with Autumn leaves and the red buds and the Autumn flowers that we still find blooming in the gardens and along the roads. One of the happiest periods of our life was the time we spent gathering the fluffy weeds and the trailing vines of Autumn time. Did you ever decorate your little old school house to see how beautiful and attractive you could make it at this time of the year? You'd be surprised how lovely you could make it look dressed in an Autumn style. Fix up the school house for Sunday and everybody will want to come back Tuesday night to the Hallowe'en party.

And that is the kind of party to have on Hallowe'en. One that everybody can enjoy and then there will be no one left out to get into devilment. That is one reason town folks have so much trouble on that particular night. The boys are bound to do something spooky and have some fun and nobody plans any fun for them so they get out and do a lot of things that would be better not done. Of all the annual festivals none can be made more interesting for all the people than that of Hallowe'en in the country. To begin with there need be no expense to it. Everybody comes from somebody's field or patch or orchard, decorations, refreshments and all.

One of the most beautiful lunches we ever attended in a city was served Autumn style. The menu was all home-grown. Not in the city but in the country. The table decorations were trailing vines in crimson and gold, with jardiniere made of hollowed out pumpkins filled with branches of Autumn leaves and bouquets of fluffy plants that had ripened and gone to seed in the pastures and by the road side. The windows were banked in the sunset colors of the Autumn oak leaves. Little gourds made dainty cups. It was all so beautiful. And all these things that the city craves at this time of the year is going to waste in abundance around the school house door of our country.

Let's make Hallowe'en a community get-together night this year in every school district in our county. Have a program if you want to. If not, just eat, laugh, play, sing and be happy. Is your school house lighted? If it is not, ask your Delco light dealer, if you have one in your county, to come out to the party and light it for you, just to see how it would seem to have a good light.

If it were not for spoiling a good time by commercializing if you might make enough with a good Hallowe'en party to pay for a lighting system.

But there is another thing we would like to see every school in the county do on that night. And that is to invite some of your home sick, hungry town folks out to enjoy all those good things they used to have but which have long since been gone forever. For instance, invite the editor of your paper, he'll enjoy it. Most editors were reared in the country. In fact all the successful business and professional men of our towns and cities were born and reared on the farm. Don't be afraid of them. They'll be glad to get back to a real country party. You try them and see. Maybe they will make a speech if you will give them plenty of time to work it up.

Then there is just one more thing to make a complete county success of Hallowe'en in your county. And that is for every school to appoint some one in the English classes to "write up their party" and send it to the HOME PAPER so that every school may know that you did and you may know what everybody else did to make Hallowe'en, 1922, the best ever.

Exceptional interest has been aroused by the practical arrangement of the interior.

The entire rear compartment furnishings—seat, seat cushions, back cushions, seat frame, foot rest, carpet and all—can be removed from the car in a few moments.

The front seat is then tilted forward, giving a gross clearance of twenty-two inches through the rear doors.

In this way, a space of sixty-four cubic feet in the rear compartment is made available for loading.

When the rear seat fixtures are back in place, the interior is complete and attractive in appearance. Its convertibility is not apparent to the eye.

Business men, farmers, salesmen, campers, tourists and everyone who has occasion, at times, to carry bulky articles or luggage, will readily appreciate the great utility of this construction.

COTTON BECOMING POPULAR CROP IN FLOYD COUNTY

Floydada, Oct. 16.—Fifteen hundred bales of cotton have been marketed in this town since September 1. A number of days the ginnings have been one hundred bales, proving that more cotton was raised in this district than was expected, and that it is becoming more and more popular as a crop suitable for Floyd county.

The increase in money in circulation is very noticeable since cotton began coming in.

From Lockney the reports indicate that at least 2,000 bales will be raised and marketed and at Wake and McAdoo the crop is flourishing.

JUNIOR C. OF C. TAKE DEFINITE ACTION REGARDING SIDEWALKS

At a director's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held at the Chamber of Commerce office yesterday morning, definite action was taken in the matter of securing free mail delivery for the City of Lubbock.

As has been reiterated time and again through the columns of this paper, a certain amount of sidewalks must be put in before the Postoffice Department will grant us free city mail delivery. The Junior Chamber is after this, and are going after it in their usual manner of accomplishing things for the good of the city.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors, committees were appointed for securing data and a survey of the city with regards to the amount and proper location of the walks that must be built. This committee reported yesterday morning with all data gathered necessary to the furthering of the project.

This is a movement that is very essential to the future development of Lubbock. Many tourists and visitors to our city are very much surprised that we haven't as yet gotten as far along as the free mail delivery. These tourists are certainly capable to judge a town. Did you know that Lubbock had a reputation all over the State as being the most progressive and wide-awake town of the State and not only in the State but the entire southern division of the United States?

The city is already making arrangements to carry out its part of the contract, in fact had bids submitted for the building of the street crossings, and the contracts will be let for these on the 28th of this month.

It is expected that the only thing that will be necessary is to let it be known to the property owner where walks are needed. The rest will be done by them. However, if someone gets behind the idea that their place don't need walks, and tries to "fly up" and spoil a whole street by leaving a hole in a stretch of walk, there is a way of getting these walks built, also there is a way of making the property owner pay for installing them.

One of the committees will call on you in the very near future. United effort can make this one of the easiest things yet attempted in Lubbock. The Junior Chamber of Commerce has made the start. You are expected to "Carry On."

LUBBOCK IS TO GO AHEAD

Lubbock is about the most talked of city of its size in Texas and it is attracting this comment because of its progressiveness, and the co-operation of its people. It is a well known fact that the people of Lubbock pull together, and in that way put things over that many places fail in, because "in union there is strength."

few years back, not over twenty, that when a proposition showed itself, one or two men had to shoulder the responsibility of nursing it along and finally putting it over, but now we have the great Senior Chamber of Commerce organization, that handles many large propositions. We have the Junior Chamber of Commerce, that has one of the best working set of young men anywhere, who take in charge some of the most important things pertaining to Lubbock and her future greatness, and besides these two, and one that is of no less importance than either of the above is the Fair Association, which is a separate organization, but into which all other organizations of the city blend their services.

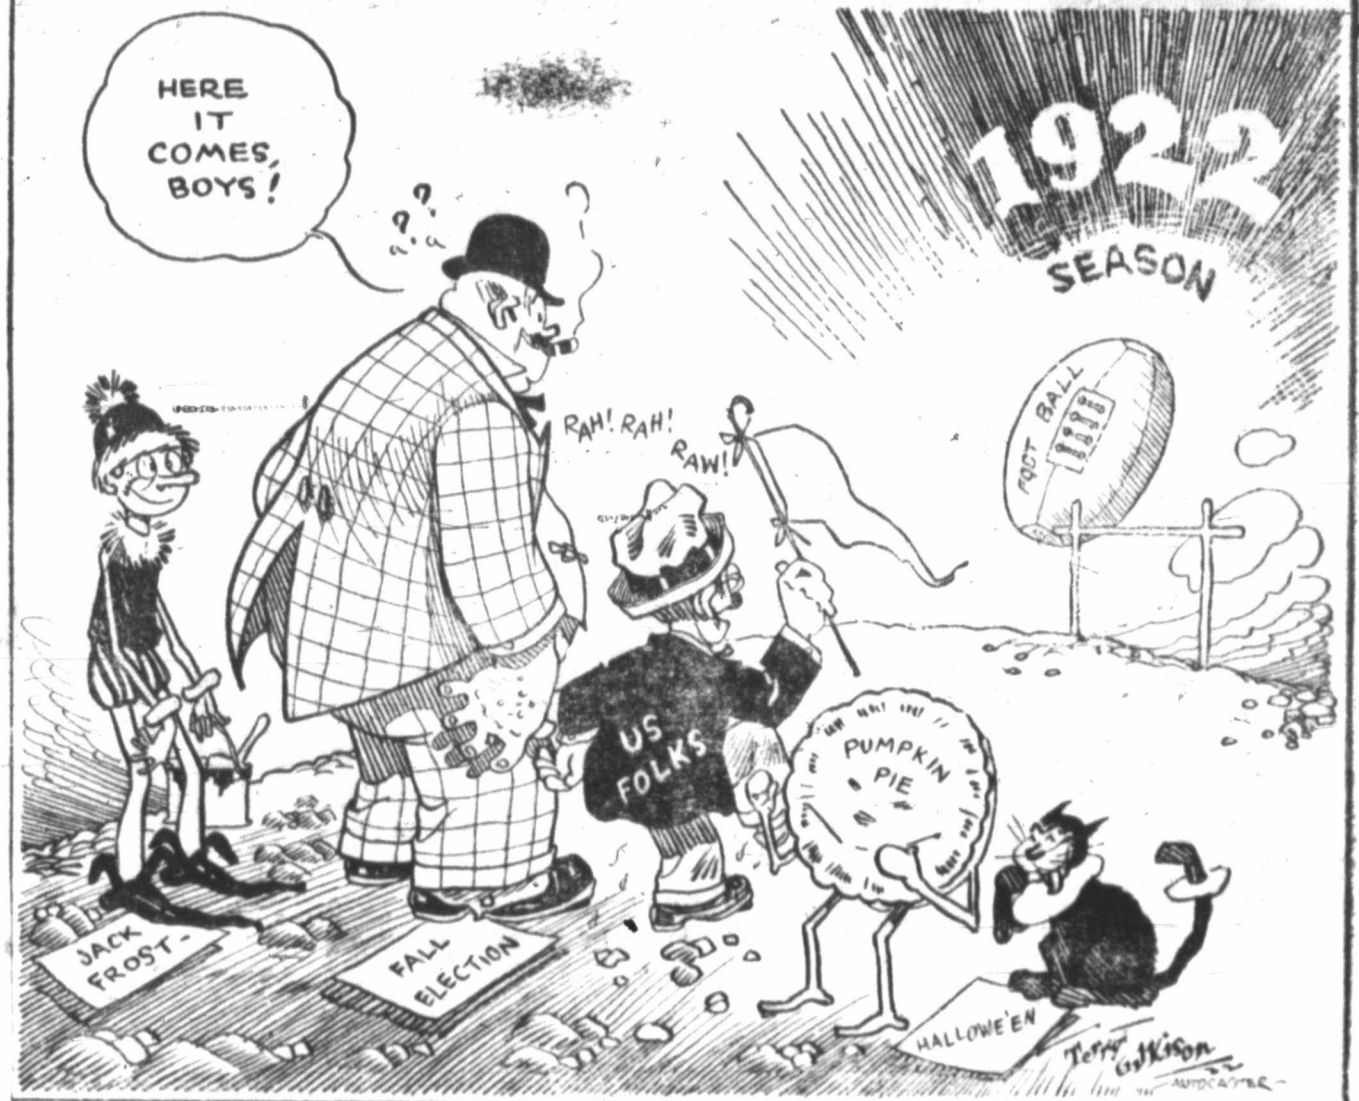

A MORNING PAPER FOR LUBBOCK

A number of times, our readers will remember, we have made the statement that when Lubbock had a Daily Paper, it would be called the Avalanche. That time is near at hand, in fact the date is set, the forces are organized, and the army is mobilizing for the publication of the first daily paper in Lubbock, and the South Plains.

Lubbock is no longer in the country town class. She is the city of the Southwest. The Hub of the Plains, and from the way she does things we sometimes think she must be right slap in the middle of the earth. Anyway, let's go. The Morning Avalanche will be your guide. Beginning with November the first you can have for breakfast, Ham and—the Avalanche.

It is known throughout the country that Lubbock goes after things and gets them. It's a very good reputation to have. Let's keep it up.

ENEMIES OF AMERICA

Success always produces enemies. We are not discussing the external enemies of America, because her danger is not from without, it is from within. Her menace is being generated in her own bosom.

Let us discuss some of them. FIRST—The bad citizenship of good citizens.

The banker, lawyer, doctor, merchant, minister, teacher, or other professional and business men who spend their entire time looking after their own interests to the neglect of the public interest, welfare and success are bad citizens.

When men become so selfish, self-centered, and interested in their own affairs that they will not give

Rev. M.A. Matthews, D.D., D.L.D., Autocaster

SECOND—Disregard for law. There is a growing disregard for law. Men are trying to circumvent law, they are devising every scheme possible to escape the operations of law, they are spending every energy they possess to defeat the judgments of law. This tendency is putting our government in jeopardy.

THIRD—Ignorance. Ignorance is a deadly enemy to society. The amount of ignorance in this country is alarming. We discovered it when we drafted the boys for the late war. A large percentage could not pass the examinations.

The time has come for us to demand that the common school education of this land shall become universal and compulsory. Every child should be forced to graduate from the public schools. The Smith-Towner Bill now before Congress ought to be passed, and the Federal government ought to be made to aid the public school system of this country.

The little red school house should dot every hill and fill every valley in America; and every child in America, regardless of race, color, or condition should be forced to remain in the public schools until graduated from the ninth grade.

Richard Lloyd Jones tells About Ants, Elephants and Us.

ZOOLOGISTS, who, in simpler language, are bug-ologists, after microscopically observing the habits and conduct of ants for years, bring us the interesting information that these busy little workers in the humbler world are by their own voluntary action the most moral of all living creatures.

The ant, they tell us, is so intelligent that we are justified in trying to describe its existence by a kind of allegorical comparison with human life.

Busy as are these minute little creatures, their females are scrupulously clean. Several times each day they better their appearance with combs and brushes. The mothers are the only ones that are allowed to eat all they want. All others, by their established law, must abstain from over eating and drinking.

Soldier ants protect both the young and those who care for the young. The mother ant is treated with all the deference of an empress.

The ants limit their sleep to just that which is their need of rest and they destroy the drone and all those who would attempt to over-indulge in leisure or luxury.

They have architects and engineers. They build houses and bridges to conform with definite plans. They have their agriculture and horticulture and have been observed to domesticate as many as 584 different kinds of creatures.

Wonderful is the story of the ant. Some of our scientists who are better zoologists than sociologists quote the old Hebrew saying of thousands of years ago, "Go to the ant, thou sluggard, consider her way," and suggest that there is much in the ant the man might well try to emulate.

Other scientists tell us to consider the elephant.

The Hindoo tells us that he gets good work from that giant creature only so long as he is good to it. Should he abuse or offend it, he would lose the elephant's willingness to work and he might lose his life by incurring the elephant's ire. To appease the elephant, the Hindoo always feeds it before he himself partakes of food.

That gentleness and generosity do much to gain good work, is the moral lesson the scientist hands to us as the result of these observations.

But who wants to be either an elephant or an ant? Who would want to emulate their ways, interesting and perhaps intellectual as they appear to be?

The elephant has none of the generosity for which the scientific observer pleads. The elephant says, "Feed me first or I am likely to get mad and kick the daylight out of you." There is nothing in that sort of a spirit worth emulating.

The ant is good to its own but it wars on every other creature that it cannot subdue and use. There is nothing so very big and magnanimous about that. What is more, outside of the grotesque trick elephants in the circus ring, no scientist has ever called upon us to see or hear an animal picture or gracefully formed statue. Has any one ever yet seen an elephant pause in rapture before a gorgeous sunset?

Whatever are man's imperfections he is not only the research student, the truth seeker, but what is finer, he is the great appreciator. To be able to appreciate the wonders of the world—that in itself is living the higher life.

Poem by UNCLE JOHN

The Senatorial candidates have struck their smartest gait, an' hawk their wares on busted crates, all up an' down the State. Contendin' voices rant an' roar, to warn us of our danger. Nobody's honest any more THE CONFLICT—the Golden Rule's a stranger! I reckon if we don't elect a rabid politician, we needn't ever much expect to better our condition.

And so—each candidate declaims in hate against the other, without a-callin' any names—that he's the Devil's brother. I reckon that it's nip and tuck between contendin' forces—but I would sooner pass the buck, than hear their crime-discourses.

HONEY PHILOSOPHY for 1922

LAST week the New York police arrested a man and rushed him off to Bellevue Hospital to have his sanity looked into because he broke a whiskey bottle on Broadway, stood before the mirror in a shop window, proceeded to undress himself and started to shave—naked as the day he was born. They hustled him into a taxicab and in five minutes the crowd had vanished into the moving city throng. In the great city of Calcutta, a native made a sudden dash for a suit of clothes, put them on, and stood in front of a window to rub some hair tonic on his face wearing a beard, they'd hustle him into a "ghurry," the Indian form of taxi-cab, and have his bean looked into. Geography is a strange study. East is east and west is west, and as you see the thing so it is—that is, so we insist it is, but is it?

Talk is cheap. That is why they call it the gift of gab. The question of the hour is: "Is that clock right?" Practice makes bad habits perfectly bad. A nice fall is predicted. Not, however, in prices. Many a man goes into college by a football coach. A fool and his money are soon divorced.

George Peddy, Candidate for United States Senator, Denounced Ku Klux Klan in Speech Here Tuesday Eve.

George Peddy, candidate for United States Senator, arrived in Lubbock some thirty minutes late Tuesday evening, to find at the Court house a large and enthusiastic, as well as curious crowd of people from Lubbock, Crosbyton, Ralls, Plainview, Abernathy, Littlefield, and neighboring towns waiting his arrival.

The candidate was introduced by Marvin E. Hilburn, popular young man whose association with the candidate in the service of the United States Government during the recent World War cemented between the two a lasting and firm friendship, who seemed too eager to hear his old "buddy" speak to spend very much time, and introduced him by saying, "I am glad to introduce to you my former Commander, Mr. George Peddy."

The candidate was not at all nervous from having arrived late, and assured his hearers that an adequate excuse for having them wait could not be made, and thanked them for their presence, expressing regret that he arrived in Lubbock too late to see the town.

Much applause was given the speaker when he referred to his association and friendship with Senator Bledsoe of Lubbock, and his association as a soldier with Mr. Hilburn, and he assured his hearers that the very existence of those gentlemen and other friends in Lubbock made him feel that he was not at all in a land of strangers.

From the beginning Mr. Peddy seemed to be in trim for the fight he was to make, and his splendid oratory and straightforward methods of expressing his views immediately warmed his hearers to a close consideration of his every utterance.

"I consider this a great opportunity and privilege to be here and deliver my message to you," he said, referring to some of the things that had been thrown at him by those on the side of his opponent, declaring that the people of Lubbock probably heard many ill references of him, and assured them that those who had spoken of him as a "bitter ender" had spoken truthfully, and emphasized this fact by declaring that "I will be a bitter ender until the laws and constitution of my country reign supreme, and an unscrupulous invisible empire which threaten them is for ever suppressed," to which much applause was given. This was the opening of his fight upon the Ku Klux Klan and its participation in the political life of Texas.

He charged his opponent with malicious disregard for the laws of the State, and declared that if he would go to Corsicana and answer to charges filed against him there without having his name withheld from the official ballot, these charges having been made for violation of a certain law regulating the campaign funds of Senatorial Candidates, he would quit this race here and now. He declared that his opponent had denounced the law regulating such expenditures as "unconstitutional, unreasonable and void," and refused to appear before the proper authorities at Corsicana.

Mr. Peddy declared that he was going to make some charges against an organization whose supporters set in secret conclaves to plan their work, and asked that all those who were familiar with the workings of that organization please raise their hands, to which there was much laughter, but no hands were raised.

Mr. Peddy was bold in his assertions against those who made such an "unscrupulous" fight against his name being placed on the official ballot and declared that "I have no slush fund collectors to back me up in making a legal attack upon them, but am going to take my campaign to the people, and will be content for them to exercise the inherent right to vote for whomsoever they wish."

The Ku Klux Klan and its absorption of the laws of this country was the main force against which Mr. Peddy made his fight, and it was referred to as the most dangerous monster threatening the very foundation upon which our government rests, and many accounts of the activities of the mob rule under the regime of this organization was given, and made it plain that he realizes the need of strong opposition given this organization, declaring that "time had come when some officers of Texas forgot their oath of office to bend their knees to the path of an invisible empire instead," and read a resolution that was delivered to the Democratic Convention asking that body to frown upon the activities of that organization, which he said was refused.

"The right of citizens to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience," was upheld by Mr. Peddy, and in his own characteristic way the Republicans who endorsed his campaign at the Dallas convention were complimented for their forgetting party lines in supporting his nomination by that party, and for upholding the principles he is fighting for. "It is wrong to judge a man by his religion, and I do not know of any Jews or Catholics being barred from serving our Government during the World War," he said. Mr. Peddy joined the Methodist church at ten years of age, but said that church affiliation should not be used for political capital.

He referred to Thomas Jefferson as a beacon light upon the political horizon of this country, and declared he is standing for the principles for which Thomas Jefferson stood.

Mr. Peddy declared that he was for Woman Suffrage when it was a paramount issue, and that he had stood for prohibition throughout his life, and would place his prohibition record against any one's, but those were no longer issues, but were parts of the Constitutional law of this country. "I was a prohibitionist because I don't believe and never have that liquor is for the best interests of my country, but I have not been one of those kind of prohibitionists that has tried to drink the country dry," he said, to which there was much applause.

His talk was closed with a tribute to the fighting men of the recent war, and he read a beautiful poem on the army life of a Jew soldier, and told his hearers that all he wants is a square deal, and assured them that when they had gone into the November election and voted according to the dictates of their conscience, he would be pleased regardless of the consequences. He quoted that well known version from Webster, on "duty well done" and asked the voters to consider the lesson contained in that quotation when time comes to vote.

"When I have completed this campaign I will be able to go to my old gray-haired mother in East Texas and tell her that I conducted this campaign along those lines which I have followed in private and public life," he said.

The Fort Worth Record, Dallas News, Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Lubbock Avalanche, and Crosbyton Review were the newspapers represented by reporters at the speaking.

The Terry County Herald Editor's View of the South Plains Fair As He Saw It And Told His Readers About the Next Week

The editor and his family were among the many hundreds of other citizens of Brownfield and Terry county that visited the South Plains Fair during one or more of the three days last week that it was in session. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and when we got there we wondered where all the people came from. Even Boy Haynes (Happy Haynie) of the Lynn County News, was there in all his glory—the glory part being the better half—and no telling who else. We thought on arriving in the city that the show was over and all the people had come to town for refreshments, but when we started to the fair grounds we found that two presidential funeral processions were going on at the same time, and we was in the line headed toward the fair enclosure, and when we arrived there, we decided that all the mob we left in town had suddenly decided to return to the fair grounds, and had beat us back. By eight or nine that night all these above mentioned funeral processions and mobs seemed to have converged into one seething, happy mass of humanity, and you were more or less carried with it whether you were ready to move or not. Yet it was a peaceable mob, intent only on seeing a good time and letting you have one, but you must keep moving. The first we saw of Happy Haynie, he was eating, as usual, and the next time we saw him he was measuring the height of the ferris wheel with his eyes. He was even complaining then that there was a "crick" in his neck.

We found the agricultural building about the first thing, but it was a much larger and handsomer building than the one last year, and as usual found that old Terry had secured the choice of booths, the one next to the main entrance and there was Judge Neill spelling to the crowd the wonderful possibilities of the heart and center of the great South Plains of Texas—TERRY. We expected to see him a little downcast over the fact that we had gone to fourth place, but not a bit of it—he was enjoying the fact, for the never-ending procession of humanity were disagreeing with the judges. Of course the judges had to go by points, but the crowd was judging quality. But that is not here nor there, our defeat for the first time will only make the Terryites the harder to hold next year. Time about is fair play. Any of the exhibits in the huge building should make any one proud that he was from the South Plains whether or not his county was even represented. The community exhibits from a dozen or more Lubbock county communities were something wonderful, and even the individual exhibits would make the most optimistic man on the plains run his old thumb under his "galluses," rear back and spit his tobacco juice all over creation. In these individual exhibits were everything good to eat one might imagine, and after gazing at them for a few minutes, one usually made for the hamburger joint to satisfy his appetite.

We left the poultry and stock departments for the next morning and followed the crowd through all the merry whirl of doll racks and other gambling devices, shows, merry-go-rounds, ferris wheels, and all of the blaze and glory for one that likes those things, he could be no better satisfied anywhere outside the State fair at Dallas, for that is the only fair now that we compare with our South Plains Fair.

Our visits to the poultry and livestock departments was well rewarded, for we saw the best of the intelligence of the producers of the great South Plains, coupled with the admirable climate we have, can produce. Poultry from the wee bantam to all sorts of large varieties, some of which we had never heard of. Hogs that weighed a half ton and horses from the nimble shetland to the big 2600 draft animal. Also sheep and fine cattle. No wonder that California is now looking to

If you like nut candy, try this fudge:

Boil together for ten minutes three cupfuls of granulated sugar, one cupful rich milk or cream and one tablespoonful of butter. Remove from the fire, add one cupful of chopped nuts and stir rapidly for a few minutes. Pour into buttered pans and mark in squares.

DELICIOUS NUTS can be had here.

FORTUNE TELLING

With tea. Serve tea at the end of the meal. Put in plenty of leaves for fortune telling.

We have just received a new batch of Ceylon Tea.

Last, but not least were two other departments, the home economics, and the display booth of the business houses of Lubbock. They were real eye openers.

But shutting our eyes to the present and looking toward the future, we are inclined to think that no fair, in or out of the state will compare with our South Plains fair in the next decade with the present progress we are making, for no other country on earth can compare with us in natural resources. With this in view and the fact that the main stays of the fair are not looking at it from a money-making proposition, but are putting every net dollar back into the enterprise, we can see in the short distant future huge steel and concrete buildings occupying the present sites of the frames and grounds rivaling the "Garden of the Gods." Let's all forget our county lines and work to this end and it will mean much to all of us.

We are only sorry that one nearby county, and a city in the same county are refusing to come into and take part in the South Plains Fair, but we understand that every inducement possible has been offered to get their co-operation, but to no avail. We do not like to think that there are people on the South Plains that are this sectional in views.

We wish to thank the fair management for the courtesy shown us in many ways, and wish to assure them that the Herald stands ever ready to push and work for anything that is for the glory of the South Plains—Terry County Herald.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County—greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon T. A. Curry, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Lubbock County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the 2nd Monday in December, A. D. 1922, the same being the 11th day of December, A. D. 1922, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 17th day of May, A. D. 1922, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 1586, wherein Rebecca Curry is plaintiff, and T. A. Curry is defendant, said petition alleging: A suit for Divorce, and for the Division of Property.

Plaintiff resides in Lubbock County, Texas, where she has resided for more than six months next before the filing of her said petition, and has been a bona fide inhabitant of said State for more than twelve months next before the filing of said suit. The defendant's residence is unknown.

Plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married on the 3th day of May, 1901, and lived together as husband and wife until March 27, 1922, when they separated in account of cruel treatment by the defendant, of such a nature as to render their further living together insupportable. The defendant neglected the plaintiff and failed to provide for her support and maintenance, and on or about December 1, 1921, he became enamored with another woman, lavished his affections upon her, as well as money and their common property upon such other person. The defendant left the plaintiff alone in a town where she was acquainted, and it became generally known that he had become enamored and had neglected the plaintiff. Such treatment humiliated her, and caused her distress, and it impaired her health. She further says that the defendant became disagreeable, and told her he had no love for her, and suggested that she file suit for a divorce, and by such conduct of such nature and character as to render their further living together insupportable.

Plaintiff further represents that during their married life she and defendant acquired community property as follows:

1. A home in Lubbock, on Twelfth Street, and being lots 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, in block 116, original town of Lubbock, fronting south on Broadway, and of the reasonable value of $8,000.00, which is encumbered by a purchase money lien of $3,000.00, leaving a net equity of $5,000.00.
2. Vendor's lien notes against one L. B. Seaton for the approximate sum of $1400.00, and is a lien on the property in the name of said Seaton, in the 19th block, and fronts west on Eighth Street.
3. An undivided interest in a mineral lease on 450 acres of land in Callahan county, known as the Barbecue Ranch, about three miles northwest of Baird, and of reasonable value of $4,000.00.
4. Twenty-two head of live stock consisting of horses and mules, of the reasonable value of $1250.00.
5. $1000.00 par value of stock in the National Saving & Investment Company, of Dallas, Texas.
6. Cash on hand, in the possession of the defendant, $1000.00.

But plaintiff says that the community property aforesaid is indebted to her, and her separate estate in the sum of $2,000.00, in this:

Five years ago she owned 80 acres of land in Hamilton County, Texas, which she sold for $2300.00 cash, and loaned the proceeds thereof to the defendant and their community property, which was invested in the 450 acres of land in Callahan county, Texas. Said 450 acres was afterwards sold and the proceeds appropriated by the defendant for the benefit of their community estate, under an agreement that the said estate was indebted to her in the sum of $2300.00, to be repaid her separate estate.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays for citation against the defendant, as required by law in such cases, and on hearing she be decreed a divorce

There was a large crowd at the party at Mr. R. O. Short's Saturday night. Everyone reported a nice time and ask Mr. and Mrs. Short to give them another party. Prof. and Mrs. W. M. Pevehouse and little daughter Nona, spent Sunday with relatives in the Vaughn community.

Misses Ted Sims, Marie Coffey and Mr. Tonnie Sims, spent Sunday afternoon in the Casey home.

Mrs. T. T. Tubbs spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Sims.

Misses Mamie and Esther Hughs, Laura Frazier, Ettie Harris and Eloise Jones, spent Sunday in the Colten home.

Mr. Moon and family, spent Sunday with Mr. Turner and family, of Lubbock.

Mrs. Wallace and children, of near Lubbock, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Strickland.

Mrs. Coffey and family, spent Sunday in the F. A. Sims home.

Miss Ona Ray spent Sunday in the Hinson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughs spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Self.

Mrs. C. H. Jerden spent Thursday with Mrs. J. E. Hinson.

Miss Mamie Hughs spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Jewell Wood.

It is real winter time this week. Everybody is hunting a fire to sit by in the early morning.

Miss Thelma Hinson and Mr. Letter Sims, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Tubbs.

Messrs. Grimes and Loyd Teal, of Woodrow, attended the party at Mr. R. O. Short's Saturday night.

Everybody is very busy trying to get all their cotton picked before Jack Frost comes.

Miss Oeta Ray spent Tuesday afternoon in the Hinson home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Tubbs, spent Sunday with Mrs. Tubbs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Sims.

Hurrah for Lubbock County! We are very glad we have Mr. Jennings with us. He takes so much interest and helped us to win first prize at the Dallas Fair.

Miss Francis Sims spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Oneita Coffey.

Monroe News
Cotton, cotton pickers, and sore fingers is general talk in our community.

Mr. Rufus Teal will make 40 bales from his 100 acres, and is getting it picked rapidly.

B. C. Clutter has a fine bunch of pickers gathering the fleecy staple from his 100 acres.

C. C. Stephenson will get six bales from his 20 acres, and the above mentioned is a general average. I have not heard the rest of our good farmers estimate the yield on theirs, but I see Mr. Matheny take a bale to the gin almost every day, and our gin is turning out some beautiful samples.

Our merchant, Mr. O. Covell, is doing a lively business, as he supplies our busy farmers with groceries and gasoline.

Miss Galey, our intermediate teacher, had business in Abernathy last Friday after school hours.

On the 2nd Sunday, Mr. Tennyson of Plainview, met with the Baptist church and preached, and the church took the Lord's Supper. As this is the first time they have ever taken the Lord's Supper since the Baptist church was organized at Monroe. We are glad to see them obeying a divine command, for "Then Jesus said unto them: 'Verily, verily I say unto you, except you eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.'" (St. John, 6th Chapter and 53rd verse).

Mr. Will Butler did not like our sand storm, because he has had fever. So he moved further, going with his family in a big green truck. We regret to lose them.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Payne of Lubbock, attended church here on last Sunday morning and spent the day with their parents, "Dad" Robinson and wife.

Ask Willie Robinson and Britt Webb who caught that fox?

Bro. S. A. Ribble of Lubbock, and his wife and small son, spent Sunday here, and were dinner guests in the home of Mrs. T. H. Cox. Bro. Ribble preached a good sermon on the subject of miracles, showing the divine purpose in miracles and that they have ceased since we have the written word of God and need no miracles in order to believe in God and Christ.

Mrs. Hardisty and two friends, all from Abernathy, attended church here last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker, who live on the Donoway place, are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine baby in their home.

S. A. Graham and wife, and Andrew Graham and family, visited in the home of Grandma Stephenson last Sunday.

Mrs. Clarence Warder, nee Miss Minnie Williams, has gone to Slaton to join her husband, who is working there. They will make their home in that place for a while.

B. C. Clutter and family, have moved back to their farm. You can take B. C. out of the country, but you can't take the country out of him. We welcome them.

Slide
Cotton picking is very much in order in this part of the country. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Roundtree, a fine boy the past week. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Mr. Carroll Nettles and family, from Lakeview, were at the store Monday.

Mr. Hayden Bateman and family, spent Sunday at the Mabray home.

Little Lou Mabray spent Sunday with Joe Bob Burnett.

Messrs. Green, Harriet, T. J. Davis, Lonnie Williams and W. B. Copeland, were in town Monday on business.

Miss Shelton was taken to a hospital Thursday, to have a tumor taken from under her ear. The last report was that she was doing nicely. We wish for a her a very successful recovery and hope that she will soon be home.

Mr. Stagg's two brothers, are visiting him and family. We failed to learn where they were from.

Those attending singing at New Home Sunday night, were: Misses Wonna and Villa Davis, Lula Burnett, and Messrs. Rufus Ball, Leon and Herschal Davis, and Eugene Wisener.

Mr. Dean and family, of Lubbock, spent Sunday with Mrs. Dean's relatives here.

The Magnolia truck delivered a load of gas and oil to the store Monday morning.

Mr. Farr took a bale of cotton to town Monday.

Buster Hovey and Odell Rieger came out and spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks.

Mrs. Annie Estes and little daughter, came out Monday to spend a few days with her mother.

Lonnie Williams is having a well drilled on the place where he is to live another year.

Acuff
This is a very gentle little north-we are having this morning and we like to sit around the fire and think of good old winter-time.

G. C. Davis was in bed several days last week on account of hurting his back unloading a bale of cotton.

Urney Eviitt is visiting L. S. Eviitt this week.

Mr. W. P. Rush attended church services at Lubbock Sunday morning and heard a splendid sermon from Bro. Smith.

Mrs. W. D. Davis spent Friday and Saturday with her son and family, G. C. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bloyd and son, Jesse, attended the sale at Lorenz Monday.

L. S. A. M. and Urney Eviitt, went to the canyon Monday and hauled home some sand for L. S. Eviitt.

The Baptist laymen had an interesting meeting at Acuff Sunday afternoon. We invite them to come back again.

Ashley Davis happened to the bad luck of losing a big fine horse, on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Rush visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hufstetter, Sunday afternoon.

G. C. Davis bought him a body for his jitney last week, and went to Lubbock Monday afternoon to get it.

Mesdames G. C. and Ashley Davis called on Mrs. Earl Davis, Monday afternoon.

So many have wondered and are wondering why our booth didn't get the first prize, as everyone would see that it excelled in neatness, arrangement and attractiveness. We

Potash Deposits Around Spur to Get Development

Actual mining of the potash resources of southeast Dickens county is scheduled to begin by December 14, according to a contract executed by J. Carlisle on whose farm the potash is said to have been discovered, with the Hutton interests of Louisiana.

The Hutton interests are understood to be arranging for a right-of-way from Gilpin, a flag station on the Stamford & Northwestern railroad, to the deposits, along which they will construct a spur railway, 2 1-2 miles long to bring out the potash for marketing temporarily. Later efforts will be made to erect a refining or smelting plant here.

According to the contract, Mr. Carlisle, whose farm is on Duck Creek southeast of Spur, will receive $1 per ton royalty for the potash as it is removed from the mines. It has been estimated by Hutton experts that 5,000,000 tons of the potash is in sight on the farm, with inexhaustible deposits underneath the surface. Mr. Blackwell, living two and a half miles from the Carlisle place, is said to have sold the deposits on his place outright to Hutton for $5,000, money in hand. Development will be extended to this farm, it is said.

During the hectic "wild-cat" days of West Texas geologists who make cursory examinations of this territory averred that while oil in commercial quantities might be discovered here in time the mineral wealth of this section was its greatest asset, and that the demand would make imperative companies branching out for new crude materials. At the time they did not report the presence of potash in commercial quantities in this region.

In parts of Dickens county the country is more like the fastness of an unknown continent than a territory surrounded on all sides by well settled counties.

Spur business men are much interested in the prospects of this territory being developed for its potash and have hope that in the next few months the riches of potash going forward will encourage further prospecting.

Miss Mabel Marsh Praises Work of 20th Century Club

"The Twentieth Century Club of Lubbock is without parallel as a doer of great things, and its president, Mrs. Ballinger, is equally with in a class of her own as a leader," is the way Miss Mabel Marsh, county home demonstration agent of Lubbock, expressed her views of the splendid work that was done by Mrs. Ballinger and her committees in bringing together the large number of enthusiastic ladies who heard Mrs. Maggie W. Barry speak at the Methodist church Tuesday evening on the great problems of home life in America today.

More than six hundred people were in attendance, and one of the most perfect programs that has been given on such occasion in Lubbock was rendered. Raleigh Brown pleased those assembled with a beautiful and well rendered violin solo, while the high school orchestra and vocalist of that body played a conspicuous part in making the program the success it was.

Mrs. Ballinger introduced Mrs. Carl Goodman, president of the 7th District Women's Clubs, who made a short talk in the interest of the principles which Mrs. Barry advocates, and in fitting and beautiful words introduced the great speaker, Mrs. Maggie W. Barry.

Mrs. Barry has been speaking for a good many years, and her knowledge of the American home, and its problems, is a source from which a great message was drawn for this occasion, and it is gratifying to know that possibly the largest audience she has honored with an address in West Texas was witnessed here.

Miss Mabel Marsh has been doing a great work since coming to Lubbock, and her compliments to the Twentieth Century Club is worthy of consideration, and will no doubt go a long way in placing upon the worthy leaders of that organization a part of the credit which they deserve for so ably carrying on the work they have set out to do.

SWEET POTATOES THRIVE IN LUBBOCK COUNTY SOIL

The Avalanche is grateful to J. J. Dillard for having brought to this office Tuesday morning a fine sweet potato plant, bearing fourteen thoroughly developed potatoes of splendid color.

The vine was grown in the garden of J. R. Shackelford, one of the pioneers of the South Plains, on his place in the south part of Lubbock. Mr. Shackelford, it seems, has made special study of growing potatoes, and his success in the work is in evidence.

Fourteen potatoes growing on a single vine is, in our estimation, proof that the vine must have received its substance from just about as good soil as can be found anywhere, and with a hundred and eleven other indications pointing to the superiority of Lubbock county, it does look like the gardener, farmer, vineyard keeper and orchardist has at last found the place of unquestionable possibilities in Lubbock county.

KELL MILLING COMPANY MEN CHANGE LOCATIONS

G. M. Jones of Washburn, Texas, arrived in Lubbock last week and began making preparations to locate his family here.

He is with the Kell Milling Company, and will take the place of W. E. Hunter, who has been here for the past several months, but who goes to Abilene, where he will have charge of other Kell interests. We understand that in making the change Mr. Hunter is given a very favorable promotion, in that the Abilene job is different in a few characters to the one here, and the increase in salary is large.

We are glad to welcome Mr. Jones to Lubbock, and are sure that he is a splendid addition to the boosting personnel of the city, though it is with regret that we learn of the departure of Mr. Hunter, whose straight forward business principles and personal attitude toward Lubbock's enterprises, has won for him a host of friends in this city.

Under his management the local branch of the Kell Milling Company has made rapid strides since its establishment, and it is gratifying to know that his efforts have been appreciated by the officials of that company whose power it was to give him a financial promotion—what we mean by a financial promotion is that Mr. Hunter is promoted in that manner only in our estimation, as to be removed from Lubbock, regardless of where he can not be recognized by us as favorable, but in the case of Mr. Hunter's going to Abilene where greater responsibilities and greater compensation awaits him, we are compelled to admit that in this particular instance a promotion is given which necessitated leaving Lubbock.

Mrs. A. J. GETTING OUT 200,000 DIVIDEND CHECKS IS TASK

Having the largest list of stockholders in the world involves responsibilities which extend not alone to the president and directors but to clerks, book-keepers and operators of addressing and check-writing machines used in preparing and mailing dividend checks, it would appear from an interview with one of the officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, published recently in the Boston News Bureau.

It is doubtful whether the average shareholder in a large corporation such as the telephone company, has any conception of what is involved, from the mere mechanical or clerical standpoint, in getting out dividend checks.

Dividends on the stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company are paid quarterly. The last payment called for the preparation and mailing of 203,840 checks. One of the most interesting operations is that of the signing of the checks. For this purpose a ten-pen 'signograph' machine is used. The checks are fed into the machine in sheets of five checks each by a boy attendant and the signing is done by two assistant treasurers, alternating at the machine. The operation requires six and a half days.

Four days were occupied in the work of enclosing checks in envelopes, a force of 155 different employees being used from time to time. Ten employees worked three hours plugging the envelopes in the mail bags, 55 No. 1 standard United States mail sacks being needed. Six porters carried the sacks to a truck for shipment to the Post Office.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Goodman, and other well known West Texas hosts of Abilene, were here Tuesday evening to hear George Peddy speak in the interest of his campaign for the United States Senate. They were in Plainview in the afternoon, and heard Mr. Peddy speak there.

New Law Effecting County Officers Is Passed in 1921

Austin, Oct. 16.—County officials and other officers affected by the 1921 legislature cannot retain all fees earned by their offices during December as a result of the new provision under which such officers take office on January 1, an opinion rendered today by the attorney general's department to H. G. Hamrick, county auditor of Potter county, holds. The ruling is said to affect approximately 2500 county and precinct officials in Texas.

The amount of fees due such officials for December cannot be determined until the close of the fiscal year ending November 30, 1923, and then shall be prorated according to the time served, the opinion declares. It also states that county officials should make annual reports on December 1 as previously and another report on January 1 when they leave office.

WOMAN GIVE OUT

Housework is hard enough when healthy. Every Lubbock woman who is having backache, blue and nervous spells, dizzy headaches and kidney or bladder troubles, should be glad to heed this Midland woman's experience:

Mrs. B. F. Stanley, Midland, Tex., says: "I had a case of kidney and bladder trouble. The action of my kidneys was irregular, causing me a great deal of annoyance. The trouble pulled me down in weight and I felt all worn out. I tried different kidney remedies, but none had any effect on me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. After using one box, I felt better, the action of my kidneys being more regular. Two boxes of Doan's entirely cured me and I have been feeling fine ever since."

Hereford Folks to Push the Cotton Industry to Finish

Next Monday's luncheon of the business men, to be held at the City Cafe, is to be another discussion of the proposed cotton acreage movement in this community. Any man interested in cotton as one of the money crops of this section, has a cordial invitation to attend. This meeting is to be a follow up of the original meeting when over 500 acres of cotton for the coming year were pledged.

The reports of that meeting have stirred up a lot of interest all over the country and indications are growing that the idea is here to stick. One man called the Chamber of Commerce from Lubbock, wanting to know how many acres were pledged, as he had a gin he wanted to move up here. Claude B. Hurlbut, prominent real estate man of Lubbock, who owns land in this county, has written that he will put in fifty acres to the pool for 1923. The Mebane Cotton Company has written the Chamber of Commerce, quoting prices and begging for an opportunity to present their claims to our cotton growers. Thursday a representative of the Acala cotton company was in town, trying to sell some of his seed.

Meanwhile Hereford may soon have the opportunity of receiving her first bale, and of making up a bonus for the enterprising grower, J. L. Hoffman, who has in forty-six acres nine miles southeast of town, told the Brand Thursday that he had picked out his first bale last Saturday but had not yet had time to haul it to a gin. As soon as he can do this he will bring it to Hereford and put it on display.

In the opinion of many of those studying the question, the seed should be bought co-operatively if possible and bought as close to home as possible so that it will be acclimated. Swisher county will have around 500 bales this year, their first venture, and they have learned a lot of lessons in entering upon this new industry. Secretary Fielder, who was in Hereford Friday, said he would be glad to come back over here soon and give the results of their venture this year to all who cared to hear it. A meeting will be arranged for the near future to hear Mr. Fielder. A limited amount of good seed that has been tested out in this climate can probably be secured at Tulsa.

Come to the meeting next Monday.

WHY SUFFER HOG CHOLERA LOSSES?

The above slogan is just an ounce of precaution, but that ounce has been carefully weighed by the Bureau of Animal Industry and legitimate veterinarians over the country, until now it equals a pound of cure.

Wherever you hear the word, hog, you also find closely associated with it the word, cholera. Why is this the case? The answer can well be summed up in this statement: Most hog raisers consider the disease too lightly, leaving their hundreds of dollars invested to chance and fate.

Hog cholera is an acute blood poisoning or septicemia to which only swine are susceptible. The first identified outbreak of hog cholera in the United States occurred in Ohio in 1833. From this state it has spread continually in every state in the union till now its presence either spells success or failure to the swine industry.

The exact causative germ of hog cholera has not yet been found, since it cannot be grown on artificial cultures, neither can it be seen with the highest powered microscopes.

In the beginning of an outbreak, the symptoms and post-mortem visions may be entirely lacking and death very sudden. Not infrequently this condition exists in the first few animals that die, after which subsequent cases resolve into the acute type. In the latter the incidence is high, affecting practically every susceptible animal in the herd, resulting in the mortality of seventy to ninety per cent.

In the acute type the visit is gradual, the affected individuals being "slow" previous to the appearance of acute symptoms. Later loss of appetite and prostration are marked and affected animals can be made to move only with difficulty and manifest a marked tendency to hide under the bedding.

Intestinal disturbances are quite regularly observed. It is probable that the redness of the skin formerly considered a valuable diagnostic agent is not particularly significant, since it is seen in other diseases. However, it is frequently found in hog cholera. In cases tending to become chronic the appearance of pronounced respiratory and intestinal disturbances indicate secondary infection. These are not caused by the germ of hog cholera.

When cholera pigs are made to move, two important symptoms should be observed. These consist of a peculiar and typical "breaking" sideways at the hock and straightening of the ankle joint so that the individual appears to be "standing on its toes." The latter symptom is usually the first observable in cholera sick swine and precedes other symptoms by approximately twenty-four hours. Swine at this stage can be effectively cured with the serum treatment.

Briefly the symptoms of hog cholera may be stated as follows:

1. Abnormally arched back.
2. Rough coat.
3. Inflamed eye.
4. No appetite.
5. Tucked up flank.
6. High fever.
7. Crouched position and staggering gait.
8. Tail usually hangs straight.

There are some important facts to remember about hog cholera. Watch for a sick hog. If you find any hogs hidden in the nest which arch their backs and appear to be chilled when you make them get up, suspect hog cholera.

If the condition is cholera vaccinate with the serum virus treatment.

Hog cholera is highly contagious and spreads quickly. Infections are carried by persons, animals, streams, birds and so on.

Burn diseased carcasses to ashes and bury them four feet deep. Keep pens and lots clean. Prevent all trespassing during all outbreaks.

Hogs can be made immune from cholera only by the preventive serum treatment.

What is preventive serum treatment? The simultaneous (serum virus) inoculation makes hogs permanently immune from cholera. This treatment consists of inoculating the hog with a small amount of the virus and at the same time injecting a proper dose of serum. Serum alone treatment gives temporary protection, lasting from five to six weeks.

Good serum and virus properly administered always proves successful but when hog cholera actually exists in a herd the owner may well expect losses to continue up to the seventh day after vaccination.

No doubt many hog raisers are more interested in the cost of vaccinating hogs and that should be a live item for dollars count in every business, but the fee usually charged by the veterinarian is not prohibitive. The loss of one good sow in a bunch of fifty or one hundred hogs will pay for the insurance given, so don't you think it is wise to insure in safe insurance?

HOW BETTER THAN PILLS?

The question has been asked—In what way are Chamberlain's Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is, they are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then, they not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion.

CLEAN APPLIANCES ARE ALL IMPORTANT

All gas-burning appliances in common with other equipment in a well-regulated household, should be kept clean. If you would reduce your gas bill you must first clean appliances, says a little booklet prepared by the American Gas Association.

Boil them occasionally in a strong solution made by dissolving washing soda or lye in water. Rinse thoroughly with clean water and dry before using again. Take usual care to prevent strong lye solution from injuring hands.

Oven linings can be prevented from rusting by going over them perhaps once each week with a good neutral oil, being careful not to use any oil with salt in it (such as bacon grease).

Keep copper coils clean by using a brush or cloth once a week or so. Soot acts as an insulator and considerably less gas is required to get hot water when the coils are clean.

In case burners are covered or coated with scale, soot, etc., clean top burners with a stiff brush, either with burner in place or outside of water heater, if burner is readily removed.

Elements and burners of space heaters should be kept clean.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

the State Fair of Texas and International Exposition was in its swaddling clothes and presented a vastly different aspect from that of the fair today, were indulged in Tuesday by two veterans of the State Fair, who found particular interest in visiting the grounds on that day because it was Dallas Day and Patrons of 1886 Day.

These two men, who have been attending the State Fair for thirty-six years, were Captain W. H. Gaston, one of the directors of the fair in 1886, when it was organized, and president of the fair association from 1898 to 1903, inclusive, and Ben Cabell, one of the original stockholders of the fair, former Mayor of Dallas and a regular visitor of the fair grounds every year for the thirty-six years that the fair has been in existence.

Donated Original Park
 Captain Gaston donated the eighty acres that formed the nucleus of the present Fair Park. Later on he gave fourteen more acres of land for use as fair grounds. He took stock in the fair association for this land, but later cancelled the stock.

Captain Gaston's experience as a fair builder goes even farther back than the organization of the present exposition. Years ago a plot of ten acres in the grove of trees near the Baylor Hospital, was the fair plot of an association that was granted a charter by the Confederate States of America.

Captain Gaston was interested in that fair, believed to have been the first fair formed in Dallas. He later purchased the ten acres of ground that made up the fair site, buying the land when the organization ceased its activities.

Following this step in fair work, Captain Gaston assisted in the purchase of a sixty-one acre tract, the east line of which was what is now Haskell avenue, as the site for a new fair ground. The thoroughfare, known as Haskell avenue now, was then a part of the race track of this second fair, which Captain Gaston helped organize. It was given up eventually and Captain Gaston's next participation of fair circles was in the organization of the present State Fair.

Speaking briefly, from the loud speaker stand at Fair Park Tuesday, Captain Gaston recalled in part the beginning of the present exposition. While he was on the speaker's stand he was greeted by a Mr. Jacobs of Cleburne, who knew Captain Gaston years ago. It had been forty years since they had seen one another, the Cleburne man said.

Indians Visited Early Fairs
 Mr. Cabell, in recalling the old days, referred to the fact that for the early fairs he succeeded in bringing some Indians from what was then the Indian Reservation here to interest the visitors. Among some of the old chiefs brought to the fair in the early days by Mr. Cabell were Quannah Parker, Tabbinca, Big Three and others.

Members of the Kiowas, Comanche, Cheyenne and Arapahoe tribes were brought here and set up their wigwags on the fair grounds, staging war dances, horse races and living just as they did before the white man came to this country.

Mr. Cabell was a Deputy United States Marshal when the present fair was organized. Another visitor to the fair grounds Tuesday was John J. Brewer, who was one of the gatekeepers of the first fair in 1886. Charles G. Kilpatrick, owner of one of the amusement devices on the midway, who has been coming to the State Fair for many years, found many old friends on the grounds during the day in the veterans of other years who were visitors to the 1886 exposition.

PUBLIC OPINION

THE SWEET TALKERS
 In the conduct of man, ethics gives a higher law than the laws of government.

Is honor dead; can it be true that it no longer binds?

It has ever been said that the cheapest thing in this old world was sweet talk that tempts to lead astray, but today politically, the stuff is at a premium—today the politician no longer tells the people how he stands upon the fundamental principles of constitutional government, and the political issues now pending, but openly and boldly holds up a white sheet and declares that it is black, and that he is going to protect the dear people against its horrid political influences—and that an obligation to do a certain thing is not binding upon the party, if he don't want to be bound, that is he is not legally bound to keep the obligation in the same manner as he would be by his promise to pay a sum of money; for the strong arm of the law would make him keep his promise.

That is, in plain English, the people are told that the obligation that a voter has to make before he can vote in a Texas primary election, is not binding if the voter don't wish to keep his promise, and that there is no penalty attached if he voids his contract.

The last Democratic primary election held in Texas, was held as the law directs, and with all the campaign facts before him, each voter voluntarily voted, and thereby obligated himself to vote for the candidate nominated, at the November election.

GEO. L. BEATTY,
 Lubbock, Texas.
 P. S.—The people as a whole, are not bad, but there are so many issues now afloat they have got badly mixed up. After while, they will wake up and pick out the sweet talkers.

TO GAIN A GOOD REPUTATION

The way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you appear. That is precisely the manner in which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained its reputation as a cure for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Every bottle that has ever been put out by the manufacturer has been fully up to the high standard of excellence claimed for it. People have found that it can be depended upon for the relief and cure of these ailments and that it is pleasant and safe to take.

DORSEY SALESMAN TELLS OF MEXICO EXPERIENCES

Jimmy Caldwell, traveling salesman for the Dorsey Company of Dallas, was here last week, and an Avalancher is grateful to him for first hand information regarding his experiences with the well-known Mexican General, Pancho Villa. Caldwell admits that selling goods to Americans is a great deal more satisfactory than dealing with Villa, which we believe he has a right to know, as his account of getting away from Mexico in July, 1920, with the Fox Film Company's representative after irritating the Mexican General, is indeed sensational.

PLAINVIEW

The News
 Jim Williamson, manager of the Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co., is building a modern five-room bungalow on what is known as the Pack lots on West Tenth and Columbia Streets, and he and his family will occupy it when completed. He recently sold his residence on the street to the cemetery.

The residence occupied by Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Ferguson, caught on fire about three o'clock this afternoon, and the inside burned. The furniture was a total loss. How the fire started is a mystery, unless it was from a defective electric light wire. Mrs. Ferguson was at home at the time, but the flames were beyond her control when discovered. The building belongs to J. O. Roundtree and H. W. Harrel, and was insured for $3,500, which covers the loss. The furniture was insured for $1,000, which is much less than the amount of the loss.

The Claiborne and Gergory cotton gin at Petersburg, in the southeast part of Hale county, was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon, about 4 o'clock. The gin was a total loss, and there was no insurance, so we are informed. This is a great calamity to the farmers in that section for the cotton season is at its height, and the gin was running full time. They will have to haul their cotton to Abernathy, Hale Center and Plainview gins.

More than 500 bales of cotton have been turned out by the Plainview gin, and day and night crews keep it running continuously. It is estimated that Hale county will market nearly six thousand bales of cotton this season, as the Abernathy gins are figuring on 3,500 bales, and the Hale Center gin is working full time. The burning of the gin at Petersburg Wednesday is a hardship to that community. The price paid in Plainview for cotton is 20.65c, and the seed is bringing $30 a ton. On account of the good weather the percentage of lint to the seed is very large, 1400 pounds making as much as 500 pounds of lint. Seed buyers say that Plains cotton seed run considerably higher in oil than seed raised down in the state. More than $100 net is being received by the farmers for each bale and its seed, and this money is surely coming in very handy just now.

hour, and the business session will follow. Everyone has a most cordial welcome to attend the service.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Johnson left Wednesday for Seagraves, where they expect to reside. Mr. Johnson having recently disposed of his garage business at this place, and expects to install a lighting system there as soon as equipment can be shipped.

LAMESA

The Reporter
 Six gins in Dawson county are running day and night now and they are crowded all of the time. The gin at O'Donnell is ginning at least half of its output from Dawson county. Because it was ginned in Lynn county it was counted for them, we understand. This season we intend to keep track of this gin and see that Dawson county gets her full count. Nearly 7,000 bales of cotton have thus far been ginned in Dawson county.

Captain McFarland led his fellow Bulldogs to another victory for Lamesa, from Tahoka last Friday, by a score of 14 to 0. The game was well played throughout and every man on the Lamesa team played like a college star. The Bulldogs will play Wilson on the home ground next Friday. Be sure and be there as we have a team to be proud of. The Reporter is back of this team one hundred per cent.

The bank deposits in the two Lamesa banks, last night, was hovering around one million dollars. Not so bad, do you think? Come to Lamesa.

TAHOKA

Lynn County News
 The gins in Lynn county are running full time now and will be kept busy for many weeks to come. The West Texas gin in Tahoka happened to a breakdown the early part of the week, and many of their customers were forced to go elsewhere.

Carl Maze, of Abilene, Texas, arrived Friday afternoon, and will be the director of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce Band in the future. Mr. Maze is taking the place of Karl King, who organized the band here during the summer just passed. He comes well recommended as a musical instructor and the Tahoka band is fortunate in securing his services. It is hoped the town and community will make an united effort to support this organization, which is one of the very best advertisements any town can have.

SEMINOLE

The Sentinel
 Wednesday night the Methodist church building at Seminole was burned, together with contents. The Christian denomination of Seagraves was conducting a protracted meeting, and it was while preparing the lights for the evening service that one of the lamps exploded, scattering the oil over a large area of the inside, making it impossible to save the seats or piano. We understand $1500 fire insurance had recently been taken out, thus saving the congregation a total loss.

C. M. Armstrong, A. J. Heard, Allen Heard and Gene Price, this week sold several head of two and three year old heifers and cows to Mr. Rock, of Nebraska, through Heard and Cox. They are to be loaded at Seagraves the first of next week.

Rev. Geo. W. Shearer, presiding elder, will be here Monday evening to hold the fourth quarterly conference of the Methodist church for the Seminole and Seagraves churches. He will preach at the regular

ROTARY NOTES

By L. T. Martin.
 The Rotary Club met with nearly one hundred per cent attendance for their luncheon at the Cova Hotel Wednesday. Capt. Bailey of the Salvation Army, offered the incensation. Skeeter Hunt introduced the visitors. Rotarian Joseph W. Jennings and County Agent for Lubbock county, was called upon to respond to how he won first premium at the Texas State Fair on the agricultural exhibit from Lubbock county. He went into detail regarding how that the different points were judged. How that he lost some points on vegetables owing to the technicality in the printing of the catalogues, but suffered no more than others on that account. To sum the whole thing up, he told how that early in the season he went to gathering the different exhibits in agriculture to comply with the score card, then took them to Dallas, properly placed, so that they might be judged. Asking for the co-operation of the people for another year in taking Lubbock county's exhibit again to the State Fair.

Butterflake Martin was then called upon to respond to the subject on attendance. He said that Lubbock was first in everything and that he wanted to put Lubbock Rotary Club in the first class. We got second place in the Division C of the clubs for the month of August, Marshall, Texas, having won first place. Butterflake is doing good work as chairman of the attendance committee and we should all co-operate with him in trying to reach first place in Division C of clubs, having fifty to one hundred members.

President Jed made the announcement that the Junior Chamber of Commerce was going to put over free mail delivery in the city of Lubbock, and asked the co-operation of all Rotarians to assist them. He also announced that Lubbock has been asked for $150.00 as quota for boy scout work. He then asked Woody Bowen to read a letter from Copas Bowen to his younger brother, Harold. Copas is seventeen years old and wrote his younger brother, appealing to him to keep up the Scout work that he had been doing before he left for school. It was a good letter from one brother to another appealing for the best that was in him for this work. Motion was made to foster a movement to raise $150.00, Lubbock's quota for boy scout work. Bill Meador was appointed chairman of committee of three, with Bennie Hibburn and A. V. Weaver as his co-workers, to raise this money.

Rosecoe Wilson was then called upon to furnish his two-minute man. He made the statement that Sam Cole was to have been the two-minute man for his luncheon but was out of the city. A letter was read from Sam Cole to take the place of the two-minute talk.

The meeting was then turned over to Walter Posey, as chairman of the entertainment committee for the day. He made an optimistic talk regarding the business situation. He sighted the speeches made by prominent bankers of the United States in attendance at the American Bankers Association, recently held in New York. Crops here are turning out better than was expected. Cotton from one-fifth to one-fourth of a bale to the acre was being made on land where the grass adjoining was drying up. Showing the productiveness of our soil. He made comparisons of the deposits, loans, cash on hand and money borrowed from the Federal Reserve this year and last. At this time we have on hand, deposits of $2,246,000, last

THE STORE WE WILL OPERATE WILL BE A STORE FOR ALL THE PEOPLE!

¶ We believe we know what the people of West Texas want in their Dry Goods lines. Our years of experience in supplying these needs have taught us not only just the class of goods they like, but also just where to go in the markets for the best values in all lines. When we throw open our doors we will do so on a stock, selected with the greatest care to supply just the right goods at the correct price.

WE WANT ALL OF YOU TO BE OUR CUSTOMERS

¶ whatever your income may be you are sure to find this an ideal place to buy your needs and that every item is priced to give more than a full dollar's worth for every dollar of price. This is the Baker-Hemphill way. Whether you wish to pay one dollar or five for some article, you will find a complete assortment in the grade that just fits your price.

ONLY A SHORT TIME NOW UNTIL WE ARE READY

¶ The remodeling of our location has been more delayed than we had anticipated and we are forced to postpone our opening for a few days. It is our hope to open our doors on a store complete in every respect, a store that will truly match the Baker-Hemphill Standard and one that Lubbock will be proud of. To do this will require a little more time. As an introduction to the people of this section we expect to make some prices on merchandise that it will pay you to wait for.

One of the most miraculous healing places of the world is the celebrated fountain at Lourdes in France. To this place yearly come thousands of cripples, each hoping and praying for restoration to health. But in the past, the world has only known of the place from photographs and written accounts but there never has been given to the world such graphic views of the place, as in Gloria Swanson's forthcoming Paramount picture, "Her Gilded Cage." Here will be seen the pilgrimage of a beautiful French girl and her crippled sister to the fountain and of the reason why the sister could not be cured of her affliction. It is a powerful story, beautifully told, and it possesses a heart interest that is seldom equaled. Here next Monday and Tuesday at the R. & R. Lindsey Theatre.

Lubbock's First Flag Tournament

Did you ever hear of a Flag Tournament? We are honest, we never did until J. O. Smith at the Lubbock Drug store, began to outline the coming tournament of the Lubbock Country Club Golf Nuts. It seems that each man is rated upon the lowest score he has ever made on the course. That is if Walter Posey got enthusiastic late one spring evening last May and through a combination of luck and forgetfulness made the remarkable score of 36 for the one holes he will be rated as a 72 stroke man. And so on. Each golfer is given a rating of twice his lowest score on the course since it has been laid out.

This golfer takes a little flag with his name and his stroke rating on it and starts at the first Teeing ground and plays the number of strokes, in succession; that his rating calls for. If it is 72 strokes—when he has played his 72nd stroke he sticks up his flag in the ground right where his ball stops. If it has taken him 72 strokes to go around ten holes—why down the flag goes. If he goes 17 holes, 18 holes or 26 holes—regardless of where his 72nd ball stops there he sticks his flag.

The winner is the man that carries his flag the greatest distance in his rated number of strokes. In this way the dub player has just as good a chance as the best player—for each man is rated upon his best score on the course. There are more than fifty golfers in the club, good, bad and indifferent. In fact they range all the way from Posey, Reed, McLarty, Powell and a few of the other 40 stroke lads up or down to Neil Wright, Roscoe Wilson, Jed Rix, Douglas and some of the other 68 stroke champions.

Rules of Tournament
Winter Golf—Provided the player does not move ball more than 12 inches.

Lost Ball—Loss of one stroke; in water hazard loss of one stroke and next shot must be played from Tee.
Two-some, three-some and four-somes may be played upon any selected day but Tournament Director Smith at Lubbock Drug, must be notified before official tournament is played.

When at the Country Club watch for the flags. The Tournament starts on the 18th and must be completed on or before the 24th. Results will be announced in the Avalanche.

LAMESA HIGH HERE TODAY

Today is the time and the Fair Park is the place. Four o'clock is the time of day. Lamesa High School will be here to clash with the local high school squad for football honors.

The locals have an unbroken record to date, having swept everything before them. Lamesa is coming with a strong aggregation, and a bunch that promises to make things interesting, and listen—they are going to put up some fight. An unbroken record is mighty good, but is also something that is hard to keep, and not only moral support is urged, but better support from a financial standpoint. We are advised by the committee in charge of the financial end of the business that up to the present money has been lost on the games.

This should not be the case. If you believe in the Lubbock High Football Squad, let yourself be known. Come out to these games. A few minutes won't break you, neither will the half dollar of your money. At the Fair Park today. Four o'clock.

CLUB GIRL OF LUBBOCK COUNTY ATTENDED FAIR

Miss Mabel Marsh and Miss Potts returned home Tuesday from the Dallas Fair, where they went in interest of the work in which they have been engaged. Miss Potts will be remembered as the club girl who has made such splendid records in the work, and her activities at the fair, we understand, were just as prominent as at the local fair, as her work was an outstanding characteristic of the Club Girls Department.

Miss Marsh chaperoned the girls of the West Texas District at the Girls Encampment, held at the fair from October 12 to 15. The Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News carried an article telling of the work Miss Potts has done in Lubbock county, together with her picture, which no doubt had a great deal of effect in advertising the possibilities of the plains, inasmuch as some of the things Miss Potts has accomplished through raising poultry were described.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce and the South Plains Fair Association made it possible for Miss Potts to participate in the State Fair.

LAYMEN CONDUCTED SERVICES AT ACUFF SUNDAY EVE

The Laymen of the Baptist church were called to Acuff Sunday afternoon to conduct services at the church. Eight or ten carloads of Lubbock people attended, among whom were three speakers who did justice to the occasion, as the result of which a splendid spiritual meeting was held, and at their departure, the people of Acuff were strong in their appeal to the Laymen to again conduct services there.

The absence of Rev. Bowen made it necessary for the Laymen to conduct the evening services at the church, which were impressive and of a great interest to those who were fortunate enough to attend. A fine musical program was rendered, under the directions of Mrs. Frank Barclay, was especially effective.

LEGION MEMBERS BOOST CALIFORNIA INDUSTRIES

A special train of Legion members from Oklahoma, which passed through Lubbock Friday was certainly well loaded with California Boosters, as advertising matter of all kinds was distributed, and anyone interested in boosting, could certainly have had sufficient amusement at the depot, as the fuss those fellows made was good to hear, and was without real boosting dope.

The coaches in which the ex-service men were riding were very well "signed up," and especially was their ambition to secure the 1923 convention for San Francisco plainly shown.

The Process of Making Sugar Is Interestingly Explained By Extension Department Authority

The Missouri State Extension department gives the following interesting description of how sugar is made:

The cane grows like corn, but is not thinned to hills, the rows being practically solid with stalk. When it is ripe the long leaves, resembling those of corn, are "stripped" and the cane is then cut, stacked and hauled by wagon and team to the tram railway which brings it to the mill. It runs through giant crushers which removes the juice which is pumped to storage tanks and then conveyed to boiling vats. From these it goes through a cooling process until it resembles molasses candy before it is pulled. When sufficiently cool to allow it to be handled in solid instead of liquid form it goes to centrifugals, which are huge whirling cups. This whirling dries the sugar until it attains the grain or lump form. It is then dark brown or yellow clarified sugar, as the case may be, depending upon quality of the cane juice and the character of the treatment it has received. As sugars of this character are only used in limited quantities in the United States it is necessary to refine most of these grades.

Refining is done by running all these dark brown or yellow clarified sugars first through the melter, which is a huge steam vat. When the sugar becomes liquid in form it goes through several processes of filtering, mainly through Sweetland presses under powerful pressure. These filters are made of rubber and camel hair re-inforced by Fuller's earth. By the time the sugar liquid is forced thru these, practically all foreign matter has been removed. But these processes are not sufficient to make sugar absolutely pure. It therefore goes through what is called the "bone-black" process. Bone-black is a charcoal secured by burning crushed bones. It purifies the sugar liquid in the same way that gravel filter will purify water, only much more thoroughly. Indeed science of filtration has not thus far developed any substance superior to bone-black as a filter, although other processes are used with success. From the bone-black filter the sugar goes through much of the same processes described in the journey of the raw cane juice. It is cooked in huge pans until the proper grain is developed.

It is then conveyed to another set of centrifugals of whirling cups. It enters these as yellow as gold and within a few moments emerges as white as snow, the yellow coat being changed to one of white by the action of air currents. It looks like magic and the process used to be known as "magic" to those who believed in magicians because they did not know any better. From the centrifugals the sugar is conveyed thru various drying processes to the granulator, a huge revolving drum, which gives the sugar the proper grinding. Huge fans blow through the granulator to carry away the sugar "dust" which in reality is powdered sugar, the highest grade.

Cane sugar is made in molds somewhat after the fashion of molding bullets. The Imperial refinery is equipped with the Lamsos conveying system and with an automatic package department, so that all sugar is handled without ever being touched by human hands.

It may interest you to know that refined sugar comes nearer to being absolutely pure than does any other manufactured food product. It may also interest you to know that the people of the United States use about 15,000 tons of sugar every day in the year, and that while we have one-sixteenth of the world's population, we use about one-fourth of all the sugar the world makes.

There are two kinds of sugar in general use: cane and beet. Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi and Arkansas raise cane; but the bulk of it is grown in Louisiana. The annual output of cane sugar in the United States is about 300,000 tons, or less than one month's supply for the people of the United States.

Beet sugar is produced in the middle western states and in Michigan and Ohio, primarily. The annual output is about 900,000 tons or three month's supply for the people of the United States.

Porto Rico produces about 450,000 tons and Hawaii and the Philippines about the same amount, a total of 900,000 tons, or three month's supply for our people. It is therefore apparent that for more than five months each year we must depend upon foreign grown sugar, most of which comes from Cuba, whose annual production is 4 million tons, or almost enough for the entire needs of the United States.

Thus far we raise only half the sugar we use we are fortunate in having Cuban friends so close by to supply our needs.

COLORADO RIVER IRRIGATION PLAN ONE OF THE REALLY BIG ONES OF THE PRESENT AGE

The Colorado Valley Irrigation Project of Texas, near Robert Lee is declared to be one of the most significant industrial projects of the South, is materializing, according to engineers in charge. Col. C. M. Stanley of Dallas, planned the work. The work has progressed under an organization, the Colorado Valley Irrigation Association, through little more than a year's time, directed by Stuart L. Williams, secretary-manager of the association.

The geological survey, the greatest initial task, was completed within twelve months after the association was organized. Funds amounting to $25,000 was raised for the purpose of carrying on this preliminary work. The state water engineers and the United States geological survey contributed $20,000, and $5,000 was given by the towns to be benefited. The engineers of the United States Geological Service, who have been at work on the maps of the project since February first this year, have submitted proof sheets to the department for correction, which are now in the hands of the state board of water engineers at Coke, Tom Green and Runnels counties. Upon completion of the work of checking up and correcting the maps, they will be returned to Washington, where final sheets will be prepared in colors. Based upon these maps, the lands along the Colorado Valley, irrigable by gravity, will be indicated, and the state water engineers will recommend that such lands be included in the irrigation district.

From the rapid progress which is being made with the work, it is very likely that the present year will witness the starting of the formation of the irrigation district, engineers agree. The district will be a separate political entity, maintaining its own tax assessor, collector, board of supervisors, engineers and other officers.

A Huge Project
This huge irrigation project, it is declared, will be exceeded in size by one or two similar propositions in the world, and both of these irrigations systems are outside of the United States.

The immense dam planned to be located two miles west of Bronte, Coke county, will have the following dimensions: 2,000 feet in length, 100 feet high, and backing water up in the Colorado river for a distance of about 24 miles, the reservoir being of sufficient size to impound enough water to irrigate at least 200,000 acres, and indirectly resulting in sufficient water to irrigate 500,000 acres in the area traversed by tributaries, such as the Conchos and other rivers flowing into the Colorado.

The counties directly benefited will be Coke, Runnels and Concho, while Tom Green, Sterling, Nolan and other counties will be in line for irrigation, as has been mentioned in the meetings, the project when completed will benefit all of West Texas.

Cotton being the principal agricultural product of West Texas, each of the counties make an average of from 10,000 to 15,000 bales a year during semi-dry years. The irrigation of this vast acreage will insure the average number of bales for each county to be four-fold what the production is now, or between 50,000 and 100,000 for each county.

It is believed that the additional crop harvested in a single year, or at the most two years, will pay the total expense of putting the proposition over. In addition to insured crops each year, land now selling at from $10 to $50 an acre will sell around $500 an acre. All other agricultural products, such as melons, feedstuffs, all kinds of garden truck, will grow luxuriantly in proportion to cotton.

While Col. Stanley was the first to become intensely interested in the Colorado River Valley irrigation proposition, the early history of the project, dated back to 1898, during which year that area was first surveyed by an English Syndicate under Pearson, who later built the famous Medina Dam. The local project was at that time declared to be perfectly feasible and practicable, but the Medina site was chosen as best suited for their particular purposes. An abortive attempt to survey the project was next made by Ballinger and Paint Rock parties, which attempt fell through for lack of finances.

TELEPHONE PEOPLE KEEP UP WITH SERVICE NEEDS

What kind of telephone service are you getting? That is the uppermost question in the minds of the telephone commercial people who have for some time been calling on their present subscribers. These representatives of the telephone company make thorough investigations of service rendered to all telephone subscribers in the large cities of the State.

The telephone man is also interested in the subscribers' business to the extent necessary to determine the needs of the subscriber for telephone service, both as to quantity and kind. The work is called "Commercial Survey Work," by the telephone people. They are able in many cases to improve the subscriber's service and do it at less cost to the subscribers. In connection with this work, the commercial people who make the surveys are often able to indicate to the subscriber what use might be made of the telephone service which would be an advantage in connection with sales work, the collection of bills, etc.

Another thing that is done is to observe business lines in the central office for a period of two or three days and where their business line shows to be busy over fifteen per cent of the time, a representative of the company calls upon the business concern and advises them as to changes or as to additional service required to insure to the subscribers that the telephone door is always open and that people are not told that his lines are busy.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH BIBLE SCHOOL IS GROWING

Due to the class pride, church pride and general enthusiasm for the work, the Bible School is making splendid progress. The largest attendance in the history of the Lubbock church was present at the Bible school on last Sunday morning.

We urgently request that all who were absent last Sunday will make every effort to be present on next Sunday morning.

The school is promised a surprise, the fulfillment of which will make the hearts of every member rejoice.

KANSAS CITY MARKET

Cattle Prices Holding Steady; Hogs and Lamb Higher.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 16, 1922.—Though cattle and calf receipts were larger than a week ago, they were short of a year ago. The general price position of practically all classes remained unchanged compared with last week's close, while there were spots slightly stronger, this strength was not sufficient to record an advance. Hog prices were 5 to 10 cents higher, with most sales around the 9 cent level. General trade was active. Both shippers and packers were in the competition. Sheep and lambs were strong to 15 cents higher.

Today's Receipts
Receipts today were 31,000 cattle, 12,000 hogs and 10,000 sheep, compared with 29,000 cattle, 11,000 hogs and 10,000 sheep a week ago, and 37,050 cattle, 7,650 hogs and 15,950 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle
Trade in fat cattle was fairly active with prices steady. Good to choice kinds remained in small supply, and killers had to pick over offerings to get enough desirable kinds in to fill all their orders. Plain classes predominated and they continued to sell slowly. There was no tendency on the buying side to bear the market. General indications are that the supply of full fed steers from now on will be below requirements, and the present liberal movement of grass cattle is clearing pastures rapidly so that decreasing receipts are probable after this week. Cows and heifers sold at steady prices. Veal calves were fully steady.

Stockers and Feeders
With the available supply of stock cars for outgoing shipments larger than a week ago trade in thin cattle ruled active at steady prices. There is every indication that demand will remain large for some time to come. The bulk of the demand is coming in from the East and North.

Hogs
The decline in hog prices which was in progress most of last week was checked today by a rally of 5 to 10 cents. The top price was $9.10 and the bulk of offerings sold at $8.65 to $9.05. Trade opened slowly but closed active at the full advance. Stock hogs and pigs were stronger at $8 to $8.65. Both shippers and packers traded freely.

Sheep and Lambs
Lambs were quoted up 15 cents and sheep were steady. The bulk of the offerings Utah and Colorado lambs sold at $13.75 to $14. Ewes sold at $5.25 to $6.25, and feeding lambs $12.75 to $13.50.

Horses and Mules
About 900 horses and mules arrived the past two days, the largest run of the season. There was a fairly good inquiry for the better kinds, but plain classes were hard to move.

Hunting Law On Big Land Tracts Is Misunderstood

Amarillo, Oct. 17.—Hunting laws relating to tracts of land larger than 2000 acres have been generally misunderstood, according to B. D. Garmon, deputy game warden at Amarillo. Mr. Garmon quotes the law on this point as follows:

"The owner, proprietor or manager of enclosed lands in excess of two thousand acres, may post same against hunting therein without regard to the number of acres enclosed, provided the word 'POSTED' is posted at each entrance and to substantiate his ruling he refers to articles 1255a, 1255b and 1256.

That there may not be any further misunderstanding I am quoting Art. 1255a:

"That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons knowingly to hunt with firearms or dogs upon the enclosed and posted lands of another without the consent of the owner thereof where such lands are in-use as agricultural lands, or for grazing purposes, having horses, cattle, sheep or goats herding or grazing thereon.

"By enclosed lands is meant any structure for fencing either of wood or iron, or wood and wire, and partly by water or streams, canyons, brush, or rock or bluffs, or any of the islands, provided same are used for pasture or cultivation as designated herein, provided the State shall prove in the trial of any case under this act, before a conviction shall be had, that all the lands in said enclosure is owned or leased by the owner or proprietor or such enclosure, where such lands are subject to purchase or lease, provided that proof of ownership or lease may be made by oral testimony."

ATTENTION ARTILLERYMEN MEETING NIGHT CHANGED

Drill night has been changed from Friday night to Thursday night. This was done owing to the fact that school activities make it hard on several of the boys to attend on Friday evening.

There was more real enthusiasm shown on last Friday evening than ever before. There was a real drill period. There have been several men recruited lately, and the undesirable or non-interested members are being discharged as rapidly as new men are recruited.

THE LONG CHRISTMAS GIFT

There are many good gifts that one can choose at Christmas, but for lingering satisfaction, long-drawn-out, what is there, after all, that can be named in the same breath with The Youth's Companion? The fun is only begun with the first Christmas number. Thereafter thru the 52 weeks of the long, long year, it is constantly supplying fresh sources of amusement and information. Now it is the beginning of a new serial, then it is a contribution of vital interest to the youth interested in sport or science, next it is a brand-new story by C. A. Stephens or A. S. Pier, or a tale of wild adventure in the old Indian days, by men who have actually lived among and powwowed with the Redskins. But why say more? No other Christmas gift is welcomed with so much pleasure. Try it and see.

EDITOR BUCK OF CROSBYTON HERE TUES. TO HEAR PEDDY

Prominent among the newspaper "scoops" at the courthouse Wednesday evening to get the speech of Senatorial candidate, George Peddy, was Editor Buck of the Crosbyton Review.

Editor Buck has been in Crosbyton for a number of years, and has always taken a firm stand pro or con on every national or state issue, and his participation in the Senatorial race will no doubt be felt before the November election.

There was a number of Crosbyton folks here to hear the candidate, and from what we could gather from them we infer that the Ku Klux Klan will receive some stern opposition from several voters of that locality, inasmuch as the principles of the invisible empire are making campaign fodder in the senatorial race.

A Wish

"I have taken Cardui for run-down, worn-out condition, nervousness and sleeplessness, and I was weak, too," says Mrs. Silvie Estes, of Jennings, Okla. "Cardui did me just lots of good—so much that I gave it to my daughter. She complained of a soreness in her sides and back. She took three bottles of and her condition was much better. "We have lived here, near Jennings, for 26 years, and now we have our own home in town. I have had to work pretty hard, as this country wasn't built up, and it made it hard for us. "I WISH I could tell weak women of Cardui—the medicine that helped give me the strength to go on and do my work."

The Legion—A National Asset.

The American Legion gages its claim for recognition as a National asset not upon the service its members have given to their country but upon the service it is now giving and intends to give to the community, state and nation throughout the existence of our generation.

The eleven thousand odd Posts have proved in every home town in the United States that upon this basis we will mold our future. The Legion year now growing to a close contains its full share of Post achievements. Membership has attained not only solid strength, but a solidity of co-operative and universal effort which augurs well for the future years. When the Legion was first formed, men joined in the first rush of enthusiasm, some to help its tremendous possibilities for good to materialize, some out of curiosity, some because others joined, but now in the fourth year the Legion is made of those men and women who intend to see it through—determined that it shall go on and serve the Nation—a membership which will work to guide the Legion through the coming years that it may become, excepting the church, the greatest single force for good that America has ever known.

Fighting the battles of the disabled veterans, finding work for the unemployed, seeking to correct the economic handicap of those who gladly sacrificed, endeavoring to make each Post a real asset to its community—all America has watched the work of the Legion, and found its work good. The nation has stood behind us just as it stood behind us when we were with the colors, and the nation stands behind us now.

Greater opportunities lie before the Legion for the future than have ever existed for any other organization in the history of the country. With the acceptance of the Legion by all America as the voice and strength of the American veteran of the great war must come upon our part the acceptance of a great responsibility—that of speaking for a whole generation soon to be called to take over the affairs of the nation. It must be our aim not only to keep alive that wonderful spirit of service which we all had in '17 and '18, but to put into it our individual obligations as American citizens.

The Post represents to its community the whole American Legion. As eleven thousand home towns look upon their Posts, so is the National conception of the organization formed. The great responsibility rests upon the individual post. The Post, after all, the Legion—county, district, departmental, and National Headquarters, are simply co-ordinating agencies to carry out the post's commands.

The days of organization are over. The Legion starts off upon a new year with every prospect for greater and higher service than ever before. Its precedents are established—its ability to serve and to serve well and unselfishly has been demonstrated. Our possibilities for service are almost beyond our own realization. Our strength is almost untouchable. The Legion is hardly started upon its career for National service. But it is tying itself together and working together as never before. It is just embarking upon a future based upon the principle of "All for one, one for all, and all for the best of the Country."

Buddy, what is the record of the last twelve Legion months, as we see them in review, looking backward and retracing our path, month by month, up to the present?

What should our feelings be as we take stock of ourselves, as we recall what we set out to do, and what have we done? Is there any exaltation of victory, the solid satisfaction of duty well done of wholesome restfulness that comes when we have worked hard against obstacles and overcome them?

Can you feel a degree of satisfaction in your part of the duty well done, as you answer these questions?
