CHILD DIES OF BURNS SUSTAINED WHEN CLOTHING CAUGHT FIRE AT HOME--MOTHER BADLY BURNED

One of the most horrible accidents known to have happened in Lubbock County occurred here Monday evening at seven o'clock, when Acton, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Savage was so badly burned that he died a few hours later, and his mother and five year old brother, Grady were so badly burned that it will require months for the wounds inflicted by the flames to heal.

General Rains Over Oklahoma Tuesday Break Long Drouth

The United Press: Oklahoma City, Oct. 31.—A general rain ranging from one-half inch to three inches fell over Oklahoma, Missouri and the Texas Panhandle, lasting until late Tuesday night, breaking the long drouth and making it possible for the wheat belt to sustain their hopes for a spring crop.

CORSICANA INJUNCTION GRANTED BY JUDGE SCARBROUGH EFFECTIVE—STAPLES AND KEELING ARE CITED

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 31.—(By United Press)—The 5th District Court of Civil Appeals, before which a motion for rehearing of the Corsicana injunction suit is being heard, today was heard from in the Senatorial mixup when it ordered the Fairfield injunction, granted by Judge A. M. Blackmon of the 77th District Court, vacated and set aside. The order also restrained Judge Blackmon from making other orders enjoining any of the defendants until final disposition has been made of the motion for rehearing.

The Savage family came to Lubbock three weeks ago from Longview. For the past week, Mr. Savage, a man of about thirty years, has been employed at the high school building now under construction here as a plumbers helper, and in that time proved so efficient and trustworthy as to commend the confidence and friendship of his fellow workers, and though they were literally in a land of strangers, Lubbock people realized the awfulness of the situation, and every comfort possible has been offered the wounded and bereaved parents.

It is hoped that all ex-service men will come dressed in their uniforms, but still at the same time no one should stay away from the meeting because of having no uniform, as it would be far better for the men and for the success of the program to have just as many of them present as it is at all possible, regardless of dress.

REDUCED RATES FOR SCOTTISH RITE REUNION

Special to Avalanche: Dallas, Oct. 26.—John W. Howers, director general for the Scottish Rite Reunion, which will be held from November 21 to 24, announced yesterday that all Dallas territorial railroads and their connections, not including the electric lines, have authorized the rate of one and one-half fares for the round trip to the Scottish Rite Reunion to be held at Dallas November 21 to 24, inclusive, on what is known as the identification certificate plan.

Reasons For His Dismissal "Up to McNamara"—Hassel

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 31.—It's up to Mike McNamara, star witness in the recent Mayfield injunction suit, to tell publicly the reasons why he was discharged from his connection with the Oil and Gas Division of the State Railroad Commission, according to advice received from J. W. Hassel of Austin. Mr. Hassel declined to discuss the reasons pertaining to McNamara's discharge.

A little corpse charred beyond recognition, a mother whose hands were bandaged with her face pitifully marked by the hot flames, a little brother whose condition was little less than critical, and a father whose heart was torn and sick at the cries of his suffering loved ones is a condition that is beyond comprehension, and all Lubbock is grieved at it—the results of the most gruesome accident recorded in the history of the town.

Resolution Endorsing Scarbrough Passed at Mass Meeting

The United Press: Corsicana, Texas, Oct. 31.—Remarks which "disparaged" District Judge Scarbrough, made at the Democratic rally in Dallas last Saturday night, by Earle B. Chicago, Ill., Oct. 31.—Demand for immediate and complete embargo on shipments of wheat from Canada is rapidly spreading among the American Grain interests, thru the middle and northwest. This was revealed here Tuesday when American-Farm Bureau Federation was asked to join other Middle Western interests in requesting the Interstate Commerce Commission to place embargo on all Canadian shipments throughout the country, and that the request be granted immediately.

THE NEW PRIME MINISTER WOULD DEFER DEBT ACTION

London, Oct. 31.—Andrew Bonar Law in his unsought authority over English affairs, as the new prime minister, after the resignation of Lloyd George, wants to delay further debt refunding negotiations with the United States until after the General Election in November. This action is sought by Bonar Law by reason of his unwillingness to enter negotiations of such magnitude until he receives final verdict of approval from the British people.

Followers of Benito Mussolini, new premier under the Fascisti regime, have been ordered home and a general quieting of affairs is resulting.

COULD BE ABOLISHED

Washington does not take to the idea of cancelling out the debts that foreign countries owe this nation, and this sentiment seems to prevail throughout the country.

The world is returning from the ten-year rival holiday already.

Relic of "Boston Tea Party Possessed By Oklahoma Teacher

The United Press.

The small chest, handed down to Mrs. Rowe from generation to generation, is probably the most priceless relic owned by a resident of Oklahoma City, it was said.
The box, one of the eight containers bound together to form the chests thrown overboard, is only six inches square.
Mrs. Rowe is the last of her family line. When she dies, the chest will be sent to the Massachusetts Historical society at Boston, according to her wishes.

SWEETWATER HAS $30,000 FIRE EARLY WEDNESDAY

Sweetwater, Oct. 25.—Damage estimated at $30,000 resulted from a stubborn basement fire which broke out on the south side of the square at eight-thirty o'clock this morning. The fire started in a water heater in the Boyd & Fob barber shop, whose loss was $2,000, with $1,500 insurance. John R. Cox, jeweler, estimated his loss at $10,000, with insurance amounting to $2,500. The Sweetwater Dry Goods Company's damage was $15,000, with $3,000 insurance.
A stone wall prevented the fire from spreading to the main store of the latter concern, their loss occurring in the surplus basement stock.
D. H. Rudd, a fireman, was overcome by smoke but recovered. Ed Patterson, another fireman, was cut by flying glass.
The block was owned by Charles McFarland of Weatherford, whose loss is covered by insurance. The barber shop and jewelry store were completely gutted. The jewelry store saved an expensive stock in its vault.
The block will be rebuilt.

Tomatoes Working Wonder in Vicinity of Farwell, Texas

Special to Avalanche:
Farwell, Oct. 31.—Fifty tomato plants properly cared for are working wonders more astounding than the celebrated Jack's beanstalk. Mrs. J. W. Tyies, engaged in the truck business in the Shallowater district southeast of town, put out fifty plants. She gathered 2,000 pounds of choice tomatoes from the half hundred plants, receiving an average of 5 cents a pound for them, or a total of $100. The over-ripe tomatoes she used in her home canery. ### LITTLEFIELD MAN GETS $34 PER ACRE FROM SUDAN SEED

Littlefield, Oct. 23.—T. M. Springer whose farm is three miles east of Littlefield displayed to friends returns from 26 acres of Sudan grass today. The seed weighed 9,686 pounds and sold for 9-1-4 cents per pound, a total of $886.39. This is an average of $34.10 per acre. The straw is left and that is selling at $12 per ton, baled. He is now cutting the Sudan grass for the second time, and will have more seed and hay.
Mr. Springer will get about 18 bales of cotton off his farm this year and had 60 acres in maize which averaged 25 bushels per acre. These crops were raised by Mr. Springer and his son who is a student in the high school here.
Mrs. Springer has raised about 100 turkeys that will add considerably more to the profits of the farm.
This country has experienced a dry year this year but the farmer who worked his land as Mr. Springer has is not bothering about his land notes nor does he fear the poor house.
Mr. Springer's experience is not an isolated case. E. P. Bickey made $36 per acre from the sale of his Sudan seed. John King is picking a third of a bale of cotton per acre off 110 acres with others that could be mentioned.
Cotton over the community is turning out much better than was expected some time ago. Pickers are badly needed.

Two Hundred Thousand Dollar Libel Suit Against K. K. K. By Miss Meyer Tried Monday in Houston Dist. Court

The United Press: Houston, Texas, Oct. 31.—The $200,000 libel suit brought against the Invisible Empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, by Miss Nelda Meyer, 21, of Needville, Texas, near here last February, went to trial in district court here Monday.

Attorneys for both sides are said to have their cases prepared and the suit will go off without delay, it is said.

Colonel William Joseph Simmons, Imperial Wizard of the Klan, with headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia, and George B. Kimbro, Jr., former Grand Goblin of the Klan in Texas, are named in the suit.

Kimbro was recently ousted from the office of Grand Goblin, on charges of mismanagement of Klan funds. He denied the charges and stated that he was holding the funds in escrow, until he had an accounting for more than $10,000 of his personal funds spent, he says, in organizing the Klan in the Mississippi Valley.

Feasibility that Simmons may attend the trial is seen by lawyers in view of the fact that he is personally mentioned in the suit. Kimbro's home is in Houston.

The suit is based on a notice alleged to have been sent Miss Meyer by the Ku Klux Klan, threatening her, and which she says damaged her reputation to the extent of $200,000.

The letter was written on alleged official stationery of the Klan and bears the seal "Richmond Klan No. 38, Realm of Texas, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan." It reads as follows:

"Miss Meyer: "You will cease all intercourse, both personal and of business nature with Leo Robinowitz. This also applies to your so-called society stunts and Houston. We see everything and warn but once—K. K. K."

Miss Meyer was employed as book keeper by Robinowitz in his store at Needville.

She charges that she was both shamed and humiliated by the alleged act of the Klan and that her reputation was damaged by the threat. In her suit against the Klan she denied the insinuations in the letter.

The general counsel for the Klan in Atlanta in answer to the suit claimed "the plaintiff's petition is insufficient in law and states no cause of action." It also denies all allegations and demands strict proof of the charges.

The sending of such notices, the Klan counsel asserts, is "wholly contrary to the purpose for which the defendant is organized and is in violation of its charter, constitution, rituals, by-laws, proclamations, edicts, and orders."

NO DELIVERY OF WEDNESDAY'S PAPER ON MONDAY

"Wonder what they think we are anyway?"

That's the question at the Avalanche office, as early Monday morning an irate subscriber telephoned this office and demanded that we get a hustle on about the paper and had not received a copy yet, and was getting tired of waiting and would appreciate a little newspaper service.

Of course it took some time to explain to the dear lady that the first paper would not be printed until Wednesday, and that though it is the desire of every member of the force to be of whatsoever service to the readers that is at all humanly possible, it was doubtful as to whether it would be practical to deliver the Wednesday's paper on Monday morning, and after assuring her that the paper would be delivered before breakfast on Wednesday, and that we could keep her home supplied with copies of the last issue until that date, an agreement was made, and now it's up to the delivery boy to keep it made.

The Morning Avalanche force is here to serve, and real newspaper service will be given everyone concerned, but we here and now draw a line on promising to deliver a Wednesday paper on Monday morning.

LAST SURVIVOR OF ARISTOCRATIC FRENCH FAMILY DIES

The United Press: Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 31.—The last survivor of an aristocratic French family whose ranks were decimated almost to the point of extinction during the Reign of Terror, Sister Mary Stanislaus, born Eugenie Dedieu, died here recently. The aged nun was born in Belmont, France, in 1833, and had been in a Brownsville convent since 1855.

It is recalled by local historians that at the time of the union blockade of Point Isabel harbor during the Civil War, Sister Stanislaus performed a noble service for the school children of Brownsville by causing to be compiled and printed here text books to substitute for the ones cut off from entry by the blockade.

Among the out of town visitors to Lubbock Saturday was T. E. Bowers, business man of Falls.

BOY SENT TO JAIL IS NOW STUDYING LAW

The United Press: Dallas, Oct. 31.—Denied the opportunity of going to school when a boy, W. S. Scrivner, confessed robber of the Jackson Street Post Office, has borrowed law books and is spending long hours in the Federal ward of the county jail in mastering the technicalities of the profession which administers justice. Scrivner admitted complicity in the post office robbery on January 14, 1921, and furnished information which resulted in the arrest and conviction of three men, besides giving the names of three other alleged bandits.

Escape Mexican Convict Recaptured by Local Officer

Manuel Martinez, Mexican, who escaped from the State penitentiary at Huntsville, Texas, on March 5, 1919, was captured in Lubbock Monday of last week by John McCulloch, local officer.

McCulloch had been working on the case for several days, and though the assistance of officers at the penitentiary secured description of the Mexican in time to capture him before he knew he was being watched here.

Martinez was convicted at Sonora, Texas, for burglarizing a store there and had not been in the penitentiary but a few weeks until he escaped, but was out only a short time when he was captured and returned. On the morning of March 5, 1919, he made what was believed to be the most complete getaway of any that has been made since the institution was founded, and since that time no clue of his whereabouts has been made clear enough to merit a search, and it does credit to the detecting abilities of the local officer to capture the convict.

Lubbock is a fine place to come if a fellow's past is clear enough, but to the shadowy characters we believe that "to come to Lubbock" is absolute tragedy, at least it looks as though the local peace officers are going to do their level best to make it so.

Jed Rix, manager of the local branch of the Rix Company, went to Big Spring Saturday, returning Tuesday. He visited his parents and other relatives there.

Judge Geo. R. Bean, attended the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo last week. He was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Bean.

Some Prisoners Are Better Off in Prison Than Out Says Gov.

The United Press: Austin, Oct. 31.—Better off in prison than out, is the condition of many inmates of the Texas penitentiary.

This condition has prevented Governor Neff, it is understood, from pardoning a number of prisoners. It is true especially in the case of very old or infirmed prisoners who would be unable to make a living if cast upon their own resources.

In some cases the younger sons of convicts have refused to lend aid if a pardon were granted their fathers.

In the prison, his only home, the aged convict finds clothing, food and shelter—outside he would be only a public charge—ragged, unkempt, hungry—begging for what he might get and always tempted to return to the unlawful pursuits he engaged in before going to prison.

The Governor indicated his willingness to issue pardons to several of these unfortunates, but the "folks at home" refused to care for them and they preferred to stay as they are.

W. D. T. Storey, of Brownfield, was here Saturday to witness the football game between Lubbock and Floydada.

TRI-COUNTY FAIR TO BE ORGANIZED AT STAMFORD

Special to Avalanche: Stamford, Oct. 31.—Organization of a Tri-County Fair to be held annually in this city is being agitated. Stamford has five railroads radiating in as many directions and is situated in the wealthiest cotton county in West Texas. These are some of the advantages in favor of the staging of an annual exposition. An annual rodeo held here has always attracted immense crowds. An agricultural fair, livestock exposition and rodeo combined would probably be features of the proposed fair.

GOOD MORNING

Here it is! The Morning Avalanche. If it is better than you expected tell us about it, and if it is not as good, help us to make it better by your patronage—your financial and moral support.

Those who have watched the growth of the Avalanche during the past eighteen years, will know that we put the very best there is in us into the making of the paper.

Granted, however, the ability of the American people to govern themselves and to solve their common economic and social problems, the American democracy and the principles of self-government may yet be endangered at any time through the plain neglect of the people.

The American Fair Tariff League, an organization that believes the tariff should equal the difference in cost of production at home and abroad, has contributed some highly interesting information to the discussion of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law.

If the people of the South Plains will give us their support, there is no question in our minds that the Morning Avalanche will soon grow to be a paper that will stand in the class with the very best in the State.

TRYING TO FIND A WAY OUT

The United States is engaged in serious communication with foreign governments, seeking to avert a general economic and financial crash for Europe. Dispatches from Washington hint that a world economic conference is in prospect in which a basis will be sought for stabilization and reconstruction.

This is a laudable program. It bespeaks that co-operation and international participation to which we should have committed ourselves many months ago.

The blunt truth is that we are involved in Europe whether we will be or not. The more we attempt to keep out of helpful European solutions, the more deeply we are involved.

As the congress that President Harding describes as "so helpful to American welfare" and one that "has accomplished so impressive a volume of work" is the same that passed the bonus bill which he vetoed, he might go on telling us another bedtime story.

To date the country has heard no second to Harding's motion that it be declared a woolly and successful congress.

EDUCATION AND THE BALLOT

In the Revolutionary War the American people fought and won the struggle for independence and the principle of self-government. They waged war for the freedom of the seas in 1812. They battled for the emancipation of the slaves in 1861. They shed their blood for the freedom of Cuba and other Spanish colonies from oppression in 1898.

In every crisis, the American people have proved that they are willing to lay down their lives if necessary in order that we may preserve a democratic government for ourselves and extend its blessings to those less fortunate than ourselves.

In their zeal for the democratic form of government the American people have at various times extended the suffrage to an increasing proportion of the population. The property limitations of suffrage in the early part of the nineteenth century were removed; no limitations on suffrage may be made "by reason of race, color, or previous condition of servitude; only a few states require an educational qualification; and finally by constitutional amendment women are enfranchised on the same basis as men.

How does such a mass of people actually perform the governing function? In two ways, (1) by a constant expression through the press and the forum of public opinion and its influence on the actions and discussions of public officials, and (2) through the election of officials at certain stated intervals.

In order that the people may perform this function effectively it is necessary that it be done intelligently. There can be no public opinion and the ballot box may be worse than useless unless the American people are acquainted with the problems of the locality, the State, and the Nation, which problems, it may be noted, seem always to increase in complexity.

Granted, however, the ability of the American people to govern themselves and to solve their common economic and social problems, the American democracy and the principles of self-government may yet be endangered at any time through the plain neglect of the people.

THE TARIFF AND GINGHAMS

The American Fair Tariff League, an organization that believes the tariff should equal the difference in cost of production at home and abroad, has contributed some highly interesting information to the discussion of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law.

Apron gingham, the cheapest cloth suitable for women's and children's dresses and working men's shirts, were taxed at 15 percent under the old law. By a system of compounding four separate rates, the Fordney-McCumber Law make the tariff 31 1/2 percent upon these cheap gingham.

The people who will have to pay the increase price of gingham will naturally wonder why the tariff was raised 110 percent to protect the American manufacturers from competition that does not exist.

The Amoskeag Manufacturing Company of Manchester, New Hampshire, makes three gingham in large quantities, and it is reported to own the richest and most profitable cotton mill in America.

One Washington report has it that Secretary Weeks has been discovered walking back and forth in his office with his head down and his hands in his pockets, suggestive for all the world of a man trying to commit something or other to memory.

It is idle of course, to discuss the repudiation of the Republican party throughout the country, quoth Postmaster General Work. Not denying, however, that it will be repudiated.

Further proof of the futility of signs is that the Hohenzollern still signs himself "William II."

PRESS COMMENT ON THE MORNING AVALANCHE

NEW TEXAS DAILY

The Lubbock Avalanche, for years one of the most successful semi-weeklies in the state, has ventured into the daily field in keeping with the rapid strides of its home city. Against the liabilities of a maiden voyage on uncharted seas, the Avalanche publishers bring years of experience and knowledge of their field.

The Lubbock Avalanche announced last week that it is to be the Morning Avalanche beginning November 1. A daily paper is a big undertaking, but if any town the size of Lubbock, and any man can make it go, it will be Jim Dow and Lubbock, Texas.—Terry County Herald.

The city of Lubbock is to have a daily paper after November 1, according to an announcement of the Lubbock Avalanche. The Avalanche has for the past several months issued a semi-weekly paper. This will be the first daily ever published on the South Plains of Texas.

One cannot help but admire the "get-up-and-get" spirit that is evident on every side in Lubbock. The Lubbock folks are boosters for their town and section, first, last and all the time, and for any city to forge ahead it is necessary that a large portion of the citizenship boost instead of knock.

The Lubbock Avalanche announces the initial appearance of the daily Lubbock Morning Avalanche for November 1. This will be the third daily in the Panhandle, and while it seems that Lubbock is perhaps anticipating on future growth in supporting a daily, yet we are not surprised at anything Lubbock undertakes as a town or that Jim Dow undertakes in the printing line in Lubbock.

The Lubbock Avalanche is to undertake the publication of a morning daily newspaper beginning November first. The Daily Avalanche will have our best wishes. If the Lubbock people support the daily in proportion to their support of the weekly, it will be a success. Success, Dow, in your undertaking.—Lockney Beacon.

For thirty years the Avalanche has been the only newspaper in Lubbock. It has prospered and grown under the ownership and management of J. L. Dow. It had been a weekly for years, then it was changed to a semi-weekly. It has now been conducted as such for a year.

November first will mark a new era in the Lubbock Avalanche. Some time since they saw the need of a twice a week paper and it has succeeded admirably. Now they will launch a daily. We certainly wish for them all kinds of success in the new venture.

According to an announcement in a recent issue of the semi-weekly Lubbock Avalanche, the Avalanche Publishing Company will begin issuing a daily, to be known as The Morning Avalanche, on November 1. J. L. Dow, editor and proprietor of the Avalanche, was at one time in the newspaper business at Colorado. He is a veteran in the service and his paper is easily one of the best published in Texas.—Colorado Record.

Lubbock will have a daily paper beginning November 1. It has not been long since the Avalanche went from a weekly to a semi-weekly. Editor Dow, of the Avalanche, is equal to the occasion and will put it over for them, as he has always met the demands of his people heretofore.—Tulsa Herald.

The Lubbock Avalanche has inaugurated a daily paper. It will receive the United Press service. Editor Dow has made a good paper of the Avalanche, and has served his city well. When we see a small daily operated in a town the size of Lubbock we are reminded of the old saw: "Discretion is the better part of valor."—Plainview Herald.

The Lubbock Avalanche has announced that it will change from a twice weekly issue to a morning paper in the near future. Lubbock is one of the best, if not the best, city on the Plains, and will soon be the metropolis. The index bespeaks success to the Morning Avalanche.—Childress Index.

Editor Dow announced in the Avalanche last week, that beginning November the first Lubbockites can have "ham and the Avalanche" for breakfast every morning. To most of the "gang" putting over a daily paper under present conditions in a city no larger than Lubbock, looks like a big undertaking but they all seem unanimously of the opinion that if anybody can do it, Dow can. The splendid success of the weekly and semi-weekly is a good indication and the best we can wish for the new publication is that they may be as successful in its field as its predecessors have been in theirs.—Southwest Plainsman.

ANOTHER MEMBER ADDED TO THE HOUSE OF RIX

Elliott Terry, of Plainview, joined the force at the House of Rix here Monday morning, and will no doubt be instrumental in maintaining the popularity which that house has enjoyed since being established in Lubbock.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN TO RECEIVE FREE TREATMENT

Oklahoma City, Oct. 30.—Crippled children of Oklahoma whose parents are unable to properly care for them, and pay for operations, are going to have a chance to be treated free, according to Dr. A. H. Lewis, State Health Commissioner. Arrangements have been practically completed for the treatment, Dr. Lewis said. Governor J. B. A. Robertson has agreed to issue a deficiency warrant for money required in taking care of these little underfortunates, according to Dr. Lewis.

WHEN DREAMS COME TRUE

It is only by means of dreams that realities and facts are accomplished. The doer of great things, first visions these dreams in dreams. At the start they are only faint, hazy nebulous ideas, that later develop into a definite shape.

Just so the editor of the Avalanche, years and years ago beheld a vision of a daily paper for Lubbock. To have said as much then, he would have no doubt been laughed at, for the Avalanche struggled to publish itself once a week.

There were days of toil to make the paper a weekly. Fire, "hard times," war and drought, all combatted and opposed the advance of the big dream. But each obstacle only served to hold the editor more firmly to his task of making his vision come true.

Then came the semi-weekly, a big step indeed, prophesied by many to fail. Those who "believe too little," as Bruce Barton says, shook their heads dubiously, saying Lubbock was not ready for a twice issue a week paper. But they were wrong and "The Dreamer" was right for the semi-weekly went over with a rush.

And now, the dream has come true. Lubbock has a daily paper, "The Morning Avalanche." The editor wishes to thank Lubbock for its hearty co-operation and help in the realization of the dream.

There were days of toil to make the paper a weekly. Fire, "hard times," war and drought, all combatted and opposed the advance of the big dream. But each obstacle only served to hold the editor more firmly to his task of making his vision come true.

When we announced about three weeks ago the opening of this exclusive SHOE STORE, we didn't know there were so many men, women and children in Lubbock and vicinity who wanted good shoes at popular prices.

THE response was tremendous. THE local public has taken to our new policy of selling SHOES and HOSIERY and proves conclusively that ours marks the beginning of a new shoe era in this city and surrounding country.

WE handle shoes and hosiery exclusively. SHOES for the whole family. WE devote all our time, experience and energy to one business, so when you think of your shoe needs, we feel that we deserve your shoe consideration.

GET acquainted with our shoes. COMPARISON of prices in the newspapers, mean nothing, unless you can see for yourself the shoes and the values. TAKE a look at our WINDOWS—they tell part of the story.

Misses Watson's Entertainment

An unusually pretty Halloween party of Saturday night was given by little Misses Lou Alice and Priscilla Watson. The entire home was most effectively decorated with the Halloween motifs of black cats, witches and Jack-O-Lanterns. A large auditorium presided over by a fortune-telling witch, was a feature of much interest. Also the magic writing and mystic pool offered a further unfolding of the future. Misses Madeline Young and Priscilla Ruthledge, assisted the hostesses in the fortune-telling games. Then, while the little folks sang, "Little Orphan Annie," Margaret Spangle danced "The Spook" dance. At the close of the party refreshments of punch and cake were served, a separate table being arranged for the little girls and boys, the guests of small Priscilla Watson, each one receiving a prize. Spook boxes were served from a huge yellow bowl in tin cups, and three pieces of black devil-food cake, and each one of these in turn received as favors, pumpkin heads for stick pins.

Mrs. E. Watson, mother of the two hostesses, was assisted during the evening by Mesdames J. J. Richards, Hattie O'Hair, L. S. Davis, James T. Robinson, and Misses Eushing and Cora Johnson. ## Meeting of the Double Dozen

Mr. and Mrs. Eastin Wolfarth were host and hostess of the Double Dozen Club Friday evening. The home was made very attractive with numbers of baskets of white and yellow chrysanthemums, used in the living and dining room. The Halloween idea was carried out in the decorations; cut out witches, astride broomsticks, and black, google-eyed cats being used effectively. Score cards bearing Halloween emblems were handed to the guests, and when the luncheon course was served, the crepe paper table covers and napkins in the colors of orange and black, bore out the same decoration scheme of Halloween. A quaint and pretty idea of serving small individual pumpkin pies, was carried out while the Halloween favor cups held salted almonds.

Among the club members and guests present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Sam Arnett, Warren Bacon, Tom Duggan, Neil Wright, Albert Taylor, C. M. Ballinger, Jed Rix, W. H. Meador, Dr. and Mrs. O. F. Peehler; Mesdames Roscoe Wilson, J. S. Johnson, E. J. Boyle, Clark Smith, and Mr. L. Douglas. The hostess was assisted during the evening by Mrs. C. J. Wagner. ## The Parent-Teachers' Meeting

The Parent-Teachers' Club held its first literary and social meeting at the high school auditorium 10 Thursday afternoon about 4 o'clock. About forty members of the club were present and much interest and enthusiasm was shown in the program given, the subject of which was, "Athletics in the Public Schools of To-Day." Mr. Slagle, chairman of the athletic department of a local high school, gave an interesting talk on "The Functions of Athletics," in which he declared that any game fairly and enthusiastically played benefited both the player and the observer physically, mentally and morally, developing capacity for quickness of decision and action that is scarcely to be obtained in any other way and the proves to be highly beneficial to the pupil, not only as a student but throughout his entire life.

Mrs. George Wolfarth also addressed the club and complimented the athletic department of the school for its splendid work, pointing out a number of benefits to pupils have already received as a result of the untiring efforts of the individual teachers who have it in charge.

Miss Dunn made a short talk in regard to the music department of the school, calling attention to the state-wide Memory Contest which she is especially desirous of having the pupils of the Lubbock school enter.

Miss Cravens, of the expression department, entertained the members with a humorous reading, and the "little folks" from the primary department sang and acted "Little Orphan Annie." Miss Meador, chairman of the Play-ground equipment committee for the primary department, reported that the equipment would cost about a hundred and sixty-five dollars, and part of it had already been placed on the ground.

The following new members were added: Mrs. W. K. Ames, Mrs. O. L. Collier, Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Bullock, and Mrs. I. E. Barr.

24-42 Club

Sunday School Party

Mrs. H. A. Davidson gave a Halloween party at her home Saturday night for her Sunday School class of the Presbyterian church. The youngsters had a wonderful time bobbing for apples in a tub of water, trying their fortunes with the three bowls, and also with the ghost writings. Then the fate cake was cut to find out who would be the old maid, the bride and the rich person. Mrs. Davidson, assisted by Miss Mary Cooper, served ice cream and cake to little Misses Virginia Bacon, Edith Waters, Feta Bivens, Inez Hensley, Elizabeth Adams, Mary Eleanor Quick, Shelby Robbins, Kathleen Cole, Margaret Cooper, Laverne Garrison, Thelma Jackson, Masters Benham and Preston Briggs, Edwin Summers, William and Bolden Johnson, William and Joe Davidson.

TO SEE OR NOT TO SEE

That is the question. Is it nobler in the mind to suffer eye-strain and outrageous headaches or to take up arms against a sea of troubles and by opposing with a neatly, well-fit pair of glasses end them? 'Tis a consummation devoutly to be wished. Better come to Shaw's Optical Parlor and see about it. Up-stairs, Leader Building. 71-2

LONG ELECTRIC COMPANY

Lubbock's Most Interesting Store

THIS MEANS PROGRESS!

When we began our furniture business in West Texas 18 years ago there were no daily papers West of Fort Worth! Of course, then, our customers came to our place of business in wagons, sometimes drawn by eight, ten and twelve head of horses and many are the homes which we have completely furnished though more than a hundred miles distant from our store.

There were mighty few trains running in West Texas in 1904! Even though we began our furniture business with the ambition to give the best SERVICE possible, it was a tremendous effort.

A small wagon drawn by two horses was our means of delivering our goods to our customers.

Through the eighteen years we have seen and witnessed the prosperity of our friends, the development of the distributing facilities of West Texas and the growth of small villages, like Lubbock, into cities with paved streets and modern conveniences.

No time during this era of development of West Texas has this firm varied from its ambition—to give the best SERVICE of any furniture company in Texas!

From a volume of $2,000 the first year and a thrill in seeing the happenings of our community set into type and published in our little weekly paper, we have experienced growth in volume to nearly a half million dollars and now the "News" as it comes swiftly off the press EVERY MORNING—"in time for Breakfast."

IT'S TOASTED one extra process which gives a delicious flavor

Great Development of Kosse Oil Field In Last Sixty Days

Special to Avalanche: Kosse, Oct. 28.—Sixty-seven days ago today the Jones well owned by the Humphrey interests—same in with a roar and for thirty-eight consecutive hours gushed such prodigious streams of oil that Col. Humphreys was moved to say that the Jones gusher was the greatest well in America and was only exceeded by the historic Spindletop well of twenty-one years ago, in fact, the Col. termed it Spindletop No. 2 and then stated that Mexia would only be a drop in the bucket compared with the Kosse field.

Since that time thirty-three locations have been made, 28 wells are drilling and 12 of them are below 3,000 feet, (the Jones well was discovered at 3752), the deep wells are the Allen 3654, Bassett 3614, Revere 3575, Hobbs 3445, Williams Oil and Gas Co. 5100, Pierce Pet. Co. 3200, Atlantic 3550, Denny-Mexia 3747, J. K. Hughes 3400, McPhail 3300, Gill No. 1 3300, and Norris 3520.

It is believed by the experts that the Allen will be the first well in this well is owned by Humphreys and is 600 feet from the original. It is predicted that it will be in 12 days from the time of writing and then the terrific boom will break and Kosse as a population of 5,000 will leap to 20,000 overnight. In this connection it should be remembered that those who look for Kosse to be a greater boom city than Ranger or Burk point out that when the great booms were on in these towns there were also booms in Breckenridge, Desdemona and Eastland. Today there is not an oil boom on anywhere in America, although the demand for crude oil and its by-products are continually increasing.

Last week Dr. Bosworth, the world renowned geologist, acting for an English Syndicate, purchased one and three quarters acres of land for fifteen thousand dollars cash and ten thousand in oil. The Doctor has spent six hundred thousand dollars for Kosse acreage, this statement is attested to by the president of the First National Bank of Kosse.

The population of Kosse has jumped from one to five thousand since the Jones well came in and the deposits in the First National Bank has increased tenfold in the past two months.

A brick hotel to cost one hundred thousand dollars is planned and the brick are already on the ground. A live chamber of Commerce has been organized. The Robinson Brothers, publishers of the Kosse Cyclone, are arranging to start a daily and have secured a United Press franchise.

The Dogherly interests have been here looking over the grounds and are figuring on an interurban from Waco thru Marlin and Kosse to Groesbeck and Mexia.

The new Mayor, A. J. Jennings, president of the First State Bank, states that he believes Kosse will soon have a commission form of government.

Arkansas To Get Further Federal Aid After November 9

The United Press. Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 31.—After November 9, 1922, there will be no further federal aid for roads in Arkansas, unless the state legislature in the meantime has changed the existing laws to conform with requirements of the Federal Highway act.

This information is contained in a letter to Gov. McRae, from Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, who advised the Governor that the laws and constitution of Arkansas do not fully comply with federal requirements and that he could not therefore, approve the governor's certificate, that the state is entitled to federal aid.

The greatest difficulty in the State's laws and constitution is that the powers of supervision by the state highway department are not broad enough, according to the secretary's letter.

Wallace closes the letter with the following suggestion: "It is suggested that steps should be taken promptly to have existing laws of the state changed so as to meet the requirements of the federal highway act, on or before the expiration of the period, during which time this department is authorized by law to continue to approve projects thus permitting continuance of federal aid, thereafter."

ED ROWLEY SAYS CONDITIONS MUCH IMPROVED

Ed Rowley returned last week from Dallas, where he spent several weeks looking after the R. & R. interests in that section of the State. He reports conditions in that part of the state far better than had been expected. The banks having not made many loans to farmers has made it imperative that they "get by" some way without going in debt, which they have evidently done, as in most places all old debts have been paid and the money received for the cotton, most of which is gathered at this time, is just that much ahead.

Theatre Manager Says Business Is Improving Greatly

"A twenty-five per cent improvement in general business conditions," is the way Ed Rowley, of the R. & R. Theatres, is looking forward with a large program of development and expansion in West Texas in the next five years. Mr. Rowley spent Monday in Sweetwater enroute from their Dallas headquarters to Lubbock, where they have recently opened a new theatre.

Mr. Rowley bases his prediction partly on his own observations and partly on statements from bankers who are in close touch with conditions. Officials of the American National Bank in Dallas, he said, have been predicting calamity for the past twenty-three months, with statement that conditions would get worse before they got better. Now they have changed their attitude and say that business is getting better steadily and will continue to get better.

Other bankers of Dallas, Mr. Rowley says, make the same statements which are backed up by the opinion of local bankers in the different cities in which the R. & R. Theatres have interests and where deposits are larger than these bankers figured on and with indebtedness being liquidated.

"Those who have weathered the storm of the past two years can confidently look forward now to definitely better business conditions," Mr. Rowley added.

RUNNELS COUNTY MEN WILL LOCATE ON PLAINS

Will Counts and R. A. Colston, are here visiting at the home of the brother-in-law, Carl Stevenson, and are so well pleased with this locality that they have signified intentions to return here to make their permanent homes. There is something somewhere about the great South Plains that is inviting to those who pass this way, and if this was the only agency for the development of this country, it would in time prove of great influence and strength, and this coupled with the progressive spirit which prompts our citizens to boost West Texas is bringing to the farmlands here citizens whose work will some day be responsible for the absolute development of the greatest country anywhere.

CANNING FACTORY TO BE STARTED AT HOPE, N. M.

E. E. Miller of Hope, N. M., has a new steam canner at work which he claims will turn out over 3,000 cans per day, and is now running on pears, apples and tomatoes. Mr. Miller says he is going to put up a new building for a canning factory. It is to be built of concrete.

W. A. Terrell bid on your old furniture at the auction and upholster your chairs at the phone.

GRAND PRAIRIE COUPLE WELL PLEASED WITH PLAINS

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cox, of Grand Prairie, Texas, are at Monroe looking after the interests of their fine farm one mile southeast of that place.

Mr. Cox told an Avalanche reporter who visited Monroe Wednesday that he had never seen such splendid prospects for great developments as are witnessed here, and he is well pleased with his Lubbock county property.

Mrs. Cox made the trip from Grand Prairie with her husband just to see what West Texas looks like, and we are glad to know that though she has been in Lubbock county only a few days she is one of the most consistent boosters we have.

They both spoke praise of the Semi-Weekly Avalanche, and Mr. Cox was frank to say that though he was not familiar with the development of West Texas, and has therefore been more interested in the other part of the state, he believed that the Avalanche has as its home the best town anywhere.

WELL KNOWN PLAINSMEN DIED AT SAN ANTONIO

The remains of J. A. McDonald, of San Antonio, who died at his home there Wednesday of last week, were received at Lubbock Monday, by the Simmons Company and given over to C. C. Backen and Sam Bots of Lorenzo, who took the body by truck to Lorenzo, where funeral services were conducted by the Methodist pastor, and the remains laid to rest near the grave of his little grand-daughter, who died there while his son, Wilbur McDonald and family, were residents of Lorenzo.

Mr. McDonald was for a time a resident of Lorenzo, where he was employed by the C. P. Livestock Company, having lived in Ralls and Crosbyton also, and has many friends in this section who realize that in his going they have lost a considerable friend, and the state a worthy citizen.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our many thanks to our friends, neighbors, and acquaintances of Lubbock, for their acts of kindness and deeds toward us during the illness and death of our husband and father. There will always be a warm place in our hearts for each of you. May God's richest blessing rest upon you. Mrs. E. J. Teague, Miss Nora Teague, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. White.

On Wednesday evening after the regular prayer meeting, there will be a called meeting of the Wesley Class for the purpose of electing officers for the conference year. Church of Christ

A splendid audience greeted Bro. Smith at the morning hour of worship, with "Christian Giving" as the subject for discussion. Covetousness and Liberality were the two divisions of the subject; Luke 12:13-21 was the scripture reading. The cases of Achan and Gehazi were vividly told and many Bible quotations used to show the sin of covetousness—1 Cor. 12:31; Phil. 2:3-4; 2 Tim. 3:1; 1 Cor. 10:24.

If men had faith enough to believe Prov. 11:24-25, they would no longer rob God. In our anxiety over money matters it is indeed good to read and memorize such sayings of God: Eccl. 11:1; Prov. 3:9-10; 2nd Cor. 7:9; 1 Cor. 16, and Deut. 16:17.

May we have more such helpful lessons on our Christian duty.

At the evening hour because of the inclement weather only two dozen were present. After a short lesson the Lord's Supper was served to those who were forced to be absent from the morning hour's service.

Sunday School showed 176 present with much interest in the lesson for study.

Prayer meeting study of Galatians is proving profitable and interesting for those who come but more are urged to take an active part in the study of the letters to Christians.

YOUNG LADY ARRIVED AT KLETT HOME WEDNESDAY

The success of the recent South Plains fair was to a great extent attributed to the splendid manner in which it was managed, and now comes an announcement that its president, Judge E. L. Klett, has at his home a young lady who will be instrumental in keeping the alert Judge on the job, as her intentions to be the general manager of the place and "boss" of the Fair Association's President have already been signified and should be instrumental in making the next fair a greater success his friends will not be at all surprised, for his willingness to bow to every request of the new commander-in-chief of home is noticeable. Tipped scales at seven and a half, and the Judge says she will be to walk, talk, read and write with a few days—and knowing how very conservative he is, we have no doubt whatever of the truth of his statements. She arrived on Wednesday morning, October 25, and was named Eunice for her mother, at the request of friends of the family. The Morning Avalanche extends congratulations to the happy parents, and is pleased to welcome the new comer to the Hub of the Plains.

Baker-Hemphill
Store Opened
Friday Evening

One of the most delightful occasions during the past week was the formal opening of the newly established Baker-Hemphill Dry Goods Store here, which was attended by a large crowd from Lubbock and surrounding territory on Friday evening from five until eight o'clock. The High School orchestra was employed for the evening, and was effective in adding splendor to the occasion, which coupled with the beautiful displays in all departments made that one of the most ideal places possible to look over what one would readily recognize as the very latest in wearables of all denominations.

The congeniality of the Baker-Hemphill management and employees could not be overlooked on this occasion, and it was with a great degree of success their plans to meet the people of Lubbock were materialized.

Unforgettable was the floral department where High School girls presided, presenting to each of the lady visitors carnations and orchids—delightful reminders that the management appreciated their attending the opening of that big store.

The store is opened under most favorable circumstances, and with the energy and abilities of the several experienced persons associated with it, nothing less than a place of great importance will be occupied by the new firm.

However we may admit that it is fortunate for anyone to locate in Lubbock, we were also made to believe that the coming of the new store is of great importance to Lubbock as well as to its owners. There will be innumerable numbers of people attracted here by the enterprising merchants, Lubbock now claiming the most substantial dry goods houses on the great South Plains, as very material changes have been made by merchants in that business here within the past several months.

The Baker-Hemphill store is one of which any town might well be proud, and The Morning Avalanche is glad to carry announcement of its opening here.

A Slaton Orchardist
Believes in Everbearing
Varieties of Fruits

Slaton, Texas, Oct. 31.—C. C. Hoffman is a strong believer in everbearing fruits for the great South Plains of Texas, as well as the country itself.

Mr. Hoffman has a strawberry patch 20 by 30 feet, from which he gathered 240 quarts up to the present time and they will continue bearing for some weeks perhaps. Last season he gathered strawberries from the same patch on Thanksgiving day. He also sold 3,000 plants from this little spot of ground, and states that he could have sold that many more without injuring their productiveness.

He has only one of the everbearing grape vines, and is experimenting with it.

Mr. Hoffman believes that everbearing fruits of various kinds would be well adapted to this soil, as it has been demonstrated that it will produce fruits of most any variety, and that the flavor excels fruits produced in many other sections of the United States.

TO DISCUSS ADJUSTMENT OF INTRA-STATE FREIGHT RATE

The United Press.
Galveston, Oct. 31.—Plans for a determined fight against the proposed adjustment of intra-state freight rates, scheduled to be held in Oklahoma City Nov. 1, are being laid by Texas shippers, according to the Galveston Commercial Association here, which is leading the fight.

The case, which involves the Texas common point theory of rate making, and in which the Oklahoma Corporation Commission is seeking to obtain a readjustment of rates between Oklahoma and surrounding states, bids fair to transcend in importance, the celebrated Shreveport Rate Case of a little over a year ago.

To combat this proposed change Texas shippers are planning to throw their full weight of influence into the hearing.

The case also involves rates of Kansas City and St. Louis as well as Texas points. Oklahoma shippers are contending that under the common point group system of Texas, rates to and from border points, in North Texas, especially, are too high, and force Oklahoma points to pay higher rates, thus preventing the reduction of rates in Oklahoma.

Dr. Ferguson, in Conley Bldg., is still making those splendid fitting plates at fifteen dollars. Phone 535.

FREDERICK STRIKES BIG NOTE IN DRAMA

Plays Dual Role in Stirring Play of Mother Love—An Artistic Screen Entertainment

A woman, loyal, true and upright, with the deep-rooted love for home and children that is the heritage of every woman; a man whose creed has been to get gold and whose highest ideal of marriage is the perpetuation of his name and race so that more gold may be gathered; a woman who has in the journey of life lost her more noble instincts, and has become a sullen, wreck of humanity; a man clean, honorable and faithful who is plunged into a tragedy which threatens to leave an everlasting mark of shame.

These are the characters who carry the main thread in the story "Salvage," Pauline Frederick's latest Robertson-Cole super-special production to be shown at the Lyric Theatre today. A drama that is alive and throbbing in its humaneness these characters, each an individual of a distinct type, are thrown together by a strange destiny.

LUBBOCK COUNTY BALLOTS
LOTS IN PRINTERS' HANDS

An order for four thousand ballots to be printed for use in the General election in Lubbock County with copy, was handed to the job department of the Avalanche Wednesday morning, with neither Earle B. Mayfield, Democratic nominee for United States Senator, nor Geo. Paddy, fusion candidate's name on the ballot; however, instructions were left with the office to await decision of the court as to whether these names will be placed on the ballots.

In all probability neither of their names will get on the Lubbock County ballots.

P. B. Ralls, of Ralls, was here Saturday on business.

MANY COTTON THEFTS REPORTED TO SHERIFF

The latest fad in the world of crime seems to be taking what the other fellow has worked to gather, at least the number of cotton thefts reported to Sheriff Holcomb indicates that that is becoming the pastime of thieves in the South Plains. Ben Brieger was here last week from his farm in the New Hope community and reported that from him and two neighbors thieves had stolen something like sixteen hundred pounds of cotton from wagons in the fields. Mr. Hagens, whose field adjoins Brieger's, had his cotton wagon covered with a large wagon-sheet, which the thieves appropriated to their own use. Tracks of what appeared to be a Ford truck were for a while thought to be sufficient clue to work on in apprehending the thief, but they were soon lost in the main traveled roads, and as the casings were of a popular make, locating the proper truck seemed absolutely impossible. Every effort is being made to check the popularity of taking the other fellow's cotton.

Mrs. R. F. Bayless and son, Billie, are visiting in Dallas and New Orleans, La., for a few days, leaving Monday of this week.
