British Note Reported Unacceptable

CONTENTS BRITISH NOTE BEING WELL GUARDED

FRANCE AND BELGIUM BE GIVEN TIME TO STUDY CONTENTS OF NOTE

By the United Press.
PARIS, July 21.—The British Note which has been sent to France and Belgium regarding the German reparations offer, has been found unacceptable by the French Government, an unofficial spokesman declared here today. The only announcement regarding the matter was one by President Poincare who said that secret negotiations would continue with Great Britain, but nothing would be given out until France had definitely declared on an agreement or break.

Be Given Time For Study
LONDON, July 21.—The contents of the British note in reply to the German reparations offer, is being carefully guarded in order to give France and Belgium plenty of time to study the document, and express their approval, if they wish, before the note is delivered to Berlin.

France Finds Points Can't Accept
PARIS, France, July 21.—President Poincare and his Ministers are secretly considering the British note, which has been sent in answer to the German reparations offer, and have already found several propositions which they cannot accept, according to well-informed sources here. This information leaked out despite the fact that strict orders were given that nothing in connection with the conference should be made known.

The Successful Promotion Of The Poultry Industry Through Chambers of Commerce
By B. L. ENDERLE.

What is indeed a most practical promotion of the poultry industry by a Chamber of Commerce, has just been completed in Fredericksburg, in Gillespie county.

Securing the donation of 227 settings or 3405 eggs valued at approximately $1000 of the finest standard bred poultry from breeders from Massachusetts to the Rio Grande border; giving these eggs free to ambitious boys and girls as a start on the high road to success; beginning a system that will give every family of the county purebred poultry in five years; and increasing the membership in the Boys and Girls Clubs by 500 per cent in three months; all this is a brief summary of what has been done there and can be done in practically every county where the with 646 birds shown by 126 breeders from five counties. This show was free to everyone, being financed entirely from the Chamber treasury.

During the show, the idea developed that the breeders might donate eggs to the children. Then a large placard explained the plan in the exhibition hall and over twenty settings were offered at once. From this small beginning, Secretary Senor worked on a large scale and evolved a plan that has since caused much favorable comment in Texas. He made the proposition to the breeders that all who donated eggs would receive free advertising in the three Fredericksburg newspapers and at the shows where the chickens, from their eggs, were exhibited.

The eggs were given only to members of the Boys and Girls Poultry Clubs, who signed an agreement covering the following: (1) To keep their poultry separated from all other chickens; (2) to exhibit at the local poultry shows and after the judging to place a card on their coops giving the name and address of the breeder who donated their first eggs; (3) to return to the Chamber of Commerce a setting of their best eggs each year for five years so that other children might be given a start in the same way. In turn, year after year, the future recipients of the eggs make the same agreement. This endless chain is practical. The first year there are 227 children with fine chickens, or allowing for poor hatches let us say 200; then the second year there are 400; then the third year 800; then 1600; then 3200; and so on. Every family of Gillespie county has standard bred poultry in five years from this plan alone, but the goal will be reached sooner.

Breeders Responded Well
The details were explained to less than 300 breeders, and the response was so general that each child who applied for eggs was supplied. The type of eggs furnished were paid by the breeders to be from their best prize winning pens. Some eggs from hens out of $100 cocks and many others from blue ribbon aristocrats of the Dallas Fair and shows of similar merit.

Mr. Senor kept a close record of the entire campaign, and has advised the breeders how many chicks hatched and the name of the boy or girl who got the eggs. The report at date of this writing is only from 131 children and these have approximately 1000 chicks of the 24 different breeds that were distributed. With almost 100 settings to hear from it is safe to estimate a total of 1500 additional standard bred chicks among the children alone in Gillespie county.

In promoting this unusual effort with marked success, Secretary Senor, as administrative secretary of the Fredericksburg Chamber has merely added another accomplishment to his series of worthy endeavors for improvement of the sections where he has served. This work, properly followed up, gives Gillespie county a conspicuous place in the poultry industry. In 1922 over one million dollars was paid to the farmers of that county for produce, and with the purebred placing mongrels even greater commercial significance of the project will come.

Sweetwater Enjoined From Supplying Water to Gypsum Co.

SWEETWATER, July 21.—District Judge W. P. Leslie here yesterday granted a temporary injunction restraining the city of Sweetwater from conveying water to the United States Gypsum Company's plant now under construction two and one-half miles north-east of Sweetwater, and bids for the construction of the water line to the plant, scheduled to be opened at two p. m. Thursday, were called off.

Attorneys for the city of Sweetwater gave notice of an appeal and the appeal will be argued.

The city of Sweetwater is under contract with the Gypsum company to furnish water at a specified price.

Arguments on the injunction petition were heard by Judge Leslie here Wednesday. The petition was presented by E. J. Hammer, who stated that he was presenting the petition for himself, and any other tax payer who cared to join with him in the proceedings.

May Withdraw
If the water line cannot be built to the plant, the gypsum company will withdraw from the city, it was strongly intimated by representatives of the company, which is a $2,000,000 concern.

Judge Hammer in his petition contended that the city had no authority to extend mains beyond the city limits, pleading the home rule act as authority for his contention. Judge Ellis Douthit, attorney for the gypsum company, was retained as counsel with City Attorney Yan-his Judge Yantis also used the Home Rule Act to uphold the city's and the company's side of the argument, contending it was especially designed to prevent "petty hamstringing technicalities."

He contended that the city commission was entirely within its authority in ordering the new pipe line.

Points Covered
Points made by Judge Hammer included: 1. While the city can sell its water to persons outside the city limits it must be delivered by the city at its city limits and the purchaser must provide the pipe-line outside the limits.

2. Revenues of the city water department cannot be used to build a pipe line outside the city limits.

3. Such a pipe line outside the city limits to be paid for out of regular revenues—by issuing warrants bearing six percent due in ten years in the creation of a debt by the city without providing a tax to meet the interest and create the sinking fund, in violation of Sec. 5, Article 6, of the constitution.

4. The building of a pipe line eventually costing the city $32,000 upon a promised income of $2,000 per year for seven years is saddling a debt of $18,000 on the people for the benefit alone of the U. S. Gypsum Co., and is therefore void.

When it became known that such an injunction was to be sought, it created great excitement, and when the case came on for hearing the district court room was packed with local business men. The affair has created much excitement here.

Very few boys are as good as their parents think or as bad as their neighbors think.

Be very careful about the jokes you tell. A New Orleans man yawned and broke his jaw.

WITH THE MOVIES

Picture Companies to Repair Bridges on Way to Location

A number of California bridges were recently repaired by motion-picture producers.

It wasn't that they thought the bridges were not strong enough for ordinary use or that some heavily-timbered bridges were wanted for the filming of the scenes. In fact these bridges will not be seen in pictures at all.

On the way from Boulder Creek station to "location" for the filming of Paramount's new picture "Salomy Jane" there were several small wooden bridges. They were constructed for light vehicles and power wagons for electric current for arc lights are very heavy—hence the reinforcements.

Many of the scenes in this George Melford production were "shot" at night. The local supply of electric current was not sufficient, so portable dynamo were taken from the Paramount studio in Hollywood to "location" at Boulder Creek.

"The night shots" it is said, will be particularly impressive. The whole woods were a blaze of light when the famous scene showing the gathering of the vigilantes was filmed. More than seventy-five horse-men took part in this woodland spectacle. Besides this wonderful scene, there were filmed spectacular rides through the woods at night, the roads lighted with electric arcs.

Jacqueline Logan, George Fawcett and Maurice Flynn are the featured players.

Pola Negri Great Student of Detail in Her Acting

Aside from being a really beautiful woman, Pola Negri, Paramount star, is an exceedingly deep student of her art.

Every scene, every trivial or important incident, she studies carefully, deep furrows appear in a brow that naturally is untouched by a single line. Her expressive eyes and even more expressive hands denote that the action of the scene is being visualized thoroughly.

It takes her but a second to make up her mind and then a radiant smile announces that she is ready.

Even in the taking of still pictures, the same evidence is seen of a desire to get the very most out of a pose.

Every little detail, a ruffle of her gown, a stray hair which chances to escape its fastenings to sweep her cheek; the exact pose of one tiny foot, all are taken into account.

Pola Negri exemplifies the European training which is admittedly thorough. Her care was manifest in her first American-made picture, "Bella Donna" and is apparent in "The Cheat" which she has just finished, again under the careful direction of George Fawcett. The scenario of this classic by Hector Turnbull was adapted by Ouida Bergere and gives great scope to Miss Negri's undoubted dramatic powers.

Jack Holt is featured and Charles deRoche in support of the lovely star from Poland.

Robert Edson Became Actor to Win $100 Bet

Robert Edson became an actor to win a hundred dollar bet.

His father, who was on the stage for many years, did not wish him to follow the same profession, so the rather reserved and reticent lad entered the business end of the theatre.

One day the stage director came in the office, tearing his hair because one of his favorites had broken his acting contract.

Edson, who was busy trying to add up a column of figures, paused in his work and jokingly remarked that if he didn't stop crying about it he would have to take the part himself.

The director offered to bet him a hundred dollars that he was afraid to appear before an audience. Robert Edson promptly covered it, and made good as an actor, which capacity he has filled ever since.

Mr. Edson is featured with Leatrice Joy and Owen Moore in "The Silent Partner," a Paramount Chas. Maigne production.

To Dedicate Belleau Woods as Monument To the U. S. Marines

By the United Press

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The memory of American marines and other U. S. forces who "sold it to the world" in the great Battle of Belleau Woods during the World War, will be consecrated to history at ceremonies in France, Sunday, July 22.

The Battle of Belleau Woods marked the final turning point of the tides of war swept up the American and allied armies and carried them on to victory. This battle has been called by General Pershing the "Gettysburg of the World War." Belleau Woods will be dedicated as a National Memorial to the American Troops "who participated in the final campaign which resulted in the victory of the Allied Armies, and the expulsion of the invader from the soil of France," the announcement states.

The dedication will be under the auspices of Belleau Woods Memorial Association, an organization formed by patriotic American men and women to commemorate the valor of the men of the American forces.

The association is incorporated under an act of Congress of March 3, 1923, as a non-profit-making organization. When Belleau Woods was about to be sold as an amusement park, the association stepped in and bought the tract.

Describing its present plans, the association states that they "include placing the woods in proper condition as a memorial to the men whose blood has consecrated it, the erection of fitting monuments and memorial tablets, and a comprehensive work in the whole terrain in which the battle was waged; to include certain reconstruction, in the towns of Lucy, Torcy, Bouresches and Belleau, and the preparation and marking of the whole area so that it will form a permanent American memorial in France to the Americans who died in the struggle for world freedom."

The honorary president of the Belleau Woods Association is Secretary of War Weeks, and the honorary vice-presidents include Le Maréchal Foch.

APPLICATIONS RECEIVED FOR ROOMS IN BRECK. HALL

Special to the Avalanche

AUSTIN, July 21.—Applications for rooms in the Breckridge Hall, the University of Texas dormitory for men, are now being received by the manager, Archie D. Gray.

The hall provides sleeping accommodations for 120 men, the price of furnished rooms varying from $4.50 for the more pleasant double rooms to $1.50 for the smaller single rooms. With the University Commons serving meals on the campus near the hall at minimum prices, it is possible for students to live very inexpensively.

Breckridge Hall was erected in 1890, thru a gift of the late George W. Breckridge of San Antonio and was enlarged by the Board of Regents in 1900 to its present capacity. The basement, formerly the dining hall, now contains the office, laboratory and museum of the Economic Geology Division of the Bureau of Economic Geology and Technology.

WHEAT STACK DESTROYED BY FIRE IN FLOYD COUNTY

Special to the Avalanche

FLOYDADA, July 20.—Two hundred acres of wheat which had been cut and was in the stack on the farm of Mrs. W. D. Long, north of Floydada, was burned Wednesday night. The stack was quite a distance from any residence and it was not known that the wheat was destroyed until several hours after the fire. The fire is thought to have been caused by lightning. The two hundred acres yielded twenty-five bushels to the acre apparently and its loss was rather heavy.

"Dude Ranchers" Have Stage Set For a Real West

ON TOUR WITH PRESIDENT HARDING (by mail).

There is a father new and flourishing industry in the west. It has brought a measure of prosperity to some agriculturists who were finding the going rather hard until they thought of it.

It is the "dude ranch."

Nowadays, if you go into the west on a tour, you get a nickname. If you travel in style aboard a Pullman and stop in hotels, and see your country from a sightseeing bus or under the direction of a tour conductor, you are a "dude."

President Harding and his party were called "dueds" when they went into the Yellowstone country. There was no offense in the term; it merely distinguished them from the other class of travelers—the "sagebrushers," who go in the family chariot—tin lizzie or limousine. The sagebrushers are so-called because they come through the sagebrush, burn sagebrush, and in time get to look almost the color of sagebrush.

They are the honest-to-goodness travelers, who take it easy and really see things.

In the tourist season the "dueds" fill up the big hotels in Yellowstone and other national playgrounds, so that the only way a guest can get his meals on time is by luck or the exercise of a winning personality on the head waiter. There is always a "bread line" at the dining room doors of these places.

Rancher's Bright Idea.

Some bright rancher, who had all the trappings and scenic effects of the old wild and woolly west right at his command, conceived the bright idea of taking some of the "dueds" into his ranch home as paying guests. Now it is a regular industry.

Lucky is the traveler who finds one of these ranches. They treat the "dueds" well. They give them clean beds and feed them like kings. They provide a "dude wrangler," a cowboy in the most elegant regalia obtainable, who will pose for the "dueds, and do his stuff with the lariat and the six-gun whenever asked. These "dude wranglers" are good actors. They pose as bad men.

Most of them are beardless youths of the most guileless sort, who wouldn't harm anybody and who keep the Volstead law from inclination. But if it will give the dueds a thrill to think they are being piloted about by a tough, wild fellow who has six notches on his gun, each notch indicating a man killed, why, what's the harm in that?

There is no waiting in the "dude ranch." You are told to "come and get it" when dinner is ready, and if you don't, it is nobody's fault but your own if you are hungry.

Rickenbacker Sees Us All Up In the Air

AKRON, Ohio, (By mail to United Press).—A brilliantly colored airplane swooped down to the landing field beside the filling station and the driver, accompanied by his wife and three children, alighted and strolled over to the attendant.

"Lemme have ten gallons," he ordered and then stretched himself out on the grass to rest.

"Better tighten up those propellers too, pard," he said. "I wouldn't miss that dinner engagement in New York for anything."

An automobile racing along the road nearby attracted the driver's attention and he called to his wife, "Oh, Martha, there goes an automobile."

According to Major Eddie Rickenbacker, ace during the world war, just this is to be expected in a very few years.

Eddie told how he got up and ate breakfast at 9:45 A. M. in Mt. Clemens, Mich., went to the landing field and boarded "Spark Plug" (Eddie's plane) and one hour and fifty minutes later was dusting "Spark Plug's" propellers at Stow Field in Akron.

Rickenbacker said that after a while every city in the United States would have its own municipal flying field.

"In twenty-five years," he remarked, "planes will drop down and take on gas just as autos do now, and there will be garages that specialize in airplane repair work."

"Air planes can go anywhere there is atmosphere," continued Eddie, "and for that reason they will be the leading means of travel in a quarter of a century."

ENGLISH POPULAR IN EXTENSION STUDIES

Special to the Avalanche

AUSTIN, July 21.—Freshman and sophomore English, freshmen mathematics and education are the most popular correspondence courses offered by the University of Texas. French, Spanish, history, philosophy and psychology are also proving popular.

Since July 1 the Extension Teaching Division of the Bureau of Extension has enrolled correspondence students for one hundred and sixty four courses. As a rule about fifty-two percent of the students registered for courses complete the work, while others fail or drop the work.

Monthly reports of the Extension Division are closed on the fifteenth of each month. From that date until the twenty-first of the month the payroll is made up for the instructors giving the courses, the grade reports are turned in at the registrar's office, certificates are sent to students who have satisfactorily completed courses and drop notices are sent to those who failed to send in lessons on their courses.

France and Great Britain Renew Age-Old Battle for Supremacy With France Gaining in the Air

Special to the Avalanche.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Europe is back to the condition of diplomatic hostilities that existed in the year before the war. Expectation of effective international good will will not be realized because nationalistic ambitions are conflicting as bitterly as in the period antedating 1914.

The break between Great Britain and France over German reparations is in reality only an incident. Eventually the reparations issue must be settled, but no settlement is probable of Anglo-French rivalries. The two nations are beginning to face each other in bellicose attitude in the Mediterranean, while their interests in the Near East cannot be reconciled without a grave retreat by one or the other.

There can be no doubt but that the world is in for a constant series of crises between Great Britain and France, such as put Europe on the uneasy seat many times in the past century. Only the German menace against both France and Great Britain caused the "Entente Cordiale" to be created by the late Edward VII. for mutual protection.

There is no longer a German menace directed against Great Britain, and the French government is determined there shall be none against France for the rest of this century.

France and England at Odds. With Germany down and out, France and Great Britain are threatening each other, as has been their customary attitude since the time of William the Conqueror, nearly a thousand years ago, when French rulers governed England only to lose in turn their French domains.

The persistent major enmity in Europe does not center about the Germans, but about Franco-British rivalries. The French are dreaming of the time when the glories of Louis XIV will be restored and when France once more will dominate the European continent and will force Great Britain to occupy secondary place.

Never before has the time for its realization been as bright as now. The persistent obstinacy of France during the present crisis in the Ruhr, the grave risks French industry and finance are running, the refusal of the "Poincare" government to agree to any compromise, even though suggested by America, as a neutral nation—all these strange developments can be explained only by the nationalistic ambitions of the French leaders.

France's Opportunity. When the German army was supreme, France had no chance to become dominant in Europe. Likewise, when the British navy vastly outstripped France's strength at sea, France had to stifle her ambitions for the moment.

But now, armies and navies appear to be passing before the advent of airships and bombing planes. That is to say, future mastery in war is less and less likely to depend on vast expenditures for instruments of destruction and on military man-power. Two men in a cheaply-lit aeroplane may do more damage in the future than many regiments or batteries of field guns, or thirty million-dollar battleships. Therefore, France can look forward hopefully to a recovery of her ancient glories, though her man-power and her treasury are depleted. This is the fundamental factor, dominating all others, in the European situation as it now exists.

INTERESTING FEATURE IN TEXAS U. PUBLICATION

Special to the Avalanche.

AUSTIN, July 21.—Contents of the July number of The Texas Review, literary magazine published by the University of Texas, which will be off the press shortly, have been contributed for the most part by visiting professors who are teachers in the University summer school. The issue, opens with two poems by a resident of Cleveland, Ohio, who writes under the pen name of Leslie Gannon. "Chaucer's Science and Art" is the title of an article by Walter Clyde Curry, associate professor of English at Vanderbilt University. Curtis Howe Walker, assistant professor of history at Rice Institute, is the author of "The True Mr. Frodoe."

"Convention of Thames in the Magazine Short Story" is discussed by William Byron Mowery, instructor in English in the University during the past year. Stanton A. Coblenz, a resident of New York, writes of "Poetry Brought Down to Earth." Clyde Chew Glascock contributes one of a series of articles on Modern Spanish novelists "Jose Maria de Pedreda."

In the closing section entitled "The Pump Room," Dr. Aaron Schaffer of the department of romance languages of the University of Texas has a sketch entitled "On Cutting the Pages of New Books."

The July issue is the last number of the eighteenth volume of the publication, it is stated by Dr. R. A. Law, professor of English and editor of the magazine.

Pres. International Harvester Co. Makes Statements of Suit

The Harvester Company's attitude in regard to the petition just filed against it by the government in the United States District Court at St. Paul, Minn., is set forth in a statement by Alexander Legge, president of the company, which has been received by W. A. Fisk, branch manager of the International Harvester Company of America in Amarillo. Mr. Legge's statement says:

"This petition is a continuation of the suit brought against us eleven years ago. Upon the hearing of that case, held more than nine years ago, the Harvester Company was acquitted, both by the findings of the court and by the attorney general's admission of any wrongful dealings or unfair practices toward customers or competitors, but, to insure the fullest competition, a decree was entered in 1918 requiring the company to sell to competitors certain complete lines of harvesting machinery, and limit its sales representation to a single dealer in any one town.

"That decree further provided that at the end of a test period which has now expired the government might ask the court whether or not the free competition contemplated by the Sherman law exists in the farm implement industry. This step—the government has now taken.

"As we understand it, the sole issue raised by the present petition relates to competitive conditions with respect to harvesting machines only. It does not charge the company with unduly raising the price of harvesting machinery to the grave injury of the American farmer, as was charged in 1912, but it does charge that the company has been unduly depressing the price of harvesting machinery, particularly since 1920, to the injury of its competitors.

"Without attempting to argue our case at this time, it seems fair to say that the unfortunate condition in which manufacturers of harvesting machines, and in fact, all other farm implements, find themselves, is due to the serious business depression that affected the entire country beginning in the fall of 1920.

"During the last few years the whole farm implement industry has been in an abnormal and distressing situation which directly reflects the situation of the farmer. High costs of labor, material and transportation have burdened it with high manufacturing costs, while on the other hand low prices for agricultural products have left the farmer unable to buy his normal and needed requirements of farming machinery.

"We are confident that the hearing on the present petition will clearly show that the Harvester Company is not in any way responsible for these conditions in the farm implement industry. Prices of harvesting machinery are the result of vigorous competition, exactly the kind of competition which the Sherman law was enacted to preserve, and are fairly comparable with the price of other implements which the government concedes were fixed by normal competition."

SOUTH PLAINS DRUGGISTS TO MEET AT FLOYDADA

Special to the Avalanche.

FLOYDADA, July 20.—The South Plains Retail Druggists Association will hold their next Convention in Floydada the second Tuesday in October. Floydada was selected as the next meeting place by the druggists in session at Lubbock the first part of the week. Forty-four drug stores are included in the territory of the Association and a full representation is expected. Porter Ragland of the Floydada Drug Co. and Baird Bishop of the Woody Drug Co. of Floydada represented this city at the meeting in Lubbock.

QUALITY SERVICE

Announcement

THE STUDEBAKER CORPORATION OF AMERICA is pleased to announce to its customers, friends, and the public generally, its complete line of new

1924 Model Studebaker Cars

Avoiding the superlatives frequently used in automobile advertisements, the Corporation desires to faithfully state the facts concerning these cars and the reasons why the public should buy them.

THE CARS

In design, quality of materials, standard of workmanship, durability, refinements, performance, freedom from repairs, and price, the Studebaker 1924 Model Cars are distinctly the greatest intrinsic values the Corporation has ever offered.

Every improvement of the safety and practicability of which have been verified by engineering tests is embodied in these new cars.

The Big-Six

THE BIG-SIX LINE comprises four models, mounted on the standard 126-inch chassis with 60 H. P. 3 3/4 x 5 inch motor:

7-passenger Touring Car - $1750	5-passenger Coupe - $2550
5-passenger Speedster - $1835	7-passenger Sedan - $2750

all prices f. o. b. factory

Refinements and a few minor mechanical changes have been made in the Big-Six, which has established an enviable record for five years. Our large production accounts for its low price. It is a car of the highest grade, comparable to the best.

The Special-Six

THE SPECIAL-SIX LINE comprises four models mounted on the standard 119-inch chassis with 50 H.P. 3 1/2 x 5 inch motor:

2-passenger Roadster - $1325	5-passenger Coupe - $1975
5-passenger Touring Car - $1350	5-passenger Sedan - $2050

all prices f. o. b. factory

Radiator, hood, cowl, and body changes have been made in the Special-Six, with minor mechanical changes and refinements in the chassis. The Special-Six has for five successive years added luster to the name STUDEBAKER. It is one of the most satisfactory and finest cars on the market. It is as good in every respect as the Big-Six, except that it is smaller, and costs less to produce, and therefore, sells for less.

The Light-Six

THE LIGHT-SIX LINE comprises four models, mounted on the standard 112-inch chassis with 40 H.P. 3 1/2 x 4 1/2 inch motor:

3-passenger Roadster - $975	2-pass. Coupe-Roadster - $1225
5-passenger Touring Car - $995	5-passenger Sedan - $1550

all prices f. o. b. factory

No body or mechanical changes except refinements have been made in the Light-Six. Over 130,000 Light-Sixes have been produced in the new, modern $30,000,000 Studebaker plant at South Bend, Indiana, under most economical and almost ideal manufacturing conditions. In our judgment, it stands out as the greatest value and the closest approach to mechanical perfection in moderate priced cars yet produced.

THE REASONS WHY

With 990,000,000 of actual net assets and $45,000,000 invested in plants, Studebaker has ample physical facilities to manufacture most economically.

Studebaker's organization of manufacturing executives, engineers, metallurgists, chemists, inspectors, and skilled mechanics is second to none in the industry. The design of Studebaker cars and the workmanship upon them conform to the highest principles of engineering standards and mechanical practice known to the industry.

Best of Materials Used

Studebaker cars contain the finest known grades of iron, steel, aluminum, tires, electrical equipment, glass, bearings, etc. No better materials for automobile manufacture exist. Sheet aluminum has but one-third the tensile strength of sheet steel, and consequently, Studebaker uses sheet steel for its bodies.

By the manufacture of drop forgings, stampings and the machining, assembling and finishing of motors, axles, frames, transmissions, bodies, tops, etc., and the consequent elimination of middlemen's profits, coupled with lower overhead factory costs per car arising from quantity production and low commercial expenses, Studebaker's cars are kept at an economically low point possible of attainment only by manufacturers with vast physical and financial resources.

Bodies Unrivaled

The bodies of Studebaker cars are not excelled in quality of materials and craftsmanship, by any cars on the market. The Coupe and Sedan closed bodies are magnificent examples of the coach builder's art.

Merit Wins

The sales of Studebaker cars for the past six years have shown each and every year a progressive increase. 81,880 cars were sold in the first six months of 1923 as against 60,053 for the same period last year. Only products of merit can make such growth.

Pershing's Personal Physician Prescribed For Russia's Ills; Medical Aid Saved Millions

DR. HENRY BEEUWKES

"How's the patient this morning, Doc?"

"Better, thank you. I've given her 30,000 pounds of quinine and 700,000 pounds of cod liver oil, and it begins to look as if she would pull through."

Heroic treatment? Yes, but it was a very sick patient—the Russian bear, Henry Beeuwkes, M.D., of the United States Army, was the doctor in charge of the case, the same doctor who prescribed for General Pershing of the A. E. F., and Russia was the harder patient of the two.

It is almost two years now that Dr. Beeuwkes has been sitting at her bedside, ministering to her wants and studying her many diseases. As chief of the Medical Division of the American Relief Administration, Dr. Beeuwkes has piled on Russia's bed 470,000 blankets, 570,000 sheets, 155,000 pillow and mattress covers, most of them plainly marked United States Army or American Red Cross. He has used 890,000 towels and 90,000 pairs of slippers for Russia while her recovery was in doubt, and 86,000 times he has completely outfitted one of her newborn sons or daughters from safety pin to socks.

He has bathed her with two and a half million pounds of soap. He has fumigated her with 800,000 pounds of sulphur, he has bandaged her with 8,000,000 gauze bandages, and dosed her with 377 different kinds of medicine. His was no homeopathic treatment; it took forty tons of chloroform and ether, 57 tons of castor oil, fifteen tons of aspirin and thirty-one tons of boric acid. When her worst ailment was recurrent typhus his prescription called for 700,000 ampules of neo-salvarsan. When she was dying with cholera and smallpox he inoculated and vaccinated her some 15,000,000 times.

It has been an expensive case. The medicines and medical supplies, the vaccines and serums, the surgical instruments and the bandages, the bedding and hospital clothing, the hot water bottles, the hypodermic needles and all the rest have run up to $2,500,000, and that bill was paid by the United States Government, which turned over $4,000,000 worth of surplus Army medical supplies for Russian relief, and by the American Red Cross, which contributed $2,600,000. But since Dr. Beeuwkes took the case the Russian Commissioner of Health says that there has been a decrease of 33 per cent in the number of typhus cases reported throughout Russia and of 75 per cent in recurrent typhus, while cholera cases have shown an even greater falling off.

But with all the medical attention she has had, Russia might not have been well on the way toward complete convalescence if her diet had not been carefully looked after. The American Relief Administration has fed her some 900,000 tons of nourishing American food while Dr. Beeuwkes was prescribing for her. Now that she is stronger the doctor is planning to discontinue his visits. Colonel Haskell, the director of the Russian Unit of the American Relief Administration, has also decided that the emergency has passed and has advised the Chairman of the A. E. F., Herbert Hoover, that he will end the feeding at harvest time.

AVALANCHE PRINTER HAS PART IN CLEAN-UP DRIVE

Alfred M. Eubanks, ad compositor of the Avalanche, declares that this clean-up campaign is no joke.

Arming himself with a hoe of questionable sharpness the alert ad man decided that he would invade the host of weeds which had taken possession of his lot in the Overton addition, and it was needless to say that the battle was waged with noticeable vigor.

A few less than a half million of the husky weeds were taken in the first offensive, and Eubanks declares that just as soon as he has had time to grow a new covering on the palms of his hands he will make use of the hoe again.

Tahoka To Have A Steam Laundry In Near Future

Special to the Avalanche

TAHOKA, July 21.—Tahoka will soon have an up-to-date steam laundry plant if the plans of Mr. O. W. McLoud, of Sweetwater, materialize. Mr. McLoud, in company with C. R. Simmons, laundryman of Sweetwater, were in Tahoka Saturday and practically made arrangements to put in the plant at this place. Both these gentlemen are live wire business men and the locating of Mr. McLoud in our town will mean a great deal.

Tahoka has long needed a steam laundry plant, and the establishment of such a plant here will keep Tahoka money in Tahoka. We are sure that Tahoka and Lynn county citizens will be loyal and patronize such an institution when such is established here.

Mr. McLoud will return here shortly and complete arrangements for the establishment of the laundry.

It is probable that the plant will be located on the southwest corner of the public square in the building formerly occupied by the Owl Garage.

What Others Say

A CARLOAD OF BOOZE

Sunday afternoon a whole carload of whiskey, bottled in bond, passed through here en route to California. It was a Government shipment for medical purposes.

The Leader has no desire to publish the names of the prominent citizens who stood around with bulging eyes, twitching lips and parched mouth watching the trainmen switching the car into line, with only a whiff now and then to remind them of the damp days before the Volstead drouth struck the country—Littlefield Leader.

TOO MUCH GOVERNMENT

When is somebody going to put a stop to the growth of government? Let your mind dwell a moment on the public offices you know, Federal, State and Municipal. In how many of them do you recall a reduction in personnel? Jobs have multiplied in all governments. In the United States, the growing tendency toward paternalism has resulted in the creation of commission after commission, of board after board. Many of these institutions are finely inspired. A woman of influence sees a baby under unhealthy conditions; she immediately concludes the state should take over the rearing of the child. A welfare worker discovers a tenement, poorly constructed; the regulation or construction must be done by the governmental agencies or under government control. There is a dark street; there must be an extra policeman on the beat. The ice on Wrangel Island is dangerous; there must be another ice-cutter at once. The dogs on Chestnut street are bothered with fleas; The city must employ a flea-catcher.

Most of the ventures of government into channels of activity previously reserved to the individual are undertaken because a few enthusiasts see an impelling public need, while the majority of the taxpayers do not take the trouble to object to increase in public work.

But sometime, someone must halt this increase in governmental activity, this multiplication of employees whom the taxpayers must pay. It can't go on forever, else the logical conclusion— all government and no people, must be reached.

We are not able to say offhand just what governmental experiments are unjustified. But all appreciate the fact that we have too much government. Government is getting so fat that it soon must eat its own fat. Nearly every human activity is affected in some degree by governmental agency. Someone must halt the expansion. Who will do it?—Dearborn Independent.

DISREGARDING GAME LAWS

A member of farm and Ranch staff recently drove from Del Rio to San Angelo, a distance of approximately 200 miles, and most of it through a wild, hilly and mountainous country, a part of which is seventy miles from a railroad. One would naturally expect to see wild life in abundance in this section of Texas, but on this 200-mile journey only two deer and three blue quail were seen. It may be that the flivver bouncing over the rocks gave birds and animals warning and that they sought cover before the observer got within seeing distance, but upon remarking to his companion, who is a prominent citizen of that section, concerning the scarcity of game, he was informed that hunting had become very poor sport during the past few years. "Disregard for the game laws on the part of our citizens as well as the promiscuous shooting on the part of tourists, has just about killed off or driven our game out of the country," said this citizen. "There is too much shooting for the sport of killing something. Our own people, some of them, do not hesitate to kill regardless of the game laws or whether or not they need the meat or even want it. What we want is a rigid enforcement of the game laws. We must have it if we are to have any wild life, except snakes, left in the country."

TRAMP LEAVES ONE HOUR BEFORE AID RECEIVED FROM HIS PEOPLE

By the United Press

EL PASO, July 21.—Just one hour too soon was a tramp who applied for aid to the Associated Charities here the other day.

In applying for aid the man told Mrs. Carrie Hooper, charity worker that his brother was head of several large corporations in the town from which he came.

"I am a tramp," he said, "and I have just been deported from Mexico as a disreputable character. I have been in jail at Juarez, but my family is respectable."

The charity worker wired his brother and the man was given food and clothing. The next day he called to express his thanks and left.

Within one hour after he had gone a telegram, in answer to the one sent by the charity worker, came. The brother had wired fifty dollars, but the tramp was one hour too soon.

Plainview De Molay Chapter Confer Degree At Matador

Special to the Avalanche

PLAINVIEW, July 21.—Seventeen Matador boys were initiated into the Plainview De Molay Chapter Saturday night at Matador by thirty-five members of the De Molay Chapter of Plainview. The thirty-five boys were accompanied by the De Molay Drum Corps, headed by Mr. Everett Dye in the absence of Captain Bobbie Huribert, leader, who is unable to leave his business. The initiation started about nine o'clock after which the chapter attended a banquet given in their honor by the Matador Shriners' Club.

FIFTEEN BUSHEL WHEAT PER ACRE HARVESTED IN FLOYD CO

Special to the Avalanche

FLOYDADA, July 20.—One of the biggest wheat crops in Floyd county was that of W. E. Meador and Associates north of Floydada who finished thrashing Tuesday morning. The crop averaged better than fifteen bushels to the acre on the 860 acres. On one tract of forty-five acres the yield was better than twenty-nine bushels to the acre. The total yield from the entire 860 acres was a little more than 13,000 bushels.

ATTEND CHURCH TODAY

There will be preaching services at nearly every church building in Lubbock today. You can find one that suits your taste, and we are confident that the pulpits will be occupied by men, who are capable in every way. There will be Sunday School at all of the churches and you should be long and attend these services at some of these churches.

There will be services by the young people of the various denominations, and the young people should attend and become interested in the work of the church.

There are two revival meetings in progress in the city, possibly three, and you will be welcomed to any of these at all of their services.

Attend church somewhere today! It is your duty, and you will enjoy the services.

AND THE WEEDS ARE NOT ALL CUT YET.

The weed cutting campaign has been on now for a solid week. Many of the lots in Lubbock have been cleaned up, and it certainly makes a wonderful difference, but still they do thrive on some of the most prominent locations in town. There are lots owned by prominent business men, who have not made any effort whatever to cut the weeds off their property, which does not show a cooperative spirit, and the interest in the town that should be manifested in the city by such people. We cannot believe however that a citizen will thus ignore the wishes of the people who have the clean up campaign in hand, and allow the weeds to continue to grow on their property, and spoil the looks of the town just for the sake of being contrary, such people are NOT CITIZENS they JUST LIVE HERE.

There is a fellow that bought a lot for $2000 and placed it on the market a few days ago at $5000, and is not over valued at that, which increase has been made by the efforts of such people as have charge of the clean-up campaign, yet this fellow will not even answer a letter sent to him asking that he have the weeds cut off the lot. Such folks as that are of no value to Lubbock, from a development standpoint, and there are a few, very few, who will not do anything because they let their prejudice against organized effort overrule right and use their efforts to discourage others in carrying out the wishes of those who are really trying to do something for the development of the country. What kind of a town would we have if such men were the only kind that lived here? Their property would be worth $10 a lot, and there would be no business houses, no railroads, no paved streets, no sidewalks, no schools worth while, no churches, and no prospects for a future city. Most people would rejoice if such people would only get in the notion to go some place else.

Lubbock has just a few of that kind, and by this time every progressive citizen knows who they are, and it is not necessary to call any names.

THERE WILL BE NO ROW.

If the locating board should place that new institution at Boerne or Lampasas, after all the stir Northwest Texas has raised, we fancy that Sweetwater, Amarillo, Lubbock, Stamford, Abilene, Haskell and about thirty other towns on or north of the Texas and Pacific will stage a nice little row.—Houston Post.

There will be no row, we are sure, for the locating board will locate the college according to their interpretation of the bill, and the requirement of the order—where it will be of most benefit to the greatest number of people, and they will know that Boerne or Lampasas, either one is too far east to represent West Texas, which the school is intended for. And when it comes to representing the most people in the future, there is no question that Lubbock is right in the center of what will be the most densely settled section of the state within a very few years. There are millions of acres of land all wonderfully adapted to the production of cotton, wheat, and the various grains, besides being the best dairying section of the southwest, the finest hog raising section of the state where the biggest and healthiest boys in the land are raised, where the girls' cheeks are a bit pinker, and the old men have just a lot more spring in their walk, where the women sing a bit sweeter, and where there are no I. W. W.'s and the people work together and build better schools and more churches, where the air is pure and the water shoots forth from the big wells, and quenches the thirst of man and beast, where people can take a bath without wearing mud chains and where there is plenty of water to supply all the factories and all the schools and colleges that want to come. These things the locating committee will learn about with their own eyes when they come, and for that reason there will be no row, for it will be unanimously agreed that Lubbock the Hub of the Plains is the logical place to put the Texas Tech, and nobody will have any occasion to question the wisdom of the committee.

THE CHURCH AND LAW.

In an address on the subject of "The reputation of the church to law and government at Lake Junaluska on July 4, Hon. M. E. Underwood, of Atlanta, Assistant Attorney General for the United States during the administration of President Woodrow Wilson, made an earnest plea for the Church to do something for criminals and those accused of crime. He showed that a very small per cent of those accused of crime are ever found guilty and punished, but on the other hand he showed that those accused of crime and in many cases simply held as witnesses suffer terribly in county jails from neglect and mistreatment. He said: "A recent survey of the jails of one of our States, which may be taken I think as above the average, shows conditions which we tolerate today. More than 50,000, or 16 to each 1,000 of this State's population, were confined in its county jails in one year. In more than one half of the jails there were only two apartments, so that it was necessary to mix races or sexes and to confine witnesses and first offenders with hardened criminals. Sixty-two per cent had inadequate bunks, sixteen per cent no mattresses at all, and three fourths of them inadequate heating facilities. In fifty per cent of these jails filthy blankets were passed on from old to new prisons without washing, and in seventy-seven per cent no towels were furnished and bathing was not enforced. In ninety-three per cent no change of clothing was provided, and filth and vermin were common on account of such unsanitary surroundings. Surely most people do not know of these conditions. But all ought to know how prisoners are treated. It is the business of the Church to know and to never cease its efforts for improvements until there are decided improvements. Christ taught that we are to administer to the needs and the comfort of prisoners, and John and Charles Wesley and their associates began their work among prisoners."

NOSE PRINTS.

For a number of years it has been known that finger prints are one of the best methods of identification, but now it is being developed that the nose print of a cow is equally as reliable in establishing the identity of the cattle, that have been stolen, and found in possession of other people, and it is thought that before long this will be used to considerable extent to great advantage in recovering stolen property. The Scientific American in an article regarding this question says that the experiments in taking and classifying nose-prints of cattle were begun in October, 1921. As with finger prints, two important points must be considered. Is the cow's nose-print different from that of every other cow? And does the pattern remain the same at all ages? As with the human finger, both these questions must be answered in the affirmative before the nose-print will be of value in identification.

The prints of more than 350 animals have been taken and carefully scrutinized. So far no two have been found even sufficiently alike to cause any uncertainty as to their being from different animals. And both growing calves and older animals have been nose-printed for five consecutive months without indicating any change of design. A careful study of the print indicates that while there is enlargement of the nose, the arrangement of the ridges remains fixed. The system is being given a practical test in connection with various official tests in Minnesota. Already its value has been manifest, and it has straightened out several cases of disputed or mistaken identity. Perhaps its greatest value will be to the live stock insurance companies. All these concerns claim that they have paid many claims where they suspected but could not prove that the policy covered some other animal than the dead one. With a system of nose-print identification, such false claims could be detected and proved.

WHY NOT FREE MAIL DELIVERY

The Avalanche is just a bit curious to know just why Lubbock has not been favored with free mail delivery. Plainview with possibly two thousand less population has had free delivery for several months. Clovis not more than half as big as Lubbock has free mail delivery. Sweetwater not as large as Lubbock has free mail delivery, and why Lubbock doesn't have these accommodations at the hand of the Government looks like that Lubbock is not getting a square deal, or is it Lubbock that is lacking in something. It is our information that the people of Lubbock have complied with every requirement that the government has asked, still we do not get this much needed service.

Lubbock has the biggest postal receipts of any town between Amarillo and Abilene, and there is certainly no reason in the delay of the free mail delivery, especially in the face of the terribly crowded condition of the postoffice here at this time, and the great need of additional help which the free delivery would no doubt supply.

The steering committee of the Tech College at Snyder is trying to raise enough money to make up the difference between what the State proposes to pay for the site and what the site is going to cost the Committee. They are asking $150,000 above what the State is authorized to pay.

Claimed the women are slaves of custom, and fortunately for the men they have managed to reconcile themselves to the slavish custom of cooking and serving three meals a day.

All the rods formerly used in disciplining children, and which Solomon did not want to have spared, have now been turned into tackle to catch fish with.

IMPORTANCE OF THE GRAIN SORGHUMS

The 1922 Yearbook of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, just issued calls attention to the value of the grain sorghums—kaffir corn, milo maize, feterita, etc.

Had it not been for the grain sorghums, development of farming enterprises in much of the territory in the southern section of the great plains area, comprising portions of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and New Mexico would hardly have been possible. They are comparatively unimportant crops when considered in relation to the principal cereal crops and to cotton and hay—but they are of tremendous importance in the southern great plains.

In this section they take the place occupied by corn in the more humid sections of the country. They are the tilled grain crop in the rotation, and roughage for farm and range livestock and silage for the dairy and beef industries. Because of insufficient rain fall and drying winds it is not profitable to grow corn in this section to supply these needs.

The grain sorghums are grown primarily for feeding grains and fodder for farm use. Estimates show that only about 25 per cent of the crop moves off the farm where grown.

The chief commercial uses of sorghum grains are similar to those of corn and it must compete with that grain. This means that sorghum grain moving north and east into the corn producing territory must be either cheaper or better than corn for the desired purposes.

SNYDER IS ON THE VERGE OF MATERIAL IMPROVEMENTS

SNYDER, Texas, July 21.—All evidence goes to bear out the statement that Snyder is now on the verge of a substantial building program that will extend over the business district as well as into the residence district.

With the present splendid outlook over the county, and the civic development in the city, naturally gives impetus to the towns citizen-ship to do more building and creates an atmosphere of optimism that gets hold of the home seker when he comes to our city, and for the man who is looking for business opportunities.

The management of the Snyder Utilities Co., are in a pretty good position to know the pulse of sentiment, and are of the opinion that Snyder is on the verge of one of the most forward movement building programs of anything previously done. They have so much faith in it they said, that they are making preparations for just such a movement.

HORSE ADOPTS TURKEY AND THE TWO NOW GREAT PALS

TEMPLE, July 21.—A horse mother to a turkey.
This is the peculiar complex which has come about on the farm of J. T. Ramage, prominent chicken raiser here, according to the story he tells to his friends.
Some time ago a turkey hen hatched two eggs. Shortly after-

HOME

Curling smoke from a chimney low,
And only a few more steps to go,
Faces pressed at a window pane,
Watching for someone to come again
And I am the someone they wait to see—
These are the joys that life gives to me.
What has my neighbor excelling
this—
A good wife's love and a baby's kiss?
What if his chimney's tower higher?
Peace is found at our humble fire.
What if his silver and gold are more?
Rest is ours when the day is o'er.
Strive for fortune and slave for fame.
The joy men struggle for stays the same.
Rich and poor men dream and pray
For a home where laughter shall ever stay,
And the wheels go 'round and men
spend night
For the few glad hours they claim at night.
Home, where the kettle shall gaily
sing,
Is all that matters with sorf or

Gold and silver and laureled fame
Are only sweet when the hearth's afame
With a cheerful fire and the loved ones there
Are unafraid of the wolves of care.
So let me come home at night to rest
With those who know I have done
my best;
Let the wife rejoice and the child-

And I'll know by their love that I'm worth while.

The remaining turkey was adopted by a horse which Ramage kept about the place and the two became such pals, it is almost impossible to keep them separated.
The turkey rides about all day on the back of the horse and sleeps in the same stall with him at night.

CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN ON IN LITTLEFIELD

LITTLEFIELD, July 21.—That a clean up campaign should be put on in Littlefield was the consensus of opinion expressed by the membership of the local Chamber of Commerce at its meeting Tuesday night.
Numerous visitors are now coming to Littlefield. In about three weeks there is expected a delegation of from 300 to 500 people in our midst. It is desired that the first impressions of these people shall be favorable, and to that end every citizen is asked to co-operate in the campaign of cleaning up their premises and exterminating the flies.

AGE SCORES KNOCKOUT AGAINST YOUTH REPORTED

By the United Press
DALLAS, July 21.—Age scored a complete knockout against youth when a 30 year old woman applied for treatment for severe bruises at the emergency hospital.

She claimed she raised the "ire" of her 76 year-old spouse and he promptly set about to "saveman" her. She was given first aid treatment, some advice and then sent home.

The Community that Holds Fast to Obsolete Ideas, Surrenders Supremacy.

Bridging the Gap of Waste

Each day it becomes more evident that capital and labor must gain more enlightened knowledge of the effect of their operations before the mass of the people in this country arrive at a state of industrial peace and reasonable comfort. Certainly the present relationship does not work out and there are abundant evidences of abuses on both sides.

The high wage for the honest day of work is the goal to be sought. The high cost of labor because of inefficiency in management or plain loafing on the job never will accomplish. When the railroads were taken over labor was sharply classified. Piece work was abolished. Each man was fitted exactly into his niche. The result was heavy increase in labor cost for minimum production. To open the door of a locomotive required the services of two men. To remove a blower pipe two others were employed while to remove the tip a machinist and his helper were used.

Superficial thinking labor leaders were quick to grasp this opportunity to fix a still firmer grip on the control of manufacturing operations. Living costs naturally advance with labor costs.

Capital would like to see the means of production further standardized mechanically, but it balks when standardization is applied to labor. Seemingly labor always must remain flexible. An honest day's work must be given, and at the same time an end must come to the theoretical vapors of men who figure the cost of bare necessities of life a living wage.

We must come to see the difference between living and existing.

Farmettes May Prove Angels

The experiment of the farmette in some of the eastern states may prove of greater import to the farmer than he imagines. If the experiment be extended to the young men of the colleges there will soon be an intelligent awakening to the fact that the farmer at best gets a poor share of the value he produces. When thinking men are compelled to work for small wages because the industry in which they are employed cannot afford to pay them decently, the wheels will soon be set in motion to bring about a new order of things.

The farmette movement has taken deepest root in the Catskill mountains where New York girls are invited to spend their "vacations" by the State Department of Labor. The girls will pick berries and fruits. They will earn from $8 to $12 a week above expenses. They will keep house cooperatively and live in cottages, converted barns and tents. Of course only the lightest work on the farm can be affected until the plan is extended to include man labor. There are thousands of boys working their way through college. The state colleges of agriculture might prove excellent distributing points.

While farm labor is supposed to be unskilled labor, the fact is that the average city man is quite useless on the farm. At the same time one of the best investments the farmer could make would be gathering to his aid young men of understanding and seeing to it that they learn first hand why the farmer has been compelled to keep wages down.

Why Men Stay Away from Church

A seared Sabbath conscience sends men to the golf links on the Holy Sabbath.

The #holine mania causes thousands to take the family, the dog, and the lunch basket into the automobile early Sabbath morning when they begin to break the Ten Commandments, the speed laws, and Sabbath observance.

Screenit's sends thousands in to the motion picture houses, where they make a pagan attack upon God's Holy Day.

Leasness keeps thousands at home wrapped in the bed clothes of indolence—too indolent and sloven to dress and attend divine worship.

False conception of worship, or because the sermon is poor, or the minister worse than dead, they drift into the habit of neglecting church attendance.

There are thousands of business, professional, political, and official men who neglect church because they are conscious of the fact, that they are grossly sinful, selfish, conceited, and derelict in the performance of their duties. They know that if they face the gospel as expounded from God's infallible Word they will have to surrender their selfish, mean, conceited business and professional attitude toward the church and the gospel.

Every desirable, worthy citizen ought to be found in his pew every Sunday morning worshipping God and paying his honest obligations to the church of Jesus Christ.

LOCAL AMATEURS TO STAGE EXHIBITION TODAY AGAINST SLATON PROCEEDS TO GO TO HUBBER CLUB

The stage is all set, the battle-ground is in readiness, and 4 o'clock this afternoon will sound the official gong for the opening of the clash between the McDonald amateurs, of this city, and the fast aggregation from Slaton, which contest will be complimentary to, and for the benefit of the Hubber club.

As has been said before, this game is being played voluntarily on the part of the local boys, and the entire proceeds from the exhibition with the exception of actual expenses of the boys from Slaton, will be given over to the Hubber management for use as they see fit.

Alex has been giving his nine a good working over all this week, and although they are not in the best of physical condition, on account of the various and sundry sore limbs and joints brought about by such sudden and violent exercise, they are fast rounding into an aggregation of good team work, and will deliver an exhibition this afternoon that will be far from slow.

The line-up contains several men that could, if they desired to do so, make most any class D club in anybody's league. The list includes for the infield positions, Alex Hensley, Wayne Gaither, Horace Gaither, and Skipper Alex McDonald, supported by an outfield composed of Bill Honey, Harry Hunter, and "Express" Pinkerton, all of whom sweat the apple high and hard. Louis Hunter will probably do the mound duty, with Horace Gaither on deck if needed in a pinch.

The boys took their final workout yesterday afternoon and they are ready to begin to take on the appearance of an old settled ball club.

Games of 25 and 50 have been offered for the exhibition, and the affair will be called promptly at 4 o'clock at the Merrill park, the regular Hubber ground.

VERN BROWN LEADING P. & P. V. LOOP IN STICK WORK WITH .373 AVERAGE WHILE DEAN LEAD REGULAR HITTING

The following tabulation released by League Statistician H. H. Hunter includes the second half of the season only which opened with the second game of the double-header of July 4th.

Amarillo is shown to be leading the league in heavy hitting with six men out of the eleven in the loop who are hitting .300 or above, and three of these are pitchers.

Vern Brown, of the Hubbers, is leading the loop in swats, the number of times at bat being considered, with an average of .373. For the first week opening the second half, Brown went well beyond the 500 mark, driving out from two to four safeties in every game.

Doc Dean, the other Hubber who is swatting beyond the 300 mark, has established an enviable record in that he has hit safely for thirteen successive games, getting from one to four hits in each game.

Chastine, the new catcher of the Gassers is tied with Bedford of Roswell for home run honors, each having three, while Clovis has two men who have hit for two each, with Brown and Dean breaking in with one each.

movement in the fifteenth round than he did in the first. Main strength was still his weapon. Gibbons was learning something every minute. Most of his blows were counters after he had made Dempsey miss and some of them were solid jarring shots to the chin. Tom will enter their next fight with a better chance to win than he did at Shelby.

William T. Tilden, never by any possible means to be known as Bill, complains against the gallery's applause when his opponent scores an occasional placement ace, and threatens to default his match, it happens again. This sounds like threatening to pick up his marbles and go home. Maybe the ordinary people who pay their money to see William T. Tilden, never known as Bill, play tennis, don't know they are being made rude when they applaud the under-dog. That always seems to be the instinct of a crowd at a fight, a ball game or a football contest. It never happens in the theatre when some neglected person in a minor bit of a part casually shoulders the show and walks down to the footlights to take the bows. And nobody threatened to default.

Tilden and Gerald Patterson, the Australian, have often complained about this applause. It seems that in the tea-table etiquette of tournament tennis it isn't nice to shake off the handkerchiefs and slap the palms except under certain stated circumstances. When one man scores thru another's error, applause is looked upon as a social mistake like mixing the peas with the mashed potatoes. But most people, and this is a fact, have only a hazy general idea of tennis and don't get these finer points at all.

Tilden may be an amateur player but he might remember that his spectators who pay the gate receipts are the ones who make the tournament possible. They aren't such ill-mannered rabble as some tournament players seem to think. Placed in a club house surrounded by a dozen spectators might evince better manners and more considerate decency toward others than an equal number of patrician snobs to be found at Seabright or Newport or some of the uppity clubs of the middlewest. That would be a better test of character and breeding and the spectators would have to be applauding bores to come out second best.

In other words, how do these dudes get that way and how does it feel to be like that?

Big Business Is Going In for All the Sports

By the United Press

NEW YORK, July 21.—Big business is beginning to realize the worth of sports.

A few years ago employers in the major factories and business houses looked upon sport merely as a recreation and took no hand. Now it is considered a part of the business.

Baseball grounds, athletic tracks, football fields and tennis courts are being constructed by nearly every big plant, in the realization that such recreation may take the place of the old corner saloon. It increases the efficiency of the workers and holds them to their jobs.

Perhaps the largest undertaking of this kind has been launched by the Westinghouse Electric Company, which has organized what is known as "The Westinghouse Athletic Association." The company employs more than 30,000 persons and its monthly payroll averages over $4,250,000.

The organization pays for itself from admissions, which are carefully handled by a board of directors.

Girls' activities are under a separate association. They play baseball, tennis and basketball. At present they have one baseball team, two basketball teams and have arranged a tennis tournament.

Seven men baseball teams are

Civic League Continues Good Work

In addition to the six section book case given last week by the Civic League to the Lubbock Public Library, three other sections were given this week. The librarians salary was paid and a large wicker chair was bought by the Civic League with the funds derived from a luncheon given the Chamber of Commerce.

The Civic League is doing its share in the library, which continues to grow daily.

Banquet Given At Fire Station

The Fire Station was a scene of delight Thursday evening when a banquet conducted by Mother Pullen, was spread for the Fire Boys and their families.

The menu was carefully prepared and served in a splendid manner. After the festival hour a social hour was enjoyed.

Miss Eunice Smith Entertains

An enjoyed occasion of the week was that of the party given Thursday afternoon at the Country Club, with Miss Eunice Smith hostess.

The coolness of the spacious entertaining suite added to the delight of the number of rounds of bridge which were played.

Delicious frozen pudding and kisses were the refreshments served to the following:

Evening Bridge Club Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Vickers, delightfully entertained the Evening Bridge Club at their home, 1903 Thirteenth street Thursday evening with a picnic party.

Despite the inclement weather the picnic was carried out in a clever scheme. A lovely prepared lunch was divided and placed in six baskets, which were placed on separate tables. The eats consisted of white and brown bread sandwiches, salad, deviled eggs, doughnuts and lemonade.

The remainder of the evening was made pleasant with a number of rounds of bridge.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Powell and Dayton Moses of Fort Worth, special guests and the club members: Mrs. A. B. Conley; Messrs. and Mesdames F. R. Friend, W. S. Posey, W. O. Stevens, A. V. Weaver, Sam Denman, O. L. Slaton, J. A. Rix, W. H. Meador, J. S. Johnson, Abernathy, R. M. Jarrott.

Mesdames Hutchinson and Myrick Entertain

A pretty social event of the weekend was Friday afternoon at the Country Club, with Mesdames R. B. Hutchinson and W. A. Myrick joint hostesses to the Merri Bidders Club.

The charm of the receiving rooms was brought out with cut flowers artistically arranged in cut glass and hand painted bowls.

Games of forty-two progressively played was the enjoyed diversion.

A delicious ice course was served to the following: Mesdames, Fred

REFRESHING DRINKS

Here are cold drinks which will make summer more comfortable, heat easier to stand and satisfy that longing thirst. They are easy to make and economical too, for either fresh or home canned fruit juices may be used for giving the various flavors.

Fruit Punch

Basic Recipe - One-half cup lemon juice, 1 cup orange juice, grated rind of half an orange, 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind, 1 quart water, 3-4 cup sugar. Cook sugar and water for 3 minutes, cool and add fruit juices and rinds. Serve very cold either plain or with any of the following combination added.

Ginger Punch - One quart ginger ale, 1-4 cup preserved ginger cut fine. Add to basic recipe.

Tea Punch - One quart cold tea, 1-2 cup cherries cut fine. Add to basic recipe.

Grape-mint Cup - One glass grape

Watermelon Punch - Two cups watermelon pulp, 1-2 cup raisins cut fine, 1-2 cup sugar. Add to basic recipe.

Dewberryade - Three tablespoons grated cucumber rind, 1 pint dewberry juice, 1-4 cup sugar. Add to basic recipe.

Other Drinks with a Clink

Peach Punch - Combine 1 cup sugar and 2 cups water, boil 1 minute, cool. Measure 2 cups sliced peaches and pass through fine sieve. Add to this 1 cup orange juice and 1-4 cup lemon juice. Add to cold syrup and chill thoroughly. Just before serving strain the punch and dilute with ice water.

Buzz Punch - One and one-half cups orange juice, 1 cup white grape juice, 1 pint ginger ale. Mix ingredients, pour into a large glass pitcher over pieces of ice and serve.

Chocolate Milk Shake - Mix 1-3 cup cocoa with 2 cups sugar very thoroughly. Then add 1 cup boiling water gradually while stirring constantly. Boil 5 minutes. Cool, add 1-2 tablespoon vanilla. Allow about 2 tablespoons of the syrup to each glass of cold milk and mix well together. Serve very cold.

Good Charged Water that must be made fresh every day can be made by mixing a tablespoon of ginger, half a cup of sugar and a cake of fresh yeast into a gallon of water that has been boiled 10 minutes and cooled. This must be put into pint bottles and well corked.

Lemonade

It is a helpful, soothing drink, when flies are bad and days are hot; and weather it is white or pink it always seems to hit the spot. I drink it with the lovely dames where drink store clerks take in the kale, I drink it at the baseball games, at home I sip it by the pail. Of all soft drinks it is the best, as every learned physician knows; it always soothes my savage breast, and gives my warlike soul repose. It takes the fungus from my tongue, and kills the toadstools in my throat; and I feel brave and gay and young, when all my innards are afloat; when they're afloat in lemonade, my head is clear, my nerve is strong, I face my duties unafraid, and put up hay the whole day long. And when the cool, gray morning breaks, I do not see, beside my bed, a bunch of hydra-headed snakes with peagreen antlers on each head I rise refreshed, so full of vim, and of aggressive strength, so full, that when I've sung my morning hymn, I go out doors and whip a bull.

Change Dress But Don't Change Furniture If You Would Keep Friend Hubby Always In Love; Women Are The Opposite

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 18.—Men like changes! The only thing a man doesn't want to see changed about his home is the furniture. He could relish his wife in a different dress and a different hair-do every day.

Women must constantly adjust themselves to style changes if they wish to appear perpetually adorable in their husbands' eyes. Many women would rather alter their homes than alter their heads to suit the current fashion. It is far safer to let the old armchair remain in its accustomed place near the hearth than let one's hair-do date back to 1900.

When a man comes home after a hard day's work at the office and finds his wife with her hair combed in some new way, a bargain counter bow refreshing an old gown or some such thing, he takes a new interest in life for he realizes that his wife is still keeping up with things—that she isn't tired of the game.

Women Are Different

Women differ from men in this respect. A woman would be completely disturbed if her husband appeared at the door minus his mustache. Many a man has returned home from a camping trip with a mustache heard on his chin to be met by an irate wife. Women like their men to stay "as is." Any altering from the accustomed route sets them on edge.

It takes a clever woman to appear fascinating in her husband's eyes these days. I have in mind a little middle-aged woman whose one ambition in life is to hold the love of her handsome husband—a peculiar aim in these days of equal rights. This woman is not attractive and many women wonder what her husband sees in her.

But those who see her every day could learn the art of "husband holding" from her. In the first place, she realizes that she can't compete with the well-groomed women her husband meets in his daily life, because of her age and because of financial restrictions. His stenographer spends more on her clothes than she can.

So she tries to be just a little different from the run of women who fill the subway and offices—women who spend a large sum for one dress and wear it until it is completely worn out before buying another. She buys clothes that are on sale because they are not exactly what women are wearing, just a trifle off the mode. Then she alters them so that they will be coming to her particular style, always adding some little touch that is decidedly new. She is a perpetual remodeler. Her gowns undergo many changes before they are cast aside.

Her husband never knows when he leaves her in the morning what she will be wearing at night. She has a hat for every day in the week, old hats that have been held over from year to year and refreshed with new bows, ribbons and dyes.

I once heard a gentleman say that a wife was a bride as long as she kept fresh ribbons in her garments and I believe there is some sense in his theory. "Men may not chase after street cars after they have caught them" but it keeps a woman running nowadays to hold her husband's attention.

There are numerous dotted swisses, organdies and voiles in grays, tans, dark blues and subdued shades which are as lovely as they are cool. Hemstitched handkerchief linen frocks in such shades as deft blue, bottle-green and gray are so much prettier than the heavy silk frocks we wear in the city. One sees many of these at the County Club on afternoons worn with wide-brimmed leghorns or simple trimmed horse-hair hats.

Biège, blond, wood and tobacco shades are favored by the fashionable this season and all of these are shades that can be worn in the city. One need not select summer fabrics in such shades as pink or baby blue for street wear. A material of summer texture in a subdued color can be worn on Fifth Avenue as well as at a resort.

THE THEATRES WHAT YOU CAN SEE TODAY

MOTHER AND SON SCORE IN LATE PICTURE

Yydia Knott is proud of her son Lambert Hillyer is proud of his mother.

Lydia Knott is one of the foremost character women of the screen, and when Hobart Henley initiated production on Universal's Jewel of the Desert...

Hillyer was at work at Universal City as the director of a five-reel picture when his mother came to start work on the big special.

A few weeks later he finished his picture. He was congratulated by Irving G. Thalberg, director general of the studio.

Lambert went to his mother, and with his arms around her in boyish fashion he told her the big news.

"Mother, I'm going to direct a special feature, 'The Shock,' with Lon Chaney as the star. Universal likes this picture I've just finished well enough to give me a much bigger chance."

His mother was as proud of his success as any mother could be. Hobart Henley directing 'The Flirt' overheard them. He came over.

"Wait a minute, Lambert," he cautioned Hillyer. "I want to tell you that your mother has more than kept pace with you. You're not the only success in your family around here. If her work in 'The Flirt' doesn't make her the most famous character mistress of the day I'm mighty badly mistaken and not much good as a judge."

It was an occasion for mother and son to be proud of each other, and they were.

'The Flirt' presents a dozen famous moving picture artists besides Lydia Knott. It will be on the screen of the Lindsey Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

STORY OF 'THE MINE LOOTERS'

The Rainbow mine in Arizona was yielding much gold. But the eastern owners were not growing rich. So to find out the trouble, the company sent Jeff Hurley, a keen young engineer, to look over the situation.

Jeff was nothing but a "city dude" in the eyes of the miners, who laughed at him when he arrived in Rainbow. Jim McGrath, foreman of the mine, laughed too, for he was certain that young Hurley would never discover his secret, that he and the owner of a neighboring mine, Kinkaid, were systematically looting the Rainbow.

Perhaps Jeff alone would never have done so, but there was someone else in the camp who was suspicious of McGrath. That was Dolly Mays, the adopted daughter of Zeke Hoover, the boarding house keeper.

Dolly had accidentally discovered a secret cave where bags of ore were stored. And when she heard McGrath speak of "accidents" which might happen to Hurley, she was fearful and warned Hurley, a warning which she laughed at.

When Hurley asked McGrath for the account books, McGrath grew indignant and resigned his post. Then he sent to work planning an "accident." He started an avalanche which was to overwhelm Hurley, but Dolly, watching from a hill, saw the danger and saved the engineer. After that, she and Hurley were good friends.

There comes another day, however, when Hurley is overpowered by his enemies and almost killed. While he is ill, the girl does a little detective work at the mines. She hides there and sees McGrath and his gang steal sacks of ore by dropping them thru a hole in the ore bin and then taking them to the secret gully. She followed them but is discovered and captured.

The villains bind the girl and throw her into the conveyor chute. Then they start the ore cars above, so that the contents will be dumped on the girl, crushing out her life. But Hurley, who has heard Dolly's screams, tries to come to her aid. He orders the engineer to stop the machinery but the man does not hear the order.

McGrath and his men attack Hurley but the latter is able to reach the lever and stop the machinery before the cars are dumped. The girl is saved just in time.

Dolly released, tells Hurley of the secret she has discovered. The two go to the abandoned gully and are trapped there. They put up a brisk fight and escape. They go to call together the miners of the Rainbow, while McGrath and Kinkaid call their gang.

Hurley, Dolly and the miners again enter the tunnel. When they are deep in they see a spiral of smoke which warns them that dynamite has been placed there. The miners go back, but Hurley goes forward to reach Dolly. The two are trapped by the explosion.

While the Rainbow miners and Kinkaid's men are fighting, some of Hurley's men dig away to free their chief. McGrath and Kinkaid reach Hurley by another route and there is a fight. When the miners come to Hurley's assistance, he has defeated both his opponents. To be shown at Lyric Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

REJECTED COCOA, BUT LEARNED TO LIKE IT

By the United Press. ATHENS, July 21.—From being shunned, cocoa has become one of the most popular foods which the American Red Cross is using in its feeding of refugees in Greece.

When Colonel Haskell and the American Red Cross Commission began their work, it was decided to feed cocoa to children and to the sick. But the refugees, thought it was sand or brick dust and refused to take it. After some days a few began to try it and then the sweet tooth of the Asia Minor people asserted itself. The rest was easy.

"There's a marked increase in the lineup of refugees on days when 'kakaow' is given out here," says Henry C. Wolfe of Coshoton, O., field manager of Red Cross. "When cocoa is issued in dry form, the refugees mix the cocoa powder with a little water and small quantity of sugar and make a paste which they eat on their bread and which takes the place of meat."

ARIZONA COUPLE MAY LOCATE IN LUBBOCK

R. E. Chapman, of Arizona, accompanied by Mrs. Chapman, arrived in Lubbock Friday evening, and after spending the night at the Tourist Camp Ground, took an early start Saturday morning to prospect in Lubbock, and expressed them-

INDIANA CHURCH NOW COMPETES WITH MOVIES

By the United Press. LAPORTE, Ind., July 21.—The church is competing with the motion picture theatres and beating them, at their own game in Laporte.

The Rev. F. W. Bostick, pastor of the First Baptist Church, shows educational films to crowds of 800 to 1,000 every Sunday night, while the regular picture houses are practically deserted.

Musical numbers and short religious talks, couched in baseball terms, are included in the Rev. Bostick's programs.

The performances are staged in a public square, the screen being on the side of a building. Collections and donations pay the expenses.

In All Probability Lubbock Will Have a First Class Postoffice in 1924; More than 25 percent Increase

Lubbock Will have a postoffice of first class at the close of this year, if present increases in receipts continue, according to information given out by the assistant postmaster Saturday morning.

It is necessary for an office to show annual receipts of forty thousand dollars before it is placed in the first class list, and with the first six months receipts totaling $18,568.46 with very noticeable increase over the same period in 1922, it is altogether probable that the remaining twenty-one thousand dollars will be received this year, as the December quarter is much the heaviest of the year, and with the expected gains based upon the same percentage as has been shown during the first two quarters the increase can be easily estimated with some accuracy.

The following table shows an increase in the first quarters of 1923 of $1,773.44 over the same quarter of 1922; and an increase in the second quarter of 1923 of $2,082.73 over the same quarter of 1922.

Table with 2 columns: 1922, 1923. Rows for First, Second, Third, Fourth quarters and Total increase.

Total increase in the first and second quarters of 1923 over 1922, $3,856.17, or 25 1-2 percent.

The business of the postoffice has been handled by the postmaster, the assistant postmaster, six clerks and two substitute clerks, four route carriers and one daily star route carrier.

One of the regular clerks resigned six weeks ago, and for two weeks Miss Bellah, one of the clerks was unable to be on duty, making it necessary for the remaining employees to take care of the extra work.

The affairs of the office are conducted much to the satisfaction of everyone, however the rapid increase in business, plus the shortage of help put the employees at some disadvantage which was hard to overcome.

Considering their handicaps, however, Lubbock postal employees give a service that is beyond the average, and their attention to duty is appreciated by the many patrons.

We take it that the increase in postal receipts for the first two quarters this year may be taken as a general index to business conditions here, which shows that Lubbock is still on her way to an enviable place among Texas cities.

Increase Also Shown in Plainview Postoffice

The following tabulation taken from the Plainview News which is a report for the fiscal year just closed for the Plainview office shows an increase for that office also:

Table with 2 columns: 1922, 1923. Rows for First, Second, Third, Fourth quarters and Total.

Total increase $645.53 or 2.3 percent.

Abilene Business Men Plan Trade Excursion Trip

ABILENE, July 21.—Preliminary plans were drawn and enthusiastic endorsement given by more than forty members of the boards of directors of the Abilene chamber of commerce and West Texas Fair Association for a proposed Trade Trip to neighboring towns at a special meeting held at the chamber of commerce rooms Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Forty tickets costing $50 each, were pledged by those in attendance at the meeting.
 More than a score of towns will be visited on the trip, according to the plans presented and adopted at the meeting. A special train will carry the 125 Abilene boosters necessary to arrange for the trip. Four days will be required for its completion, the date being set for August 21-24 inclusive.

Route Is Adopted
 The meeting Thursday afternoon was called to order by President M. B. Hanks of the West Texas Fair Association, who announced that a meeting of the executive committee of the association the day previous had given endorsement to the move and that the routing of the trip had been placed in the hands of a committee composed of S. M. Shelton, W. J. Fuller and W. R. Keeble. The route was read by Mr. Shelton and includes Breckenridge, Ranger, Dublin, Brownwood, Ballinger, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Midland, Roscoe, Snyder, Plainview, Hamlin, Stamford and Haskell and all intervening towns, which will bring the total four days will be required for the trip, President Hanks said, the date for starting on the proposed visit having been set for August 21. Arrangements have been made for a special train, he said. One hundred twenty-five tickets must be sold at a cost of $50 each, this amount not including the cost of meals. The route calls for nearly one thousand miles to be traveled during the four days.

HAWKINS TO CONDUCT REVIVAL AT LORENZO

The Methodist revival starts Sunday in the big tabernacle at Lorenzo, Rev. W. E. Hawkins, Jr., of Fort Worth is the evangelist and Harlan J. Roper and wife will handle the music.
 Evangelist Hawkins has been called "the stormy Petrel of Texas" but he says his only text is John 3:16 and the 23rd Psalm.
 Rev. R. F. Dunn, pastor of the Methodist church of Lorenzo, has invited Rev. Hawkins to conduct the meeting for a period of two weeks.

Young People Will Meet At Methodist Church At 4 P.M.

"The Challenge of Despair" is the subject of the address which will begin the Young People's Open Forum which is to be held at the Methodist Church this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The topic will be discussed briefly by Rev. Charles W. Ferguson, acting pastor, and the remainder of the time will be devoted to a candid discussion of the problems of young people today.
 The Open Forum plan is a part of a tentative program which has as its object the bringing of the young people of the community into a clearer realization of what they may do with their lives. It will also be an effort to find out what the church may do to be of greater help to the youth of the city.

The discussion this afternoon will center about the distressing conditions which exist in life today and the possible relationships which young people may have toward them. Confusing problems in industrial, international and racial attitudes indicated by the speaker; then the house will be opened for candid expressions of opinion by any young people who are present. The young people of the city are invited—all between the ages of 17 and 35—regardless of denominational affiliation.

Men flared up as if "Please Remit" and "Final Notice" were our worst curse words.

A lot of folks talk about the "luck of the game."

In most cases it about evens up in the long run. Walter Hoover, the Duluth sculling star, who won the Diamond Sculls last year, lost this year to the same man in the same manner that he had won.

When Hoover and D. H. L. Gollan of Leanders were rowing the first heat in the race last year, Gollan's oar blade split and he was forced to drop out of the race, while Hoover continued on and won.

This year Hoover's oar split in the same heat.

TULIA TO HAVE NEW FOUR STAND COTTON GIN

Special to The Avalanche. TULIA, Texas, July 21.—Machinery will arrive about the first of August for a four stand gin. This will be received by Vaughn Bros. Their present two stand gin will be torn away and a new building built to house the new machinery.

When this building is finished and the new machinery installed we will have as good a gin as can be found anywhere in this country.

It is estimated that the cotton crop will be between 4,000 and 5,000 bales in Swisher county, and Vaughn Bros. will be able to handle this crop easily with their new equipment.

Special to The Avalanche. AUSTIN, July 20.—Dr. F. A. C. Perrin, adjunct professor of psychology in the University of Texas, will leave this week to teach in the University of Kansas during the second term of summer school.

BAPTISTS SHOW A BIG GROWTH IN EUROPE

By the United Press. STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 17.—Baptists from every continent are arriving in Sweden for the first international congress since the one held in Philadelphia, twelve years ago. Many have already arrived from the United States, Canada, Great Britain, and several hundred are enroute from countries of continental Europe.

More than 100 Russian Baptists, ministers and members of the laity are here with permission of the Soviet Government. It is reported that the baptists of Russia now number one million, whereas in the days of the Czar there were only 150,000.

While by far the largest single national representation are from the United States, Baptist leaders are stressing the denomination's growth in continental Europe since the war. According to Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke, Baptist Commissioner for Europe, with headquarters in London, the post-war period has witnessed one of the most phenomenal growths in religious history.

"In the year of Waterloo (1815) there was no Baptist church on the mainland of Europe," he said. (Europe in this instance is referred to exclusive of the British Isles).

"In 1850 there were about 4,000 church members.

"In 1900 the number had risen to about 220,000.

"In the year 1923 there are certainly not less than 1,250,000 and the number perhaps exceeds 2,000,000."

Bloodhounds are getting useless because they can't smell auto tires.

Where else could they put it.

Strong Friendly Helpful

Regardless of the amount of resources a bank has, it's strength depends mostly upon the ability to protect it's depositors. Most people know that banks, like other businesses, are operated for profit, and though it is the duty of a bank to first protect its owners—stockholders, it could not profit without giving its customers a strong, helpful and friendly service.

"HORSE-SENSE"

Most people know enough but few make an effort to put into actual practice the habits they know which bring about prosperity for themselves. Most people live for today alone. Sacrifices for future welfare are overlooked.

It isn't what you know that counts—it's what you do with your knowledge.
