

TWO NEGROES LODGED IN JAIL ON MINOR CHARGES BUT WILL BE HELD FOR ROBBERY OF E. J. WEBSTER

Hershel Hamilton, negro, was arrested at nine o'clock on the night of March 31st and Willie Smith, another negro said to be Hamilton's partner in several robberies, was arrested at two o'clock on the following day and are being held in the Lubbock county jail awaiting trial on a charge of robbery in connection with the holding up of E. J. Webster local man.

Webster was held on the night of February 23rd when he was going from his home to the courthouse, $27 in currency, $5 in silver and a 38 Colt's automatic pistol which he had just bought for the neat sum of $26, were taken from him.

Webster immediately reported the incident to local peace officers, and Deputy Sheriff U. L. George started working on the case and the arrests of the two negroes is the result of his efforts.

Deputy George suspicioned Hamilton immediately after the robbery was reported to him, but in order to make it possible to locate the negro's partner in the crime he did not arrest him until he had kept a watch on him long enough to arrest him on another charge, not letting the negro know he even suspicioned him as being in any way connected with the robbery. George arrested the negro on a charge of theft as he located a large trunk which had been stolen from the home of Dick Arnet, several weeks ago in the negro's house and through information gained by questioning him also without letting it be known that robbery was the charge, and after the two negroes had been lodged in jail evidence proving that they were the ones who had sold the revolver that had been stolen from Webster was established.

Hamilton had not been in Lubbock but a few days until the robbery which he is charged with instigating was reported to the officers. It is said that he had not been in Lubbock more than three days until he had been fined for gambling, and it is evident that in getting him lodged in jail on a robbery charge, which will probably lead to conviction and a penitentiary sentence, Deputy George has checked the activities of one of the most dangerous criminals that ever attempted to operate in this vicinity.

Willie Smith the negro who was arrested on another charge but who will be held in connection with the robbery, is well known to local officers but had not been considered as dangerous as evidence brought out against him by Deputy George proves him to be.

It is hoped that the arrest of these two negroes will prove the solution to the problem of checking highway robbery in Lubbock, as several have been reported during the past few weeks and much uneasiness on the part of local citizens compelled to be on the streets after dark has been evidenced.

METHODISTS LET CONTRACT FOR PARSONAGE

At a meeting of the building committee of the First Methodist church, Tuesday evening, John Gelin, local building contractor, was awarded the contract to construct a brick parsonage at the corner of Broadway and Avenue N.

The contract involves $12,000, the present parsonage property having been sold to the contractor as a payment on the new building.

The structure will be of the same color material and the same fittings as the church, which will give a corresponding appearance to all of the church property.

The need of a new parsonage has been felt for some time and the members of the congregation will be pleased to learn that such progress has been made, as to make building a splendid parsonage possible at this time.

Construction work will be started just as soon as the plans can be changed in a few instances, it was reported.

OFFICERS FIND CAR THAT WAS STOLEN SATURDAY

A Ford touring car which was stolen from Hub Jones, local business man, was located on the Lubbock-Abernathy road by officers Tuesday, and Mr. Jones returned the car to his place of business Wednesday morning.

The right front casing had been stolen, the bearing broken in that wheel, and the car was damaged to the extent that it will take about $100 worth of work to put it into as good condition as it was before the theft.

The car was taken from the curb near the Oakland Sales Company building on Main street at about sundown Saturday night, and would have in all probability been taken out of the country but for the fact that battery trouble was encountered by the thieves who abandoned the car after taking such parts of it as they could remove easily.

NOVEL PICTURE IS "CHILDREN OF JAZZ"

The manners, dress and customs of the folk of the 1850's are admirably shown in "Children of Jazz," a new Paramount picture, based on Harold Brighouse's play, "Other Times," which will be on view at the R. & R. Theatre today. Theodore Kosloff, Ricardo Cortez, Robert Cain and Eileen Percy all well known screen players are featured.

Richard Forestall, an adventurer, is the son of a queer man living on an island with a score or more of dependents, all of whom seemingly belong to the era of the Puritans. Their dress, manners and social customs are so radically different from those of today as to render them radically distinct. It is these folk, in the story that make "Children of Jazz" as different from the ordinary photoplay as day is from night.

It happens that Richard Forestall loves Babs Weston, daughter of a man of wealth. She is a modern jazz girl and when she engages herself to three men, Forestall renounces her in despair. She comes to the island with her jazz-loving

LUBBOCK CHURCH BUILDING PROGRAM IS TREMENDOUSLY SLOW.

We are told that nearly all of the churches have a building program of some kind on, but they seem to be making haste very slowly. None of the buildings today are large enough or properly equipped for the carrying on of Sunday school work as it should be.

"MAD" McLEAN

Edward B. McLean moved heaven and earth, as the saying is, to keep from testifying before the Senate investigating committee. He called on his friends at court to help him and they helped, but their help did not suffice, and so McLean, mad as a hornet, proceeded to sting.

What is the matter with republican leaders? Can it be true that they are trembling with fear that further revelations will confirm the truth of what now seems to be insolent calumnies? Or are they craven weaklings who are afraid to stand up for truth and right because of a selfish desire to keep their own individual names out of the current scandals?

Whatever the answers that may be offered to these questions, it is a remarkable fact that a Senate with a republican majority, after voting the investigation of the oil leases and of Daugherty, has left the investigation to the Democrats, the republican members, although with power to dominate, standing mutely in the background.

We read that, though many members of Great Britain's labor government at first snorted with contempt at the mention of court uniforms and scorned even ordinary evening clothes, one by one they have capitulated and fallen into line after patronizing expensive tailors.

PERSHING'S WAR BOOK.

Months ago General Pershing left his address with the American embassy in Paris and disappeared 'somewhere in France' to write a book on the part the American army played in the World War, free from interruption and in needed quiet. Now it is announced that his labors are ended, and no doubt the book will soon be in the hands of the reading public.

General Pershing may be expected to answer his critics, to discuss his advocacy of unity of command and his insistence upon the employment of the American army on its own front, but his book is doubtless for the most part a story of deeds, and it will be the more interesting for that reason.

YES, AND THEN SOME.

A very conservative citizen of this city, in speaking about the great need of cement walks in this city, states that the Avalanche was exactly right in regard to needing twenty-five miles of walks, and added, yes, and then some.

FRANCE RICHER BECAUSE OF WAR.

France has made a marvelous recovery from the effects of the war. According to the biggest bankers French national assets have been largely increased as a result of the war. Alsace-Lorraine gave France the iron ore domination of Europe, a powerful steel industry, oil and vast potash reserves. It should not be overlooked that France, too, increased the size of her colonial domain through the war by more than 1,000,000 square miles to the total of 5,114,138 square miles.

Bishop Manning is not only worried by the expressed views of 'modernist' clergymen in his diocese but has on his hands the problem of Rev. Dr. Guthrie of St. Mark's church, New York, who may be more or less accurately described as a devotee of pagan forms of worship.

"As my American friends say, it is real good of you" Premier Ramsay MacDonald. Did he mean that we should say "really good"—as obviously we should—or would he recommend the English "jolly good?"

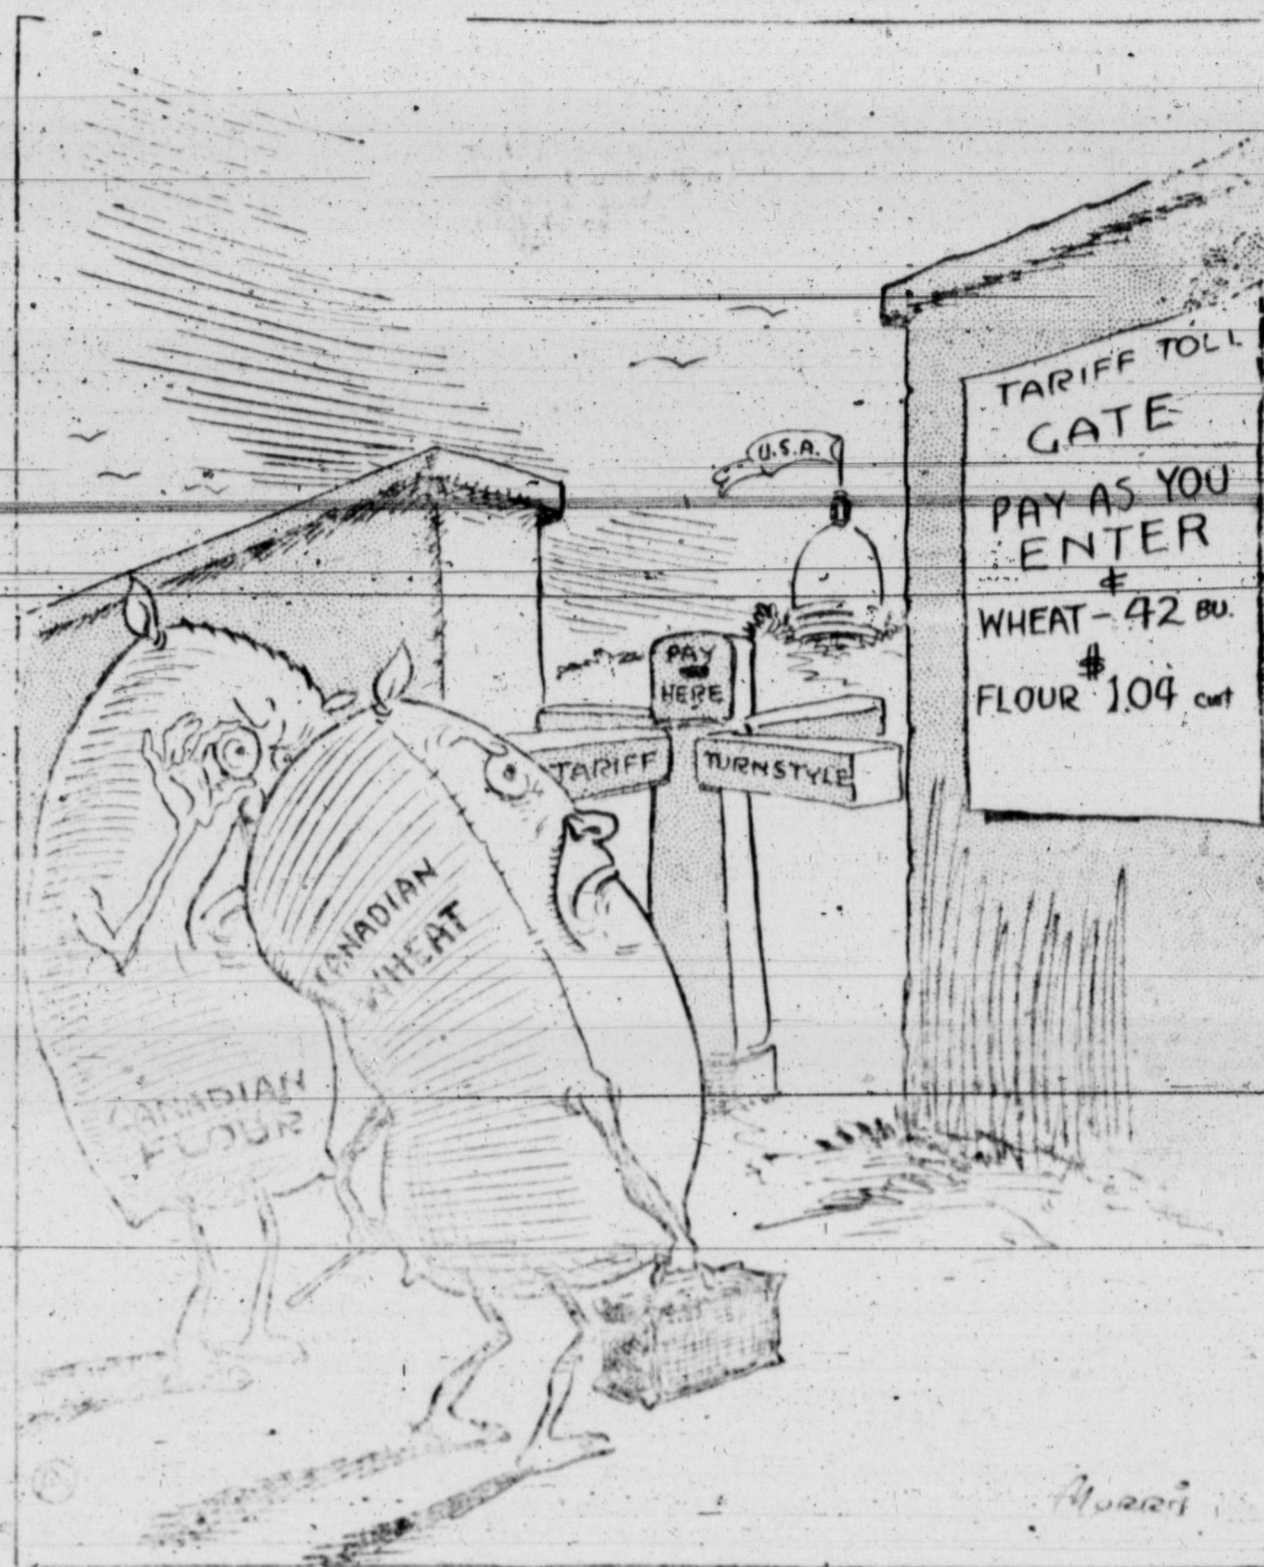

Little Avalanches

The Michigan supreme court did well to uphold the right of the state normal school to expel one of its girl pupils for smoking cigarettes. Unless we watch ourselves some high school girl will battle for her right to carry a flask on the hip.

CHICAGO, April 2.—With the advantage shifting back and forth in the last three minutes of play, the Windsor-Columbia has defeated the Warrensburg, Mo., team 27 to 22 in the most striking game of the day play at the national interscholastic basketball tournament here.

In the final seconds of play the Windsor five made two long shots for the winning tally.

In a slow and listless contest the Pittsfield, Mass. team beat the aggregation from Rock Springs, Wyo. 27 to 12.

In what experts declared was the most hotly contested game of the tournament so far, the Oak Cliff High five of Dallas, Texas, defeated the Homestead, Pa., team 35 to 30. Dallas led 11 to 3 at the end of the first half, but the third quarter ended in a 13-13 tie, the Pennsylvanians displaying dazzling speed.

At the close of the fourth period the score was 21-21. The first extra period ended with the score 29-29. In the second extra frame, Dallas forged ahead. Campbell, D. of Dallas, scored 15 points.

Yanktown, S. D., beat the Chattanooga, Tenn. five 19-16. Detroit beat Charleston 45-21.

Soux City, Ia., defeated Batavia, Mo., 36 to 20.

Fargo, N. D., won from the Lexington, Ky., five 22 to 21.

This contest was hard fought throughout. The accurate basket shooting of the westerners proved too much for the southern five.

Pangotich of Utah beat Tampa 19 to 17. Tampa rallied near the end of the game and came near winning.

The Two Harbors, Minn., five beat the Jackson, Mich., messes 25 to 24.

The Elgin, Ill., team was easy for the cagers from Emporia Kan., which romped away with the game 30 to 15.

Members of the board of directors of the South Plains Fair Association headed by President Chris Harwell, accompanied by representatives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce members of the city commission, made an inspection visit to the fair grounds Wednesday afternoon.

Plans for conducting the coming fair were discussed pro and con and while no definite action on the matter was taken at this meeting, much good resulted from the inspection and those present understood more thoroughly what must be done in planning for the fair.

It is probable that entrance to the fair grounds will be made differently to last year and a parking space for automobiles will be provided.

All the carnival and amusement places will be established north west of the exhibit halls, and it will be necessary for all who enter the grounds to pass the exhibit halls in going to the places where the carnival will be located. This will be a noticeable improvement over last year's arrangement.

Lubbock's neat appearance is one of the most attractive features of our city and in this connection it is well that we give all those who are responsible for this neatness due credit for their labors.

B. N. Moore, of the Leader Department Store, has just completed arrangements of a well selected and substantial line of merchandise in the six large windows of that store, and with the place illuminated with electric lights it presents an appearance that is not rivaled by stores in cities several times the size of Lubbock.

Especially is the window in which Stetson and No Mame hats are displayed attractive to the men who pass that way, while ladies ready-to-wear and nice goods are arranged in such manner as to attract the least observing matron.

These features of the Leader Department Store add much to the appearance of that store and to the general appearance of Lubbock and the artistic arrangement reflects well upon the ability and training of Mr. Moore.

LAMESA MAN VISITED SCHOOL-DAY FRIEND

Henry Fulton, prominent resident of Lamesa was here the first of the week to place his daughter, Sarah, in a local sanitarium to be under treatment of specialists.

Mr. Fulton visited James L. Dow, editor of the Avalanche, the two having attended school together in Lampasas county a number of years ago and were pleased with the opportunity to talk of the happy incidents of those "good old days."

Mr. Fulton was assured that his visit was appreciated and urged to call at the Avalanche office at any time while in Lubbock.

FIVE YEAR OLD GIRL SLIGHTLY INJURED BY AUTO HERE TUESDAY

Ruth, the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stanfill, of Lubbock, was run down and painfully injured by an automobile late Tuesday afternoon.

The little girl had thrown a bucket lid into the air to see it sail and when it fell in the street at the front of her home she ran after it, and did not see an automobile that was approaching her. Meantime the driver of the car had just leaned to one side of his machine to close a door which had swung open and did not see the little girl. He felt the vibration of the car when it struck her and on looking back to see what had occurred he saw that his car has passed over her body. She fell face down when the car struck her. An ugly gash was cut in the back of her head, while her face, hands and body received minor cuts and bruises.

Her wounds, however painful, are not considered serious and she will, no doubt be able to be about again within a few days.

The local Elks will give a dance next Friday night at the Elks Hall for Elks and their families only. Music by West Texas Star Orchestra. Fine music and a good time assured.

Mr. Wells will have charge of sales of the Phoenix products handled by the Rix company and will be materially helped by the information to be gained through hearing the talks that will be made at this convention.

The convention will be held at the Jefferson hotel and will begin Friday morning at ten o'clock and continue until Saturday afternoon.

The citizens of the community went to work and made temporary repairs and are planning a new brick school building before the time for another school term.

PECK CONNECTS DAUGHERTY IN LAND CASE

By United News.
WASHINGTON, April 2.—For the first time the sensational testimony before the committee investigating the department of justice directly reached former Attorney General Daugherty four days after his resignation from office.

Daugherty was accused by H. M. Peck, former United States district attorney for Western Oklahoma of delaying and later preventing jail sentences in the case of land fraud charges against the Miller Brothers, managers of the famous "101 Ranch." Peck said that in four years as district attorney he had never seen an attorney general take such a personal interest in a case.

Due to the failure to prosecute the case, the Miller Brothers still hold lands worth more than $250,000 and have paid fines of only $10,000, he said. Peck said he recommended that they be put in the penitentiary.

The case against George L. Miller and four associates, he explained, was brought in 1920. They were charged with getting possession fraudulently of 100,000 acres of land valued at $50 an acre, Peck said. Peck was told that they obtained deeds to the land by letting the Indian owners run up bills at their store.

The brothers would then have them sign a deed, he said. The Indians thought they were signing a note or mortgage. When the case was ready for trial in May, 1923, Peck said he received a "personal" letter from Daugherty, directing that it be continued until fall.

When the case was brought up he said he received an order from the attorney general not to make any recommendations for the court as to sentences and to dismiss the cases against Zack and Joe Miller.

COTTONSEED MEAL and HULLS

There is no question but that cottonseed meal grows in popularity as its intrinsic value becomes known. There is no foodstuff known that will place the same amount of fat on cattle within so short a time as cottonseed meal combined with cottonseed hulls, and this fact is recognized wherever this feed is used. When fed to dairy cows, its use increases the quantity of milk, improves the color, and the cream therefrom makes richer and better butter.

BILL TO ESTABLISH FEDERAL CODE TO REGULATE CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS BE OFFERED IN CONGRESS

(EDITORS' NOTE: One important by-product of the scandal investigations is an acute interest in the ethics of large campaign contributions and the relationship between personal wealth and public office. Bills are now being prepared for consideration in congress. Wm. J. Bryan has begun a campaign for legislation. In a series of dispatches, the United News will describe the way recent political campaigns were financed by large interests, proposed methods of regulation and arguments presented for and against such regulation which will figure in the forthcoming debate in congress.)

By RAYMOND CLARPER
(Copyrighted 1924 by UN.)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Bills establishing a federal code to regulate campaign contributions and the relationship between personal wealth and public office are to be presented to congress before long as one of the important by-products of the scandal investigation.

These measures will be presented at this time chiefly for the purpose of providing a basis of discussion out of which it is hoped legislation will develop either at the short session next December or in the next congress that follows.

Congress Deeply Impressed
Attention was focused upon this general question when the senate, in its final verdict on the Newberry case, made a formal declaration, deploring large campaign expenditures, but the necessity of giving thorough consideration to the problem, has been more deeply impressed upon congress by these recent incidents:

1. Disclosure before the oil investigating committee of heavy campaign contributions to both parties by Henry B. Sinclair, and E. L. Doheny, who either before or after these contributions received, valuable oil leases through favor of federal officials.

2. Discussion of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's private business connections in view of the old law prohibiting men with active business interests from holding the treasury portfolio.

3. William G. McAdoo's employment as counsel for E. L. Doheny at a salary of $150,000 a year and his withdrawal from this relationship when the oil men testified that he gave Albert B. Fall $100,000.

4. John W. Davis' refusal to abandon J. Pierpont Morgan and Company as his clients when urged to do so on the assumption that it would make him a stronger candidate for the democratic presidential nomination.

5. Statement from the white house that President Coolidge is having difficulty in finding a $100,000 a year lawyer to become attorney general at a salary of $12,000.

Many Questions Faced.
Here are some of the questions which must be considered in shaping regulatory legislation:

1. Do campaign funds influence acts of public servants?

2. Should all federal officials be compelled by law to withdraw from all active business investment and place their money in government securities?

3. Should candidates for public office—either elective or appointive—be compelled by law to reveal their personal financial relations prior to their election or appointment?

4. Should primary and election campaigns be financed out of public funds as one necessary cost of government?

Those favoring legislation said that as election campaigns are now financed candidates must be subsidized privately in order to meet the expenses imposed by present day campaigns. Those opposed to regulations say that on the whole public officials are patriotic and honest and that the dishonesty of a few should not stand as an indictment of all that regulation as proposed by some of the opposers in school would be a heavy burden on the public treasury.

Campaigns Very Costly.
According to the Kenyon campaign expenditures investigating committee, the republicans spent $8,000,000 to finance the national

ROTARY CLUB MEMBERS MEET IN WEEKLY LUNCHEON

The Lubbock Rotarians met yesterday in their weekly luncheon, and as usual enjoyed the occasion very much. The ladies of the Baptist church served the meal and it was one of the best that has ever been spread, and this was one reason that the Rotarians enjoyed the hour as well as they did, for outside of the social feature of the occasion and the splendid eats, there was no set program rendered, and no one there seemed to feel any responsibility for the hour.

The attendance was very slim, partly because of the number of the Rotarians were out of town, some of which were attending the District Convention at Wichita Falls, and others on various missions out of town. There were a number of visitors present, and among them, the husband of the head of the Motor Company, Lubbock, J. B. Cardwell, Dodge Motor Company, Plainview, E. W. Shattuck, of Oklahoma, Roy Cullum of Amarillo, guest of Edgar Inman; O. L. Slaton of the Lubbock State Bank, guest of Walter Posey; H. G. Love, guest of J. O. Jones; George C. Wolfarth, guest of Chris Harwell; Geo. Mulkey, N. L. Peters; Harold De Moss, Federal Reserve bank examiner, Neil Wright, D. F. Eaton, county farm demonstration agent, guest of R. F. Karper.

Neal Wright, acting chairman, in the absence of President Roscoe Wilson, urged the chairman of the entertainment and program committee to be sure that a program was prepared for all future meetings.

Jed Rix called the roll of those present giving the classification of each, some of which he seemed to have badly scrambled, but made a very honorable get away with it, and we hardly expect that there will be anything serious developed from it.

President P. W. Horn of the Texas Tech became a member of the club being a member before he came here at Houston, and Mr. Haynes of the firm of Peters and Haynes was also admitted as a member as an associate under the classification of architects.

OPPOSITION TO NEW ATTORNEY GEN'L VOICED

A careful investigation. The investigation will be taken up next Monday by the committee.

Nominations of cabinet officers are usually given prompt and formal approval when reported to the senate. However, because of the recent investigation, a very careful surveillance now is kept on all government officials and this has been reflected in the rejection by the senate of several recent appointments.

"I had hoped for the appointment of Judge Kenyon," Senator Capper of Kansas, successor to the Iowan as head of the farm bloc, said. He would have made a fine attorney general.

Asked as to the likelihood of a fight on Stone, he answered that he had made no inquiries but could not tell "what might develop."

"Big Business Controls Capital"
"This appointment still shows that big business controls the white house," Senator Pat Harrison, democrat of Mississippi said.

The appointee severed his connection with the firm of Satterlee Canfield and Stone last spring, and has rejoined a firm which he had formerly been a member, Sullivan and Cromwell. Wm. Nelson Cromwell appeared in a congressional investigation many years ago in connection with the transfer of the Panama canal to the United States. He acted as counsel for the new Panama canal company of France in the transfer. His exceptionally large fee caused comment at the time.

Stone, powerfully built, aggressive type, is 51 years old. His friendship with the president dates back to their college days, Stone graduating a year ahead of Coolidge from Amherst in 1894. After graduation he joined the firm of Sullivan and Cromwell. Shortly afterward, he became a member of the firm which was then Wilmer and Canfield, later becoming Wilmer, Canfield and Stone. Satterlee later joined the firm, it being shown in "who's who" since 1916 that the firm has been Satterlee, Canfield and Stone until the recent withdrawal of Stone.

Stone became dean of the Columbia law school in 1910 after several years as a lecturer and a professor.

Most insurgent declined to make public comment until they have learned all about Stone's connections. Neither Brookhart of Iowa, chairman of the committee investigating the department of justice, nor Senator Wheeler, of Montana, prosecutor, would say anything positively.

Brookhart said he would have to learn about Stone's career before deciding whether he regarded him qualified to handle the situation at the department of justice which has been disclosed before the committee.

Stone Withholds Comment
NEW YORK, April 2.—Harlan F. Stone, selected by President Coolidge to replace Harry M. Daugherty as attorney general will wait until the senate acts on his nomination before commenting on his prospective assumption of office.

Returning to his home here Wednesday night from Washington, Stone said he probably will have a formal statement after the senate had acted, but implied that he did not wish to be premature.

Says Action is Parochial.
CHICAGO, Ill., April 2.—President Coolidge's appointment of Harlan Fiske Stone, as attorney general brought sarcastic comment from Harold L. Ickes, campaign manager for Senator Johnson, here.

"It must be gratifying to the president to find that he does not have to go outside of the alumni of his own college and the Atlantic seaboard to choose his chief aides and counselors," said Ickes. Coolidge's act in ignoring the middle west in the appointment, Ickes declared, is "parochial". He asserted ironically that probably Dwight Morrow, another Amherst graduate and a J. P. Morgan partner, doubtless advised the Stone selection.

Bad weather kept out of the totals many anti-Coolidge rural votes in both South Dakota and Wisconsin, Ickes added by way of a parting shot.
