TERRY CO. "OUTLAW" CAPTURED

LOCAL DUCHESS AND MAID OF HONOR CHOSEN

LUBBOCK HEADQUARTERS AT BROWNWOOD CHOSEN BY COMMITTEE

At a meeting held Wednesday night of the central committee in charge of the "On To Brownwood" campaign, the Duchess and Maid of Honor, who will represent Lubbock at the coronation of the Queen of West Texas at the sixth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, were selected. These are: Miss Kathryn Atkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Atkins, as Duchess, and Miss Mary Alice Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Johnson, as Maid of Honor.

These young ladies were selected by the committee by sealed ballot, from a dozen or more nominations for the honor. They will be permitted to select their own escort for the occasion.

The event in which these young ladies will take part will be one of the outstanding features of the entire convention. It will be an illuminated parade and coronation ceremony to be followed by probably the most exclusive society event ever held in connection with an affair of this kind in the Southwest, and will be closed by a ball in honor of the Queen of West Texas and her court. This latter feature will be staged at the request of many West Texas friends for one strictly society assembly during the convention. It has been announced that central committee headquarters at Brownwood.

The Queen's ball will be held on the main floor of the auditorium and will be strictly a society affair, and participants must appear in full dress, according to a dispatch from the committee at Brownwood. A limited number of seats also are for sale for the coronation ceremony.

It is pointed out by the local committee that all arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the Duchess and Maids at the Howard Payne College has given one entire floor of the Ladies' dormitory for their accommodation, and the parents of the young ladies are assured the best of chaperonage for the occasion.

Headquarters Named
Brownwood to an announcement made from the local offices of the Chamber of Commerce, Brownwood headquarters for the Lubbock delegation have been named. This will be the Kendall Hardware Co., which is on Center Avenue, and will be in the very heart of all activities during the convention. The building is a thirty foot front well lighted, and one of the most popular trading centers of the city.

Committees Direct in Duty
Several of the ticket selling committees are apparently asleep at the switch, it was pointed out at headquarters.

MERGER OF GULF SHIP LINES PROBABLE

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Preliminary conferences between managing operators and the Emergency Fleet Corporation, looking toward a consolidation of steamship lines operating in the gulf region, have been started here and will continue throughout the week.

Rear Admiral Leigh H. Palmer, president of the Fleet Corporation, declared Wednesday that the conferences had not yet reached the stage which actual consolidation would be discussed, but as yet neither corporation or the operators have indicated concretely what is wanted. Operators at the meeting were:

Parry, Jr., and Phillip Shore, of the Tampa Inter-ocean Steamship company, Tampa, Georgia Plant and Lafonta, New Orleans; T. R. Hancock, of Spritovich and company, Galveston, Texas and Thomas F. PROTEST IN U. S. EXCLUSION VOICED

OSAKA, Japan, April 23.—Resolutions protesting against American exclusion of Japanese were passed at meetings of the United States Chambers of Commerce at Kyoto, according to dispatches received here.

Twenty thousand persons attended a protest meeting here Wednesday. The meeting was held under the auspices of the newspapers Man ichi, Asahi, Jiji and Kansai Nippo and the Federation of Trade Associations.

Resolutions adopted by meeting were cabled to President Coolidge and to chambers of commerce in the United States, Journalists, politicians, educators and business men addressed the meeting. Many similar demonstrations are being held throughout Japan but no hostile acts are reported. The gatherings are moderate and restrained the dominant note of speakers being that international friendship should be preserved regardless of the outcome of the present situation. This attitude, however, does not alter the fact that the people unanimously oppose the American legislation.

The whole nation is anxiously awaiting the decision of President Coolidge in the matter.

Oklahoma to Support Coolidge
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 23.—Oklahoma's nine delegates to the National GOP convention will support President Coolidge according to the terms of a resolution adopted late Wednesday at the state republican convention.

SOLDIER BONUS PASSES SENATE

BILL EMBODIES INSURANCE PLAN WITH SLIGHT AMENDMENTS

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The senate has passed the soldier bonus bill, based on an insurance plan similar to that which was approved by the house recently.

The vote was 67 to 17. Those voting against the measure were: Republicans—Ball, Delaware; Bohah, Idaho; Edge, New Jersey; Ernst, Kentucky; Fernald, Maine; Pepper, Pennsylvania; Smoot, Utah; Wadsworth, New York. Democrats—Bayard, Delaware; Bruce, Maryland; Dial, South Carolina; Edwards, New Jersey; Glass, Virginia; King, Utah; Shields, Tennessee; Swanson, Virginia; Underwood, Alabama.—9.

This was more than the two-thirds necessary to pass the measure over a presidential veto, but whether there would be changes in the vote in case of a veto is uncertain. Before approving the bill finally the senate rejected an attempt by a number of democrats to substitute a cash bonus, proposed by Copeland of New York.

This effort was rejected 47 to 38. As the bill stands it carries 20 year endowment insurance bonus payable to those who served over 110 days, with cash payment for those who served less.

The measure now goes to conference where differences between the senate and house bills are to be adjusted. As these discrepancies are of minor character little delay is expected in completing this phase of the work. Then the measure will go to the White House.

This is the second time that congress has sent a bonus bill to the executive. Coolidge has declared himself against the principle of a bonus but has expressed no specific view regarding an insurance bonus. Bonus advocates claim enough votes to override a veto in both houses.

Twelve senators were absent. Eight of those all republicans, were present. Penroot, of Wisconsin, Couzens, of Michigan; Watson, of Indiana, and Johnson, of California, for the bill, and Reed of Pennsylvania; Weller of Maryland; Green, of Vermont, and Moses, New Hampshire, against.

Their colleagues announced for three other absentees that they would have voted for the bill had they been present. These were: Robinson of Arkansas, and Reed, of Missouri, democrats; and Harold of Oklahoma, republican. No statement was made for Senator LaFollette, republican of Wisconsin who was absent.

Immediately after the cash option had been defeated, a storm of indignation arose from several demerats who had voted for it, one after another rising in his place and holding up final action on the bill much to the resentment of republican leaders.

The vote on the bill was delayed until nearly six o'clock.

COMMANDER U. S. FLYERS HALTED FOR REPAIRS

DUTCH HARBOR, Unalaska, April 23.—Bad weather prevailing here Wednesday gave the trio of American-round the world flyers little hope that their commander, Major Fredk. L. Martin would arrive during the day from Kanatka where he has been delayed for repairs to his machine.

Major Martin, forced down a week ago on the way from Sitka to Chignik, was towed to Kanatka while his companion flyers went their way to Dutch Harbor, where provision had been made to take care of their machines and make them ready for a continuation of the flight.

Sunday and Monday, the worst storm of the winter was sweeping the Alaskan coast and its aftermath made it a hazardous trip.

TEXARKANA YOUTH KILLED BY BROTHER

TEXARKANA, Texas, April 23.—Floyd Roberts, 12, was shot and instantly killed by his brother Willie 9, at Shiloh church 8 miles east of here Wednesday. The boys, sons of W. D. Roberts, well known farmer of this section were alone in a room. Floyd was combing his hair before a mirror when the rifle with which Willie was playing, mysteriously discharged.

The bullet entered the back of the head and came out through the left eye, causing almost instant death.

WILL WORD, CONFESSED SLAYER OF TAHOKA DOCTOR SURRENDERED WED. FOLLOWING ALL-DAY ATTACK BY POSSE; TWO OF POSSE SHOT

Will Word, noted Terry county gunman, whose depredations during the past three days have taken a toll of one life, and seriously wounded two more, one of whom it is believed will die, now is peeping from behind the iron bars in the Lubbock county jail here, following an all-day attack by a posse of more than 150 men, which he successfully warded off until about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when he was forced to surrender at the points of a dozen or more guns.

About six o'clock Wednesday evening, following a grueling questioning by Sheriff Bud Johnston, and County Attorney Owen McWhorter, of Lubbock county, Word confessed to the whole affair, saying that he had shot Dr. Windham Monday night, and that he had planned to kill several more of the ranch employes, included in which list was the foreman, and McCormick whom he shot early Wednesday morning, and who is not expected to live. He said he wanted to kill them because he believed they wanted to poison him.

BITTER ATTACK IS MADE ON CONGRESS

FREMONT, Mich., April 23.—In another defense of his action in the naval oil reserve leases, Edwin Denby, former secretary of the navy, tonight launched an attack upon congress for passing the Walsh resolution declaring the leases illegal and calling upon the president to employ counsel to sue for their annulment.

Denby spoke before the Newyago county republican committee. He assailed party irregulars, demanded the repeal of the direct primary law and said that "the very roots of the republican form of government are threatened by such a deluge of villification and persecution as we have been witness to in the last session."

Denby also asserted his firm opposition to any attempt to modify the prohibition law except in making it harder to evade and better enforced among all classes.

Turning to congress' attack upon the oil leases, Denby declared: "The opinion of the members of congress as to the legality of an act done in pursuance of an act of congress is of no legal value whatever. Congress legislates, the courts interpret the law. The courts cannot make law and congress cannot hand down legal opinions."

Denby characterized as a "plain lie" the charge against him that he knew nothing about the leasing of the naval petroleum reserves and simply signed the leases to make them seem to be legal while the other people who signed the leases conspired together to cheat the government.

Another falsehood, he added, was the charge made on the floor of the senate that he "punished" naval officers because they disagreed with him.

YOUTH KILLS FATHER WHO BEATS HIS MOTHER

CHICAGO, Ill., April 23.—Aroused by his mother's screams, Dominick Galuzza, 16, obtained a revolver and killed his father, who was beating her at their home here Wednesday night.

Then the lad ran out and told a police his father had just shot himself. The officers found the father dead. He had been shot through the heart.

Later at the police station, young Galuzza admitted he shot his father "to save his mother."

BRUSSELS, April 23.—Belgium has informed the reparations commission that she accepts the experts' report in its entirety. It is intimated in official circles that Premier Theunis will go to Paris shortly to confer with Premier Poincare on the reparations commission.

DR. WINDHAM KILLED MONDAY NIGHT IS THE ONLY CASUALTY THUS FAR

Ben R. McCormick, 30-year-old ranch employe, is in a local sanitarium, believed mortally wounded, and T. H. Moore, Brownfield well driller, was shot in the back, but will recover, according to physicians.

Windham's body was found near his ranch home Monday night, riddled with bullets and an examination showed that .22 calibre bullets had inflicted the wounds.

Word calmly crossed his legs in the county jail here Wednesday night in a casual manner told of murdering Dr. S. H. Windham, wealthy ranchman, and revealed his plans to annihilate an entire family.

The prisoner, who had spent the day in a pig sty on the Windham ranch headquarters near Brownfield, under machine gun and rifle fire of a posse of 150 soldiers and deputies, readily answered all questions asked him.

Laboring under the impression that the foreman of the Windham ranch where he was employed and other employes were planning to poison him, Word said he launched his "revenge campaign." On Monday, he told the officers, he met Windham on a road near the ranch.

In answer to a question of his employer as to whether he wanted to "take a ride," Word said he fired seven shots into Windham's body.

After the murder, according to Word's story to the officers, he hid in a cluster of cactus and sage brush all day Tuesday and under the protection of nightfall, crept to the Windham ranch to murder the foreman. After slaying the foreman, Word said he had intended to kill Ben McCormick a 30 year old ranch hand and then kill a few others according to his confession. He arose early Wednesday morning after spending the night in the boiler room, and when McCormick went to feed the stock he fired three shots at him, all taking effect. McCormick was brought to a hospital here where his condition was reported critical Wednesday night.

Word, according to his story, then took refuge in the pig sty near the dipping vat. He had two revolvers, a rifle, and many rounds of ammunition when National Guardsmen and deputy sheriffs arrived.

Then the battle began. Machine guns were brought into play and a tattoo was played on the surrounding buildings wherein it was thought Word was hiding yet the fugitive refused to raise the white flag of surrender.

T. H. Moore, a deputy, was slightly wounded during the battle. He will recover.

A large posse of officers spent all Monday night and Tuesday in an effort to locate a one legged man who had been employed on the ranch and who was known to have purchased a .22 rifle at Brownfield on Monday.

They were unsuccessful in their efforts however, and nothing was seen of the man until Wednesday morning at six o'clock when McCormick went to the ranch barn to feed the hogs. He found the one legged man, who later gave his name as Will Word, whereupon Word, opened fire with his rifle and shot McCormick through the right shoulder.

McCormick was rushed to a local sanitarium and late reports were more favorable than those issued shortly after he reached here about noon.

The discovery of Word at the Windham ranch caused hundreds of farmers, ranchmen and peace officers to rush to the scene, but they were unable to locate Word, who kept up a steady but not frequent fire from his rifle. Due to the fact that he used smokeless powder and to the smallness of the calibre of his rifle, no location could be gained through watching, and all who ventured near the lot in which he was barricaded were fired upon.

Sheriff Bud Johnston who had spent all day Tuesday in the vicinity of the Windham ranch helping other officers work on the case, but who returned to his home here Tuesday night to bring home one of his deputies who had taken ill during the search, received a call from Terry county officers early Wednesday morning that the alleged murderer had been located but that more than usual means of effecting his arrest would have to be employed. Sheriff Johnston conferred with 1st Lieutenant M. M. Mitchell of Battery C, 131st Field Artillery, and they decided that a machine gun could be used to advantage in the raid.

Lieutenant Mitchell issued a "law and order" call and in less than thirty minutes they had everything ready for the raid. 1st Lieutenant H. H. Griffith, and Lewis Kittrell together with former battery captain Ernest Conley answered the call and were rushed to the Windham ranch which is twelve miles southeast of Brownfield.

Sheriff Johnston and the battery men were accompanied on the trip by Deputy Sheriff Vernice Ford and Lem Chesser.

When the Lubbock officers reached the ranch they found more than five hundred men gathered about the ranch, most of whom were armed.

The machine gun was stationed in the loft of the barn, and had a range of the boiler building in which Word was last seen. More than a thousand rounds of ammunition were fired into this building, the machine gun, revolvers and Winchester having been kept centered on it from the time the machine gun was put into action at 11:30 o'clock until two o'clock. One of the officers decided that the alleged murderer, was not hiding in this building, and armed with a Winchester ventured near enough to it to throw the door open to find that it was not occupied.

This incident occurred about two o'clock and despite the fact that gas bombs had been ordered from Roswell, New Mexico, and would have been delivered to the ranch by three o'clock, the posse got too impatient to wait longer, and some twenty of the officers made a raid on the boiler building, a dipping vat in which Word was also believed to have been hiding, and in fact swarmed into all parts of the lot. Sheriff Bud Johnston of Lubbock is believed to have been the first to see Word, and when he fired a

I'M GLAD TO MEET YOU

"I'm glad to meet you!" Thus we say,
And this from strangers' lips we hear
When introduced along the way—
A phrase that's old and dear.
We catch the name our friends repeat,
Two hands in newborn friendship meet.
With this the other each will greet:
"I'm glad to meet you!"

"I'm glad to meet you!" Day by day
As strangers we shall pass no more;
From this beginning who can say
Just what the future has in store?
New bonds of friendship may be tied,
Perhaps our paths may soon divide,
But now we utter, side by side:
"I'm glad to meet you!"

Can this be but an empty phrase,
A sentence, formal and polite,
A relic of Victorian days
I often think it is, and yet,
Sometime, somewhere, it was you
I met
And told the friend you can't forget:
"I'm glad to meet you!"

"I'm glad to meet you," here's my hand,
But time must prove the worth of friends,
And you and I well understand
How soon a mere acquaintance ends.
So when the years have flown away,
God grant you may recall today,
Run through my book of life, and say:
"I'm glad to meet you!"

GENERAL STRIKE IN ARGENTINE PROBABLE

By United Press
BUENOS AIRES, April 23.—A general strike is threatened in the Argentine Republic if the government carried out plans to enforce the new pensions law whereby everyone who has worked for 25 years in any capacity is entitled to quit work and retire on a full salary life pension.
 The pension law nominally went into effect the first of the month but no one took advantage of its glowing terms as no arrangements had been made to pay the pension. The law, however, carries a clause providing that everyone in the country with the exception of minors and domestic servants contribute 5 per cent of their earnings to a general fund to be administered by the government.
 This, in the view of the populace, is the joker in the scheme. People who have still 24 years to work before they can get a pension are inclined to object to the fact that they may have to begin sacrificing five per cent of their salaries next month.
 It is reliably reported that president Alvear, is determined to enforce the law and that an attempt will be made the first of May to collect the five per cent from all wages and salaries.
 Socialists here have passed resolutions in favor of a general strike and a number of isolated strikes have already been called as a protest against the collection of the per centage. The employers association, meanwhile, has expressed disapproval of the law. The almost universal objections are based on the ground that there are no guarantees that the pensions will ever be paid.
 The government is carrying on a strenuous propaganda in favor of the measure, but is finding support only among federal and municipal job holders.

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 23.—The El Paso and Southwestern Railroad is acquiring terminal facilities in Los Angeles as part of its plan to extend the line to the Pacific coast, according to the announcement here today of John H. Page, vice-president of the Tucson, Phoenix and Tidewater railroad.
 The El Paso line, as one move in its extension scheme, has acquired the capital stock of the T. P. & T. road, Page stated. This purchase gives the former system a connecting link for its new transcontinental line to Los Angeles, when the Tucson road is completed.

SPECIAL SESSION WOULD AMEND GAS TAX

TOPEKA, Kans., April 23.—A special legislative session to amend the state constitution and provide for a gasoline tax which would be submitted for approval of the public in November elections, was requested by officials of Greenwood county in an appeal sent out to commissioners of every county in the state Tuesday.
 Commissioners in each section were requested in the letter to urge members of the legislative body to impress upon Governor Davis the importance of the special session for the gasoline tax. The money derived from the tax will be spent in building better roads.

ITCHING ECZEMA GONE

People who have endured tortures from itching eczema will be happy to learn that a means of relief has been perfected and is already enjoying unheard-of popularity on account of the quick way it gets rid of the awful disease of the skin which nobody seemed able to figure out before.
 Most all dealers have been forced to get a supply of this Black and White Ointment on account of the tremendous demand which has already reached the mammoth rate of nearly two million packages a year in its sales. MODIFICATION OF EMBARGO MAY BE ASKED

By United News.

EL PASO, Texas, April 23.—Modification of the Texas foot and mouth disease embargo affecting interstate shipments from California, unless rigid inspection and packing requirements are complied with, is being sought by local commercial interests and railroads operating through here. No inspector has been placed here to enforce the embargo, it is pointed out, and the railroads are trying to live up to the requirements according to W. S. Dawson, general freight agent of the El Paso and Southwestern system.
 A strict enforcement of the embargo, it is pointed out, would stop a large tonnage of freight business through here to eastern states cutting heavily into revenue and might cause a reduction in working forces.

Considerable anxiety is expressed over the situation with reference to the California Melon crop which begins to move about the middle of next month and which it is estimated will aggregate some 15,000 carloads. Shipment of California products through Texas in sealed cars cannot endanger the state, according to telegrams that have been sent the sanitary board and Governor Pat Neff.

Arizona and New Mexico authorities have notified the El Paso and Southwestern that shipments of California products stored in El Paso prior to November 1, can move into those states. This will

FRANCE AWAITING COMMITTEE DECISION IN OPERATION REPAIRATIONS PLAN

By United News.

PARIS, April 23.—Premier Poincare has informed President Barthou of the reparations commission that the French government is disposed to do everything necessary to assure the success of the experts' proposals.
 Poincare's message declared that the government will await the decisions of the reparations commission regarding the manner of putting the plan into operation and that after these decisions the government will determine what measures it will take itself.

Meanwhile, the three American experts, Brigadier General Chas. G. Dawes, Owen D. Young and Henry Robinson are sailing Tuesday for America on the steamship Leviathan.
 They are jubilant over the European reaction to the report and are confident that the report will form the basis for a European settlement, but they are not talking about it just now.

"We did all our writing in the report and all our talking in the committees" Young said when he was asked to comment on the present status of the situation.
 "Let others talk and write", he added.

To prevent grade crossings accidents a Texan has invented curved concrete curbs to be erected in highways in such a manner as to cause automobilists to reduce their speed on approaching railroads.

STATE ANTI-TRUST SUITS TO BE CALLED THURSDAY

AUSTIN, Texas, April 23.—Trial of the state's anti-trust suits against the Texas Company, Gulf Refining company and Producers Oil and Refining company of Missouri, was Tuesday called for Thursday of this week and will be held concurrently.

On motion of the attorney general, Harry Bickler, official court reporter, was appointed commissioner to take testimony in the case. The case will be submitted to the court on law issues solely, and separate transcripts will be made of each case.

The state's suits against the companies for forfeiture of charters and penalties are based on the same charge, that they violated anti-trust statutes by entering into contracts with filling station operators for exclusive sale of their products, in exchange for the lease to the retail stations of equipment at low cost.

WHO ARE COOLIDGE'S CONFIDANTS?

The question often is asked by visitors to Washington: "Who are Coolidge's confidants?" The person asked this question usually hums and haws and wonders about it himself, and finally confesses he doesn't know, and doesn't believe Coolidge has any.

In a sense, this is true. There is no figure known to the public which in this Administration occupies that position "near to the President" that Colonel House occupied during most of the Wilson regime or that Mark Hanna held when McKinley was President. But for all that, there is a confidant.

He is not in the public prints very much, and not in the public eye at all. When the Coolidges first moved into the White House considerable was published about Frank Starnes, the Boston merchant, who was such a close friend of the President, and various predictions were made that he would be found helping direct the destinies of the Administration.

It happens he is doing just that thing, but in a manner all his own—and that manner does not call for him to appear publicly at all.

You can hardly go to the White House, however, without seeing Starnes somewhere about, unobtrusively doing things. He does all manner of things, such as, for instance, riding to the railway station with the newly-appointed Attorney General, attending conferences as a listener, never a participant; making suggestions to the President about this or that; seeing people in various departments in a casual, friendly, unofficial way. There always seems to be plenty to keep Starnes busy, but he never puts himself into the official picture at all. Always he has the ear of the President, for those two understand each other and are the closest friends.

Starnes never bothers Coolidge. One of his gifts is said to be a tact that knows when to speak and when, much oftener, to be silent.

He has made many friends since coming to Washington, for he is a kindly man, with much more of that ability to meet people and mix with them than the President has, though the President has progressed notably in that regard, it appears, since he went into the White House. Yet there still clings to Coolidge the reserve which no one can penetrate—not even Starnes, one guesses.

Starnes is a grayish sort of man, with no hint of importance in his manner. He seems to like his older clothes, and wears them sometimes a little rumpled.

THE COW ON THE DINING TABLE.

A cow which could drink from the Gulf of Mexico and switch icicles from the north pole could be made from the amount of beef used annually on the sixty railroads of the country that maintain dining car service. Or, to say it with figures, as does the Bureau of Railway Economics, 8,000,000 pounds of beef are used yearly to feed the United States dining car patrons.

Going still further, the bureau says that 2,000,000 pounds of ham, 1,750,000 pounds of lamb chops and 4,500,000 pounds of other meats are eaten on the dining cars. The meat bill would amount to $7,000,000, and then wouldn't include 4,500,000 pounds of fish.

Then to call on that cow again, she would have to give 6,000,000 quarts of milk in a year to fill the demand for the raw product and enough more to supply material for the 2,500,000 pounds of butter used. And up to now, she has been asked for no contributions to make the 900,000 quarts of ice cream.

The Bureau of Economic also brought out the fact that 2,500,000 loaves of bread and 60,000,000 rolls are used in the service. The wheat needed could be grown on 135,000 acres of land. The potato bill has also been footed, to show that 16,000,000 pounds, or the average yield of 6,000 acres, are consumed. Over 2,000,000 pound of coffee and 500,000 pounds of tea are used annually, also 900,000 pounds of sugar and the fruit bill for dining cars in 12 months is $1,500,000. The bureau states it would keep a flock of 165,000 hens busy for a whole year to supply the 25,000,000 eggs needed to satisfy traveling appetites.

The bureau states that the dining cars aren't a paying proposition, which will be a surprise to dining car eaters. The dining cars cost $50,000 each and there is a yearly running cost of $3,000. The laundry bill for every person patronizing the car is 4 cents; the crew costs 40 cents for every person and that there is 5 cents for fuel and ice for each.

Bryan says the colleges are full of atheism. Coolidge says they are hotbeds of sedition. And along comes Taft and Root and demand that no one be permitted to practice law until he has been graduated from college. You pay your money and take your choice.

WAR ON SENATE COMMITTEE

There are abundant indications that no sooner did the senate order the investigation of Dougherty than Daugherty began to employ the whole power of the Department of Justice to investigate the investigators, particularly Senators Walsh and Wheeler, the leading spirits in the probe. A charge was soon brought against Senator Walsh but evidently in too great haste, for he was able to show at once that it was without foundation. In the case of Senator Wheeler, it would appear that something more tangible was found, for he has been indicted for alleged violations of the Federal statute forbidding Congressmen from receiving compensation for services in regard to any matter to which the United States is a party. One of the oil operators indicted with him strongly asserts that Mr. Wheeler is innocent, but this question itself is much less important than the evidence tending to show that the executive branch of the government has attempted to thwart or obstruct by terrorism legitimate investigation by the legislative branch.

Daugherty has promptly denied that his department had anything to do with the trailing of Wheeler, but according to the Associated Press the evidence "was assembled by the Department of Justice, postal and other Federal and State officers," and William J. Burns, head of the Department Bureau of Investigation, has admitted before the Senate committee that, after consulting with Daugherty, he sent three of his men to Montana to see if they could build up a case to discredit Wheeler. "Mr. Burns' face," says the report in the New York Times, "was ashen when he made the admission" corroborating Senator Wheeler's own charge and well it might be. That the executive branch was on the defensive has long been known, but it is just now coming to light that in addition to defense there has been aggressive warfare.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH.

Dropped into a drug store the other day to get a package of safety razor blades. For some inexplicable reason they had them packed along with cold cream, liquid rouge and perfume and the fair sex determined fairer, were lined up three deep in front of the show case and they did not seem to be buying razor blades either. Heaven forbid that I should protest the use of cosmetics. Think of the perfectly good money that the manufacturers and dispensers of these household necessities distribute annually among newspapers and periodicals in modest advertisement of their wares. What I protest is the clumsy, gaudy and tawdry application of them with results so unornamental, inartistic and altogether repellent as to slander the fair name of honest chemists. A sallow neck and olive throat rising to meet a mask of ghostly white and hectic red offends my rustic eye. This same neck and throat might not present an unpleasant sight save for the exaggeration of contrast. By all means use the kalsomine and carmine, the lipstick and powder puff but try to make the general color scheme harmonious. Enough is enough and keeps a fellow guessing. To much looks like—well, it also keeps a fellow guessing.

WHO GOVERNS?

Washington is said to have twice as many lobbyists as there are legislators and twice as many detectives as there are lobbyists. In many departments sleuths are engaged to watch other sleuths and senators, congressmen and officials in all departments are shadowed and spied upon, and tagged until life is not worth the living. Ex-criminals, jail-birds and crooks were never subjected to a more rigid system of espionage and even the hard-boiled newspaper reporters admit that the national capital has all the earmarks of a convict camp. Congress charges the lobby governs; the people charge Wall Street governs; Wall Street charges that politicians govern; politicians charge that detectives govern—between them all we're getting nowhere.

BE CAREFUL WITH YOUR NERVOUS SYSTEM.

Wonder why young couples choose seats at movie shows way back in the balcony? Reckon their eyes are bad. Saw one young fellow who seemed to have to explain the whole show to his companion. At times she was so overcome he had to support and comfort her. Folks as tender hearted as that should not attend shows. It's hard on their nervous systems.

SCRAMBLED EMOTIONS.

Attended a thrilling show the other night. In the midst of a tense situation the party on my right giggled, the lady to my left sobbed and the man behind me swore. Case of scrambled emotions. Don't know which I enjoyed more—show or audience.

The action of the House in voting ten millions for German relief calls to mind the appropriation by Congress of a hundred millions for European relief in 1919 and of twenty millions for Russian relief in 1922, apart from the Belgian relief of war times. The Near East Relief has distributed eighty millions and the Jewish Distribution Committee seventy-five millions. In addition there has been enormous outlay abroad by the American Red Cross and by many religious organizations, to say nothing of the great aggregate amount going from individuals in this country to individuals in Europe. No wonder Pope Pius XI describes America's relief of post-war misery as "an epic wave of charity."

An estimate that $30,000,000 worth of alcoholic liquor was smuggled into the United States in 1923, is contained in a survey of "invisible trade" made by the Department of Commerce.

MARKETS

STOCK SALES ARE DULLEST IN WEEKS

By United News. (By EDWARD J. CONDLON (United News Financial Editor).) NEW YORK, April 23.—Wednesday's stock market, though one of the dullest in weeks, saw many desert the bear ranks with the net result that prices were substantially higher along the line. Sales of stocks reached only slightly more than 657,000 shares. A late crash in the sensitive Norfolk and Western shares, marred the closing. The net decline for this stock was 2 points for the day and 3 points from the previous day's high. There has been nothing in the news this week affecting the pending lease to the Pennsylvania railroad so that this selling may represent in part some liquidation by tired holders.

Much the same performance occurred in the cotton market as in stocks, viz: short coverings. The array of new highs on the move in the stock market was matched by the substantial recoveries in cotton. The weather map seemed to give traders more concern than any day this week.

Drop in spinners takings of American cotton for the period from August 1 to March 28, of some 8,423,000 bales, according to the Liverpool cotton association has evidently been largely discounted by the recent declines, although the trend of the takings as a whole has been no secret to market observers.

RUTH SLAMS OUT FIRST HOMER AT HOME

By United News.

Rushing out of his early slump like a water buffalo freeing himself from the clutch of a bog, Babe Ruth slammed the ball high and wide in the Yankee stadium Wednesday afternoon and made himself a spectacular adornment to the opening day ceremonies in the biggest ball yard in which 50,000 customers participated. The Yankees beat the Red Sox 13 to 4. Judge Landis was present representing the majesty of the law of baseball, and the philanthropy of the club owners, bestowing gold watches on all members of the Yanks as symbols of the world championship which they captured from the Giants last fall.

There were the usual ceremonial rites for the Yankees' first home game. The American league pennant was raised amid ruffles, flourishes and cheers which Mayor Hylan acknowledged by waving his hat. Later he and the judge both exposed their hair cuts to the afternoon chill several times when it seemed that the cheers were directed at Babe Ruth. Hylan pitched the first ball. Ruth banged out a double in the first and scored on a duplicate-double by Bob Meusel. In the third he singled and was sent home again by Meusel. He walked and was caught stealing in the sixth. Then, in the eighth he smashed a homer into the right field stands sending in two men ahead. This was the second time Ruth had hit a homer in an opening game in the new stadium.

The Athletics beat the Senators 6 to 4. The Tigers who recently clawed the Indians in Detroit, were punished for it when they returned the visit and lost to Tris Speaker's ball club, 6 to 5, in Cleveland. In St. Louis, the Browns beat the White Sox 9 to 5.

There were only two games on the day's program of the National league.

It took the Braves 15 innings to win from the Phillies, 3 to 2 in Boston. And the Cubs won from the Cards, 12 to 1 in Chicago.

BASEBALL MEET OPENS HERE FRIDAY

Following their defeat at the hands of the Slaton Tigers Tuesday afternoon at Slaton in a 2-to-1 exhibition, the high school Westerners are devoting all their spare time to intensive training in preparation for the district meet which will open here on Friday, at which time a championship team will be decided to represent the district for state honors.

Five teams have formally entered the district meet here Friday and Saturday. These are: Plainview, Floydada, Post, Slaton and Lubbock high. Two games will be played each afternoon of the two days. In the first game, which will be called at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon Post will meet Plainview in the first elimination. Immediately following this Lubbock will meet Floydada.

At 2 o'clock on Saturday, Slaton will draw and play one of the two who were victorious the preceding day. FORMER WIFE OF THAW NOW FACED WITH SUIT FOR DIVORCE

By United News.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, just released from her attendance at a Philadelphia court which has declared her first husband, sane, must now appear before a New York bar to fight husband number two's claim for divorce.

Supreme Court Justice Richard P. Lydon has granted the motion and attorneys representing Jack Clifford, dancer, and Evelyn's second spouse, that Clifford's suit for divorce be returned to the trial calendar from which it was stricken at Clifford's request soon after it was begun in 1920.

In his affidavit, Clifford is styled under his real name, Virgil James Bontani, and Evelyn is referred to as Florence M. Montani. Clifford alleges "undue friendliness with a man named Eugene Strong. In a cross-petition, Miss Nesbit also asked for a divorce alleging that Clifford miscondacted himself with Ann Lotber and Juanita C. Ransen. The hearing will occur in June.

Jack and Evelyn were married March 24, 1916, in a Methodist Episcopal church parsonage at Elliott, Md.

You Don't Have to be a Connoisseur

The man who said "I don't know much about art, but I know what I like" probably felt the same way about clothes.

Most men do. They don't want to bother their heads with details of workmanship, or the number of threads to the inch.

They want to put a suit on, know by its name and the reputation of the merchant that the quality and tailoring are first-class, and take one good look in a mirror.

They know what they like, and they know by the Griffon label that they'll keep on liking it for a long time to come. In our new stock there are some spring models that we know you will like. Come in and see them.

WEST TEXAS FAST BECOMING A DAIRY COUNTRY

Special to the Avalanche.
CANYON, Texas, April 23—According to belief expressed by Professor F. R. Phillips of the Agricultural Department of the West Texas State Teachers' College, the Plains section is rapidly developing into a dairy country. Mr. Phillips has recently completed a speaking tour of the North Plains, co-operating with the Rock Island Railroad in a better-farming campaign, and a tour of the South Plains, co-operating with the Mistletoe Creamery Co. Concerning the interest shown in dairying, he had the following to say: "The dairy industry, one of the profits of which cannot be foretold by the use of pencil and paper. The profits are small, but they accumulate every twenty-four hours. There is an old English motto which reads, 'Take care of the pence and the pounds will take care of themselves.' This is true of the dairy business."

"I have visited many farmers who had cows which returned a very small net profit, but the total of such profits, in many instances, has meant a good bank account where otherwise one would find a bank deficiency or a note. "Two things have impressed me favorably in regard to the dairy business in West Texas. The first is the sentiment in favor of a Sudan grass pasture in the summer to supplement other pasture. The other thing that has impressed me is the number of farmers who have sown sweet clover for their early spring pasture. It is my prediction that sweet clover and Sudan grass, with a few dairy cows, will revolutionize the farming enterprises of West Texas."

FIELD KITCHEN TO BE OPENED FOR BANDS

BROWNWOOD, Texas, April 23. A field kitchen will be established in Brownwood by the Plainview delegation to be used to feed that city's two bands which will be here for the annual meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce May 13, 14 and 15, according to an announcement received here from W. J. Clinger, manager of the Chamber of Commerce Band, addressed to the central committee of the convention which has established headquarters here. The kitchen in the open air will be used only to feed the members of the band. About fifty-five musicians will accompany the Plainview delegation, thirty-five being in the Chamber of Commerce Band and twenty in the Junior Band. A cook and two assistants will prepare the meals for the musicians. The idea was developed this year because of the trouble experienced at previous conventions in feeding the musicians. Not being able to be fed at exact times has thrown the engagements of the organization off, it has previously been experienced, and the Plainview organization is anxious to remedy this at this convention this year.

DETAIL SENT TO HALT REBEL CONCENTRATION

JUAREZ, Mexico, April 23.—To frustrate reports of a concentration of rebels in Chihuahua, the Mexican government has detailed General J. G. Escobar, and 8,000 troops to Durango, Chihuahua and the Laguna district. The vanguard of 17 trainloads of soldiers has already reached Torren, according to information reaching military authorities here. Mexican government agents have shown considerable interest in reports that Adolfo de la Huerta, leader of the Mexican rebels had been in Phoenix, Arizona, recently. Information from sources considered reliable, state that de la Huerta has left Arizona for Los Angeles, according to officials.

MEXICANS SEEKING TO ENTER U. S. SENT HOME BY GOVERNMENT

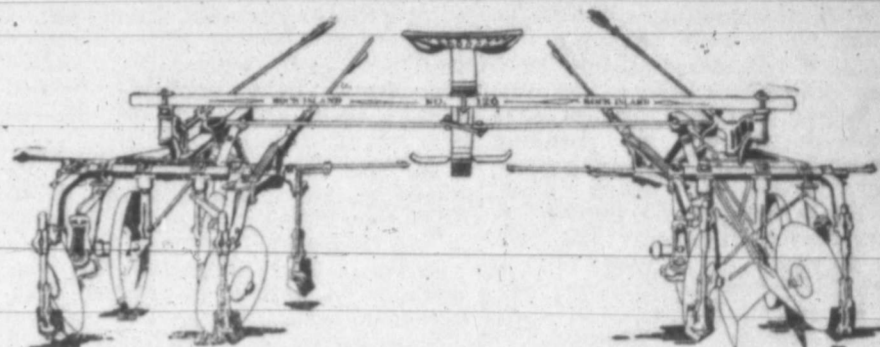

By United News. JUAREZ, Mex., April 23.—Five hundred Mexican laborers seeking admission into the United States have been given transportation back to their native states by the government. Two hundred were sent from here to the Laguna district a few days ago. A few hundred more will be sent to the interior this week, according to J. I. Perez, chief of Juarez immigration.

The government is conducting investigations of the stranded Mexican laborers who rush to the border with little funds in the hope of getting across and working in the United States. Thousands of these reach Juarez and other border towns with small funds, which are soon exhausted, and the government then has to take care of them. Mr. Perez said that in future immigration stations for Mexican laborers would be situated at Inapato, Zacatecas and San Luis Potosi and only those with permits will be allowed to proceed to the Juarez immigration station. The authorities will also assure themselves that each emigrant has sufficient funds to maintain themselves.

ROCK ISLAND

Two-Row Go-Devil

Holds to the Furrow at All Times

Time and labor are big items in crop production. By cutting down on these items and still doing the work even better than before, you make more money off of your land.

The Rock Island Two-Row Go-Devil is a highly profitable implement in listed crops, as it combines all the features necessary for successful cultivation at minimum cost. It is simple, effective, easy to operate, and has the necessary strength.

FOUR CONVENIENT LEVERS

There are four levers, all located conveniently for the operator, there being one shovel adjusting lever and one raising lever on each side. Double plunger construction on the shovel levers gives fine depth adjustments—twice as fine as on other cultivators.

Dirt cannot roll back and cover the corn—long shields made of heavy sheet metal prevent this. When the discs are raised the shields also are raised.

The frame is high and clear and does not interfere with the growing crop. The two sections are connected by a steel pipe.

OPERATOR ALWAYS IN CENTER

It makes no difference whether cultivating straight or very crooked rows, the operator is always in the center. This is made possible by the equalizer.

By a simple adjustment of this cultivator the discs can be made to throw the dirt in or out at any desired width or angle.

DOUBLE ACTING DISCS

An all-metal dust-proof bearing is used. It is held securely to the disc by means of a square shoulder fitting into the square of the disc and washer, and then cinched up with a heavy bolt. The bolt is kept tight by a substantial lock nut. The bearing is also equipped with a hard oiler.

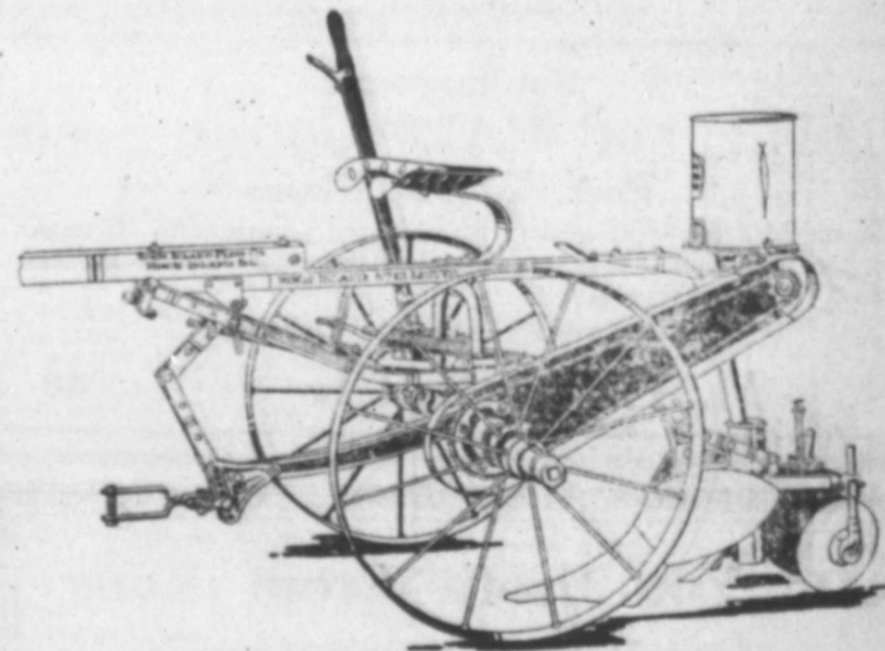

KNIFE ATTACHMENT

A very substantial all-steel knife attachment can be furnished at extra cost. Ample adjustments are provided for taking care of varying conditions. These long knives (either 40 or 48 inches) are set at the proper angle to cut and shed weeds to the best advantage. The knife attachment destroys the weeds from the bottom of furrow to center of ridge, leaving a fine mulch. These knives are particularly valuable in controlling the blue-weed and milk-weed.

ROCK ISLAND

Two Wheel Lister

The Only Two-Wheel Lister With a Sight Feed—Easy to Turn and Simple to Operate

You not only have an accurate dropping system on this lister for either cotton and corn, but you also have the big advantage of being able to see at all times that it is planting accurately. The seed spout and delivery are at the front of the hopper instead of the rear. It is a very simple matter to glance to the rear, see just how your lister is planting and make certain that the hopper is not empty—without stopping your work.

The Rock Island Lister Bottoms With High Breast Share

Rock Island Lister Bottoms are shaped to turn trash under and make clean furrows. The share has a very high breast, which means the moldboards are fully protected from any undue wear. This is a great advantage and an economy, because when you renew the share you have practically a new bottom.

Another advantage is that in sharpening shares the breast lines is not interfered with and will go right back on the frog and fit up to the original moldboards perfectly—the high breast share does not spring out of shape in sharpening.

Narrow shovel opener bolts direct to the seed spout, is provided with break pin and can be adjusted to any desired depth.

Three-eighths-inch vertical adjustments are provided in subsoiler—much finer than ordinary. LS-1 Chisel Point or LS-2 Duckfoot subsoiler is furnished regular on No. 19 corn lister and as an extra on No. 18 Cotton and Corn Lister.

Either shovel or disc covers can be furnished.

FORMER BANKER FOUND GUILTY OF FRAUD

WICHITA, Kan., April 23.—A jury Wednesday found John N. Richardson formerly president of the defunct American State Bank of Wichita, guilty of accepting deposits in a bank known by him to be insolvent, after deliberating all night.

The conviction of Richardson on all of the nine counts on which he was tried, came as a sequel to the failure of the American State bank on June 18, 1923, which was one of the largest financial crashes since the state department of banking was organized.

Phillip Drum, who for many years was cashier of the institution, was arrested today after the failure. He had no explanation to make and offered to place his personal fortune at the hands of state officials to reduce the losses.

Bank examiners, however, were not satisfied with Drum's offer and upon a new investigation discovered and stated that the institution had been ill-managed and its officers accepted deposits even after they knew it no longer was solvent.

Richardson, O. A. Powell, vice-president and Roy E. Crummer and M. J. Lloyd, directors, were arrested forthwith. Re-examination disclosed that more than $110,000 in bonds, the property of depositors was missing.

After the examiners had completed their probe into the labyrinth of perplexing bank customs and entries, the shortage was announced at $2,000,000.

Carl J. Peterson, state bank examiner, then filed suit against the Brown-Crummer investment company of which Richardson was an officer, seeking to recover $1,639,872 in bonds and cash which he charged had been withdrawn illegally from the bank.

Peterson charged that Richardson knowing of the tottering condition of the bank had warned his company and the funds were withdrawn before the collapse. Warren E. Brown, president R. E. Crummer, vice president and H. F. Hoffman, cashier of the investment company, were arrested in connection with the disappearance of the bonds. All are awaiting trial and are free on bonds.

TERRY COUNTY "OUTLAW" CAPTURED WEDNESDAY

pistol shot at him. Word thrust the stock of his rifle into the air and shouted his surrender. He scrambled to his feet, threw the gun into the air stock up toward an approaching officer and said he wanted their protection.

No greater excitement could be witnessed than at this moment, as the more that twenty men who made the raid were prepared to shoot and would have probably riddled Word's body with bullets if he had not surrendered.

He was surrounded by a heavily armed guard of sheriffs and deputies, placed in a car and rushed to the Lubbock county jail.

When asked why he had not surrendered before, as he had been called to several times and offered the protection of the officers, Word replied: "Aw, I didn't give a—"

He was grinning when he emerged from the pen in which he had barricaded himself, and with his rifle, which is of the pump style and equipped with a magazine that holds 10 shells, filled to the brim, evidenced intentions of making a long fight. 77 rounds of ammunition were taken from Word; The ammunition that was not in the gun was placed in his hat near which a gun rod prepared for cleaning the rifle was laying. These arrangements lead officers to believe that Word thought he could keep up the fight throughout the day and that night would offer some avenue of escape.

Despite the fact that more than five hundred men were in arms and eager to avenge the death of Dr. Windham, officers are not expecting any attempts toward mob violence, and the prisoner was brought to the Lubbock county jail only as a precautionary measure.

The following confession was made late Wednesday by Word when he was questioned by the officers:

"I first made up my mind to kill Dr. Windham about the 12th of April and went to town and bought the gun for that purpose. I had never heard of him before coming down here. I didn't inquire of him before leaving Tahoka, Texas. Will Benton told me to go over to Mr. Scuddy's and that Mr. Scuddy might want a man and if he didn't, Windham might want a man. Mrs. Scuddy called over to Windham's. I went over to a windmill and asked Dr. Windham for a job and he told me he would let me work at $25.00 per month.

Windham put off all the work on me he could. King and Windham began to give me the cold shoulder soon after I started to work. Windham, King and Mrs. King poisoned me, and threatened to kill me.

"I killed Dr. Windham because he was an I. W. W. and because he threw an influence over me that weakened my system. Have a brother at Hico, Texas, B. G. Word. I am 27 years old. Last Friday night I could hear Windham talking to Mr. and Mrs. King. He said we must kill Ward. At time of killing, I was coming toward the house about 400 yards from the house, and met him, and he said: 'Billie are you going to join the army.' I told him to look at me and when he did, I shot him in the head. After shooting he got out of the car and tried to grab me. I hit him with my fists and gun, and he fell on his face. The next night I went back to the ranch to kill McCormick. When he came out to feed, I stepped out and shot him. He shot at me once and I shot him again and he ran. I then went into the hog pen. I wanted to kill Benton, Bradley Wolridge, McCormick, King, Windham and all I. W. W.'s."

T. H. Moore, the second man shot was hit in the small of the back, the bullet coming out in his side, a little to the front, taking an eight-inch cut through the flesh of the back and side. Local physicians in charge of the case, say that the wound will not prove fatal.

Moore was shot, he says, about 8:50 Tuesday morning while he was out at the dipping vat in search of the alleged slayer, others having told him that Ward was there. The shot came from the corner of the barn, Moore said. Examination of the wound revealed that a .22 rifle ball had been used. Moore said, however, that Ward had in his possession a 30-30 special with which he had taken from the man shot earlier in the day.

He did not stop, he said, for about two hours after he was shot but was forced, on account of the loss of blood, into submission, and asked that he be brought to a sanitarium at Lubbock. He made the trip in a car and sat up practically the entire way. Moore is an ex-army officer, and former government inspector, he said, having spent seven years in army service, and four years in government detective work. He was shot seven times, he said, during the world war. At present he is engaged in well drilling work at Brownfield.
