Dallas Trade Trippers Invade Lubbock Mon.

SPEND NIGHT HERE ON ANNUAL GOOD WILL TOUR

CITY ENTERTAINED BY FAMOUS HUSSAR BAND OF METROPOLIS

This morning at five o'clock the special train bearing 125 Dallas Good Will tourists pulled out of Lubbock, leaving the city in absolute quiet after the boosters had spent the most of Monday evening invading the various businesses of the city...

The Trade Trippers arrived in Lubbock at 5:30 o'clock and immediately started their invasion of the city. They marched in a body through the business district, led by their Red Hussars band.

At seven o'clock the band played a concert on the courthouse lawn, following which the Dallasites were formally welcomed to the city by Senator W. H. Bledsoe, who assured them that the city was theirs.

Hon. William Z. Hayes, active vice president of the Republic National Bank of Dallas, and who is well known to a number of local citizens, made fitting remarks in responding to Bledsoe's address.

The band kept up a lively tune until 9:30 o'clock in the evening, when it retired to the Elks Hall, where music was furnished for a dance in honor of the visitors.

The 23rd annual Dallas Good Will tour is a decided success, and one coming in contact with the business men of that city as they are making the rounds will certainly be impressed with their congeniality, friendliness and good sportsman ship.

The special train pulled out at five o'clock this morning for Crosbyton, and will return to Lubbock today enroute to Plainview, Amarillo and other points north.

MAN DIES AS RESULTS OF BODY INJURIES

Winford Tatum, age 18 years, six months and 23 days, died here Sunday evening at seven o'clock following a long illness as results of injuries received in an explosion at the plant of the Texas Utilities Company here several weeks ago.

The young man was rushed to a local sanitarium immediately following the accident, where an operation on his right foot which was injured, was performed. The injuries were apparently healed and he left the sanitarium, but after about two weeks an infection set in and blood-poison soon developed, causing his death.

FIVE INJURED IN STREET CAR CRASH

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 5.—Five persons were injured here late Monday, when a street car crashed into a freight locomotive.

Wm. A. Watson, 54, motorman of the car, was the most seriously injured. Both of his legs were broken and he may be injured internally, according to hospital attendants.

Four passengers on his car were taken to a hospital and treated and then sent home none seriously injured.

C. Chappelow, dispatcher, said Watson had been ordered to hold his car until the freight had taken a siding, but for some unexplained reason, failed to do so and the crash resulted.

VICTIM OF WRECK SUCCUMBS TO INJURY

HOUSTON, Texas, May 5.—After clinging to life for eight hours, with both legs amputated, Ernest A. Andrews, 37, operator of one of the street cars figuring in the early morning collision on the Dowling line Monday, died at 5:15 p. m. at St. Joseph's infirmary.

When the two cars rammed each other head-on in the gray morning fog Andrews received injuries which necessitated the amputation of both legs just below the knees.

In the early afternoon Monday it was reported that he was doing well as could be expected and that there was a chance for his recovery. Later, however, his condition grew worse, and all efforts to save his life were futile.

In the crash, nearly a dozen passengers, mostly negroes, received cuts and bruises.

FIGHT EXPECTED IN EL PASO PRIMARIES

EL PASO, Tex., May 5.—Tuesday's county democratic convention is expected to produce a sharp fight over the selection of a temporary chairman and contests over ten delegates.

Complete returns from Saturday's precinct conventions gives Senator Underwood 112 of the 216 delegates.

Wm. G. McAdoo's forces secured control of 73 pledged delegates and with what observers claim a majority of 31 contested or unstructured delegates.

It is pointed out that by allowing McAdoo forces all the doubtful, unstructured and contested delegates, they would have only 104. This would be short the necessary five majority, it is claimed.

Who the Underwood forces have selected for temporary chairman is not known.

R. E. Thompson is expected to be the McAdoo selection.

The republican convention delegates went to President Coolidge.

G. F. J. STEPHENS DIED MON. NIGHT

HEART TROUBLE IS GIVEN AS CAUSE OF HIS SUDDEN DEATH

Again hás the Grim Reaper intervened, taking one of Lubbock's most highly honored and respected citizens. G. F. J. Stephens, Texas pioneer passed into the Great Beyond last night at 10 o'clock following a short illness. Heart trouble is given as the cause of his death.

Mr. Stephens, although troubled with his heart for more than a year, had only been confined to his bed a little less than a week, according to Dr. M. C. Overton, his physician, and although his condition had been watched with some anxiety, his sudden death came as a great surprise.

G. F. J. Stephens was born at Bradley Pool, in Fannin county, Texas, on May 7, 1860, lacking two days of being 64 years of age at his death. He was raised to manhood at the place of his birth.

In June, 1908, he moved with his family to Plainview, where he took the management of Nobles Bros. wholesale grocery house at that point. He remained there until June 1915, when he was transferred by this company to Lubbock in the capacity of manager of their house here.

He retained this position until June 1921, when he entered the wholesale grocery and produce business in partnership with his son-in-law, A. W. McKee and Jno. P. Bacon, in which business he took active management until forced to his bed by doctor's orders less than a week ago.

In his passing, not only Lubbock, but the entire Plains and state, loses a most worthy citizen, a loyal booster, and a man that was always ready to carry his part of the burden to make life worth living for his neighbors and friends, and although he did not possess an abundance of this world's goods, as some men count them, nor was his name seldom used in the column of city leaders, he was none the less counted as one of Lubbock's most valued citizens. He always had a cheery word and a hearty handshake for his friends wherever he met them.

His early manhood, he professed religion, and joined the church, in which institution he always took an active part, being ready at all times for the call of duty.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, a step-son, and a host of relatives and friends.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed at a late hour last night.

General Flanagan was born January 9, 1832, at Cloverport, Ky. He came to Henderson with his father, Major James W. Flanagan when he was 11. He was admitted to the bar at the age of 19, along with Roger Q. Mills by special act of the legislature. His first experience as a national committee man was in 1866 when he went to the republican convention which nominated General Grant. He was not allowed to vote in this convention the Texas delegation being refused seats in 1872, he was delegate to the convention at Philadelphia, and one of the immortal 306 who voted 36 times for Grant. Among his heirlooms was found a medal which Grant bestowed on him in recognition of this service. During the stirring times which preceded the nomination, General Flanagan made his famous speech: "What are you doing? You are not voting for Grant, you are voting for a man who has just been elected president of the United States."

He died at Henderson, Ky., on Sunday, May 5, 1924, at the age of 91 years, 11 months and 17 days.

NAVY EXPANSION IS POLICY OF WILBUR

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Further expansion of the navy in directions not restricted by the Washington Arms Conference is the aim of the new secretary of the navy, Curtis D. Wilbur.

The policy was announced following some evidence of uneasiness in regard to the condition of the navy in congress in an address made by the secretary Monday before the republican women of the District of Columbia.

"I stand absolutely for a 100 per cent navy," Secretary Wilbur declared the equal at least, in every respect to any power on land or sea. That is my personal reaction and I believe it should be the attitude of the government and the mission of the department.

"Although I say at least one hundred per cent equality, I see no reason why we should not undertake also to advance our navy along lines not restricted by mutual agreement so that we will again be in a dominating situation and can again secure mutual limitation on all activities along lines at present unrestricted by any treaty, if so advised."

News has been received in Lubbock to the effect that the Court of Civil Appeals, Amarillo, has affirmed the order of Judge Clark M. Mullican, dissolving the temporary injunction, enjoining the defendants in the case of C. A. Pierce vs. John H. Dayle et al., officers of Hockley County, Texas, from holding an election to organize Cochran County and elect officers.

A temporary injunction was granted by Judge Mullican several weeks ago, and this injunction was later dissolved by him, and the order dissolving was affirmed by the appellate court.

The news of the affirmation by the Court of Civil Appeals has been received with enthusiasm by many West Texans who are interested in the organization of Cochran County.

The election will be held tomorrow as scheduled.

The plaintiff was represented by R. A. Sowder and Bledsoe & Pharr. The defendants were represented by G. E. Lockhart, of Tahoka, and Wilson & Douglass, of Lubbock.

The following chairmen spoke of the work of their departments and divisions: Mrs. R. G. Porter, Tulsa; Transportation; Mrs. Don Culton, Tulsa, public welfare; Mrs. W. B. Price, Hale Center, training of American citizenship; Mrs. Eugene Kelz, Vernon, Americanization; Mrs. W. B. Farwell, Dalhart, Motion pictures; Mrs. G. T. Vineyard, Amarillo, Library extension; Miss Ruth Lowes, West Texas State Teachers College, Canyon, Kindergarten; Mrs. Henry Gould, Amarillo, Conservation and Civics; Mrs. E. W. Ewing, Miami, Parks and Playgrounds; Mrs. Kato Inman, Dalhart, Forestry; Mrs. Meade F. Griffin, Plainview, Press and Publicity; Mrs. R. R. Townsend, Lamesa, Health; Mrs. C. M. Ballenger, Lubbock, Legislation; Mrs. J. I. Whitset, Canadian, Secretary Junior Section; Mrs. J. T. Whitmore, Snyder, Membership; Mrs. Thompson, Rules and Regulation; and Mrs. Meade F. Griffin, Endowment Fund. Mrs. James Trent, Clarendon, member Executive committee; Mrs. W. P. Fullingim, Lorenzo, chairman Child Welfare; Miss Capitola, Canadian, chairman committee on resolutions. Mrs. R. L. Duke, Dalhart, chairman Rural Life.

From the summaries of the work that has been done by the District chairmen it is evident that the Seventh District is progressing along almost every line of activity that it includes. New clubs are being added; the old clubs are becoming stronger and more interested, and

TEXAS PIONEER DIED MON. AT HENDERSON

HENDERSON, Texas, May 5.—General Webster Flanagan, 95, an original signer of the Texas constitution, an appointee of Sam Houston to be brigadier general in the Texas Army and a notable figure in state and national republican conventions was found dead in his home early Monday. He was in good health at the time of his death, having attended church on Sunday.

General Flanagan was born January 9, 1832, at Cloverport, Ky. He came to Henderson with his father, Major James W. Flanagan when he was 11. He was admitted to the bar at the age of 19, along with Roger Q. Mills by special act of the legislature. NEITHER FACTION IS ASSURED OF VICTORY SECRETARY SAYS

DALLAS, Texas, May 5.—Joe W. Hale, secretary of the state democratic executive committee, stated Monday night that a "careful analysis of the returns from Saturday's precinct conventions indicated that neither of the three contending factions will go into the state convention with a majority.

"If the opposition to Mr. McAdoo asserts itself as vigorously in the county conventions as the present returns indicate in regard to the precinct conventions, it is safe to predict that the state convention in Waco will be the scene of the warmest political contest that Texas has ever witnessed," he added.

SENTENCES REDUCED

DALLAS, Texas, May 5.—Sentences of eighteen of the Southern Methodist University students, who were involved in the publication of the April Fool-Dinke of the Wild Dance at the Savage lake, were lightened today.

One of the nine students expelled was put on the suspended list; fourteen suspended were reinstated and three had their terms of suspension cut down very materially.

The expulsion order followed an investigation by the college heads of the extraordinary party alleged to have been put over by a number of the students of the institution several weeks ago when it was alleged that they had as their companions "pavement vamps" and girls of questionable character.

The incident has given this institution a great deal of very unfavorable publicity, but the faculty and college heads are not at all worried over the situation, while they regret the occurrence very much, they show a determination to keep the institution on a high educational plane, and Dr. Seiceman, who is the college president says he is not a stickler for an institution with large numbers if it cannot be conducted in a high class, highly moral and religious manner. He says, "I welcome a smaller student body rather than a large one composed of young persons who are not in sympathy with our ideals and objectives."

WEATHER FORECAST WEST TEXAS: Tuesday generally fair.

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest. BRILLIANCE The comet speeds across the sky, So 'tis with men who flash and glow. A brilliant and a dazzling light; And live their swift and brilliant hour. It holds a little time the eye, Like comets, they too, come and go. Then swiftly passes out of sight, With neither lasting place nor power. But steadfastly the planets stay, And keep their places through the night. Holding unto the charted way, Contented with a lesser light. But men who follow charted ways, Content the lesser joys to gain, Who keep the faith through troubled days, Like planets steadfastly remain.

WELCOME, BUILDERS OF DALLAS.

The citizenship of Lubbock is proud to be hosts to men of such vision, courage and resourcefulness as is exhibited by you builders of the most important City of our State. The ideals of city building you manifest are identical with that which we, the citizens of Lubbock believe in. We are trying to follow in the paths you have trodden in the building here, of a Great City, a Great Service Station, which will serve this large Western area as you serve North and Central Texas.

Yes, Dallas visitors, we are glad you are here. We expect you to derive much pleasure and information from your visit with us. We expect you to see and realize the vast developments that are underway in this region. We want you to compare the present Lubbock and the present South Plains with what you have known in the past.

Men of vision have seen and are now seeing the possibilities of Lubbock and the South Plains. Thousands and thousands of ambitious people are coming to our section to make their home. There is no more guess work in agriculture on the Plains. Diversified methods bring successful results under all conditions. The adaptation of cotton growing has added a cash crop, a crop that is drought resistant, to our plan of diversification.

We ask you to ponder a moment over this fact: in 1902 Lubbock county produced only 16 bales of cotton. In 1924 Lubbock county produced nearly 30,000 bales!

Lubbock, geographically, is best located to serve the South Plains and the South Plains is the proven home of successful diversified farming!

Lubbock offers unexcelled facilities for distribution of any and all kinds of products to a population that is now more than 130,000 and is growing as no other section has ever known.

Immediately surrounding Lubbock are millions of fertile unbroken acres ready for the ambitious home-builder. Thousands of new acres go into a state of cultivation this year as a result of breaking up the large ranch holdings.

Men, of Dallas, of vision, can't you see in Lubbock the possibilities of another "Dallas"?

Yes, we are glad you are here, glad that you can see Lubbock, glad that you can mix and mingle with a citizenship that has a constructive spirit.

PARTY "REGULARITY"

Just what is a "regular" Republican, and just what is a "regular" Democrat, in the year 1924? The question is suggested by some recent remarks of Senator Couzens, and it is an interesting one. The Republican party of today is widely supposed—at least among its opponents—to be the party of the masses rather than of the masses, the party in a sort of silent partnership with Big Business. The Democratic party, on the other hand, though it has practically abandoned the old principle of home rule or "State rights," still claims to be the party of "the people" or the masses, and maintains that it has been the party of human liberty for 124 years, or ever since the first election of Thomas Jefferson in 1880—with the exception of its "accidental" defense of negro slavery during a temporary period, due to the domination of the Southern slaveholding class. But when a party's leaders disagree as to "regularity," what are its rank and file to think, or to do?

This, in substance, is the question rather pointedly put by Senator Couzens of Michigan in defending himself against the charge that he is not a "regular" Republican. He intimates that he is quite as "regular" as most folk and cites by way of proof that he voted 27 times for the election of Mr. Cummins as chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The difficulty about keeping faithfully within chalked lines, as Mr. Couzens seems to see it, is that there is actual irregularity on all sides and there is no recognized criterion of Republican regularity to keep step with. Some might suppose that the venerable bosom of Henry Cabot Lodge is the chief repository of the secret of strict Republican regularity, but in this connection Mr. Couzens seems inclined to comment irreverently from the seat of the offers. "Am I expected," he sarcastically inquires, "to run and ask Mr. Lodge how I could vote whenever a question comes up? Certainly Mr. Lodge has never come to tell me how I should vote, nor has he called the Republicans in caucus to determine the party position. There is intimation here that Mr. Lodge himself is more or less at sea and would prefer to be excused from defining party regularity in connection with most of the questions of the hour.

Indeed, Mr. Lodge's own regularity can not be depended on, if it consists in acting in concert with the other acknowledged party leaders. For Mr. Couzens, with strict logic, goes on to say:

"Only yesterday Mr. Lodge, Mr. Watson, Mr. Curtis and a majority of the other Old Guard Republicans voted for the soldier bonus despite the strong objection made to it by President Coolidge in his annual message. And last week we saw Senator Lodge leading the fight for complete exclusion of Japanese immigration, again against the express desire of President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes. If we are to follow our leaders, it seems to me a first essential that our leaders should agree among themselves.

In other words, it is generally understood that you are "regular" when you gallop with the gang, but what are you going to do when you see the "gang" splitting up and "galloping" in all directions? Apart from the question of the propriety of Senator Couzens's behavior in any particular instance, it must be admitted that he presents a convincing picture of the actual situation.

THE DEAD TOWN

There is nothing deader than a dead town. Try as hard as it may to conceal the facts, the truth is written all over it so that he who runs may read. No camouflage of bluff and bluster can conceal the true situation from anyone who comes within the limits of the community. A man looking for a place to launch a new business or a new location for an old industry is not going to select a town that is dead. He is going to select a town in which money is plentiful, a town whose business men are progressive and whose residents, as a whole, are prosperous and contented. There are too many live and thriving towns in the world for a man to risk his future in one that is dead. A town is just like a corporation and the money possessed by its inhabitants is its capital. If this capital is depleted the town will fail just as the corporation, whose capital is depleted through poor management or other causes, fails. The capital of a community is depleted when its money is spent away from home in a way that bring no return benefit to the community. It takes no great amount of thought to be able to realize that the town, like the individual, cannot last long if it is paying out more money than it takes in.

Many people are apt to overlook the fact that they are stockholders in their town and that their fortunes are bound up with those of the community as a whole. They do not realize that if their town fails—they will fail with it. They—or many of them at least—send their money away to the mail order houses in the great cities, without realizing that they are impairing the capital of their own corporation and that if enough of them pursue that course they will force their corporation into certain bankruptcy. The merchant is not the only one injured, but he pays taxes, contributes to public charities, churches, etc., and when his business is gone his ability to contribute is gone. The time for all the people to pull together for a live town is while the town is still live and not after it is dead, for when a town dies it is a long time dead.

This is a matter, however, that works both ways, and while nearly every rural community comes to town and asks for contributions to build churches and furnish school buildings, etc., the town man should likewise consider the producer, and arrange to buy his products. How often does the farmer bring beans and onions, potatoes, etc., to town and has to take them back home because there is no market for them.

The community must be kept alive by keeping needed industries going. It must keep its schools up to the highest possible point, and it must see to it that its civic improvements are kept right up to the last notch of perfection; its government must hold the confidence of its people, and great care must be manifested in laying its plans for building. The future of any town is hard to foretell. Hundreds of towns are full grown at the age of two years, others smoulder for years and finally flame up into a real live proposition. If the proper precautions are taken in planning the town, and keeping the machinery in good order, there is not apt to be any great difficulty encountered in the development of the town.

Lubbock is just now at the point where she could make some wonderful blunders in building for the future. In the paving plan that we have voted, and for which the contract has been let, we might spoil the appearance of the city, and the usefulness of the streets of the town by adopting a plan that would be detrimental to the town. We do not know, and possibly not more than a dozen people in Lubbock know what the plan for paving is, but the tax payers of the city, and the property owners who are to pay individually seventy-five per cent of the total amount should certainly have a say how the paving shall be placed. This may be the intention of the authorities to get an expression from those who are the most vitally concerned, but at any rate, there is considerable wonderment abounding, and the property owners are becoming more restless every minute to find out just what is going to be done and when.

The general public is entitled to know, and be given a chance to express their wishes in matter that carry with it the expenditure of millions of dollars.

Live towns are made live by the people who reside in them. Live towns can be killed by loss of confidence of the people.

The growth of towns can be hampered by mistakes in the early days of the development. Lubbock is a live town. It is a rapidly growing town. It faces a future that no one can foretell, except that it is destined to be a real city of possibly a hundred or more thousand people, then we should lay the foundation for such, and eliminate the possibility of having to tear down and build over.

Here is old King Tut, dead over 3,000 years who gets front page features, while the dead ones in congress are entirely ignored.

MARKETS

MARKET HINGED ON GERMAN ELECTION

By EDWARD J. CONDLON (United News Financial Editor.)

NEW YORK, May 5.—The stock market hinged on the outcome of the German election here Sunday. Doubts as to whether the German people would sanction the Dawes report were dispelled by the announcement of the election results. This would seem to bear out the prediction that the election would be a "rude" shake-up, not only by the allies, but by the German people themselves who, after all must foot the bills, either directly or indirectly. Strong banking support to a number of important stocks, abetted by some really active public buying at times, served to more than offset the attempts of the bear crowd to force prices lower on the assumption that the good news of the cut in the rediscount rate has been fully discounted. Among the leaders on the rise were Davison Chemical, Colorado Fuel, Stockmaker, Compton, Fibreco products and Schulte. All of the department store issues were in good demand as result of the current earning statement which show appreciable gains over this time a year ago despite the fact that many businesses are now offering somewhat from depression. This statement is all the more impressive when it is recalled that last year was the best ever recorded in the history of chain stores.

The steady foreign exchange recalls attention to the potentialities of the European situation. It is believed that much of the recent advance in foreign exchange has been in expectation of just the result that took place Sunday at the polls in Germany.

Although the turnover in the stock market was rather light for Monday, support came at just the right time, and an even tone prevailed throughout. Cheap money which held all day at 3-1/2 per cent brought in fair support from inside points.

SPORT NEWS

LUBBOCK LOST FIRST EXHIBITION OF SEASON AT TAHOKA SUN. 12-6; ERRORS AND BONEHEADS FEATURED

TAHOKA, May 5.—Errors ran rampant among the Lubbock Independent squad here yesterday, and the local lads got off to an early lead for an easy victory in a more or less listless affair, taking the first exhibition of the season played by Lubbock 12 to 6. Mueller, pitching for the locals, proved the hero of the day when he drove one over the fence in the first inning, sending three men across the platter ahead of him.

Lubbock out-hit Tahoka 10 to 3 but lack of hits in the innings, together with blunders and boneheads in the field, spelled early defeat. But for the first inning, Hunter, Lubbock moundman, had a nice day. In the first inning with one man down, Larkin doubled, Duvall grounded one to Gaither, which he heaved wildly over first base, allowing Larkin to score, and putting Duvall on second; Wells then singled, followed by a single by Givens, which found a wicket in centerfield bounding between the legs of Hunter and Duvall and Wells scored. A Mueller then walked; Robinson went out on a fly to Hensley; Lockhart was hit, filling the bases; Mueller, Tahoka moundman then drove one over the fence, clearing the bases, for a total of seven runs in the inning. Following this Hunter settled, giving up only two hits while he had charge of mound duty. At the end of the fifth he retired, giving over to Terry, who whiffed three men in order in the sixth, and allowed one hit in the seventh. He in turn, gave way to E. Hunter in the eighth, who gave up one additional hit.

In the fifth inning, having counted one in the fourth, Lubbock accepted the offerings of Mueller for three doubles and a single, netting them three runs, and in the eighth counted on two singles, duplicating in the ninth with a walk and a double. It was agreed following the exhibition that Tahoka could give a return game to Lubbock on Thursday, and the local hounds will invade the "Hub" city on that date.

RUTH SLAMS OUT SIXTH HOMER OF SEASON

Babe Ruth knocked his sixth home run of the season in Monday's game with the Athletics at the Yankee Stadium where the Yanks won 10 to 5. The Babe's blow came off the delivery of Pitcher Slim Hasty in the first inning with Hasty Witt and Joe Dugan on the bases. This homer brought the Babe's pace even with his 1921 record.

Incidentally it was the Athletics seventh consecutive defeat—a string of losses which has sent them tumbling from a lofty position in the first division to their accustomed place in the cellar. The Tigers came to life and ascended to second place by beating the White Sox in Chicago 8 to 5. This was their first victory in six games.

In Cleveland the Indians won from the Browns 5 to 3. The Red Sox triumphed over the Washington Senators in Boston 8 to 3.

In the National league, the Giant slim margin was whittled down to one game when they were beaten by the Phillies in Philadelphia 8 to 5 while the Reds emerged victorious from a game with the Cubs in Cincinnati score 3 to 2.

The Dodgers continued their steady climb toward a comfortable berth in first division by winning another game from the Boston Braves, 11 to 4. Squire Ebbett's team is now only one half a game behind the Cubs who are in third place. This fortunate turn of affairs for the Dodgers is directly attributable to a reorganization of their comparatively weak infield. The Pirates and Cards were idle.

While the Ideals of a Group May be That of Building a Great City

— LIKE DALLAS OR LUBBOCK —

The Ideals of One Man May be to Produce a Perfect Loaf of Bread

— Like BUTTERFLAKE —

WHO SHALL SAY THAT THERE'S DIFFERENCE in the IDEAL?

IN BUILDING A CITY

—Service is the foundation. To serve better than others—to build better—to have better and bigger retail houses, to have larger and more complete wholesale stocks—to serve the public so quickly, efficiently and pleasantly that there is created in the minds and hearts of the public a desire to be in the midst of such a city; to buy their needs from such efficient concerns. That desire has been created by Dallas in North and Central Texas—the result of an ideal reflected by the men who are in our City to-day.

IN BUILDING A LOAF OF BREAD

Service is the foundation. To serve the public better by producing a better loaf—a more tasteful loaf of bread—a loaf that is enjoyed not because it is "like mother used to bake" but better than she could have made. A loaf of bread that goes to the best homes because it creates a desire for more bread—the cheapest food one can eat. To manufacture a loaf of bread in Lubbock that represents the true ideal of the baking science is reflected in Butterflake Bread—a bread that goes regularly to the best restaurants and Hotels of the South Plains.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon C. M. Norwood, by making publication of this Citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 72nd Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest District to said 72nd Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the County Court of Lubbock County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the 3rd Monday in May, A. D. 1924, the same being the 19th day of May, A. D. 1924, then and there to answer to a petition filed in said Court on the 29th day of January, A. D. 1924, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1120, wherein Lub-Tex Motor Company, is Plaintiff and C. M. Norwood, W. D. Cullum, and Dyke Cullum, are Defendants and said petition alleging that on Jan 17, 1924, defendant, Norwood for a valuable consideration made and delivered to plaintiff his promissory note in writing in the sum of $250.00, dated January 17, 1924, payable July 17, 1924, to Lub-Tex Motor Company, at Lubbock, Texas, with 10 per cent per annum interest from date until paid and providing for 10 per cent attorney's fees. That to secure said note defendant Norwood executed and delivered to plaintiff a chattel mortgage on one Studebaker Roadster Automobile, Engine No. 99001, State License No. 384743, which chattel mortgage was filed for registration in the county clerk's office of Lubbock County, Texas, January 19, 1924, and became and still is a valid and existing lien on said automobile to secure the payment of said note. And said chattel mortgage provides that upon seizure of said automobile by due process of law or if the holder of said note shall at any time feel unsafe or insecure from any cause, then said mortgagee may declare all of said note due and take actual possession of said automobile, etc.

That said plaintiff has reason to feel and does feel, insecure in that the above mentioned mortgagor included in said mortgage fifty acres of wheat owned by him on the E. V. Harlan farm about 8 miles north west of Idalou, Texas; but in fact the said mortgagor has not rented any land on said farm for the year 1924, and owns no wheat thereon, and such statement or recitation is fraudulent, and gives this plaintiff good grounds to feel insecure in its debt. And further, said defendants Cullum have caused said automobile to be seized by process of law, and are now claiming a lien thereon; and by reason of said fraud on the part of mortgagor and the seizure as above mentioned, plaintiff has a right to declare its paper due and foreclose its mortgage.

That plaintiff is still the legal holder and owner of said note and mortgage, lien, and by reason of the foregoing, has declared said note due; and although often requested, defendants have failed and refused, and still fail and refuse to pay said note or any part thereof, to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $400.00.

That since said note has been declared due and default made in the payment thereof, plaintiff has placed the same in the hands of Wilson & Douglas, attorneys at law, for collection, and contracted to pay them a fee equal to the attorney's fees provided for in said note, and by reason thereof defendant Norwood is liable for said attorney's fees.

That the lien asserted by said defendants Cullum is inferior to the lien of this plaintiff.

That said automobile is of the reasonable value of $250.00.

Wherefore, plaintiff brings this suit and prays that defendants be cited to appear and answer herein at the next regular term of this court, and that upon final hearing hereof it have judgement for its debt, the principal, interest, and attorney's fees due upon said note against the defendant Norwood; that its mortgage lien be decreed to be superior to the lien or claim asserted by defendants Cullum, and that its mortgage lien be foreclosed against all of said defendants; for costs of court; and for such other and further relief, general and special, at law and in equity, to which it may be entitled.

Herein, fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this 17th day of April, A. D. 1924.

HERBERT STUBBS, Clerk, County Court, Lubbock County, (SEAL) 150-4t.

DR. HORN AT HIS HOME FROM HOUSTON

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the Texas Technological College, returned to his home here Sunday after having made a visit to educational institutions at Manhattan, Kansas; Ames, Iowa; the University of Wisconsin and the University of Missouri.

He was accompanied on the trip by Hon. R. A. Underwood of Plainview and Dr. J. E. Nunn of Amarillo. They made a special survey of the work being done in the development of agricultural and dairy products in the states of these institutions and Dr. Horn reported Monday that he is very favorably impressed with the headway made by these institutions in this work.

"We hope to do even more for Texas than has been done for the states of these institutions," Dr. Horn said.

Dr. Horn visited the architects at Fort Worth and Dallas who are working on the plans for the college buildings which are to be erected first and says the plans are being rushed to completion.

AT THE CHURCHES

First Presbyterian—Services of the First Presbyterian Church were held Sunday at the Lindsey theatre.

Rev. Jack M. Lewis preached at both the morning and evening services, and large congregations enjoyed and appreciated his messages.

Sunday school attendance was much increased as compared with the average attendance, and withal the services were of value to all present.

The pastor is pleased with the large attendance, due, due to the fact that it was first believed that because of being compelled to change their meeting place from the church to the theatre building on short notice, a decrease in attendance would result. Services will be conducted at the theatre until the building has been completed.

NEW SCHEME IN RUM SELLING UNCOVERED

By United News.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—A new kind of stock selling scheme with good pre-war liquor as the stock has been discovered by the senate Daugherty investigating committee.

Some ten prominent business and professional men at Chicago got in on this melon cutting when they bought stock in the reorganization of the Grooms Ulrich corporation an old established firm of Chicago liquor dealers, according to testimony Monday by Chas. A. Williams, attorney for the concern.

When the prohibition laws went into effect, a wealthy ring bought the company and stock was sold with the understanding that the company's assets which consisted chiefly of fine whiskey, would be distributed among the stockholders.

Williams stated. After 4,800 cases had been distributed, the remaining 1,700 cases were seized by government agents.

Williams said this scheme was undertaken after it had been approved by Elisha Hansen, a former Washington newspaper man and once secretary to Senator McCormick of Illinois. Williams submitted to the committee a letter purporting to be from Hansen, stating that the plan would not be interfered with by the prohibition bureau.
