TEXAN ON STAND MAYFIELD CASE

MELLON NOT TO URGE VETO OF TAX MEASURE

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Treasury officials regard the compromise tax bill as a considerable improvement over the existing law. Some features are objectionable to Secretary Mellon but he has no intention of urging a veto.

This attitude, forecasting signature by the president, was made known authoritatively at the overwhelming vote of 356 to 9.

Within an hour the bill was sent to the white house from the capitol and President Coolidge immediately referred it to Mellon who expects to have a report on it ready Tuesday or the following day.

The administration would have preferred the Mellon plan, but being unable to get that is ready to accept the present bill because it appears to be an improvement over the present tax law.

Veto of new bill would delay tax reduction by many months, leaving business unsettled during that period. Furthermore there is no assurance that the temper of congress would change by next December, so that not until next congress comes in after March fourth, next could there be any material change in sentiment in either house or the senate.

President Coolidge has been expected to approve the bill whether Mellon recommended it or not. Now the fact that Mellon has swung around makes his signature almost certain.

The bill went to the president with almost the unanimous endorsement of congress. Only six votes were cast against the conference report in the senate.

Some of these came from insurgents who were dissatisfied with elimination of the full publicity amendment of Senator Norris while only nine votes were cast against the measure in the house Monday, all from republicans who stood to the last for the Mellon plan.

Those voting against the conference report in the house were: Fenn, Merritt and Tilson, of Connecticut; Hill, of Maryland; McFadden, and Phillips, of Pennsylvania; Mills, and Wainwright of New York; and Moore, of Indiana.

The measure reduces the tax bill of the country by approximately $341,000,000 in the fiscal year 1925 and ending June 30, next year, and around $421,000,000 for the fiscal year 1926, it has been estimated by Chairman Green, of the house ways and means committee.

It will reduce taxes in the present calendar year $228,000,000 Green estimates, $232,000,000 reduction through the 25 per cent flat cut this year, and $56,000,000 in excise tax reductions which become effective this year.

Altogether the measure cuts excise taxes, including many "sin" taxes, approximately $111,000,000 a year.

There were several voices of disapproval in the general chorus of commendation in the house Monday when the conference report was presented.

2 NEGROES ARE LYNCHED BY MOB MON.

FORT MEYERS, Fla., May 26.—Two negroes, one of whom confessed were lynched by a mob here Monday following attacks on two school girls. While townsmen guarded all outlets from the city to prevent the escape of an alleged accomplice, a mob forcibly took one negro from the county jail. The negro made a complete confession and died under a hail of shots.

Meanwhile crowds of shouting people scoured streets and houses, finally coming upon the second negro covering in a corner of a north-bound train that was just leaving the railroad yards. He was dragged from the moving train identified by his girl victim and shot down.

The bodies of the dead negroes were dragged through the streets by the mob.

ORPHAN HOMES BE BUILT BY LEGION

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 26.—The American Legion will concentrate its efforts on bringing the sunshine back into the lives of 6,000 war orphans, John R. Quinn national commander declared here Monday.

"We do not want these boys and girls going to bed at the sound of a gong and getting up when another bell rings," Quinn said. "We want to give them a real home, where they can make mud pies and get as dirty as they want to."

Quinn left Monday night for Lincoln, Nebraska. He visited the disabled veterans hospital while here and addressed the Kansas City legionnaires. Sunday he formally accepted and dedicated the 358 acre farm site offered by Dan A. Dabney, wealthy oil promoter, as a location for the first regional legion orphans home.

This will be the second public graduation exercise to be held for nurses in Lubbock, and everyone interested in the development of these institutions are invited and urged to attend.

The Lubbock Sanitarium school for nurses now has twenty-five students, who are studying under two graduate nurses and have made splendid progress in their studies.

FORBES CASE BE RE-OPENED

CHICAGO, May 26.—The whole case against Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former head of the United States Veterans' bureau, will be reopened for a federal grand jury here as the result of an investigation of several months duration.

Forbes recently was indicted with J. H. Thompson, Chicago and St. Louis contractor, for conspiracy and bribery. New evidence unearthed by government agents is said to cover many phases of the case concerning Forbes, not commented upon by the grand jury which indicted him. Members of the district attorneys staff refuse to comment on the new turn the case has taken beyond admitting that new and interesting facts would be laid before the grand jury.

At the time the grand jury which indicted Forbes was hearing evidence relating to his conduct of office the name of high officials or former officials of the United States government which were brought into many different angles of the testimony. While the new evidence is said to concern none of these in a criminal way, attaches of the district attorneys staff are said to believe that an astonishing story of wire pulling and influence will be disclosed. It was recalled that the federal building that attorney general Daugherty made a hurried trip to Chicago during the time the Forbes administration was being probed here. It has become known that a phase of his visit had to do with the inquiry which the grand jury was making into Forbes conduct of bureau. Whether the latest angle of the inquiry would disclose anything concerning what transpired during the visit of the former attorney general attaches of the district attorneys staff were unwilling to say.

However, it is known on high authority, that Daugherty, during his trip to Chicago, disclosed an opinion that all matters brought up in the inquiry not directly related to the administration of Colonel Forbes should be left for a future grand jury to consider.

30 CASES SMALL POX REPORTED BY OFFICER

There are more than thirty cases of small pox under quarantine in Lubbock, according to statements made Monday by city health officer, Dr. G. G. Castleberry.

The health officer stated that it is imperative that all quarantine rules be adhered to by those who have the disease to keep the epidemic from spreading into every home in the city, and inasmuch as the law provides that one under quarantine who fails to follow the rules thereof can be subjected to pay a fine of not less than $1 nor more than $100, he will see to it that the quarantine rules are followed as nearly as possible.

"I was compelled to have fines assessed Monday for violations of the quarantine rules, and will see to it that assessments are made for all violations if it becomes necessary," Dr. Castleberry stated Monday.

Ten cases were quarantined Monday and the health officer stated that every precaution will be made to prevent further spreading of the epidemic.

GIRL PREFERS DEATH TO SCHOOL INCARCERATION

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 26.—Preferring death to incarceration in the Kansas state industrial school Leota Harris, 18, attempted suicide by drinking poison Monday. Her condition is serious.

The girl paroled from the school in December, told physicians she had received a summons to appear in juvenile court and fearing that she would be returned to the girls school decided to end her life.

MARQUARD NOT EXPECTED TO RECOVER OPERATION

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 26.—Rube Marquard, one of the most interesting characters in the major leagues of baseball, took a sudden turn for the worse Monday and may not recover from the illness which sent him to the Good Samaritan hospital. The Rube is suffering from the effects of an operation performed on May 14 in which his appendix was removed.

MAN CONFESSES LOCKING GIRL IN BOX CAR

CHICAGO, May 26.—Developments in the search for 17 year old Gertrude Barker, who disappeared from her home several days ago under circumstances pointing to kidnapping, took on a new aspect late Monday when an 18 year old boy told police, he had locked her in a box car with a man at the instruction of another man who paid him a dollar.

The youth, George Straight said he identified the girl by news paper pictures and had come to the police to help find her.

"How was I to know who the dame was?" he said.

According to Straight's story he was walking through the yards of the New York Central here, when he came upon an empty box car in which a man was struggling with a weeping girl.

"It was none of my business," he explained, "and when a swell setting in a car just outside the yards called me I walked over."

Straight said the "swell" in the automobile told him to shut and lock the door and offered him a dollar.

"It's all right," the man explained. "She's his daughter and they're going for a trip."

"And so I went and locked the door," Straight said. "The freight train was moving then. I don't know where the train was going."

He gave the police a description of the man in the automobile. The girl came from Yakima, Washington, several months ago to attend school here.

Another "Romance" Feared

YAKIMA, Wash., May 26.—Whether there is any connection or not between the disappearance of Gertrude Barker, 17 year old school girl at St. Xavier's Academy in Chicago, and the murder of 14 year old Robert Franks, a mother was working here tonight—as only mothers know how to worry.

Mrs. Theresa K. Barker, diligent dressmaker, whose nimble fingers kept her daughter in school, was torn between the fear that her daughter might be the victim of a sordid kidnapping and the knowledge that the girl might have had another "romance."

Two years ago Gertrude, an impetuous and independent girl at the age of 15 eloped with Jack Edwards, 19, in a box car.

They made their way to Pascho, Washington, alighted from their side door pullman and were married. The budding romance faded, however, and Mrs. Barker obtained an annulment. She sent her daughter away to school "to forget."

"But she's just that way, the mother sighed. "Maybe she's off on another love affair."

RESIGNATION OF JAP MINISTER EXPECTED

WASHINGTON, May 26.—With the Japanese exclusion provision now on the statutes, the resignation of Ambassador Hanihara is expected as an early sequel.

While congress previously favored exclusion by legislation instead of by the voluntary method employed through the gentlemen's agreement, it was the letter which Ambassador Hanihara wrote to Secretary of State Hughes while the bill was pending that angered congress and killed any chance of a more moderate provision. The letter gave a warning that enactment of the measure would bring "grave consequences to the governments."

President Coolidge signed the bill Monday and issued a formal statement condemning the Japanese exclusion feature. He explained, however that he was compelled to sign the measure because the existing law expires June 30.

There is every indication that congress would have passed the bill over a presidential veto and this fact, considered with all other circumstances led the president to sign.

The chief concern of the administration is over the friendly relations with Japan. Japanese leaders have acted with restraint and there is no likelihood of any unpleasantness over the incident at present. The chief regret of the president and Secretary Hughes is that the incident has made a deep impression upon the Japanese public and will cause a certain amount of bad feeling which might break out when another controversy arises.

DALLAS KLAN OFFICIAL SAYS MAYFIELD SELECTED TO CARRY STANDARD FOR ORGANIZATION

WASHINGTON, May 26. (UN)—Texas klansmen selected Senator Earle B. Mayfield as their candidate for the senate in a secret ballot in which 2500 members of the klan participated. D. C. McCord, an official of Dallas klan No. 66, testified before the Mayfield investigating committee Monday.

The klansmen balloted to determine whether the klan should support Mayfield, Robert L. Henry, or Sterling P. Strong. McCord said.

"Mayfield was endorsed," McCord declared.

Mayfield, McCord testified, addressed a closed meeting of the klan prior to the balloting. McCord said he was a member of the "steering committee" composed of Klansmen entirely which functioned during Mayfield's campaign.

"The committee raised money for and supported candidates all the way from constable to United States Senator," McCord told the committee. Each committee member was expected to raise $100, he said.

Members of the "steering committee" were chairman of the respective precincts and responsible for turning out a large vote, according to McCord, but they were not the official democratic chairmen.

Protesting that Clark, former imperial wizard of Atlanta had been convicted of a felony, Mayfield's attorneys attempted to bar him from the witness stand.

Clark will be called again Tuesday after the committee has considered objections to his testimony. E. J. Jones, of Atlanta, who was a klan cashier in 1922, testified that N. N. Furney, chief cashier, appealed to him to influence D. Hiram W. Evans toward economy. He said the way Evans was spending money in the senatorial campaign would wreck the organization, declared Jones, but did not recall that Furney specified the Mayfield campaign.

After obtaining chairman Spencer's promise to consider the request to strike Jones testimony from the record, Mayfield's attorneys drew from the witness an admission that he had no personal knowledge of klan contributions to Mayfield's campaign.

Rupert Eldridge, cashier of a Dallas bank, will be called upon to furnish information relative to the klan bank account during the campaign, it was announced.

Objections to former Wizard's testimony was based on his recent plea of guilty to a charge of white slavery which resulted in a $5,000 fine in a Houston, Texas court.

DIRECTORS OF C. OF C. MEET TODAY

The directors of the chamber of commerce will hold their regular semi-monthly meeting this morning at nine o'clock at the offices of the organization in the court house according to an announcement yesterday by President Atkins.

There are a number of important matters to come before the attention of the Board this morning that are of much importance to Lubbock, and a full attendance is requested by the president.

A. L. SMITH NOMINATION WOULD MEAN REP. VICTORY

By United News.
 NEW YORK, May 26.—Governor Al Smith's nomination on the democratic ticket would mean a republican victory in the south, according to an announcement from the anti-Saloon League which publishes a poll it has taken of nine southern states.

"Many writers, though life long democrats" the report declares, "say they personally would vote for a republican rather than for a wet democrat."

Among the states whose leaders have sent in emphatic announcements that they would not support Governor Smith in the convention are Georgia, Arkansas, Kentucky, South Carolina, North Carolina, Texas, Ohio, Mississippi, and Alabama.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, May 26.—Developments in the financial situation did not move in the expected rut throughout the whole of the week just completed once the news of the passage of the bonus bill over the president's veto was out and the bears had their final fling, the technical position of the market at once began to right itself with the net result that the time honored bear tactics of hammering one or two of the leading industrial stocks in the hope of weakening the market as a whole, failed to bear fruit.

Although the current reviews of the steel trade point to the continued slump in the consumption has not generally been in proportion. Each additional cut in production means just that much less steel in consumers hands.

Inasmuch as the decline in building operations has been but relatively small in the past few weeks, the decline in fabricated steel letting has been less than 10 per cent since February. Then, too, steel prices have been generally steady with Pittsburgh representing the market as slightly improved of late for bars, shapes, and plates. The outlook for fall will be shaped by the trend of the market during the next few weeks. July is normally a month of low steel production and in August the increase in production begins to make itself felt.

THINKS PRES WILL SIGN THE TAX BILL

By Raymond Clapper
By United News.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—There are strong reasons for stating that President Coolidge will sign the compromise tax bill, though with some regret. This is not the bill he wanted, but it is better than none and he will affix his signature for that reason unless Washington has completely misread the president's mind.

This will enable the republicans to go before the electorate with having obtained some tax reduction. There is some chagrin for them in the fact that the bill essentially is the democratic plan but the administration took the lead in demanding tax reduction set by the opposing party is not and the fact that the rates were causing republicans much real worry.

Opinion is overwhelming here, both in congress and among political observers that the president will accept the bill because it does not give tax relief, the thing which Coolidge has repeatedly said the country wants more than anything else.

He would have preferred the Mellon plan which would cut maximum surtaxes to 25 per cent, but the compromise maximum of 40 per cent is better than the existing rate of 50 per cent. The significant feature is that the compromise bill cuts in half the taxes of every person earning less than $8,000 a year—and that includes all except a fractional minority of the nation. This means tax relief for the poor man and Coolidge is not disposed to deny this for theoretical reasons.

MEXICAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE BY FALLING UNDER TRAIN

HOUSTON, Texas, May 26.—A second attempt at suicide proved successful in the case of Jose Jesus Danda Oregon, 30, Mexican who at 1:40 Sunday afternoon dived headlong under the wheels of a moving box car.

According to J. J. Weikerth, engineer on the switch engine which was moving the car under which Oregon was killed, he first noticed the Mexican standing beside the tracks about three car lengths away from the engine.

As the train started backing out of the switch the man dived under one of the cars. Two sets of trucks passed completely over his body killing him instantly.

That the man wanted to die is borne out by the fact that he was stretched across the tracks in the International and Great Northern yards. He stated at that time that he laid down across the tracks in the hope that a train would come along and kill him. He was found by the yardmaster T. O. Blakely at 11:10 in the morning, just a few minutes before a train was scheduled to pass over the spot where he had lain across the rails.

Stronger at Vital Points Than Even Costliest Cars

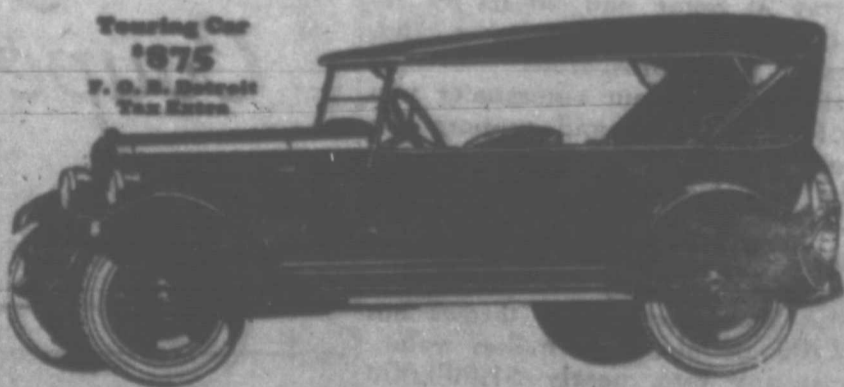

The economical, care-free service which the good Maxwell gives its owners day in and day out, goes straight back to the fact that it is relatively stronger at all vital points than even the costliest cars.

All wearing parts are made as durable and rugged as it is possible for a big, powerful organization, with vast facilities in metallurgy, fine engineering, and skilled, painstaking production, to make them.

It is obvious that the description goes and has attached itself to the Maxwell because it possesses goodness to an outstanding degree.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Maxwell's attractive plan.

THE OLD LAND MARKS.

The old land marks are gradually slipping away. The old timers have watched them go, and have noted the changes with a good deal of satisfaction and pride. The latest old timer to succumb to the hammer of progress is the old opera house that for years has stood on Avenue J. It was used first for an opera house and then converted into a motion picture show, for which it served a number of years. Since better buildings have been provided for that purpose, it has served to accommodate various and sundry business firms, until at last its time came to be moved away and make room for a more modern building.

These old land marks are becoming more scarce every year, and within a short time—the course of progress, there is always a number none of the old time places left. Of course, in the course of progress, there is always a number of what we term fine buildings now, will be razed and room made for others. This is true in the course of general progress, but the old buildings that served their purpose just as amply in the days when they were built, now attract attention of the old timers as they gradually slip away.

POLITICANS CHIEF GAINS.

The bonus bill, now a law through its passage over the president's veto, will cost the country between $2,500,000 and $4,000,000 during the next twenty years. This money will come out of the pockets of the taxpayers, but it seems to be doubted whether the bulk of it will ever find its way into the pockets of the beneficiaries. "Only the most optimistic," says one prominent newspaper, "think that it will go to the men who served in the war." Those entitled to $50 are booked to get that sum in cash. The others will get a 20-year endowment insurance policy of such value as the sum to which they are entitled would purchase. They may borrow money on this policy at the end of two years, and it is predicted that the great majority will make their policies over to the lenders. There is bound to be disappointment followed by renewed demands which calculating politicians will seek to satisfy. Actual pensions in lieu of "adjusted compensation" will be the ultimate demand and, owing to the "politics" involved, the outlook from the point of view of the American taxpayer can not be called encouraging.

But it's an ill wind that brings good to nobody. The party in power is booked, to gain. One frequently hears the more or less cynical remark that the president's record will win votes from one section of the public while the record of congress will win votes from the other. Probably the Democrats who assisted in bringing about the result did not think of that as they meditated on the personal advantage to be derived from pleasing a considerable section of the voters among their constituents. The situation is such that on this issue the republicans can catch voters both "a-comin' and a-goin'".

BOOZE AND JAZZ.

Booze and the accursed jazz dance occupied a prominent place at the Brownwood convention of the West Texas chamber of commerce.

The latter body was formed and has been growing by leaps and bounds as a great business organization, but if the annual conventions are to be turned into mammoth booze parties it is easy to see the finish of what has been termed the second largest commercial organization in the world.

A very prominent Abilene man, in Cisco on business, was strong in his denunciation of the ugly side of the recent gathering, and inclined to blame the management of the West Texas chamber of commerce. The Abilene man, while right in his contention that booze and jazz should at least take a back seat at the annual meetings, was altogether wrong when he criticized the management for the conditions referred to.

President Spencer, Manager Whaley and Assistant Manager Wade, had the same chance of stemming the tide formed by the drinking element as had Eskots in its fight for next year's convention.—The Cisco American.

Numbers of people whom we heard talking about the convention, bring back a rather disgusting report of the amount of drinking that was noticed in that city. Of course, there were forty or fifty thousand people there during the three days, and the same drunk men may have been every day and several times a day and the number of drunk folks might not have been so great when taken into consideration of the number present, but why should there have been any?

We cannot see that such conduct will be creditable to West Texas or the West Texas chamber of commerce, in fact we are sure that it will have a very bad effect, and that it will finally ruin the convention, and kill the intention of the organization. Fact of the business, we believe that the West Texas chamber of commerce convention has "flew the track," and is not now carrying out the original plan of the organization. In its intentions the West Texas convention has a purpose that is rich in possibility. It has accomplished a great deal of development work in West Texas. No one will deny that the work of the organization has been very effective, and still can be of unestimable value to the Western part of the state. The West Texas chamber of commerce was an untiring worker for the West Texas A. & M. College, and used splendid judgment in piloting the passage of the bill and getting it lined up at the proper time. This accomplished the organization officials "hands off" and did not lend its influence in the location of the college at any certain town, and was fair and square in its dealing, and the Avalanche does not for a moment blame the officials of that great body for any booze party that might be staged, but they are certainly going to have to put some very strong demands up to the towns where the convention meets from now on if they preserve the honor and dignity of the organization.

We are of the opinion that the best results cannot be obtained with the tremendous number of people that attended. We know that a very small per cent of the people go to the convention who know one thing that was done in a business way. They took no part in the work, and if they voted at all, they did not know what they were voting on, and the majority of them did not have any interest whatever in the business that the convention was there to transact. We believe that unless the method of holding these conventions is not changed, that the intentions though ever so good, will be of no avail.

Instead of forty or fifty thousand people, ninety per cent of which are not interested in any of the business transactions, let a representative number of members of the local chamber of commerce, in proportion to the number of members the town has in the West Texas chamber, go to the convention, hold a two-days session, or three possibly, and concentrate their minds on their business, and you will get results. The big hurrah, and beating of drums and tooting of trumpets, is of no avail when business is to be transacted.

The convention is unweildy, and cannot be handled well, and we believe that it has gone the limit, under the present plan.

There is a great amount of development work yet to be done in West Texas, and if the West Texas chamber of commerce does not lose its grip on the situation it should be of great help in bringing about the development that is desired. We believe that the organization should have the support of the West Texas people, and when West Texas people pay the running expenses of the organization, those fellows over in North, East and South Texas should have very little to say in what we shall do. We do not object to them being friendly toward us, and we appreciate everything they can do to help us develop this great rich section, but when you take your conventions to places that ridicule the West and the South Plains and the Panhandle, every day in the year except when they are wanting the convention, from possibly a purely commercial view point, we cease to become enthusiastic over the work.

We wish the organization success, but we believe we see the breakers ahead on which the organization will be dashed to pieces, and we are of the opinion that if the wise directorate of the organization will just do some genuine old honest to goodness thinking, that they will agree with us and will change up the plans before the next meeting.

RETAIL MERCHANTS FIGHTING FOR LIFE.

The average retail merchant is today having a fierce fight for existence. Whether he "passes on" or survives rests with the community of which he is a part and to which he liberally contributes for all civic enterprises and pays taxes. The marchans in the average sized town cannot carry in stock everything that all of the people in his town may want at all times. It would require a capital many times larger than the average merchant can command to do this, but he does the best he can. He ordinarily does carry in stock at all times many things for which there is no general demand, in order that he may meet the needs of his customers to the greatest possible degree, but there is a limit to his purchasing ability. He is always ready and willing, however, to make every effort to meet the demands of the community. Why not, then, give him the preference over the far distant mail order man if you must have something which is not to be found in the local stores? He will do the business in a satisfactory manner, give you as quick if not quicker service and more satisfactory treatment, and the chances are that he will give you better values for the money. Finally whatever profit is to be made off the transaction will stay at home and do its bit toward making the merchant and his town and, incidentally, yourself, more prosperous.

If you are interested in your community you must make an effort to sustain and support you merchants—otherwise your town will soon be enumerated among "the dead ones."

"The padlocking for a year of nine of the best known frequented Broadway restaurants and cabarets," says the World tearfully, "throws out of work some 2500 people, and makes valueless, for a time at any rate, nearly $1,000,000 worth of property." Of course this is a melancholy reflection, and yet worse has gone before. It is quite a novel theory that the World sets up, namely, that a law that drives law-breakers out of business is a bad law and ought to be repealed; and yet it goes logically along with Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's theory that a law which is difficult to enforce ought to be repealed, because of the embarrassment it gives to those who violate it. The fact that 600 other saloons are booked for padlock honors may have some bearing on the woeful wail.

PASTOR AND WIFE TO MAKE TOUR OF EUROPE

Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Bowen, of the First Baptist Church of Lubbock, left Monday for Fort Worth, where they will join a number of other Texas people and from where they will start on a tour of Europe visiting all places of interest before returning to their home here. Dr. Morrow, prominent Baptist preacher of Dallas, will have charge of services at the local Baptist church during the absence of Rev. Bowen. Dr. Morrow is one of the great preachers of Texas and his efforts in Lubbock will be appreciated.

AT THE CHURCHES

Church of the Nazarene Sunday was a good day. At the morning service a large and attentive audience listened to Evangelist Riltter's message on the "Second Coming of Christ."

On account of the rain, many were hindered from coming in the evening, but the service was one of the best we have had. There were two conversions and all were much encouraged.

There will be services Monday and Tuesday nights at 8:15; also at 10:00 a. m. Tuesday.

First Methodist.

Five hundred and twelve members of the Sunday school were reported to the secretary and splendid interest in the work was also reported.

The lead in offering financial support to the church is still maintained by tithers, who gave more than ninety per cent of Sunday's contribution.

At the morning hour Rev. Ansil Lynn, missionary to Africa for the board of missions, represented that body and made an appeal to the church for better interest in what is being done by them in the foreign fields.

Rev. Lynn is a brother of Rev. C. E. Lynn, of Lubbock, and is visiting him for several days. He will remain in Lubbock to be in attendance at the Northwest Texas Epworth League Convention to be held here July 9th to 13th.

Regular services were conducted in the evening both as to the preaching service and to the Epworth League program. Attendance was not up to the average at these meetings.

The Woman Who Knows

Houston, Texas—"Because of my father-in-law having been benefited by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery while living with us, I knew about Dr. Pierce's remedy. I knew about his poor health and how he gained strength, could rest and sleep better and was more active and cheerful. Later on it became necessary for me to take a woman's tonic, and I chose Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After the first few doses I felt better, and now recommend it very highly for women during middle age."—Mrs. Fannie Dishon, 2211 Center St. All dealers. Liquid or tablet form.

TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION OF PROPOSED SOUTH PLAINS CIRCUIT COMPLETED AT MEETING HERE MON.

At a meeting Monday afternoon at the office of S. D. Hunter local baseball enthusiasts, plans for the promulgation of the proposed south plains baseball circuit were thoroughly discussed and a virtual agreement reached among the different towns represented, which agreement, it is believed will lead to the completion of the organization. S. D. Hunter was elected temporary president.

Slaton, Tahoka, Floydada and Lubbock were represented at the meeting. These were augmented by the sentiment of two other cities whose representatives had a little hard luck and did not reach here in time for the formal session. These two were Lamesa and Crosbyton who arrived late. Representatives of the latter town, having had the plans rehearsed to them, expressed hearty approval and signified that they were ready to enter contract in the very near future. Lamesa, although supporting an almost fully paid baseball nine now, left some doubt as to whether they would enter under the contemplated agreement.

Representatives of four towns at the meeting discussed matters covering a wide divergence of points, but were all of the same opinion in the real essence of the matter. That was that they wanted baseball for as little expense as they could manage to manipulate, but still give a good class of exhibition, and that they wanted good, clean legitimate competition.

The plan as outlined would bring the league absolutely within the rookie class, as no one would be allowed to participate who had ever been above Class D ball, nor who had been in class D for more than three years. A salary limit was discussed, both pro and con but it was finally agreed that the salary question would not be placed in the constitution and by-laws. In other words, that is a matter that would be left entirely up to the individual ball club. But it was also emphasized that the player restriction would automatically control the salary question to a very great extent, and would permit the use of high school and college boys on the different clubs.

A playing schedule was discussed but no action was taken. However it was agreed that not more than three games a week should be attempted, and some contended that two was plenty. These would be possible Sunday and Monday.

Following a discussion of the many phases, a committee was appointed to draw up tentative constitution and by laws for submission to the different towns contemplating entrance. This committee will act at once, and it is believed that this instrument will be in the mails by Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, and pending final hearings from the different towns, no further action can be taken.

It is now believed that the entrants will simmer down to six clubs. The playing rules will be the same as used under the National Association, but the league will not be affiliated with the National Board.

Lubbock takes shutout at Littlefield.

LITTLEFIELD, Texas, May 26.—Terry, Lubbock moundman was airtight here Sunday, giving up only three lone and well scattered singles to the local lads, while the visitors got to Mueller early for a barrage of hits and Littlefield suffered a shut out affair 14 to 0.

Opening the first inning two singles, coupled with two free-passes set the Lubbock squad well into the lead with three runs. In the next two innings Mueller tightened, whiffing three men in order in the second, breezing through the third with three successive outs following a single by Jones.

In the fourth Terry's single, Mueller's error of Jackson's grounder, Hensley's single followed by a single by Gaither, another three runs for the visitors.

The next three sessions breezed by uneventful, and in the eighth with one out, Jackson walked, followed by four successive singles, an error and another single. This accounted for six additional runs, but Mueller evidently was doomed to his fate, for he was not offered relief. In the ninth a single, triple and a bonhead brought in two more.

Terry equalled the feat of his opposing nine who scratched three singles off his delivery, by driving out three ringing singles out of four trips.

AMERICAN FIRST PLACE TIE IS UNBROKEN

Monday's American League games did not relieve the congestion in first place where the Yankees and Red Sox are both fighting ferociously to break the tie between them. Both clubs won.

In New York the Yankees obtained an even break in their four game series with the Tigers by winning 8 to 2. The game was a one sided affair with the Yanks providing practically all the fireworks. Babe Ruth smashed his eleventh homer of the season off Pitcher Stoner, in the first inning.

Erin Ward, the Yankees second baseman, was missing from the line up being incapacitated by a lame foot. It was the first time since May 15, 1920, that Ward had failed to respond for the usual afternoon session. His absence was not felt, however, Ernie Johnson, substituting for Ward, played conscientiously knocking out a pair of homers in the second and seventh innings and accounting for several of the Yanks runs.

The Red Sox continued their terrific pace by winning another from the Indians 10 to 9. The Sox's winning spurt this season—they have won 17 of their last 21 games—is the most surprising exhibition thus far. The Sox finished last in last years standing and baseball wisecracks said their position this year was equally hopeless. The team has been rejuvenated considerably and is now under the management of Lee Fohl former Brown skipper.

Eddie Rommell pitched the Athletics to a 2 to 1 win over the Browns in Philadelphia.

The Senators regained their position in fifth place by defeating the White Sox in Washington 8 to 2.

Cincinnati and St. Louis played the only National League game Monday.

The Cards won 4 to 3 and incidentally caused a relaxation of the tie between the Reds and Dodgers for third place. Brooklyn now holds third place in strict privacy, with the Reds dangling at their heels in fourth.

NEW PIPE ORGAN INSTALLED IN LINDSEY

A Reproduco organ was installed in the Lindsey Theatre building Saturday night following the regular show by Mr. Smith, representing the Phil H. Pierce Company, of Dallas.

This organ is one of the best additions-made to the theatre in some time, and will be enjoyed and appreciated by all its patrons.

Cliff Lindsey, manager of the theatre, is exerting every effort to please his patrons, and all indications are that he is meeting with success.

Large audiences for every program have rewarded Mr. Lindsey's efforts and the Lindsey Theatre is growing in popularity with the people from all over the South Plains.

Jackie Coogan in "Long Live the King," was presented at the Lindsey last night and will be a feature of tonight's program. This picture was enjoyed by a large crowd and attendance will doubtless be even greater this evening as the good word spoken for it by those who attended the show last night cannot bring anything but greater popularity to the picture.

LOCAL DEMOCRATS MAY NOT GO TO CONVENTION

J. K. Wester and W. O. Stevens, of Lubbock, Lubbock county delegates to the democratic convention at Waco, have not made arrangements to attend the convention, and no proxies have yet been named.

Other delegates from precincts in the county have not been heard from, but it is probable that the Slaton district will be represented.

Besides these new bricks there are several nice residences under construction.

NEW PALO DURO PUBLIC PARK IS OPEN NOW

International News Service.

AMARILLO, Texas, May 26.—The Palo Duro Canyon, famous scenic spot of Northwest Texas, at last is open to the public.

For 20 years, during which time efforts to make Palo Duro a public park have failed because no money was available, it has been inaccessible to the general public, who were barred by barbed wire fences and lack of roads.

Depression in the cattle business has brought about a change, Henry C. Harding, old-time ranchman who owns nine miles of this picturesque canyon, late in May converted his property into a modified "dude ranch." Harding has constructed roads down the precipitous canyon walls, erected a club house and log cabins for vacationists, cleared camp grounds of shrubbery and otherwise rubbed the rough spots off nature for the benefit of those who crave the "great outdoors."

The Palo Duro in its setting is one of the most picturesque bits of scenery in the nation. It is a chasm extending for forty miles across a level plain, invisible until one is but a short distance away. Its wall range from 500 to 1000 feet in height, offering vistas resembling those of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. Contrasting with the towering walls, the valley is dotted with splendid groves, through which a stream alternately winds its way in peaceful fashion and cascades over falls of considerable height.

MRS. DE ACOSTA SEEKS DIVORCE FROM CLERGYMAN

NEW YORK, May 26.—Mrs. Rita De Acosta Lydig issued a formal announcement Sunday night breaking her engagement to the Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, rector of the Church of the Ascension, because of the opposition of Bishop Manning, diocesan head of the Protestant Episcopal church.

The announcement read: Mrs. DeAcosta Lydig of the hotel Chatham announces that her engagement to the Rev. Percy Stickney Grant has been broken owing to the refusal of Bishop Manning to give his consent to a marriage in the Protestant Episcopal church.

Bishop Manning refused to sanction the marriage because Mrs. Lydig's divorced husband is still living. Bishop Manning announced his refusal on a canon of the church which stipulates that no minister shall perform the marriage ceremony for any person "who has been or is the husband or wife of any person then living."

Mrs. Lydig's first husband was W. E. Stokes. Her second husband was Major Phillip Lydig. The engagement of Mrs. Lydig and the Episcopal rector was first announced in August 1921, two years after Mrs. Lydig had been divorced from Major Lydig in Paris. The rector is 64 years of age and Mrs. Lydig 46.

The engagement was broken, it is understood by mutual consent, although both the Rev. Mr. Grant and Mrs. Lydig refused to comment beyond the latter's statement. For many years Mrs. Lydig has been a communicant in Dr. Grant's church and has been active in its work of charity. Her divorce was obtained on the grounds contrary to after Bishop Manning's opposition had become known, she went to Paris to attempt to reopen the case, but found that it was not possible under French law.

Dr. Grant is one of the modernist leaders and has clashed with his bishop in the past on questions growing out of the modernist-fundamentalist controversy.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS HOLD CONVENTION IN DALLAS

By United Press

DALLAS, Texas, May 26.—One negro bell hop at the Adolphus Hotel is a few cents lighter as the result of the Texas Funeral Directors Association convention which was held in the hotel. One of the delegates asked the boy to get some laundry from one of the casket display rooms at the hotel.

The boy took one look and saw a large black coffin in the dark end room. Neither the boy nor the laundry returned.

FARM BLOC WILL HAVE TO FIGHT FOR RIGHTS

By THOMAS L. STOKES
WASHINGTON, May 26.—The farm bloc—that section which dictated its will to congress last session and the one before—stands at the cross roads and its future will depend a good deal on whether it rises up now and reasserts itself after a period of near-inertia.

"What has become of the farm bloc" is a question frequently asked nowadays because of the power this section of congress once wielded its activities constituting one of the interesting phases of legislative history since its formation a few years ago.

It was the first of the effective blocs, drawing from both parties, and for long the strongest. It has done virtually nothing this session. Senator Capper, of Kansas, leader of the senate group says that it will assert itself again and that it is preparing a broad program for the next congress.

Others pointing to its lack of activity during this session, says it is practically dead as a cohesive group, that its functions have been taken over by other smaller groups, such as the insurgent bloc, and that the division in its ranks which has come this year has jeopardized its future.

Just how much power it still can wield as a working force will depend upon developments during the next two weeks.

Its test will be on farm relief legislation. Capper has threatened to hold congress until a bill is enacted.

Esthonia Republic Gave America Stiff Battle

By John O'BRIAN
PARIS, May 26.—The Republic of Esthonia located far up on the shores of the Baltic, gave the United States a stiff battle when soccer teams of the two nations met here in the Olympic games Sunday. The Yankee team was victorious but the score was only 1 to 0.

The Americans made their point on a free kick from a foul early in the game and established themselves as Olympic contenders.

Once that point had been made, the Esth's, who are the champions of the Baltic and whose name carries terror to the soccer fans of Lettland and Lithuania, put up a hard and clever battle for a time.

In the second half, they dominated the play, keeping the ball in America's territory but were unlucky in shooting at the goal. Observers here declare that the Esthonian players appeared to be the better team and that the American players were lucky in winning.

In an equally close game, the Italian Soccer team defeated the Spanish team Sunday by a 1 to 0 score. In this game the Italians, had even better luck than the Americans for their solitary goal was partly the result of an accident.

Experts declare that on the whole the Spaniards were a shade the better team and should have won.

Methodist Bring Up The Question Of Amusement

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 26.—The amusement ban question, the most important of the remaining issues to come before the Methodist Episcopal general conference here, is expected to be acted upon Monday.

After considering the matter for weeks a committee will submit a report proposing modification of the present law which taboos dancing, attending theaters, participating in games of chance, and various other forms of amusement.

Besides the amusement question, there are 50 or more other reports and resolutions of minor importance to be acted upon before May 29, the date on which the conference is scheduled to close. As these will have to be weighed individually and most of them will be subject to some debate, it is planned to hold three sessions daily, beginning Monday.

TAX MEASURE IS BASIS FOR SALES

By EDWARD J. CONDLON (United News Financial Editor.) NEW YORK, May 26.—There seemed to be no doubt in the minds of the various individuals that go to make up the financial community that the president would sign the tax bill. Monday's market from the start was based on the theory that the house would sweep the measure through with an overwhelming vote. The railroad stocks rolled up a substantial gain in the day which were generally maintained through to the close. The other factor which entered in the general scheme of financial affairs on Monday was the revised figures from the treasury department indicating that the surplus for 1924 would reach $364,000,000 and that of 1925 some 2,000,000 in excess of the bonus requirements. The opening session of the week bore the unique distinction—unique at least in more than a fortnight of recording a 4-1-2 per cent level for call money. A slight acceleration in the security markets and the withdrawal of varying sums from this district by interior banks was responsible for the rise. The days' grist of reports of further curtailment in the textile industry in New England did not prevent the cotton market from registering a firm tone and moving substantially higher as far as the distant months were concerned. Additional estimates make the condition of the crop 65.1 to 68 per cent with an indicated yield of 11,107,000 to 11,210,000 bales by two of the houses reporting. Lower sugar prices have followed in the wake of the upward revision of the estimates of the outrun of the Cuban crop at the close of last week.
