Naval Appropriation Passes House

HUGE SUM VOTED TO BOLSTER UP U.S. NAVAL FLEET

BILL PROVIDES 8 NEW CRUISERS AND SIX RIVER GUNBOATS

By THOMAS L. STOKES
WASHINGTON, May 28.—The first step to bring the United States navy up to the full treaty ratio has been taken with passage by the house of the bill appropriating $150,000,000 to build eight new cruisers and six river gunboats and to recondition six first line battleships.

The bill was passed Wednesday night by a vote of 166 to 136 after it had been debated all day.

The first vigorous objection to the measure cropped upon the amendment to Representative Britter, Illinois, ranking republican on the naval affairs committee, providing for elevation of guns on 12 first line battleships. After a heated debate, it was defeated 74 to 54.

A few hours before President Coolidge signed the regular naval appropriation bill which contains a rider requesting him to call a new arms conference. The international act figured constantly in the prolonged discussion as evidenced by the following features of the day.

1.—The argument was presented that the United States must have a large navy if it is to exert a commanding influence in any future naval limitation conference.

2.—The President would be authorized in an amendment to the bill to suspend the building program it provides in the event of a further international conference.

3.—The house defeated an effort to raise the elevation of guns on 12 first line ships, it being argued that this would violate the present naval limitations treaty.

The measure stood intact throughout the fight, attempts to strike out the provision for eight new cruisers and six river gunboats being defeated.

Contrary to expectations, Chairman Butler, of the committee opposed this amendment which brought on a heated argument between Butler and Britten. Butler declared that it was a violation of the naval limitations treaty, drawn up at the arms conference.

Britten explained that the best legal experts of the navy department

A shotgun loaded with buckshot is said to have been the weapon used in the killing.

ALLEGED TRUNK MURDERESS IS NEAR DEATH

By United News.
LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 28.—An appeal to a court higher than any earthly tribunal was threatened in the "trunk murder" case here Wednesday night as Mrs. Margaret Willis hovered near death after her collapse during the days proceedings.

"I can't stand any more," she murmured as she slumped in her chair in the court room and was carried into the judge's chambers by Bert Webster, her carpenter-sweatheart, and court attendants.

The woman's breakdown came at the end of sensational testimony for the prosecution during the Wednesday session of the trial. Mrs. Willis had looked tired and ill when she appeared in court early in the morning. Dark circles from worry and sleepless nights were below her eyes and her skin was even more pallid than usual. When the trial opened she leaned back in her chair and hardly spoke to her son Harold, when he came running to kiss her.

A stained mop, said to have been used by Mrs. Willis to mop up the blood after she had killed Dr. Baldwin, introduced as evidence by the state, was the woman's reserve and started her sinking in her chair. The bloodstained cloth was one of the most gruesome sights ever introduced in a murder trial here.

JAPAN TO FILE PROTEST OF BAN

ACTION OF GOVERNMENT APPROVED BY PRESS AND THE PUBLIC

By United News.
TOKIO, Japan, May 28.—After deliberate consideration which reflected the seriousness with which they regard the issues, officials of the Japanese government are now prepared to protest formally to the United States against the exclusion of Japanese from American territory.

After the cabinet had decided Wednesday to dispatch an official protest to Washington, the foreign office issued a statement reviewing the provisions of the immigration law which deals with exclusion, and voicing deep regret that the measure had been passed despite objections from Japan.

The action of the government is approved in the press and by the general public. Japanese view the situation as an issue deeply involving their national interests and place grave importance on the government's remonstrance.

In revealing the government's decision, the foreign office announced that a "solemn protest" was being forwarded to Washington through Ambassador Hamihara.

The temper of the more important newspapers here is comparatively moderate but expressions of editorial comment show how strongly Japan disapproves of exclusion.

An editorial in the Asahi calls for a far-reaching far-sighted Japanese policy toward the United States instead of opportunistic policy.

By United News.
TOPEKA, Kans., May 28.—A million dollar rain fell in Kansas Wednesday.

The states great wheat crop, said to surpass any in previous years, which was threatened by lack of moisture has been saved, according to S. D. Flora, state meteorologist.

Farmers estimated the value of the rain that fell late Tuesday night and Wednesday at between $2,000,000 and $20,000,000.

J. C. Mohler, secretary of the state board of agriculture upon returning to the capital from a trip through the eastern part of Kansas, declared farmers there were very optimistic over the prospects for a prosperous season.

He predicted that the average wheat yield per acre would be fifteen bushels and in some sections between twenty-five and thirty bushels.

BROOKS MAY BE NEXT PRES. U. OF T.

By United News.
AUSTIN, Texas, May 28.—A movement to bring Dr. S. P. Brooks of Baylor University here as president of Texas University, and thus clear the way for the election of Governor Pat M. Neff, now chairman of the Baylor board to the presidency of the Waco institution, has gained sufficient force since Governor Neff declined the Texas University presidency to cause the varsity regents to consider merits of Dr. Brooks, it was divulged here today.

Regents decided they will make the selection of the university president at their meeting here June 20, which was set ahead several days in order to permit Tucker Royal, of Palestine, a regent, to leave June 15 on a long European trip.

Efforts to put Dr. Brooks over here are being made, it is said by those interested in getting Neff to head Baylor, as well as by those who are primarily interested in the University.

EARTHQUAKE S FOLLOW HUGE ERUPTION

HONOLULU, May 28.—With a loud roar, followed by dense clouds of dust that rose from its crater and billowed across the island, the volcano of Kilauea Wednesday gave forth her biggest explosion since the beginning of her latest rampage.

Kilauea failed to vomit forth rocks or gravel, however, as she had done before. Twelve earthquakes, caused by the volcanic disturbances shook the region surrounding the volcano for many miles during the night.

R. R. OFFICIALS BE HERE TODAY

WILL BE SHOWN EVIDENCES OF CITY'S GROWTH AND IMPROVEMENT

Plans for the reception of fourteen officials of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, who will arrive in Lubbock at eleven o'clock today for a two hours visit to places of interest, are being made by the officers of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and other businessmen of the city.

The officials will be taken to the site of the Texas Technological College, the Agricultural experiment station and other points of interest, in order that they may see what is being done in the way of planning Lubbock's continued growth.

The officials of the Santa Fe system have maintained a most favorable attitude toward Lubbock, and their visit today will in all probability result in improvements on the company's properties in the city limits.

J. F. Jarrell, of Topeka, Kansas, editor of the "Earth," the official publication of the Santa Fe Railroad Company, is among those who will visit here today. He will gather data to be used in future issues of that paper, which has a wide circulation, and is doing much for the development of the territory served by the Santa Fe system.

Other officials of the company who will visit Lubbock are: C. L. Seagraves, Chicago, general colonization agent; M. C. Burton, general industrial agent; J. D. Tinsley of Amarillo, assistant general agricultural agent; Fred Hale, assistant general agricultural agent, Galveston; J. S. Hershey, general freight agent of the G. C. & S. F.; J. G. TORNADO CUTS SWATH BLOCK WIDE THRU TOWN

LIST OF INJURED REACH 30 OR 40 MANY OF WHOM MAY DIE

By United News.
WETUMKA, Okla., May 28.—This little town of barely 3,000 souls which sprung into existence during the frenzied search for oil, lay in partial destruction Wednesday night, the victim of that terror of the southwest—the cyclone.

Ten persons are known to be dead and the number of injured late Wednesday night was conservatively placed between 30 and 40.

The identified dead are: J. O. RAMSAY, 46, cashier of the American National bank MR. AND MRS. DALE ARMSTRONG; THEIR SON, aged five. MR. AND MRS. A. J. WOODRUFF.

Sweeping down upon the southern part of the town from the southwest, the cyclone cut a swath a block wide through the residential section.

Homes that had been hastily erected to meet the overflow population, crumpled to the ground as if they had been made of paste-board. The cries of the injured, pinned beneath the wreckage of their homes, filled the air.

Communication with the outside world was impossible for more than an hour after the storm.

A frantic call for help was finally dispatched to Weleetka, another oil town near here and all available medical supplies were ordered rushed here. Physicians from Holdenville, arrived later and helped to administer first aid to the injured.

The most seriously maimed were rushed to Henrietta, where ambulances waited to hurry the victims to the operating table in an effort to save their lives.

Homes which had escaped the storm were turned into temporary hospitals, there being none in the town.

A. J. Woodruff, whose wife had died almost instantly, after being caught beneath falling timbers, of their home, died en route to Henrietta.

No wind or rain preceded the cyclone and none followed it.

The stricken area extends a distance of five blocks. The town recovered quickly from the disastrous blow and its more fortunate citizens fell almost to a man in clearing the debris of the levelled residence district, pulling out the wounded and preparing the mfor transportation to hospitals.

Dr. Nichols, one of the six physicians here, directed the corps of rescuers to care for women and children first. Hardened and grizzled oil workers tenderly carried the maimed and broken bodies of the injured to waiting motor cars where they were whisked away.

At a late hour, four of the dead had not been identified. The damage was estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000.

HOUSE REJECTS PROVISION NAVAL CONSTRUCTION BILL

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The house has rejected an effort by Representative McClintic of Oklahoma a democrat to strike out the provision in the naval construction bill to build eight new cruisers. The vote was 112 to 84.

Previously it refused by a vote of 74 to 54 to elevate the guns on 12 battleships. Opponents argued that this would tend to violate the naval limitation treaty.

MEMORIAL DAY WILL BE OBSERVED IN LUBBOCK FRIDAY; STORES WILL BE CLOSED AT THREE O'CLOCK P. M.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Lubbock Retail Merchants Association was held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at the courthouse Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

The meeting was presided over by Raleigh Martin, the vice-president.

The directors voted to ask all stores in Lubbock to close at three o'clock Friday, May 30th, Memorial Day.

The request was made in lieu of an old agreement naming memorial day as one of the five national holidays during which all stores in Lubbock were to close.

Homer L. Pharr, an officer in the American Legion, attended the meeting at the request of the merchants, and it was after expressions were heard from him that this amended closing schedule was made. Mr. Pharr told the merchants that the matter of closing would be left entirely in their hands.

The fact that the memorial day exercises do not come until at five o'clock in the afternoon, and for the further reason that the merchants do not now have time to adequately advertise an all day closing especially to those living at a distance, were cited in naming an hour to close business.

It was decided to hold regular meeting of the board of directors at two o'clock in the afternoon of the second Tuesday of each month. It was also decided that membership meetings be held once each month, these to be held on the second Thursday of each month from 6:15 to 7:45 o'clock. General business of the association will be discussed by all the members at these meetings.

The first membership meeting of the association will be held on Thursday evening June 12th if present plans do not miscarry and an effort will be made to have every member of the association attend this meeting or be represented by a member of his firm.

Miss Gladys McSpadden assistant secretary will make a report of the board, this important matter as well as others having been deferred due to the fact that lengthy discussions of other matters consumed the entire time allotted for the meeting.

"My mother gave me Cardui. I took about a half bottle and at this... I was able to get up and help with the work. Next time I took it again, and now, after taking two bottles, I do not have any trouble at all at this time. I gained, my skin cleared up, I am healthy and strong.

"My mother took Cardui for a weak, run-down condition. It did her more good for weakness and nervousness than any medicine she has ever taken. She took six bottles in all. We recommend it and certainly know its worth."

MORE ABOUT THE SINGING CLASS AT THE C. P. CHURCH

Tuesday afternoon the class was increased to 65, and more are yet to come. We take this method of inviting every one in town who desires to learn the rudiments of music to attend this school. Prof. Huffstetler is an accomplished music teacher, and we are sure no one will regret the time spent in this school.

Instead of being here for this week only, as stated in the Avalanche yesterday morning, the school will last for seventeen days beginning Monday May 26th.

Those who are just beginning to study music should come in the afternoon, and those who wish to review the rudiments come with them at night. This school is for the benefit of every one that will avail themselves of the rare opportunity to study vocal music.

Rev. J. A. Rogers, Pastor.

PROHIBITION AND THE CONSTITUTION.

For many years back, much further than we can remember, the liquor traffic was legalized and the people who saw fit to enter into that kind of business, as debauching as it may have been, were protected by the law, and had every legal right to sell whiskey, though we always doubted if they had a moral right, but some years ago, the United States made it a matter of constitution, and the people need not worry about the stuff coming back to America, as long as they will keep the right kind of men in Congress and in the United States Senate. We hear of the law not being enforced, but at the same time the advocates of liquor are mighty anxious to change the constitution. The fact that there are a great amount of violations of this particular law, is no indication that it is a failure.

There are century-old laws upon our statute books against burglary and arson and murder. But are not these crimes committed every day? We affirm that under all the circumstances, the Federal prohibition law has been a great success. Its success is to be seen in the enlarged savings deposits of the banks, increased expenditures for legitimate commodities, the decrease of crime, the increased efficiency of labor, in broken homes repaired, in separated families reunited, and in the fact that the church of God is permitted to do its work without handicap of a drunken and brutalized community.

All agitation seeking to modify or repeal the prohibition law has failed, and will fail. Prohibition has become the permanent policy of the American people. The prohibitory amendment is in the Federal Constitution to remain as long as the Constitution remains. There is as much prospect of returning to the practice of human slavery as of resuming the legal sale of rum. And every citizen who lays claim to patriotism will give his uttermost influence toward building up respect for this and all other laws of the land.

The basis of civilization is obedience to law. Encouragement to law-breaking is easily the most direct and violent form of attack upon the Constitution. We are not now dealing with the question of prohibition or anti-prohibition. That matter, thank God, is settled. The bloody angle of the battle is at the point of enforcement. We have no good word for Bolshevism in Russia or elsewhere, but there is no worse Bolshevism anywhere than the conduct of so-called respectable citizens who are guilty of undermining respect by subtly encouraging or openly practicing resistance to its mandates. The prohibitory law is not so much on trial as the American people are on trial. Let the claim to patriotism of any citizen be scorned, be he governor, senator, congressman, editor, minister or private citizen, who by word or deed, makes it more difficult for the Federal Government to enforce any law which it has enacted.

It is now clear that obedience to the Eighteenth Amendment can be secured only by the close cooperation of the National and State Governments, and by the harmonious action of the executive and judicial branches of those governments.

We demand that the machinery of enforcement shall be taken entirely out of partisan politics, and that no man shall be appointed to this responsibility as a reward for party service.

The criminal rum-runner must be given no quarter. The present wholesale defiance of law along our borders is a disgrace to the Republic, and a confession of official impotency of which no American can be proud. This reproach must be speedily wiped out.

We call upon our people everywhere to give to public officers all possible encouragement and aid in their efforts to enforce law.

LOAFERS HEADQUARTERS AND KNOCKERS CORNER.

One of the most disgusting things that gets started in a town is the congregating of a bunch of "Smart Alecks" who never went to school in their life, but can quote Greek, we guess they can—we do not know ourselves, not having had an opportunity to study the stuff. But these fellows congregate at their favorite place. They discuss everything from the world affairs to local happenings, each fellow having a definite fixed opinion, and though their opinions in all probability were all different, and each would declare they were right, the hours roll on, and an occasional passer by may stop to listen, and being encouraged by an increased congregation they put on more steam, and continue their unabated argument for hours and hours. Such a class of cattle are a menace to any town, and there should be a parking ordinance passed to prohibit such stock from congregating in one place more than two minutes at a time, in fact a "move on" rule should be invoked.

We note on one of the most prominent corners, some of these fellows have been assembling for the past few weeks, and they are certainly a nuisance to the people. Men, women and children, who want to get by and go on about their business. Such people never were known to spread smiles, and optimism, but on the other hand dish out pessimism, discontent, discouragement and poison to the minds of those who listen with a lot of venom that does no one good. They are a real nuisance.

THE COLORED POPULATION'S PROMISE.

In yesterday's Morning Avalanche there appeared a signed article from a number of the colored people of our city, in which they severely condemned the action of the reckless element of their people, and promised to do all they could to clear the town of the undesirables. This is a good move on their part, and with their assistance, we are pretty sure that the officers of this town can soon rid the streets of the class of negroes that are causing all the complaints. We told this committee of colored men that the people of Lubbock have no fight against the negroes who are staying in their place, and know how to act toward the white population, but there was a determined effort going to be put forth to rid the town of any other class.

The Avalanche does not wish to create an unjust prejudice against the colored population, nor do we want to stir up any undue feeling against them, but for the protection of our homes, our boys and girls, we insist that there must be something done to improve the conditions of the town along his line.

To let the conditions continue, will not only be bad enough, but when it is noised about that there is no regulation of the colored people in the town, hundreds of other negroes will come, with no aim of making a living other than pilfering and stealing, hi-jacking, etc.

Let's engage the assistance of these colored men who pledge their support in ridding the town of undesirable characters.

THE "SECRET" OF STYLE.

Prof. Clement E. Foust of the English department of Philadelphia's Central High School is quoted as saying that when he caused one of his sections to read "From Washington to Wilson," a series of addresses on Americanism, the reaction on the speeches of Wilson was so eager and alert, "because of the neat and melodious phrasing," that he wrote to the ex-president telling him about it and asking whether he had any secrets of style. Mr. Wilson wrote in reply, date of January 9, 1923, from his residence in Washington, as follows: "It was very kind of you to give me the pleasure of knowing of the cordial response of your class to some of the things I have said. I do not remember that I have anywhere said anything about the art of composition. I am not fortunate enough to possess any secret of style, and feel that I owe such power of expression as I may possess altogether to the training of my father, who was himself a master of English expression."

No doubt he owed much to his father's training, but probably he owed much more to his own eye for form and ear for rhythm as he read the best writers of English prose. His disclaimer of the possession of "any secret of style" calls to mind the recent declaration of Joseph Conrad, a master in literary expression, that in writing he "never thinks" of style but only of "getting forward with the story" in the way that seems best. One is also reminded of the long-famed pronouncement of Buffon, the French Academician that "the style is the man."

MILLIONS WASTED IN IRRIGATION.

In a special message to Congress, President Coolidge calls attention to the fact that of $143,000,000 expended on irrigation works about $27,000,000 has been completely lost or wasted, and if the present system is continued, the loss will be greater. It is admitted that thousands of farmers who have taken up irrigated lands have been unable to make their payments, either because of the nature of the soil or because of difficulty in financing themselves, and their farms are abandoned.

The farmers of the eastern, southern, and prairie states have as a rule, been opposed to schemes for land reclamation involving enormous expenditures for water storage, and have been protesting against the policies followed during the past decade. They assert that there is an abundance of good fertile land in practically all regions of the United States which is either idle or cultivated to only a small part of its capacity. They also contend that, with present conditions of overproduction of most of the principal farm crops, and resultant low prices, there is no justification for taxing them for aiding to still further increase the supply.

Victor Berger, the only Socialist in Congress, is a consistent internationalist. He has introduced a resolution authorizing the President to call a conference here of all nations signing the Versailles Treaty for the purpose of revising it in accordance with 14 points to which the Central Powers agreed. While the general principle is endorsed by all international groups who desire peace in the world the resolution will no doubt be defeated because it is backed by Socialists.

The President's objection to shaking hands with visiting democracy in great bulk can be understood and has been commended, but the suggestion of his secretary, Mr. Slemp, that instead of visiting democracy might be allowed to file past and take a look at the Executive as he sits at his desk, is not very brilliant and will not be too widely applauded.

The foot and mouth disease is found only among the lower animals, but there must be something wrong also with the man who puts his foot in it every time he opens his mouth.

MARKETS

MARKET SHOWS PRE-HOLIDAY DULLNESS

By EDWARD J. CONDLON

NEW YORK, May 28.—With the market beginning to show pre-holiday dullness as early as Wednesday when the volume of dealings went to a new low for the year, it was not surprising that prices eased off in the latter dealings.

Prices dropped through sheer lack of interest for the bear contingent have been extremely cautious since it became apparent that Secretary Mellor would not ask the president to oppose the tax bill as passed by congress. The financial situation has not been altered to any extent this week. The steel reviews of the week are running about as private reports from the steel centers from day to day have indicated. The end of the second month of the quarter will come Saturday when the complete figures will show a falling off in steel earnings for the month.

Incidentally no appreciable improvement is looked for in June so that the second quarter of the year probably represent the bottom. There is, however, the consoling thought contained in the review of the steel market, namely that the downward movement in production figures has been halted.

The realization in the money market again points to the natural result of the quick shift of funds from interior points to New York when the call money stiffened on the opening days of the week.

The closing of the market on Friday and Saturday, the decision on the latter closing being official, sanctioned after the close of business Wednesday will leave the evening up process of the long week etc. to the Thursday trading.

The slow but steady investment demand for high grade rails and industrials still stands out in sharp contrast to the irregular operations conducted by the professionals who have no very decided opinion on the market during the past few days. Several large corporations with surplus funds have been active buyers of high grade securities this week.

Took a Friend's Advice

Houston, Texas.—"When I was comparatively a young woman I became afflicted with woman's trouble and got so I could hardly walk. I had a delicacy in submitting my case to the doctors. Finally a friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I did so, and before I had taken three bottles I was all right. Later on in life I became afflicted with a kind of poison in my blood; for this I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and gradually my blood became pure. ITCHING ECZEMA GOES QUICK WITH USE OF THIS

People who have endured tortures from itching eczema will be happy to learn that a means of relief has been perfected and is already enjoying unheard-of popularity on account of the quick way it gets rid of the awful disease of the skin which nobody seemed able to figure out before. It is called Black and White Ointment. Most all dealers have Black and White Ointment, and Soap, on account of the tremendous demand which has already reached the rate of more than two million packages a year in its sales, because it relieves eczema so quickly. They are economical, too. The big 50c package of Ointment contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size.

ACCEPT OUR APPRECIATION

We wish to thank the many readers of our morning and evening papers for their splendid cooperation in assisting the circulation department in revising and correcting up our daily subscription lists.

The desired information given to the carrier boys on their rounds is greatly appreciated as it will be the means of us seeing that you get your daily papers on time morning and evening.

We certainly thank those who have already paid back subscription as well as the many new readers being enrolled daily. We will take it as a special favor, if those who know themselves to be in arrears on their subscription will call in the office and adjust same. The amount owed by each individual is small, but when you take into consideration several hundred owing from one to three months back subscription it amounts to quite a sum.

We realize that it is owing to unthoughtfulness on the part of those who have let their subscriptions lapse, and the chances are that many of you expect the carrier boy to collect, which is customary on many of the big city dailies.

This is not intended as a "dun" for we feel sure that you will call in and attend to this at your earliest convenience.

Just as soon as we can complete the revision of our city list we will call at your home and meet you personally as we want to not only get acquainted with each of you, but also to know your house number and street address. Again thanking you for your cooperation, we are, yours to serve, CIRCULATION MGR.

OLSON ANNOUNCES HIS READINESS TO ENTER CONTRACT FOR KALA PASHA MATCH HERE ON JULY 4TH

Chas Olson, holder of the Canadian middleweight belt on the mat, who is wrestling here regularly under the auspices of the local Post of the American Legion, Wednesday announced his readiness to enter into contract with the Legion here, leading to his match with Kala Pasha, "The Terrible Turk." If present plans materialize the match will be held at the community auditorium here July 4th.

Kala Pasha holds the middleweight crown of Texas and the southwest and this coming event will be a finish match, in two out of three falls for the championship now held by Kala Pasha. To the victor will go a beautiful trophy cup, properly engraved which was won by Kala Pasha at Brownwood, where he wrestled under supervision of the American Legion.

The match will absolutely go to a finish according to the contract which will be offered both wrestlers for their signatures, regardless of the time it takes to complete the necessary falls. Carrying out the plea of the Legion that this is no little affair, each man will be required, when he signs the contract, to deposit $250 with the promoter, who represents the Legion which deposit will be held as a forfeit, both to guarantee the appearance of either contender, and to force a finish match between the two.

The contract for the match is in the course of preparation, and it is believed both contracting parties will be on the dotted line within a week.

Both men will enter intensive training for the match as soon as final details are arranged, according to their statements, and although they are now a slight bit over weight both will be required to weigh in at the ringide immediately preceding the match at not over 155 pounds, the maximum weight for the middleweight class.

Olson makes the statement that he will do all his finishing training here, and local fans will have the opportunity to watch the big boy work into condition. Thus they can draw on their own conclusions as to how good a man it will take to beat him.

This will be by far the best card that has ever been offered here for the approval of fandom, as both men are undisputed champions in their particular section, and will extend themselves to the limit in an effort to extend their territorial supremacy.

The proceeds gained by the Legion from this match, and all others, as for that matter, will go into the fund for the erection of a memorial hall here.

MCLEOD LEADS FIELD IN EASTERN GOLF TOURNEY

By United News. WORCESTER, Mass., May 28.—Fred McLeod, Washington, D. C. professional, was leading the field in the eastern golf championship at the country club links here today, with a low score for the two days of 147.

McLeod was closely followed by W. H. Cox of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Leo Diegel, of Washington both of whom turned in cards of 148, Joe Turnes, and Mike Brady, of New York trailed in with 149 and 150, respectively.

DOUBLE HEADERS FEATURE DAY IN MAJORS

By United News. The moist and chilly weather of a hesitant spring which caused so many postponements of ball games resulted in half a dozen double headers Wednesday—four in the American league and two in the National. Both the Yanks and the Red Sox who were tied for first place played doubleheaders. Both broke, even so they are still tied for the lead. Both of the other twin exhibitions in the American league resulted in standoffs.

The Yanks beat the Senators in the first game at Washington, 7 to 4. Joe Dugan and Walter Pipp of the Yanks, executed that rare maneuver, a triple play. The second game went to the Senators 6 to 1. The Red Sox and Athletics played two close games in Philadelphia. Howard Ehmke of the Red Sox had atrocious luck in the first game as he held the A's to two hits and lost 2 to 1, when the Athletics scored a pair in the last half of the ninth. Ancient Jack Quinn, pitching for the Red Sox, shut out the Athletics, 1 to 0, in the second game. The total scoring for 18 innings was only four runs. The hits averaged one per inning for the games and there was not one call for a relief pitcher on either side.

The Tigers won the first game from the Browns in Detroit, four to three and lost the second 7 to 0. The Indians beat the White Sox 5 to 0, and later lost a game, 13 to 6.

The two doubleheaders in the National league took on an entirely different aspect. The leading Giants twice beat the Dodgers in New York by scores of 6 to 5, and 4 to 2. The double victory made their position somewhat more secure, for the second place Cubs were relatively handicapped with only a single engagement with the Pirates in Chicago which the Cubs won 9 to 6.

Jack Hendricks Reds over rode the Dodgers and returned to third place by dividing games with the Cards in St. Louis. The Reds were beaten in the first contest, 6 to 0, but came back in the second and grabbed the honors by a ninth inning rally of two runs which placed them in the lead, 5 to 3.

Although held to three hits in Boston, the Phillies managed to win from the Braves four to one.

RADIO DEALERS IN CONVENTION HERE WED.

The radio dealers who met in convention here Wednesday at the Elk Hall were mighty well pleased with the program that had been outlined, and expressed themselves as being of the opinion that the convention was worth the time in that an exchange of ideas in the operation of their separate businesses brought out some helpful suggestions.

Curtis Keen welcomed the visitors to the city and commended the work they are doing in introducing radio to this section. The radio men lost no time in getting down to business and important problems of the industry were taken up.

The matter of better merchandising and better servicing was discussed by Mr. Gary, of the Radio Corporation of America, and round table discussion was started in which all engaged.

An instructive and interesting talk was made by Al I. Folsom in the interest of the great broadcastcasters that are serving this state and the southwest.

Mr. Folsom stressed the importance of the radio men co-operating with one another and urged that each of them do everything possible for the advancement of radio.

C. C. DIRECTORS WILL MEET R. R. MEN

They will take the railroad men by automobile to all parts of the city, after which a meeting will be held at the chamber of commerce offices at which time problems will be discussed for the mutual benefit of all concerned.

Life Insurance Important

(Don't You Think So?)

It was announced today, May the 28th, that J. J. Adams, one of our well known citizens was dead.

Mr. Adams had a policy in our No. 1 and No. 2 Associations, both of which were paid today out of SURPLUS. We simply skip a call in each Association. Mr. Adams was a member in No. 1 over 5 years, and paid only $41.00 for all calls; was in No. 2 nearly 3 years and paid only $19.00.

Later, we also learned of the death of Mrs. J. C. Cromer, of Lubbock, Route A, who had a policy in our No. 2, which was also paid today, and after paying both claims today, we have nearly enough left to pay another claim.

We claim our policies are dependable, inexpensive and worthy of the consideration of any one who cares enough for his family to make INSURANCE provisions for them.

TUMBLE - N - POOL OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Tumble N. Pool will be opened to the public this morning at eight o'clock and will be open each day hereafter, C. C. Gilly, the owner and manager stated yesterday.

Mr. Gilly bought Tumble N from Claud B. Hurlbut, who built it some three years ago, and will be in active management of the place throughout the summer.

Today's program has been planned especially for the accommodation of all who wish to enjoy a plunge, and will be opened exclusively to ladies until twelve o'clock, noon.

After that hour the pool will be opened to the general public. Two days each week ladies will be admitted during the mornings.

Mr. Gilly stated that the pool will not be opened during church service hours on Sunday. It will be opened then only from two to seven o'clock in the afternoons and evenings.

The pool has been thoroughly cleaned of all settlements and the water is now clear and inviting, and all who visit the place today will be delighted with it.

The Locust Grove picnic grounds are to be opened to the public today also, special arrangements having been made to give playground accommodations to the kiddies.

Mr. Gilly will do everything possible for the entertainment of the guests at the pool, and says nothing will be overlooked that would make the place a better place for one to visit for a few hours rest and a good plunge into the pool.

Americans to reconsider the decision" the Jiji says.

The Chugua asserts that immigration is not an economic question and regards its disapproval of the exclusion clause. The relatively important Yamato voices hopes of the Jingoistic element in declaring that Japan's revenge will come soon and would be of an extraordinary sort.

Meanwhile the American consul general at Seoul, capital of Korea, is reported to have received a number of threatening letters and is also reported to have applied to the police for protection. It is announced simultaneously that the number of pupils in American missionary schools is decreasing.

As the government protests exclusion, the people are still fighting for an opportunity to reach America. The steamship Taiyo Maru is carrying 800 Japanese couples, emigrants and new brides. Almost 500 emigrants who wished to leave in the ship were unable to obtain bookings.

Protests Unavailing
WASHINGTON, May 28.—Japanese protests against the new exclusion law are being received sympathetically by the administration but they cannot alter the new policy just adopted by congress.

Suggestions that a new treaty be negotiated which would take the place of statutory exclusion meets with no favor at the state department at this time. The feeling in congress makes such a course impractical. Later, it may be possible to work out some harmonious plan. But for the present, exclusion will be by law and not by voluntary agreement.

The protest from Tokio which is now on the way here has been expected by the administration. Secretary of State Hughes is thoroughly familiar with the Japanese position and for that reason was especially active in trying to prevent the exclusion law from being enacted. But his efforts failed and his only recourse now will be to dispatch a reply to the Japanese note which will explain the situation in a friendly way designed to remove pangs of wounded pride.

Ambassador Hanihara is to return to Tokio in the near future. His retirement as ambassador to the United States has been expected ever since his now famous "grave consequences" note to Secretary Hughes became public. It was this note which gave the exclusionists in congress enough strength to defy the hardest compromise efforts of Coolidge and Hughes.

ment had held that the elevation was legal. He said the elevation merely called for cutting holes in the turrets and raising the guns from 13 to 30 degrees and did not provide for raising the turrets. Twenty two of Great Britain's battleships now outrange all but five in the American Navy, he said. Oliver of Alabama, democrat, urged that the amendment be defeated as the state department had taken a position against elevation of the guns.

Most of the democrats present voted against the amendment, bringing its defeat.

When a final vote was taken, Britten voted against the bill though he has been a champion of increasing the size of the navy. He was keenly dissatisfied with the defeat of his amendment of elevating the guns. The major opposition to the bill throughout the fight came from democrats and insurgent republicans.

Britten made a last minute attempt to hold up the bill by sending it back to the committee. He made the motion simultaneously with McClintic, of Oklahoma, democrat, an opponent of the measure who was recognized. The motion was beaten 171 to 144.

McClintic's effort to strike out the section for the cruisers was defeated 112 to 84. A motion by McKeown of Oklahoma, democrat, to strike out the provision for the river gunboats was defeated
