Nine carloads of strawberries were destroyed.

A collapsed crowbar on one of the tank cars caused the wreck, trainmen said. A stream of blazing gasoline began flowing from the cars toward the home of Wesley Hall, a gardener. The family hastily removed the furniture from the house and fled to safety.

By United News.
WASHINGTON, June 4.—Suit to prevent federal officials from carrying out the provision of the soldier bonus law has been filed in district supreme court by Ben Catchings, of New York, through a local attorney.

Catchings represents himself as a tax payer acting independently and not for any organization. He asks that the secretary of war, secretary of the navy and the secretary of the treasury, director of the Veterans Bureau, the treasurer of the United States and the public printers be restrained from administering the bonus law. He argues that the Veterans have been paid in full for their services that the law making a gift from the public treasury, that members of congress are not free agents in passing the measure and that intent of the law is to pay for votes given to members of congress by soldiers and their friends.

JUNIOR C. OF C. MEMBERS MET WEDNESDAY

Plans were discussed for the Junior members participation in the entertainment of the Traveling Men at the smoker and Dutch lunch to be given at the community auditorium on the evening of June 14.

Keen interest has been shown in the work of the junior chamber of commerce, and practically every committee that has been at work during the past several months was represented at Wednesday's meeting.

B. C. Dickinson, president of the junior chamber of commerce was present and had charge of the meeting.

S. E. Cone was appointed as chairman of the committee whose duty it will be to sell tickets for the traveling men's Dutch lunch and smoker. #### Dissecting Instruments Found in Room of Franks Slayer Lead to Belief That Murder was Committed as 'Experiment'

CHICAGO, June 5.—The will to mutilate human bodies—to splay muscles with the surgeon's scalpel so skillfully that death would be prolonged for hours—may be the real motive that led Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb to kidnap and murder 13 year old Robert Franks new and startling evidence unearthed late Wednesday by police detectives indicated.

In Leopold's room investigators sent out by states attorney Robert E. Crowe found a case of dissecting instruments, such as surgeons use in operations and several kinds of varying shapes and sizes, their edges sharpened to a razor-like finish. According to physicians assisting Crowe in his investigations of the strange circumstances attending the slaying of young Franks, some of these instruments could not possibly be used for any purpose other than the dissection of a human body, or for an operation on a living person.

In a little known treatise inscribed by Pietro Aretino, never translated from Italian to English the intellectual exquisites who confessed murdering Robert Franks himself the son of a multi-millionaire, a neighbor of the murderers families, found their inspiration for crime, the authorities believe.

Arthino, four centuries after his body was laid in the grave, sprang into life through the disease imaginations and perverted instincts of the two university of Chicago students and furnished an impulse that led them to mark at least four youths for "experiments" according to evidence unearthed by the police.

In the possession of Leopold, detectives found a list that Crowe says contained names of youths intended by the two self confessed slayers for possible dissection—or death. Besides Franks, this list included the names of S. Deutsch, the grandson of Julius Rosenwald, president of Sears Roebuck and company, Junior Harris, son of S. H. Harris, of Harris Brothers and company, a millionaire, and John Levinson, son of Solomon Levinson, a lawyer.

Young Levinson appeared before the grand jury here Wednesday and told how Leopold and Loeb had come to the grounds of the Harvard School May 21, the day young Franks disappeared, and tried to induce him to accompany them.

Describing this phase of his inquiry, states Attorney Crowe said: "Instructor Seese saw Loeb talking to Levinson and went up and engaged him in conversation. Loeb became alarmed and went away. He and Leopold then went to Loeb's home and obtained a pair of field glasses.

"These two young men sat in their car two blocks from the Harvard school and watched for their intended victims to leave. Fortunately for young Deutsch and Harris, when they left the place they were in company with other boys.

"So the two began cruising around the neighborhood and finally they ran across young Franks, just leaving the ball game. They hailed him and he accepted an invitation to ride home. The world now knows the rest of this horrible story."

It was the first time that Crowe had disclosed evidence in the hands of the authorities of the events leading up to the abduction and murder of young Franks. The prosecutor said he was moved to disclose the information because of startling developments pointing to the connection of Leopold and Loeb with the murder of Freeman L. Tracy, former University of Chicago student and with a number of grand robberies as well.

A full report of the probe will be laid before congress in December.

FINAL EFFORT IN FARM RELIEF MEETS FAILURE

MOVE VIRTUALLY KILLS ANY HOPE OF RELIEF THIS SESSION

By United News.
Washington, June 4.—President Coolidge has put his foot down on the compromise relief bill which was laid before him by administration leaders in the house in a final effort to get agricultural legislation through this session of congress.

This was made known Wednesday night after a conference of the republican steering committee with former representative Frank Mondell of the war finance corporation, which was to administer the new scheme. Mondell acted as a go between for President Coolidge and Republican house leaders who had laid the plan before him earlier in the day.

Administration leaders in the house agreed on the compromise measure and carried it to Coolidge Wednesday with the understanding that it would be pushed if he approved of this form of relief. But the president opposed the plan suggested and it will be abandoned.

Republican floor leader Longworth also stated that the opposition which has shown itself to the McNary-Haugen bill would stand this compromise measure. He said he had conferred with democratic leaders who had made this plan.

This virtually kills any hope of farm relief legislation at this session, though Longworth stated that efforts might be continued to revive the plan so that it would meet with greater favor.

"Since the defeat of the McNary-Haugen bill in the house" Longworth declared in a formal statement "in consultation with many members of the house and with the official representatives of many of the large farm organizations, I have been attempting to arrive at some satisfactory measure for the relief of the agricultural situation. We have also discussed the matter with the president.

"The large majority recorded against the McNary-Haugen bill made it evident that any legislative proposition embodying the basic principles of this bill could not be passed. While fully realizing the condition of agriculture and with most earnest desires to bring relief as far as legislatively possible, we have so far been unable to work out a plan which would command the necessary support.

VETERAN BUREAU PROBE TAKES NEW TURN

By United News.
WASHINGTON, June 4.—The Veterans Bureau establishment at Perryville, Md., which figured in the scandal involving former Director Charles E. Forbes is again under investigation because of a strike by 150 veterans attending the bureau vocational school here, General Frank T. Hines, director of the Veterans bureau has ordered an investigation and promises corrective measures. A delegation of students presented a bill of complaint to him previously. They complained of vermin-infested food, filthy barracks, fraud in purchase of supplies by officials, careless medical attention, mingling of tuberculosis with healthy students.

Irregularities in handling supplies at Perryville, were charged recently against Forbes in the Chicago indictment which grew out of a recent senate investigation.

THE VIOLETS

Away from all the paths of men,
Deep hidden in a tangled den,
I found, to lighten up the gloom,
A clump of violets in bloom—
Violets as perfect and as true,
As those the florist sells to you,
Violets as brave as those which grow
Where people daily come and go;
And catching their sweetness on the air,
I wondered why God set them there.

Why in this tangled place away
Should God bid violets to stay?
Men very seldom journey here,
The spot is ugly and severe,
And far from all the praise which makes
Man glory in the pains he takes.
Would mortal strive his best to be
If never mortal smiled to see
His brave achievement? No I think
Into the mire he'd quickly sink.

Yet here are violets growing on,
Asking not praise from anyone,
Making his dismal corner bright,
Though hid away from the human sight;
Perhaps believing one like me
Some day by chance may come and see
Their loveliness and with a smile
Make all their patient toil worth while,
Knowing, however great the cost,
That faithful work is never lost.

Then can I not be just as true
Though men my work may never view?
If violets can be violets, when God sets them from the haunts of men
And bids them blossom there alone
Unseen, unpraised, unloved, unknown,
Can I not be a man although
A humble post is mine to know?
Need I, though little praise I gain
Fancy that I have lived in vain?

HAMLIN YOUTH KILLED BY TRAIN

By United News.
WACO, June 4.—The badly mutilated body of Ray King, age twenty, of Hamlin, Texas, a student at the Meridian college, was found near the Santa Fe tracks at Morgan by a railway employee this morning. It is the belief that he had fallen from a freight train last night, and was caught in the wheels of the moving train.

BLUE HUE DINNER WAS MOST ENJOYABLE OCCASION

The Blue Nine Dinner given at the Armory on Tuesday evening in the interest of the Presbyterian Educational Campaign was a decided success in every way. Plates were laid for forty people, and after partaking of a bountiful repast, which was served in a splendid manner by the ladies of the Methodist Church, these present were entertained and instructed in an address from Rev. H. V. Carson of Louisville, Ky. Dr. Carson is a man of wonderful personality and pleasing appearance, and after speaking briefly on the general theme of Christian Education, he confined his remarks chiefly to the peculiar situation in the Lubbock church in that these people are in the midst of a building program looking to the completion of the new church building, and are therefore not in a position to take as active a part in the Synod's program as they would like to do.

After some discussion it was decided to go ahead with the campaign with the understanding that those who wished to do so could designate their pledges to church building instead of the campaign proper. This on account of the condition confronting this church in connection with the Texas Technological College that is being established here, and the Presbyterian boys and girls that will attend that institution from other parts of the state.

At the close of the meeting the following executive committee was appointed: H. D. Wood, chairman; N. H. Wright, A. B. Lewis, Mrs. J. C. Wagner and Mrs. S. P. Robbins. This committee will have charge of the campaign and with the assistance of Mr. C. H. Green and Miss Lillian Brooks, who represent the Synod's Committee here, will proceed at once with the organization and be ready for the actual canvass in a short time. This committee will have an office in the Security State Bank building Room 109, where Mr. Green or Miss Brooks may be found during the day and they will be glad to answer any questions relative to the campaign.

to entertain hundreds of visitors to the big picnic that will be held at the Silver Lake Falls Friday and Saturday.

HARDWARE DEALERS ASSOCIATION MAN IN LUBBOCK

A. M. Cox, of the Retail Hardware Dealers Association of Texas, and the Hardware and Implement Mutual Fire Insurance Companies, with headquarters in Dallas, arrived in Lubbock Wednesday on a trip of inspection of business conditions in this section.

Mr. Cox is working in the interest of the association and will visit practically every hardware dealer in this territory.

He stated Wednesday that he is favorably impressed with the spirit of optimism that is prevalent in hardware dealers circles throughout the south plains, and declared that while the present season is always dull for the implement dealer and some of them are of course suffering the usual slack business of the season, that they are all buying large stocks of goods and preparing for a heavy business in light goods and for a big business in all lines during the harvest season.

Mr. Cox is one of the big business men of West Texas and it is fortunate for the plains that he is here to make a personal inspection of conditions here, as his association is very influential and can be instrumental in advancing the interests of the south plains country very materially.

PUT OVER THE TRAVELING MEN'S BANQUET IN GOOD SHAPE.

It is just a little over a week now till the date of the traveling men's feed in this city. This is one of the big events of the season in Lubbock, and the business men should be greatly interested in the success of the proposition. Three times the traveling men have been invited to come and be guests of the Lubbock business firms, and they have always responded liberally to the invitations, and this year the number in attendance will be far in excess of any previous years.

The number this year will run way up into the hundreds, and the feed will be attended by possibly a few less than a thousand people, and that means one of the biggest dutch lunches that has ever been pulled off in West Texas and we expect anywhere else.

While the Chamber of Commerce acts as a steering committee for the occasion, it is not a Chamber of Commerce party. It is a business man's party, and they of course, will have to foot the bill. The Junior Chamber of Commerce have taken the responsibility of getting up the finances, and they will have a committee call upon you within the next few days and sell tickets to this feed. It is expected that the business men and citizens of Lubbock buy enough of these tickets to pay the expense of the feed. It is not necessary that this be left entirely to the business men, in fact, it is not exactly right that they should bear the burden of development proposition, and you will have to admit that there is more or less the snap of a purely business deal in the whole matter.

While it is understood that it is a feed given by the people of Lubbock because of the kindly feeling that we have for the traveling men, at the same time it is also an appreciation of the good advertising that these men have given us for which we have all received more or less financial benefits, hence the men with property interests are just as much interested in the proposition of entertaining these men as the biggest business man in the city.

Buy three or four of these tickets and contribute the feed that will be one of the greatest events of its kind that has ever been given in Lubbock. We have had some good ones before, and each time it grows a little, and this year promises to be the biggest affair of all of them.

ABOUT THE BOY SCOUT WORK.

There has been more or less said and written regarding the boys work in this community, and at times it would seem that there is very little being accomplished in the matter of entertainment for the boys, and for their training. It is to be hoped that in the future there will be a better organization of the boys work in the city, and as Mr. Sensabaugh has been working with the boys for some time, when in convention with him regarding the boys work, he said:

"There is a lot that might be said about the boys work, and the scout work. One very important thing is to get hold of the youngsters while they are in the plastic age, and are easy to learn, quick to observe, and easily molded into characters that will make loyal true Americans with the proper training.

"Recently President Coolidge was visited by a delegation of boys, whose purpose was to request that he be Honorary Chairman of the National Boys Week. After some brief bits of history concerning his own boyhood days, he reminded his hearers that he could never forget the instructions his grandmother had given him, and now that he was a father with boys of his own, he could more readily appreciate that fact, and that it was the keynote to a success. That instruction was that he should be obedient to his mother.

"This brings us to the item, 'A Scout is Obedient.' Our hand book says of this: 'To be a Good Scout, a boy must learn to obey the orders of his patrol leader, scoutmaster and scout commissioner. He must learn to obey before he is able to command. He should so learn to discipline and control himself that he will have no thought but to obey the orders of his officers. He should keep such a strong grip upon his own life that he will not allow himself to do anything which is ignoble, or which will harm his life or weaken his powers of endurance.'

"Scouting does not expect that each boy receive the command in the same manner and tone as would be handed by some old gruff Drill Sergeant, whose unique position in our national army has caused many a rookie to squirm, and wish to come back with a knock out blow, but rather with that clear cut, high minded command given not so much in the superiority of age, mind and physical being, but rather as from one just a bit older, one who knows, one who feels, as does the boy to whom the command is given."

assure you that you will get your response and get it quickly, when given with the understanding the boy observes.

"Our modern methods places us in such a position that we are not able or do not properly spend the time to see that this item is handled as it should be. Scouting gives it to us. This item alone is worth the attention of each individual in our country, not so much that they or we have fallen down on our job along this line, but rather that the modern inventions for ease, comfort and movement have occupied our time and that of ours in other channels than which we as boys knew. We do not wish at this time, to disparage the work done by our educational schools, for Scouting is but a continuation of the work started in the school room and the home. It is an adjunct that we cannot well afford to overlook. If our future leaders are to be properly trained so that they can command, then it is up to us to give them the chance to learn the game from the bottom.

"Another important feature of the scout work is the matter of being prepared, which is one of the mottoes of the scouts.

"You have often been told of our unpreparedness during our entry into and in our later participation in the last great war. Hence, this second item should be of more than passing interest. In our Scoutcraft, we are introduced to this and 'Among the first things a boy must know to become a scout, are scout law, salute, sign, oath, motto and the significance of the badge.'

"The motto of the Boy Scouts, is Be Prepared. The motto, Be Prepared, means that the Scout is always in a state of readiness in mind and body to do his duty; to be prepared in mind, by having disciplined himself to be obedient, and also by having thought out any accident or situation that may occur, so that he may know the right thing to do at the right moment, and be willing to do it; to be prepared in body, by making himself strong and active and able to do the right thing at the right moment, and then do it."

"The people of Lubbock should certainly get in behind the boys work more systematically than they ever have, and see to it that they are given better attention than they have in the past. As Lubbock grows, this need becomes more and more urgent, and the necessity of having a perfect organized plan is not any longer a question, but just how well organized are we going to make them by getting in behind them and giving them our support, morally, financially and every other way that will make of the boys better and more loyal citizens.

EASIER TO SMILE THAN FROWN.

When God created man in his own image, He gave him the power to smile with the use of only thirteen facial muscles, while he must use sixty-five muscles for a first class frown.

We render tribute to smiles in money paid for seeing them, in money paid for being made to smile. We follow the men and the women who smile and we follow them willingly.

And then we forget all about the great value to us of our own smile, and almost before our faces have relaxed from the reciprocal smile another person brings to our countenance, we allow our mouth corners to droop and we go about our affairs with frowns of gloom.

People pay money to see their favorites smile in the movies. They pay money to see smiles on the living stage. They pay money to be made to smile. But the smiles of screenland and the smiles of the stage, even the smiles of the audience, are only occasional smiles. The great thing is the everyday, day-long smile of the man in business, the man in the street, the woman in the home or in whatever occupation she may assume.

All the great influence, the magnetism of compelling personality the pulling power of our individuality, the pleasing force that is within us, may be used if we will tame our faces and teach them to smile when a smile counts, and that is much of the time.

We have the world at our feet when we smile.

ARE YOU IN DOUBT?

The man in doubt as to the occupation he wants to follow had better sit down and be right still until he makes up his mind. Never go into business for the money there is in it but for what you believe you can get out of it. However, in most business careers money has been merely incidental. Looking after the incidentals is one of the secrets of success. Nevertheless, few men who have been great money makers entered their incidental. Looking after the incidentals is one of the participate in the strife. They were more usually over-joyed at the defeats they turned upon their competitors than they were at the increase in revenue. You must like a business or you will not win in it, and the like must be for the work and not for the pay. No man ever had his whole ambition in a bank book with only a rubber band around it.

If the stolen note-books of Goston B. Means had to be carted off in a truck, they must have been even more columnious than Pepsy dairy. There appears to be some suspicion that they were either empty or as darily centuresome as the works of Baron Munchausen.

WALTER P. CHRYSLER'S TRAFFIC TALKS

WHAT IS REASONABLE SPEED?

Colonel F. S. Greene, superintendent, Department of Public Works, New York, believes that the State must build highways which will safely accommodate vehicles traveling at a speed of 35 miles an hour. The troubles with roads, today, he said, is that they were laid out before the motor car became important as a means of transportation. Consequently they are too narrow.

What is a reasonable speed? Some states require drivers to keep within 20 miles an hour, others 35 miles an hour. One state requires drivers to go at a "reasonable and proper" speed. Another instructs to proceed in a "careful and prudent manner."

Highways should be opened up to permit 35-miles an hour driving.

Education of the pedestrian is essential to any satisfactory solution of the traffic problem, is the sound conclusion that a recent traffic conference came to. It was also said that traffic regulation is just as important outside the large cities as it is within them.

RED SOX DRIVE YANKS FROM TOP PLACE

By United News.

The Red Sox have at last reached their goal—the cherished summit of the American League.

A six to five victory over the Browns in St. Louis Wednesday while the leading Yankees were losing to the White Sox in Chicago 4 to 3, gave the Red Sox the foremost position in the league, and shoved the Yanks into second place, a half game from the lead.

Ty Cobbs Tigers advanced closer to second place by winning a 10 inning match from the Senators in Detroit 6 to 5.

In Cleveland the Athletics emerged from their cellar berth and ascended to seventh place by virtue of a 5 to 3 win over Trix Speakers Indians consequently plunged to the bottom of the league.

Rain in the eastern half of the major league circuit prevented all but one game in the National League. The St. Louis Cards won this only performance from the Phillies in Philadelphia 12 to 5, but the victory did not improve their standing to any marked degree.

The Cubs and Giants, Pirates and Dodgers and Reds and Braves all abandoned their games for the day.

PLANS FOR ELKS SPORTS DAY COMPLETE

Final plans are complete for the Elks sport day celebration which is to open here next Thursday morning, June 12th, according to an announcement made last night by R. C. Dickinson, and judging from the outline of the program for the day, nothing has been omitted that will make the day replete with enthusiastic entertainment from beginning to end.

This occasion, which is hoped can be made into an annual event, is one in which Plainview and Lubbock Elks enter competition in a variety of athletic sports, both indoor and outdoor, including baseball, tennis, golf, boxing, dominoes, checkers, Mah Jong, cribbage, and various and sundry other contests.

According to word from Plainview, they will be present on this occasion about 500 strong, and of course are coming with teams of well drilled men in their attempt to take back full honors from the meet.

The town will be turned over to the visiting delegation on their advent into the city.

Paramount among the many different features of the day's program of entertainment will be the baseball game in the afternoon, which will be played at the Merrill park. Neither club will be allowed to play in this exhibition any of the lodges, but this does not signify that a good ball game is not in store for local and visiting fans, for on the membership rosters of these two lodges can be found some of the best ball players in the Panhandle of Texas.

The local club will be built around Earnest Karr, Lewis Hunter, Sylvan Sanders, and Alex DeLong. All of these men with one exception, are now playing with the Lubbock amateur squad being engineered by Sled Allen, pilot of the Hubbers when they copped the honors in the Panhandle-Pecos-Valley League in its last season before it turned turtle and backed away. In these four mentioned can be found a battery that is hard to beat, consisting of Karr or DeLong as receiver, and the other two as moundmen. Sanders or DeLong either work acceptably around the initial corner, too, in case of an emergency. Around these four as a nucleus will be built the nine that will enter the field of competition for the locals.

LOS ANGELES GETS 1925 SHRINERS CONVENTION

1925 convalesce and all withdrew in favor of the coast delegation.

Unique Parade Staged.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 4.—The twisting and trembling fingers of the jester cunningly directed the mad cap hula-baloo of the shriners here Wednesday as more than 20,000 grotesque figures, live elephants monkeys and camels turned the city streets into the sawdust floors of the "big top".

Happy in the selection of Los Angeles as the 1925 convention city these pilgrims of the desert left nothing undone to display their bag of tricks in the most gigantic stunt parade ever staged in the country by one organization.

Promptly at 8 p. m. they swung into view, and for the next three hours and a half they passed before countless thousands along the line of march who had gathered long before the sun had set.

Shrinedom had turned from the sublime to the ridiculous. There was an automobile of popular make whose rear seat had been charged with electricity. Those who succumbed to the pleas of the driver to "have a little ride" accepted the "shock" laughingly. Unsuspecting policemen dropped their official dignity and lost it altogether when the crowd gave them the "office."

Huge elephants lumbered along the streets, the mascots of the Ararat Temple, Kansas City. The sight of camels brought forth more or less "uneful strains of "how dry I am."

Just to be different, so it was explained, a few of the delegates to the forty temples represented in the line of march wore evening clothes, and affected surprise that it should be regarded as a sober note in parade conspicuous for its lack of dignity.

Downtown traffic was suspended again, just as it has been since the shriners arrived and as it will be until the last son has started the retreat across the hot sands.

Street dances, parties, and the atres occupied the interest of the hosts throughout the day, and following their parade at night.

While Jollification was at its peak the imperial council soberly elected James E. Chandler, imperial Potentate. Chandler will succeed Conrad V. Dykeman, of Kismet Temple, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The imperial divan elected Wednesday was formed after a custom followed for years, all but two of the imperial officers ascending to higher offices by right of succession. John N. Sebrrell, Jr., of Khedive Temple, Norfolk, Va., won the only elective office, that of Imperial Outerguard. He will become imperial potentate in 1935.

Bad Checker Operates.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 4.—Knowing that more than 40,000 shriners were in town and all were wearing the fez Dr. B. F. Hughes 25, of Palokee, Fla., put one on his head and started out to pass a few worthless checks.

But he did not take into consideration the fact that 800 provost guardsmen were on the job assigned to arrest just such fakera.

At police headquarters, Hughes admitted he escaped from a Florida penitentiary in February, where he had been serving a term of forgery.

The stockholders of the South Plains Laundry Company regret the loss of their former manager, Mr. Adams, who died the past week. They are glad to announce however, that they have with them a man who has acted in the capacity of assistant manager under the personal supervision of Mr. Adams for the past six or seven years. Having been closely associated with the business methods of Mr. Adams it was his wish that W. Von Rosenberg take over the operation of the plant.

We understand that Mr. VonRosenberg has just recently returned from the eastern part of the state where he operated a laundry for Mr. Adams for a period of two years. This plant was a fifteen thousand dollar plant and was sold just before the owners death. We understand that the two plants will be consolidated making one of the strongest plants in the state. On his return from this plant Mr. Von Rosenberg purchased stock in the South Plains Laundry and has been an active member in the plant for several months.

The plant has just recently been equipped with more modern machinery and will continue to enlarge as business demands it.
