Lubbock Entertains Travelers Tonight

DUTCH LUNCH TO BE STAGED AT AUDITORIUM

PLANS TO ENTERTAIN MORE THAN 500 MADE THRU LOCAL C. OF C.

More than three hundred traveling salesmen, those good natured businessmen of the road, who have done so much for Lubbock and whose efforts in helping in the development of this great territory are appreciated by the businessmen of Lubbock, will be entertained in a manner fitting the spirit of friendliness that exists between them and the businessmen at a Dutch lunch and smoker to be given at the community auditorium this evening starting promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

Never in the history of the development of any city have a set of professional men done so much or gained so much for a single city as have the travelers done for Lubbock, and more than two years ago the idea was conceived by Jed Rix, then president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, that an entertainment that would in a measure express Lubbock's appreciation of them be given.

The first traveling men's Dutch lunch and smoker staged by the Chamber of Commerce was the result of this conception, and at that meeting members of the Chamber of Commerce decided that it be made an annual event when the travelers and the businessmen of Lubbock should meet and eat, and talk of the ties that chain their interests in a common work, and a single ideal.

The idea of making the meeting an annual event was no sooner adopted than it became one of the most permanent and most outstanding of any that had attracted the attention or claimed the energies of the Chamber of Commerce, and the second meeting which is yet remembered by all who attended was one of the great meetings of the year.

Since that meeting many changes have been wrought in Lubbock. Many more travelers have been attracted to this territory, but their attitude toward Lubbock and the attitude of the business men toward them has not wavered and

DEATH TOLL IN SHIP BLAST IS 48

THOUSANDS LINE DOCKS AS BODIES ARE BROUGHT ASHORE FRIDAY

By United News.
SAN PEDRO, June 13.—Plain pine caskets, 48 of them, moved shoreward from the navy hospital ship Relief Friday afternoon. Each one draped in an American flag, they held the last remains of the officers and men who had perished Thursday aboard the U. S. S. Mississippi.

Harbor business was stilled as the tragic burden of the shore bound boats passed silently up the channel. Only the swish of the waters and the flapping of national emblems as they hung at half mast greeted the navy craft as they swung into their landing.

Grieving Throngs Await.
Ashore grouped in a silent, grieving throng they waited men and women. Some of them relatives, but every one a staunch friend of the navy; they had refused to move from their places until the dead were brought ashore. And as the caskets were passed tenderly along the waiting ambulances and hearses, there could be heard whisper—or a broken sob.

Removal of the bodies from the Relief had been delayed Friday morning when it was found that but 28 caskets were aboard the ship. Others had arrived speedily from San Diego and the shrouded forms of the 48 who had met death so bravely were started on their last voyage. Cleveland's undertaking establishment here is caring for the bodies; they will not be moved separately, but will be kept until orders covering all of them are received.

Probe of Blast Proceeds

An official investigation of the navy's worst peace time disaster went forward Friday. Called together by Vice Admiral Henry S. Wiley, the board of inquiry was headed by Captain Yates Sterling, commanding officer of the New Mexico.

In addition to Captain Sterling, the board of inquiry is composed of Captain W. S. Crosley, Idaho; Lt. Comdr. E. J. Foy, gunnery officer of the New Mexico, and Lt. Comdr. T. S. Boyd, assistant gunnery officer of the Idaho, who acted as judge advocate.

Four witnesses were examined. The first was Captain W. C. Brotherton of the Mississippi. In the afternoon Ensign Julian J. Levisaur of the New Mexico, commander J. P. Traynor, Medical officer of the Mississippi and Lt. Comdr. J. E. Reinick gunnery officer of the Mississippi testified.

Brotherton could have no opinion as to the cause of the flare-back. He commanded the entire personnel of the Mississippi for the heroic work after the blast and said he believed no one could be singled out for blame.

Lt. Comdr. Reinicke said that in his opinion the tragedy was caused by a fouled bore. He recited what F. J. Rynes, chief turret captain, who is in a critical condition aboard the Relief, told him.

Rynes was standing immediately behind the gun when it exploded. He said that he saw a flame in the gun bore before the explosion. This would be accounted for, Commander Reinicke stated if the bore had been fouled.

It was further revealed that Ensign Smith did not gain access to the turret after the explosion but cutting through with an acetylene torch. He lifted up the flame proof flap underneath the overhanging of each turret, but had been forced to burn off the hinges before they responded to pressure.

The board of inquiry inspected the wrecked turret and will reconvene Sunday morning to resume investigation.

While a strict line of censorship was drawn about the proceedings, it was learned that the probe was going forward from three angles. First, the board was attempting to ascertain exactly what caused the blast. Secondly, what caused the discharge of the gun after the Mississippi had reached the harbor and last, why was all method of escape

CONVENTION OF LEAGUERS IS CLOSED

The organization has as its officers: J. C. Evans, president; Joe A. Henderson, vice-president; and M. L. Williams, secretary and treasurer.

12 QUESTIONED MAIL ROBBERY

OLD BAND OF CRIMINALS PERPETRATED THEFT OFFICERS BELIEVE

By H. H. ROBERTSON
(UN Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, Ill., June 13.—The same daring band of super-criminals that has been connected with a long series of major crimes in Chicago and other mid-western cities planned and executed the $1,000,000 robbery of a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul mail train at Ronlout, Ill., chief of detectives Michael Hughes declared Friday night.

Hughes, emerging from a room in which four of Chicago's underworld kings and eight others, some their henchmen, were being questioned, said he believed men who had a connection with the big robbery were in custody.

Those being grilled were: Dean O'Banion, beau brummel of the beer runners and gunman; Louis Alterio, who has made a fortune by smuggling real beer in and out of Chicago; Earl Weiss, notorious gangster, recently accused of having helped perpetuate a series of bombings and Orlando "Jack" Horton.

Horton recently arrested as a suspect with his wife after police had learned Jack Duffy and Maybelle Exley Duffy had been slain in their apartment here. They were released after the authorities failed to obtain any evidence connecting them with the crime.

The other eight being questioned "did not count much" in the words of chief Hughes. But the police believe that some of them can furnish valuable information about who committed the robbery and what became of the loot, registered mail sacks containing securities and currency being shipped from the Federal Reserve bank to various branches.

Late Friday night a tip came to police headquarters that the gang which committed the big mail theft returned to Chicago and some members could be found in a south-west side pool room. Three squads of detectives went to the place and found the underworld leaders apparently engaged in a discussion of weighty matters with their henchmen.

O'Banion was surprised when a detective told him he was under arrest. Weiss and Alterio assumed attitudes of pained dismay and protested that they were being made victims of "dicks" who don't know what they're doing.

Horton and the O'Banion aides decamp took their detention more philosophically.

"We had absolutely nothing to do with this here job," Weiss firmly told Captain Shoemaker, in charge of the raiding contingent. "Whenever anything happens you always pinch us. We never done nothing that you pinched us for and that's the reason we always get out."

BOLTON ACCEPT U. OF T. OFFER IS BELIEF

By United News.
AUSTIN, Texas, June 13.—Dr. Herbert E. Bolton, of California had apparently accepted the presidency of the University of Texas Friday night after a conference with regents, and after putting himself in the Charles G. Dawes class by telling a newspaperman to "go to hell." Later in the day he explained this remark was a "jocular one of comradery, and not intended to be taken seriously."

Bolton's formal answer will be laid before the regents during the next few days, but the five regents who were with him Friday were convinced he will take up the duties of president.

REGARD HIM AS ONE FOREMOST LABOR ENEMIES

NOMINATION RECEIVED AT WHITE HOUSE WITH MUCH FAVOR

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(UN Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The kindly reception given to the nomination of Charles G. Dawes as running mate for Coolidge by regular republicans here was toned down somewhat by a rumble from organized labor and mild dissatisfaction from progressives who had hoped for a second place on the ticket.

"Exceedingly satisfactory" was the brief comment from the lips of a spokesman for President Coolidge who applied this term of approbation at the same time to the republican platform, upon which Coolidge and Dawes must carry their case to the country.

The nomination appeared to be entirely agreeable to the white house despite the strong fight that the president had made for former Senator Kenyon of Iowa, one time farm bloc leader, after Senator Borah, of Idaho, had flatly rejected all appeals. The satisfaction at the white house was related in comment from other officials.

"I am delighted at the nomination of General Dawes," Secretary of State Hughes said. "He is one of the best equipped executives in the country and with his well known achievements patriotism, dynamic force and good sense will bring great strength to the ticket."

Hughes Highly Pleased.
Secretary Hughes was highly pleased with Dawes success abroad in drawing up a plan for reparations settlement and he speaks the sentiment of a large number Secretary of Commerce Hoover, a man of somewhat the same mould was also pleased. He was one of the first to congratulate the former brigadier general and first director of the budget.

But organized labor is by no means satisfied and progressives are disappointed that they were not able to get the second place on the ticket. It was indicated here Friday in labor circles that Samuel Gompers president of the American Federation of Labor will have something to say unpleasant, about the nomination in the next few days. Dawes is an outspoken advocate of the open shop.

Regarded as Enemy.
Labor regards Dawes as one of its foremost enemies and the present outlook is that he will cause at least part of the labor vote to cast about in other directions. One of their grievances against Dawes they explain is his organization of the minute men of the constitution in Illinois which they characterized as his "personal property" saying that he runs it with an "autocratic control."

The minute men put out a platform described as "strongly anti-labor and pro-open shop." A few months ago, it was stated, the organization sent letters to Illinois candidates for delegates to the republican national convention asking just where they stood on the labor question.

They hold another grievance against Dawes, claiming that when he visited Harry M. Daugherty in Florida, while the latter was still attorney general, that he urged Daugherty to run the 1924 republican campaign as avowedly "Open shop."

GETTING THE DOUGH

Whenever around the festal board sit four or five of us,
Queer wanderers through the lanes of life, our fellows to discuss
The conversation wise and true ere very long will turn
Unto the sums of money, ignoramus can earn;
And soon upon the ear will fall this sentence soft and low,
"There's Jack. He has no wit at all but he seems to get the dough!"

Now, we are most intelligent, a brainy clever crew,
There's little that we do not know but much we cannot do.
Upon our walls the sheepskins framed attest that we have been
To college, and of course you know what those diplomas mean;
They prove our right to scholarship and culture's aureate glow,
Yet in this curious world, it seems the blockheads get the dough!

We are so very wise and bright and they so very dull;
Each one of us, with knowledge true has toiled to pack his skull,
And yet we struggle day by day to earn our milk and bread
And, speaking now financially, we never get ahead.
With our superior intellects, it mystifies us so
How men at whom we sit and sneer, can gather in the dough.

Yet, looking back across their lives I see the things they've done,
The thoughts they've put in action and the battles they have won;
In brick and stone and lasting steel I've seen their buildings rise,
I've seen their fashion useful things which every mortal buys,
They do the deeds we cannot do with all we've come to know
And it's not hard to understand just why they get the dough!

CAMPAIGN TO BE TRIANGULAR AFFAIR

By RAYMOND CLAPPER (UN Staff Correspondent)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 13.—This campaign is going to be played in a political triangle with Coolidge and Dawes holding the republican corner as conservatives.

LaFollette will hold a second corner as a progressive and the democrats will take the third corner and operate under a program to be determined upon at the New York convention, a few days hence.

Until the democrats finish their convention, it will be impossible to forecast very definitely the lines of the approaching campaign. It remains to be seen whether they will select a conservative like John W. Davis in the hope of carrying the east, and set him on a quasi-progressive program in the hope of appealing to the west; or whether they will go before the country as a thoroughly progressive party both as to candidates and as to principles. In the meantime, the republican role has been given a sharply conservative character. Futile attempts to give the ticket a hybrid cast were made in the pressure to put first Borah and then Kenyon as the president's running mate. Dawes is a banker, an opponent of union labor's closed shop policy and representative of the great and powerful group of solid business men all over the country. He comes of a family which is heavily interested in widely ramified oil and public utility interests. Coupled with this close identity with big business, Dawes has a sense of public responsibility which has been shown strikingly in his budget reform work at Washington and consequently in his German reparations plan. All of this gives him a tremendous appeal to the conservative forces. But Coolidge himself has this vote well tied up and needs some one who can appeal to other elements such as labor and the farmers. That is why Wm. M. Butler moved all the forces at his command in the last hours of the wild convention to block Dawes. Dawes will be most helpful in relation to the soldier vote.

VETERANS TO PLACE BOULDERS ON GRAVE

The work of transferring the boulders was undertaken by the Spanish War Veterans in honor of the wife of the man whose famous speech on "Force," delivered before congress, resulted in declaration of war on Spain.

The boulders were shipped here years ago by Senator Thurston who selected them in Montana. A special freight car was needed to transport the immense rocks.

When Freedom from her mountain height
Unfurled her standard from the air.

And set the stars of glory there
She mingled with it's gorgeous dyes

YOUR GUESTS.

Tonight Lubbock is going to have her guests traveling men from all over the state of Texas and many other places. She is going to have about five hundred if all come that have signified their intentions of being here, and up to last night, there had not been enough meal tickets purchased to pay for the spread. And if you have not purchased your quota you should not wait till late this evening to do it.

You would not treat a guest of your home in that way. You would want to know that every convenience had been supplied and that everything was in readiness. A guest of the town is none the least important, and deserves just as much consideration, hence the importance of being Johnny on the spot, when the bell rings for supper and have your guests all lined up with a ticket paid for, and everything ready.

The eats committee has been hard at work. They have had a big job getting ready, and they are still working, and today will possibly be one of their hardest days, then why should you stand back on buying a few tickets at a dollar each, when they have put in several days hard work and the ticket sellers have also spent a lot of time calling on you in order that they would have it, when you get right down to brass tacks in the matter.

You would not have it stated that Lubbock invited five hundred salesmen here as her guests and she could not feed them after they came. Well, Mr. Citizen, you can play your little part in this matter by kicking in with five or ten dollars on this banquet. Within a year's time, if you want to figure it on a basis of dollars and cents, you will get back double your money, and you are a mighty bum citizen if you will not take a bargain or a proposition like that. But we should not look at it in that cold blooded manner, make it a social affair, and meet with the Knights of the grip, have a good time, and make them enjoy the occasion, and they will remember us kindly, and whenever they go they will talk Lubbock, and our hospitality and we will enjoy the distinction of being one of the most popular cities among the traveling men in the United States.

MISTREATING SUSPECTS.

The "third degree," whereby the police extort testimony or confession from suspects, has been widely supposed to involve mental torture only, the suspect being questioned, accused, threatened, over and over, all day and all night, perhaps two days and two nights, until he is both mentally and physically exhausted, his nerves on edge and all his defenses are broken down. In such a state of collapse he is often willing to confess his crime merely in order to be let alone, to be free to lie down and rest. In some cases the suspect, goaded beyond endurance, with nerves shattered, driven to desperation and temporary madness, even consents to a parrot-like repetition of what he is urged to say and confesses to a crime which he did not commit, his innocence being established in one way or another at some later time. Such is the "third degree," according to report, and the right to apply it under our Constitution and protecting laws has often been questioned.

Now it is charged that there is not merely such mental torture but physical torture, the actual beating of the suspect, as well. Walter L. Wilson, instructor in the Harvard school in Chicago, because he had had trouble with the Franks boy was suspected for murdering him, was arrested and given the "goldfish degree." Later the confessions of Leopold and Loeb set him free, but, resenting his terrible experience he has declared his determination to bring suit against the detectives who so cruelly ill used him. As to what was done to him during the process of the "goldfish degree," his attorney, Charles Wharton, says: "He was beaten with a rubber hose until it was a torture for him to breathe. Of course, during this time he was bound. Twice he was assaulted by a lieutenant in prison. But that also was done in a perfectly regular Detective Bureau manner. Two policemen held the prisoner while another knocked him down with his fist. The point was, you see, to argue Mr. Wilson into confessing that he kidnapped and killed Robert Franks. The two prisoners (there was one besides Mr. Wilson) got little or no sleep—that, too, is hardly worth mentioning. During the 48 or more hours of their inquisition at the police station the "goldfish" operators would tell them stories about the horror of hanging. One of the favorite yarns was about how Karl Wanderer had gone to his death singing 'Pal of Mine.' They repeated that four or five times, and then went around the room singing and whistling 'Pal of Mine.'"

Well, many an innocent man so ill used considers himself intolerably wronged. If this is a true account of what happened, our police detectives are employing torture but little less brutal and agonizing than the rack of medieval times. It is to be hoped that this suit will be pressed, that the exact nature of "third," "goldfish," and any other "degrees" will be revealed in court, in order that the whole subject may be ventilated. Unquestionably investigation is called for, and, if the facts are as many times represented, correction should follow. It is better that the detection of crime be more difficult than that innocent victims should be brutally and cruelly used.

ROTARIANS WILL FOSTER THE SCOUTS' SUMMER TRIP.

The boy scouts met at the City Auditorium a few nights ago, and there was quite a lively interest in the meeting. There were a number of the men of the town present, and about thirty-five boys, and the interest in the work was very evident, and it looks as though there is going to be some real activity among the boys of this city.

The plan now is that the boys will go on a week's camping trip at Silver Falls, and they will be accompanied by Fay Sawyer, who has charge of the scouts, and who will be assisted by several other men of the city. Mr. Sawyer has had a great deal of experience with boy scouts and is enthusiastic over the work, and will no doubt do much for the boys.

The Boys Committee of the Rotary club, with Jed Rix as chairman, is stirring up things in this department, and Jed says that if the boys committee don't do something for the boys this year, they will be caught trying, and that the Rotarians might just as well make up their minds that they are going to spend some of their funds on the boys of the community.

To begin with, they are to see that this crowd of boys get conveyance to and from Silver Falls, and then they are going to pay for the boys chow while they are over there. This will be only a very small matter in comparison to what should be done, and it is merely a beginning of what shall be expected of them during the next few months.

Fact of the business, we are of the opinion that the people of Lubbock, not the Rotarians specially, but every man and woman that is interested in giving the boys a place to meet and be instructed along the lines of citizenship, loyalty and such other good principles as the obligations of a scout teaches, might be beneficially given.

Lubbock has a large number of boys about this age that should be receiving training and instructions, instead of being turned loose on the streets without anything to do or anywhere to go.

A good club house could be erected at a small cost, and it would be worth much to the community and the future men and women here.

RAGGED LUBBOCK.

In all probability Lubbock is the "raggedest," dirtiest town of its size, reputation and ambition, that you ever saw. There are a few places in this city that are reasonably well kept. There are less than a half a dozen that are well cared for, but the balance of the town is best described in the language that has started this article off. We dislike to say this about the town that we live in, and the town that we believe is one of the best anywhere, but we are just simply a little negligent along this line, and have let our negligence develop into a habit, and many of us do not even notice the ragged condition of our premises until we see some of the better kept places, or our attention is called to our unkept yards and alleys by some friendly criticism of people from elsewhere.

Lubbock, we hardly believe, has ever been thoroughly cleaned up. We are possibly in the shape of Ardmore, Oklahoma, when they had put on a campaign that they believed had cleaned the town to the last gutter, the committee had a few dollars left over and in order to thoroughly test the cleanliness of the city, they offered a few cash prizes to the children who would bring up the biggest pile of rubbish, and to their astonishment after they thought they had gotten it all, the children gathered and piled up three car loads of trash, cans, etc. One or two times we have made an effort to clean Lubbock up, but we doubt if we ever have. We believe the 1924 year is the year that this cleaning should be done, and we are in favor of one of the most exhaustive jobs that has ever been done in any town. Some of the alleys in the business districts are disgraceful, and many in the residential section are not any better.

All of the civic clubs, the chambers of commerce, churches and each individual should cooperate in making a clean sweep and making Lubbock one of the most cleanly and neat towns in the state. There is no reason why we cannot be, and we certainly should have that much pride. There is no use to wait for an organized effort, or to be made to clean up, but begin now, and make your premises spotless, and they will stand as an example to your neighbor or those who pass by and see what you have done.

MARKETS

NOMINATION OF DAWES BOOSTS TRADING

By EDWARD J. CONDLON
(United News Market Editor)

NEW YORK, June 13.—Judging from the higher stock averages, Friday the thirteenth held no terrors for Wall Street. The selection of General Dawes as candidate for vice president started the trading community in good humor. While the gains for the day were not a record calibre, they were substantial and indicated that the clearing political situation is tending to strengthen as confidence more in the stock market and in the business outlook in general.

Bradstreet's figures on retail trade showing that Woolworth stores are doing a much larger volume of business than a year ago, sent the new Woolworth shares rocketing to 94, a new high, while Kresge on a turnover of 200 shares was up 15 points, indicating the close holding of shares of the latter chain store.

The mercantile reviews of the week indicated a turn for the better in retail trade with the warmer weather noted in some sections of the country, though the primary markets still are fresh increase in the demand. Dun reports figures for the week as 420, the largest number in three months. Bradstreet makes the number 391. Canadian failures, however, total only 28 as against 57 last week and 59 for the corresponding week last year. The firmer foreign exchange market with the leading rates pointing upward, was the natural result of the naming of Domergue as president of France which is calculated to clarify a situation in the republic which was fast becoming intolerable. Much of the steadiness in francs of late has been due to the fear of professional bears that the bank of France would immediately step into the breach should concentrated selling force the franc below 5 cents. Resumption of gold payments in Sweden has tended to deplete the gold reserve and pull the krona slightly lower, but with the market within a small fraction of par, the move is not regarded as particularly detrimental to the krona over a period of time.

SAFETY ZONES

The dispatch with which traffic is handled on a street depends much upon the turns permitted. Few cities permit turns in the middle of the block. Many cities do not permit turns on certain corners where traffic is especially heavy. Before cars are permitted to turn pedestrians should be permitted to cross.

New York has an interesting practice of requiring the slower moving vehicles to hug the curb while the faster moving taxicabs and passenger cars use the area near the car tracks or the center of the street.

Safety zones cease to be safety zones if cars are permitted to drive through them. Safety zones compel traffic to move through the "neck of the bottle" which slows up traffic but safety zones are intended to protect pedestrians and protecting pedestrians is important to slow up traffic.

OLSON DEFEATS "SAILOR" JACK WOODS IN TWO OUT OF THREE FALLS AT AUDITORIUM FRIDAY

Charley Olson, middleweight champion of Canada and challenger for a match for the championship of Texas, defeated Sailor Jack Woods, champion of the United States Navy in a match which was conducted under the auspices of the local American Legion at the community auditorium last night.

Attendance was not as good as desired, but it is the opinion of members of the legion that this will be increased as more matches are staged here.

Woods weighed in at 170 pounds while Olson weighed only 158 and at the beginning of the match the Sailor's superior weight gave him an advantage over Olson that looked dangerous and at the end of 17 minutes, Olson was pinned to the mat with a body scissor. This all but convinced the spectators that Olson was entirely too light for Woods, but later in the match he proved that he could overcome the handicap.

At the end of another fourteen and a half minutes, Olson took a toe-hold that Woods could not break away from and pinned Woods to the mat for the count.

The wrestlers got imbued with the fighting spirit after the second fall, and this added something to the exhibition.

At the end of another eight and a half minutes and after Woods had handled Olson with apparent ease, Olson again got a toe hold and Woods took the count for relief.

A telegram was received by Ansin Hines, promoter of wrestling for the American Legion, challenging the winner of the match, and it was stated last night that he and Olson will meet here on Saturday night, June 21st.

Clarke is quite well known throughout the state and as he will weigh in at 165 pounds and Olson will weigh in at 160, their meeting is expected to be one of the best that has been staged here.

Olson stated last night that the outcome of his meeting with Clarke will have some bearing upon the match with Kala Pasha on the 4th of July for the Championship of Texas, for if attendance is good and reflects better interest in the sport, the 4th of July Match will be assured, while on the other hand if little interest is taken in the match and prospects are not good for a record crowd, the match might be called off.

Olson is taking the attitude of patient waiting for a revival of interest in wrestling here. He is willing to cooperate with the American Legion in carrying out a series of good wrestling programs.

LOCALS TO MEET FLOYDADA HERE SUNDAY

Things around the local ball lot are getting to the high pitch, as Friday evening it was announced officially that there would be a double header staged at the Merrill Park Sunday afternoon, the first being an exhibition between the local amateurs and Floydada. In the second affair the Lubbock Business College nine will cross sticks with Lorenzo.

The first exhibition, the Lubbock Floydada game, will be called at 3:15 and if the lads are able to survive the scorching rays of the sun at this time of the day long enough to finish the full nine innings, a good exhibition will be seen. The admission price will be 50c.

Immediately following this game the Lubbock Business College will meet Lorenzo, for which an additional 25c will be charged those who desire to stay.

GIANTS SLIDE FROM TOP IN NATIONAL

The Giants gradual relaxation of their grip on first place in the National League terminated in their ejection from that position Friday when they lost to the Cincinnati Reds in New York 4 to 1 in a ten inning battle.

Bill Killifer's Cubs fighting tooth and nail for the leadership, forged to the front, half a game ahead of the Giants, by virtue of a 5 to 1 victory over the Braves in Boston.

Cincinnati's triumph hoisted them to a point within easy striking distance of third place, which is occupied by the Brooklyn Dodgers, for the Brooklynites received an 8 to 3 drubbing from the Cards at Ebbetts field. The tie between the Red Sox and the Yankees for first place in the American league still continues.

The Bostonians won from the Indians in Cleveland 8 to 3, while the Yankees were being awarded the winning end of a forfeited game with the Tigers in Detroit 9 to 0.

The forfeiture was due to a riot in the ninth inning which resulted when Bob Meusel the Yank outfielder was hit by a pitched ball by Bert Cole, who had relieved Lip Stoner. Meusel dazed by this sudden misadventure rushed at Cole and immediately charged him with an attempt to "bean ball" the Yankee lineup. Babe Ruth, who narrowly escaped a similar pitch, joined the disputants and a three cornered argument ensued. Fists flew and an impassioned crowd of 18,000 Detroiters rushed on to the playing field. Police aided players, interceded and the riot was finally quelled.

The Yankees were leading 10 to 6 at the time and Umpire Billy Evans, in awarding the game to New York officially recorded the game as New York 9, Detroit 0.

The Senators advanced from sixth to fifth place by winning from the Browns in St. Louis 6 to 4. The Athletics snatched a 7 to 6 win from the White Sox in Chicago.

RIOT BREAKS UP YANK-TIGER AFFAIR

DETROIT, Mich., June 13.—The New York-Detroit game broke up in a riot and was forfeited to the Yankees Friday following a riot which brought the crowds out on the field pouting for somebody's blood. The jam started when Meusel Yank outfielder was hit by a pitched ball and rushed at Cole, the Tiger pitcher.

Umpires Ormsby and Evans grabbed Meusel and kept him from annihilating Cole, but Babe Ruth, the home run terror, then entered the fracas and shouted accusations that Yanks were being made the targets for "bean balls". The Babe had batted just before Meusel and had himself narrowly missed being beaned. The battle degenerated from theoretical into fistic and as policemen arrived at the scene, the fans poured out of the grandstands, and bleachers to join the mixup.

Manager Cobb, still full of fight, and Meusel in the same state, were put out of the game. Meusel took a parting swing at a Detroit player as they dragged him away. While the police fought the mob, which also had suffered an attack of hysteria umpire Billy Evans forfeited the game to New York and the score was recorded as New York 9, Detroit 0.

New York was leading 10 to 6 and one man out in the first half of the ninth inning when the game broke. The Tigers overcame an early lead, tying the score at six-all in the sixth, but the champions came back in the seventh and sent in four runs.

Two singles, two walks, two outs and a double accounted for the Yankee scores.

Lesson for June 15

THE RETURN AND THE REBUILDING OF THE TEMPLE

LESSON TEXT—Ezra 1:1-11; 3:8-6:22.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God."—Isa. 40:1.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Building a House for God.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Love for God's House.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Rebuilding of the Temple.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Significance of the Return.

I. The Return From Captivity Predicted (Jer. 29:10-14).

It seems that false prophets were flourishing in Babylon, telling the people that they would speedily be restored to their own land. To counteract this the Lord moved Jeremiah to send a letter to the captives in Babylon (Jer. 29:1-9). In this letter he advised them to settle down and quietly pursue their regular callings of life and not to be led astray by false prophets.

1. The Length of the Captivity (v. 10). Their coming back was to be "after seventy years." From Daniel 9:2 it is clear that seventy years means a definite time. It dates from the time when the first company was taken captive among which Daniel was found.

II. The Prediction of Captivity Fulfilled (Ezra 1:1-11).

1. The Proclamation of Cyrus (vv. 1-4). This was not by accident, but that the word of the Lord might be fulfilled (v. 1). God never forgets. What He has promised He will do. It was by divine initiation—the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus. In his proclamation he ordered that all who desired should go back and build the house of the Lord God, and those who lacked this inclination should lend assistance by making gifts of silver, gold and beasts.

2. The Response to Cyrus' Proclamation (vv. 5, 6). The company which returned was largely made up of representatives of Judah and Benjamin.

3. Royal Favors (vv. 7-11). Cyrus brought forth the vessels of the house of the Lord which Nebuchadnezzar had carried away from Jerusalem and placed in the house of his gods. This, no doubt, greatly encouraged the Jews, for there were 5,400 vessels returned.

III. The Temple Rebuilt (Ezra 3:8-6:15).

1. The Foundation Laid. This was an auspicious occasion and was celebrated with impressive ceremonies.

(1) The priests in their apparel (v. 10). The priests' garments symbolized their consecration to the Lord's service.

(2) The priests with trumpets (v. 10). These trumpets were made of silver and were used in calling the people together.

(3) The Levites with symbols (v. 10). These were to furnish the instrumental music of the sanctuary, in accordance with the arrangements made by David (I Chron. 15:10-21).

(4) They sang together by course (v. 11). This means that they sang to one another responsively. The one company sang, "The Lord is good." The other responded, "For his mercy endureth forever."

(5) Mingled weeping and shouting (vv. 12, 13). Some of the older men, who had seen the magnificent and glorious temple of Solomon, which had been destroyed, wept much when they saw how far short the present foundations came from the former temple.

2. The Building Hindered (Ezra 4). The leading adversaries were the Samaritans, a mongrel people, the offspring of the poor Jews who were left in Palestine and the foreign people who were sent into Palestine after the Jews were taken captive.

(1) An unintelligent pessimism (Ezra 5:13). Under the circumstances this was a glorious beginning and gave promise of great things for the future. Therefore it was no credit to the priests, Levites and chief of the fathers to mar this occasion with their weeping.

(2) Worldly compromise (Ezra 4:2, 3). They said, "Let us build with you, for we seek your God." This is Satan's most common and effective method today.

(3) Open opposition by the world (Ezra 4:4-24). When refused a part in the work open opposition was resorted to.

3. The Temple Finished (Ezra 5:1-6; 6:15). Through the ministry of the Prophets Haggai and Zechariah the people were encouraged to resume the work of building the temple.

IV. The Temple Dedicated (Ezra 6:16-22).

The people were united in this building program and came together upon its completion and solemnly dedicated it to God.

ELKS SPORTS DAY WAS ENTIRELY ORIGINAL AND SPORTSMANSHIP OF TWO LODGES WAS FAVORED FEATURE

Stronger ties of fellowship were cemented between the members of the local Elks lodge and the members of the lodge at Plainview when they met here Thursday for an all-day of sports.

Lubbock took her defeat well, Plainview's club men having walked away with the biggest side of the scoreboard with 645 of the one thousand points involved in the games to their credit.

The day was so replete with thrilling incidents and amusing situations, that the clubmen feel that a repetition of the program in the near future would be satisfactory, and in all probability the members of the local club will go to Plainview soon to return the visit of their brothers.

The following summary of the day's events, coupled with the information that clean sportsmanship was displayed throughout every contest, a great time was enjoyed and that the towns now occupy a friendlier state with regard to one another proves beyond any doubt that Elks Sports Day, the first of its kind ever put on by any lodge anywhere, was a great success.

GOLF: McLarty and Wells for Lubbock, Williams and Horn for Plainview, Lubbock winning first nine holes, McLarty playing stellar game. Plainview winning second round, McLarty and Horn playing, took an extra hole to decide this. Close match all the way thru.

This gave each side 50 points.

GUN SHOOT: Easily won by Plainview—Darby and Joiner turning in the best shooting of the event. Joiner on second round of 25 shots getting 24 hits. Local boys out of practice, but Germany showed some pretty shooting on second round getting 23 hits.

BASEBALL: Plainview flashing some good baseball cleaned up—box score appearing in Saturday's paper.

NIGGER BILLIARDS: Won by Lubbock, John Jarrott local son of the spreading antlers by a score of 100 to 35.

BILLIARDS: To Plainview, Wm. on defeating F. E. Wheelock in close match, each making long runs at times.

POOL: Close match, McLarty for Lubbock, Buster Armstrong for Plainview. Won by Plainview—

McLarty winning first game by several shots, losing next two games by one shot.

All of the other games, which were for fewer points were played close, Lubbock winning all of them except Chess and checkers.

Herbert Stubbs had the Chess game won and his opponent was about ready to concede it when the gurgling sound of Earnest Conley drinking near beer (poor boy, nothing better) came from across the room disturbing Herb who had been playing on that game for over two hours, and he made the wrong move which finally spelled defeat. The cribbage game seems to have gone into extra innings too, consuming the better part of the night—Frank White losing to Plainview. McWhorter and Posey, looking like Foster and Work, the bridge experts, defeating Plainview, who put up an ancient rival of theirs in the person of Bill Gouddy, by the healthy margin of 660 points.

Dominoes seem to be Lubbock's long suit, won both doubles and singles. Ross McWhorter and "Dude" Germany of Lubbock winning from Herb Hilburn and Kelly Hooper of Plainview, O. Lykes of Lubbock taking the singles in a walk.

Elmer Conley and Ed Haynes, the best chinks, winning Mah Jongg game.

Quartet forfeited to Plainview, but the Plainview boys gave some excellent numbers which were enjoyed and appreciated by Lubbock. Big feature was the fiddling contest, three or four clog dancers joining in, feet wouldn't behave. Weedy Porter and Buster Fluke doing the dancing. These features furnishing some real entertainment.

On the courthouse lawn Plainview dollar pitching, Lubbock won mumble peg, marbles and sack race. Nath Burket, dollar pitching, "Dead-eye Dick". Joe Dick Slaughter proved to be the best marble shooter, however, Benny Hilburn shot rings around his brother, Herb, from Plainview. Sack race won by Hutson, Mumble peg by Dickinson.

Clean sportsmanship all the way through. Plainview "square-shooters." They all had a good time. First event of kind ever put on by any Elk lodge anywhere. Brought the two towns closer together.

MAYOR LOOKS DOWN BARREL OF PISTOL

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, June 14. — Mayor Pink Logan and W. Y. Craig looked in the muzzle of each other's pistols in Craig's garage long after midnight. Both were searching for a supposed prowler and had been attracted to the garage by the constant honking of Craig's automobile horn which had become short circuited. Neither knew the other was about until they looked down the business end of the guns. There was a tense moment before recognition. Then a mighty sigh of relief from both.

Tom F. Harris was here Friday from his home at San Antonio.

Good, Substantial Adequate Improvements

That's all a farm needs for housing family, crops, stock and equipment—good, substantial, adequate buildings. An over-improved place is as poor an investment as an under-improved place. The improvements must fit the land value. As the land increases in value and productivity so must the plant increase.

For carrying out such a program no building material compares with lumber. For enlarging buildings, for adding new units, for the quick and easy erection of a granary, a silo, an implement shed, a fence, etc., Southern yellow pine lumber is unsurpassed as to availability and ease of working and adaptability for all purposes.

Lettuce Shipments Begin Today At Plainview

PLAINVIEW, June 13.—Shipment of the twenty-six acre lettuce crop of the Texas Land and Development company, a mile east of Plainview, according to W. J. Klinger, secretary and treasurer of the company began today. It is estimated that the tract of irrigated land will produce ten car loads of lettuce.

This is said to be the first time lettuce has ever been grown commercially in this territory. There are 320 crates to the car. The lettuce sells at $1.75 a crate f. o. b. Plainview. Most of it will go to eastern cities. A carload of crates which cost $775, is in Plainview to handle the crop. There is no lettuce on the market in competition with this crop at present, as Florida, South California, and South Texas lettuce seasons are over, Mr. Klinger says. The Colorado lettuce crop is not in until July. All the lettuce must be marketed in two weeks from the time it is ready to harvest.

This lettuce was planted March 1. As soon as the ground is cleared of the present crop, celery will be put on it.

Three acres of cabbage being grown at Plainview, will yield about twelve tons to the acre, with fifteen tons to the car, Mr. Klinger said. It sells for $600 a car, $45 a ton, f. o. b. Plainview.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR C. E. HORNEY AT 5 O'CLOCK

Charles Edward was taken seriously ill with measles last December and since that time had not regained health, though every effort was made by his parents and physicians to restore him to strength.

Charles Edward was the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Honrey, of Lubbock, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hodges. The Star Mercantile Company and two other stores owned by Mr. Hodges closed throughout today.

J. H. Heller was among the business visitors in Lubbock Friday. His home is at El Paso.

E. C. Miller, of San Antonio, was a business visitor in Lubbock Friday.

DRIVER STOLEN CAR ARRESTED IN AMARILLO

Starling Shields, who stated that his home is at Sherman, was arrested in Amarillo Friday on a charge of theft in connection with the disappearance of a Ford touring car from the Driverless Ford station operated in Lubbock by W. I. Izzard.

The car was taken from Lubbock at 12:30 o'clock Thursday, and the driver was arrested at Amarillo at nine o'clock Wednesday morning.

Deputy Sheriff Vernice Ford left yesterday for Amarillo and will return Shields to the Lubbock county jail.

This evening the friendship that exists between the two bodies of men will be strengthened and expressed in so many ways that its permanence will be assured.

Meantime, it is no little thing to give a party to as many as five hundred good natured, happy men. It will be one of the biggest social events of the year and will tax the energies of the chamber of commerce to meet the situation squarely.

A sale of tickets has been launched and about completed, but a late report from the committee on arrangements is to the effect that there are yet about one hundred and fifty tickets to be sold, and local people will be called upon to buy this amount. Don't worry about not having someone to give the extra ticket to. Kick in with the two berries, put one down for yourself and phone the secretary of the chamber of commerce that you have a plate for a traveling man and he will see to it that it is matched with a great big husky salesman, who, when you see him take on that feed, will make you glad you bought a ticket but sorry you didn't buy a half dozen more. Now there is no getting around the fact that this event is to be a great one for Lubbock. Those businessmen of the road will be here expecting something for Lubbock has made good with them on all past opportunities, and now this one mustn't fall short of being the biggest party that was ever staged anywhere in the entire state, and those two dollars you will buy tickets with are just what it takes to make it everything it is intended to be.

Tickets will be available all day at the Chamber of Commerce offices at the courthouse or at the office of S. E. Cone in the Merrill Hotel Building. Cone is the fellow who was given the big job of putting on the ticket sales campaign and that he has made good and will continue to stay right in there until the last attendant has been received at the auditorium this evening reflects well upon his good citizenship and willingness to do the big thing for Lubbock, but even at that there is only one of him and it is possible that in the shuffle of things perhaps he and those who helped in the sale of the tickets, overlooked the opportunity to give you a chance to buy a ticket, but if this is the case do about one one hundredth as much for the success of the party that Cone has done, call at his office, hand him two dollars for two tickets, or ten dollars for ten tickets and he will see that you are permitted to walk into the auditorium this evening when the big show starts and it will be up to you to see that you retain sufficient health to get away. If those who have not yet bought tickets will just show this much interest in the success of the party, they will confer a great favor upon the Chamber of Commerce, will lend to Lubbock's prestige as a city of doing big things and will get themselves a ticket to one of the dandiest parties that was ever staged in Lubbock.

Welcome, traveling men.

DEATH TOLL IN SHIP BLAST IS FORTY-EIGHT

Investigation of this last question, it seems, may bring to light a glaring defect in the gun turret. Inspection of the wreckage showed that hatchways in the 13-inch steel walls had been fused by the terrific heat of the blast, and that with all means of escape cut off, the turret became a veritable death trap.

When Lt. M. Donald Smith, donning a gas mask plunged into the fume-filled interior of the turret he found bodies of a dozen sailors piled about the hatchways, arms outstretched to their only hope of safety. They died without a chance after the first blast. Acetylene torches had been necessary to cut through to the interior.

Two at Gun Escape
Eighty men were in turret No. 2 when the explosion occurred. Fifty of them were at the three guns; the rest were in the handling rooms. But two of those at the guns escaped alive and as they are confused as to the exact causes of the explosion, that angle of the investigation may never be known.

Names of the 12 injured were announced Friday for the first time. They are:

- F. I. RYNES, Chief turret captain;
- W. H. BALL, seaman, first class.
- JOE SMITE, quartermaster, third class.
- HERBERT C. WHITED, chief quartermaster, reported in a serious condition.

- CLYDE S. BENTLEY, seaman, first class.
- RUSSELL SHERER, machinist mate, second class.
- VICTOR A. WILDER, engineers mate, second class.
- RALPH E. HARRISON, seaman, first class.
- W. B. SMITH, seaman first class.
- R. J. MAUROD, seaman, second class.

G. MARTIN, chief quartermaster, all gravely burned but expected to recover.

VICTOR A. WILDER, engineers mate, second class. Addresses of the men were not given.

LUBBOCK STATE BANK THE BANK MADE BIG BY HELPING OTHERS

It was revealed today that two Texans were among the dead in the explosion that occurred on the battleship Mississippi, yesterday afternoon. George MacGill, seaman of the first class, of Waco, Texas. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Maud MacGill, and Boyle Shaw, seaman of Clayton, Texas, nearest kin, Mrs. J. R. Bellam. The blast was so terrific that it melted the doors to the turret sealing scores of men within and when entered today it was discovered that Lieutenant Thomas Zellner, of Longbeach, was the hero, as he was found with his hands clutched in death over the lever that turned on the water emergency cock, flooding the powder magazines and saving the entire ship and crew from death and destruction.
