More Than 500 Travelers Entertained Here

THIRD ANNUAL DUTCH LUNCH IS GALA AFFAIR

ELKS FLAG DAY PROGRAM FORMALLY OPENS ENTERTAINMENT

The third annual Dutch lunch and smoker given by the business men of Lubbock to the traveling men who make this territory, was enjoyed by more than five hundred at the community auditorium last night. The program was a very well arranged one, and the party continued until 11 o'clock, having been started at seven-thirty in the evening with a street parade.

The revelers were accompanied on the parade by local business men and winners in the Elks Flag Day Essay Contest, and halted at the courthouse lawn where Col. Clark M. Mullican delivered a flag day address. This part of the program was engineered by members of the local Elks lodge, and was very impressive.

At eight o'clock the travelers and their hosts had assembled at the auditorium, and the Dutch lunch served by Clark Smith of the Lubbock Inn, was replete with everything that could be wished for, while cigars were passed around after all had eaten.

Judge E. L. Klett very earnestly and in language fitting the occasion, welcomed the travelers, assuring them that the business men of Lubbock were glad to offer the evening's entertainment as a token of friendship, and that it was an acknowledgement of courtesies that had been extended Lubbock by them. Judge Klett was introduced by Curtis A. Keen, toastmaster.

J. E. Hartley, well known locally responded for the travelers, stating that while the party had been advertised and was generally known as a Dutch lunch and smoker he elected to call it a "Good Will Party", declaring that to the salesman it was a business and strengthening of good will that is not forgotten from year to year. Mr. Hartley's talk was to the point and he displayed no mean ability as an orator and his part of the program was outstanding, in that remarks embodied the ideals that actuated the local businessmen to stage the party.

The "A" Quartet of Littlefield, composed of A. Neuschwander, A. Mueller, A. Duggan and A. Stagg, was responsible for one of the cleverest bits of entertainment offered during the evening. They rendered a very appropriate number and so hearty were the cheers offered at its conclusion that they were kept singing for quite a while, and their efforts were appreciated by the program committee in that they were responsible

THREE DIE AFTER ATTACK WITH CROWBAR

FORT MORGAN, Colo., June 14.—The death list from the attack of George Bath, crow bar murderer on his family near here Tuesday night, swelled to three today. Mrs. Bath died from fractures of the skull and a laughter, 12 years old, is expected to succumb. Bath killed one daughter instantly and wounded his wife and younger daughter with a crow bar during a fit of insanity. He then slashed his wrists with a razor and hanged himself from a rafter in the barn.

DAWES REFUSES DISCUSSION OF PLANS

CHICAGO, June 14 (UP).—Chas. G. Dawes, vice presidential nominee on the republican ticket is resting his good right hand for the strenuous campaign for election. Tonight Dawes is closeted in his home much against the wishes of the folks of Evanston, his home, who yearn for some handshaking. Dawes, who refused to discuss his plans pending official notification of his nomination, made it known that he will take the stump just as soon as the national republican committee gives him the word.

Politicians expect him to devote most of his time to the middle and northwest in an effort to win the agricultural vote.

Dawes and Mrs. Dawes, arrived here today from Marietta, Ohio, from a reunion of Marietta college. Dawes drove directly to his bank where several hundred persons gave him an enthusiastic welcome. He grinned widely when some one yelled "Here comes our next vice-president."

THREE INJURED WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO

OKMULGEE, Okla., June 14.—Three persons were critically injured tonight when their automobile was struck by a Frisco train at a grade crossing near Beggs. The injured: Mrs. Lilly Jones, Anna Lee Jones, 8 years old daughter, Ethel Dobbs, niece of Mrs. Jones. R. R. Jones, driving the machine was uninjured. The party was en route to Tulsa. STATE PARK IS SOUGHT HERE

COMMITTEE MAKES TRIP ALONG CANYON HUNTING LOCATION

Keen interest is being taken in an attempt to locate a state park for Lubbock county and have the site become the property of the state to be used for a park for all time.

Prof. M. M. Dupre, of Lubbock, a member of the State Parks Committee for Lubbock county, accompanied by Mrs. Dupre, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Stages, and Mrs. Conna, of Slaton, Judge Crump and daughter, Miss Katie Bell, of Shallowater and W. K. Dickinson, of Lubbock, made a trip along the Yellow House canyon, from Lubbock to Slaton Friday looking out for a suitable location for a state park. Several beautiful places were found but no statements were made by members of the committee as to what steps they intended to take in establishing a park in the county, but friends of the proposition are thoroughly interested and feel that the members of the committee will carry the work on until a beautiful park has been secured and deeded to the state.

GUN ELEVATION BE SOUGHT THIS YEAR

WASHINGTON, June 14 (UP).—A show down on the state department attitude toward the elevation of guns on American battleships to increase their ranges will be sought this summer by Representative Fred Britton, republican, of Illinois. Britton today announced to the United Press his intention of staying in Washington all summer, if necessary, in his attempt to "smoke out" Hughes on the proposal. Hughes has been represented as opposing it as a violation of the arms treaty, but no official pronouncement has been made. Britton's first move will be to visit the President Tuesday or Wednesday, asking a definite commitment of the administration on the proposition. Next he will call on Secretary of the Navy Wilbur. If still necessary, he will beard Hughes in his state department office.

I. C. C. ASKS GOVT. TAKE HAND IN RATE MAKING

WASHINGTON, June 14 (UP).—A powerful argument for greater government regulation of railroads has been advanced from a wholly unsuspected quarter—the Interstate Commerce Commission, it was disclosed here today. In a confidential report to the senate interstate commerce committee on the ability of the commission to enforce honest, efficient and economical rate making under 15-A of the Transportation Act a minority of the commission declares it cannot do so and that honest rate making probably cannot be assured unless there is wider government management of the carriers.

GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY PARTY IN NEW MEXICO

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The National Geographical Societies' expedition headed by Neil M. Judd, is now working in the ruins of Pueblo Bonito, New Mexico, giant "apartment house" of prehistoric homes. More than 300 rooms have been cleared and many kivas, or circular ceremonial chambers, already have been exposed. The explorations revealed that Pueblo Bonito was a busy village with a single dwelling. When inhabited some 800 rooms, and sheltered 1,200 or more persons.

TEXAN IS FOUND NOT GUILTY MURDER

GALVESTON, Texas, June 14.

—Donald A. Cameron, of Houston was found not guilty of a charge of murder by a jury in federal district court here late Saturday night.

Cameron former first mate on the Steamer Saucon, was charged with the slaying of Wireless operator J. E. Hopkins at Rotterdam, last February.

The case went to the jury late Friday night after three days of testimony, during which Cameron took the stand in his own defense. He told the jury he and Hopkins had always been friends prior to the difference on the day of the shooting and that a pistol in his hand was discharged as he went into the room where Hopkins was.

FRANCE'S NEW GOVERNMENT IN POWER

PARIS, June 14 (UP).—France's new government of the Left, swept into power after tremendous gains by the radical parties in the recent parliamentary elections and the consequent resignation of M. Millerand as president of the republic, assumed office tonight. Premier Edouard Herriot, former socialist mayor of Lyons, announcing the composition of his ministry as follows:

Premier and foreign affairs, Herriot; Justice, Renoult; finance, Clemenceau; interior, Chautemps; war, Nollet; marine, Dumessnil; public works, Peytral; commerce, Reynaldi; agriculture, Queille; education, Francois Albert; hygiene and labor, Godart; colonies, Daldier; liberated regions, Dalbier; pensions, Bovier-Lapierre.

The governor was offered a place among the delegates at the recent state convention at Waco, but he declined, he having advocated an uninstructed delegation from Texas, while the convention instructed for McAdoo.

Building Proceeds At Meadow In Good Form

MEADOW, June 14.—Monday of this week Hershel rooks began the erection of a nice five-room bungalow in the north part of town on Peeler street in the Cook addition. Mr. Brooks is one of Meadow's citizens who is looking ahead for the future of this town and community. We believe he is truly showing his confidence in the future of the town and country by becoming a real home owner of the best town. Meadow is putting on a steady growth, and the surrounding country is keeping a few paces ahead of the town when it comes to development.

Mr. Brooks is the kind of a citizen we need more of, one who is a booster for the town and country and shows it by his actions. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks will be at home in the new residence as soon as it is completed.

BANKERS PREDICT IMPROVEMENT GENERAL BUSINESS CONDITIONS WHEN WHEAT CROP HARVESTED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 14.—Greatly improved business conditions in the southwest as soon as the present wheat crop is harvested, was predicted tonight by leading bankers of Kansas City.

Farmers who have been hard hit financially during the last five years, due to low prices and poor crops, will be able to liquidate a large portion of their debts, as a result of a heavy yield and a quick sale of their grain in the opinion of H. T. Abernath, vice-president of the First National Bank here.

Business conditions throughout the southwest will show improvement as a result of the increased prosperity of the farmers, according to W. S. McNeal, president of the Commercial Trust Company.

ROBBERY LOOT BE RECOVERED IS BELIEF

CHICAGO, June 14.

—The entire band of robbers which on Friday morning held up a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Mail train near Roundout, Illinois, and escaped with cash and securities valued at approximately $3,000,000 will be under arrest by midnight Sunday, according to police officials here. The loot also will be recovered almost in full, Collins said he believed.

J. H. Wayne, who was reported tonight to be near death from a bullet wound, was positively identified, Collins announced by two of the mail guards from whom the pouches were stolen. Wayne was shot during the robbery.

Three other men—Paul Wade, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and J. H. Mahoney and Walter McComb both of Chicago—were partially identified by the guards as members of the robber band.

Wade, when arrested today had a $1,000 bill and a $500 bill in his pockets. Both bills, according to A. E. German, chief postal inspector were similar to those stolen from the train.

Wade and Mahoney were arrested in an apartment house here and were held together with McComb, owner of the flat, and Mrs. McComb. Mrs. McComb was only held for questioning had no connection or knowledge of the plot, officers said they believed.

Through the men held in custody, Collins said, he hoped to trail the other members of the band which is believed to number at least 25.

One of the losers is the bank of Charles Dawes, republican vice presidential nominee, the central trust company of Illinois. The bank made a shipment of $28,000 to a bank at Roundup, Montana.

One of the leaders of the robbers asked for the sack containing this packet of money.

This and other indictments led police to believe that the job was an "inside affair". The bandits knew so much about the treasure train that Collins is convinced that persons in the employ of the post-office department are involved.

Eight postal clerks are being questioned by Chief Postal Inspector Germer. The 70 mail clerks and guards on the train have been examined and several are under surveillance, it was known.

Chief Collins advanced the theory that Tommy O'Connor, noted gunman, who killed a policeman and broke jail several days before he was to be executed, had a hand in the affair. O'Connor has played hide and seek with the police since his escape about two years ago. While scores of police are hunting Chicago for the bandits, dozens of posses are searching the territory between Chicago and Milwaukee in the belief that some of the band may be in hiding in one of the lake resorts.

SOUTHWEST SEES HOTTEST WEATHER OF SEASON

KANSAS CITY, June 14 (UP).—The Southwest sweltered tonight in the warmest weather of the season. The mercury faltered at 90 with a humid breeze blowing. Gulf coast states reported a temperature of 100 degrees. The United States weather bureau here could prophesy no relief.

Business conditions throughout the southwest will show improvement as a result of the increased prosperity of the farmers, according to W. S. McNeal, president of the Commercial Trust Company.

Harvest Demand at Crest.

An army of harvest hands, sweeping the wheat fields clean before they will finish their work in Oklahoma, within a few days, and prepare to sweep northward thru Kansas. The migratory 40,000 men needed to take care of harvest in the state will be at its crest by the middle of next week. In ten days, approximately 9,000,000 acres of wheat yielding an average of 15 bushels to the acre, will be cleaned up.

Intense heat of the last few days has led to the early ripening of the grain and soon as the grain is ready for cutting, it will be harvested rapidly.

Concentration Under Way.

Concentration of men in the centers of the wheat country is already under way. About 400 were reported in Hutchinson, 200 in Salina and Wichita waiting for the start.

After cleaning up the Kansas harvest, the army will diverge in two sections, one sweeping to the north west through Colorado and Nebraska to the Pacific northwest, while the other group will advance northward through Eastern Nebraska to the Dakotas and Minnesota. About 125,000 men will follow the track of the header bull wheel through from Texas to Canada.

Fifty temporary labor bureaus have been established through Kansas to take care of the call for men. The group has suffered a slight decline in conditions during May and the early part of June to cinder bugs and hessian flies. The established crop for the state is now in excess of 115,000,000 bushels.

CLOUDBURST IN TENN. KILLS ELEVEN

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., June 14.

—Eleven persons were dead tonight as a result of a cloudburst which inundated a half dozen little villages clustered about Cardons Bluff.

Houses and log cabins were crushed or swept down stream, bridges and railroad trestles were carried away and telegraph, telephone and other means of communication with the stricken territory paralyzed. A complete toll of the dead was not available.

BRANSON WITHDRAWS FROM SENATE RACE

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 14.

—Fred R. Branson, justice of the supreme court, announced tonight he would withdraw from the democratic senatorial race.

Branson said his candidacy had never been filed and that he was definitely out of the running. He gave his reason for withdrawing that he was financially unable to finance the campaign.

WEATHER

WEST TEXAS.—Sunday and Monday generally fair, continued warm.

FOR THE BRIDE AND GROOM

"Man and wife I now pronounce you!"
Did you hear him as he spoke?
Had I been officiating, I am sure my voice had broke;
Had I worn God's holy vestments as that marriage knot I tied,
I am sure my voice had faltered
Happy groom and radiant bride

By the service which is ended, he pronounced you man and wife
Those were solemn vows you uttered, vows to hold you fast through life;
Vows not lightly to be taken, vows to test the bravest heart,
You must face the world together until God shall bid you part.

Day by day your faith must keep you glad the hurts of life to bear,
By the love which you have spoken, you must conquer every care,
Yet be true to one another, happy groom and radiant bride,
And you'll find by sharing sorrow every grief is sanctified.

Most whatever comes undaunted; pleasures, rise and pass away
Youth grows old and fortune changes, but through all things love can stay.
From this service which is ended, now you turn and walk thru life—
May the love which now unites you keep you always man and wife.

MOBILIZATION OF BULGARIANS IS BEGUN

GENEVA, June 15—Bulgaria has just notified the League of Nations and the International Labor Bureau of her intention of mobilizing.

The classes to be called to the colors will not be utilized in any hostile movement against any neighboring state or ever for military duty. Instead, the mobilization, which will constitute Bulgaria's fourth annual call to the colors since she inaugurated the compulsory labor system instead of compulsory military service, will merely be for the purpose of obligating each male citizen of workable age to perform a certain amount of duty for the state.

The annual mobilization this year will be much more extensive than the three preceding years in that it will apply not only to all manual workers, but intellectual workers as well.

Since the peace treaties and Bulgaria's entrance into the league of nations, both of which reduced her army to such a minimum basis that compulsory universal military service became not only impossible but useless, Bulgaria inaugurated the substitute system of compulsory labor service, the state assuming the right to call to the colors everyone who would ordinarily be called up for military duty, and having them put in a corresponding period of time working for the state.

This year, in addition to all the manual workers that have been called up in the past, the mobilization orders cover intellectual workers as well, including the staffs of government offices and public institutions; the Bulgarian Red Cross society, the national theatre, the deaf and dumb institution, the deaf and dumb institution, the state printing offices, the state mines, the law courts, consulates and legations, the Holy Synod and the central Jewish and Moslem organizations.

The classes called to the colors this year will be utilized, instead of ineffectively annihilating some neighboring army in accordance with their ability in the following lines of state work: control and administration of mobilized labor; archive and library work, inventory and classification work, gardening and similar work on state lands.

SAN ANTONIO, June 14.—Concha Bustamante, Mexican actress appearing here, has four diamonds set in her upper front teeth. HAVE WE LEARNED ANYTHING FROM THE PRESENT CONGRESS?

Our country has witnessed a most peculiar state of affairs during the past year. Every newspaper and every private citizen has been crying for tax reduction, yet we have witnessed a Congress which successfully prevented any reduction for a long period of time and which then passed a bill entirely different from the one recommended by the Treasury experts.

Instead of working for tax reduction, Congress consumed the greater part of its time in passing or attempting to pass various measures which would increase national taxes.

Congress seems to have worked on the theory of the ostrich in its blind effort to have its own way. Instead of listening to the demands of the people, it stuck its head in the sands of its own egotism and forced its pet hobbies and political schemes down the throats of the American people.

Few politicians in office have the ability to read the signs of the times but to those who have such ability, the recent presidential primaries offer a valuable lesson. Some political leaders in Washington, advocate radical changes in government and many new schemes and theories have been offered—but what did the people answer when they cast their vote?

The "ultra progressive" Republican candidate who would have given the people anything they wished, in promises, was absolutely snowed under. The "ultra conservative" Republican candidate of the type that the Progressives class as reactionary and an enemy of the people, received an almost unanimous vote.

If this primary election teaches anything, it shows that the sentiment of the American people is for conservative and sound ideas of government and business. It should show both Republicans and Democrats, alike, that the men they put up for public office should be capable of impressing the voters with the fact that they will give, if elected, a sound economical and business like administration of public affairs and curb the tendency to expand the functions of government to various fields of private activity.

DO WE NEED SUCH MEN AT THE HEAD OF THE EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS?

The newspaper dispatches of yesterday contained a news story of a certain educator, who hales from the State of California, and who has recently been tendered the presidency of the Texas State University, in which they quote that eminent educator as having flatly told the newspaper reporters who were anxious to know his decision in the matter, to "go-to-hell," and the statement was printed in all of the leading newspapers of the state.

This high powered educator came out afterwards with the statement that "this is the way I answer reporters when I have nothing to say." We are of the opinion that the State University though it does not claim to be a religious institution, should have at their head men of higher moral tone than that. Fact of the business, we do not believe that any man should stand at the head of any great educational institution who does not profess to be a Christian and of some religious conviction, of the protestant belief.

To say the least of it, no man should head an institution of that kind who has not the refinement of a courteous reply, even though a reporter may have vexed him and worried him, trying to get an expression from him.

In a great institution like the State University, there should be a good influence, especially at the head of the school, and in the faculty that is for higher ideals, than the dispensing of slang. We send our young people there, some of them from homes that stand for christianity and at least high morals, and when we send them there do not want to run head foremost into a president who is running over with slang. There are enough men in the United States to be able to secure a high class christian gentleman, and we see no good reason why the board of regents should choose any other kind.

You can generally tell whether a man's married by the price he pays for candy.

THE NEW IMMIGRATION LAW.

Apart from the Japanese exclusion feature it seems to be pretty generally recognized that the new immigration law is an improvement, providing beneficial changes in the previous immigration regulations. It limits the number of immigrants annually until 1927 to 161,000 and thereafter to 150,000. In addition, and over and above such temporary sojourners as travelers, business men and others, so-called non-quota immigrants may be admitted without numerical limitation. These include the unmarried children under 18 years of age and the wife of an American citizen. They also include immigrants previously admitted and returning after a temporary absence abroad. It is estimated that the women and children alone, for a number of years will add another 150,000 to the number coming from Europe.

It is further provided that native-born citizens of any of the countries of the Western Hemisphere shall be admitted without regard to numbers. Judging from the record for the last two years, at least 200,000 such persons may be expected to enter each year. During the first half of the current immigration year 103,000 Canadians and Newfoundlanders entered and nearly 60,000 Latin-Americans. The numbers from these sources are likely to increase in proportion to the decline in the number of Europeans. An annual immigration of about 500,000 from all sources is thought likely in spite of the restrictions of the new law. It is thought that the readjustment and improvement in machinery bid fair to do away with the rejection of persons because their quota had been filled while they were on the water, which led to much hardship and inevitably caused bitter criticism.

KINDNESS.

We often wonder why people do not make more use of that marvelous power—kindness. It is the greatest lever to move the hearts of men that the world has ever known—greater by far than anything that mere ingenuity can devise or subtlety suggest. Kindness is the keystone of a successful life; it is the prime factor in overcoming friction and making the human machinery run smoothly. If a man is your enemy you cannot disarm him in any other way so quickly or so surely as by doing him a kindness. The meanest brute that ever drew breath is not altogether insensible to the influence of kindness. Of course it takes a strong man—the very strongest in fact, to do a kindness to a man who has wronged him, yet there is no other way of so certainly bringing about restitution. Not only this but it develops strength in the man who does it and the peculiar thing is that the power of kindness can be exercised by the lowest as well as the highest type of humanity of the lower animals. The jewel bedecked gink on his throne has no more privileges in this respect than the digger of ditches and there is no other factor in human life so well calculated to destroy the distinction of caste than as this.

Kindness makes the whole world kin. It breaks down the barriers of distrust, deceit, envy, jealousy, hate and all their miserable train.

Practice kindness. Try it in your every day life, at home, in the office, in the shop, on the farm. Kindness will work anywhere, and at any time.

BABY BAND IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The public schools in Sherman, Texas, seem to have solved the problem of interesting parents in the work of the schools by interesting the children in organizing bands. These baby bands are uniformed, have their own little conductor, and they play on drums, whistles, bells, tambourines, triangles, xylophones, horns, harmonicas, etc. Their repertoire, of course is not extensive, but they entertain with lulling numbers dear to little folks, and in several instances each primary room has its own orchestra and some of the orchestras have made decided hits at public functions. One orchestra, with the addition of a bit of pantomime, dancing and plays, gave entertainments that netted sufficient to pay for a small portable piano to accompany them. The plan promises to be emulated over the country because it interests, instructs and entertains the children—and the parents.

PROGRESSIVES ON BACK BENCHES.

The demands of the United States Chamber of Commerce that Republicans who do not "go along" under the crack of the party whip, must be eliminated from the party roll call, will find its first expression at the Cleveland convention, where the status of "progressives" has been definitely fixed as that of "poor relations." There have been no unkind words, no family scene. The progressives have been read out of the party—they have just been frozen out. The geographical West, but not the political West, will be represented. Republican senators are in somewhat the same category. Lodge and his bad little boys will not be allowed to eat turkey at Cleveland. They must sit on the rear seat with the progressive outcasts. The Republican leaders have finally determined to "clean house" and either have party rule or party defeat. After all, it's a sound business, as well as political proposition.

COOLIDGE MUCH WORRIED OVER SITUATION

By A. L. BRADFORD

WASHINGTON, June 14. (UP)—Worried over the almost complete estrangement of the "old guard" Senators at the Cleveland convention, President Coolidge and his advisers tonight were studying means of bringing about a reconciliation.

The alternative faced by the white house is continuing along the course of cold disregard of the "old guard" and placing all the responsibility on congress for "black marks" against the president's administration.

Mr. Coolidge is giving a great deal of thought to the situation at Cleveland where William H. Butler the president's personal choice for campaign manager, was charged with handling the vice presidential question so badly that the "old guard" voted and nominated General Dawes over those whom President Coolidge more strongly desired.

The president has received a long report on this interneine war from his secretary, C. Bascom Slemm, who abandoned a trip to the south he had planned and hurried back to Washington to talk with his chief. It is admitted the situation is difficult for Slemm. The president's secretary naturally is assumed to feel strongly about the alleged Butler fiasco. Butler, however, is a long personal friend of Mr. Coolidge and the president's personal choice for chairman of the republican national committee.

President Coolidge will get Butler's side of the story when the campaign manager reaches Washington soon.

MALDEN CHILDREN'S HEALTH CAMP

That large numbers of subnormal children may be restored by sunshine, fresh air, proper food, and quiet hours of sleep in the open has been demonstrated in a summer camp maintained at Malden, Mass., for the prevention of tuberculosis. The camp was established about four years ago and has cared for groups of children from all the schools, public and parochial.

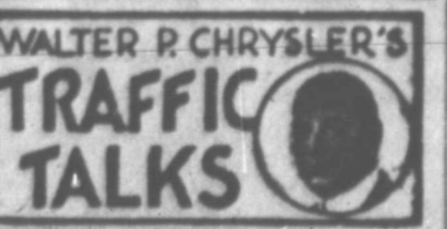

While the camp is yet small and can only care for a limited number of children, there is a movement on foot to have it made a State institution. Governor Cox has recommended to the State legislature that sufficient resources be made available to the department of health to inaugurate a 10-year program designed to reach all the children of the early school age. The cost of caring for and curing tuberculosis in young children is said to be much less than that required for adult patients.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS INTERESTED IN EDUCATION

The League of Women Voters holding its annual National Conference at Buffalo, April 24 to 26 devoted an entire afternoon to the subject of education. The State committees on education and a representative from the United States Bureau of Education considered a program devoted to the study of problems of rural education, with special attention to financing rural schools on an equalized basis.

Elementary school teachers of Italy continue to send fervent thanks to Minister Gentile for the recent noteworthy improvements in their salaries. One teacher in the Abruzzi setn as a sign of gratitude 2,000 lire for use in organizing an infants' school.

The dispatch with which traffic is handled on a street depends much upon the turns permitted. Few cities permit turns in the middle of the block. Many cities do not permit turns on certain corners where traffic is especially heavy. Before cars are permitted to turn pedestrians should be permitted to cross.

New York has an interesting practice of requiring the slower moving vehicles to hug the curb while the faster moving taxicabs and passenger cars use the area near the car tracks or the center of the street.

Safety zones cease to be safety zones if cars are permitted to drive through them. Safety zones compel traffic to move through the "neck of the bottle" which slows up traffic but safety zones are intended to protect pedestrians and protecting pedestrians is important to slow up traffic.

FLOYDADA HAS EARLY CLUB MEETINGS

FLOYDADA, June 13.—Believing that the first man on the job has the advantage. The Floydada Chamber of Commerce has adopted the plan of holding its regular semi-monthly meetings at seven o'clock in the morning at breakfast. The first breakfast meeting was held Thursday morning in the new White Rose Cafe on the south side of the square and was attended by fifty members of the organization. It was voted to adopt the plan permanently for the summer months at least instead of holding the meetings at night, as has been the plan heretofore. Judge L. G. Matthews, local attorney, is the instigator of the affair having had experience with a similar breakfast club where he lived several years ago, before he moved to Floydada.

The principal subject discussed at the meeting Thursday morning was the Floydada country club now being organized. This is a twenty thousand dollar organization and half of the stock has been subscribed. An active campaign will be launched Monday to sell the balance of the stock. On hundred and sixty acres of land in Blanco Canyon will be bought by the club, having on it running water, a mountain, and the largest trees found in West Texas. The site has been declared ideal by all who have seen it.

The Oregon law requiring attendance at public school, to the exclusion of private and parochial schools has been declared unconstitutional by the Federal Court at Portland, Ore. The decision was the result of an injunction brought by Hill Military Academy against State officers to prevent them from executing the law. The law was strongly opposed by the private and parochial schools of the State. The court holds that the rights of parents and guardians were disregarded by this legislation. An appeal will be made to the United States Supreme Court.

AMERICA'S ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED ON MOVE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., America's army of unemployed is on the move again.

The great harvest fields of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas as their mecca, hundreds of these begrimed and cinder-zaked sons of toil are arriving here on every freight and passenger train.

A few hours rest, a snack of food and they are off again on their journey to golden fields and blistering sun.

Rains and cool weather have retarded the harvest in Kansas, and Oklahoma, according to Geo. E. Tucker, field director of farm labor with the United States department of labor here announced Wednesday.

In ten days, however, he predicts the harvest in Kansas will be in full swing and then 40,000 men will be needed to put away the second largest wheat crop in the history of the state.

The workers are surging northward from Texas, Tucker said. Some already have entered Oklahoma, where harvesting in earnest will begin in four or five days.

Swinging through Kansas, the army will pass through Nebraska, and Northward into the two Dakotas and then into Washington.

A standard wage of $3.50 to $4 a day with board and lodging has been practically agreed upon by the farmers. Railroads are cutting transportation rates to those workers who prefer to or are financially able to ride the "cushions" and those less fortunate are permitted to "ride the rods without fear of arrest."

You don't have to nurse a grouch very carefully to make it grow.

A. & M. COLLEGE PREPARING BIG PROGRAM

COLLEGE STATION, June 14

—The A. & M. College of Texas will make the greatest effort of all years to give the farmer and his family the information and demonstration that they most need when they come to the Fifteenth Annual Farmers' Short Course at the College July 28 to August 2. Research specialists who are constantly engaged in devising better methods of cultivation, developing better varieties of plants and discovering cure of disease will cooperate with the extension agents who spend their time in the field with the farmer and know his problems at first hand and these two will join with the teachers who devote their time and effort to presenting knowledge and demonstrating its application in a great effort to give the farmers and his family the greatest amount of practical information in the shortest length of time.

They will give him, his wife, daughters and sons, the most basic facts in the fundamental science of the farm enterprise, stressing those phases which extension agents' survey shows to be most lacking in Texas agriculture. The short time will not permit of a thorough training but enough can be given to demonstrate to the farm family that improvement in their methods and equipment is possible, practicable and so promising of dividends that they will go away inspired to join the ranks of the progressives who are cooperating with the county agents, studying the A. & M. and U. S. Department of Agriculture Bulletins and investigating the work of others.

Over 2500 attended the Short Course last year and that number is expected to be exceeded this summer. Oratorical and mess hall will be opened, and every facility of the institution devoted to the work of the short course. The actual cost of room and meals will be $1.50 a day. Railroads will give reduced rates.

SEEK SUICIDE AS ONLY RELIEF IN VIENNA

VIENNA.—A new wrinkle in suicides was demonstrated recently in Vienna. Tired of trying to eke out a hand-to-mouth existence in a city where the cost of living is already high and becoming higher, a young woman and her sweetheart rode together on their bicycles over a steep bank into the Danube river. The tragedy was witnessed by some fishermen who were at work nearby; but rescue was impossible as the suicides were already far down the stream before the fishermen could reach the spot. It is more or less of a red-letter day on the calendar when a suicide is not recorded in the local press. Hope of better days individually and as a nation seems to have left the majority of Austria's population. One by one therefore they resort to poison, the Danube, gas, pistols, and ropes for release from their troubles.

TAKES ONLY ONE DAY TO MAKE A VIOLIN

FORT WORTH, June 14.—It takes only a day and a half to actually make a violin, according to J. C. Rutledge, veteran violin maker, but weeks are required for the dressing and shrinking of the instrument. Besides playing a violin, Rutledge plays piano, mandolin, guitar, trombone, viola or almost any other sort of musical instrument.

REA WEEVIL IS NEWEST PERIL TO COTTON CROP

SPARTA, Ga., June 14.—The "pea weevil" is the latest destroyer of cotton in this section. Considerable interest was created among farmers recently when C. M. Layson, who lives near here, reported that some kind of an insect had literally killed eight acres of his cotton. Boll weevil experts visited his farm and pronounced the pest a "pea weevil."

The "pea weevil" they said, is as destructive to cotton as the boll weevil, but it can more easily be eliminated. They stated that one dusting of calcium arsenate will destroy the pest.

Many Records Smashed. HARVARD STADIUM, Cambridge, Mass., June 14.—Inspired by the greatest athletic prize within the power of Uncle Sam to bestow the right to wear the starry shield of America in the Olympic games the country's best track and field athletes fought each other and the elements this afternoon and records crashed as the victors won their places on the American team.

Overshadowing the performance of some four score sectional champions and record holders was the sprinting of Jackson V. Scholz, of the New York A. C.

Scholz who is counted an old timer as track athletes go, in the 100 meters race, smashed the world record in the semi-final heat. The former Missouri flyer also tied for second in the 100 meters in which he was beaten by Chester Bowman Syracuse star, who surprised by his victory in this event.

Scholz' record in the 200 metre race was not the only one to go, however, for G. Taylor of Grinnell college, took a second and a half off the mark for the four hundred meters established by Loomis in Belgium four years ago and his namesake, J. Coard Taylor of the Illinois Athletic Club set the world mark in the 400 meters run. The team that will be chosen by the Olympic team selection committee at the B. A. A. tonight will not only be representative of the country's best track and field talent, but will be probably the most powerful the United States has put in the field in an Olympic meet.

No flare up from yesterday's disturbance occurred, the only excitement the 40,000 fans got when a Tiger rookie second baseman was ejected by Umpire Evans for disputing a third called strike.

LOCAL COLLEGE DEFEATED BY IDALOU SATURDAY. IDALOU, June 14.—The Lubbock Business college nine met defeat at the hands of the local boys here today 3 to 2 in a fast exhibition.

Cook, doing mound duty for the locals, turned in a pretty game striking out eight men. Pruitt, visiting moundman, who has been under coaching at A. & M. College this past year, also worked beautifully, whiffing ten men during the nine innings.

Wilcox, with the visiting nine, drove one over centerfield in the first inning for four sacks, but no one was on ahead.

Jno. Whipp, college infielder, suffered what was announced here as a broken ankle in the third inning when he tangled his feet in sliding to second.

HONEY LETTERS IN TWO SPORTS AT T. C. U.

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 14.—"Wild Bill" Cecil Honey of Lubbock finished his greatest year at Texas Christian University last week by winning a T Sweater in two sports. Honey always runs rampant in the backfield of Matty Bell's football squad and was almost sure to letter in the grid sport but when the baseball season came around he surprised the critics by playing a jam up game in right field and swatting the ball freely. He lettered in football and baseball.

Bill has only one more year with T. C. U. before taking his degree. While the horned frogs will have the greatest football team in their history next year and there will be the hottest possible rivalry for every backfield, Matty Bell is counting strongly on Honey's ability as a ball totter to win him one of the half back jobs.

Easily disjointed thumbs have proved in the case of Honey just how much a little thing can hurt the performance of an athlete. He holds his own title with any backfield man in the state but has trouble every year by getting his thumbs bunged up. A sound pair of digits would place him in the flashy all-Southwestern class "Kid" Nance, crafty ball baseball tutor who sent Pete Donohue and Boob Fowler to stardom in the big leagues, always thought that Honey had the stuff to come thru if he were placed in the hole on a baseball nine but Bill came through in a way that surprised even the coach.

Dick Fender, the shaggy headed Romeo who plays right field for the Horned Frogs, turned his ankle in mid-season and gave Honey the baseball chance he had been waiting for. He was known to be a sure fielder but was expected to make most of his hits go straight up.

After being in parts of several games Bill broke loose with his first hit of the season, a far-hit home run and after that had little trouble in poking out doubles and singles and an occasional bunt. He became one of the timeliest hitters on the club and was a real factor in bringing the Frogs to second place in the Southwestern Conference race.

Nance was plagued from the start with bad weather, cripples, and intelligibles and if Honey had not come thru like he did would have had a hard time nursing his team through like he did.

Honey is a member of the Shirley Literary society and takes part in all school activities.

TURNEY-CARPENTIER BOUT PRACTICALLY ASSURED NEW YORK, June 14.—The Gene Tunney-George Carpentier match is now practically assured.

This is the very latest on the much-discussed international fight and was made public by Billy Gibson after a conference between Descamps and himself Friday afternoon.

The attraction is carded for one-of-the ball parks here about the middle of July. The light heavyweight championship of America will be at stake. Final agreements will be signed Monday, Gibson said.

BANKERS REPORT THE CROP CONDITIONS Satisfactory

STAMFORD, Texas, June 14.—W. M. Massie, President of the Fort Worth National Bank, Fort Worth, Texas, W. D. Sanders, president of DeKalb Exchange Bank, DeKalb, Texas, and W. A. Philpott, Jr., Secretary of the Texas Bankers Association, Dallas, Texas, called on Secretary Manager Porter A. Whaley of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce this afternoon on their return trip from the Bankers' Association at Amarillo.

The three gentlemen report a splendid trip and an enjoyable time. Leaving Amarillo, via Plainview, Lockney, Floydada, Crosbyton, Ralls, Lubbock, Tahoka, Post, Snyder, Rotan, Hamlin and Stamford. After a short visit with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, they left for Col. R. L. Fenick's River home on Lake Lila, where they will spend the evening and back to Fort Worth tomorrow. According to reports given out by the members of this party, crop conditions are good and the optimistic spirit of West Texas prevailing everywhere.

BOB LA FOLLETTE, JR., HAS HIS FATHER'S EYES.

ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE AND SON.

In his son, Robert, Jr., fighting Bob La Follette, Wisconsin's progressive Republican leader and Senator, has a perfect image, as to his eyes. This is the first year that the son has been able to render woman service politically to his father in a conspicuous way. Robert, Jr., attends political gatherings, including national conventions, keeps his eyes and ears open, and reports to his daddy thereon. Thus the Wisconsin Senator, who threatens to be a thorn in the side of the Republican machine, has four eyes rather than the average two.

SIZE OF WOMAN'S KNEE WORRY TO SCIENCE

By United Press PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—What has the size of a woman's ankle to do with the size of her brain?

The question is perturbing biologists and scientists of Philadelphia following the decree of Paul Poiret, French fashion dictator, that "thin ankles mean weak knees and tiny brains."

A poll of ten Philadelphia women, picked at random, revealed the fact that seven of them had thin ankles, nine of them strong knees and ten of them bright brains.

"This is all nonsense," declared one clubwoman. "If a woman has any sense she doesn't allow her ankles to become thick. It seems to me that this answers your question. Diet and the proper amount of exercise will keep women from slopping over at the ankles, and any sensible woman will see to it that she has the proper diet and exercise."

"M. Poiret is correct," said another. "The woman who gets out and does things, the woman who has the real sense, doesn't take time to see that her ankles are thin. It is only the flighty young woman who likes to show her ankles on a dance floor or on the street that gives thought to such things."

"Look at the girls at Bryn Mawr. I doubt if you could find a more brainy or sensible lot of girls. Yet, generally speaking, Bryn Mawr is a big ankle college—big ankles, strong knees and big brains."

One of Philadelphia's students of psychology is inclined to take the view that there really is no connection between the size of the ankle and the depth of the brain of a woman.

"A woman's ankle and her brain are entirely separate organisms," he declared. "If the ankle grows it does not necessarily follow, as M. Poiret seems to believe, that the brain will also grow. The brain and the ankle are certainly not twins."

"Do you think the growth of the ankle can be controlled by the brain?" he was asked. "Only to a certain extent," was the reply. "If a young woman is desirous of preserving emaciated ankles, and I'm not saying it isn't a good thing to do, then her brain if she has one, will direct that she doesn't do too much walking and that she doesn't eat those things which she ought not to eat."

G.O.P. CANDIDATE CAUSES SHIFT IN DEMOCRATS

By ROBERT J. BENDER CHICAGO, Ill., June 14.—Nomination of Charles Dawes by the republicans for the vice presidency has resulted in a complete re-cavassing of the democratic situation by democratic leaders.

George Brennan, Illinois, democratic chieftain, already has conferred with Tom Taggart of Indiana on what shift in the party's convention plans are necessary as a result of Dawes being on the republican ticket. Tuesday Brennan leaves for New York to be on hand early for general conference with leaders from different states.

Brennan, of course is for Smith but the first ballot at the New York convention will find Illinois distributing its vote generously among the different candidates. McAdoo will get his nine Illinois delegates throughout, but the balance of the big delegation will be distributed among Senator Ralston of Indiana, Governor Smith of New York and possibly John W. Davis, of West Virginia, and Governor Siler of New Jersey.

Brennan is saying nothing but those in his following say that as things now stand, Smith's chances for nomination are losing ground and those of McAdoo are gaining ground steadily. There are many reasons to believe that a compromise may well be effected on Davis. The present tendency of the co-called "bosses" is to let the presidential race at New York be a free-for-all.

The importance the vice presidential campaign has assumed with the nomination of Dawes, however, has started the political leaders here in search of a strong candidate to match the general. First hand, they say, organized labor will slaughter Dawes at the polls if the democrats put up a man friendly to labor. Furthermore, if McAdoo is nominated—as appears increasingly likely—the ticket will need a running mate for him that will appeal to business interests. There are several of such men in mind now—each from this section of the country—but it is yet too early to discuss their relative potentialities until after Brennan has completed his canvass of the situation after reaching New York.

Suffice to say at this time that the nomination of Dawes by the republicans has resulted in Brennan and Taggart devoting fully as much attention to the second place on the ticket as to the first.

Perhaps the quickest way for a man to start a long series of arguments is by disagreeing over his wife's wall paper selections.

ZEITUN LOSES IN FIGHT FOR FORTUNE

By United Press.

LIBERTY, Mo., June 14.—Captain Harry Lello Zeitun, English soldier of fortune today lost his claim to the $1,000,000 estate of the late Mrs. Julia Woods Davies. Mrs. Davies' will drawn in London, May 8, 1922 and naming Zeitun chief beneficiary, was declared void by a circuit court jury here.

Mrs. Davies' fourth husband, George Westlain Davies, St. Louis opera singer and two daughters, contested the will, declaring it was drawn while Mrs. Davies was under the influence of drugs and was improperly coerced by Zeitun, then her secretary.

Zeitun's attorneys will ask a retrial of the suit, it was indicated. The legal battle to break the will revealed stories of intrigue, love and threats of death.

Zeitun met the Davies' while they were touring Europe. Mrs. Davies' health was failing and they had gone to Rome.

Zeitun, a former interpreter in a London police court, approached them with tales of hardship and suffering.

He excited their compassion and soon became a constant visitor at the Davies apartment.

A decided change came over Mrs. Davies, her husband testified. Zeitun, he declared, sought to gain control of Mrs. Davies' financial affairs.

At this time, Davies testified, his wife asked him to return to the United States to transact some business for her. He became suspicious of Zeitun while on the way to the United States and returned to Europe immediately.

Mrs. Davies and Zeitun had gone from Rome to London, he testified. A search of the latter city revealed no trace of them and he was notified Mrs. Davies had gone to Excelsior Springs, Missouri.

In the meantime, Davies testified Zeitun with cajolery and the use of drugs, induced Mrs. Davies to appoint him her secretary and draft a new will. Zeitun, he said, was to receive $365,000.

An exchange of affectionate letters began, Davies testified, in which Zeitun referred to Mrs. Davies as "My own darling Angel."

In one letter Zeitun signed himself "Your loving husband." Other letters introduced by Davies, which he said, Zeitun wrote to his wife, contained the following quotations: "Davies is a conceited ass and untrustworthy."

"You must try to get as much money as you can as we will need a lot of wine."

"I promise to love and protect you, my darling. You know my true position, lacking wealth, but I am truly rich in my actions towards you. I don't care a damn for anybody or anything else."

"Thanks for your letter, enclosing that filthy letter from your husband. I don't want to hurt your feelings by telling you what I think of him."

"What worries me, is that I'm terribly short of funds."

Attorneys for Davies declared that Zeitun kept Mrs. Davies under the influence of drugs and alcohol, until she made the will naming him beneficiary.

Physicians testified she was mentally incompetent by use of drugs and intoxicants.

After the Davies' had returned to the United States and had effected a reconciliation, Davies received a letter from Zeitun. The envelope contained a little chrysanthemum with an accompanying note stating: "I am coming."

Mrs. Davies was greatly perturbed when she saw the flower, Davies testified. She screamed he declared, saying that Zeitun told her that when he sent a yellow chrysanthemum it was a sign of death and that he was coming to America to kill her and Davies.

Zeitun previously had threatened to kill both he and his wife, Davies testified.

IMPROVEMENTS ARE MADE IN THE PLANT OF CREAMERY

Holshouser, manager of the Clover leaf creamery, has just completed making improvements on the company's plant on east Broadway in which approximately two thousand dollars was involved, and that is now the best equipped creamery plants on the plains.

The capacity of the refrigerating rooms was doubled by the addition of an extra room, giving the plant a refrigeration capacity of 2,500 gallons, which enables it to meet the demand of a fast growing business.

The Clover Leaf Creamery is one of the growing institutions of Lubbock, and the confidence its management has in the continued growth of Lubbock is reflected in the improvements that have been made in the plant, and that that business will continue to hold a large trade is assured.

The products of the Clover Leaf creamery are made of the very most wholesome and purest ingredients, and together with handling a large business in finished products, the market it affords local farmers for butter and cream is an item that is not to be overlooked in considering its value to Lubbock.

STUDENTS FEES PAY SMALL PART OF COST

Not less than $10,000,000 is required adequately to endow a modern medical school, and double or treble that sum is out too much if the school is to include in its scope all the specialties of medicine and surgery, according to Dr. E. D. Burton, president of Chicago University. The days have long gone by in which a group of physicians could supplement their income by conducting a medical school for pecuniary profit.

SEAL OF HEALTH SAFETY FOR TOURIST

AUSTIN, June 14.—The State Board of Health in cooperation with civic and other organizations will launch a state-wide "Seal of Safety" campaign beginning June 15th. Dr. Duggan, State Health Officer, stated that in addition to fish, a healthy tan, a vigorous appetite, a gain in avoirdupois, chiggers and poison ivy, many of the 1923 tourists caught dengue, malaria, and typhoid, and the purpose of the "Seal of Safety" campaign is to better protect the vacationist and tourist by raising the standard of sanitation at the various tourist camps, swimming pools and drinking water supplies afforded the tourist such as streams, roadside wells and springs.

The local supervision and inspection of camps will rest with the city and county health officers or other designated authorities who will cooperate with the local members of chambers of commerce and civic organizations. The camps will be inspected as to proper drainage, adequate and potable supply of drinking water, proper disposal of sewage and garbage, and if approved they will be listed as an approved tourist camp and further identified by appropriate sign boards and posters on the highways.

The water supply of all wells and hydrants will be tested by the laboratory of the State Board of Health and if the water is safe, a metal "Seal of Safety" will be attached to advertise the supply as safe. The State Board of Health will furnish the metal seals, with posters for placarding camps as well as streams. Some of the posters read, "This is an approved camp ground" "Help keep it on the approved list" or "do not use this water for drinking without boiling," and "The water from this well has been tested and found to be safe for drinking."

The State Board of Health is also planning to classify the swimming pools and bring about a more sanitary control of the two hundred pools in Texas.

All city and county health officers in Texas have been requested to make surveys of camps and to collect samples of water in their locality and have been furnished questionnaires for recording the conditions found. The information obtained will be used as a basis for the issuing and placing the development is not satisfactory of the "Seals of Safety." Where tory, advice regarding the improvement of the camp or water supply will be given the State and local health departments, and periodic re-examinations will then be made from time to time. Camps wishing recognition should communicate with the State Board of Health as soon as possible.

PETRIFIED EAR MAY BE THAT OF INDIAN CHIEF

TAMANEND, Pa., June 14.—New scientific pilgrimages have been started in this direction because of the finding of a petrified human ear in a dam here, but folks in this country hamlet are somewhat agitated by the discovery.

They recall that historians recorded that the early part of the eighteenth century the old Indian Chief Taman, hanged here by early settlers, was minus an ear. In fact the town was given its present name because Taman met his end here.

MANY TESTIFY IN PROBE NAVY DISASTER

By United Press. SAN PEDRO, June 14.—From out of a maze of conflicting and meagre testimony, the naval board sitting in the probe of the disaster in which 48 officers and men in the U. S. S. Mississippi lost their lives, today sought to solve the mystery surrounding the origin of the explosions.

Survivors of the crew who manned the ill-fated turret Number 2 took the witness stand and told what they recalled of incidents preceding and after the blast. The board saw a possible partial explanation of the blast in the statement of Casimir F. Magesawki, a plugman on the gun at which the explosion occurred. His duty it was to turn on the air pressure that closed the breech, after the gun was loaded.

Air Low All Morning. Magesawki testified he had noticed the air was low all morning, the register barely topping 90 pounds, whereas it normally reached 150 pounds. Asked if he had reported the condition Magesawki said he did not as it would have been necessary to stop firing to remedy the difficulty.

He explained that he did not want anything to interfere with the crew's chances for a new record. The witness said that the day before a piece of burning silk from one of the bags containing the powder shovels in behind the shells had fallen from the gun to the powder pit. Quick action, however, had prevented disaster then, he said.

Judge Advocate Boyd asked the witness if, after the explosion, he had heard any officer inside the turret give an order to open the hatchways. Magesawki said he had heard no such order, but James Smith, a gun trainer, who followed him to the witness stand, testified he had heard some order shouted immediately following the blast.

He had telephone receivers over his ears, Smith said, and not catching the command plainly asked the officer standing above him to repeat it. This, the officer whose name he did not know tried to do so, Smith said, but was choked by the flames and could not speak again.

Sightsetter Gives Alarm. Eugene Burke, a sightsetter told of his narrow escape through a hatchway down into the powder rooms. Rushing out on deck he shouted the alarm of fire, but it was some time before the other sailors paid heed to his warning, believing it was a fire drill, the witness said. Lieutenant Commander Reinecke, chief gunnery officer of the Mississippi was on the witness stand during the forenoon. He expressed the opinion that the explosion was not caused by any mechanical defect but rather by some mistake made by the sweat

CONNECTICUT SPENDS 46 MILLIONS FOR HIGHWAYS

HARTFORD, Conn., June 14.—Connecticut spent forty-six million dollars building new highways in the last twenty-eight years — the bulk of it in the last five years — and now has 1,114 miles of real roads, according to John A. MacDonald, State Highway Commissioner. More than five million dollars was spent in the last year with over head expenses less than a quarter million. State officials intend to go ahead with the work until all Connecticut roads are fit for motoring.

CONGRESSMAN IS ARRESTED FOR DRUNKENNESS

By United Press. OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 14.—Congressman E. B. Howard, of Tulsa, candidate for the United States senate from Oklahoma, was arrested and fined in police court here Monday for alleged drunkenness, it was disclosed tonight by police officers, and admitted by the congressman.

Howard, according to police, was arrested with nine others in a raid on an apartment house here last Saturday night after he had delivered a campaign speech. With his companions he was released under bonds and Monday the ten entered pleas of guilty and paid fines of $5 each. Howard was booked under the name of S. B. Thompson.

In long distance telephone communication with the United Press tonight at Altus, Oklahoma, where he is speaking in behalf of his senatorial candidacy, the congressman admitted he had been arrested under an assumed name and paid a fine of $5 for drunkenness.

He added however, that he was an "innocent victim of circumstances" and was probably a frame up on the part of his political enemies.

"I was not drinking but just happened to be at the apartment with some friends when the police made the raid," Howard said. I pleaded guilty to the technical charge of drunkenness and paid a small fine as the simplest way out of the affair.

"We were at my political headquarters after my campaign address in Oklahoma City when a friend suggested I go to his home and meet some voters."

"I drove with him to the apartment just to shake hands with the people and ask their support as I do in all my campaigns."

"We had been there only a few minutes when police came and made the raid."

"I just happened to be in the apartment with the rest. It was unfortunate affair and I was an innocent victim."

"I believe my public and moral record with the public speaks for itself and I will appeal to the people of the state to withhold their judgement until they have heard all of the case and given me an opportunity to prove my innocence."

L. W. Decordova, captain of the police morals squad said tonight that the apartment had been raided on complaint of neighbors that a disorderly party was being staged.

A police patrol accompanied the raiding squad and the senatorial candidate together with nine others including four women were loaded in and hauled to the station.

"Some members of the party were in my opinion very much intoxicated," Decordova said.

The court records show that Howard under the name of "Thompson" was fined $5 and costs on a charge of intoxication and that another charge of loitering in a disorderly house was dismissed.

FORMER WIFE OF BANKER HELD FOR FORGERY

By United News. NEW YORK, June 13.—Mrs. Eleanor Elaine Harris, former wife of Beverly Harris, once a vice President of the National City Bank was held for the grand jury in $1,000 bail Friday night on a charge of forgery in the third degree.

Mrs. Harris is charged with forging a letter purporting to have been written by her former husband to another woman in which her reputation and mode of living prior to her marriage was vindicated.

Alleging that Harris wrote the letter on the last day of his successful suit to obtain an annulment of their marriage, Mrs. Harris filed photostatic copies of the missive with the supreme court and requested a consideration of the annulment of the new evidence.

A broad smile flashed across Mrs. Harris' face when Magistrate Oberwager read his decision to hold her for grand jury action.

As an instance of the great interest which the towns in Alaska take in their schools, the city of Ketchikan has voted to issue $50,000 additional bonds for the purpose of erecting a modern school building. The $100,000 bond issue previously voted was found to be inadequate to provide as large a building as was needed. The city now has, therefore, $150,000 available for school building. The population is fewer than 2,500 and is made up principally of miners, fishermen, and lumbermen.

FRENCH SCREEN ACTRESS GRANTED STAY OF EXECUTION

LOS ANGELES, Calif., June 13.—Attorneys for Granville P. Sully, against whom a judgement of $50,000 has been returned as a result of the complaint of Mile. Yvonne d'Arcy, French screen actress, Friday were granted a 30 day stay of execution. They are preparing an appeal.

Mile. d'Arcy sued Sully, who is the son of Dan Sully, former cotton king, declaring that she is awaiting motherhood as a result of his alleged attack. She asked $200,000 but the jury hearing evidence in the case cut the amount to $50,000.

SCOTLAND SEEKS HOME RULE IN PARLIAMENT

By CLARENCE DUBOSE
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, June 14.—"Oh, well, Scotland just must have its little joke," most Englishmen say when the Scottish Home Rule Bill is mentioned.

"It takes the English a long time to realize that the Scotch always get what they go after—however much they have to wait for it," reply the Scottish supporters of the bill.

But the Members of Parliament from Scotland are divided among themselves on the question, as are the people of Scotland. Quite a few Scottish members oppose the proposal and voted against it recently when it was up in the House of Commons. The English do not take the Scottish home rule bill agitation very seriously, for the simple reason that so many Scotsmen themselves oppose it.

Nevertheless the House of Commons has decided to set up a special committee to consider the proposals of Home Rule for Scotland and for Wales, and the Scottish members who support the bill insist that the fight will be maintained year in and year out until the object is accomplished.

WHEAT HARVEST BEGINS IN HALE COUNTY

PLAINVIEW, Texas, June 14.—The annual Hale county wheat harvest started today when a combine began work on the farm of J. B. Long, six miles east of Plainview. It is estimated harvesting will be in full swing about June 16. There are in Hale county this year 100,000 acres of wheat. A conservative estimate of yield is 20 bushels to the acre.

Many Hale county farmers are asking the local employment agency for harvest laborers. The report has been broadcast that the wheat harvest this year will be handled by combines only, but this statement is not true. Although combines are very popular in the county, and much of the crop will be handled in that way, which will eliminate some of the unskilled laborers there is a strong demand for unskilled hands, as much of the crop will be bundled and stacked. This requires the services of many shockers and stackers.

After the wheat harvest here wheat crops farther north will need attention, which will mean employment to many surplus laborers. Plainview notton farmers will need help to care for the big cotton crop which will soon need attention. Harvest in Hale county will last from six to eight weeks, making it profitable to laborers who can remain to help gather the cotton crop.

WOMAN APPLIES HORSEWHIP TO ATTORNEY

By United Press
PAOLA, Kans., June 13.—Miss Lucy Mallory, prominent local woman, horsewhipped Samuel J. Shively, Miami county attorney in the District Court room here late Friday afternoon.

Court had adjourned and Shively and a group of lawyers were sitting at a table when Miss Mallory entered. She walked up to the county attorney, lifted her whip and struck him several blows across the face.

Shively sprang to his feet in an attempt to defend himself but was held back by the other attorneys. Miss Mallory who was put under a $1,000 peace bond, said her action was prompted by the alleged failure of Shively to properly prosecute A. Tiede who had been arrested on a charge of burning the Mallory Opera House in Paola in November, 1922.

THE DEADLY LUNCH

By The Association of Date Importers

The following article while written from a selfish viewpoint to a great extent, carries some very fine thoughts, and if the American people will stop to think about it, they will readily see that the argument used in this article is well founded, and a right about face might be the means of prolonging many useful lives of the American people:

A study of a million insurance policy holders who are mostly office workers shows that about half of all the illness among them is some form of indigestion.

Statistics compiled by the census bureau show that the leading and growing causes of death in this country are so-called "degenerative" diseases, such as bright's disease, cancer, cirrhosis of the liver, diabetes and other ailments which are traceable to faulty diet, lack of exercise and careless living generally.

Bearing these facts in mind, go to any lunchroom, preferably to a cafeteria at the crowded noon hour, and look at the kinds of food which the hurried lunchers bear away on their trays. You will then understand why the American people as a whole have stomach troubles, and why Americans die of diseases which intelligent diet would generally prevent.

The lunchrooms and cafeterias are not to blame either. They serve what their customers want. They usually serve a much greater variety of food than the customer uses. You could get a good lunch for your money. But do you if you are at all typical you do not.

It is the exceptional lunch which includes either fruit or salad, and a majority of them do not include even a cooked fresh vegetable.

What must you get out of your diet in order to keep your health? You must get enough protein, mostly in the form of bread and meat, to replace the wasted tissue. You must get enough fat and sugar to furnish fuel for your work. You must get enough lime and iron to repair your bones and keep your blood red. You must get enough cellulose or roughage to keep your bowels active. You must get those mysterious elements known as vitamins.

The typical American lunch is sadly deficient in lime and iron, in roughage, in vitamins, and in the fruit juices which counteract acidity. It is a diet which makes surely for constipation, for an acid condition of the body, for overworked liver and kidneys. Its immediate results are a heavy feeling and possibly a headache, a sallow skin and a coated tongue. Its ultimate results are those diseases traceable to organic degeneration rather than to infection, which the statistics prove, are killing the American people.

What to do about it? Eat more fruit and vegetables. Remember that one half of a healthy diet by bulk consists of fruits and vegetables. These fruits and vegetables are more necessary now than once they were, because our modern refined foods are especially deficient in minerals and vitamins. The husk and the germ of the grain, which are mild away from our white flour, contain these things.

Some dried fruits are as good as fresh ones, and in some respects better. Dates, and figs are especially valuable. Dates, dried on the tree, contain all food elements. Arabs live and do hard work on dates alone. Dates with milk constitute a perfect human diet, and incidentally, make an ideal lunch. Lime and iron, cellulose and vitamins are all present in dates. They contain sugar which is practically predigested.

Figs are almost equally good, and have a specific action on the bowels. These imported dried fruits are especially worthy of your attention because you can get them all winter, eat them without cooking and get all the food elements in one package, so to speak.

A pint of milk, a package of dates and an apple or an orange make an ideal lunch. Eat fruit for breakfast. Remember, too, that oatmeal is a whole grain, and contains minerals and roughage. Have a fresh salad with your dinner and a fruit desert. Fig and date puddings are sweets that really nourish.

Don't let your lunch knock you out.

JEWELERS SAY THE MODERN GIRL WANTS TWO RINGS

EL PASO, Texas.—The modern girl, about to become a bride, demands an engagement ring as well as the wedding ring, according to local jewelers.

As for the favorite kinds of rings—the red and green gold is rarely requested except by old-fashioned couples. White gold or platinum with the single stone suffices for the engagement ring now a days. The wedding ring, also of white gold or platinum is usually carved and profusely ornamented. Plain gold bands once regarded as "standard" have taken second place.

ITALY WILL PUT MUCH MONEY IN PLANES

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
LONDON, June 15.—Italy is the latest entrant in the race for European air supremacy. That country has now joined with England in an effort to create an air force equal in size and power to that of France.

The Italian government, according to information received in official British circles, is now engaged in a program of building that will quadruple its air force within the next six months. Completion of the program will give Italy at least 1,000 and possibly 2,000, first-line planes before the end of 1924.

At the present time Italy's strength in effective, first-line air planes is said to be not more than 300 machines. France has 1,000 planes ready for action and England about 100. England's building program calls for a force of 600 planes by the end of 1925; France plans to have 2,000 by that time, and Italy, if she follows out her program, undoubtedly will have at least 1,500 if she does not equal France in numbers.

"Italy and England are both building more planes for just one reason," said a British official in commenting upon the announcement of Italy's intention to quadruple her air fleet. "That reason is France. So long as France keeps on building fighting planes, Italy and England cannot do otherwise than strengthen their own forces."

England is Not Alarmed.

England, it was made clear in official circles, is not alarmed over Italy's expansion of her air service. It was pointed out that the largest concentration of French air forces is in Southern France, in cities and districts near the Italian border. Across the border lies Italy's richest industrial area, surrounding the great cities of Turin and Milan. In the event of war between Italy and France the heart of Italy's industrial life could be attacked by air unless Italy's air fleet was capable of repelling the invading armada.

While British officials deprecate the idea of a Franco-Italian war, they admit that, under present conditions, any measures Italy may take to prepare for possible eventualities are justified.

Italy's preparations for increasing her air force are the fruition of plans long under consideration by Premier Mussolini. The Italian Prime Minister holds the post of Air secretary in the cabinet, and is personally responsible for the Government's air policy.

Financial Barrier Removed.
Due to internal and financial conditions, Italy has been unable hitherto to do more than keep abreast of technical developments in the aviation field. It is apparent that Mussolini has now reached the conclusion that the time is opportune for embarking on a building program and a vastly increased Italian air force will be the result.

Although Italy is concentrating her attention on military aviation several schemes for the establishment of state-aided commercial services have been tentatively drawn up by the government, according to information in official British circles. One of these contemplates a service between Turin and Trieste; another between Naples and the Italian colony at Tripoli, and another would join with the French in a service between Marseilles and Genoa. None of these services seems likely to be established in the immediate future, but these, or similar schemes are certain to be launched whenever the Italian Government feels able to undertake them.

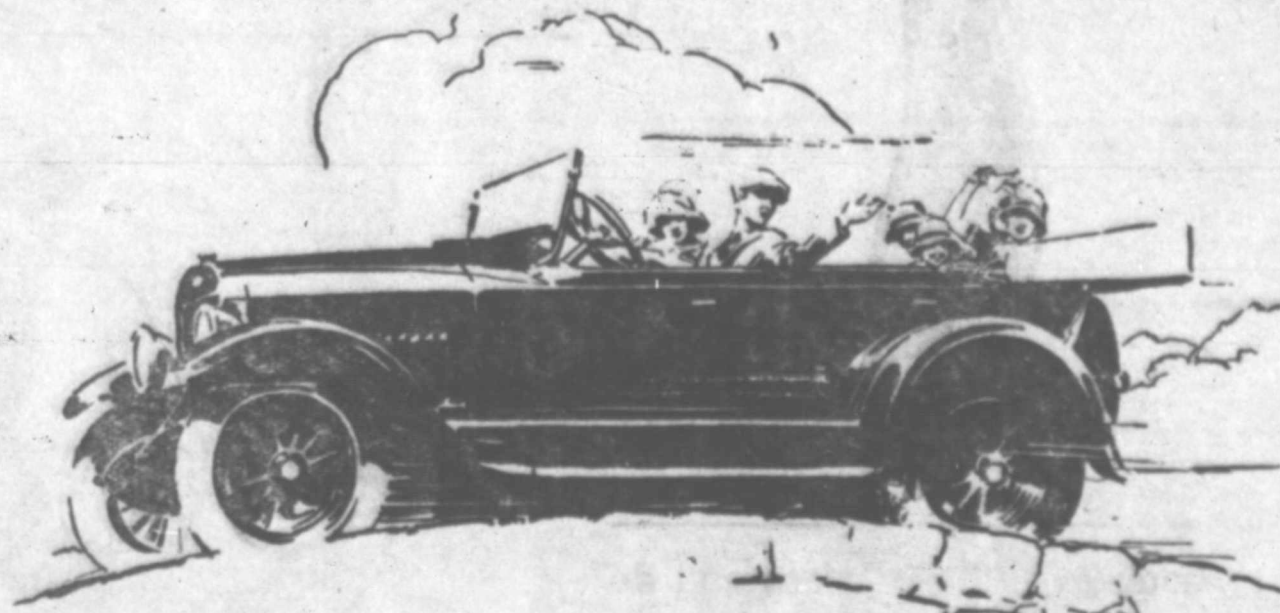

In medical education in America, the truly excellent is still exceptional; we are still near the beginning, in the opinion of Abraham Flexner, secretary of the General Education Board. Nevertheless, no nation in the world has within the past 10 or 12 years made such progress in the organization, improvement, and financing of medical education as the United States.

Early Days on The Plains

By J. J. DILLARD

Discussing the rapid development and settlement of Lubbock and joining counties with an old timer a few days ago reminded me that on two different occasions of hunting goats or antelopes near the present site of Slaton. The first hunt was in a horse drawn vehicle, and the second one was in a high-powered automobile.

On the first occasion a friend approached me and said "Whither do ye go?" in this the year of our Lord One thousand eight hundred and ninety six they replied "we go a hunting" and he answered and said unto them "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the chase", but ride slowly back on my track I pray ye, for behold, even as I was coming hither with a pump piston rod, I lost it, and now I pray you to keep a sharp look-out till we reach yonder gate, for there I had it last."

And we lamented with him and lifted up our voices and wept and said: "Behold, now how we sorrow with thee. Thy loss is extremely great."

And they durst not raise their eyes from the ground for fear of missing that which was lost, and we came and reached the gate and behold the lost was not and we reviled him and we said "see now how thou hast lied like a dog a trotting to us," and he said "yea it seemeth that I am indeed grievously mistaken," and they, who were with us were filled to extreme fullness with disgust.

And after they had eaten the unmarried man said, "Behold, now have not I a charriot and four horses and can we hitch up and get very near unto the foolish generation of goats (antelopes) and they said "verily of a truth, thy mouth speaketh wisdom," and they were full of joy and sourdough bread and smiled a great grin, and we departed in peace and the chariot and he who drove the chariot said, "I see an antelope," and they who were behind him loaded their slings and prepared to do battle and we drove unto the goats. And he who drove said "shoot" and they shot, and the bullets went everywhere but unto an antelope, and we shot again and yet again and behold they couldn't hit the side of a barn, or get an antelope and he who held the horses said: "Oh, ye of little judgement, behold now, ye cross-eyed and nervous generation, ye couldn't hit a brick wagon with a pick axe let me shoot." And they suffered it to be so, and I hit nothing.

And we lifted up our voices and groaned and said "verily, we are an undone set, for we have lost our best chance and we have not sense enough to flag a bread wagon, much less pound sand into a prairie dog hole and they refused to be comforted.

Then he, whose surname was George said, behold now Claude, canst not thou take the lines while I sit me down to rest? and he strictly charged him to go a large sand ridge. And he whose surname was Claud was as garrulous as a woman and he talked and he laughed and looked this way and that but not whither he went, and the team wandered hither and thither, and when we would have fain looked back at the track behold it was so crooked it made the grass dizzy. And George said: "Shame on thee now, Hast thou no comprehension whereunto thou goest. Behold now the hill is west and thou art steering south" and it came to pass as they wisted and turned around, hither and thither they come and passed around the point of a hill and he whose surname is James, said: "Behold now, whose chariot is just ahead of us for I see the wheels" and George rose up and his heart waxed wroth within him and said "Oh, sorry driver, See now what thou hast done! The wheels are none other than the hind wheels of our own chariot which we have met on the prairie and I fear we shall never get straight" and it was so that they wound around till we met the rear wheels. And George crept to the top of a ridge to reconnoitre and he came back and said: "Humble servant that am, I saw an antelope" and we all crept over the ridge and fired and shot and yelled and a flying bullet from the gun of Claude did smite a goat through the brain so that he fell dead on his head. And we men raised a great shout and said "Behold, what we have done! Are we not the nimrod?"

And we journeyed homeward as the sun sank and all the rest of the acts of these three mighty men of valour is written.

The above can be more appreciated by the earlier settlers for the reason that the country all looked alike with no trees or hills to guide you. The only guide sometime was a friendly windmill in the distance or occasionally a wire fence. Quite often a person would find himself traveling in a circle especially if it was cloudy and recrossing his former tracks, as the wind fences miles apart and occasionally a wind mill was his only guide.

In 1910, I recall that Tom Bullock, George Morrow my brother and myself visited the present site of the town of Slaton which at that time did not have a house nor tent on it, and just west of the present site of the depot we chased a herd of antelope through the high mesquite brush in a four cylinder automobile and with a high-powered gun killed three antelopes from the speeding auto which was making over forty miles an hour on the trip and the antelopes were running equally as fast. It seems strange to see now only fourteen years, all of this same land then, covered with grass and mesquite brush now all under cultivation, and planted in cotton.

So in connection we say: "Keep pushing, tis better than standing aside. Waiting and dreaming and watching the tide, In life's earnest battle they only prevail, Who bravely push onward and never say fail."

CAPTAIN SAYS NO ONE TO BLAME EXPLOSION

By United Press

SAN PEDRO, Calif., June 14.—Questioning of officers and men of the Battleship Mississippi brought forth nothing but the highest praise for heroism in the gun turret explosion. Captain W. D. Borther-ton, commanding officer of the ship, told the naval board inquiry, he blamed no one. "They all did their duty to the best of their ability," he said as he wept openly.

The exact cause of the tragedy is unknown, and probably never will be.

The bodies were brought ashore in plain caskets decorated with flags. A public funeral will be held Tuesday morning and then the bodies will be started on their way home.

Full honors will be accorded the dead.

Just when it looked as if crimes would slack up a bit, people started asking, "Well, is it hot enough for you?"

Ragweed, Not Goldenrod, Blame For Your Hay Fever

WASHINGTON, June 14 (United Press)—The hay fever victims are all wrong when they blame their trouble on the Goldenrod. Here is what Prof. Albert A. Hansen of Purdue University says in a statement for the American Nature Association:

"There is no little truth in the frequently heard statement that the Goldenrod is a hay fever plant that the accusation can almost be termed false."

The Nature Association's statement then goes on to tell some of the glories of the Goldenrod. There is white and gray goldenrod as well as the more familiar varieties. There is another species known as the sweet goldenrod, the crushed leaves of which give off a fragrance that suggests anise.

In making clear the Goldenrod's having nothing to do with hay fever the Nature Association's statement continues:

"Hay fever pollens must necessarily be the ones that are scattered by the wind. Goldenrod is insect pollinated and the pollen grains are rarely, if ever, wind distributed. The real enemies of hay fever victims are the ugly rag weeds."

There are some 60 species of the Goldenrod, and Professor Hansen calls it "the crowning glory of Nature's seasonal procession."

Goldenrod is peculiarly American. The white flowered species may be found in the open woods from Maine to Minnesota and southward to Tennessee and Georgia. The seaside Goldenrod frequents marshes and beaches from Maine to Florida. Of the 60 odd species, but three are natives of Europe.

BUT CHILDREN! LONDON BRIDGE ISN'T FALLING

LONDON, June 14.—London Bridge, which children for generations have been tunelessly proclaiming "is falling down" is not doing any such thing. The bridge is still standing and this year celebrated its one hundredth birthday. It has withstood a century of traffic and shows no signs of cracking under the strain.

However, this is not the bridge about which the song was written, the original wooden bridge having burned.

LOVELY GOWNS AT LOW COST CAN BE MADE AT HOME

By HEDDA HOYT
Fashion Editor of the United Press
(Written for the United Press)
NEW YORK, N. Y., June 14 (United Press).—
Mary, Mary quite contrary,
How does your Summer wardrobe go?

"Silken mulls, chiffons, tulle, and five little gingham hung in a row!"

If a late spring means a warm summer, we will see the summer girl arrayed in sheer summery frocks this year. Shops are showing numerous frocks of voile, linen, cotton crepe and gingham at present, in prediction of warm weather. Piece goods counters are lined with women purchasing cotton materials for home dressmaking.

Among the fascinating ready-made wash frocks there are none lovelier than the hand-hemstitched voiles, which, though simple, are lovely enough to be worn for almost any occasion. Powder blue is one of the new colors which is particularly lovely in voile. Yellow is likewise a good voile color and pink, of course, is always popular.

Most of the ready-made voile frocks are simple chemise types, unbelted and worn with a narrow sash at a low waistline. Skirts are usually hemstitched in wide border effect and some of the most costly models are embroidered as well as hemstitched. The upper portion of the voile frock is generally simple and with very little hemstitching. Sleeves are short, extending just over the shoulder. One can purchase such frocks in almost any shop for ten or twelve dollars.

The Home-Dressmaker

The home-dressmaker has a wide selection of voiles for her selection. There are skirt lengths of hemstitched voile, as well as the entire dress lengths of hemstitching. Shops are doing everything possible to encourage the home-dressmaker and one can buy semi-made frocks which only require the sewing of the side seams in the piece goods departments. Last week one of the largest department stores in New York displayed a counter of semi-made frocks of cotton crepe in a wide assortment of colors with skirt borders printed in contrasting color scheme in floral design, which correspond with the skirt borders. These frocks, or rather semi-frocks, were featured at $5 each, which is very little higher than the cost of the material which is sold by the yard. There were various sizes with blue markings at the sides to show the amateur where the seams should be joined together. Sewing the side seams, turning the hem and finishing the neck and sleeves complete the gown which would doubtless be sold in the ready-made department of the same shop for fifteen or twenty dollars.

CANCER STILL A MYSTERY TO MEDICAL SCIENCE

PHILADELPHIA, June 14 (United Press).—Undaunted by the failure of carefully conducted experiments, Philadelphia physicians are continuing their search for a specific cure for cancer, which, if found, will constitute one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age.

The latest experiment in cancer treatment, which includes the removing, treating and replacing in the body part of the diseased tissue itself has been a failure, according to Dr. Edward B. Krumbhaar, director of laboratories in the Philadelphia General Hospital.

While in Europe recently investigating methods of cancer research in England and on the Continent, Dr. Krumbhaar found that some British investigators believe they have obtained hopeful results in treatment of cancer by cutting out a small portion of a cancer, making a hash of it, exposing this material to X-rays and then putting it back under the skin.

into the body in a small pocket. The theory of this treatment is that the X-ray treatment of the tissue thus removed so affects the cells that within a few days they will die, but that during that process they will release into the body protective substances helpful in the body's fight against the original cancer.

Dr. Krumbhaar has recently been trying this method on a number of rats, in which cancer has been caused by transplantation of cancer cells from another rat so affected. Thus far, however, the results have been negative and little encouragement to believe this treatment efficacious has resulted.

Japanese investigators have shown that cancer can be caused by applying tar repeatedly and so setting up an irritation. This is believed by local investigators to be evidence in support of the belief that cancer is an aberration of the cells and not due to specific organism. But they realize that irritation merely give opportunity to work to cause cancer. So investigators throughout the world are still pursuing the search for some specific cancer organism, as well as attacking the problem of cancer from many other angles.

Weekly conferences are being held here by those specially interested in cancer.

Dangerous delay is likely to prevail between the time a man or woman first notices symptoms of cancer and the time treatment is begun, one authority here points out. Cancer should be treated within 48 hours of the time it is first observed, he states. Promptness usually means the difference between life and death. In 1923, 2,250 persons died of cancer in Philadelphia. In the United States one in twenty deaths of those more than 40 years old is from cancer.

The disease is growing more frequent among civilized mankind, despite the efforts of the medical profession to arouse the public to the importance of early treatment by surgery, X-ray or radium.

FACINATED WITH LAUNDRY WORK WOMAN HOLDS HER JOB

EL PASO.—Francisca Arriaga has been "laundry queen" at the El Paso Laundry for 23 years. "There is a fascination about the work that keeps me here," she explains.

partment of the same shop for fifteen or twenty dollars.

A Gown for $3.00

Printed silk mulls are also lovely for summery wear, as they look silky and do not crush easily and do for semi-dressy occasions. This material can be purchased in almost any color and design for around 75 cents a yard, making the entire frock cost $3.00, if made at home.

Summer wash silk is another good fabric for warm months. Wash gingham are particularly good looking and were worn last winter at the resort by some of the smartly gowned women. Nothing looks cooler or more crisp than gingham, although the cotton gingham is liable to be far from cool. Though silk wash gingham is somewhat higher in price than cotton gingham of the better variety, it pays to buy it as a silk gingham frock can be worn for occasions where the cotton frock would be deemed out of place. Cotton gingham is distinctly a morning material.

For summer evening wear, chiffons and tulle will undoubtedly be the materials most popular. Young women are already wearing them at the dancing places. The preference for all white is strong. The white gown which is typical of the mode is made of white chiffon in straight chemise line with the below-the-knee flounce, the flounce being descended in a narrow band of jeweled beads or studded throughout with tiny pearls or rhinestones. The all-over beaded frock of white is also with us in spite of its previous popularity. These heavily beaded models still adhere to the low, elastic waistband.

that is, the coats extend within four or five inches from the bottom of the frock. Even evening wraps in Paris seldom extend the full length of the frock this season.

Fashion Changes

Vying with the vivid toned evening frocks which have previously been described in fashion articles, comes the chiffon frock of pale tan or flesh shade. Several of the musical comedy shows on Broadway are featuring these flesh-toned frocks with remarkable success. Lady Diana Manners started the vogue by wearing this lovely pinkish-tan shade in "The Miracle" and it was extremely picturesque with her blond coloring. The leading specialty dancer in "Lollipop" dances in tan tulle which verges on a smoke shade. For the blond and light brown-haired person this color will be found extremely flattering.

The batteau neckline which is popular for evening wear is being cut much lower in back than in front. Sometimes the chiffon frock is cut extremely high in front and dips half way to the normal waistline in the rear.

Sweaters of Tuxedo and slip-on variety are being worn only by young girls in their teens this season, the older women preferring sports attire of more fastidious lines and worn with the hip-length cotton blouse, are popular with the matrons. Gingham ties in plaid or checked designs are worn with the mannish turn-down collars which accompany the cotton sports blouse. Scarfs of homespun are worn beneath three-quarter length topcoats in muffler effect.

The Middy blouse has probably passed beyond recall, but all of the new slip-on blouses reflect the once popular midday style.

Simpler footwear comes into vogue as summer advances. Plain pumps and slippers with buckle trims are replacing the many-strapped affairs of previous seasons. White cotton chamisettes gloves with eyelet embroidery and colored summery frock in preference to stitchey will be worn with the white silk glove. These have petal cuffs, ruffled cuffs and plain gauntlet cuffs and are conspicuous by their embroidery or trim.

MODEL HOME FOR OLD FOLKS IS PLANNED

By United Press

NEW YORK, N. Y.—An enduring monument to the late Andrew Freedman former owner of the Giants has been dedicated in upper New York city. It is known as the Andrew Freedman home and is for the care of aged persons of refinement who have lost their money. Husbands and wives may live together. Hitherto aged couple, if penniless, faced separation as there have been no institutions to which they would be admitted.

Freedman always felt that the fate of cultured persons who had lost their money was the saddest thing in life. For many years before he died, in December 1915, he had planned to leave his fortune of $5,000,000 to alleviate their lot. Under the terms of the will one half was set aside for the home. The remainder is now held in trust for his sister, Mrs. Isabella Freedman. Upon her death it will revert to the Freedman home.

The building contains a large living room, library, billiard room and dining room on each floor. The bedrooms, each of which has a large private bath, are larger than most high-grade hotels.

The home is non-sectarian and persons between the ages of 60 and 80 will be admitted without regard to race or religion. Husbands and wives are to be kept together for the remainder of their lives.

FASHIONS ARE CHANGEABLE AS WINDS

By HEDDA HOYT

(Fashion Editor of the United Press)
(Written for the United Press)
NEW YORK, N. Y., June 14.—
"It's an ill wind that blows no one good!"

At least this is so understood. But when Fashion Winds blow Changing short skirts to low There are words we would say if we could!

But consider the poor fashion writer When skirts grow a little bit tighter

She hops to her keys Like a monk on trapeze Changing styles pay her fees The poor blighter!

The straight, beltless sheath dress which blew in early this year has blown out again, for fashions are as changeable as the winds. The newest gowns that are shown in the smart shops all show some sort of fullness below the knees and many of them show some semblance of a low waistline. The tubelike, sheath gown prove to be unbecoming to mold figures. Instead of concealing curves, it tended to reveal them. In other words, women have proven to themselves that they need waistlines, which bring us to the question of "what is a waistline?"

One would naturally infer that a waist-line is the equator line between the underarms and the hips, but alas, this is not the case! A waist-line may be placed at the hips, at the bending point of the body, at the underarms or at the knees. It is Dame Fashion who settles the location of the waist line, not the anatomist.

Return To Waist Line

We began this season with no waist-line whatsoever, with unbroken straight lines from neck to hem and having found this sausage-like silhouette unsatisfactory, we return to the waist-line that is placed at the hip. The new waist-line may be just a seam which suggests the joining point of blouse and skirt, a huge flat bow placed low on one hip, or a narrow string belt.

Combined with a low waist-line we have fullness introduced into the skirt which takes us away from the strictly tube silhouette. Skirt fullness is achieved by means of circular side panels, posed over a slender foundation, a full tunic front effect, inverted pleats which are left open from the knees to hem and other decorative means.

The Parisian silhouette of the moment is tight-fitting lines to a point below the knees, with a flaring hem-line. Following this mode, three-quarter length coats are introduced, replacing full-length ones. These are worn over frocks which have hem-fullness, the fullness jutting out beneath the three-quarter length coat. Some of the more dressy frocks and three-piece suits have coats of five-eighths lengths,

SHORTAGE STATE HIGHWAY FUNDS GREAT WORRY TO OFFICIALS

BY GIBB GILCHRIST
State Highway Engineer

Newspapers and county officials have asked the question recently, why the Highway Commission does not have funds to aid every county of the State in the construction of their roads. Some of the county officials have intimated that there is something wrong, because the Highway Commission has issued a statement to the effect that no more aid will be allotted until additional funds, either State or Federal, are in sight. But they say to the Highway Commission: "You should have funds. The Legislature has increased the license fee and imposed a gasoline tax. You also receive several millions a year from the Federal Government. Why can't we get aid when we ask for it?"

We will all admit that it is a sound business policy to refrain from promising money to a county when the money is not in sight. In other words the Highway Commission has a definite sum of money to use in aiding counties to build State Highways within their respective borders. When this definite sum has been allotted and there are no additional funds in sight then certainly the Highway Commission, in fairness to the counties which have already received allotments or aid, should not make additional allotments until they are sure that the funds will be forthcoming when these allotments come due. If this definite sum is over-allotted, then some counties will not receive the full amount which they have been promised.

I suppose the newspapers and county officials that have asked "why are no funds available" desire to know where the funds have gone and to whom these funds have been paid.

All right, let's talk cold facts and figures; but first, in order to thoroughly understand I will define a few of the common terms used.

State Aid is the monies derived from the motor vehicles registration fees, and the gasoline tax. This fund can be used to aid counties in the construction of any State Highway.

Federal Aid is an appropriation made by Congress from Federal Treasury to be used in assisting the States in the construction of a system of cardinal highways. This aid is apportioned to the State, one-third according to population, one-third according to area and one-third according to total road mileage, and can be used on any State Highway designated by the State Highway Commission, and approved by the Bureau of Public Roads as eligible for Federal Aid.

An allotment of aid is a promise by the Commission to pay a certain percentage or a certain amount of State or Federal Aid, toward the cost of constructing a definite section of road of a suitable type. In making these allotments it is necessary for the county to take the initiative by voting bonds and making application for aid.

Texas has been allotted, including the 1925 appropriation, $31,724,212.24 Federal Aid. Since the Highway Department has been in existence there has been collected in license fees and gasoline tax, including the amount collected to date for 1924, an estimated amount for the balance of 1924, $19,062,879.14, making a total of State and Federal Aid of $51,980,539.71. Bear in mind that this figure includes the license fees and gasoline tax for 1924 and the federal appropriation for 1925.

There has been paid to the counties to date $20,471,897.44 Federal Aid, $11,847,111.81 State Aid, total of $32,319,009.25 State and Federal Aid actually paid to the counties. In addition there has been paid $1,193,448.38 for maintenance of State Highways since January 1st making a total of $33,512,447.63 paid out as aid and for maintenance. There is the Federal Treasury a balance of $11,252,314.80 to our credit, a balance of $4,658,339.33 in the State Treasury to date, and an estimated amount of $2,557,429.00 to be collected from 1924 registration fees, making a total balance of $18,468,083.13 State and Federal Aid.

Against this total there are allotments to counties totaling $17,927,657.15 leaving a balance of $546,424.98 which has not been paid out and is not covered by allotments. However there was set aside at the beginning of the year $3,900,000.00 for the maintenance of State Highways for 1924, adding the $1,193,448.00 which has already been paid for maintenance and the $546,424.98 not covered by allotments we get $1,733,873.00. Therefore, it will be seen that after the maintenance budget has been taken from the total funds available that the Highway Commission has already over-allotted approximately $1,000,000.00. This over-allotment can be cared for out of 1924 registration fees as many of the counties will not demand payment of their allotment until next year. It is necessary to make allotments in advance so that counties can prepare plans and estimates and in order that there will be no delay. However, the Commission feels that it is unwise to make any further allotments until pending litigation involving the Highway Act has been settled or until additional funds from other sources are in sight.

In order to give the citizens of this state some ideas as to the demands that the being made upon the State Highway Commission by the counties of Texas, we give the following list of counties which have voted bond issues for the purpose of building State Highways: Archer, Austin, Baylor, Bowie, Brazoria, Brooks, Callahans, Cameron, Clay, Dewitt, Erath, Fayette, Ft. Bend, Freestone, Galveston, Gonzales, Grimes, Harris, Houston, Milam, Shackelford, Taylor, Travis, Jim Wells, Jones, Karnes, Madison, Milam, Shackelford, Taylor, Travis, Walker, Waller, Wharton, Wichita, Wilbarger, Williamson. These bond issues total $15,310,000.00 and are being held up until State or Federal Aid becomes available, and applications from these counties for the sum of $14,975,950.00 is now pending.

These bonds were voted for the purpose of constructing links in important State Highways and the State Highway Commission is anxious to see these bonds completed. The Commission realizes the importance of the Highways in all these counties that have voted bonds and would like very much to assist them with State or Federal aid, but without funds the Commission feels that it would be poor business to over-allot the funds in sight to any greater extent than has already beendone.

The question will probably be asked, why the funds were not reserved for the larger counties that had not received their maximum. The reason is this, that the commission desired to complete the system of State Highways as rapidly as possible and as there were many important links in the system which counties had voted bonds to build, the Commission thought it best to allot aid to these sections in order that construction would be started as soon as possible. A further reason is that the Commission, though required to build these roads through county commissioners courts, have tried to disregard county lines, and look upon the State system of Highways from a statewide standpoint, taking into consideration their relative importance to the State as a whole.

This is our explanation of, why there are no funds available, and if not satisfactory to those who asked this question, we would like to ask "what would you have done, had you been the Highway Commission?"

MANY WATCHING DAVIES LEGAL BATTLE

By United News.

LIBERTY, Mo., June 13.—The eyes of international society are turned on a tiny court room here where a legal battle is under way over the execution of the will of Mrs. Julia Woods Davies, a dashing heiress who left her fortune to Captain Harry Lello Zeitun, her Arabian confidant. A battery of legal talent is representing Zeitun who is now reported to be in London. After several days of conference between his counsel and attorneys for Mrs. Davies fourth husband, George and her two daughters who are contesting the will on the grounds that the Arabian had cast a hypnotic spell over the heiress, it was announced Friday that all efforts to settle the case out of court had failed.

Curious society of America and Europe with considerable interest, details of the strange friendship which existed between Mrs. Davies and Captain Zeitun who had acted as guide for the heiress and her husband in Rome.

At her death a will was found in which her confidant-secretary was named sole beneficiary of the half million dollar estate.

James Simrall, attorney for the contestants in his opening plea to the jury of 12 farmers charged Zeitun plotted to kill Davies and threatened the life of Mrs. Davies should she cease to love him.

"Zeitun told Mrs. Davies he would send her a yellow chrysanthemum as a sign of her approaching death, should he believe her love for him had cooled," Simrall declared. "Mrs. Davies, the evidence will show, did get such a death sign from the captain which resulted in her being put in his power so that she signed any papers he desired."

The flower was received after the heiress had returned to America, it was shown.

Mrs. Davies was the daughter of Dr. William S. Woods, well known Missourian and southwest capitalist.

girls were sitting on, and as the car moved away, it dragged the girls with it inflicting painful injuries to both of them.

DAVIS MOUNTAINS THE ALPS OF TEXAS

(By Phoebe K. Warner, Sec'y State Park Board.)

One of the weakest points in the education of all of the people of Texas is our utter lack of knowledge about our own State.

The mission of the State Park Board is to plan a way for all the people of Texas to "See Texas First" then they will have some thing to tell about home when they go away from home. There is not a State in all of Uncle Sam's big, fine family that has a greater variety of real scenic beauty than Texas. Mountains, hills, plains, valleys, rivers, sea coast, canyons, forests, lakes, anything you want you can find in Texas, if you only know where to look for it.

But one of the last things folks expect to find in big, broad Texas is mountains. Wonder how many people really appreciate the fact there is a great range of mountains in Texas? How many have ever seen them? How many actually know where they are? The truth is Texas is rich in mountainous scenery. The Alps of Texas are located in the southwestern part of the state. If they had been named the Alps more of us might have learned of their beauty but they happened to be called the Davis Mountains. But their grandeur is none the less. There they have stood over in Jeff Davis, Brewster, Pecos and Presidio Counties ever since the world was created waiting for somebody to use them and enjoy them and make of them one of the greatest educational and recreational assets in the whole State.

Wonder what Colorado would have done with the Davis Mountains if they had been up there and were all the mountains Colorado had? Wonder what Illinois would do with the Davis Mountains if they were stretched across her prairies? Wonder what California would have done if she had owned the Davis Mountains instead of her own? Do you suppose these States would have allowed their own wonderland of beauty to stand silent and idle except for the cows and coyotes and prairie dogs and spend all their time and money for pleasure and rest and sight-seeing in some other State? Do you think they would? Not on your "radiograph"! California and Colorado have grown rich through the medium of their scenery. They have used their mountains to entice folks to their country and after they got them there they had other things to show them. As for Illinois, she has no such scenery as the Davis Mountains within a thousand miles of her borders. But if Illinois had had such a wealth of beauty it would have been known around the world today. Yes, and it would have been used for a great Chautauqua grounds. It would have been the haven of rest and recreation for all Chicago. But the Davis Mountains are not in Illinois. THEY ARE IN TEXAS. They belong to Texas. No one but Texas will ever own them. Thank the Lord, beauty such as that can not be bought and sold or gloved up or seeded down. If the Davis Mountains could have been moved some other State would have come to Texas and bought them and transplanted them elsewhere. But that was not God's plan. He made the Davis Mountains and gave them to Texas NOW and FOREVER. And it is up to the people of Texas to wake up and lift up their heads to the hills and the possibilities of the Davis Mountains as the most ideal place in this nation for a great educational center. Halfway from coast to coast. Already on the transcontinental railway and when the Orient becomes a part of the great Rock Island system the Davis Mountains will become one of the greatest attractions between the Great Lakes and the Pacific Ocean.

Why is Texas 34th in education? It is not all because she is the greatest cotton State in the world. It is not alone because of her short terms of school and her over-worked children. One of the chief reasons Texas is 34th in education is because she has failed to recognize and utilize her greatest educational asset, that Nature gave to her and her alone. Texas has failed to use her own educational talent. Because she had only one great range of mountains she has done nothing with them. Do you remember what the Bible says about the man with ONE talent. Texas is that fellow. If there is a State in this Union that ought to make use of her natural educational environments it is Texas. The Alps of Texas should be and could and we believe will be made on of the greatest attractions in our nation.

U. S. Too Busy To Grow Old Happily, Says Medical Man

By United Press

CHICAGO, June 13.—How to grow old successfully was told today by Dr. H. H. Drysdale, Cleveland, to the convention of the American Medical Association here.

The "frenzied finance" habit is responsible for a lot of unsuccessful age, he declared.

"It won't allow a patient to forget his responsibilities, and he must do that if he's to prosper in health," he explained.

"The national sin of overeating is another barrier to happy old ages. It's one of the heaviest burdens an elderly man can have."

But overeating may decrease because of prohibition, he added, declaring that alcohol, taken before meals, had been an important cause of gluttony.

"The advent of prohibition, with the disappearance of chronic alcohol cases, will do much to lower the death rate," he declared, and he warned the physicians:

"Make no compromise with such patients or you will fall in your mission. Your duty is to appeal to such patients' reason for a sane and rational mode of life."

Africa is in the midst of an "epidemic of injuries," Dr. J. Howard Beard of the University of Illinois, Urbana, told the convention.

Railroad crossing tragedies, auto accidents, exhaust gas poison caused by motor cars, industrial accidents and suicides caused by the strain of modern city life are taking the place of the old time menaces to life," he said.

"When Gorgas drained yellow swamps, when Pasteur discovered vaccines, when Lister developed aseptic, surgery, and hundreds of other doctors developed cures, the old menaces had been solved.

"But now the suicide rate is about that of the whooping cough death rate. About as many people were killed in crossing accidents last year as died of scarlet fever in 1920. Fatalities resulting from auto accidents in 1923 are about the same as those from diphtheria and scarlet fever combined. Accidental deaths in industries are about equal to the total of deaths from measles, whooping cough and diphtheria. There are 700,000 persons injured yearly in their occupations."

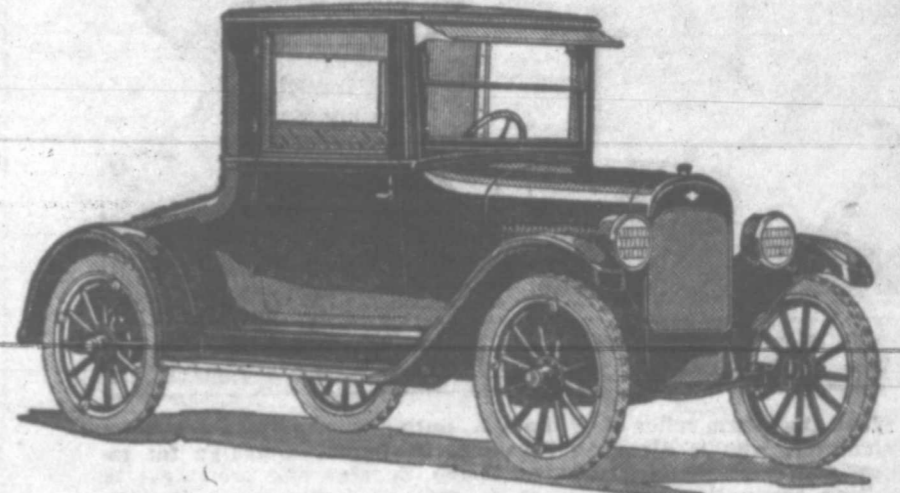

Twelve athletic fields are now available for 75,000 school girls of New York City who participate in some form of athletics, according to a report made at the eighteenth annual meeting of the girls' branch, Public School Athletic League. As many as 1,500 girls report each week for athletic instruction, whereas a few years ago only a handful could be rallied for the work.

HEAVY BUSINESS IS ENJOYED BY THE TELEPHONE COMPANY HERE AND AT SLATON AND CAUSES IMPROVEMENTS

H. D. Phillips, manager of the local station of the Southwestern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company, stated Saturday that three hundred additional stations had been added to the company's physical property in Lubbock during the past three months, and that work is held up at this time only temporarily as the supply of cable was exhausted and other shipments are expected at any time.

On or about the 20th of this month work will be started on installing switchboards. The toll board will be installed to meet the increased business during the fall months that is expected as a result of the contemplated heavy cotton business, while the local toll ton business, while the local switchboards are to meet a present and very urgent demand.

The Southwestern Bell Company has made rapid strides in keeping in pace with the other material developments of Lubbock, and its officials have rendered a valuable and appreciated service to the people of this city and section.

Mr. Phillips made a trip to Slaton Friday where he looked after some additional improvements on the company's property there. He stated that shipments of cable that are expected to arrive there in the near future will be used in an expansion program that will put that station in a position to better serve the many patrons. Mr. Phillips stated that the rapid growth that had been made in Slaton is reflected in the increased business enjoyed by the company. "Slaton is growing by leaps and bounds, and new business houses that are now under construction mean much to every institution there, and will place additional responsibility upon our company that we hope to meet squarely," Mr. Phillips said in commenting the good work that is being done by the progressive citizens of that city.

SOCIETY GIRL TAKES HER JOB AT $20 PER WEEK

International News Service. NEW YORK, June 14.—Elizabeth Merchant, a society girl, has set the social world agape by working as a saleswoman for twenty dollars a week. Mien Merchant said recently that she liked the work, and the hardest job she knew of was doing nothing.

This girl, who sang a paean for work, and who works when she doesn't have to, was duly educated and "finished" at an exclusive school. Her job until recently was marshaling her many admirers going to teas and ordering pretty dresses. She said that the duties of a debutante were infinitely more trying than those of selling china and Venetian candlesticks. "Earning a living should be just

EXAMINATION OF SLAYERS OPENED

By United News. CHICAGO, June 13.—A foreshadowing of the mighty medico-legal battle that will be waged in an effort to save the slayers of 13-year old Robert Franks from the gallows was made late Friday by an eminent alienist when he examined Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb to find—if there could be found—the disordered shreds in their strangely patterned intellects.

Dr. Mark M. Bowman chief medical officer of the Boston hospital, and a gland specialist, arrived Friday and was taken immediately to the county jail. Every arrangement for his visit had been made. Ironically enough jail authorities had assigned the death cell to Dr. Bowman as the most suitable room in which to set up an impromptu laboratory. With the aid of his assistants, the alienist soon gave the grim room the external aspect of a miniature laboratory.

Loeb, who had been playing baseball in the jail yard, was summoned for his first examination. Escorted by two deputies, the pampered exquisite was led down the corridors and up the steps to the laboratory. In his trim light colored suit, Loeb looked like a college fraternity Neopposite about to be assigned to probation duties. He walked with a debonaire air, despite a bad knee injured while suid to first base.

Whatever the results of the long examination behind the locked doors of the death cell, will not be known until the trial. A volume of questions asked the alienist and his assistants, as well as several attorneys for the defense, failed to elicit any comment after the examination.

It was learned that each heart beat, the formation of this and that bone, the intonation of the conversation of the prisoner-patient, the aroused temper—everything was carefully charted. Dr. Bowman peered into the brain of Loeb hoping to find the complex which might have caused him to commit murder—some ductless gland, the thyroid or parathyroid, inflamed or enlarged to a point that would lead the youth from the normal channels of morality.

Later in the afternoon sleek and suave Nathan Leopold, Jr., was removed from his cell study and subjected to a preliminary examination. Whatever reaction he experienced from the examination was not revealed.

Leopold has concealed himself behind a sinister little grin which never leaves him.

Clarence S. Darrow attorney for Leopold, and Loeb was present at the preliminary examinations. He refused to discuss the plan of the defense, or admit that the insanity plea would be used, but he did say that Dr. Bowman was the vanguard of a corps of alienists who will examine his clients.

A letter was received at the jail Friday bearing the signature of one Malcolm McNeil, and describing himself as one of 6,000 students who would come to Chicago and lynch defense attorneys unless they gave up representing Leopold and Loeb.

BATTLE SCARRED TROOPS CAMP AT JUAREZ

JUAREZ, June 14.—With tents pitched on the top of stock cars, hammocks swung underneath only a few feet from the rails, 450 battle scarred troops of the 42nd Mexican cavalry who have taken part in more than a dozen bloody battles in the recent Mexican revolution near Vera Cruz arrived here Friday en route to Nueva Casas Grandes, Chihuahua. The women camp followers were preparing a late breakfast and as the train stopped or started, pots

WILL DISCUSS INTERNATIONAL UNDERSTANDING THROUGH EDUCATION

Plans and accomplishments of various agencies now working for better international understanding through education will be discussed at the seventh annual meeting of the American Council on Education, which will be held in the assembly hall of the Cosmos Club, Washington, D. C., May 2-3. Dr. John J. THE COOLING SYSTEM IS IMPROVED AT THE LINDSEY

A typhoon cooling system, by which the air that is pulled into the building will be rushed over large blocks of ice, has just been installed at the Lindsey Theatre, and will be in use for the show this evening.

The system is very effective, and cools the atmosphere in the building by ten degrees. The fan cooling system has been very effective, but due to the extremely warm weather the past several days, the air that was rushed through the building by the effective system of fans has added very little to the comfort of the patrons and Clifford Lindsey, the manager, immediately took steps to effect a remedy.

The Lindsey theatre management is to be commended upon the interest that is shown the patrons, both from a standpoint of offering them good pictures and in making the theatre a pleasant place for a period of wholesome recreation.

SEEK SUICIDE AS ONLY RELIEF IN VIENNA

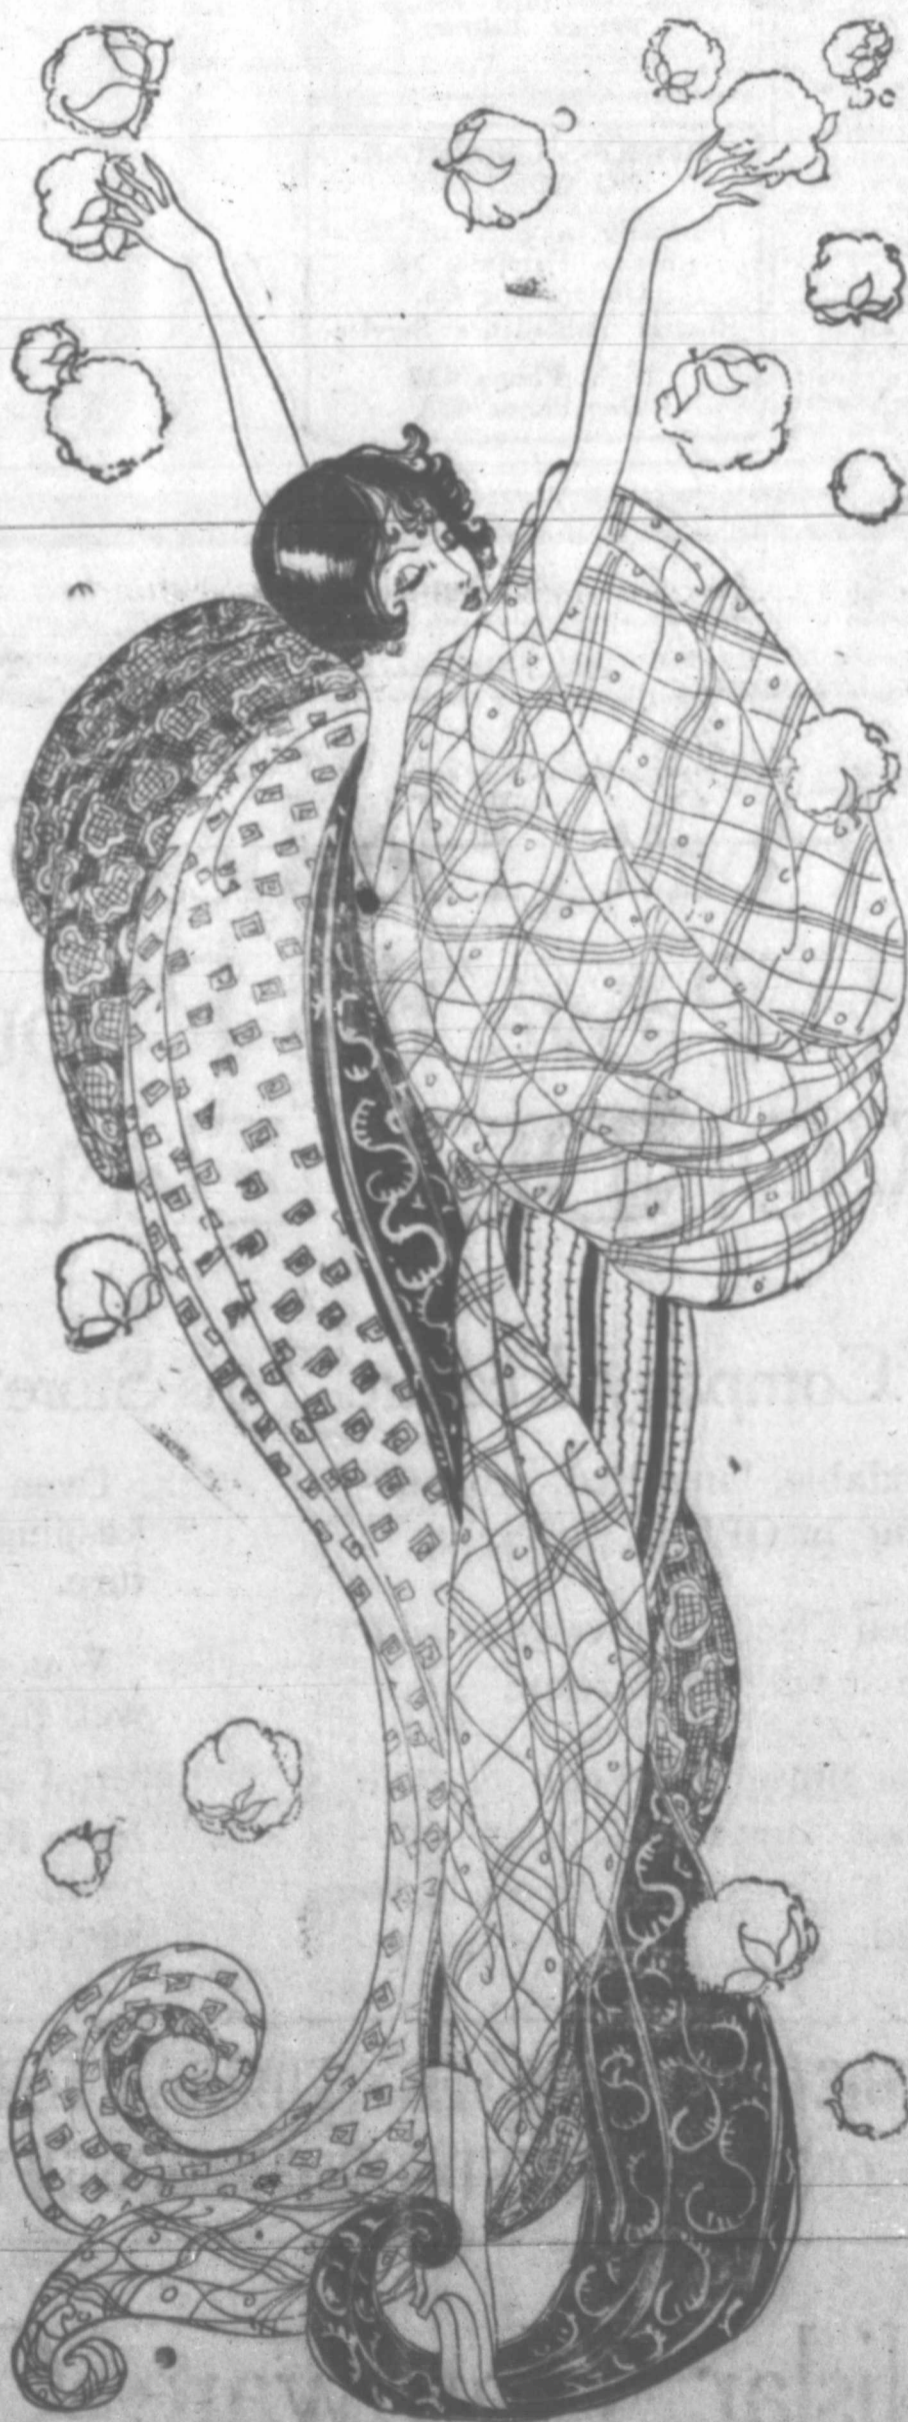

By United Press
VIENNA.—A new wrinkle in suicides was demonstrated recently in Vienna. Tired of trying to eke out a hand-to-mouth existence in a city where the cost of living is already high and becoming higher, a young woman and her sweetheart rode together on their bicycles over a steep bank into the Danube river. The tragedy was witnessed by some fishermen who were at work nearby; but rescue was impossible as the suicides were already far down the stream before the fishermen could reach the spot. It is more or less of a red-letter day on the calendar when a suicide is not recorded in the local press. Hope of better days individually and as a nation seems to have left the majority of Austria's population. One by one therefore they resort to poison, the Danube, gas, pistols, and ropes for release from their troubles.

THE ALPS OF TEXAS

One of the weakest points in the education of all the people of Texas is our utter lack of knowledge about our own state. Since her earliest history, Texas has been looked upon by both her own citizens and the people of other states as one great, big wild cowboy land. There is an individuality in the make-up of our state that never will be obliterated. And every one of us should be proud of it.

But how many of us ever think first of Texas as a scenic state? How many of us think of Texas as a really and truly cultured and classic state? Most of us have told ourselves so often that we are 34th or 37th or 39th in education that a lot of us have the idea there is no use trying to make anything of Texas but a great big cotton patch and cattle pasture.

It is very true that cotton and cattle have done more to develop Texas than any other products. But that is no proof that we can not make Texas one of the most attractive states in all this union if the Texas people will only unite in their efforts to build into the life of the Texas people the things the Creator of all the world made for that purpose.

There is an idea afloat in the land that all the beauty in our nation is somewhere outside of Texas. And there is no one so much to blame for this idea as the people of Texas themselves. Ever since the State was created it has been the habit of our people to go elsewhere to find their recreation and pleasure and classic entertainment.

When we want to see the mountains we hie away to California or Colorado and come back when our money is all spent to sing the praises and advertise the beauty of some other state to our children and neighbors. When we want to go to the seashore we strike out for the Atlantic or the Pacific Oceans, neither of which happen to touch Texas. When we want to spend the winter in some semi-tropical land where the birds sing and the flowers bloom and the oranges ripen and blossom through the winter days, we buy a ticket to Southern Florida or California.

And all the time the same kind of places we are seeking are going to waste within our big Texas. But how many of us know where they are? The mission of the State Parks Board is to plan a way for all the people of Texas to "See Texas

First" then they will have something to tell about home when they go away from home. There is not a state in all of Uncle Sam's big, fine family that has a greater variety of real scenic beauty than Texas. Mountains, hills, plains, valleys, rivers, sea coast, canyons, forests, lakes, anything you want, you can find in Texas if you only know where to look for it.

But one of the last things folks expect to find in big, broad Texas is mountains. Wonder how many people really appreciate the fact there is a great range of mountains in Texas? How many have ever seen them? How many actually know where they are? The truth is Texas is rich in mountainous scenery. The Alps of Texas are located in the southwestern part of the State. If they had been named the Alps more of us might have learned of their beauty but they happened to be called the Davis Mountains. But their grandeur is none the less. There they have stood over in Jeff Davis, Brewster, Pecos and Presidio counties ever since the world was created waiting for somebody to use them and enjoy them and make of them one of the greatest education and recreational assets in the whole state.

Wonder what Colorado would have done with the Davis Mountains if they had been up there and were all the mountains Colorado had? Wonder what Illinois would do with the Davis Mountains if they were stretched across her prairies? Wonder what California would have done if she had owned the Davis Mountains instead of her own? Do you suppose these states would have allowed their own wonderland of beauty to stand silent and idle except for the cows and coyotes and prairie dogs and spend all their time and money for pleasure and rest and sight-seeing in some other state? Do you think they would? Not on your "radfophotograph!" California and Colorado have grown rich thru the medium of their scenery. They have used their mountains to entice folks to their country and after they got them there they had other things to show them. As for Illinois, she has no such scenery as the Davis Mountains within a thousand miles of her borders. But if Illinois had had such a wealth of beauty it would have been known around the world today. Yes, and it would have been used for a great them. Do you remember what the Bible says about the man with One talent, Texas is that fellow. If there is a state in this Union that ought to make use of her national educational environments it is Texas. The Alps of Texas should be and could be and we believe will be made one of the greatest attractions in our nation.

CAMPAIGN TO BE HOTTEST IN HISTORY

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
(U. N. Staff Correspondent.)
CLEVELAND, June 14.—The coming campaign promises to be one of the hottest fights ever experienced in the history of the country, and apparently is doomed to be a triangular affair, with Coolidge and Dawes carrying the Republican banner as conservatives, counteracted by LaFollette Progressive, and the Democrats supporting the other corners of the triangle. No little resentment flared up in the republican convention just closed, brought on by the argument over the nominee for vice-president. But it is all over now and the under-current of irritation, resentment even hostility which was evident against Butler during the closing hours of the convention seems to have dissipated. All leaders now realize that they must work together if they expect to get anywhere. This feeling was much in evidence at the meeting of the republican national committee Friday when Butler was unanimously chosen chairman of the committee for the coming four years. His entire organization slate went through with the exception of Arthur Mellon, of Pittsburgh, a relative of Secretary Mellon, who was to have been treasurer of the committee succeeding Fred W. Upham, of Chicago, instead Wm. V. Hodges, of Denver was elected. Butler will go to Washington early next week to consult with Coolidge regarding campaign plans. Coolidge managers made it plain Friday that the president and not Dawes will set the pace in the campaign. The president will adopt the Harding front porch campaign method to the white house receiving delegates on the south portico and addressing them on set occasions, it is indicated. He may accept a few out of town engagements but there will be no barnstorming. Some of the Coolidge group who were opposing Dawes seemed worried lest the doughty general become an unruly candidate and crowd the president from the center of the picture during the campaign. Dawes is a spectacular character of the Roosevelt sort who makes striking newspaper copy. There is something picturesque and tangible about him that is easy for seize upon. He is always doing the unexpected. It will require careful and tactful state managing to keep Dawes from overshadowing the president in the spectacular features of the campaign. And to complicate matters, Dawes has no patience with the gumshoe school of politics and is apt to explode at the most unexpected time. His unheard of audaciousness in going before a congressional committee and giving in a good old fashioned cussing has never been forgotten. Politicians of the old school tremble lest Dawes will repeat this performance in attacking some of the recent acts of congress. But whatever basis there may be for these fears on the part of the Coolidge managers, it should be said in favor of Dawes that no man ever had a more delicate situation to handle than he had in directing the reparations conference. He went through that difficult task with a dignified silence and bearing that even Coolidge could hardly improve on. His conduct at the Paris conference should dispel the impression that he is a reckless talker. He seems quite able to place his shot and does not appear to have hit an innocent bystander yet. The democratic reaction to the work of the republican convention was typically expressed Friday by Ed Moore, Ohio democrat politician, who conducted the Cox campaign four years ago. "The ticket fits into the reactionary program of the republicans," Moore said. He expressed a desire to shape the democratic platform on government model when he commented favorably upon the LaFollette program which was voted down by the republican convention. "If the democratic party does not forget its principles and traditions of recent years, the LaFollette principles with two exceptions will be enshrined at the New York convention," Moore continued. He dissented from the declaration for government ownership of railroads and congressional authority to override judicial vetoes. "Otherwise the platform is moderate and couched in plain, outspoken language, that any one may head," he said.

CLOVIS MAN WAS SHOT DEAD YESTERDAY

CLOVIS, N. M., June 14.—Armed posses left this city in all directions at 3 o'clock this afternoon in search of R. S. Stubblefield, who is wanted in connection with the shooting at 1 o'clock today of H. S. Douthit at the latter's home. Douthit was shot three times and died instantly. The shooting took place at Douthit's home in northeast Clovis, where the two men were heard by a boy to be quarreling. Five shots were fired. Stubblefield is said to have been identified by the boy as the man who had been talking to Douthit prior to the killing. A woman giving her name as May Rivers was brought to the county jail here this afternoon from Stubblefield's place one mile west of this city. She said Stubblefield walked into the house shortly before 1 o'clock and threw a pistol in her lap, and walked out. Stubblefield was seen by neighbors as he walked toward the Santa Fe tracks southwest of here. Scores of armed men scattered in that direction in search of him. At midnight tonight none of the possesmen had returned. It is presumed Stubblefield is in hiding and will try to make his getaway under cover of darkness. Additional posses, it is understood will be sent out tonight to watch all avenues of escape. There were two eye witnesses to the shooting, Deputy Sheriff C. E. Hunter told the News this morning. Douthit, with his wife and mother lived one mile east of Clovis. Stubblefield is a widower with four small children, it is said and resides one mile west of Clovis. The shooting occurred at the Douthit home. The pistol used was a 41-caliber Colts, the officer said.

NEGRO IS FOUND POSSESSING LIQUOR

Deputy Sheriff U. L. George and Constable John L. McCulloch made a raid on a servants house occupied by negroes Saturday morning at ten o'clock, and arrested Will Beavers, negro, on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquors.

Thirty four gallons of choc were captured by the officers, a part of which is being held for evidence in his trial.

This is one of the most successful raids made by the officers recently, and the arrest of Beavers is the source of some satisfaction to the officers who have kept a close watch on him for some time.

AMERICA'S ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED ON MOVE

By United News.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., America's army of unemployed is on the move again.

The great harvest fields of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas as their mecca, hundreds of these begrimed and cinder-caked sons of toil are arriving here on every freight and passenger train.

A few hours rest, a smack of food and they are off again on their journey to golden fields and blistering sun.

Rains and cool weather have retarded the harvest in Kansas, and Oklahoma, according to Geo. E. Tucker, field director of farm labor with the United States department of labor here announced Wednesday.

In ten days, however, he predicts the harvest in Kansas will be in full swing and then 40,000 men will be needed to put away the second largest wheat crop in the history of the state.

The workers are surging northward from Texas, Tucker said. Some already have entered Oklahoma, where harvesting in earnest will begin in four or five days.

Swinging through Kansas, the army will pass through Nebraska, and Northward into the two Dakotas and then into Washington.

A standard wage of $3.50 to $4 a day with board and lodging has been practically agreed upon by the farmers. Railroads are cutting transportation rates to those workers who prefer to or are financially able to ride the "cushions" and those less fortunate are permitted to "ride the rods without fear of arrest."

New Sales Record Reflects Increase In Spring Activity

A new high water mark in Overland and Willys-Knight retail sales was reached last week when a total of 7,365 retail sales certificates were received at the Willys-Overland factory, exceeding the record of 5,724 certificates set a year ago.

This was the greatest number of certificates returned from the dealer organization within one week in the history of the company. Record of these certificates is maintained by the company as an accurate picture of retail sales conditions in dealer's territories, showing at all times how and where car stocks are moving.

Improved weather conditions account largely for this remarkable spurt, although a large share of this must also be attributed to the buying interest aroused by the announcement of the new Overland Blue Bird model.

Such a responsive cord did this new and attractive car strike in the motoring public's fancy that added orders from the dealers was the cause of factory increase of its original planned production of these cars by 25 per cent.

Interest in the Blue Bird in Chicago resulted in unprecedented delivery of 175 Overlands and 118 Willys-Knights during the first ten days of May, with unfilled orders on hand for 100 additional Willys-Knights and 165 Overlands. One city dealer alone reported the sale of 18 new cars and two used cars in one day.

At Huntington, W. Va., Blue Bird announcement is held directly responsible for the sale of 25 Overlands and Willys-Knight cars, six of them Blue Birds. At Norfolk, a., the dealers entire stock was cleaned out, in addition to which he wrote eleven orders for other Willys-Overland models.

Down in Miami, Florida, on the day of the Blue Bird announcement the dealer sold eight Blue-Birds which is similar to the story telegraphed from Dallas, Texas, where unbounded enthusiasm has greeted the newest addition to the Willys-Overland family.

PROHIBITION FOUND TO INCREASE COLLEGE ROLL

International News Service.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 14.—Increased registration in American colleges and universities is the direct result of prohibition, Mrs. Maud Perkins, national secretary of the W. C. T. U. said recently. Mrs. Perkins whose office requires her to make country-wide surveys asserts that prohibition's benefits far offset violations of the Volstead act.

"One of the most outstanding benefits not only to this generation, but America in its tomorrow, is the increase of young men and women in our high schools and colleges," she said. "I visited thirty-three States last year, and in several I visited every college and normal school. I found everywhere the number of students was greater than accommodations for them."

"We cannot expect everyone will obey the law. Other laws have been broken, and law never changed an appetite."

THE PASSING DAY

By WILL H. MAYES, Department of Journalism, University of Texas

One of the worst features of our "jazz" age is that half the people seem to be almost perpetually weary and bored. Unless keyed up to the highest pitch of excitement they are suffering from a sort of reaction that makes them tired of life and everything about them. They rush from one exciting business or pastime to another and between times are afraid that they may not make connection with some event more thrilling than anything that has gone before. They are forever wanting more. If they have money, even beyond all possibility of using it, they are eager for greater gains; if they have position, they feverishly long for still higher places of honor and conspicuousness; if they have either friends or foes they seem anxious for more of either. All the while they show a spirit of dissatisfaction, of unrest, of killing eagerness for they know not what.

This perturbed state of mind, this longing for something more than they have, or something different from past experiences wears out both body and mind, and incapacitates for real progress. Ambition of any kind, desire in any direction, may be laudable, but when it can be overdone. Impatience, of a kind, is commendable but when it results in dissatisfaction it is destructive of constructive effort. Pleasures overdone are as bad as too much food; intemperate success may be worse than failure; men and women are so constituted that struggle is best for them; disappointment is often the best discipline.

Dissatisfaction invariably accompanies over-excitement and restlessness. I met a man recently who complained that he was not succeeding as he thought he should. He was not getting wealth fast enough; his health was not as good as he wished it to be; and he was inclined to blame God for placing him in a world that the man did not understand and that would not do his bidding. Yes, he had prospered, but not enough, and he feared his business might not continue so good. He was able to be about, to attend to business, to mingle in society, to do things that a few years ago seemed impossible for him; but he did not feel like a fighting cock after either business or social dissipation, and so life was getting drab and monotonous. He merely wanted more of everything than he had secured, and he was dissatisfied because it did not come as fast as he wished. It is nice to dream of having everything just as we would like everything to be; but if that should be, the whole social system would soon go to pieces, just as the planetary system would quickly end in chaos without some guiding, restraining force. The sensible thing to do is to dream and strive to bring dreams to pass, but to leave the results with a higher power that regulates things pretty well despite our complainings. We merely weaken ourselves when we waste our energies in fretting. We can't regulate the world or control absolutely our own fortunes, so why complain about it? We can't stop the waters of the passing river, so why drown ourselves in the effort? Get the most out of the passing day, and look joyously to the morrow.

Just now the farmers of Texas seem to have more reason than any other class for becoming discouraged. Rains in almost every part of the State have put them behind with their work. Planting has been greatly delayed and many crops that are up are badly in the grass and weeds. In some sections crops have been drowned out and seed for replanting can not be had. But in spite of all this the farmers can not afford to become discouraged and there is no need for it. The best thing is to make the best of the conditions and to work to overcome them. If one crop can not be made there may be time for another, and intensive work will overcome the grass and weeds. The hot summer sun will soon dry out the top of the ground and the rains have given a season that will cause a quick growth of crops. Prices are good and there is every prospect that they will continue good. Texas farmers are resourceful and may be depended on. They know how to meet and overcome difficulties.

Fear is man's worst enemy, and yet it is needless to entertain fear. The things we most fear seldom come to pass, and even if they do the person with a mind filled with fear is not prepared to meet them like the one who faces difficulties with confidence. Fear is surely cowardice expressing itself with greater strength than courage.

NEW ENGLAND IS LOOKING ABROAD FOR SUPREMACY

By United Press.
BOSTON, Mass., June 14.—Three hundred and four years after the landing of the Pilgrims New England must look seaward again, was the declaration at the opening of the 11th National Foreign trade convention, by Howard Coonley, president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and of the Waltham Manufacturing Company.

Referring to New England's loss of trade due to industrial growth and competition in the south and middle west, he said New England opportunity now lay above all in foreign trade the basis of her original prosperity.

A scientific survey, he said, had been undertaken to carry out his program.

"Trade is growing swiftly in the middle western, southwestern, and inter mountain territory, more swiftly than it is in New England he pointed out.

"During the last few years we have seen some of our large shoe factories, our cotton and woolen mills, our rubber goods factories and many other industries which we have looked upon as typical New England activities, moving away to other parts of the country where raw material can be obtained at less cost, where transportation is less difficult and less hampered by laws and by climatic conditions, and where the trade centers are nearer and, consequently to be reached with less effort than for New England."

WILSON PICTURE BE GIVEN TO SCHOOLS

FORT WIRTH, Texas, June 14.—Her favorite picture of President Woodrow Wilson is being given by Mrs. Wilson to the Texas Outlook of this city, which will give copies of it to every school in Texas. Lithographed plates will be made this summer and made ready for distribution after schools open in September.

R. T. Ellis, managing editor of The Texas Outlook, the official magazine of the Texas State Teachers' Association, had planned to give pictures of President Wilson to the schools, but was at a loss to decide upon which picture to give. The difficulty was settled by Mrs. Wilson, who made the selection and expressed great appreciation for the proposed tribute to the memory of the late President.

The picture was made during the World War, when Wilson was at the height of his power. It will be printed in such sizes as to be suitable for use in classrooms and auditoriums.

AMERICA HAS NO PRIOR RIGHTS TO NORTH POLE

International News Service.

VERO, Fla., June 13.—A mammoth's tusk, inscribed with engravings, was found by E. M. Wells, of Vero, four feet from the surface and beneath a hard eighteen inch layer of indurated rock and sandstone along the cut of the St. Lucie Canal, the principal canal draining the Everglades.

The carvings are believed to be the oldest human inscriptions on the North American continent. Anthropologists differ as to whether the tusk was carved in the Pleistocene Age or whether it was carved only a few thousand years ago and washed under the ledge. The tusk may have been found by Indians and carved by them long after the mammoth disappeared from the earth, although discovery of mammoth teeth is believed by some to point to their existence after the ancient inhabitants of Florida made their inscriptions.

The markings on the tusks have not been deciphered. However, on one appears to be the crudely-drawn picture of an Indian chief.

The markings resemble in some measure the inscriptions found in Mayan temples, in Central America. Anthropologists say that the tusks may have been lost while a band of roving Mayan traders were en route home with their booty.

Implements Also Found

The tusk is probably a lower tusk of Mamut Americana. It was taken from the base of the sand shell stratum which lies beneath indurated shell. It was disclosed by a cut made for the north bank of the St. Lucie Canal. The fragments of bird bones also showing human markings were found in the same locality. The bird is believed to have been the extinct and huge Jabiru Wellisi, a species probably allied to the stork family of which a type specimen was found at the same place in the excavation.

The fragment of tusk, two sides of which are shown in the photograph, was removed by men in the presence of Dr. E. H. Sellars and other members of the Florida Geological Survey. Deeply imbedded in the third stratum were also found some crude implements, probably used for piercing hides or as ornaments.

The almost geometrical regularity of the crosses, the even distance between them, the fact that they occur in rows, and the sharpness and regularity with which the V is cut in each case suggest that the markings on the tusk may have been tallies.

The tusk and other relics were found near the surface, because they were immediately above the ancient hard seabed that forms the bed rock of the Florida Peninsula.

The old seabed is the reason for the Florid Everglades and also for some of the prodigious engineering problems which the great Everglades drainage project presents. The Everglades reclamation is the greatest reclamation project of its kind. The area to be reclaimed exceeds the combined areas of all the national irrigation projects, which are given in the Twenty-second Annual Report of the Bureau of Reclamation as three million acres. The Everglades Drainage District includes four and a quarter million acres of land. The work is in charge of F. C. Elliott, Chief Drainage Engineer.

Basin Covered With Muck

The old seabed forms what is known as the Everglade Basin. The basin is covered with rich black muck, the product of vegetation decaying from a few feet deep at its edges, near the coast to fourteen feet further in the basin.

In cutting the huge canals to drain the Everglades it has been necessary to blast the bedrock in order to secure the required depth of canal for drainage.

"There are two principal phases to the reclamation of the Everglades," Engineer Elliott said. "The first is to lower the level of the water in Lake Okeechobee to a point where it will not overflow its boundaries. The second is to provide drainage for the excess water which falls as rain on the Everglades themselves."

Lake Okeechobee, it should be explained, lies in the center of Southern Florida and is eighteen to twenty feet above sea level, according to seasons. Its area is approximately thirty by forty miles. It has no natural outlet. It is fed by the Kissimmee river. In times of heavy rains and northeast winds the lake has overflowed its low Southern banks, spilling its water into the Everglades.

War Department Steps In

Three canals now admit navigation of light-draft boats from the Atlantic Ocean to Lake Okeechobee. A question has arisen whether Lake Okeechobee is a navigable body of water in the sense that it is to be controlled by the War Department. If so a question may arise as to whether the State of Florida can still further reduce its water level in the drainage operations.

Floridians claim that until the canals were built the only steamers that ever navigated the lake were those which were built upon its borders and that, therefore it is no more a navigable lake than any artificial body of water.

The work of reclamation is going ahead. Farming operations are now going on over an area of one million acres of land as fertile as the Nile region, although the farms are scattered. The value of produce raised around Lake Okeechobee exceeded six million dollars this season.

RENTS GO UP 85 PER CENT DURING PAST TEN YEAR

International News Service.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Rents for American homes have gone up 85 percent on an average for the country in the last ten years, W. R. Shirley, president of the National Fraternal Congress, told a welfare conference of fraternal orders held here.

"Wage earners in forty-six cities are required to pay from 100 to 150 percent more rent than in 1914," said Mr. Shirley. "There are sixty-seven cities in which the rent increases have soared above the 85 percent average. The increase in the last year has been nearly 10 percent."

"In the group of cities with rent increases of more than 100 percent in ten years are Chicago, Detroit, Pittsburg, Kansas City and Los Angeles.

"High rentals are the heaviest burden of the increased cost of living. Greatest raises in rents are those of the moderate-grade flats and small houses occupied by wage and salary earners."

TO BROADCAST CONDITIONS OF ROADS FREE

An additional evidence that the State Highway Department is striving to serve the people of Texas to the fullest extent is the announcement that beginning with Monday, June 16th, the Texas Highway Bulletin, the official organ of the department, will conduct a road condition report bureau in order to inform those who use the state highways, of the exact condition of the roads over the state.

This service will be rendered in two separate forms. First, the report on the highway will be broadcast every day from the broadcasting station of the Texas Highway Bulletin at Austin; second, inquiries by mail will be answered.

The report will be broadcast twice each day. In the morning the report will be sent out in code; in the afternoon, between the hours of six and seven it will be given by voice. This report will be relayed to all sections of the state by amateur radio stations in different cities within the range of the Bulletin broadcasting station at Austin. In answering inquiries by mail the best routes and the condition of the highway to and from various places over the state will be given. Maps of the state highways, with the best routes marked will be enclosed in each reply sent out.

There are one hundred and three state highways in Texas, and answers to inquiries will give the best routes over any of these roads, but for the present, at least, the report of only the following highways will be broadcast:

- Highway No. 1, Texarkana to El Paso, distance 871 miles.
- Highway No. 2, Laredo to Oklahoma line, 550 miles.
- Highway No. 3, Louisiana line to San Antonio, 340 miles.
- Highway No. 5, Texarkana to New Mexico line, 566 miles.
- Highway No. 6, Galveston to Oklahoma line 340 miles.
- Highway No. 8, Port Arthur to Ark. line, through New Boston, 268 miles.
- Highway No. 9, Amarillo to San Antonio, 500 miles.
- Highway No. 12, Beeville to Roseburg, 150 miles.
- Highway No. 15, Dallas to La. line through Marshall, 157 miles.
- Highway No. 16 and 12, San Antonio to Brownsville, 390 miles.
- Highway No. 19 and 40, Houston to Dallas 253 miles.
- Highway No. 36, Paris to Greenville, 50 miles.

Service to be Free to the Public and Without Expense to the State
The Texas Highway Bulletin, the official organ of the State Highway Department, is published without expense to the department. The publication of this Bulletin is not a commercial enterprise and it is not conducted for profit. The money received from advertisements is used to defray the expense of publication and the broadcasting of the road condition report, has been made a part of this publication's service to the people of this state in the interest of good roads.

With the touring season for this year now in its initial stage the Bulletin believes that this service which it will render will serve a long felt need for those who use the highways.

EUROPE HOPES MORE STABLE MONEY

By T. C. HALLINAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, June 16.—Strange as it may seem, currency inflation is at an end in Europe.

That is, for the moment. For the first time in nearly ten years and for at least the space of one week the five worst currencies in Europe reached and held a stable equilibrium.

It was epoch making as epochs go in these hattered and banged-up days. Every currency printing press in Europe slowed down, if it did not come actually to a dead stop.

Whereupon the exchanges in London, Paris, Amsterdam and Geneva, extended to one another guarded congratulations.

The only question is: can it last? Certainly, according to the experts in the city, the worst is almost positively over.

That voluntary, headlong race down the abyss for Russia, Austria, Germany, Poland and Hungary is a thing of the past, France might take a whirl at it, as being the least of several evils, but she has some excellent reasons for not doing so. And as for the others, it is believed that without exception they are in the frame of mind best expressed in the idiom, "never again."

But there still remains difficulties and it is quite possible that some of the new currencies may, like their predecessors, sag under the weight of budgets unbalanced.

But, in the meantime—and always "touching wood" while you say it—it is quite possible to claim that the currencies of Europe have reached at least a temporary stabilization.

Hungary has stabilized the Hungarian crown at around 300,000 to 320,000 to the pound sterling.

Austria has stabilized the Austrian crown at about the same ratio to the pound.

Poland, after some exciting months, has checked the fall of the Polish mark but not before it reached the abyssal value of 40,000,000 to the pound. She has now held it there for four months. In the meantime she has evolved a new currency based on the "zloty" which is estimated at 1,800,000 Polish marks. After July 1st the Polish mark will cease to be legal tender.

Russia's performance, from the technical point of view, has been the most remarkable of all. She has maintained in circulation for the past year and a half two rival currencies, one of which was going up in value while the other was going down. The second currency based on the paper rouble, passed noiselessly out of existence on May 10. It may be remarked incidentally that the financial genius who elaborated the scheme and carried it through its difficulties was at one time an obscure Chicago lawyer.

As for Germany and France, their currency future no man can predict.

BRITISH LIQUOR EXPORTS SHOW DROP IN VOLUME

International News Service.

LONDON, June 14.—Although British distillers may be shipping a greater portion of their product to destinations from which it eventually finds its way to surreptitious routes into the United States, the total volume of exports of liquor from the British Isles is less than it was in pre-war days.

Statistics compiled by the British Board of Trade show that in 1913 a total of 10,089,937 gallons of spirits was exported from Great Britain to various other countries. In 1923 only 7,209,390 gallons were exported, a decline of 2,880,547 gallons.

The significant feature of the liquor shipments statistics from the standpoint of the United States, however, is that new markets for British intoxicants apparently have opened up during recent years and that these markets are located chiefly in territory adjacent or easily accessible to the United States.
