Announcement----

The State Board of Medical Examiners, Co-operating With the State Medical Association of Texas, Announce the Beginning of a Campaign of Public Education on Medical Subjects.

The medical profession has long recognized its obligation to the public in respect to the spreading of a more general knowledge of interesting and vital facts concerning public health.

There are many important facts relating to the cause, preventio and cure of disease that the public should know and does not know. It is felt that the public mind has been confused and misled by the numerous facts in medicine, and that it is not reasized that there is a vast difference between theory and scientific fact.

In order to present positively known facts and to clarify the atmosphere as to theory, thus providing you with the means to protect the health of yourself and your loved ones, the legalized medical profession of Texas is intering upon this campaign.

Within the next few days addresses of extreme interest will be made from as many platforms as possible, by numerous well-known physicians, and covering a variety of public health subjects in a most illuminating manner. These speakers are thoroughly informed and capable of presenting their subjects in a manner that will be both interesting and entertaining. There will be no paid propagandists.

The practice of medicine, as such, is a matter of prime importance, in that upon it rests the foundation of public health. It is clear that the first efforts in the prevention of the spread of disease depends upon practicing physicians. If the existence of contagion or infection is not discovered early by competent diagnosticians, the opportunity for immedhate and effective prevention is lost. A physician operating solely upon some theory of the cause of disease, disregarding all the known facts of medicine and allied sciences, is jeopardizing the lives of the public.

An educated, qualified medical profession is the first bulwark of defense against disease, The public should demand protection through a set standard of educational qualifications of all who would practice the healing art.

The Medical Practice Act of Texas is designed to protect the public in exactly this manner. If this fact were generally understood public opinion would not permit the flaunting of this law as at present is the case. This law does not concern itself with and requires no examination on the theory or method of practice. Applicants are examined only on the fundamentals of medicine; the facts that have been developed through long years of study; facts which are subject to absolute proof. Practitioners of "sectarian" medicine of whatsoever type may come before this board for examination and receive license if they have the necessary schooling and can pass the fair examination.

The centention is for an educated, honest medical profession and a public informed on the facts of medicine. that it may protect its health and its life,
