M'ADOO WITHDRAWS IN RACE

Young Coolidge Be Buried At Plymouth Vt. Thursday

SHORT SERVICE BE HELD WHITE HOUSE ON WED.

MANY CONDOLENCES ARE SENT BEREAVED FAMILY BY FRIENDS

By United News WASHINGTON, July 8.—A wreath of white lilies, bound in green and white satin ribbon hangs on the front door of the White House. It is a silent announcement that death has again entered the executive mansion. And that Calvin Coolidge, Jr., lies in immortal sleep.

The president's home is just an ordinary, normal American home saddened and subdued by the death of one of its members. The passing of young Calvin Monday night after a trojan-like battle for his life against the deadly septic blood poison, was the tragedy of a private family.

Window shades of the executive mansion are drawn. Police guards about the grounds speak only in a whisper. A continuous stream of friends of the grief-stricken parents drive to the White House doors and silently place their card and expressions of sympathy upon a silver plate held by an erect and solemn negro servant.

The White House is laden with flowers sent by friends of the parents of young Calvin. Automobiles continued to carry floral tributes to the mansion at a late hour Tuesday night. Inside the mansion a mother and father and brother watched over their beloved dead. Tired and worn by a five day vigil at his bedside, the president, Mrs. Coolidge and their surviving son, John are meeting their loss and standing the strain with characteristic New England fortitude. President and Mrs. Coolidge here up and met the situation. They were calm and brave and none other than those close to the household saw them.

John Coolidge feels as keenly as his parents the loss of his dearer. The were inseparable pals. They played together on their grandfather's farm in Plymouth Vermont, went to school together and were together when the deceased young man was last able to be about. John had little rest Monday night but dozed for a while Tuesday afternoon in his room.

With no signs of emotion, the president went to his office for a short time Tuesday morning and disposed of several important matters that had been on his desk since his youngest son became ill last Thursday.

Thousands of government workers who pass through the White House grounds on their way to and from office, changed their course Tuesday. Although the spacious grounds surrounding the mansion were open as usual, employees of the several departments went around the president's home and refused to disturb the quietude of the household in their hour of bereavement.

Outside of the executive office business went on as usual. Deluges of messages bringing the sympathy of the world to the president and his wife, were received. A corps of workers ground out acknowledgments of messages dispatched to the executive and his family.

Young Calvin's body lies in the East Room of the white house guarded by marines and sailors from the Mayflower. Wednesday night his body will be taken to Northampton, Mass., and then to Plymouth, Vt. for burial. Final interment will be at four o'clock Thursday afternoon in a little country church yard near where he romped about when a small boy.

The guard watched over the bier of the son of their commander in chief in four hour shifts. In command of Lt. Edgar Allen Poe, marine officer of the Mayflower, the detachment will accompany the body on the trip to the old Coolidge family home and act as pallbearers.

Funeral services, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the Congregational church

BRAZIL FEDERAL FORCES CAPTURE NERVE CENTER OF MUTINY ARMY

By Morgan Esterling (United News Staff Correspondent) BOENOS AIRES, July 8.—Brazilian government forces have captured the great Luz Barracks at Sao Paulo, nerve center of the army mutiny and have dominated the situation after heavy fighting, according to dispatches from Rio de Janeiro.

Two hundred and fifty troops were killed and 200 wounded when government and state forces met to stem the rebellion, clashed with mutineers in a battle near Sao Bernardino, between Santos and Sao Paulo, according to unconfirmed, but reliable reports received in private dispatches.

An official communique issued from the president's palace at one stated that federal and Sao Paulo troops were making an energetic effort to put down the rebellion in the heart of Sao Paulo.

The government and state troops have joined forces to bombard the district which is in the possession of the insurgents.

The dreadnought Minas Geraes, which now at Santos, has been lessened that Santos is calm. The artillery regiment from Jundiahy has ceased firing.

Jundiahy is 28 miles from Sao Paulo, with which it is connected by rail. The news that an artillery regiment has been active suggests that the town may be in the hands of the rebels.

The bombardment of the Estacao de Luz, a magnificent railroad terminal in the heart of Sao Paulo has been partially successful.

The rebels are fleeing from the district according to government claims and it is generally predicted here that the government will now dominate the situation.

The fall of the Luz barracks is undoubtedly the most important development of the mutiny which has flamed in Brazil. The movement started in the barracks, the "Quartel de Luz" important military post.

It houses two regiments of national infantry and one regiment of cavalry connected with the state police. The reports of the fighting near Sao Bernardino state that about 800 troops, consisting of federal and local units as well as marines from the battleship Minas Geraes were sent from the port of Santos toward Sao Paulo Sunday.

The met the revolutionists enroute. A bitter struggle followed. Two hundred and fifty men were buried at Santos Sunday morning and more than 200 wounded were brought into the city and taken to hospitals there the following day.

By United News INDIANAPOLIS, July 8.—Samuel M. Ralston this morning sent the following telegram to Thomas Taggart, head of the delegation at the democratic national convention:

"Please withdraw my name from further consideration by this convention. Great as the honor would be, I do not want the nomination. I am everlastingly indebted to those who have favored me. Please assure the convention that my unswerving support will be given to its nominee."

NEW YORK, July 8.—Senator Ralston of Indiana, who had been forging ahead as the leading dark horse for the democratic presidential nomination, has definitely withdrawn from the race.

It has notified Tom Taggart, of Indiana, who has been pushing his candidacy to with his name, that he does not want the nomination and would not accept it. Taggart announced shortly before the convention resumed that he would formally withdraw Ralston's name when the convention gathered for its night session.

This is the second time within a week that Ralston has asked that he not be considered for the nomination. Ralston, who learned while listening in at the radio at his home in Indiana, that he was leading the race among the compromise candidates, called Taggart and asked that his name be withdrawn.

Ralston explained that he did not want the nomination, his family did not want him to have it, and that he would not accept it if tendered.

Taggart, in telling of Ralston's withdrawal, expressed his confidence that Ralston would have been put over Tuesday night.

With Ralston thus definitely out of the race, the field is left to a number of dark horses who have been stringing along behind, led by John W. Davis, of West Virginia, with Underwood, Glass, Robinson and others following. Ralston was being used to kill off Smith and McAdoo, both hopelessly deadlocked, and now one of the other dark horses will be placed in the race. It is likely that more than one name will have to be used before a nomination results.

While Ralston had been the leading dark horse, Taggart was confident that he could be put over, a little trouble had been experienced Tuesday in prying loose certain delegations.

When the convention resumed Tuesday night it was faced with making a choice among the other compromise candidates to break the deadlock between Smith and McAdoo.

The telegram from Ralston coupled with a flat declaration earlier in the day that he would not permit his name to be considered for second place, was interpreted as due notice to the convention that he would not accept the presidential nomination if it were tendered him.

The message was the second withdrawal of Ralston within four days. On July 4, he made public two telegrams he had sent Taggart requesting that his name be eliminated from the race in the interest of party harmony.

Taggart disregarded the telegram until Ralston's public announcement forced his hand. That afternoon the Indiana delegation turned away from Ralston and divided its vote between McAdoo and Smith until continued talk of the Hoosier senator as a compromise candidate started the boom afresh in last night's balloting.

PARTY GRUDGE AIDS DEADLOCK

CHAIRMAN WALSH TAKES HAND IN SITUATION IN EFFORT AT RELIEF

By Raymond Clapper NEW YORK, July 8.—An attempt to induce W. G. McAdoo and Governor Al Smith to withdraw from the presidential race so that the convention can nominate a presidential candidate promptly, is being made by neutral leaders of the party.

When the deadlock persisted Tuesday in face of the drive to put Senator Samuel Ralston across, the convention could do nothing. According to those who have been in the convention since the McAdoo-Smith fight broke up.

So serious had the situation become and so concerned were the leaders over the effect upon the fortunes of the party that Thomas J. Walsh permanent chairman of the convention called on McAdoo and on representatives of Smith during the recess which was taken after the 93rd ballot Tuesday.

When seen by McAdoo in person, Walsh explained that the convention could do nothing. According to those who have been in the convention since the McAdoo-Smith fight broke up.

Walsh said later: "An effort is being made to get representatives of these two gentlemen together to solve this perplexing problem."

When seen by McAdoo and Smith together, taken Tuesday evening, making 93 in all—showed McAdoo and Smith hanging on tenaciously to their delegates the neutral leaders decided that unless they could persuade these two candidates to drop their personal ambitions, the convention could do nothing.

Dr. Harkey, secretary of the Ideology Chamber of Commerce, presided over the meeting.

Rev. Hicks, pastor of one of the churches of Ideology, made an address in which he told of the rapid developments that have been made in that community and the continuous growth that is to be observed there, emphasizing the need of chamber of commerce and urging the hearty support of the organization.

Monte Bowron, director of the Lorenzo orchestra, and several members of his organization furnished appropriate music for the occasion. The Ideology quartet and young ladies of that community added materially to the program.

Secretary A. B. Davis, of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce was one of the speakers of the evening and pointed out the advantages of a chamber of commerce to such growing community as Ideology, Mr. Davis was accompanied to Ideology by E. Sherrod, former resident of that place, Chris Harwell and Neal Douglas.

District Judge Clark M. Mullican, who is conducting a term of court at Crosbyton, delivered the principal address of the occasion, having been asked to speak on "Americanism."

This subject was well handled by the speaker, who is recognized as one of the foremost orators of West Texas.

PLAINVIEW MAN DIED SUDDENLY IN KANSAS CITY

L.A. KNIGHT, HALE COUNTY PIONEER SUCCUMBS MONDAY NIGHT

PLAINVIEW, July 8.—L. A. Knight, pioneer ranchman of Hale county, president of the Third National Bank of this city, died in Kansas City Monday night, July 7th, according to messages received here today.

The body is being shipped back here and will arrive Wednesday. Funeral arrangements are being held up pending arrival of the body.

Mr. Knight was one of the earliest citizens of Hale county, having come to the plains in 1883. He is one of the organizers of Hale, and among the first sheriffs ever to serve in the county.

He entered the cattle business on a large scale several years ago, and aided in the organization of the First National Bank. He later left this bank to organize the Third National, of which institution he was president until his death. He was an extensive land owner, having over thirteen thousand acres in cultivation.

His death is a heavy loss to the citizenship of Plainview and Hale county. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. K. M. Malone, of Plainview.

IDALOU C. OF C. HAS INTERESTING MEETING

A great meeting of the Ideology Chamber of Commerce was held at the Ideology Club house Tuesday evening, and was attended by a crowd that taxed the seating capacity of the building, with many compelled to stand in the aisles and take positions in the windows just outside the building.

UNCONDITIONALLY RELEASES ALL DELEGATES AFTER FIGHTING THRU LONGEST DEADLOCK IN HISTORY

By RAYMOND CLAPPER (UN Staff Correspondent) MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 9.—

After standing through 99 ballots, the longest deadlock in the history of the democratic party, W. G. McAdoo has released all delegates unconditionally and bowed himself out of the picture.

The son-in-law of Woodrow Wilson addressed a letter to Chairman Walsh, early Wednesday morning in which he thanked his delegates for their support in their long fight, but expressed an unwillingness to contribute to the continuation of the deadlock, which he said was imperiling party success.

When McAdoo gave up his fight, he stood with 353 1-2 votes just one-half a vote ahead of his chief opponent, Gov. Al Smith. John W. Davis, meanwhile had climbed to 210 the highest point reached by any dark horse in the balloting.

Immediately after McAdoo's letter was read, adjournment was moved, but sentiment was so divided that a roll call was ordered and at 3 a. m. daylight time, Wednesday morning, the balloting on this question was proceeding.

94th Ballot
Totals: vote—cast—1,095—Smith 363; McAdoo 395; J. W. Davis 81 3-4; Underwood 46 1-4; Ralston 37; Glass 36; Robinson 28; Ritchie 16 1-2; Walsh 4; Cummings 1; Meredith 26; Gov. Bryan 9; Roosevelt 2; Copeland 17; Stewart 1; Gov. Davis 20.

95th Ballot
J. W. Davis, took a spurt on the 95th ballot and reached his highest point in the democratic deadlock with 139 1-4. This was the result of an attempt by a coalition of neutral leaders to run him up as a compromise candidate. In the meantime McAdoo continued a flying come back, polling 417 1-2, having come up 107 votes in the last four ballots, leaving Smith far behind as second man with 367 1-2. Ralston disappeared entirely from the ballot sheet.

96th Ballot
Totals: 1095—Smith 367 1-2; McAdoo 417 1-2; J. W. Davis 139 1-4; Underwood 44 1-4; Glass 34; Robinson 31; Governor Bryan 8; Ritchie 20 1-2; Walsh 2; Meredith 26; Roosevelt 2; Copeland 2.

97th Ballot
Pushing on to a new high mark, J. W. Davis, of West Virginia, reached 171 1-2 on the 97th ballot, but gained no ground whatever on McAdoo who crawled up a few more to 421 holding a safe lead over Smith who stood second with 359 1-2, a slight recession from the previous ballot.

98th Ballot
An Ohio delegate moved an adjournment after the 98th ballot "out of respect to the health of the delegates." The motion was voted down.

99th Ballot
Total voting 1095—Smith 354; McAdoo 407 1-2; J. W. Davis 194 3-4; Underwood 38 1-4; Glass 25; Robinson 25; Gov. Bryan 5; Ritchie 18 1-2; Walsh 4; Saulsbury 6; Marshall 2; Owen 1.

100th Ballot
Total voting 1094 1-2—Smith 353; McAdoo 359 1-2; J. W. Davis 210; Underwood 39 1-2; Glass 25; Robinson 25; Gov. Bryan 5; Ritchie 17 1-2; Walsh 4; Saulsbury 6; Marshall 2; Meredith 3; Owen 3; Berry 1.

On the first big break of the democratic convention on the 100th ballot, John W. Davis stepped into second place when McAdoo dropped to 202, throwing him into third place with 351 1-2 but his collapse

PREMIERS CONFERENCE ON REPARATIONS CONCILIATION

PARIS, July 8.—Premier MacDonald and Premier Herriot are conferring here over the Anglo-French dispute on reparations which political observers declare, has resulted in a situation where the life of the radical French cabinet is at stake. But while the opposition, led by ex-Premier Poincaré, is trying to use the relatively technical dispute as a lever to injure or oust Herriot, the French Premier is optimistic.

"My impressions are good," he told the United News after his meeting here with MacDonald Tuesday. "I believe that we will succeed, and that the London conference will begin as arranged at Chequers."

"It is necessary, however, that the situation be cleared up rapidly. We are confident."

It is understood that Herriot showed MacDonald the final text of the note which has been drawn up outlining the French viewpoint on the matter. The chief point in dispute is as to what extent certain provisions of the experts plan will supersede the Versailles treaty without actually altering the treaty.

Premier MacDonald arrived here Tuesday afternoon and drove at once to the Quai d'Orsay, after his conference with Herriot a brief communique was issued stating that the conversations would continue on both Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning. Despite Herriot's optimism, it is apparent that the differences are finding Franco-Anglo differences more difficult to settle than had been believed. Surrounded by a formidable array of officials and experts the two statesmen took up the details of the experts report and the question of French security, exploring every phase of both situations. The announcement that the conversations will continue may not have any significance but some see in it an indication that agreement has not been complete.

ACTRESS FAILS TO APPEAR IN DAMAGE SUIT

CHICAGO, July 8.—All of Cicero that could crowd into the court room turned out Tuesday in the hope of hearing Rosetta Duncan, pretty actress, give her version of how she was beaten up by the cops of the town's police department.

But Rosetta was not there. Perhaps she feared her appearance would start a massacre. Instead, her brother Harold appeared with a legal retainer and there ensued one of the liveliest court scenes in the history of Cook county.

The villagers who crowded the court room took delight in booing Allen Cook, one of Rosetta's lawyers and in cheering whenever Edward J. Carmody, the town attorney engaged in tilts with the lawyers who have been seeking to get satisfaction for Rosetta's broken ribs, broken nose and bruises.

The contingent of villagers cheered when Carmody referred to the Duncan sisters, stars of Topsy and Eve as "the drunken sisters."

But perhaps the wildest outburst from the audience came when Carmody offered to punch Cook's nose, if he would give him a chance.

Charles Wildock, the 250 pound policeman, who according to Rosetta, hit her in the face when she became involved in a dispute with him after her automobile was stopped during a holiday ride through Cicero, did not appear in court. According to Carmody, he was too ill to appear as the result of a beating he alleged he had received at Rosetta's hands. She weighs 120 pounds.

"MATTLOCS" GET FIRST TASTE OF U. S. HOSPITALITY

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 8.—San Francisco Tuesday opened wide her arms and gathered in the officers and men of his majesty's special service squadron, British around-the-world fleet, giving them their first real taste of San Francisco and United States hospitality.

Thousands of sailors of the fleet which arrived here late Monday were given shore leave, leaving on board the seven cruisers only skeletonized crews, and they found San Francisco citizens not wanting in entertainment provisions.

Quickly, the "mattlocs"—English for gobs—were sent on sightseeing tours, or by twos and threes, they strolled the streets bedecked with hundreds of their beloved Union Jacks.

The official welcome of the United States and this city came at noon at the city hall, when, with the municipal band playing "God Save the King," Mayor James Rolph, Jr., extended greetings to Vice Admiral Sir Frederick Field, KCB, and his staff followed by Rear Admiral Edward Simpson, USN, representing the navy department. Responding, Admiral Field expressed his thanks for the reception and welcome and referred to the importance of Anglo-American friendship.

Luncheon was tendered the officers of the fleet by San Francisco clubs followed. Throughout the afternoon informal entertainments were arranged while at 3 o'clock members of the local British colony were given a reception on board the H. M. S. Hood, Admiral Field's flagship.

The fleet remains here until Friday morning, with Wednesday and Thursday as reprieve with entertainments as the fleet's first day on United States shores.

PROMINENT TEXANS VISIT LUBBOCK ON THEIR VACATION

Attorney M. E. Nutt, of Wichita Falls, accompanying his father, J. N. Nutt, president of a leading bank of Grandbury, Texas, arrived in Lubbock the first of the week enroute to Colorado on a vacation trip. While here they visited at the home of Guy Huffstader and left this morning continuing their trip.

These gentlemen were well pleased with Lubbock and expressed themselves as having enjoyed the opportunity to become better acquainted with this section of the state.

SKIRTS TO BE LONGER IN MILAN, IS DECREED

MILAN, July 8.—Skirts will be worn longer in Milan, or else their fair owners will not be allowed to go to church this summer. Archbishop Tostie directed that notices be posted Tuesday on the doors of all churches warning women who were not "decently dressed" that they would not be allowed to enter. If they persist in entering, the notices say they will be expelled.

Sid Rouse, of the Electric Bakery, left Monday by automobile for Mount Pleasant where he will spend two or three weeks visiting relatives and friends. The vacation is a deserved one as Mr. Rouse has been very busy in helping to take care of the Electric Bakery business since it was established.

Judge Randolph, of the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo, who has been here looking after the interests of his candidacy for re-election to that office went to Littlefield the first of the week in company with P. C. Souder, of Lubbock.

AMERICAN ATHLETES SEND UP TWO MORE FLAGS TAKING A BIG LEAD OVER SECOND PLACE NATION ON THIRD DAY AT PARIS

COLUMBES STADIUM, PARIS, July 8. (UN)—The Stars and stripes made two more trips to the top of the pole as American athletes leaped and tossed the cannon ball to victory Tuesday, the third day of actual strife on the Olympic track and field in Colombes Stadium.

At the close of the program athletes had a tidy total of 98 Finland a somewhat distant second at 54 points.

Two negro athletes, DeHart Hubbard, the human grasshopper, from the University of Michigan and Ned Gourdin, jumped first and second, respectively, in the broad jump. Hubbard winning with a leap of 24 feet six inches, Hubbard took only two jumps, for he hurt his leg making the winning mark. Bud Houser of the University of Southern California took first place in the shot put and contributed ten points to the American aggregate score.

He pitched the projectile 14.99 meters. Glenn Hartranft, another Californian was second and Hill third. Torpo of Finland came fourth and Anderson of the United States fifth, so the scorers were compelled to award the Star Spangled athletes a total of 21 points in this event alone.

The track was filled with a procession of scampering ankles as seventeen first preliminary heats and some of the second preliminary trials of the 200 meters were run off.

At the same time other runners were going through the 60 meter trials and the preliminaries of 110 meters hurdles.

Still others were fighting for places in the final contest at 800 meters. In the first heat of the 200 meters trials, Charley Paddock was commissioned to run off the race out of H. M. Abrahams, the hasty Hebrew of the British team who won the 100 meters dash on Monday from the best that America could name. Paddock crowded Abrahams but finished a stride astern of him. And the effort took so much of Charley that he swooned and complained of a stiff tendon.

The Prince of Wales and Prince Henry, of England called on Paddock and congratulated him on his game pursuit of the phantom from Britain. Paddock seemed refreshed by this and won a later heat in the second round of preliminaries. There are six second round heats in the 200 meters and the first two in each heat qualify for the semi-final. Scholz, Hill and Murchison, Americans, qualified with Paddock for the semi-finals.

Johnny Romig, of Pennsylvania State University beat the great Willie Ritola of Finland in the third trial heat of the 5,000 meters, one of Willie's specialties. Wide of Sweden was second in this heat, and Ritola third. All three qualified.

D. G. Lowe, of England, won the 800 meters final in 1:52.2-5 after a terrific race in which the frightful pace killed off one participant after another and left them all exhausted at the finish.

The American coaches thought for the afternoon, the American points and led the world, with Enck of Penn State might have won this race, had he jumped into the lead at the start and set his own pace. As it was Stallard, a team mate of Lowe's took the lead, with Lowe at his elbow, and Enck being back in fourth place, followed by Soapy Waters of Harvard.

The first quarter mile was covered at tremendous speed the pack forcing Stallard close to the record figures. As they came around the turn into the stretch, Enck challenged and Martin of Switzerland a dark horse, also spurred. Enck weakened but the Swiss runners went on overhauled Stallard and pursued Lowe desperately to the finish. Stallard, who had made the pace for his victorious team mate, was nearly exhausted, and Enck's final drive put him past the faltering Englishman and into third place. Richardson, U. S. A. was fifth and Ray Dodge, U. S. A. sixth with a disappointed Waters seventh, Hoff, of Norway was eighth.

The United States qualified three men for the final of the 110-meter hurdles, Kinsey, Guthrie, and Anderson. Kinsey beat Peterson, of Sweden to win the first semi-final heat in 1:5.5-5 and Anderson ran second to Christensen of Sweden in the second semi-final, and Guthrie ran the distance in 1:5.5 to win the third from Atkinson, of South Africa.

There were three heats in the 5,000. The first four men in each heat qualified for the final. Rastas, of Finland won the first heat in 15:22.1-5. Okazaki, of Japan was second and the nearest the United States came in this event was seventh, which position went to Deoitte.

Normi of Finland won the second heat of the 5,000 in 15:28.3-5. Dolques of France was second, Sephalia, of Finland; third, and Saunders of England fourth. Again the United States came no closer than seventh, which was taken by Phelps. The point score at the end of the day was as follows: United States 98; Finland 54; England 28.1-2; Sweden 14.1-2; France 9.1-2; Hungary 7.1-2; Switzerland 2. Norway and New Zealand four each.

Johny Romig, of Pennsylvania State University beat the great Willie Ritola of Finland in the third trial heat of the 5,000 meters, one of Willie's specialties. Wide of Sweden was second in this heat, and Ritola third. All three qualified.

TWO BALL PLAYERS ARE SUSPENDED DURING PROBE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 8.—Bill Skiff, catcher, and Pete Scott, outfielder for the Kansas City Blues were suspended indefinitely Tuesday, as police continued their investigation of the death of Miss Blanche Pearce, a pretty milliner of Madison, Kas., following a party in a local hotel.

Miss Pearce plunged ten stories to her death down the freight elevator shaft shortly after she had left the rooms of Scott and Skiff, where she and three other girl companions had staged a "little party." The ball players denied anyone had been drinking. They told police Miss Pearce left the room first and was followed by her three companions.

"We had no drinks," Scott said. "We didn't know of the girl's death until informed by the hotel management."

WHAT CAN PIMPLY FACED BOYS AND GIRLS EXPECT

Nobody knows better than the boy or girl who has been slighted-time and again by their supposed "best friend," how humiliating it is to have to stand for such "cutting" things when they know they can expect nothing more as long as they don't look attractive on account of a pimply, blotchy or rough skin. But such heartaches don't have to be put up with. Any boy or girl who is troubled with these skin blemishes can get rid of them if they will just use Black and White Ointment and the Soap. The fact that they see at the tremendous rate of more than two million packages a year shows how popular they are. They are economically priced, in liberal packages. Any dealer can supply you with both the Ointment and the Soap. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size.

of Washington will be held Wednesday at the white house—at four o'clock. Services will be simple, consisting of prayers, scripture reading and the singing of several psalms by a quartet. There will be no eulogy or sermon. Services at the white house will be attended by the diplomatic corps and their wives, the members of the cabinet and their wives, the members of the supreme court now in Washington, members of the house and senate, the twelve ranking officers of the army and navy and the chiefs of the independent government establishments. The north grounds of the white house will be open during the services to those who desire to participate in that way.

The funeral party will leave for Northampton at 9 o'clock Wednesday. Services there in the Edwards Congregational Church will be at 10 o'clock Thursday morning with the Rev. Kenneth B. Wells in charge. Following services at Northampton, the funeral party will go by train to Ludlow, Vermont, and then by automobile to Plymouth, Vt. A cavalry detachment from Fort Ethan Allen, near Burlington, will escort the party along the 12 miles stretch of rough and narrow country road. Immediately after young Calvin's body is lowered to its last earthly resting place, the funeral party will return to Washington.

Home City Sorrowful

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 8.—While messages of condolence from all over the world poured in to the white house in Washington Tuesday, President Coolidge's home city sorrowfully prepared for funeral services for his younger son, Calvin, Jr., to be held at the Edwards Congregational church Thursday.

It will be a sad day for Northampton folk, who knew young Calvin well. To his friends, school mates and older acquaintances here, the lad was a typical American boy. The fact that he was a president's son did not affect his unassuming attitude.

At the modest Coolidge home on Massasoit street young Calvin's maternal grandmother, Mrs. L. A. Goodhue, is bearing her grief bravely.

Northampton's sorrow is real and deep. Garbed in mourning, flags at half staff, the town bows in grief with the president and Mrs. Coolidge.

King George Sends Sympathy

LONDON, July 8.—King George has sent the following message to President and Mrs. Coolidge: "The Queen and I have heard with sincerest regret of the grievous loss which has befallen you and Mrs. Coolidge in the death of your son. I wish to assure you both of our heartfelt sympathy in this time of your deep sorrow."

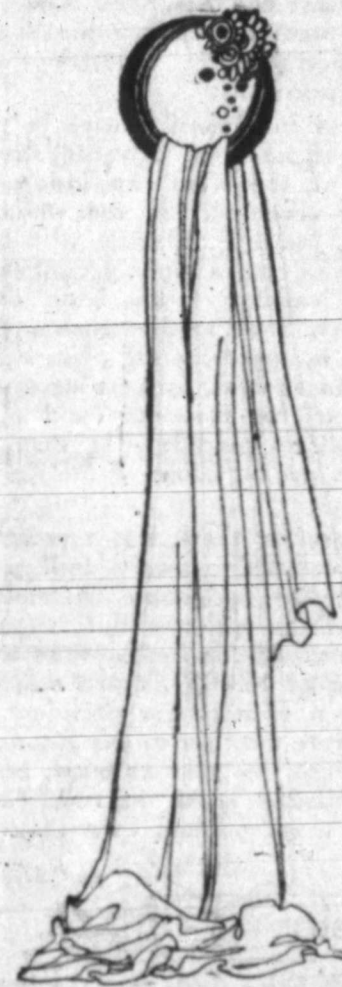

Sam Merrill returned to his home at Houston Tuesday after having visited his father, M. E. Merrill, of Lubbock.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The Chamber of Commerce is one of the most essential organizations in the development of the country, and the growth of the town, regardless of the would be arguments to the contrary, and the organization should be supported by every citizen of the community, as it is the means either directly or indirectly of keeping in touch of things of interest to the community, and everything that is of benefit to the community, it is likewise beneficial to the individual.

The Chamber of Commerce has fostered every big proposition that has come our way. It has been the means of inducing wholesale houses, cotton compresses, cotton oil mills and many other industries to come here. Not that they have especially gone out after it, but they have furnished all the necessary information and extended every courtesy necessary to the location of these things and in that way have rendered a service that could not be rendered by an individual or a double dozen of individuals, hence the organization is essential to the growth of the town and the development of the community.

The Chamber of Commerce as an organization headed the campaign for the Texas Technological college, and while the campaign was made by a committee that we called the Steering Committee after all it was nothing more than the Chamber of Commerce, that stood behind the job, and financed it through its efforts.

Something more than $100,000 was raised in the campaign and the Chamber of Commerce organization was responsible for its success. The big celebration was pulled off under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce, and now that the Tech is under way, and work has actually commenced on the buildings, there will be still other expenses connected with it that the Chamber of Commerce will naturally have to underwrite.

In raising the money for the college there was more subscribed and more turned in than was needed at the time, and recently the Chamber of Commerce refunded to more than six hundred contributors a check for five per cent of their contributions, ranging in amount from a few cents up to several hundred dollars. It was suggested in the letter that accompanied the check that it would be greatly appreciated if the subscribers would endorse the check back to the Chamber of Commerce to be placed in a fund separate from the general funds, to be used in Tech work, when necessary. A number have done this, but others would do well to contribute this to the cause, as it will be necessary at a future time to ask you for funds for this purpose anyway.

In a very short time now, it is expected that one of the real big celebrations of the South Plains will be pulled off when the corner stone is ready to be placed in the Tech college, and it will take money for that. Lubbock has never done anything in a small way, and we expect to make this, one of the biggest celebrations that the South Plains has ever seen, not excepting the celebration that was pulled off when we celebrated the location of the Tech here.

If you have not already cashed your refund check, endorse it back to the chamber of commerce and let them use it in furthering the interests of the Tech college, it will make you more money that way than any other way. If you have cashed your check, make out another one of the same denomination and send to the Chamber of Commerce for the use they suggest that they will put it to in the letter they sent you.

LUBBOCK IS THE LEADER.

Lubbock county will have six thousand voters this fall, being about five hundred more than Potter county, the closest competitor. The South Plains has settled wonderfully during the past five years, until at this time it has the largest vote of the Panhandle and West Texas, which means that section makes up its mind to take some of the district offices will be no question of the results. Take the congressional district as an example. At this time the lower three-fifths of the vote of the district, and will continue to hold that ratio for many years. If a candidate from that section should come out, and he were a wise man, who had the confidence of the people, there could hardly be any doubt as to the outcome. The north part of the Panhandle contains fourteen counties with a small population, in fact the fourteen do not have a great many more voters than Lubbock county, which would cut but little figure in the election. The southeast part of the district has a larger vote, and it is very likely any candidate from the South Plains would divide the vote in this section on an equal basis. There is sure to be some fun in the political life of the Panhandle one of these days.—Childress Index.

Lubbock county is not the only county in this territory that has made a big gain either. The entire South Plains has enjoyed a fine increase, while Lubbock has taken the lead this is nothing but natural that it would. This is the trade center of the South Plains. The two biggest towns in the South Plains are located in Lubbock county, and for that reason there is naturally an increase in the number of people in the cities, but the pretty part of the whole affair is that the growth is not confined to the city alone, but the rural communities with its fine schools and good church organizations are holding out wonderful inducements to the people to come and make this their home.

As to the voting strength of the South Plains, there is no question that there will be some national candidate come from this section not later than two years from this date, and their election will no doubt be assured from the very beginning. The South Plains is one of the fastest growing sections of the state, and there is no doubt that it will continue to lead the field in number of people.

NEGRO VOTERS RESTIVE.

For half a century it was only necessary for campaigners to talk to the negro voters about Lincoln and emancipation in order to hold them in line for the Republican party, but during the last decade there has been much complaint and indication of a disposition among them toward revolt. This year the signs of possible revolt are more noticeable than ever, but, as no revolt of any account has yet occurred, the Republican leaders still count on the black man as a certain asset. The present dissatisfaction is due not merely to alleged lack of recognition in the matter of offices but to the failure of spokesmen for the negroes to induce the Republican leaders to take an open stand against the Ku Klux Klan. On this subject, at a recent meeting of the Association for the Advancement of Colored People, James Weldon Johnson said:

"The situation in Indiana is a case in point. There the Republican nominee Governor has the open endorsement of the Klan, an endorsement which he has fully accepted. In that State the Republican Senator, James E. Watson, who stands high in Administration circles, openly confers and consorts with Klan leaders. It has been left for the Democrats in that State to denounce and disavow the Klan. It is, therefore the plain duty of all colored voters in Indiana to vote against the Republican candidate for Governor and against every other Republican candidate in that State who is touched with the tar brush of the Ku Klux Klan."

At the same meeting there was another significant sign of a tendency toward independent voting when "prolonged applause" greeted the statement of one of the speakers that, though a Republican, he had voted for Smith when a candidate for Governor of New York and would do so again if he were nominated for president. The bulk of the negro vote may go to the Republican candidate for president this year—as usual, but the indications of a possible break in solid "Afro-America" are now more marked than they have ever been.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Mr. Theodore H. Price finds that the business outlook is good throughout the world, including Europe. Grain prices are holding up well, and money is still cheap and plentiful.

Mr. Price finds that on the whole there is little uneasiness over the political situation in this country. Barring the possibility of the LaFollette ticket being able to throw the election of a president into the house of representatives, the business world is serene insofar as domestic politics is concerned.

The situation in Europe, on the whole, is much better. It has shown a steady improvement during the last few weeks, practically since the Germans decided they would accept the decision of the Dawes commission.

Most of America's business uncertainty and low prices have been due to the uncertainties of the European situation. It has been impossible for American business to ignore the possibility of a complete breakdown of Europe's economic structure.

The outlook all down the line in America is much better than it was a few months ago. Even the farmer is beginning to sit up and take nourishment. There are indications that the grain crop is large, and that the price will be comparatively good.

If this condition holds good throughout the summer and early fall, Mr. LaFollette is going to find hard sledding in his presidential campaign. His tempo is pitched to the tune of hard times, and if the times cease to be hard Mr. LaFollette's arguments will fall flat.

The LaFollette revolt is an economic one. If good times steal away his thunder, he will be left without a leg to stand on.

A young man returning from his vacation in a motor car was ordered to halt in the dark near Wilmington, Delaware, and, thinking he was beset by bandits, he fired his revolver and tried to back away. Then the prohibition officers who had ordered the halt returned his fire and he was shot to death in his car, which did not contain even a spoonful of liquor. Under the circumstances it is bound to be widely asked what right have enforcement officers to assume without proof of any sort that an innocent motorist is a bootlegger transporting illegal goods.

Prof. Bauer has assured the Berlin Society of Eugenics that Germany faces ruin through race suicide and the German race is in danger of rapid extinction. Well, if the "Nordic" continues, including even Germany, are headed that way, there will be nothing to prevent the alleged inferior races, the Latins, the Slavs and the rest, from inheriting the earth.

William J. Bryan has a right to his opinion that John W. Davis is too conservative to be the right candidate to pit against the conservative Coolidge, but it is absurd to object to Davis because his law firm does business for the Morgans. Even ex-Presidents, retiring to the practice of law, have taken business from men of great wealth.

PAVING AGREEMENT SIGNED BY THE CHURCH BOARD

Frank White, associated with the Panhandle Construction Company in the mammoth street paving project now under way in Lubbock, has just stated that practically all church boards in Lubbock have agreed to sign contracts with the contractors for paving of the streets and avenues along the church property lines.

The city commission in mapping out the street and avenue areas that will be paved were careful to see that every church in the city was given every consideration, and the spirit of co-operation that has existed between the church boards and the paving contractors is a continuation of earlier considerations given the churches.

Work on the paving project is being rushed in every way possible. The graders having finished work on the first four blocks at the west end of Broadway will be put to work on the west four blocks of Main street today.

Plans are that workmen will start laying curb and gutter on West Broadway early this week, and other features of the paving program are well under way at this time.

LEADERS ASK WITHDRAWAL OF BOTH M'ADOO AND SMITH

Some time after midnight, when there was no prospect of an immediate adjournment the bandmaster, in a facetious mood struck up "We won't be home until morning."

Chairman Walsh sternly called for order. At the next opportunity the bandmaster got in "Three o'clock in the morning" and then swung back into his original favorite and got the crowd singing him him. It was the only note approaching hilarity during a long sweltering night in the garden.

Eugene D. O'Sullivan, Nebraska, delegate moved that in view of the 96th unsuccessful ballot that the floor be cleared of all except delegates and that five secret ballots be taken in which each delegate would cast a ballot on plain white paper, unhampered by the unit rule.

O'Sullivan's resolution was shouted down with derisive laughter. Mrs. Frank P. Lucas, of Missouri moved that the rules be suspended and that the unit rule and the two-thirds rule be abolished. The motion was defeated.

Another motion made that the session remain in continuous session until a nomination was made. Cries of "yes" and "no" when the vote was taken, seemed equal, but chairman Walsh ruled the motion had been defeated.

RALSTON REFUSES DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

and I am absolutely unselfish in my desire to see a good democrat named who can carry the election in November.

"We had it all arranged to nominate Senator Ralston tonight," Taggart said.

"I am satisfied that we could have put him over, but this put a different light on the matter."

Indiana Shifts to McAdoo
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 8.—Following Senator Ralston's second refusal to be a candidate, the Indiana delegation held a caucus just before the night session and upon the suggestion of Tom Taggart, the Indiana delegation decided to vote for Wm. G. McAdoo for several ballots at least. Taggart, in urging this course, said that Indiana owed it to the McAdoo delegation who had left their candidate to help Ralston during the drive of the last two days.

RETAILERS VOTE DOWN MOTION FOR HOLIDAY

An enthusiastic meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association of Lubbock was held at the Busy Bee Cafe Tuesday evening with Raleigh Martin, of Martin & Wolcott, presiding. A. B. Davis, secretary of the association, was the first speaker on the program and made an instructive address on "Functions of the Retail Merchants Association," pointing out many advantages the organization has to offer its membership and emphasizing the necessity of heartiest cooperation among them in making it efficient.

Mr. Davis especially emphasized that the association is something more than a credit rating bureau or the progressive program of work that is to be done by the local association.

The meeting was well attended and keen interest was shown in everything that was said by the speakers.

The meeting took on some of the features of the Democratic convention when the matter of deciding upon a definite hour in the evening for all of the stores in the city to close was brought up for discussion. Several of the merchants insisted that six o'clock was the hour for all stores to close for the day, while seven o'clock was advocated by some and still others insisted that it would be a good idea to have the dry goods stores close promptly at six o'clock and the grocery and hardware stores close at six-thirty, and after several votes had been taken on the matter, it was decided that a committee be appointed and given the responsibility of working out this problem. The committee will be appointed sometime this week and will make a report at the next meeting of the association.

The proposition of closing all the stores of the city at noon on Thursdays throughout the summer months was brought up for discussion, but was voted down unanimously.

EXAMINE BRAKES
Be sure your brakes are in good working order. Investigation by police departments in numerous cities has shown that from 1 to 40 per cent of the motor cars examined had defective brakes.

Automobile clubs and dealers and motor car owners should see to it for their own safety and that of pedestrians that their respective states have adequate laws affecting brakes on motor vehicles.

When a car is running twenty miles an hour it should be possible to stop it within 37 feet, otherwise the brakes are defective. When brakes are applied the marks on the pavement should be about even otherwise the brakes are inefficient.

Each day the sun comes up at dawn to smile upon us all, To see us toiling at our tasks, so great and yet so small; And here it finds a dream begun and there a dream complete, And where stood trees but yesterday now runs a city street.

Perhaps it was the fight to live, the urge to cheat the storm, To meet the winters, cold and long, with velters safe and warm; But day by day the sun rose and looked on earth below And saw that man was upward bound, his eyes with light aglow.

Each day the sun comes up at dawn and sees us as we are; It sees the buildings we have reared the ships we send afar, And patiently I think it waits and watches and believes And glories in each better thing which man at last achieves.

RELATING TO GRANTING OF CONFEDERATE PENSIONS

Senate Joint Resolution No. 10 Proposing an amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas to grant pensions to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows, who have been citizens of Texas since prior to January 1, 1910, providing that all soldiers and their widows eligible under the provisions hereof shall be entitled to be placed upon the rolls and participate in the pension fund created hereunder; levying a tax of seven (5.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) valuation of property in this state for the payment of such pension, providing that the Legislature may reduce the rate of pension for such purposes, fixing a time for the election to be held on such amendment and making an appropriation to pay the expenses thereof.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

SECTION 1.—Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

SECTION 51.—The legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever, provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent or disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors, who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1910, and to their widows, and to their dependents, who have been bona fide residents of the state since January 1, 1910, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors prior to January 1, 1910, and who were in active service during the year between the states served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raiders or Mexican marauders and to indigent or disabled soldiers of the militia of the State of Texas who were in active service during the year between states and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1910, provided that the word "widows" in the preceding lines of this section shall not apply to women born since the year 1861, and all soldiers, and sailors and widows of soldiers and sailors eligible under the above conditions shall be entitled to be placed upon the pension rolls and participate in the distribution of the pension fund of this State under any existing law or laws hereafter passed by the Legislature, and also to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law, provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas a State ad valorem tax on property of seven (5.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate here-in levied, and provided further that the provisions of this Section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity.

SEC. 2.—The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1924, at which all voters shall have the printed or printed on their ballots: "For Amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been a resident of this State since January 1, 1910" and "to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows."

SEC. 3.—The Governor is hereby directed to issue the proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State and the sum of five thousand ($5,000) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the general funds of this state not otherwise appropriated for expenses of publications and elections thereunder.

Approved March 20, 1923.

is regarded as only a matter of time, as he has been unable to make any gains. Walsh of Montana, who has been receiving only a scattering vote ran up to 52 1-2, Meredith of Iowa got 63 1-2. At the same time, George Quinn, of Minnesota moved an adjournment until noon declaring the candidates desired to hold a conference.

100th ballot totals, 1089 votes—Smith 51 1-2; McAdoo 202; J. W. Davis 203 1-2; Underwood 41 1-2; Glass 35; Robinson 46; Governor Bryan 2; Walsh 52 1-2; Meredith 63 1-2; Saulsbury 6; Houston 9; Ritchie 17 1-2; Daniels 22; Baker 41; J. W. Gerard 10; Berry 1; Owen 20.

The convention adjourned 4:03 a. m. until 12 noon eastern time.

McAdoo's letter to the convention technically, is a blanket release of all delegates. He frees them unconditionally, thinks them for their fight in his behalf, and asks them to vote for any one they wish.

The McAdoo letter was read following the 9th ballot. It was dated Madison Square Hotel, July 8, and was addressed to Senator Walsh, chairman of the convention. The letter began by expressing McAdoo's profound gratitude for those who supported him.

The convention, he said, appeared to be unable to make a nomination under the two thirds rule, and a situation had been created which imperiled party success.

McAdoo said that although if he withdrew his name, he would feel like a traitor to those who supported him, he felt the present situation should not be prolonged.

In view of this situation, he said I have determined to leave my supporters and friends free to take such action as in their judgment may best serve the party.

The letter in full follows: "I am profoundly grateful for the support of the men and women who have with such loyalty supported me in this unprecedented struggle for a great cause. The convention has been in session two weeks and appears to be unable to make a nomination under the two-thirds rule. This is an unfortunate situation imperiling party success.

I feel that if I should withdraw my name from the convention, I should be betraying the trust and confidence given to me by people in many states which have sent delegates here to support me and yet I am unwilling to contribute to the continuation of the deadlock. Therefore, I have determined to leave my supporters and friends free to take such action as in their judgment may best serve the interests of the party.

"I have made this fight for the principles and ideals of progressive democracy, for righteousness, and for the defeat of the reactionary and wet elements in the party which threaten to dominate it. (There were hisses at this point) for these principles and ideals to reaction and party will always hold aloft the torch which was to be read from the platform later in the night presenting McAdoo's withdrawal.

This break came at the end of a hectic night which led off with a fast to face meeting between McAdoo and Gov. Al Smith at dinner at the Ritz Carlton hotel. This meeting had been arranged secretly by Chairman Walsh and Cordell Hull, for the purpose of persuading the two leading candidates to withdraw, if possible. At this conference McAdoo offered to quit if Smith would join him in supporting Ralston. Smith declined, knowing that Ralston had already withdrawn his name, so the conference broke up without any results. Smith then offered through Franklin D. Roosevelt, his manager, to withdraw if McAdoo would do the same. There was a refusal at that time, but this stroke of Smith's was a final blow to the McAdoo organization and after it was only a question of time until McAdoo should yield to the persuasion of many of his advisers who felt that the interests of the party demanded an end to the deadlock at once.

It was a hard struggle for McAdoo to give up, because for four years he has been building up an organization throughout the country. This organization was so powerful that even the terrific jolt which the oil disclosures gave him, only slowed him down temporarily, and within a few weeks he was driving ahead stronger than ever.

It was this body of workers which were held by him and made such a prolonged deadlock possible. Before the official announcement of the withdrawal was made the news spread through the hall, and there was a great buzzing and scurrying around. The McAdoo contingent, especially the faithful band of Bag wavers for the first time lost their enthusiasm and they sat with downcast faces as they contemplated the approaching end of one of the most hard fought political campaigns of history.

Earlier in the evening Ralston dropped out of the race and John W. Davis shot ahead but was far from the majority line.

While the technical form of the McAdoo statement does not specify withdrawal it is a release of all delegates and is construed by all his friends as a retirement from the race.

The first attempt of the McAdoo forces now will be to name John W. Davis for president and E. L. Meredith for vice president. The plan is to give Meredith a ride on the presidential balloting in order to groom him for the vice presidential race and then put Davis over and then make Meredith his running mate in short order.

AMERICA'S LOVELIEST GIRL IN NEW FILM

Acclaimed by Harrison Fisher, Purvya Stanlaws, and other famous artists as the most beautiful girl in America, and urged by the men who make beauty contests to enter, with promises to win, Madge Bellamy has started her professional life with looks the average girl would lose an arm to possess. But if you think the "Profile Girl" as Fisher calls her, regards her beauty as an asset, all you have to do is talk with her a while. This girl whose lovely features have enhanced such great pictures as "Hail the Woman," and has now been promoted to stardom, is now appearing in "Are You a Failure?" at the Lindsey Theatre.

"The worst thing I have to contend with," says Miss Bellamy, "is that the cameraman and director don't want me to move my features to make the expressions I think necessary in portraying the emotions of the part. Just as I am in the midst of a scene, the cameraman will cry out, "Don't make your mouth move that way—it makes a shadow." I don't stop to think where the shadows are coming, and I refuse to be just a pretty dummy."

"The nicest thing about my work with Mr. Forman and his cameraman, Mr. Perry, is that they have let me interpret willful little Phyllis Thorne just as I liked. The producer, Mr. Schulberg, is a great believer in naturalness, you know."

A man who says he is too poor to marry is not in love.

MICHAEL-BROUGHTON WEDDING AT THE FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH SUNDAY WAS ONE OF MOST CHARMING OF THE SEASON

Last Sunday morning at 9:00 o'clock at the First Christian Church of Lubbock one of the prettiest weddings of the season took place, uniting in marriage Miss Olive Michael and Mr. Walter H. Broughton.

The church was beautifully decorated by the ladies of this church, for the occasion and Rev. Walter P. Jennings, the pastor, pronounced the beautiful ring ceremony in an impressive manner.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. J. L. Ratliff sweetly sang "Love, Here Is My Heart," with Mrs. Mamie D. Neal accompanist, after which the latter played the processional from Lohengrin.

The ushers, Messrs. A. C. Dodson of Slaton, and H. C. Ragland of Lubbock marched first down the aisle and took their places in the bridal party. Miss Louise Simpson of Slaton, was the maid of honor and was gowned in a peach georgette with a picture hat of blue. Miss Amelia Cowart wore an orchid georgette with cream lace, and a picture hat to match. Mrs. R. E. Overstreet, matron of honor, was dressed in a flesh colored georgette and a hat to correspond. The bridesmaids were very charming in their costumes, and picturesque hats and each carried a beautiful bouquet of tube roses and ferns.

Little Miss Darline Abbott was ring bearer, and in a fairy-like costume of pale green georgette she carried the ring in a lovely single white rose. Miss Doris Peavy of Slaton, was the flower girl and was attractively dressed in flesh colored georgette and carried a beautiful basket of white rose petals.

The bride, handsomely gowned in a pale blue georgette, trimmed in ribbon and white lace, hat to match and white shoes, carried a bouquet of brides roses and ferns, and marched in with her father, Mr. Thos. E. Michael, who gave her away in marriage. The groom entered with the best man, Mr. J. E. Hartley.

After the ceremony, the bridal party left the altar to the strains of the beautiful melody, "March of the Flowers," played by Mrs. Neal. Immediately following the ceremony, an informal reception was rendered Mr. and Mrs. Broughton by the young people of the Sunday School class to which they belong. The reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Sawyer, 1614 Ave. J. Miss Irma Fryer met the guests at the door and ushered them into the beautifully decorated reception room. The bride's cake was surrounded with an elaborate wreath of tube roses and ferns and, as usual, the cutting of the cake was a scene of much enjoyment.

The guest book was presided over by Miss Lottie Mae Cowart and sixty guests registered. At the close of the reception, delicious refreshments of cake and coffee were served by Misses Mar-

Surprise Party Honoring Mrs. Sims
The most unique party of the season, was that of the surprise party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Sims, 902 Avenue Q, at eight-thirty o'clock Saturday evening honoring Mrs. J. E. Sims.

The house was beautifully decorated in pink and white and adorned with baskets of cut flowers. In the center of the dining table was a huge angel food cake topped with seventy-five gandles. Not saying that the lady was seventy-five, but that was the number of candles used.

The party was planned and carried out by the children and grand children of Mrs. Sims, and as the guests gathered around the table in order to watch Mrs. Sims blow the candles out, a large laundry basket was placed in the center of the living room which contained presents from all, this proving to be a great surprise for the honoree. The bottom of the basket was slowly reached as each gift was slowly unwrapped and commented upon.

Conversation was enjoyed and delicious cake and cream was served to the following: Messrs and Mesdames, J. E. Sims, E. W. Sims, of Dallas, J. E. Sims, Ray Sawyer, Fred Sims, Walker Jackson, H. W. Sims, Misses, Laverne and Oro Louise Garrison, Edna and Flora Sims; Messrs, Preston Mayfield, of Abilene and Jack Sims.
