Ferguson Renews Attack On Klan In Speech Here

GIVEN ROUSING RECEPTION BY A HUGE AUDIENCE

TEMPORARY SEAT SPACE IS FILLED LONG BEFORE SPEAKING TIME

James E. Ferguson, former governor of Texas and now campaign manager for his wife, Miriam A. Ferguson, candidate for that office in opposition to Felix D. Robertson, spoke to an audience estimated at more than two thousand people at the court house lawn here last night.

Beginning at eight o'clock and continuing in unabated vigor his long flight upon the Ku Klux Klan, "Farmer Jim" held the interest of the crowd which had gathered from all parts of Lubbock and at least nine adjoining counties to hear him speak.

Beginning more than an hour before the time set for the speaking, the crowd commenced to assemble. Seats with a capacity of five thousand, which had been arranged and doomed ample, were quickly filled and a good half-hour before 8 o'clock, the crowd was standing up in a thick fringe about the seats.

Numerous trees which let the court house square were filled with adventurous spirits who managed in some way to secure their hold on the small limbs of the trees and vigorously applauded the speaker's every declaration of dramatic quality.

One party in the huge crowd was found which had traveled by auto 165 miles in order to hear "Farmer Jim" and the driver appeared well satisfied with the sacrifice and declared he'd be "willing to do it again tomorrow."

Just prior to his being introduced ex-governor Ferguson declared it was the largest crowd he had addressed thus far in the run-off campaign.

The former governor was introduced by J. K. Wester, democratic nominee for representative from 12th district. Mr. Wester was preceded by H. T. Kimbo, chairman of the Lynch Davidson campaign in the South Plains country during the campaign for the first primary and a life long prohibitionist.

He asserted he was for Mrs. Miriam Ferguson for four reasons: "First, because she is going to be the governor of Texas regardless if Jim Ferguson or anyone else."

"Second, because she says she will give ample support to our West Texas Tech. College here."

"Third, because she is an old-fashioned mother, and not a poodle dog mother, but is a mother that has raised real children."

U. S. BIRDMEN TO RESUME FLIGHT ON WORLD TOUR

JUMP CONSIDERED MORE HAZARDOUS AS FURTHER DELAY OCCASIONED

REYKJAVIK, August, 20.—Lts. Smith, and Nelson plan to resume their flight around the world at three o'clock Thursday morning. A new propeller and struts have been landed here from the Cruiser Richmond, and mechanics are busy fitting the parts.

The next hop will be clear across the southern tip of Greenland to Frederiksland, a distance of more than 800 miles.

The flight no longer is simply an American adventure. Lt. Locatelli, the Italian flyer, who left Pisa when the Americans were in England, has overtaken them and will make the long jumps from Reykjavik to Boston in company with them.

The flyers may pause at Frederiksland only long enough to refuel for the flight to Ivigtut, Lt. Smith said. This is dependent upon weather conditions along the Greenland shores.

Their plans call for an overnight stop at Frederiksland but the flyers may continue their flight to Ivigtut Thursday. From Frederiksland to Ivigtut is but 150 miles. They plan to remain one day at Ivigtut and then proceed to Indian Harbor Labrador. The flight then will be down the coast to Boston.

Rear Admiral Thomas Magruder, commanding the convoy squadron, ordered two seaplanes to prepare for flight as the Richmond steamed toward Reykjavik with repairs for Nelson's and Smith's damaged planes. It was Magruder's intention to put the planes over about 80 miles off Reykjavik, with the spare parts aboard and thus to save three or four hours in landing the material here. Had that program been followed, the flyers might have been able to hop off Wednesday.

But at dawn when the planes were due to leave the Richmond, the cruiser was pounding through heavy seas that made any such scheme impossible.

After learning that weather reports from Greenland were encouraging Smith said that the flight would be resumed at once.

"I want to see some Greenland mountains, and I want to see them quick," the flight commander said.

The American flyers and Locatelli should reach Boston about September 1. Every day of delay now makes the completion of the flight much more hazardous. After the long hop from Iceland to Greenland, which will require about 12 hours the flyers will turn southward for the almost as lengthy flight between Greenland and Labrador. In the Newfoundland region south of Labrador fog may become a menace almost as serious as ice blocked harbors further north.

The Richmond is returning to its station in the chain of boats which will stand by while the flyers accomplish the longest flight yet attempted during their trip.

Reykjavik is now being raked by a stiff wind but reports from the ships of the convoy squadron lying west of here said weather conditions were good.

Food Supply Short

INDIAN HARBOR LABRADOR, Aug. 20.—Food and oil shortages aboard the U. S. Navy vessels comprising the convoy fleet for Lt. L. Smith and Nelson may become so serious as to interfere with the American world flight if the hop off from Iceland is delayed much longer.

No navy oil tankers are believed to be near enough to Rear Admiral Thomas Magruder's squadron to relieve the situation.

LEAGUE MUTUAL PLAN REJECTED

COMPULSORY WORLD-WIDE DISARMAMENT URGED BY GERMANY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The German government, it is learned here, has sent a note to the League of Nations rejecting the League plan of mutual assistance as impracticable and urging compulsory world wide disarmament.

The German answer argues that the idea of an "aggressive war" cannot be clearly defined and that in many cases a declaration of war can be interpreted as serving defensive aims.

The letter further declares that the council of the League of Nations does not present an independent court of arbitration because its members are selected with consideration for political viewpoints and act under instructions from their respective governments, and that the provision that decisions must be unanimous in a grave handicap to the functioning of arbitration. The German government makes the following counter proposals:

- 1. To prohibit all separate agreements contradicting the fundamental ideas of the League's covenant and to cancel all similar stipulations in existing treaties.

- 2. To supplement the world court which has to deal with legal contests by an arbitration court for political conflicts invested with compulsory authorities.

- 3. Compulsory world wide disarmament.

MEMBERSHIP IN MUNICIPAL GOLF ASSOCIATION GROWING STEADILY, MANY PLAY ON COURSE EVERY DAY

The development of the Municipal Golf Association in Lubbock, which is at this time one of the most popular sports organizations in this section, has been marked by hard, conscientious work on the part of several members of the Lubbock Country Club whose interest in golf coupled with their civic pride, caused them to make personal sacrifices in the interest of the great game.

The Lubbock Municipal Golf course in the county park is one of the most popular play grounds in this section and daily attractions quite a number of local people who are growing more fond of the game as they learn more about it. In fact this course has made it possible for many who could not conveniently hold membership in the Lubbock Country Club and thereby enjoy the privileges of the club links, to be enabled to play on as good a course as can be found anywhere. In this connection the members of the country club who so splendidly gave of their time and money in assisting the officers and members of the Lubbock Municipal Golf Association, make a success of it rendered a valuable service that means much to Lubbock.

One prominent local man who has not been a resident of Lubbock but a few months, stated recently that one of the things that was especially attractive to him and caused him to give Lubbock a bit more attention than the several other towns he had under prospect as a place to make his home was the fact that this city was awake enough to support a municipal golf course, so it is hard to estimate the value of the association to Lubbock when even not considering the recreational value it holds to local golfers and would-be golfers.

Membership in the association is growing steadily and there is no doubting now that golf here can be a great game in Lubbock, and one that is appreciated by many local business and professional men.

NOMINEES FOR VICE PRES. COME INTO THEIR OWN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Vice Presidential candidates have come into their own as is evidenced by the attention lavished on the acceptance speeches of Bryan and Daves.

In past campaigns, the notification ceremonies of the running mates attracted about as much attention as the preliminaries at a championship fight. They gave the candidates townsfolk an opportunity to see the party notables assembled for the ceremony. The outside world was content with the messenger accounts in the public prints.

But this year, the acceptance speeches of Bryan and Daves are being printed in full by many papers, with the same dignity that attaches to a presidential message. They are gravely analyzed in lengthy editorials and on the whole receive almost as much attention as the acceptance speeches of Coolidge and Davis. Wheeler, the progressive candidate following the example of his chief, LaFollette, is making no acceptance speech but there is great eagerness to know what he will say in his opening campaign speech which probably will be delivered on labor day.

Two main reasons may be given for this unusual interest in the vice presidential aspirants. One is that all three are men of unique personality and have an indefinable flare for making themselves interesting public figures. The other reason is the possibility that Daves, Bryan or Wheeler may be president should the election be thrown into congress. This would come about, if at all, through the failure of the evenly divided house to elect a president should the electoral college fail to give any of the three a majority. The constitution provides that if the house is unable to elect by March 4, the senate shall ballot on the two highest vice presidential candidates, the victor to become president.

But aside from this possibility which is entirely hypothetical, there is a genuine interest in the three candidates who are far from the colorless and inoffensive political hacks who so often are picked up at the tail-end of a convention to complete the ticket.

Of the three Daves is the best candidate probably because of the cunning out he gave congress, his work as instigator of the federal budget system, and his part in drafting the European reparations plan which bears his name. His musical compositions and his underling pipe have given him more fame. The bitterness of organized labor toward Daves for his opposition to the closed shop has made him one of the principal targets of the anti-republican candidate so that he almost as much as Coolidge has become an issue.

Bryan shines largely in the reflected glory of his famous brother, Wm. "Brother Charles" as he is known in Nebraska, established public coal yards and fought the gasoline trust. Cartoonists are having a good time with the little black skull cap which he always wears and with the idea that his famous brother is pulling the strings from behind. But underneath the fun, which the conservative east is having with Bryan, is a sense of apprehension because if the election should get tangled up in congress the LaFollette group in the senate would choose him in preference to Daves being compelled to select from the two highest vice presidential candidates. So that if the question of selecting a president ever comes before the senate, Bryan is the likely choice unless the LaFollette ticket comes out second, in which Wheeler probably would be chosen. LaFollette holds the balance of power in the senate, and he will never consent to seeing Daves elected.

DAVIS TO SWING INTO WEST ON CAMPAIGN

By United News. NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—After his speech at Wheeling, W. Va., on Labor Day, John W. Davis will strike into the west, beginning a campaign tour which may take him as far as Denver and will include at least a score of speeches at widely scattered points of the Mississippi Valley.

The program for the democratic western invasion has reached an advanced stage. When Davis hits here, August 31, for Wheeling, he will bid the east good bye for at least two weeks, possibly longer, and after the pause at Wheeling will continue directly westward. The intermediate points of the itinerary have not been finally decided, but Des Moines, in all probability will be the scene of the nominee's most determined appeal to the farm vote.

As two United States senators are to be elected in Colorado, this year, and their election is closely associated with the national campaign, it has been suggested that Denver be the western terminus of the Davis speaking tour. California democrats are still trying to persuade Daves to continue to the Pacific coast, but the plans so far do not call for such an extensive tour.

The swing into the west will occupy at least two weeks and at the democratic headquarters here it is expected that Davis will average at least a speech a day during that time.

At the end of this fortnight, the candidate, instead of returning direct to New York may stop in Chicago for a while, if he does, the program would call for spending another two weeks on speaking tours to cities near Chicago particularly to centers of the corn belt. The final decision of the proposal however, will depend on the initial success of the speaking tour, on the tactics of the republicans and independents and the general turn the campaign has taken by that time.

Salter Denies Charge That Is Made By Rogers

By United News. WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 20.—A charge made by Rear Admiral W. L. Rogers, USN, in a statement at the Institute of Politics here, that England dominates the League of Nations and promoted the Washington arms conference in order to limit the merchant fleet of the United States and thereby cut off the competition of this country in mercantile shipping, has brought a sharp retort from Sir Arthur Salter, of the League of Nations.

"If I may not say that we are quite as wicked as you think we are, I am quite sure that we are much stupider," said Sir Arthur at an open conference at the Institute, in summing up his answer to Rogers' assertion.

A careful study of each by itself, by newspapers and by bankers Salter said, without consideration of a general shipping policy was the "curious secret" of the growth of the British mercantile marine. He denied that any subsidies were paid by the British government except fast passenger ships carrying mail and declared he knew nothing of preferential rates.

In a lecture Tuesday night, Yussuke Tsurumi, Japanese spokesman, after outlining the factors which had impeded his country's progress before the war, spoke of the great political and social changes which occurred simultaneously with the industrial revolution in 1914.

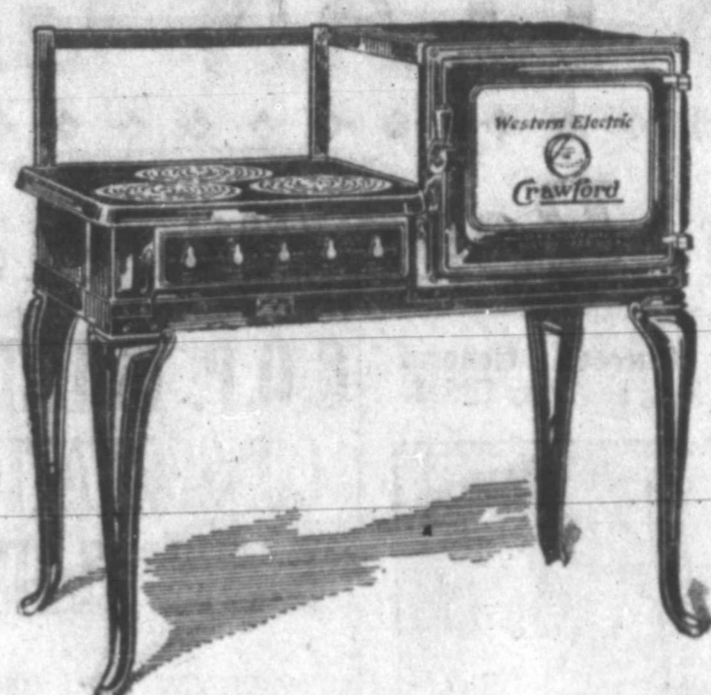

Tsurumi declared that not only had a large and prosperous middle class been created at that time, but that a liberal spirit took root. "The latter movement," he said, "is more than a temporary effort to cultivate good will between Japan and China. It is an expression of the growing desire of the Japanese to take up a new study of oriental civilization."

"Politics" is pretty badly mixed not only in Montana, where Senator Wheeler is supporting Senator Walsh on the Democratic ticket while serving as running mate on the LaFollette ticket, but in Kentucky, where the Courier-Journal is supporting Davis for President yet determinedly opposing the re-election of Stanley, the Democratic Senatorial nominee.

"PROGRESSIVE" and "REACTIONARY"

Some weeks ago a metropolitan editor, objecting to the use of the term "reactionary" as a mere "political cuss word" which not "one man in a thousand" employing it "could say what it means," even went so far as to say that the fathers of the republic might have been called reactionaries because of their immovable devotion for their chosen principles. It did not seem to occur to him that if the lexicographers are right in their definitions, and if the founders had been reactionaries, there would have been no American public for them to "father," they would have stuck to King George and the United States would now have been another Canada. For Webster's unabridged defines "reaction (politics)" as "backward tendency or movement after revolution, reform or progress," and "reactionary" as "one who seeks to undo political progress."

We are reminded of this by a passage in John W. Davis' speech of acceptance, which, taken altogether apart from the political application given it, or that may be read into it, is highly interesting merely as a definition. It reads:

"The words 'Progressive' and 'Reactionary' have been much used in American politics. There has been little effort to define their meaning. They are becoming mere tags to which politicians fasten onto themselves or their opponents without indulging in any mental process that remotely resembles thought. But, like shipping tags, the thing that really counts is the destination written on them—progress to what; reaction from what—that is the real question. Motion may be either backward or forward; it may even be going around in circles. From my point of view he only deserves to be called a progressive who can not see a wrong persist without an effort to redress it, or a right denied without an effort to protect it; who feels a deep concern for the economic welfare of the United States, but realizes that the making of better men and women is a greater matter still; who in his bearing on human rights rather than upon material things; who believes profoundly in human or in whatever disguise, and who finds the true test of success in the welfare of the many and not the prosperity and comfort of the few. The civic unit of America is not the dollar but the individual man. All that goes to make better and happier and freer men and women is progress; all else is reaction."

In our opinion the term "progressive" has been much more abused than the term "reactionary." As a rule the latter has been more or less correctly understood by conservatives who stand "pat" for existing conditions or arrangements and object to any reform movements even though it be widely recognized as giving fair promise of national benefit. But the term "progressive" in the mouths of misguided enthusiasts seemingly forgetful that there is such a thing as "progress" in the wrong direction, has too often been made to cover a multitude of (political) sins.

KEEP THE HOME FIRES BURNING WITHOUT BURNING THE HOME

"Keep the Home Fires Burning Without Burning the Home." is one of the bottom-of-the-page slogans, which appears on the bulletin "Chimneys, Flues and Fireplaces," just published by the National Lumber-Manufacturers Association.

The bulletin is issued to assist in the effort to reduce fire losses resulting from structural defects in dwelling house construction. It advocates a regular test of chimneys and urges architects to write in the specifications a requirement that the contractor who builds the chimney should make a smoke test before his scaffolding is taken down. The present practice, it says, of expecting the heating engineer to make the test is faulty since he usually comes on the job after the scaffolding has been removed. Under such conditions, the smoke test is usually omitted or not thoroughly made.

"Chimneys, Flues and Fireplaces" has twelve pages of text with eleven illustrative plates and a full page illustration showing views of a chimney with its flues and fireplaces as typical of a good construction from cellar to top of chimney.

FARMS FOR RENT FREE OF CHARGE

A statement from an Ohio paper says that an Ohio farmer has offered to turn over, rent free, to any responsible farmer, any one of three good farms which he owns, providing the farmer will pay the taxes, assessments and insurance on the property, keep up the necessary fences, make necessary repairs and maintain the soil fertility. One farm has 40 acres, another 50 acres and the third 150 acres. The good land now lies idle, produces no income, does not pay the taxes. The farmer needs from the government some of the quick remedies which half-baked, vote seeking politicians suggest and advocate. What he needs, and what we all need, is just simplified, economical government, based solely on the principles of the greatest good to the greatest number.

We heard an East Texas land owner state a few farmers from that part of the state not leaving them with the poorest and most unsuccessful tillers of the soil, and for that reason their farms are not making them anything and in fact are hardly paying the taxes and upkeep.

West Texas is fast becoming the best agricultural section of the state, and the rich lands of this section are attracting the attention of the very best farmers in the state. The fact that our lands are now rich however, is no indication that they are going to remain rich if we don't use the proper methods of farming. Diversified farming and the rotation of crops will aid in keeping the farm land rich and productive, and this should be considered in the planning of crops throughout the years to come.

West Texas is going to be the chief cotton production section of the state, but we hope the one-crop country, for the farmers never get rich at that, and in a few years it will mean bankruptcy. Diversify and keep the country rich, and make good crops along some line every year.

TO DEVISE MEANS OF IMPROVING RURAL SCHOOLS

Teachers Colleg, Columbia University has adopted the Old Quaker Grove School in Warren County, N. J., for a period of five years, according to reports received by the United States Bureau of Education. This is its experimental rural school. The principal occupations of the neighborhood are dairying and truck farming. Last year 20 children were enrolled in grades 4 to 8, and 30 in the first three grades. The large number of children in lower grades due largely to the presence of a considerable number of Polish families, largely young people with children under ten years of age. This heavy load of primary pupils has the advantage compelling steady attention to the first and second grades, a group frequently neglected in one-teacher schools. The distribution of pupils in the upper grades is similar to that in thousands of rural schools in the United States.

It is hoped that the experiment may show that by providing the one-teacher school with standard term, equipment, teacher and supervision and by adapting course of study, textbooks, methods, and devices to rural school needs, means may be devised whereby the advantages may be used to counterbalance their disadvantages and limitations.

INDUSTRIAL SUBJECTS WIDELY INTRODUCED IN TEXAS SCHOOLS

The Legislature of Texas revised its "rural aid law" in 1923. One of the important provisions of the revision is the stipulation that state aid not to exceed $250 may be granted to one school in any district with which to purchase the necessary equipment for teaching industrial subjects according to plans furnished or approved by the State department of education. Although but one year has passed since the opportunity for introducing this phase of school work into the small rural schools was offered, 180 schools located in 65 counties have received aid under the act, according to reports made to the United States Bureau of Education. As a means of stimulating schools to take advantage of the provisions of the law of the State department of education has just issued a bulletin showing what has been accomplished in a year, the requirements of a rural school seeking aid for equipment for industrial training, and instructions as to qualifications.

JAPAN'S NEWSPAPERS.

Japan is the one Oriental country today where the daily press is a true mirror of the people's mind, leader in the development of the national character. Nowhere else is the vernacular press so widely disseminated, or a social force exerting so powerful an influence over a reading public of millions. There are more than 1,000 newspapers in various parts of Japan, exclusive circulation. A large number of these daily papers print half the news in English and half in Japanese. Their total daily issue has been estimated at more than 5,000,000 copies. But their mere number and volume are not the most significant features of such enterprises; it is the leadership they exert in the progressive thought of the nation.

The Japanese newspapers wield a potent sceptre over the daily ideas of courts and coolies alike, housewives, politicians, kurumamen and merchant princes. It wages campaigns, plunges into the thick of action and not frequently, in periods of stagnation, creates a fight where one is lacking. In no nation of the world is the press more free, fearless and independent. It is the backbone of the young, progressive element.

LEGISLATURES GIVING MORE ATTENTION TO CHILD WELFARE

Child welfare is receiving a great deal of attention from State legislatures. Many legislatures have recently provided for State child welfare commissions, and in a number of states the laws have authorized the organization of county welfare associations. A phase of welfare which has appeared in several recent laws is the "children's code commission." This is a body created by the legislature to study child welfare and suggest a revision in codified form of all the State's laws relating to children. Among the States to recently create the children's code commissions are New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Florida, Kentucky, North Dakota and Utah.

PROSPERITY IS FORECAST FOR FARMERS.

Accompanied by C. T. Jaffray, president of the Agricultural Credit Corporation, Meyer conferred for more than an hour with the president.

"Conditions everywhere in the West," Meyer said, "are improving rapidly. It is the most radical improvement in agriculture in years. The most

M'COY PROBABLY ENTER GUILTY PLEA IN MORS CASE FOR INSANITY DEFENSE THUS AVOIDING TRIAL ON THEFT CHARGE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—In the intricate defeat with which Kid McCoy gallant fighters and forceful lawyer will battle indictments for murder and robbery, there may be included a plea of guilty to the playing of Mrs. Theresa Mors.

This possibility, advanced Wednesday when McCoy's attorneys secured a postponement until Monday for the plea of insanity upon the well founded belief that the former idol of the prize ring will offer insanity evidence to save him from the gallows.

The penalty for murder, other than hanging, is from one year to life, with the possibility of parole, if mitigating circumstances are proven. By pleading guilty, McCoy will avoid going on trial for robbery, an offense which carries a penalty of from 15 years to life.

The district attorney's office has given assurance that it is more than sufficient evidence to gain a conviction for robbery. With this knowledge defense attorneys are thought to be anxious to avoid trial on these charges preferring to plead guilty to the more serious charge of murder and relying upon their ability to put forward insanity evidence to secure a minimum penalty.

This proceeding, will call for a hearing before a jury. Shacked to Harry J. Dunlap, "Badge bandit" now being tried for robbery, McCoy was led before Superior Judge Cecil Edmundo where the indictments of the county grand jury were read to him.

The once dapper beau was unkempt and disheveled, in his prison denials hanging loosely about him. When the words "did you willfully and unlawfully kill and murder one Theresa Mors?" were reached the Kid bristled.

"I did not," he shouted. Cautioned to silence by his attorneys, McCoy remained quiet. Monday was set for the entering of formal pleas. He was again led through curious crowds which jammed the courtroom and lined the streets, back to his cell, at the county jail.

McCoy's attorneys went into conference a short time later, during this period, speculation concerning the nature of their plea arose. With reports that large sums are being raised by former friends of the pugilist, names of famous criminal lawyers are being mentioned as possible additions to his legal staff.

What district attorney Asa Keyes declares is a strong bit of evidence against McCoy was revealed Wednesday when Mrs. Jennie Thomas the alleged slayer sister gave up jewels valued at $12,000 which Mrs. Mors was said to have been wearing at the time of her death.

Mrs. Thomas offered no explanation of how she came into possession of the gems, but Keyes stated that he was satisfied McCoy gave them to her at the time he told her "I'm afraid I have killed Theresa." This, according to Keyes, would give robbery as the motive for the killing and is linked to the wild outbreak of McCoy the following morning in which he is said to have robbed four persons and wounded three others.

Tennis Contests To Be Played For Three Days

Plans for a number of good tennis contests during the second annual West Tennis tournament to be held here August 27th, 28th, and 29th are being made, and some of the best tennis men in the state are expected to participate.

This tournament will be confined to men's singles and doubles, for which there will be two cups offered. The doubles cup is now held by Bush and Elder of Amarillo and will be played for again this year. There will be a new cup offered in singles.

The West Texas Tennis Association was organized in August, 1923, with a membership including towns in all parts of West Texas. C. M. Adams of Colorado being elected president of the Association.

There will not be a limit on the number of men entered from each town, but it is suggested that each town hold tournaments and send their strongest men, in this way some high class tennis will be assured. Those wishing to enter tournament or desiring information concerning same are asked to communicate with Otis J. Felty, Secretary of the West Texas Tennis Association, Lubbock, Texas.

Appropriate entertainment for the visitors will be worked out by the local members of the association.

FIRE BROKE OUT MEAT STORE TODAY

Fire, said to have originated from a lighted cigarette that was thrown in a trash box, did slight damage to the building at 612 19th street which is occupied by the Lubbock Meat Company, owned by Percy Webb, Wednesday at twelve o'clock. The business of the company was not interfered with, as members of the Lubbock Fire Department rushed to the scene immediately after the alarm was turned in and the blaze was extinguished before any headway was made. Damage was estimated at less than fifty dollars.

The Lubbock Meat Company does a wholesale business and quite an extensive stock would have been damaged but for the quick work of the fire department.

This is the first fire to occur in Lubbock since June 24th when a residence at 1407 Avenue P was slightly damaged by flames. Much favorable comment has been made on the record that is being made in keeping fire losses to the minimum.

FOUR ARMED BANDITS GET JEWELRY WORTH $150,000

IN OUR DREAMS

In our days of enchantment we dreamed
Of the conquests some time we'd achieve;
Too simple almost to believe.
We knew that great numbers had failed,
For we'd seen them go drifting along;
But we thought in our youth, when assailed,
That we should be noble and strong.
So easy life seemed to us then;
We had but to be brave and be true,
And the world should receive us as men.
And cheer us and honor us, too,
Then never a danger we'd meet
We fancied should frighten us back.
We should never acknowledge defeat.
Though an army of foes might attack.

We should on the side of the right
Forever defending the weak,
And wherever life asked us to fight
No selfish advantage we'd seek;
We saw ourselves leading the way,
Putting tempters and bribers to shame;
In the dreams of that far yesterday
Life's joys seemed too easy to claim.
But care does not show in our dreams,
And the heart never chills with despair;
Youth sees but the hill top that gleams
And not the discouragement there
In our days of enchantment we think
That the fates shall not deal us
one blow
Which we shall falter or sink,
And 'tis well for us all this is so.

WALTER P. CHRYSLER'S TRAFFIC TALKS

FIRST TRAFFIC SIGNS IN 1903

In November, 1903, 100 blue and white enameled signs, directing slow-moving vehicles to keep near the right-hand curb, were put in use in New York. These were probably the first traffic regulation signs ever used. Since that time signs of every shape, color, and size imaginable have multiplied.

Signs should never be used where they obstruct view of driver. Signs should be clearly worded. Trick signs which caution the motorist to "Slow Down" for a bite to eat, should not be tolerated.

Two colors are enough. One for the background and one yellow and black, orange and black and red and white.

The simpler the sign and easier to understand the better.

BELT FORCED FROM DUNDEE ACCOUNT WEIGHT LIMIT

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER
NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Johnny Dundee, the Indian-rubber boy, who won the featherweight championship of the world last summer after ten years of waiting, has been forced to vacate the title without ever having raised a fist to defend it. Dundee is suffering from the terrible affliction that prize-fighters call "the pounds." He has grown too big to make the limit of 126 pounds five hours before ring time without, as the saying goes in his trade, cutting off a leg or shaving himself six months under the skin.

Dundee's manager, Charlie Johnston, called on the boxing commission at Wednesday's regular meeting and admitted the worst. Johnny will not retire from the ring but will totter along to the next higher class, the lightweight. But he is 31 years old now and is so decrepit that there is almost no chance of his winning the title which Benny Leonard holds but must soon relinquish.

In the last few years he has been a human sponge, able to sop up weight or wring it out of his system as the weight agreements for his fights required. Last fall, after he had given Eugene Criqui of France a needless beating to take the featherweight title from the French soldier, Dundee's displacement shot higher than 140 pounds. He was not worried then because he had often found himself actually in the featherweight class and had trimmed himself down in time to keep his engagements. Realizing, however, that Joe Gans the old negro fighter, champion, had worn himself to a ghost by taking off too much weight, Dundee began to admit to himself that he was no longer a featherweight, and must go after the lightweight title.

He had fought Benny Leonard nine times when both were younger so he went after a decision fight with Benny which was arranged for the Yankee stadium. The seat sale was going well, notwithstanding strange whispers which were being passed down Broadway concerning the probable outcome of the fight, when Dundee rashly took a match with a local boy in Philadelphia to fight himself into shape. The Philadelphia boy kid Warner not rated then as a first class featherweight could Dundee in a rolyoly condition and gave him a disastrous hammering which was fatal to the Leonard match and caused the cancellation of Dundee's chance to take the title. Dundee has had about 300 recorded fights and probably 100 more which are not in the books. He has lost most of his battles in the last year, incidentally taking some bad thrashings from heavier men, but the only knock-out he ever suffered was the one that Willie Satch slipped over on him in 1917. Jackson was then a youngster and Dundee had agreed to "carry him along." Johnny was careless, Jackson clouted him and knocked him cold. Willie was never able to repeat, though they have fought many times since.

SPANIARD TO MEET TILDEN IN FIRST TENNIS ROUND

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Manuel Alonzo, the Spanish Davis cup player, and the only man to defeat Wm. T. Tilden in a singles match this year, will be Tilden's first opponent in the national championship tournament at Forest Hills next week in which Tilden defends the title. The draw was made at the bankers club in New York, Wednesday afternoon in the presence of several celebrities.

Eight Americans and eight foreign stars were seeded, or scattered, in the battle array to prevent too many meetings between players in the early rounds and enable the saving of the big fellows for the later clashes.

Tilden drew a blank in the first round and his first match with Alonzo therefore will be a second round affair.

Tilden, Wm. Johnston, Vincent Richards, E. Norris Williams, Howard Kinsey, Brian Norton, Francis Hunter and Harvey Snodgrass are the American seeded players.

Eight countries are represented by the 80 players in the tournament. Jean Borotra, of France and Carl Fisher of Philadelphia will meet in the first round; Clarence

ENTHUSIASM HIGH IN ATHLETICS AT CANYON

CANYON, Aug. 19.—Enthusiasm is at a high pitch among the students and ex-students of the West Texas State Teachers' College as a result of the outlook for athletics with the coming year. The center of attraction at present is the Home Coming Game with Simmons College at Canyon on October 25. It is probable that this game will draw the largest gate receipts of any game in this section of the country.

Interest is centered on this one event to the fact that the Simmons team will be coached by Elmer Shotwell, and ex-student of the Teachers' College and an ex-Buffalo. He will be remembered as having been coach of the Abilene high school teams for the last several years, coping the state championship last season. Practically all of Shotwell's high school team will accompany him to Simmons at the beginning of training and it will be of great interest to see how the high school champions match up with experienced college players. They will have a formidable aggregation to meet in Burton's pupils and if they exceed in routing the Buffalo's they will have to play super-football.

Extra bleachers are already under construction for the game and the crowd will be adequately taken care of.

Stunts of various kinds are being planned by students and organizations of different kinds. The Red Men intend to have their whole tribe unite in special dresses on horses. This alone ought to be worth the price of a ticket.

DODGERS BREAK INTO WINNING HABIT OF PIRATES

When this season is over, it may be learned that the humble Brooklyn Dodgers who began the season without prospects, reputation or much ambition, have presented the Giants with another pennant.

The Dodgers have broken the winning habit of the Pirates, the only club that has been able to threaten the champions, Wednesday the Dodgers whipped the Pirates again 3 to 2. It has been a sudden check for the Pirates. They mopped up the entire series with the Giants. Then the Dodgers landed in iPttsburgh and began to maltreat them. Wednesday's victory for the Dodgers was their third straight over the Soot City.

In 26 games, the Pirates have lost six and five of those six were lost to the Brooklyn Club. Bill Doak, the elderly Sunday school teacher who led the league as a member of the Cards in 1914, held the Pirates to six hits Wednesday.

The Cubs fell away to fourth place and the Dodgers advanced to third.

It was a drab day for the Chicago team as the Braves beat them two games in Chicago and shut them out for the entire 18 innings. The Cubs got only nine hits all afternoon, three from Geenwich in first game and six from Barnes in the second. The score was 2 to 0 and 5 to 0. The Cards beat the Phils 3 to 1. In the first game at St. Louis, the result of the second game was 13 to 10 in the Cards favor.

There was only one contest in the American League, Cleveland was beaten by the Red Sox in Boston 5 to 4.

SUSPENSION ON GREB IS LIFTED FOR ONE NIGHT

By United News.
NOW YORK, Aug., 20.—Harry Greb, middleweight champion of the world under suspension by the New York Massachusetts boxing commissions since April, has been reinstated in New York. The suspension had been lifted for one night to let him defend the title against Ted Moore, the Englishman, in a charity bout, largely for the benefit of the fighters themselves. Greb won easily and the suspension became effective again. Greb and Kid Norfolk, the negro, were suspended together in Massachusetts for rough fighting in a bout in Boston. The New York commission simply co-operated with the New England body. Norfolk also has been reinstated in New York.

FERGUSON RENEWS ATTACK ON KU KLUX KLAN HERE

second to none of its kind in the country. I have talked with many of your townsmen, since I reached here, and I understand that the school will need $250,000 for equipment and salaries during the coming two years, and here and now I can pledge my wife to appropriating that amount in addition to the money for the site and structure needed. Robertson could promise you anything that popped into his head, for he'll not be governor and so want have to make good. My good wife, though, cannot do that, she is going to be our next governor."

In her official power to make it "Farmer Jim" then unloaded his guns on the Klan and every shot struck the bull's eye judging by the enthusiastic applause that swept the square whenever he paused.

"You boys in the Klan are being delivered to Robertson, 192,000 of you, and he'll sell you out, turn his back on you, or do whatever he pleases. Today I see where he downed everyone of you and said he wasn't going to appoint a single Klansman to office if he was elected governor. He has told you that he was against the Catholics—he's sold you that idea, and now he is a blowed up sucker, and knows it, and is fighting for Catholic votes and threatening to bankrupt the state if necessary to protect the Catholics in their worship. They do not want his or anyone else's protection. All they want is a chance to worship in peace and be allowed to go their own way as they wish and see fit."

"Tomorrow when he reads that Thomas Barton, in my home town of Temple last night, told of having had a conversation with Zeke Marvin, head of the Klan in Texas, last Sunday week, and of having refused to support Robertson, he'll be cussing Barton again. Barton said that Marvin told him he could have any office in the Klan, or any office the Klan could elect him to if he'd come out for Robertson.

MARKETS

STEEL LEADS GROUP INTO NEW HIGH FOR YEAR

By United News.
By EDWARD J. CONDLON.
NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The forward movement of the stock market is being well seasoned by technical adjustments along the way. The mid-week association saw U. S. Steel common lead a representative group of industrial stocks into new high ground for the year only to lose most of the advantage gained by a burst of selling in the final hour. The market, however, is by no means stale. Buyers of course are becoming more cautious as prices force ahead but million share days this week, with the Wednesday session one of the most active of the season, prove that public's interest in the proceedings. Railroad securities appear suffer from periodic lapses. Just at present, the rail section of the list is leaning heavily on the side of the decline. The failure of the executive committee of the Erie to arrive at any definite conclusion regarding the Nickel Plate merger at their meeting caused disappointment in some quarters, and resulted in a narrow market for the shares of the roads involved in the proposed consolidation.

The weekly reviews of the steel trade while indicating further improvement in the industry do not indicate that the London settlement will have any immediate effect upon the steel market. It is pointed out by the Iron Age that while sales are on the increase there is an easing in prices noted. The cotton market stiffened perceptibly on the weekly weather report though the report itself was less favorable than many in the trade had expected. Much of the late firmness was due to the weather forecasts for Texas which showed no general rains in the state where 22 stations had maximum temperatures of 100 to 108 degrees. The trade is awaiting the government report on the crop conditions Saturday noon.

Grains were depressed, particularly corn, on reports of warmer weather. Corn was erratic at times once dropping two points with a few minutes. Bradstreet's Journal this week makes the total supply of wheat in the United States and Canada 89,491,000 bushels, an increase of 6,662,000 over a week ago. Corn in the United States and Canada is listed as 6,075,000 bushels, an increase of 441,000 from last week, and oats 19,233,000, a decrease of 1,219,000.

FLYERS PLAN GREENLAND HOP

plish the convoy tanks. About sixty thousand gallons of oil are aboard each of the navy vessels. The cruiser Milwaukee, which was marked for second duty, is known to carry some surplus, but 30,000 gallons of oil must be kept in reserve for the return voyage to Halifax.

Aboard the Richmond, the Raleigh and the destroyers, the shortage may easily become serious if it is held here. When the Richmond turned away from her station in the convoy line to carry spare parts to Reykjavik, a speed of only 12 knots an hour was maintained because the storage tanks were running a bit low. The Richmond is one of the fastest of the navy's boats, and could have done nearly three times that speed if the fuel had been available. Several days would be required for a tanker from Halifax to carry oil to the convoy stations in mid-sea.

Fine weather on both coasts of the north Atlantic channel over which the flyers must pass would make the present an ideal time for the attempt. Summer is a short season here and the flyers must take advantage of such lucky weather breaks as the present one if they are to succeed. It also is reported that fresh food is running low aboard the convoy squadron and the cooks have begun to draw upon sea stores.

LIFE-LONG ENEMY OF TOBACCO DIES IN CHICAGO

By United News.
CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Lucy Page Gaston, arch enemy of tobacco for forty years, and famous the world over as the temperance superintendent and founder of the National Anti-Cigarette League, died late Wednesday in the Hinsdale Sanitarium, where she was operated on several days ago for cancer of the throat. She was 64 years old. The aggressive and indomitable spirit which made her respected the world over even by those who did not share her views, manifested itself a few hours before her death.

ATTEMPTED TO SELL CAR TO POLICEMAN

Summoning all her strength, Miss Gaston dictated a long statement declaring her faith in her work, and asking that it be carried on after her death.
"If my work is done," she said at the time, "then I can face death with no misgiving. If it is not done, I know that I shall be spared."
Her breakdown in health dated from an accident in January, when she was struck by a street car, and seriously injured. Several months ago she was removed from her little home on the north side, where she had lived for a generation, to a hospital. She lapsed into unconsciousness early Wednesday.

An extensive experiment in the cultivation of Egyptian cotton is being carried on in Italian Somaliland.

RURAL SCHOOL NOTES

The Hardy Rural school people, as well as many folks around Monroe, and Liberty, will be interested in the following report as put out by authorities.

Down in Van Zandt the Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Leola Cox, has made a wonderful record. The lady was chosen for her work from the Hardy school in Lubbock county, and after passing favorably an examination at College Station, was sent immediately to Van Zandt county to enter the Home Demonstration Department. Miss Cox entered the field with a determination to win, and has had throughout the spring four hundred girls and ladies in her department. The victory usually comes to those who earnestly strive and so it came to Miss Cox and her charge. In the elimination contest held in Van Zandt, Miss Eva Roscoe, won the county championship in the clothing department. Van Zandt county sent Miss Roscoe to the state contest at A. & M. College and here the girl ran true to her colors and reflected honor upon her instructor by winning the state championship on her School Dress. Miss Roscoe is now being groomed for the fall contest which carries with it for the winner a College Scholarship. All praises to the boys and girls and to their instructors, when they enter wholeheartedly into their work. No work half done, or with half the proper zeal, carries much victory with it.

Along with this report, Miss Cox has many friends in Lubbock county who are glad to hear of her success, even if she did go off to East Texas to achieve the results. This year to prove that there are just as good fish in the sea as have ever been caught out, because Miss Roscoe won over the contestants from seventy-nine counties. The winners are not all on the plains. This year we claim to have a margin on the stock judging and grain judging contests. Our Lubbock county boys show their colors there.

The Supt. of the Idalou City School J. C. Turney, with Mrs. Turney, who is one of the high school teachers called at the office Saturday and discussed the coming term. The Idalou Board of trustees together with the new Supt., is to be commended for its action leading toward State Recognition, and consequently, complete affiliation. Mr. Turney stated that $1,800 worth of laboratory equipment and supplies had been purchased, and that Idalou would have as "Fine Physics and Science Laboratory as would be found in the country. This is the correct step. Idalou is sure to win.

The Carlisle school six miles west of Lubbock opened August 18, with a faculty of four. Prof. H. G. Robinson was re-elected to head the school and he is planning to ask the State Department to grant official recognition of his school this term. He has planned a complete course of study and will submit same to Superintendent Marrs at Austin. When the Rural schools will place themselves on a footing similar to what Carlisle is attempting, the students from these schools will be better equipped to enter higher schools when they have finished in the country. E. E. Jones, president of the Board was in getting books and supplies for the teachers. Also W. L. Attman, another trustee was inquiring into the transfer problem and getting books. These men look after the interest of their school and that is what it takes to get results.

Prof. H. C. Horne, principal of Hardy school was in discussing the Institute which will be held September 1 to 5, at the Lubbock High School.

Henry Mahoney of the Shallowater Board was in and stated that the Shallowater Board was making repairs on the school house and that soon the building would be in tip-top shape.

A. F. Hess, and D. E. Fowler of Caldwell Board were in and made plans to erect a teacherage. Soon Lubbock county will be one hundred per cent on teacherages.

Mrs. Albert Arnett of Hockley county called at the office Monday and discussed getting a teacher for the Lone Star School where her three children will attend.

L. L. Nixon, principle at Wolf-farth called and got a supply of books.

Engineering May Be Added to the S. M. U. Course

Southern Methodist University may have a college of engineering. Dr. H. M. Whaling, vice president of the institution, said that such an installment is planned for the opening of the next school year if there is sufficient interest and cooperation from manufacturers and engineers of Dallas.

Tentative plans outlined by Whaling call for a co-operative college similar to the system used at the university of Cincinnati, where half of the students receive technical instruction in the classrooms, while the rest are distributed through manufacturing concerns to learn the practical side.

A committee from the Dallas Technical Club was appointed to confer with university officials and industrial heads here relative to initiating the plan.

BRITISH EAT THREE TIMES TOO MUCH

LONDON, Aug. 20.—"Ninety-nine persons out of every 100 eat three times too much food," prominent London physicians declared at a meeting of the British Medical Association.

On top of that, Dr. Harry Campbell asserted that "the British are the worst eaters in the world." "There is not a normal jaw in Great Britain," he said. "There is never a child with a normal jaw born in Great Britain. And it is all because we eat too much food, and that is too rich and too fancy. We eat the wrong kinds of food, stuff needed to get back to plain, old-fashioned, British cooking—but not to eat too much of it."

"Look at the difference in health between the plain-living tramp, who is usually sturdy and physically fit, compared with the over-fed man whose life is cast in more comfortable circumstances—but who is almost always ailing."
