MANY PASSENGERS ON BATTERED SHIP HURT

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Smashed and battered from the pounding seas that almost capsized the liner, the White Star Line Steamer Arabic bobbed slowly into port Wednesday evening to be met by ambulances and surgeons for whom an appeal had been sent by wireless.

Eight persons were carried away from the splintered ship to hospital and one, Paul Kearney, a ship's fireman from Liverpool, is too severely injured to be moved. His back was broken when he answered the call of Captain V. W. Hickson to leave the crew's quarters to aid stricken passengers. Kearney was endeavoring to pull a little girl from a tangled mass of lounge furniture when the lurching ship curled his body around an upright pillar, snapping his spine.

Shortly before the Arabic reached quarantine, the giant Homeric of the White Star Line nosed into dock carrying seven who had been injured in the same storm that buffeted the Arabic.

FLIGHT POSTPONED UNTIL FRIDAY BY AMERICANS

ON BOARD USS RICHMOND, Aug. 27.—Lt. Lowell Smith and Eric Nelson have postponed their flight from Iqviut, Indian Harbor until Friday because of reports of threatening weather over the Southern portion of Davis Strait across which they must fly to reach the North American continent.

The American flyers had intended to take off Thursday on the last water jump of their flight as soon as new engines had been installed in their planes.

The Richmond has arrived off the coast of Labrador. A storm reported to be raging off the main coast and moving northward may threaten the flyers' route and cause further postponement of their departure for Iqviut. Plans for spanning the last water hazard provide that the airman land in a nameless circular cove, one thousand feet wide, on Ice Tickle Island, three miles west of Indian Harbor. The Richmond is now stationed off the island, awaiting the flyers' arrival.

The reichstag galleries were crowded at the night session in anticipation that the chamber might repeat its performance of the morning when a general uproar and a fist fight which drew blood shed resulted from an argument between fascist deputies and communists, who have proposed that imprisonment deputies be allowed to vote on the Dawes agreement. Police guards however intervened on an occurrence at the afternoon night sessions. TWO WHITE STAR LINERS CRIPPLED IN HEAVY STORM

15 HURT, SOME PROBABLY FATALITY, SHIPS MAKE NEW YORK HARBOR

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Smashed and battered from the pounding seas that almost capsized the liner, the White Star Line Steamer Arabic bobbed slowly into port Wednesday evening to be met by ambulances and surgeons for whom an appeal had been sent by wireless.

Eight persons were carried away from the splintered ship to hospitals and one, Paul Kearney, a ship's fireman from Liverpool, is too seriously injured to be moved. His back was broken when he answered the call of Captain V. W. Hickson to leave the crew's quarters to aid stricken passengers. Kearney was endeavoring to pull a little girl from a tangled mass of lounge furniture when the lurching ship curled his body around an upright pillar, snapping his spine.

For hours both the Homeric and Arabic were cut off from communication with shore or ship wireless stations and on the latter vessel the aerial was carried away entirely. It was not until he was nearing New York that Captain Hickson was able to get message through asking physicians to meet his ship with ambulances. The West Indian hurricane which stormed north to bring terror to the hearts of passengers on a score of west-bound Atlantic liners was the worst ever experienced by Hickson who was making his maiden trip with his new command, the Arabic, after many years service in the Mediterranean.

In beautiful clear weather the Arabic left Halifax Monday afternoon and set a course due south to New York. At noon Tuesday, the barometer began to settle and at 3 o'clock the glass read 28.64, which is an abnormally low level.

Giant pyramids of water rose on all sides of the ship and watch officers on the bridge, sixty-five feet above water line had to look up at the crest of the waves. These giants broke all around the vessel sending buckets of foam and spray through the rigging.

Suddenly one of these violent peaks of water lashed full against the starboard liner and crowding her over on her port side until it seemed certain that she would complete the movement and founder. Shuddering from the force of the impact, the Arabic hung in the trough of the wave which had smitten her and then slowly righted.

Four life rafts and one life boat were carried away with the receding waves and nine other boats were damaged.

T. P. Owen, a deck hand of Liverpool was flung overboard when the great avalanche caught him on an unprotected deck. He hit squarely on top of an uprising wave which swept him back aboard his ship but on the deck below the one where he had been working, Owen was uninjured and was coiling rope on the Arabic deck. A tick of the great comb caught against the bath room end of the captain's suite and yanked the tube from its moorings and split it into four pieces.

Stanchions were splintered and partitions between state rooms smashed. Scores of port holes were smashed, permitting water to accumulate on D deck to a depth of three feet.

Eighty persons were in the lounge when the wave smacked the Arabic. Tables, chairs and passengers went to the floor in a heap and were piled high against the portside of the lounge until the ship slowly resumed her keel and then lurched again throwing them across the room.

MRS. FERGUSON HASN'T CHANCE TO BE GOVERNOR, SAYS CREGOR WHO ISSUES RECOMMENDATION FOR G. O. P. LEADER

By United Press. HOUSTON, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Ferguson may be a very good housewife.

R. B. Cregar, republican national committee man from Texas, returned this answer today to questions of whether he thought "Ma" would make a good governor if elected in November.

"Mrs. Ferguson has not the slightest chance to be governor of Texas. She hasn't any more chance than I have and I'm not a candidate," he went on.

"I don't believe you could convince any person that Mrs. Ferguson would be governor if elected."

"Former Governor James E. Ferguson will hold the reins and crack the whip at Austin."

"The best recommendation for the republican candidate is that he will be the exact antithesis of all that Jim Ferguson stands for."

Cregar's statement to the United News came right after the republican state executive committee had decided not to nominate a candidate for governor until after the democratic state convention on September 2. The republicans meet September 5, at Dallas.

The convention was divided into two elements, one seeking a compromise candidate who would draw the support of the dissatisfied democrats and the other adhering strictly to the old line republican principles.

The "old line section" appeared to be in the majority.

The convention did not discuss the Ku Klux Klan as a campaign issue declaring the fall fight would be made on the state platform, hewn at Ft. Worth several weeks ago, which denounces the klap by name.

Cregar was shown a copy of a press dispatch which Henry Ford was quoted as endorsing the Klan, saying the order had been misquoted and persecuted by the press.

"Ford has made a grave mistake," he said. "He has been misled. He judged the Klan by the statements their leaders have prepared for a gullible public not by their public acts."

FAIR CATALOG AND PREMIUM LIST TO BE OFF PRESS SOON, WINNING EXHIBITORS TO BE WELL REWARDED

President Chris Harwell of the Panhandle State Plains Fair Association announced this week that the catalog and premium list would be off the press in the next few days, and that the exhibitors interested would be notified by registered mail.

The Fair Association will get a catalog by return mail.

The South Plains Fair and Short Course, which has been named "The Show Window of the Plains," will be held at Lubbock, October 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th, and bids fair to be the biggest Exposition of its kind held in Texas this year.

Already the majority of the Plains counties have signed up to display county exhibits, and an effort is being made to get every county to have a worthwhile exhibit that the products of its soil may display to the world through this "Show Window of the Plains."

The premium list this year also is bigger than ever offered before and is far ahead of the premium lists offered by many other regional or sectional fairs. This assures a wealth of exhibits and at the same time makes it worth while for every county and individual to show at this year's fair.

The amusement, attraction, and entertainment and show features this year will also be bigger and better than ever before, consisting of one of the biggest carnival companies in Texas, a Gorgeous Fireworks display for the nights, three football games, a mammoth Pageant, and many other free attractions too numerous to mention.

L. H. Simpson Has Spent Fifteen Years in Lubbock

L. H. Simpson, of Simpson's Electric Shop, is one of the old timers of Lubbock, and even in it has been quite a number of years since he arrived here he still remembers the incidents surrounding his first day in Lubbock. Mr. Simpson was in the Avalanche office at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and stated that exactly fifteen years from that day, hour and minute he arrived in Lubbock. Simpson shipped his household goods, trunk, etc., from Here to Plainview and made the trip overland from Plainview to Lubbock. The Hay Davidson Feed Store was the first place he stopped after reaching Lubbock, and Hay's usual good newsmanhood had a part to play in their meeting as he was the first businessman of Lubbock to make a sale to the "feller from east Texas." Mr. Simpson said that while Lubbock has made a great many changes during those fifteen years, there are still a few of the men he met here shortly after arriving in Lubbock, and named among them Ed Lowery, Louie Shropshire, Dr. Hall, and others who have played conspicuous parts in the development of Lubbock and the plains. Mr. Simpson entered the transfer business here shortly after reaching Lubbock, which business he followed until 1920 when he went into the

MANY EXHIBITS ARE PROMISED AT AMARILLO

AMARILLO, Aug. 27.—Counties south of Amarillo are thoroughly convinced of the value of the Amarillo Tri-State Exposition in the upbuilding of this territory. Secretary G. V. Vernon reports after a trip through Randall, Castro, Swisher, Hale, Floyd and Brisco to be held September 22 to 2. All counties in the interest of the fair are coming with extensive agricultural exhibits and there will be keen competition for prizes. It is becoming more apparent daily that the county in the Texas Panhandle, the Oklahoma Panhandle and the Pecos-Valley of New Mexico that does not have an exhibit will be conspicuous by its absence. It is estimated that the expense of bringing an exhibit to Amarillo will not exceed $50, and the 20 counties will be awarded that much or more in premiums. First prize is $250.00.

ACHIEVING SUCCESS

He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; Who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; Who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; Who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; Who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; Who has looked for the best in others, and given the best he had; Whose life was an inspiration; Whose memory is a benediction.

SOMETHING TO DO

There is something to do all the time, and the fellow who fails to find that something is nearing the end of his usefulness. The same applies to the question of town building and to towns. Will H. Mayes, veteran newspaper editor, and who is now head of the Journalism department at the State University strikes a key note, and speaks a great truth in commenting on the recent meeting of the American Legion at Brownwood, when he said that Past National Commander of the Legion, Alvin Owsley commented on the decreasing attendance of American Legion members, when he asserted that if the Legion expected to live it must have some constructive work in hand.

much in the past that he forgets there are duties to be done today and plans to be made for tomorrow. A good town to escape from is one that is satisfied that it once established a park, built a hotel, constructed some streets, organized a band, painted the town pump, or did something else equally notable, and now feels that, having accomplished these wonders, nothing is left to be done.

THE SELF-EXILED SENATORS

That row between the Republicans and Democrats of the Rhode Island legislators. Later developing into a sharp controversy between the authorities of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, now seems to have become a matter for grave concern on the part of friends of Candidate Coolidge. To the average reader the facts as to the original row are still involved in obscurity. It is known that the Democrats said the Republican Senators ran away to block legislation and that the fugitive Senators said they ran away to escape being blown up with a bomb, but why it was necessary for them to flee all the way across the line into Massachusetts? Later it was reported that Governor Flynn had complained to Governor Cox of "the outrageous action of the State police of Massachusetts," who, though with knowledge of their identity, caused "certain Rhode Island officials to be arrested and placed under bail as suspicious characters."

At the risk of being suspected of a not unnatural partisanship, the Springfield Republican then emphatically asserted that Massachusetts had "the most pacific and most neutral intentions" toward the Senators from a sister commonwealth who had sought asylum within its borders. Presumably the "certain Rhode Island officials," after Governor Flynn's complaint were no longer treated as "suspicious characters." It would also appear that they found Rutland, Mass., a fairly agreeable place of refuge, with movies and other means of passing the time. In any case it is certain that they stuck to their "asylum" for now, after nearly two months, the Boston Herald, indifferent to the rights of the refugees to sanctuary, curtly admonishes the exiles to return home—as follows: "Every day they linger on at Rutland they damage the dignity of their State so much the more. Every day they continue their play of abiding in their Massachusetts 'refuge' they imperil the five electoral votes which ought to be cast for Calvin Coolidge by the traditionally Republican State of Rhode Island."

Can every devotion to the alleged rotten borough system of their State keep the Republican Senators of Rhode Island on foreign soil in the presence of such a risk as this? Is it not better to face even a "bomb" than such just reproach in the very house of one's friends? It would be highly interesting to learn just what is their reaction to this appeal to party loyalty and what they intend to do about it. At this distance it looks like a case for the psychologists, perhaps even for the alienists and psychiatrists, for surely the history of American politics from the very beginning can show nothing so preposterous, nothing so suggestive of midsummer madness as this whole affair.

THEY CAN'T BELIEVE IT.

"Those men are locoed." That is the way some eastern Texas fellows talk about good honest to goodness farmers in this section of the state or rather from the counties west of here, which is in the great Lubbock trade territory. This remark was made when some of those farmers out around Levelland told a bunch of east Texas prospectors that they commenced their farm in February, where a plow had never tickled the earth surface, and they had broken the sod, planted the crop, and were almost sure of a half to three-quarters of a bale of cotton to the acre, and they would not give a fellow a penny to guarantee that they would gather a ton of good well developed heads of maize, kafir and feterita from every acre that they have planted to feed, and melons to throw to the hogs, just car loads of them and garden stuff to feed hundreds of people. Those farmers will make enough crop this year the first year they are working the land to pay every dollar they owe on the land then some. Now that kind of stuff is calculated to make the east Texas farmer dizzy, and lead him to believe that the fellows out here are "beside themselves" or "locoed" as they expressed it in this case. Out on the South Plains we people are so accustomed to cases like this that we hardly pay it any attention, but it really opens the eyes of fellows who have come from the worn out sections of the state where it is work from before day light to after dark, and fight weeds, crab grass and boll weevils and then make a failure.

West Texas and the South Plains part of it especially is the land that will take care of the millions in future years, and the development of this wonderful country has just commenced. We have not gotten under good headway yet, but we are gaining speed every minute, and before another year we will be far into the field of development.

Virginia in old days stood second only to Kentucky in the admiration of the julep, has adopted a law that a person cannot have a single drop of liquor in his home unless it has been legally acquired. The man who saved a quart of pre-war liquor and still cherishes it is liable to a prison term of one month and a $50 fine. He cannot pay a fine and escape but must serve his sentence also.

The Independent Party, is having a hard road to travel in several states to get on the ballot. In California it will be necessary to apply to the courts for a mandamus. In Pennsylvania petitions for La Follette and Wheeler will have to be circulated in every county and signed by at least one per cent of the total vote cast in the last election.

The census Bureau announces that California led the list with the largest number of deaths due to auto accidents in 1922, with 26 for every 100,000 of population. New York was second with 16.7 then came New Jersey, with 16.4; Colorado 16.3 and Illinois, Maryland and Rhode Island, each with 15.

SOUTH PLAINS FAIR MANAGEMENT PLANNING ENTERTAIN THOUSANDS OF VISITORS. PARK IS TO BE FENCED

Among the improvements being made at the Fair-Park in preparation for the biggest and best fair West Texas has ever had in the $2,000,000 fence to be built around the park. Work will be started on the fence during the next few days. Regular Park and Paddock fencing, six feet high and closely woven, will be used with four barbed wires at the top. No better nor more substantial fence could be used for the enclosure. Entrances to the park will be furnished with coin turnstiles, a sure and safe means of admitting only those who pay, and to also keep a strict check on the number entering. Two of these turnstiles will be used, one for adults and one for children, each one turning only when the proper coin has been inserted for admittance. No cars will be allowed to park on the main part of the Fair Grounds, but a large parking space is being set aside just outside the entrance to the grounds proper that will be sufficient to take care of the huge number of cars attending each day. A one way traffic system is being worked out for cars entering and leaving the park that is expected to aid greatly in handling the congested traffic at the main entrance. These and many other details of the Fair are being worked out by A. B. Davis, Chamber of Commerce Secretary, and Frank White, a member of the Fair Board, that will make the Panhandle-South Plains Fair this year the most noteworthy ever held in Lubbock.

GRAMMAR AND HIGH SCHOOL GRADS TO BE GUESTS OF ROTARIANS AND WILL BE ENCOURAGED TO CONTINUE SCHOOL

Jed Rix, president of the Lubbock Rotary Club and an active committeeman in the club, announced at the club luncheon Wednesday that all members of the club are requested to take at least one local boy who graduated from Grammar or High school to the luncheon next week. Able speakers will be on the program to address the boys and to encourage them to attend school another term. Mr. Rix said, pointing out that the Rotary Club members realize that by inducing the boys to continue in school they are introducing them to prepare for more efficient citizenship and encouraging them to learn to serve their own interests as well as that of their communities better.

Let every boy in Lubbock realize what the Rotarians are wanting to do for them, and cooperate with them. The Rotarians are all business men, they will not waste their respective offices and not acquainted with all the boys who graduated from grammar and high school and they are disappointed in a way if arranged to have as their guests one or more of these boys, and if the boys will do their part in making it known to Prof. M. M. Dupre or a member of the Rotary club that they are eligible to attend the luncheon next week it will be duly appreciated by the Rotarians.

"Boost a little, help a little, encourage a whole lot," is in substance the motive back of the Rotarians and they are endeavoring to do this by entertaining the school boys Wednesday.

DARROW REPORT USED BY CROWE IN DEATH PLEA

(Continued from page 1) ted to prevent Robert Franks from later identifying Leob and Leopold. 3. That money was the sole motive back of the murder. 4. That both Leopold and Leob were found wholly sane and responsible by the physicians who examined them. 5. That the defense attorneys themselves as proved by their own statements embodied in the Bowman-Hulbert report said that heredity and ancestry had nothing whatever to do with the murder. It was some astonishing assertions made by defense attorneys that he found in the Bowman-Hulbert report, coupled with the fact that practically all the evidence in the case had been a series of arguments between Crowe and Darrow that caused the state's attorney to prolong his speech. He had not finished when court suspended until Thursday morning. Crowe hopes to finish his closing argument, the last in the hearing to determine mitigating circumstances, by Thursday noon, but there is no certainty that he will do so. At the end of Wednesday, he at once plunged into a mass of documents relating to the case, and he intimated that he might produce another surprise in court. "This fantasy defense was necessary because Leob and Leopold were trapped like rats and they built up a defense to fit the case," Crowe shouted. "I submit that this is a dishonest defense. "All this stuff about dreams and glands and such, is pure perjury, perjury with a purpose from lying alienists on the stand to the report made by the defense attorneys that they did not think would fall into my hands." Crowe then said that the un-revealed acts of Richard Leob, characterized by defense physicians as "A, B, C and D" might have caused even these alienists to change their testimony. "It would not be surprising if Leob had not beaten these doctors to it—the doctors who knew all about the glands before they did," Crowe said. He was referring to the mutilation of Charles Reamy, a taxiderm, chief-four who after the two youths had confessed to murdering Robert Franks, identified Leob as one of two men who kidnapped him and later robbed him of his glands. Founding the bench with his fists, Crowe shouted about some of the hitherto secret testimony in the case, which he declared was "what the mysterious alphabetical letters referred to." "I will show beyond a doubt that Leopold knew of these four crimes of Leob and that he blackmailed him

THE STATE OF YOUR HOUSE Suppose it were said to you: "Man, you may dwell here, This house you may keep if you'll guard all things well here; See that no servant stealth the fruit of the garden. You may do what you will, but one thing I'll not pardon; With laws and restrictions I'll not bind you tightly. Save one, against thieves you must lock the doors nightly." "All the charms of the house you may take for your pleasure; You may work as you choose and may play at your leisure; All that I ask, is to have the floors swept up. Pick well your servants and have the place kept up; Don't trust to others; don't view wrong too lightly. Guard it from evil and lock the doors nightly."

MOTHER ACCUSED SLAYER IS NEAR DEATH, REPORT

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Mary Selby, aged mother of Kid McCoy charged with the murder of Mrs. Mors, is near death physicians announced Wednesday. Stunned by the trouble in which her son is involved, Mrs. Selby aged 76, is sinking rapidly and cannot long survive, it was reported. All hope for her recovery has been abandoned. In his cell, McCoy continually declared that his mother's illness grieved him far more than his own predicament. "The Kid" will appear in court Thursday to plead to the indictment against him. According to a statistician of Munich, Germany, every thirteenth inhabitant of the world lives in a city of more than 100,000 population. In Europe alone the proportion is even greater than for the whole world, for every seventh person on European soil lives in as large a city.

AMERICAN TO ASSUME POWER OF VIRTUAL DICTATOR IN DIRECTION OF ECONOMIC READJUSTMENT OF EUROPEAN NATIONS

By United News.
 LONDON, Aug. 27.—Dominating the entire reparations scheme and directing the economic readjustment of Europe an American business man is about to assume such executive powers over the affairs of the old world as to make him a virtual dictator.

Never before has Europe completely delivered her destiny into the hands of an outsider as when Owen D. Young, of the General Electric company and member of the Dawes expert committee was cast for the role of "agent general for reparations payments."

Now that Young has consented to assume the gigantic job for the three months which will be required to get it under way, it is timely to review the scope of the unprecedented authority which he will command.

As supervisor of reparations, his first task will be to get the Dawes settlement into operation during the transition period prior to October when the Dawes plan will be declared formally in operation. France and Belgium will turn over to him all their receipts from the economic operation of the Ruhr. Germany will hand him her first reparations payments under the annuity scheme provided by the experts committee. Young, in turn will deliver these payments to the allies through the medium of the reparations commission.

The Dawes report defines the agent-general as the "co-ordinating official" who will act as the connecting link between the reparations commission, the various commissions serving under the Dawes organization and the German government. When the German bank of issue is formed all the reparations payments from Germany will be paid into this bank in the name of the American who is agent general.

Young's influence over Europe does not stop here. As chairman of the so-called transfer committee, the agent-general will dominate the committee's work of making payments to the allies as well as determining whether such payments should be made in cash or in kind.

Moreover, the transfer committee is empowered to reduce or suspend payments from Germany if the funds accumulate too rapidly and also to determine whether Germany is attempting to manipulate the exchange rates.

Young's job also carries with it membership in the committee which will report to the reparations commission on the desirability of any change in the Dawes scheme.

Wofford Says Game Laws Will Be Enforced

E. E. Wofford, state game warden is making every effort to have the public informed concerning the game laws of the state in order that hunters may know when they are infringing upon these laws.

Wofford stated that every effort is to be made to have these laws enforced, and in order to receive the cooperation of the people, two reels of films depicting game life in Texas and pointing out the birds and fish which are protected by law, were run at the Lindsay Theatre Monday and Tuesday evenings. These pictures were viewed and enjoyed by many local people who are better informed concerning the game laws now and will know better how to cooperate with the warden in protecting game which the laws have designated to come under the protection of the state.

The Tax values of Lubbock county are $15,508,000 according to a report made by R. C. Burns, tax assessor, who completed the tax rolls Monday.

Mr. Burns also stated that there were 6375 poll taxes paid in the county.

The county is in very good condition considering the vast amount of improvements that have been made during the past several years in road work, school building, and other features of development that have made in roads upon the treasury, and with the above valuation to draw from, collections this year will exceed those made at any previous time.
