BARRY MILLER LEADS EDWARDS BY LARGE VOTE

TWO COUNTIES FAIL TO REPORT AND THREE HELD NO ELECTION

By United Press.
DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, of Temple, secured a majority of 97,209 votes over Felix D. Robertson, of Dallas, for the democratic gubernatorial nomination in the run-off primary August 23, according to the final report of unofficial returns given out by the Texas Election Bureau here tonight.

Complete returns were secured from 247 of the state's 252 counties. Two of the remaining counties failed to report and three counties held no election due to sparseness of inhabitants.

Barry Miller of Dallas, Ferguson's choice for lieutenant governor's nomination, received an unofficial majority of 15,311 over Will C. Edwards of Denton.

The vote accounted for by the bureau was 789,031, a record in state balloting.

Returns from the run-off primary will be officially tabulated at Austin Monday.

Counties with full reports outstanding upon the bureau's reports tonight were Hockley and Kent; while Hutchinson, Borden and Live oak counties held no elections, according to the bureau's report. Complete reports from the two outstanding counties would make relatively no change in the tabulation, it was pointed out, as only 1099 votes were polled in the two counties in the July primary.

The election bureau gave the vote for the other candidates as follows: Governor: Ferguson, 443,120; Robertson 345,911.

Lieutenant Governor: Edwards, 361,867; Miller 377,178.

Attorney General: Moody, 494,194; Ward, 229,179.

Comptroller: Baker, 240,476; Terrell 459,207.

Railroad commissioner six year term: Gilmore 418,734; Weaver, 263,379.

Railroad Commissioner four year term: Nabors, 309,421; Smith 387,395.

Chief Justice Supreme Court: Cretton 397,854; Wear 280,106.

SOUTH PLAINS' GROWTH TO BE REFLECTED IN SPECIAL EDITION

It is very fitting that the industrial and commercial growth of Lubbock and the South Plains be made known just prior to the Tech College Corner Stone Laying and the Panhandle-South Plains Fair, these two events are for purposes worth considering. The Fair is strictly an event destined to promote the prosperity of those who live in this section and to attract others to help till our fertile prairies. The Tech Corner Stone Laying Celebration will again center the minds of the Southwest upon Lubbock, the South Plains and the Technological College.

To make known in brief form—yet detailed enough to fully express facts, the industrial and commercial growth of this section—which has for its foundation the Agricultural situation of the South Plains, the Special Edition of the Lubbock Morning Avalanche of Sept. 21st, will be devoted. The co-operation of the people of this section has been tendered as has always been the case in the past and the Publishers, men who live in, believe in, and stand for the upbuilding of Lubbock first, the South Plains second, then all Texas, expect to make this edition worthy of the pride of every citizen of this great section.

The edition will have such a wide circulation that those who assist in its success will not only receive more for their money than usual but will have assisted greatly in making known the gigantic strides being made in this section to the greatest number of people.

PRACTICALLY EVERY TOWN ON PLAINS REPRESENTED AT ANNUAL BANQUET OF PANDHANDLE A. & M. CLUB AT AMARILLO

(Special to The Avalanche.)
AMARILLO, Texas, Aug. 30.—The Lubbock delegation, headed by Ray C. Mowery, who acted as toastmaster at the annual banquet of the Pandhandle A. & M. club at the Amarillo hotel here tonight, was the largest delegation from any other town on the Plains.

Mowery, who is an instructor of vocational agriculture in the Lubbock high school and who is a graduate of A. & M., demonstrated that school royalty that marks him a typical A. & M. graduate and all members of the club were encouraged and will perhaps show more interest in their organization in the future as a result of the remarks he made at the beginning of the program. Mr. Mowery expressed appreciation of Lubbock and the South Plains students upon the hospitality that had been shown them at past meetings, and declared that they are ready at all times to do whatever they can to make the Pandhandle A. & M. club a bigger and more efficient organization.

The banquet was attended by more than sixty-five ex-students of A. & M. representing practically every town on the Plains. There were twenty-four Lubbock boys present. The address of welcome was delivered by "Dad" Randall, of Amarillo.

N. L. Peters, of the firm of Peters & Haynes, architects, of Lubbock, responded with fitting remarks, assuring Amarillo that her hospitality was enjoyed and appreciated and that as a result a better spirit of friendliness would exist between the college students of all the towns represented.

Col. Tracy, of Amarillo, who is a leading West Texan and who has done much for the interest of the educational institutions of this state made a well received talk on "Old Days in A. & M. in the Year One" in which he referred to the experience he enjoyed as a student in 1887 when he was among the first graduates to leave that institution. Mr. Tracy is a forceful speaker, and the youngsters present enjoyed his remarks.

PLAN FURTHER RETIREMENT OF FRENCH FORCES

By United Press.
PARIS, Aug. 30.—Premier Herriot has instructed General Degoutte immediately to arrange for evacuation of Dortmund and Hoerde, important cities in the Ruhr, in addition to the provisions of the London agreement as signed in the British capital Saturday.

The evacuation is based on Germany's acceptance of the accords, it was said.

Next week orders will be given for retirement of French forces from the small "interim zones" between the Bridgeheads along the Rhine.

With the signing of the pact making the Dawes-Young reparations program effective, the reparations commission immediately made ready to apply the new measures for collecting from Berlin.

First off, Owen D. Young, was appointed director general of the work as provided by the London agreement and accepted the post ad interim, without pay. He will retire as soon as the machinery is established and functioning satisfactorily. He will be in Berlin Monday to set up his office and assign his staff. Other appointments announced were:

Trustee for railroad obligations: De Lacroix, Belgium.

Trustee for industrial debentures: Noveck, Italy.

Commissioner of controlled revenues: Andre Macfadieyan, England.

Commissioner of railroads: Leveque, France.

American members of the new gold bank board of directors: Gates, Mechanics and Metals bank, New York.

The reparations commission further announced that on an early date it will appoint a permanent "agent-general" of reparations because Young made it clear that he could serve only until services of a permanent director could be secured. The commission will prepare a plan of general re-organization for itself in order to effect sufficient economies to cover the additional expense incurred in putting the London agreement into operation.

20-YEAR LEASE CONTRACT MADE FOR BUILDING ON BROADWAY

One of the biggest lease contracts to be made in the history of Lubbock, and which involves one hundred and twelve thousand dollars, has just been filed with the county clerk in Lubbock county.

The lease is made by Ben E. Cain and Belle Cain, owners of the buildings at 1013-15 Broadway and which are now occupied by Martin's Bakery and F. C. Yarbrough, leasing the building to F. W. Woolworth & Company, a corporation of Pennsylvania, with Texas headquarters in the Southland Life Building at Dallas.

Twenty Year Lease
The lease contract is made for a period of twenty years and eight months, beginning September 1st, 1925 and continuing in effect until May 1, 1946.

It stipulates in the contract that the company shall pay the owner of the buildings thirty-six hundred dollars per year during the first five years of the contract, forty-eight hundred dollars for the second five years of the contract and sixty-six hundred dollars for the remaining ten years and eight months during which the contract is in effect.

Certain improvements are to be made in the buildings before they are occupied by the Woolworth Co. retail business, which is well known to people throughout the country, and local people are pleased with the news that the company is to operate a store here.

A Woolworth representative was in Lubbock more than a year ago at which time it was believed in local business circles a Woolworth store would be located here, and the action taken on leasing the buildings is perhaps an outgrowth or result of the investigation he made.

CANDIDATES ARE CONFRONTED BIG ISSUES

BY PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Lurking in the background of the presidential campaign are a group of thorny "local" issues which may take a dominant position.

Chief of these are prohibition, the Ku Klux Klan, and honesty in government administration as emphasized by the recent "scandal" disclosures in Washington.

There are also numerous issues of secondary importance and "pet" issues as expressed by the candidates themselves in speeches laying the foundation of their campaigns is presented herewith.

Ku Klux Klan.
Coolidge—"This is one country we are one people united by common interests. There should be no favorites and no outcasts; no race or religious prejudices in government."

Davis—"No disaster the mind can picture equals in its hideous possibilities the coming in this country of a separation of its citizenship into discordant groups along racial or religious lines. It was written, too, that the church and the state should be forever so far separate that neither the right nor the duty of public service should be diminished or enlarged by the religious belief of any man."

La Follette—"I am unalterably opposed to the organization known as the Ku Klux Klan as exemplified by its public acts and practices."

Prohibition.
Coolidge—"Free government has no greater menace than disrespect for authority and continual violation of law. It is my duty to enforce such laws and it is the duty of a citizen not only to observe the law but to let it be known that he is opposed to its violation."

Davis—"To the enforcement of all, and all the law, we stand definitely pledged. We shall enforce it as fearlessly against wealth that endeavors to restrain trade and create monopoly as against poverty that counterfeits the currency."

La Follette—"No matter how perfect the laws may be upon the statute books, it will be left for each generation to fight for the honest administration of those laws to carry out the spirit that is back of them."

(No definite declaration on prohibition.)

Government Scandals.
Coolidge—"The government is sound. Individuals charged with wrong doing are being prosecuted. The people of this country hate corruption. They know my position. They know the law will be enforced."

Davis—"I indict the Republican party in its organized capacity for having shaken public confidence to its very foundations. I charge it with having exhibited deeper and more wide-spread corruption than any that this generation of Americans has been called upon to witness."

La Follette—"I pledge a complete housecleaning in the Department of Justice, the Department of Interior and other executive departments. I demand that the power of the federal government be used to crush monopoly, not foster it."

PANHANDLE A. & M. CLUB MEETS AT AMARILLO

Show at Fort Worth last year and who is a great believer in the work that is being done in the interest of the cattle industry in Texas by the college, made a talk in which he pointed out to his hearers the many advantages of attending A. & M. Mr. Gist was known to many of the Lubbock boys who were in attendance as he is a familiar character in every town on the Plains.

Frank R. Phillips, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Canyon Normal, told of his work in A. & M. and what it had meant to him. Mr. Phillips is a foremost educator of West Texas.

Royce Waters, of Lubbock, made a short talk, offering his resignation as president of the club. He pointed out the work that had been done, and made recommendations as to the future activities of the organization.

SEVEN KILLED, MANY HURT IN HERRIN RIOT

riation and Johnston City and from the mining camps—was coming to join the attack.

This convinced the sheriff that he needed troops. He scrawled out a telegram to Springfield, requesting the governor to dispatch state guard to the scene.

Without a leader to take charge of the attack, the mob grew restless, and finally breaking up. At 6 p. m. only a few were left. These were dispersed by the first group of guardsmen.

Galligan, who had been a prisoner for more than five hours, took six patients from the hospital with him in an automobile, flying the white flag, and made a hurried trip to Marion.

With Galligan's departure, quiet was restored to Herrin. Troops patrolled the principal streets, and all roads that led into town to prevent new gatherings of klansmen or of anti-klansmen sympathizers.

"I hope things will quiet down now," Galligan said. "With troops and my deputies we have things pretty well in control. If any more klansmen come to Herrin, may the good Lord have mercy on their souls!"

Galligan a short heavy set man of dark skin, aroused the hatred of klans sympathizers by his opposition to the prohibition raids conducted by "two-gun" Young. Galligan accused Young of usurping power throughout Williamson County.

As troops walked back and forth along the wide main streets of Herrin tonight, only a few—the most daring—of the city's population ventured out of their houses.

But before darkness settled over the town, Herrin had seen a day of blood almost matching the famous "Herrin massacre" of 1922, when 42 union and non-union coal miners were slain in riots in and about the Lester Strip mine. A coroner's inquest and a complete investigation of today's killings will be conducted as soon as possible Galligan announced.

Sheriff Returns to Marion
MARION, Ill., Aug. 30.—Sheriff George Galligan, who for several hours was barricaded in the city hospital at Herrin, following attempts to end rioting between klans and anti-klan forces there, returned to Marion, county seat of "bloody Williamson county" tonight.

Galligan removed six patients from the Herrin hospital and brought them here with him forming an escort which he believed would save him from attack. In his office here, Galligan went into conference with other county authorities in efforts to interrupt possible new outbreaks of violence.

PUBLIC OPINION

Who's Fighting
The Anti Protestants, Prohibitionists, Politicians and highwaymen are fighting the Ku Klux Klan.

The Anti Protestants and Prohibitionists are using the power of money, and all kinds of subterfuges to oust the Klan.

Naming the highwaymen with the other anti I mean no reflection on the other named anti's, they are not to blame for the highwaymen being anti-Klan.

The highwaymen know that the Klan is dead against them.

There are many good men, as individuals, who are against the Klan but they are inclined to be conservative, knowing that the Klan as a whole is composed of good old American stock.

The Klan may be wrong—I don't know—many good men think so, yet knowing the class of men that are Klansmen, makes them hesitate in hard knocking.

Politicians as a rule are not bad, but knowing that the anti-klansmen are flushed with votes, he comes out open against the Klan.

Today to a great extent politics is looked upon as a game, and to win (get the pie) prompts those who are playing the game.

The Great Magna Carta, by the pressure and power brought to bear upon King Henry the Third, by an organization of the people, has proved to be the foundation of English Liberty, and is also to a great extent the model upon which the United States government was founded.

When the Charter was up and was being pressed upon the King by an organization of the people, many men were anti charter men, claiming that the organization was wrong, unlawful and rebellious, and struck at the Corner Stone of good government.

But today this great Charter is the corner stone of all good government, law, order, and the legal rights of man.

This great Charter was also the corner stone of our common-law system.

We still look to this system for the fundamental principles of law.

OUR FAIR GROUNDS

Lubbock started a fair several years ago, and that thing has grown and grown, and is now far ahead of what we had expected it would possibly ever be at the time it was established. We remember very well the first one, and all of Lubbock was proud of it then. Even though it was small it showed a spirit, and that started the thing, and it has been gaining momentum ever since, and today it is going some.

The county purchased a park site, and it is ideally located. This was an innovation in Texas. Lubbock county was the first county in the state to take advantage of the park law, and buy these parks; so Lubbock was the first city to start out on a program of improvement. It is now showing up well, with that community building, and tourist park right there on the brink of the canyon, looking over on the county lake that is growing bigger and better all the time as the improvements are being made.

It was not necessary at that time that the county use all of the land they purchased for this purpose and out of patriotism they leased the ground to the fair association for a term of years—a very short term, however, at a very small rental, in fact practically nothing, and the fair association commenced improvement of same, but this ground should be leased for either a long period of time—say 99 years or else there should be a move started to purchase a location for the fair, for it is getting to the point now that the South Plains Fair must arrange to build a permanent home, and arrange to have something in the way of buildings that will be permanent, and not have to be using temporary quarters all the time.

We believe that the county park ground is large enough to grant the use of the land on top of the canyon for a life time, and additional ground could be purchased adjoining to increase the amount of land that the fair must have as it is not large enough at this time, and must be increased in the next few years at the very outside.

However we are of the opinion that the South Plains fair should be on its own land, and that a suitable site be purchased for holding a real exhibition with room enough for large exhibition halls, coliseum and tracks for Automobiles, horses, and airplanes, and prepare for the really big things of the age, for that is exactly what Lubbock is going to need, and we are going to need it before we can get it, but we might just as well face the music, and make our plans for a real city fair, and be through with it, for Lubbock is being mapped out for the big city of the Southwest, and she is not going to miss it if the people who are here and who are going to be the main factors in building the city will keep their minds broad and their ideas expanded, catch a vision of what the town is going to be in the next twenty-five years, and make their foundation ample for the construction that years will place upon it.

There is one thing sure we will be constantly tearing down the old structures and replacing them if we do not keep in mind the big things that are going to happen to this city in the future.

Let us either acquire the ground we have by a long lease or arrange to buy a suitable site and build a fair on big fair plans, and arrange to take our place among the real exhibitions of the Southwest. For that is ours if we really go after it. We cannot afford not too.

ARE YOU AN HONEST WORKMAN?

Men need a higher and more just view of the worth of work, and the social order is faulty and incomplete until it shall impress upon humanity the true dignity of labor.

We can never be happy or wholly useful people until those who work with their hands, either from choice or necessity, fully realize the benefit they thus confer upon themselves as well as others, and find genuine joy in the accomplishment of the tasks undertaken.

"Work in every hour, paid or unpaid," says Emerson. "See only that thou work and thou care; not escape the reward," whether thy work be fine or coarse, planting corn or writing epics, so only if be honest work done in thine own approbation, it shall earn a reward to the senses as well as to the thought. No matter how often defeated, you are born to victory. The reward of a thing well done is to have done it."

It is a combination of ignorance and greed that blinds the average worker to this sublime and right view of the matter. He is ignorant of the fact that in working honestly with his hands, he is performing activity a part of the divine order, which sustains the universe. He is greedy for the gold to be got by his labor, rather than for the vastly more enriching satisfaction of having played his part to the best of his ability—a satisfaction which cannot be bred that measure of self-reliance and skill which is the world's one master of money, after all.

Thus for a mere gleam, he barter his grip on the true gold. He is a slave because he makes and keeps himself a slave. He does not know that labor is the root of liberty, but thinks himself driven by a heartless combination of circumstances which "have it in for him."

Circumstances "have it in" for men just what men choose to get out of them. The only man who is a slave to work is the one who slights his work or cheats therein. The only person humbled by work is the one who imagines work can either be mean or menial.

Whatever is needed is in some degree noble. And this day there is no nobler title than "Honest Workman."

Are you worthy of it?

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

The recent Democratic convention in New York, contrary to the impression held in many quarters, was, and will in time, be recognized as one of the greatest party meetings since national party conventions were inaugurated.

The convention faced serious conditions and dissensions in the party at large and in the convention itself. Despite the heat and discomfort, in spite of the personal expense involved to each delegate, the convention sat for three weeks and accomplished its work with good sense, courage and fairness.

The antagonisms that threatened to disrupt the party were not evaded or ignored or straddled, but settled by a declaration of principles that commends itself to all good Democrats and all good Americans. The action of the convention was not severe or bitter, but clean-cut and well defined so that no man could misunderstand. Out of the heated contest for the nomination for president there came the nomination of a man whom prejudice itself must admit to be well worthy of and well fitted for the presidency. For his running mate the convention chose one who in his own character, record and location rounded out and complemented the ticket so as to appeal to every section and to every Democrat. There never was a presidential ticket more thoroughly national and representative of the whole country.

There was much complaint of lack of leadership, but criticism for being unboasted is great praise. In this respect the Democratic convention was the exact opposite of the Republican convention at Cleveland. The fact was the convention refused to be led or misled. With determination, good will and good sense, and in a most conscientious way, it worked out its own problems and the problems of the Democratic party.

THE RIGHT OF FREE SPEECH

We have had a lot of silly propaganda about the overthrow of our Government by "European Reds," etc. Every man of any degree of intelligence must know that no such revolution is possible in a nation where the people have the ballot. It will be recalled that the American Revolutionists were called "dangerous radicals" by the Tories.

If we attempt to prescribe limitations upon free speech, who is to determine where the limitation is to end? If we deny to any group of the people the right to speak what we think is wrong, how long will it be before we lose the right to speak what we think is right? We can retain the right of free speech for ourselves only by granting it to others.

"It is right to punish overt acts," said President Coolidge, "but the only way to deal with beliefs is to meet them, expose their fallacy and present the facts which prove them wrong."

Senator Borah said, "You may chain down all human right, but leave the right of free speech and it will unchain all the rest."

Lord Acton said, "The security of the minority, however offensive its views, is the basis of all freedom."

The spirit of our immortal Declaration of Independence means, if it means anything, the absolute freedom of conscience and untrammelled public expression of opinion in war or peace times. Any attempt to muzzle public discussion regarding radicalism, conservatism, republicanism or any other is un-American and contrary to the very fundamentals of Democracy.

If we are fortified with truth and right we should not be afraid to meet all comers in the open forum.

TRADE TRIPS

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is working hard on the plans for the coming trade trips. This organization is composed of as live bunch of young men as you will ever find engaged in the building of a city, and they are willing to go their full length and put forth every effort possible to arrange and make the affair one that will count for much, but they do want the hearty cooperation of the business men of the city of Lubbock. They do not want to put on a trade trip program that will fall flat. They want to put the 1924 trip over strong, and they are pleading for cooperation.

This is due them, and it is a duty that every good business firm owes to the organization, to the town and to their business to make these trips count for something. It costs money to go on these trips but it can be made a profitable investment if we go into it in a way that will show to the folks where we go that we are in real earnest in our invitation to have them come to our fair city.

In the past it has been the habit of the business concerns to pick up representatives of their firm out side and send them along to fill space for them, and if he was to meet a person of the trade or business that he represented in all probability he would not be able to tell them anything about it. The proper thing to do is to send a member of the firm and let him show the people that he is willing to give enough of his time to make the trade trip the success it should be.

When Mr. and Mrs. Poplin moved to Jaggerville he was so good to her that people thought surely she must be his second wife.

The man who can't see better times ahead ought to go to an optician.

A poor man can play golf. Wealth is needed only where his wife plays also.

Fog Darner is so suspicious of everybody that people watch him closely.

AFTER ELECTION EDITORIALS

—THE AMARILLO GLOBE

STAND BY MRS. FERGUSON.

The Democratic party is disrupted enough as it is, and those Democrats who are disgruntled because of the victory of Fergusonish should consider seriously the consequences before they begin lending aid to those who are talking up a movement for an independent candidate. Jim Ferguson has come back, but he hasn't been vindicated; the overwhelming vote for Mrs. Ferguson was largely a protest against the participating of the Ku Klux Klan in politics. Every intelligent person knows this. Lynch Davidson would have won either candidate in the run-off by a vote of two to one or better.

The Globe will support Mrs. Ferguson. It isn't a pleasant duty, but The Globe, nevertheless, deems it a duty. The Globe, new to the ways of Texas politics, was neutral in the campaign, just closed. It tried hard to be fair and impartial and to present both sides. Most of the members of the Globe force, however, voted for Robertson.

Mrs. Ferguson is a fine type of woman according to all reports, and she should be, and must be given, a full opportunity of giving Texas a business administration. Of course her husband will control her, but there is no question but that her influence will be for the good.

It is better that Mrs. Ferguson should be governor, than that Jim Ferguson should be governor. Jim Ferguson has his good qualities and if he is anything of the man he says he is, and his ardent admirers think he is, he will protect the fair name of his wife while she is directing the affairs of the state. Many men who, in the past, have acted themselves, in a straight and narrow in all matters that pertain to the reputations of their women folks.

The Globe believes Mrs. Ferguson with Jim at the helm, will be faithful servants of the people of Texas. Jim Ferguson has not been vindicated, but he hasn't been vindicated. Any vindication that may develop will depend upon his record of service of the next two years.

As the Tacitless Texan observes, what a time the paragraphs and musical comedy will have over the fact that Texas will have a woman governor. Texas, widely heralded as the state that typifies rugged manhood and masculine achievements more so than any other state of the Union, under a petticoat yoke. They will have the cowboys wearing silk blouses, attending pink teas and rolling their own. But that is only froth; let the outsiders have their fun.

There are several reasons why an independent movement should not be fostered. The two old parties in the United States are under fire. Under the Republicans a good part of the time and under the Democrats, after periods when the Republicans have become too corrupt, this country has been doing fairly well. But now the radicals are trying to threaten their supremacy with a third national party.

The old parties are not perfect and of course, they are not satisfactory. Expressing, as they do, the ambitions and lost hopes of so many contrary and conflicting elements in our society, they never will be satisfactory.

But it is better that they be gradually improved from the inside than that they be displaced or seriously challenged by a new political alignment. Good times result from increased activities in all lines of business. We cannot speed up business without confidence and stability. LaFollette does not inspire confidence or promise stability.

It is better for Texas that it elect a Democratic governor as usual. There is little likelihood that an independent could be elected, but it is better for the country as a whole that it not go out that the independents have polled a great vote in this state. The rest of the country wouldn't understand and it would not be good for the Democratic party.

The Texas voters have made up a queer bed but they, and no one else, made it, and they should prepare to crawl into it and remain tucked away in it for the next two years. And let's be graceful and good-natured as we do it.

If our cowboys must be outfitted with skirts and blouses, let them smile all the while.

A RHYME FOR PATTY CARHART

The other evening after tea—
Patty Carhart came to me,
Dressed in her dainty frock of pink
As cunning as a fairy's wink,
As shining as a cockle shell,
As lovely as a silver bell,
Her voice as sweet as those clear chimes—
Which summon us at dinner times;
And giving me her hand, said she:
"Please write a little verse for me."

"Write, if you'd give me greatest
JOY,
Of when you were a little boy."
Said she, in such a gracious way
I gladly promised to obey,
So now I start: Long year ago
Ere ever this world came to know
The light of Patty Carhart's smile,
For what a seems not so short while
I was a little boy who played,
Pies out of mud I often made.

A lovely mother smiled at me,
I sat upon my daddy's knee;
Toiled with his watch and stroked
his hair,
No happier had I lived anywhere;
Life was a constant round of joy
When I was just a little boy;
And yet, today, could such things
be,
And boyhood come once more to me,
For my best girl this time I'd pick
You, Patty Carhart, mighty quick.

Got the Result

Mr. Charles Moore, 2415 Eakin St. Dallas, well-known Texas citizen, says: "Karnak, the sensational new medicine, has freed him of two years of acute suffering from stomach trouble. 'Indigestion and bloating had me so I couldn't draw a deep breath,' says Mr. Moore, 'and I was simply afraid to eat. I had to be always taking strong purgatives, too, and was so weak I could hardly get around. 'Karnak has fixed me up strong and well and for the first time in two years I eat anything I want. Karnak is a great medicine.'

FIRST CALL SOUNDS FOR WESTERNER GRIDSTERS

"MULE" DAVIS, FORMER AGGIE END TAKES OVER COACHING DUTY AND URGES FULL REPRESENTATION AT MEETING MONDAY

Hit the Ground! Hit Him Hard! Roll On That Ball! Hit that Dummy! Snap into it! Hurry Up! Around the field three times! Change Dingers and Keep a Dancing!

Often will the boys that are going to try out for the Westerner squad hear these cries. It is just natural for the coaches to use these phrases in order that they might get all they can out of the boys and produce a fighting team.

"Mule" Davis, the new coach, who for two years assisted the head coach at Wayland, comes here with good recommendation from all players on the Wayland team. And to talk with him is recommendation enough. During the years 1917 and 1919 "Mule" played end with Dana X. Bible's Texas Aggies. He knows the game and is going to give the Lubbock boys something to think about when he gets them all lined up.

Lowery to Aid Coaching
Davis will have "Pinky" Lowery to help him with the squad. "Pinky" is a home town product and he put out one of the "fightingest" second teams in the Lubbock district last year. More than likely Oscar Sen-sabaugh, local fan, and a man who has been very interested in the outcome of the Westerner team for years will do a little help with the line. He helped the 1922 team that only met one defeat. Since that time he has not aided the team; but this year he will likely take the line and train them.

All the games will be played at the Fair Grounds where bleachers are being built. The old grandstand is being torn down and moved just west of the Women's Building; the ground at this place is better than the old. Bleachers and wall fence will be built for this purpose.

New suits have been ordered for the team. Sweat shirts, shoes and socks will be furnished this year for the teams. The regular jerseys will be used only at time of games.

This year the teams are classed as A and B. The class A teams that are in our district are: Amarillo, Plainview, Vernon, Electra, Lubbock and Wichita Falls. In the class B are: Floydada, Lamesa, Tahoka, Ralls, Tulla, Post, Brownfield, and others.

During the fair this year there will be three football games for the amusement of the visitors who are interested in the football sport. The games will be played between Lubbock and Floydada, Plainview and Ralls, and Slaton will play someone during the fair. As to who they will play has not been decided.

Monday the first meeting of the football men will be called at the high school building and full attendance at this meeting is very important as there will be many matters of importance taken up.

Four Letter Men Return.
To begin the year's squad there will be only four old men back. The last year's Senior Class took with them about sixteen men who were members of the regular football squad. Consequently, "Mule" Davis will have a pretty hard road to travel. He will have to build a new backfield and line.

Pat Hawes, the stellar line plunger for the Westerner Squad last year, will act as captain of the squad this year. Many local fans have expressed themselves on "Pat's" stand this year; and they seem to think that he will come back this year with more push and power than he had last year. Pat has always been a hard working man. He has kept up the spirit of the team by "practicing just what he preaches."

Dunlap, who showed up as one of the best passers and punters in this district, will return to his old post. Wilson and Kittrell will return to their respective positions with the same fighting spirit they have had. The new material will be worked out by the end of next week. "Mule" hopes to have the recruits line up by this time. He will likely have a change of the second string team. The second string team last season produced more real fighting ability than did the first team. It is hoped that "Pinky" will repeat with a hard fighting second string team; for in all reality the harder fighting team is the one that has the harder fighting first team will have.

Monday, September 1st, will be the first day for the teams to assemble and the coaches are very eager to get the old ball to rolling and they want as full attendance as this meeting that can be possibly had. Be there, you football recruits and receive your uniforms.

AVALANCHE TO GIVE GRID NEWS

Much work is being done by the members of the staff of the Avalanche for the development of one of the best sport pages in the west. All games will be covered by the different correspondents of the Avalanche at the neighboring towns. This will give the Avalanche a detailed report of all games played in this section. This year the districts have been changed. The district that Lubbock is in covers a large amount of territory and the local team will have many hard fights before the season ends. Among those teams that Lubbock will likely clash with are: Electra, Wichita Falls, Vernon, Amarillo Plainview. These teams are all in Class 'A' schools.

3 FOOTBALL GAMES PLANNED HERE BY FAIR OFFICIALS

The Fair officials have arranged for three big football games to be played here during the Panhandle South Plains Fair. There has always been a game played here during the fair; but this year the officials have made provisions for three games. These games will be played the last three games of the fair. New bleachers are being built to seat the visitors who wish to see these games. The old grandstand has been torn down, or will be torn down and used in the construction of the bleachers. The bleachers will be located just west of the Women's Building where a more suitable plot of ground is found for a grid field.

The first game to be played will be between Slaton and some other school team. As to who the Slaton boys will play has not been definitely decided upon. This game will be played on the second of October. The second game will be played on the third day of October. This game will be between Plainview High School and Ralls High School. This game will be one of the best contested games that will be played. As you will remember the champions of the South Plains last year was Ralls. And all reports from the North tend to show that Plainview will have several years produced one of the best clubs in the Lubbock district; and this year he will have one of the best teams that he has ever coached.

The third and last game that will be played during the fair will be between Lubbock Westerners and the Floydada Whirlwinds. These two teams have for several years been bitter rivals and everything looks forward to a hot contested game. Coach-Allen has had several years produced one of the best clubs in the Lubbock district; and this year he will have one of the best teams that he has ever coached.

Seven thousand spectators sat all afternoon under a broiling sun and watched the rather drab progress of deciding the four players who were to go into the semi-finals round here Monday. Geo. Lott, Jr., the 18-year-old junior champion from Chicago, was beaten down by the powerful Patterson from far off Australia. Only the brave had dared hope that the youngster would win. Patterson won in straight sets 6-1, 6-4, and 6-3. Vincent Richards, former Fordham peath, and the holder of the Olympic championship was victorious in the hardest match of the day. He won in straight sets from Wallace Johnson, the veteran chop-stroke artist from Philadelphia whose come-back to

TECH BOARD OF REGENTS BEFORE BOARD CONTROL ASK APPROPRIATION FOR THE NEW INSTITUTION

AUSTIN, Aug. 30.—The Board of regents of the new Texas Technological college located at Lubbock, are in conference here today with the State Board of Control on appropriations for the maintenance of the institution. They announced that from the information they have at hand there will be between seven hundred and a thousand students entered the first year which is scheduled for September, 1925.

Dr. Horn, who is president of the new institution is receiving many inquiries from prospective students throughout the United States and other countries, which is a pretty good indication that there is going to be pupils enrolled the first year from over a large scope of country.

AUTOISTS ARE NOT THE ONLY SPEEDERS JUDGE SAYS

DALLAS, Aug. 28.—Reckless drivers are not a product of the gasoline age, but their number is merely larger than it used to be, according to police Judge Ryan here.

"We had the same type of speeders 25 years ago," the judge said. "Along about 1900 Dallas had a series of traffic accidents and several fatalities. A stringent traffic ordinance was enacted and lessened the evil slightly."

"It used to be quiet the thing to speed-up-and-down the street with a fast horse and a rubber tired buggy. It was just as easy then to turn a corner on two-wheels and much more dangerous," Judge Ryan declared.

The ordinance is still on the city

Coolidge Expresses Opinion Regarding European War Plan

By United News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Debtor nations of Europe would do better to save their money to repay obligations to the United States than to spend it building more battleships, in the opinion of President Coolidge.

This observation was made on behalf of the president in response to an inquiry regarding the question of armament limitation and the British uneasiness over the American navy's desire to raise the elevation of guns on its battleships.

While the president has not seen the British protest, it was stated that he is loath to take any stand that would cause more competition in armament although he doesn't intend that the United States shall relinquish any of its rights.

But as a practical policy, the president thinks that competitive arming should be restricted especially in view of the economic condition of the debt ridden European countries. His view of thrift applies internationally as well as individually. He would have them pay some of their debts instead of putting the money into battleships.

Recently, the president made known his intention to propose an arms conference as soon as the Dawes plan is fully established and in operation.

News of Germany's approval of the plan was received with satisfaction by the president Friday and he regards this as certain to have an encouraging result upon general economic conditions which he understands have already improved in the last few weeks.

County Superintendent of Potter County Schools, will have charge of a special section for school boards and county superintendents.

The Boarding House committee has made arrangements whereby the teachers attending the Institute may be housed comfortably and at a reasonable cost.

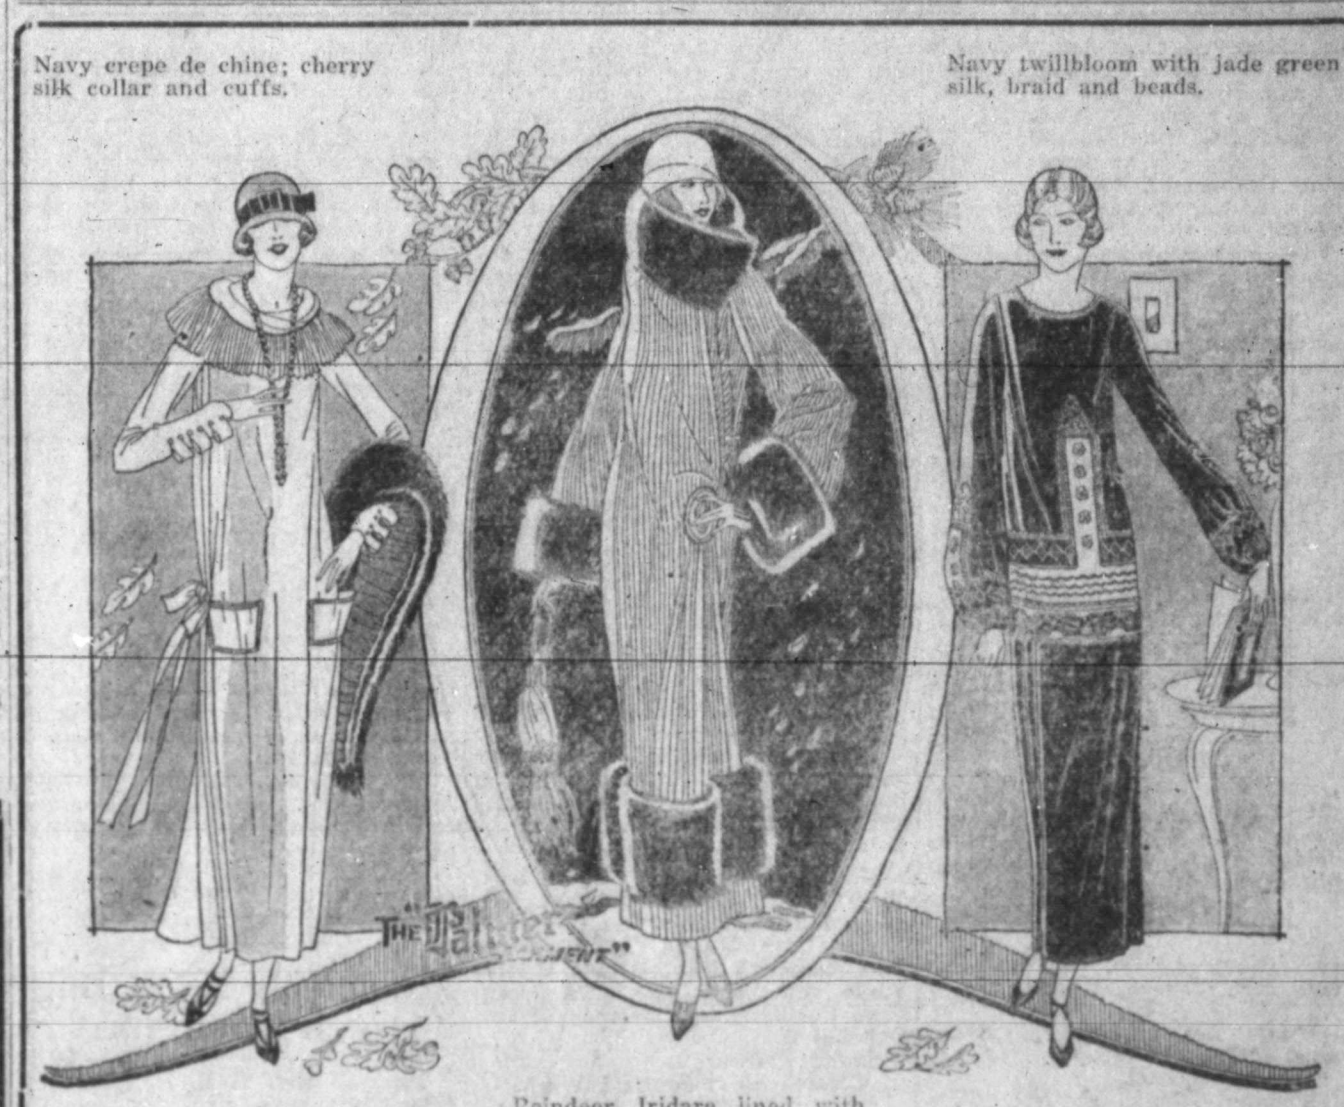

A teachers employment bureau will be maintained for the help of school boards in need of teachers without positions for next year.

SOME CITIES PAY TEACHERS' SALARIES ALL THE YEAR

Teachers' salaries are usually paid in 10 installments, and the teachers are expected to save enough during the school term to pay their expenses during the vacation. This usually involves no inconvenience, but occasionally instances of hardship have occurred as a result of the practice. An increasing number of cities have therefore adopted the plan of making salary payments monthly throughout the year. Among the large cities which pursue this plan are Boston, Denver, Los Angeles, Memphis, New York, San Antonio, Seattle, and Tacoma.

Music Scholarships to Be Given Three Girls

Three talented students in Lubbock schools will be given an opportunity to continue their work in music throughout the school term through the liberality of the Lubbock Music Club.

Mrs. J. A. Rix, whose home is at 1909 Broadway, will receive those who wish to apply for one of the scholarships at her home throughout the week, and requests that some response be given this notice.

The Music Club is interested in developing talent which would, without its support, go undeveloped and it was pointed out by Mrs. Rix that only those who cannot be given music lessons otherwise will be given these scholarships.

Mrs. John L. Ratliff, Mrs. Mamie Neil and Miss Mary Dunn, who will instruct the recipients of these scholarships.

Mesdames J. A. Rix, W. O. Stevens and H. O. Brother of Local Man is Married in Washington, D. C.

Keen interest will be shown here in the following news dispatch from Washington, giving an account of the wedding of a brother of M. B. Hillburn, manager and owner of the Lubbock Printing Company.

The account of the wedding received here follows: "WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—A wedding of interest to West Texas was solemnized at the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Church here last night when Miss Ora Kamey of Castro, Dimmit county became the bride of Herbert S. Hillburn of Plainview, editor of the Plainview Evening Herald. The wedding was the culmination of an acquaintance that began when the bride and groom were students at Clarendon College at Clarendon, Texas.

Hillburn was a victim of infancy during the war, and was decorated for valor by every allied government. Miss Kamey came to Washington during the war to do war work, and has remained in government service since.

Miss Ethel Shafer, of Wapburn, Illinois and Myrtle McKee, banker of Eureka, Illinois, were married at the same time. The two brides are friends, both having been in the service of the Treasury Department.

The Rev. Leo Rippey, former Texas and assistant pastor of the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Church here, who knew the bride and groom in Texas before coming here, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillburn went to Atlantic City for their honeymoon, and will be at home at Plainview after October 1.

IS THE RURAL PRESS PROPERLY BALANCED

School will soon begin and we are going to suggest a new textbook in every school in Texas this year. No, it won't cost the State anything and it should not cost the home anything extra, because this textbook we will suggest should already be in every home in every school district in Texas. However, it may not be. That is one of the first things we want every school boy and girl in the English classes to discover. How many homes in your school district take the home paper, for this is the new textbook we want to see installed in every school. Now, there is nothing strange or even funny about this notion. It is just plain common sense. Don't you study a lot of things at school every day that are not half as interesting as the home paper? What is history? It is a record of human events for the past two or three thousand years, isn't it? Not one school boy in a thousand ever reads anything in history that has happened since he was born. They never were and never will be a part of his life. Yet, we expect this live boy of today to be virtually interested in the things that happened a hundred years ago and a thousand miles away. But seldom ever think of trying to interest him in the history that he and his playmates and his father and mother are making every day of the year.

What is the home paper? It is a record of the events of the home community for the past week. It is the history of the home community as it is made and recorded day by day and if this boy looks sharp he may find even his own name recorded in this history. To write our names into history is one of the ambitions of every generation of men and women. And any school boy or girl is no exception to this human rule. And this new history comes to you every week, fresh and clean through the mail. Yes, fresh and clean! As a rule there is not a cleaner sheet printed than the home paper. Some times it is so clean there is almost nothing on it. But even then it is well worth its cost. 52 copies in a year, giving all the principal events of the home community for $1.50 to $2.00. It is the cheapest textbook printed in the State. And if there were not ONE WORD on a single sheet during the entire year, the blank paper would be worth the $1.50 to use about the house, for we can not understand how any woman can keep house without newspapers.

But why use them in the public school this year? Because the agricultural writers of Texas and the A. & M. College of Texas are going to study the Texas Rural Press this year. That means the home papers of the State, to try to find out whether or not the Rural Press of Texas is a balanced institution and they want the school boys and school girls of Texas to help them. By that we want you to take the home paper to school with you at least once a week and study the front page. Study the advertising. Notice how much of it is city and town advertising and how much of it is rural advertising. Study the editorial page. Find out where your editor stands on the vital questions of the day. Study the news columns. Find out how many subscribers your paper has and what per cent of them are farmers and what per cent are town folks. See if he divides his space equally with his support or whether the editor gets most of his readers from the country and gives most of his space to the towns of the town; and if he does, find out who is to blame, the editor or the people? How much space and attention does he give to the boys' and girls' club work? May be you don't have any boys and girls clubs in the country? Does he use his paper to help you get them? How much space does he give to the school, the church, sports, society, politics, crime and scandal? Do you find the things in your home paper that you need most to help you with home problems? This is a part of what is meant by a balanced rural press. There is nothing that would so pep up the home editor as to know every school in his territory was using his paper as a textbook in English, history and social science.

Then there is another reason for this study. The rural press and the rural school are the two greatest educational forces in America and they ought to work together. The object of the Press Exhibit at the A. & M. College this year was to discover the best balanced county weekly publications in Texas. The publications that helped by entering the contest were San Sabinal Sentinel, Bowie Booster, Stamford Leader, Gunter Star, Radio Post, Olney Enterprise, Quanah Tribune-Chief, Devine News, Mercedes News, Quanah Times, Gatesville Messenger, The Success, Beeville Bee, San Marcos Record, Wellington Leader, San Saba Star, Hartington Star, Troup Banner, Bryan Semi-Weekly Eagle, Comanche Chief, Spearman Reporter, Denton Semi-Weekly Record Chronicle, Plano Star-Courier, Lubbock Avalanche, Eagle Lake Headlight, Gainesville

A Page of Special Interest to the Farmers

Articles and Local News About South Plains Farmers; Prepared by Welton Winn, a Practical Farmer

OUR VISIT TO THE EMERY FARM

On the 21st we had the privilege of visiting the Eugene Emory farm northeast of the city. Mr. Emory has an ideal farm and is an up-to-date farmer. He practices diversification in his farm operations. His crops are well cultivated and were standing the drought unusually well for this dry time. Mr. Emory had 25 acres in maize and he had the best headed maize we have seen. The reason is clear. Mr. Emory plants two rows and then skips one row, but cultivates the missing row just the same as the other rows. Mr. Emory tells us that with that system of planting and cultivating he always makes more maize than to plant every row. This goes our system a little better. We have found that to plant alternate rows of corn or maize or any of the sorghum grains and plant the rows some thicker and cultivate the land all alike we have always made better corn and other crops mentioned than to plant all the rows in such crops. In corn growing this is all the safe plan to follow and we made these tests for 25 years. There was more and better formed heads of maize on this crop of Mr. Emory's than any we have seen in the whole country. Mr. Emory has 120 acres of rented out for cotton, and has 30 acres planted in cotton of his home crop, which is clean and looks green and fine.

reminded us of our farm and ranch where, we usually tackled too much to do justice to all the things needed attention at times, but we think this is not the best idea though we have at times practiced it ourselves. We found a nice little walnut tree in Mr. Emory's orchard and asked about it. He says it came up there about three years ago. He did not plant it, or know how it came to be planted there, but this three year old tree has quite a nice lot of walnuts on it now, which is proof that walnuts will do well on these Plains. Mr. Emory says he has never watered that tree at all and it is making a rapid growth. He asked our opinion about trying to move it into his yard. We suggested that it might cause it to die and as it had seemed to plant itself there we would let it remain where it was and plant more near the yard. We suggested that he plant out some pecan trees this fall and take time to water them until they got started and he would have some real shades and soon have an abundance of fine nuts as well. Mr. Emory seemed glad to know that pecans will grow here on the Plains and we feel sure he will join with many others who will plant pecans this fall. Most of the land on his small plots that we have seen in the country. Mr. Emory's crop was in fine shape. Only a few scattering weeds and they were being taken out that day. Most of the land was first planted to cotton, but when the party failed to secure a stand on part of the land it was then planted to feed (maize) on July 1st. This crop was fine, very green and growing off nicely, and showed no sign of dry weather, as the land was clear of all weeds.

We saw another cotton crop near Mr. Emory's that was about the largest cotton we have seen. It belongs to a Mr. Will Haney, whom we did not see, but we can say for the gentleman that he is a real cotton farmer. Mr. Emory has a very fine orchard and has all kinds of fruit. Some fine apples, peaches, pears and plums. He was not watering his orchard as was Mr. Haney, but it was clean of weeds and everything else that would in the least take out any moisture from the trees and fruit.

Mr. Emory has one of the finest Jacks we have seen in a long time, and is raising some fine mules which should be raised on every farm. We will not likely see the "muleless age" any time soon and we think that it is cheaper to raise good mules than it will be to raise cotton and to buy mules. We practiced this plan as long as we farmed, or for the last 25 years, and we feel sure no one will go wrong who begins now to raise some real good mules. The common kind, like other scrubs, will not pay for their raising.

TEXAS HAS A SHORT FEED CROP

We herewith submit a clipping from the Progressive Farmer which should be read and studied by every Lubbock County farmer.

We also call attention to the editorial of Farm & Ranch, which appears in another place in this issue. These articles are timely, and should be read by all the farmers of Texas.

We are glad to see these two high authorities speak out what we have been urging during the same of our connection with this paper. And, we say again that to grow first of all, all the feed needed for the stock on the farms with some to spare is the only safe rule to follow and more should be planted than would likely supply the home demand, so that if a short crop should come each farm would have its own supply without having to buy feed. And, we want to say further that where we have found farmers who always follow this plan we have found for the last 25 years that such farmers have always been in the best shape financially of any other class of farmers. To raise cotton to buy feed needed on the farm is a delusion. However high cotton may be selling, so we must get away from that idea if we ever expect to attain to the point of independence every farmer should enjoy.

oats and rye. Also some winter barley. This is the only way we can now overcome the short feed crop of this season. We have found these crops to be of great help along this line for at least 25 years. When the Government makes a five-year test it is considered good but with a five year comparison it takes that as good evidence to establish its rule of comparisons. Then why can't farmers take the experience of 25 years that can be absolutely established for a guide in their operations.

We have many good things in store for those who attend the institute. So again we urge all to attend. Remember the date—Saturday, the 30th.

Texas has a short feed crop. The production of corn is estimated at 17,000,000 bushels less than that of last year, while the grain sorghum crop shows an estimated increase of 2,000,000 bushels. In other words, the increased production of grain sorghum does not make good the corn shortage. The time hay crop falls short of that of last year by about 275,000 tons. Generally, the yield of fall oats was good, but the spring crop, which this year constituted one-half the total, was light and no more oats were produced this year than last. Feed is going to be scarce and high-priced long before the next crop is made. Not only is true of Texas, but it is reasonable to expect feed to be scarce in other sections, for there is a short feed crop in the Corn Belt. With feed high priced in the Corn Belt, it is going to be distressingly so by the time it is shipped into Texas. Under the circumstances, it behooves the state, especially Central and East Texas, to plant a large acreage of grazing crops this fall in order to avoid the necessity of heavy grain feeding, and then when the time comes, plant those grain crops which will produce feed at the earliest possible date.

This is one of the reasons we are calling the farmers institute for the 30th. We want to discuss all these things and get the experience of the best and most successful farmers in the county on these important points. So we again urge on all farmers to come in Saturday, the 30th, and let's have a good old-fashioned experience meeting where we will all be benefited and get better acquainted and get better acquainted. Tell your neighbors if any of them do not read the Avalanche to come in and get the benefit of this meeting.

One of the very important subjects we want to discuss the importance of growing some wheat.

THIS IS A GOOD WORLD TO LIVE IN!

Some times when we feel down and out and everything seems "agin" us something happens to cheer us up, even when politics are all wrong. A case in point: The other day we came in home somewhat tired and found a nice watermelon in a good cool place. We asked where that melon was from, and who had bought it? We were told that it was sent up to us with no explanation. We thought we would enjoy one fine melon. However, our lady said it must have been sent by mistake, and that we had better not eat the melon. We thought that we were justified in realizing on such a mistake as that, but after some argument we had to give way to what seemed a fair argument, but we did so very reluctantly. Next day we called on the grocer who had delivered the melon to know how this mistake had happened, and to our delight we found that our old neighbor and good farmer W. B. Thorp had sent us the melon.

To say that we appreciated it would in no wise express our gratitude for the melon. We will use the phrase of the boy to his grand mother on her birthday. He said: "I hope you will live to see the end of your days." She thanked him, but said she could hardly hope for that in the health she was in. But Mr. Thorp being in good health, we are sure he will live to see the end of his days. At any rate, we hope this for him, together with all the good things of farm life. And if he should ever decide to play another such prank on us we again we will try to be charitable enough to stand it without complaint. It is not so bad after all to an agricultural editor and get out among the farmers and see the fine crops growing and enjoy the pure air, etc. We feel sorry for the poor city editors who stay day in and day out over their desks hunting news items and arranging editorials, being talked to and about, cussed and discussed, loved and hated, praised and defamed, lied to and lied about. So we think the way of the newspaper editor is hard and we have no desire to aspire to his exalted position. We think he deserves the unfeigned sympathy of all right minded people and the prayers of the religiously inclined in his endeavor to serve his country and mold public opinion as they are all said to do. We feel like the boy who wished good things for his grandmother. We hope they will live to see the end of their days.

so bountifully bestowed on us. The greatest of all possible is the rain and sunshine which he says he sends on the evil and the good and on the just and the unjust. With these splendid rains we hope there will be a good attendance at the farmers' institute next Saturday, the 30th. There is but one way we can overcome the feed shortage of this year and that is by planting some wheat, rye or oats for early fall grazing. We will have men with us Saturday who can give much instruction along that line. Now is the time to get busy. Your cotton land can be planted to these grain crops now and be ready for grazing by the time the cotton is gathered. All these points will be discussed at the meeting. The question of co-operative seed buying will be discussed by the County Demonstration Agent. We hope to make this a very important and profitable day for all who attend. So we again urge on all farmers in the county who can to attend that meeting. Whosoever will let him come.

OUR TRIP TO THE MONROE COMMUNITY

On Thursday of last week we visited the farm of Mr. E. H. Haney near Monroe. We were wanted to visit that part of the country for some time and this was our first opportunity. We found Mr. Haney at home and took a visit over his farm. Mr. Haney now only has a quarter section and thinks smaller farms are the best for the country. Mr. Haney has 25 acres in cotton and 25 acres in feed. He has his land rented out and gives his time to his garden and orchard which are both rather small for the Plains country, but one thing we noticed was that he had some of the finest fruit and truck on his small plots that we have seen in the country. Mr. Haney's crop was in fine shape. Only a few scattering weeds and they were being taken out that day. Most of the land was first planted to cotton, but when the party failed to secure a stand on part of the land it was then planted to feed (maize) on July 1st. This crop was fine, very green and growing off nicely, and showed no sign of dry weather, as the land was clear of all weeds.

The Glorious Rains And Some of Their Possible Benefits

With the rains of the last few days and that of last night we have many reasons to be thankful. We too often do as did the Lepers that were healed. They all rejoiced, but only one turned back to give thanks to the great healer. Now we wonder how many will deep down in their hearts give thanks to the giver of all the good things

Mr. Haney's garden was the wonder of all. He had flowers and all kinds of vegetables such as peas, beans, cucumbers, tomatoes, etc. His tomatoes were the greatest wonder we have seen. He had only a place 12 by 50 feet. They were so heavily fruited that the vines were all lying flat on the ground. We suggested that he had them too thick. He smiled and said that he had tried to get them well spaced. He had his rows four feet apart and then planted three and one-half feet in the rows. He had planted 48 plants on the plot and only two had died. They had been using them for some time and it looked to us that there was a wagon load ripe on the patch. We tried to approximate the amount the vines, we think, were six inches deep on the land. We have never seen as much fruit on vines in all our travels. Mr. Haney gave us the name of the variety but it has slipped our memory, but we advise anyone wanting to grow tomatoes to see Mr. Haney and get the variety as he ordered them from some grower in the state as the can tell you how to grow them for profit.

I THANK YOU

I don't know how to "spread it on" in expressing my appreciation of your votes in the recent election. But I do want to thank you and promise you, as I did in all of my campaigning, that I am going to put everything there is in me into making you the best cotton weigher you ever had.

Mr. Haney had almost everything we had ever seen growing in that garden. He had melons and cantaloupes growing near his orchard. He has various kinds of peaches. He has six trees of good quality that ripen one each month beginning in May and finishing in October. So he has peaches during the entire season. He says that fewer trees given better attention will solve the fruit problem of the Plains. He thinks we can almost make the Plains like the Garden of Eden in the way of fruit growing.

At the same time I want to express my appreciation of the clean, above-board race that my opponent gave me. I appreciate him as a man and doubly appreciate the honor of winning over a man of his ability and standing.

He also has a small plot of ever-bearing strawberries that have been bearing since early in the spring. He had just gathered them the day before we were there, but we were not too late for them as the good wife had them in abundance in any form we had ever seen them used—except possibly in Brandy.

It is simply wonderful how much berries can be grown on a very small place if watered here on the Plains. Again we say great are the Plains. We had a very pleasant day at the Haney home which is model in every way and the best part of it was that we were invited to return. This we will surely do. On this farm was some very fine chickens, but we won't mention this until our next visit. We sincerely wish that all the homes in Lubbock county were up to the standard of the Haney home. They read the Avalanche and congratulated us on the farm page and other good things in the paper. They have read the paper many years before we knew about it.

Lubbock Morning Avalanche

Early Days on The Plains

BY J. J. DILLARD

I remember getting an inquiry several years ago from a publishing house asking me to give the history of the various post offices in Lubbock and adjoining counties.

It has occurred to me that this might be interesting and I will attempt, briefly, without investigation and from memory to tell the origin of a few of them.

Lubbock was named in honor of Tom Lubbock, colonel of the Terry Rangers, who became prominent during the war between the States.

The city of Slaton was named for O. L. Slaton, president of the Lubbock State Bank. Mr. Slaton was one of the pioneers of the Plains and was active in agitation of the development of the country and the building of railroads.

Idalou, the progressive village to our east fourteen miles, was named by Julian Bassett, the promoter of Crosbyton and South Plains Railway, for two of his sisters, Ida and Louisa, the two names being combined.

Bassett was manager of the Cooley Brothers Livestock Company for many years and was a resident of Crosby county at the time of its organization.

Posey, a progressive settlement between Lubbock and Slaton, was named in honor of W. S. Posey, the active and progressive cashier of the Lubbock State Bank. Mr. Posey has been actively connected with the bank since its organization. He gave much of his time and money for the development of the great South Plains.

The Slide post office in the southwestern part of the county was called Slide for the reason that an error was made many years ago in surveying certain lands in Lyon and southern Lubbock counties and the result was that the earlier settlers built their homes nearly two miles too far to the east and after much litigation in the courts, the lines were established two miles west of their original location, and on account of its moving it was called "Slide."

Porter is a switch on the main line of the Santa Fe railway about six miles northwest of Lubbock. It was named for N. R. Porter, one of Lubbock's early settlers and who was active in promoting the building of the first railroads in the county.

Shallowater, some twelve miles northwest on the Santa Fe was so named on account of the shallow water in its vicinity, being only about twenty feet deep in the village. It is one of the progressive towns of the county.

Wolfarth, another progressive village is located southwest of Lubbock on the Seagraves branch of the Santa Fe and was named after Geo. C. Wolfarth, one of the early pioneers of Lubbock county. He was a ranchman in Lubbock county when the county was organized in 1891. When the county was organized, Wolfarth was elected the first county and district clerk, in which capacity he served until he refused to stand for reelection. He, with others, organized the First National Bank and was its president for several years. Later he organized the Citizens National Bank, and served in the capacity of president for fourteen years.

Wolfarth was at all times active in the development of the South Plains and spent much of his time and money, and his reward is the perpetuation of his name, which only in a meager way, will express the appreciation of his efforts in the development of the great South Plains.

Abernathy, on the north line of the county and partly in Hale, was named in honor of M. G. Abernathy, the promoter of the Santa Fe from Plainview to Lubbock in 1909. Mr. Abernathy had associated with him a Mr. Lee.

Mr. Abernathy came to Lubbock county in 1900, and was one of the many progressive citizens and had a prominent part in all progressive moves for the betterment of Lubbock and adjoining counties.

Monroe, the prosperous village twelve miles north was also named for Abernathy, Monroe being his first given name.

Mr. Abernathy retired from active participation in public affairs in 1913, shortly after the completion of the Santa Fe railway to Clovis, N. M.

Becton post office in the northeast part of the county was named for A. M. Becton, one of the early settlers.

Estacado, in Crosby county, was named by the early settlers on account of the legend of the staked roads over the plains, because in some portions of the plains in early days, the soap weeds, more commonly called bare grass, when in bloom, resembled poles with flags on them, hence the name.

Wilson, to our south, was named on account of the Wilson county school lands.

Tahoka, named from the Tahoka Lake, a large lake located in North central Lyon county.

O'Donnel, named for Tom J. O'Donnel, the promoter of the Santa Fe railway from Slaton to Lamesa. Meadow was named by Thomas Stonewall Jackson, who purchased four sections of land in northwest

Mount Shasta Folks Are Fearful Of The Flood Waters

McCLOUD, Aug. 30.—The torrent of mud which has flowed from the heights of Mount Shasta for the past two weeks suddenly abated at 5 p. m. Friday.

The let up in the flow of mud, slime and volcanic sand, caused by the melting of glaciers that slipped down from the cold regions of the mountain, came so suddenly that fear is felt that it has been temporarily dammed up and will break loose again with increased momentum. Shortly before the decrease in the glacier flows came, word was received here from Weed, on the North side of the mountain, that a second river of mud had started down the northern slopes.

One bridge had been carried away and others were threatened, according to the advices which stated that the new river of mud was confined to a definite channel and would probably not spread much. A melting glacier is believed to have caused the second flow.

For the first time in three days the McCloud river railroad was in operation Friday night.

A train bearing supplies to the 1,500 employes of the Pacific Gas and Electric company in the pit district was expected to get under way from here some time during the night.

Residents Preparing to Move. McCLOUD, Calif., Aug. 30.—Residents of McCloud today are preparing to move from their homes in a minutes notice. The gigantic seas melting glacier is pushing toward the town today.

This great glacier has an eight mile front pushing down from Mt. Shasta. A four mile break of the glacier occurred today.

Mud has been ordinarily coming out of the glacier in a flow, but for the past few days this has been jammed and the residents of McCloud fear that the entire eight mile front will break and descend on the town in one crash.

The average number of years a pupil attends public school in the States varies from 4.05 to 9.08 years. The per capita income is highest in those states that keep pupils in the schools longest, and illiteracy is highest in those states where the average year of public school life is shorter, according to statisticians of the United States Bureau of Education.

LOCAL MUSICIAN TO ATTEND THE KIWANIS CONVENTION

M. M. Dupre, member of the Metropolitan Orchestra and the Metropolitan Choral Club, newly organized musical features in the local Kiwanis Club, will leave this morning in company with his son John, Texas University student, for Lawton, Oklahoma, to be in attendance at the Texas-Oklahoma District Convention of Kiwanis.

No information was given out as to whether Dupree will take his bass violin to the convention or not, but regardless of this he will probably appear on the program as his voice is in fine shape following his recent appearance on the club program here and if called upon to render a solo he will be prepared to respond.

The local club is becoming well known for its development of latent musical talent, and Dupre, a young man with great musical possibilities, will perhaps outdistance any other member of the club in gaining recognition in this field.

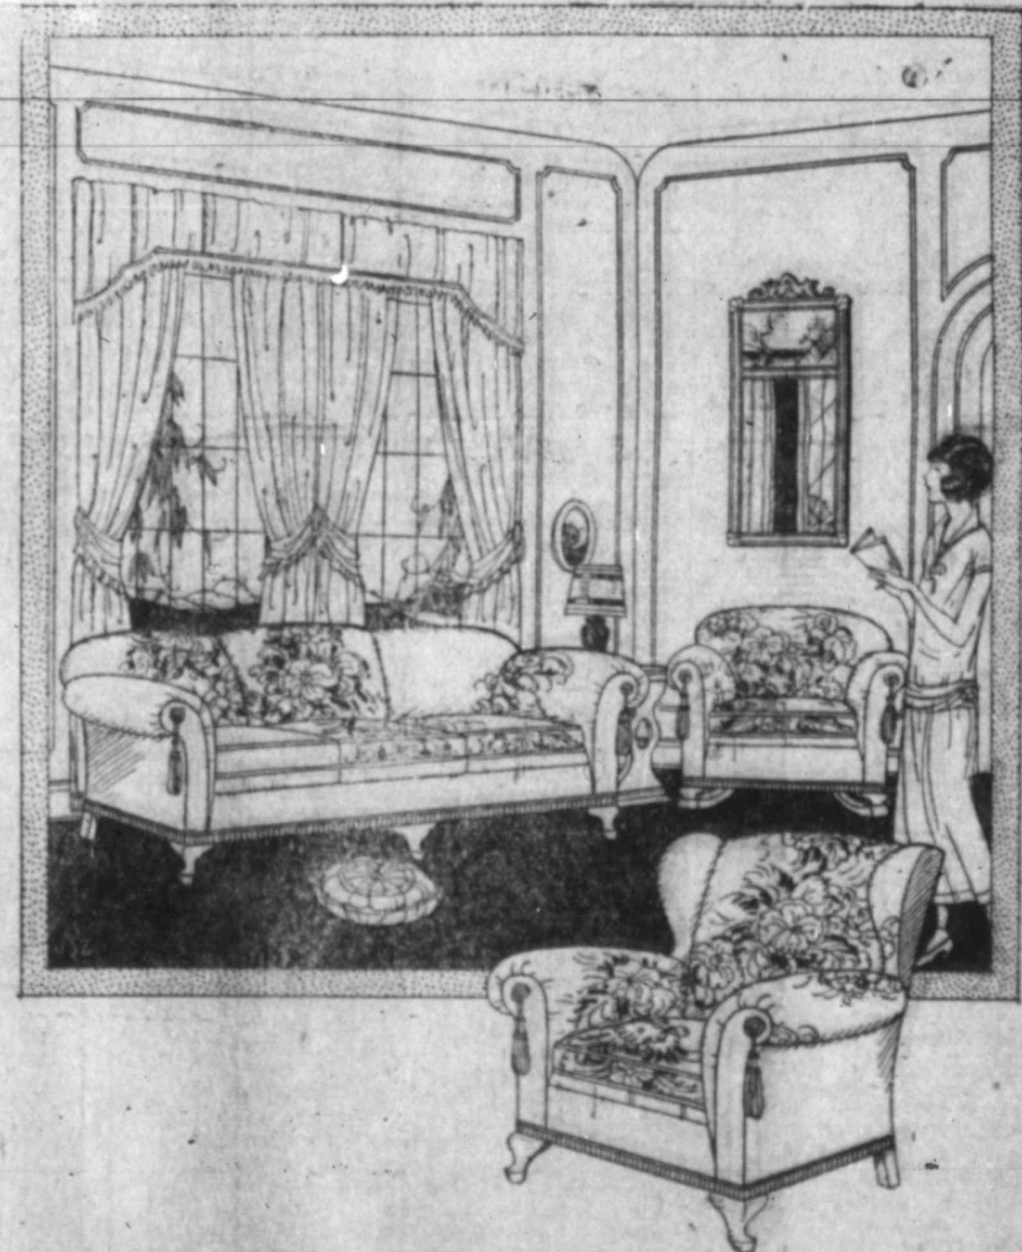

Through the co-operation and aid of the Cincinnati Free Kindergarten Association, "Junior kindergartens" have been established in schools in the congested districts and in social settlements. The junior kindergartens admit children over 3 years of age but too young to attend regular public-school kindergartens.

Patents Granted To Texas Folks

Of 739 patents issued in the last week, Texas inventors obtained 17. Do you know any of these inventors?

That these inventors are worth while is attested by the number of the patents that already have been assigned for manufacture and sale. In other cases the inventors are planning to manufacture them themselves or still are negotiating for assignment or royalties.

The following information is compiled by Munn and Company of New York and Washington, patent and trade mark attorneys.

William L. Childs and Louis A. Gedbold, of Houston—Apparatus for Well Drilling. This apparatus includes a well casing, a drill stem rotatable therein and having a fluid tight fit with the casing, and a pump, a connecting pipe between the pump of the casing, another connecting pipe between the drill stem and the pump, a valve controlled outlet in each of the pipes and further apparatus in the pipes whereby the fluid may be circulated from the pump through the drill stem in either direction. The inventors assign their patent to Hughes Tool Company.

Constance Dulak, of West—Mount For Windmills. This comprises tubular columns, a sleeve rotatably mounted on it, a detachable cap at one end to hold the sleeve on, arms extending from the sleeve a shaft journaled in the arms, a wind wheel from the shaft, a second shaft extending into the column and intermeshing with the wind wheel.

Fredrick Ryan, of San Antonio—Circuit Closer For Alarms. This device has a casing of conductive material, a non-conductive block in it with a neck extension extending through an end of the steel and a spring tending to press the block toward the end of the steel, and a conductive wire extending through the block and terminating in a coil.

Jesse O. Johnson, of Orange—Elevator. In this rod elevator, there is a block pivoted in the frame and provided with a slot. A slidable member normally obstructs the slot. A push pin reciprocates within the block. The push pin and the slider are provided with gear teeth, gearing connecting the push pin to a block. Means is provided for shifting the push pin in one direction carried by the frame and automatic means for shifting the slider in the opposite direction.

John Barnes, of Burkburnett. PACKING BOX FOR OIL WELLS. In combination with a plunger this has a liner having a ground fit with the plunger, a liner housing an support freely receiving the liner and a cap threaded in the lower portion of the housing and supporting the liner.

Billie Johnson, of Temple. FUEL HEATER FOR INTAKE MANIFOLD. This has a block with a longitudinal flue and a flue conducting passage through the block and within the block of a fuel passage extending into the space around the flue and having an enlarged portion and an electric heater within the enlarged portion. A passage extends from one end of the longitudinal flue and along the block and around the flue passages to the other end of the block. Ports conduct exhaust gases in to one end of the longitudinal flue and from one end of the passage along the block.

Joseph A. Brown, and Joseph R. Watson, of Levett. RETAINING DEVICE. This device for vehicles comprises a pair of parallel holding plates, each having an opening to seat on a hub, a coupling plate with an opening to seat on an axle and against the hub, a pair of arms positively extending, reclining, arms seating on the hub and interposed between the holding plates, means for connecting the holding and coupling plates and the arms together, and means for connecting each of the arms to a spoke of the wheel, each of the retaining arms includes a head having on the hub.

Wilson Kay, of Breckenridge. NIPPLE FOR WELL DRILLING. This device comprises a thimble and an associated exterior concentric collar spaced from the thimble, and means for effecting the clamp in engagement of the thimble and collar exteriorly and interiorly of a pipe coupling or collar.

Allston C. Ladd, of El Paso. HUMIDIFIER. This is for containing shaving a lid provided with a flange engageable over the contained body. The humidifier is constructed from a sheet of material bent upon itself to provide embracing portion for an absorbent material and formed with a lid flange engaging portion, and perforations formed in the absorbent material embracing portion.

William Luttes, of San Antonio. AUTOMATIC AIR PRESSURE GAUGE. This pressure gauge has a casing provided with a pressure chamber, a pressure supply tube having a valve chuck for engagement with the valve of the tire to be inflated, a diaphragm forming one wall of and exposed to pressure within the chamber, a cut-off valve actuable by the diaphragm and a pointer rigidly mounted with respect to the diaphragm and protruding through a slot in the casing for traversing an indicator.

Walter Karl Harris, of Lockhart. ADDING MACHINE. This adding machine comprises a plurality of depressible keys arranged in columns with disks mounted for rotation, a carrying bar actuated by the operator for movement in a path concentric with the disks and across the ends of the keys. Thin channelled coupling devices are carried by the carrying bar, and are shiftable by the depressed keys for engaging predetermined projections upon the respective disks.

Walter C. Trout, of Lubkin. SAFETY EXPANSION BRAKE DRUM. This device includes a brake drum with a drum support, a removable drum band made of a plurality of sections spaced apart. Means is provided on each section to prevent slipping of the sections on the drum support, and means also is provided to secure the sections on the support, including an outer retaining plate on the support, with a groove to receive the sections.

Cleve E. Evans and Iona H. Angelsberg, of Dallas. WHISTLING BUBBLE BLOWER. This is a hollow vessel with a flaring, film and bubble holding outlet, a lower receptacle for suds, and an upwardly inclined tubular mouth piece through which air is blown through the vessel. The mouth piece is notched to form a whistle, and is provided with an air deflector to prevent air from the whistling from reaching the blowing bubble.

Iver M. Peterson and Daniel C. J. Harris, of Beaumont. OIL BURNER. This has a slidable tube connecting with the interior of the furnace. A hood on the inner end of the tube has a flared wall. A handle on the hood extends through the door so that the tube may be slid in the door. Another tube extending through the first tube forms tube is movable for increasing or diminishing the space between the hood and the jet. A third tube is placed inside the second tube and pipes connecting with the third tube, and placed between it and the second tube are used for supplying fuel and air to be commingled and forced to the jet.

DANGEROUS INVESTMENTS POINTED OUT BY K. C. C. OF C.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 29.—The Kansas City Chamber of Commerce has published in the current issue of their "house organ" a list of twelve danger signs of bad investments, which are given below:

1. Stay away from mining stock in general. It takes more than the man working for a salary has to afford good mining stock.

2. Oil stock. Drilling for oil is costly. Oil stock investments are speculative and a class with mining stocks.

3. In the wake of every important discovery or invention there comes a host of schemes "airplane," "radio," "wireless." The promoters of these have only the best inventions, but frequently their enthusiasm is about all they have to offer.

4. Investment in "real estate" situated in some distant place is sometimes dangerous as mining stock.

5. "Land development" schemes frequently do not pan out. Investment in "mail order companies" that are going to "sell by mail" should be generally avoided.

6. Patent rights and processes distribution. It is rarely the patentee who makes the money.

7. "New manufacturing methods" should always be closely checked and investigated.

8. An investment requiring a quick decision is often a fake, urging you to be one of the first to invest are suspicious symptoms.

9. "Tips" alleged to land you "on the ground floor" are merely to be taken. Those who are "on the ground floor" will monopolize the opportunity.

10. "Playing the stock market on margin" and all other forms of speculation are decidedly not for the small investor. If you buy stocks outright for investment do so through a member of a legitimate exchange.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA ARE URGED TO PROMOTE REGISTRATION AND VOTING IN COMING ELECTION AS CITIZENS' TRAINING

Character building and citizenship training are the definite objectives of the Boy Scouts of America. Our movement has been wonderfully successful and today is enjoying universal approval because of its practical accomplishments. We stress Learning by Doing. Our individual patrol, troop and community good turns and civic service afford opportunity for constructive, worthwhile, practical education. The splendid and indeed dramatic service of the scouts during the war in acting as special aides to President Wilson in the distribution of 30,000,000 pieces of printed matter and securing 2,350,027 subscriptions amounting to $354,859,262 in Liberty Bonds, securing 2,300,000 subscriptions for War Savings and Thrift Stamps totalling $53,000,000 while very much worth while was insignificant in comparison with the educational values to the scouts and scout officials who took part. Learning by doing in this instance meant the development of a personal consciousness on the part of each scout of his relationship to organized society and his responsibility as a participating citizen.

We now have another opportunity for applying our method of learning by doing; an opportunity for expression of practical citizenship. The whole nation needs to be stirred to action. The records show an alarming decrease in the percentage of qualified voters who are actually participating in our national, state and local elections. It is claimed that the Presidential election of 1896, 80 per cent of the qualified voters registered and voted; in 1900 73 per cent, in 1912 62 per cent and in 1920 49 per cent. By States the percentage runs from South Carolina with 2 percent to Delaware with 75.1 percent. Various national movements have been organized; the public press with all its great constructive educational resources; numerous state and local organizations, are all interesting themselves in an effort to improve conditions in the forthcoming elections. The Boy Scouts of America has been requested to help, and will help on the basis of citizenship training. With us citizenship means a participating citizen, that is, a citizen, who registers and votes, performs jury service, pays his taxes and participates in civic affairs.

For these reasons the Boy Scouts of America appeals to each of 152,000 officials, and through them to each of the 532,500 scouts to actively engage in the nation wide efforts to bring the percentage of qualified voters who register and vote up to the maximum. Yes, we urge the 2,000,000 men who have been scouts and scout officials in the past fourteen years to join this nation wide campaign.

The efforts of the Boy Scouts of America must be on a strictly non-partisan basis. We want men and women regardless of party affiliations who are citizens of the United States to register and vote. At every point care should be taken to avoid misunderstanding on this important principle our interest is not in party politics. But in participating citizenship.

The national Association of Manufacturers' Colliers Magazine and other national, local and state agencies are already vigorously at work on this problem. Wherever possible the scouts should assist and cooperate in distributing the printed matter of these various agencies and rendering other useful service. Independent of this however, every scout official and all former active scouts are urged to make it a matter of sacred concern to definitely check up on every qualified voter in his own immediate family and make sure that each registers and votes on Election Day. Indeed it would be splendid if every scout and scout official would, through personal calls, telephone, or by letter concern himself not only with those in his own household, but with relatives and personal friends as well. This simple, definite effort will organize, will put into motion forces which are bound to prove effective in accomplishing the results desired.

In the last election 54,165,907 men and women were qualified to vote. Of this number 27,519,634 failed to perform their duty. Our common concern is to influence this large number of men and women so that in our own neighborhood the number of "Vote Slackers" will be reduced to a minimum. In communities where there are local councils it will be the responsibility of the executive to every scout official and every scout can exert his influence to develop plans for organized effort. But independent of this, in his own home, among his own relatives and in his own neighborhood so as to make the participation of the Boy Scouts of America in this nationwide effort very much worth while. As a service to our country and in keeping with our fundamental objectives, character building and citizenship training, I appeal to each and all to do what they can to make this nation-wide effort for a larger participation of qualified voters in the forthcoming election an effective demonstration of our love for our country and of the values in our program of citizenship training.

Chief Scout Executive.

That juvenile delinquency decreases with the opening of playgrounds has been further verified by recent reports from Cincinnati, Ohio. In a period of three years since the opening of a playground in one neighborhood in that city the court records show a reduction in delinquency of 67 per cent.

All cases were accordingly set for Tuesday morning, and the wheels of justice will begin rolling on that day.

OREGON GOVERNOR CLOSES GAME SEASON

Governor Pierce of Oregon has issued a proclamation suspending the open season for killing deer and other large game, beginning with August 20. Forest fires have been numerous and widespread, owing to prolonged drouth.

The danger of more conflagrations from thousands of hunters penetrating the forests and setting fires from shooting and camping, is tremendous.

Many of the deer are driven from their usual habitat and crowded into small areas. The Governor's action is fully justified by humane principles.

The killing of game is absolutely prohibited until there has been sufficient rain to avert all possible danger of forest fires. His splendid example will be followed by many other states that have suffered from drouth and forest fires.

Four Rural Schools to Employ Vocation Teacher

Schools at Shallowater, Canyon, Acuff and Carlisle, will jointly employ an instructor of vocation agriculture for the 1924-25 term providing a suitable instructor can be found by County Agent David F. Eaton.

The decision for the schools to employ a teacher who can carry on the work in these rural schools on the same plan and in line with the work being done in Lubbock High School by Ray C. Mowery was reached at a meeting of the trustees of the four schools with the county agent here early last week.

The Credit Man is your Friend. It is his business to build up desirable charge business for his firm.

Good credit is seldom based upon wealth, possibly not more than 2 per cent. Good credit is based upon "prompt pay", and anyone can earn that reputation easily.

When you wish to buy on credit, the credit man gets reports on you from various sources. If you have the name of paying your charge accounts in full by the 10th of the month following, or of meeting each installment payment on the day it is due, your patronage is encouraged.

On the other hand, the credit man wishes to avoid the slow-paying, unsatisfactory accounts. He weeds them out month by month; there are not many in Lubbock now.

PRINCE LED FROM DANCE FLOOR BY U. S. GIRL

By United News.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Miss Leonora Cahill, the only American girl who danced with the Prince of Wales on his voyage here, gave all the English travelers on board—except possibly, the Prince himself the surprise of their lives when she led him from the ball floor to a lower deck to present him to her aunt. This was revealed on the arrival of the Berengaria here. But Miss Cahill smiling and vicarious and her aunt, Mrs. M. S. Burke, of St. Louis, did not seem to mind the shock given the Englishmen at all.

According to the English code, it seems that girls—even charming ones like Miss Cahill—don't ordinarily snatch a prince from a ball room floor crowded with scores of other girls who would do most anything to attract one of the royal smiles. The elevation of dignified British eyebrows that followed Miss Cahill's action, laid lash to lash, would have reached to the top of the Berengaria's highest funnel.

The prince bowed continually and chattered like a school boy until he disappeared behind the executive mansion potales for informal visit. The procession was halted twice during his way to the White house, once when ice wagon got in the way and another when a car full of girls got in the way.

PIONEER CITIZEN OF COLORADO DIED WEDNESDAY

COLORADO, Aug. 29.—M. T. Hall, pioneer citizen of Colorado, died late Wednesday at his home in Colorado at the age of 94 years. NEW CITY PARK IS CONSIDERED BY SWEETWATER

SWEETWATER, Aug. 29.—The City Park movement in West Texas received a further impetus in this city this week in the proposition to build a new city park for Sweetwater, now being considered by the City Commission. The discussion followed the filing of a petition praying for the same and signed by a large group of southside residents.

The park is proposed to be located on the Trammel Estate on the Highland edition to Sweetwater. The development not only of tourist parks but of city parks throughout West Texas, is one of the features of civic development according to the research department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which has advocated this type of development for some several years past.

The Curtis Institute of Music recently established in Philadelphia, aims to teach its students not merely to be pianists, violinists, or singers but to know music and to be well informed on all the sister arts and in all parallel studies that go with those arts. The musician must be interested in the cultural importance of mankind and, therefore, in addition to music must be interested in languages, ethics and philosophy.

MANY WILD DUCKS MENACE PLAINS FARMERS

AMARILLO, Texas, Aug. 30.—Wild ducks in great swarms that darken the skies are pouring into the Panhandle where they are storing up layers of fat on the farmers' row crops. Never before have the wild ducks showed up in such unbelievable numbers this early in the year, and the farmers are clamoring for permission from the game authorities to shoot them out of their fields.

"If what the farmers tell me is the truth and there is no reason to doubt their words, the wild ducks are a serious menace," declared Hugh Whitcomb, who is a resident state game warden, to a Globe reporter this morning. "During the last two days I have had many calls from farmers who are asking permission to kill the birds. I can't grant this privilege, but have referred it to Federal authorities. We should have a Federal game warden in here to make a report within a very few days."

Here By Millions.

"The Panhandle has become a paradise for wild ducks, and the flights in here are becoming heavier each year. The reason is that the country is being settled up more and the row crops provide ideal food for the birds. Last year they were here in seeming millions and this season they are pouring in earlier and in greater numbers than ever before at this time of the year."

In some places, it is reported the ducks are actually feeding upon kafir corn in the dough, they are so hungry they will not wait for it to ripen. Most of these early birds are pintails with a sprinkling of blue-wing teal, mallards and red-heads. On some of the lakes almost on the out-skirts of Amarillo great rafts of ducks may be seen. Amarillo hunters are expecting a wonderful season.

Law Will Be Observed.

"There will be more game this fall than there has been in years," said Bob Ames today. "Scores of hunters from Amarillo will lay into the prairie chickens beginning next Monday. All the reports I have indicate there are more chickens than in any fall for ten years."

"I am hoping that the farmers may obtain permission to shoot away the ducks from the fields and they will be permitted to invite their friends to shoot with them. I am afraid unless this is done, the farmers will begin breaking the game laws and that the chickens and the quail will suffer."

The chicken season will be for ten days beginning September 1. The limit is five a day and not more than fifteen for the season. Amarillo sportsmen declare the law will be generally observed; that there isn't a finer, cleaner bunch of shooters in the United States than right around here.

Cultivating the "INITIATIVE"

Shall He Who Serves Best Profit Most?

What is it that develops men? What is it that makes it possible for some to succeed while others fail?

These questions are pertinent—they are important to every individual for upon their solution many will succeed.

The responsibility—the recognition or realization of responsibility is one of nature's great works. Boys never become men until they realize a responsibility. Having realized this they become more thoughtful, plan more carefully, work more enthusiastically, save more systematically. A boy who never has reason to realize a responsibility or know a care, seldom gets anywhere or does anything worth while; while the young man who learns that he must "paddle his own boat"—shape his own destiny or arrive at the height of success thru his own efforts develops initiative. He learns to think and act for himself. His ambition rightly directed leads on to success.

"Boiling" down what we want to drive home: all of us strive for certain rewards, most of which we hope to realize thru the accumulation of material wealth. It is this reward that sobers our judgment, develops our initiative and encourages the proper direction of our energies. Private, individual initiative should be developed. Everything worth while in this world has come about because someone, looking for their reward, expended their money, time, thought and actions to the successful accomplishment of that thing.

It is time right now for the American people to stop and think about these things. We should encourage INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY and INITIATIVE rather than discourage it. The man who offers the best service in any business should have his reward. If it is not forthcoming for what will he have worked?

HOW TO KILL WEEDS AND BUSHES

I have known for many years there was a time, or times, when timber bushes and weeds are easily killed, and as I have recently learned by investigation that a formula, giving the time for this operation, has been sold by one party for $1 and by another for $5, I hereby give it to you free, hoping that you may have enough energy to test it, or at least a small patch of blue weeds or other noxious growth.

If it proves to be a success, it is of vast worth and importance to the farmers of this and other counties. I called attention to this matter once before, in an effort to get the exact or correct time but without results so far as I know. I am not farming now but am very much interested in the welfare of the badly exploited farmers, so I persisted until I finally got the following information that I hope and believe will prove effective.

This is the substance of the formula in few words. Don't fail to try it out.

On the decrease, or dark of the moon, and the sign is in the heart and the sap is up, these three conditions must be in harmony.

These conditions seem to exist on the 30th and 31st of August and the 26th and 27th of September. Try both periods, especially the August period as the sap will be going down at the last one.

You certainly can see that it's to your interest, not mine, and it costs you nothing but a little time and exertion, and may save you much time, labor and money. Don't be careless and unconcerned, for this is one of the greatest wastes to farmers.

Your Friend,
T. J. Estes.

CAR MANUFACTURER MAKE IMPROVEMENT ON ALL NEW MODELS

An understanding of how the remarkable rate of progress is effected in the automobile industry, may be had by a study of the story of an individual manufacturer.

The Chevrolet Motor Company, the popularity of whose product has so greatly increased within the last few years, is a fair example.

Commenting on these changes R. H. Grant, vice-president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company said, "It has been the policy of the Chevrolet Motor Company to combine economical transportation with quality. We felt that this could be achieved only by a constant study of popular requirements and a constant endeavor to keep our product in line with the best improvements made in automotive construction. These improvements were not made all at one time, so that one year's model would be radically different from the other, but were incorporated from time to time just as fast as they could be introduced into the car after the disability of such a change became obviously worthwhile.

"The change in our present Superior model, introduced a few years ago, have been made from time to time without any stress being placed on them until at present, the change made in the last two years number more than a score."

From time to time improvements will be added as fast as they are fully tested and proven desirable, factory officials say.

PRINCE OF WALES HAS ARRIVED IN U.S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Edward Albert, Prince of Wales, arrived in Washington today at one o'clock. The prince was cheered by thousands all along the way to the capitol. He was escorted by guard which surrounded the auto.

After arriving at the White House he was greeted by President and Mrs. Coolidge.

All along the way from New York to Washington people were gathered at the stations to get a glimpse of the Prince. But he was in his state room most of the time until he arrived at Washington.

There has been very few times in the history of the United States that a foreigner has been given such an ovation.

Secretary Hughes escorted the Prince to the auto.

JAZZ NECESSARY AS EMERGENCY OUTLET WAYBURN SAYS

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Jazz has come to stay because it has established itself as a benefit to the American people who long have needed such an outlet for excessive nervous energy, according to Ned Wayburn, of New York, stage director for Flo Ziegfield of the Follies.

This was one important bit of information disclosed by a man known as an authority on dancing and considered one of the best pickers of feminine beauty in the world. The other opinion voiced by the Follies boss was that the flapper is fast dying out, and soon will become as extinct as the dodo bird.

"Not everybody knows this, but its time the girls are finding it out. We aren't going to have any more bobbed haired girls in the Follies chorus no matter how beautiful they may be," Wayburn said.

"Girls with long hair are apt to be much more beautiful than girls with bobbed curls, and because the average flapper does not make a good chorus girl. She hasn't enough sense to know how to train herself for the very exacting tasks she is called upon to perform in the Follies. So no young beauties with their locks shorn need come to our place in Broadway any more." That's Wayburn's office, he explained.

"For the sake of art I sometimes call it my studio" he added. Wayburn's discussion of jazz and flappers resulted from a session he just had attended of the 41st annual convention of the American national Association of Masters of Dancing.

"Yes, I'm an MD, a Master of Dancing" Wayburn confessed. Its so imposing. Well let me tell you the masters of dancing are doing a lot for their country. They taught the people jazz and now jazz has come to stay. Jazz has gotten into the American blood. Dancing has reached a tempo that can't be slowed down and the people will get jazzier as time goes on.

"Some think jazz is vulgar. There is nothing vulgar about it. There are some substitutes and imitations that ought to be relegated to the ash can, such as cheek-to-cheek dancing, and the old can-can disguised in various disguises and danced by some perfectly respectable ladies who would be shocked if told how it originated and what's it all about."

"Wayburn chuckled as he explained that now he was getting paid for what he once upon a time did in Chicago for nothing—dance."

"It's become a habit now and what is more fun than to get paid for indulging in your favorite habit. And besides working for Mr. Ziegfield isn't so bad."

"There are lots of tired business men who would like to have my job, they have told me so."

To meet the demand for leaders in parent-teacher associations, many of the universities and State normal schools gave special courses for this work in their summer sessions this year.

MODEL HOME FOR NECESSITIOUS CHICAGO BOYS

Normal Protestant boys from broken homes who need normal life are cared for by the Chicago Junior Home and Farm School Association, which was recently organized. These boys do not receive county aid, because they are not delinquent nor wholly dependant. The association charges fees ranging from a few dollars per month to $50, according to the circumstances of the parent. Contributions for the support of the school have come from all parts of the country. The first of a series of eight small cottages has just been completed.

Bishop Cheshire of North Carolina is against race suicide in practice as well as in theory. In the apartment house he is building in Raleigh families with children will have first choice and families without children will be charged more.

Master Improvement in a Matchless Car-

Conquers Vibration

The Lanchester Balancer, a British invention that eliminates engine vibration by absorbing it at its source, is the added refinement that gives Willys-Knight a still higher degree of supremacy among motor cars of quality.

Dr. F. W. Lanchester, F. R. S., a British engineer of outstanding genius, developed the invention to perfect one of the most famous foreign cars. In bringing it to America, by special arrangement with the inventor, Willys-Knight cures the inherent vibration that long has been an universal annoyance to car owners.

There is No Point of Vibration!

The new Balancer gives the final magic touch to Willys-Knight operation. Drive it all speeds; you never reach the "point of vibration", for there is no such point.

Perfect smoothness—perfect riding ease! And a sleeve-valve engine that improves with use! Willys-Knight advances still another step ahead of its field.
