Investigators believe Cook's slayer ran through the house to the back porch and escaped through a secret staircase that lead to the attic.

They think that the killer hid in the attic until the hunt died down.

THEY ARE COMING TO THE FAIR

Today we enter upon the first day of the South Plains Fair. It will be Lubbock Co. day and the people of this city will no doubt turn out in great numbers to see the wonders of the South Plains.

The South Plains Fair has been in favor with many of the South Plains counties, and their cooperation has been valuable in making it the success that it has enjoyed.

In the industrial building there is every evidence of increasing interest. Every booth is taken and others wanted in.

Let's make the visitors feel at home. Show them every courtesy possible that they may want to return another year.

Let's make the South Plains Fair a great reunion gathering each fall of the pioneers and their friends who have come in recent years.

LUBBOCK MUST GO FORWARD

It's not so much that the people of the home town mind it so much, but the fact that visitors, traveling men and others who make visits to our city for one thing and another, get wrong impressions about the general conditions of the town, and the minds of the people in regard to our streets and our lights and our water and sewer conditions.

Our streets are very, very rough. It is a bad advertisement for the town. Many of the streets will not be paved, and especially should the streets that have no paving at all be given attention.

This is the general complaint of people who come here, and it is the talk of the country, and the nearby towns of how rough the Lubbock streets are. Let's work 'em as soon as possible.

These things cannot be secured by the city fathers without money, and the people will have to supply that. It will be necessary for more bonds to be issued for these extensions, and if the people fail to put them over, the progress of the city can not go forward as it should, and must if we are to grow to the proportions that most of us think we will.

THINK OF YOUR PUBLIC SCHOOL OFFICIALS

Have you ever stopped to think of the debt of appreciation you owe to the members of the Board of Trustees of your public school? Or have you, instead, offered cutting criticisms at the work these men have done?

Public school trustees have a hard place to fill. They accept the responsibility of representing the whole community with reference to its school interests and never receive any pay for the time required to do their duty in taking care of your interests.

Let it be said that Slaton should be grateful to the self-sacrificing men who are so faithfully striving to give the best there is to Slaton in the development of a public school system.

We have heard a few, not many, bemoan the fair management for various things that they have done, accused them of being incompetent, narrow, selfish and impractical.

None of us are perfect, but if the fair management was inclined to let every fellow who comes along probably toting the first idea he ever had govern the fair there would be no fair.

We should certainly give them the closest cooperation and help them in every way instead of doing or saying anything that will make their work more difficult.

Co-operation is the word that has put success on the top of the ladder everywhere, and it must be had in this case as in every other.

DAVIS SHOWS UP REPUBLICAN ROTTENNESS

John W. Davis has been giving particular attention in his recent speeches to the corrupt officials in Washington, as exposed by the Senate investigating committee last winter.

One of the important witnesses in the investigation of the Department of Justice last winter was Gaston B. Means, who was one of the officials of the Department of Justice while Harry M. Daugherty was attorney general under President Harding and Coolidge and until the investigation showed such rottenness that he was forced out of the Cabinet.

MORE BUILDINGS ARE GOING UP

There is never any idle money in Lubbock, there are new buildings popping up all around, and while there is not near enough yet to supply the demand there are enough to keep a large number of new firms coming continuously and there will be no danger of crowding the town at the present rate.

John Davis' speeches are putting Coolidge's chances of election in need of a political pulmotor.

LABOR DAY DEVELOPMENTS

Celebration of Labor Day brought out some vital facts about our country that should inspire citizens with patriotism, optimism and confidence in our political institutions.

The workers draw as pay wages equal to more than one-half of the entire national income, and more than 60 per cent of that goes to those who get $2,000 or less each per annum.

They have rented an office and workshop space in the Wilson building at the corner of 13th and Avenue H, and will be ready to take care of the trade there the latter part of this week.

ACUFF ITEMS

What ideal crop gathering weather we are now experiencing. All the farmers are surely busy "making hay while the sun shines."

Our country has more spread-out ownership than any other. Railroads are owned by 2,000,000 persons; electric light business is owned by 1,500,000; telephone and telegraph systems are owned by 500,000 Americans, hundreds of thousands of these being wage earners.

Stock ownership by employees in the company that employs them is an ordinary and expanding fact in every line of American business, and political or municipal ownership is decreasing. How can you treat it, Mr. Political Theorist?

Lord, make me strong enough to bear My little round of anxious care. The day returns, For this I pray: Sufficient wisdom for the day. FOUR GRID BATTLES OFFERED FAIR ATTENDANTS HERE

PLAINS HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS TO CARRY FIGHT TO EACH OTHER DURING FOUR DAY PROGRAM; GAME ADDED OPENING DAY

In the world of sports to be offered during the Southplains Fair which swings back its gates here this morning on one of the biggest prospects ever to face a like organization in this part of the state, with its vast array of products from the farm, garden and home, is included four grid battles featuring high school squads of the Southplains territory, and if the sheet of local dopesters is to be taken anything like authentic, these battles are going to be some of the hardest fought contests to be witnessed this season on the football field.

An eleven hour game has been arranged for the opening day and though it probably will not be so sensational in its nature as the game to be offered each day following, it will be the first of the series in itself. It was the hope of officials in charge of this feature of the gigantic program offered during the classic that two other foreign teams could be rung in for this season, but these efforts were futile. Now it resolves into a round on the opening day that Abernathy will meet a specially picked squad from the Lubbock High School. And by specially picked, it is meant men from the second string, whose efforts were regulars possibly figuring in the deal. Coach Davis announces that he will put up a squad that he believes will make the contest interesting to the visitors, and yet retain the greater part of his regular squad for the clash with Floydada on Friday when the regulars go into combat with the huskies from the east plains.

LUBBOCK LINE-UP FOR FOOTBALL GAME AT FAIR PARK TODAY

Here is Coach Ernest Lowery's line-up for the game today at the Fair Park which, the second time, Lubbock High School Westerners meet Abernathy as part of the first day's program for the benefit of the fair visitors:
Eaton, Geo., center.
Holtz, right guard.
Payne, right tackle.
Jackson or Ramp, left tackle.
Hart or Honey, right end.
Scott, or Allen, quarter.
Smith, or Adkison, right half.

Seating Space Arranged.
Seating space has been arranged on the grounds on the plot just west of the Industrial building, where temporary bleachers have been erected, which it is believed will to a extent accommodate the crowds. Seat pads will be held for sale on the grounds to some extent, but the majority of the seats will be taken away from the scrubbing back and forth on the hard boards in the stands. The program will be offered free each day on the part of the fair management, with the exception of seats in the grand stands for which a charge of twenty-five cents will be assessed. This is done to some extent to reimburse the management for the expense to which they have gone in preparation of the seats.

On the second day of the Fair the Slaton Tigers will meet the Post High School squad in a game that will count on the official percentage under the University Interscholastic League ruling. Both of these schools are class "B" under the League classification, but for real football they cannot be considered in this class. They have each met and defeated two opponents in this season, and both are undefeated in their class. The Slaton Tigers, in a recent appearance here, walked off with a victory from the Lubbock High School Westerners, who are under the "A" classification.

Florida-Lubbock Friday.
Friday will be the crowning event of the program in the eyes of local fans, for on this day, the Westerners will meet Floydada. Florida is yet undefeated this season, and in the view of some fans who are close followers of the sport, they are to be reckoned with as one of the strongest clubs in the plains. Coach Jack Wester, of the Whirlwinds, although having lost some of his best men by graduation, has rung in some new material that is already beginning to show form equal to his regulars who have been with the team for three and four years.

Plains-Plainsview On Last Day.
On Saturday, the famed Jackrabbits of Plains will contest Plainsview. Coach Compton of the Jackrabbits had returned to him this year the bulk of his regular men, especially in the line, but he lost one or two of his backfield men, who had been the mainstay of the fighting Rabbits. To the present he is undefeated, having played two games. In one of these he overcame Tulsa, holding them scoreless. He will present a tough fight to Coach Allen's squad, of Plainsview. Plainsview has only played one game that would tend toward giving any knowledge as to the probable strength of the organization. At this time, they met Floydada, who defeated them.

Followers of the sport are anticipated to pay particular attention to the time of the games, each day, as almost each day a different time is scheduled, in order that the entertainment features may as far as possible be taken advantage of by fair visitors. The Abernathy-Lubbock game today will be called at 1:45 P. M. in order that the crowd may shift to the scene of the other battles which will follow immediately on the heels of the grid battle.
The Thursday and Friday games will be called at 4 o'clock unless a change is forced in the meantime, and on Saturday the Ralls-Plainsview battle is slated for 2 o'clock in order that the field may be cleared for the Pageant—"King Cotton," which will be given its second showing, beginning at about 4:30.

MOTHER OF VETERAN PITCHER TO SEE WORLD SERIES

By THOMAS L. STOKES.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—All the way from Coffeyville, Kans., the proudest mother in the whole land has come to the capital for the great moment of her life—to see her son, the hero of all fans, pitch the first big league game of baseball she ever saw.
When the crowd goes crazy next Saturday afternoon as Walter Johnson steps into the box, against the New York Giants, none will have exactly the thrill of one man in the stands, Mrs. Frank Johnson, his mother.
She arrived here Tuesday after a long, arduous trip from her home in Coffeyville. In the first of grandmothers, she spent her first afternoon in the capital taking care of Walter's two youngest children, while her son and his wife were downtown.
It will be the biggest moment in the career of the big right-hander to pitch in the world series for a pennant winner after 18 years of brilliant box work, clinging faithfully to a team which somehow never caught its stride until now.
It will be a greater moment for his mother. And it will be the first time she has ever seen him perform as a member of the Washington club.

LANDIS ASSUMES COMMAND OF WORLD SERIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Judge Landis took charge of the world series arrangements Tuesday afternoon when he conferred here with Charlie Stoneham, principal stockholder of the Giants and Ed Egan, secretary of the Washington Senators. The Judge made some decisions on minor matters relating to the series, but the important arrangements already had been made.
Bill Klem and Emie Quigley National league umpires were named by John Heydler, president of the league, to work with Bill Dooen and Tommy Connolly, the American league umpires in the world series. The umpires get $1,000 each.

NEW YORK FANS COLD TOWARD PENNANT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—As the World Series comes on again, New York is seized with a spasm of unaccountable calm and reserve from various parts of the city indicate that the populace is rapidly whipping itself into a rather unenthusiastic mood.
J. McGraw walked down Forty-Fifth street through the rain to his office Tuesday afternoon and was greeted by a salvo of carabines and whistles from the crowds. His players, stabled here and there about the metropolis in their own apartments, bungalows, or boarding houses were beamed all day by nobody at all demanding their presence at no banquets or parties.
Numerous deputations of prominent businessmen and important office holders did not call on Frankie Frisch, George Kelly and the other heroes of the silent world series and present them with free automobiles. The quiet that reigned through the streets and hotel lobbies grew more terrific as the day wore on, toward misty dusk and the police reserves were lined up close to the station doors, ready to wade into the thick of the silence if there should be any sign that the apathy of the city was getting beyond control.
This is a very strange state of affairs for a city which is about to entertain a world series and some of the die-hard leaders around town were the most alarmed because they thought the pandemic restraint and police might be a demonstration of keeping cool with Coolidge. Any way, you could never eyelid off any part of the warmest enthusiast in the entire metropolis.
In 1921 it was different. That was the season in which the Giants and the Yanks played the first of their three interborough engagements and the world series, although no-smearing novelty even then, was not a regular local habit. But this is the fourth successive fall in which New York has been asked to throw confetti and eat hot dogs and run around screaming in the public places and the town just does not seem equal to it anymore.
McGraw had intended to take a delegation of his youngling-Giants and a few of the upper class men up to New Haven for an exhibition game but the day was too leaky to be turned back his tickets and spent the afternoon in the office of the National Exhibition Company like any insurance magnate or wholesale dealer in cotton duck.
He is "Mister McGraw" both on the bench and at his desk and except for the purple "business" of his complexion, painted there by the sun of 30 years, on the ball field, he presents none of the appearances of the athlete being very bulky now and being white haired. None of the ball players showed up there as the Yankee players sometimes do at the Yankee business offices and the prevalent hush with New York in anticipation of the world series was heard at the desks as the secretaries and bookkeepers carried on with their work as usual.
As a matter of fact, this was just about as it should be for McGraw has won too many pennants to be turning handsprings at his age over the winning of this one, and the office help had the ticket sales to attend to. Wednesday, if the weather is fair, the Giants will play off ball at Sing Sing for the benefit of the mutual welfare league which provide movies and other little comforts for misunderstood burglars. If it is not the players will report to the club house in Harlem for any instructions that McGraw may want to issue.

HUGE RECEPTION PLANNED FOR SENATORS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—It is now absolutely certain that some of the world series games will be played in Washington. There was a rumor to that effect after the Senators beat the Red Sox Monday but the matter was settled definitely Tuesday when "One Eyed" Connolly, special rate catcher, appeared in the capital to arrange for admission to the games. No world series can start until "One Eyed" Connolly gets in with out "losing his eye," his motor engaged in diplomatic negotiations by which he expected to be within a short pitch of home plate next Saturday.
"I'll bet Muggsy McGraw a pair of rubber boots that the Senators lick the Giants," he announced, I'm tired of seeing New York monopolize the championships.
Meanwhile attracting secretly any attention, President Clark Griffith, manager Buckey Harris, Walter Johnson, and Sam Rice arrive here Tuesday. The big reception is Wednesday when the bulk of the team returns from Boston. They will ride in a motor parade up Pennsylvania avenue. They will be greeted by President Coolidge and then will sit down for a big dinner given by leading citizens.
Application for seats far exceeded the capacity of 40,000 which the Park with additional temporary stands, will accommodate. Distributor bugs Wednesday.
A block of seats has been held out for general sale. Stanley Harris shows the strain he has been working under in the last stretch of the pennant race.
"There is nothing I can say," he commented, "except that I don't deserve all of this credit. I could not have won if I hadn't had the tightest gang of ball players ever assembled back of me every minute through the whole season. Co-operation has been the watchword day and night."
Proclamations have been issued by the district commissioners for inaugurations and other ceremonies but never before has one been issued for a group of baseball players. "On behalf of the government of the District of Columbia and the citizens thereof," the proclamation issued Tuesday read, "the commissioners extend to the Senators their heartiest congratulations on winning the pennant in the American league. The fact is but the forerunner of another feat which the citizens of Washington have no doubt will be accomplished that is for the Washington team to vanquish the rival, in the New York team in the world series."
Johnson and Morgridge are regarded as almost certain to win their games.

VETERAN FUN-MAKER CLOSED SEASON FOR SENATORS

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—The 1924 big league season is over, save for the world series and Nicodemus Altrock, veteran funny man of the American league champions closed it.
With his capital in its usual position, Nick strutted to the pitchers mound in the eighth inning of the Washington Senators' final game and pitched a mean assortment of "stuff" so wicked were Nick's shots that not a Boston slugger was able to score in the two innings he worked.
And then just to show he can still see, the star pitcher of other days slapped a three base hit to the fence and a mound later scored his team's only run of the game, which incidently Boston won 13 to 1.
"I've had a great season," Nick chirped after the Washington trainer had spent a good hour managing what was left of a left arm. "My arm in perfect shape and I just fooled with them out there today. In fact, I'm one of the real comebacks and ought to is allowed to pitch in the world series. Once every five or six years Nick has a few innings in his arm that he just must let loose at. He felt that way Tuesday so with the pennant tucked safely away did his stuff. He has just one support, Schaefer, his "clown-mate" paid close attention to the hebrew holiday and didn't get to see the performance.

GIANTS DESPAIR THAT YANKS DID NOT WIN FLAG

By United News.
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The New York Giants have no consuming love for their neighbors, the New York Yanks whom they fought in the world series in three consecutive autumns. However, they do wish the Yanks, instead of the Washington Senators had won the American league pennant this year.
The play pool depends on the playing capacity of the ballparks in which the series is played. The Yanks hold more than 50,000 customers whereas the users will have to use grease in order to crowd 37,000 into the stadium in Washington. The intra-city world series receipts last year gave the players the greatest share over. The Giants realize their individual reward this season will be much less than they might have been if the Yanks had won in the American league.
If Dr. Butts, the Republican gubernatorial candidate in Texas thinks he's a nobody in politics, now, we wonder what he'll call himself when Ma Ferguson gets through with him.

FRANCO-GERMAN TREATY LIKELY

MOVE WOULD RESTORE ALL COMMERCE OF TWO FORMER ENEMIES

PARIS, Sept. 30.—Traveling closer and closer together along the path of peace, France and Germany are now entering upon the second step for the restoration of normal political and economic relations. This new move is represented by the negotiations of a commercial treaty between the two former enemies.

Headed by Dr. Trenchard, secretary of the German ministry of commerce, a German delegation of 12 has arrived in Paris for the negotiations of this treaty. The first great step toward the return of stability between the two countries was marked by approval of the Dawes plan. Carrying the process still further, they will now open the first negotiations since the war for the regulation of Franco-German commercial relations, which since the war have been governed by the Versailles treaty. With complete agreement between the two parties, the commercial treaty could be signed in 48 hours but in view of the opposing positions of France and Germany the negotiations are expected to be drawn out over a long period. France hopes to prolong the negotiations of the Versailles treaty which stipulated that for five years the products of Alsace-Lorraine enter Germany without duty. These provisions were designed to provide a French outlet for wines, iron and other minerals. The five year period expires on Jan. 10, next year. Germany, it is learned, will oppose the French desire for prolonging the free-duty period and will demand that France accord her the favored national treatment, extended to other European nations with whom she has commercial treaties. France, so far, has opposed granting this privilege. Mutual concessions must be made, therefore or it would seem that the negotiations are doomed.

LITTLEFIELD PLANS EXTENSION OF HER PHONE SERVICE

LITTLEFIELD, Sept. 30.—That the Panhandle Telephone System with its headquarters in Littlefield is destined to become one of the best telephone systems throughout West Texas is evidenced by the constant improvements and additions now going on. Recently a line was run through to Clovis and exchanges established in Sudan and Muleshoe, with about 30 private phones in each town. An exchange is also to soon be established at Amherst. Shallowater has been wanting a telephone exchange for some time and at a meeting of the business men of that place held with telephone officials, a contract was made to establish an exchange at that point. It is thought telephones will be in operation there within the next three weeks. One of the most important pieces of work being done by this system is the rebuilding of their line from Littlefield to Lubbock. Nearly all the line is receiving new and heavier poles, and a new copper line is being built in addition to the present one. This is a much needed improvement, and according to the management, when completed will enable local subscribers to talk to Fort Worth and Dallas with as much distinctness as they can now communicate with Lubbock over the present wire.

HEARST RANCH IS THREATENED BY FOREST FIRE

MONTEREY, Cal., Sept. 30.—Forest fires which are burning on a 30-mile front between Carmel and the Big Sur river have destroyed a cottage owned by Harry Leon Wilson and are threatening a ranch of Wm. R. Hearst. The fires have been burning for more than a week but broke out of control Tuesday and are now raging through valuable timberlands in the Palo Colorado Canyon. Two hundred men are fighting the blaze. Thousands of cattle in the path of the flames are endangered. The Hearst ranch is only a few miles from where the flames were reported late Tuesday.

One Fire in South LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30.—With the Southern California forest fire danger now confined to a 20-mile front in the San Gabriel mountains, attempts were being made late Tuesday to shunt the force of this blaze toward the Mojave desert where it is expected that the flames would speedily die out. The blaze in the Santa Monica hills which for a time Sunday threatened to sweep down into Hollywood and Beverly Hills, is now under control. One thousand men were on the San Gabriel fire lines Tuesday night. The blaze there is a continuation of the fire which has burned intermittently since Sept. 1, and which has devastated 50,000 acres during that period.

NATIONAL BANK IS ESTABLISHED AT AMHERST

AMHERST, Sept. 30.—More than six months ago the Halaell Farms Co. put up a building for a bank, and during this time they have been quietly looking about for an acceptable banker. This they have found in the person of Messrs. C. D. Duffy, formerly of the Guaranty State Bank at Mangum, Okla., and Roger Willets, formerly with the First National Bank, at Beggs, Okla. These men are now ready to open the bank here, as soon as the charter arrives, which has already been applied for. It will be a national institution, capitalized for $25,000.

BANDIT SHOOTS SELF IN LEG AFTER HIS LOOT GATHERED

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Hiding his face in the pillow which burned with hot tears of embarrassment, Paul Doyle, a sincere but inexperienced burglar of 18 years, moaned again and again Tuesday that he was a failure in his chosen profession. Perhaps he can yet succeed but he certainly made a wretched start when he tried to hold up three men in an apartment and shot himself in the leg. He had scooped up a lot of jewelry—two, which was said to be worth about $25,000—and was just about to make his get away when the very embarrassing accident occurred.

Young Doyle had intimidated Philip H. Higgins, David W. Ross and John D. Crimmins, had gathered together the jewelry or swag as it is technically known in the burglary profession, and really had no further business to detain him. But then, in a final flourish, he twirled his gun around his trigger finger, as he had seen "Seattle Sam," the solitary assassin, do in the movies. "I'm a flop" Paul sniffled when the police interviewed him at the hospital.

The Vortex Hot-Blast Heater They will Not Puff

VORTEX HEATERS meet a need and a demand for greater fuel economy. All makes of so-called bottom draft heaters are arranged to take the air supply from beneath the fire. This causes a very imperfect burning of the fuel and wastes practically all of the valuable fuel gases. This is something that you can not afford, especially as coal is fully one-half gas.

There is no more reason for such waste than of using twice as much gasoline as necessary in an automobile. In buying a heater it is to your interest to get one that burns the fuel gases as well as the solid portion of the fuel. However, this is just the portion of the fuel that all bottom draft heaters and ranges waste.

The Vortex Heaters and High Oven Ranges burn these gases as well as the solid portion of the fuel.

Scientific research combined with long experience in stove building has made the Vortex Heater what it is today—the most economical heater on earth. The final solution as to the proper amount of air as well as the proper arrangement of the draught is the outgrowth of the experience of the Chicago Air-Tight Stove Company.

A Vortex Heater in your house will soon save enough fuel to pay for itself. After that it is pure profit for you. You can figure that for each ton of fuel burned you have saved at least one-third of a ton. This means that you can get through the winter on one-third to one-half less fuel than with any bottom draft heater. The money thus saved will provide many extras for your home and family. Burns any fuel.

BUILDING THE FIRE.

The fire is built without putting the hand inside the stove.

FEEDING THE FIRE.

The fuel is fed through a soot-proof, dust-proof, and smoke-proof feed door. The fuel all goes into the stove where it belongs and no fuel soot, or ashes can drop on the floor.

Every housewife who has had any experience with a stove having a side feed door knows what a nuisance it was as regards dirt on the floor.

GREAT FUEL SAVING.

This is accomplished by means of the Air-Tight construction of this stove and the Hot Blast Draft. Its Air-Tight construction makes it possible to hold fire not only over night but much longer when necessary. The Double Hot Blast Draft blows super-heated air into the stove (just as in a blast furnace) and burns the fuel gases before they can escape. The flames are driven against the sides of the heater and all of the heat is conducted into the room. None of the combustible fuel gases are wasted. All of the solid part of the fuel is burned.

Every ton of soft coal is fully half gas. When using a bottom draft stove this part of the fuel is allowed to escape up the chimney unburned.

THE DRAFT CONTROL.

In a Vortex Heater is so perfect that the fire burns with a steady, powerful red heat unlike oak stoves, which are white hot one minute and cold the next. A steady, constant fire is far more economical than a flashy, rapid fire. A steady fire is far more healthful than a flashy one. A flashy fire causes colds by being too hot one minute and too cold the next.

BURNS ANY FUEL.

Unlike other stoves this one requires no changes in construction when changing from one fuel to another. If you are interested in the best that money can buy as well as a positive saving in fuel you will put the Vortex Heater in your home. Come in and see our complete line on display.

WOULD HAVE DAWES WITHDRAW FROM REP. RACE

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Senator Charles G. Dawes of Iowa has demanded the resignation of Charles G. Dawes as the republican candidate for the vice-presidency in a letter to Wm. M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee. The letter made public Tuesday charged that Dawes had conducted the republican campaign throughout the country, especially in the northwest.

LaFollette-Wheeler supporters saw the letter as a prelude to an own declaration for their ticket by the Iowa senator.

Senator Brookhart requested that the republican name change as "substitute a farmer bloc candidate, not an imitation farmer bloc." Brookhart suggested Senator Norris of Nebraska.

The silence of the Iowa senator since the inception of the LaFollette-Wheeler campaign had led republican leaders to hope that he would ostensibly support the republican ticket. The bombshell which Brookhart tossed at the feet of Chairman Butler Tuesday, however, surpassed their worst fears.

Senator Brookhart's attack on the republican candidate for vice president exceeded in bitterness even that of Senator Burton K. Wheeler. "Dawes" styled out like a bold faced plutocrat," declared the Iowa senator, "but his discourtesy and unbecomingly language quickly reduced him in his own vocabulary to a mere 'pea with plutocrat'."

Brookhart attacked Dawes bank record where Senator Wheeler left off, saying "his sulphuretted-by-dragon bank record, as established by the supreme court of Illinois the day he was nominated, renders him unfit for public service and he should be removed as the candidate for his party as Deuby and Daugherty already were removed from office."

His official defense in this transaction by a noted democratic lawyer only makes this conclusion more emphatic. The claim that he was ignorant of the import of his act and only regard it as a friend is favor adds color to the general claim that his own advertised financial ability is only a bluff and that he acts as the agent of international banking powers. The for-

CHURCH RESORTING TO A SYSTEM OF ADVERTISING

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—For the first time in the history of the city, New York pastors and churches will borrow business and advertising methods this week in a big drive to increase church attendance in the world's largest city. Newspaper advertising, direct mail, tags, out-door advertising, radio, and personal salesmanship will be combined to beat the devil and fill the city's houses of worship on October 5, National Go-to-Church Sunday.

In some churches, automobiles owned by members of the congregation will be enlisted to drive others into the fold.

"Plan your cars for the glorification of God on Sunday instead of pleasure," pastors are urging.

Under the direction of the New York federation of churches, the plan is to fill the churches next Sunday and keep them filled through the winter. For several Sundays preachers will turn salesmen and talk from their pulpits on the value of the church-to-business and in the community life.

Churches over the country are co-operating in an effort to sell the church to the people in Chicago. It was shown, full page advertisements are being carried in daily papers pointing out that the churches are of vital importance to the city but are not appreciated.

H. H. LaPlante, field secretary of the New York federation says the church is a seasonal proposition like many other businesses. "But," he explained, "while the clothing business is good for 8 or 9 months and the theatres for seven, the churches are patronized but six months and in some cases but three and four months."

Out of the millions of protestants in greater New York, LaPlante estimated that but 200,000 went to church on Sunday. This he added, shows that the church business is not at all what it should be.

It is hoped that through the present drive the weekly church attendance will be doubled. Following a rally meeting of pastors from over 400 metropolitan churches, ministers have become so enthusiastic over the present campaign that many old plans for getting the people to Harris is six feet three-inches tall. He is a native Texan and is past fifty years of age.

He will be in Plainview at the swimming pool, east of the Texas Utilities Company's plant, Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock and will give a swimming exhibition. He has been in Amarillo at the fair and will be here enroute to Lubbock for the fair there. —Plainview Herald.

MANY STUDENTS GO TO COLLEGE FROM CROSBYTON

CROSBYTON, Oct. 1.—The activity in the Crosbyton vicinity does not only include the material development but also the educational interest. To date there are twenty-three of Crosbyton high school pupils who have entered colleges at various places this fall, with others to follow in the near future.

About 150 pupils have already enrolled in the high school of Crosbyton this term. A creditable number of boarding students have already entered the schools in the various grades and with the large new brick two-story building just completed, and the additional number of teachers added this year, the term promises to be one of the best in the history of the school.

Dr. John W. Overton, brother of Dr. M. C. Overton of the Lubbock Sanitarium, is here from his home at Hereford visiting and attending the South Plains Fair. Dr. Overton's son is interested in the Deaf Smith county booth at the fair, which has attracted much attention of all who have visited the agricultural building and is having much favorable effect in advertising that section of the state.

SERIOUS SHORTAGE BREAD THREATENS GERMAN EMPIRE

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—Abnormally high prices for bread and a serious shortage of that product, threatens Germany this winter. Because the harvest has yielded only one half of last year's crops, heavy grain purchases must be made abroad and the government even is considering the necessity of rationing the war time rationing cards for bread.

ALASKA IS NOW RAISING FUR IN PENS. By United Press. ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Oct. 1.—Pinning wild things from their native haunts, domesticating them and adding them to the list of useful accessories to the farm and commerce is a work being performed in Alaska.

Gained by the progress made in fur propagation the time is rapidly approaching when hardly any animal wanted for fur or meat will be excluded from the list. Already the variety has grown until the majority of fashionable furs are being reared in pens, along streams and lakes.

There is yet one (yet no man has been able to conquer and that is the wolverine. But there are trappers familiar with the habits of the animal that ever they will soon transform him from the scourge of the trapper to a revenue producer.

So far have the exigencies of commerce advanced that even the fishes of the sea are included in the item of conservation and scientific preparation.

Among the novel exhibits shown at the Western Alaska Agricultural Association, Inc., fair, in August and September were live foxes, red deer, elk, moose and sable, muskrat and beaver, all from the pens, farms and ranges of domesticated fur-bearing animals is resorted to by the trapper. The plannation of the hills helps with his marten, the salmon of the streams supplies his fox food and helps out with other carnivora. A suitable lake, with abundant forage for aquatic animals, such as muskrat and beaver, only needs a fence and a plot of carrots and other vegetables to start a trapper out as a farmer in these varieties.

The milk and marten offer the hardest nuts to crack, owing to their instinct for ranging and the great variety of its food. Overcoming this wandering habit has not been fully achieved. Being elusive it is necessary to pen the animal.

Those who have been steam-rolled in politics are never happy until they have steam-rolled somebody else.

After these preliminaries, the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered. There will be no sermon and the service will close promptly at 12:00 o'clock.

At the evening hour the Convocations of the First Methodist Church and the First Methodist church will unite in a union service.

FRENCHMAN HAS PLAN FOR PEACE IN ALL EUROPE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Oct. 1.—Another plan for reestablishment of peace in Europe, and incidentally throughout the world, has been awarded a prize of 100,000 francs by Edward A. Filene, wealthy merchant of Boston, Massachusetts.

This prize is part of a series of awards offered by Filene in France, England, Italy and Germany on "How to reestablish security and prosperity in this country in question by international cooperation."

The circumstances of the Filene award are somewhat similar to the Bok peace prize award in the United States, which aroused so much agitation in the American Senate.

Fifteen thousand persons participated in the award in Europe, more than 5,000 in France, more than 4,000 in England and Germany and more than 1,000 in Italy.

The winning French plan is unique, with different amounts for the lesser prizes.

Under the French plan, whose author's name has not been made public yet, is the provision that there shall be created within the present League of Nations a European League of Nations.

Needs U. S. Cooperation. As in the case of the majority of the flood of world peace plans during the past several years, the French proposal stresses the importance of cooperation from the United States for the success of the plan.

The means herein indicated will have their full difficulty only with the cooperation of the United States. That country does not want to enter into the League of Nations of the world.

Other nations will follow, European cooperation will determine world cooperation.

Would Admit Russia. The French plan also makes the important statement that the proposed European League of Nations will not have its full effect without the admission of Russia, and declares that everything possible should be done to secure the entrance of Russia into this League with "all the rights and duties that this admission supposes."

All the nations of Europe would be admitted to the European League of Nations under the French plan. Americans who have opposed entrance of the United States into the present League of Nations because of the force implied by Article X will be interested to read this point of the recommendations for setting up the European League.

"Armed Force." "To give to the European League of Nations a real force to take action against those States making trouble, this force will be an armed force.

So long as there will be in Europe some nations not adhering to the League, then, the international force must always be superior to the United forces of all the nations not members of the League.

LOVE FOR MINISTER TURNS TO ASHES.

This photograph of Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, of Ida, Ill., was taken in her cell at Salem, Ill., where she was taken for safe keeping after confessing she murdered her husband, Wilford Sweetin, with arsenic at the same time Rev. Lawrence M. Hight killed his wife by the same means, so they might be free to love each other. Her love for the pastor-murderer has turned to ashes since she found he was not the superman she deemed him. She divides her time in her cell between reading and weeping.

charged to witness the stunt. The fact that it is given free at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair is appreciated by both the fair management and spectators as well. In addition to the jumping stunt, Davidson drives a stock car up a flight of twenty steps to a platform above. Throwing the car in reverse, he backs down the steps. Thus is demonstrated not only the wonderful power of the Overland but the excellent brakes as well. The jumping Overland is all-steel constructed and but for the patented triplex springs and the strong construction the car would be completely wrecked in one jump. P. W. Koch, special factory representative, and W. A. Riley, district representative of the Overland Motor Company, are in the city supervising the exhibition of the jumping Overland and are rendering every possible assistance to local representatives of the Lub-Tex Motor Company. The stunt has attracted thousands of spectators who never fail to cheer to the echo following each performance of Davidson and his car.

TARIFF ACT FAVORS MELLON CONCERN DAVIS CHARGES

FREDERICK, Md., Oct. 1.—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, struck out at Secretary of the Treasury Mellon here Wednesday afternoon charging that the Aluminum Company of America, a Mellon concern, had received special favors under the republican tariff act. Davis not only attacked the alleged favoritism, but accused Mellon of "misrepresentation wholly untrue" in answer to Mellon's recent statement denying that the tariff had materially increased the cost of aluminum products.

The Democratic candidate said he had not been aware that he had previously attacked the secretary of the treasury but had charged the company with profiting unreasonably through legislative favors. "But since Mr. Mellon charges to identify himself with the company, I presume the same charge would be against him," Davis said. "His statement has all the appearance of an effort for political purposes to justify the unwarranted increase by his party friends and associates of tariff rates on aluminum and aluminum manufactures. To this end, he quotes a letter from Mr. Bernard M. Baruch which commends the protective services of Mr. Mellon and his company during the war. The connection between Mr. Mellon's war services and the present tariff rates seem to me quite remote.

"I had not supposed that patriotism during the war had any relation to personal favors when the war is closed. Indeed, Mr. Mellon was foremost among those who denied that even military service gave veterans any claim to adjusted compensation."

"If Mellon's assertions were true that the tariff had no effect on the price of aluminum," Davis asked, "why in heaven's name should the Aluminum Company of America have sought an increase of 250 per cent?" Mellon's statement that labor is 30 per cent of the cost of aluminum production was worse than merely absurd," Davis said.

GOVERNMENT TO START SEIZURE OF STORED WINE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—The first of a series of government seizures of wine held in bonded warehouses throughout the state will take place Wednesday when government agents confiscate 15,000 gallons belonging to Clementi Cellari at Ties Pines. Cellari recently pleaded guilty to selling some of the wine and government action is planned against other wine dealers who have illegally disposed of part of their stock. It was announced. The winners against which the action is planned are in Sonoma, Napa, Livermore and Palmaro valleys. Orders for the seizure of Cellari's stock were issued by Federal Judge John S. Partridge Tuesday.

There were thirteen business lots sold in a single day recently and most of the purchasers intend to build on these sites. IRELAND BOUNDARY BILL WILL PASS COMMONS, BELIEF

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The special session of parliament, called by Premier MacDonald for the second reading of the Irish Boundary bill, developed no immediate opposition to the measure but produced rambling forecasts in advance of the severance which the labor government will undergo this fall.

The Irish bill became virtually certain of passage in commons when H. H. Asquith announced that it would have the support of the liberals. This followed MacDonald's motion for the second reading which was coupled with an indignant denial by the premier that any attempt was being made to curtail Ulster in her boundary dispute with the free state.

Macdonald argued that the government was bound to fulfill its obligation to Ireland, which had been solemnly contracted and could not be lightly put aside. The opposition vote was voiced by Stanley Baldwin, leader of the conservatives, who announced that his forces would not at present oppose the bill, but would propose amendments at a later stage.

Later Baldwin indicated that the conservatives would move for a vote of censure against the government in the regular October session of parliament in connection with the dismissal of charges of sedition against Kildare Cawston of the Worker's Weekly. Anti-laborites have raised a minor storm of discussion over the Campbell case which led Sir Patrick Hastings, the attorney general to deny to the house of commons that any member of the government or any one else had ever attempted to influence his action in dismissing the charges against the radical leader.

W. J. GARRETT LUBBOCK, TEXAS The Store for Everybody.

ENTERING BUSINESS HERE ON SMALL SCALE SEVEN YEARS AGO, C. A. PAULGER IS NOW HEAD OF BIG BATTERY-BEARING BUSINESS

The rapid development of the South Plains section of West Texas has been marked with no greater progression than has the development of the Paulger Battery Bearing Company of Lubbock, a wholesale, bearing-distributing concern and retail battery distributor and manufacturer.

C. A. Paulger, manager of the Battery Bearing Company, entered business in Lubbock seven years ago in "a hole in the wall" occupying a small part of the building where the Cadillac Garage is located.

According to Mr. Paulger an average of from three to four batteries were sold each month during the early existence of this business, and when sales reached the half dozen mark things looked mighty promising. In striking contrast to the business handled at that time by Mr. Paulger, he having taken care of all the work from the time of the purchase of seventy-five batteries per month are sold from the business here, together with the numerous repair jobs.

The Paulger Battery Bearing Company is wholesale distributor of Thacker & Hyatt and New apartment bearings for all makes of automobiles. This business has not been established as long as the battery business but is growing in popularity all the time and is reaching into every section of the South Plains.

A large stock of electrical goods are also carried.

Mr. Paulger first entered business in Lubbock as distributor of U. S. L. batteries. He now carries a large stock of Prest-O-Lite batteries and Paulger's Hand Built Batteries, manufactured in their plant located at 1012 13th street, are gaining popularity with users of all makes of automobiles. The fact that every piece of material made into the Paulger battery is inspected by Mr. Paulger before being used, and that every battery manufactured by the company has the Paulger reputation for service back of it, means much in building up a large patronage for this feature of the business.

The space in the Royalty Motor Company building occupied by the Paulger Battery Bearing Company is 40 by 70 feet, all of which is used to good advantage in taking care of that business. The most modern equipment is used and the working force is large enough to give good and efficient service to all patrons.

Growing as it has from a small institution, occupying the time of Mr. Paulger in taking care of all features of the business, the Paulger Battery Bearing Company now is so large as to employ every day five persons working every day to meet the demands placed upon them by a large trade.

C. A. Paulger is business manager of the firm, and works in all departments of the business. He is especially busy in the battery manufacturing department where he makes personal inspection of all materials used.

C. C. Chase is a partner in the business with Mr. Paulger and works in all departments of the business, devoting a great deal of his time to sales.

Thomas H. Deatheridge has been an employee of the company for the past six months as armature and electrical worker. He is a thoroughly experienced workman and has had much training in this field. Wm. H. Whitaker is employed to look after the battery work. Mr. Whitaker, is experienced in this special work and is very efficient.

Miss Beatrice Martin, bookkeeper, has a big job looking after the work in this department which is growing with developments in all other features of the business.

The Paulger Battery Bearing Company serves a large trade drawn from a radius of one hundred miles of Lubbock. The fact that this big patronage has been accumulated through seven years of conscientious and efficient service rendered by Mr. Paulger, who is still on the job looking to their every need in the battery and bearing lines, indicates great future possibilities for the company as this trade is growing all

LAW WEAKE'ED ON THREE SHAKESPEARES.

By United Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 1.—"I had was Whittiers on Longfellow, and there I set with three Shakespeares staring him in the face. Then the law-busted in," said H. F. Henderson when he was brought before Justice Hanby on a charge of gambling.

"You say you had three Shakespeares?" asked the court.

"Yes."

"And your adversary—Whittiers on Longfellow?"

"You bet," Henderson replied.

"Well, that sounds like a poker term, but—"

"You see, judge my wife wouldn't let us use regular playing cards, so we made out with an old deck of authors. We didn't figger it was against the law," the defendant related.

Justice Hanby gasped. Henderson was freed.

OVER A THOUSAND BALES GINNED AT O'DONNELL

O'DONNELL, Texas, Oct. 1.—The number of bales weighed at the O'Donnell yards last night amounted to 1026, over 100 having been ginned on this day. The ginner predicts that 125 bales a day will be ginned for the balance of the week.

Cotton is opening very fast the past few days and next week the big rush will be on. As the picking proceeds, all the farmers say that their cotton is turning out better than they expected. In many instances the yield being estimated as high as three-fourths a bale to the acre.

O'Donnell is leading all the South Plains towns in number of bales ginned, except Lamesa and we are counting that thriving community a close second.

WHAT HAPPENS TO WOMEN IN POLITICS.

By United Press.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Oct. 1.—Besides being handicapped by it, Mrs. James A. Cable, democratic candidate for congress in the second congressional district of Kansas, found she was running against the husband of her best friend.

On top of that, it was her best friend, Mrs. U. S. Guyer, who first told her of the nomination.

"You tell your husband I am out to beat him," Mrs. Cable told Mrs. Guyer over the telephone.

Mrs. Cable, who declares she is strong for enforcement of the 18th amendment, said she intended to conduct a friendly campaign.

BANKER DEMAND LOWER TAXES FEWER LAWS

By United Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Lower taxes and fewer laws were demanded today by Thomas R. Preston, president of the National Bankers Association of the American Bankers Association, in convention here. Preston is head of the Hamilton National Bank at Chattanooga, Tenn.

After discussing the general subject of banking and agriculture, Preston said:

"A subject of more importance than that of agriculture is the decentralization of the federal government—the giving back to the people and the States some of the rights and privileges that have been taken from them, and the lessening of the burdens of taxation. It would be helpful if we could stop this never-ending avalanche of new laws. Once we kicked against tax-giving, pioneer times as reminders of the Indian warfare of their days. The fourth, known to exist only by virtue of references to it in

FIND RUINS OF FORT WRITTEN OF BY FREMONT

By United Press.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 1.—The fourth of four adobe forts, or trading posts, written of by John C. Fremont and Rufus Sage, has been unearthed from the sands of South Platte river, north of Denver.

Ruins of three of these early landmarks, Fort Lupton, Fort Vasquez and Fort St. Vrain, all in northern Colorado, have stood out since pioneer times as reminders of the Indian warfare of their days. The fourth, known to exist only by virtue of references to it in the writings of Fremont and Sage, had been buried by the Platte river when at flood stage.

A slight rise in the land and a difference in the texture of the soil gave Dr. LeRoy B. Hafen, curator of the state historical society of Colorado, the clue which led to its discovery.

Settlers who came to Colorado in the sixties had never seen or heard of the fort, Sage, however, wrote of it in 1842 as being "much dilapidated in appearance, and nearly levelled with the ground." Fremont indicated that he passed it a year later. Since their visit, time has blotted it out, and the farmer who owned the land on which it was found farmed near it for years without suspecting its existence.

The builder of the fort and the date of the building have not been determined. It is believed that it was one of the earliest adobe forts constructed on the South Platte and that it was used as shelter for the Indians by the early trapper and explorers, long before stage coach days.

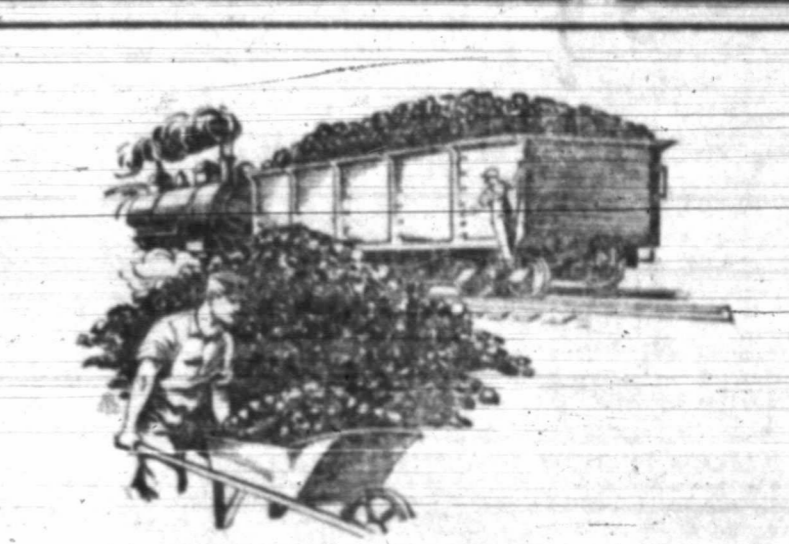

It's all wrong! The Dempsey Firpo fight lasted fifteen minutes and took in $1,600,000; the Olympic contests lasted a month and drew only $561,900; the world war lasted four years and ran up a deficit.
