Yellow Fever Breaks Out in Houston Saturday Night

SOUTHPLAINS FAIR GREAT FINANCIAL SUCCESS

MANY IMPROVEMENTS ADDED THIS YEAR WERE ALSO PAID OUT

The Panhandle Southplains Fair, which closed a four-day program here on Saturday night, October 4, has paid all debts in connection with the program this year, and in addition has brought in funds with which all outstanding debts brought over from last year have been assumed, with a slight reserve left on hand with which to begin preparations for the annual classic next year, according to a statement made late Saturday by Chris Harwell, president of the association, following a report from Manager Davis of the financial condition.

A report was made to the directors of the Association late Friday following a complete check-up of all bills known, and the issuance of checks covering all premiums in every department. Checks for premiums totaling approximately $3,500 were placed in the mail Wednesday night, and four days after the closing of the fair, giving the management the distinction of setting a record for this performance, the usual time for a complete check-up being from 10 days to two weeks.

New Improvements Paid

The fair closed this year facing a deficit of approximately $5,000 which had been brought over from last year. In addition to wiping out these debts with accrued interest, the association has put up and paid for approximately $5,000 worth of permanent improvements including an 8-foot woven wire fence, topped by three strands of barbed wire, turnstiles for both entrance and exit, a new shed for the livestock department, a machinery and auto shed, which during the summer season will be used by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for accommodation of the tourists, and various other minor improvements, paramount among which probably is the staking off and grading of a place set aside for parking of automobiles near the park.

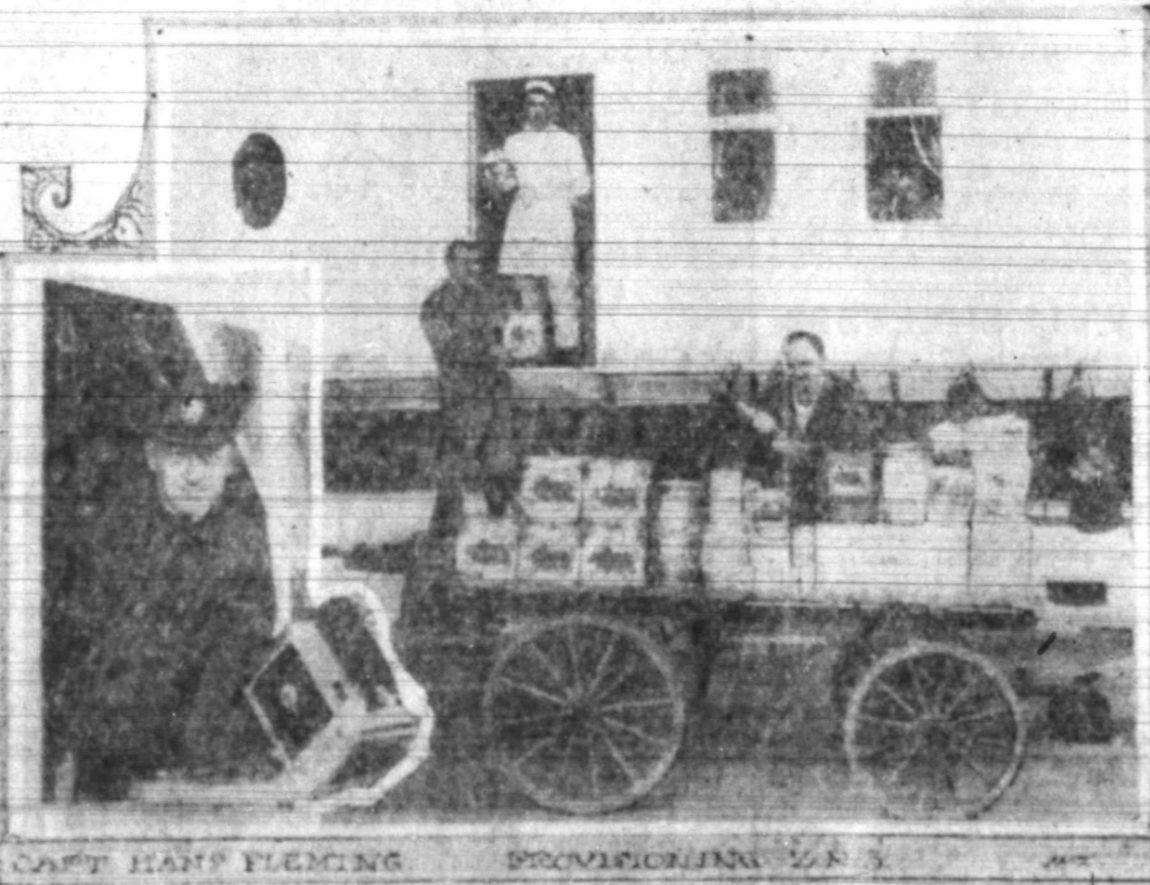

In comparing the annual report of the management for the year just closed and 1923, it is shown that receipts practically doubled this year over last year. In 1923 the total income was $2,161.64, with an expense aggregating $14,553.36, giving a deficit in 1923 of $5,391.72. In 1924 the total income was $25,068.42, with expenses approximately $18,678.95, which leaves an apparent surplus of $7,389.47. This surplus necessarily is approximated because of the fact that it is believed a few small bills are yet outstanding, which officials now urge be presented at once so that everything may be straightened up and a final accounting made.

Deficit Paid Off

Over $6,500 in old bills have been paid off by the management this year including, besides the actual deficit of the Fair Association for 1923, a payment of $1,150.75, which was yet due on stables and sheds erected for the local Battery of Field Artillery, the material in these sheds having been used later by the Fair Association in erection of buildings for certain departments of the Fair. The balance due on these sheds, according to A. B. Davis, Secretary-Manager of the Fair, was assumed by a note issued by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, and by virtue of the fact that the Fair Association eventually gained usage of the material, it was decided that the Association should assume the notes, which they have already done.

The Fair has been a success from every standpoint. Managers. Davis and Harwell, simply from the

CATTLE PLAGUE UNDER CONTROL

DISEASE VIRTUALLY WIPED OUT WITH SLAUGHTER OF 1,200 MORE CATTLE

Houston, Oct. 11.—With the round up and slaughter of 1,200 cattle today federal and state authorities have practically wiped out the remaining remnants of infected animals on the 6,500 acre area on which the disease was first discovered.

Estimates on the total number of cattle which have been slaughtered since the outbreak of the plague in Texas two weeks ago was placed at 5,000 head. No outbreaks have been reported outside the quarantine zone.

Oklahoma today modified her quarantine restrictions to allow practically all products to enter that state. In modifying the ban, Oklahoma authorities issued an order allowing the Barnum and Bailey Circus to enter the state on Oct. 20, providing certain regulations regarding fumigation were observed.

INFANT BABY FOUND IN HAYSTACK NEAR OKLAHOMA CITY

Oklahoma City, Oct. 11.—Physicians tonight were battling to save the life of a two and a half weeks old baby found buried in a hay stack near the suburbs of Oklahoma City late today.

The infant had been buried about 48 hours, physicians declared.

Despite its feeble condition, doctors believe they will save the baby's life.

The child was found by three boys who were tramping across the meadow near the hay stack. A watchful and footprints of a man and woman leading to and from the hay stack were the only clues found by detectives.

Robbers stole a Springfield (Ill.) bank's safe, the building itself, being too heavy to carry away.

NO DECISION IS GIVEN IN ELIGIBILITY OF MRS. FERGUSON

3 AMERICANS IN BANDIT GANG IS BELIEF OF THE OFFICIALS ON PROBE

Austin, Oct. 11.—The Supreme Court at conclusion of argument in the case attacking the eligibility of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, democratic nominee, to hold office of governor because of her sex, did not announce any ruling or indicate when the decision would be handed down. If decision is handed down next week motion for rehearing will be filed, fifteen days before allowed for filing such a motion. There is every reason to believe that the case will have been finally disposed of before general election day.

CONTRACT IS LET AT TAHOKA FOR TEN TON ICE PLANT

Tahoka, Oct. 11.—Tahoka is to install a municipal ice plant. The City Council entered into a contract with the Sterling Ice-Mach. Co. for the installation of a ten ton plant to be operated by the city in connection with the municipal water, light and power plants.

It is contemplated that the plant will be installed and ready for operation by the time the next season opens.

By the operation of this plant the city will be able to furnish ice to the citizens at a much lower figure, it is thought, than they are compelled to pay for ice now, and the plant will pay its own operating expenses.

This marks another step in the development and growth of our city, and the Mayor and the City Council are to be commended for this forward step.

CROWELL MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH UNDER TRUCK

Crowell, Texas, Oct. 11.—Will Roberts, 34, toll bridge guard was crushed to death on the highway near here today when he fell beneath the wheels of a moving truck.

MEXICAN IS DEAD AND 88 OTHERS TAKEN TO CAMP

STRICT QUARANTINE IS ON HOTEL WHERE PERIL IS DISCOVERED

Houston, Oct. 11.—Barely recovered from the first blow dealt by the hoof and mouth disease Houston tonight faced the most deadly pest in the history of the city—yellow fever.

One Mexican is dead and eighty other residents of the hotel in which he died have been taken by city health authorities to a quarantine farm just outside of the city limit. City health authorities it is said diagnosed the illness and subsequent death of the Mexican as being caused by yellow fever.

Tonight a cordon of police had been placed in the little hotel in which the Mexican died while city health officers combated it from top to bottom with deadly fumes from cyanide of potassium.

All houses in the block in which the hotel is located have been quarantined it is said.

The fever, it was brought out tonight, was contracted by a Mexican named Perez while in Yucatan. According to papers found in his pockets he arrived in New Orleans on Sept. 28, and reached Houston Oct. 1.

He died Wednesday and an autopsy was performed Thursday by local state and federal authorities, who ordered immediate segregation of all those living in the hotel.

GIANT AIRSHIP TAKES OFF FROM GERMAN SHORES

EXPECTED TO ARRIVE IN U. S. ON TUESDAY OR WEDNESDAY

BY CARL D. GROAT FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Oct. 12.—(Sunday Morning)—The ZR-3 started for America today.

Hauled from its hangar shortly after the first flush of dawn lighted the eastern sky, the world's newest and largest dirigible lifted its vast bulk gracefully in the morning air and headed westward, on a non-stop flight that will bring it to the shores of the United States next Tuesday or Wednesday.

An immense crowd which came to Friedrichshafen in all manner of conveyances sent up cheers and cries of "Hoch," as the Zeppelin soared away, its propellers droning in harmonious unison. There were many tears and grumbings of discontent, too, for the ZR-3 is to be delivered to the United States as one of the spoils of war.

Dr. Eckener, director of the Zeppelin Works was at the helm as the dirigible departed and there were 30 officers and men including four Americans on board. The start was made at 6:40 a. m.

Special precautions were taken at the last moment to relieve the ZR-3 of possible slowmovers.

As the Zeppelin took the air and disappeared in the haze of the western horizon the last word from her commander was one of every confidence in success of the flight:

"We will not fail," Dr. Eckener said.

The ZR-3 is in constant touch by radio and receives weather reports giving atmospheric conditions.

As the big Zeppelin left, it was foggy but the weather was reported as good.

The ZR-3 is still Germany property, and will remain as such until accepted by the United States upon arrival.

A few hours before the ZR-3 was to start the police arrested a Westphalen student, armed with a carbine, who had intended to shoot and kill Dr. Eckener, director of the Zeppelin works, and thus prevent the air ship's departure.

Rumors went the rounds late today that an American cameraman, representing a news weekly had gone aboard the ship and was in hiding. Dr. Eckener announced the craft would not leave its mooring mast until every conceivable cranny was searched.

The Americans on board are Captain George W. Steel, who will command the dirigible when it is turned over to the navy as part payment of Germany's reparations bill, Commander Jacob B. Klein, Jr., in charge of the naval station at Lakehurst, N. J.; Lt. Commander S. M. Krauss, engineer-in-chief, and Major F. M. Kennedy, army officer.

Zeppelin authorities declared dirigibles for trans-oceanic use should have a capacity of at least 100,000 cubic meters. The ZR-3 is a 70,000 cubic meter ship, the high performance.

PARADE TO OPEN TECH JUBILEE

ALL COMMITTEES ARE BUSY ON PREPARATION FOR GREAT PROGRAM

Rapid progress is reported by the chairman of the several committees appointed to work out details connected with the Tech jubilee in Lubbock on Armistice Day.

One of the most important committees is the Traffic Committee, which will analyze most carefully the needs for handling the great crowds expected in Lubbock and it is certain every angle of this most important feature of the day's celebration will be well cared for. Parking arrangements similar to those used during the South Plains Fair will be worked out in order that a minimum of difficulty may be experienced in the parking of cars near the Tech campus.

The parade which is scheduled to precede the major part of the day's program will be one of the most attractive ever witnessed in Lubbock. While it is understood no definite placing of the large number of groups to appear in the parade has been made yet the rapidly forming ideas on this feature promise an addition to the day's program of exceptional brilliance. We are informed that approximately two thousand school children from the public schools of Lubbock will march in the parade and each child will be furnished a Texas flag. It was the committee's idea that due prominence should be given in this way to the great State of Texas which has been responsible through its duly elected representatives for the creation of the school located in Lubbock. Within a brief time it is expected that the completed program will be ready for publication.

OLD LANDMARKS ARE DISAPPEARING IN SOUTHPLAINS

All of the South Plains section of Texas is showing a wonderful development and the advances of development is playing havoc with old landmarks. A news story appearing in the newspapers from Plainview bear testimony of the progress that is being made in this section of the country, in the story of the passing of the old Baptist church in that city to make room for a new and modern structure.

The Plainview News says in writing of this that the last service was held in the old Baptist church Sunday night and work of tearing down the wooden structure will begin at once. A modern brick and concrete structure to cost $85,000 will take its place. The Baptist congregation will use the city auditorium for its Lord's day services until the new church is built. Services will be held in the auditorium next Sunday morning and night.

The old building has had an interesting career in Plainview's history. The structure is composed of two church buildings—the First Baptist and the Calvary Baptist. The larger of the two—the First Baptist—was erected just across the street southwest of the steam laundry in the early days of the town. Frank Norris, of Fort Worth, was its pastor for several weeks about 16 years ago, and Dr. S. P. Brooks of Baylor university, spoke in it on one or two occasions. About 14 years ago there was some trouble and division in the congregation, a number of members withdrawing and forming the Calvary Baptist Church a building being bought and remodeled, the structure being located on west Eighth street, where the A. M. McMillen residence now stands. Each congregation maintained a pastor for full time and kept actively at work. After several years the troubles were settled, the two congregations reunited as "Plainview Baptist church" and the two houses of worship moved to the centrally located lots, owned by the First Baptist church, combined into one building, and since then the church has grown very rapidly and is now one of the leading Baptist congregations of the state, the membership numbering more than 1,100, we have been informed.

The first pastor after the consolidation was Dr. O. L. Halley, now of Nashville, Tenn., the next was Dr. E. Gates, present pastor of the First Baptist church of San Antonio; he was followed by Rev. R. F. Jenkins, now living in Amarillo. Four years ago the present pastor, Rev. Harlan J. Matthews, from Decatur, took the work, and under his ministry the church has made its most rapid growth, until it has outgrown its home and must have a larger and modern plant. Several years ago Dr. G. W. Truett of Dallas, held a revival here.

The church has at all times had a leading part in financing the various missionary, educational and other activities of the Southern Baptist and Texas Baptist general conventions, and in fostering and overseeing the work of Wayland Baptist college.

As soon as the old building can be cleared away, the concrete foundation work for the new building will be started. This will be permitted to settle, so we are told, during the winter, and the brick work will begin early in the spring and the building rushed to completion.

fact that the people of the entire section have co-operated wholeheartedly in every department. No one man is responsible for its success, but much credit must go to Chris Harwell, President of the Association, who spent more of his time and means, with no pay whatsoever than anyone else connected with the organization. I wish to extend my thanks, both to the officers and directors of the Association, and to the people of the entire section of the Plains country for the aid and co-operation extended to me, for without this, nothing could have been accomplished.

INCREASES STADIUM PLEDGE AFTER SEEING WORK

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 10.—L. D. Crawford, engineer in charge of extensive irrigation canal projects at Harlingen, recently visited the Texas Memorial Stadium now being constructed on the campus at the University of Texas as a memorial to Texans who fought during the World War, and increased his pledge from $50 to $500. Crawford declared that he had no idea of how large an undertaking the memorial was until he visited it and saw the construction work going on.

Many other subscribers to this project are doing the same thing, it was said at stadium headquarters.

"If you tell a man that the stadium will cover thirteen acres of ground, you merely give him an impression of great size. But if he goes out there and walks across one of the stands, he begins to feel impressed," said one official.

H. H. Weimert, of Seguin, in another man who recently increased his pledge. Weimert had pledged $150 in the spring campaign and recently sent his check for $75 more. This is becoming a common occurrence as the subscribers drop into Austin to see the football team in practice and visit the stadium site.

Youth is Caught With Liquor; Cop Shows Has Heart

DALLAS, Oct. 11.—Anyone who says a cop hasn't a heart is dead wrong in the opinion of one Dallas young man.

One very young man, also unwise, was strolling about the circus ground here accompanied by his best girl. Edging through the crowd his coat-tails slipped sideways and the garment exposed a healthy bottle "on his hip."

Before anyone could warn the hip-flask addict, the law tapped him on the shoulder. Terror-stricken but retaining command of his tongue, the young man passed over the offending receptacle and told the officer of his plight.

"I've got a girl with me," he said. "She can't go to the show by herself and she shouldn't be allowed to go home by herself."

The cop scratched his head and looked the couple over. They passed inspection. "Give me your name and be sure you come to the station in the morning. Now beat it and look at the circus."

Then he strolled over to the young man's cage to see what they were laughing about.

SEARCH FUTILE FOR BODY OF WOMAN SLAIN IN OKLA.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 11.—Although Bob Sanford, and a posse of deputies searched the surrounding country near here yesterday and today for the body of Mrs. J. R. Green, murdered by her daughter-in-law, Winona Green, according to the latter's confession at Little Rock, no trace of the murdered woman could be found up to an early hour this evening.

Mrs. Winona Green, at Little Rock today gave this information over long distance telephone, specific directions as to where "the exact spot could be located, where she buried the body of her mother-in-law in a shallow grave."

She said she buried the body in a ravine. All this happened Sept. 25, according to the girls' story.

Winona said she drove back to

YOU HAVE HEARD OF BOOMERANGS

East Texas people know more about them than most any other class of folks, because they have experienced the dope straight from the shoulder. West Texas made very little progress till the East Texas editors became so much excited over the people of that section of the state moving west that they commenced a tirade on the country, and it has proved one of the most helpful things that they could have done for this country. It has caused people to investigate. It has caused those who are really interested in this section of the state to wake up to their duty and counteract some of the many reports that those newspapers put out concerning the West, and to produce evidence that would set their argument aside. This was done by taking the agricultural premiums away from those counties in the east regularly for the past five years, and the winning of agricultural and livestock judging teams over all the teams of the state. It has been done by proof that was conclusive. That was beyond successful contradiction, and that could not be touched by any of the arguments of people starving in the West, etc. The Lockney Beacon in commenting on a recent attack on this country says:

"We are amused when we read East Texas newspapers telling their folks what a bad place West Texas is. They compare this country with their own, and sometimes tell the people to compare what they raise with what we raise year by year, and that they have raised more stuff than we have. We considered the past three years bad years for this country and talked of them as being short crop years, but the fact remains that during our very shortest years we raised more stuff than those counties down in the real eastern part of the state raise during their very best years. The western farmer thinks his crop is bad if he does not get from a third to one-half bale of cotton to the acre, while down east seldom do they average over a quarter of a bale to the acre, and lots of times it takes ten or twelve acres to make a bale. Here a ton of maize to the acre is a common crop, and good years the farmer makes from a ton to two tons per acre, while down in East Texas nearly every year they buy this maize in sacks that were shipped from West Texas. Don't think this writer is just spouting off and doesn't know what he is talking about, for he does, he has lived from Nacogdoches and Tyler in East Texas to Plainview and Amarillo in West Texas, and spent many years betwixt and between, and has become familiar with the crop conditions in all parts of Texas.

Here in the garden spot of the Plains we have found that the farmer can raise just as much cotton as can be raised in East, Central, South or North Texas, with less work and can raise more acres. Many of our farmers never trouble themselves to even chop their cotton crop, plant it thick and let it go, yet they make more cotton per acre than many farmers down in the state make by working their cotton regularly from April to September. Most farmers in this section never think of planting cotton until the last of May, and some don't plant until near July 1st, but they make cotton just the same. As a feed country this country raises more feed on one acre than most any county down in the state raises on two acres. They also raise feed here with far less work than down in the state. Then we lead all Texas every year on a wheat crop, while down in the state there are only a few spots where they can raise wheat at all. With the smaller crops we can equal East or Central Texas in all of them. We can go Nacogdoches one better on a tomato crop, raise more tomatoes per acre and better tomatoes than they can; we can beat Tyler on her strawberry crop, and equal them on their peach crop. We can raise as good Indian corn as Central Texas, and outstrip North Texas on wheat. Today, we are making a better and larger cotton crop than any other section of Texas, and the boll weevil is afraid to peep his head above the Caprock.

Here we raise a variety of crops. If one crop should prove a failure, we can plant another crop and harvest it in the same year. Wheat can be cut in June and a crop of feed or cotton harvested off the same land in October. We have only found two things in our journeys down in East Texas that they can beat West Texas on—mosquitoes and negroes. This country is not adapted to either of these crops and neither of them do well in this section. But, on every other crop we have been able to raise just as good stuff or go them one better. When we lived in Nacogdoches, a gentleman there told us a story which we consider fits the bill to a "T." He said, "young man, this is one of the best countries in the world for an old man who has lost all his ambition and just desires to live out his life and don't want to do anything but make a bare living; but my advice to a young man is to go west to the land of opportunity and where little men grow big and broad."

We have found this to be more truth than poetry. Down in the forks of the creeks in East Texas you will find men who are opposed to everything that tends to build a better country and a better civilization. We have often heard men say they were educated in a log school house, and that their children were no better than them, and the log school house was good enough for their children. Out in West Texas there is a different spirit. Nothing is too good for the rising generations. Floyd county ranks first in common school districts over all West Texas, and that means all Texas. Here people have a different idea of what constitutes improvements on a farm. Houses are seldom found that you can throw a dog between the cracks in the building; every farmer strives to have a comfortable and well built house. Here in the towns, people take pride in civic improvements and thousands of nice trees in regular lines are planted and cared for. True they are planted, where they grow wild in East Texas, but the trouble is the average fellow in East Texas cares so little about civic improvements that the wild trees are not cared for, while in the West every man loves a beautiful place and strives to make his home just a little prettier than the other fellow's.

East Texas has lost more people by her kicking and knocking spirit than from any other cause. As the old saying goes, "Every knock is a boost," has proved true for West Texas. Coming and seeing makes believers out of ninety per cent of the people, and today at the rate of nearly five hundred families per day the front door of West Texas is admitting an influx of autos, trucks, covered wagons and immigrant cars into the Golden West, where a class of open-hearted, high-minded, boosting and happy people welcome them with a glad hand and invite them to make their homes, where each man can farm a larger acreage with less work and make more crops than they ever realized could be done.

"When East Texas newspapers begin kicking and knocking on West Texas, lying and acting the fool they are just advertising our country free of charge and are making perfect fools of themselves, for they get the ambitious people to wonder just what West Texas is like. They come west; they are delighted with what they find, they sell out down east and become residents and boosters of the country where God has planted an Imperial Empire of Good, Clean Citizenship."

THESE BIG NEW CHURCHES

Lubbock is coming along fine with her new churches, and before very many weeks pass the Presbyterian and Church of Christ congregations will be worshipping in their own buildings—their fine new brick buildings, as good as can be found anywhere, and it should be a pleasure to attend services in these splendid buildings, where they are equipped for the comfort and convenience of the people. It should be an inducement for people to attend, and there is room for improvement in this city in church attendance. We find that there are many people who have been members of the various churches elsewhere who have not joined since coming to Lubbock, and this is not a wise or healthy condition, as a Christian needs the fellowship, and encouragement of the brethren, and the association of his fellow church members to keep in tune with the lives of Christian people, and when you remain without the church you become disinterested, and become indifferent, and finally lose all interest and regard for the church.

Identify yourself with the church of your choice today, by attending and entering your children in the Sunday schools.

TEXAS' MOUNTAIN REGIONS AND TEXAS' STATE PARKS CAMPAIGN

For many years it was the almost universal custom to say that Mt. Mitchell in western Carolina is the highest peak east of the Rocky mountains. That was accepted without question by probably 999 people out of 1,000. Several years ago we called attention to the fact that while Mt. Mitchell is the highest peak east of the Mississippi, it almost pales into insignificance in comparison with some of the mountain peaks of Texas, much to the astonishment of many of our readers.

We imagine the impression that most outside people have in regard to the South as a whole is about as erroneous as the impression that a large majority of people in the country have as to Texas being exclusively a great, flat prairie country, for few of them, so far as our experience goes, have any conception of Texas as a land in which mountain ranges of wonderful beauty, and surpassing Mt. Mitchell by nearly 50 per cent in height, can be found.

There are long stretches of elevated plateaus in Texas where one can look out upon scenes of wonderful beauty, though the elevation may be only 1,800 to 2,000 feet. But passing on from these high plateaus to the real mountain section we come to peaks ranging from 9,000 to 9,600 feet. Indeed, calculations are now being made which may prove that one of these peaks exceeds 10,000 feet.

PARKING PROBLEM IN LUBBOCK.

The car parking problem in Lubbock is apparently confronting the authorities of Lubbock. It is indeed something that will have to be thought out along lines practical to the needs of the town and to the people who own cars. Just on ordinary days, the streets are lined with cars within easy reach of the business section of the city, and when anything extra comes along there is no where to park them without walking several blocks to get to the business section.

Farmers complain that they have to leave their car almost half way home and walk the balance of the way to town. There is going to have to be some new system of parking if we are to take care of the needs of the people who come to town in cars.

We now have our restricted districts, and time limit zones, but that does not take care of the situation. There is an opportunity for somebody with some surplus thinking ability to put over a plan that will work to the end of solving the parking troubles.

Those New York actresses whose lack of wearing apparel on the stage is criticized must be taking some of the liberties of the women on the streets.

LUBBOCK BAND ONE OF MOST ACTIVE ORGANIZATIONS OF CITY; MEMBERSHIP DESERVES CREDIT FOR PEP OF BODY

Lubbock's band continues to be one of the live organizations of the city and each and every member deserves much credit for the success of the organization.

A meeting of the bandmen will be held at the armory at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. R. Borden announced Saturday, and urges that all members attend as important business will be transacted.

Seldom is such young band so effective as is the case with the Lubbock organization, which before it had been organized many months took an active part in Chamber of Commerce work, from first seeing twenty members in average many extra-trip in interest of the fair and through-out the four fair days the band was efficient in helping to entertain the fair visitors.

Scissored Editorial

THE WOMAN VOTER

The republican claim upon the woman vote of the country because of that party's alleged superior services to woman suffrage and greater and prior recognition of woman's rights and work in government and party affairs is not supported by the evidence. It is just the other way.

All remember Woodrow Wilson's decisive influence in putting the suffrage amendment through Congress. Under republican administrations it never got through. Without his action the 19th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States might still be pending in Congress. It took the republican party leaders of both parties, were always divided on the question. It was a democratic President who gave woman suffrage its first decisive victory, and democratic as well as republican states voted the amendment into the Constitution.

Six years after democratic women were freely participating in their party councils, republican women for the first time, and then reluctantly, given formal recognition in their national party organization.

Women are particularly interested in child labor legislation. The republican Congresses prior to 1912 refused to pass such legislation. It was a democratic President, Woodrow Wilson, who personally and successfully urged the passage of the first child labor law through Congress, and a democratic Solicitor General, John W. Davis, who defended its constitutionality before the Supreme Court. It was only through the aid of democratic Senators that the present Child Labor constitutional amendment to the Constitution was passed through Congress, and Arkansas, a rock-ribbed democratic state, the first to adopt it. A democratic House of which John W. Davis was a member passed the law creating the Children's Bureau. The bureau was maintained and encouraged under Wilson. Under Harding and Coolidge the appropriations for this bureau and also the Women's Bureau in the Department of Labor were cut, and further cuts are prophesied.

The republican championship of the woman voter was late, reluctant, and unimportant.

DON'T GET ALARMED ABOUT COTTON PICKERS

We have just been reliably informed that cotton pickers should be very plentiful in this territory right soon now, as we understand there are thousands of pickers headed for the Plains from South and East Texas. This party who gave us this information had just arrived from a trip through East and South Texas. The ensurable thing for all of the farmers of this territory to do is to try and not get over anxious and stay together on the price of picking, so the producer will realize something out of this year's crop is the view we take of the situation. —Abernathy Review.

LESS ACREAGE AND BETTER CULTIVATION

We see the need of it more than ever before, and it has got to come or this country will never be the farming country that we have ever hoped to see it developed into. For this reason, men are trying to handle this large acreage just going over it and half way tilling the soil and destroying the lesser part of the filth that this land just gobbled up is heir to is sure to leave a bad effect on this as a real farming country. Unless a remedy is applied within the next few years and all the remedy that is needed is for the majority of our farmers to cut down the acreage that they are trying to farm anywhere from a half to two thirds, then you will see this country kept clean of all kind of filth and the same amount grown on one acre that they are now bothered with going over three acres to get. —Abernathy Review.

MULE CHASING CALF FALLS IN DEEP WELL

By United Press
PARIS, Texas, Oct. 11—The next time a mule belonging to J. I. Rhodes, farmer near here chases a calf for sport, he will probably keep an eye open for open cisterns.

While riding over a pasture, Rhodes was attracted by noises coming from an open cistern. Inspection revealed a mule standing with only his head above water and a calf perched on his back. The calf was dragged free into the cistern with a rope and the mule dragged to the surface via block and tackle.

POPULAR LOCAL PEOPLE TO LEAVE MONDAY FOR COLTON, CALIFORNIA

Shelby Robbins and family will leave Monday morning at an early hour for Colton, California, where Mr. Robbins will accept his duties as secretary of the Robbins-Hebard Company, a wholesale grocery firm.

The Robbins family have been living in Lubbock for the past fifteen years. Mrs. Robbins has been active in local church and social circles, where her absence will be keenly felt, while in the business life of the city Mr. Robbins has played a most conspicuous part, having served as postmaster of the local office for a period of eight years and nine months during which time he rendered valuable and appreciated service to the entire community.

Mr. Robbins, following his work in the postoffice, became identified with the Big Three Agency, one of the leading insurance businesses of the South Plains, having been associated in the business with W. C. Rylander, widely known insurance man.

Mr. Robbins is a charter member of the local Kiwanis Club, where he was valuable in committee work and considered an all-around Kiwanian, assisting in every way possible to advance the club's motto, "we build."

The California city is fortunate to secure this valuable family, while Lubbock is suffering a loss that will not be easy to overcome, as few families have enjoyed the wide popularity accorded the Robbins family here.

LOCAL MINISTER WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

Rev. Walter P. Jennings, pastor of the First Christian Church, will leave at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon for Cleveland, Ohio, where he will attend the annual convention of the Disciples of Christ, which convenes Tuesday evening and will remain in session until the 20th.

Mr. Jennings will preach at his church at the regular morning service today, and the choir will have charge of services in the evening, when a musical program will be rendered.

LADIES DONATE QUILTS TO ORPHANS HOME

During the summer the ladies of Lubbock have been piecing and quilting a number of quilts for the Orphans Home at Lubbock. The ladies completed them Tuesday and will send them to Lubbock immediately.

The papers are so full of the presidential campaign news it is hard to find anything to read.

do. The little ones in the Home at Lubbock may well feel that there are mothers in this world who love them and care for them. They may well feel that there are those who have their welfare at heart. We are sure that this work will not only be a blessing to the children but also to the ladies who donated many hours from their busy lives to make the quilts.

Six quilts were made by the ladies of Wilson and if every town on the South Plains would do as well ample covering would be provided for the home.

By United Press
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 11.—Kate Lester, 55, prominent screen actress, was seriously injured tonight in her studio dressing room at Universal City.

The explosion occurred as Miss Lester entered her dressing room after a day on "location." Flames enveloped her. The upper portion of her body was seriously burned, physicians said. Her hair was burned off.

Miss Lester has featured in a score of film productions.

REPUDIATION OF WILSON CAUSES DEEP CONCERN

By United Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 11—Repudiation of Gen. Wilson, farmer labor party candidate for United States senator by J. W. Houchins, state farmer-labor chairman, today aroused deep concern in political circles tonight.

Investigation revealed that Wilson had barred withdrawal of his candidacy with democrats for a cash consideration or assurance of a political office Houchins asserted in a public statement.

The executive committee of the farmer labor party will convene early next week to discuss the situation.

MEADOW.

Pet Frazier and family moved here this week from Plains. He will assist his father, Miles Frazier in the Meadow Barber Shop.

Monday and Tuesday of this week the weather was very threatening with quite a bit of rainfall and many of the farmers began to get uneasy for fear that the cotton crop would suffer much damage, but Wednesday morning the sun began to shine again and by the time we go to press cotton picking will be in full swing in this vicinity.

Hope Timmons and Jess Lackey were Meadow visitors from Rosam, Wednesday.

W. R. Carruth and family are here visiting their daughters, Mrs. R. S. Nabors and Mrs. R. M. and J. R. Moorhead. Their home is Stephensville.

Mrs. J. P. Crowley and son, Bennett, were business visitors in Meadow from Harmony Wednesday afternoon.

The papers are so full of the presidential campaign news it is hard to find anything to read.

Dirt Breaking For New Gymnasium At Canyon is Held

Dirt breaking for the new $14,000 gymnasium which is to be erected at the West Texas State Teachers' College was begun Friday when the students led by the college band marched out on the campus in a body for a short program.

President J. A. Hill stated that the building of a gymnasium had been made possible by the co-operation of students, faculty, and townspeople. He introduced a committee of Canyon men who have done much to bring about the new building, these being Senator J. M. Reid, C. W. Warwick and C. R. Burrow.

Senator Reid delivered a short address of dedication, his theme being that the college was attempting to develop along with mental efficiency physical health by means of clea athletics.

Odus Mitchell of Floydada, a member of the T. I. A. A. championship basketball team of last year spoke a few words of appreciation and a short address followed by Captain J. Davis Hill of the present team.

The enthusiastic assembly of students sang the Alma Mater, and the sod was broken for the new building by Ray Hale, Captain of the 1923 basketball team; Odus Mitchell, Captain of the 1922 team, and Davis Hill, Captain of the 1923 team.

The new gymnasium has been needed for several years, for with the steady growth of the student body it has become impossible to accommodate exercises in the space allotted the Physical Education Department.

There were two counts against Pothier. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty on both.

The indictment charged Cronkhite was murdered by a revolver held in the hands of Pothier and Robert Rosenberg jointly indicted with Pothier.

CONTINUES WORK IN SPITE OF INHERITANCE

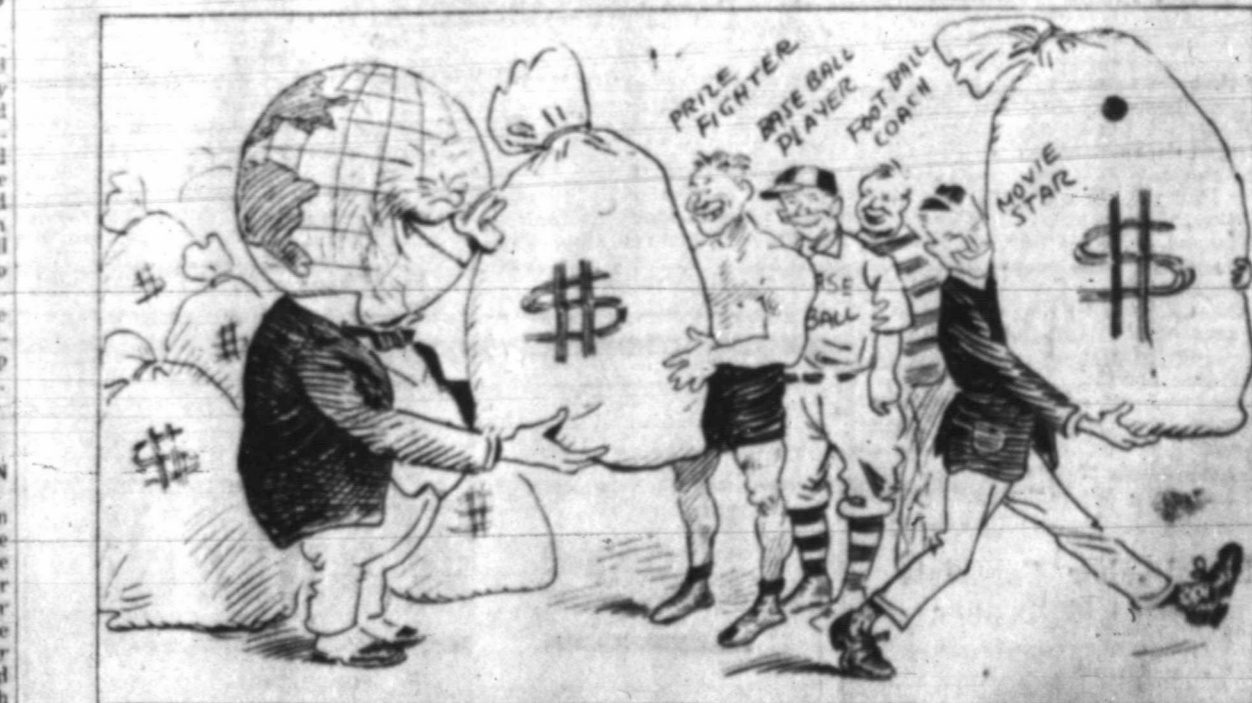

By United Press
PARIS, Texas, Oct. 11—Although he received a check for $22,000 as a part of his father's estate, Sterling Lewis Santa Fe, Texan, here, says he will continue to work at his present job here for ten years.

Levi's check represented all revenues from Oklahoma holdings and additional funds will be coming his way with settlement of the estate of his mother, who died recently. Levi says he will continue in his present employment as "extra man."

What would you want to know is not, "Will it kill the odor of onions?" It is, "How about the odor of bootleg?"

SENATORS SAVE BASEBALL, FARRELL SAYS SEWANEE FALLS BEFORE TEXAS AGGIES AT STATE EXPOSITION

MOST POPULAR CLUB EVER TO WIN FLAG

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Washington would have won the World's baseball championship if baseball champions were named like Presidents. For once fate took a hand and elevated to the throne of the national pastime, one of the greatest and undoubtedly one of the most popular teams that ever has played.

There may be suggestions that luck played the decisive card but no one will deny that the popular team won and that the nation at large is happy over the victory.

It would take the wise minds of a supreme court to find the reason for the unpopularity of the New York Giants. It would take more than the average intellect to explain why the National League champions were named bitterly by the fans in New York where the fans are considered the fairest and squarest around the major league loop.

Had Popular Players. Perhaps it was the dark shadow that had been thrown over the whole team by the O'Connell-Dolan scandal. That certainly had something to do with it, but the sentiment that the Senators controlled was respected and admiration for a club that had Walter Johnson, a Bucky Harris and a squad of the greatest and most spirited ball players that have trooped across any diamond since the Boston Braves pulled the first miracle in 1914.

Washington had a president and a presidential cabinet watching them in their three games of world series and they had the president back from a nation that has never been so united for one common cause.

"The Lord was a tenth player on the Washington team," a Giant player said after the final game yesterday.

And it did look like Providence had taken a hand to make Washington a winner.

Much Drama in Last Game. Fans for many years will talk about the last game of the world series of 1924. Fiction could not conceive of better possibilities for drama, thrills and heart trouble. No more popular player and no more cleaner citizen than Walter Johnson ever lived. When he went in after a pinch hitter with the chance to win one game after he had been downed twice, no better situation could have been developed by the most imaginative mind. Perhaps it was sound baseball strategy, by the most imaginative mind that caused Bucky Harris to juggle around his pitchers so that Johnson could throw his fast ball past the Giants butters for a few innings but there always will lurk the hunch that Bucky Harris used all his best wits

Thousands View Opening National Air Congress Race

By United Press
WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 11.—More than 10,000 people witnessed the opening events in the National Air Congress, the greatest air meet ever held in the southwest, here this afternoon.

The sky was clear, but a stiff wind bothered the racers, especially on the first leg of the triangular course. Not a mishap occurred. Three races for the Innes, Hinkle and Wichita Eagle trophies, the parachute jumping contest, the aerial perobates of civilian fliers kept eyes turned skyward.

More than 60 planes, including Martin Bombers and army pursuit planes were here for the big air show, which closes Sunday night.

UPSET DOPE SHEET FEATURES BIG-10 GRID BATTLES

By United Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—More upsets featured today's games among members of the Big Ten Conference of the middle west.

Ohio State, picked to take the victory from Iowa because of its superior aerial attack, found the going rough and was held to a scoreless tie by the Hawkeyes eleven. This was the only game between conference rivals.

Michigan, last year tied with Illinois for big ten leadership, surprised through its game-wide aggressiveness showed great power in downing Butler 40 to 10.

Northwestern, for a number of years the tail ender of the conference showed even greater than expected in winning from the University of Cincinnati, 42 to 0.

Chicago, made to look bad last week by Missouri, found Brown easier than expected and won 19 to 7.

Wisconsin, believed to have great strength, was held to a 7 to 7 tie by Coe.

Missouri was one of the exceptions, running true to form with a 20 to 0 win over the Haskell Indians.

Indiana found the going hard against Louisiana and lost 20 to 14.

Purdue won a craning-neck victory from Rose Poly, 42 to 3.

LONGHORNS WIN BY TOUCHDOWN IN EARLY STAGES

By United Press
AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—The Texas Longhorns scored a touchdown in the first five minutes of play to defeat Howard Payne by a six to nothing score Saturday.

After that tally, the Longhorns were outfought and outgeneraled by Howard Payne. Hawley scored the touchdown for Texas. Howard Payne's aerial game gained 85 yards on four passes.

Annual expenditures for skill-board advertising in this country have increased from $5,000,000 to $60,000,000 in the past ten years.

AGGIES SCORE IN FIRST FEW MINUTES

DALLAS, Oct. 11.—Sewanee fell before the husky Texas Aggies before a State Fair crowd here today 7 to 0.

Rushing a touchdown over in the first few minutes of the game the Texas farmers held their lead thru-out the game against a determined aerial attack by the Tennessee visitors.

Wilson, giant half back for the Aggies, carried the ball over after a series of short passes. The game was played on a dusty field in mid-summer heat.

SENATORS SCATTER TO ALL POINTS OF COMPASS

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—While the national fans swamped the White House with telegrams suggesting a formal dinner for the Washington baseball team, Bucky Harris and his scrappy crew of world's champions prepared to night to disperse to the four quarters of the land.

Harris left to give the New Haven fans a treat in exhibition games there tomorrow, while Walter Johnson, the big hero of the final game, went to Rochester N. Y. with George Mogridge, Uncle Nick Altrock, Joe Judge and Al Schacht for another exhibition game.

Sammy Rice and Muddy Ruel stuffed their grips with guide books and other things for a trip to Europe with the Giants, and White Sox barnstorming party.

Roger Peckinpaugh is going to freight his injured leg back to his home in Cleveland in the automobile fans gave him, Earl McNeely whose $50,000.00 two base ball won the game, is returning to Sacramento, Cal., while Goose Goslin, Oswald Bluege and most of the others are going back to their homes to spend the winter.

Walter Morris, the mascot, went back to school.

From an efficiency point of view the day in Washington was a total loss.

Nothing could be done with Washington talked that last game out of their system.

Efficiency experts calculated that the time spent by government employes before score boards or in front of loud speakers cost the government millions. On the other hand doctors figured the exhilaration of the Senators' scabbing victory added an aggregate of 500,000 years to Washington lives.

When all is said and done, the attainment of the world series championship by Washington was the greatest event in its civic history. Washington was burned by the British in 1814 and that is the only comparable happening. No one feels critical about the last orgy of celebration of last night or the appalling neglect of state

HORNED FROGS BEAT OKLA. AGGIES 17 TO 10

FORT WORTH, Oct. 11.—Texas Christian University took the measure of the Oklahoma Aggies, conquerors of Kansas a week ago, 17 to 10 here today.

Using the overhead style, the Horned Frogs pushed across two touchdowns and kicked a field goal during the first half while the Oklahoma farmers were held to a single touchdown.

The Oklahomans rallied in the last half and added three points with a goal from the field but were unable to pass the Frog defense for a touchdown.

By United Press
COVINGTON, Ky., Oct. 11.—Second again in the third and last of the season's international horse races, the French champion, Epinard, tonight prepared to go ahead to the track where his valiant heart may win more glory.

Sarazen, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbill's gelding, headed the French horse by half a length in the Latonia special this afternoon, winning the rich prize of $50,000 added and paying $15.40 for every two dollar ticket to win.

A brilliant throng of 50,000 persons crowded the stands and club house nesting in the green of the Kentucky hills and paid the largest gate in the history of the track.

RICE WALLOPS SOUTHWESTERN PIRATES 20 TO 6

HOUSTON, Oct. 11.—Playing in a sweltering heat, Rice Institute this afternoon downed the Southwestern University Pirates 20 to 6.

With the score tied six all at the end of the first quarter, Rice uncoiled a passing game which gave them a point lead, and they were never headed.

CHICAGO U. BEATS BROWN U. OF PROVIDENCE 19 TO 7

By United Press
CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 11.—The University of Chicago took Brown University of Providence into camp this afternoon by a score of 19 to 7.

LINDSTROM CAUGHT OUT AT SECOND

FRED LINDSTROM OF GIANTS OUT AT SECOND ON ATTEMPTED SNEAK FIRST INNING, FIFTH GAME, WORLD'S SERIES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Washington would have won the World's baseball championship if baseball champions were named like Presidents. For once fate took a hand and elevated to the throne of the national pastime, one of the greatest and undoubtedly one of the most popular teams that ever has played.

There may be suggestions that luck played the decisive card but no one will deny that the popular team won and that the nation at large is happy over the victory.

It would take the wise minds of a supreme court to find the reason for the unpopularity of the New York Giants. It would take more than the average intellect to explain why the National League champions were named bitterly by the fans in New York where the fans are considered the fairest and squarest around the major league loop.

PLANS FOR ORGANIZATION INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS IN UNIVERSITY WILL BE MADE

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 8.—Final plans for the organization of the intramural football teams and the beginning of activities will be made soon at the University of Texas, according to Director Berry Whitaker, at a meeting of the intramural council. The fate of the first football game will be decided, and the complete schedule will probably be arranged, Mr. Whitaker said. Cross country, the only other sport of the fall term, will not start until after Thanksgiving.

Six departments will be represented in the intramural league this year, the footballists having dropped out. Those who will participate are the Engineers, who won the Gill trophy last year for the second successive time; Laws, Academics, Business Administration, Pre-Laws, and Pre-Meds. Journalism students who wish to enter will compete with the Academics.

The athletic council has not yet acted upon the applications of students to represent their departments on the intramural council, as not all of the departments have selected their representatives.

Eleven sports are on the intramural calendar, classified in three groups, as follows: Group 1, football, basketball, baseball, and track; Group 2, cross country, boxing, wrestling, swimming; Group 3, tennis, horseshoes and handball. Of these sports, only football and cross country will be conducted during the fall term.

Besides the Gill trophy which is awarded to the department which obtains the highest total score during the year, the champions in the major sports also receive jerseys, while winners in other sports are awarded medals. Representatives of the various departments also serve as managers, and are awarded V-neck sweaters.

Last year the Engineers were champions, with the Academics second, and the Laws third.

With the development of a discriminating taste, some of the standard apples will be used more largely for cooking purposes while the better quality apples will be used exclusively for eating as raw fruit.

Many people brought up on old-time sports, not the tastiest apples in the world, but reliable standbys, have doubled their consumption of this health and strength giving fruit through an acquaintance with superior varieties made possible by the attractive and handsome displays now commonly seen in fruit markets where a wide variety of apples is on sale in contrast to the limited assortment of former years.

Work Remodeling Jones Building is To Start Soon

The Rix Company will be moved within about ten days when remodeling work on the Jones building will begin.

Mr. Jones stated that the building would be ready for occupancy by the first of November.

The H. W. Simms Meat Market, Watkins Jewelry Store, Craven Shining Parlor, all of which will be established in modern store rooms with plate glass fronts, will occupy this building. Other firms to occupy the building have not been made public.

Shropshire will establish a modern racket goods and school supplies store, which will be one of the most modern furnished departments in the big building.

OUR TEXAS INDUSTRIES

By PHEBE K WARNER

Here is something else for the school boys and girls of Texas to study this year. And it will make fine subject matter for your composition work and your junior and senior high school English. What could be more interesting to any Texas boy or girl than to know more about what is going on and what is being done in Texas?

Until this day Texas and Texans have been the biggest producers of raw materials in the Union. Men, women and little children have spent their lives to produce something for others to do. They have done the hardest work that other people in other States and other Nations might build great factories and employ millions of others to work up the raw products raised in Texas.

Just how many people do you suppose Texas furnishes a job? By this we mean how many people do you suppose it takes to ship the million bales and more of cotton from both Galveston and Houston as Texas did this past year, and make it up into garments of every kind and then ship it back to Texas and all over the world to be used? How many people do you think are required to work the millions of pounds of wool and mohair sent from Texas into garments ready for use? How many people are needed to make the boots and shoes and hosiery supply?

Think of it! Texas produces more raw materials, even agricultural products than Iowa and Illinois combined which are the two other largest producing States in America. What becomes of all this cotton, wool, mohair, cream, beef, pork, and everything raised on Texas farms? Then there are all our mineral products that come from under the earth. Who works these products into finished products ready for the markets? Thus far Texas has the name and the glory of being the greatest producer of all Uncle Sam's sons. But what becomes of his products? Not one person in a thousand, even in Texas, ever thinks of Texas as a manufacturing State. Do You?

Just listen to this. These are the very words of G. M. Knebel, Executive Vice-president, Texas State Manufacturers' Association, with headquarters in San Antonio, Texas: "Over Five Thousand Industries in Texas are Producing over $1,000,000,000 in Manufactured Products Annually."

Think of it! Did you know that? Almost as much as the Nation's cigarette bill. As much as the whole Nation spends on the public free education of all its children. Almost as much as the Nation spends on candy. A little more than the women of this Nation spend on the outside of their heads and faces. More than the wheat crop of the Nation. Almost as much as the egg and poultry crop amounts to in the whole Nation. $1,000,000,000,000. One billion dollars worth of manufactured products turned out annually in Texas from 5,000 different industrial plants in our own State. The finish ed products already made in Texas practically double the commercial value of our agricultural products which last year sold for a little more than a billion dollars. What could Texas do, and how many people would be furnished employment if even half of her raw material were manufactured into ready-to-use and ready-to-wear articles at home? This is one of the biggest problems of the future in Texas. And it's the school boys and girls of today that will have to solve Texas' great industrial problem. It is ripening for you. It is getting ready to be solved by you. It will be the problem of your generation. Are you being prepared for that day? Is the State of Texas doing all in her power to prepare the boys and girls of today for Texas' industrial day?

Here is one thing you can do for yourself. You can look out for industrial news. You can begin to think and study Texas products, their great quantities and varieties. You can study the economic waste from field to factory and back home again by the around-the-world route. Yes, you can. Every high school boy and girl is old enough and ought to be smart enough to study these things.

What our high school students need most is to review their old Ray's arithmetic for about 4 years and learn to compute interest, freight rates and transportation and study the multiplication tables and get a sure-enough business foundation into their heads. But whatever you study this year, don't forget to give a little time to the greatest commercial and economical problem, yes and one of the greatest social problems of our own Texas. "Our Texas Industries."

APPLES

Table Quality in Apples

A survey of American nursery lists shows that there are more than 200 kinds of apples grown in this country and offered for sale as trees, but not more than 20 at most are of real commercial importance. With the growth of the consumption of apples, the buying public is developing a discriminating taste in selecting quality either for eating or cooking.

A study of the apples of New York in regard to quality shows that the McIntosh heads the list with Delicious second. Following in order of excellence come Grimes' Golden, Stayman's Winesap, Jonathan, Wealthy, York, Baldwin, Duchess and Ben Davis. The last named is one of the commonest and most largely grown for many years, but has lost heavily in public favor due to its poor eating qualities.

With the improvements and development of cold storage and more careful packing and shipping, the natural keeping quality is not such an important factor, and the question of quality can be given greater consideration. Many of the older

ARGUMENTS ON RED RIVER APPEALS SET

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Arguments on appeals for injunctions of the Commissioner of the General Land Office in awarding leases in the Red River area are to begin before the Secretary of the Interior Nov. 17, when there will be taken up those lying in the westernly section, principally in Township five south and Range 15, and where production may be said to be prospective. On Dec. 1 arguments are to be heard on claims coming within Township five, south, Range 14, west, which is the easterly part of the area, and includes the original production, while on Dec. 16, claims lying in the intervening area, and having the principal production, are to be heard. There are about 155 conflicting claims.

HALE COUNTY CLUB BOYS TO GO TO DALLAS FAIR

ABERNATHY, Texas, Oct. 11.—County Agent E. W. Thomas was in our city last Friday and stated that next week one boy out of each Boy's Agricultural Club in Hale County would be selected, according to the best record made.

There are eight clubs now in the county, and out of this number the four boys making the best showing will be given a free trip to the State Fair at Dallas. The Plainview Rotary Club, Elks Lodge at Plainview, Texas Land and Development Co., and Jarvis-Tull Implement Co., all of Plainview, will each pay the expense of one boy to the fair, and while in Dallas these boys will be the guests of the State Fair Association.

So you see this trip will be worth much to the successful boys in the contests. County Agent Thomas should be complimented on his ability to get this trip made possible for the boys, and in that way encourage them to make every effort to excel in their work.

We hear quite a little about the ducks and geese making raids on the grain crops throughout our territory here of late. Mr. Farmer you will have to shoulder up your old musket on these rainy days when you can't be in the field and make war on these fowls, as it will never do to let them invade our grain fields and rob us of our good crops at this late date when prices are so good on all kinds of grain.

TRIMMED!

It isn't that hat with the simple shape of common straw and the homely douch.

It's, ribbons and bows and some velvet blue.

Some tinsel and gold and a plume or two.

That runs the bill to abig amount—It's the trimmings that counts!

And so with man! Why it's not the dough

It costs to live that besets him as it's jackpots and loans and the bets he's lost.

The mining stock and the price it costs.

That sets him back such a big amount—It's the "trimmings" that count!

LIQUOR IN THE PHILIPPINES

According to the opinions rendered by the Department of Justice and acted upon by the State Department, the Eighteenth Amendment, by its specific language, applies to the insular possessions of the United States including the Philippines and Virgin Islands.

While the manner of making the terms of the law effective was left to the Philippines themselves, it now appears that the Philippine Government not only has failed voluntarily to adopt measures which will enforce the letter and spirit of the constitutional provision which applies to their country as unquestionably as it applies to the United States, but that the concerted effort is being made to defeat or circumvent the operation of the law prohibiting shipments of beverage liquors from American ports to Manila.

Since 1920 it has been the rule to withhold certification of invoices of liquor, but it appears that ships carrying these contraband cargoes are fined a nominal sum and the cargo permitted to enter. The issue recently raised is over the announced determination of the authorities at Manila, aided and encouraged by Governor-General Wood, to continue this evasive practice.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—

Arguments on appeals for injunctions of the Commissioner of the General Land Office in awarding leases in the Red River area are to begin before the Secretary of the Interior Nov. 17, when there will be taken up those lying in the westernly section, principally in Township five south and Range 15, and where production may be said to be prospective. On Dec. 1 arguments are to be heard on claims coming within Township five, south, Range 14, west, which is the easterly part of the area, and includes the original production, while on Dec. 16, claims lying in the intervening area, and having the principal production, are to be heard. There are about 155 conflicting claims.

Political controversies sometimes bring odd things to the surface. In fact, were it not for the partisan prejudices and watchfulness it is hard to tell where the government might land. As a result of a dispute between candidate Davis and Secretary Mellon, it transpired that the tariff Commission had recommended a reduction on aluminum in which Mr. Mellon is heavily interested. This recommendation together with that relative to sugar and cotton goods, is said to be in the hands of the President under the flexible provisions of the tariff law. It is probable however, that decisions will be reserved until after election.

THE RUSSIAN AND ALLIED DEBTS

The relations between England and Russia are a live topic of the day. The Labor Government in Great Britain has recognized the Soviets but the treaty that was signed may become a leading issue in the next election campaign. In France the new Radical Government is preparing to enter into some form of regular relations with the Russian. An expert committee has just been formed to make definite arrangements, if possible, on the subject of the debts, Japan, China, Italy and the Netherlands have entered into commercial relations with the Soviet government.

The attitude of the United States toward Russia as represented by the State Department, continues to be based on the question of recognition of debts—but the fact that this question is only raised against Russia, while several other favored nations are even more indifferent as to their obligations, arouses resentment here as well as in Russia.

Until some reasonable agreement is reached on the question of allied debts there will be friction and hostility between the leading world powers. As the case now stands the American taxpayer not only loaned ten billions of dollars in cash, and spent as much more at home to help win the war, but is now paying nearly as much more in interest. All America asks is a square deal—and a relief from this interest burden.

Washington information states that Senator Walsh, of Montana, chief prosecutor of the Senate oil investigation, will strenuously oppose the promotion of Rear-Admiral Robinson of the Bureau of Engineering as recommended by the War Board. It is also intimated that there will be further investigation into the part taken by Admiral Robinson in the granting of the oil leases to Sinclair and Dukeny, in the event the confirmation is presented in the Senate and pushed.

TEACHERS' COLLEGE PURCHASES HIGH GRADE COWS

CANYON, OCT. 11—Two champion West Texas Jersey cows have been added to the herd of the West Texas State Teachers' College. This means that two grade cows will be eliminated from the dairy herd. These cows were purchased from the Ferguson Farm at Amarillo and are of superior type and breeding. One of the cows is a daughter of the famous Agatha, which Mr. Ferguson sold the Mattison Creamery Co. for their demonstration farm. This cow is now finishing a 305-day test, which bids fair to raise the state Jersey record.

THE RAILROAD ADMINISTRATION

James C. Davis, Director General of Railroads, reports that all war claims counter claims, and controversies between the carriers and the government have been finally settled notwithstanding the fact that the roads were really "managed" by the former owners, they succeeded, as Mr. McAdoo has charged, in making the people pay a loss of $30,000,000 a month, a total of one billion five hundred million for the 26 months of Federal control. This seems to indicate a saving but patriotic service and loyalty during war time. The same report shows that the average wages paid during these war years were $4.14 per employee. In 1923 the wages paid averaged $1,619 per employee. Surely high wages did not cause the loss.

ATTENTION, BANDMEN!

The most direct route from Rockdale to Hearne is over State Highway No. 43 thru Milano but since there is no bridge across the Brazos river on the boundary line between Milam and Robertson counties it is necessary to detour from Rockdale thru Cameron to Hearne. The highway along this detour is gravelled the entire distance and is in good condition. East of Hearne the highway is under construction for a short distance and from there on to the Anderson county line the highway consists of unimproved dirt roads which are passable at the present time. From Anderson county line into Palestine the highway is hard-surfaced.

Gainesville to Amarillo. Take State Highway No. 5 over gravel road to Lindsay. Black land unimproved roads from here to the Montague county line thru Myra and Muenster, impassable after heavy rains. From the Cook county line to Saint Jo in Montague county the highway is unimproved and is heavy after rains. To Nocona the highway is unimproved and is impassable to heavily loaded cars during dry weather or after continuous heavy rains. From here to Ringold good clay soil, passable at all times.

From Palestine thru Crockett to north Walker county line. Highway No. 15 (part to Elgin). Across the latter county unimproved dirt road, fair condition at present, although rough in places.

Rest of highway to Houston and Galveston. In good condition, although construction work in the northern part of Montgomery county will necessitate slow travel at times.

UPSTREAM

By LEWISOHN
"The world is full of stories," writes Mr. Lewisoohn in his prologue, "and many of the stories are true. The novelist is only an autobiographer in disguise. I, too, could easily have written a novel, but I have chosen to drop the mask. And so he writes the story of his life."

The immediate popularity of "Up Stream" must have been something that puzzled to its author. Editors had rejected his stories because they were not cheerful and did not end happily. The public had refused to buy his novel, "It did not sell. It didn't sell at all," he confesses. Yet this autobiography which certainly is not cheerful and has no ending at all, in the technical sense, had, within a year after publication, reached its thirteenth printing.

The Lewisoohns were German Jews. Germans first and Jews afterward. They were firmly convinced that a liberal education was the necessary foundation of right and noble living, "and to this day," says the author, "the debate concerning the value of a higher education so often heard in America has no more real content for me than a debate concerning the value of bread."

The elder Lewisoohn was a dreamer, always just about to perfect some invention that would make him rich. He never did. In 1890, on account of financial losses, he brought his little family to America. Ludwig Lewisoohn was then a lad of eight years. For two years they lived in a small town, which he calls Saint Mark's, in South Carolina. There were few Jews and Germans in the village, but the Lewisoohns felt culturally closer to the better sort of Americans, who were kind to them. Ludwig went to the Methodist Sunday School and professed the Christian faith. "There in St. Mark's began that alienation from my own race which has been the source to me of some good but also of more evil."

In spite of his determination, expressed in the prologue, to "speak out," the author employs fanciful names for members of his own race. He was an exceptional student of the literary society and editor-in-chief of their magazine. Yet he could feel a social gulf. It was in his senior year that this fact was borne in on him when those who called themselves his friends formed a Greek letter fraternity and left him out. Although he was keenly hurt, he was "convinced that the incident was local, exceptional and unrepresentative and un-American. At the same time, he could not escape a feeling that there was something prophetic about it all.

Upon graduation, he was elected to the chair of English in a local academy. But the aged clergyman to whom the school really belonged arose from a bed of sickness and named the trustees who had himself named for election a person distasteful to him. Unable to obtain a teaching position, he did graduate work at Columbia. "It is terribly hard for a man of Jewish birth to get a good position," one of his professors told him. "The chances will be greatly against you."

He was refused at the University of Virginia—because he was a Jew; at the University of Minnesota—because he was a Jew. It would be useless to propose the name of a Jew, wrote the dean of a western university. Let it be thought that Mr. Lewisoohn is guilty of wild exaggeration in this connection, let me say that my own direct acquaintance includes two college professors who have taken names not their own because of the handicap of their own Jewish names.

He determined to try literature. With this result mentioned above, his second book, "Up Stream," a austere transcript from life, though largely a massive moral implication, was published, but the copies were confiscated and the plates destroyed. He was beaten, broken, brutified. A scholar and forbidden to teach, and an artist and forbidden to write.

At least he decided that he might teach German. He obtained an instructorship, paying a thousand dollars a year, in "Monroe" the University of Wisconsin. His academic career lasted for eight years, divided between the State Universities of Wisconsin and Ohio. During his stay at the latter, he was invited to a private and exclusive little club of business men and bankers and physicians, nearly all of whom had a local reputation for culture, and were graduates of Eastern colleges. Their conversation seems to have lured him into lottery stocks and bonds, sugar, bolt and baseball. "They treated me with finished courtesy. I am to them a little higher than a follower, many degrees lower, except socially, than Babe Ruth."

Meantime he married a gentle woman herself a writer. Their devotion to each other is one of the few bright spots in the book.

KILLED HIS WIFE'S ADMIRER.

Friends immediately arranged bail for Koehler and his attorney will plead the unwritten law when he is placed on trial.

LOCAL THEATRES TO OFFER GREAT PROGRAMS

MATT MOORE'S GREATEST FOOLS IN THE DARK

Of all the risks which a motion picture actor endures—and they are many—what is the greatest?

Not doing the thrill stunts. Not putting one's well-known neck up for auction on the block of the great God Chance by jumping over a cliff on horseback, leaping chasms in automobiles, or tumbling blithely out of airplanes. Not by a jug!

The greatest risk the motion picture actor takes is getting into the automobile of a Los Angeles real estate agent, believes Matt Moore, star of the Al Santell production of "Fools in the Dark," which opens at the Lindsey Theatre, on Monday. And if you don't believe Matt, you don't know the breed of Escrow Indians who operate in Hollywood and environs.

Mr. Moore has recently been considering buying some land and building a house. Indiscreetly, he mentioned the fact to a casual acquaintance who happened also to be a "Sot"—otherwise, a real estate dealer.

Before he could catch his breath or urge postponement, he was forced into the salesman's big car and headed for the upper stretches of the Santa Monica mountains.

It was dinner time, but neither that nor the gathering dusk had any effect upon the real estate agent. He swooped up the grades which wind around the Hollywood hills, at thirty an hour, intent on showing Mr. Moore all there was. His enthusiasm bubbled and gushed like an artesian well.

"Lookit—that site for a home," he shouted, waving an arm outward and surveying the beautiful landscape below. "Just lookit that view! Why a man—"

"Hey!" yelled Matt. "Look out for that car coming!"

The real estate genius eyed sharply, narrowly escaping a collision, and screeched as the hill rounded a turn where the ground fell away into a deep defile.

The real estate stepped on the gas and hurried on. "This piece can be bought for a mere song; a mere song," he stated confidently, gesturing up the hill.

"Hey! For Gawd's sake!" squeaked the prospective purchaser. "Go slow, will you? I'm too scared to sing!"

Matt insists that when he returned, it was eight o'clock and his nerves were in a raw and bleeding condition. He further avers that he purchased a lot he didn't want because he was too scared to know just what he was doing.

"The title of the picture I'm working on is a coincidence," he remarked. "Fools in the Dark" is right! Anybody's a fool who goes out with a real estate man in the dark, take it from me!"

DAUGHTERS OF TODAY

Starting tomorrow The Lyric Theatre presents "Daughters of Today," which has created a sensation in the film world, and wherever shown has broken all records both for public comment, and the size of the crowds attracted to the theatres according to the newspaper clippings and the film magazines, and regarding which there is already much comment in Lubbock.

Described as "A Slice of Life Today," "Daughters of Today" deals with the problem of every American mother and father. Are the girls worse than the boys? Where are the young men and women of today drifting? How many parents know the company their children keep? Whose fault is it when tragedy stalks into the home?

Has the present generation, despite its jazz, its midnight bathing and strip poker parties, its cocktails and cigarettes, its new women and old young men, a manhood and womanhood creditable to the best American ideals, when these venturesome feet have pursued the paths best described on the billboards—Indecision—Disaster and the Awakening.

Though the play has wild youth, romance, tragedy and thrilling heart interest its greatest strength is said to lie in the fact that everyone sees himself or herself reflected on the screen, for the story is one of life in every community today. With an augmented orchestra and specially prepared musical score for the picture, Manager McElroy of the Lyric, is urging every one who can to attend matinee performances as the best time to secure seats.

THIRD ANNUAL WICHITA VALLEY POULTRY SHOW
NOVEMBER 27, 28, 29

IOWA PARK, Texas, Oct. 11.—The third annual Wichita Valley Poultry Show will be held in Iowa Park, Texas, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 27, 28 and 29.

Walter Burton, well known A. P. A. judge will judge the show, assuring all breeders satisfaction in the placing of their birds.

A large and well ventilated building has been secured and C. E. Birk, secretary, is compiling data for the catalogue which will be off the press in about two weeks; write for one.

The West Texas and Plains district of the Silver Laced Wyandotte Club of Texas will hold its first meet in connection with this show and club members only are permitted to compete for Club premiums. The Club will give beautiful ribbons to the winners and the show is offering regular prize money and ribbons.

This district lies from El Paso north up the Orient to San Angelo, thence up the C. & S. F. to Brownwood, thence up the F. W. & G. R. Rv. to Fort Worth, thence up the G. C. & C. F. Rv. to Red River. All county sent towns are included in this district. All Silver breeders are requested to send in their applications and membership fees of $1.50 to the Club to W. Dickson, state representative, Iowa Park, Texas, at once.

Iowa Park is located in the center of the Wichita Valley Irrigation district and land in all directions is being cut up into small tracts and settled with progressive farmers, many of whom are entering into the poultry business. For this reason every breeder should be represented at this show to interest those wanting poultry in his respective breed.

Effect of Cold On Radio Puzzles U. S. Officials

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11.—Thorough and painstaking research by the government has failed to solve the phenomenon that cold waves increase the strength of radio signals.

Observations of the Bureau of Standards, Department of Commerce, reported in a bulletin, tells of experiments with long-wave daylight signals from the trans-Atlantic wireless stations at New Brunswick and Tuckerton, N. J.

Signals rose to twice their normal strength during the cold spells of winter, the bulletin said. At the same time there were deviations of many degrees in the apparent directions of the sending stations, as indicated by the radio compass, even in the forenoon when long-wave compass bearings are generally free from errors.

A series of cold waves, the observations showed, brought about a fluctuation in radio signals which, although they were stronger than the average, made conditions less favorable than under normal weather.

Fall and spring were seen as the best seasons for radio transmission and reception, because this cold-weather fluctuation was absent as was also the "static" disturbances of the summer.

There is at present no definite explanation of this phenomenon, the bulletin reads. The cause is evidently atmospheric and the connection with the cold waves suggests that either the part of the atmosphere concerned with the signal variations lies much below the Heaviside layer (80 to 100 kilometers) or that weather phenomena are correlated with atmospheric action at much greater heights than has been hitherto supposed.

14 LOCAL SCOUTS ON WAITING LIST; ONE TROOP NOW COMPLETE

With thirty-two scouts organized and in proper group formation, sixteen scouts are on the waiting list. A meeting of the scouts was held at the high school Friday evening with a large per cent of the membership present. The meeting was a most enthusiastic one, and keen interest was shown in scout work by all the boys.

It was reported at this meeting that the scouts were very successful in presenting Horace Bingham here last month, despite the fact that the entertainment was offered just prior to the fair when all were busy in fair work and immediately before the Rotary Club's annual minstrel, they netted the neat sum of $83 to be used in advancing scout work here.

L. S. Harkey, speaking for the scouts, stated that he appreciated the splendid support given them by the people of Lubbock. The boys were all highly pleased with the entertainment offered by Mr. Bingham and are of the opinion that everyone else was equally pleased, and they hope to offer such other entertainment here in the future.

62,000 ACRES CONDEMNED FOR CAMP LEWIS CANTON. MENT BEGINNING, JAN. 17

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 9.—After the government had attempted to prove jurisdiction of the Cronkite case by the testimony of Attorney J. T. S. Lyle, who represented Pierce county when the 62,000 acres of land for the Camp Lewis cantonment, was condemned beginning in January, 1917, it concluded its case.

Errors were excused at 4:45 p. m. and instructed to return at 11 a. m. Thursday. Lyle testified that the deed to the cantonment was approved by the war department in November, 1919.

Prosecutor James W. Osborne brought out that when Major Almir Cronkite met death at Camp Lewis, on Oct. 25, 1918, allegedly at the hands of Roland Pothier, on trial for murder, an dCaptain Robert Rosenbluth, whose trial is scheduled for Oct. 22, that the ninety-first division occupied part of the land and that buildings were constructed.

L. L. Thompson, state attorney general in 1919 when land was transferred to the government, is an attorney for the defense.

Pothier's attorney, Maurice Langhorne, began arguments for dismissal of the case on the grounds that due inference had been used by department of justice agents in securing alleged confessions from Po-

COLD OUTLOOK FOR NEBRASKA STATESMAN

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 11.—Nebraska goes to the polls on November fourth to elect the last legislature that will sit in the old state capital.

The senators and representatives selected this fall will go through one more frigid session in the old chambers and then workmen will tear away the old for the new.

Already the outer shell of the new $7,000,000 capitol building is nearing completion. It consists of a rectangular string of offices, between the first section and the inner section, where the senate and house chamber will be placed in an open court. Raising from the center of the inner section will be a gothic spire, to complete the monumental design of the new building. Little attention has been paid to upkeep of the old capitol. Two sessions of the Legislature have met in the rooms crumbling with age. Plaster has fallen from many places in the walls, the roof is supported by rough board braces around the edges of the house chamber. Desks minus arms and with broken chairs must be used by the lawmakers for another session.

But above all discomforts that will mark the making of laws this year, is the lack of heat. A few cast-iron radiators in isolated points of the rooms are the only means of heat provided and legislators will be forced to wear overcoats during the cold wintry days.

Fear Political Deadlock
According to an editorial in the New York Times, a proposition has been made by one of the major political parties to the other, to bunch their voting strength for a given candidate where it is possible to "put him over". The question raised is how best to bring about a shift of votes which might insure a majority in the electoral college. Democrats contend because of the Solid South the only method is to consolidate votes in the Northern doubtful states. While Ohio, New York and Indiana added to the sure states Davis would have seven more than a majority. Leaders of both the old parties practically admit that the LaFollette movement will throw the election into the House. The Congress and thus accomplish the real purpose of the Third party movement.

Lubbock Morning Avalanche

Good news for the children (from 7 to 70) for a circus is coming to town. The same thrill that always accompanies the coming of a big circus, will soon be experienced by Lubbock when the Hagenbeck-Wallace Show comes here for two performances on October 24. This will be the first large circus which has shown in Lubbock for some time and the Hagenbeck-Wallace are well known in this vicinity and a record crowd is expected to be in the city on circus day.

Early this morning the Advance Advertising Car Number One arrived in the city and a crew of forty men immediately started on their work of spreading the circus story by means of gay banners, lithographs and posters which will soon meet the eye at every corner. The surrounding towns within fifty miles of Lubbock will also be thoroughly advertised.

There will be two performances given by this big outfit, one in the afternoon and one in the evening on Friday, October 24th. Both of these performances will be preceded by an immense street parade, which will start promptly at 10:30 and wind its way through the principal streets of the city.

The circus has always been noted for its splendid wild animal acts and this season is no exception as wild animals feature the performance. Over fifty vicious tigers will be seen performing in one arena and this thrilling number is followed by the trained lion act which causes the audience to gasp with the sheer bravery of the trainer.

The performance last two hours and thirty minutes and not once does interest lag. Everything that goes to make up a big circus will be found under the mammoth tents of Hagenbeck-Wallace. The big show will arrive here from Clovis in three separate sections. Over 900 people of which three hundred are performers, are with the show.

"SUCH POPULARITY MUST BE DESERVED"

One of the outstanding "successes" of recent years is the astounding manner in which Chesterfield Cigarettes are coming away from the field in popularity—a fact which is not only self-evident from an observation of smokers' tastes but which is backed up by those figures which never lie.

Sometime ago, the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company, manufacturers of this popular brand, compiled statistics showing conclusively that smokers were switching from other brands to Chesterfield at the rate of over 1000 a day—a rate which assured that 1924 sales would far exceed all previous records.

Since that time, the records show that there are apparently no signs of abatement to the rapid pace which this popular brand is traveling, and in fact an actual compilation of statistics based on the revenue figures of the United States Government, proves that of the total increase in Cigarette Sales this year, Chesterfield has 61 per cent—almost double the increase of all other brands combined.

This fact is given wide publicity in a striking big advertisement just published by Liggett & Myers, which company naturally takes a not unpraiseworthy pride in the new record hung up by its star performer.

J. P. MORGAN COMPANY TO OFFER SALE GERMAN GOVT. BONDS TUES.

MAN IS SENT BACK TO STATE PRISON AFTER 48 HOURS LIBERTY

Houston, Oct. 10.—Just a meager 48 hours of freedom was allotted John Adams, ex-convict on his release from Huntsville prison for two days after his sentence expired he was again in the coils of the law. He was arrested on a charge of robbery. In every house that Adams entered he took anything he could get his hands on—Money, clothing, jewelry, etc.

All of the loot has been recovered except a small amount of jewelry.

For the first time in human history international affairs are placed upon a moral basis and this has been done, too, without the participation of the United States except as a moral and financial fact which greater influence than was for. In this respect America has possible by active participation.

Shall We Europeanize United States?

A leading newspaper of New York City that has been in favor of public ownership of private industry is using the proposals for state power development in California and Washington as an argument to show that New York State is backward in not advocating and demanding similar public ownership schemes.

It paints a rosy picture of "progressive" California and Washington, as distance lends enchantment to its view.

Of course, the average citizen in New York does not realize that two years ago the people of California defeated a measure for state development of hydro-electric power similar to the one to be put on the ballot again in November, by a vote nearly three to one.

They do not know that the advocates of state development of electric power in Washington were the strongest advocates of public ownership in the city of Seattle and are largely responsible for the financial burden under which that city now struggles with its city-owned power projects and street railway system.

Neither is the New York public advised that Seattle citizens pay 10 cents a car ride or three rides for a quarter under public ownership of street cars and in addition lose some half million dollars a year in taxes which the private company formerly paid.

Voters are led to infer that in California and Washington it is necessary to pass the proposed socialistic measures in order that citizens in these states may enjoy the blessings of public ownership.

This is not so, as is proved by the costly municipal undertakings in Los Angeles, Seattle and other smaller cities. It is well to note, however, that the private power companies are the ones that furnish the bulk of the power and be ready to stand by if the municipal undertakings fail to give service.

But our socialist friends are not satisfied with these "small" publicly owned projects, as they usually only ten, twenty or fifty million dollars apiece.

In California, for instance, they would launch the state immediately on a $500,000,000 hydro-electric development scheme. In Washington, the program would involve a little smaller amount.

If the people see fit to vote for these socialistic measures they will have obligated themselves to the tune of nearly a billion dollars to be spent by a new army of public officials on a state enterprise.

Judging from experience of Seattle and Los Angeles, this vast sum of money would be only a starter, for after the projects were under way cost of finishing them would require two, three or four times as much money as politicians originally "estimated."

The Ontario, Canada, public ownership system is cited as the model which inspires other states to copy it. But only recently it has been shown in black and white from the rates quoted to users by the Ontario Commission, that its charges to farm consumers of electric energy are from 102 to 129 per cent higher than rates of Pacific Gas & Electric Company for same class of service to California consumers.

Ninety-four per cent of all homes in California, including rural and agricultural receive electric service while the Ontario Commission's last annual report indicates that only about 50 per cent of the population of Ontario receives such service.

The two largest cities in the world serve as excellent examples for comparison of privately and publicly owned utilities.

In New York City, with its standardized private system, more electricity is generated than in all of Great Britain, while in the area of greater London alone, there are some 70 generating stations representing 50 different systems of supply, 24 different voltages and 10 different frequencies.

California has only one-fiftieth of the population of Great Britain and yet uses more electricity. Electricity was introduced in the United States and in Great Britain at approximately the same time. In this country the industry was developed by private enterprise, whereas in the United Kingdom it rapidly fell into the hands of municipalities.

In the United States 96 per cent of the electricity used is generated by privately owned electric utilities. The per capita use here is approximately 600 k. w. h. In Great Britain, under municipal operation, the per capita use is 150 k. w. h.

A fair it all said and done, the American people are more interested in the service they receive than in the method of securing that service. Private ownership has proved over and over that it gives better service than public ownership.

Eighty-five per cent of the undeveloped water power in the United States today is in the hands of the federal government and can only be leased to private enterprise for a period not exceeding 50 years, at the end of which time the government may take over the property or re-lease it. How can there be any power trust under such conditions?

The question for people of California, Washington, New York or United States to consider is: Do we want to overthrow and relegate to the scrap heap the system of private development under fair regulation, which has given this country the greatest public utility service in the world, in favor of socialistic policies which have held back the people of Europe?

For the first time in history, a car which completely meets the requirements of year round motoring.

Use it rain or shine, winter or summer, twelve months in the year. It is like owning two cars!

And the price is no higher than the old-time open car.

Framed and shaped in steel, the upper section of the Duplex body is built integral with the lower part. Thus its beauty is permanent like that of a closed car.

deeply crowned fenders—beautiful hood and radiator—all completely harmonize. For the Duplex is designed and built as a unit by Studebaker.

And with this double value you have Studebaker mechanical superiority which means abundant power—effortless operation—new ease of gear-shifting—powerful brakes—velvet clutch action and notably easy steering.

In addition there is a multitude of improvements and refinements that bring a new sense of satisfaction to motoring.

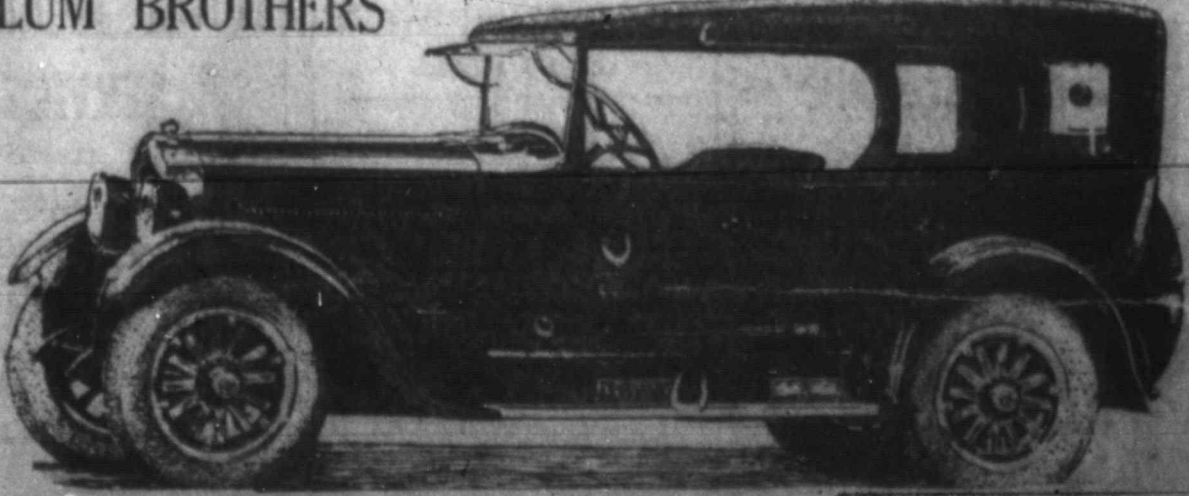

The Duplex models are an exclusive Studebaker creation—they are available from no other maker!

COLONIAL SIX ROOMS BRICK VENEER HOME

Copyright, 1924—Architectural Small House Service Co., Inc. Plan No. 24-2

FIRST FLOOR

SECOND FLOOR

It is doubtful if one could find a finer example in Colonial style carried out in a small home of brick veneer than the one illustrated here, design 24-2.

The plan belongs to the center hall type. In this the hall runs from the front to the rear with rooms on either side. This is a space saving arrangement. Each room enjoys a corner and gets air and light from two sides. The living room extends the depth of the house and has three exposures. The basement under the entire house provides a large light laundry storage space, fuel room and vegetable cellar.

The house is planned to be built of brick veneer on wood frame, with wood composition or slate shingles. The porch and trim about the doorway are of wood. The roof can be raised to obtain full ceiling height without dormers if desired.

This house can be built on a 45 foot lot if the porch is placed at the rear. It is designed to face north or west, but can be reversed for other facings.

The cost to build this house will depend upon what the house is made of and what you put into it.

The cost will also be affected by the locality in which it is built. In certain cities, more expensive equipment and materials will increase the cost.

The house has been planned to give you the advantage of all reasonable economies in construction; the use of stock materials; simple, yet sound methods of building. If your requirements are not too high, the house should be inexpensive to build.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The plans for small homes are furnished by the Regional Bureau of the Architectural Small House Service Bureau of the United States, including architects from leading architectural offices throughout the United States. This Bureau is controlled by the American Institute of Architects, and has the endorsement of the Department of Commerce, United States government. It is particularly a complete service to home builders, and as its purpose is the furnishing of a very complete and dependable small house plan service at a small cost. For information regarding the line prints and specifications, address the Home Building Editor of this paper. CHIEF FIGURES IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY

These: JUDGE J. R. CAVERLY & SEN. SMITH W. BROOKHART, Below: NICOLO SACCO & BARTOLOMEO VANZETTI.

U. S. Senator Smith W. Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, created a sensation when he wrote to Chairman Butler, of the Republican National Committee, declaring Vice Presidential candidate Charles G. Dawes had wrecked the Republican campaign, and demanded that he be withdrawn from the ticket. Judge John R. Caverly, of Chicago, who sentenced Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr. to prison for the murder of Robert Frank, has suffered a serious nervous breakdown. Judge Webster Thayer, of Dedham, Mass., has refused a new trial to Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, sentenced to death for killing a payroll clerk and guard and creating $15,775. Their original conviction led to bloody demonstrations against American officials in Italy and many bomb attacks. The case will go to the Supreme Court.

A LARGE BUSINESS UPSWING IS AT HAND
DECLARES HEAD BUSINESS RESEARCH

By DR. LEWIS H. HANEY
Director of the Bureau of Business Research, New York University.
(Copyright 1924, United News)
NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Business generally moves up and down in fairly regular swings, called "business cycles," the complete cycle most commonly lasting about three and a half years. If this usual occurrence is to be repeated, we are at the beginning of a major business upswing which under ordinary conditions would probably last about a year and a half.

Of course, the periods of cycles vary somewhat, and just now conditions are not ordinary. The upswing now beginning, therefore, may not last that long, but does seem clear that industry is reviving gradually, and that improvement is probably under way for the last six months. Practically all the facts fit the theory, that we are now at the bottom of a cycle with the usual upturn beginning. The high point in the last cycle came about April, 1923. At about that time, railroad tonnage, coal production, labor employment, and unfilled orders for delivery stood at the highest point reached since 1920. Then, these basic indexes began to fall and they all reached the bottom July and August, this year. As usual retail trade has lagged behind about two or three months and is just beginning to pick up. One of the strongest evidences that business recovery is due, is the fact that production and railroad traffic have fallen to such low levels. When you allow for a certain amount of normal growth due to increasing population, etc., the level of industry about July was but little higher than in the great depression of 1921. This means that over production had been completely remedied for the time, and that the period of re-adjustment after the 1923 boom must be nearly finished. In fact, the accumulation of unsold stocks of goods from mills and factories began to decline in June which is one of the surest signs of a turn for the better. Such basic industries as steel and textiles tell the story. The former, although unsettled by the price changes brought about by the government's victory in the "Pittsburgh plus case" is holding the gains in orders and production which began a month or two ago. In view of depleted stocks of cotton goods, and cheaper raw materials the outlook for cotton manufacture is decidedly better than it has been in many months. Even the oil industry seems to have touched bottom and the low prices now force an crude oil and gasoline will bring improvement soon if given long enough. The most significant facts which have just been announced for September are as follows:

The rate of pig iron production has increased ten per cent. Railroad car loadings have exceeded the 1923 figures for the first time. The sales of the big mail order houses have made a real gain of eleven per cent. (I say a real gain because I have made allowance for the usual seasonal increase which comes in September). The mail order sales indicate clearly that the increase in farmer purchasing power is now showing results. There is no question that on the average farmers are better off than in a good many years. Grain and hogs are high in price at the very time that farmers have them to sell and in spite of heavy marketings, the price have held firm and even advanced. Hogs are going to be higher. From their large sales farmers have been able to pay off old debts, and are now buying the things they have needed for many a lean month. None should be discouraged.

NINE KILLED WHEN
TRAIN WRECKED
BY BANDITS

By United News.
EL PASO, Oct. 11.—Nine persons were killed in the wrecking of a train Friday by bandits on the private Erupcion Line near Candelaria, Mexico, 30 miles south of Juarez, according to advices to Major Fernando Diaz, chief of staff of General Roman Lopez, of the Juarez garrison. No information as to the number injured were received. Among those killed was engineer E. A. Mendoza, and Francisco Montzon, according to advices. B. F. Baker, of El Paso, time keeper of the Erupcion mine, who left here Friday morning on the train is said to have been badly hurt. The wreck is said to have been caused by the removal of several rails. Federal troops are said to be in pursuit of the bandits.

A TONG WAR IS BELIEVED TO BE ON IN NEW YORK
CHINA TOWN NOW

By United News.
NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Under the ordinary scheme of things, an American who burrowed straight down through the center of the earth would be likely to emerge from the ground and find himself dodging an exchange of bullets between two Chinese armies. "But just now, a Chinaman traveling the same route might possibly dig himself up from under a pavement, and be hit by a stray bullet from one of two tribes of his own countrymen who are believed to be battling in the Chinatown of New York. A long war, the like of which has not been seen in many years, seems to be under way as a result of enmity between the On Leongs and Hip Sings, and it may have national reverberations. One celestial was killed and another fatally wounded and others shot in the local outbreak early Thursday and a dispatch from Pittsburgh says another Oriental was killed during the morning in a feud between the two tong there. Detectives here had been anticipating the outbreak for six months, ever since the fierce battle between the two tongs, established in 1913 was broken. For many weeks plain clothes men say they have been picking up men marked for death from around the famous Mott and Pell street district and sending them out of town. The trouble began when the books showed a $40,000 shortage in the On Leong funds. Twelve members were suspected and thrown out of the tong.

The Hip Sing tong in Cleveland, it is declared, took the twelve to its bosom and made them members. This developed when the twelve were arrested after bribing a Chinese merchant in Cleveland of $15,000 and the treaty between the tongs became a scrap of paper.

The police got busy here, doing everything possible to prevent a chain of music in Chinatown. Thursday Tom Fong, Tom Hank and the Pittsburgh fellow got theirs. Tom Fong still lives, but is expected to die soon. Pell street, between Mott street and the Bowery, looks like a deserted battlefield, with broken windows and chipped walls which show that many shots were fired of which the police have no record. Fong and Hank were Hip Sing men. Fong was shot in a duel with a detective after an On Leong man had said to the detective "Him got gun."

Three men believed to have been detailed for the job shot and killed Hank in his restaurant, one of them carrying away a wound. A Chinese bystander was hit about the time Hank went seriously wounded. Pittsburgh shooting indicates that the supposed tong war will not be confined to New York. Many large cities contain branches of the rival tongs and the feeling between them extends wherever they are.

THE CHURCH AND STATE IN FRANCE

Complete separation of church and state is, clearly, one of the major planks in the platform on which Edouard Herriot is governing France. When, in his first address to the Chamber of Deputies, he declared his intention of discontinuing diplomatic relations with the Vatican, his declaration, in some quarters was not taken seriously. Roman Catholic spokesmen have pointed out, before now, that the Vatican does not need France, so much as France needs the Vatican. It was anticipated that the new Premier, as his experience grew, would appreciate the truth of that statement. Now, however, comes the new budget bill. From it the necessary credits for the maintenance of a Vatican embassy have been omitted. M. Herriot proposes to stand by his original declaration against Vatican political diplomacy. And the decks are being cleared in France for a new struggle over the old question of the country's political relationship with the church of Rome.

Four new islands were born last year. Two appeared off the coast of Cochin, China—one off the Japanese coast, and the fourth, 1,000 feet long and thirty feet high, in the Bay of Bengal.

THE COMMUNITY CLUB

By Phebe K. Warner

Suppose you were appointed today by the President of the United States to reconstruct the social life of your state. Where and how would you begin? This is a hard question but it is not an unreasonable question. And certainly in a Nation and in the State that leads the world in unhappy wrecked homes and homeless children it is time somebody was thinking about it.

There is evidently something wrong with our social life in Texas. And whether you believe it or not the social life of a community or county or even the State, registers the ideals and standards of that community, county or State, because it is in the whirl and confusion of the social world that the future homes have their conception. The homes in this Nation are the direct products of our social life. As it is, so will be the homes of the future. Should all the people of the community be interested then in the social affairs of the community?

But first of all what is a community? Answer that. As we understand that term the community is the social unit of the county and the state. It is the smallest group of people who work and plan and play together outside the home unit.

It is the smallest human unit that has the power to reproduce itself and thereby perpetuate its own life. The home cannot do that. It takes more than one home to make a community and as a rule the community is bounded by the social circle and the geographical lines that enclose a school district. The school district is the smallest political unit in our government. It is the first collection of people that support the same thing. How many of us really appreciate the importance of our school district as one of the social units of our county, our state and nation? Well, it is. This whole nation is a combination of school districts. No two of the overlapping.

There is not an inch of space or a single home left out. Every child in the U. S. A. belongs to ONE school district. Therefore, for the sake of convenience and in order to have a starting place on the reconstruction of the nation and because we honestly believe it is the logical starting place, if we were invited to make the nation over that is just where we would start.

And the very first thing we would do would be to organize community clubs and try to get every man, woman and child in that community into that club in some capacity. And if there were a community club at work in every community or every school district in this nation this year what would it mean in the life of this nation in our year's time? There is no limit to the good that such a plan would accomplish. Suppose every community decided to do only one thing to improve the social life of their school district, what would that mean to the whole state?

And there is not ONE school district in Texas that cannot do ONE thing this year to improve the social life of its people. It makes no difference whether your district is a white district or a negro district. Whether it is a full-blooded American or a Mexican district. If you will organize a community club you can do, not only one thing, but as soon as you get one thing done you will see a dozen other things that ought to be done and the first thing you know you will be enjoying your work for your community; and when you get a little more done you will begin to feel something new growing in your heart. And when you analyze that new feeling you will discover it is Community Pride beginning to grow in your heart. And then the best thing of all has happened. And what's that? YOUR OWN LIFE has been touched. Something fine within your own soul has been brought to life that has been lying dormant and dead for years and years. But you never could have kindled it into a new spark of life by yourself. It took the cooperation of the whole community to reach it in you. It took the association of your friends and your neighbors to bring it to the light and start it to work for the good of not only your own home and your own children but for all the children in your community. Why are you not the selfish, stingy, good-for-nothing fellow you think you are or that even some of your neighbors think you are. There is a world of good and a world of usefulness and a power for the accomplishment of better things in you than you do not even know yourself because you have never given yourself a chance to prove what you could do if you tried and if all your best impulses were set in motion. The best place in the world to discover hidden talent and gold stored away is right there in your home community. You have to dig for water before you are sure it is there. You have to bore for oil and gas before you find it. It is just the same with the fountains of human riches only you are almost sure to find something valuable in every human life if you keep boring down deep enough and trying long enough. How do we know it? Because every human soul is a part of the great God that made us all. And He never made one human creature for nothing and to go to waste. But you will never discover your whole self by yourself. And that is why we believe in the community club. And that is why we would begin to reconstruct this whole universe by organizing a community club in every school district in this nation if it were possible. And the hope of all is, it is possible. It can be done. How many of us are willing to try? There are in Texas about 8,000 rural communities, 8,000 rural school districts. What would it mean to the life of our state if every one of these 8,000 school districts would get to work this year in the name of their home community and do even ONE thing to make life better and happier for all the people of their districts?

NINE TRUSTEES WERE ADDED SIMMONS COLLEGE BOARD

The addition of nine West Texas men to the board of trustees of Simmons College was made at a meeting of the board of trustees here Wednesday. The addition was made upon the order of the Sweetwater Association of Baptist churches and the men were selected Wednesday.

The addition to the board of trustees are: H. L. Kokernot, prominent stockman of Alpine; Clarence Scharbauer of Midland; Victor Anderson, El Paso; W. P. Ferguson, Wichita Falls; Dan Couch, Aspermont; John Couch, Haskell; J. F. Jones, Abilene; C. R. Simmons, Sweetwater; and J. D. Sandefer, Jr., Breckenridge.

Plans were discussed by the trustees for finishing the work of raising the remainder of the $200,000 to secure an additional gift of $100,000 endowment from the General Education Board of New York. More than $100,000 was subscribed by Abilene residents but the completion of the drive last spring was postponed on account of the illness of President Sandefer.

To secure this gift of $100,000 at this time will mean more than any similar gift ever made. President Sandefer declared Thursday morning.

JOHN TARLETON BAND IS GROWING IN EFFICIENCY

Last Friday, October 10, Carl A. Dooner of Fort Smith Arkansas arrived in Stephenville to assist Director Hunsell in teaching brass and wood-wind instruments. His arrival marked an era in the growth of the John Tarleton Military band. Beginning four years ago as a band of nine instruments the band has grown until today it is necessary to divide it into two bands under different teachers. During the past three years the Military

HEARSE IS STRUCK AT HOUSTON TRANS-FERRING BODY

A hearse of Hagy & McCallum undertakers while transferring a body from one railroad station to another, was struck by a street car. The coffin was not damaged although the body of the hearse was marred considerably by the impact.

Wilson Davis is the son of the beloved dean of Tarleton, J. Thom Davis. He passed from Tarleton to Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, and was a member of the famous farmer band playing in the bass section.

Edwin Walker went from Tarleton to Southwestern University and entered upon the junior year of the ministerial course there. He was also given the place as band master in the University, and is both teacher and student in the University mentioned.

THE OLDEST LOCK CANAL

BERLIN (United Press) — The oldest canal in Northern Europe, in the construction of which the lock system was employed, is that between the river Teuse and the Elbe. First mention of this canal, which still plays an important role in the interior navigation of Germany, was made in a document of the city of Loxenburg dated 1398.

Says "It's Surprising!"

After a demonstration in the new Willys-Knight Sedan equipped with the Lancheater Balancer, the famous aeroplane builder said—"It is surprising. I drove the car at all speeds up to 50 miles an hour and found absolutely no engine vibration."

Vibrationless Motoring

Automobile engineers have been striving for many years to lay the ghost of vibration—but it has remained for the Willys-Knight to bring to the United States the secret of vibrationless engineering.

The Lancheater Balancer—a great discovery by a great genius—the invention of Dr. F. W. Lancheater, F.R.S., of Great Britain, builder of one of the world's most expensive motor cars.

With this new ingenuity of engineering, Willys-Knight achieves positive engine smoothness at all speeds. A smoothness almost incredible to the thousands and thousands of automobile owners who have always thought vibration in a car to be a necessary evil.

This achievement is all the more notable for being sponsored by a car with so many other great achievements to its credit. Willys-Knight long since ended the days of valve-grinding and carbon-cleaning—and the Willys-Knight sleeve-valve engine is known around the world as the engine that improves with use.

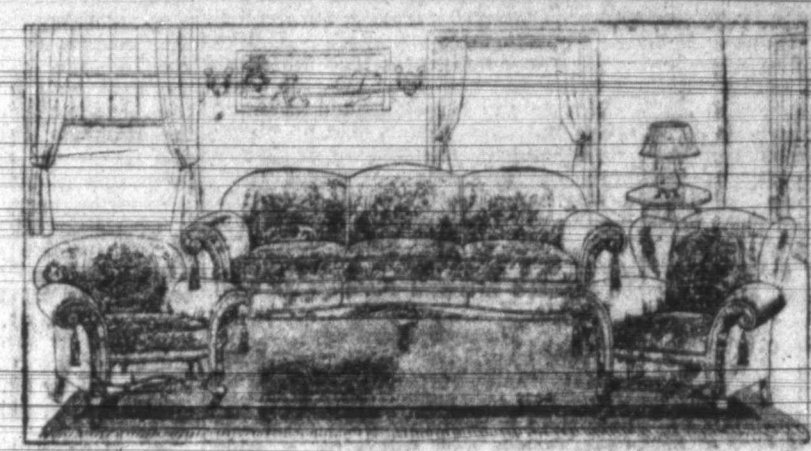

Leading engineering authorities, car buyers, the public generally, are impressed by Willys-Knight's vibrationless performance. A ride is a new thrill—a new experience—a new conception of motoring pleasure. Take a ride today!

KAISER DEMANDS HUGE SUMS FROM THE GERMAN CITIZENSHIP

By CARL D. GROAT (United Press Staff Correspondent) BERLIN, Oct. 10.—Prussian Finance Minister von Richter is nettled with the business methods of former Kaiser Wilhelm II.

He has discovered that the Kaiser is insatiable in his demands upon the German republic, in connection with the settlement of his estates in Prussia.

Von Richter claims that in the course of negotiations covering five years the Kaiser has raised the ante on the Prussian government. The Kaiser's representatives, Excellenz von Berg, says the Hohenzollern house, including 40 members, needs 1,125,000 marks yearly income to keep the wolf from the door.

Von Richter responds that he in no wise desires to put the former Lord of Prussia on starvation rations, but he estimates that 115,000 acres of valuable farm and forest land in Germany, plus a few castles, running into millions of marks in value, will yield several times the minimum requirements set by the Kaiser.

On the other hand, von Berg reached the conclusion that the Kaiser needed at least 400,000 acres and that the settlement proffered by the Prussian state would bring the royal family not over 1,000,000 marks a year.

All of which led von Richter somewhat testily to announce that he thought it just as well to have a showdown in the courts with the Hohenzollern house. Whether this showdown will come is uncertain. The Kaiser's supporters hope von Richter makes good his threat, saying that the republic is destined to lose if the old time judges have a crack at the case.

Meanwhile, the socialists are crying that it is high time for Prussia to put an end to the "scandal" connected with trying to reach a settlement with the Kaiser's family.

Workmen existing on a small wage, or perhaps asking out a meagre existence with unemployment doles, say that there is nothing to prevent the Kaiser's sons from going to work. They are all able-bodied. As for the Kaiser himself, they are willing he should have some of his private property back, but deem it rather absurd that there should be an argument for five years as to his "rights", after his sanity brought a catastrophe to Germany anew after he had fled in terror to Holland.

The row over the separation of state and private property of the Hohenzollern line has been going on ever since the so-called revolution of 1918. At that time the revolutionists issued confiscation orders covering the royal property really belonging to the state. Subsequently, confiscation orders were laid upon the entire Hohenzollern holdings, whether private or state, and a state administration was placed over the property. The revolutionists, however, did not do their job thoroughly. The administration was solely a trusteeship with the whole question of who belonged to what left open for later decision.

It has been frequently said that if the German revolution had been a real one, it would have been quickly decided what, if anything, should be left over to the royal family.

linguish the dangerous demonstrations of sincerity and grief.

The aged nationalist conserved to forego the last few days of his fast and in the national celebrations of his decision, bowing, monks of Hindu and Moslem faith together at Allahabad and three persons were killed.

When Ghandi partook of food for the first time in almost 30 days, at noon Wednesday, his followers are convinced that he saved his own life. The holy man was weak and his body shrunken body showed the effect of his long abstinence from food. Ghandi is old and frail but physicians said if he continued to take nourishment his life would not be in danger.

Heart broken and grieving at the dissension among Indians, Mahatma began to fast in his modest suburban bungalow on the outskirts of Calcutta. Within the city the greatest religious convention ever assembled here was meeting to accomplish the almost impossible task of ending the periodical battles between Hindus and Moslems.

There are thousands of holy men in India. Ghandi is unique. His people worship him but they no longer follow his political teachings. During the war Ghandi led native India to close alliance with England in an effort to prove to the white rulers of the oriental empire that Indians were fit and ready to take their place beside Englishmen as equals. His work was enormously valuable to the British cause, but in 1918, he found England still not ready to admit India as an equal into the British commonwealth.

COW EATS WINGS OFF OF AN AIR PLANE

By United Press. SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 9.—The army world-flyers had many novel experiences, but two aviators from Brooks Field ran across something else.

Lieutenant Winsett and Sergeant Harwell sailed to Fort Worth recently planning to return before night.

A few hours after dark, the following message was received by Brooks Field officials:

"Cow ate fabric off wings of plane. Detained making repairs. Back in morning."

BAD TASTE TO STEAL $1,000 BILL, SAYS CASHIER

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 9.—"Whoever steals my purse, steals trash," appropriately applies to the thief who stole a $1,000 bill from M. Davalis here.

It will be almost impossible to get the bill cashed, according to W. J. Walkall, cashier of the Texas State Bank and Trust Company. "Bills of that denomination are scarce," the cashier said, "and when it is presented the present owner is liable to get a pair of substantial wristlets and a few free meals instead of the expected change."

BLOODLESS REVOLT IN INDIA AGAINST ENGLAND IS NEARLY A SUCCESS

By United Press. CALCUTTA, Oct. 9.—Mahatma Ghandi, the Indian holy man whose bloodless revolt against the English way of ruling India almost succeeded, has broken his self-imposed thirty-day fast with which he sought to demonstrate to his followers of various religious faiths his grief in his inter-religious blood letting. Re- current clashes between Hindus and Moslems in which many rioters were killed caused Ghandi to expose his frail body to the rigors of a fast.

Immediately leaders of the two great Indian faiths got together in an effort to persuade Ghandi to re-

French Recognition Hope of Russia; Can Get Credit

MOSCOW. (By Mail to United Press).—That the French government will follow in the footsteps of Britain and grant de jure recognition to the Soviet government before the end of this year—and possibly within a few weeks—is the confident belief of high official circles here.

Premier Herriot, it is authoritatively stated, recently told the Russian representative, Rakovsky, that France is prepared to recognize the Soviet regime even before discussion for payment of the Czar's debts and for compensation for French losses through the nationalization of property in Russia.

Since the French premier made these promises, however, certain fundamental changes have occurred in the international political situation which may postpone the granting of French recognition to the Soviet Republic and even modify the character of that recognition.

Diplomacy is notoriously remote from philanthropy, and the French government does not differ from other governments in its determination to drive the most advantageous bargain possible with Russia.

Depends on England

The strength of Russia's hand in its diplomatic tilt with France depends largely upon the fate of the new Anglo-Russian treaty in the British parliament. Should parliament ratify the treaty, the Soviet government's reinforced position in Britain will also strengthen its hand in the impending negotiations with France.

Should parliament reject the treaty and perhaps bring about a general election in Britain, the Soviet government's grasp upon French recognition may slip and, for the time being, the French may raise their price for recognition.

There is excellent reason for believing that Premier Herriot wishes to be sure of the British parliament's verdict on the Anglo-Russian agreement before reversing France's intransigent policy toward the Soviet republic.

Premier Herriot may also await the outcome of the latest upheaval in China, which is directed against the rising influence of the Chinese national revolutionary movement and against Russia's increased prestige in China. If Russia is obliged to relinquish its newly-acquired foothold in China, the French position in the forthcoming negotiations with Soviet Russia would again be more firmly entrenched.

The Soviet government frankly admits that it hopes to derive political advantages of the first magnitude from its reconciliation with France. Britain, it is said, is able to offer Soviet Russia credits and trading opportunities. The value of these benefits is not underestimated in Moscow.

After Political Gains

But France, it is pointed out, is in a position to grant Russia political, as well as economic gains. Moreover, the political bait that France can dangle before Russia's eyes is undeniably tempting. A revision of France's ill-concealed protectorate over Poland and the Baltic states—Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia—would relieve the Soviet republic of the most worrisome element on its western frontiers.

Finally, France's traditional support of Rumania in the volcanic Bessarabian dispute might conceivably be relaxed. Bessarabia, whose annexation by Rumania is regarded as an eternal challenge to Soviet Russia, might thus drift from the Rumania fold.

These may be regarded as the vital undercurrents in the impending Franco-Russian negotiations. It is not too much to say that the outcome of those negotiations may lead to a shift of the whole political constellation in Europe.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Representatives of the Near East Relief from all parts of the United States are meeting in Chicago this week to submit reports of the past year's work and to make plans for raising a $7,000,000 budget during the coming year. Delegates from six foreign countries will present fresh reports of the work which the organization is doing overseas.

The convention meets at the Hotel Waldorf Astoria and its sessions will continue for three days, concluding with a public dinner of 1,500 plates at the Hotel La Salle. Several announcements of large gifts to the organization are expected during the convention.

Charles V. Vickery, president of the International Near East Association, which is affiliated with the League of Nations, has just returned from the annual meeting of the international organization, and will be one of the chief speakers at the convention. Plans will be discussed for the observance of Dec. 7 of Golden Rule Sunday, a day set apart by all civilized countries for the furtherance of international peace based on the Golden Rule. The observance in America will be under the direction of the Near East Relief.

The general report of the national treasurer, as it will be submitted to the convention, shows total disbursements during the year 1923 of $7,489,000. The organization closed the year with a deficit of $648,000, which has since been slightly reduced. Since its organization, the Near East Relief has appropriated for its overseas work more than $69,000,000, of which $18,500,000 has been spent in Russian Armenia, $21,700,000 in Turkey, $9,840,000 in Syria and Palestine, and $7,540,000 in Persia and Mesopotamia.

THREATS TO SEND TROOPS QUIETS MINING DISTRICT

HARTSHORNE, Okla., Oct. 8.—Threats of state officials to dispatch additional national guardsmen here unless order was maintained, brought peace to this little mining district Wednesday.

An investigation was still being made of the mining of the entrance gate of mine No. 12 of the Rock Island Coal and Mining company, near here Tuesday, but no arrests had been made.

C. F. Barnett, acting adjutant general in charge of state troops, said there had been a bitter feeling existing between union and non-union miners after the latter had replaced "card men" in mines that were closed because of a strike.

THREE CARS FOUND IN LAKE AFTER AN INVESTIGATION

DALLAS, Oct. 10.—A report recently sent out to the police that a thief had just driven a high priced automobile into the White Rock Lake produced an investigation which so far has been the source of finding three cars.

They have arrested a man and a boy who admitted driving cars into the lake after they had stripped it of all accessories. A more thorough search of the lake waters will be carried out. It was announced, for other cars believed to have met watery burial.

MEN AND WOMEN IN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Below: VISCOUNT LASCELLES & PRINCESS MARY.

A serious rift in the House of Windsor is seen in the mysterious and apparently bitter quarrel at the dinner of Viscount Lascelles and Princess Mary, daughter of the King's sister. The monarch's wife is said to have been in the room when the baby Gerald David, the prince's only child, was christened. The princess was conspicuously absent from the christening. Anatole France, French author, is said to be at his home in Paris. Mrs. A. J. Sargent, municipal officer, is confined to her New York City home with a broken wrist, sustained in a crush at a Democratic rally in Madison Square Garden.

SECRETARY MELLON IS UPSET OVER THE VIOLATION OF ANTI-TRUST ACT

By THOMAS L. STOKES. WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who has been rather out of the political picture since the internal revenue investigation last spring, has been pushed back into it on the eve of the election because of developments centering around his business connections. The secretary is provoked by the latest development, the publication by the Federal Trade Commission of a report charging that the Aluminum Company of America, one of the Mellon family holdings, is violating the anti-trust law by certain practices. Publication of this report followed by just a few days an attack on Mellon by the Democratic candidate, John W. Davis, and a challenge by the democratic national committee that the president and Mellon have the United States Federal Trade Commission publish a report of the investigation they have been making into the aluminum tariff. On behalf of the secretary, it was explained at the treasury department Monday that he regards the conclusions of the commission as "far-fetched and unfounded." It was announced that the Aluminum Company will publish a complete answer in the form of a public statement which he believes will refute the charges that have been brought. The investigation was ordered by the senate. It was begun by the federal trade commission and covered all manufacturers of house hold furnishings and not just the Aluminum Company of America. Two reports of the investigation already have been issued. Information to Mellon regarding the company's business is different from that contained in the commission's report. Earnings of the company were not 24 percent as the report states, but only 12 percent, Mellon has been told. The Aluminum Company of America owns 30 percent of the stock of the Aluminum Goods Mfg. Company, the spokesman at the treasury said. If the subsidiary concern received a five percent discount, as the report stated, it was explained that Mellon feels sure it is the same discount allowed to other purchasers. It was explained that Mellon is not an officer of the concern and has never kept in close touch with the business of the Aluminum Company.

TEXAS HUMANE EDUCATION SOCIETY CHARTERED

For several years the Rev. F. Rivers Barnwell, field representative of the American Humane Education Society, has been presenting the claims of humane education throughout the South, and especially in Texas, where at Fort Worth, he has centered his activities. Mr. Barnwell has made many friends for the humane cause and interested thousands in the work in which he has been engaged. He is an aggressive, zealous leader in the Southern humane field. The Texas Humane Education Society is the outgrowth of Mr. Barnwell's well-directed efforts and influence.

A charter for this new organization was obtained in July, officers elected and board of directors chosen. At this writing nearly forty have been admitted to annual paid membership. Among the outstanding aims of the society, as set forth in its articles of incorporation, are to organize and charter, at any place in the State of Texas, local and subordinate societies, with the purpose of carrying Humane Education, in all possible ways, into Negro schools and homes; the encouragement of charities and benevolences; and the inculcation of charitable and benevolent disposition and practice in the lives of its members and others—their families and all worthy persons.

It is upon this broad and liberal platform that Mr. Barnwell and his associates invite all to unite who would press for humane education as the best benefit to the individual and the greatest bulwark to the state. Based on 6,000 miles of travel, the gasoline taxes and auto license average one-quarter of a cent per mile. This is a pretty low cost when compared to the old toll system. Over 80 per cent of the license fees and 59 per cent of the gas tax goes to state highways, and about half of the remainder is expended by counties for road purposes. Its the best state and national investment ever made.

PRINCE OF WALES IS TO VISIT THE STOCKYARDS

By HAROLD ANDREWS.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Until it was definitely announced that the Prince of Wales would never think of returning to England without first seeing the stockyards, that famous district did not exist for the members of the top layers of Chicago's society strata except when the wind happened to come from the right direction. But the announcement Monday from Captain Lascelles, the garbion's private secretary, to the heir to the British throne, that H. R. H. would come to Chicago Oct. 12, was the signal for the North Side deba and sub-deba to rush to the stockyards and familiarize themselves with the landscape.

If H. R. H. will insist upon being entertained at the stockyards where all the music he'll be able to hear will be the fortissimo squeal of a Kansas hog, as its spirit soars to hog heaven, the job must not entirely be placed upon the shoulders of Mollie McGarrity and Mrs. Berczyk, who work in the canning factory.

H. R. H. will be the guest of Louis F. Swift, Sr., while he is in Chicago. Swift met the prince while on the Berengaria and invited him to come to see the famous stockyards. H. R. H. will be taken the usual "tourist route" when he visits the yards. He'll see the trail of the jowly pig taken from the pens to pork chops and sausage. He'll watch them kill and dress mutton, and will see the big canning plants in full operation.

Perhaps he'll be entertained at luncheon in the big dining rooms where the employes eat and partake of a regular employe's dinner among the thousands of workers of the yards. Mr. Swift, Sr., will be the sole host of the prince, it is understood and arrangements for the royal visitors entertainment at the yards are entirely in his hands. But in any other entertainment the other members of the family no doubt will have a hand. All is not blue in select circles, however, because Mr. Swift, Sr., is a polo player and there is hope that he'll run the prince out to the Onwentia country club.

FRANCE PLANS PLANE WITH 300-MILE SPEED

PARIS, France.—An airplane without engine or propeller, in the ordinary sense, is the dream of experts now making experiments for the French Air Service. The "Rocet plane" as it is called, will have its motive power generated inside the cabin of the machine itself. The apparatus will produce gas under pressure in a combustion chamber and then eject it, at the rear of the machine, by a kind of nozzle. This will set up a reaction which, it is claimed, will drive the plane at much greater speed than an ordinary motor could do. A theoretical speed of over 300 miles an hour is claimed by the use of this "jet" propulsion system. The experiments are not far enough along for actual tests.

TRANS-ATLANTIC AIR SERVICE IN FEW YEARS, SAYS SEFTON

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Regular trans Atlantic airship service between the United States and England is expected within a few years by Sir Sefton Brackener, air vice-marshal. He estimates two and a half days as the regular scheduled time of the trip across the Atlantic. Airships will be the pioneers in establishing the service, but eventually airplanes may become practicable for such flights, he said. Sir Sefton also thinks bi-weekly airship service between England and India and Australia, eleven days for the trip, and weekly service to Capetown in five and a half days, will be established before many years.

"Two and a half to three years will pass before the first two big ships are flying," he said, "and after that it may be another two years before the airship service to India on a regular, steady bi-weekly basis can be established. The British Air Ministry is now working to produce aircraft that can be operated more cheaply. Experiments are now being made with a heavy oil engine, which if successful will do to airplanes what the Ford did to airplanes, what make an airplane within the financial reach of almost everybody.

GRAIN THIEVES LATEST ON KANSAS FARMS

WICHITA, Kans.—This year—a year of bumper crops in Kansas, prosperity and general good tidings farmers are faced with a comparatively new problem. The horse thief has changed his spots and now goes out with a truck and a scoop shovel and steals grain. Farmers in some sections of the state are mounting guard nightly over their granaries and grain piled up under the open sky. Several wheat thieves have been caught. Although operating under the old name, "anti-horse thief associations" that existed years ago have organized and are crusading against the grain thieves.

MOVE TO UNITE ALL ORGANIZED LABOR ON THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE CONVENTION TO BE HELD IN EL PASO

By DALE VAN EVERY
United Press Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The American Federation of Labor, which has consistently refused to treat with the Third International, is now turning with energy toward closer cooperation with organized labor throughout the western hemisphere.

Plans for the coming convention of the Federation to be held in El Paso, Texas, Nov. 17, indicated the chief feature of the gathering would be the emphasis laid in increasingly friendly relations with labor in Mexico and everywhere in Latin America.

El Paso was chosen as convention city primarily because it is on the American border. At the same time the American labor gathering is under way, the Mexican Federation of Labor will be meeting in its convention just across the line. On at least two days of the double convention the Americans will be with the Mexican Federation, first on the American side and then on the Mexican side. Appropriate ceremonies will be conducted on the international bridge, symbolizing the friendly spirit existing between the two nations.

Mexican and U. S. Labor.
The increasing cooperation between organized labor in Mexico and the United States is seriously regarded here as one of the most important factors in improving relations between the two countries. Organized labor in Mexico has been strongly supporting the Obregon government. The sympathy of the American Federation for Obregon during the recent revolt was received with warm gratitude by labor in Mexico. All these developments have paved the way for the double convention which is expected further to solidify the good feeling not only between labor in the two countries but between the peoples themselves.

But cooperation with Mexican labor is not expected to be the only result of the El Paso Convention. Less than two weeks later the Pan American Federation of Labor, including representatives of ten countries in the Two Americas, will be held at Mexico City, at the same time the inauguration of President Calles. Many delegates to the Mexican and American convention will probably continue to Mexico City to attend the later meeting. Organized labor of the United States, Mexico, San Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, San Domingo, Peru, Ecuador, Guatemala, and Columbia, will be represented at the Mexico City Convention by accredited delegates and representatives from all Central American and South American nations have been invited.

One of the results of this closer cooperation among labor organization in the two Americas it is believed here, will be a tendency for the development of the labor movement in Latin America along liberal but some what conservative lines. It is probable the interest exhibited by the Americans and American federations may go far toward concentrating the more radical influence of the European labor movement.

A Labor Party?
However, the international aspects of the El Paso Convention are not expected to prove the sole important developments. Federation leaders here are of the opinion that for a formal Labor Party in the United States will find expression on the floor. A formidable wing of the Federation is known to favor the idea though the Gompers administration has generally discouraged it.

In the event the La Follette ticket wins, though it does not win in the election, proves to have unusual strength, it is expected the demand for a regular Labor Party in politics will be redoubled. This question brought up at El Paso may develop into a crisis in the career of the federation.

The demand for the launching of a labor party will undoubtedly have a direct bearing on the candidacy of Samuel Gompers, veteran president of the organization for reelection. Gompers has been president of the Federation for more than a quarter of a century. He has guided its affairs through the years of its greatest development. At every convention he has been opposed for reelection by factions of varying strength. And always he has overcome all opposition. There is no doubt at present of Gompers' candidacy for reelection. Even if he were contemplating retirement it is felt in labor circles here that an account of the serious issue of the formation of a labor party being raised, he will feel it necessary to continue as guide of the organization for which he has worked a many years.

COST GOVERNMENT IN TEXAS $43.84 PER CAPITA

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The cost of Government of Austin, Texas for the fiscal year of 1923 amounted to $43.84 per capita, as announced Saturday night by the bureau of the census. The total for that city for the year was $1,608,183. In 1922 the cost of Government there was $35.82 and for 1917 $31.89 per capita. The figures for last year embrace the independent school district for the fiscal year ending Aug. 31.

The net indebtedness of the city was $2,456,250, or $69.26 per capita, compared with $69.26 in 1922 and $35.08 in 1917. The revenue receipts of the school district amounted to $5,039 more than the payments for maintenance, interest and outlays. Of the total indebtedness shown for the city $465,000 was for the independent school district.

The revenue receipts of the city for the year amounted to $44.05 per capita, thus placing it ahead of the cost of government and which amounted to $391,540 more than the total payments of the year exclusive of the payments for permanent improvements. For more than total payments for the year, including permanent improvements, property taxes for the year represented 46.8 per cent of the total income. The assessed valuation of Austin property subject to ad valorem taxes for the city corporation were $36,108,583.

Hand-Made Eloquence Only In This Trial

By FREDERICK KUHN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
MOSCOW, (By Mail to United Press).—A trial, unique in the annals of jurisprudence, has just been held in Moscow, the accused being a deaf and dumb locksmith and the "court of honor" before which he had to answer to the charge of attacking two women, consisting of a deaf and dumb jury and a mute judge. The scene was laid in the Club of the Deaf and Dumb. A gallery of 171 deaf and dumb spectators witnessed the proceedings. The prosecuting attorney delivered an impassioned indictment in sign language, the defending attorney responding with an equally heated, though inaudible "speech."

The verdict, rendered by a silent jury amid a silent courtroom, was "guilty" the poverty, illiteracy and ignorance of the accused being regarded as recommendations for mercy. The prisoner was finally discharged with a reprimand.

It is said that the only chronicled trial known to rival this scene, occurred in the insane asylum of Vienna, where two madmen were courted the same insane woman patient. Their jealousy led to blows and eventually to a challenge to a duel. A court of honor—consisting entirely of madmen—was constituted to decide whether the duel would be permitted.

THERE ARE LIARS AND THERE ARE OTHERS

Liars are not such a bad sort when you come to know them real well. To fact they are almost invariably jolly good fellows.

Have you ever known a clever liar who was a grinch, or a miser or a robber? They are liars, and then there are others. You probably class yourself among the others.

But honestly, don't you do a little lying now and again? To say you don't would be to prove that you do, for the best of us are given to hiding faults to mislead and to deceiving.

Children seem to take to lying as naturally as ducklings take water. Like other animals this instinct leads them to deceive and to mislead their enemies. That is why children are prone to lie when they have done that for which they will be punished. As a rule children are far outgenerous to lie in order to gain an advantage over a playmate.

What is a lie? It is simply an expressed intent to deceive, whether expressed by word, act, or manner.

If you intend to deceive, to mislead or to confuse, you have lied already in your heart, but it is the expression of your intentions that affects others, the intent affecting only yourself.

There are lies of vanity, of flattery, of convenience, of interest, of fear, of malignity of intended benevolence and of mere wantonness.

Each of these constitute a topic, or text, for a sermon, or a column—but you will find more benefit in figuring out the particular kind of lie you were most in the habit of using, and whether it pays to lie.

Whether lying is a disease, or merely a habit, there is no denying the fact that it is quite common, very common, even among those who would stoutly and vigorously resent being called liars.

Is lying ever justifiable? You might discuss this question around your own favorite fireside with more or less profit.

A SURPRISING REPORT.

Notwithstanding saving banks statistics and the statements made that he country is in better condition than ever before, the Russell Sage Foundation has just issued a report that seems to chatter most of the pretty pictures of prosperity painted by political orators. The full report covers more than 600 pages. The investigation has been made by trained and competent field men, extending into more than 70 cities in 31 states and Canada.

After citing the fact that each year from 1,000,000 to 6,000,000 persons are out of work for weeks and sometimes for months at a time, the report shows, averaging so-called good and bad years, 10 to 12 per cent of all the workers in the United States, several millions of men and women, are out of work all for the time, and widespread unemployment is now a constant phenomenon with far-reaching economic, social and moral bearings. Poverty is unquestionably the most demoralizing factor in our life as well as in the life of a nation. The clerk who gets along with only two meals during week days, the workman who can afford nothing in the way of clean clothing, the office girl whose moral sense is undermined by financial need, the semi-starvation of hundreds of thousands of young men and women and children is a condition that demands something more than passing notice. This is one of the reasons why so many people do not take any interest in political affairs, not yet in religious affairs, having deemed them of little value in the solution of such pressing questions as meeting the needs of mother, children, etc.—not to mention personal needs.

Citizens of Pasadena, California, have subscribed to a fund for the building and equipment of a community playhouse to be opened soon.

A Friendly Criticism of the Live Stock Part of the Fair

It has been truly said that progress towards truth is made by difference of opinion, but the bitterness lies in controversy." In discussing the problems of the fair and of the entire plains, there should never be any bitterness or envy among those of this splendid country and it should be the high ambition of all to contribute the best that is in them for the general good. No spirit of selfishness or envy should ever actuate any in the performance of their part for the upbuilding of this section of Texas. All eyes are upon us and we should have the true idea of cooperation in all we do. We should be sure that we study to know and to do the right things and those things that the majority of our people will conceive to be the right thing in regard to the progress of this country especially of Lubbock County.

Now in regard to the live stock exhibits we think there could have been some improvement in the way of the premiums were given.

First, in the Hereford cattle class the premiums were entirely too numerous; too many classes for one breed. We are now changing from a beef producing section to a dairy section and if the preference was to have been given at all should, in our opinion be given the Dairy breed. In securing over the list we find according to catalogue that the Herefords captured about $600 in premiums. For the dairy list (Jerseys) we find that we have only $196. Now the thing we want to say is that we do not think it the best policy to make the premiums so that the professional show people will come in and capture that much money from our section. The owners of the country in the breeding up of our Texas herds.

We are proud to say that we have many men of these plains that have contributed much more than their share to the improvement of the show herds to the improvement of the Hereford breed and it is only necessary to mention one of our distinguished citizens to establish this claim that one is our neighbor Mr. George Bates who has raised and sold good Herefords to go to many parts of the country to improve other herds.

The men who own and show their cattle all over the country, follow him as a business just as farmers do crops for a living, and these are the men who help make up the catalogues. They are made by the suggestions of the exhibitors, by the exhibitors and the average man stands no show of very little to win anything and therefore does not bring in his stock to the fair. Now, our idea is to have the stock we have here in this section brought in to show what we are doing. Here we are not so much interested in what these fair visitors think but rather these perpetual show men have as we are what the plains people are growing. We want fair visitors to see and know what we are doing ourselves and not put on premiums to professional show men. We have not the slightest prejudice of these people in fact, we offer the temptation and they walk in and take up what we offer. There is one good thing that this show did and that was to show some people who had never known how fat an animal could be made. We heard some few say that they had never saw an animal that fat before and did not think they could ever be made that fat. We hope this will be a good lesson along this line without our having to pay such high premiums to have them back again.

THE DAIRY CLASS

In the dairy class which was principally all Jerseys the premiums were more moderate and we think nearer they should be. The one unfortunate part about that was the principal exhibit was by a Fort Worth Company, that has built up a show herd and our farmers with one record gave the same view that it was useless for them to bring in their cattle to show against these regular show herds. They said they were trying to grow better cattle. And one community out north-west known as the Grovesville Community, has some fine cows and had two nice bulls at the fair that was not in show condition, as these men who own the bulls are farmers and do not have time to put their stock in show shape. That according to the present demands of the show thing, we think and have argued for years that breeding cattle should not be required to be put in full show shape to be eligible for show purposes. But the professionals have usually had their way for that it the surest plan for them to continue to win the prizes. Now if the shows are to be put in full show shape to be eligible for show purposes. But the professionals have usually had their way for that it the surest plan for them to continue to win the prizes. Now if the shows are to be educational then we should arrange the premiums so that the good production cows of this section of the plains can be shown as utility cows, good producers, a course so no one would want to show a real poor cow but show any cow that is in good producing and breeding condition.

This done, we think we would see a fine array of good dairy cows at our next fair. Several farmers discussing this matter with us during the fair and with commendable modesty said if we don't get some modification we will records they had the right kind of a teacher.

We hope in the future we will have careful consideration of all these points so our next fair will bring out more of the cattle belonging here on the plains.

We have no criticism to make on the hog exhibit except there were too many repetitions on the different classes. These were no doubt copied for more larger fair catalogues. There are too many different champions. Then there is an award on breeders herd and breeders aged herd and breeders young herd and that on your herd these are unnecessary repetitions and could be left off with much propriety. Premiums ought to be given to encourage the raising of stock in the first place and then to try to make premiums so they will in a measure at least pay the expense of the exhibitors.

And not encourage the professional to attend our fairs for the fishes and hares. We want to see this grow into the greatest fair in the west and to accomplish this we should eliminate some other worthless features. Any's one that is not educational in its nature and that will not contribute to the upbuilding of the fair and the people of this part of the country would be righteously eliminated.

the demonstration of the merits of barley as a fairly sure crop would be driven home with such force that succeeding years might easily see 1,000,000 acres of barley planted in Oklahoma.

If we are going to plant a larger acreage of barley, this is the time to do it. Winter barley has consistently been out yielding spring-planted barley. Winter barley makes the best of winter pasture. Planting time extends from September 25 to October 15. A bushel and a half to two bushels per acre gives the best results for both pasture and grain, according to some of the most experienced barley growers in the state.

JERSEY'S 780-POUND RECORD

Majesty's Ida May, a mature Jersey cow that was bred and tested by Mr. Ed. C. Lasater of Falfurrias, Texas, has completed her third official test and her second 700-pound record.

In this test Ida May produced 780.46 pounds of butter fat and 13,463 pounds of milk in 365 days, and the record of the test shows that she is both a persistent and heavy milker. Ida May was first tested at two years and one month of age when she produced 562.61 pounds of fat, and she was again tested at four years and ten months of age when she yielded 702.77 pounds of fat.

Her sire is the Gold Medal bull, Royal Majesty of St. Cloud. This outstanding sire has seventy-nine daughters and ten sons in the Registry of Merit. He is also by a Gold Medal sire, Royal Majesty.

Ida May's dam is a Register of Merit cow, Imported Ida May. This cow has three Register of Merit daughters, two of which have 700-pound records. One daughter of Majesty's Ida May also appears in the Register of Merit.

M. College. These gentlemen stressed the importance of growing more feed and hogs and dairy cows on the Plains and both put special stress on rotation of crops here on the Plains before we do as other eastern and black land counties have done in the way of growing cotton on our land until the land was reduced in acre production. They gave several instances where the yield had gradually gone down until the farmers were forced to grow other crops on the land. They pleaded with the farmers present to avoid this folly and to keep this fine land up to its present state of fertility and productivity.

These lectures were too good and important to have been missed by so many farmers who were on the ground but were milling around these worthless carnival attractions. We sincerely hope that another such valuable opportunity may never be lost on these Plains.

We were also favored with a splendid lecture by Miss Murray of the extension work of the A. & M. College. Miss Murray discussed the poultry business in all its bearings.

She covered by plain figures that one acre of land well fenced, with suitable buildings, etc., would produce 90 hens and that is not profit on each of these, where well cared for, would actually had yielded a profit of $2.00 each above the cost of keeping them. This showed that with the proper management one acre devoted to the poultry business will yield $1,000. She then asked if any one knew of any acres that had done as well in the production of cotton. All these facts were well established by figures by those who had actually made the experiment.

These facts are different propositions than the parties who do such things follow the most approved rules in carrying such work.

Miss Murray showed that she fully understood her subject and it is a great pity that very soon on the entire Plains did not get to hear that splendid lecture. We do hope that it would have put new life and profit in the poultry business on these Plains. Miss Murray discussed the different breeds and the place they occupy in making the business profitable under the different conditions under which they were raised. She said all pure breeds were profitable under the different surroundings they were to be grown; some were better where or production was the object and others were preferable where eggs and meat production were desired. It was a great lecture and all interested in the poultry business should have heard it.

THE SOUTH PLAINS FAIR CONSIDERED A SUCCESS FROM EVERY ANGLE

The great Panhandle and South Plains Fair has come and gone and now only remains in our memory. To say that it was a wonderful exhibition of Plains products would only state the mildly. Though we live here and have been out quite often this season among the farmers we must confess that the showing made of the products of the farms and gardens exceeded our expectations. We have heard so much about the dry weather and poor crops we had expected much smaller exhibits than we really saw, but after all this proves beyond a reasonable doubt that crops, even good crops, can be grown here any year.

We have thought this for many years and have proved it to our own satisfaction, over and over again, and have been free to state this in our primary times since we have been connected with the paper.

We feel sure from now on all who were fortunate enough to attend the fair and see the wonderful things shown here will have no further doubt about this as real farming country.

THE SOUTH PLAINS FAIR CONSIDERED A SUCCESS FROM EVERY ANGLE

pointment by saying he did not at times feel like speaking when for the last several weeks he had, by invitation visited several fairs like this one, only not as large as this one, and to see the men who should be at these meetings out among the carnival shows that was not worth anything to them or their business. To those who were anxious to render assistance to the farmers of the state to have to witness such a lack of interest on their part, it was a great disappointment. The gentlemen then added that perhaps these attractions were necessary for relaxation, etc., but it was easy to see that he did not at all approve of such things at a time when such important things were ready to be discussed, and in substance he said, "as long as farmers themselves were so very indifferent about their own affairs there was little hope for their material betterment." The lectures were very timely and we are sorry it could not have been taken down so that they could be read by those who were intended to assist. We also had a fine lecture from our old-time friend, Mr. A. K. Short, of the Extension Department of the A. &

THE HOG SITUATION

Last week we had a pleasant call from Mr. C. C. French the field representative of the Ft. Worth Stock Yards Co.

Mr. French has been in the line of work he is now in for a long time and made a careful study of Texas and her people and while he directly looks after the stock yards interests, he tries to work for the best interest of the farmers of Texas. We have known Mr. French, for 25 years and know him to be a Texian of the true type.

On his present mission he is offering to furnish some good breeding hogs to the farmers in this section at really pork prices. The company has buyers on all the principal markets and often for various reasons, many fine breeding sows are sent to market, these are sent in with other hogs in car lots and these will be carefully cut out and placed together and when a car is secured in this way then they have an expert buyer to look out so that only the very best of the lot will be left to send out to the parties and places where a car load can be used. In order for a place like Lubbock or Lubbock county to secure these good breeders at pork prices there would have to be made up a car load and they distributed when received.

Mr. French gave us as his opinion that good hogs would be selling at 15c by January also said the country was short on hogs that corn had been so high most farmers up in the corn states had sold both hogs and corn to a very large extent and that is why pork will be high. Then Mr. French repeated what we have known ever since the packers have been in Ft. Worth that Texas has never furnished anything near the amount of hogs needed for the Ft. Worth market. He tells us that Texas is now buying $50,000,000 of pork and pork products produced in other states and yet we boast of being able to borrow large sums of money with which to hold cotton for higher prices. Why not study our home markets and learn to feed

Pork Production—The Record of One West Texas Breeder

AMARILLO, Texas, Oct. 9—Emphasizing the pork production possibilities of the grain sorghum crops and climate conditions of the Texas Panhandle, Edgar F. Laird of Marymere Farm, Amarillo, submitted all records for ten litter contests here Thursday, Oct. 2, when his litter of 180-day pigs weighed in at 4,291 pounds. This established a new world record, 392.5 pounds beyond the previous mark of 3,898.5 pounds made last year at Waco, Texas.

Moreover, it furnished a striking commentary on modern efficiency in hog raising, as a 3,000-pound litter was regarded as exceptional only a few years ago.

Laird's litter, consisting of 14 Poland China pigs, evenly divided as to sex, was farrowed on April 5, without losses. In making the record, they consumed 7,957 pounds of ground grains and 848 gallons of buttermilk mixed with an equal amount of water. Of the grains, approximately one-half was kafir, grown on the Laird farm.

The market price was charged against this, giving an incidental profit on the farm division of the operation.

Total feed bill for the 180-day period, bedding for sows and all for pigs, was $292.44, or 4.72 cents a pound. No charge was made for labor, as one hired man and the farm manager, W. G. Smith, handled 200 brood sows and their litters at the same time, making the labor item very small. At present prices, it is estimated that Laird made a profit of $225 on the litter.

Porcia pig chow composed the larger proportion of the feed during the early months and then gradually reduced until kafir and buttermilk formed the bulk of the ration. During the last month, the pigs were finished off on corn chops and shorts and buttermilk, with about 15 per cent of pig chow with the grain. In addition to the water-thinned buttermilk, fresh water was available at all times and the pigs were sheltered in a feeding house adjacent to a concrete exercising lot.

The feeding record follows:

Feed, April 5 to April 15 (to sows) 40 pounds, one-fourth each of Purina pig chow, ground kafir corn, shorts and bran, cost $7.77.

Feed, April 15 to April 24 (sow and pigs), 60 pounds, same mixture, cost $1.65.

Feed, April 24 to May 5 (sow and pigs), 130 pounds, 40 per cent pig chow, 25 per cent shorts, 25 per cent kafir and 10 per cent bran, cost $2.45.

Feed, May 5 to May 24 (sow and pigs), 250 pounds, same mixture, cost $4.81.

Same period, pigs only, 295 pounds pig chow, cost $7.11.

Feed, May 25 to June 1, pigs only, 135 pounds kafir and 84 pounds pig chow, cost $3.85.

Feed, June 1 to June 30, 808 pounds kafir, 520 pounds pig chow, 292 gallons buttermilk and water, cost $51.51.

Feed, July 1 to July 31, 1,215 pounds kafir, 500 pounds pig chow, 312 gallons buttermilk and water, cost $37.90.

Feed, August 1 to August 31, 1,620 pounds kafir, 400 pounds pig chow, 100 pounds corn chops, 100 pounds shorts, 414 gallons buttermilk and water, cost $53.14.

Feed, Sept. 1 to Sept. 30, 1,100 pounds corn chops, 300 pounds shorts, 200 pounds pig chow, 592 gallons buttermilk and water, cost $59.39.

Feed, Oct. 1 and 2, 100 pounds corn chops, 80 gallons buttermilk and water, cost $42.8.

Total cost of breeding sow and oil for pigs, $6.00.

Total cost for 180 days' feed, bedding and oil, $202.44.

Weights were made and certified by County Farm Agent Harmon Benton, representing the extension service of Texas A. & M. College and the Texas Swine Breeders' Association, as follows:

July 8—Weight 1,233 pounds.

August 2—Weight 1,780 pounds, a gain of 547 pounds.

August 24—Weight 2,423 pounds, a gain of 663 pounds.

Sept. 18—Weight 3,299 pounds, a gain of 779 pounds.

Oct. 2—Weight 4,291 pounds, gain 1,069 pounds. The total average weight was 306.5 pounds.

Laird established Marymere Farm three years ago building fascinating houses, feeding the average fattening hogs of approved design and providing ample exercise lots. He has gradually enlarged his operations until he now has 200 Poland China brood sows, of the Liberator strain.

Last year, he attracted attention by being second in the nation in percentage of pigs saved, with 92.21 per cent. He had 50 sows in this contest, as against only five for Texas A. & M. College which took first place in the contest.

In addition to his hog, poultry and dairy plant, covering a quarter of a section, Laird has 740 acres in cultivation, devoted largely to kafir and other grain sorghum crops.

On this land he raises a large portion of his feed and his barns are equipped with much labor-saving machinery for handling it.

WINTER BARLEY FARM

We submit an article in regard to growing barley as a sure crop and a fine grazing crop for winter pasture. We have mentioned the importance of sowing grain this fall as to that and now with this additional rain we think all who have not already done so should sow some barley or wheat or both this barley comes in early in the spring and we are told that when it is green it makes the finest stock feed for all kinds of stock now is the best time to plant these crops and all should make haste to plant them.

Barley produced in Oklahoma this year will total 3,666,000 bushels, or $28,000,000 more than last year with an approximate value of $2,499,000. This stands as the largest production in the history of the state. The acreage harvested in 1924 was about 8 per cent larger than the acreage harvested in 1923. The average yield per acre for the state this year was 23.5 bushels per acre, as compared with 22 bushels per acre in 1923, and 22 bushels per acre in 1924.

It is difficult to explain just why it is that barley is a feed crop for Oklahoma was not discovered a good many years ago. Perhaps it was discovered a good many years ago, but due to the caution with which we change our ways and our crops, it has taken a number of years to materialize. Inasmuch as the average yield of barley was 19.7 bushels per acre in 1914, only 7,000 acres of barley were planted in Oklahoma. In 1918, only 8,000 acres were planted but in 1919 the acreage suddenly jumped to 50,000. The next year it again more than doubled, and has been increasing by the very rapid showing of barley, as compared with corn in that trying year of 1918, made an impression that could not be forgotten. In fact, it may be that barley as a fairly sure crop for Oklahoma conditions was first really discovered in 1917 and 1918.

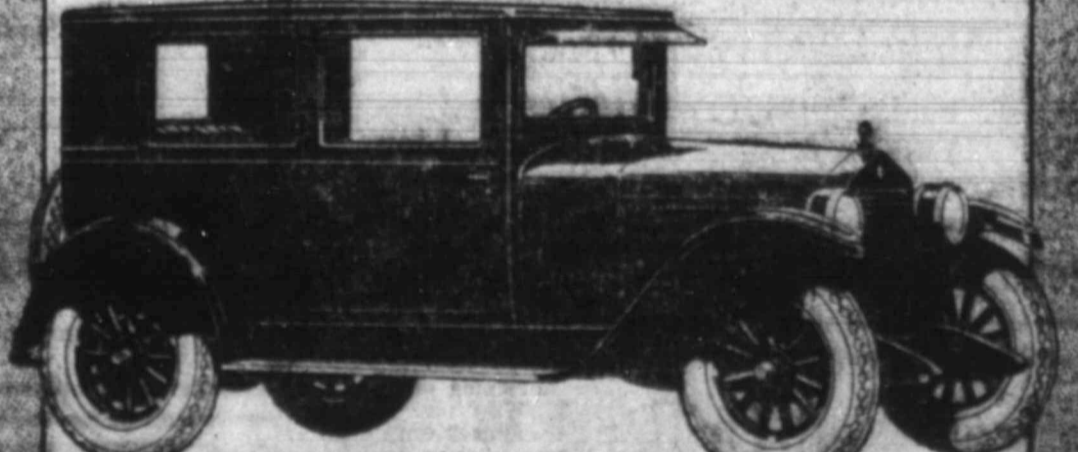

Of course kafir, milo and fescue and other of the grain sorghums have been regarded as among our surest grain crops. However, in the year 1918, the average yield of these crops was only 10 bushels per acre.

Likely we are not giving enough attention to barley, even at this time. During the good years when corn, the grain sorghums and barley all make fairly satisfactory yields there is not much tendency to increase or decrease the acreage of any of these crops. But if another year such as 1918 should come along and with hundreds of farmers scattered all over the state growing barley, we can be sure that the next year it will be even more so.

When we come to the short course we must confess that we were much disappointed. The Avalanche took great pains to give this part of the fair good advertising and we had with us men and women who were well equipped in their lines to give some very valuable instruction to all who might attend this course; but to our surprise and chagrin when the time came for the course there were only about a dozen men and less than a half dozen women present. We could see this disappointing fact that shows on the faces of the lecturers as they have all heard of Lubbock, the leading city of the Plains, and felt no doubt that they would have the privilege of speaking to large audiences when the time came and they saw what had happened. We could see their disappointment, Mr. T. D. Watson, the first speaker, mildly expressed his disap-

PATENTS GRANTED TO TEXAS FOLKS
 COMPILED BY MUNN & CO., PATENT ATTORNEYS

Of 714 patents issued in the last week, Texas inventors obtained 18. Do you know any of these inventors?

These inventions are worth while as tested by the number of patents that already have been assigned for manufacture and sale. In other cases the inventors are planning to manufacture them themselves or still are negotiating for assignments or royalties.

The following information is compiled by Munn and Company, of New York and Washington, patent and trademark attorneys.

Harry E. Jones, of El Paso, ATTACHMENT FOR TIRES. This provides for the holding of a second casing or shoe about the present tire so as to substantially double the thickness to avoid puncturing and to give greatly increased smoothness in the riding qualities of a vehicle. Simple and inexpensive attachments are adapted to clamp a second tire casing of usual form and construction around the tire of the rim. The attachments cooperate with the flanges of the rim.

Harry T. Hyams, of De Kalb, DENTAL APPLIANCE. This relates to diagnostic instruments to examine cavities. An instrument is provided which includes means for illuminating the interior of the mouth so that the teeth may be conveniently examined. It is simple in construction, convenient to manipulate and is thoroughly practical commercially.

Carl R. Sandstrom, of Austin, JOINT-TIGHTENING DEVICE. Mr. Sandstrom's patent relates to attachments or accessories for use on the running gear of automobiles. When pivotal connections, become worn, the front wheels of an automobile wobble from side to side, particularly so when passing over unequal surfaces. This invention includes washers to be engaged with the pivotal connection of the spindle arm with the steering arm connecting rod. These washers resilient and automatically take up the wear.

William Norman Heath, of Waco, BUNCH-BUILDER FOR BOBBINS. This relates to bobbins of spinning machines, which make use of a ring or similar frame operated by a traverse motion device to control the winding of the bobbins. The bunch wound on the bobbin before beginning the main winding starts the main winding and also serves, when the yarn wound on the bobbin is used in a cloth weaving machine, to operate the control mechanism of the weaving machine to prevent running off all the yarn from the bobbin, thereby preventing defects in the woven cloth.

Alexander Boynton, of San Antonio, BALLER BOTTOM. This device, especially adapted for use in oil and water wells, provides a baller wherein the vertical pressure produced by downward thrust of a heavy baller is utilized to open the baller for the reception of mud, wherein the pressure of the mud surrounding the baller results in the rapid filling of the same. Inlet and outlet openings are on the sides of the baller so that when it is withdrawn and set on the slick rack all the free discharge of mud will not be interfered with by inaccessible parts.

George Wallace Smith and Frank

L. Weiser, of San Antonio, METHOD OF MANUFACTURING CARBURETED WATER GAS. This is for the manufacture of carbureted water gas. It provides a method by which carbon deposits are removed by oxidation without shutting down the apparatus or any part of it, and it does not interfere with its efficient operation during removal. Efficiency of such machines is increased, and the cost of upkeep decreased through keeping them more nearly at a maximum by the more frequent removal of carbon without shutting down the machine.

Milton S. Lignoski, of Houston, PIPE HOLDER. This provides a pipe engaging slip adapted to be inserted in a rotary around the pipe to be held, which clamps and holds the pipe against turning or dropping into the bore. A slip is provided which is formed of sections flexibly united together so that it will readily conform to and grip the pipe on all sides.

Burwell Boykin, Jr., of Beaumont, GRIPPING DEVICE FOR ROTARIES. In this invention various gripping devices are employed to hold the drive stem against rotation relative to the rotary table, so that the rotation of the table will rotate the drive stem. The majority of them have rollers arranged to fit the drive stem and hold it firmly for operation.

Eugene P. Schoch, of Austin, DEHYDRATED LIGNITE. In this invention Mr. Schoch covers the lignite entirely with oil and uses the lumps as they ordinarily come from the mine when they range from 1 inch to 5 inches. It takes about two hours to raise the temperature of the mixture to 250 degrees C. At the end of that time no moisture appears to be coming from the still. Upon examining the lignite shows that all the lumps retain their original form, and although the treated material is brittle, most of the pieces are sufficiently firm to be handled without disintegration.

Axel G. Simonson, County of Mansfield, CLOTHESPIN. This is formed from a single length of wire and is adapted to utilize the entire length of the gripping jaws to grip the clothes. A clothes pin of this character may remain on the clothes line, so that it will be ready for use at all times.

Jose Angel Parra, of El Paso, SPRING WHEEL. This invention provides a novel resilient wheel constructed to embody within itself means to insure easy riding without it being necessary to employ the usual pneumatic tire. The device is free from the troubles inherent to pneumatic tires such as punctures, blow outs and the like.

Benjamin Eugene Parrish, of Honey Grove, PLUG FOR OIL WELLS. By this invention a simple and economical appliance is provided with effective clutch or gripping means for engaging well casings for retaining the appliance in position. It also provides a valve passage within the implement with valve controlling means, so that it is held open while the appliance is being lowered to position to permit the free passage through the body of the appliance of fluids, such as oil or gas.

John B. Richards, of Dallas, CLEAT FOR ATHLETIC FOOT.

WEAR. This relates to cleats for athletic footwear, but more particularly to cleats for attachment to shoes for use in playing football. It is formed of a non-metallic body portion and a metallic base portion. The base portion is enlarged and cambered, a stud like rivet is secured to the metallic base around which the non-metallic portion is molded. The non-metallic portion being tapered downwardly from the base. The non-metallic portion is provided with an annular flange for covering the metallic base and means for securing the cleat in position.

Frank W. Hall, of Fort Arthur, and George W. Gray, of New York, MANUFACTURE OF ALUMINUM CHLORIDE. This relates to the production of anhydrous aluminum chloride, such as is suitable for use in the treatment of hydrocarbon oils. It has special reference to the production of the chloride in relatively large quantities. It contemplates the continuous preheating of certain of the materials employed and charging the heated materials into a reaction chamber wherein the conditions are such that aluminum chloride is formed.

Lester L. Brown, of Houston, TURBINE. This is a rotary turbine equipped with cylinders fixed in relation to each other, which revolve around a stationary crank shaft, and are impelled by the expansive force of an explosive gas operating against the blades of the revolving cylinders. This turbine has fixed cylinders and reciprocating sleeves which control the intake and exhaust of the motive fluid.

Joseph M. Spittler, of Houston, PIPE-RECOVERING DEVICE. This is designed for use in recovering pipe stuck in a well bore, and may be utilized in withdrawing the pipe either by a direct pull, or by rotating the pipe to unscrew the sections, so that they may be withdrawn one at a time in case the pipe cannot be dislodged by a direct pull. This pipe recovering device may be readily released from the pipe and withdrawn, in case the pipe cannot be recovered.

William A. Baker, of Elgin, HOT-AIR PIPE FOR CARBURETORS. This is an attachment for internal combustion engines, and provides a novel device for admitting the proper quantity of hot air to the inlet of a carburetor. The air conduit is provided internally with a valve automatically controlled by suction of the engine pistons.

Ouro S. Stevens, of Waxahachie, PUNCTURE-SEALING COMPOUND. This is a puncture-sealing compound for pneumatic tubes.

introduced into the tube, will operate to automatically plug any usual puncture in the tube without permitting the escape of any appreciable quantity of air. This compound is made up of eight ounces of powdered cork, five ounces of powdered soap tree bark, two ounces of a mixture of Bismuth salts and ordinary salt and one gallon of distilled water.

Our selves first then reach out and help take care of the balance of the world. We have never known many emm who grow their own feed crops with some grain to sell each year and who raise their own meat each year to be in very much need to borrow money to hold cotton. If we can ever learn the one most important lesson of first feeding ourselves then we will be ready for the next step which will lead to prosperity.

Mr. French expresses much surprise that there is so few hogs being raised in the plains country. He thinks this is a great hog section of Texas and said if the farmers would build small pastures and keep only enough hogs for their own use it would reduce the yearly million dollars spent each year for bacon and other hog products in Texas. He further said that some of the best hogs that ever came to the Fort Worth market came from these plains.

Now any farmer or any boy or girl in the pig clubs want to avail themselves of this opportunity they can see the county agent Mr. Eaton and see if a car can be made up. We think the bankers will be glad to assist any who want to secure some of a car load of such hogs.

NEW BULLETINS FOR HOME ECONOMICS IS OFF PRESS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 9.—Several bulletins have recently been published by the University of Texas Press for the home economics department. Among these are two thousand copies of "Food For the Mother and Baby," three thousand copies of "Food For the School Child" and five thousand copies of "How to Weigh and Measure."

Work will soon be started on the Students directory, and it will be ready for publication about November 15. "Study of the Rural Schools in Runnels County, Texas," a bulletin written by J. L. Tennant, research specialist in rural education at the University, and E. E. Davis, was recently published. Three thousand copies of this came out.

The Proceedings of the Convention of the Texas Bar Association of 1924, published by the Texas Law Review is on the press at present. Two books of about three hundred pages each, bound in half leather, are soon to be published by the University Press. One of these books "Birds of Texas" was written by George Finlay Simons, who is at present in the South Sea Islands. Publication of the volume has been delayed on account of the author's absence.

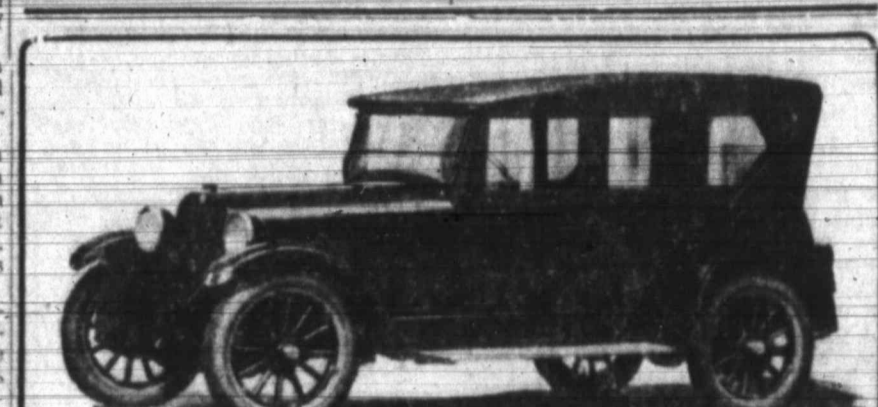

Last April 1500 copies of a book entitled "Legends of Texas" was published and proved to be so popular that a second edition of 1200 copies is in press and will be ready for sale early in November. The book was written

TEN PER CENT LIARS, SAYS THE POLICE COURT CLERK

PORTLAND, Ore.,—About ten per cent of the defendants who daily appear in police court are liars, says Neat J. Crouse, clerk of the municipal court here. An average of seventy-five times a day for the past thirteen years Crouse has held up his right hand and administered the oath: "Truth the whole truth and nothing but the truth—so help me God." Crouse classes bootleggers as only the second highest liars, next to women charged with moral violations taking first place.

A murder at large is regarded with extreme terror and he is hunted down as we do a mad dog. A drunken auto driver is in the same category—he is just as much a "killer" as either the mad dog or the murderer and must be exterminated before any degree of safety is possible on our highways. Good, long prison sentences seem to be the only remedy.

Improved Light & Power Facilities For Lubbock

Already the Texas Utilities Plant is known as one of the best in the West. Our present plans are to double its present capacity for the producing of electric current within the next twelve months.

Lubbock will have reason to be proud of such a plant. We want it to be so.

We are also increasing our ice storage capacity to about six times its present size. The installation of more modern and efficient ice making machinery will insure Lubbock and the South Plains the very highest quality of ice. The City Delivery service in Lubbock will be enlarged and bettered.

All in all it means that we intend to lead and assist Lubbock in becoming a bigger and better town and the Southplains a better place in which to live.

WORK STARTED MONDAY MORNING ON SHOP BUILDING STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT; TO BE USED FOR EQUIPMENT REPAIR SHOP

County Commissioner Marvin T. Warlick and the other members of the commissioners' court, have made provision for the construction of a large warehouse and workshop for Division No. Five of the State Highway Department with headquarters in Lubbock. The building is being erected on Broadway in the southwest corner of the fair grounds. Work on the structure, which is 50 by 160 feet, was started Monday morning by Contractor Clements, of Lubbock, a corps of six workmen having been put at work on the job and had the sides and ends framed work of the structure well toward completion within two hours after starting work, and late in the afternoon started putting up the steel beams that will support the roof.

A concrete floor will be a permanent feature of the building which is being made of wooden framework with steel beams and sheet-steel roof and walls. The building will be used as a workshop where repairs will be made on the department's equipment used throughout this division, while tractors, trucks and other pieces of equipment will be housed therein while not in use. The department has received large shipments of equipment, and it is now in order to have housing for this that work has been rushed on the new structure.

Assistant Division Engineer Lister stated Monday that the department officials are highly elated over the splendid co-operation being offered by the commissioners' court of Lubbock county, and stated that the erection of the building, which will be completed this week, will aid them in securing more equipment from headquarters as provisions for adequate storage of all equipment is required by the state highway officials before shipments of equipment on a large scale are made.

It was stated at the department's headquarters here Monday that everything is in fine shape for a construction and maintenance program to be carried out throughout the twenty-four counties in Division Five that will give this section a system of well maintained roadbeds along all designated highways in the division.

Instructors State U. To Issue New Mathematics Book

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 11. What is considered by prominent mathematicians as a distinct contribution to the teaching and subject matter of calculus is a new text book prepared by Dr. M. B. Porter and Dr. H. J. Eitlinger of the mathematics department of the University of Texas.

The book is styled "Elementary Calculus," and is designed for the first year course in calculus. It covers the subject approximately in the same manner as it is taught at the University now. That in itself is said to be a high recommendation for the text, since the course as offered in the University is second to none in America. Dr. Porter, one of the authors, while in California visiting with mathematicians of international eminence, was told that "you have a wonderful mathematics school at your Texas University."

Certain features are embodied in the text that are not to be found in any calculus text written in English. Both authors have had training for the preparation of this work which should serve as an advance recommendation. Dr. Porter was instructor of mathematics at Yale, and received his doctor's degree from Harvard in that science. Dr. Eitlinger served as student assistant of mathematics at Harvard for two years, and also received a Ph. D. in mathematics from that institution. Twenty-one hundred problems with answers and 85 figures will be found in the new text. The answers have been worked out by M. W. Whyburn, a former student and now assistant professor at Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College. The drawings are the work of W. G. Scarborough and T. R. Greenwood, former engineering students under Dr. Eitlinger.

According to the contract with the Century Publishing Company of New York, the book will be out January 1st.

An old tobacco secret re-discovered—

Wellman's famous old secret

GRANGER
PIPE TOBACCO

1921—
revived for Granger

1924—
a popular seller in 31 states—a quarter-million smokers

A new richness from an old-time process

Made for pipes — cut for pipes — packed sensibly to save money

NOW it can be told. Three years ago we decided to revive a famous old secret method of mellowing tobacco—"Wellman's Method", was called.

For three years we have been quietly trying it out—we, and about a quarter-million shrewd pipe-smokers who discovered it for themselves.

No whirlwind campaigns, no "special offers", no extravagant claims; Granger Rough Cut has made good on its taste alone. There could be no better proof of its quality. Now we are ready to "tell the world".

An extraordinary pipe tobacco. "Wellman's Method"—now ours exclusively—not only mellows tobacco, but "rounds it out"—gives it a new taste, richer and milder.

There's no other method like it, nor any other tobacco like Granger.

And not only differently mellowed, but cut differently—cut for pipes. The Rough Cut burns more slowly, hence smokes cooler—and a pipe-load lasts nearly twice as long.

And finally—notice the package. If Granger Rough Cut were packed in fancy lithographed tins, it would cost 15 cents. But wrapped in smart heavy foil, you get this fuller, longer, cooler smoke at a third less cost. Foil instead of costly tin—hence the price.

Too good to be true? Ask any man who has tried it. Better yet—get out your pipe!

10¢

Granger Rough Cut

A Pointer on Tobacco—

The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow burning is due to the "cut". Granger is "rough cut" to smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.

Instructions were being forwarded to all trustees of rural schools over the county to take similar action with obsolete books in their respective schools.

WEST TEXAS GRAY CO. HAVE A REAL BOOSTER IN NEW GRAY OWNER

Joel P. Johnson, traveling man for the Chas. C. Hornsby Machinery Supply Company, is believed to be one of the most consistent boosters of the Gray automobile in the country...

Johnson returned his car to the West Texas Gray Company's storage room Friday after having made a hundred miles trip on which he made more than thirty-three miles per gallon of gasoline.

Upon noticing the exceedingly good mileage the car had made, Mr. Johnson started checking up on the car, which is a Gray coupe, to see how much service he had gotten out of it.

The car had been run 8,141 miles during the past ninety days, when it was put into service brand new.

The West Texas Gray Company is making splendid progress in placing automobiles throughout the Lubbock trade territory.

TEXAS BALLOT WILL BE NARROWEST IN 40 YEARS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 13.—With all data mailed from the Department of State for compiling the tickets to be used in the November election it has been found that the Texas ballot will be the narrowest in forty years. In several past elections they were so wide as to be veritable blankets carrying hundreds of names of candidates.

There will be but two state tickets carrying candidates for State offices, the Democratic and Republican nominees. A third column will contain electors only for the Independent, Progressive party, headed by La Follette. That party has no candidate for state offices in Texas.

As a result of the foregoing there will be but two complete columns of candidates running the entire length of the ballot, the Democrats and Republicans and in most of the counties there will be no Republicans for district, county or precinct offices. This further reduces the size of the ballot for in the latter counties only the Democratic ticket will be displayed from top to bottom. Besides the limited number of names to be carried on the ticket on November 4, it will contain one additional subject, the question of an amendment to the constitution to increase the State pension tax from 5c to 7c on the $100 valuation.

All in all there will be little to confuse the voters and the election officials should be able to return a quick count of the votes.

BAILEY COUNTY IS TO IMPROVE HIGHWAY

Division Engineer Baker and Engineer B. K. Garrett, of the State Highway Department, with headquarters in Lubbock, made a trip recently to Bailey county where they outlined work for the construction of six and forty-two one hundredths miles of clay surfaced road in Bailey county, a part of the temporary location of Highway No. 7.

H. F. Matthews, county engineer of Bailey county, received bids last week for the job and when they were read E. B. Jones, of Portales, New Mexico, proved the successful bidder. The more than six miles of highway will be of sand and clay base with solid clay surface, and will cost $10,889.37.

Bailey county will receive four thousand dollars state aid for the construction of this road, which is the main traveled highway from Lubbock through Littlefield, Amherst and Sudan to Muleshoe, and accommodate thousands of tourists annually.

Part of the work on this contract will be built under this contract has been almost impassable for the past several months because of a long sand bed a short distance from Muleshoe, according to a local man who passed over the route just recently, and the improvement will be to the advantage of numbers of people throughout the Plains country.

NOLAN COUNTY HAS BIG ROAD PROGRAM

SWEETWATER, Texas, Oct. 13.—Contract has been let here for approximately fifteen miles of grading and bridge work on the Bankhead, State Highway No. 1, from Sweetwater west to the Mitchell Company line. Brown-Abbott Company of Lorraine was the low bidder with a contract figure of $29,482.77. About twenty contracting firms were represented when bids were let and the figures ranged as high as $40,000. Contract for the hard-surfaced topping to this road will be let later.

This was the first contract to be let in the Nolan County good roads program, which when completed, will give the county about seventy miles of hard surfaced highway, thirty on the Bankhead, thirty on State Highway No. 4, extending north and south and a ten-mile spur from Roscoe north to the Scurry county line on No. 7. To finance it the county voted bonds totaling $600,000, which will be supplemented by State and Federal aid of $800,000.

Bobbed hair is about like all modern improvements. It isn't the initial cost, it's the upkeep.

LOCAL PEOPLE VISITED AT TAHOKA SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Edwards and son, Billie, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ned Douglas and daughter, Sarah Hughes, all members of the Avallanche family, visited at the home of Iob Haynes at Tahoka Sunday afternoon.

Editor Haynes who is now owner and editor of the Seargaves Signal, has been active in the development of Tahoka for the past several years but has turned his attention to the Gaines county city where he will prove valuable in the development of that section.

Owing to the number of people moving into Seargaves at this time Editor Haynes has found it impossible to find a home there and the family will remain at Tahoka until he can build. "We are experiencing an unprecedented boom at Seargaves," Editor Haynes said.

LABORATORIES ON UNIVERSITY OIL LANDS

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—Temporary laboratories for investigation of the oil field on University of Texas land have been established at Big Lake by Dr. E. H. Searns, chief geologist in the Bureau of Economic Geology, and Dr. L. T. Patton, associate geologist. The purpose of this laboratory is to collect and examine samples of Texas oil. It also proposes to work out the structural conditions—in order to determine why oil has collected in Reagan county and to see what sort of structures the oil is coming from. After this work has been done, it is stated that the limits of the field and the amount of oil there can be determined. The laboratory will only be maintained until this purpose has been accomplished; thereafter all samples will be sent to the main laboratory at Austin. Free examination of oil samples sent in from all parts of the state is made at the main laboratory, where geologists also give information as to whether gold and silver samples sent in are worth being assayed and make other analysis of minerals.

NEW GIN TO START SOON IN COFFEYVILLE KANSAS

COFFEYVILLE, Kans., Oct. 13.—The new Chelsea cotton gin here is already to start. All it needs is Montgomery county's first bale of cotton.

So anxious are local bankers to announce to the world that southern Kansas can raise real cotton, that they have offered $50 to the first farmer who brings in the first of the 1924 crop. Second prizes of $25 and $15 also are offered. A premium also is offered for the first bale.

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 13.—With approximately 2,850 students registered for courses in English at the University of Texas, the records show that subject to be maintaining its usual lead in popularity at the University. One year of English is required of all students, and two years are required for many degrees. The sophomore English classes show a slight decrease with 872 registrations this year, as compared with 880 last year. In the advanced English courses there is the most noticeable increase with 531 students registered this year, as compared with 373 students in the higher classes last year.

During the last five years, the freshmen classes in English have been remarkably uniform. In 1920, there were 1,233 students enrolled; in 1921, 1,238; in 1922, 1,281; and last year, 1,207. There has also been little change in the size of the sophomore classes.

FENCING IS TAUGHT IN THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 13.—Grace and poise has at last come into its own, not only with women students of the University of Texas but also with men students. The ancient and honorable art of fencing is being taught in the University by Melvin Williamson, who has previously taught in the United States Army camps and the Hollywood Fencing for stars.

Fencing is a recent years fencing was little known in the United States, especially in the South. Harvard and Yale have taught the sport for several years. The University of California has recognized fencing as one of its chief courses for the physical betterment of its students and in developing the nerve, grace and quickness. The most popular medium of interest, according to Mr. Williamson, with regard to the growing popularity of fencing is the moving picture. When such poise and grace is portrayed on the screen it creates a desire in the youth of the country to bring themselves to this standard of manhood. Fencing is essentially a gentleman's sport and the chief requisite it demands is fair play, he said.

The benefits derived from a course in fencing are numerous. Mr. Williamson continued. Besides developing grace and poise the coordination of hand and eyes is strengthened, thus equipping one to act cool under adverse conditions.

"It takes nerve and steadiness to face a quick moving, flashing foil," he said.

FOOLS IN THE DARK IS SHOWING TODAY, LINDSEY

The delightful ability of Director Al Santell, of the F. B. O. forces, to turn melodrama into screamingly amusing comedy and to build up thrilling situations is seen at its best in "Fools in the Dark" his latest feature picture showing for the last times at the Lindsey Theatre today.

Mr. Santell will be remembered for his "Lights Out" which proved such a huge amusement triumph a few months ago. In his present feature he is said to have eclipsed himself. Matt Moore and Patsy Ruth Miller are the stars around which the action revolves. The story is an original from the pen of Bertram Millhauser.

ENGRAVING FAMILY SILVER IS NO MORE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 13.—They aren't engraving the family silver any more. Guess why? Because a family name is no longer permanent.

When grandma was a girl and even when father courted mother, marriage was looked upon as something so permanent that only death could destroy it. So the girls of yesterday had their husbands' name on their plate.

But—

The bride of today isn't sure as to whether her name will be in style next year. Divorce, elopement or any number of things may happen.

"And it would be embarrassing to go on using silver with George's initials on it."

So she just leaves the wedding gift plain silver.
