Government Suit to Cancel Oil Leases Opens DOHENY LEASES THOUSANDS EXPECTED AT TECH JUBILEE ARE CONTESTED BY GOVERNMENT

ROBERTS CLAIMS GOVT IS DECEASED BY TRICKS AND BRIBERY

BY H. O. THOMPSON LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21—Contentions of both sides in the government's suit to cancel oil leases held in the Elk Hills Naval Oil Reserve by companies controlled by E. L. Doheny, were reviewed as the trial opened here Tuesday before United States District Judge Paul J. McCormick.

The morning session was given over to Owen J. Roberts, government attorney who charged that federal affairs, through bribery and corruption had been manipulated to the benefit of Doheny.

For the defense, Frank J. Hogan took up the greater part of the afternoon in a lengthy review of his case declaring that he intended to "expose to the nation an almost inconceivable story of deliberate misrepresentation and unblinking distortion of the truth."

Roberts alleged further that the Elk Hills leases were given to the Doheny company without fair competitive bidding. He said that the deal did not take its regular course through the department of the interior and charged that Fall constituted himself as the United States government in making the contracts.

The whole transaction was thinly veiled camouflage to spend United States money without getting it out of the treasury," Roberts declared.

Attorney Hogan, after the noon recess, replied to the government counsel.

"In this court for the first time will be told the whole story of the whole truth, how fairly and regularly conducted with the transactions involved, while not quite as slight as Fall's, was really unimportant, he said.

Episcopal Bishop May be Sent Into Mexico from U. S.

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 21.—If it can be done without conflicting with the Mexican constitution, a protestant Episcopal bishop will be sent to Mexico. This is the viewpoint of the protestant Episcopal church as stated by Rt. Rev. George H. Kingsolving, second bishop of Texas, and president of the Southwest Province, which includes seven states. This statement was made at the ninth annual synod being held here, which is attended by eminent churchmen from the southwest province.

Bishop Kingsolving said that the church had been advised that the Mexican constitution prohibited the installation of the Episcopal creed by a bishop.

DEATH BY AUTO IS INCREASING

CALIFORNIA LEADS WITH 32.6 PER 100,000 POPULATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Automobile accidents are taking an increasing toll of life in the United States. There were 14,412 deaths from automobile accidents in 1923 in the country, a death rate of 14.9 per one hundred thousand population, as compared with 12.5 in 1922; 11.5 in 1921; 10.4 in 1920; 9.4 in 1919, and 9.3 in 1918.

California, which had the highest automobile death rate in 1923, with 32.6 per one hundred thousand population, has led the other states for the last five years, the department of commerce records show.

Camden, N. J., is the most dangerous city in the United States in this respect in the country, with a rate of 35.4 per 100,000 population in 1923.

St. Paul, Minn., was the safest, with a rate of 6.2. New York's rate was 16.3; Chicago, 20.4; Philadelphia, 15.3; Boston, 17.3; Cleveland, 23.8; New Orleans, 16.8; Washington, 17.1; Atlanta, 24.7; Birmingham, 25; Dallas 18.7 and Rochester, 18.9.

LABOR DECISION LETTER BOXES TURNING POINT TO BE PLACED ON GOMPERS SAYS LOCAL STREETS

COURT RECOGNIZES TENDENCY TO AUTOCRATIC POWER, HE CLAIMS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Describing as "constructive and progressive" the supreme court decision holding that strikers charged with violating injunctions are entitled to jury trial, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, declares that "it may well be that this decision marks a great turning point in American court procedure."

"Unquestionably, the court is mindful of the trend of the times and recognizes in some degree that the growing tendency of the courts to assume autocratic power must be curbed if the whole court system is not to be impaired," Gompers said in a statement.

"We must not, however, delude ourselves into the belief that this decision cures all the evils of the judiciary," he declared. "A great cloak of autocratic power is shorn away, and strikers," he said, "cannot longer be put in jail at the whim of the judge who made the law."

"But the injunction remains," he said. "It may still be used in labor disputes, which injunction would be if there were no labor dispute in progress. The injunction itself as used in labor disputes, must go before the constitution is fully and finally indicated, and made sacred in our court system."

"If it is possible," he said, "that the supreme court has heard of the socialist campaign to reform the court's usurpation of power."

LATE TEXAS WIRE BRIEFS

MARLIN, Texas, Oct. 21.—L. T. Dabiel, 55, former speaker of the house of the Texas legislature, former state tax commissioner and secretary of state, was found dead in a garage here today. A pistol was pointed at his head and a pistol was found by his side. He had been in ill health for some time.

The injured are W. F. Capers, 28, the dead woman's husband, and their children, Gordon, 7, and Maria, 4.

A leaking gas stove is believed to have caused the fire.

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 21.—D. D. Drake, carpenter, fell 40 feet from the top of a dance casino in a local amusement park here today and received injuries from which he is not expected to recover. He was at work on the structure.

WOMAN GIVEN GRAND JURY INDICTMENT AS A BIRTHDAY PRESENT

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 21.—Pretty Mrs. Winona Springs Green had a birthday Tuesday and a grand jury celebrated the occasion by indicting her for the murder of her father-in-law.

"What a nice birthday present," exclaimed Winona who is now 24, with a giggle. The police say Winona has confessed that early one morning last August, she shot and killed J. H. Green, the father-in-law and later lured Mrs. Lena Green, her mother-in-law out into the woods and killed her too.

"They owed me four thousand dollars," Winona explained.

2 MORE BLAST VICTIMS DEAD

FOUR OTHERS MAY DIE OF INJURIES IN BLAST ON TRENTON

NORFOLK, Oct. 21.—The toll of death on the USS Trenton, now six, may mount higher as a result of the serious condition of four others who were injured in the fatal explosion off Cape Henry and now lie in pain at the naval hospital here with 12 other comrades who were also severely hurt Tuesday. Four were instantly killed in the explosion.

The usual naval inquiry was held over the five other dead Tuesday and preparations are being made to send them to their homes for burial.

Attention here is now centered in the investigation ordered at Washington Tuesday. The investigating board will meet on the flag ship Wyoming, which has not arrived here yet, and they will meet on the Trenton. The probe is not expected to begin for several days, as the injured witnesses will have to testify. It is expected to last several weeks.

The explosion was not the result of a fly-back, as was first thought, as the gun was never fired. There were only two powder cans outside of the gun and they were being hoisted into place when the explosion occurred. Whether or not they were set off by an electric spark is not known. As a result of the explosion she will be unable to participate in a navy day celebration at Bridgeport, Conn., next Monday, as had been planned.

Probe of Blast Opens

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Three ordnance experts of the navy department left here Tuesday night for Norfolk to take part in the investigation of the explosion on the USS Trenton which occurred off Cape Henry Monday upon orders from Secretary of the navy Wilbur.

DEMOCRATS FRIEND TO LABOR, DAVIS TELLS KENTUCKY

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 21.—The democratic party inaugurated the movement of liberalism toward labor, and founded the right now upheld by the supreme court safeguarding trial by jury in labor disputes, John W. Davis, told democrats who assembled from all parts of Kentucky Tuesday night to hear him wind up his brief invasion of this border state.

"You have had in the last three and a half years," he said, "corruption in many places, favoritism in legislation and utter absence and lack of inspiring leadership."

"We democrats believe that the time has come for the American people to face about and get back on the good ground of equality instead of rolling back."

SYSTEMATIC PARKING PLAN BE WORKED OUT

LOCAL COMMITTEE PLANS ENTERTAINMENT FOR EVERY VISITOR

Parking arrangements for 3,000 automobiles.

That is the job that has been handed S. C. Arnett and his committee on Traffic and Parking for the Tech Celebration to be held here November 11th, Armistic Day.

Entertaining the occupants of the 5,000 automobiles, and hundreds of other visitors who will come to our party on the trains is the job that the citizenship of Lubbock has on hand.

That neither will fall down or fail is a fore gone conclusion of the committee. Together with the Parade Committee, with Harold Griffith as chairman, already at work on the parking problem and when the big day arrives, every arrangement will be made to park every car quickly and without difficulty in such a way that they may be driven back to the city in the quickest possible time.

Entertainment Features Vary. The entertainment features have so many angles and there are a many details to be looked after that the help of every one is needed.

There are about ten committees in addition to the Parking committee on the job, looking after the various phases of caring for the wards, convenience and entertainment of the visitors, but this is a job in which every loyal Lubbocker can help, and General Chairman Kimbro will appreciate suggestions and help of all kinds.

The first big job, and it is not so big when the loyal spirit of our citizens is considered, will be raising the necessary money to pay for all the many expenses of "our party."

Mr. Blair's finance committee is on the job and will give every one an opportunity in a few days to have a part in making this celebration a big success. Tech Jubilee, and no doubt they will meet with a ready response.

Jobs For Everybody

While the Tech belongs to all Texas, and the southwest for that matter, and while the Tech Board is arranging the program for the corner stone laying, it is Lubbock's duty to entertain the thousands of friends and future friends of the institution.

The construction of the Tech buildings has been started on a big scale, but the school is opened next September; many other steps have to be taken—for instance, students must be obtained and the laying of the corner stone of the institution.

It is up to Lubbock and this section of Texas to show to the world that we are all back of the institution and the best way to do that at this time is to pitch in and help make this occasion one to be long remembered.

BRITISH LEADERS FACED WITH MUD SLINGING

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Unprecedented rowdiness is hampering the efforts of leaders of England's three major parties to carry their election appeals to the people. The party chieftains themselves are responsible for the outbursts which have occurred throughout the country.

Liberalism, conservatism and liberalism have favored each other with personal abuse such as has never before been injected into a general election. Personalities now have been abandoned for politics, by impressive followers of all parties.

TOTAL EXPENSES ONLY ONE-THIRD OF REPUBLICANS

EXPECT FINAL TOTAL IN CAMPAIGN BE AROUND $750,000.00

BY THOMAS L. STOKES WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Democrats declare they have spent in their campaign for John W. Davis only slightly over one-third as much as the republicans have spent in the Coolidge-Dawes drive and they look for their final total expenditures to be approximately one-fourth of the aim the republicans have set.

An accounting of their finances laid before the Borah committee in sworn statements here Tuesday by Chairman Clem L. Shaver, and Treasurer James E. Gerard, of the democratic national committee, showed:

Total expenditures to date are $597,119.57. Contributions of $548,440.02. Amounts to state committees totaling $29,700.

The highest individual contributions were two gifts of $25,000, from Bernard M. Baruch, and Jesse L. Jones, finance directors of the democratic national committee. The latter's wife gave $5,000.

Shaver and Gerard further testified that:

The democrats supported their fund to total finally around $250,000, or slightly over a third of the amount that they would receive $750,000.

They expect to have a deficit of between $100,000 and $150,000. There are no organizations of business men, bankers, or the like collecting money for the democratic party.

Gerard said that there were some outside organizations collecting funds for the democratic campaign such as women's organizations, but that the amount they had collected was negligible, as far as he knew.

In an answer to a question from Frank P. Walsh, counsel for Senator LaFollette, Shaver said that the democratic committee had not used any of its publicity funds to pay for editorials in newspapers but did not know whether any had been spent for newspaper advertising. He also denied that the committee had purchased any newspapers in Tennessee.

The records showed that only 28 contributions of $5,000 or over have been received. Besides the two largest contributions from Baruch and Jones, others were Gerard $13,000; Thomas L. Cladbourne one of the McAdoo supporters, $20,000; C. W. Watson, West Virginia coal operator, $15,000; Norman H. Davis, former under-secretary of state, $10,000; Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, $21,000; Herbert H. Lehman, $12,000; and Francis P. Garvin, former alien property custodian, $10,000. Davis himself contributed $5,000 and his law partner, Frank L. Polk, the same amount.

Some of the outstanding expenditures were:

Chicago headquarters $37,000; Chairman $4,825.98. Colored citizens bureau $11,811.81; John W. Davis headquarters $47,656.79; eastern managers headquarters $24,814.48; Naturalized Citizens bureau $11,058.79; publicity bureau $19,766.50; Organization, $15,326.88; Telephone and telegraph $10,918.19.

The $20,700 turned over to state organizations went to these states: New York $2,000; South Dakota $2,500; New Mexico $7,500; Rhode Island, $1,200; Montana $2,000; Colorado $5,000; Nebraska $7,000 and Kentucky $2,500.

The investigation Tuesday did not last half an hour. On Wednesday the committee will turn again to the charge of a "push" fund made against the republicans by LaFollette.

Miss Irene Williams is To Be Heard in Lubbock

Miss Irene Williams will appear in "Don Pasquale" under the auspices of the Lubbock Music club November 15. A short sketch of the young star is reprinted from "Musical America."

"To most persons a trip to Europe is merely a voyage across the Atlantic, but to Irene Williams the crossing of which not only opened up new fields of conquest but also revealed a new plenitude of her powers. Miss Williams' art and personality have not been unrecognized in America for in three seasons with the Hinsaw Opera company in an English version of Mozart's "Cosi fan tutte" she has sung in some 300 cities.

"My first trip abroad was in every way much better than I expected," Miss Williams, who was among recent arrivals in New York. "It was not only a wonderful experience to visit Europe but I brought me my first opportunity to sing in a foreign land with artists of international reputations and gave me a confidence and inspiration which are already bringing the good results in my singing. It is not easy for an American trained entirely in this country to enter into competition with European artists on their own ground. It seems that an American artist is expected to pay for his appearances in most of the European cities, and nobody even thought to lower his voice if he wanted to ask me if I paid for my opportunity."

Miss Williams had appeared too many times in the Mozart work to pay for the experience of singing in it three times and appearing in a performance of Mozart's Requiem of the French capital. And if people found her different in that respect, she no doubt was more or less a curiosity in at least one other, since she was one of a few women in Paris last summer without bobbed hair, she says.

Besides singing four times in the Mozart Festival, Miss Williams was heard in several private musicals, at which she met many persons prominent in Paris.

She also received letters from well-known musicians complimenting her upon her artistic singing.

This season Miss Williams will again head one of William Wade Hinsaw's companies this time singing in Donizetti's "Don Pasquale." The company will probably make one New York appearance, before a club, after which it will begin a tour which is to last, with only a short interlude, until the spring.

Shower is Given For Mrs. W. P. McMicken

A very delightful farewell shower was given Mrs. W. P. McMicken Monday afternoon by the Mary Helm Auxiliary of the Methodist church. The members of the Auxiliary "showered" her with many dainty gifts as she sat blindfolded in her chair. When her eyes were uncovered she was surprised to see Master Johnny Pierce standing before her holding a handsome silver tray and a leather writing case which was the gift of the Missionary Society, and which was presented to her by Mrs. Geo. Wolffarth who spoke the appreciation of the Women of the church for Mrs. McMicken and their regret over her departure.

An appreciated musical program was rendered with Mrs. O'Sullivan in charge.

Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. McDonald delighted the guests with a piano musical and Mrs. O'Sullivan sang two lovely songs.

Mrs. McMicken will leave Lubbock next Monday for San Antonio and this was her last meeting with the women of the church.

At the close of a delightful afternoon, refreshments consisting of tea, sandwiches, olives, potato chips, and wafers were served to about sixty guests.

among the smartest of winter accessories. These lovely leathers are of the softest blended shades and can be carried with almost any garment.

Flat envelope purse types are very popular at present although many women prefer the large handbag which has ample room for carrying purposes.

Velvet printed in gold or silver designs can be purchased by the yard in many of the department stores. This material affords a wonderful solution for the semi-dressy gown for winter. Tunic frocks may have the upper portion entirely of this printed velvet with a plain colored velvet underlap.

Small hats made of embroidered satin or of metal cloth will be worn with the fur coat this season. Felt hats are unbound about the brim and trimmed with fur or tinsel ribbon will also be popular.

The Spanish shawl has been the inspiration for the design of many new evening wraps of formal type. Women have shown a great preference for shawls for evening wear and this season provides a variety of effects. Squares of printed velvet bordered in fox and lined in velvet are being worn, and are even lovelier in effect than the embroidered Spanish shawl from which they have their inspiration. These wraps will offer many suggestions to the home dressmaker who fashions the evening wrap for this season. If one wishes to economize on the cost of such wraps, one could use a wide border of plain velvet instead of the border of fur about the square and use fur only in collar effect about the neck.

FUR OR CLOTH FOR WINTER COAT IS QUESTION

By HEDDA HOYT
(United Press Fashion Editor)
(Written for United Press)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Just how every woman is asking, "What shall it be—a cloth coat or a fur coat?"

Last year the question didn't require much thought, as fur coats and wraps were so much smarter in appearance than the cloth coats which were generally made in lines which no furrier can turn out in bulky fur. The cloth coat with figure molding lines has a smartness which the average fur coat lacks.

Paris has gone wild over these new cloth models which show the Directorate influence with their suggestion of the normal waistline, their long tight sleeves and choker collars. Returning buyers all state that the figure molding cloth is one of the most important styles of this year.

Nearly all of these new models have a suggestion of the normal waistline. They may terminate in narrow hemlines or in circular flaring hems bordered in fur. Sleeves have narrow cuffs of self material in most cases and the entire sleeve fits rather snugly to the arm. Cuffs are seldom trimmed in fur. Collars are varied. They may be of choker type, in which case they are of fur. They may be upstanding affairs with a narrow border of fur used as an outline, shawl types or the three-tiered capelet effects.

There are coats which are fitted in front, but which have the straight line in the back—coats which use the narrow string belt about the normal waistline to assure the "figure" effect.

There are numerous materials used for the cloth coat including heavy wool, poulins, suede-finished cloth, broadcloth etc. Black is the most popular shade with browns, greens and dark hues following.

Among the furs which trim this season's cloth coat are Fitch-dyed in Kolinsky brown and bann marten—baby lamb, black fox and blue fox. Weasel is being introduced by many furriers and this a remarkably soft and becoming fur of white and tan shades. Some furriers insist that weasel and ermine are one and the same animal and that the brownish stripe extends down the back of the otherwise white weasel is merely the "ermine" coat of the animal before it has taken on its winter whiteness. At any rate, weasel is a decidedly dressy fur when used on a black background of cloth. On many of the brown suede cloth wraps we find brown or bronze-dyed broadcloth used as a trimming with wonderful results.

BRICKWORK ON NEW HOME FOR LUB-TEX COMPANY COMPLETE

Brickwork has been completed on the J. A. Hodges building at the corner of Broadway and Avenue H, which will be the new home for the Lub-Tex Motor Company, and the structure will doubtless be completed within another twenty days.

The building is two stories, and displaces a small frame structure which had stood on the lot for a number of years. It adds greatly to the appearance of this section of the city, and will doubtless prove a popular business home due to its central location.

It was announced at the office of the Lub-Tex Motor Company Tuesday that they would occupy the new building just as soon as it has been completed.

The Lub-Texas Motor Company is one of the pioneer automobile businesses of Lubbock, having been established by the present manager when Lubbock was not more than three-third its present size, and the business was first operated in a small frame structure.

MADDOX ADDITION TO LUBBOCK TO BE AUCTIONED

Smith and McClannahan, selling agents of Springfield, Tenn., have established local headquarters in the Lubbock Inn and have announced a great auction sale of lots to begin at one o'clock in the afternoon of October 28th.

Two hundred lots in the Maddox Addition to Lubbock will be offered for sale at this time, and to stimulate interest in the sale, all who attend will be given an opportunity to receive a new Ford car and several cash prizes amounting to two hundred dollars.

The terms on which these lots will be sold are announced in their advertisement in this issue, and those interested in buying home owners in Lubbock will doubtless show great interest in the offering.

Announced in all advertising put out by the agents, sale will absolutely be made on all lots, they stated Tuesday.

The Maddox addition to Lubbock is just across from the site of the Texas Technological College on College Avenue. The future value of this property is said by many local observers to have great possibilities, and it is for this reason that the salemen to have charge of the auction feel that they will easily dispose of all these lots in quick time after the auction has been started.

This is perhaps one of the highest sales of homesites to be offered in Lubbock at auction this season.

It is being told that I am leaving Lubbock. There is no truth in this statement.

LUTHERAN CONVENTION PREPARES TO OPEN FIGHT ON DIVORCE INCREASE PLANNING RESTORATION REAL HOMES

By OTIS PEABODY SWIFT.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Characterizing as "appalling" census bureau statistics showing that the number of divorces in the United States is increasing at a greater rate than the number of marriages, Lutheran clergymen, gathered here from all parts of the country for the conventions of the United Lutheran church, and the brotherhood of the Lutheran church, are preparing to bring the divorce problem before the conventions.

In the mammoth Edgewater beach hotel, while Paris favored women from the exclusive North Shore residential districts danced and sipped tea beside Lake Michigan, churchmen voiced indignation when interviewed by the United News on facts that, in 33 of 36 states studied by the census bureau, the number of divorces is on the increase.

"One is almost dazed by such figures," declared Rev. Chas. P. McLaughlin, pastor of the First Lutheran church of Pittsburgh and president of the board of directors of the Chicago Lutheran seminary.

"Marriage and the home where children are reared have been the bulwark of our modern civilization. We dare not get away from the conviction that marriage is a divine institution and therefore carries with it certain religious provisions which alone can safeguard the institution. More religious instruction and more recognition of an Almighty personal power in the lives of individuals and society will bring the right sort of remedy to our situation."

Rev. W. C. Crouser of San Jose, California, blamed apartment house life and superficial amusements for divorces. The young wife, almost alone in the modern apartment is always anonymous, he declared.

"The disappearance of old-fashioned homes and that fact that the principles emphasized in the old-fashioned homes are no longer emphasized are responsible for this divorce situation," he said.

"We have to get back to the frame of mind that equipped our fathers and mothers for the institution of marriage."

Frank Urick, pastor of Trinity church, Philadelphia, saw no legal panacea for the increase in divorces. Not until the spiritual element in the marriage relation is universally recognized will a substantial decrease in divorces be possible, he said.

Rev. L. B. Wolf, of Boston head of the Foreign missions unit of the church, favored strengthening of legal safeguards, however.

"I stand unequivocally for a uniform federal divorce law," was his declaration when interviewed.

"I want a law to prevent all legal quibbles when the issues involved are at the base of our national happiness."

A church conference in Illinois broke up in a row. Yes, it was a "peace" resolution.

NEW OPERATION MAY REVOLUTIONIZE SURGERY

By United News.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Another name was carved in the Hall of Medical achievement with the announcement Tuesday night of a new operation which medical experts agree is likely to revolutionize gastric surgery and entirely change the treatment for ulcers and nervous indigestion, one of the most widespread and modern diseases.

As in the case of the discovery of insulin for the treatment of diabetes the credit for the achievement goes to a Britisher, Dr. H. B. Devine, of Melbourne, Australia. Before 2,500 leading medical men gathered at the clinical congress of the American College of Surgery, Dr. Devine made public for the first time in this country the details of the new operation.

The operation is based upon a complete revision of much that is accepted in surgery and physiology. In the past the operation for ulcers arising from nervous indigestion was to cut away part of the stomach, a very dangerous and difficult procedure. The new operation is simple, safe and can be done by any skillful surgeon.

In the light of recent discoveries by Dr. Royle and Dr. Hunter, both of Australia, Dr. Devine found that the sympathetic nervous system plays an important part in the functioning of the stomach. The speed and nerve wracking tension of modern living through these nerves, cause the stomach to become cramped and in this unnatural position it ceases to function properly.

The simple discovery of Dr. Devine is that this trouble can be entirely eliminated by completed neutralizing the sympathetic nerves. When this had been accomplished the stomach again is able to function normally and the ulcers and gastric trouble disappear.

It was pointed out that perhaps the greatest benefit of the discovery which was accepted by the surgeons as a great improvement on existing methods, is the fact that the operation being simple and comparatively safe is within the reach of rich and poor alike and that thousands who now suffer will be able to find relief without consulting experts and specialists in gastric ailments.

BRITISH LEADERS FACED WITH MUD SLINGING.

Candidates of all parties are forced to struggle against constant heckling during which pointed and impertinent questions designed to illustrate labor's failure to bring a new dawn on prosperity are shot at the campaigners. Gangs of socialists wearing the red rosette on their coats, attend liberal and conservative meetings. Some times they are satisfied to move and howl in an effort to drown the speaker's words. Occasionally there are fights. Many meetings have been completely broken up by these tactics and when the end comes the labor hecklers howl the "red flag" at the top of their voices while the other side sings "God Save The King."

Lord George, Winston Churchill, Sir Robert Horne, and others known for their ability to produce a fat reply to any known sort of heckling are emerging triumphant from the election trial, but inexperienced campaigners are in despair.

Several times liberal or conservative candidates have stepped down from their platforms, and personally heaped their questions out of the hall. Others have invited hecklers to come up and fight.

An organization known as the British fascists which professes to be a militant band for the suppression of radicalism but which really is more adept with teapots than with its fists, was drawn into combat during an election brawl.

Only few members participated and they did rather well. Three persons were injured on each side.

Heretofore the fascists have confined their crusade to midnight raids on communist clubs during which the night watchman would be trussed up or kidnapped and a crest of the fascists left in a prominent place. The communists paraded for night watchman and sign for sign.

Better Foreign Meat Market Is Expected in 1925

By United News.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—American meat packers are looking forward to a better foreign market in 1925, especially in Germany and in the central empire when business conditions improve under the operation of the Dawes' plan.

This opinion was voiced Tuesday by R. E. Chapman, secretary of the American Provisions and Export Corporation, at a convention of meat packers now in session here.

"Germany and the central empire are the keystone to the whole situation," Chapman said.

"As business conditions improve under the operation of the Dawes plan, labor will be drawn away from agriculture into industry decreasing the number of men available to produce food, and probably increasing the demand for American meat products."

"Although the present condition of supply and demand in this country precludes the possibilities of maintaining heavy export volume, we will find a very good outlet in Europe, for as Germany recovers so will the whole of Europe recover."

"The recovery of trade with Germany depends on the ability to pay, as their requirements for American meat products are now large."

Another angle of European conditions was given by Chas. C. Pearson of Liverpool and a member of the war time allied purchasing commission.

Emphasizing that there were 1,200,000 unemployed in Britain and that this figure was mounting weekly as the winter advances, he declared that "the outlook for the coming winter is grave."

He expressed the belief that Britain would enter into a period of higher prices for meat foods next season, because increased cost of feed would cause dearer hogs in Denmark, Ireland and other European countries.

"I have never heard of dear corn in the United States of America and cheap feed in other parts of the world," he said.

GUATEMALA PRESIDENT O. K.'S CENTRAL TREATIES

By United News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—President Jimenez, of Guatemala has endorsed the central American treaties sponsored by the United States and is urging that they be ratified. Jimenez in a signed statement appearing in a San Jose paper, criticized the United States for its disinterested, friendly aid. Word of Jimenez' endorsement reached here in state department messages from Guatemala.

In a speech before his own party Jimenez warned his hearers that he must have the support of all republican congressmen.

If the administration should begin without unity of action on the part of his political party, the president said, success would be jeopardized and he would feel that the presidency were not worth the effort required to obtain it.

SEEKING THAT WHICH THEY DO NOT FIND

A tourist passing this way last week, who had just traveled through a considerable portion of West Texas, said he discovered the highways literally lined with travelers, going in search of employment in the cotton fields.

It is remarkably strange why some men, who are supposed to be intelligent to some degree at least will allow their prejudice against a certain part of the state remove every degree of fairness from their being, and will print things that really are not true, and have not the slightest similitude of truth in them.

No such conditions exist in any part of West Texas that we have heard of, and we keep pretty closely up with the conditions, and on the contrary—there is a demand for cotton pickers in this section of the west at this time.

We see people in this city every day wanting cotton pickers. They are advertising in the papers—have employment bureaus to get men for them, and still there is not enough to supply the demand.

This country has never been pictured as a land of fortune, but it is recommended as a place where people have opportunity to become homeowners, and are permitted to become their own boss, and not be under the lash of the landlord, and have to fight it out with the crab-grass, boll weevil and worn out soil.

The Wills Point Chronicle does not have to take our statement for conditions in West Texas. The evidence is at the Dallas Fair. Not only has it been there this year but it has been there for several years.

Winnipeg, Manitoba, is the first city to be heated by its own central heating plant, the steam heating plant, the steam being generated by a hydro-electric system.

THE TECH CELEBRATION

The corner stone laying of the Texas Technological college is not far in the future, fact of the business Lubbock and the board of regents of the college are at this time making big preparations for the celebration, which is to occur on the 14th of November.

The board of regents are proud of the progress that is being made in the erection of the building. They have been working hard on the construction of the buildings, and have made splendid progress since the contracts were finally made, and they are desirous of letting the people know how things are going and are going to put on a program that will be of high type throughout.

Lubbock's part in the program will be to furnish that part of the entertainment exclusive of the corner stone laying ceremonies and a good program is being arranged and will be announced when final arrangements are perfected.

This great school belongs to no one town or community. Just because it was located here makes it no more Lubbock's than other towns of the state, and while Lubbock as the home of the institution naturally is expected to lead in these parties, she is not selfish in its possession, and wants everyone in Texas to feel an interest in the institution, and to come and see just what is being done toward the building of the biggest school in the Southwest.

The committees at Lubbock are all working, and everything is coming along in good shape. It will be necessary on the part of the people of Lubbock to open their homes for the out-of-town visitors who will have to remain in the city over-night, as there is not room enough in the hotels and rooming houses to accommodate the large number that will be here.

TAXES

One promptly subscribes to the expression, "God bless the man who invented sleep," but he does not regard with complacency the thought of the man who first invented taxes.

The fact that the imposition of taxes is an accident, if not respected, custom does not reconcile present-day contributions to the system to the burdens they feel they are called to bear.

About the only thing that can be done to relieve the situation, brought about by the development of civilization, is to make taxes as easy to pay, and sometimes a bit of innocent deception is necessary to convince the taxpayer that he is getting the worth of his money.

While few persons would have difficulty in finding things about which to complain the business of paying taxes is such a popular cause of complaint that many folks might feel a sense of loss if taxes should be dispensed with.

The gifts to local church expenses are increasing as a direct result of the efforts of the denomination to bring about the success of the campaign, Dr. Groner said. In the year preceding the campaign the gifts to local church expenses totaled $2,151,705 in Texas.

NEBRASKA POLITICS IN MUDDLE WITH LA FOLLETTE THE FAVORITE FOR PRES.; DAVIS TO RUN THIRD, CLAPPER SAYS

By RAYMOND CLAPPER. (Copyright, 1924, by United News.) OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 21.—Unless November 4 is a rainy day, LaFollette should carry Nebraska. The presidential race here seems so evenly balanced that the mere obstacle of a bad country road on election day might keep enough LaFollette voters from the polls to beat him. Republicans are praying for rain, progressives for fair weather.

Davis seems likely to run third despite the fact that his running mate is governor of this state. The situation is full of error currents which make party labels meaningless.

First there are the two Bryans I have not heard either of them speak but the impression seems to be abroad here as in other sections of the country that they are making good noises. The LaFollette, by their public speeches, they speak very kindly of LaFollette, emphasizing the similarity in their respective progressive principles. The argument against LaFollette is that he cannot be elected.

There is a Senator Norris who is an institution in this state. He is running for re-election as a republican. His election is a certainty in Washington he is the right hand man of LaFollette. He has not endorsed LaFollette nor has he endorsed Coolidge, but he has told friends that he intends to vote for LaFollette. There is a general expectation among politicians that just before the close of the campaign, Norris will be asked publicly how he intends to vote. If this happens, he will make thousands of voters for LaFollette.

Also there is Norton, democratic candidate for governor. He is regarded as having a fair chance of being elected. His supporters are trading right and left with LaFollette offering to knife Davis in return for support from LaFollette followers. Representative Howard, a democrat, is supporting LaFollette openly. As the situation now stands, it appears the state will go for the independent presidential candidate, the republican senatorial candidate, and the democratic candidate for governor.

LaFollette forces have suffered considerable international friction the fight between Mutz, the state chairman and Harrison the regional director having assumed cause opera between them. They have been living in California for some years and is referred to here as "the Capet bagger".

One interesting development is the public declaration of Norris and Representative Simmons that if they are re-elected and the presidential election goes into congress they will vote for the candidate receiving the highest popular vote in Nebraska. Here as in other states, ambassador Houghton, who is home on leave from Berlin is working among influential Germans. He has been through the big German centers, like Chicago and Minneapolis. Despite this LaFollette seems to have the German vote well in hand. He is also supported by Scandinavians who have migrated down from Wisconsin and Minnesota. Republicans are making headway with their fight on LaFollette's supreme court proposal, because of the German language case here. The supreme court saved the German Lutherans from having their parochial schools closed by throwing out the language law. These people therefore do not take readily to LaFollette's attack on the supreme court. In his speech here the senator explained that his proposal would not give state legislators power to override the court, this is one instance in which the people feel that the court protected them from unjust legislation and the republicans are making the most of this feeling.

Estimates as to pluralities are useless. The Omaha Daily is conducting a poll which shows LaFollette leading Coolidge two to one. Davis is third, running slightly behind Coolidge. The paper is favorable to LaFollette though it has not formally declared for him. It is hardly likely that LaFollette will be elected by a two to one vote, but the consensus is that he is leading at present.

EASTERN STORMS HALT FLIGHT OF SHENANDOAH

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 21.—Reports of storm conditions in the east will postpone the departure of the navy dirigible Shenandoah until Thursday morning it was announced late Tuesday by Lt. Commander Zachary Lansdowne, captain of the ship. The next leg of the dirigible's flight will take her to Fort Worth, Texas. The Shenandoah made a ground landing at North Island at 11:40 a. m. Tuesday after hovering over the city and ocean for nearly eight hours. The first "ship" pilots were unable to see the landing field because of mist. Later, a hot sun broke through the clouds to expand the dirigible's gas and it was necessary for commander Lansdowne to order a quantity of helium released before descending to the field.

WEEKS SAYS CHOICE IS BETWEEN BRYAN AND COOLIDGE

By United News. NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—It is up to the voters of the United States to make their choice between Calvin Coolidge and Charles W. Bryan for the presidency. Secretary of War Weeks declared Tuesday night in a speech broadcast from station WJZ here that he would not be elected.

Establishing that as his premise, Weeks reviewed the record of the democratic vice presidential candidate and his brother W. J., ridiculed the policies they had advocated for the last 20 years. Neither John W. Davis nor Senator LaFollette can obtain a majority at the polls Weeks said, and thus the campaign would end either in the election of Coolidge or a deadlock which would throw the choice into congress. Declaring it was certain there would be a deadlock in the house Weeks added:

"The effect of this situation and public records of the members of the senate made it equally certain that if the election of a vice president is delegated to them, the republican candidate would not be elected but that the democrats and the radical elements in the senate would combine to elect the democratic nominee for the vice presidency. Chas. W. Bryan. It is therefore up to the voters of the United States to make their choice between President Coolidge and Chas. W. Bryan.

WALL STREET GOES FIVE TO ONE ON COOLIDGE
By United News. NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Money is going at odds of 5 to 1 that Coolidge will be re-elected, according to Wall Street betting commissioners. One firm says it also has $5,000 to place that Coolidge will carry New York by 650,000 votes and $14,000 to bet against $1,000 that Governor Smith will be re-elected over Theodore Roosevelt. Odds against Senator LaFollette's election are still ten to one.

Farmers and Wage Earners are Allies La Follette Says

By United News. ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Oct. 21.—Farmers and wage earners are natural political allies, Senator Robert M. LaFollette independent presidential candidate, said in the first speech of his swing into the eastern industrial centers here Tuesday. He said it is not true that two groups are antagonistic by interest. "They suffer from the same thing and they want the same things," he said.

"The issue is between those who produce wealth and those who exploit wealth. It is this issue that makes the farmer, the wage worker, the merchant, the clerk, the teacher, and all those employed in the production and distribution of wealth natural allies."

LaFollette described profiteering following the civil war and the grabbing of natural resources during the reconstruction period through political control. "The republican party which awakened my idealism as a youth has become a private thing, owned and controlled by Morgan and Rockefeller, Mellon and Guggenheim," he asserted. "It has become so exclusively private that for a score of years a mere handful of men sitting in a private room in a hotel and setting under orders from Wall street have solicited its candidates for the presidency and vice presidency as they would select an employe on their railroads or in their counting rooms."

MONARCHISM AGAIN THREATENS IN GERMANY

By United News. BERLIN, Oct. 21.—Germany is heading into a general election in which monarchism for the first time since the debacle of November 1918 boldly challenges German republicanism.

Confident that $200,000,000 of foreign money soon to be invested in Germany is an ample guarantee that sanctions would not be taken if Germany were swept back toward a monarchy by vote of the people the nationalist leaders have dropped all pretense about their actual aims.

Heretofore the wealthy reactionary junkers who had the nationalist party have half heartedly cloaked themselves as mere conservatives but this disguise has been discarded. "Our aims," the junker election manifesto proclaims, include purging the nation from the spirit of November 1918.

"Our party remains as hitherto monarchist. We are more determined than ever to build a Germany free from Jewish and French domination and from the domination of democratic capitalism. The socialists replied with an election blast belittling the junker chieftrains as outgrowth leaders. Such frankness of purpose as is exposed in the nationalist manifesto seems likely to create a parliamentary cleavage too wide for the numerous minority party blocs to straddle.

Nationalists pride themselves on pure German descent. They despise the Jews who are so powerful in their country. They are sensitive to the changes time has brought in Germany's prestige. In Berlin this week will convene a great war council of reactionaries and reactionaries. A effort will be made to include all opponents of socialism and the Jews to send representatives to the conference. The conference will lay plans designed to return Germany to her old glory and a kaiser to the throne.

STUDENTS TO STUDY TREES IN THE PARKS

By United News. NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Central Park and the New York Botanical Gardens will be used as laboratories of Columbia University Extension students in reforestation and tree conservation, it is announced by Hugh Findlay, assistant professor of agriculture, who will direct the work beginning today.

A special invitation will be made of the importance of birds to the forest and home trees, and of the use of trees in industry. New York must take the initiative in meeting a forestry situation dangerous to the national welfare, declared Prof. Findlay, who said that reforestation is quite as much the task of cities as of the rural regions. "Of the 81,000,000 acres of denuded forest land in the United States," he continued, "only 1,448,241 acres have been planted to date. The situation is alarming, and there is great need of making individuals and communities realize the necessity of reforesting these lands."

INDIANA BUILDING BEAUTIFUL HOME FOR LEGION

By United Press
 INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 21—After five years of temporary housing, members of the national headquarters staff of the American Legion today see rising from among the trees of St. Clair park here a slowly mounting limestone pile which, when completed will constitute the Legion's permanent home.

Erection of the structure marks the fulfillment of a promise made by the Hoosier capital in 1919 to build for the Legion a suitable home in the event the national headquarters were established here.

The building is the first unit of the Indiana World War Memorial, a $10,000,000 project which involves the construction of a plaza four city blocks long on which will be situated the various memorial buildings.

The expense of the enterprise is being borne by the state of Indiana, by the city of Indianapolis, and by Marion county, in which Indianapolis is located.

The plaza grounds were dedicated by Marshal Foch on the occasion of his visit to this country.

Ground for the Legion headquarters building was broken on June 3 of this year and the cornerstone was laid on Defense Day, Sept. 12, at which time Governor Branch formally presented the building to the Legion on behalf of the state of Indiana.

Legion officials expect to establish themselves in their new home by the first of next may.

The Legion building will be a four-story structure, sixty by 160 feet, with a granite base cut from the quarries of Maine. Bedford limestone will be used in the upper portions of the building. There will be east and west entrances with heavy ornamental doors of bronze, with two bronze urns of Grecian design flanking each entrance.

To give a balanced effect to the north end of the Memorial Plaza, there will be another building at that end of the plaza in exact duplication of the Legion building. This structure will house the Indiana Historical Society.

In the center of the plaza will be a marble cenotaph, and to the south will rise the dominating structure of the scheme, the main building of the Indiana War Memorial, a square stone structure flanked by six huge stone columns on each side. Sunk gardens will surround all the buildings.

Tree-Planting As Memorial to Col. Roosevelt Urged

By United Press
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—With thousands of trees in memory of Theodore Roosevelt planted on Oct. 27, his birthday, the fall tree planting drive for 1924 will be started, according to reports to the American Tree Association.

The tree planting army will not stop there but will continue through Education Week, Nov. 17, the first two days of which coincide with the dates for which Secretary Wallace has called a national conference on utilization of forest products. A booklet "If the Nation Saves the Trees, the Trees will Save the Nation" is ready for free distribution by the American Tree Association during Education Week.

Three day programs and tree planting suggestions are being sent by the Association to Women's Clubs, Boy and Girl Scout Troops and American Legion Posts throughout the country. The Legion planted its first National tree at the St. Paul Convention. The town forest program is being taken up by many Legion posts and municipalities, the officials of the Association report.

"There is nothing in which the American people need more education than the forestry problem," said Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree Association. "These dates coming together are of peculiar significance. Preceded as they are by the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt they are given double significance."

Theodore Roosevelt called the first conference of governors at which it was my privilege to be called in to discuss the forestry problem. President Roosevelt knew that problem was one of the biggest before his country. Of it he said: "A people without children would face a hopeless future; a country without trees is almost as helpless; forests which are used that they cannot renew themselves will soon vanish, and with them all their benefits. When you help to preserve our forests or plant new ones you are acting the part of good citizens."

"The forestry situation, much more than when Roosevelt outlined the situation, we are approaching a crisis. With the center of the lumber industry near the Pacific coast and with eighty-one million acres of idle land in the United States fit only for growing trees, we must not only utilize to the best possible advantage what we have left, but we must begin growing new forests to insure the future prosperity of the nation for forest products are the backbone of every industry."

Friday of Education Week is set aside for talking up preservation of forests, wild flowers and game. Saturday is tree planting day. Monday, Nov. 17, will be "Constitution Day," Tuesday will be "Patriotism Day," Wednesday will be School and Teacher Day. Thursday will be "Literacy Day."

Straw votes are illuminating at times. For example, one national poll reveals a decisive Coolidge in Vermont.

West Side Stadium Will be Finished By Thanksgiving

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—William L. McGill, state chairman of the campaign to raise funds with which to complete the west stands of the Texas Memorial Stadium now being erected on the campus of the University of Texas, announced here recently that he is meeting with a steady response to this appeal from persons all over the State. McGill announced that present prospects point to the completion of the fall phase of the campaign by the time of formally opening the memorial on Thanksgiving day, with the Longhorn-Aggies game.

The additional construction planned will enable the stadium builders to install the memorial features of the structure, including the ornamental towers on the west side it was announced.

The fall phase of this campaign is expected to bring in $200,000, a sum that will provide ample funds for the completion of the work contemplated at this time, said McGill. The effort this fall will be centered in the smaller towns of the state, since there is where the great majority of the ex-students of the University reside. Prominent civic leaders in the leading towns of each district are being asked to head this movement to erect the first statewide memorial to Texas fighters. The chairman will have complete charge of the work in their district and will set up organizations to carry out their plans.

Follow-up work will also be done in the larger cities and a committee of prominent ex-students and their friends of the University will be secured to aid in the campaign where their aid is requested.

LOCAL MAN VISITED THE STATE FAIR AT DALLAS

Word has been received here from Ira Wilson, of the Wilson Abstract Company, that he saw lots of fun at the Dallas Fair, and that there was little difference in the state exposition and our own South Plains Fair only that it is "overgrown."

Mr. Wilson left Dallas Sunday for New Orleans to attend the annual convention of the title men of the United States.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC AT LARGE

It has been stated that I, W. T. Gregory, Father and Founder of the West Texas Children's Orphan Home, had resigned and wanted to let the Public know that such is not the case. I have not resigned neither do I expect to. I am still a member of the board of directors and will remain so, until the laws of our country demand my resignation. I am still standing for the protection of the little Orphan Children and the people's money that they give to it. However, my advice to all that have pledged or may pledge to this home is to hold their pledges and money until this trouble is settled. I do not believe it is right. Now, if I ever agree to give as large a percent as the present solicitors are getting of the people's money for their service. Every four thousand dollars that is given this institution one thousand dollars of that amount goes to the solicitor. I still say it is a game of graft. I further understand and I have witness to the effect that a certain sum of money has been offered for just the membership of a director. How do you like that? and I further say that have been offered a five hundred dollar paid note to resign and drop everything just where it is at, I dare them so; but I thank God that I am too much of a man to take that kind of money. So when you hear that I, W. T. Gregory, has resigned just put it down in your note book that it is not so, for I am still on the job. I do not only protect the Orphan Child, but the people's money as well.

I further want to thank the good people for their kindness in coming to my rescue as well, in helping me to cloth and feed those little children I have under my care. Such kindness will never be forgotten by me; neither will your confidence in me ever be misplaced. Thank you all for your generous support, and seeing you I stand for justice and the Helpless Child. Yours very truly, W. T. GREGORY, Father and Founder of the West Texas Children's Orphan Home. Paid advertisement—307-1p

SICK PEOPLE ARE GIVEN BEST OF ATTENTION IN UNIVERSITY

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 21—Special attention is given to students who are ill in hospitals at the University of Texas not only by the University medical staff but by committees of the faculty appointed to visit them and offer friendly services. Miss Lulu M. Bewley, assistant to the dean of women, heads the committee of faculty women delegated to visit each University girl who is ill in addition to spread good cheer and encouragement, the committee makes reports of the condition of each girl to the dean of women, sends messages to instructors, writes letters home, and attends to many other requests. There is also a similar committee of faculty men to visit any boys who are ill, and the contact leads to many permanent friendships, it is stated.

MARKETS

COTTON AND GRAIN MOVE UPWARD AS MONEY EASES

By EDWARD J. CONDLON. NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The financial market gave a better account of itself Tuesday when many points of strength appeared in the stock market on the heels of the selling movement in the previous session. Both railroad and industrial shares moved forward though at times during the earlier part of the session the undertone was not very steady.

One of the strongest points in the situation was the easy loan of money. Call money again yielded at 2 percent and dispatches from Washington indicated that the treasury was not anticipating any appreciable tightening in money conditions as it is pointed out that the later trading was ascribed to unfavorable weather reports. The demand for both call and time money continues very light.

The grain markets closed higher following erratic movements early in the session. Strength in corn in the later trading was ascribed to unfavorable weather reports. A fair export business was reported in wheat. Cotton advanced about $2 a bale on reports of increased working hours in the British cotton center, Manchester, and the reports of a tropical storm in Florida. The storm stage proved mild and still the market did not recede.

A private crop report putting the yield as low as 12,140,000 bales attracted considerable attention.

The bond market showed good strength almost from the start. Liberty bonds were claimed in large blocks, particularly the treasury 4 1/4's which attained a record high at 107. Foreign issues were rather non-committal, but prices held steady to firm. The demand for the new German 7's is becoming less and less urgent.

About the only feature in the foreign exchange market was the new 1924 high for guilders. The Dutch rate has been very steady of late in line with the increasing Dutch prosperity as a result of the recent steps toward improvement of international relations in Europe. It is argued that recovery in Germany will mean increased trade relations with Holland.

The September rail earnings have started to come in with the Kansas City Southern, Union Pacific and Chicago and Alton enjoying the distinction of being the first to report.

Kansas City Livestock. KANSAS CITY, Oct. 21.—Cattle 17,000; calves 4,000; killing quality considerably improved; killing steers opening steady to strong; choice yearlings 10 @15c higher; two loads 925 yearlings at $12.00; best weight steers early $12.25; the stock slow; bulls steady to 16c higher; calves around steady; stockers and feeders slow and steady.

shippers around 25@25c lower; desirable 200 to 260 lb averages $9.00@10.10; one load choice heavies $10.15; packing sows $8.75 @9.00; stock pigs dull; few sales at $7.50@7.75.

THERE IS GREAT DEMAND FOR HOME ECONOMICS TEACHERS IN HIGH SCHOOLS

AUSTIN, Oct. 21.—Great demand for high school teachers of home economics is indicated by the fact that all of the home economics graduates of the University of Texas last season are now placed in positions and the department is receiving numerous calls for additional teachers. There is a total enrollment of 630 students in the home economics classes this year, and of this number thirty are applicants for the bachelor of science degree in home economics. Miss Mary Edna Gearing, professor of home economics, is again at the head of the department after a year's leave of absence spent in study in England and France. Other members of the home economics faculty are Miss Bess Hefflin, associate professor; Miss Elizabeth Lacey, adjunct professor; Miss Gene Spencer, instructor and research assistant; and Misses Eloise Berry, Henrietta Parr, Lena Wilson, Lucy Bathbone, Harriet Tilden and Helen Spears, instructors.

Churches Asked To Back Fight Against Drugs

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Earliest support of churches and church organizations for the American plan for world-wide suppression of the "drug evil" before the International Opium Conference in Geneva in November is sought by the Federal Council of Churches. The council calls upon Christian America to support by thousands of resolutions, the famous "American policy" calling for total abstinence of opium plants except to meet medical and scientific needs. The petitions will be presented to the world conference by Bishop Charles H. Brent, one of the three American delegates appointed by President

Analytical tests show that PURETEST MINERAL OIL (Russian Type) possesses a very high specific gravity, as well as a viscosity (body) that is equal to, if not exceeding, other types of heavy medicinal mineral oil. When you add to this the fact that PURETEST MINERAL OIL is odorless and tasteless, you will understand why we recommend it so strongly. Please forgive me; this is the best way. I can never be anything but a misery to everyone without Mort. Mama please put on my pink gown till I get home, then let Joe finish. Goodbye."
