Advantage In Government Oil Suit Shifts To Defense

WIFE OF DOHENY PRODUCES SLIP FROM TORN NOTE

SAYS FALL NOTE EXECUTED WITH ALL INTENTIONS OF BEING PAID

By H. O. Thompson LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 23.—An unexpected turn in the Doheny oil lease cancellation suit has twisted the advantage suddenly to the defense.

Although not under subpoena Mrs. E. L. Doheny voluntarily took the stand Thursday and produced the missing signature of the famous Albert B. Fall note for $100,000 written on a torn bit of paper which fitted smoothly in the mutilated portion of the document held by Doheny.

Mrs. Doheny testified with a general and smiling demeanor after her husband and E. L. Doheny, Jr., had declined to serve as witnesses.

Testimony given by Doheny before the senate investigating committee was confirmed as the wife of her husband.

The decision to fear the note was reached, Mrs. Doheny said, after her husband had explained that, if anything should happen to him on a trans-continental trip he would want to leave the note in the hands of a trustworthy person.

"Do you know where the signature is now?" Senator Pomeroy asked.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Doheny. "Where?" said Pomeroy.

"There in Mr. Hogan's pocket." The signature then was produced as court evidence.

The $100,000 note signed by Fall in favor of Doheny is assuming increasing importance as the trial of Cecil Elks oil leases progresses.

FINAL PLANS FOR TECH PARTY BE DRAWN TONIGHT

ALL COMMITTEES MEET IN CENTRAL GROUP TO WORK OUT DETAILS

All committees for the big Tech party to be held here on November Day, November 11th, will be completed tonight when the general committee meets at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 7 o'clock, according to a statement of General Chairman H. F. Kistner.

The chairman for the various committees are: R. W. Blinn, finance; A. V. Weaver, admissions; J. B. Massie, seating and grounds; H. H. Griffith, parade; Neil Wright, dinner; M. M. Dupre, accommodations; C. E. Mason, reception; H. F. Pharr, automobiles; H. C. Wilson, music; H. D. Woods, publicity; S. C. Arnett, traffic and parking.

A number of these committees have already completed their committees and turned the personnel thereof to Chairman Kistner, while several are still at work selecting the members of their committee.

Every chairman will be expected to report the completion of his committee tonight, and after tonight's meeting each committee will be delegated its particular work and held strictly responsible for seeing to it that that work is carried out as it should be.

The coming celebration is impressed upon the minds and strong in the various committees chairman and others closely connected with the work being done, and every one now realizes that if we have good weather on November Day that Lubbock is going to see its biggest crowd on this occasion.

Every day brings acceptance in the Local Chamber of Commerce from prominent people in other parts of the state, and the citizens of the plains are lining up to a man to come to Lubbock on this occasion.

The large majority of the newspaper editors in this section have already accepted invitations to be present as have the larger newspapers of the state.

There are just a few more weeks until this great occasion and from now until the close of the party our own citizenship will need to subordinate everything else to making a success of this party.

Plans for the November parade must be worked out with military precision if we are not to have chaos and confusion from this feature of the day's exercises.

Good committee chairmen have been appointed by the Chamber of Commerce together with the best General Chairmen in the country, but every one of these men and their helpers or committee members must have the whole-hearted co-operation and support of the entire citizenship of this section to stage this party as it should be.

Of course, there is no question but that the Lubbock, South Plains and West Texas spirit will prevail and the party will be a success, but every one should keep the necessity of individual assistance constantly before them.

ONTARIO VOTES TO REMAIN DRY

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 23.—Ontario stays dry.

This was established with practical certainty early Friday morning when the big majority established by the voters in the province's referendum prohibition early Thursday night had been wiped out of the tremendous margins in the rural districts.

The vote was the biggest in the history of the province.

The figures which showed the narrow margin established by the dry vote are not available half an hour after midnight, but election officials predicted that the vote would be able to overcome it.

The secret final majority of the "dry" was given as about 5,000.

This means that Ontario will retain her temperance act and that she has voted down the proposal to permit the sale of liquor under government control.

MIAMI, Arizona, Oct. 23.—Fire which blazed through Miami's business section Thursday, took a toll of one dead and three injured.

WALTON DRIVES FOR COME-BACK

LABOR NOT SUPPORT HIM DESPITE APPROVAL BY DEMOCRATIC HEADS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 23.—When republican leaders aided by the great influence of the Klans, Klan by the state, began their attack on Governor J. C. Walton last year, they thought "Frank" would drop quietly out of the picture and the youngest state in the union would go about its business quietly and peacefully.

But, developments show they guessed wrong. Walton plunged from one fight into another and with opposition to the Klan as his ally, won the democratic nomination as United States senator.

His nomination was the proverbial kick to the political dope bucket.

Republican leaders were jubilant and democratic chiefs after calling a busy conference agreed to support Walton's candidacy if he endorsed the national party candidates.

This was done and for a time it appeared as if the troubles of the democrats in the state were completely at an end.

Then Senator Joseph Robinson of Arkansas in a speech here, attempted to boost Walton's candidacy and half of the crowd walked out.

Walton's name has not been mentioned by democratic speakers since.

The impeached governor will split the democratic party and with the democratic votes that La Follette and Wheeler are sure to garner, Oklahoma will pass into the republican column, and both Coolidge and W. P. Pine (Rep.) opposing Walton will win, A. C. Alexander, republican state chairman, told the United News.

One of the latest developments in the muddled situation is a telegram from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor to Victor Purdy, secretary of the state federation of labor, declaring that the national organization had not endorsed Walton's candidacy and urged labor not to support him.

Rapid gains made by the La Follette-Wheeler ticket in the state are causing great concern to R. L. Davidson, state democratic chairman. Davidson indicated that it was not impossible for the independents to split the vote and let Coolidge and Duane slide to victory.

Meanwhile Walton not undiminished of the odds he is facing swung into the home stretch of an unusually strenuous campaign. He continues his bitter denunciation of the Klan in every address and is drawing large crowds. The whole attitude in the state seems to be: "Your guess is as good as mine."

ABILENE, Oct. 23.—The Hunt-Thomas debate on Fergusonism in Texas is called off.

MILLIONS NOT ACCOUNTED FOR BOARD IS TOLD

By United News. WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—A far-reaching search for evidence of a republican slush fund has been started as a result of a charge made before the Borah campaign fund committee by Samuel Untermyer, attorney for Senator La Follette, that millions of dollars not being accounted for by the republicans are being sent into doubtful states to carry the election for President Coolidge.

LABOR NOT SUPPORT HIM DESPITE APPROVAL BY DEMOCRATIC HEADS

MIAMI, Arizona, Oct. 23.—Fire which blazed through Miami's business section Thursday, took a toll of one dead and three injured.

The fire was caused by a gas leak in the kitchen of the Aberdeen Hotel, where the flames are being started from an undetermined cause, are being sought.

Carl Pearson, 49, was burned to death, when trapped on the third floor of the hotel. The injured were those who jumped from the burning structure to escape the flames.

The postoffice and several business establishments were razed before the fire was brought under control.

Henry Saylor, aged 75, has recently completed a trip with horse and buggy from the Mexican border to York, Pa., where he is visiting relatives.

La Follette Says G. O. P. Tenure In Office Calamity

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 23.—Declaring that a generation will be required to repair the calamities of four years of bankruptcy, Senator Robert M. La Follette, independent candidate for president, insisted in his speech here Thursday night that the progressives offer a constructive program.

In answer to the questions from Untermyer, Hillis denied knowing of any contributions from the Standard Oil company officers, and said he knew of no fund being sent into doubtful states where there is a close contest for the presidency.

Hillis said that as a result of personal solicitations, these contributions had been secured.

H. G. Wells' Ten Best Books

Many humorous stories are written about what books to take should one be on a plane or a desert island. All of us are interested and most of us have at some time in our lives entertained ourselves with conjecture along his lines.

H. G. Wells has made a list which he considers most essential which is interesting whether one is an English author or not.

It is interesting to note that he does not include Shakespeare of course he includes Darwin.

- Here are the ten best books by H. G. Wells:
- The New Testament.
 - The Old Testament.
 - The Great Learning.
 - The Koran.
 - The Republic.
 - The History of Animals.
 - Travels of Marco Polo.

PIMPLES AND BUMPS ARE AWFUL PESTS

Girls and women of the most even dispositions are quick to resent direct attacks on their character, or bold advances. But it is hardly explainable why these same folks tolerate disfiguring pimples, blotches, bumps, "breaking out," etc., which are even worse pests than that.

These skin diseases quit annoying people quickly after first few applications of the wonderful Black and White Ointment, and the regular use of Black and White Soap. The cost is so small—none need hesitate because they "can't afford it." The 50c size of the Ointment contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size. All dealers have both Black and White Soap, and Ointment.

G. O. P. CONFIDENT OF COOLIDGE SUCCESS IN ILLINOIS

EDITOR'S NOTE—The story on the Illinois situation by Harold Andrews to be carried on this wire, is the first of a series to be handled between now and election day on various state election fights of national interest.

BY HAROLD ANDREWS
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The republicans are putting themselves on the back in this state confident that as far as the presidential fight is concerned their powerful and well-regulated machine which mowed down a 900,000 majority for Harding in 1920 will be unimpaired when it gets into action for Coolidge and Dawes on November 4.

If they are doing any worrying it is about retaining a republican in the United States senate and another republican in the governor's chair. The heat of the battle in Illinois will be over the state ticket, no matter how hot it wages between Coolidge, Davis and La Follette.

Political rows over the national issues that have been regarded in practically every neighboring state, and some times mistaken for earthquakes, cannot be detected in Illinois over the authority who presses his ear to the ground. The voter, for instance, refuses to be stamped when one of La Follette's bombs explodes down state, becomes stampeded because a leading republican organization crosses out the name of Len Small, the republican candidate for governor, and substitutes that of Norman L. Jones, the democratic nominee. La Follette's cry of corruption in the national administration is several notes above a whistle compared to the cry of corruption in the state.

AT THE CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Our Revival Campaign will continue through to Sunday.

If you have not been attending these services, don't let another one pass without you being there.

If you are a Baptist your place is in these services. You are some body's idea of a Christian. Are you Christ's idea of one? If you are not living it daily something is wrong, some where. Make it right, where you left Him." Jesus does not leave us. We leave Him. Come back—renew your allegiance to Him in these services. We have a plan in our church you can fill. Just like you used to love to fill in the church where you came.

Our pastor brought us a great message Wednesday evening, using the text "Annas said to him, Wilyingly Unto the Lord," after which at the close of the message two young ladies willingly accepted Christ as their Savior.

God has always left man's will free. And if you stand before him in that Last Day it will be because it was your own will. Come to our meetings and learn more about the Savior.

EDITORIAL AND NEWS WRITING ADDED TO LEAGUE CONTESTS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 23.—New features added to the University of Texas Interscholastic League recently are extemporaneous speaking and editorial and news writing contests, and county contests in arithmetic, according to Roy Bedichek, director of the League. "Original work is insured in the extemporaneous speaking because of the short time that is allowed to select a subject from the two that are offered," Mr. Bedichek stated. "The subjects shall be chosen so that the participants shall fully understand them."

All state high schools that publish a high school paper will have the privilege of competing in the editorial and news writing contest for their respective schools, it is stated.

Arithmetic contests have already been introduced in a series of counties by League officials. For the purpose of aiding teachers of arithmetic in carrying out his new feature Prof. J. W. Collins, of the University Wholesaler department, will conduct a column in the "League," an official publication of the Interscholastic League.

LUBBOCK HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS

Lubbock is this year contending in athletics with the largest number of teams that it has ever been her privilege to do, and our team is going to have to be on its toes, and well equipped for some hard fights, if they cope with their contenders, and while the school authorities are doing all they can and the coaches are working on the job, and are putting the boys in good trim, they must have the backing of the people of this city and community, financially and morally.

We know of some towns where they stand squarely behind their high school teams and they are teams that are the hardest in the state to beat. In fact they are almost like a brick wall. This is because the people are behind them and the ball team knows it. They know that the home folks will back them in anything they undertake, and for that reason they are encouraged to go forward.

THE AMERICAN IDEAL

Among all the ideals Americans live by, or attempt to live by, there is none more poorly formulated than that determining family life. A superficial and merely statistical survey of our affairs in this field might lead to the conclusion that we are in domestic matters "the world's worst failure."

But it is possible to dive below the troubled surface of domestic life and discover an atmosphere and an ideal not to be despised and that makes for better conditions. The spiritual values which are prevailing more and more in American life are giving to the world a new woman—one who votes, it is true, but who is not primarily concerned with polls. It is the woman who sees that the regeneration of the world whether at home or abroad, is to be accomplished by love—a love of divine origin and impartial scope.

A NATION OF RENTERS

Home building in the United States must go on for years, for the American people have become a nation of rent payers. They are crowded in unsanitary tenements and just as crowded in expensive apartments. Such conditions entirely destroy the real meaning of home and the far reaching effects of home ownership. It is generally conceded that sound and sober citizenship does not find its origin in the rented flat, yet in America the national tendency to become rent payers increases as the population increases.

The "batter babies" movement seems to have been taken seriously by poor Lo. At least the latest census shows there are more of him today than when Columbus landed in the New World.

Checked patterns are coming back in women's dress fabrics, says a fashion prophet. How about something in the way of cross-word design?

MESSAGE OF THE SHENANDOAH

The people of the United States never have been particularly interested in those things which involve conflicts and wars either aggressive or else. They have been inclined to encourage the arts of peace and human brotherhood.

The cross-continent trip of the Shenandoah is a mission of peace and progress. Her journey serves to emphasize afresh the unity of a great people, the common purposes in which those of every section are engaged. Imaginary state lines are crossed and recrossed at pleasure, rivers which separate east from west and north from south are passed, and she will carry back to the east a message of good will and friendship.

It is not at all improbable that the time will soon come when our people may not be able to engage passage on such a ship and journey across the continent or across the sea as cheaply and as safely as they now travel by train or steamship. The Shenandoah's performance, rightly regarded, simply marks another step in human progress by which shackling limitations are being gradually but surely cast aside.

TRACING THE LOST

Probably no other public agency in the world goes so far into the highways and byways of this earth for lost friends and relatives as the Salvation Army. Not a day passes but that some difficulty is reported to the Department of Missing Friends; and in some one of three cases the lost person is found. In 1923 the department handled 1,093 cases, of which 419 were satisfactorily settled.

The Christmas holidays bring most business to the department. Mothers haunt the officers in search of word from missing sons. Half of the applications come from outside of America, and many of the foreign letters are of Scandinavian origin who are very forgetful about writing home and have a way of changing their names to suit the convenience of employers.

Most of these cases are traced to simple neglect, but some show signs of deliberate intention to drop out of the ken of friends and relatives; and missing persons occasionally show resentment at being discovered.

DIGGING INTO WORDS

If you just sit and look at one printed word for a little while it will seem to jump at you with the real peculiarity of its pronunciation, its meaning and its fitness will be impressed on your mind as never before. Plate, leather, leaf, dance—why were these words chosen to mean exactly what they do mean?

Of course, when we were children, we used to be told that the word zebra was invented just so the letter z could be included in our alphabet. And many words seem not to have much more significance than that. But there are whole regions of words, right on this page, in this column, or in any reading matter, that comes before your eye, that have a history, a tradition or a custom hidden behind them.

Take a word occasionally and dig into it. It is a goodly game, and you'll lose nothing by the knowledge you acquire.

Navy day is to be observed Oct. 27. The plan is endorsed by the president and a large number of civic and military organizations. In addition to parades and memorial ceremonies, every effort will be made on Navy Day to familiarize the public with the ships and men of the navy; commemorative of American heroes of all periods of our country.

PROPHETS CAUTIOUS IN MICHIGAN, REGARDED AS REPUBLICAN, BUT GIVE LA FOLLETTE SLIGHT ODDS OVER DAVIS

By RAYMOND CLAPPER GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. Oct. 23.—In view of what happened two years ago when a democratic senator, Ferris, was elected for the first time in a generation, political prophets in this state are unusually cautious this year.

They are prepared for a LaFollette vote of large proportions and they will not be surprised if the independent candidate runs ahead of Davis. But they expect Coolidge to win unless the situation swings sharply before election day. Michigan is regarded as a republican state. In 1920 Harding received a vote of three to one over Cox. But Michigan voters gave on a rampage several times within recent memory. They gave Roosevelt a plurality in 1912 and at the same time elected a democratic governor. In 1916 the state went for Hughes but a democratic governor was elected. Two years ago they elected a republican governor, and in 1920 a majority of 140,000 and at the same time defeated the late Senator Townsend, republican by 13,000.

With such an independent mind electorate no one has much confidence in the prediction for the year. Since Senator Cousin declared for Coolidge, the republican campaign has gained in strength, and unity. Farmers in Michigan are of a more conservative mood than those further west and Coolidge will receive a larger proportion of their votes here.

LaFollette's chief strength comes from the labor vote of the cities and not so much from the farmers. Though around here it is said that the furniture makers who constitute one of his largest labor groups are not organized. For the most part, they are Dutch and conservative. But the labor vote of Detroit, Jackson, Flint, Lansing and Kalamazoo will mass a heavy LaFollette vote in the opinion of those who have studied conditions.

LaFollette, Michigan manager Sylvan Wessellus was one of the Roosevelt ring leaders in 1912. A number of democrats met the candidate upon his arrival here Thursday, but the democratic organization has not coalesced here. It has some state chapters. For a certain portion of the democratic vote will go to LaFollette, but the leaders of the democratic organization are pushing their campaign. They are handicapped somewhat by the feeling which holds over from the Smith-McAdoo primary fight. They have not brought in many national speakers to help Davis. But there is a real effort being made nevertheless. There are many state complications.

Hundreds of alumni are being organized and a lively campaign is being waged. Both men, observers, give Couzens the advantage now.

LOCAL SHRINERS TO GO TO KHIVA CEREMONIAL

Lubbock Shriners, members of Khiva temple, Amarillo, have received their ceremonial program for November 20th. George Stapleton, recorder, has announced the following program which will be enjoyed by all: 9:00 a. m.—Band concert at Amarillo Hotel. Registration of Novices at Shrine office, 409 1-2 Polk street. 9:00 a. m.—Visiting ladies register with the Ladies Reception committee at Amarillo Hotel. 11:30 to 12:30—Eats under the Auditorium balcony for the Nobles, Novices and ladies. 1:30 p. m.—Official opening of Ceremonial Session for business and ceremony. 5:30 p. m.—More eats at auditorium. 8:45 p. m.—Potentate's Ball at Armory.

Lubbock Shriners are already lining up to take with them to the Ceremonial a number of Lubbock and Slaton Novices to receive the work. It has been intimated in local Masonic circles that Attorney Franklin D. Brown will be offered as Lubbock's Ring Candidate. Although Attorney Brown has not given his full consent to make the race, proper pressure has been brought to bear upon him and he has tentatively agreed to at least give the candidacy some serious thought. Fink L. Parrish, First Ceremonial Master and a candidate for "Pote" in 1930 has promised that he will speak before the candidates and that he will be glad to arrange speaking dates or make speeches in his behalf. Parrish better known as "Pink" in Lubbock is one of the heavyweights in the masonic order and with his support Brown is sure to at least add Lubbock color to the Khiva Ceremonial.

Hughes Predicts Depression If Coolidge Loses. By United News. BALTIMORE, Oct. 23.—Secretary of State Hughes declaring that the sole object of the demagogue and independents now is to force the election into congress, drew a picture of business depression that he said would result if this occurred and answered at length recent attacks upon the administration, particularly regarding its foreign policy, in an address here Thursday night.

The prosperity of the country, Hughes declared, is "threatened by the efforts of both the democratic party and the third party, not to elect its own ticket, but to prevent an election not to defeat Calvin Coolidge, by out voting him, but by endeavoring to get between them enough electoral votes to deprive him of a majority. "With respect to the conduct of foreign affairs," Hughes said, taking up recent attacks, "our opponents have sought every possible ground of attack, but their stakes and misrepresentations have deprived their efforts of effect. "It is charged that this government is engaged in negotiating concessions for our citizens. This is untrue. We maintain the principle of the open door or equality of commercial opportunity to the end that our citizens shall not suffer unjust discrimination but shall have the fair opportunity to which they are entitled. SIMPSON HELD UNDER BOND FOR EMERY SHOOTING

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 23.—Chedell Simpson, Chicago salesman who shot Colonel John G. Emery, former national commander of the American Legion whom he charged with breaking up his home, was arraigned here Thursday charged with assault to commit murder. He was held under $40,000 bond. At Simpson's request a complete investigation of the affair will be made. Simpson's wife, who is suing for a divorce is employed as a stenographer by the former legion commander. Following a quarrel with her husband Wednesday she fled to Emery's office for "protection." When Emery attempted to interfere, the husband shot him, the bullet penetrating his arm.

McAULIFFS' IS AN OLD-FASHIONED DEMOCRAT

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 23.—Michigan municipal court here is a democrat, an old-fashioned one, who takes his politics seriously. The Kansas City police administration is republican. McAuliffe happened to be lounging around No. 4 police station recently when a raid on a cigar store a block away was planned. As the raiders drove away in their automobiles, McAuliffe put on full speed and sprinted in the opposite direction down the alley. As the police drew up in front of the cigar store, McAuliffe vaulted a strong finish, panting valiantly. But he was too late. The police dashed inside and the tell-tale dice were seized. Now "Mike" and Judge Ira Gardner, judge of the South Side court are at odds. "It doesn't look well for a hailfit to wear numbers," remarked Gardner as he fined those taken in the raid $25 each.

FRENCH RECOGNITION RUSSIA IS EXPECTED THIS WEEK

By United News. MOSCOW, Oct. 23.—Unconditional recognition of the Soviet by France is expected this week. France was ready to recognize the government several days ago with a tacit understanding that by so doing the claims of French holders of the Czarist bonds would not be jeopardized but information was unofficially conveyed to Paris that the Soviet leaders would not consent to any reservations tacit or otherwise and it is now understood that Premier Herriot is prepared to accept these terms.

1,000 GIRLS TO MAKE UP THE FAMOUS WHITE SECTION

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—In accordance with a tradition instituted several years ago, there will be a section of University of Texas girls dressed in white at the Thanksgiving game this year, according to Miss Anna Hins, director of the woman's physical training department. This section is to be composed of girls without escort who will plan a special stunt at the game. Girls wishing to be in the "White Section" are required to attend at least one of the four girls' rallies and preference is given to those girls who attend them all. The number participating in the white section has never exceeded 500, but 1,000 are expected to take part this year.

HARD BATTLE IS EXPECTED AT PLAINVIEW TODAY

WESTERNERS FULL OF FIGHT FOR CLASH WITH BULLDOGS IN THEIR FIRST BATTLE FOR ELIMINATION DURING THE SEASON

Facing their first official encounter of the season, and expecting one of the hardest battles ever witnessed in the course of play at the local high school, the Westerners are prepared, as far as intricate preparations go, for the clash this afternoon at Plainview with the rival Bulldogs. They are not over-confident, and do not think by any manner of means that they have an easy go before them, but on the contrary are all set for a real scuffle, which, if reports can be taken as authentic, is a very mild way of expressing it.

They also are entering the backyard of the Bulldogs in a contest that will mean the elimination of one or the other from the Interscholastic League race for state honors, with a spirit to win, and in the light of exhibition games participated in by both clubs this season, the Westerners are on the credit side of the dope sheet, and should win by a good margin. But Coach "Mule" Davis, of the Westerners, who formerly coached Plainview as his home, remarked last night that he has been promised a battle when he paraded his boys before the gaze of former home-folks, and that he is expecting nothing less.

The friendly rivalry which has been very much in evidence for the past several years, especially in the realm of high school athletics, is expected to pop today in all its fury. Davis put his boys through a light, peppery workout Thursday afternoon, after a week of the hardest training to which the lads have ever been subjected, and will leave here this morning at about 10 o'clock via the morning train for the battle ground. According to word from Plainview, the game will be called at 3:30.

GAME HEARTS WON FLAG FOR THE SENATORS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Some time back in this column some opinions were expressed as to the reasons why the Washington Senators won the American League pennant. Excerpts were quoted from the famous statement that "Bucky" Harris, the twenty-eight-year-old manager, issued when the team was fighting for its life in Cleveland.

"Bucky" said in that statement that his team could not be beaten in the race for the American League pennant because no other club had as much spirit or any more fight. Washington had to play good base ball throughout the season to win its first American League pennant.

DOLAN ATTEMPTS TO CLEAR HIMSELF IN BRIBE CHARGE

By United News.
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Cory Dolan, the former coach of the New York Giants who was thrown out of baseball by Commissioner K. M. Landis, after being implicated by Jimmy O'Connell in the Landis bribery case, gave his own story of the incident Thursday and denied that Landis' version of his testimony during the commissioner's investigation. Dolan told his story to a score of newspapermen in the office of William J. Fallon, the letter who intends to bring a damage suit against Landis in Dolan's behalf, and then submitted to a cross examination by the reporters.

He denied that he had answered the commissioner's question about the bribery attempt by saying, "I don't remember, and declared he did not know how serious the matter was until he was notified of his dismissal 24 hours later. The ex-coach gave the following version of the wind up of his session with Landis on the night he was discharged.

"You know you're guilty," said Landis.

"That's a damned lie," answered Dolan.

"That's all for you," replied Landis and Dolan, believing that was all there was to it, departed. "I didn't know why I had been called in that first day at all," the former Giant coach said. "I was shown into the room and Landis and Heydler started to shoot questions at me. I did not reply that I didn't remember. I said 'I don't remember any such conversation,' when they asked me about O'Connell talking to me about bribing Sand.

O'Connell was present at that time, but had nothing to say, according to Dolan.

"They read me O'Connell's testimony and there wasn't anything in it about Young or Kelly or French, but just about me," he continued.

"What I intended to do by my answers was to deny emphatically that I knew anything about it. Several times, I told them—I do not remember any such thing." "After that, they sent me into a room by myself and Landis came in and handed me my hat and coat, and said that was all.

"The next day McGraw, Stoneham and Landis were there and they told me to tell them all I knew. I said 'I don't know a damn thing.' "Then they sent me into a room by myself again and the commission-

more than any other team in the American League last season and the Senators came from behind in nearly every game of the world's series. Their display of courage in the seventh game of the series was the most magnificent that ever had been seen on any field of battle.

While the Giants may have experienced some things to dishearten them, the Senators also had some heart-breaking luck that might have brought despair on any other club.

What would the Giants have done had Arthur Nehf blown up as Walter Johnson in two games and had Frank Frisch been out of the game? The Senators had depended upon Walter Johnson to win a least two games of the series and when he dropped two, the cause seemed lost for the American League champions.

Then Peck, their star shortstop, a power on the offense and a wall on the defense, was hurt and in changing the lineup they had to play with Ralph Miller, a third baseman who couldn't play well enough to hold a job with those low Philadelphia Phils.

Washington fought all the harder and refused to give up.

It is true that the Giants played without Heinie Groh, but they have been fortunate for them that Groh couldn't play, as no third baseman could have done better than little Freddy Lindstrom, an eighteen year old sand-lotter who subbed for him.

35,000 EXPECTED TO SEE TEXAS-AGGIE GAME

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—A crowd of 35,000 is expected to attend the A. & M.-Texas game to be played here Thanksgiving Day. The first half of the new stadium will be completed for that game and all who come to Austin for the game will be assured of a seat, according to University athletic officials.

A. & M. officials have charge of selling the north half of both sides of the stadium, while the University of Texas supporters will be seated in the south section. There will be 13,000 seats on both sides of the field, and 7,000 seats in the temporary stands on the ends of the field. University supporters are requested to write to Wiley B. Glaze University Station Austin, and A. & M. supporters should write to James Sullivan, College Station, for their tickets.

HOBO CLUB PLEDGES NOT TO BUY RAIL ROAD TICKET

By International News Service.
LAWRENCE, Kans., Oct. 23.—Initiators in the Hobo's Club here are likely to be rare and few this year. The reason is the hard-hearted and "hard-boiled" railroad detectives.

Last week several hundred Kansas University rosters tried to ride the "rods" from here to Manhattan for the Kansas Aggie game. They got as far as Topeka and then were routed by a flying squadron of "strong arm" men.

Three foreign games are on the K. U. schedule in November. De Moines, St. Louis and Columbia, Mo. To be initiated into the Hobo Club a "pledge" must not miss a single out-of-town football game and must not contribute a penny to the railroad ticket agents. It looks like a tough year.

TEXAS-BAYLOR GAME TO BE PLAYED IN NEW STADIUM

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—The Longhorn Baylor Football game will be played in Austin in the new Memorial Stadium, according to the Bellmont director of athletics at the University of Texas. There will be no formal dedication ceremonies preceding the game. Only the east side of the stadium which contains 13,000 seats will be used for this game. Tickets are now on sale for the game, which is expected to be one of the closest and hardest fought of the local season.

DOC STEWART IS USING BASEBALL PRACTICE WITH FOOTBALL

By MOULTON COBB.
AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—Coach Doc Stewart is considering baseball practice for his football players at the University of Texas. One of the outstanding stars on the Longhorn football team Saturday in the S. M. U. game was Fred Thompson, one of the most finished baseball players in the state, but probably the greenest football player who ever staged a game in a Longhorn uniform. Saturday was the first time Fred Thompson ever played an entire football game in his life in college, in high school, or in prep school. However, he had played baseball all over the state and is well known to the big league oases of the nation. One day last winter Branch Rickey, manager and scout for the St. Louis Cardinals, was in Austin to pass his judgment on Thompson, Heinie Odum Howard Williamson and other Longhorn baseball players. Rickey saw Thompson out in center field and remarked: "That fellow looks just like Dode Paskert, the old National League star." Someone told Fred about it and he felt might good over knowing that he looked like a great baseball player. Frank Gibson, catcher for the Boston Braves was standing near by and had a big laugh at the expense of Fred. "That wasn't any compliment, Fred. Dode Paskert is the ugliest man who ever played baseball," retorted Gibson.

Thompson is a good punter, passer and receiver of forward passes. "He learned to kick by fusing with the umpires," said one of the Longhorn baseball players. "He can throw a baseball so accurately that it is no trouble for him to pass a football. He is a star outfielder and that is how he learned to catch forward passes."

In Saturday's game, against the powerful Florida University team Coach Stewart is going to use a number of green players in the game, hoping to find a few more like this Thompson. The Longhorn regulars are crippled with injuries, and the coach prefers to save them for the other conference games. Stuart Wright, Clint Slover, Sailor Shearer Bertie Foster, Frank Dayvault and Matt Newell, the nucleus of the Longhorns, will all be on the sidelines Saturday.

PLAINVIEW BOY IS THE BEST BACKFIELD MAN ON WENTWORTH SQUAD

LEXINGTON, Mo., Oct. 23.—David Tudor, of Plainview, is one of the dependable backfield men on the football team at the Wentworth Military Academy, here. This is his second year of the team, and his work at quarter back has always been commendable. Not only is he a heady team general, but he is adept at passing, carrying the ball, and running interference.

A strong gridiron eleven is being developed at Wentworth this year. The average weight of each player on the squad is 169 pounds, while the linemen, from tackle to tackle, average 199 pounds each. Six letter men, all of whom were replaced by sport critics on all-star eleven last year, form the nucleus for the football machine. Last year the Wentworth gridiron eleven won the state conference championship. The first conference game will be played with the Chillicothe Business College, October 31. The cadets have won one game, lost one, and tied one.

Tudor has made a good record in athletics at Wentworth. Last year he was chosen by sport critics for the second all-conference mythical eleven. Those who have seen his playing say that he will make a strong bid for a berth on the first star team this year.

In addition to being a versatile football player, Tudor takes an active interest in other school activities. He plays the clarinet in the academy orchestra.

25,000 EXPECTED TO SEE JAYHAWKERS AND NEBRASKA PLAY

By International News Service.
LAWRENCE, Kans., Oct. 23.—Grubbing night which has lasted ever night this week until long past the dinner hour by the use of a "white ghost" and flood lights, will end tonight in Kansas University's Stadium. Upon what has been installed into their program this week will the Jayhawkers football team rise or fall Saturday before an expected crowd of 25,000 persons in the school's annual home-coming game with the much-feared Nebraska Cornhuskers.

It has been a long time, sixteen years in fact, since Kansas has defeated the Huskers in Lawrence. And it has been eight years since the Jayhawkers had a victory in Lincoln over Nebraska.

Kansas rosters would be only too happy to have a repetition of last year's scoreless tie or better yet, a duplication of the Grimsom and Blu's feat of three years ago in scoring 20 points in the last half to tie Nebraska after the game apparently had been thrown away in the first two periods.

FOOTBALL STAR ELECTROCUTED AT MADISON

By United News.
MADISON, Wis., Oct. 23.—Herbert Opitz, husky backfield star of the University of Wisconsin football team, was electrocuted in the University's engineering laboratory late Thursday when 700 volts of electricity passed through his body.

Shortly before he was about to catch the train for Ann Arbor, where he was to play with his team against Michigan Friday, Opitz carelessly grasped a knife switch with both hands. He died in the university infirmary. Opitz was to have graduated in the spring. His home is in Elkhorn, Wisconsin.

COOLIDGE REVIEWS ADMINISTRATION IN MAJOR SPEECH

By United News.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—President Coolidge speaking Thursday in his major speech before the election reviewed his administration at home and abroad with the conclusion that it had brought "more than average prosperity and answered Senator LaFollette's proposals for government ownership and review of supreme court decisions by congress, with the declaration that they were "most revolutionary."

"Our present system is the only one that is adapted to the needs of a free republic," the president declared. "The only one which holds out any promise of proving the security and stability necessary alike for our economic development and our political progress."

Reviewing the republican administration, Coolidge said: "That under this policy of peace, economy reduction of taxes and protection, the business of the country has very generally revived and brought us into an area of more than average prosperity."

ber of Commerce, the president laid his final appeal before the people for his re-election. It is his last scheduled major speech. Realizing the significance the president ran the whole gamut of the administration's accomplishments and took occasion to strike at Senator LaFollette's proposals for government ownership and review of supreme court decisions by congress. Several hundred business men comprised his audience, and the radio carried his address to millions. The speech was filled with figures to drive his arguments home.

He did not refer to the disclosures of congressional investigations saying only that the people know that the government is neither corrupt nor inefficient.

Government ownership, the president said, "would be most perilous undertaking, both to the welfare of business and the independence of the people."

"Measured by our experience, by efficiency of service, by rate of wages paid, we have everything to lose and nothing to gain by public ownership."

"The most important property of this country is transportation and waterpower," he declared. "It is not only very large in amount, but is of greatest strategic value."

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM RENDERED BY CROUP NINE OF LOCAL KIWANIS CLUB ENJOYED BY BIG CROWD; ATTENDANCE IS ON INCREASE

Absolute vindication of their past failures to entertain the Kiwanians was unanimously given by the membership to W. C. Rylander and the other members of Group No. 8, following the weekly program that group rendered with such splendid results Thursday.

Mr. Rylander, chairman of the group at the last meeting of the Club, at which time they were scheduled to render their program, apologized for failure in the matter and assured the Kiwanians that with more chance the group would make good. The absolute truth of his statement was proved when one of the best programs of the year was rendered.

Patriotism was the general subject of the program, and with two large American flags placed in a proved form near the chairman's place at the table, and with four small flags lending color to the well-filled flower baskets, the decoration scheme was carried out with good effect.

S. C. Wilson, president of the club, called the meeting to order, and invocation was said by Rev. W. A. Bowen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, a guest of Kiwanian I. F. Holland.

Introduction of the guests was then made by the president. The Ladies Mary Helm Auxiliary of the Methodist Church served the luncheon, a substantial plate menu with hot coffee being enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. W. O. Stevens, pianist, rendered appreciated numbers at the outset of the program, and was accompanied for the vocal numbers.

"America" was sung by all members and guests, standing. "My Flag and Your Flag" was read by Miss McAfee, teacher in the high school. Miss McAfee is an able entertainer and her readings are enjoyed by local audiences. The manner in which she gave this beautiful reading added to its impressiveness and was indeed an appropriate feature of the patriotic program.

"Whispering Hope," a vocal solo with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Stevens, was rendered by Madeline Carl Seagrave and W. C. Rylander.

J. S. Harkley, local scout leader and who has enjoyed success in organizing the organization on a good basis here with forty-eight active members made brief remarks and introduced Scouts Pierce, Turner, Phillips, Abbott, Maxey and Davis, who participated in the program by reciting the scout laws and the scout classification, defining the latter.

Kiwanian Homer L. Pharr, gave a serious address by a short time allotment and delivered a forceful address from the subject "Why Patriotism" and his timely remarks were enjoyed by all.

FIVE ARE TO DIE FOR PART IN BIG BANK ROBBERY

By United Press. MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 23. Five members of the most desperate hold-up gang that ever operated in Montreal are to go to the gallows tomorrow. A sixth man, under death sentence has been reprieved pending appeal. Two others, recently captured, have not been brought to trial and several are still at large.

The five to go to the gallows tomorrow are Tony Frank, Louis Morel, Mike Valentino, Frank Gambino and Giuseppe Serafini.

The crime for which the men are to die is known as the Hochelain Bank robbery. Three bank employees were transporting upward of $250,000 in a van, under guard. The robber gang, in cars, armed with rifles, dashed into the bank car in a culley. An exchange of shots followed and two men, one of the robbers and a bank messenger, died.

The robbers escaped with $425,000 in cash. Eight were subsequently captured.

Probably the most notable of the men to go to the gallows is Tony Frank, the recognized King of the Red Light district at Montreal. Frank came from Sicily and in his bearing he resembled a stage brando. He was always carefully dressed, favoring a velvet hat with a feather in it, worn at a jaunty angle. He wore a waxed and well-trimmed mustache, often a velvet coat and his diamonds were conspicuous. He always seemed to have plenty of ready money and although he was frequently arrested he always managed to escape. He was generally known as the "fixer" of the underworld.

Louis Morel, the most notable of the men under sentence. He was at one time a very popular athlete. He was a policeman and secretary of the Police Amateur Athletic Association and gained many notable successes as a runner. He was very popular at the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, the leading body of its kind in Eastern Canada, and played on its Rugby football team. He broke with the department when he helped organize a policeman's union and was discharged. He became a race track member of note and was supposed to be a drug smuggler. He was blamed for many notable crimes and was the ringleader in the bank robbery. The money was divided at his home.

The other men are well known characters in the underworld of Canada.

CATTLE INDUSTRY MAKING VALIENT STAND BEFORE THE PLOW AS LAST BIGGEST PLAINS ROUND-UP STARTS

Cowboy, diamond and let the farmer ride the plains. A rather odd sign, but nevertheless one bearing no silly made hint, was seen across the back of a plains real estate dealers' car here, and in more material evidence of the rapidity with which the saddlehorse, boot, spurs, and chaps shall give away to the farmer with his automotive power implements is seen in the mammoth round-up started at Hart's camp on the north Spade ranch, owned by W. L. Ellwood of this city Thursday.

Thirty-eight thousand head of cattle that have roamed the broad prairies owned by the capitalist will be rounded up before the work has been completed, twenty-five thousand of which we understand will be shipped while the others will be driven away to sections of the ranch where the development program will not reach for at least another year.

The land occupied by these cattle will be sold to farmers and within another two years the once large range will be converted into highly productive agricultural land.

Many local people went to Hart's camp Thursday to witness the first maneuvers of the cowboys who will have charge of the round-up on a large scale will pass from view in this section; a set of men whose early connection with the plains mingled the hardships of the sturdy pioneer with the romance of a great industry which is now giving away to agriculture, has endeared them to the Plainsmen who can appreciate the great part they have played in the early development of the section.

The cowboy, however, will never leave entirely though the days of his actual labor here are drawing to a close; he will forever be remembered as the builder of an empire, the improvement he has made possible so magnifies and enlarges it as to make of him a hidden, but integral part of the structure. His work shall stand as the foundation of the empire. And just as the bricks and mortar are hidden from view, that constitute the foundation of the business houses that mark the places where he once stationed the chuckwagon and unrolled his bunk, he will not for long be outstanding in this section though his work has counted for much and tradition shall always picture him the hero of the plains.

The railroad in which the cowboy was so much interested, and to the construction of which he contributed liberally, will be the artery through which the lifeblood of his industry shall pass from the plains for in the future other thousands of head of cattle shall be shipped from the plains— from the very vicinity of Lubbock while the range they inhabited shall be converted into farm homes where agriculture, if properly directed, will pour its millions into the lap of a progressive citizen-ship.

SWEETEN CHARGE MADE TO PROBERS

Jan Nelson Cronwell, $10,000; four members of the Guggenheim family $5,000 each; Horace Hardy, $5,000, and Marshall Field, $5,000.

Walsh submitted Shepherd to a close grilling in an effort to develop evidence that bankers at the Chicago convention of the Bankers Association were urged to contribute a percentage of the capital of their banks to defeat La Follette. Shepherd maintained that no such appeal was made and declared that politics was taboo in the association.

Shepherd said he knew nothing of any letters sent out by New York bankers urging the defeat of La Follette and appealing for campaign funds.

Both Senator Shipstead, of Minnesota, a member of the committee, and Undermeyer charged that the American Bankers Association was taking part in politics. Some of the contributors to the republican fund as listed in a report by Wm. V.

Hodges, treasurer of the republican national committee were:

NATIONAL LECTURER CONDEMNS EVERY SECRET ORDER

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 23.—Sherwood Eddy, world traveller, lecturer and author, speaking before more than 2,000 persons at the Methodist Men's Convention here Thursday, declared the solution of inter-racial problems does not lie in any secret order, whether it be organized against the Catholic, the negro or the Jew.

Although he did not mention the Ku Klux Klan by name, the speaker's remarks were accepted by his listeners as being directed against the masked order.

Attacking the racial unrest, Eddy asked:

"Do you believe in humanity or just in one race, one creed, one secret, one clique."

"In the last forty years there have been four thousand lynchings in America—a deplorable average of about two a week."

Newspapers, both native and Christian in Japan, China, India, and other countries not only describe these lynchings in detail but publish photographs of the horrible acts.

"This practice," he continues "greatly hinders missionary work in foreign lands."

Methodist leaders from Arkansas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas and Louisiana are attending the conference.

There are many disputed phases of prohibition, but we have not yet heard any one dispute the fact that it has been a boon to real estate values.

Tumulty Demands An Apology From Georgia Governor

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Joseph P. Tumulty, former secretary to President Wilson, has demanded an apology from Governor Walker, of Georgia, for the governor's charge that Tumulty sought by "the chicanery of politics" to place in every national war camp a Catholic church and drive out the churches of every other denomination.

Walker's charge was made in a speech at the national meeting of the Ku Klux Klan in Kansas City several weeks ago, according to published accounts of the text of the address.

Tumulty in a telegram to the Atlanta Constitution, Oct. 20, challenged Governor Walker to lay before a protestant tribunal of his own choosing proof that religious prejudice or bias had controlled him in any of his official relations with President Wilson, a distinguished veteran of the French army.

"Governor Walker seems to be disinclined to answer, either privately or publicly, his false charge against my honesty and integrity as a public official," Tumulty said in a statement here Thursday, in which he said "I feel that in justice to myself and the Roman Catholic church, Governor Walker, owes me a public apology."

WORLD WAR VETERANS TO WORK FOR PEACE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Bent upon establishing lasting world peace and aiding the war-disabled, the Fiduc, an inter-allied world war veteran's association, intends to push an ambitious program during the coming year.

The Fiduc represents ex-service men organized in the nine allied countries, totaling ten million members. Col. Thomas W. Miller, U. S. Alien Property Custodian, was recently elected president of the organization and will leave for Paris soon to direct activities.

At a meeting in Paris five years ago of ex-service men from all allied countries, the Fiduc was organized. America was represented at that meeting by the National Commander of the American Legion, F. W. Galbraith. Headquarters of the organization are in Paris, and its recent president was Deputy Charles Herbrand, member of the French Chamber of Deputies and a distinguished veteran of the French army.

Col. Miller, a former war veteran is prominent in American Legion circles. He was chairman of the resolutions committee at the San Francisco convention in 1923. He is a former Congressman from Delaware and a graduate of Yale University. Miller enlisted July, 1917, as a private in the army and was discharged as a lieutenant colonel in September, 1919. He served eleven months in France and received a citation for gallantry in action. Miller also is a member of the American Battle Monuments Commission, appointed to select suitable sites on European battlefields where memorials in honor of American troops killed in the war may be erected.

"American delegates to the Fiduc are selected by the American Legion. At the annual congress in London a short time ago women's auxiliaries of the allied veterans' associations were taken into membership."

"A section of the League of Nations devoted to ex-service men and their problems," said Col. Miller, "has been suggested, and the Fiduc has been invited to be the contact point between the League and the ex-service men. If this plan is carried out, we will have an 'unofficial observer' at Geneva. Plans are also being made to have representatives participate unofficially in the Armas Conference to be held in Europe next summer."

"While this is unofficial, it is an indication that the powers-that-be in the foreign countries realize that when they are making plans for a lasting peace they will receive the almost help from the men and women who suffered most directly from the privations of the recent war. Plans are also in force to work for the disabled men and women who served in the war and also to combat communists in Europe and in America."

The world is full of good beginnings—but the metal was of poor quality and not equal to the continuous pull demanded.

PEKIN FALLS BEFORE ATTACK GENERAL YU HSIANG

SHANGHAI, Oct. 23.—Pekin has fallen before the peaceful occupation of the Christian general, Feng Yu Hsiang, who has withdrawn his 30,000 troops from the support of Gen. Wei Pu the nominal chief of the Peking military forces. Wu now is engaged in desultory warfare with General Chang Tso Lin, Manchurian war lord, and the defection of General Feng may determine the outcome of the military rivalry which has erupted North China.

Failure of cable, telegraph, telephonic and railroad communication with Peking was the first hint that Gen. Feng had deserted his nominal chief and returned to the capital city. By severing lines of communication Feng has practically isolated Gen. Wu, who is operating against Chang in the vicinity of Shanghai.

President Tsao Kun is in a precarious position as his capital is occupied by Feng's troops and General Wu is at the other end of a railroad line which has been cut. Even if Wu controlled the railroad he could not withdraw any considerable number of troops from the Jehol line where no and Chang are prepared to settle their differences.

Feng has issued a proclamation demanding that peace be negotiated by his ultimate object in occupying Peking is unknown. The possibility that a professed Christian would seriously contemplate governmental control of China is remote. However, Peking for the second time in its history is controlled by a Christian. Christian troops seized the city of Confucius following the boisterous rising. Should Feng conclude a treaty with Chang, who already dominates the vast expanse of Manchuria and west of Chihli, the central government of Tsao Kun and Wu would be in a desperate position. The situation in South China has not altered and Shanghai is calm.
