Two Dead in Race Horse Express Car Fire at El Paso

ANOTHER BADLY BURNED AND 3 HORSES KILLED

CAR CONTAINING RACERS ENROUTE FROM DALLAS TO TIA JUANA

By United News. EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 30.—Two men are dead, another badly burned and three valuable race horses destroyed as the result of fire in a race horse express car here Thursday. The car was en route from Dallas to Tia Juana and had been in El Paso only a short time when the fire was discovered.

The dead are: J. T. (Buck) MURRAY, Kansas City, burned to death.

HERBERT T. (Doc) TULETT, horse trainer of San Ysidro, Cal., who died in the hospital here. John Tantlinger was seriously burned.

The body of Tulett will be shipped to San Diego tonight. His mother resides in Piedmont, California.

The body of Murray is held pending instructions from his family in Kansas City.

The horses dead are: Lieutenant Colonel, Virgo, and a pony belonging to Tantlinger.

Several other horses of the eleven in the car were burned and are being treated by local veterinarians.

Tulett and Murray were trainers for the Tam O'Shanter Stables and Tantlinger is the son of Vern Tantlinger, manager of the "Buck" Jones Moving picture company, of Hollywood, California.

Origin of the fire is unknown. It was discovered by a watchman in the local yards. The race horses were screaming with fright, baring exits from the car, preventing the men's escape.

Horses in the car are said to be valued at $100,000.

BARNEY OLDFIELD ENTERS SUIT FOR DIVORCE

By United News. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 30.—Barney Oldfield, veteran speedway racer, filed suit for divorce Thursday against Rebecca Oldfield, alleging extravagance and systematic nagging.

The complaint was filed under the automobile racer's true name, Berna El Oldfield and stated that the couple married on January 7, 1907.

By United News. SUGARLAND, Texas, Oct. 30.—Losing his balance while sitting astride a motor that operated a crane in a sugar warehouse here, Casey Barrow, electrician, today fell 70 feet to his death. He struck a concrete floor and died instantly.

DEFENSE OPENS TESTIMONY IN OIL CANCEL SUIT

CHIEF OF NAVY BUREAU OF MINES IS FIRST PLACED ON STAND

By United News. LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—With examination of government witnesses completed, attorneys for E. L. Dehony today began their attempt to block cancellation of leases held by the Pan-American petroleum and transport company with a series of important disclosures Thursday afternoon. Dr. H. Foster Bain, chief of the navy bureau of mines, appeared as the first defense witness and told of his efforts to secure $500,000 on the Pearl Harbor construction project from a number of representative oil companies.

The witness said that in February 1922, Albert B. Fall, then secretary of the interior, turned over these negotiations to Edward C. Finney, assistant secretary of the department with himself (Bain) as a representative from the navy department.

This, the defense maintains, disproves the government contention that Fall handled the arrangements personally and in secret.

A letter which Bain wrote while in Washington to A. McLaughlin, vice-president of the Associated Oil company and the Pacific Oil company was read to show openness with which the bidding was conducted.

The message read: "I am writing this letter so that you will not think you are losing ground (Chances for the Contracts) by not being on the ground."

Another letter written by Bain to Senator W. D. McKinley, of Illinois, answered, the government claim that the Chicago Bridge and Iron company had been discriminated against in the receiving of Pearl Harbor bids.

"Had the Chicago Bridge and Iron Works been in a position to bid on the entire project," Bain wrote on April 13, 1922, "and to accept oil in exchange, I would have been more than glad to give them plans and specifications."

Mrs. E. L. Dehony entered the court room during the afternoon for the first time since appearing as a witness last week. At that time she told of Fall's mismanagement to a demand note for $100,000 in favor of her husband and had the torn part of the document produced as evidence to show the note is still collectable.

The government rested its case with astonishing suddenness Thursday morning. But two witnesses were examined during the forenoon, their testimony serving but to present minor details in connection with the Pearl Harbor work and with drilling operations in the Elk Hills reserves.

Important testimony for the government will be brought out during cross examination of defense witnesses it was indicated.

BIG SHIPMENT OF CABLE RECEIVED BY LUBBOCK

The city of Lubbock has just received a shipment of 20,000 feet of electric cable and workmen are now busy laying the lines along Main street where lights will be placed at each street intersection before the Texas Celebration Nov. 11th, if plans do not miscarry.

Electrician F. C. McSpadden, who is supervising work of laying the cable, stated Thursday morning that provision is being made for four light poles to be placed at regular distances along each block, however these may not be used for a number of years yet only at the street intersections, and is purely a future provision.

The lighting system of Lubbock will be better provided for than in any city of this size, to be found anywhere when the present program has been completed.

The people of this city are soon to enjoy all the comforts that are enjoyed by the larger cities of the state, and he city dads are doing some splendid work in looking after present problems and for those in the future as well.

PROBE LA FOLLETTE'S CAMPAIGN FUND CHARGES?

Frank P. Walsh, attorney for the La Follette campaign committee, and Samuel Untermyer, noted New York attorney, are acting as attorneys before the Senate Committee that is investigating Senator La Follette's charges that campaign "slush funds" have been raised by his opponents. T. W. O'Connor, of the United States shipping board, appearing before the committee, said he believed Soviet Russia was contributing to the La Follette campaign funds. Nathan T. Powell, treasurer of the Manufacturers' Club of Philadelphia, was another important witness before the committee.

EFFORT FOR CO. NURSE BE MADE IN TANKER BLAST

MISS DOROTHY ANDERSON TO CONFER WITH LUBBOCK CO. OFFICIALS

Miss Dorothy Anderson, representing the State Health Department passed through Lubbock Thursday enroute to Littlefield for a brief visit with her father.

Miss Anderson stated that she is thoroughly interested in the establishment of a public health nurse in Lubbock county, and that the matter would again in all probability be taken up with the Lubbock county commissioners.

The public health nurse would be supported by the state and county with the state furnishing dollar for dollar for all offered by the county.

Lubbock county, Miss Anderson pointed out, would be asked to furnish fifteen hundred dollars for the first year. This amount would be supplemented by an equal amount from the state, giving three thousand dollars for the support of the nurse here for one year. Eighteen hundred dollars of this amount would go to pay the salary of the nurse, a small automobile that would make it possible for her to work in all communities of the county would be furnished and other necessities would be paid for from the remaining twelve hundred dollars.

Miss Anderson pointed out that the health nurse would not be required to do bedside nursing, but that all her work would be along educational lines, as provided in the Sheppard-Towner Maternity and Infancy Act. The nurse would devote a great deal of her time in conducting the educational program through the rural and public schools of the county, where every student would be given special attention with regard to physical examinations, etc., and recommendations would then be made to the parents concerning the medical or surgical attention needed by the child.

Mothers and expectant mothers would receive expert attention from the public health nurse, the object of the act creating this work through

WEDNESDAY NIGHT ONE END OF THE WHARVES, UNDERMINED BY THE RAVAGES OF THE PILE EATING TEREDO COLAPSED PULLING DOWN ELECTRIC WIRES WHICH SET OFF GASOLINE AND OIL ON THE DOCKS.

The Allen Anderson a tanker, was unloading her cargo of crude oil at the time the collapse came and her crew forced over board into the bay to save their lives. There was no chance of saving the boat.

Thirty-six men have been accounted for Thursday but six were still missing. Officials of the company announced they still held hope of finding the men.

The list of missing: FIRST MATE SCHROEDER, THIRD OFFICER GEORGE ANDERSON, JACK CRAWFORD, pumpman, of Los Angeles, NELSON BOSHARD, Seaman, Fall River, Mass., ARTHUR MACDONALD, Mess Boy, New York, TOM TOWNER, oiler.

Four other boats were tied up at the docks at the time the fire started. Three others managed to cut loose but the Allen Anderson and the large Alpine were destroyed by the flames.

A series of explosions took place when the fire reached Case gas stacked on the wharves. The explosion sent the flames high into the air, and covered the bay with burning liquid.

ARRESTED BY POSSE FOLLOWING ATTEMPTED ASSAULT ON WOMAN ACUFF COMMUNITY THURSDAY

A negro giving the name of Willie Hall, was taken into custody by a posse of citizens twelve miles east of Lubbock at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, following an unsuccessful attempt at assault made by the black on Mrs. Emma Rush, of the Acuff community about three hours earlier. In the scuffle with the negro Mrs. Rush sustained a painful cut on the left hand from the razor being used by the black in an effort, according to Mrs. Rush, to slash her throat.

Filled in his attempt the negro left the house, Mrs. Rush started, returning to the cotton patch, where he had been at work. Fearing to leave the house, Mrs. Rush said she waited until her husband returned at noon before anyone knew of the attack, following which the word went the rounds, and a posse was organized, resulting in the arrest of the negro. He is being held in the Lubbock county jail.

The negro was picking cotton on the farm where the assault was attempted. Mr. Rush started to the gin at Acuff and had not been gone but a short time when the black went to the farm home and told the lady he wanted a needle and thread with which to sew a tear in his cotton sack. The woman, not thinking that any untoward act was contemplated by the negro, secured the needle and upon returning to the door to give it to him, stated that he had entered the door.

After speaking insulting words to her, the negro attempted to cut her throat with a razor. In the scuffle that ensued, the woman was thrown to the floor, and as she grasped the hand that held the razor she received a slight cut on the left hand. The black meeting her resistance, wrenched her left arm causing intense pain but failing to overpower her, he left the house and went back to the field where he picked cotton for awhile before fear of being punished for the attempted assault drove him to leave the field in an effort to get away. A posse of farmers was formed when news of the negro's misconduct was related by the woman to her husband when he returned to the farm at noon, and at one o'clock he was arrested four miles from the place.

All members of the posse were not familiar with the incidents leading up to the arrest and as the negro had been arrested for only a few minutes when Sheriff H. L. Johnston arrived, mob violence that would have ultimately resulted had they been better organized, was evaded when the sheriff took the negro in his car and rushed him to the Lubbock county jail.

In efforts to allay mob violence that was threatened by rate citizens of the Acuff community, Lubbock county officers and acting Judge Park N. Dalton have agreed to have a special session of the grand jury called to indict the negro in order that a speedy trial may be given him in the special term that is now in session here.

A new treatment, evolved by physicians to check the progressive nature of the mental and physical afflictions caused by the "looney gas" failed for the first time when Herbert Fuson, last of the five original serious cases taken to New York, died and brought the total fatalities to five.

The treatment will be continued in the other cases, but the "looney gas" cases are such a mystery to medical men that they cannot predict when any victim is likely to reach the final stages of his mad illness.

It is believed that the victims lost their minds after the gradual infiltration of their system with lead, which penetrated through the lungs and pores, perforated ear drums and in other ways entered the entire system. The physicians are now trying to dissolve this lead by intravenous injection of hypo-sulphite of soda, which dissolves the lead out of the tissues of the body.

DAVIS HAS ASKED THE PROSECUTING OFFICER AT DAYTON, OHIO, WHERE THE NEW TREATING FIRM IS SET FOR A PERFECTING PROCESS TO OBTAIN SAMPLES OF THE FIRM AS IT IS RECEIVED AT DAYTON FROM ELIZABETH.

The prosecutor has confined his warnings to the county, he explained, because he is not interested in the perfected product outside of Union county.

Meanwhile, the workers health bureau of New York, also has protested against the exposure of mixed life to the varities of the mixed chemical and the Bayway plant where the fatalities were caused remains closed.

LOEB ESTATE IS LEFT TO WIDOW OF MILLIONAIRE

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Albert H. Loeb, vice-president of the Sears Roebuck company, and the father of Richard Loeb, who is now serving a life sentence for the murder of Robert Franks, left his $3,000,000 estate to his widow, Anna Loeb. Loeb died several days ago.

Allen Loeb, the elder son of Mr. Loeb, was appointed executor according to the provisions of the document, which was filed for probate late Thursday.

Richard Loeb must depend on his mother's disposition of the estate in the event he is ever released from prison.

The date of the will showed that the Franks murder and the trial of "Dickie" had no effect on Mr. Loeb's disposition of his estate.

LUBBOCK TO BE HOST TO STATE

(Fort Worth Record) Lubbock hopes to entertain at least 20,000 people on Armistice Day when the corner stone of the new Texas Technological College will be laid. Lubbock can easily do that because it entertained 30,000 folks at the big jubilee that followed its designation as the site for Texas Tech.

Lubbock has something very much worth celebrating in the new institution and so has all West Texas. The various steps in the realization of West Texas' long dream of a great State college are worthy of commemoration because they are significant dates in the progress of that great empire.

Within less than a year the doors of the new college will open to freshmen. The senior classes of many Texas high schools contain pupils that will make up that first freshman class. That will be a class long to be remembered in West Texas—the first to take the complete course in what is sure to become one of the great institutions of the Commonwealth.

Members of the faculty are being assembled. President Horn in making plans and preparing for the opening next fall. The buildings are already rising, for corner stones are more or less ceremonial symbols nowadays and not so much architectural necessities.

And all these things are the fruition of hopes, prayers and labors innumerable and continual during the long years through which West Texas fought for a State college for the training of those not definitely committed to the teaching profession.

Texas Tech is the outcome of that arduous and successful battle. Despite its name it will cater to the collegiate needs of the West. General, practical, agricultural and mechanical courses will be given to those who may enter from whatever part of Texas they come.

And, while West Texas will always consider the college its special care and interest, it belongs to all Texas and all Texas should take a deep interest in it.

PAVING CREW WILL ABANDON MAIN STREET SOON

The Panhandle Construction Company will in all probability complete laying the paving base on Main street to Avenue M today, and cannot complete the work on that street until the old paving at the street intersection at K because of the fact that the sewer line along that street cannot be completed soon.

The crew laying the paving base will be transferred to Avenue J and 13th street where they will lay several blocks beginning in the business district.

With ample number of laborers available, the work has been carried on with the rapidity during the past several days, and good progress on the paving project has been made.

MANY NEEDY PEOPLE OF SOUTHPLAINS ASSISTED THROUGH RED CROSS HERE. ANNUAL ROLL CALL OPENS NOV. 11TH

"Give the world your best and the best will come back to you," was quoted in the Red Cross room by a mother who had just been helped by the Red Cross. During the past year hundreds of women have been helped in different ways.

When a mother is without the means to support her little children it is the duty of some one to come to her rescue. Such has been the pleasure and privilege of the Red Cross many times and in various ways during the past few months.

During the first week of last June when the heat was all but overcoming those of us who were comfortably housed and dressed, a widow came into the Red Cross office carrying in her arms a little baby of four months. She had become helpless in a neighboring town and had been sent over to Lubbock to the Red Cross. She was a cultured woman, one who shrank from asking help and when employment was offered gladly accepted same not asking and not caring how hard the work just so that her baby could be cared for. The weather was too hot for this mother to work for a few days and wasn't it a privilege for the Red Cross to assist her until the heat wave had subsided and the baby in a little better condition and after she did go to work to keep on the watch for light work which would not over tax her and give the greatest amount of time to be with her baby.

It is quite true that one half the world does not know how the other half lives. Last spring when measles was taking its toll of the properly nourished and clothed the Red Cross of Lubbock watched the mother love overcome the ravages of what disease in circumstances which seemed well nigh overwhelming. On one occasion a family had just come into town from over in New Mexico and were in great need. The ground was all frozen and four people were living under some wagon bows on the ground with a sheet over it and a tiny little girl and boy were ill with measles. It was there that the Red Cross could find a way to help by providing clothes, food and medicine and stand by when pneumonia as well as measles attacked the little girl and find better shelter for this family and work for the father. The average mother has never been in such a home, much less had to nurse a sick child where she could not once stand up. Yet, it is these hand-cuffed mothers who need the encouragement and help and if the Red Cross but helps one mother to save one little one it has not been in vain.

Woman's Task Great.
Woman's task is perhaps the greatest of all consisting as it does of the rearing of the children of the human race and as they come into our midst from all over these South Plains and from different states bringing their stories of misery and want, it is ever the policy of the Red Cross to listen to these stories, to investigate and to stand by until employment can be found and shelter provided. It is the right of every child to have a comfortable happy home to be sent to school and to church and Sunday School; and not only is it good for the child, individually, but it is for the betterment of the town, state and nation. As we train and help our children so we build our citizenship.

We have in mind a widow with five small children, one of which is an invalid who were sent to the Lubbock Red Cross from a nearby community. At first it seemed that the task of getting this family thru the winter was a hopeless one but today they are comfortable and the mother is happy in seeing her children in school again.

Much Work Needed.
Much work needs to be done in encouraging mothers to not give up and allow their children to grow up in ignorance but to allow the Red Cross and their fellow women to aid them until they are able to help themselves. Women from most every town on the South Plains have come to the Lubbock Red Cross during the past year and hundreds have received help in one way or another—food, shelter, clothing, stove, medicine, crutches and good cheer have been given gladly.

The people of Lubbock county, beginning November 11th, will have an opportunity to strengthen the arm of mercy that has offered shelter and comfort to so many of the unfortunates of this section, and all must keep in mind that the Red Cross is not different to any other institution in that it requires a great deal of money to keep it functioning properly.

Food and clothing, even for needy people, must be paid for.

House rent and fuel, even in the coldest days of winter, must be paid for though they are needed for helpless little children and are provided growing every day, in the opinion of Miss Anderson who has been connected with public health nursing for the past several years, and understands the importance to the general welfare of the people of any county in supporting a public health nurse.

Miss Anderson will return to Lubbock Saturday at which time she will in all probability confer with County Judge Chas. Nordyke concerning the possibilities of establishing a public health nurse here, and she is hopeful that by this time the heartiest co-operation of all members of the commissioners' court will be given.

Efforts were made several months ago to secure a public health nurse for this county, but the matter was not voted upon by the commissioners due to the fact that more than two of them wanted to learn more about the work with regard to the attitude of the people of their respective precincts toward the establishment of such an office here, and it is altogether probable that by this time they have made complete surveys of their precincts and we understand a friendly feeling toward the proposition exists throughout the county.

McAdoo Favors Davis
By United Press
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—Wm. G. McAdoo declared himself unreservedly in favor of the election of John W. Davis as president in an address before the Associated Democratic Clubs of Southern California Thursday.

"Just as we now give a harmless anesthetic to an individual for a surgical operation, so we may be able in the future to put a whole nation to sleep for 48 hours by a combination of new chemical discoveries with radio-controlled, manless airplanes," Major General Squier, signal corps expert, United States Army.

SIX YET MISSING IN TANKER BLAST
battled the flames. Thursday morning the Alden Anderson burned her moorings, and drifted out into the bay, endangering the boats engaged in rescue work.
Later in the day, however, the fire died down, and the water of the bay adjacent to the docks were combed for the six missing men.
Thursday night officers of the Associated Oil company announced that a seventh man had been added to the list of the missing. Otis Fide, seaman, address unknown, had not been found.
It was almost definitely established Thursday night that Schroeder and Anderson perished in the flames aboard the vessel. Comrades of the men told of seeing them amidships when the first explosion took place. Fide was seen to dive from the side of the burning vessel, and did not reappear. The Alden Anderson still burned Thursday night and no attempt was being made to extinguish the flames. A tug was kept near to watch the vessel and keep her from endangering other boats in the bay.

Lubbock Music Club Held Meeting Saturday

The Lubbock Music Club met at the Methodist church at the regular time three o'clock Saturday.

Roll call was answered with Dance Ferns.

Mrs. Stevens the leader was absent and Miss Dunn very ably and interestingly led the program after discussing "The Form Element in Music." Mrs. George discussed "Pulsation," "Sweet and Low" was sung beautifully by Mrs. Hilton and Mrs. Strnes.

"Musical Phrases" were discussed by Mrs. Morgan, "Turkish March" by Bethoven was rendered charmingly by Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. McKee, and Mrs. Moxley.

Mrs. Earnes Harvey was elected as a new member. Miss Lucille Robinson an associate member. Coach members will be responsible to sell twenty tickets to the Don Pasquale, comic opera to be given by artists from New York at the Lubbock High School Saturday night, November 15th. Proceeds of Don Pasquale are to go for paying for the Baby Grand Piano at the High School.

The actors will sing in English and it is pure comedy entertainment.

The Bon Tempo Bridge Club Has Jolly Party

A delightful Halloween party was given the members and guests of the Bon Tempo Bridge club last Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Halley and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Gammill entertained at the Halley home.

The house was darkened when the guests arrived and black cats, bats, owls and snakes gave a spooky atmosphere to the receiving rooms. A huge pumpkin jack-o-lantern in the center of the dining table gave the crowning touch to the decorations.

After the games refreshments consisting of individual pumpkin pies and whipped cream and cherries and coffee were served to the guests.

The next meeting of the club will be held with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore at their home 2210 10th street. The following members were present: Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Waldrip, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carter, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Rayson, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Irby Swindell, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Claus, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Gammill and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Halley.

The guests were: Mrs. Vergil Kershner of Rio De Janeiro, Miss Arne Ford, Miss Corvise Back Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Broughton, Mr. and Mrs. Carter, Mr. Brewer of Dallas, Mr. Ernest Lowery.

Misses cravens and Carter Give Party at Country Club

Miss Edith Carter and Miss Lulu Cravens very charmingly entertained their friends at the Country Club Thursday evening of last week with a Mah Jong and Bridge party.

The rooms were attractively decorated with Halloween garlands and bats and owls cats, moons, pumpkins and witches were much in evidence. Many yellow Chrysanthemums in bowls and vases graced the tables and manila place and Halloween baskets filled with candy were used as plate favors.

The guests enjoyed games until a late hour, when pumpkin pie, whipped cream and coffee were served to the following young people: Miss Mary Meador, Miss Mary Alice Johnson, Miss Laura Street, Miss Bonnie Baker, Miss Ruth Stanton, Miss Sue Bryan, Miss Alice Johnson, Miss Leveton, Miss Frances Baker, Miss Lois Cooper, Miss Verna Wilson, Miss Montie Crosby, Miss Bess Duke, Miss Mamie Alexander, Miss Mary Dickenson, Dr. and Mrs. Standifer, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Flagg, Herbert Lowery, Jack Mya, Ross McWhorter, Bud Roberts, Louis Price, Mr. Hicks, Dr. Harry Bloom, Mr. Smith, Pete Young, Kenneth Kimbro, Bryan Moore, Owen McWhorter, Eric Post, Louis Hunter, and Tommy Loop.

Business Women's Club Has Halloween Party

The Business and Professional Women's club were delightfully entertained Friday evening at Dr. and Mrs. Charles Wagner's with a Halloween party. Promptly at eight o'clock the speakers arrived and were met at the door by Miss Mary Tinker, sister of Mrs. Wagner, who is a member of the club.

In keeping with the season the house was artistically decorated with black cats, witches and bats, which were made by the pupils of the K. Carter school and with lovely cut flowers. At 8:30 Miss Xephia Clark at the piano played a waltz which each fell into step in order to judge the best disguised person. The judges, Miss Clydine Stickney, Mrs. Wagner, Miss Tinker, and Miss Clark decided in favor of Miss Gladys McSpadden, and she was given the prize, a little black cat hid away snugly in a little holder. On opening it Miss McSpadden found a lovely powder puff. Then the fun began, pinning the cats tail on, for which Miss Margaret Mallard took first prize, a unique top biting the apple, dancing, telling fortunes and ghost stories were the amusements of the evening. Delightful refreshments consisting of sandwiches, pickles, pumpkin pie with whipped cream and coffee were served to the following members:

Mrs. Geo. Turnbo, Mrs. Fann, Mrs. L. Barkham, Mrs. W. C. Mathis, Mrs. J. C. Davis, Mrs. J. Smelser, Mrs. J. C. Wagner, Miss Mary Tinker, Miss Mabel Marsh, Miss Gladys McSpadden, Miss Xephia Clark, Miss Rose Wilson, Miss Alma Darby, Miss Mae Mearns, Miss Margaret Mallard, Miss Mollie Jackson, Miss Margaret Mallard, Miss Madona Hester, Miss Margaret Whipp, Mrs. Archie Hall.

The guests were: Mrs. Novella Richmond, Mrs. Jessie Ballenger, Miss Clydine Stickney and Miss Josephine Rush.

Mrs. Yarbro and Mrs. Moreman Give Delightful Party

One of the most delightful parties of the week was given by Mrs. P. C. Yarbro and Mrs. C. E. Moreman Thursday afternoon at Mrs. Moreman's charming new home on Main street.

Masses of yellow Chrysanthemums were placed about the receiving rooms which were decorated in typical Halloween fashion. The shades were drawn and the games were played by the soft glow of many candles.

On their arrival the guests were served delicious fruit punch in the breakfast nook by Miss Clyde Brown and Miss Beatrice Ainsworth. Tables were arranged for both forty-two and bridge, and after a merry afternoon delicious refreshments consisting of sandwiches, potato chips, olives, coffee, ice cream, and cake were served. Attractive plate favors were Halloween baskets filled with toasted almonds and small bouquets of yellow Marigolds.

Mrs. Willis and Mrs. Ainsworth favored the guests with well selected readings.

The following guests were present: Mrs. Paul Morgan, Mrs. Fay Sawyer, Mrs. O. E. Sears, Mrs. S. H. Stewart, Mrs. Hankins, Mrs. George, Mrs. Hatchinson, Mrs. Conley, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Standifer, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Harkey, Mrs. Maxwell, Mrs. Friend, Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Hub Jones, Mrs. Castleberry, Mrs. Posey, Mrs. Wolffarth, Mrs. Maddox, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Moxley, Mrs. A. B. Davis, Mrs. A. B. Ellis, Mrs. Goodwin, Mrs. Sam T. Davis, Mrs. George, Mrs. J. M. Lewis, Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Prichard, Mrs. Maddox, Mrs. Wedemeyer, Mrs. Bahrdige, Mrs. Kimbro, Mrs. Roberts of Memphis, Mrs. Fickas, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Mulkery, Mrs. Starnes, Mrs. Symes, Mrs. Grisham of Detroit, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Nislar, Mrs. Murfee, Mrs. Hilton, Mrs. Stanton, Mrs. Baugh, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Atkins, Mrs. Northington, Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Ainsworth, Mrs. Sammons, Mrs. Blocker, and Miss Edith Carter.

Miss Denman Gives an Enjoyable Halloween Party

Miss Pearl Denman delightfully entertained a few of her friends with a Halloween forty-two party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Denman Friday evening.

The house was decorated with bats, owls, moons, and garlands in Halloween colors and clever fortunes were used as plate favors.

At a late hour delicious refreshments were served to Miss Nugent, Miss Perry, Miss Moreton, Miss Thomas, Miss Denman, Mr. Brashers, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Jones, Mr. Matthews, and Mr. Lowery.

Delphian Club Has Interesting Dramatic Program

The Dramatic Art, from its most ancient form down to modern drama is becoming more and more interesting to the studios club women and the program given by the Delphian club Wednesday on the "Renaissance" proved one of the most fascinating in their course of study for the year.

The lesson was led by Mrs. Jenkins who, true to Delphian ideals, endeavored to bring every member into active participation in the lesson.

Interesting talks were made by several of the members, Mrs. Kershner giving "The Commanda dell'Arte" and Mrs. Elder "The Intellectual as exemplified in Sir Thomas More's" Mrs. Zellner "The Four Ps" was discussed and commented on by Mrs. Paine. "The Mask" by Mrs. W. S. Moore deserves special mention as does also the dramatic reading by Mrs. Norton J. Smith, who charmingly gave

Double-Dozen Club Has Halloween Party Thursday eve.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bacon and Mr. and Mrs. Eastin Wolfarth entertained the Double-Dozen forty-two club with an original Halloween party Thursday evening at the Bacon home.

The guests arrived to a darkened home and were greeted by three ghostly figures who conducted them through real chambers of horror and haunted halls.

Halloween decorations, field scenes, pumpkins, autumn leaves and masses of Chrysanthemums made the house attractive and the guests enjoyed the games as well as the real Halloween fun.

A two course supper was served with Halloween baskets filled with popcorn as favors.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Posey, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Arnett, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Wolfarth, Mr. and Mrs. Ballenger, Dr. and Mrs. Kraeger, Mr. and Mrs. Friend, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Duggan, Mrs. Pierce and Mrs. Benson.

Miss Blanche Bean and Miss Irma Struve are Honored at C. I. A.

DENTON, Texas, Nov. 1.—Miss Blanche Bean of Lubbock was included in a group of journalism students from the College of Industrial Arts who recently published a State Fair edition of their newspaper at the booth of a well known Dallas newspaper in the fair grounds. The students gathered and wrote news, edited copy, wrote heads, read proof and supervised the make-up for the newspaper. Lintype students from the college set part of the type for the edition. Miss Bean, who is a senior at the College, is editor-in-chief of the Lass-O, and is specializing in Manual Arts.

Miss Irma Struve of Abernathy, has been chosen treasurer of the students' association at the College of Industrial Arts to fill the vacancy left by Miss Birdie Buchanan of Stratford, who is attending the state university this year. Miss Zenda Aeschbacher of Houston was elected song leader of the association.

Miss Margaret Miss of McKinney takes the place of Miss Inez Lewis of Houston as treasurer of the Student's Christian Association. Miss Mary Louise Israel of Marlin will serve as editor in chief of the Daedalian Monthly in the place of Miss Charlotte Thayer.

Mrs. Kershner Complimented by Mrs. Bedford and Miss Pryor

A lovely party was given for Mrs. Richard V. Kershner, Saturday when Mrs. Ralph Bedford and Miss Irma Pryor entertained in her honor at Mrs. Bedford's home.

The house was elaborately decorated with Halloween cut outs and streamers and beautiful chrysanthemums and nasturtiums forming an exquisite setting for the table placed after the games.

After the games a delicious salad course was served consisting of chicken sandwiches, pickles, fruit salad, pumpkin pie and whipped cream.

The plate favors were miniature witches with fortunes for each guest which were read and as the fortune of the honor guest was opened a "slip" was placed on the table before her with dining linen and lace handkerchiefs as sails, the gifts of her friends who were present. Her fortune, the story of her life and a forecast of the future, was charmingly read by Miss Mae Murfee. The guests were: Mrs. J. H. Lowery, Mrs. F. W. Geese, Mrs. Walter Broughton, Mrs. Buckner, Mrs. Tom Carter, Mrs. M. Smith, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. N. Hart, Mrs. Richard V. Kershner, Miss Edith Carter, Miss Margaret Dupre, Miss Novella Richmond, Miss Frances Conley, Miss Gladys Pryor, Miss Ida Lou Ellis, Miss Frances Baker, Miss Lavonia Baker, Miss Ruth Lavender, Miss Pearl Henley, Miss Willette Waters, Miss Mabel Marsh, Miss Beulah Dixon, Miss Mae Murfee, and Miss Aileen King of Fort Worth.

Wesley Class Enjoys Party at Trinkle Home

A very jolly crowd met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Trinkle Friday evening, when they entertained the members of the Wesley class and their husbands with a Halloween party. The guests arrived at the darkened home in full costume and masked and the game of "guessing who" caused much merriment.

Many old fashioned Halloween games were played and Miss Margaret Trigg as a Gypsy added to the amusements of the guests with her clever fortunes.

At a late hour whipped cream coffee and pumpkin pie were served to about sixty guests.

REQUEST AND RULES.

All programs, especially musical programs, containing foreign names, must be typewritten using double space or written in a very large and legible hand, properly spaced, and no abbreviations used. Programs to be placed in Sunday's paper must be in the hands of the reporter by Friday noon. All announcements and dates for club and church meetings to be printed in Sunday's paper should be in by Friday noon.

All reports of Parent Teacher's club and club meetings which are usually held for Sunday's paper can be telephoned the day after the meeting or if written out may be mailed to the office.

To have everything rush in at the last minute Saturday is unfair both to the editor and to the operator of the Linotype machine.

We wish also to request that all reports of church society meetings be given in Tuesday morning and all parties if possible, be reported soon after they take place.

STEPHENS MEMORIAL BIBLE CLASS ENTERTAINS

All of the spoils of spookdom assembled at the home of Mrs. Jesse Summers on Wednesday afternoon to greet the members of the Stephens Memorial Bible class which met there at three o'clock.

The moment one entered the home the outside world was entirely lost and forgotten—perhaps because of the witches brew which was forced on you at once. Upon donning a great yellow cat-cap one mysteriously became capable of performing such wonderful stunts as spinning ghost yarn, solving the mystery of the crossed scissors delving into the magic of witcher photography and in some marvelous instances the skeleton dance could even be accomplished. Later when bags containing thirty beans were given each guest and they were instructed that a forfeit of one bean would be taken by whoever heard them use the pronoun "I" the King's English was royally butchered with "Me," "We," and "Our."

At a late hour pumpkin pie, topped with whipped cream and coffee was served to the following guests: Mesdames W. S. Ferguson, Harry Miller, Joe Boyd, A. W. McKee, C. J. Wagner, L. C. Yarbro, J. M. Lewis, D. Kuntz, C. B. McGrova, N. L. Peters, Prasley, D. F. Eaton, Inlow, Mullins, Carter, S. E. Melton, Jesse Summers, Shepard, Josephine Ballenger, Teague, Clarence Sims, F. E. Alverson, Ed Ainsworth, Williams, W. E. Lytle, and Little Dorothy Jean Mullins.

MRS. HAYNES ENTERTAINS SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

Mrs. E. R. Haynes entertained her Sunday School class of ten year old boys by taking them to see the wonderful picture "America" at the Lindsey Theatre Friday evening. A greater love for our country and flag and an appreciation of the sacrifice it cost our forefathers to give us this great liberty we now enjoy, will be kindled in the mind of any boy who sees this great patriotic production of the screen.

CHORAL CLUB TO HOLD REHEARSAL MONDAY NIGHT

The Choral club under the direction of Prof. A. G. Pfaff, which has been meeting each Monday evening in the Methodist church, urges all members to report promptly at 7:30 p. m. Monday for rehearsal.

The oratorio which is being studied at present is to be rendered within the near future and it is the wish of Mr. Pfaff that those who have not been able to attend regular in the past will make a special effort to be there so real choral work will be had from now on.

MRS. WILSON AND MRS. DUGGAN ENTERTAIN FOR MRS. THOMAS

Mrs. Roscoe Wilson and Mrs. T. B. Duggan complimented Mrs. Colby Thomas who will soon go away for the winter, with a charming party at the Wilson home Saturday afternoon.

Many friends and neighbors gathered to spend a pleasant afternoon and bid Mrs. Thomas goodbye and wish for her speedy return to Lubbock.

TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUB TO MEET THIS WEEK

The Tuesday Bridge club will meet this week with Mrs. J. S. Johnson at her home on Broadway.

1916 NEEDLE CLUB

The 1916 Needle club will meet Tuesday afternoon of this week with Mrs. Temple Ellis and Mrs. John Moore at Mrs. Ellis' home

Senior High School Festival is a Success

The Senior High School Festival held in the gymnasium on Thursday afternoon was an entire success. About four hundred students took part and a fund of $91.10 was raised for dishes for the school cafeteria. Popcorn and cold drinks were sold, and fortunes, apple bobbing, ghost walking and many other Halloween stunts were played.

Many mothers of the students were present and took part in the festival. Miss Baker's class won the picture "The Roman Forum" for having 100 percent attendance.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL PARENT TEACHERS' CLUB

The Junior High School Parent Teachers' club held an interesting meeting Thursday.

Mrs. Harvey's class gave a very entertaining program and received the flag for having the largest number of mothers present.

A committee was appointed by the president, Mrs. Bean to arrange for purchasing a piano for the auditorium.

THANKS FROM LEPER CHILDREN GIVEN TO RED CROSS

Christiansted, St. Croix, Leper Island, June 3, 1924.

To American Red Cross Service: Kindly receive this letter of thanks from we, school children of the Leper Asylum, we are very thankful for all those enormous boxes, which when opened lay forth beautiful things that we never thought of. I am glad that we are permitted to write ourselves through Dr. Oliphant to the Red Cross Society and it will be found over by the Missionary Mr. Maturin (Moran), who is also a brother. I not only saw him in person, but he communed with us and I saw the mark on his coat the left side a Red Cross Society button. Every one will now realize how we receive him, and how glad we are when he gave his mission. Every member will know what joy and sensation of happiness is caused among us. Every member can only realize our heart felt joy, and gratitude, for a continuous love, that though we are set aside here on this isolated site with this horrible disease, come far away love, extended to us. To make us happy and comfortable. You will find a list of requirements for our school if Red Cross Society can supply same we will be most thankful.

We close with love and much thanks.

Yours,
Leper School Children,
Teacher in Charge,
Joseph Williams.

This letter was written by the school children in the Leper Asylum at St. Croix, Virgin Islands. The list of supplies have already been furnished by the Junior Red Cross. The Lubbock Quota was fifty kits and were furnished by rural people largely. That these little children living behind a high wall separated from the rest of the world by miles of ocean appreciate knowing that there are happy healthy children that are remembering them in their isolation and sickness and reaching out to help them make their lot a little brighter and happier, but shows that the Junior Red Cross has chosen well when it took for its motto "Service." A junior can not give money and become a member, but must render a service. It is the purpose of the Red Cross to get in touch with children in all parts of the globe and by establishing health programs and interchange of ideas and work by correspondence to help the children of one country to become acquainted with the method of living of the school systems, the home, life, the religion, and government.

The Mission Study Class of the Methodist Church met in its regular study hour last Monday afternoon. Interest continues to grow under the able leadership of Mrs. W. O. Stevens. The Home Mission book, "The Debt Eternal," is the book now being studied by the class. This book presents the views of the Sociologists and Social Workers on the home life of the child, his health and his play and recreation. It deals with the relations of the home to outside activities, taking up the cases of wage-earning mothers and giving causes of parental failure with children's remedies.

John H. Finley, the author, says that we need to remember that the supreme debt of all people today is to teach the children what has been handed down to us so that they may be able to realize that which we have straggled toward in our last moments and in our highest aspirations and our most unselfish deeds.

Ways in which this responsibility may be met by the home, the school and the church are suggested.

The last meeting was devoted to the study of the value of play in the child's life. The fact that play is a primary instinct in child-life was strongly brought out. Play leads the way into work with children. Playing at home, at school, on city play grounds and in recreational centers were topics discussed. The responsibility of the community in control of amusements, music, libraries and mo-

FAMED "RED VIRGIN" OF FRANCE MAKES THREE UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPTS AT HER OWN LIFE AS AFTERMATH LOVE AFFAIRS

By United Press.
By WEBB MILLER.

PARIS, Nov. 1.—For personal reasons, Germaine Berton the famed "Red Virgin" tried three times to kill herself today.

Writhing with pain from the effects of poison she was picked up in the Nave of the Church of Our Holy Lady of Lourdes, at Belleville.

The girl will live, perhaps to reveal the truth about the unsolved mystery of one of the most dramatic love affairs of modern times.

It was near the grave of young Philippe Daudet, son of the royalist leader whom Germaine once attempted to assassinate that she made her first attempt to suicide today. The name of the Daudet youth who died by his own hand in a taxicab while on a mission similar to that in which the "Red Virgin" failed—the murder of his father—has been connected with that of Mlle. Berton, herself not yet 20, in a romance without parallel.

She was the dreaded youthful anarchist, the "furbished assassin" who coolly slew one of Daudet's editors, Plateau, when she went to find Daudet in his office.

The youth was Daudet's choice, on whom Communists with the lure of Germaine's unknissed lips persuaded to become an anarchist and accepted a commission to murder his father. On the way to his home to carry out the orders of the anarchists, he repented, and shot himself instead.

Previously to the affair of young Philippe Daudet, who was but 16 years old, Mlle. Berton had been acquitted of murder of the editor Plateau. Coolly facing Daudet in the court room, she said:

"I am sorry I didn't kill you too."

She left the court house with a shrug of her shoulders, a cigarette dangling from the "unkissed lips" a scarlet Tam O'Shanter which with her predilection for deeds of violence had won her the title of the "Red Virgin" cocked jauntily on her bobbed curls.

A few weeks later she was caught in a police raid on a Communist cache in Bordeaux, in company with 15 desperate criminals.

Then came the unexplained affair of Philippe Daudet. The communists always maintained that the lad came to them voluntarily, professed a communist belief and volunteered to assassinate his father.

Leon Daudet, the father is the moving spirit of the "Came Lots" a royalist organization which is always at war with the extremist on the other wing.

Rumors of a romance between young Daudet and the "Red Virgin" having about it something of the flavor of Romeo and Juliet in the bitterness of the opposing factions of which they were the youthful followers, stirred Paris for days after Philippe's death.

The actual facts concerning his suicide never have been known.

Leon Daudet, also asserted that the anarchists lured his son away from home and killed the boy to revenge themselves upon him. His paper was more virulent than ever in its denunciation of communists and the latter fought the royalists more bitterly than ever.

Aside from her striking public appearance at the funeral of Antoine France, Mlle. Berton had not been conspicuous in the public prints of late. Rumors had it that the young girl who had calmly shot one of her enemies, a man of 40, to death, faced a trial jury with a smile, hobnobbed with the murderers in the underworld and led street fights, was sorrowing either through remorse or love for the dead Daudet boy.

Today Germaine sought the cemetery within which Philippe was buried, the folds of her blouse concealing her revolver and vial of poison with the use of which she was not unfamiliar.

"There were too many people around," she said, in the hospital tonight, explaining why she had not killed herself there.

She went to the hospital to which Philippe was taken while dying and tried to kill herself with the revolver. She missed, succeeding only in inflicting a slight wound.

Then she sought the cool nave of Notre Dame de Lourdes and took the poison.

Beyond whispering through tortured lips that the reasons for her attempted suicide were "personal" she made no statement.

Several New York institutions will combine to spend twenty million dollars in establishing the greatest medical center in the world.

LOCAL MAN FAINTS ON STREET HERE LAST NIGHT

Agute dilation of the heart caused Phillip Williams, local cotton buyer, to faint, while talking with friends on the street in front of the A. B. Conley, Jr., store at ten o'clock last night.

He fell, limp, to the sidewalk, his head striking the curb and a slight incision above the left eye was sustained.

He was rushed to Bowen's Drug store where prompt medical attention was given him and after a few minutes he was able to be taken home. Late reports from the home are that he is believed to be out of danger.

Work Going Fast On New Gymnasium at Teachers' College

CANYON, Nov. 1.—Work is progressing rapidly on the new gymnasium which is being built at the West Texas State Teachers College. Students will do one-half of the rough labor on the building which will be completed about Christmas.

The gymnasium will cost $22,000 when completed. The money being largely raised by the people, students and faculty of the Teachers College.

It will provide a playing floor of 52 x 90 feet and seats 1,500 people. It is to be equipped with modern flood lights. It must be used during the basketball season and will enable many more people to see the games.

With its roadway 100 feet above the Hudson river, Bear Mountain bridge near Peekskill, N. Y., has just been finished and is the longest suspension bridge in the world, 1,032 feet.
