Federation and Citizenship Program given By Lubbock Club

The four study clubs of Lubbock met in joint session Tuesday afternoon and a very fine program was rendered combining two subjects of interest to club women, "Federation and Citizenship."

It is very fitting that this program should come during national "Education Week" for education in Federation work means better preparation for service to the club women and what better education could be than in "Citizenship?"

The house was called to order by Mrs. Joe Hilton, the president of the Junior Twentieth Century Club and was then turned to the leader for the afternoon, Mrs. S. H. Stewart.

The program began with the song "America the Beautiful" led by Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Hilton.

Mrs. J. H. Hankins, of the Athenaeum club read a most inspiring paper on the "Aims and Plans of our Citizenship Program" pointing out that in order to develop the perfect citizen that one should be trained from babyhood.

Mrs. R. H. Martin of the Delphin Club, spoke on "American Ideals, American Conditions and America's Enemies," bringing some very clear and thoughtful ideas before the club.

"Vocational Education as a Means to Better Citizenship" was the subject of a splendid talk by Miss Mae Murfee, who represented the Twentieth Century Club.

Mrs. W. L. Baugh of the Athenaeum Club spoke on "Federated Clubs as an Aid to the World Peace Program" telling of the constructive work done by the leaders in the national and international Federation of Clubs.

The Kiwanians will entertain their wives and guests Thursday evening of this week at the Armory building. The banquet will be at seven-thirty.

MUSICAL TEA FRIDAY EVENING AT ELKS HALL. A musical tea and benefit party will be given at the Elks Club Friday evening at eight o'clock by the Lubbock Music Club.

The committee has no power to make these returns public in open hearings. Political Question Thrown In

The question as to whether organized labor will form an independent political party — to be known as a labor party — was put squarely up to the federation. The proposal submitted by the Operative Potters Union and the International Moulders promises a lively fight on the convention floor as Samuel Gompers and his cabinet are opposed to any such action.

Countering to the labor party resolution is one by the Order of Railway Telegraphers asking the convention to endorse and approve labor's non-partisan policy. The resolution, which will likely be adopted by a majority of the delegates, also asks the convention to "endorse and approve the position taken by labor in the campaign of 1924."

The debate on the labor party movement and the proposal to condemn Stone is not expected to reach the floor of the convention before the end of the week, as the various committees to which they were submitted are confronted with a vast amount of work.

ENGLAND FEARS U. S. SUPREMACY IN AIR TRAFFIC AS AIRSHIPS ARE TO FEATURE IN BOTH PASSENGER AND MAIL SERVICE

By CLARENCE DU ROSE
LONDON, Nov. 17.—The United States is destined to lead the world in international aerial transportation, some experts here predict.

The flight of the ZR-3, from Germany to New Jersey, the acquisition of that airship by the United States, and the plan by German Zeppelin experts to join Americans in building dirigibles at Akron, Ohio, mark the beginning, many here believe, of a new aerial era—in which America will take first place.

Transportation men here say that the United States will accomplish in the air all that she failed to do on the sea.

By that they mean that the U. S. Shipping Board boats failed in the North Atlantic to take away the business of the other companies, mostly British, plying between New York and England and Channel ports. They mean that American outfits have failed to grab the North Atlantic carrying trade on the surface of the sea—and they mean, look out if the Yanks ever start to running airships instead of steamboats across the Atlantic.

And the ZR-3 paves the way for America to do just that thing, authorities on this side declare.

Between 1914 and 1918 the Germans made amazing developments in the Zeppelin. Now, with German experts who know all the secrets, working at Akron with Americans, who are certainly not shy in either skill, inventiveness or money, the ultimate product is expected to surpass the present creations—and when that is done a regular trans-Atlantic aerial passenger and goods carrying service will be simple enough.

In four years, from 1914 to 1918, the Germans increased the volume of lifting gas in Zeppelins from 794,250 to 3,812,400 cubic feet; increased the "useful load" from 8 tons to 22 tons; increased the speed from 47 to 83 miles per hour. Most important of all, the "aerostatic coefficient of utilization" was increased from 29 per cent in 1914 to 89 per cent in 1918. This "co-efficient" expresses the relation between the useful load which an airship can carry and the total weight of that airship. It means that in 1912 two-thirds of the load was wasted. Most of the load the Zeppelin carried then was itself. Now more than half its load is "useful"—that is, passengers, freight, mail, baggage.

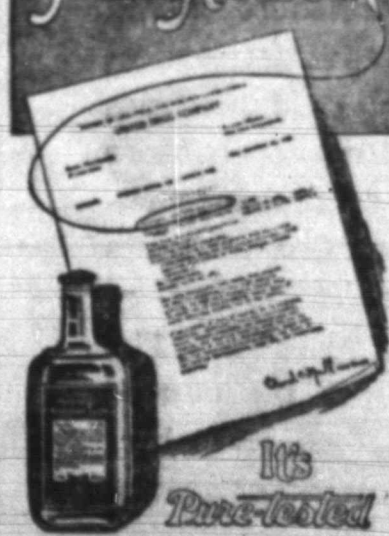

Experts point to this progress and say: "Great guns! If the Germans and the Americans get together in building Zeppelins and combine the improvement—as no doubt they will—there's no telling how far they will go! And no other European country can even touch them. No other country even has a start. They'll have the Atlantic air trade grabbed."

Steamships cannot materially increase their present Atlantic schedules. Even so speed up a few knots an hour runs up huge, and disproportionate coal or oil bill, and the few hours gained in the crossing is not worth while from a business standpoint. It is utterly impossible for steamships to compete in speed with airships. Heavy shipments and relatively slow traffic, freight and passenger, will no doubt continue always to go by ship—but the fast stuff, passenger, mail and goods will be zipping over the Atlantic in American Zeppelins, operating on regular bi-weekly service before very many years—if the dopsters on this side know what they are talking about.

George White and Rip Guitler, of Big Spring, were in Lubbock Tuesday on business.

Attorney G. E. Lockhart, of Tahoka, attended district court here Tuesday.

By Analytical Test

Analytical tests show that PURETEST MINERAL OIL (Russian Type) possesses a very high specific gravity, as well as a viscosity (body) that is equal to, if not exceeding, other types of heavy medicinal mineral oil.

When you add to this the fact that PURETEST MINERAL OIL is odorless and tasteless, you will understand why we recommend it so strongly. Mineral Oil is a wonderful intestinal lubricant, and in the PURETEST, you get it at its best.

Friday and Saturday Tom Mix and Tony, the wonder horse, will be presented in Zane Grey's "The Last of the Duanes", and will doubtless attract large audiences.

Jack Holt in "Wanderer of the Wasteland" Monday and Tuesday was one of the most appreciated programs enjoyed here this season and Manager Lindsey received many compliments upon showing this picture in Lubbock. This was the first feature length picture to be shown in natural colors here, and created much interest in this feature of moving pictures, and will have a wholesome influence upon attracting large audiences when similar pictures are shown in the future, two to be shown in natural colors having already been announced by Mr. Lindsey.

ACTION IS STARTED FOR PUBLICATION OF TAX LISTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Presentation of evidence against six or seven newspapers in widely separated parts of the country in connection with recent publication of income tax lists has been started by the department of justice attorney general Stone announced Tuesday night. He declined to name the papers involved or the cities in which they are located.

The fact that Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general who probably will have charge of these cases left Tuesday for Chicago and Kansas City was regarded as significant. It was also considered probable that some of the papers against which action is sought are located in the east and on the Pacific coast. The attorney general said six or seven papers had been selected, after long consideration of all elements involved. Typical cases which will cover all points in ques-

MUSTANGS AND BEARS, UNDEFEATED, FACE HARD GAMES

CONFERENCE IN WORSE TANGLE THAN BEFORE

By DON C. KIRKLEY
 FORT WORTH, Nov. 18.—With a pair of claimants for the title springing up as the result of the Saturday game at Dallas between S. M. U. and Baylor, the conference title is in a worse tangle than it was before the game.

It was the third tie in a schedule of five conference games for the Methodists, and first tie in four games for the Baptists of Baylor, but under a new ruling enacted by the governing body of the conference last year, the championship must be divided between the two unless the unexpected comes to pass, and one of the two claimants is defeated on Thanksgiving Day.

S. M. U. and Baylor fought bitterly for their title game, Walling of S. M. U. got the touchdown, and Baylor right on their heels in the second period, when Coates star lineman of the Bears smashed his way through and around the Mustangs line for the first time with Jack Jones wrattling the score on his placement kick. There was great football to follow in the two and one-half periods that remained for play there were spectacular advances and shifts in yardage and position, but never again was either goal line seriously threatened. S. M. U. fighting their way twice in the last half to the Baylor thirty-five yard line. Baylor coming back into Mustang territory to the forty yard line.

Early in the first period, a placement kick by Jones, Baylor missed the goal post, being the only play that would have affected the final score.

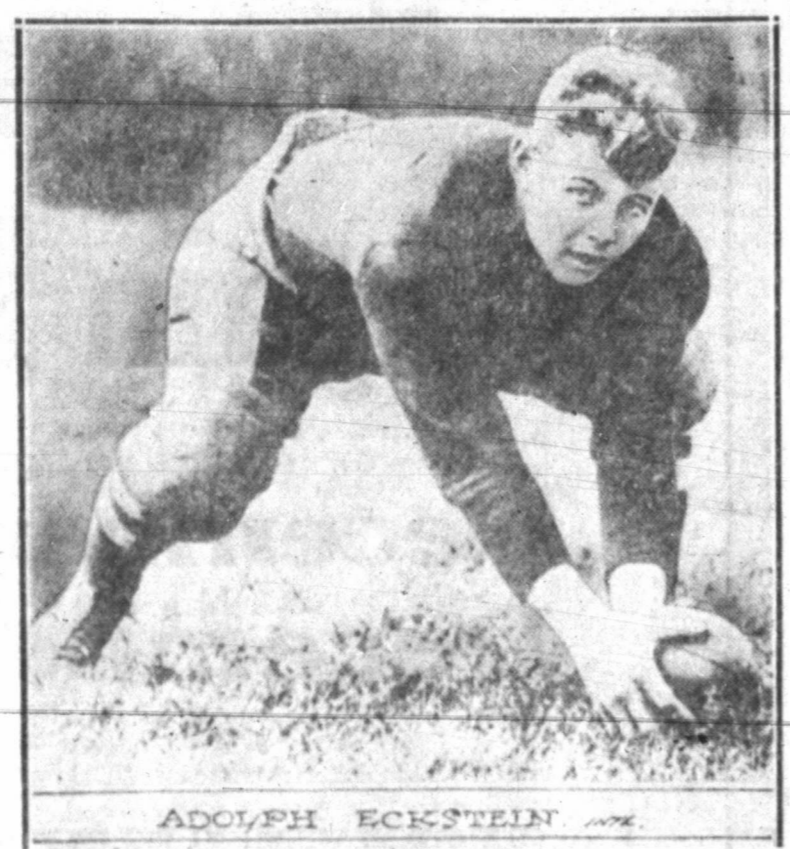

Texas University having lost all conference games this season, came back at Fort Worth and defeated the Texas Christian University eleven 13-0 in a game that was replete with thrills, furnished by the hard-fighting frogs.

Texas, with Jim Marley leading their attack, plowed thru the Frog line for sixteen downs, against the Frogs two, making their first touchdown by a steady march to the Frog goal, going over for touchdown in the first five minutes of play, making four first downs in succession. Marley finally carrying the ball over the right kicked goal for the added point. T. C. U. fought the Texas team away from their goal posts until late in the fourth period, when a series of line bucks carried the ball well into the Frog territory, a pass from Smith to Wright, and a thirty yard run by Wright, accounted for another touchdown. Earlier in the fourth period, a miraculously caught pass by Rouse, T. C. U., with a perfect interference, and a sixty-yard empty field in front of him, looked like the tying score, but his eager need was too fast for his feet and he stumbled after running about ten yards, three Texas men covering him before he could get up and start again. This was T. C. U.'s only threat at scoring, the ball being in their territory most of the game, where their brilliant defensive work called forth much admiration from the Texas rooters.

At College Station the over-confident Rice Owls were trounced by the Texas Aggies in a poorly played game, 12-6, with the brilliant offensive of the Aggies it's only redeeming feature. This game eliminated Rice from the conference race for first honors, and gave the Farmers a slim chance of pulling thru and grabbing it for themselves.

Most of the interest in football is centered on the outcome of the Texas State-Texas A. & M. battle at Austin Thanksgiving Day, when the two ancient rivals meet for their annual Turkey Day struggle. With thousands of the "old boys" present to cheer for their respective colleges there will be a battle royal. This game will also mark the formal dedication of Texas' new $300,000 stadium, and if determination to win is the factor that brings suc-

LIFE BLOOD PAYS FOR COLLEGE TUITION.

ADOLPH ECKSTEIN

It has just been discovered that Adolph Eckstein, star of the Brown University, Providence, R. I., football team and captain of the wrestling team, has been working his way through college by selling his blood, in pint lots, for transfusions. Eckstein, considered an all-American center, has been urged by the coaches to find some other means of earning his way through college, because they fear he will undermine his tremendous strength.

son, then The Texas State will be the victor in the struggle, but with the Aggies the more powerful team on the face of their past performances, it will be a difficult matter to pick a winner until the game is over.

Baylor and Rice tangle on Thanksgiving Day, and should John Beaman's Oats defeat Baylor, and S. M. U. win from Oklahoma A. & M., then the Methodists are the undisputed champions of the conference. The other way around, if the strong Oklahoma team whips S. M. U., while Baylor beats Rice, then the Bears are titleholders.

Texas Christian University and Arkansas State play at Fayetteville, Arkansas, but as neither is in the race for first place, this game will not have any bearing on the final conference winner.

Standing of the teams to date, games played, won, lost, tied, scores made, and their opponents scores, is as follows:

Team	P	W	L	T	Pts.	Pts.
Baylor	4	3	1	0	100	63
S. M. U.	5	2	0	3	1,000	44
Tex. A & M.	4	2	1	1	667	55
Rice	3	2	1	0	667	32
Texas	4	1	3	0	250	35

BERMUDA NO PLACE FOR BALL PLAYERS PEGLER SAYS

(By WESTBROOK PEGLER)
 HAMILTON, BERMUDA, Nov. 18.—Once upon a long time past, the manager of a professional ball club bent a romantic eye to the blaudily Bermuda boosters and brought his athletes down here to train for 154 games of ball. He has never come back and he'll never come back anymore. And Bermuda has ceased to compete, with the west coast of Florida, and Louisiana, Texas and Cullinan as a training ground for the notable athletes of America's national obsession.

There are distractions in New Orleans, where the Yankees do their spring training. San Antonio, where the Giants trained for years, was no longer dry, psalm singing villages, either. Bermuda was a place where a snappy infielder was expected to catch an endless round of fast high-balls in the evening workout and where the expensable winners of the royal baseball flannel had to ride home in a limp condition with their feet dangling over the dashboards of the hacks in order to prove themselves true sportsmen.

Therefore, Bermuda though the place is only two days from the Atlantic seaboard and enjoys a climate as soft and consistent as a mother's love, is no place at all for a ball club.

Some ball teams, such as the Giants, with their spy system and their manly attitude of suspicion, are kept in line by intimidation and threats of suspension, or worse. But there are not many teams which are ruled in that manner. The Pittsburgh club, for example, was a rather happy-go-lucky crowd and the players were requested, not commanded, to take care of themselves, which may account for the erratic playing of the Pittsburgh club during the last year.

When America was a wet country and when people were accustomed to seeing rum pots on the street corners, the temptation to the athletes was exercised evenly throughout the year. But to take him now from a dry United States to a dripping humid Bermuda in the gulf stream where the saloon doors always swing open, is another matter. Club discipline could hardly conquer the temptations of the island that fills the rum boats of the New York 12 mile line.

GRANGE STILL LEADS POINT SCORERS
 URBANA, Ill., Nov. 18.—Howard "Red" Grange, thunderbolt of the Big Ten gridiron warriors, is out of the game for the season as a result of injuries received Saturday when Minnesota crushed the Illinois and knocked them out of the championship race. Grange's shoulder blade is torn loose and will require about two weeks to heal.

Ohio State will be here next Saturday for the last game of the season and Coach Zuppke has no hope of putting Grange into the game. Grange was almost completely stopped by the hard hitting Minnesota team. He did make one touchdown, the only score made by him, but after that he was smothered one or more players smashing through and mauling him for losses. Grange still leads the conference in the scoring race. He has made thirteen touchdowns for seventy eight points.

RENAULT AND ROJAS TO FIGHT 10 ROUNDS NOV. 25
 By United News
 BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 18.—Quintin Romero Rojas, Chilean heavyweight, has been matched with Jack Renault, rising young Canadian heavyweight, for a 10-round decision bout here November 25, the Commercial Athletic Club announced Tuesday.

The announcement followed refusal of the state boxing commission to allow the Commercial Club to conduct its scheduled fight between Sully Montgomery former Centre College football star and Lee Anderson, a Buffalo heavyweight.

The boxing commission ruled that Anderson wasn't a fit opponent for Montgomery.

BASKETBALL GIRLS OF L. H. S. HAVE A GOOD LINE-UP

The girls of Lubbock high school are going to have an excellent basketball team this season. They have been in training for nearly two months and their efforts are showing up favorably. Up until now no one has taken an interest in girls' athletics in Lubbock. But they deserve as much attention as boys' athletes, so let's all get behind them and show them that we believe in them and their efforts. They play Plainview at Plainview, Saturday, night, November 22. Everyone who can should go and help them win this game.

FULTON IS CHARGED WITH VIOLATING BOXING LAW

By United News
 LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—Fred Fulton, Minnesota heavyweight, has signed for a decision battle against the state of California.

The big plasterer, dejected and almost on the verge of tears, was brought before chief prosecutor Burton Pitts of the District Attorney's office Tuesday afternoon to explain his part in Monday night's boxing program at Culver City, where, according to insiders, he "quit cold" to Tony Fuente, "Mexican wild cat" after only 30 seconds of fighting.

After a lengthy questioning by Pitts, Fulton was charged with violation of the state boxing law. The offense is a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of from $100 to $1,000, or imprisonment of 30 days to one year. The fighter was released on $1,000 bond after confessing according to Pitts, that he had accepted 25 percent of the gate receipts at the Culver City fight.

Under state law, only "amateur boxing contests of four rounds" are permitted here.

In a statement to reporters Fulton denied that the bout was a frame up. "I have a weak heart," the big boxer said. "Fuentes' first blow had me groggy. When he hit me over the heart I thought I'd lie down for nine counts to get a rest, but I guess I missed a count. I did the best I could and no one can do any more than that."

Fred's accounts of the terrific chin wallop which the Mexican inflicted were not verified by any signs of punishment on his face. His skin was pink and smooth and there was no discolored flesh.

Jack Reddy, of St. Paul, Fulton's manager, was hailed before the district attorney's investigators shortly after Fulton and brought with him a handling packed as for a journey.

"The big bum laid down cold" were Reddy's first words. "I should have known better than to have made a match for him."

Reddy admitted that Fulton had urged friends in the east not to lay any heavy bets on him for the fight. He had warned them that it might not be safe, Reddy said.

Both Fulton and Reddy have received $875 for the bout and expect to get more "when this thing blows over," they said.

A search is being made for Fuente and his manager, Fred Windsor. Neither has been seen since the "fight" and both are expected to be charged with Fulton with violation of the state boxing law when they can be found.

Attorney H. C. Pipkin, of Amarillo, was in Lubbock Tuesday to represent the Panhandle Santa Fe Railway company in a damage suit in the District court here.

Criqui To Try For Comeback Despite Serious Injuries

(By JOHN O'BRIEN)
 PARIS, Nov. 18.—Lady Luck is counting ten over the prostrate form of Eugene Criqui, the plucky little Frenchman, who interrupted a brilliant ring career to join the army during the war, and who came out of the racket with a silver jaw, and won the world featherweight championship in spite of his injuries.

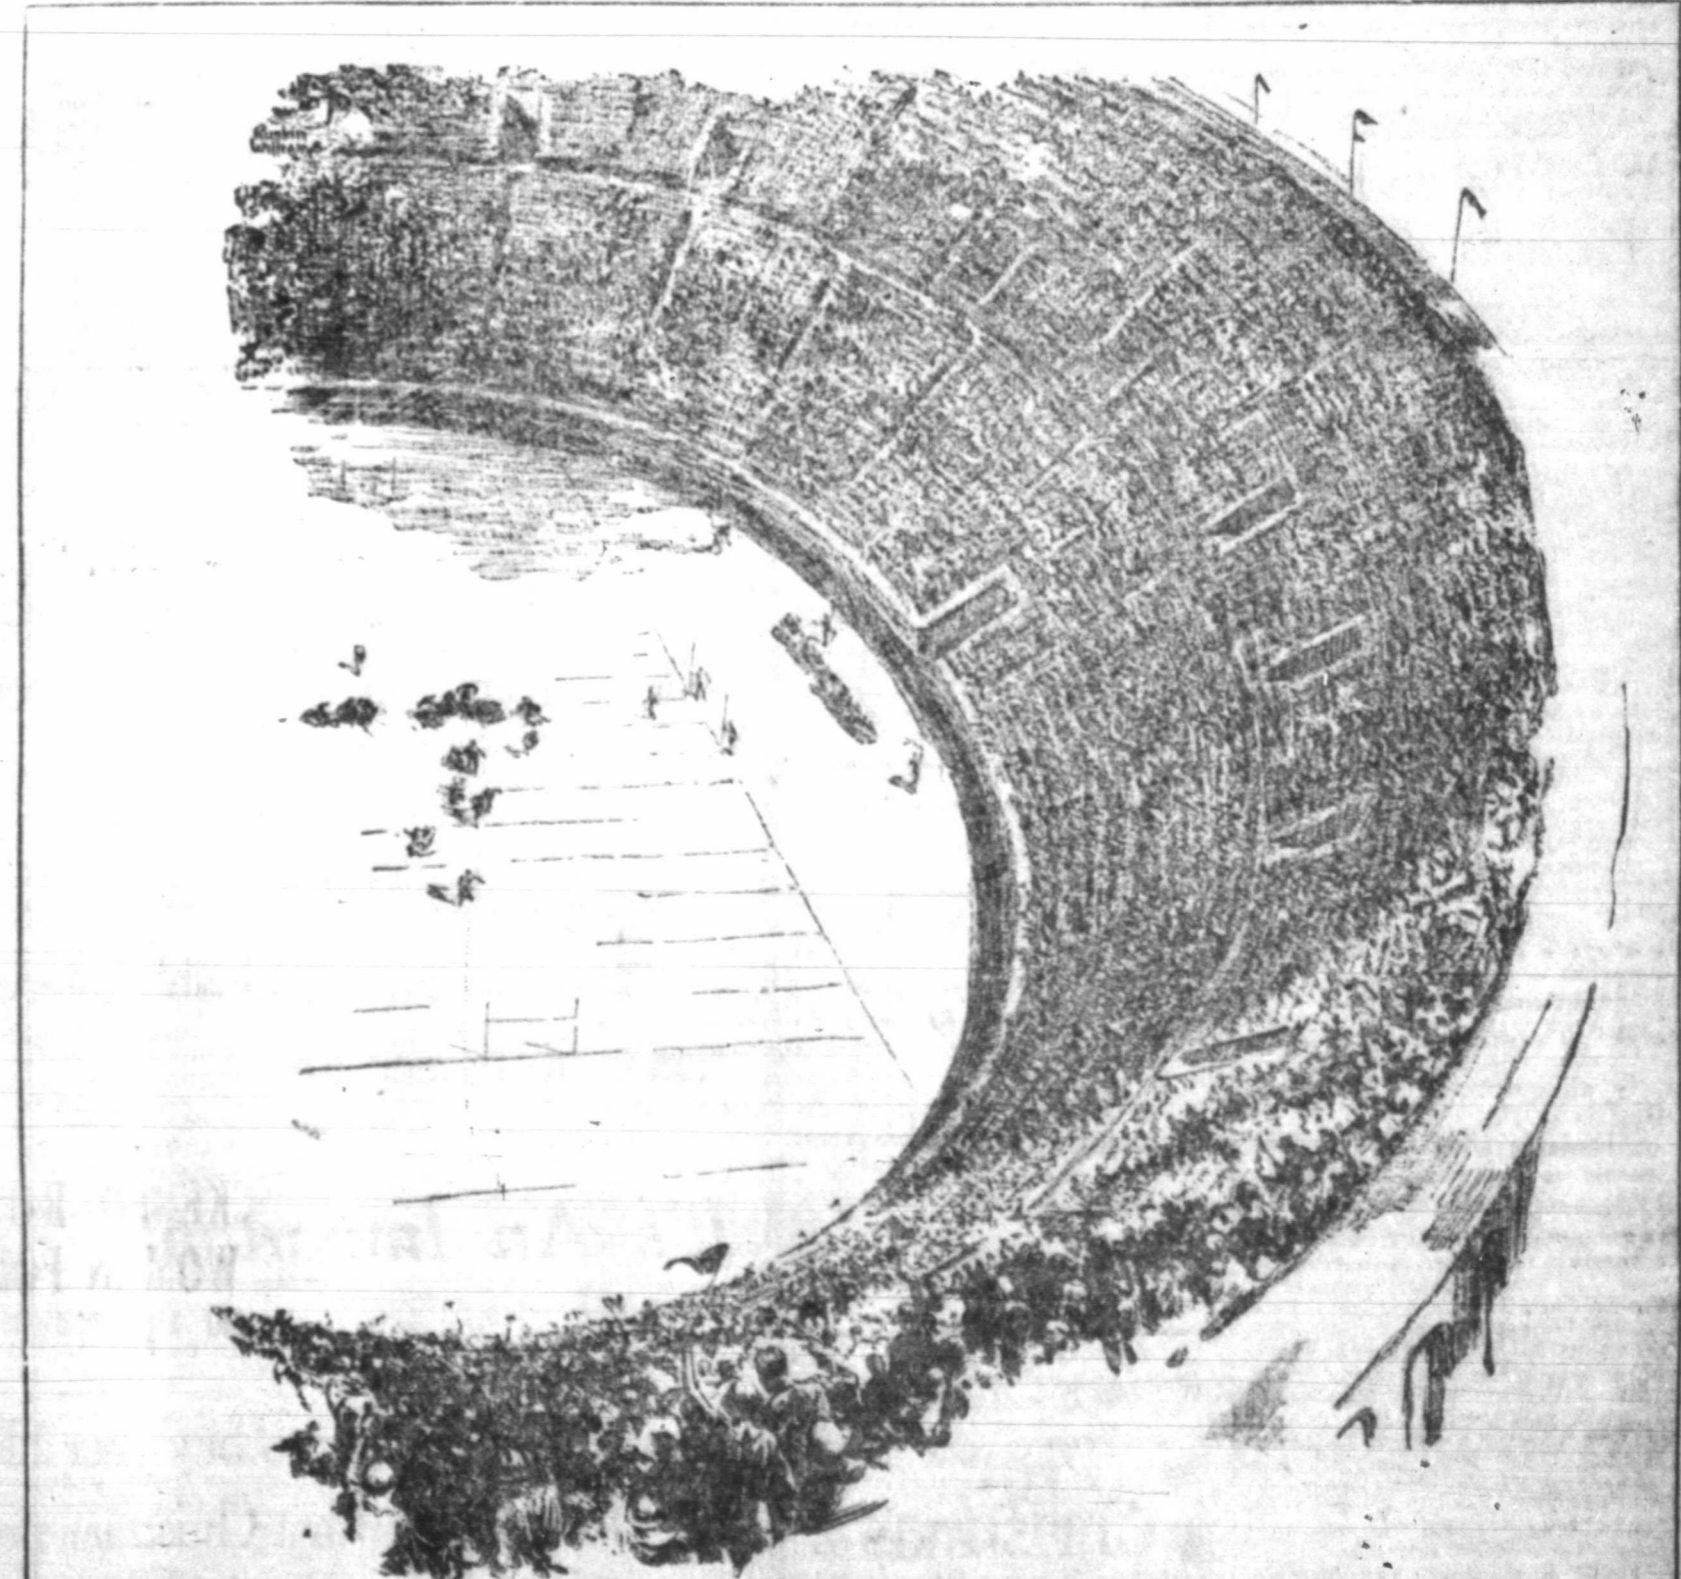

Criqui is physically down and out, and likewise broke. He is trying to get himself in shape to go into the ring again, but two severe beatings from the fists of Johnny Lundee and

BORDER PATROL AND ANTI-RUM FLEETS ACTIVE IN EAST

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Border patrols of the prohibition land forces and the anti-rum fleet that scoots around the lower bay and out on the rolling waters beyond Sandy Hook to prevent thirsty New Yorkers from indulging their taste for alcohol are having a practice go against the transporters of Thanksgiving liquor. It is a preliminary test of strength in preparation for the real struggle to come during the first three weeks of December when a great number of public spirited bootleggers will risk broken necks, drowning and jail in an effort to put a bottle in every stocking that is hung up in New York on Christmas morning.

The rum flood across the Canadian border has subsided to a trickle, according to state police reports. The fresh water and deep sea navy of the Valstead forces say that liquor smuggling has become a small time business. Despite these assurances of aridity liquor continues plentiful in New York and prices aren't going up either. For fifty cents you can pour your own drink of "Scotch" or "rye" in a number of second rate bars. For sixty cents a drink may be had at a small table in slightly better class places. Another forty cents added to the tariff provides a garish drinking place with hopeful ladies waiting around and a small orchestra. Beyond that price there are all sorts of bizzar night time play places where the wine lists offer champagne.

But during the six months ended on November 1, the Canadian border patrol maintained by the state police confiscated 202 automobiles containing alcoholic beverages valued at $110,150. The cars were appraised at $25,754. The dry navy has averaged at least one confiscation a day since last spring. The most notable seizure was that of the speedy "cigarette" taken last week after more than 12 months of successful evasion of the dry fleet.

Hi jackers have deserted the Canadian border roads because there is not enough liquor being smuggled through to make hijacking worth while, according to the police.

Despite all these dolorous portents the glasses clink from the battery to the Bronx and the bootleggers are preparing to cash in on the American habit of combining Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years with various mixtures containing alcohol.

W.C.T.U. Luncheon
Products all Made
In Former Saloons

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Newly elected officers of the W. C. T. U. holding their national convention here were guests at a luncheon Monday at which everything on the menu was produced in shops which were formerly saloons or breweries.

At each plate cards described graphically that the cheese had come from a shop which had once been "big Tim's place" or that butter had come from the building where beer was once manufactured.

The national president, Miss Anna A. Gordon, drank a toast to prohibition with water that sparkled from a beer stein.

At Monday's session the organization adopted numerous resolutions including one which expressed satisfaction over the progress of the fight to bring about world prohibition.

Another resolution condemned war saying "war cannot be prevented while it is legal, and sanctioned."

MARKETS

PERSISTENT CLIMB OF ALL PRICES CONTINUES

(By EDWARD J. CONLON)
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Moving ahead confidently but without the gusto which characterized the earlier days of the present bull movement in the stock market, the Tuesday session scored new highs in an impressive list of both railroad and industrial shares. Records that have stood for a dozen years were shattered as the persistent climb of prices continued.

The ranchers ended the third day of their vigil over water which they claim has been unjustly taken from them by installing searchlights, and scanning all roads as automobiles or horsemen swing into sight.

NEW ORLEANS—Cotton was strong today and prices averaged about 30 higher than the previous close. Good spot and day goods were absorbing the offerings and strong stock market tended to stimulate bullish operations and the market was well sustained from start to finish. Reports of rising grain and private loans that the eastern states are not likely to come up to government estimates were helpful in view of the fact that the spinning forecast so far issued ranges from 10,510,000 to 10,985,000. Many in the trade are inclined to accept such estimates as unduly conservative and private estimates ranging from 12,000,000 to about 13,000,000.

SPAIN IS TRYING TO DESTROY BOURBON DYNASTY

EDITORS NOTE—Senor Santiago Alba who was secretary of state in Spain when General Primo de Rivera turned out the constitutional government, and with the support of King Alfonso, installed himself as dictator, is working in Paris with Vincent Blasco Ibañez, and other Spaniards to destroy the Bourbon dynasty and to force de Rivera from power. In the following exclusive story Senor Alba tells of the conditions in his country.

BY SANTIAGO ALBA
Former Spanish Secretary of State
Copyright 1924 By United News
PARIS, Nov. 18.—The imposition afforded many more guarantees of law, order and safety than does the group of mediocre generals, headed by Primo de Rivera which is disgracing Spain before the whole world. It is very sad for me, a Spaniard—to acknowledge the plight of Spain.

The police have utilized old quarrels of the syndicalists of Barcelona to attract groups of syndicalists who are refugees in France to come across the border. Even worse is the bloody comedy of the poor devils of the civil guard, and the gendarmes as well as the insurgents who either lose their lives or live a precarious existence full of doubt.

Spanish evolution will follow a movement which progressively increases its speed, and the army will not be resigned to an ambitious, vulgar despot. The fundamental essentials of the Spanish national organization have been lost through disloyalty.

The vase containing the work of history in Spain has been broken so that no art can possibly put it together again. The new constitutional Spain, inspired by the energies which are at great contemporary democracies—liberty—the possession of one's rights, and social justice—will be the work of the country and in its name, through parliament, it will come and come soon. I do not know a single man in politics in my country who would accept the task of forming a government under King Alfonso, without blushing with shame.

Infamous accusations were heaped upon me during the first days of the coup d'etat. My home was sequestered, my belongings and papers were rifled—nothing was left undisturbed.

That is the life in Spain at present.

The recent uprisings in Cantabria are nothing but the fruit of machinations of politicians in the service of General Rivera's directorate. Already the directorate realizes that the entire nation, including those who supported it during its first days of power, are frankly opposed to Primo de Rivera, and his accomplices—both high and low.

General De Rivera is spreading the alarm that Spain would fall into the hands of revolutionaries who would dismember the country if he is overthrown. This is to frighten people into supporting him. He defies the truth.

That is why the directorate forbids any French newspapers to entertain Spain and why many English and American journals are excluded. In this way, the directorate is able to reduce to absurd uprisings, members which otherwise certainly would be successful. Consignment after consignment of troops are sent to Africa, regardless of military training, forgetful that a large number of European soldiers in that part of the world is an obstacle instead of an advantage to effective military action.

All of Spain will rise some day and ask:

What has become of the soldiers and the millions of pesos which have been consumed so foolishly at the order of men living amid the luxury of Palaces.

Danny Frush have left the little man but a shadow of his former self. The silver jaw has taken so many hard ones on the button that Criqui may never again be able to risk it against a padded glove.

Johnny Kihane delivered the featherweight championship to Criqui after the Frenchman whipped him in New York. Before the fight Criqui had promised to mix it with Johnny before he went home.

With his new crown scarcely settled on his head, Criqui did the unheard of thing. He kept his word and gave Dundee a chance at the title and was given a terrific beating in return. Back home came Criqui with a comfortable fortune. An invitation to fight for charity brought Criqui into a Parisian ring against Danny Frush. Georges Carpentier had refused to appear on this occasion and Criqui might well have claimed the right to rest, but he fought. Frush pounded Criqui's silver jaw and finally knocked him out.

The investments of Criqui proved unsound. Criqui is practically broke and his jaw is in such condition that he may never be able to fight again. Invitations to box have come to Criqui from the U. S. and South America but Criqui himself doesn't know whether he ever will be able to accept them.

MISSOURI VALLEY TEAMS BEGIN WORK OUTS FOR FINAL GRID BATTLES

By International News Service.
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 18.—With the peak of the Missouri Valley Conference football season in history Saturday, six of the ten universities remaining in 1924 schedules games started preparation yesterday for their final contests.

Missouri and Kansas face a ten day rest before Thanksgiving when the two ancient rivals clash in the oldest inter-state football classic of the Middle West at Columbia. The two teams battled to a 3 to 3 tie last Turkey Day at Lawrence amid old-fashioned Kansas blizzard and in 1922 Missouri scored a touchdown margin victory at Columbia.

Drake University faces a real foe Saturday in Iowa State College in a game which will have an important bearing on the conference championship. Nebraska meets Kansas Aggies the same afternoon at Manhattan. The Farmers never have been able to slip over a victory on the Huskers but believe this year with the game on their gridiron, it will be a different story.

BIG TEN RANK AS THEY SCORE

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Western Conference standings on the basis of games won* and lost are almost identical with team standings in relation to the total points scored and opponents' points. The first three teams in the conference race stand in that order on comparative points for conference games only, and the first three are also the only teams with point majorities in their favor. Michigan has blanked her opponents three times while Iowa has done it twice. Minnesota and Northwestern each have been held scoreless twice.

*The total of points scored in conference games, with the teams listed as they stand in the conference ratings, follows:

Team	Games	Points	Op. Points
Chicago	5	69	30
Michigan	5	91	45
Illinois	4	103	59
Iowa	4	94	43
Purdue	3	13	29
Indiana	3	19	47
Minnesota	4	27	40
Ohio	5	23	31
Northwestern	4	20	44
Wisconsin	3	14	40

JOHNNY DUNDEE MAY RECLAIM HIS FORMER TITLE

By United News.
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Johnny Dundee, former world's featherweight champion, has changed his mind about vacating the title, and he may reclaim it. Charley Johnson, Dundee's manager, admitted Tuesday.

If Dundee, who is now in Europe where he is scheduled to fight several bouts, finds he can get down to weight again—without losing his strength, he will claim the title when he returns to this country. Meantime the first of the elimination contests arranged by the New York boxing commission to select a successor to Dundee will be held at the Madison Square Garden Friday despite any move on the part of the former holder of the title.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS BOOST PRESENTATION OF "CAPPY RIX"

Keen interest in the presentation of "Cappy Rix," at the High school auditorium here Tuesday, November 25th, is being shown by Lubbock people, and a large attendance is expected.

"Cappy Rix" is a play of high seas finance with the laughter of a dozen comedies and a dramatization of the famous "Cappy Rix" stories by Peter B. Kyne which ran in the Saturday Evening Post.

"Cappy Rix" is one of the greatest book plays ever written and these stories have been read by tens of thousands.

The play retains all the humor of the original stories and adds to them the joy of stage visualization.

Lubbock High School seniors insist that you don't fail to see "Cappy Rix."

NEGRO FORGER IS AMONG COUNTY BOARDERS

George Allen, negro, was lodged in jail here Saturday night on a charge of forgery.

The negro entered the Minter-Gamel Dry Goods store here on the morning of November 11th and presented the manager a check for $22.78 on P. H. Bostick, a Lubbock county farmer, which he said Mr. Bostick had given him for picking cotton.

The check was accepted by the merchant but when it was presented at the bank it was discovered that Mr. Bostick's signature was not on the check, but that it had been forged.

The negro was arrested Saturday night and his name will doubtless remain on the county's guest book in Sheriff Johnston's office for some time.

Organization of Klan in Canada is Being Opposed

By United News.
OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 18.—Provincial authorities of Ontario are vigorously opposing an attempt to organize a Canadian branch of the K. K. K.

One man, whose name is withheld and who the police claim is an American citizen, has been arrested at Hamilton, Ont., and officials of the province have asked the dominion government what action should be taken against him.

The prisoner was arrested by mounted police who went into the region around Hamilton, Chatham and St. Catharines to investigate the burning of five crosses. Burning of the crosses followed an announcement by attorney general Nettle that the Klan would find no welcome in Ontario. Nettle then ordered the investigation which resulted in the arrest of the alleged organizer from the United States.
