PRISON AUDITOR ASSAULTED

FIGHT OVER TAX PUBLICITY REPEAL LOOMS

ADHERENTS TO BILL IN FORMER SESSION SHIFT

ARGUMENT REVIVED AS INDICTMENT IS GAINED AGAINST NEWSPAPER

BY THOMAS L. STOKES WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—

A stiff fight over repeal of the income tax publicity section of the new revenue law, demanded from many quarters is brewing for the coming session of congress.

First signs of a change of opinion among members of congress came to light Thursday when Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, a democrat, who voted for the publicity amendment last session announced that he would vote for its repeal when the question is reopened. His announcement came as the department of justice secured its first indictment against a newspaper for publishing tax amounts, the Baltimore Post.

Indications of a battle immediately following Harrison's announcement, carried in a formal statement when Senator Norris, of Nebraska, author of the original amendment providing publicity of tax returns said he would oppose any move for repeal and if a strong fight seemed imminent, would push for adoption of his first amendment, which was thrown out in conference.

This provides for publication of the whole returns instead of just the amount of tax.

"While I supported the publicity features of the last income tax law, some of the defects of such a system did not then appear to me," Harrison said. "I am convinced that the practice will not encourage honest enterprise nor work to the general welfare of the whole country."

Harrison's changed view shows the reaction of public opinion. Whether the flare back will be strong enough to cause sufficient senators and representatives to change their positions and overthrow the tax publicity section is not known. Norris said he is confident that the attempt to repeal will fail. Among others there is the prediction that the section will be stricken from the law because of public reaction.

The Norris amendment was adopted in the senate by a vote of 41 to 26. It was discarded, however, in conference over the tax bill, and the milder section now in the law was adopted. There were 29 Senators who did not vote on the Norris amendment, ten of whom were paired, five for and five against. This would make the line up 46 to 31. Of the others who did not vote the probable count is 11 for and 8 against. This would make the count stand 57 to 39, with a majority of 18. A change of 10 or 12 votes in

ILLITERACY DAY.

James E. West, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America, said: "It took the great war, friends, to make us aware of the seriousness of conditions affecting the youth of America. . . . One out of every four was unable to read or write the English language. . . . the lack of general education among young men was such as to make almost impossible a proper understanding of what the war was all about."

The kindergarten gives children valuable training at a time when their service can be of no money value to their parents. These years from four to six should not be lost. If the children of your community have no kindergarten to which to go, write to the National Kindergarten Association, 8 West 40th Street, New York; they will gladly tell you how to proceed to obtain this privilege for them.

DRAIN APPEALS TO ORGANIZED LABOR TO JOIN WITH AMERICAN LEGION IN PROGRAM FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE

By United News.

EL PASO, Nov. 20.—Appeal to organized labor to join with the American Legion in its program to promote international peace and prevent another world war was made Thursday by General James A. Drain, commander of the American Legion addressing the convention of the American Federation of Labor. He said that the Legion's program called for world disarmament, adjudication of international disturbances through a joint court, and the enactment of a universal draft law, that would conscript labor industry, and finance in time of war.

"Until the nations of the world secure in disarmament and the adjudication of their disputes through an international court, said commander Drain, 'The United States must maintain a navy equal to any in the world, an army small but competent and capable an adequate air service; an adequate army and navy reserve, and industry must be kept current and prepared in peace for any war time emergency.'"

One of the biggest factors in the Legion's peace program the speaker said was the universal draft bill which will be presented to the next congress.

"Enactment of this bill will make the obligations of all citizens equal in time of war," he explained. "It will bring about the utilization of the nation's resources for working, factory power for production, and money power for financing. It is preparedness measure that provides the nation with a way to conduct war with a maximum of efficiency and a minimum of cost."

Commander Drain declared that the Legion stood "four square" back of labor's program in industry and in the government and would support the child labor constitutional amendment in the next congress.

He paid a tribute to laborers part of the world war and declared that the Legion "stood shoulder to shoulder with labor in its present day activities."

"Members of organized labor and members of the American Legion he said, 'are bound together by unbreakable ties of comradeship and should be the most powerful influence in America.'"

RANCHERS GIVE UP WATER FIGHT FOR RELIEF PROMISE

LONE PINE, Calif., Nov. 20.—Resentment against Los Angeles was still smouldering in Inyo county Thursday night. Although the Owens Valley ranchers who claim they have been robbed of their water, have grudgingly closed the aqueduct waste gates, they threaten to again open them for four days if the big city to the south fails to give them a "square deal."

Temporary settlement of the controversy came when W. W. Waterston, president of the Bank of Bishop, told the group which had defended the aqueduct for four days that the Los Angeles clearing house association had promised help in arbitrating the valley's water problem.

The men retired but not without last threats if Los Angeles failed to adopt a binding compromise they would again take possession of the aqueduct.

The water feud has existed for 20 years.

REJUVINATION BY X-RAY SEEN BY N. Y. SURGEON

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—"The x-ray may soon develop into a modern fountain of youth," Dr. Wm. H. Diffeback, New York, told the Eastern Homeopathic medical association in convention in an address here Thursday. Small doses of x-ray treatment, are superior to monkey glands in restoring youthfulness to humans, Dr. Diffeback said, adding that Elderly people can be entirely rejuvenated by careful and proper use of the x-ray.

Bald headed men can get back their hair by this method, he said, and the general appearance of the person as well as his physical properties can be made more useful because of the many good deeds that she was continually doing while in good health.

REDS UNKNOWN IN LABOR MEET

CONVENTION GOES ABOUT BUSINESS WITHOUT INTERRUPTION

By United News.

EL PASO, Nov. 20.—For the first time in many years the convention of the American Federation of Labor is going about its constructive work without interruption from a communistic or radical element.

The red flag wavers and "borers from within" were thrown out at the Portland Oregon convention last year and apparently were unable to gain a foothold again in the labor movement, that would entitle them to representation in this convention.

Samuel Gompers, 74 year old veteran labor leader has his convention well in hand and is preparing to give a final wallop to the backers of the cognation of soviet Russia. He is also going to sound the death knell of the proposal that organized labor form a separate political party.

The only real storm on the horizon is apparently going to come via the Mine Workers of America which condemns Warren Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of locomotive engineers for his refusal to sign a contract for the union operation of the Brotherhood mines in West Virginia and Kentucky. Beyond a doubt the resolution will be adopted although opposition is promised by some of the railroad shop crafts.

The labor party idea which has been projected into the convention by the international mouders union and operative plotters; union is doomed to a speedy death, succumbing to a re-endorsement of the Gompers plan of non-partisan political action. This convention has no more idea of approving a political labor party than it has of endorsing communism.

Senator Star a labor party is confined to a small and unimportant group. Many of the delegates who in the past have supported the political movement apparently do not want to risk going further with the idea.

Labor voiced its approval of the non-partisan plan Thursday when it unanimously commended the executive council for its non-partisan activities and success in getting legislation favorable to labor passed in the last congress. The majority in the convention prefers to work through the old parties using their slogan

MRS. H. G. LOVE DIED AT HER HOME HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. H. G. Love, aged 54 years, eight months, and twenty-four days, died at the family home here 2009 Main street Wednesday night at 12:30 o'clock.

Mr. Love and their son, Ralph, of Fort Worth, were with her when death occurred.

Mrs. Love has been in failing health for some time, and her condition has been serious for the past year though everything possible was done for her relief and in an effort to regain her health.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Baptist church of which she was a faithful and much appreciated member, this afternoon at three o'clock. Rev. W. A. Bowen, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city conducting the service, after which the remains will be laid to rest in the Lubbock Cemetery.

Mrs. Love as well as her husband, who survives her, has a large circle of friends in Lubbock and the surrounding country, who will regret to learn of her demise, and while her death was not a surprise to many, the sting of separation is none the less keen, and she will be greatly missed in the community because of the many good deeds that she was continually doing while in good health.

DISCUSSION ON LIMITATION OF ARMS RAMPANT

OFFICIALS KEPT BUSY DENYING FALSE RUMORS IN PRESENT SITUATION

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—

State department officials are being kept up at night denying the rumors which have started as a result of renewed discussion of possible further armament limitation.

Acting Secretary Grew has denied one report that the United States sent out feelers regarding alleged invitation of calling a conference to meet at The Hague. There is no intention here, it is understood, of the United States attempting to evoke an armament conference in Europe. If one is called by this country, it would, in accordance with the universal custom, be held in the country issuing the invitations. Some confusion has arisen in the discussion of the last few days following Great Britain's statement that she would prefer postponement by the League of Nations council consideration of the Geneva protocol which contemplated an armament conference next summer.

As this government looks at the question of armament limitation, there are two distinct problems involved. One is the reduction of land armaments. That is a problem which this government believes to be the peculiar problem of Europe. The American army has been cut down to about 118,000, according to the Secretary of War's figures, which is regarded by the war department and public opinion generally as being barely sufficient for police purposes and for preserving a skeleton organization.

Europe's problem of reduction of land forces is one of mutual adjustment between the nations whose frontiers are land. Hence the United States is not disposed to take the initial steps in a conference conducted chiefly in land forces, although it will be willing to participate after the initiative has been taken by some power.

But the question of further naval limitation is one that vitally concerns the United States and if the opportunity is afforded President Coolidge will be willing to propose another conference. He expressed this intention last spring in a speech. Restriction of submarines and aircraft and auxiliary vessels such as destroyers and lighter craft not covered in the naval limitations treaties are in mind.

Even more important is the matter of outlawry of war, bringing of international law up to date, and the creation of an effective international tribunal. President Coolidge's attitude of this phase has not been made known. Borah, prospective chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, favors including these questions while Hughes is rather inclined against it.

Congress has gone on record favoring further naval limitations and included a request for this in one of the recent appropriation bills. But Hughes took the view that the other powers refused to discuss these matters at the Washington conference and that nothing had occurred meanwhile to indicate there had been a change of heart.

With the inauguration of the Dawes plan and more stable conditions in Europe others here think that the European powers would now be in a more receptive mood.

RUSSIAN NOTE QUESTIONED BY BRITISHERS

LONDON, Nov. 20.—At the direction of the conservative cabinet the British foreign office, is drafting a note to be sent to Russia questioning the authenticity of the letter said to have been written by Gregory Zinevich president of the communist internationale, which exhorted British communists to overthrow his majesty's government, along with the affirmative with a stiff demand that such propaganda cease.

The Zinevich letter became public during the closing days of the British campaign and it contributed to the overwhelming defeat of the socialists by the conservatives. It was never demonstrated to the satisfaction of Ramsay MacDonald, and his socialist cabinet that the letter was genuine.

SWEETWATER OFFICIAL HURT

W. H. BARTLETT STRUCK BY PASSENGER TRAIN AT GRADE CROSSING

(Special to The Morning Avalanche.)

SWEETWATER, Nov. 20.—Seriouly injured as the result of a grade crossing accident here Wednesday, W. H. Bartlett, 48, for 14 years secretary of the city of Sweetwater is in a local sanitarium suffering from a fractured skull, face and body bruises and perhaps injury to his back.

Bartlett's automobile was struck by a Texas and Pacific passenger train at a grade crossing within the city limits. According to the fireman on the train, both the train and the car were going slowly and the city secretary apparently attempted to stop his car and let the train pass the crossing.

Bartlett is a member of the city administration fighting for better crossing facilities in the downtown section of Sweetwater. He recently moved his residence, to avoid crossing the tracks downtown, where a woman was killed and her husband injured when they were struck by the west-bound Southern Special on the night of October 26.

Stanford Student Tied to Tree and Labeled Traitor

PALO ALTO, Cal., Nov. 20.—

Branded as a traitor to Stanford by a huge placard pinned to his coat, J. J. Collins, senior student at the University of Southern California, was handcuffed and chained to a tree by a committee of several hundred college mates Thursday.

Collins, who several weeks ago denounced the break in athletic relations between Stanford and the University of Southern California as "the pot calling the kettle black" offered little resistance to the honor committee.

The senior students' opinion was expressed in a signed article, appearing in the daily Palo Altoan a student paper. He suggested that Stanford clean her own skirts, "before taking action against other colleges."

Since the appearance of the article Collins has been made the subject of numerous denunciations by the athletic officials and students of the University.

After remaining chained to the tree for more than an hour while the group of students crowded around hurling taunts and challenges at him, he was released and permitted to return to his room unmolested.

WEALTHY WIDOW GIVEN PRISON SENTENCE

LARNED, Kas., Nov. 20.—

Judge Roscoe H. Wilson, in district court here Thursday sentenced Mrs. Mark Eggleston, wealthy and eccentric widow to the Kansas Industrial Farm "until released by due process of law."

Mrs. Eggleston was accompanied into court by D. A. Ely, her fiancé, whom she was convicted of attempting to poison to get control of his large estate. She showed no signs of emotion when sentence was passed. The penalty provided for the offense is from five to twenty years.

U. S. SUBS REPORTED IN TROUBLE AT SAN SALVADOR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The submarines R-34 and R-37 are in trouble off the coast of San Salvador, after running out of fuel on a trip from the Panama canal to Philadelphia according to dispatches received here by the navy department.

The naval tug Unama has arrived on the scene to take the submarines in control and two guard cutters have been sent to render additional assistance, if necessary.

TESTIMONY OF JURY GIVEN AS CAUSE OF DEED

SON OF COMMISSIONER AND FARM MANAGER FINED FOR ACT

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, Nov. 20.—

Officials of the Texas penitentiary system refused tonight to comment on the strife in the system in which M. E. Bogle, prison auditor, was assaulted and badly beaten.

Ennis Herring, son of Chairman J. A. Herring of the prison commission, and R. E. McAdams, manager of the Ferguson convict farm, have paid fines in connection with the assault. The assault is said to have taken place on the steps of the Walker county court house two days ago following Bogle's testimony before the grand jury during which it developed that he had made charges to Governor Neff concerning the management of the Ferguson farm and accusing McAdams of dishonesty.

Captain Herring, an eye witness to the attack said his son attacked the prison auditor because of charges made against him. He refused to discuss the case further.

Bogle also declined to go into a discussion of the cause of the assault, but in a statement said: "I can prove all the charges I have made, and have the records to bear me out."

Sweeping investigations of the causes leading to the assault are expected to be made by Governor Neff immediately.

Self-Confessed Woman Hater is Regular Romeo

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 20.—

The one and only self-confessed unloved and woman hating man of the Southwest has turned out to be a regular Romeo.

Can you beat it. For years a tumultuous passion has lurked beneath the roan mustache and unique exterior of Kirby McRill, owner of wealthy farm lands in Kansas and champion hiker of two states and so clever was he in concealing it that he was in the scornful eye of Don Juans and envied by bachelors.

Kirby could not double for a sheik on the silver sheet or anything like that but it seems he captivated one Daisy Bell Hicks, late of the farm and now a full-fledged bar-bette, according to his statement in Justice Edward J. McMahon's court where Kirby sued Daisy for "lewd and lascivious living."

"She was a country girl when I met her," Kirby said, struggling to overcome his emotions. "Wore a sunbonnet, and gingham dress." Think of it, but I loved her and do now. She signed a contract to live with me 'until death do us part."

"I brought her to Kansas City to take a course in barbering. Then her love grew cold. 'I'll fight for the $10,000 I spent on her judge, because I love her, I can never love another." As Kirby finished he exhibited the "murrings contract."

"Now," answered the court sympathetic like "and you're not going to get any farther with this trial here. Discharged."

Kirby strode out mumbling something about becoming a recluse.

Mrs. Friend Gives Nice Luncheon for Mrs. Andrews

Mrs. F. R. Friend was hostess to a number of her friends Wednesday when she gave a luncheon honoring Mrs. E. H. J. Andrews of Plainview.

Iced grape fruit was served as entree and turkey, dressing, crazy scalloped corn, cream potatoes, hot buttered rolls, cranberries, celery and mixed pickle, the menu being completed by refrigerator cake, whipped cream and coffee.

The guests included, Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. J. S. Johnson, Mrs. T. W. Thomas, Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, Mrs. Eastin Wolfarth, Mrs. John Arnett and Mrs. Lewis of Temple.

Mrs. I. F. Holland Was Honored Wednesday Afternoon

A very pretty party was given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herbert Stubbs when Mrs. I. F. Holland was honored.

The receiving rooms were beautifully decorated with pink and white carnations and the dining room was arranged with streamers of pink and white.

On the dinner table was an attractive centerpiece with many dainty and adorable gifts displayed about it.

At the close of a delightful afternoon pumpkin pie, whipped cream, and coffee were served to the following guests:

Mrs. W. T. Raybon, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Colium, Mrs. Acey May, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. George Brewer, Mrs. C. N. Barker, Mrs. Woldrin, Mrs. Earl Moore, Mrs. E. E. Hayley, Mrs. Clayton Gammill, and Miss Jennie Lou Sheppard.

MRS. E. H. J. ANDREWS ADDRESSED AUXILIARY

The members and guests of the Episcopal Auxiliary were privileged to have Mrs. E. H. J. Andrews wife of the rector at Plainview, at their meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend.

Mrs. Andrews was the delegate from this diocese to the Synod in El Paso and gave a very inspirational report and talked to the women of the necessity for carrying on the work that they were at the present time without a rector.

Mrs. Andrews outlined a very unique plan for the "ideal church" taking up every phase in a beautiful way symbolizing the kingdom of heaven.

The Rev. Mr. Andrews opened the meeting with scripture reading and prayer.

At the close of the service Mrs. Friend served fruit salad, hot buttered rolls and tea.

There was an unusually good attendance every member being present except two who were kept at home on account of illness.

The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Lewis of Temple and Mrs. Watson of Houston.

Mrs. George Benson was also a guest of the society.

REV. E. H. J. ANDREWS OF PLAINVIEW VISITS HERE

The Rev. Mr. E. H. J. Andrews rector of the Episcopal church of Plainview spent Wednesday of this week in Lubbock visiting the sick members of the Episcopal church.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Andrews who spoke before the women of the Auxiliary of the church, and who was honor guest at the luncheon given by Mrs. Friend.

Mr. Andrews was a guest at the Rotary club luncheon Wednesday.

BLOYS-CRAWFORD.

Mr. J. D. Bloys of Paris Texas and Miss Ruth Crawford of Canyon were quietly married here Wednesday by the Rev. E. E. White, pastor of the Methodist church reading the ceremony.

The young people will make their home in Lubbock where Mr. Bloys is employed as a brick mason.

PERSONALS

Col. Thompson, of Houston, arrived in Lubbock Thursday and will spend some time visiting in the city.

J. L. Dening, of Idalou, visited and attended to business in Lubbock Thursday.

Judge J. D. Caldwell, county judge of Cochran county, visited and attended to business in the city Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Holt who recently moved here from Abilene, are spending the week in Amarillo.

(Seminole Sentinel)

Miss Ada Thompson and Mr. Fred Mook were quietly married Saturday evening at seven o'clock, Judge T. O. Stark performing the ceremony.

The marriage of this young couple came as quite a surprise to their many friends. Charlie Thompson, brother of the bride, and Miss Drucilla Lord witnessed the ceremony.

ANNUAL REUNION OF HELLA TEMPLE BE NOVEMBER 22

DALLAS, Nov. 20.—Preparations for the annual fall reunion of Hella Temple, to be held Saturday, Nov. 22, began Monday.

There will be four days of activity in connection with the Scottish Rite reunion, many members of Hella Temple being engaged therein, but at the conclusion of the Scottish Ceremonials the Shrine will take charge.

Hundreds of Shriners from over the state will attend the ceremonies.

FOLKS DON'T THINK BLOTCHES ARE PRETTY

You can't expect people to say you are "good-looking" as long as your appearance shows you are careless about keeping your skin free from blotches, pimples, rash, "breaking out" and eczema.

You may feel like you have no hope of getting rid of these things, but you should not give up because Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are proving to thousands of people every day that they can depend on them to keep their skin clear, smooth and lovely.

Black and White Ointment and Soap are nominally priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and Soap.

REDS ARE UNKNOWN IN NATIONAL LABOR MEET

"Stand Faithfully by our friends and elect them. Oppose our enemies and defeat them."

The Moulders Union, one of the chief backers of the so-called Gompers administration, sponsors the so-called Russia resolution, which praises the soviets and asks that the United States government "under no circumstances use any form of coercion or force to collect any bills due to American merchants, manufacturers or banks."

Gompers is opposed to any form of recognition to the soviets, and the committee on international relations which he heads, is reported to have completely annihilated the proposal. There is doubt it will be strongly supported on the floor.

There is some speculation as to whether Gompers will publicly oppose the resolution of the International Seamen's Union trying labor to "earnestly and emphatically protest against our government becoming entangled with either league of nations or the so-called world court."

The labor chief four years ago in Montreal successfully prevented labor from endorsing a similar resolution after a bitter fight. The league opponents are apparently few this year, and it is believed that the proposal will be defeated without difficulty.

Communism Rejected.

JUAREZ, Mexico, Nov. 20.—Communism was rejected tonight by organized labor of Mexico when the convention of the Mexican Confederation of labor by an almost unanimous vote ousted an avowed communist delegate and pledged itself "never to permit the establishment in Mexico of communism or communist parties."

The action of the convention was regarded with unusual significance because of the close relationship that exists between the labor movement and the Mexican government. President elect Calles has pledged himself to carry out the policies of labor, and his personal representative is sitting in the convention.

Ricardo Trevino, general secretary of the confederation, charged that the communist party in Mexico is composed of groups of persons from Russia to create "tremendous divisions that are causing the ruin of the labor movement."

"We cannot allow the communists to do what they did to Italy, Spain, England and all the other countries, where by sending their propagandists they have played straight into the hands of the fascists, and the reactionary element continued Trevino.

"Under the pretext that is necessary to bore from within and to take advantage of any political movement, the gang of humbids they have sent, like Frank Linnman, Paley, Vanbrunth, Roy and others who have allied themselves with the reactionaries. In Mexico they openly advised the workers to join the reactionary revolt headed by Adolfo de la Huerta."

"It is time to serve notice on the communists in Mexico that there can only be one labor movement and one, only, and that they must come in the ranks of the Mexican Confederation of Labor accept its resolutions and actions."

With much cheering and applause the convention voted to reject the credentials of the communist delegate and eject him from the auditorium.

The senate would be sufficient to repeal it there.

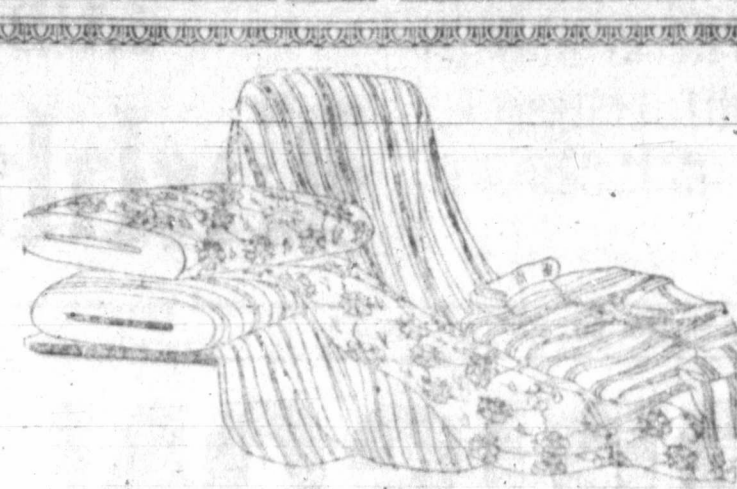

The original Norris amendment which the Nebraska senator threatens to bring up reads: "Returns upon which the tax has been determined by the commissioner shall constitute public records, and shall be open to examination and inspection as other public records under the same rules and regulations as may govern the examination of public documents generally."

The section which finally went into the law provides for opening the amount of tax only an inspection, with authority to certain committees of congress to examine full returns.

An example of reaction from actual operation of the law was given by Senator Cummins, of Iowa, republican who voted for Norris' amendment. He said he is still for the policy for which he voted, that is, publicity as a means of compelling the taxpayer to tell the truth, but that if it doesn't work out and his is not what is accomplished, he will vote for its repeal.

It was staggered by the result of publication in my state," he said. "The cry against the law is coming mostly from the little fellows, those who don't want their poverty exposed, while it is being shown, too, that many people who are known to be rich are paying practically no tax."

Gamaliel Bailey, a notorious bandit whose deeds amazed England during the sixteenth century always wore a hobgoblin mask which he made as hideous as possible to terrify his victims.

DUPRE IS ROUNDING OUT 11TH YEAR IN LUBBOCK

The schools of Lubbock have been developed to high point of efficiency under the superintendency of M. M. Dupre, who is rounding out his eleventh year in the schools here and his fortieth year in the service. Mr. Dupre taught his first school at Whitethorne, Calla county, Ohio, in 1885. He taught a five-month term on a salary of $25 per month. In order that readers might understand how he "got by" on that salary we will explain that the teacher said he paid only $5 per month for board, much less than one could be provided for during only one week at this time.

The young teacher then went to Mannington, West Va., for his second year as schoolmaster where he received the then large salary of $55 per month. The increase in salary was a bit diminished by the fact that he had to pay $12 per month for board and room.

His third term was taught at Sarepta, Clayborn county, Mississippi, where he had charge of a six-month term at $45 per month. He paid $6 per month for board at Sarepta.

Mr. Dupre taught his first term in Texas in Shelby, and he states that conditions were then not at all favorable to the student nor the teacher. Buildings were ill ventilated, poorly heated in winter and seating equipment was of the most undesirable type. He taught in the school there for a period of seven years, on a salary that ranged from $75 to $125 per month.

He then went to Henderson county where he remained in his work for a period of three years at a salary of $1400 per year. Going from there to Troupe where he spent eleven years in one school at a salary of $1350 per year.

He taught at Center, Texas, for a period of five years following which time he came to Lubbock and started work in the local schools.

The school buildings of Lubbock were much in the condition then they were until the erection of more buildings put them in advance of the growth of the city. Congested conditions existed for several years, even with Mr. Dupre and the board of directors working energetically to get new buildings erected to meet the demands of the scholastic population.

The high school building, to which an addition is now being made, the George M. Hunt school and the K. Carter school have been built here since Mr. Dupre took charge of the schools as superintendent. A negro school and a Mexican school, both of which are frame structures have been built under his administration.

The junior high school has been remodeled, and greatly enlarged with regard to student capacity.

Mr. Dupre and W. M. Stagle, another teacher in the school here, are life members in the State Teachers' Association, and have encouraged other teachers to join the association which is doing much for schools throughout the state. All teachers in the George M. Hunt, Carter and junior high schools are members of the association.

Few men have done more for education in this section of the state than has been done by Mr. Dupre.

Watchmaker for Anderson Bros. Arrived Thursday

J. W. Anderson, of Houston, arrived in Lubbock Thursday afternoon and will be employed in Anderson Brothers Jewelry Store.

He is an experienced watchmaker, and said to be one of the best in the state.

He has been employed with the Houston Watch Company, of Houston, which has the largest railroad watch inspecting contracts of any other firm in the state. He was in the employ of that company eighteen months, and resigned his position there to come to Lubbock.

The watchmaker was in the employ of Anderson Brothers when they were in business at Electra, having been associated with them there for a period of two years, and they are pleased to have him established in their store here.

No change has been made in the force at the jewelry store, as the watchmakers who have been taking care of the work are retained and Mr. Anderson is an addition to the force.

one time president of the Association, and one of the State's best known superintendents, has done an outstanding work for the University of Texas since taking up his work three years ago.

State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs, Mrs. O. W. Wilcox, M. V. Peterson, J. H. Gregory and Mrs. Daisy Bible will appear on the program following the breakfast.

The Interscholastic League breakfast is one of the outstanding occasions of the convention every year. Superintendents and principals and directors of the State Interscholastic work meet around the breakfast table to plan for the extension and betterment of the various contests which the League sponsors. Out of these meetings has come the rapid development of this organization, which is one of the important contributions which Texas has made to the educational system of the nation.

It will be remembered Mr. Shelby was present at the Tech Celebration in Lubbock, and made a very fine speech at the banquet and following day. He is a live wire and is a good one to appear on any program along educational lines. He is greatly interested in the boys work and is doing much for the boys who attend the State University.

CAR AND TRUCK IN COLLISION HERE THURSDAY

A Ford touring car driven by H. A. Berry, real estate man, and a light delivery truck operated by the Coca Cola Bottling Company, collided here Thursday morning at nine o'clock at the street intersection on Broadway and Avenue I.

Both vehicles were slightly damaged, but the drivers escaped uninjured.

LITTLE AVALANCHER NOW MAKING GOOD IN WENTWORTH

The Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Kentucky, has several students enrolled from Lubbock, one of whom is Melvin Dow, son of Editor Jas. L. Dow, of the Avalanche.

A copy of the Trumpeter, the official publication of the college, was received here this week showing the grades made by the various students enrolled, and Melvin Dow was high point man among those from Lubbock with 87 points of a possible one hundred.

Melvin was unable to be at his studies the earlier part of the month because of serious illness, making it necessary for him to remain in the hospital for a period of ten days, and the showing made by him among the several hundred students enrolled at Wentworth, despite the handicap is a creditable reflection upon his industriousness and the local school of which he is a graduate.

BIG WAREHOUSE CONSTRUCTION JOB BEEN STARTED

D. N. Leaverton, building contractor, has completed the foundation for a warehouse 100 by 130 feet for Louis H. Hungate and R. F. Bayless, and is expecting a shipment of brick to arrive today and will begin this feature of the work as soon as possible.

The warehouse is located on Avenue F between Main and the Santa Fe tracks, facing the Santa Fe freight depot.

Mr. Leaverton is also building a warehouse 25 by 100 feet for himself and John Dalrymple, of the Panhandle Construction Company, adjoining the Hungate-Bayless warehouse on the north.

MAKE EDUCATION WEEK THE GREATEST IN THE HISTORY OF THE MOVEMENT

Education in the United States is controlled by the people of the several states and not by the national government, as in many countries. Every citizen has a voice in determining what kinds of schools we should have. The people determine in the final analysis how much shall be spent upon the schools, whence the money shall come, what kind of teachers we shall have, what they shall be paid, etc. Naturally school superintendents and teachers know a great deal more about schools than the average citizen, but we can not make much sound and permanent progress in the improvement of the schools without the intelligent approval and support of public sentiment.

With these truths before it, the Bureau of Education in 1920 inaugurated the observance of a week of education throughout the nation. The next year the American Legion, in conjunction with the National Education Association, started a similar campaign. The week is now sponsored jointly by the Bureau of Education, the National Education Association, and the American Legion, and has developed greater momentum than any of these organizations could have attained alone.

Encouraged by the marked success of American Education Week in previous years, these organizations are now inviting every American newspaper, magazine, organization, club, church, school, motion-picture theater, and individual, to participate in making the week of November 17 to 23 a real nation-wide revival of educational enthusiasm. It seems hardly necessary to urge upon the schools and those responsible for their administration and instruction that it is expected that they will join in the general observance of promoting education during American Education Week to the utmost of their abilities. Programs can be effectively arranged by the schools and co-operating organizations that will materially enhance the value of this general effort. The school people should take the lead and secure the co-operation of all the organizations of the school district in the observance of the week.

The unity of effort and interest which has already been displayed is but an earnest evidence that the observance of American Education Week this year bids fair to be the greatest campaign for education that has ever been made in the United States. It is the week to focus the minds of the American people upon what the schools are doing, what their needs and objectives are. Thus, with an enlightened comprehension of what is being done and attempted by the schools we may confidently hope from the observance of the week to secure larger and more united effort in behalf of the schools.

The educational needs of this community are being very generously provided for, and a number of worthwhile programs are being given throughout the county in celebration of this week. We are of the opinion that educational affairs are at a higher standard than in most any other section of the country, and that is one reason we like to live in Lubbock.

THE GOBBLE OF THE TURKEY

The gobble of the turkey reminds us that Thanksgiving Day is not far away—fact of the business it is right here upon us. Only one more week, and that great day will roll around again.

One of the great national weeklies has truthfully said that with the exception of the Fourth of July, Thanksgiving Day is the most distinctly American of all national holidays. It has not always been held so late in the year, nor has it always been held everywhere at the same time. It originated in the New England states and it was not generally observed throughout the United States till after the civil war, when the President as well as the governors of the states began to issue Thanksgiving proclamations. Thus it has become a symbol of national unity as the Fourth of July is a symbol of national independence. By tradition it has become fixed in the late fall.

The custom of celebrating a Thanksgiving Day did not originate with the Pilgrims, though they introduced it into this country. For seven days, when the harvest was over, the Hebrews of the Old Testament held their Feast of Tabernacles, a sort of camping-out time in memory of their period of wandering in the wilderness. In October the Greeks celebrated at Athens their "Thesmophoria," in honor of Demeter, the goddess of agriculture. It was a festival that began with religious rites performed by married women only, and that ended with a general banquet and dancing. On October 4 the Romans kept a similar festival that they called "Ceresia," in honor of Ceres, their goddess of the harvest. Indeed there is in almost every European nation a tradition of a feast to mark the end of the garnering of the crops. In Old England it was called "Harvest Home" and came down from the Saxon period; in Scotland it was "Kern"—a word that means the last sheaf. The Dutch of Leiden, where the Pilgrims spent 10 years before they came to New England, celebrated on October 3 every year a festival to give thanks for their delivery from the Spaniards in 1574—a day that corresponds to our Armistice Day. In the Scandinavian churches a special Sunday is designated every fall as Thanksgiving Day.

But in no other country is such a day so generally observed with special rites as Thanksgiving Day in the United States. The attempt to merge it with Armistice Day, which falls every year on November 11, has apparently failed. The American tradition is too well established. Whenever Americans go in foreign lands they carry the custom with them. When the armies of so many countries met in France during the war the Americans were the only ones who observed a regular Thanksgiving Day. American churches, wherever they are situated, hold special services, and members of so-called "American colonies," whether in Europe, in South America or in the Orient, get together to observe the day. Early in the war a few Americans enlisted in the French Foreign Legion. The first remembrance that they received from their countrymen was a package of Thanksgiving delicacies that the American church in Paris sent to every one of them. No other Legionnaires, although almost every race was represented among them, received anything of the kind. The little band from the United States knew that they were still Americans.

Thanksgiving is not only older than the Fourth of July, but it is tenderer, more intimate. It touches the national heart in deeper places. It is the time when all exiles from home—travelers, prisoners, hospital patients, residents abroad—think of their families and of their country.

We believe that the people of Lubbock should come together in one of the greatest Thanksgiving services that has ever been known on the South Plains. All the churches should come together in one great assembly and hold a service that is true to the conditions of this wonderful section of the South Plains. We have much to be thankful for. We ask much of our Maker and our Master, but when great blessings are showered upon us such as we have in this fine land in which we live, how many of us think to pause long enough in the busy pursuits of life to return thanks unto Him for His many kindnesses? Let's have a great union thanksgiving service at one of the churches, and everyone who can attend and take part in the service, if in no other way, by being present.

IT'S A GREAT TEMPTATION

It's a great temptation—that Main Street paving. When a fellow gets on that smooth street, he just can't keep from "trying'er out a bit," and one's foot will just naturally bear a little heavier on the gas feed and first thing you know the old boat is sailing along at a speed that you do not realize, and of course it does not seem that there is any danger, and there very likely is not, as long as the other fellow is keeping going and is going the same direction, but bad, that's a narrow street, and you should not get in such a hurry that you try to pass another car when there is someone coming the other direction, because it is just as liable to hit you as not. There is no need to get in too big a rush when there are a lot of cars on the same street, but keep moving. Stopping unexpectedly is the cause of a great many accidents. Do not go out of your head just because the street is nice and smooth, and do not undertake to make Main Street a race track, for it was not built for that purpose, and should not be used to gratify your desire for testing the speed of your favorite automobile.

MICHIGAN TO REQUIRE SCHOOL ATTENDANCE BY REGULATION

The proposed state amendment requiring children to attend Michigan public schools through grammar grades, was defeated at the recent election. The question was strongly opposed in the cities, but endorsed in the urban districts.

EVERY SEVENTH MARRIAGE TERMINATES IN DIVORCE

During the year 1923 one divorce was granted for every seventh marriage in the State of Illinois. During October last 83 divorces were granted in Reno, Nevada, while only 40 marriage licenses were issued. The easy divorce system, however does not seem to discourage the matrimonial inclined—it's a question if it does not act as a stimulant.

As a result of the criticism of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, ten federal attorneys have been dismissed for failure to enforce the prohibition law. It is indicated that several other heads will soon occupy the Department of Justice's political wastebasket.

An Alabama bootlegger who served 17 months but was entitled to release for good behavior at 13 months, has brought suit to recover for overtime served. The question involves points of law that will be of interest in other states.

Local Kiwanians Entertain Ladies With Program

With attendance exceeding that of any similar meeting held by the Kiwanis club, Thursday evening's program, which was attended by the members and their ladies, was a great success and reflected well upon those in charge of arrangements.

W. C. Rylander, in his usual pleasing manner, acted as toastmaster and through his efforts the program was rendered in short time, there being little or no intermission between numbers.

The "XYZ" group of the club, composed of Woods, Yarbrough, Zellmer, and others, had charge of arrangement and their work was met with hearty approval of all present.

Miss McAfee, teacher of expression in Lubbock High Schools, one of the outstanding entertainers for the program.

Mr. Carl Scroggin, teacher of voice in Lubbock High School rendered an appreciated number that received heartiest approval from all.

Interesting talks were made by several of the visitors, among whom were the leading club ladies of the city.

BRITISH POLICY IN FOREIGN AFFAIRS IS FORMULATED

By CHARLES M. McCANN.
(Copyright by the United News.)

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Stanley Baldwin's conservative government has formulated a general policy of foreign affairs during the next four years. The third, and relatively least important point in British eyes is close co-operation and intimate friendship with the United States.

In order of importance, the three major tenets of British diplomacy under the present government will be as follows:

1. Close ties with the British dominions.

2. Warm friendship and co-operation with France.

3. Warm friendship and co-operation with the United States.

England will continue to accord full support to the League of Nations, as is evidenced by the announcement that at the forthcoming league council meeting at Rome, Austen Chamberlain, foreign secretary in the conservative cabinet will represent this country.

The precedence of the British dominions in the English scheme of politics is self explanatory. In making clear the reasons for putting friendship with France before that of the United States, it is authoritatively explained that world politics dictate such procedure.

Unofficially, but none the less effectively, England is very closely identified with affairs on the continent, it is pointed out. The United States is not participating directly in continental affairs, wherefore Anglo-French friendship is vital to England, and of greater importance than other matter except relations with the dominions.

It is authoritatively stated that England hopes to foster intimate co-operation with the United States without recourse to any special alliance between the two countries. Such an alliance is regarded as both undesirable and impossible here. It is desired, however, not only to keep the Anglo-American diplomatic status continually clean, but to reach a degree of Anglo-American intimacy that would permit co-operation in outside matters such as the far east. It is emphasized that there will be no attempt directly or indirectly to drag the United States into European politics.

Mr. Sadler, a citizen of the Winterset section, spent some time visiting and looking around in Lubbock Thursday.

William Halbert and wife of this city, returned Thursday from points west, where they had been on a visit.

Mrs. Flanagan, of this city, left Thursday for Temple, where she will visit for a time.

M. Lawrence, of San Antonio, traveling salesman, after spending some time on business in Lubbock left Thursday on his return to San Antonio.

M. S. Acuff of Denton well known in Lubbock, is in the city visiting and attending to business this week.

H. L. Davis, business man of Slide attended to business in Lubbock Thursday.

Jack Freeman, of Paris, Texas, is in the city this week looking after business.

A. W. Weaver and daughter of Idalou, were in Lubbock Thursday visiting.

E. C. Barnett, of Canyon, spent the day looking after business in Lubbock.

Chester James, of Grovesville, attended to business in Lubbock Thursday.

Lee Oliver, of the Idalou section, transacted business in Lubbock Thursday.

M. S. Baker, of Crosbyton, was in Lubbock Thursday visiting and attending to business interest.

Cattle Inspector Lem Chesher returned to his home here Thursday after having spent several days in attendance upon court in Deaf Smith county representing the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association.

AIR OF COMPLETE MYSTERY SHROUDS NORTHWESTERN-NOTRE DAME GAME AS EXPERTS STUDY POSSIBILITY OF TRICK

BY HAROLD ANDREWS
CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—The purple football team at Northwestern University having conducted itself like a 15 minute egg all season, thus giving the merry ha-ha to the prophets who assumed from the very first that the team would react in an egg shell to every encounter, it seems that a great conspiracy of silence is being maintained as to what will happen Saturday when Northwestern plays Notre Dame.

Suspecting a trap, the football experts are sneaking off to the left, doubling the trail, and approaching the log at a point higher up on the trunk. Of course Northwestern has lost almost every game this season, and Notre Dame hasn't lost any, but that doesn't mean anything to the expert who has followed Middlewestern football this season. At the risk of being regarded as a man with a ball and chain on his cerebrum, one veteran prophet who wrote about "Red" Grange with thick honey instead of ink until the Minnesota game, has put forward the assertion that the best football team in the middle west is not in the big ten conference. He probably means Notre Dame, but then one has been fooled so often. It seems that the scrub football teams this season have been able in seven days to develop into groups, fighting machines thus proving coaches are fast workers and that college athletes are as temperamental as poets.

At any rate the apogee of interest in middle western football Saturday is in the Northwestern Notre Dame game, although Chicago has the conference title clinched if Wisconsin is lead low.

The Notre Dame-Northwestern game will be played in Grant Park stadium within hearing distance of the rumbling of the elevated train in the loop, and only standing room is now available. Baker the "triple threat" man, is expected to show his stuff to the "four horse men of Notre Dame" and the game is sure to be picturesque and thrilling. The word has come from South Bend, that Notre Dame expects "the east 'em alive."

The new defunct Harold Grange and company of Illinois will play Ohio State and Coach Zuppke is trying to strengthen his tissue paper line. "Red" will not be able to play. Indiana will meet Purdue and Michigan meets Iowa. The heartless eleven at Minnesota broke Grange's head and the hearts of the student body at Illinois will play Vanderbilt.

YALE PREPARED FOR HARVARD A 5 TO 3 FAVORITE

By United News
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 20.—With but one day intervening before the annual Harvard game, Yale is ready, but not over confident. The blue team is a 5 to 3 favorite, but their enthusiasm is kept in check by the knowledge that anything can happen in a Yale-Harvard game, and that the breaks might go to the crimson eleven.

Tad Jones is concerned over such a possibility and waxed talkative in the subject of practice Thursday. "Let no Yale man think that we have an easy task ahead of us Saturday. We have a team to play that does not know when it is beaten and will overplay itself against Yale," Jones told his men.

Ell is preparing himself to fan at any strike of Harvard may adopt by putting, end-running or a line smashing game. Jones is grooming Jack Failing to meet Percy Hammond in kicking. As the Crimson playing scheme demands a lot of punting it is likely that the game may center around Failing. Yale's attack has been strengthened by the return to game of Dan Lindley, who has been out with a lame ankle. Stanley Gill, sub-end, who showed up well against Princeton has been on the bench with a bad hand but can probably be run in shape by Saturday if he is needed. The veteran ends, Bingham and Luman, however, probably will be started, although Bingham has been out for three weeks with water on the knee and may not be available. There has been tremendous rush for tickets here and the bowl will be overflowing when the whistle blows Saturday. Sixteen special trains will bring rosters to swell the New Haven crowd.

ASS'N FORMED TO PROMOTE INTER-COUNTRY BOXING

By United News
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—An annual boxing tournament among the amateur champions of North and South America has been assured with the announcement here of the formation of the boxing federation of the Americans of the federation whose duty is to promote amateur bouts of the fighters of the two continents, are Canada, the United States, Argentine and Uruguay. It is hoped that Chile will become a member before the first tournament which will be held here next year. The organization was perfected at a meeting attended by Carlos Gallegos, head of the Argentine box-

WESTERNERS TO MEET POST HIGH SCHOOL AT FAIR PARK HERE TODAY

As a result of a week of almost frantic effort on the part of coach "Mule" Davis, of Lubbock high school to schedule a football game here this weekend, it was announced late last night that Post had consented to an exhibition here today.

In a telephone conversation with coach Brannon, Davis said it was finally agreed, after much insistence on his part, that the game would be played here instead of Post. All indications point to a hot contest, although there is no title dependent on the outcome of the exhibition. The game will be called at 3:30 at the Fair Park.

ing federation; Chas. Lemaire, representing South America, P. L. Mulqueen, representing Canada, and W. M. Cuddy, and H. O. Bertubising representing the United States.

The agreement provides if more than three countries compete in a tournament, each country shall be allowed to have only one entrant in each of the eight classes. The entries will be decided by elimination with in the various member countries and it is possible that the elimination will be held in conjunction with the national championships in order that as many national champions as possible may be entered. The federation decided to hold no tournaments in Olympic years.

SATURDAY WILL BE LAST GAME FOR 5 BUFFALOES

CANYON, Texas, Nov. 20.—Next Saturday afternoon, Nov. 22, when the West Texas State Teachers' College trot out on the gridiron to battle the Daniel Baker Hillbillies it will be the last time for five of the Buffaloes to do this. This game marks the passing of The Mighty Burson, captain of the Buffaloes and one of the greatest backfield men ever seen in the Panhandle of Texas. Along with Burson is Odis Mitchell equally as great in his department of the game as an end. Mitchell Jones, the greatest little man ever to represent the Buffaloes also trots out for his last time, as does Golden another great line-man who this year staged a wonderful comeback after being out of the game for five years. Otelle Horn will likely make his last appearance at this time, too, although he has only played with the Buffs two years. He receives his degree at the end of next summer and unless he elects to wait until next fall to finish his work toward his degree and play another season with the Buffaloes.

The passing of these five men is generally supposed to be quite a drawing card within itself for many Panhandle people will avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing these five men play their last game on the home grounds, and too all of them are Panhandle boys. Burson comes from Silverton and a large odigation is expected to be in Canyon that day to see him play his last game of College football in Canyon. Mitchell hails from Floydada and reports from there indicate a crowd from there to see him end his college career as a football player. Her mand Golden are from Snyder and though that is quite a distance from Canyon many people are expected from there. Jones lives in Canyon so his home town will be represented by close to one thousand percent at this game.

NAME FIELD FOR HAROLD GRANGE

WHEATON, Ill., Nov. 20.—Three years ago a red headed boy named Harold Grange used to reel off touchdowns, many of them, on the high school athletic field here. He had been developing that habit ever since he was a very juvenile freshman, and before.

This fall, the same "Red" Grange, All-American halfback of the University of Illinois, is continuing the touchdowns habit to the consternation and delight of the national football world. Furthermore, he has remained the same modest "kid" who was the hero of Wheaton.

So, here in Wheaton, when a new high school athletic field was completed recently, the village council christened it "Grange Field." The townspeople believe "Red" is the youngest athlete who ever won such a monument.

Harold expects to be in Wheaton again next summer, to run an ice wagon, and he'll probably "work out" on Grange Field.

Antonio and Joseph Mungo, of New York City, specialists in illumination, have just completed an illuminative copy of "The Sonnets from the Portuguese," on which they have been working for ten years. It is an exact duplicate of early Renaissance work and is to be presented to the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Harvesters Are To Play Vernon Lions At Vernon Saturday

The Pampa Harvesters, champions of District 1 and 2 Conference B of the interscholastic league will meet the Vernon Lions, champions of District No. 1 conference A at Vernon Saturday afternoon, November 22, for the title of all Northwest Texas and the right to continue in the race for the State championship.

Final plans for the game were completed last night. Amarillo, through the Board of City Development and the Daily News, had invited the teams to play at Bivins stadium, but an agreement was reached whereby they would meet at the Willbarger county capital. "We expect to do what the Sandies did not—Tame the Lions," said Superintendent Jovin of the Pampa schools, last night in telling The Daily News of the arrangements of the game.

The Harvesters have had a most successful season and won the bi-district title last week by defeating the Slaton Tigers 3 to 0. The Sandies are the only eleven to defeat the Harvesters and that was early in the season. The Harvesters lost to the local eleven after a hard battle, 7 to 0.

The Pampa champions have improved a great deal since that time and are expected to give the Lions a real battle in the game Saturday. —Amarillo Daily News.

Harvard Goes Thru Last Practice For Yale Encounter

By United News
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 20.—With the cheers of the student body ringing in the ears, the Harvard football warriors who will attempt to stop the highly rated Yale eleven went through their last practice of the season Thursday.

Led by the Crimson band, the undergraduates marched in a body to Soldier field and there noisily endeavored to make the players feel that Harvard expects to bring back a victory from the Blue bowl.

The Crimson wound up its preparation for Ell with a light signal drill Friday morning. Ell will leave for New Haven. One of them, Leonard Robb, an end will go along on crutches, as the broken bone in one of his ankles is still in splints. But the others are expected to be ready for action when the battle starts.

The backfield, it is understood, is to contain at least one of the lighter, more elusive backs, either Maher or Zarakoff, along with Gehrke and Miller, Gehrke and Hammond or Hammond and Miller whichever combination is started.

Harvard's plan of campaign will be to strike hard at the start, score early if possible, and then play a kicking game not only to hold the lead safe, but in the hope of getting the breaks to score again.

Tunney Says Will Risk Gibbons Bout With Reservations

By United News
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—It is not fear but business that stands in the way of the Gibbons-Tunney fight, Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion, explained to fight fans Thursday. If Gibbons will meet him under certain conditions Tunney will risk a bout, he says.

Tunney has been reading a lot in the papers recently about wonderful business prospects ahead, and he has decided that prosperity, although it is bound to come would be more permanent if he fought in an open arena rather than at Madison Square Garden.

"If Gibbons will issue a formal challenge to me, and will accept the 12-1-2 percent share of the receipts which the rule provides for the challenger, I will meet him next summer," the champion added. "I had to accept those conditions when I won the title and as the champion I demand the right to name my own terms."

The box fighter denied that he had received summons to appear before the boxing commission recently when Harry Wills and Jack Renault said they could not fight Gibbons because they had sore hands.

CHRISTIAN HIGH POINT MAN IN KANSAS U.

Clarion Christian, graduate of Lubbock high school, and a student in the University of Kansas, has won distinction as an athlete in the varsity elimination contests, and reports from Lawrence, Kansas, are to the effect that he is slated to carry on in future contests for the University.

The following clipping, taken from a daily newspaper at Lawrence, Kansas, gives an account of the valuable work being done there by the local boy, who enjoys wide popularity in Lubbock:

The annual inter-organization track and field meet at University of Kansas which closed yesterday was won by the Pi Kappa Alpha with a total score of 19,832. The Alpha Kappa Lambda were in second place with a total of 18,492. The Sigma Phi Epsilon third with a total of 17,301.

G. B. Patrick, director of intramural sports at the University said this morning that this year's meet has had more good men in it than any of the previous meets. Eleven organizations competed this year.

Clarion Christian, a freshman in the University, was high point man in the meet, being member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon team. His total score was 6,028, nearly half of the total number of points made by his organization.

Cochran Karl Schlademan will go over the results of the meet next week and the man who made the best showing will be called out for varsity track. From the results of the meet it appears that the Crimson and the Blue school will be stronger in the hurdles this year than they have been in the past.

Immediately after Thanksgiving Schlademan will start to drill his proteges for the annual K. C. A. C. invitation meet to be held at Convention hall some time in February.

The other organizations finished in the following manner: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 4,785; Phi Kappa Psi, 7,343; Delta Tau Delta, 7,025; Delta Sigma Pi, 3,815.

RAIL LEGISLATION GOES ON DESPITE OPPOSITION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Senator Cummins of Iowa ranking republican on the Interstate Commerce commission will go ahead with his plans for railroad legislation at this session of congress, despite the plea of railroad executives expressed in a resolution of the American railroad association, that congress leave the railroads alone.

Cummins said he was not surprised at the position of railroad leaders and approved their viewpoint, but that he regarded certain legislation as absolutely needed at this time. He has a three point program, his measure providing for consolidation of the railroads into a comparatively few small groups, adoption of a new method of railroad valuation, and some action on the railroad labor board.

"I am willing to make some concessions regarding the railroad labor board," he said, "if we can get the rest of the program through. I think the present board has performed its duties well and is filling the need. And I am willing to wait for changes along that line."

Cummins said he would confer with Senator La Follette regarding railroad legislation as soon as the Wisconsin senator arrives here. Within the next few days, he said, he will talk with labor representatives regarding the Howell Barkley bill abolishing the railroad labor board which failed to come to a vote in the house last session through a filibuster led by the administration group.

"I don't want to depreciate the efforts of the railroads to improve transportation and to decrease the cost of operation," Cummins said. "They have done a splendid piece of work. It exceeds the expectations of anyone who would have attempted before hand to predict what would have happened."

When you think of this association starting about three years ago with $9.01 and consider its present assets, you will realize that the people of Lubbock are wisely and safely investing their money. It is true that many people, no matter the amount of their income, are blowing it all in, yet the Savings Departments of the three Banks and the Building and Loan Association shows that many hundreds of people here are wisely saving money.

WOODS IS PASTOR OF THE CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
Rev. S. L. Woods, has succeeded Mrs. Lillian Wilson as pastor of the local Church of the Nazarene, and will have charge of services there Sunday.

Mrs. Wilson has not yet received an assignment, but is expected to go to Littlefield to take care of the work in that vicinity. During her term as pastor the church here has prospered, and much interest has been shown in all departments of the work. Pastor Woods will find the congregation well organized, and he will have much to do to carry on the program as mapped out by Mrs. Wilson.

118 HOMES HAVE BEEN BUILT BY ASSOCIATION

The Lubbock Building and Loan Association is doing very well for a young home grown institution. At the Director's meeting yesterday, loans to the amount of $17,000.00 were approved, which means nine new homes will start building this month. These added to the number of homes already built makes 118 homes this association has aided in building. Good as that, it is not all the Association has done for Lubbock. It has furnished a safe and profitable place for its citizens to invest their surplus money, either in a lump sum or by monthly payments and the proof of their doing so is evidenced by the Assets of the Association which now amounts to more than $218,000.00.

Thursday the board met in what is said to be the first afternoon session it ever held and the two Whitman appointees reported to have favored Anderson's early parole regardless of last months ruling, while the third member objected.

Anderson was sentenced to Sing Sing after a sensational trial in which it was alleged that he had tampered with the anti-saloon league books in connection with commissions to solicitors and income payments and after he had named a mysterious John T. King as the man who had given him $25,000—a sum he was otherwise unable to account for.

Anderson who was committed last March for a term of not less than one year after being convicted of forgery, will now be able to spend Christmas with his family.

To release the former Anti-Saloon League head, the parole board reversed a policy which it had adopted a month ago, when it decided to require all prisoners to serve at least one year regardless of how well they conduct themselves.

This meant that offenders such as Anderson, sentenced to from one to two years, could not benefit by the rule granting inmates a three months commutation of service for every year of good behavior. Now the board has turned an about-face in the case of Anderson which seems sure to lead to criticism by Anderson's enemies.

The dry leader's petition excited considerable interest partly because of the great influence he wielded in church and political circles before his conviction and partly because two of the three parole commissioners were appointed by Chas. W. Whitman, Anderson's attorney, when Whitman was governor.

ANDERSON PAROLE IS ORDERED FOR XMAS EVE

By United News.
OSSINING, New York, Nov. 20.—Wm. H. Anderson, former superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York will be paroled out of Sing Sing prison on Christmas eve. The State Board of Pardoles granted Anderson's petition for parole at the meeting here Thursday.

RECOGNITION OF CHINA AGREED

5 GREAT NATIONS, INCLUDING U. S. WILL RECOGNIZE GOVERNMENT

By United News.
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Concerted action by the five powers including the United States has been agreed upon with respect to the new Chinese government, it was indicated by officials here who commented on a United News dispatch from Paris announcing such a step.

In the absence of Assistant Secretary of State McMurray who is in charge, no one at the state department would comment definitely. Some doubt was expressed that recognition would be taken up immediately but it was thought probable that the question of treaty guarantees and measures for safeguarding foreigners in China would be discussed between the powers and the new government.

By JOHN O'BRIEN.
 PARIS, Nov. 20.—Five great nations including the United States have agreed upon a conference of their diplomatic representatives in Peking to recognize the newly installed Chinese government and to exact from it guarantees with respect to treaties regarding lives and rights of foreigners.

England, Japan, France, and the United States are the powers which have agreed to combine their diplomatic prestige in a single effort to resolve some sort of order for foreigners at least, out of the chaos of administrative government in Peking.

The lengthy campaigns and numerous civil wars which have marred Chinese internal conditions have jeopardized foreign rights.

Under the leadership of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, there is a Chinese faction antagonistic to all forms of foreign interference, and although Sun is not now in Peking nor in favor with the government there, his anti-foreign propaganda might do irreparable damage if the powers took no action.

The international agreement was reached on the initiative of France. The proposal for the Peking conference emanated from the quai d'Orsay some time ago.

It has been suggested that among other things, France hopes to arrange for the remaining payments due her from China under the boxer indemnity settlement to be made in gold instead of francs. Owing to the depreciation of French currency France would gain tremendously thereby.

Information regarding the content of their respective governments and instructions for the conduct of the proposed conference are being forwarded to the Peking representative of the five powers, it is authoritatively stated. Diplomats are to meet and come to an agreement among themselves regarding such action as it may be possible to take.

The French proposal for a Peking conference was based on recognition of the Peking government established by the recent coup of General Feng Hu Hsiang. The other powers demurred at first, but it is understood that they have abandoned their objections to recognition. France successfully argues that recognition by the great powers would strengthen the Peking government to such an extent that guarantees of foreign life and property might not only be obtained from the Chinese but actually enforced by them.

The moment and conditions of recognition probably will be determined by the diplomats in Peking. Other diplomats in the Chinese capital will be advised of the conclusions reached by the five power conference and it is expected that they will be asked to approve the course of action determined upon.

SON CALMLY ADMITS SEEING MOTHER'S BODY BURIED

 Thursday that he was convinced suicide is the correct theory.

"I have checked every movement made by members of the Sheatsley family and I find no discrepancies," he said. "I am convinced that Mrs. Sheatsley crawled into the furnace feet first, holding to the edges of the clean out door below. It is possible that an insane person of a certain type, may become so insensible to pain as to permit a method of suicide as may have caused the death of Mrs. Sheatsley. Dr. Wm. H. Pritchard, superintendent of the hospital for the insane said in support of the Rev. Mr. Sheatsley's suggestion that it was strange religious fanaticism that had unbalanced her mind.

Thursday after returning with his children from Paris, where they buried the small portion of Mrs. Sheatsley's body returned to them by the state chemists, the Rev. Mr. Sheatsley developed at length his theory of fanaticism which he bases on his observation as a missionary in India where it is a custom for Hindu women to cast themselves upon the burning funeral pyres of their husbands.

Although the pastor does not believe that his wife was familiar with these customs, he was firm in his contention that her act resulted from a sudden seizure of insanity which left her insensible to pain.

Authorities have accepted this theory "for what it may be worth in the light of future developments."

PLAINVIEW VOTERS CARRY BOND ISSUE HEAVILY

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 20.—By a vote of 206 to 29 the school bonds for Plainview Independent School District carried Saturday. The issue is for $120,000. It will provide a new unit building which will be erected on the lots on Ash street recently acquired by the board of trustees and will finish paying for the lots.

The new building will be used for the junior high school grades. It is so planned that additional units can be added as needed and it is the plan of the board to ultimately change the high school to this building.

As it takes some time to get the bond issue approved, secure a waiver from the custodian of the state school which has first option on all Texas school bonds, and to let contract, etc., it will be at least September, 1925, before the building can be ready for occupancy.

LEGION POST AT FLOYDADA TO HAVE $5,000 CLUB HOUSE

FLOYDADA, Nov. 20.—Construction of the new club house of the Legion Post of the American Legion at Floydada was started Monday morning. The new building will cost $5,000 and will have a billiard room, reception rooms, kitchen and game rooms. Pool tables and other recreation features will be installed and the building will be comfortably and substantially furnished with up to date fixtures of every character.

E. C. Nelson, Jr., past commander of the local post and J. E. Dickey, finance officer drew the plans for the new building after making a study of various Legion homes in this part of west Texas. The building committee who have charge of the work for the Legion consists of C. H. Davis, T. P. Collins and Roy Snodgrass. The contract for the construction work was let to H. M. McDonald, local contractor.

The new building will be located on the corner of Virginia and Fifth streets a block off the square. The

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION ORDERS SCHOOL HOUSES PAINTED

CANYON, Texas, Nov. 20.—At the meeting of the Randall County school trustees, held last Saturday at Canyon, a resolution was passed asking all local trustees in the county to examine their respective school buildings, and, where necessary, have these houses painted. Particular attention was called to the two school houses on the road between Canyon and Amarillo. The first one is well painted and has the appearance of being a successful school; the other building was described as one which discredits the educational reputation of the county.

Another resolution was passed asking the local trustees who are erecting school buildings with a capacity of two teachers or more, to convert the material in the old buildings, where possible into teacherages. It was the opinion of those present that the West Texas schools which furnished homes for their teachers were able to secure better instructors than those which did not.

P. R. Phillips, chairman of the board, states that another problem discussed was the advisability of calling a general meeting of all trustees and teachers of the county for an all-day conference concerning educational problems. The feasibility of consolidation of schools and a better system of school supervision for the county were also discussed. It is quite possible that the county superintendent, co-operating with the instructors from the West Texas State Teachers' College, will hold a series of one-day meetings in the county.

HORSE KICKS HIS WAY INTO DUNGEON CELLAR

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—His owners called the 2,000 pound horse "Cyclone," but that's not a patch on what the Chicago police and fire departments called him when they were mobilized to extract "Cyclone" from a basement into which he had kicked his cyclonic way.

The horse felt the call of the wild when feeding in his box stall and in one mighty kick shattered the partition which held him from freedom.

"Cyclone" did not know it but he nudged the partition lay a roofless sub-cellar. He discovered the fact
