A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK
And take heed of yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares.—St. Luke 21:34.

In everything the middle course is best; all things in excess bring trouble to men.—Plautus.

BARTER DAY RESULTS
In a couple weeks more there will be another Barter Day in Muleshoe. These days have been successful events in more than one way; yet they can be considerably improved.

Most business men have been interested in them; but there should be a still wider interest manifested. These events are proving successful in other towns of this section and there is no reason why Muleshoe should not have better and bigger Barter days than any of the other towns surrounding it.

The impression has gone out during the past that other towns have Muleshoe business concerns beaten on lower prices. Whether this is true or not in a general way we do not positively know, yet we do know of many instances where prices paid for commodities in Muleshoe are lower than that paid in neighboring towns.

These Barter days can be greatly improved by local business concerns making a more determined effort to hold two-thirds higher in others.

Some are raising faster than others, but all are showing an upward tendency. We do not think that this is merely another "false alarm."

We believe that factors have been brought into play which will put prices up still higher, until we reach somewhere near the level of 1926. That is what those in charge of the nation's destinies are aiming at as we are told. That would mean that the average of commodity prices would more than double present prices.

In some instances, half to two-thirds higher in others. Starting with the products of agriculture, the rise in prices is bound to extend to industrial products.

For when the farmer begins to get a profit from his operations he can begin to pay up his back taxes and mortgage interest, to his family require. Money thus put into circulation enables others, in turn, to buy at prices which mean a profit to the seller.

That means that manufacturers can start up their factories again. We have never felt there was much to the argument that people have stopped wanting to buy things. The only reason they have stopped buying is lack of money to buy with. There is not and never has been "overproduction" in the sense that more commodities were produced than people wanted. Our whole social system is built upon multiplying wants and as money circulates again people will gratify those wants.

MORE TAX MONEY
Money to carry on public affairs is getting to be a serious question all over the country. Failure of property owners to pay their taxes is, of course, the cause of it.

Not only the state, but counties, schools, road improvements and a dozen other things are becoming seriously threatened by the shortage in tax collections.

Practically all schools in Bailey County, with but one or two exceptions, are having to close before the nine months term has elapsed, and Bailey County treasury is now practically depleted and several months yet to go on before taxes are again due, though it is possible some money may be paid in during June to save half of taxes previously paid.

Just how county officials figure getting along the Journal has not been advised; but clearly the "borrowing" from Peter to pay Paul plan—transferring of money from one particular fund to another so as to meet accumulating obligations can not go on indefinitely. An end must inevitably come and with obligations still to meet, any plan that would promise relief might be worth considering.

Recently one county in Ohio called a mass meeting at which a house-to-house collection of taxes was planned. Teams were organized and the workers went forth the same as if they were putting over a Community Chest of Red Cross campaign.

Many were persuaded to pay their taxes on the spot; others were aided in making financial arrangements whereby they could do so.

The plan is at least worth thinking about and should it be accepted the columns of this newspaper for the publication of the details of the plan and any other publicity necessary toward making it a success.

THE OLD RUNAWAY
Say what you will, two autos coming together on the street is not nearly so thrilling as a good old-fashioned team of horses running away. Where is the Muleshoe citizen who cannot recall the day he heard shouts in the street and ran to the door to see a cloud of dust and at the far end of the dust cloud a team of horses tearing along in a snake-like path, with a farm wagon balanced on two wheels and its contents flying in all directions?

The motor car has given us a lot, but it can't provide the thrill that an old-fashioned runaway used to afford. The crash of a lot of metal coming together in a collision isn't exciting; the screams of the injured are not pleasant. But when we had a runaway in the good old days it was different. We knew in the first place that nobody was apt to be hurt, and in the second place we knew the horses would be caught, the wagon uprighted and that everybody would go back to work with something worth while talking about the balance of the day. The auto robbed us of a real thrill when it made the old-fashioned runaway only a memory.

Even around Muleshoe there are some indications that the depression is being slowly lifted. E. G. Spence, who makes the rounds of local homes each month reading electric meters, says every once in a while he meets a wolf at the door wagging his tail in a half-friendly manner.

Louis Rice had a new one sprung on him the other day when a woman drove up and wanted to know if it wasn't warm enough now to change the winter air in her automobile tires to the summer kind—and Louis changed it for her. She went away happy.

Tom Davis was standing in front of his tall elevator the other day with a far off look in his eyes. Some one stepped up and asked him what he was thinking about. "Oh," he replied, "I was just thinking about that old law of supply and demand," how true it is, and incidentally wishing some one would supply me with a bunch of cash so I could pay on demand."

"Don't you attend a place of worship," asked a Muleshoe preacher of a young man last Sunday. "Sure," he replied. "I'm on my way to her house now."

"The land on this South Plains lies as beautifully as may be found anywhere," remarked a citizen to a prospector last week. "Yes," replied the prospector, "but its nothing to compare to the way some real estate agents lie about it."

"It's a poor rule that won't work both ways," insists John Benson. "If men become bald because of the great activity of their brains, it is natural to suppose that women don't have hoards because of the great activity of their chins."

They're telling pretty good one on "Col." George Harris this week. Last week George's wife presented him with a fine baby boy, and George proceeded to telegraph some of his folks the good news. Because of the depression, he wanted to save as much money as possible, so he merely telegraphed: "Isaiah 9:6." That passage in the Bible reads—"For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given."

Some of George's friends not familiar with the Scriptures got to wondering, and finally figured out that the child weighed nine pounds and six ounces, but why they named him Isaiah they are not yet able to understand.

When a man is a success, he knows it, except in writing poetry.

PENNY BEHIND FUSE CAUSES FIRE FRIDAY

PORTLAND, N. Y.—Flashing a penny behind the light fuse caused a penny to be left in the fuse box of the home of Mrs. Stella Evans, at the corner of East State and Second streets, and some of the home's best bread filling was lost. Flames were called and it extinguished.

A short in a wire leading to the battery and when the battery was found the house in flames, and the fire department was called and the fire extinguished. The public is cautioned that the fuse in the battery should be checked and the fuse in the battery should be checked and the fuse in the battery should be checked.

The boss of the average Muleshoe home is the one who decides just what day the screens are to be put up.

Our idea of a good husband is the Muleshoe man who can dine cheerfully on what's left after the missionary society has been entertained at luncheon.

Pavement Pickups
Jim Wiberly says a lot of this back-to-the-farm movement we are hearing so much about now days doesn't mean anything more than some city folks hunting up a chicken dinner with their country cousins.

CITY WELLS ARE TESTED
S. C. Nusbaum, engineer for the Texas Utilities Co., at Plainview, was here last Monday, and in company with R. G. Spence, local water superintendent made a test of the lifting capacity of the pumps at the municipal well located just north of town.
Ten minute tests were made of each pump, it being found that one pump

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. DARROW
Extension Service Editor

Bowie county farmers with surplus pigs have put out gilts to 40 club boys who are to repay with half the pigs from the first litter. It is a part of the county agent's plan for producing more meat.

At a recent meat show in Young county culminating a season of hog and beef butchering, curing and canning, the county farm and home demonstration agents estimated that 100 beaves and 600 hogs worth $8200 on foot had been converted into products worth $15,000.

Four turkeys canned brought half as much as 40 turkeys on foot to Mrs.
Claude Harrell, a home demonstration club member at Swan's Chapel in Jones county, when a 9 pound turkey was three cents per pound on the market, and sold the No. 1 cans of product for an average of 30 cents per can.

Transplanting 12 native shrubs and trees and making all of these live is the accomplishment of Mrs. N. B. Payton who is leading her Goveale, Travis county, Home Demonstration Club as yard improvement demonstrator. She balled and burrapped the native material for transplanting.

One application of lime sulphur spray is more effective than two sulphur treatments for citrus scale demonstrations with the county agent in Cameron county have shown, and as a result growers are using more lime sulphur than ever before.

A home-grown and home-canned meal consisting of baked spare ribs, creamed cabbage, shelled peas, corn, pudding, potatoes, salad, corn bread, peaches and whipped cream, and milk, was prepared and served to 14 guests in exactly 45 minutes recently by Mrs.
H. A. Jones, a 4-H pantry demonstrator of the Cayuga Home Demonstration Club in Anderson county.

Merchants offered cash offerings $200 in prizes to the five Marion county farmers who can produce the most black-eyed peas on 5 acres of land, as a means of encouraging the adoption of the food and feed program of the county agricultural committee.

"A cultured lady is judged by the things she likes to eat," the 4-H club girls in Uphur county have been told by their home demonstration agent.
As a result 146 of them are planting vegetables they have never planted before in their gardens.

Raven-thrashed farm crops in Pleasant Hill Community in Eastland county. A near-by raven roost covering 80 acres of timber was so thickly populated that farmers reported the birds were being the timber trees.
The county agent arranged a raven hunt and 50 sportsmen brought down from 500 to 800 birds. Another hunt is scheduled, to be followed by a poison campaign.

Skillful management enabled four Hemphill county poultry flock demonstrators to make $116.48 above feed cost in one recent month, the county agent reports. He points out that these flocks furnished a market for 2240 pounds of home-grown grain and 637 gallons of skim milk.

Guadalupe county farmers are looking ahead to the stud and jack circles already organized there. Two jacks and one stallion have been recently added. With a total of 15,500 work animals on Guadalupe county farms, about 11,000 of them will have to be replaced within 7 years, declares the county agent.

Nine community gardens ranging from one to seven acres in size are growing in Gray county. They were organized by the county commissioner's court and are under direction of the county agent.

MORE PEOPLE ON FARM NOW THAN EVER BEFORE

Our farm population now is the largest in the history of the country. On January 1, last, the farm population totalled 32,242,909, compared with 21, 241,000 on that date in 1922, according to the estimate by the Department of Agriculture. From Jan. 1, 1909 to Jan.
1, 1922 the farm population has increased 30,189,000 to the present high mark. The previous high mark was in 1919, with a census estimate of 22, 975,000.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimates that 1,011,000 persons left farms for towns and cities during 1932 and that 1,544,000 left towns and cities for farms. The surplus of births over deaths on farms was 469,500. For 1931 it is estimated that 1,469,000 persons left farms for cities and 1,633,000 left cities to go to farms. The surplus of births over deaths was 442,000. The 1931 was the notable decline in the number of persons leaving farms to go to cities.

GETS SHOULDER DISLOCATED

Will Overton, of near Baileyboro, while bringing a truck load of cattle to Muleshoe last Tuesday sustained a dislocated shoulder.
In some unexplainable manner the truck ran into ditch, overturning and injuring him. He was brought here for medical attention and resetting of the injured member.

SIDELIGHTS

BY
MARVIN JONES
Member of Congress
From Texas.

The emergency measure which has just been passed embodies the farm mortgage refinancing provisions as well as the currency program. It is frequently referred to as the most important and far-reaching legislation ever presented to the American Congress.

The Senate and House have now agreed on all of the provisions of the bill, and it has received executive approval.

Soon after the farm measure was sent to the Senate, I introduced the administration's farm mortgage bill and lead the fight for its adoption by the House of Representatives. It was adopted by an overwhelming vote.

Currency expansion measures were also pending in the House during this period and had been discussed by many members on the floor.

These measures were combined and the Thomas currency amendment added. The result of these various steps and combinations is one measure of tremendous importance to the farmer and to the nation in general.

Currency expansion measures were in the Senate added eighty-five amendments. In order to iron out the differences in the measure as it passed the House and Senate, it was necessary for a joint conference committee to be selected to represent each body.

Because of the importance of this legislation, I felt greatly honored in being chosen to head the group of conferrees from the House when the measure was thus taken up for final revision and adjustment by the two groups before its enactment into law.

The House and Senate both adopted the conference report, which was the last step before executive approval. It was my privilege to be present when it was approved, and the President presented it with a pen which he used in signing the measure.

The farm relief section of the composite bill is admittedly an experiment, and is intended to be used only in the present emergency. Under its provisions the Secretary of Agriculture is given broad powers to administer several plans in an effort to bring temporary relief to the farmer while a permanent program is being instituted.

The mortgage refinancing provisions have been discussed in the present reports. The necessity of farm refinancing was recognized by the President, with the result that such a measure has been approved by Congress.

I believe that a controlled expansion of the currency will be a long step toward recovery, because it brings with it an increase in commodity prices and increased purchasing power.

The reflation, or expansion, amendment which has been added to the farm bill contains four major proposals any or all of which may be used by the President for the purpose of increasing the commodity price level. The first relates to open-market operations by the Federal Reserve banks; the second provides for the issuance of Treasury notes within certain defined limits; the third relates to the acceptance of silver aggregating two hundred million dollars in payment of debts owed by foreign governments; and the fourth authorizes a change in the gold content of the dollar and the remonetization of silver.

With such a program as this in importance, accomplishing three important steps in the President's program of ultimate national recovery, I have every hope that the farmer will once more assume his proper place in our economic structure, and that America will be well on its way to better times.

It is claimed such procedure will bring a million dollars revenue into the state coffers, also permitting many to vote on constitutional amendments coming up which otherwise would be barred from participation.

County Commissioners in several New Mexico counties have refused to authorize expenditure of money for postage, etc., to send mail notices to all delinquent taxpayers in their respective counties as required by a law passed by the last legislature of that state. The sale takes place June 12, and all property tax delinquent from the last half of 1932 on back comes under the law. After the property has been sold, owners may still retain possession of it for two years from date, according to the law; yet delinquent owners all over the state are indignant.

PRESIDENT SIGNS BILL TO RELIEVE FARM CONDITIONS

President Roosevelt last Friday afternoon signed into law the massive bill to raise farm prices, giving him extraordinary inflationary powers and enabling easement of the agricultural mortgage burden.

In taking over this unprecedented management over currency, he had made it clear he was ready to use "when, as, and if it may be necessary."

The legislation gives him power to increase paper money, reduce the gold content of the dollar and to fix a ratio between gold and silver.

The farm provision gives the administration wide latitude to control production either by acreage allotments or by the leasing of lands to withdraw them from production. The refinancing of agricultural mortgages allows for a lower interest rate with a three year moratorium on interest payments.

FAIRVIEW CITIZENS IN MIXUP OVER EMPLOYMENT OF SUPT

Charges of "fighting" were filed in Justice Peace court Monday morning against Luther Caldwell and W. C. Beene, of the Fairview community about 14 miles southeast of Muleshoe, the combat reported to having grown out of some phase of the school squabble in that district.

Last week three teachers and all the truck drivers of the Fairview school are reported to have resigned, and that there is also a division of opinion among members of the school board, also citizens of that community, as to whether the school shall be continued or not.

Last year the question arose over the reemployment of C. B. James as superintendent of the Fairview school. A petition was circulated and signed by some of the citizens of that district asking for his resignation after he had been employed, but the school board stood four to three in favor of his re-employment, according to report. Again this year another petition was circulated and signed asking that he be not reemployed, and upon presentation to the school board, resulted in the same standing of vote, it is said.

EARNING BY COLLECTING

William Jennings Bryan once said: "I have no objection to men acquiring wealth if they get it honestly, and really earn it. But most men who have really earned a fortune have been too busy earning it to collect it; while most men who have succeeded in collecting a fortune have been too busy collecting it to earn it."

PRESIDENT SIGNS THE BIG $500,000,000 RELIEF BILL

President Franklin D. Roosevelt Friday of last week signed the $500,000,000 unemployment relief bill, and the Texas Legislature is endeavoring to authorize the voting on a constitutional amendment whereby the citizens of this state may vote a state bond of $20,000,000 so as to participate in the big federal financial dole, such participation being required to obtain any of the Washington slices. Whether the citizenry of Texas will see fit to vote a state wide bond of this proportion, the first in its history, is still a moot question, and present day tendencies are toward cutting down rather than increase taxes.

Half of the $500,000,000 authorized by congress will be given to states as outright relief gifts while the remainder will be distributed on a basis of $1 of government help for every $3 the state spends for relief.

RAIN SUNDAY NIGHT Following a rather cool and somewhat cloudy day last Sunday, there was about a quarter of an inch of rain fell here Sunday night, settling dust and refreshing the atmosphere generally, as well as crops and pasture. The showers while light were quite general in this vicinity, as much as a half inch of rain falling in the Goodland and Enochs sections in the southern part of the county. West and northwest of Muleshoe the rain was heavier than it was here. Great birds can grasp small facts—if they want to. Undoubtedly, the best dinner party is the one, where each guest is able to raise a laugh.

Henry Ford Dearborn, Mich. May 9, 1933 A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turn-around, and at last America's face is toward the future. Three years---1929 to 1932---we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward---through it. Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method---new political and financial machinery---to pull us out the way we are going---forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only---the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office. And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can. The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back. Henry Ford
