SHORTAGE OF CITY WATER IS BIG THREAT

That the City of Muleshoe is in dire danger of a water shortage during the summer months is the statement made by Mayor A. P. Stone at the Kiwanis meeting held last Friday noon. This danger, said the mayor, has been growing for months past, and is now more eminent than ever before.

The present pumping plant was located at the municipal well in 1927, the underground water level then being at one of its highest points. The pumps installed were built to take care of a suction lift of 13 feet, whereas they are now sucking water from about 20 feet distance. Neither of the two pumps in the city well are working at any ways near their maximum efficiency, one of them pumping about 150 gallons per minute while the other lifts approximately 160 gallons per minute. The pumps while operating well under conditions as they were at the time of installation, are not really of the type needed for water level fluctuations and lifting the large quantities of water needed for growing municipal purposes, a turbine centrifugal type pump being more desirable.

Present indications are that by careful conservation of the limited supply it may be possible, though doubtful, to furnish enough water for household usage of the town's residents; but with none for garden or lawn irrigation.

Tax Payment's Short

Mayor Stone insists that the city practically has its hands tied in overcoming the present water shortage because of no money with which to make needed additions and improvements. Delinquent taxes are mounting higher each year, and unless there is some payment of taxes very promptly indications are even the present water supply will be still further diminished.

Municipal taxes collected this year to date total $1,740.62. Delinquent taxes still unpaid for the past year are: $1,200.39 for 1930; $2,504.12 for 1931 and $3,940.61 for 1932, or a total of $4,745.12.

By cutting all necessary running expenses of the city as closely as possible payments of all warrants and bonds coming due have been made up to and including June 1, this year, but with the heavy delinquency of taxes it is now clearly evident future indebtedness will have to be defaulted until such a time as the city treasury has been replenished.

The water shortage is something that will affect every business man and householder within the city limits, and wherever it is at all possible citizens who are delinquent in their tax payments are urged to call at the city hall and make such payment as is possible for them to make. Present water conditions indicate that unless some taxes are paid the supply already inadequate for all purposes will become practically nil within another 30 days.

Federal Fund Grant Will Demand Extra Law Body Meeting

"Within the next few months the City of Austin is going to be the best place in Texas," commented James E. Ferguson, principal advisor and mouthpiece for his governor when the Federal appropriations are available for expenditure.

Information was received at the governor's headquarters Monday morning that between $250,000,000 and $300,000,000 Federal funds would soon be available for expenditure, Texas getting her quota of that sum.

It has been estimated that between $18,000,000 and $24,000,000 will be the part to be received by the state, a large portion of which will be expended by a special Relief committee appointed by the governor to handle the funds. Therefore it has been anticipated that most of this sum would be turned over to the State Highway Commission for road building throughout the state; but at this time it appears this Commission will have little to do with the funds expenditure.

Ferguson also announced there would be a special called session of the Legislature early in September. Such session would be necessary to pass enabling legislation in case the citizens voted favorably on the proposed $200,000,000 state bond which comes up August 26. There will also be other important financial matters for consideration, it is said.

EXTEND FRANCHISE LIMIT

A franchise to serve the City of Lubbock with gas is last fall by J. W. Moore Construction Co., and which expired May 16, was last Saturday extended by the City Commission until August 1.

Quite an Assignment

ASSUMED NAME FIRMS MUST FILE A CERTIFICATE OF OWNERSHIP IN THE DEMAND OF STATUTES IN THIS STATE

There are plenty of business men operating in the various counties throughout Texas who do not know there is a law requiring that any business concern being operated under an assumed name shall file with the county clerk of the state sub-division wherein located a certificate giving the style of the name assumed by the owner or owners, also the names of the person or persons interested in operating that particular concern, according to County Attorney Cecil H. Tate.

Publication of such business organizations is mandatory under the law, the cost of filing same being $1.00, and punishment for failure to comply with this particular law being a fine of not less than $25.00 nor more than $100, each day of delay and failure to comply with the law constituting a separate offense.

Corporations are not required to make such filings, according to Mr. Tate's interpretation of the law, their charter granted by the state carrying the necessary information and being considered sufficient; but organizations operating under a trade name, or any individual transacting business under any assumed name of any kind other than that of his own must make such filings.

While Attorney Tate did not intimate he would take any action against concerns in Bailey county failing to comply with this provision of the law, yet he did emphasize the advisability of complying with it, pointing out some of the benefits and protections accruing to assumed name firms, and the possibility of unnecessary cost in fines for failure to meet this particular legal provision.

A perusal of the record book in the county clerk's office at the court house shows the record of assumed name firms has been kept since 1926, in that year there being five such certificates filed; in 1927 there were four certificates filed; in 1928, nine; in 1929 three; in 1930, six; in 1931, none; in 1932, 13, or a total of 40 certificates the record began. Many of these concerns listed have long ago passed out of business existence, some of them have changed owner personnel and said certificates have not been properly revised, while it is also known there are several other business concerns operating in Muleshoe and other places in Bailey county who have made no attempt whatever to comply with the law.

The law applying to this particular business requirement, reads as follows: "No person or persons shall carry on or conduct or transact business in this state under any assumed name or under any designation, name, style, corporate or otherwise, other than the real name or names of the individual or individuals conducting or transacting such business unless such person or persons shall file in the office of the county clerk of the county or counties in which such person or persons conduct, or transact or intend to conduct or transact such business, a certificate setting forth the name under which such business is or is to be conducted or transacted, and the true full real name or names of the person or persons conducting or transacting the same, with the post-office address or the addresses of said person or persons.

"Said certificate shall be executed and duly acknowledged by the person or persons so conducting or intending to conduct said business in the manner now provided for acknowledgment of conveyance of real estate. (Acts 1921, p. 142)."

C. E. Wagner, Clovis Dies Of Pneumonia Burial There Monday

C. E. Wagner, manager of the Mesa theatre, Clovis, N. M., also president of that city's chamber of commerce, died Sunday morning from a ten days attack of pneumonia. Funeral services of deceased were held Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Clyde K. Campbell, Methodist pastor, and interment made in the Clovis cemetery.

The funeral service was attended by an especially large number of friends and acquaintances, and the local offerings were numerous and beautiful. Mr. Wagner came to Clovis about two years ago when the Mesa theatre was opened there, and, interesting himself actively in every movement for the progress of that city became greatly endeared to its people.

He was well known in Muleshoe by a large number of its citizens who deeply regret his untimely demise. He leaves a wife and three children.

Garner Unties Vote Reducing Pensions Just 25 Per Cent

Of interest to ex-service men of Bailey county and all over the nation is action of the U. S. Senate last Saturday on the reduced pension bill, also the breaking of the tie vote by Vice President John Garner in favor of the soldiers.

The Senate adopted an amendment to the Independent Offices Bill limiting to 25 per cent the cuts in service-connected World war veterans disability benefits and pensions of veterans of the Spanish-American war.

Vice President Garner cast the deciding vote for the amendment. A 42-42 resulted, and without Garner's vote in the affirmative it would have lost.

Senator Clark, Democrat, Missouri, brought the roll call vote officially completed, changed from aye to no and the tie.

Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texas voted in behalf of the soldiers.

LEGISLATURE HAS CLOSED ITS LONG SESSION

The 43rd Texas Legislature Thursday of last week completed the longest continuous term any lawmaking body ever has been in session in the state, the term of service lacking only one week of five months in duration.

The legislature cut the appropriations by one-fourth under the last legislature and liberalized blue laws to permit betting on horse races, made prize fighting permissible and submitted propositions to legalize the manufacture and sale of 32 per cent beer and repeal of the 18th amendment.

The prohibition propositions will be submitted to the electorate at a special election on August 26.

Among other proposals submitted at that election will be a $20,000,000 bond issue, proceeds of which would be used to relieve unemployment and to supplement funds of the United States Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

In event the bond issue should carry it would be necessary for the legislature to meet in special session to pass legislation putting the relief legislation into effect.

Mrs. Fannie Klump Heads Eastern Star For Coming Year

A very pretty, well attended and interesting meeting of the Order of Eastern Star was held last week at which time officers for the ensuing year were duly installed. Mrs. Curtis Taylor, retiring worthy matron, had charge of the installation service, performing that duty in a very efficient manner with much credit to herself and to the esoteric work of the order.

Officers installed were as follows: Mrs. Fannie Klump, worthy matron; Judge R. J. Klump, worthy patron; Mrs. Lora Mae Coker, associate matron; Ray Griffiths, associate patron; Mrs. Hattie Griffiths, conductress; Mrs. B. B. Taylor, pianist; Mrs. Stella Eason, associate conductress; Mrs. Ruth McCarty, Mrs. Rodie Boone, Miss Elizabeth Harden, Mrs. Thelma Perkins, Mrs. Zula Carley, star points; Mrs. Ruth Black, warder; Mrs. Beulah Carles, marshal; Mrs. Odessa Harden, chaplain; Mrs. Hester E. Gault, sentinal.

During the installation service music was furnished at stated periods. There was a piano solo by Mrs. Delma McCarty, a vocal duet by Mrs. Pat Bobb and Miss Opal Morris, and a vocal solo by Miss Ruth Mitchell.

At the close of the service refreshments of ice cream and cake were served those present.

Prompt Action Of West Texas Needed On Good Roads Plan

That it is now up to West Texas citizens to get busy in securing their pro rata share of the Federal money to be expended in this state in the near future, is the statement of J. C. Watson, secretary, South Plains Good Roads Association, who was in Muleshoe Wednesday in the interest of that organization.

It is now an assured fact that Texas will receive between $18,000,000 and $24,000,000 federal money to be expended on state highways, none of this money having to be returned to the government.

At the meeting of the South Plains Good Roads Association held in Lubbock, April 28, this year, the movement for securing this big fund was initiated; to this organization goes largely the credit for the suggestion which has finally produced this fund, and, therefore, this section is entitled to its share of the sum appropriated.

It is a well known fact that, regardless of the matter being originated in Bailey County, the leading towns and cities of East and Central Texas are now laying their plans to secure the major share of this big sum, and it is squarely up to the citizens of this section to get busy immediately to protect their own interests in securing more good roads, Watson said.

This week a drive for increased membership in the Texas Good Roads Association is being begun, as a means of securing immediate funds for prosecuting the campaign and showing to the Texas Highway Association the interest of West Texas in good roads. It is the desire of the readers of this section that the South Plains Good Roads Association shall make a strong showing of increased memberships in behalf of this very important movement. Bailey county has been assessed for 75 memberships, which should be easily raised, said Watson, and a committee should be appointed immediately for such action.

Penalties On Taxes Graduated, Second Payment Due June 30

Jim Cook, Bailey county tax collector, is in receipt of an opinion relative to paying of taxes and delinquency penalties from the attorney general of this state to the effect that if no payment of taxes has been made on the 1932 taxes Senate Bill No. 262, which provides for remission of penalty and interest, will be effective. However, the ruling says, if the first half payments have been made and the taxpayer fails to make the last half payment before July 1, the full penalty and interest will be charged.

All taxes delinquent on or before February 1933 may be paid with only one percent penalty and no costs if paid prior to September 30, 1933, Mr. Cook said.

In view of the opinion sent Mr. Cook it is especially urged that taxpayers who paid the first half before July 1932 taxes, pay the last half before June 30, because the provision of the Senate bill remitting penalties and interest will not apply to this last half of the 1932 taxes.

County Judge J. E. Adams states that Bailey county is now in dire need of tax money. All county officials have received only one-half their salary checks for the past two months, many other bills have only been partly paid, and some not paid at all. Probably never before since the county's organization has the treasury been so low in available funds, the Judge said.

TEXAS 1933 WHEAT CROP IS SMALL BUT MORE PROFITABLE

Texas wheat growers with a crop of about 15,000,000 bushels this year will get a real profit from their crop that was lacking in the 1932 harvest of little less than 30,000,000 bushels.

Last year they received from 23 to 30 cents for their wheat, according to location and time of harvest. This year they will probably get from 54 to 60 cents.

With costs of plowing, planting and harvesting about the same each year, farmers expect to show "money in the bank" from this year's operations—and that also holds good with reference to oats and barley.

Oats are expected to bring the farmer from 18 to 22 cents, while last year, they sold at 7 to 10. Barley probably will sell at 25 to 27 cents, compared with considerably less in 1932.

WHEAT LOANS EXTENDED TIME FOR GRANTING WATER

That for granting water loans which were supposed to have been closed May 31, have been extended until June 15, according to announcements of officials in charge.

The maximum amount of loan allowed any one applicant is $300 and he must agree to use 30 per cent of his land for other crop growing purposes.

Hundreds Here For Barter Day Occasion, Mon.

Muleshoe had another very successful Barter day occasion last Monday, everything going off in a pleasant manner and with profit to a large number attending who brought various articles for sale or trade.

By ten o'clock in the morning there was a good sprinkling of people arriving, and by one o'clock that afternoon parking places on Main and adjoining streets were at a premium while the Barter grounds were well thronged with people who had come to enjoy and take part in events of the day. Texas Slim's rodeo was a popular feature of the day, two shows being given, wherein bronco busting, trick riding, bull-dogging and other rodeo stunts were pulled off by the skilled riders and cowboys.

An orchestra, composed of Travis Hair and Frank Hyatt, of Earth; A. F. Copeland, Childress; Morris Garth, Baileyboro; and Arnold Ackinson, Muleshoe; furnished interesting music throughout the afternoon. In this connection a clog dance put on by two little boys of Ova Robinson created considerable interest and amusement through their juvenile terpsichorean act. There were two wrestling matches throughout the day and late in the afternoon more than 300 people witnessed a thickets, feet were among the different articles finding ready sale.

Practically everything brought for trade, barter or sale found a ready disposal either by auction, private swap. Two auctioneers were on hand, rendering their services gratis to the public. Pigs, goats, farm implements, tools, household goods, washing machines, chickens, feet were among the different articles finding ready sale.

Practically every business man in town reported good business during the day, some of them having bumper business as the visitors readily vantage of the special price of merchandise and other wares put up for the occasion. More than one business man reported that this special offering had sold 70 pairs of good leather knives, and with 14 extra orders to be filled because he ran out of his supply.

Plans are already being discussed for a big patriotic event the first Monday in July, which may become a two day event, as this date falls on the day before the 4th of July national independence day. It is probable there will be some prominent public speakers present on those two days, in connection with the regular Barter day event, or else the Barter day may be held one day later, on the Fourth of July so as to combine the commercial and patriotic features of the occasion.

Palo Duro Canyon To Be Improved As A National Park

The 30 year drive of Texas Panhandle citizens for a national park in the Palo Duro canyon became a reality last week when President Roosevelt signed a document to that effect. On the other hand, owners of the 14,466 acre tract in that canyon have agreed to convey the land to the state under consideration of the Federal government establishing at least three forestry camps there for improvement.

The Federal government has agreed to establish four camps in this particular canyon and to expend the sum of $72,000 during the coming six months in building roads, bridge paths, water dams, forming lakes, establishing boating, swimming and fishing places, erection of stone buildings for administration purposes, trimming the trees, planting additional trees and cleaning out the underbrush. None of the money used by the government for these purposes will have to be repaid.

The president's signature also provided for another state park in the Panhandle to be known as Palisades park and located about 12 miles south of Amarillo. Two hundred men will be given work for six months on this one park.

It has been estimated that $80,000 will be expended on the two projects.

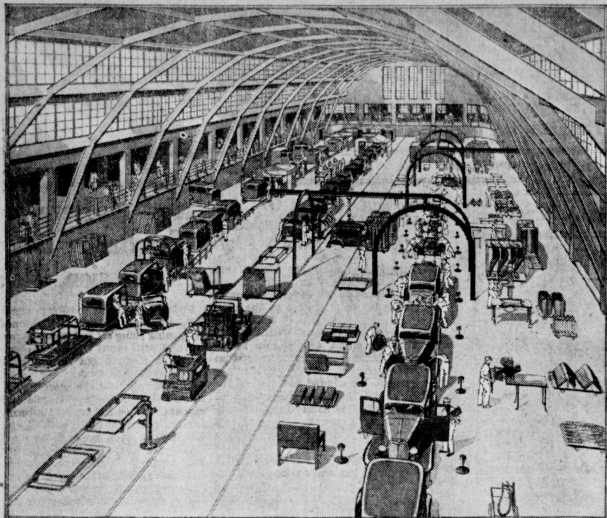

COURT HOUSE REJUVENATED

The Bailey county court house is this week being thoroughly rejuvenated inside by Building Superintendent Alex Paul, assisted by three workmen. The floors have been scrubbed and refined, windows washed and all wood work is being given coat of varnish, greatly improving the entire appearance.

Expense of the work is being defrayed by R. J. Klump.

It's but little good you'll do watering the last year's crop—Ed.

Cars Being Built at World's Fair

Millions of people will have their first opportunity to see an automobile being built, when they visit this mammoth room where the Chevrolet Motor Company will assemble "Master Six" coaches and coupes in the special General Motors Building at "A Century of Progress" exposition. On the left, Fisher bodies are being fabricated on a "J" shaped line and on the right, Chevrolets are being assembled from the bare frame to the completed car, ready to be driven out of the building under their own power. Note, in the center of the photograph, the body being swung from the end of the Fisher line over to its place on a Chevrolet chassis. Visitors may purchase cars built here and drive them home.

It is a ribbed blue-and-white one piece bathing suit worn by Miss Verna Hillie, the feature being that little trick tie-on skirt which neatly trestles two suits in one. It is a new model for 1933.

A Million Dollar Kitchen

WOULD food taste better to you if you knew it was prepared in a million dollar kitchen? As a matter of fact, you eat food from a million dollar kitchen practically every day of your life—at a cost of a few cents to you.

Director G. H. Hecke, head of the California Department of Agriculture coined the "million dollar kitchen" phrase in speaking of canned foods. A recent editorial in the Los Angeles Times quotes Director Hecke's reference to canned foods as "prepared in a million dollar kitchen, under expert supervision with all the latest methods of testing, accompanied by the accuracy and skill of modern cooking and preparation."

Canner Aids Farmer and Housewife

The Times says, in part: "The canning industry has made tremendous progress in the past fifteen years, having grown to a point where today it represents an annual business of approximately $90,000,000 in California alone. It has become the right-hand man of agriculture, so to speak.

"Look in the most particular housewife's pantry and, lo, her shelves are well filled with canned goods of many sorts. She will tell you that the canners have secured the choicest fruits and vegetables for their processing, that they have obviously used the utmost care in their preparation and that they have preserved beyond the scope of many a woman's kitchen equipment, the flavor and value of the foods.

"And from an economic standpoint, the canner saves agriculture from a heavy annual loss. The amount of fruit and vegetables which can be consumed during their period of harvest is rarely equal to production, but the packer can preserve it for later use."

Mix It and Eat It

It takes nine tailors to make a man, according to the old French proverb, but only four persons to make a salad dressing—a spendthrift for the oil, a miser for the vinegar, a wise man for the salt and a fool for the pepper.

An editorial writer in the New York Herald Tribune, in commenting on salad days says: "Nowadays it would seem that the old gentleman who of yore was visible at his club table putting about his fresh greens and pressing favorite recipes on all comers is in abundance, but more and more the salad, originally a Continental importation, is becoming an American favorite."

Putter If You Please

Perhaps the reason fewer people putter about the fresh greens and other ingredients in making salads is because there are so many convenient salad ingredients now on the market that require little puttering. But if you are one of those persons who prefer the Continental manner of mixing your salads at the table and eating them freshly mixed, be sure and have on hand plenty of these ingredients.

If your husband happens to be mixer-in-chief, make sure that the ingredients are all ready for tossing together, otherwise it will take more than four persons just to collect the crystal salt, white pepper, malt vinegar, tarragon, chives and hashed parsley that salad connoisseurs demand.

Then in the refrigerator have cans of fruits for salad, baby beets, stringless beans, artichokes, celery, mayonnaise, various kinds of canned fish, whipping cream, etc., and you will have the perfect makings for a mix-and-eat-it Sunday night salad supper.

Keep Them In the Can

THERE are still a few housewives who have inherited belief in the old wives' tale that it is not safe to leave canned foods in the can after it is opened. Perhaps the assurance of two such eminent scientists as Dr. J. C. Geiger, Director of Public Health of the City and County of San Francisco, and Dr. E. V. McCollum, Ph.D., Sc.D., of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore will help to dispel this mistaken idea.

"Quite a number of inquiries have come to this department," said Dr. Geiger, "relative to commercially canned foods. The canned food, as canned today, is one of the safest foods available. One point that disturbs most people is that they are afraid to allow food to remain in the can after opened. It is much safer to leave the food in the can if properly protected, since ordinarily this food is free of germs and quite often the housewife thinking she is doing the right thing, takes the food from the germ free can and transfers it to a not germ free plate. Furthermore, poisoning from tin is quite unknown in America."

Remain in Better Condition

Dr. McCollum recently wrote in McCall's Magazine about this fallacy:

"This is not true. In general, foods remain in better condition until eaten if the unopened portion is kept in the can. Spoilage results from exposure to dust, air and insects, and to the bacteria with which any dish may be covered. There is nothing about the can which will contribute to the spoilage of foods."

A Dollar Dinner For Four

FOR February—and also for Food, February, perhaps more than any other month is the time when nourishing foods are essential. Summer and sunshine are a long way back, and our resistance to colds is apt to be decreased by the sunless days of late winter.

It is for Housewife and like-wise for Health. For it is the housewife who has in her keeping the health of the family. She should endeavor to provide meals which will be full of vitamin and iron content to build energy and resistance.

These meals need not be expensive, especially if one buys when sale prices are offered. Here is a delicious dinner that is dietetically excellent. It costs only one dollar and serves four persons generously.

Salmon Saga

DID you ever stop to think how the salmon and the canner costs so little that we are inclined to think cans grow on bushes and accommodating salmon leap into them.

Consider the Can

What actually happens, so far as the can is concerned in this, according to the American Grocer magazine. The tin is imported from far-off Singapore or Bolivia—and the iron is probably mined in Northern Minnesota. The two elements are combined in Pittsburgh or vicinity in the form of tin-plate. This tin-plate is shipped to the Pacific Coast, is made into tin cans which are sent by steamer to the Northern reaches of Alaska. There they are filled with salmon returned to Seattle, and thence to the markets of the world.

So much for the can. Then there is the thrilling story of the millions of artificially-hatched baby salmon, especially intended to fill these cans, who are turned into the rivers to make their loss. No less interesting is the process of canning these very fit fish, so they come to us in perfect condition. There is the story, too, of men from the great salmon fleet who brave hazards of the North to make their catch.

No less interesting is the process of canning these very fit fish, so they come to us in perfect condition. There is the story, too, of men from the great salmon fleet who brave hazards of the North to make their catch.

And then there is the story of salmon ready for you—as low as 10¢ a pound in the markets of the world.

Sukquttahhash

SUCOTASH—to you—but the early Puritan writers spelled the name of this delicious dish according to its Indian pronunciation, which was Sukquuttahash. The Indian method of making this delicious stew was literally a "hash" of green corn and green lima beans, cooked over open fires where the aroma of charred wood mingled its tantalizing favor with the good smell of corn and beans. One Puritan writer describes the dish as being "seeded like beans," which probably means long cooking until both vegetables were tender and succulent.

The Modern Way

is most simple to make? It has only lately become possible, at this season of the year, because only comparatively recently has whole kernel corn been available in cans—corn with the actual flavor of sweet kernels on the cob.

Here is the recipe for an excellent succotash: Take a can of baby lima beans, which are the very young, green limas, and mix them with a can of whole kernel corn. Add butter generously and a dash of salt and paprika. Let this mixture "soothe" or simmer to mingle the flavors, and then serve piping hot with a garnish of crisp bacon.

You'll decide to "go savage" at least once a week, and enjoy this traditional American dish.

DIMPLY DUMPLINGS

BABIES and dumplings should have dimples. That's an undeniable fact. Perhaps this similarity and the further fact that both are delicious is why babies are sometimes called dumplings. But you should keep your dumplings and babies carefully separate because the former should be steamed or baked, but the latter—never!

Here are recipes for a couple of dumplings guaranteed to have dimples and full of delicious fruit which are just the thing to fill the cracks and crannies with a sense of warmth and comfort these cold winter days.

Steam This One

Cook the contents of a No. 2 can of Hawaiian pineapple and two-thirds cup sugar for five minutes. Turn into a pudding dish. Sit together one cup flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt and two tablespoons baking powder, and add one-half cup milk. Drop this batter by spoonfuls on top of the pineapple and steam fifteen minutes, having the vessel closely covered. Serve with cream. Serves six.

And Bake This

Cook the contents of an 8-ounce can of crushed Hawaiian pineapple, one-third cup sugar and one-eighth teaspoon cinnamon together for five minutes, or till quite thick. Cool slightly. Roll rich baking powder biscuit dough thin, cut in four-inch squares and put a spoonful of the pineapple in the center of each. Bring corners together, and pinch tightly. Bake twenty-five to thirty minutes in a hot—375°—oven. Serve with fluffy hard sauce. Serves six.

Some people are contented with a little, while others are discontent with a lot.

Pays to Put Sows on Clean Ground Means Assured Increase in Size of Litters.

By GEORGE HENDERSON, County Agent at Laramie, Colorado, Agricultural College, Fort Collins, Colorado, Extension Service.

Sanitation spells more pigs saved per litter for many eastern Colorado hog growers. For instance, arrangements made by two farmers to have their sows farrow on clean ground, brought much better results than a year ago.

Fred P. Fassler, who lives near Akron, had 11 sows farrowing on new ground in the spring. They saved 108 pigs—about 9 per litter. The two top litters contained ten pigs each, and there were no runts in the whole bunch, according to E. J. Meadows, Washington county agricultural extension agent, who has aided Fassler in obtaining better results. Last year, on old ground, Fassler's 10 sows only saved 96 pigs.

E. A. Michael, Sedgwick county farmer, who had difficulty in raising hogs the year before, was able to save 85 pigs from 11 sows by moving the sows to new ground before they farrowed. He plans to use a pasture for his pigs where no hogs have been for two years, according to G. E. McCrimmon, county extension agent.

Changing the hog lots to new ground is probably the best thing farmers can do to increase the size of the litters.

Germinated Oats Found of Little Real Value

A few years ago considerable attention was paid to providing poultry with succulent especially during the winter months. The common methods were to supplement the rations with bulky material such as cabbage, stock beets, etc. Then came the sprouted oat, and later the use of germinated oats. The practice of using this type of material in rations for egg production was based upon the fact that poultry apparently relished the form of food. On the other hand, experimental tests were lacking and those which were conducted failed to produce the expected results.

Professor Carriek of Purdue university reports the results of three years test with germinated oats in laying rations. The average result for the three year test was about 8 eggs per hen more for the flocks fed germinated oats. According to Professor Carriek the slight difference in egg production is not sufficient to justify much expense for labor or equipment to feed these products and that "it appears possible that the general farmer can expect to gain little, if anything, by feeding germinated oats to his flock, and it seems doubtful that specialized poultry keepers will profit from such feeding practices."—Missouri Farmer.

Around the Farm

Complete and thorough grinding of hog millet is very essential to insure complete utilization by the lambs.

Twenty-seven thousand New York state farm boys and girls are enrolled in 4-H clubs. More than 850 men and women are voluntary local leaders.

Good quality beef, according to the North Dakota Agricultural college report, is cherry red, its fat is creamy white and brittle.

Porcelain Teeth

Artificial porcelain teeth were made in France as early as 1774, but were not introduced into this country until 1817, when Dr. A. A. Plantau arrived in Philadelphia from Paris.

Baileyboro News

Baileyboro Busy Bees
The Baileyboro Busy Bees had their first meeting of the year May 21. There were 12 members present. Officers for the year were elected as follows:

Mrs. G. L. Blackshear was re-elected president; Mrs. J. H. Freudiger, vice-president; Miss Byrdine Wallis, secretary-reporter; Mrs. Ruthie Blackshear, treasurer.

We also have two new members, Mrs. Mae Stinnett and Mrs. Rice.

Mrs. G. L. Blackshear brought a quilt, and a pleasant afternoon was spent in quilting and talking over the business of the club.

The Busy Bees met again June 7. Mrs. C. F. Garth and Mrs. J. H. Freudiger bringing quilts for completion. We invite all the women that have just moved into the community to come to our club.

The farmers have all been busy the past two weeks planting their crop. The Baileyboro school closed last week with some very interesting programs.

Mrs. C. F. Garth, Mrs. Frank Applegate and Mrs. Ethel Hilliard spent Friday evening with Mrs. Posa Burl who has been confined to her bed the past four months.

Lester Garth left for East Texas last week to look for work.

A good many of the young folks from Baileyboro have been attending the school closing program at Longview.

Friday evening the Baileyboro boys played the Longview school boys a game of baseball, winning with a score of 7 to 6.

Miss Grace Vesta and Sue Brannen and a friend will leave Saturday for Las Vegas, New Mexico, where they will attend summer school.

BAPTIST CIRCLE MEETING

Circle No. 1 of the Baptist church met Monday afternoon at the lovely country home of Mrs. E. E. Hari. There were 10 members present.

After a short business session, Mrs. C. A. Joiner took charge and directed the lesson in the Bible study book.

These lessons are very interesting and we urge our women who are not attending to come and be with us in our circle meetings.

After the lesson an enjoyable social hour was spent. Delicious refreshments consisting of strawberry ice cream, cake and punch were served to the following ladies: Mesdames Barron, Shook, Winn, Coker, Joiner, B. Garrett, Danner, E. Griffiths, I. H. Robinson, and the hostess—Reporter.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE WED

Robert Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Robinson, of Wilson, and Miss Katharine Hanover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hanover, of Goodland, and teacher at the Goodland school during the past term, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents on the Figure 4 ranch, last Sunday afternoon, June 4, at 4 o'clock Rev. Pat Jordan officiating.

The bride was dressed in a simple but effective blue organdie frock and was unaccompanied. The ring ceremony was used but the affair was very informal.

About 35 friends and relatives of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Sanders left immediately after the ceremony from their new home at Wilson.

PUT IN TUNING LATHE

Fry & Cox, local blacksmiths, are this week installing a big South Bend lathe having a 10 foot bed and 24 inch swing.

This big, new machine when installed will considerably enlarge the range and increase the efficiency of their shop work which is already rapidly growing.

This firm has one of the best equipped blacksmith shops to be found anywhere on the South Plains and they draw work here from several hundred miles away in New Mexico because of the good equipment and skilled workmanship.

MORTON POST OFFICE ROBBED

The Morton post office was robbed Saturday night. Gaining entrance through a rear window the safe, a small one, was taken from the building about 200 yards near a blacksmith shop which was broken into. A sledge hammer was secured and the door of the safe broken open with it. About $200 was taken, and the safe, valued at $50 was a loss.

LITTLE vs. BIG BUSINESS

Little business men remain little because they transact their business in a little way. Big business men grow bigger and bigger because they transact their business in the bigger way. There is a sermon and a great deal of psychology in this little paragraph, if you care to search it out.—Tucumcari, N. M., News.

CARD OF THANKS

We sincerely thank each of our neighbors and friends who aided us during the sickness and death of our beloved darling and we also thank each for the beautiful floral offerings, may God's richest blessings be with each of you is our earnest prayer.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Learn to do well; seek judgment; reprove the oppressor—judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.—Isaiah 1:17.
A rich man without charity is a rogue.—Fielding.

BOYHOOD MEMORIES

Two things in the cherished memory of every man are now in season—circuses and baseball. They thrive because they haven't changed to any perceptible degree, and because they bring back memories of other days.
The baseball and circus men have kept faith with humanity by giving them year after year the same show as of old. The pink luncheon may have been repelled by bottled pop, and the pitcher may be forbidden to chew "slippery elm" and spit on the ball, but these are only details. The thrill is still there. The crack of the ball against the bat and the shout of the ringmaster as the clown performs some silly prank are still music to the ear.
The Muleshoe man who has let the cares of life bog him down to the point where he has lost all interest in the ball game or the circus is cheating himself out of joy and happiness that he is entitled to, and that he cannot afford to miss. It is a short life, any way we live it, and those who do not get their happiness out of it as they go along are the only ones who find it a disappointment.

When a circus—big or little—comes in reach of you, find some way to reach it. When there's a ball game anywhere in the neighborhood, even though you may not know a soul on either team, take a couple of hours off and go see it. It will bring you something that is worth more than all the money in the world—boyhood memories. It will make you a happier man because it will recall the happiness you had when you were a boy.

"Sympathy," says a wise Kansas editor, "is what one woman offers another in exchange for the details."

himself financially for all the years to come.
Figures compiled by the U. S. Dept. of Commerce are apt to startle the Muleshoe car owner who has never given much thought to the subject. They show that of all the bankruptcies of wage earners and professional men, about one out of every five takes the bankrupt law to escape judgments growing out of auto accidents. This does not take into account the cost to the motorist himself and his family.

Yet some people never stop to look ahead or to think what their acts may lead to. If they can't be made to consider their own future the state must step in and direct their actions. The large number of auto fatalities in every community each year indicates that a large degree of public control is necessary.

FACTS ABOUT CRIME

The U. S. Bureau of Investigation has recently given out some facts relative to crime that may well give pause to every thoughtful citizen. It is based upon records compiled from fingerprint cards received during the first three months of 1933 and shows the percentage of the total number of persons arrested for crime, who were under 21 years of age.
The figures are startling: auto thefts, 48 percent; burglary, 38 percent; robbery, 28 percent; rape, 27 percent; larceny, 28 percent. More significant evidence could scarcely be found in favor of setting up all possible agencies to aid American youth toward upright living, when the tendency toward crime of those under 21 years of age is so appalling.

It is a great undertaking, and one that the school and the home can take a leading part in. It is one of the most stupendous problems this country must eventually solve.

SELF-PRESERVATION

There has always been plenty of jealousy from East and Central Texas over the accomplishments of West Texas, and indications now are that it simply up to West Texas to don her fighting togs and get out in a real scrap for her own rights. Even the Legislature don't seem to be able to tote fair with the folks out here.
Senator Arthur Duggan calls attention to the fact that $172 per student has been apportioned to Tech college, $309 per student to A. & M. college and $235 per student to C. I. A. college.
Members of the present Legislature have stated publicly on the floor of the House that West Texans were beggars, mendicants and thieves—regardless of the fact that West Texas paid for the railroads of East Texas, paid for the State capitol building, paid for the State university and is now providing an over supply of funds for the State University and A. & M. colleges.
It's certainly time for West Texans to awaken to their own rights, roll up their sleeves and see that they are respected!

JAUNTY JOURNALETTES

One of the most aphetic things we can think of is some of the muck in and around Muleshoe waiting to inherit the earth.
Deny it if you will, the truth remains that the average Muleshoe man isn't ready until he begins to find pleasure in things that are not really bad for him.
We suppose there are some Muleshoe people left who are beginning to figure out where to spend their vacation this summer.
So far as Muleshoe citizens are concerned, they hope the fellow who recently invented self-polishing shoe leather will not try his hand on self-paying bills.

For all we know there may be a few of the old-fashioned Muleshoe girl who said to her young man: "Aren't you forgetting yourself?"
It sometimes happens that after a Muleshoe husband has been given his own way he doesn't know exactly what to do with it.
Maybe one reason there are more widows than widowers in Muleshoe is that the women linger on to have the last word.
A historian announces that women used cosmetics in the middle ages. It's our observation that Muleshoe women still use cosmetics in the middle ages.

PAVEMENT PICKUPS

Fred Jennings, says Dame Fashion now insists that a woman's makeup must be in keeping with the shade of her dress, which may be alright now; but it pains him to think what the effect will be when plaids again come back in style.
"It Roosevelt picked up his good work," insists Tom Davis, "we will soon not only be beating our swords plowshares, but also our crooners into unconsciousness."
R. O. King, relief agent at the depot, declares everybody has their trouble. Santa Fe agents included. One day last week a woman came in wanting to have her umbrella sent to her by telegraph. "It can't be done," insisted the agent. "Don't try any of your smartness on me," replied the woman. "If you can send flowers and money by wire, why can't you telegraph my umbrella!"
"How much does a marriage license cost now since the 'gin marriage' law has been repealed in Texas," asked a young man of County Clerk J. B. Mather last week. "A dollar," replied the genial official, "and your salary every week for the rest of your life." And it is reported Burkhead didn't even stutter nor crack a smile.

One's home town is invariably just what its citizens make of it. Buying at home is a proposition of mutual benefit. The more merchandise a business man hands out across his counters the cheaper he can get it.

In spite of stringent economies, all the publicity that has been given world peace and advice of the slugs, there will probably be the usual number of June weddings in Bailey county this year.
Cabbage is going up in price, and another vision vanishes, for about the time Muleshoe folks get all set for a good five cent cigar the raw material becomes prohibitive.

One very objectionable feature to this new currency we have been hearing so much about is that no one in Muleshoe has seen any of it yet.

Dear Editor, Mr. Mitchell:

Wanted to drop you a line and tell you how much I appreciate your sending me a paper from my home town. Every boy in my tent eagerly read every word, and are interested in several people that I have described, but more than anything they are interested in Muleshoe, the town with a peculiar name and friendly people.
The boys know (from my description) where the swimming pool is located, the golf links, the court house, printing office, depot, and Snaps Service Station.
I believe in boosting my home town and your paper helped me to describe it.
Most of these boys I've never met before, but are now my firm friends. Things here are swell.
Thanking you for the paper, I rest,
Yours truly,

Make Every Farm a Factory Every Day of the Year
The Function Of A ...BANK...

We believe if the public kept in mind the true function of a bank it would make for better understanding and banks would be more esteemed by the communities which they serve. The officers who work in a bank work for its stockholders and they do not own the money which they handle and which they loan.
As we understand it the function of a bank is to gather up the resources of the community in which it exists and, as far as they can safely do so, loan these funds to the customers of the bank. These loans must be so made that they are liquid because the bank is pledged to return the deposits on demand and if its loans are bad or frozen then it can not be in a position to pay the depositors when they want or need their funds.
It is the duty of every person who borrows from a bank to not only pay his note but to, for at least a part of the time, have funds on deposit in the bank that can be loaned to other customers. In other words a good bank is a mutual proposition, its customers combining their resources to accommodate each other and thus it follows that no one who is not a depositor of the bank should expect a loan from the bank.

THE PROOF IS IN THE BANKING STRUCTURE

Speaker Outlines Threefold Cooperation Between Bankers, Government Officials and the Public to Maintain Bank Standards

Two elements beside the bankers themselves are required in order to give the nation universally the type of banking it should have, Francis H. Sisson, president of the American Bankers Association, declared in a recent address. He said that the efficiency of government officials upon whom the people rely to supervise the banks properly, and the patronage of the people themselves are factors in the kind of banks a community shall have.
"There can be no question that the people of the United States should have banks immune from failure and wholly free from bad or questionable banking," Mr. Sisson said. "It is not enough, as President Roosevelt has said, that while some bankers had been incompetent or dishonest, this was not true in the vast majority of our banks. A situation should exist in which there is not even a small minority of bankers open to question. There should be no room for dishonesty or incompetency to exercise any influence in banking anywhere."
"While bad faith and bad management enter the human factor in all types of business, their effects in banking should be surrounded by such special safeguards as to render them no longer a factor in bank failures. The responsibility for bringing this about, however, cannot rest upon the bankers alone, for the means to accomplish it are not wholly in their hands. There are other essential elements."
"One is the efficiency of government supervision. Since we rely so greatly upon supervision, it may, unless it is of the highest order in safeguarding the public interest, create a sense of false security. Supervision should render bad banking impossible, but it has failed to do so. There was supervision by presumably the highest type of bank supervisors in every one of the instances of questionable banking that has shocked the attention of the country during the past three years. Therefore a thorough strengthening of supervision is clearly called for if the people are to rely on it to the fullest extent for the protection of their interests."

The Public's Part
"Another essential factor in maintaining good banks involves the part played by the public in banking. There is certainly a responsibility on the people themselves to support that type of banker whose rigid adherence to sound principles makes a sound bank, rather than to give their patronage to the easy going banker who may be easier to do business with, but whose methods create a weak bank."
"Bank customers are charged with a great responsibility in protecting the safety of their banks in respect to their utilization of the assets of the banks as borrowers. Banks have failed because many of their loans and securities, created in good faith by bankers in cooperating with the business interests of the country, proved unsound under subsequent conditions. An unsound loan is created by the borrower as well as the banker. A bank is only as sound as its community, and this applies also to the banking structure as a whole in relation to the economic condition of the nation as a whole."
"A bank is truly a semi-public institution, but in a reciprocal sense—it has its obligations to the public, but so has the public equal obligations to the bank. No one who has not sound banking principles at heart has any business in a bank whether as a banker or as a customer."
"The banker is a semi-public servant. He is charged with the heaviest of responsibilities and obligations that occur in our economic life. But he can meet these fully only through the cooperation of good laws, good public officials who are empowered to exercise authority over his bank, and good business methods on the part of business men generally who utilize his bank only through such cooperation by all elements in our nation's community life can we be assured of a failure-proof banking structure."
"The Administration at Washington has taken hold of this problem with a firm grasp of essentials and is exercising splendid leadership toward the desired end. The strongest feature of the government program will be found in recognizing the joint responsibility of the public, of business, and of government officials together with the bankers themselves in creating the kind of banking the nation should have."

Improved Pasture Pays
IMPROVED pastures are a cheap source of feed for stock. A farmer in New Hampshire, cooperating with his county agent top-dressed his 5 acres of pasture with 500 pounds of complete fertilizer at a cost of $75, reports the United States Department of Agriculture. After 4 weeks he turned his cows out on this pasture. Tests made during the six weeks the cows grazed there showed that his herd produced 7,000 pounds more milk than they did in the same period the previous year, although the farmer had one cow fewer and fed 800 pounds less grain. Based on current milk prices he made $130 on the extra milk and saved $16 on the grain, netting him an increase in income of $120.—U. S. Department of Agriculture.

METHODIST CHURCH
The services of Sunday will be opened at the regular hour, and the evangelistic meeting which has been running for over a week and will continue through Sunday night.
We hope that all teachers and members of the Sunday school will be on time Sunday morning, giving us ample time for a good lesson and have some time for the devotion in the classes; to see how the class members stand and how they feel about the meeting and their relation to the church and God.
We are glad the first run of measles has done its due and those who were sick are beginning to appear in public.

CARE WILL SAVE YOUR CAR
SO PLEASE DO NOT NEGLECT IT!
Hot weather is now here and many motors are going to be damaged by overheating.
To insure normal operating temperature of your motor, have the cooling system flushed out to remove any sediment that may have collected in the radiator and cylinder block, install new hose connections as the old ones may be chafed inside retarding the water circulation.
Be sure the water pump and fan are doing their work properly, also, be sure the ignition is properly timed. All this is very important for proper operation of your motor.
Drive into the Clinic and let us help you keep your motor running.

This has been a hard case with many of them and we hope no serious permanent results will occur with any one.
The meeting will continue through this week, and while we have not yet had the results in the way of conversions and reclamations, there has been a benefit to the church people of the town and country to those who have attended the meetings with any degree of regularity.
We wish to urge that the people do their best to attend the morning services more. This has been a time when the out of the ordinary farming conditions and the extreme seriousness and far extent of the spread of measles have been a great hindrance to the life, spirit and meetings of the church. Under normal conditions matters would have been far different.

TEXAS APPROPRIATIONS ARE REDUCED $10,742,827 BY SOLONS

Texas taxpayers should be happy over the action of its Legislature, when last week it reduced authorized appropriations, $10,742,827 than was allowed for expenditures last year under former Governor Sterling.

The report stated that the appropriations this year would aggregate $42,616,683 provided the Governor did not veto any of the miscellaneous claims against the State. The total of the previous appropriations was $53,359,510.

Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman, who sent up the report, pointed out that part of the appropriations approved by the present Legislature were to cover deficiencies.

FIRE AT CLOVIS SATURDAY

A fire, which was dangerously threatening for a little while, broke out at Clovis, N. M., last Saturday afternoon, destroying property of the Triangle Oil Co., to the value of $10,000 or more.

The blaze started while transferring oil from a railroad to a storage tank and is supposed to be either from static origin or defective wiring. Quick work of the Fire department kept the flames from spreading to adjoining property.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Fly And Mosquito Family Begin Residence Here

Austin, Texas, has just been received by the State Department of Health that Mr. and Mrs. Mosquito and Mr. and Mrs. Fly with their kind-folks, are planning to take up their summer residence in the state. They state that, although many had died since last summer, they would soon have large families. Mrs. Mosquito raises from fifty to three hundred children at one time and only takes around two weeks to have full grown children. Mrs. Fly bragged that she and her husband could be ancestors to a million flies in one season.

Mosquitoes are responsible for the spread of malaria, dengue, and yellow fever. Malaria is spread by the bite of the Anopheles or malaria mosquito. Dengue fever and yellow fever are transmitted by the Aedes aegypti or Tiger mosquito. The best way to prevent these diseases is to destroy the breeding places of the mosquito. They breed in any standing water, therefore, you should drain, ditch or fill such places, spray oil on water each week, too, or stock the water with surface minnows as they will eat the wiggle-tails. Houses should be screened.

Flies help spread typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhoea, tuberculosis, anthrax, and cholera. They breed, live and feed in filth. To prevent their increase all refuse should be disposed of at once, garbage kept in covered containers, privies made sanitary and houses screened. Every neighborhood raises its own flies so that their number is an excellent index to the sanitary conditions. The State Health Department, County and City Health Officers are only too glad to assist in banishing this source of disease.

WOMEN'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE MOTOR CAR

There is some doubt that people care to hear very much about what goes on under the hoods of their cars.

The driver knows that "driving qualities" are not accidental; they are put there. How the manufacturer creates or evolves those results may not interest him. He judges entirely by the results he gets in driving.

Well, it is not essential to talk "shop"; let us talk Results.

Smoothness. Drive the Ford V-8 and you will find that the engine runs with surpassing smoothness, due to its design and the extra precise methods of its manufacture.

Power. There it is, 75 horsepower (we could say 80) at the drive-shaft for the driver's use. With less weight to pull around, the mettle of this car—its life-like response—is rather remarkable.

Economy. Our V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gasoline than any car we have made. Mileage is partly a matter of individual driving, but under average conditions the Ford V-8 does 17 to 20 miles a gallon.

Of course, car economy is not only a matter of fuel. Ford V-8 has that too, but it is also economical in the complete sense—initial cost, operation, maintenance.

Appearance. This is woman's contribution. The motor car must not only be useful, but also good-looking. View the Ford V-8 and you will not need our comment on its fine appearance.

Comfort. This also is woman's concern. In 30 years she changed the motor car from a wagon to a coach. Comfort is a quality made up of numerous ingredients. There is no comfort without a quiet, smooth-running engine. We have all the other ingredients too,—color, good taste, quality, ease, safety, roominess and convenience.
