News Will Print Big Historical Edition

As a contribution to the future Sonora, The Devil's River News within a short time will begin gathering material for the publishing of a historical edition, that the early history of the town and county may not be forgotten; that certain dates and incidents may be saved; that new Sonorans may become better acquainted with the history of the town in which they live; and for the sake of the town's having a history.

The first of everything in Sonora and Sutton County is wanted for this edition. If so-and-so built the first woof proof fence in the county, The Devil's River News wants to record it, that the future generations may know. 70-100-Inch Rain at at Experiment Station

Indications are that a heavier rain fell in this immediate vicinity than in other parts of the county. The rain gauge at the News office showed a precipitation of one and onetenth inches, while the gauge at the Experiment Station recorded only seventy-one-hundreds of an inch. Even allowing for a slight difference in the gauges, it is evident that it rained harder here than it did in the vicinity of the Station.

Announcement by the Associated Press from Austin Tuesday was to the effect that Sutton county would get paving from the State Highway Department. Work on the topping of the roads will begin at an early date. This means that Sonora will have its best and only chance to get her streets paved, provided the City and property owners will do their part—pave the balance on each side of the highway strip. NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

Many subscribers will note that their subscriptions are expiring in April. The date of the expiration of your subscription to The Devil's River News may be seen from the date stamped on the small strip which day of the month, and the third indicates the year. For instance "John Doe, 4-17-28" means that Mr. Doe's subscription expires on April 7,

If your subscription is expiring in April, we want you to remain a subscriber. Mail, bring or send us your $2.00 bill for another year, or telephone us and we will send you a bill at the end of the month.

Don't neglect this matter! You know you want the home town paper to continue to reach you each week, so don't let procrastination keep you from getting it.

Remember a $2.00 green-back, frog-skin or bat-hide does the trick.

"Red" Fitzsimmons Visits Home Town

A boy who left Sonora seven years ago with nothing in the world but the clothes he wore, a shock of fighting red hair and the nerve to "buck the world" returned to the old home town this week for a brief visit with his parents. That boy was Claude Fambrough, better known by his pugilistic title of "Red Fitzsimmons," under which name he has slugged and punched his way from the ranks of the "palookas" to an enviable position in the ranks of the light-heavies.

One of his last fights was at Nogal Ariz., when he met the giant negro K. O. Brown, to whom he dropped a ten-round decision. Fitzsimmons was at a decided disadvantage in this fight. He had gotten to Nogales from the warm climate of Southern California, and the day he arrived it nowed. A difference of 5000 feet in altitude and severe cold weather slowed him down from what many thought was a sure win for the Red-weight championship of the Pacific April 14th.

He has fought 63 times in the past

Unlike most "pugs" who return to event. their home towns, there wothing of the braggart about Red Fambrough. He met his boyhood friends with a decidedly genuine pleasure and wrung the hands of those whom Edwards. he had known back in the old days.

Fitzsimmons is a typical pugilist in appearance. A perfect physique, moulded on a 180-pound carriage, a shock of short, bristling red hair, an ear of the "cauliflour" variety, and a "mug" that shows unmistakable signs of having been tapped at frequent intervals, announces to the world at large that Red Fitzsimmons Company. This is the second of the has oft indulged in the "manly art new cars to be delivered in this of scrambling ears" or "hit the button."

The history of Red's ascendancy in the fight game is one which local the loser than the winner in such Company. encounters as he chanced to participate. This continued until one day, somewhere, "something broke loose" and Red cleaned up on his antagonist. Since that day he has been willing to "swap a few" with all and sundry, lieve that not one among those who formerly found pleasure in "punching" Red Fitzsimmons, would today care to incur his wrath.

Utitities Show Room Beautifully Arranged

Many residents of Sonora have remarked upon the tasteful arrangement of the display room of the West Texas Utilities Company.

The display room is the building formerly occupied by the Dew Drop Inn. The large plate glass window in the front of the building is arranged with six reading, or floor lamps, giving a direct view of the beautiful Hot-Point electric ranges and the Frigidaire electric refrigerators. Centrally located is a showcase displaying electric waffle irons, flat irons, and other electrical appliances.

Dudley Westbrook and Otho Drake are in charge of retail sales here for the Company.

Injured Man Will Resume His Duties

Ed Laird, whose injuries from : fall sustained while at work on the West Texas Utilities building here late in March were at first thought fatal, will soon be able to leave the hospital, according to John Dunn, who has charge of the construction.

It was at first thought that Laird's injuries would either prove fatal or incapacitate him for life, and that his hp or pelvis was fractured. He has been in a San Angelo hospital for the past month or so, and is about able to leave and return to his work. He is a valued employee of the West Texas Utilities Company, having been employed by that company for the past eleven years.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bond were in town Wednesday.

FRIGIDAIRE -- The Electric Refrigerator

When Frigidaire is installed in your home, the refrigeration problem is solved once and for all. Frigidaire means permanency. No more thought or care has to be given to the proper preservation of your foods. You are entirely free of an outside ice supply with its frequent annoyance. Frigidaire brings to you the most efficient method of food preservation. Foods kept in Frigidaire are safely out of reach of the influences that would cause them to spoil. The temperature is always low and uniformly cold, and in addition to this low temperature, the air is clean and dry. Frigidaire keeps foods entrusted to its care, delectable and wholesome, and acts as a safeguard to the health of the family. Frigidaire makes its own ice from the same pure drinking water you always use. Besides, many delicious salads and desserts may be frozen in the trays.
