COCHRAN COUNTY WELL IS MAKING OIL, CLAIM WILL BE PRODUCER REPORT OTHER NEARBY DRILLINGS

Bailey County Leasing Continues; Franklin Operators Report Favorable Drilling; Offsets Being Located.

The Honolulu-Cascade oil test well in Cochran county continues to attract much interest from oil people and spectators in general since it was shot with nitro-glycerine about two weeks ago. Following the shot and bridging of the well, stopping the oil flow, it was discovered the casing had collapsed from the "soup" explosion about 40 feet above bottom. Since then it has been reamed out and is making regular flows by heads, these being accompanied by heavy gas pressure.

The well was officially gauged one day last week, and during approximately 24 hour period showed a production of 123 barrels. However, just a few minutes after that official test the well another heavy flow shot out, increasing the output several more barrels of oil daily. Many people visiting the well declare when it is completed it will probably produce around 500 barrels daily.

It is generally believed by oil people because of the heavy gas flow, that this well is probably on the edge of the underground pool of "black gold," and that another hole drilled northwest of this spot may produce much more oil. Four offset locations have been spotted, and it is reported, that as soon as the present well has been developed satisfactorily spudding in of an offset will be made.

Slaughter Is Fishing The Slaughter well, drilled by the Texas company, 17 miles southeast of Levelland, after attaining a depth of 3,065 feet lost some of its tools in the hole, necessitating spending six weeks fishing for them, following recovery the chain handling the casing broke and had to be repaired, delaying further operations until the first of the week.

OLD AGE PENSION BENEFICIARIES TO BE RE-INVESTIGATED AS A NEW LAW PROVIDES; WORK IN PROGRESS

House Bill 8 requires that all recipients now on the rolls be re-investigated. "We have started already re-investigating each recipient on the rolls who is eligible under the new law is doubtful because he has income, property, or is receiving assistance from some individual. However, it should be remembered that we will look at each of these cases with the question in mind: 'Is this old person in necessitous circumstances?'"

These Not On Rolls "Of the applicants whose cases have not been investigated, or now are in the process of investigation, we will ascertain the needs of the applicants, reflect need and then go to them first. Many of our policies will be determined by the fact that winter is coming and that the needy aged must be taken care of now and not six months from now."

Later Investigation "At present we are busy segregating cases in which recipients show no cash in the bank, no property owned, and no other income except that from the Commission. These cases will not be re-investigated until later because the old people would evidently need it if they were off the rolls," Carpenter declared.

A COUNTY PLANNING PROGRAM FOR FARMERS TO BE LAUNCHED AT ONCE IN EVERY COUNTY THROUGHOUT STATE

College Station—Plans to determine farmer opinion on land use were recently presented to the Texas Extension Service Staff by the State committee on county planning, headed by Geo. E. Adams, assistant state agent, is chairman and W. E. Morgan, Extension Economist, is secretary. The plans will be launched in a statewide way immediately, and within the next two months an effort will be made to secure estimates from every county in the State.

County agricultural and home demonstration councils will be asked to meet first and appoint a joint committee to have charge of the work within the county. These committees will arrange schedules of community meetings where farmers will be given farm plan sheets upon which to write down the figures as to present land use on their own farms and the estimated changes if the land use is to be planned to keep up and improve soil fertility and prevent erosion.

These sheets will be collected in each county and tabulated, and the county committee will prepare from them an estimate for the whole county. County estimates will be collected by the State committee at College Station, summarized for the State, and forwarded to Washington where Texas figures will be compiled with information from the other states.

This information, originating with the farmers themselves, the Department of Agriculture will use for guidance in agricultural programs.

NEGROES WOULD HAVE CHURCH Rev. C. L. String, Baptist colored preacher from Littlefield, was here last week and purchased a lot in the east part of town near the Edwards gin for church purposes.

A subscription was also taken and some money raised for the building which is contemplated in the near future.

SCHOOL UPES GIVE O. K.

Wednesday night of last week a meeting of South Plains school superintendents was held at the Hilton hotel in Lubbock where W. C. Cox, superintendent of Muleshoe High school attended.

A resolution committee composed of Supp. C. E. Smith, Southland; Supt. Orings Lubbock; Supt. Miller, Hale Center; Matthews, high school principal, Lubbock school, and Supt. W. C. Cox, Muleshoe, were appointed, five resolutions being recommended, as follows: that state appointments of available school funds be on basis of attendance instead of scholastic; that a school not be identified with less than a nine months term; that state school superintendents salary be $8000, thereby attracting efficient men to the office; that a series of music text be supplied public schools; and that Texas go on a basis of a 12 grade system.

Men and apes are the only creatures whose eyes can be focused for different distances.

The annual rainfall of Texas, if spread evenly all over the state, would cover it to a depth of 26 inches, according to the Texas Planning Board's engineers who are now making a study of the state's water resources.

Advice has been received at Austin that the National Security Board, Washington, has approved the recently enacted pension law of Texas passed at the last special session of the legislature the old age pension paying.

Historic Hillsboro, New Mexico, fixed by law as the county seat of Sierra county in 1884, will soon look that hole as citizens of that county have voted to move its capitol to Hot Springs as soon as suitable holding location can be arranged.

Earl Freeman, Yuma, Arizona, famed "marrying justice," who has performed 25,000 wedding ceremonies during the 10 years term of his office, is to resign. "That is 50,000 people I have married," he said, "enough to make a fair size city, and I'm telling how many children they now have."

Following re-election, Gov. Clyde Tingley, of New Mexico, stated one of his first duties would be to change the Port of Entry law of that state so as not to inconvenience farmers and legitimate business. This will be one of the first matters presented to the legislature when it meets in January, he said.

H. Grady Chandler, assistant attorney general, Austin, is in Albuquerque, N. M., this week representing Texas in a suit filed November of last year relative to use of Rio Grande river water for irrigation, it being alleged that New Mexico citizens are impounding the water in that state thus violating previous agreements.

LOOKING AND LEAPING

By JESS MITCHELL

It was the only and inimitable Davy Crockett who one time said, "Be sure you are right, and then go ahead," and I have often thought there must be something of merit in that statement or else it would not have become so widely known and used by so many people. I recall when just a lad I read "Crockett's Adventures in Texas." There was one character in that book called "Thimbleberg," and another, "Bee Hunter." The book was well named, for there were so many adventurous incidents related in it.

Crockett's advice about being sure one is right, and then going ahead, is very potent and appropriate, and should be given more heed than it receives. How many folks there are in the world who go ahead doing something and then later on stop to check upon whether it was the right or wrong thing to do. In other words, they leap before they look! There are plenty of folks who talk then think. They let their tongues pop off before their brains have a chance to get into action. Of course, there are occasionally folks who think before they talk, and I am not necessarily referring to women in this statement, for we all know if they always stopped to think before talking, they would get hopelessly behind in their talking. However, thinking before talking is the same as looking before leaping. Some do that; but most of us just go stumbling along, hitting our toes on the first one thing and another, but not enough ambition to lift up our feet and hold up our heads as we go forward toward some ideal. Occasionally, some are so lacking in ambition they do not even stumble. They may be classed as cases of suspended animation.

Looking before leaping is a safeguard and usually guarantees against failure and disaster. Looking is generally a fruitful act, and there are times when it pays to look through the hind-sight of life and behold the things that have become history and biography. Also, there are many people who are much like lightning bugs! (You know a lightning bug always carries its light behind.) So these people have a big light; but no headlight. They can see where they have been; but not where they are going.

It took 26-year old Zella Rafferty, of Chicago, just 500,000 and six months' time to learn that the cabarets and night clubs of that city were not worth while. She was like the lightning bug with no headlight to guide her. It took Frank Dodson, of New York City only a year and a half after inheriting a half million dollars to sober up in that city's fall and realize all he had to show for it was a bursting headache. It was a half-million dollar headache. There are plenty of other folks who are plunging down the highway of life, forgetting or purposely neglecting to put a headlight out in front. One of the tragedies of today is the numerous automobile accidents caused by no headlights or else by drivers who are "lit up" too much with booze.

Looking before leaping—thinking before acting, always pays. It is the folks who do things deliberately who count for most in this world. They are the ones who get their names in the "Who's Who" columns rather than on the police blotters. The folks who take time to sit down and plan out their life's work deliberately, and then very carefully follow that plan are the folks who have the best time, get the most out of this life and do the most good for their fellowmen.

General Kuropatkin, during the Russo-Japanese war, while a big engagement was going on, was discovered fishing. The friend who found him said, "Looks like you would be at the front, general." "No need of it," replied the general. "I did my part in this battle more than a year ago when I planned the whole thing in detail. It is up to my subordinates to carry out my plans." Just then an orderly rode up, handed the general a note telling of victory, together with the compliments of the lesser commanding officers for the magnificent plan of attack he had outlined more than a year ago. Many of the battles in Europe during the World war were planned by the Germans two and three years before they were fought. We now know the Germans had made preparations for that was as far back as ten years before it broke out. It is no wonder they put up such a stubborn resistance to the allies. So it is that folks who deliberately plan the future course of their lives and religiously follow it, like Germany, are going to be the folks difficult to defeat in this life.

"Be sure you are right, then go ahead," said Davy Crockett. To be sure one has to do some thinking, and thinking is what produces high aims, lofty ideals, resulting in goodly attainments and innumerable successes. Brains were given us by our Creator to use for thinking, considering, determining and deciding. Failure to use "human think-tanks" is responsible for three-fourths of the world's woes. Dreams, unless translated into duty, never accomplish anything. It is the doers, not the dreamers who turn the wheels of the world's activities. Dreaming may be a form of thinking; but unless accompanied by activity, remains dormant and the dream finally fades and dies.

"Be sure you are right, then go ahead!" In other words, it pays to look before leaping. It pays to be thoughtful and careful. It is alright for one to have their eyes on the sunset; but they should not overlook the rocks. A vision of life's opportunities is important; but they should also not fail to see life's obstacles. It is as important to see the pathway one must tread as well as the flowers strewn in it. Strength undirected invariably brings disaster. Hitching one's wagon to a star is commendable; but keeping one's eye on the road is also important. A chart for any journey is always worth while. Others besides mechanics, need a set of blue prints and a book of instructions to do the job correctly. We are all building lives—building them for good or for bad, for weal or for woe, for heaven or for hell. Let us carefully peruse the Book of Instructions given us by Omnipotence. Let us look carefully first, and then instead of leaping—deliberately and confidently step forward!

ELECTION ECHOES

Gov. Clyde Tingley was re-elected to that office in New Mexico.

Roosevelt carried New York state by approximately 1,180,000 majority.

Perhaps the slogan now will be, "As good a Maine as goes Vermont."

Senator W. E. Borah, the "one wolf" of American politics, was re-elected senator from Idaho by a big majority.

There were 25 Democratic, three Republican, 1 Progressive and one Farmer Laborite governor elected last week.

California threw out measures for new income taxes and abolished personal income taxes in last week's voting.

Roosevelt's election now goes down in history as the biggest vote ever cast for anybody in a free election since civilization began.

Oklahoma last week, clung to its prohibition statutes, while North Dakota will now permit the sale of liquor for the first time since its statehood began.

Al Smith, New York City, has admitted the people have spoken, and says it is up to the voters to put their shoulders to the wheel and help the president.

A Democratic governor and two other state officers were elected in Kansas. Landon's own state, which he showed for to carry for himself.

Twenty-eight states have Democratic governors following last week's election. In most of these states the legislatures too are overwhelmingly democratic.

Editor of the Literary Digest which, in its straw vote canvass, gave Landon 54 per cent majority, says over Roosevelt is still scratching his head in perplexity.

Kansas, Florida, Louisiana and Colorado adopted social security programs in the election last week, three other states voting on the question, rejected it.

Following the election stocks and bonds of all kinds, except those of utilities, took a considerable raise, and there was much trading. Apparently everyone was afraid something might happen to the light and power companies.

The final election count for Texas showed 518,000 votes for Roosevelt and 74,000 for Landon. It is said final and official returns will show not more than 600,000 ballots cast as compared with more than 1,000,000 in the primaries of last summer.

Walter A. Huxman, Hutchinson, who was elected governor of Kansas to succeed Alf Landon, recent Republican presidential nominee, is the fifth Democratic governor for that state. It is now being rumored that Landon will run for state senator from Kansas when election time rolls around again.

William Randolph Hearst, commenting upon Roosevelt's re-election said: "The overwhelming majority of the popular votes for Mr. Roosevelt shows conclusively that the Roosevelt policies are what the people of this nation want, and if so, there are the policies they are entitled to have and will have. The cardinal principle of our American democracy is government by the majority."

WEDDING ANNOUNCED AT THE SEW AND SO CLUB MEETING

The Sew and So club members met with Mrs. Finley Hierson, Friday afternoon of last week with several guests present.

Sewing was enjoyed for awhile, after which delicious refreshments were served and on occasion there was a miniature rolling pin announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Opal Jean Haney to Archie Pool, of Hereford.

A very appropriate reading for the occasion was given by Mrs. Powell and Mrs. Flaudie Gallman sang, "I love you Truly."

The club will meet Friday afternoon of this week with Mrs. A. E. Lewis.

SENIOR CLASS TO GIVE PLAY

Friday evening of this week at 7:30 o'clock members of the Senior class, Muleshoe High school, will present their first play of the school year, entitled, "The Strange Bequest," under direction of the class sponsor, Miss Stella B. Jackson.

This is a three act suspense mystery, comedy drama type, well mixed, involving six girls and four boys as follows: Misses Geraldine Robbins, Irma Willis, Tidwell Douglas, LaVerne Goodson, Wayne Mann, Mrs. Sylvia Wilmon, Charls Alsop, Elmer Witherling, Joe Embry and Neal Prescott.

A small admission fee will be charged and everybody has a special invitation to attend.

Approximately one out of every four farmers in the United States depends on government financial aid—through loans or direct grants.

New Process Will Provide Aviation High Speed Gasoline

A sufficient supply of 100 Octane gasoline for U. S. Aviation needs was shown yesterday to be a certainty. In a paper presented to the California Natural Gasoline association in Los Angeles, Fred E. Frey, chief chemist of Phillips Petroleum Company research staff, described the new Alkylaton process which is a further development of the Polymerization process announced by this company last year. This process offers economic commercial production possibilities of 100 Octane gasoline on a scale not yet practiced with the more complicated processes now necessary to make this super-speed gasoline. This gasoline will be known commercially as Neo-Hexane, the laboratory nickname for 2, 2-Dimethyl Butane, its principal constituent.

Not only will this gasoline be useful in this very special field but the addition of Neo-Hexane to present day gasoline will give a motor fuel which will have more power and will accelerate more rapidly than present gasolines.

Conservation of the crude petroleum supply was indicated by Mr. Frey's statement that Neo-Hexane is made from the lighter gases which are wasted in the present methods of making gasoline.

Using 100 Octane gasoline, Howard Hughes set the transcontinental speed record of 9 hours, 27 minutes, 16 seconds for the world's land plane speed record of 352,388 miles per hour. The assurance of an adequate and economical supply of this fuel is an important step in the maintenance of the air superiority of the United States.

1st. League Meet Held At Methodist Church Last Sunday

Last Sunday an all day district Epworth league meeting was held in Muleshoe at the Methodist church wherein league members from Otton, Earth and Hale Center attended. At 11:00 o'clock a. m., the visiting leagues had charge of a very interesting program the theme being "Gifts of All Nations." The program was illustrated by songs, poems, talks, readings and a short drama.

New officers were elected to serve for another year. Horace Edwards, member of the intermediate league, Muleshoe, was elected vice-president, and other officers are from other towns.

At the noon hour the Missionary society and other women of the church served lunch at the annex to about 60 people. The menu was as follows: meat loaf, fruit and vegetable salads, candied sweet potatoes, pie, coffee and tea.

Among those from out of town who attended were Miss Trula Maude Jaton, director of the Intermediate League, Hale Center, Mrs. Whittings, Miss Mattie Sue Howell, district manager and secretary and Miss Mattie Devin, intermediate district director.

The next meeting will be held at Otton in about three months.

R. O. H. CLUB PLANS SOCK SUPPER

At the regular meeting of the R. O. H. club, which was held in the school auditorium, November 5, members of the club decided that in the very near future the club will sponsor a "sock supper."

Hattie Ray Griffiths portrayed a negro mother's devotion to her child in a reading that was enjoyed by all, after which Geraldine Skeeters rendered a piano solo. Evelyn Jennings then gave the club a glimpse of the doings of mischievous children when their mother is away, in a reading entitled, "A Tale at Play." Mrs. A. W. Copley, club mother, gave some very helpful hints on parliamentary law, after which the meeting adjourned and each girl resolved she would be more business like in the future club meetings.

After the club had adjourned the girls could be heard talking about the very interesting program the club presented during the High school assembly hour, Wednesday, October 23. Each girl wondered how the cast of the play presented learned to portray so perfectly the small every day quarrels over modern styles. The play was entitled "Charm of the Old Album." Geraldine Robbins gave a very interesting talk on the purpose of the R. O. H. club, and Betty Jo Fowler gave a small girl's conception of a barber shop, in a very interesting reading—Reporter.

Plans, Thinks and Manages

"To fill my budget I have had to do much planning, thinking and managing. Since the windmill broke at the wrong time, many of my vegetables dried up and I had to make all sorts of arrangements to get vegetables to can." said Mrs. C. H. Justus, farm food supply demonstrator of the Muleshoe home demonstration club. Mrs. Justus swapped corn for okra, pepper and beets. She swapped work for greens to have enough leafy vegetables for her family. She got peas from a neighbor. She has canned over 600 containers.

Tomatoes Will Take Place of Fruit

"Since each person needs one cup of citrus fruit or tomatoes every day, and citrus fruit is hard to get as well as expensive, I have been very anxious to can enough tomatoes to take the place of citrus fruit," said Mrs. David St. Clair, cooper of the Watson home demonstration club. Mrs. St. Clair has canned 95 containers for herself and 60 containers for her mother.

Has New Potatoes Now

"We planted Irish potatoes August 4, and have been eating fresh potatoes for several weeks," said Mrs. L. G. Harris, farm food supply demonstrator of the Enoch home demonstration club. Mrs. Harris says the potatoes have made fine. They also planted beets at that time. The fall beets are a much better quality than she raised in the summer, because they grew rapidly and did not stand in the garden so long.

Cotton Supply The Largest In 3 Years Future Is Question

College Station—The world supply of cotton is the largest in three years, according to the Outlook Report being released from Washington Texas farmers as the principal cotton raising group in the world are vitally affected by that fact since the price of cotton is governed to a large extent by world conditions." W. E. Morgan, Extension Economist, stated in an interview here today.

THE Alpine Club of Canada is attempting to scale a number of unclimbed peaks in the Mount Fryatt section of Jasper National Park, Alberta, this summer. The section of the park where activities are centered has been visited by only a few pioneer climbers and most of the mountains are unclimbed as well as unscathed. Jasper National Park, with an area exceeding 4400 square miles, is the world's largest national playground and is located wholly within the Canadian Rockies. The top photograph shows three of the peaks in the Fryatt section which the Alpine Club will try to climb. From left to right they are: Christie (10,180 feet); Brussels (10,370 feet) and Lowell (10,200 feet). The insert shows members of the Alpine Club on a precarious perch overlooking Maligne Lake which is world famous for its speckled trout fishing as well as for its beauty.

to marked increase of cotton in Russia, Brazil and China. In the face of a large world carry-over it is obvious if there is further improvement in production in 1937 they may expect to encounter lowered prices. This tendency toward lowered prices, however, would be offset to some extent if the general price level continues to rise, or if there is further improvement in demand for the staple.

"Government figures indicate that the cotton and supply situation is favorable to maintaining prices of cotton seed and cotton seed products at higher levels this season than last. As a part of the general outlook on cotton this fact is encouraging," Morgan said.

HOW TO RAISE TOMATOES

Remember this one next year: Set tomato plants in post holes, with the tops about a foot below top of ground. They will grow, become thrifty and heavy bearing, regardless of drouthy conditions. If there is much wind, a pane of glass may be laid over the hole to keep sand from filling it.

Old Age Question Women Outlive Men And Other Animals

From time to time, the public reads stories of men and women who live to remarkable ages. These individuals are variously reported to be anywhere from 115 to 150 years old. Actually, however, it is more likely that their longevity is greatly exaggerated.

This fact received support last week in figures revealed by The New York Times. Insurance actuaries (the men who compute averages and risks for insurance companies) were found to view all old-age claims with doubt because almost every such story has been disproved after a search of the records. In some cases, ages have been mistaken by as much as 20 or 40 years.

To insurance men, these facts about life are clear.

Man probably lives longer than all mammals, including elephants and whales, but he seldom lives more than 100 years.

Out of every 1,000,000 persons, no more than 30 live 100 years. Of the millions who held insurance policies in the last 150 years, not one lived more than 100 years.

Apparently there have been more women centenarians than men. In an insurance study of 1,000,000 persons, it was found that 30 had lived to be 100 years old of these, 21 were women.

Other age facts:

No president of the United States has ever lived to be 100 years old. The average presidential span of life has been 68.3 years.

At birth, the average male can expect to live 55.33 years and the average female 57.52 years. At the age of 52, the average man can expect to live an additional 20.53 years and the average woman an additional 21.43 years.

Lower invertebrates live less than 100 hours; insects live from less than 100 hours to 17 years; fish live up to 297 years; amphibious creatures, up to 26 years; reptiles, up to 175 years; birds, 9 to 118 years; and mammals, 1½ to over 100 years.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

WAIT—AND SEE

IF THERE is one word in the dictionary that is invaluable in all the daily affairs of life," writes one of the reviewers, "it is the word 'wait.' And we might add 'and see!'"

And she proceeds to tell me of the most recent experience of her impulsive sister, in which she lost sleep, strength and a considerable amount of money by "going off the handle," by jumping at the most unfavorable conclusion in an important matter, and immediately acting on it. Not only, says our reader, was the experience a great practical loss, but her sister "lost face" to such an extent that it is doubtful if she can recover her standing in the community. That is all that I am permitted to publish about the matter. But it will serve the purpose our reader desires of making a point of what she calls "the absolutely tragic habit" of not being able to wait and see.

And we are grateful for the suggestion. The importance of being able to wait and see cannot be overestimated. And I believe inability in this regard is more a feminine than a masculine failing. Men are more likely to give things time to settle down, less prone to hasty conclusions and "flying off the handle."

We have all seen women embarrassed by anger at the act of a friend which subsequently turned out to be entirely innocent. We have seen them wear themselves out in resentment, loss strength and nervous energy, on a hasty conclusion which soon proved to have been entirely unfounded. We have seen them waste time and money and lose "face" through hasty action at such times.

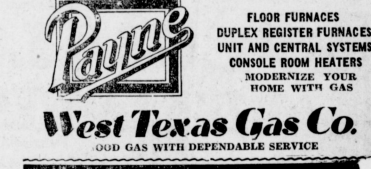

It is amazing how many things that upset us will adjust themselves beautifully if given a little time. Misunderstanding is cleared up, motives clarified, and the necessity to "do something" resolved into thin air, by just stopping to "wait and see."

htheria Yields To immunization Says tate Health Doctor in, November 10.—With sporadic diphtheria being reported from communities in Texas, Dr. John Brown, state health officer, has issued a warning to citizens to be on their guard. The importance, the value and effectiveness of diphtheria immunization of children, he said, is a well established fact to the medical profession and it is possible to prevent diphtheria without reservation, that diphtheria is a preventable disease.

"Since diphtheria immunization is now a procedure of proved value," Dr. Brown said, "it places the control of diphtheria in our hands, but the greatest obstruction to elimination of diphtheria is delay."
"Mass immunization in schools and clinics has demonstrated that the people and harmless procedure. However, a number of cases of this preventable disease and that immunization is a simple, harmless procedure. However, the fact that 134 cases of diphtheria were reported to the State Health Department for the month of October shows that diphtheria is on the increase. The first week of October showed 27 new cases reported to the State Department, the second week showed 17, the third week 27, and the fourth the alarming number of 63 new cases."
"The fact that diphtheria is most dangerous to the very young children, makes immunization not only a school problem but a preschool problem. Parents who fail to observe a precaution which may prevent a fatal illness are taking a heavy responsibility. This immunization is absolutely safe to administer. There is only a slight local reaction, and practically no constitutional or troublesome after effects. It confers a life-time immunity in the majority of cases."
"It is hoped that every community, if it has not already done so, will commence to wage a campaign to have all preschool and school children immunized against diphtheria."

RED CROSS AID TO MORE THAN 500,000 DISASTER VICTIMS

Large Urban Areas Devastated As Elements Hit 20 States East of Mississippi

"The number of disaster victims as aided by the Red Cross during the fiscal year ended June 30, was more than four times the number aided in the previous twelve month period," Admiral Cary T. Grayson, chairman, said in commenting on highlights of the annual report just issued. "Over 131,000 families were given food, clothing, shelter and medical care, and thousands of homes were rebuilt or repaired by the Red Cross to enable them to carry on."
"Pointing to the many-sided problems created by the wide variety of types of disasters which occurred during the year, Admiral Grayson said, "The Red Cross sent hundreds of trained workers into 29 states to meet the many exigencies of catastrophes which included earthquake, epidemic, explosion, fire, hurricane, ice lock, landslide, refugee relief, shipwreck, tornado and typhoon. The Red Cross took charge at the scene of 195 domestic disasters of major severity."

The report emphasized the marked cooperation when disaster strikes, giving as example the flight of Army bombing planes which dropped Red Cross food to marooned refugees at Renovo, Pennsylvania, during the Spring floods. More than 16,000 persons were rescued from the second floors of homes in Wilkes-Barre and Kingston through Coast Guard-Red Cross cooperation at the height of these same floods.

"Government agencies and relief groups were of invaluable assistance to Red Cross relief forces at all times," Admiral Grayson stated.
"The complete resources of Red Cross leadership, training and disaster experience were brought into play by the Spring floods and tornadoes which took so heavy a toll of life and property in eastern and southern states this year, the annual report reveals. The Red Cross aided 77,000 families in 14 flooded states east of the Mississippi and 6,000 families in 6 tornado hit states south of the Mason-Dixon line in this one operation.

"Never before have as many metropolitan centers borne the brunt of attack by wind and water within a single year, challenging Red Cross preparedness and efficiency by so wide a variety of pressing human problems," Chairman Grayson said.

In its work of relief to disaster sufferers the Red Cross expended in excess of $5,200,000 for the year. The report points out that this figure does not include assistance given in 27 lesser disasters with a total of 2,000 persons aided, and adds that additional millions will be used to "clean up" Spring floods and tornadoes.

"Numerous local disaster situations occurring during the year were met by Red Cross chapter funds and manpower," Admiral Grayson said. "In each major relief operation undertaken the great army of Red Cross volunteers aided trained workers with the task of rehabilitating those without resources who had suffered losses."

"The Red Cross disaster relief service is one of many Red Cross activities supported by the American people through membership at the time of Roll Call, held each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving."

Red Cross Nurses Combat Disease on Wide Front

At the close of the fiscal year ended June 30, there were 673 Red Cross nurses bettering health conditions and caring for the sick in 694 communities. These Red Cross public health nurses cared for a total of 233,616 persons during the year and made more than a million visits on their behalf.

The annual report of the American Red Cross states further that these nurses cooperated with doctors in examining 671,657 school and preschool children, with 342,861 physical defects found and curative treatment arranged in 209,650 cases.
In 979 Red Cross chapters 1,732 graduate nurses taught Red Cross home hygiene and care of the sick, issuing certificates to 63,126 persons completing the courses. In addition, 1,777 Red Cross reserve nurses were called upon during the year for disaster and epidemic control work.

RED CROSS HIGHWAY POSTS AID INJURED

1,000 Function At Key Points To Give Emergency Care To Traffic Hurt

Highway first aid stations, set up by the Red Cross to give emergency care to victims of traffic accidents, are saving lives, according to James L. Fieser, vice chairman in charge of domestic operations.

"More than 1,000 of our emergency posts are already operating in 47 states and thousands of others will soon be established at key points along America's highways," Mr. Fieser stated.

The Red Cross highway posts are concentrated at danger spots in rural areas where medical aid is not readily available. The importance of this coverage of the open road, the Red Cross holds, is given sharper emphasis by the fact that there has been a 150 per cent increase in rural traffic fatalities during the past twelve years.

The project was initiated last year on a national scale as a practical approach to the highway accident problem. The Red Cross felt that it could best apply its strength by assisting those who continue to be injured pending a reduction in the highway accident rate through legislation and safety education.

"Our program brings first aid skill to the scene of accident in an effort to reduce the number of persons killed and maimed in automobile mishaps," Mr. Fieser said. "Our highway first aiders are not medical men in any sense, but it is their job to turn the injured party to the medical profession in the best shape possible."

The Red Cross highway posts are established at gasoline service stations, tourist homes, rural police and fire departments. The personnel of the posts are trained by the Red Cross in first aid, standard first aid equipment is installed at each station, and identifying signs for the benefit of motorists are erected beside the highway at both approaches to the station.

The attendants of these roadside units who qualify as first aiders volunteer their services through the Red Cross. They may under no circumstances accept pay for caring for the injured. To complement the highway first aid stations, the Red Cross has announced formation of mobile units. Several thousand trucks which regularly ply the highway in the course of routine work will be equipped with first aid kits. Drivers and crews will take courses in both standard and advanced first aid, and each truck will be identified as a Red Cross mobile unit. More than a hundred trucks are already operating.

"The highway police of eight states who have finished first aid training will join this army mobilized to cut accident fatalities and prevent complication of minor injuries through mishandling at the scene of accident," Mr. Fieser said.

"We receive reports from our first aid stations daily, telling of essential care given to traffic casualties on the spot and of lives actually saved."

This and many other Red Cross programs of equal value are supported by the people of America during the annual Roll Call for members. This year the Roll Call will be held from November 11 to 24.

Red Cross Potential Life Savers Number Nearly 2,000,000

First aid and life saving certificates issued by the American Red Cross since the start of the service 26 years ago now number 1,888,702. During the past year the Red Cross qualified 223,093 persons in first aid and taught water safety and rescue methods to 80,951.

This army of First Aiders and Life Savers is one of the greatest safety factors in the nation. They are trained to give immediate first aid at the scene of accident, thus saving many lives and preventing permanent injury. Red Cross training includes skill in treating for shock, splinting fractures, checking arterial bleeding, applying artificial respiration, towing drowning persons to safety, and in the safe handling of boat and canoe.

Red Cross volunteers, framework of the organization, last year gave a total of 1,707,229 hours of service, producing 685,074 garments, 4,355,719 surgical dressings, 16,773 Christmas bags for soldiers, sailors and marines serving overseas. Perhaps the most important undertaking of these generous contributors to the public welfare is the making of braille books for the blind, with 242,000 pages printed during the past twelve months.

Of the 16,500,000 school children enrolled in the Junior Red Cross societies of 62 nations, more than half are members of the American Junior Red Cross representing 34,882 schools in this country.

Red Cross chapters aiding the needy in their communities act on approximately 23,574 family problems each month.
