NUMBER 21

The Devil's Dream

(By W. E. James)

Hello, central, gimme the ocean!
"What is the number please?"
"I don't know, said the Devil,
My friend has gone to sea!"

That Sonora is becoming more like a city "day by day in every way" with the fast approaching steel ribbon of the great railway system, is evidenced by the tactics of the local telephone company.

"Connect me with the brewery" or the kitchen, ro a thousand and one other desires, is no longer to be tolerated. You must know your numerals and tell 'em out loud.

Service is, and has always been the watchword of the telephone companies. And the move to discard the old "cow-town methods" of "ring Henry's ranch, please," is to be replaced by a better method, more economical and snappier than ever.

And no bawling outs will get you either. In fact, when you say "7 or 4-11-44 and hear central's sweet "thank you," you'll forget your worries altogether.

Here is a sample of the old method and you will readily recognize the time wasted by not knowing the number and giving it in a clear tone:

The Texas Postmaster says that anyone in the United States who wishes to telephone a friend aboard the liner Leviathan at sea need only lift the phone and ask the operator to connect him with the liner, thanks to a perfecting of the ship-to-shore telephone—

"Hello."

"Number please?"

"I wish to talk to the Leviathan at sea."

"What number please?"

"I say I wish to talk to the Leviathan at sea."

"The Lehig, A. C.?"

"Lissen—Leviathan—it's a ship at sea."

"Viaduct six-o-three, did you say?"

"Please, central, get this right. It's a ship—S for seafood—H for ham—I for ignorant—and P for potato. Understand?"

"You want a restaurant?"

Lissen, I'm trying to get the Leviathan—L for Louisiana—E for Emi—V for vanilla—I for Izzy—

"No, I don't want a restaurant. A for applesauce—T for tickle—"

"Fresh! I'll give you information."

"Hello. This is information."

"Information, I am trying to get the Leviathan at—"

"Isn't he in the directory, sir?"

"No, and it isn't a he. It's a boot."

"Abbot, yes, what are the initials?"

"Not Abbot—Boat—you know—toot! toot!—All aboard—B-O-A-T—Boat. Get it?"

"Oh, a vessel?"

"Yes, ma'am. It's called the Leviathan. You know—it runs between this country and Europe."

"I understand you now, sir. Hold the wire."

"Hello."

"Hello. Is this the Leviathan?"

"Levi who?"

"The Leviathan."

"There's nobody by that name here."

"What name?"

"Levi Nathan."

"I didn't say anything about Levi Nathan. Am I connected with the big liner?"

"Who's a big liar?"

"You misunderstand me, sir. Is this the steamship?"

"No. If you want a cream whip call the ice cream store."

(Violent jiggling of the hook.)

"Hello."

"Am I connected with the steamship?"

"Steve who?"

"Aw, what's the use?"

Albert Schweining visited the big round-up at Angelo one day this week. He says he has been a member of the cattlemen's organization for a number of years, but this is the first time it ever got close

Wolf That Had Done $10,000 Damage Caught Last Week in Jones Country

Ranchmen in the northeast part of the county are all smiles now since a wolf, known as "The Old Wolf With a Small Track," has been caught and killed. At least a dozen trappers had tried to snare the old sister, but after escaping from a trap once she was very sensitive and evaded all lures.

Cleve Jones and other sheepmen declare that the wolf had killed at least five or six hundred sheep and goats during the five years she had been preying upon various flocks. Ten thousand dollars damage would be a conservative estimate of loss the ranchmen have suffered from the bengal.

One spring Cleve Jones asserts that he captured eleven pups belonging to the old mother wolf and killed them. The young ones were found in a den, and were dragged out with barbed wire. The wire was used by twisting it in the fur on the little ones and then pulling them out.

Mr. Jones said that two or three litters of pups had been taken from the old wolf during the past three years, and in this manner kept down the increase of the animals dreaded by the sheep and goat men.

Frank Short, trapper who is employed by the government and county, is the man who did the good work.

LIONS TALKED BABY BEEVES AT LUNCHEON

Forty-Seven Members and Visitors Praise Work Done By Boys and Mr. Lawrence

Sonora baby beeves and the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show were the chief topics of discussion at the Lions regular luncheon Monday in the basement of the Methodist church, at which time forty-seven Lions and visitors were present.

E. R. Lawrence, animal husbandry teacher in the Sonora schools, told of the prizes won by the boys and girls and the trip to Cowtown. Mr. Lawrence said that he appreciated the support given him and the class by the Lions. Eight ribbons were displayed at the Lions den. Two first prizes with calves in carlots of fifteen, one second place in group of five, a thirteenth and fourteenth prize were awarded to the Sonora class. Jake Merck won two third places and one fourth prize with his two Angora buck kids and one doe kid.

Mr. Lawrence said that competition at the fat stock show next year would be keener than ever, and urged ranchmen to begin selecting their calves for the boys and girls. These calves will be sifted for selection for feed, Mr. Lawrence informed the Lions.

President Caldwell, president of the Lions, in behalf of that organization, congratulated Mr. Lawrence for the showing made and effort he had taken with the boys and their calves. Mr. Caldwell said that the teaching of animal husbandry in the Sonora schools was perhaps the most important thing the school board had done for Sonora and the entire county.

Roy E. Aldwell, mayor of Sonora and active in civic work, said that his trip last week was his first visit to the fat stock show, and that he was thoroughly impressed with the exhibit. Mr. Aldwell said that few people realized the importance of winning first place in the carlot, as the boys and girls had to compete with feeders and breeders who made a practice of preparing to win prizes. This, he said, was good advertising for Sonora, and that a representative number of calves were exhibited. Mr. Aldwell praised the work the boys and girls have done, and congratulated Mr. Lawrence.

Among visitors present were: Mr. Shackelford, salesman for the West Texas Utilities Co., Messrs. Guthrie and Palmer, representing the Southwest Security Co., San Angelo, and Mr. Reagan, of the state fire insurance department. Dee Curry, electrical contractor, was admitted as a member of the Lions.

Dr. Baker will serve as president next Monday. He appointed for program committee: Gilmore, Taylor and James.

enough to home for him to attend. Along about noon time Albert saw a big bunch of fellows with shiny stars pinned to their coats meandering towards the feed-bag. He joined the procession and enjoyed a great meal. After sitting down at the table he discovered he was not in the Lions den but with a bunch called Kiwanis. It was too late to back out, he says, so he remained and had as good a time as if the gang had been composed of Lions.

MRS. CORA ALICE TRAINER BURIED HERE THURSDAY

Leaves Three Sons, Twenty-three Grandchildren and Fourteen Great Grandchildren

Mrs. Cora Alice Trainer, 74 years of age, was claimed by the death angel here at six o'clock Thursday morning. Mrs. Trainer had been an invalid for the past two years. Interment was made in the Sonora Cemetery yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. Funeral services were conducted from the J. W. Trainer residence by Episcopal ministers, assisted by Rev. F. M. Jackson and J. O. McMillan.

Deceased was born in Mississippi April 23, 1856, and moved to this country in October 1885, and was one of those many who braved the frontier hardships who have gone their way.

Surviving her are two sons, Geo. J., Sr. and J. W.; Fred J., deceased; twenty-three grandchildren and fourteen great grandchildren. The beautiful flowers heaped upon her grave was evidence of her many true friends who, with her relatives, mourn her death.

Pall bearers were: Thomas A. Bond, Frank Bond, A. W. Awalt, V. H. Hamilton, W. C. Gilmore and Neil Rouche.

Fire Inspector Visited Sonora

Advised City to Install Six Additional Plugs in Residential District

A Mr. Reagan, of the state fire insurance department, was here the first of the week inspecting fire fighting equipment, hose, plugs, etc., of the City of Sonora. While here he converted all fire hose connections into standard equipment by re-threading.

He found the conditions here met state requirements, and advised the city to purchase six or more fire plugs and place them in the residential district which would bring the number in that section to 14. This, he said, would give almost all people fire protection and help in keeping down the fire key rate.

Joe Oberkamp, Ozona furniture dealer and plumber, was here Tuesday on business. Mr. Oberkamp has recently been discharged from a San Angelo hospital where he had been for some weeks after getting part of his foot accidentally shot off.

The wearer of the smart tailored tweeds is Miss Harva Jones, 17, whose steer calf won a prize in the baby beef competition at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. Miss Jones was a representative of the Sonora high school boys and girls baby beef feeding club.—Star-Telegram.

CROCKETT COUNTY WILL MAKE THIRD ATTEMPT TO VOTE ROAD BONDS

The third call for an election in Crockett county to vote road bonds in the sum of $375,000 has been made, and the election will take place on the 12th of April, according to the Ozona Stockman. One hundred and twelve prominent Crockett citizens have signed the petition for an election, and it is expected that the bonds will carry by a large majority.

The sum mentioned will match state and federal aid, and will improve or hard-surface the O. S. T. from the Sutton county line through Ozona and to the Pecos river, and from Barnhart to Ozona.

LAWRENCE GRIMLAND TO GO TO MINERAL WELLS

Lawrence Grimland will leave tomorrow for Mineral Wells where he will have charge of the gents' furnishing department for Montgomery Ward & Company.

Young Grimland has had much experience in the dry goods business, and is capable of managing his department very efficiently. He was formerly manager of the Vander Stucken Company dry goods department, and served in the same capacity for Montgomery Ward Company in San Angelo.

Put your dollars to work here.

A Round of Slugs

(By S. U. M. Bull)

Baseball season will soon be here; in fact it has arrived. Already the rail birds and knot hole fans are gathering around the ball parks. Sonora could well afford to have a team here this year, and it would be a good boost for the town. With a contribution from each business house for about four months and with gate receipts there would be enough funds to hire a couple of players. There is some good material here, and when the boys get home from school there will be additional talent, and with the salaried players we would have a fair team.

"Big A" Awalt is popular with some of the traveling salesmen these days. At least that is what his friends are telling on him. Ralph Trainer will explain to you who the salesman was and what he was selling to Mr. Awalt. Sumbull has been warned not to tell the whole story. If we should tell it all there would be the "deuce" to pay.

It will not be long before National Cleanup Week will be upon us, and we think it would be a fine time to give our town a little polishing. There is something for the Lions to sponsor, since it would be for the good of the town.

Joe Trainer says times are getting so hard that he has gone to smoking his chewing tobacco. The ranchmen, he asserts, are not as liberal with the coin now as they were a year ago.

There is some speculation that Moody and Ferguson will be in the runoff for governor. Both feel confident that they will win. If Lynch Davidson should run we would have one man in the race besides Jim Young that would make a real governor.

The cry for rain is being heard right at this time. Chances are good that we will get a rain before the month closes. A few nights ago Rocksprings and Del Rio had rain and that is getting closer to home. Sumbull will wager a coke that we get half an inch rain before the first of April.

P.-T. A. to Observe Health, Milk Week

"Drink More Milk and Keep Well" Is the Slogan Adopted for Next Week

Texas Health and Milk Week will be observed by the Sonora Parent-Teacher Association, according to Mrs. S. T. Gilmore, president of the Sixth District. A program is being arranged and will be announced later, she said. The week designated for the protection of children will begin March 30 and continue to April 6.

Governor's Proclamation "Whereas, It is now uniformly recognized that, in order to enjoy life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, each individual must build upon the foundation of physical, and mental health, and that the health of the children is the underlying ground-work upon which must rest the well being and prosperity of the state, and since safe milk is the best health builder, and

Whereas, It is desirable that the citizens of the commonwealth of Texas, on a specified week, be aroused to a sense of their responsibility for the furtherance of the work for this inestimable gift of health to the children;

Therefore, I, Dan Moody, Governor of Texas, do recommend that March 30 to April 6, 1930 be set aside for Statewide Milk-for-Health Week.

I invite the people of the commonwealth to co-operate in every way with all agencies that are working for the health and happiness of our children.

(Signed) DAN MOODY, Governor.

FRENCH FASHION SHOW
SAN ANGELO MARCH 28

For the first time West Texas women will have an opportunity of viewing a French opening as held in Paris, with the announcement Saturday that Baker-Hemphill Company is staging a fashion extravaganza in the city auditorium, Friday afternoon and night, March 28.

Because of their sensational success in staging "Around the Clock" last year and the enthusiasm displayed by women following that event, Baker-Hemphill decided to go the limit this season by staging an event that has played in only two Texas cities, and that is sponsored annually by the leading fashion stores in New York, Chicago, St. Louis and other large cities of the East, as a means of showing their clientele the outstanding fashions of the hour.

Over sixty original French dresses imported from France by the local store's representatives from the last Paris opening will be shown to gether with an American replica of each model. The dresses and gowns are the outstanding successes from such internationally famous Paris courtiers as Chanel, Jenny, Lanvin, Paquin, Patou, Vionnet, Worth, Regny, Premit, Lenief, Lelong, and Louisblouanger, and are the smartest fashions for spring and summer.

M. G. SHURLEY CHILDREN HAVE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Merton G. Shurley entertained at her beautiful ranch home Saturday, March 15, in honor of her children, Rena Glen and Jack. A St. Patrick's Day idea of white and green was carried out in every detail.

The children were entertained on the lawn with a number of games then called in the house for musical choir. Wynona Hutcherson won the game. Fishing for fortunes in ponds of green resulted in much fun. The fortunes were written with invisible ink and had to be held over a candle to be read. Marion Elliott and Nadine McCalmont were awarded prizes in the potato race.

The birthday cakes were large white ones with lovely green shamrocks in the center, and contained all symbols that cakes usually have. They were served with punch in green glasses.

Mrs. Shurley was assisted by Mesdames Aaron Awalt, Orion Brown, Ira Shurley, O. B. McCalmont, Joe Logan, Tom Davis and Guenard Stephenson.

Children enjoying the happy occasion were: Guyon Shurley, Wirt Ellis Stephenson, Kathryn Brown, Emma Lou Logan, Kathryn Trainer, Mary Sue Blanton, Margaret Chipman, Jimmie Gwyn Langford, Jo Nell Miers, Robbie Joe Wyatt, Kathalea Keene and Doris Keene, Nadine and Ardelle McCalmont, Wynona Hutcherson, Carmen and Melva Jean McCalmont; Armer Earwood, J. T. Shurley, Jr., Wayne Chipman, Ray Wallace Stephenson, S. H. Stokes, Webb and Marion Elliott, Lewis Davis, Elmer Lee Logan, A. W. Awalt, Reginald and James D. Trainer, Rex Hutcherson, Glynden Hutcherson, Sam Merck Odom, Robert Allen Simmons, Joseph Logan and Sidney Awalt.

Judge J. A. Whitten, of Eldorado, was here Monday transacting business. He has been in the Rio Grande Valley for the past few months for his health and is much improved. Judge Whitten formerly lived in Sonora and has many friends who are glad to know that his health is better.

J. C. Trainer and family were here Thursday to attend the funeral of Mr. Trainer's grandmother.

GOAT AND SHEEP SHED IMPROVED AT STATION

An addition, 40x120, has been made to the sheep and goat shed at the Experiment Station, according to W. H. Dameron, superintendent. The addition now affords shelter space of 24x120 that will hold about a thousand sheep and goats.

James R. Caldwell, Sonora contractor, did the work, and the West Texas Lumber Company furnished the material.

Prepare now for the National Clean-up Week.

SAM LOGAN LOST HIS DINNER RETURNING FROM STOCK SHOW

E. R. Lawrence, teacher of animal husbandry, Wes Hill and Sam Logan returned from the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show in an airplane, arriving in San Angelo Friday afternoon. While soaring several hundred feet above the sod Sam became a little seasick and lost his breakfast and dinner, according to his companions who were making the return flight with him. Wes Hill, the burly son of Mr. and Mrs. Giles P. Hill, was not bothered and fell fast asleep.

Sam says he will not take any more trips after a heavy meal.

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE

The day has come or is not far away when every individual will have to specialize in the profession or vocation that he chooses. To compete with the other fellow it will be important that special training be had.

At least ninety percent of the boys reared in this county will be ranchmen, and their schooling and training should include animal husbandry. Since the raising of livestock is the chief industry of Sutton county, every boy should know the fundamental principles of achieving the most in the production of livestock, wool and mohair. Animal husbandry is being taught in the Sonora schools, and indeed this is something worthwhile. When the boy is young and ambitious is the time to give him a chance to develop interest in a great industry in "The Stockman's Paradise." The instruction that these boys are getting in that line of work is worthy of the support of the entire school board and parents who are engaged in such a laudable undertaking.

The success the 4-H boys and girls have had with their calves and evidenced by eight prizes at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show will naturally add impetus in encouraging better and finer livestock. The members of the club have had the support of the citizenry, and they appreciate the interest shown in their work.

The News congratulates each of the boys and girls, and also Mr. Lawrence who has been instrumental in succeeding the first year.

BASEBALL TIME IS HERE

Next month will be heard the cry of play ball when various league schedules are begun, training for which has been in progress for several weeks preparatory to giving fans their money's worth in the national sport.

With local baseball talent here it is thought that a fair semi-professional team could be developed—one that would do credit for the town and to the team. As a pastime and for recreation baseball, when played in the proper manner and spirit, is one of the cleanest games we have.

There are men here who would support a good team that could win fifty percent or more of its games. Then, too, when the building program starts there will be additional material and fans for the games.

It is now time that baseball fans should start thinking about organizing a club, and when more of the boys who are attending school return everything will be ready to start the ball to rolling.

This paper suggests that Vernon Hamilton, a baseball enthusiast, be made manager of the club. If that is done we will be sure of a fair deal in every respect.

RENT HOUSES ARE NEEDED

The need for rent houses in Sonora now is evident, and when the rails are completed there will be even a greater demand for rent property. Sonora could well afford to have a dozen or so rent houses ready when the first train whistles here.

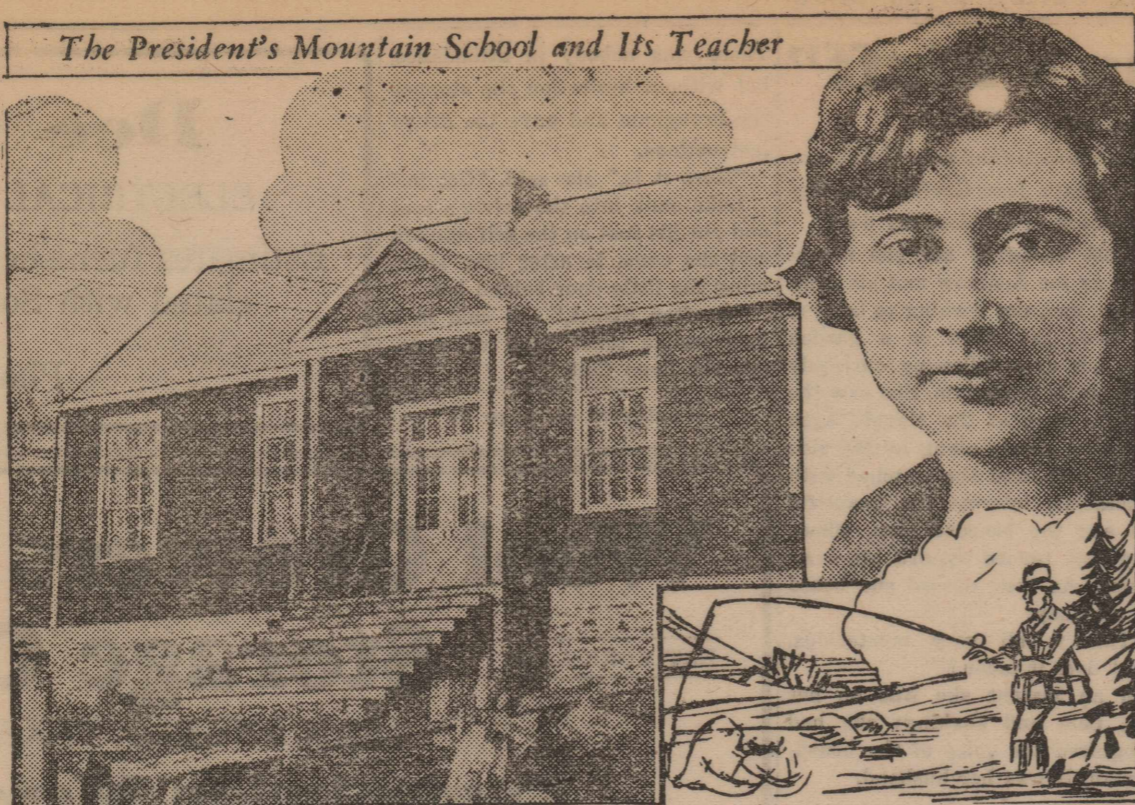

Rent houses, conservatively built, would be good revenue bearing property and would be a great help to the town. If we have no places for newcomers to live in, how can we expect them to remain in our town? They can't afford to do so unless they have the money to do it with, and most usually the working man is handicapped in financing a home.

"Well, I came down with flying colors anyhow," said Seth, who fell off a scaffold with a pail of paint in each hand.

Yarbrough Out for District Attorney

Appointed Attorney Wishes to Be Elected to That Office to Succeed Himself

Ed Yarbrough, now serving as district attorney for the 112th Judicial District, announces his candidacy for election to this office, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held July 26, this year.

He was appointed district attorney by Governor Moody to serve until the election and qualification of his successor and he desires to succeed himself by election to that office.

The legislature created the 112th Judicial District last year, which is composed of Upton, Crockett, Pecos, Sutton and Kimble counties. The law creating the district went into effect on the 18th day of last October when Mr. Yarbrough was appointed. He took the oath of office on the 21st day of October and has been actively engaged in the discharge of the duties of the office since that time.

He says that by the time his present term of office expires, unless the governor's appointment, that he will have served only a little more than one year and will then be well enough acquainted with the people and officers of the district to render good and efficient service and he is asking the voters to elect him to this office and give him a fair trial, and, if elected, he promises to do all in his power to render such service, as their district attorney, so as not to cause anyone to regret having given him his or her support.

Mr. Yarbrough has practiced law in West Texas for the past several years but this is the first time that he has ever held a county or state office. He says that he is not a politician and that he does not know many political tricks and if elected to the office of district attorney it will be because the voters have confidence in his ability as a lawyer and as a man who will do the square thing by all with whom he comes in contact as district attorney. He says that he will present the law and the facts in each and every case as he finds them to be and that the poorest man will receive the same kind of treatment as the richest, at his hands, and that if he is then unable to convict those charged with law violations he will not try to convict them by persecution and that he will not represent the State of Texas as its prosecuting attorney.

This is a large district and voters live far apart but Mr. Yarbrough says that he expects to meet each voter personally before the election and he asks the voters to investigate his standing as a citizen and as a lawyer and then if they believe that he is qualified to fill the place he will appreciate their support and influence and any assistance given him in his campaign for this important office will be greatly appreciated.

Mr. Yarbrough was here this week for district court. While here he complimented Sonora in many ways, and said that Sonora was sure to be a better town after the railroad gets here.

Jake Meerk, only exhibitor of Angora goats from Sutton county at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show, walked away with two third places and one fourth prize with his two Angora buck kids and one doe kid.

The Very Latest
(By Mary Marshall)

One of the surprises on the fashion program for 1930 is the return of the "shirt-waist." And I, for one, would never have chosen this fashion of the past for revival. The very word shirt-waist is one that has been banished from the vocabulary of the fashion reporter, who has long since learned to substitute the words blouse or bodice for the sort of thing that was once called a "waist."

But here it is—the shirt-waist of 1930; and there is no longer any doubt of its acceptance.

The picture shows a shirt-waist of biege georgette worn with a tan tweed skirt.

MRS. JOE VANDER STUCKEN HAD BAR PIN STOLEN

A diamond bar pin, valued at $750, was taken from Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Vander Stucken's room at the Blackstone Hotel in Ft. Worth. Mr. and Mrs. Vander Stucken were guests of that hostelry while attending the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show.

About the break of day one morning last week Mrs. Vander Stucken saw someone enter their room and asked the prowler what he wanted. The burglar immediately left the room hurriedly. The hotel clerk was notified of the robbery and informed Mr. Vander Stucken that other rooms had been burglarized. The thief was not apprehended.

The pin was an heirloom given to Mrs. Vander Stucken by her father, Ed L. Mears, of Menard.

ANGELO INVITATION TRACK MEET

Coach White took a few of the boys to an invitation track and field meet in San Angelo last Saturday. Most of the track team had gone to the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show and were unable to attend this meet. The boys failed to win any first places, but some of them made a good showing. Pharis did well in the high hurdles and is expected to show up nicely in the next meet. He finished within a yard of the winner. The trip was made more for the experience and enjoyment than the intentions of winning the meet.

Let's all do our part to win the Eden and the district meets.

BASEBALL

Once more the little horse hide cover is being pounded to all corners of the Broncho corral. America's national sport is claiming the day. The bountiful supply of material and the enthusiasm that is manifested by the many contenders insures a good club. There will be enough competition in both infield and outfield to stimulate the boys to great efforts.

The Bronchos are expecting to create enough interest in the school and town to bring good crowds to the home games, and a liberal following to the neighboring towns.

The pitching staff is the one sore spot thus far. There will have to be a trial test made with Logan, Taylor, Kidd and others to determine which can deliver the most elusive slants and smoke balls.

Brown, veteran catcher of many past seasons, will don the mask and other harness with Ory as a freshman contender. Other infielders who are seeking berths are: Trainer, Norris, Kidd, Taylor, Archer and Lancaster. Those who are roaming the outfield are: Pfister, H. Kidd, Kring, Cooper, Pharis, Evans and possibly others who have not yet claimed uniforms.—Sonora Broncho.

SIXTH INSTALLMENT

"I should be a little worse than impertinent. And yet, Mrs. Maddison, I have a very deep interest in your husband's affairs. I have many bad qualities, but disloyalty is not one of them. Your husband went out of his way to warn me, at a moment when he knew the police were coming to arrest me. If ever there was a white and wholesome man, that man is Luke Maddison. I ought not to have asked you the question and I could not very well expect a satisfactory answer. The only thing I am anxious to know is this: have you any idea where your husband is?"

"Do you wish to find him?" she challenged.

He shook his head. "No, but I'd like to know exactly where he is. I have a very special reason for asking this. Is he in London?"

She shook her head. "He's in Spain at the moment, but I'm afraid I cannot give you the address."

"Mr. Moril—is he in Spain? Pardon me, Mrs. Maddison, but if I have a reason for asking you the one question, I have a doubly important reason for asking the other. Morell is the kind of man that no decent woman should know—"

She walked to the table and pressed the little onyx bell push. This time he smiled.

"That means you're going to turn me out, and I don't blame you. I'm afraid I've blundered this interview, which I intended should be very discreet and diplomatic. I particularly wished to know where Mr. Maddison was—"

"I have told you," she said, as the maid appeared in the doorway.

"As far as Danty Morell is concerned—" he began.

Her hand pointed to the door. "I am not prepared to discuss my friends—even with the criminal acquaintances of my husband," she said, and she heard him chuckling as he went down the stairs as tho at a very good joke.

Margaret walked slowly along the asphalt path. As she did so she saw a car coming slowly along the tan on the other side of the road.

It was an electric brougham containing two people; a beautiful-looking girl, fashionably dressed; by her side, his face half hidden under a broad-brimmed Stetson hat, a bearded man of striking appearance. Ahead of her was walking a stout-looking man, and by his side a rather pretty girl. As she overtook them she heard the stout man say:

"Take a look at that swell woman! That's Jean Gurfay—the biggest crook in London, my dear."

Those ahead of her she recognized as the Sparrow and his companion, and, not wishing to be seen by them, sat down on a garden seat, her eyes following curiously the electric brougham. She saw the machine turn at the Marble Arch and come slowly along by the side of the curb, and she watched with a detached interest the beautiful girl and the bearded man, whose head was turned toward his companion. As they passed she heard the man say:

"This is all very mysterious. What does it mean?"

In an instant she was on her feet, pale and shaking; she had recognized the voice of the bearded man. It was her husband.

In the interest of his new, strange life, Luke found it fairly easy to forget. The spirit of adventure was on him. Margaret belonged to a dim, almost unbelievable, past. She was of the substance of dreams.

He went gaily to a rendezvous with a fair-haired girl on the following afternoon, and was delighted to find how springy was his step. He had hardly taken his place in front of the Guards Memorial when he saw an electric brougham approach and, catching the girl's signal, stepped to the side of the road as the car stopped.

She was in excellent spirits. "It's a great idea to let yourself be seen in a certain kind of car," she said. "You don't know what I mean? I'll bet you don't!"

They crossed into Hyde Park, made a slow progress near the edge of the sidewalk, and he found himself enjoying the novel experience. She was very pretty, though older than he had thought.

"Do you see that fat man over there? That's the Sparrow. You want to keep away from him."

He started at the name. "You mean Bird?" he stammered, and looked guiltily in the direction she indicated.

He saw Mr. Bird. He was walking with a very pretty girl, but the woman who was at moment seating herself on one of the park benches he did not recognize.

As the brougham turned and came back on the other side of the road, she said suddenly:

"There will be a car waiting near the Cavalry Barracks. I hope you can drive?"

"Another car?" he asked in astonishment.

She nodded. "I want to try you out."

He laughed. "All this is very mysterious," he said.

The car was waiting for them, a closed light car of English make.

There was nobody in attendance, but without hesitation she stopped the brougham and gave the driver instructions.

"Here it is," she said. "Get in." Luke sank into the driver's seat and put his foot on the self-starter, and she came in after him, slamming the little door behind her.

"Grafton Street," she said in a businesslike tone. "Pull up opposite the Rean Club."

Today and Tomorrow

(By Frank Parker Stockbridge)

ATHEISM

The Russian government's war against religion may prove the spur needed to unite all Christianity into making common cause against the enemies of God. Incredible as it sounds, the armed and disciplined minority which controls Russia has prohibited religious teaching and preaching, is seizing churches and converting them into museums and factories, is killing missionaries and confiscating the property of farmers who support the churches. There have been many religious wars in history, but always each side has professed the fighting to be in the name of its own God. The organ of this anti-religious movement in Russia is a newspaper published in Moscow called "The Godless One." The avowed purpose is to stamp out all religion and destroy all faith.

Unless Christianity is to confess failure, a greater war than the world has ever seen is inevitable. It will be the war of Christendom against the Godless rulers of Soviet Russia.

DUCKS

A Boston man went hunting in Maine. He shot ninety ducks. The other day he paid $2,700 for them in the United States Court. Thirty dollars a duck. That is the fine imposed by the federal government for killing eider ducks, for which there is no open season.

Too few hunters are informed of the federal game laws which protect migratory birds. Before going out with a gun one is required, in most states, to take out a shooting license and to be informed about the state and local game laws. Any state game warden can give full information about the federal game laws, also. Unless they as well as state laws are enforced there will soon be no game left to hunt.

CARS

There are approximately twenty-seven million families in the United States. There are about twenty-two million automobiles registered in the various states, including trucks, buses and other commercial vehicles. The average of passenger cars is about one car to every one and one-half families.

It will not be long before there will be as many passenger cars as there are families, and a high percentage of all families will own two cars. Little cars weighing only half as much as a Ford and costing a third less will be on the American market this year. More paved roads will tend to multiply cars. We can look forward to the day when nobody will walk except for exercise.

GIVING

Two brothers named Mills started a country weekly newspaper in Sodus, N. Y., about thirty years ago. They got into other enterprises, including electric light and power companies. They sold their power interests recently for several million dollars. But they still own and run the Sodus Record, still live in the little country town where they were born.

G. R. Mills, one of the brothers, decided he wanted to do some good with his money. He gave a radio set to a crippled woman in the village. She got so much pleasure out of it that he gave some more radio sets to shut-ins. He got so much fun out of that that he told other men of means about it and they began giving away radio sets. Out of that has grown the "We Follow Him" club with members all over the United States. Thousands of radios have been given to hospitals, to charitable institutions and to prisoners. All anyone has to do to become a member is to give a radio set to some "shut-in" invalid or prisoner and send his name to Mr. Mills.

GREATNESS

I attended a social gathering a few nights ago at which those present were asked to decide who were the five greatest men and the five greatest women of all time. Several persons offered lists of names and the prize was given to the one who named these:

Greatest men: Buddha, Julius Catsar, St. Paul, Charles Darwin and Karl Marx. Greatest women: Joan of Arc, Queen Elizabeth, Florence Nightingale, Queen Victoria, Susan B. Anthony.

It is an interesting game, and proves nothing. The greatest men and women who ever lived are probably unknown to history. The man who discovered how to make a fire and the woman who first cooked a rabbit over the fire certainly started something which changed the whole world.

RANGERS URGE FIRE BRANDING TO PREVENT LOSS STOCK BY THEFT

Fire branding of sheep and goats is urged as the most effective method of theft prevention by Texas Rangers and other officers who are dealing with the sheep and goat stealing menace in this territory.

Rangers who have been active in helping local officers in "running down" sheep and goat thieves during the past year estimate that not less than 2,000 of these animals have been stolen in McCulloch and surrounding counties during the past six months.

One of the biggest obstacles confront officers in the apprehension of stolen livestock is the present system of paint and ear marking used by many stockmen. Paint brands can be easily repainted and changed and earmarks destroyed where identification of stolen stock is practically impossible, according to officers.

A call has been issued to ranchmen in this section that all sheep and goats should be fire branded on the nose and jaw. This type of brand is virtually indestructible and will greatly aid the law in the identification of the stolen animals.

Officers state that most of the sheep and goat stealing is being done by means of trucks with a few tourist cars occasionally called in to play. "Flocks are hauled off in the late hours of the night when usually no one is around to require the truckmen to show a permit which he is required to have under the recently enacted truck law," one of the rangers stated.

There seems to be a well organized ring of sheep and goat thieves extending all over West Texas sheep and goat countries, in the opinion of the officers detailed to curb the sinister operations of this gang of thieves in the sheep and goat territory.—Brady Standard.

Pete: "I'm writing jokes for English but I can't seem to think of any to send in tonight."

COMPARE VALUES BEFORE YOU BUY AN AUTOMOBILE

Low charges for distribution of the new Ford save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in making the car

THESE are days when every dollar counts. The period of reckless spending is over. People are going back to the good old-fashioned principles of thrift and economy. Value is again being carefully considered.

Nowhere is this more important than in the selection of an automobile. For the purchase of a car represents a considerable investment. It should not be decided on hurriedly, but only after analyzing every important factor that concerns cost, value and performance. The time to do this is before buying—not afterward when it is too late.

ON THE basis of cost, performance and the actual comparative worth of every part, the new Ford is a value far above the price you pay. It is made of better materials and with greater care and accuracy because of the recognized efficiency and economy of Ford manufacturing methods.

The value of these methods is known and understood by millions of people. It is not generally realized, however, that these same principles of efficiency and economy are applied also to every step in the distribution of the Ford car. The low cost of selling, financing time payments, etc., means a direct saving to you of at least $50 to $75 in addition to the money saved by Ford economies in making the car. Here are three reasons why this is so.

(1) The Ford dealer does business on a smaller margin of profit because of the greater number of cars he sells. His discount or commission is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference in your favor, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

(2) The Ford charges for financing are low.

(3) No expensive extra equipment is needed when you buy a Ford. The car leaves the factory ready for use. The f.o.b. price includes a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield and an extra steel-spoke wheel, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes. Any accessories you may wish for your individual taste are sold considerably below the usual prices. None of these charges for selling, financing or accessories is marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

Get all the facts, therefore, before you buy and figure out just what you are getting for your automobile dollars. Go beyond the f.o.b. price and find out how much more you pay the dealer than the dealer pays at the factory. Analyze the used-car allowance. Compare all charges—item for item—value for value.

WHEN you do this you will have a new appreciation of what the Ford Motor Company and Ford dealers are doing to keep down the cost of Ford cars. You will also know why it is possible to put so much real value into the new Ford and still retain the low price. The money you pay goes for value in the car. It is not wasted in excessive costs in manufacturing or selling.

Gunman's Bluff—

He thought she was testing his driving ability, for he had to pass through three traffic blocks before he brought the machine to a standstill at a place she indicated. "Now you understand," she said, dropping her voice and speaking rapidly, "I'm going in to see my husband."

She looked him straight in the eyes. "If he makes a fuss I shall expect you to help me. If he doesn't make a fuss, we'll drive quietly away down Albarle Street, make for Vauxhall Bridge and Tooting Common."

"Your husband?" he stammered. She gave him one quick look of suspicion.

"That is what you tell the flattie if there is any fuss."

What a flattie was she didn't explain, and was gone before he could ask her. He kept the engine running according to her instructions. She was gone some twenty minutes. Presently, looking out, he saw her turn the corner from Bond Street and walk with apparent unconcern toward him. As she stepped into the car, a man in his shirt-sleeves darted around the corner, flew at her, and gripped her by the arm. She tried to wrench herself free, and before Luke realized what he was doing he had struck her assailant and sent him tumbling to the pavement.

"Drive!" she snapped, and mechanically Luke Maddison sent the machine leaping forward. They crossed Oxford Street, down St. James' Street, through the park, and were over Vauxhall Bridge before he partly realized what had happened.

"Why did that fellow grab you?" he asked.

"My husband—I had a row with him," she said calmly. And then: "I knew Connor was wrong," she said and whistled. "If I hadn't had my wits about me and started that husband story, I'd have been halfway to Holloway!"

He saw her look at every policeman they passed, out of the corner of her eye, and his heart was beating faster as they came to the edge of Tooting Common, and at her command he stopped the car. "We'll get out here," she said. "You can go back by bus, I'll take a taxi. If Connor comes tonight, tell him I've got the stuff."

She turned to go, but he caught her by the arm.

"What stuff?" he asked sternly. And then he saw the flat case she carried under her leather coat.

"My God," gasped Luke Maddison. "You stole that!"

There was amusement in her fine eyes as she nodded.

"Of course I did, you poor simp!"

A taxi was passing and she hailed it. Slowly his grip on her arm relaxed. He watched the taxi recede like a man in a dream, too stunned even to think. He could never remember that journey back to Lambeth. He had crossed Westminster Bridge when he saw a newsboy with a placard: "Daring West End Robbery." He stood dead still, gazing open-mouthed at the contents bill, and then he felt in his pocket and dropped a penny from his trembling hand into the newsboy's palm. He dared not look inside the newspaper until he was in a quiet street. Then he read:

DARING WEST END ROBBERY

Bearded Man and Pretty Girl Rob Taffanny's of 20,000 Diamond Necklace

A daring robbery was committed this afternoon at Messrs. Taffanny's jewel shop in Bond Street. At about 5:50 a well-dressed woman walked into the shop and asked to be shown some plain gold rings. Whilst the assistant's back was turned, she must have broken a glass case with a rubber-headed hammer. When he came back, he found not only the woman but a valuable diamond necklace had disappeared. He flew out into the street and overtook the woman as she was entering a motor car. He was immediately struck down by her companion, who is described as a man of great height, with a fair, well-trimmed beard, dressed in a gray tweed suit....

"That's me!" groaned Luke Maddison, and almost swooned.

For a quarter of an hour he sat and watched his tea growing cold, his mind vacillating between horror and amusement. He, Luke Maddison, was a thief, a gangster, an active member of an organization which had robbed Taffanny's! He knew Taffanny's rather well; he had bought Margaret's engagement ring over the very glass counter that had been smashed. He was helpless—the idea of going to the police and betraying his associates never occurred to him. There was only one thing to be done and that was to steal away at the first opportunity. He had written for his check book to be sent to Ronda, and it was a simple matter to reach Spain. Was it, though?

With a gasp he realized that he had no passport! And without a passport it was impossible to reach Spain, of all countries, where every man and woman who passed across the frontier were closely scrutinized. If he had not dismissed his servant it would be easy to creep back to his flat one night, pack a bag, and fade away into a Continental limbo. But probably his solicitor had the key of the flat. A new hope awakened. Hulbert had an apartment in St. James Street. He was a bachelor and accessible.

KONJOLA WINS TRIUMPHS EVERY DAY EV'RYWHERE

New and Different Medicine Welcomes Any Test—Results Are What Count

MR. RAYMOND SCHMIDT

Results are what count; mere words and promises mean nothing. Konjola has won fame and friends just by making good, and that is the medicine sufferers want and should have. Imagine the joy of Mr. Raymond Schmidt, R. F. D. No. 1, Sedalia, Mo., when he was able to say:

"Though I know it to be true I find it hard to believe Konjola in just three months, ended my sufferings of nine years' duration. For that long time I suffered from indigestion, constipation, kidney trouble and catarrh. No food agreed with me; every night I had to get up numerous times, and the catarrh certainly added to my misery. In those nine years I tried no end of medicine and treatments, and everyone was a miserable failure. But how different with Konjola! Week by week I grew better, and in three months I was my old self again. To me Konjola is the most wonderful medicine in the world, and I recommend it with all my heart."

Konjola is sold in Sonora at the Corner Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. Adv.

CLEANING AND PRESSING
"Have It Done at Home"

Does everything others do — plus SPINNING drying

Washes fast, safe, clean—like every good washer. But that's less than half the work it does. The SPINNER does away with slow, tedious, piece-by-piece feeding through the wringer to the first rinse; through the wringer to the second rinse; through the wringer to the line. It washes, rinses, starches—then dries for the line every piece without a wringer—in a fast revolving porcelain SPINNER that cannot break buttons, crush snaps, snag silks or press in deep creases so hard to iron out. Match it, pit it against all the washer world has to offer. Nowhere will you find a worthy challenger for the SPINNER—for it does almost everything but hang out the clothes. Why waste washing, wringing, ironing, mending time the old fashioned way? Change now. Free home demonstration and pay-as-you-use plan.

35 YEARS AGO

January 21, 1893

It is rumored that Mr. W. F. Buchanan, of Robert Lee, will soon open up a bank at Sonora, Sutton county, Texas. We always knew that "Buck" was a genuine rustler but supposed he had his hands full in the "free state of Coke." Success to you old boy, and may the hairs of your head never grow gray from business cares.—Ballinger Leader.

A petition will be circulated to offset the effort to establish a new county to be called Reagan, by which Concho will lose some good citizens and valuable territory. Our protest should be loud and strong. It is a scheme to further private ends of certain individuals. Everybody should sign the petition.—Concho Herald.
The new bank building will cost about $1,500 when completed.

C. T. Turney, a prosperous cattleman from Kinney county, was in Sonora Thursday prospecting for a ranch location in the Paradise.
County clerk Silliman issued a marriage license this week to Geo. English and Miss Susie Day.
E. C. Saunders will commence teaching a class in Spanish, in about two weeks. A knowledge of the Spanish language will be a benefit to every young man in this western country. If possible take a course.

Geo. B. Black, representing the King Candy Co., of Brownwood, was in Sonora Monday giving our merchants taffy. George feels at home in Sonora, and always has a pleasant word and a smile that won't wear off for everybody especially for the ladies. He expects to bring that fine boy of his, Bill, with him on some of his trips.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Vander Stucken and sons left on a short visit to Fredericksburg Thursday. The trip was made by auto and 160 miles covered in a day. The trip was made to see the mother and sister of Mr. Vander Stucken.
W. L. Locklin and son, Dave, were in Sonora Thursday from Sherwood. They are looking for sheep range.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson and Miss Daisy Luckie from the northeastern part of Sutton county, were in Sonora this week the guests of the Misses Maddox.

AGAIN KONJOLA GIVES PROOF OF AMAZING POWER

Ten Years of Rheumatism Are Ended When New Medicine Is Given a Chance

MRS. G. H. COLEMAN

What cheer and encouragement are to be found in the many victories of Konjola, the new and different medicine of 32 ingredients. Take, as a typical example of Konjola at work, the case of Mrs. G. H. Coleman, R. F. D. No. 3, Ft. Smith, Ark. Imagine her happiness when she was able to say:

"When I look back and think how I suffered from rheumatism and kidney trouble for ten years I can hardly believe that I am well and happy as I am today. And all this glorious change is due to Konjola. For ten years I endured awful agonies. At times the pain in my limbs was so severe that I could not get around. Every night I was up many times, and the loss of sleep and rest told on my general health. A friend urged me to try Konjola, and what good advice that proved to be. In four weeks I was without a sign of rheumatism, and my kidneys were as good as ever. No wonder Konjola is the most talked of medicine in America. It should be in every home throughout the land."

Konjola is sold in Sonora at the Corner Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. adv.

Electrical Servants for Your Home

"The application of Electricity to household appliances has done more to raise the standard of home-life than any other single factor," is the opinion of a well known home economics authority.

Just contrast the difference between the Modern, Electrically-equipped home of today, and homes of similar means a few years ago.

No longer does the housewife grow old before her time . . . no longer does she slave and toil about her kitchen and household tasks . . . no longer is she shut off from the rest of the world because of lack of time to enjoy and appreciate the better things of life.

Does your home reflect the spirit of this New Day? Are you receiving all the economical benefits possible through the intelligent application of electricity to your home?

One of our Household Engineers will be glad to show you how cheaply you can secure the enormous advantages of "Complete Electrical Service."

CHEVROLET

Chevrolet announces A NEW SERVICE POLICY

The Chevrolet Motor Company and its dealers are pleased to announce a new service policy—one of the most liberal ever offered on a low-priced automobile.

Put into force as a written agreement given to the purchaser by the Chevrolet dealer when the car is delivered—it offers the following provisions:

- 1 Every Chevrolet owner receives his car from the dealer in perfect condition—thoroughly lubricated, properly adjusted, and ready to operate efficiently from the first mile of ownership.
- 2 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection and adjustment of his car at the end of the first 500 miles of usage.
- 3 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection of his car every 1000 miles thereafter, so long as the car is in operation.
- 4 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free replacement of any part which may prove defective in workmanship or material, within the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty. This includes both parts and labor.
- 5 Provision number 4 will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States. As a result, the Chevrolet owner may travel to any part of the country, with assurance that the guarantee on materials and workmanship will remain in force.

This new policy constitutes proof of Chevrolet's high quality—for such liberal provisions could only be made in connection with a car built of fine materials to exacting standards of workmanship.

Back of this policy, and assuring its successful operation, is one of the most complete and efficient service organizations in the world.

There are more than 10,000 Authorized Chevrolet Dealer Service Stations in the United States alone. Each employs skilled mechanics thoroughly trained at Chevrolet Service Schools. Each has specially designed tools and machinery developed exclusively for Chevrolet service work. And each has on hand, at all times, an adequate stock of genuine Chevrolet replacement parts.

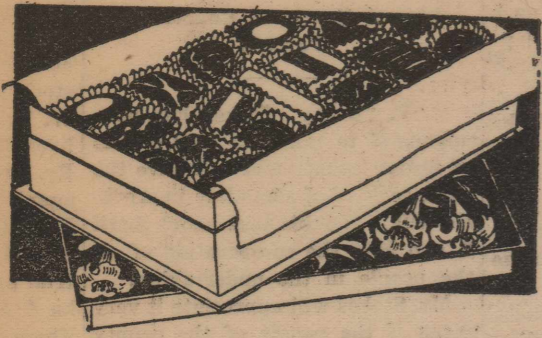

Chevrolet's flat-rate charges, including both parts and labor, are the lowest in the industry on many service operations!

In considering the purchase of a low-priced automobile, think what this service means—in terms of lasting satisfaction, as well as in increased economy.

District Court in Session Again

Five Divorce Cases and Four Liquor Cases Will Be Tried
This Term Court

After a two-day recess, due to the Catlemen's Convention in San Angelo, Judge Montague and the court resumed work this morning in the 112th Judicial District court.

The grand jury, after finding four liquor bills, adjourned. There are five divorce cases that will be heard this term of court.

The case of the State of Texas vs Harley Laws, of Abilene, will be tried. Laws is charged with concealing a mortgaged truck he purchased of the Stites Motor Co.

TEXA PRODUCES 13.3 PER CENT OF WOOL

The amount of wool shorn in 1928 was 303,715,000 pounds and in 1929 was 308,907,000 pounds, according to the revised estimates of the Department of Agriculture. The revised figures for both years are larger than the preliminary figures. These increases were due largely to upward revisions in the number of sheep on farms in a number of states, there being no change in the average weight per fleece for the country as a whole. The amount of pulled wool produced in 1929 was 54,500,000 pounds, an increase of 2,600,000 pounds over 1928.

Texas again led the states in the Union by producing 41,300,000 pounds, the fleeces weighing an average of 8.5 pounds. The next state in line was Montana with 26,620,000 pounds with a fleece average of 8.6 pounds. The third state was Wyoming with 26,488,000 pounds, with a fleece average of 8.8 pounds. California came fourth with 23,800,000 pounds, with a fleece average of 6.8 pounds. Texas produced in 1929 slightly more than 13.3 per cent of the total wool clip of the country.—Farm and Ranch.
