Exchange Anticipates Year's First Sheep Sale

The Sonora Livestock Exchange is making preparations for its first sheep sale of the year scheduled for Monday, May 31. This will be the Exchange's third sale this year, the first two being goat sales and termed by the Exchange's owners as successful sales.

Bill Whitehead of the Exchange says that it appears as though the May 31 sale will be another good one if there are some good quantities of sheep.

He added that the market was good, especially on fats and on stockers, too. He feels that sellers will get top dollar for all good quality animals.

An added feature of the May 31 sheep sale will be the Chinese auction of a poodle-sheared lamb. This lamb will be led into the ring by the fuchsia poodle-cut goat that "stole the show" at the May 14 goat sale. The proceeds from the lamb will go to the West Texas Boy's Ranch.

CINDERS

By John T. King

I've forgotten who it was, but some "friend" warned me to stay away from the goat sale planned June 4 at the Sonora Livestock Exchange Co. "With the beard you're growing", they advised, "you might end up being mistaken for a goat and sold!"

Because of Sonora's central location in the district, Joe Lane, resident engineer with the Texas Highway Department, expects that many of the workers on the Interstate 10 project will locate their homes here and commute to their jobs on the construction of the new highway.

"What's the matter with Brown? He looks glum."

"He's been contesting his wife's will."

"I didn't know she was dead."

"That's just it. She isn't!"

Public Hearing Is Set For West Part of IH 10

A public hearing for discussion of the proposed route of Interstate Highway 10 from the Crockett County line to 5.1 miles west of Sonora has been set for Tuesday, June 8, at 2 p.m. in the County Court Room.

Joe W. Lane, resident engineer, said that preliminary sketches of the proposed location and schematic layouts of the road are on display at the resident engineer's office located in the old Corral Trading Post building.

Lane estimated the actual construction work on the Sutton County portion of Interstate 10 would take at least five years. Plans have not been completed on the route around Sonora and to the east, but construction of the entire Interstate System is

W.A. Miers, Long-time Rancher, Dies

Funeral services for W. A. (Bill) Miers were held at 4 p.m. Saturday, May 22, at the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Allen Roe, pastor, and the Rev. Lea Roy Aldwell officiating.

Mr. Miers died in Hudspeth Memorial Hospital about 3:30 p.m. Friday after a long illness. Born in Bell County November 26, 1870, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Miers. With his parents and brothers and sisters he moved to Sutton County in 1884, three years before the county was organized and six years before the founding of Sonora.

The family bought a ranch where Wall Well, the first well drilled in Sutton County, was located and made their home there until 1890 when they moved to the newly founded Sonora. Their home was the sixth house built in the town.

He was married to Miss Belle Birtrong, also a member of a pioneer family, April 6, 1897, in Ozona. Mrs. Miers died August 25, 1939.

Known as Texas' largest sheep man, Mr. Miers at one time owned some 40,000 sheep, more than any other rancher in Texas. His ranching interests included approximately 100 sections of land. Although most of the land he owned in Sutton County, for a period he owned a ranch in Culberson County, New Mexico. He had cattle, goats, and sheep, but he liked sheep best and once commented that the sheep business had always been a pleasant occupation and usually profitable.

Mr. Miers was a member of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, and he had served as vice-president of the Sonora Wool and Mohair Company.

Survivors include five daughters, Mrs. Stella Keene, Mrs. Sam (Dixie) Allison, Mrs. Mack (Addah) Cauthorn, and Mrs. L. E. (Joe Nell) Johnson Jr., all of Sonora, and Mrs. Guida Rose Brown of Del Rio; a son, W. L. Miers of Sonora; two brothers, R. L. (Bob) Miers and George Miers, both of Del Rio; a sister, Mrs. Eulah Markward of Del Rio; seven grandchildren; six great grandchildren; and one great-great grandchild.

Pallbearers were Fred Earwood, R. C. Vicars, John Fields, Louie Trainer, Dan Cauthorn, Dr. Charles Browne, 2d Andrew Moore, all of Sonora, and Curtis Norman of Brady.

Burial was in Sonora Cemetery directed by Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home.

J. D. Fields Jr. Receives Annual Lambert Award

John David Fields Jr., the highest ranked boy scholastically in the 1965 graduating class, has been named as the recipient of the Lambert Award.

The tenth recipient of this annual award, Fields is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John David Fields. The presentation of the award was made during commencement exercises Tuesday, May 25.

This award is presented annually by Jeff Lambert in memory of the late Mrs. Jo Ethel Lambert. To qualify, the recipient must maintain a high standing in character, leadership, service, patriotism, scholarship, and sportsmanship.

During his years in Sonora High School, John David has remained active in various organizations. He was president of his class in his freshman, sophomore, and junior years, as well as president of the student council his senior year. He has been a member of the Speech Club for four years, National Honor Society for three years, and football team for four years.

Fields was elected all school favorite runner-up his sophomore year and was named Best-Groomed both his junior and senior years. This year he was named Co-Mr. SHS. Fields is also a member of the National Thespians Club and Library Club.

He is a member of the First Methodist Church and an officer in the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

He plans to begin studying pre-law at Southwestern University in Georgetown next fall.

Episcopalians Plan Ascension Service

The Rev. Rollin Polk of the St. John's Episcopal Church announced this week that on Thursday, May 27, the church will have an Ascension Day Service.

Ascension Day is 40 days after Easter and marks the ascension of Christ.

The service will include holy communion with a sermon and will begin at 7:30 p.m.

MRS. HULL IS CHAIRMAN OF CANCER MEMORIALS

Memorial gifts to the American Cancer Society may be sent in care of Mrs. Joe Hull, memorials chairman.

Mrs. Hull, who has served for a number of years as secretary of the local unit of the Cancer Society, is retiring from that post, but she is continuing to serve as memorials chairman.

WHAT IN THE WORLD are these two thinking about? We're not sure. Jimmy Harris, who is growing his beard for the Diamond Jubilee celebration, and eight-month old Rhonda E'Lise Peoples, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gray Peoples, seem to be thinking way-out thoughts. This picture certainly deserves a clever caption. Try your originality by making up a caption for this picture and submitting it to the Devil's River News. The writer of the best one will receive a $2 prize.

Valedictorian Eyes Individual's Value

"The world is moved by the individual, or it is never moved," by a committee of teachers and townspeople.

In praising the value of individual thought and action, Miss Galbreath said that some people continue the children's game of follow the leader throughout their lives, while others make a place for themselves.

She expressed appreciation to teachers, principal, superintendent, school administration, parents, and the people of Sonora for taking time to know the members of the class and help them to grow in knowledge and character.

In her speech the salutatorian of the class, Carla Whitworth, expressed both happy and sad feelings: happiness "because the school years here have been so wonderful and college lies ahead" and sadness at leaving Sonora High School and Sonora.

Dick Hardgrave, president of the senior class, presided at the exercises. The invocation was delivered by Mickey Hardegrave, and the benediction was given by Gary McGilvray.

The graduating students, wearing red caps and gowns, marched to processional and recessional music played by Mrs. James Wilson.

In certifying the class, Doyle Morgan, high school principal, advised the members, "Whatever you do, do it well. May you have much happiness."

Rex Lowe, superintendent of schools, said he was presenting "37 of the finest young people in the world" and he termed their graduation the culmination of 12 years of hard work.

Diplomas were presented by Armer Earwood, president of the school board.

Members of the class gave a choral selection featuring "I'll Be Seeing You" as John David Fields reviewed highlights of their school years.

Fields was awarded the Lam-

CHANGING CHALLENGES, TIMELESS VALUES

A new high school graduating class. Once more a group of Sonora young men and women will embark upon the most exciting venture of their lives, whether it be in college or in the business world.

After twelve years of training most of these young people must cope with a vastly different world from that their forebears knew. It is troubled, complex, and restive. Its demands are many and difficult to meet. Changes are constantly taking place at a maddening rate. Challenges are endless in this world.

Yet, strange to say, it is a world of exceptional opportunities. Every day new frontiers are being opened—in industry, business, government, medicine, the physical sciences. And the future holds even more promises.

Whether the world welcomes the students who leave Sonora High School is up to the students themselves. They must prove themselves worthy of positions in this world. This world will ask much of them. It will, often, require skills that didn't even exist a short time ago. Above all, it will demand an eagerness to keep on acquiring knowledge. A high school graduation is a beginning of formal information and not an end, as some would like to believe.

Although the things of the world may change, there are still values that remain steadfast—spiritual virtues. Without them the world is essentially empty and void of meaning. Surrounded as we are by material abundance and achievement, it is easy to lose sight of the old spiritual virtues. But the truth of the spirit is one that never changes, and one that our young people should never forget.

NOON
by the Chapel Clock

One . . . two . . . three.

Four years Connie and I have listened to that deep, resonant chime counting off the hours of our college days. Sometimes it was just part of the setting at State—like the Commons, and the Quad, and Moonlight Walk. But often it called us to high moments of worship and thought and prayer.

Four . . . five . . . six.

Today we pause and count! Exams are over. Trunks are packed. Books are on their way back to the Library. Tomorrow — Commencement.

Seven . . . eight . . . nine.

Again we're reading each other's thoughts. Let's walk once more through that graceful arch, hand-in-hand and smiling. Let's kneel together in the sacred stillness, breathing our thanks . . . our hopes . . . our needs . . . our dreams. For life and love await us. And these we will share with God! It is Noon by the Chapel Clock.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mesquite Control by Aerial Spraying Should Be in Full Swing Within Month

By E. B. Keng
Soil Conservation Service
Mesquite control by aerial spraying should be in full swing during the next 20 to 30 days. Abundant winter moisture, plus soaking rains in mid-May, should produce the rapid growth conditions recommended for the best control.

Mesquite control is a major problem for ranchmen in the Edwards Plateau soil conservation district. Individual tree treatment, such as grubbing, oiling, basal spray, or dozing is the most effective killing method, with heavy stands; however, the cost of individual tree treatment is often prohibitive.

Aerial spraying with 2-4-5T is a control method which usually kills over 90 percent of the top growth, and gives from a trace to 20 percent root kill in this area. All trees not root killed will sprout at the ground line, and in 5 to 7 years should be sprayed again.

The cost of aerial spraying varies from about $2.35 to $2.65 per acre treated, depending upon the acreage involved and the contractor used. Small, irregular shaped acreages are more difficult to spray.

Mesquite has spread by leaps and bounds since the 1951-57 drought. Many mesquite seedlings apparently germinated following the soaking June, 1954, rains of 3 to 6 inches, when rangeland was almost completely denuded by drought. With a "head start" on the grass, mesquite invasion has become a major problem.

Mesquite is a heavy water user, requiring some 4 to 6 times as much water as grass to produce a pound of dry matter. The widespread mass of tree roots under a heavy stand of mesquite robs the grass of moisture and greatly reduces forage production.

Ranchmen may receive approximately 50 percent cost share for mesquite spraying from the Sutton County ASC Committee, up to $1,000, so long as cost share funds are available. If ACP assistance is desired, prior approval must be obtained before spraying is started. All sprayed areas should be deferred for at least three months to allow native grasses to take full advantage of the moisture released by stopping mesquite growth.

Because of favorable conditions, and the increasing seriousness of the mesquite problem, ranchmen will spray several thousand acres this year. Soil Conservation Service personnel will be glad to discuss mesquite control problems with interested ranchmen.

Old Revolvers Manufactured by Colt in London Now Are Collectors Prizes

Most gun enthusiasts are well acquainted with the history of the Colt revolver during the muzzle-loading stages of its development—roughly between 1835 and 1836. There is, however, one item of its early history which usually receives only scant attention—the London factory which operated between 1835 and 1857.

Samuel Colt's name does not appear in the London Directory until 1853, although it is certain that his revolvers were known in England a few years before, according to the National Rifle Association, a non-profit membership organization founded in 1871.

He paid a brief visit to London late in 1835 to secure his first patent, but at the time he was not in a position to negotiate for a European connection. The subsequent output of his Paterson (New Jersey) factory was more or less confined to the American market.

It appears, however, the NRA explains, that he always had in mind the development of a wider selling field, for his second factory at Hartford (Connecticut) had barely gotten into full swing before he was off on a European business tour, during the course of which he again visited England to secure a second patent.

In 1851 the Great Exhibition, housed in Paxton's newly-designed "Crystal Palace," was opened in London. With commendable shrewdness, Colt rented a section for display of his arms, which attracted an amazing amount of attention on the part of the visitors and newspapers of the period ("amazing" because the revolver was by no means unknown at the time, either in England or in Europe).

The English section exhibited at least one "pepper box" pistol (Rigby) and two revolvers (Deane-Adams and Lang), while Lefauchaux of Paris offered, in addition to his new breech-loading gun, a "pepper box" pistol of novel design which used metallic pin-fire cartridges (ammunition with a built-in firing pin). The reason for the Colt's popularity was based upon the fact that it had been thoroughly tested under both military and frontier condition, apart from its obvious fine design and sturdiness of construction.

Colt himself was in England at the time of the Exhibition and read a paper on revolving arms and his new system of manufacturing before a distinguished audience at the Institution of Civil Engineers. The technical discussion of the revolving breech mechanism, as applied to firearms, developed gradually into a eulogy of Colt arms by men who had used them and who happened to be present at the lecture.

Whether or not this was another instance of Colt's genius for advertising cannot be said at this late date, but like many other fortunate occurrences in Colt's career, it was probably not entirely luck, according to the NRA.

In England, Colt pursued his usual policy of presenting fine Colts where they would do the most good—to members of Parliament, the House of Lords and other distinguished Britishers.

Colt returned to America in February of 1852 and bought a large tract of land, about 200 acres, in Hartford, where he eventually built a manufacturing center that remains today—the home of Colt revolvers and automatic pistols.

In October of 1852, Colt sailed again for England, taking with him men and machinery to start a London branch of his Hartford factory. He would have preferred to buy his machinery in England, to create a favorable impression upon potential customers, but no machinery made in England at the time was exact enough for the work necessary to turn out his revolvers.

Colt stayed only a short time in London to see that the job of equipping the plant was well advanced, and then returned to America to supervise the project in Hartford, leaving the London factory in the hands of Charles Manby, formerly secretary of the Institution of Civil Engineers.

Colt's London factory was opened in January of 1853, situated at Thames Bank, Pimlico, on the south side of the river near Vauxhall Bridge, in a building which had previously been used in making moldings for the House of Parliament.

The NRA points out that the building was a constant source of surprise to English observers, to whom it was strange to see a whole gun made under one roof, instead of being put together in half a dozen kitchen workshops.

A fine record of a trip through the London factory has been left us by Charles Dickens, the famous novelist, who paid it a lengthy visit in the spring of 1854 and published in his magazine, "Household Words," an interesting account of what he saw there. It is the only extant description of Colt's London factory. Dickens begins his article:

"Colonel Colt is undoubtedly the first inventor of a really available repeating pistol. Ignorant, as he declares himself to have been of all previous attempts of the kind, and having an imperfect knowledge of mechanics, he had thought as early as the year eighteen hundred and twenty nine, of the possibility of making a pistol that might be fired many times without re-loading."

Dickens continues with a long and dramatic description of how Colt got started, how his gun operated and gives a detailed account of his manufacturing and testing processes virtually from beginning to end. It is a masterpiece of reporting on a relatively little-known, short-lived operation that produced some beautiful guns, prized by today's collectors of London Colts.

Shelley Morriss was crowned Miss GA of the Concho Valley at a house party in San Angelo Friday night.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morriss, she received the honor as a result of an essay she wrote and her work in the Girls Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church here. Topic of the essay was her GA counselor, Mrs. Smith Neal.

Shelley was chosen as a candidate from the local church because of her GA work, and she entered the essay writing contest of the Concho Valley Association, which is composed of some 27 Baptist Churches. The Women's Missionary unit of the Concho Valley selected her essay as the best.

She will reign for one year over the Concho Valley Girls Auxiliary, which includes approximately 400 members.

Shelley serves as program chairman of the GA unit here. She will be a freshman next year in Sonora High School.

Pecan Nut Casebearer Is Major Pest, May Be Controlled by Spring Spraying

By Charles W. Neeb
Entomologist
Texas

Agricultural Extension Service
The pecan nut casebearer is the major pest of pecans in Texas. In the spring, the overwintered generation feeds first in the buds and then in the developing shoots, causing them to wilt and die. Succeeding generations feed on the nuts during the late spring and summer. Several infestations of the pecan nut casebearer may destroy the entire crop of pecans.

The adult is a light gray moth which is about one-third inch in length. The wings are gray, and the forewings have a ridge of dark scales across them about one-third the distance from the base. The moths fly at night and spend the day in concealment.

The young larvae are white to pink, but later become olive gray to green and attain a length of about one-half inch.

In the spring, the larvae feed for a short time on the buds and then tunnel into the developing shoots until maturity is reached. Pupation usually occurs in these burrows, and the moths emerge in late April and May. Two or three days after the adults emerge, they deposit eggs on the tips of the nuts. Each female may deposit from 50 to 150 eggs. The eggs are small and are barely visible to the naked eye. At first the eggs are a greenish white color, but assume a reddish appearance a few days later. The first-generation larvae hatch from the eggs in 4 to 5 days and migrate to the buds below the nuts to feed. A day or two later, the larvae enters the nuts usually at the base and feed in them, each larvae frequently destroying an entire cluster.

A second and third generation will usually occur in the season but may cause less damage to the pecan crop because the nuts become large and harder during this time.

The necessity for control of this pest may be determined by examination of the trees when the shoots appear in the spring. If a number of them are wilted, control measures probably will be required. A spray application should be made when eggs of the first generation appear on the do, you wait till something busts tips of the young nuts in late April or May. The period of egg deposition usually coincides at the time the tips of the nuts turn brown.

Satisfactory control may be obtained by the use of several insecticides listed in the Extension Service leaflet L-245, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects and Diseases on Fruits and Nuts" which is available at the office of the county agricultural agent, D. C. Langford.

Ordinarily, only one application of spray is required to control the nut casebearer. However, if trees surrounding the treated area are not sprayed, moths may enter the sprayed area and serious infestation of second-generation larvae may develop. If this event occurs, then a second spray may be required in June or early July.

For further information on pecans, refer to MP-13 "Pecan Diseases and Insects and Their Control," published by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Copies of this bulletin may be picked up at the office of the county agricultural agent.

FOR UNMANAGEABLE FIGURES

Philosopher Touts Jet Set Debt Lingo

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Devil's River gets involved with figures this week.

Dear editor:
I understand some colleges specializing in agriculture around the country are now offering a new service to ranchers.

They've installed big computer machines and if a rancher will send in his records the machines will digest the information and in 30 seconds or so tell him what he's doing wrong.

This may be fine for bachelor ranchers, but ranchers with wives don't need a machine to tell them what they're doing wrong.

However what I started out to say this week before I got sidetracked—as you can see I operate control measures probably will be required. A spray application should be made when eggs of the first generation appear on the do, you wait till something busts tips of the young nuts in late April or May. The period of a plan for simplifying figures covering such things as the national budget, the national debt, etc.

As everybody knows, the figures have become unmanageable and frightening. For example, when the President says the budget this year will be right at $100,000,000,000, or spelled out, one hundred billion dollars the amount in ungraspable. You can't get hold of it. It's too wide to go through your brain broadside, and if you let it in lengthwise part of it's out before the other's in.

What Washington ought to do is come on in to the last half of the 20th century, the space age, the debt age. Washington ought to throw out the term billion and take up with trillion.

As I understand it, a trillion dollars is $1,000,000,000 (don't stop yet, 3 more to go), 000 or a 1 with 12 zeroes after it.

Put in these terms, the national budget this year is not quite one-tenth of a trillion. Say it over. A tenth of a trillion? Why, that sounds paltry. Like a tenth of a dollar. Like half a loaf.

In the years ahead, as we extend our rockets in space and our soldiers on earth, whoever is President can go before Congress and say our budget this year will come to only two-tenths of a trillion dollars, and we can all get some sleep.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

An Idle Mind Column

The first purely volunteer worker pitched in and helped Mrs. A. W. Awalt and Mrs. J. T. Sellman in their work at the sunken garden in downtown Sonora this week.

As Mrs. Awalt and Mrs. Sellman were weeding the garden Monday, Leonardo Virgen passed by, saw what they were doing, asked if he could help, and worked for about an hour.

The garden grows prettier each day as the canna's and cactus begin to bloom. A few other flowers are also blooming, and there are numerous buds on the zinnias.

Everyone seems to be having a big time over the beards sprouting here.

Albert Ward has become so accustomed to all the questions and jokes about his whiskers that he apparently doesn't expect any other type of question.

The family recently purchased a new bed to go in their new home, and when someone asked him, "How do you like your bed?", Albert cheerfully replied, "Just fine, but it itches a lot." Seeing the astonished look on the questioner's face, he added, "I'll probably get used to it soon."

Wife Cynthia decided the best solution was to pull Albert away before the situation got worse.

But young Claire Langford has her mind made up about the whole beard-growing idea. She told her father, Clint, "If you grow one of those things, Daddy, I'm leaving home."

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By the Rev Rodney C. Dowdy
First Baptist Church
A MAN IS RICH WHO HAS FRIENDS

1 Samuel 18:1
The greatest gift a person can give himself is to have a friend. The human relationship of "friend" was also in the heart of God.

From the very beginning of the first book of the Bible, the opening chapters record God coming in the cool of the day to walk with his created friend, Adam. Numerous are the scripture references which speak of friends and friendship.

Three great scriptures call our attention to the fact that Abraham was accounted the friend of God. God spoke to Moses face to face as a man speaketh to his friend.

Jesus Christ the Son of God refers to the blessedness of friendship, "Greater love hath no man than this that a man lay down his life for his friends. Ye are my friends if ye do whatsoever I command you." (John 15:13)

From our scripture we observe that David and Jonathan's souls were knitted together into one soul as a friend. Wherever God has something special for man, God has emphasized the importance of friends by dealing with men personally. God called for Adam. God called Abraham friend. God spoke to Moses as a man speaketh to his friend. God, through His Son, addressed us as friends.

There are three things I would like to emphasize about friends. A friend has faith in you. A friend never investigates you. When charges are made against you, he does not ask proof; he only asks that the accusers clear out. A friend is a person who is always "for you" under any circumstance.

A friend takes you at heart value. A friend likes you just as you are. He does not want to alter you nor make you over. A true friend is better than a lover because he is never jealous. A friend is the most admirable, amazing, and rare article among human beings.

A friend is a source of strength and a haven for rest. A friend is like the shade of a mighty oak in the noon day heat. A friend is an antidote for despair. He is one who is truer to you than you are to yourself. Friendship is one soul in two bodies.

"What a friend we have in Jesus, All our sins and griefs to bear! What a privilege to carry, Everything to God in prayer! Oh what peace we often forfeit, Oh what needless pain we bear, All because we do not carry Everything to God in prayer!"

Volunteers in Cancer Society Program Have Vital Role, Browne Tells Members

"If the program of the American Cancer Society is to succeed, it cannot be left to the professional people. The aims of the American Cancer Society must be met with the assistance of volunteers," Dr. Charles F. Browne told members of the Sutton County unit of the ACS at a dinner meeting Thursday night at the Holiday Host Restaurant.

Browne stressed the importance of the role of volunteers in the program and explained that the ACS is dedicated to service, education, and research. "The American Cancer Society is the only large, active organization of this type which aims at the eradication of cancer," he noted.

With 805 deaths each day, cancer is the second largest killer and is the largest killer of children, Browne said. It is estimated that of the 3,000 residents of Sonora, 750 will eventually have some type of cancer.

If the educational program of the American Cancer Society could be completely realized, the killing cancers probably could be reduced by 50%, Dr. Browne said.

Sonora Art Club Has Blind Auction

A "blind" auction was held at the closing meeting of the Sonora Art Club's club year Monday, May 17. Mmes Ernest McClelland, Miers Savell, and Darcy Carroll were in charge of the arrangements for the auction.

According to Mrs. McClelland, at a blind auction everyone participating brings something to sell, a ceramic pot, flowers, ivy, cookies, cakes, etc. These items are displayed on a table and everyone is permitted to inspect the items and bid by placing her bid underneath the item on a piece of paper. Mrs. McClelland explained that after everyone had a chance to bid on whatever she wants the bids were uncovered and the highest bidder received each item.

Guests at the auction were Mmes. R. C. Vickers, P. J. Taylor, A. W. Awalt, George Wynn, Bill Williams, Mary Johnson, E. R. Olinick Jr., and Horace Hill.

Members of the Art Club who were present at the auction were Mmes. Ben Cusenbary, Thomas Morris, E. B. Keng, Lottie Mae Kelley, Billie Wright Taylor, Juliet Driskill, Maysie Brown, Hub Hale, Louin Martin, R. G. Nance, Rodney Dowdy, Clyde Hill, John A. Martin Jr., John Reiley, W. O. ACCENT ON HEALTH

Poisons Wait in Leaves of Some Plants

There are no plants, shrubs or trees on the moon, as far as we know today.

On planet Earth, however, vegetation helps sustain life. But some plants, trees or shrubs are potential killers of man.

Some part of the ornamental plants or flowers in your yard may contain deadly poison. Many poisonous plants are so common and seemingly innocuous you don't suspect their toxic qualities.

Who would suspect that the beautiful oleander bush, grown indoors and outdoors all over the country, contains a deadly heart stimulant, similar to the drug digitalis? So powerful is this poison that a single leaf of an oleander can kill a child. Many people have died merely from eating steaks speared on oleander twigs and roasted over a fire.

The pretty mountain laurel plant was used by the Delaware Indians to make a suicide potion. The popular Christmas flower—the poinsettia—is full of an acrid, burning juice, so lethal that a child who consumes one leaf of the plant might die. The berries of mistletoe proved deadly to adults who brewed what they thought was a "medicinal tea."

It's easy to be deceived by plants. One part may be edible while another is poisonous. For example, twigs of cherry trees release cyanide when eaten. Peach tree leaves contain hydrocyanic acid, one of the most dangerous poisons known.

Even two of our most popular vegetables, the potato and tomato, come from plants related to the deadly nightshade. Although fresh tomato fruits and potato tubers are harmless, the foliage and vines of both plants contain alkaloid poisons capable of causing digestive upset and nervous disorder.

Most dangerous in your vegetable garden is rhubarb. Its stalk, commonly used in baking and cooking, is not toxic. The leaf blade, however, contains oxalic acid which crystallizes in the kidneys, causing severe damage.

Also beware of laurels, azaleas, water hemlocks and buttercups because of their poison content. Both foliage and acorns from oak trees can be deadly, as are twigs and foliage from wild and cultivated cherries.

Remember . . . just because it is a plant doesn't mean that it is safe. Treat unknown plants with respect, and teach your children to do the same.

Revised Standards For Beef Grading To Begin June 1

Revised U. S. Department of Agriculture beef grading standards will go into effect June 1.

The new standards will leave the Prime, Choice, Good and Standard classifications unchanged, but will reduce marbling requirements for beef in those grades, depending on grade and degree of maturity. The marbling reduction angle will not materially affect the requirement for young cattle.

Frank Orts, Texas Agricultural Extension Service meats specialist at A&M University, says research has shown that too great an increase in marbling has been required to offset increased maturity in cattle 18-30 months of age.

Under the revised standards, marbling requirements have been reduced almost one full degree from "Moderate" to "Modest" for carcasses from animals about 28-30 months old. Progressively smaller reductions have been made for carcasses from younger cattle.

"The revised standards will also reduce the number of maturity groups from three to two in the above-mentioned grades and eliminate the consideration of the two degrees of marbling in excess of abundant," the specialist said.

He added that the revision also requires that all beef carcasses offered for grading be "ribbed" to expose the ribeye muscle for marbling determination. A carcass is ribbed by separating the fore and hindquarter between the 12th and 13th rib.

The new cutability standards, which are included in the revised standards, are available on an optional basis for the first time. Packers are not compelled to use the system.

"This innovation will reduce the amount of fat deposit on the carcass and increase the size of ribeye, which should entice producers to produce cattle with a more desirable carcass from a merchandising standpoint," Orts said.

Degree of finish on fat covering has the greatest influence on estimated yield of these carcasses, he said. Amount of fat which must be trimmed varies widely within the same weight and grade of beef carcasses. The difference can mean as much as $8 to $10 per hundredweight, or on a 600-pound carcass, $48 to $60 per carcass.

Vel's Application For GI Insurance Must Have Payment

Some veterans applying for the GI Insurance on sale for one year from May 1, 1965, to midnight May 2, 1966, are forgetting to enclose initial premium payment with the application, a Veterans Administration official said this week.

P. J. Mims, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in San Antonio, said the insurance cannot be issued unless the application is accompanied by at least one month's premium payment.

The correct amount to send is listed on page 17 of VA Pamphlet 29-17. Four million of these pamphlets have already been mailed to veterans. They can be obtained from any VA Office.

Also, Mims said, some veterans receiving compensation or pension have applied for the new insurance and asked that the premium be deducted from their future benefit payments.

This can be done only when the insurance is in force, Mims said, and the initial monthly premium must be paid by the veteran to put the insurance into force. The applicant will be notified when the application is approved. Only then are deduction type payments acceptable.

Payments may be paid quarterly, semi-annually and annually as well as monthly, Mims added.

Department Urges Public To Attend Wildlife Hearing

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has scheduled a public hearing here Monday, May 31, at the county courthouse to enable all persons to hear and comment upon game and fish regulations presently in effect or proposed.

Such hearings are being held throughout Texas in counties where the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has regulatory responsibility for setting game and fish seasons, bag limits, and means and methods for taking game birds, game animals, fur bearing animals, and fish.

Proposals to be discussed at the public hearings include dates for opening and closing of seasons and other subjects related to hunting or fishing.

The public is urged by the Parks and Wildlife Department to attend the scheduled hearing and to make comments, as all proceedings will be recorded and forwarded to Austin for review by the Parks and Wildlife Commission. This commission is the body which is responsible for establishing game and fish regulations in regulatory responsibility counties.

In Texas after a day's fishing beer's the one... for good taste, good fun

Wherever you fish for sport—on the ocean, by the booming surf, or on some quiet country pond, it's great at the end of the day to head for a rewarding glass of beer. While you're talking over the ones that got away, or pan-frying the ones that didn't, you enjoy the hearty taste and cool refreshment only a glass of beer can give you so well. Yes, whatever your sport—bowling or strolling, golfing or gardening—a frosty glass of beer makes a naturally great accompaniment.

Cardinals Slated For Three Games In Domed Stadium

The World Champion St. Louis Cardinals will come to the Astrodome for the first time for a three-game series with the Houston Astros May 27-29.

The Astros will then conclude their long home stand with Bobby Bragan's Milwaukee Braves on Sunday, May 30 at 1:30 p.m. and Monday, May 31, and Tuesday, June 1, at 7:30 p.m.

It will be the first time for the Astros to face Bob Gibson since he won two World Series games, and since the League's Most Valuable Player Ken Boyer, Tim Lincecum, Dick Groat, Bill White, Lou Brock and the others did outstanding hitting in the series against the New York Yankees.

Gibson, the big righthander, is off to his best start ever, winning his first eight games this year, or ten straight including the series wins. Gibson has been termed by many players, including Stan Musial and Boyer, as the most consistent hard thrower in baseball today.

The Cards also have such pitchers as Ray Sadecki (20-11 last year), Curt Simmons (18-9 last season), reliever Barney Schultz and newcomers to the team, Tracy Stallard from the Mets and Bob Purkey, from the Reds.

The Cardinals, after a slow start, now are rising in the first division. Their All Star infield of White, who hit .303 last year, Julian Javier, Dick Groat and Boyer, is back intact.

Box seats are $3.50, reserved seats $2.50 and $2. General admission tickets are $1.50, sold the day of the game.

Tickets may be purchased by mail by sending check or money order to Tickets, Houston Astros, Box 1691, Houston, Texas 77001. There is a 25-cent handling fee.

Pool Opening Set Thurs.

Tentative plans call for the opening of the Sonora Municipal swimming pool Thursday, May 27, at 2 p.m., provided that the initial work on the parking area has been completed and the weather is suitable, announced Jerry Hopkins, one of the operators of the pool for this summer.

The new swimming pool has been built by the cooperative effort of the Sonora Lions Club, City of Sonora, and Sutton County. The Sonora Lions Club has leased the pool from the city for operation. The operators this summer are Hopkins and Bob Painter, high school coaches.

Meeting every State Health Department regulation, the pool contains a separate water purification unit. The unit is composed of three filter beds of sand and gravel and a bromine chemical feeder.

A complete filter cycle will take place every six hours, and during the summer the filter system will be in continuous operation 24 hours a day. There will be constant maintenance of the swimming pool and bath house area to maintain a clean and sanitary swimming pool.

The pool holds 152,000 gallons of water with a depth of 26 inches to 10 feet. The pool area will be lighted for night swimming.

A feature of the pool area will be the kiddie pool with a fountain located in the center of the pool with a constant spray flowing. This pool is connected to the same filter system as the swimming pool.

Public swimming hours have been set for Monday, 2 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Tuesday through Saturday, 2 p.m. to 7 p.m.; and Sunday, 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. Admission prices will be 35 cents for those who are 12 years old and over and 25 cents for those who are under 12 years of age.

Private parties may be scheduled before and after regular swimming hours. The fee for parties is $10, and there will be an operator on duty for all parties. To reserve the pool for a party persons should contact one of the operators.

Swimming lessons will be available to children in the first grade or older from May 31 to June 11. Anyone who is interested in lessons for their children or themselves may contact Painter or Hopkins.

Seniors Make Last Bequests

We the seniors of 1965 will soon say good-bye to Sonora High School and cease to be SHS students. We would not, however, feel right going without leaving some of our precious possessions to the juniors.

I, DIANA BLACK, will to Susan Allison my enormous crush on Mr. Behrens—in hopes that her luck is better than mine.

I, WANDA COLE, will to Gina Badillo my ability to stay calm, cool, and collected at all times—especially in Texas history and bookkeeping classes.

I, IRENE DAVIS, will to Carl Teaff my agility to help him stay on his feet on the basketball court.

I, KAREN DAVIS, will to Cathy Moffitt my naturally blonde hair.

I, MAXIE DELRIE, will my good looks to Jerry Shurley. He needs them.

I, ELSIE EARWOOD, will to all the junior girls, the strange things that have happened to me at filling stations after Big Lake football games.

I, BILL ELLIOTT, will to Grady Roe my jumping ability so there will be someone left for the referees to call "goal tending" on.

Unusual Futures Foretold For 1965 Graduates of SHS

(The junior class of Sonora High School has its traditional laugh at the expense of the seniors by looking into its crystal ball and prophesying the futures of the 1965 SHS seniors.)

SONORA, TEX.—May 27, 1965. Protesting a recent decision to destroy the Sonora High School gymnasium, members of the Sonora High School graduating class of 1965 met here today.

News had been sent to all members of the class that Doyle Morgan, former Sonora High School principal, had ordered the old building demolished to make room for the new $5,000,000 Bronco-drome athletic center.

Showing their strong objection to the move, the ex-students voted to march to San Angelo to meet with Morgan, now a resident of Friendly Fellows Rest Home.

Many alumni carried signs, such as one saying, "Touch Not Our Beloved Gym." Marchers included the following: Diana Black, a recent five-time finished making another million-dollar movie called "The Carpet Cleaners."

Juanita Brown came to the march with her fourth husband and her nine kids. She is currently living in Scotland. Kay Campbell couldn't make it today because her baby sitter didn't show up.

Wanda Cole has become a famous pin-up girl for a French magazine. Karen Davis and Jo Ann Lowe have opened an exclusive beauty salon which specializes in natural bleaching.

Maxie Delrie is still playing football at Bill Ferd College, where he received a scholarship. Elsie Earwood is now girl singer for the Junction Melody Masters.

Bill Elliott, always an active sportsman, is now a famous Chevrolet dragster. He will soon drag Willie Bolt for the "Fastest man on four wheels" title.

After Allison Espy's disappointing romance with Jimmy Frank Richardson, she has become a nun.

Randee Fawcett is still a nurses' aid. Her only trouble is she is always laughing at suffering patients.

John David Fields, who has his ups and downs, is the elevator operator at the Crockett Hotel.

Cindy Galbreath, now known as "Smokey," is the owner of a cigarette company.

Roy Glasscock is a prizefighter and is doing very well, except his nose is always getting in the way.

Juan Gonzales, because of his experiences with girls, has become a well-known figure with his recent best seller, "Sex and the Single Boy."

Class favorites were Randee Fawcett and Teddy Wheelis. Freshman candidates for Mr. and Miss SHS were Kay Campbell and Dick Hearn. Allison Espy and Bill Elliott were in the race for the honor of All-School Favorites. The freshman nominee for Halloween Queen was Carla Whitworth. Karen Davis earned the honor of being an assistant twirler.

This large class chose John David Fields to be its president, Bernard Gomez as vice-president,

THE TEEN SCENE

By Carol Hopf

School is out again, and everyone is getting ready for a fun summer. After finals and graduation, we all need to relax! The seniors of '65 are through at last in spite of some who had wishes that they could do it all over again. Some of the seniors were exempt from all of their tests—you could tell who they were; they were the ones who wandered around by themselves all day and all night long.

Some of the college people are already at home—Dick McMillan, Larry Bob Moore, Jack David Wardlaw, and Cleve T. Jones. Joyce Hearn came home, too, for a break between her finals. Pretty soon all the others will be coming in, and others will be leaving for summer school.

Tomye Lyne Smith found a puppy at school Monday. He was so cute she decided to give him to Charlie Joe, but the poor puppy smelled like a dog and was not welcome.

The skating rink is the place to go for laughs. Tim Brown is really a sight when he hits the floor. Equally funny was Grady Roe whenever he was in the scooter race. Now, poor Grady has to wait a while before he can go skating; it seems that he tried to put a great big glass tube into a little stopper, and the whole mess shattered. He has a cast on his hand—really that was just for convenience because he did not want to take his typing final!

Cathy Grelle is on the loose again. The way she drives is way out. All freshmen are way out though, not just Cathy. Mike Gosney and Mike Holly are too; they wear oatmeal and karo in their hair. They do some mean things, too.
 Have a good summer!

Mrs. A. F. Moffitt of Leesville, La., has been visiting Mrs. Ralph Trainer. She and her daughter, Cathy, attended the graduation from Texas A&M University of her son, A. F. Moffitt Jr.

sionals. No comment from Coach Hays; he was still a nervous wreck from teaching last year's Driver's Ed. students (the Seniors of '64).

KCKG made John David Fields a member of its staff and then also hired Irene Davis.

In the Regional Band competition, Dick Hardgrave played a Class III Solo. The trio in which Barbara Holland played her clarinet was rated third.

At the District UIL meet in Junction, the freshmen made another good showing. The debate team which had Carla Whitworth, as a member won first. The freshman room mothers—Mrs. Lee Fawcett, Mrs. Leroy Whitworth, Mrs. Sammie Espy, Mrs. Shelly Lowe, Mrs. Louis Davis, and Mrs. Armer Earwood—proudly observed the end of the freshman year on May 25, 1962.

That summer between the freshman and sophomore years was complete with activities in which the freshmen excelled. Jo Ann Lowe's Junior Range Fleece won a tenth place. Kay Campbell vacationed in Arizona and California. Carla Whitworth attended the Speech Clinic at Baylor. One of Cindy Galbreath's horses won third in the Sonora show.

Freshman members of the Boy Scouts were busy, too. Mike St. Clair qualified for the mile-swim award. Bill Elliott and Mike St. Clair were on the winning obstacle course team. Bill Elliott earned the title of Scout Life Guard. Dick Hardgrave received his archery merit badge.

September 4, 1962, was the opening date of the sophomore year for the Seniors of '65. There were 53 members in the class, and they elected John David Fields, president; Bill Elliott, vice-president; Karen Davis, secretary; and Kay Campbell, treasurer. Allison Espy and Dick Hardgrave were the Student Council representatives. Class favorites were Teddy Wheelis and Jo Ann Lowe.

Carla Whitworth was named among the best-groomed of SHS. Vance Everett and Allison Espy were runners-up for Mr. and Miss SHS. Peggy Grobe and John David Fields were runners-up for all-school favorites. Carla Whitworth was treasurer of the National Thespan Society; she was also the secretary-treasurer of the band. Allison Espy was one of the cheerleaders. Cindy Galbreath portrayed Mrs. Pearce in the one act play "Pygmalion." Rande Fawcett was the candidate for Halloween Queen.

Classmates really transferred that year. Those who moved away were Danile Carranza, Bernard Gomez, Walter Harris, Henry Noriega, Pat Percy, Clara Schwiening, and Buck Skains. Those who moved in were Jerry Anderson, Judy Carlile, Demetrio Castro, Bill Chadwick, Wanda Cole, Roy Glasscock, Nelson Guardo, Jodye Moreland, Linda Ramsey, and Dickie Swails.

The National Honor Society initiates from the class that year were Cindy Galbreath, Barbara Holland, Carla Whitworth, John David Fields, Dick Hardgrave, and Bill Elliott.

Sonora's track meet saw Mike St. Clair place third in the shot put; Bill Elliott won first in the broad jump and sixth in the low hurdles; and John David Fields placed third in the 220.

In the summer before their junior year, many of the Seniors of '65 spent the vacation out of town somewhere. Elsie Earwood went to Camp Capers. Carla Whitworth studied at the speech workshop at Baylor; later, she and Karen Davis went to TCU to a twirling school. New Cheerleaders, Allison Espy and Diana Black went to SMU for cheerleading school.

Dick Hardgrave went to a church camp; when he returned, he and Bill Elliott went to Canada with the Boy Scouts. Frank Neely worked here, and John David Fields was in San Angelo working for a photographer. Wanda Cole spent some time in Liberty Hill. Peggy Grobe stayed at home and toured the caverns with the International Students. Most of us remember the summer of '63 as the one when the drive-in blew down.

On September 3, 1963, the Seniors of '65 began their year as juniors. There were forty-two members in the class after another big shuffle of transferring. The class received Merry Lou Glasscock, Bryan Grelle, Carol Hopf, and Ruby Roegels and lost Jerry Anderson, Mary Fay Baker, Judy Carlile, Jody Moreland, and Bobbie Sellers.

We had a pretty good year for football—quarterback Bill Elliott, a two-year letterman, received All-District honors. Basketball was equally enjoyable—everyone was thrilled to see Bill dunk the basketball through the hoop and to count up the scores the boys made.

Carla Whitworth was the drum major for the Bronco band; Karen Davis was the twirler representing the class. Cheerleaders from the junior class were Allison Espy and Diana Black. SHS was shown lots of school spirit by all of these girls.

Class president for the third year was John David Fields. Bill Elliott was the vice-president, Peggy Grobe was secretary, Karen Davis was treasurer, and Carla Whitworth and Jimmy Wilson were Student Council representatives.

The '63-'64 school year was to be a very busy one because of the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, so extra room mothers were needed. Mrs. Lee Fawcett, Mrs. Armer Earwood, Mrs. Leroy Whitworth, Mrs. Sammie Espy, and Mrs. Damon Davis were the capable women who were chosen.

When juniors, the seniors of '65 held several club offices. Carla Whitworth was the secretary-treasurer of the band and vice-president of the National Honor Society. Treasurer of the National Honor Society was Bill Elliott. The candidate for Halloween Queen was Cindy Galbreath.

The class was abundant in its actresses. Girls who participated in various one-act plays were Carla Whitworth, Merry Lou Glasscock, Diana Black, Cindy Galbreath, and Carol Hopf.

Dick Hardgrave was honored to be chosen to make a Boy Scout report to Governor John Connally. Allison Espy was the Sweetheart of the 4-H club. Diana Black was runner-up in the junior division of the Make It Yourself with Wool contest. Irene Davis was a sick girl with an ulcer.

The school colors were changed to red and white from red and black.

Chosen as Best-Groomed from the class were Peggy Grobe and John David Fields. Several juniors did well in the Soil Conservation Essay contest: Carla Whitworth won second, Elsie Earwood won third, Peggy Grobe won fifth.

Sonora's annual speech meet was another memorable event. Besides having so much fun at the dances, Carla Whitworth won first in extemp, second in impromptu, third in Bible, and was named best supporting actress.

In the AAPS essay contest, another one of those things we had to do for English, Carla Whitworth placed first. John David Fields, Carol Hopf, and Diana Black received honorable mention.

At the regional band contest, Dick Hardgrave won a second with his Class II solo. Barbara Holland received a second with her Class I solo.

The Junior Assembly was a fun time — Diana Black, Carla Whitworth, and Jo Ann Lowe made wonderful saloon girls for the Old West program. Bryan Grelle, Teddy Wheelis, and Maxie Delrie revealed their talents—they sang beautifully! "Square" Sanchez was a bar-tender worth remembering.

In the spring, the National Honor Society initiated juniors Carol Hopf, Peggy Grobe, and Irene Davis.

At the district UIL meet, Carla Whitworth placed first in extemp, Carol Hopf won first in prose, Cindy placed second in poetry, Bill Elliott won third in number sense, and John David Fields won third in prose. When the group went on to regional, Carla won first in extemp, Carol won second in prose, and Bill placed first in broad jump and second in high jump.

Carol Hopf was named to compete in the NCTE Awards Program. At the state meet, Carla won third in extemp and Bill won the Class AA broad jump with a record 22 feet and 7 inches.

The Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom was carried out with the theme of "Stairway to the Stars." Needless to say, it was a grand success. Leonard King played, and the dancers whirled through a star studded room.

May 26 marked the end of the junior year for the seniors of '65. During the summer, John David worked as a photographer in San Angelo; Elsie, after being a duchess to the Miss Mohair Coronation, made a tour with a group of young Episcopals who visited New York and Canada; Carol Hopf worked at Barrow's Jewelry Store; Jimmy Wilson worked at the Nance Texaco; Kay Campbell went to camp at Mount Wesley; Barbara Holland spent the summer in Coleman; and Dick Hardgrave, Bill Elliott, and Jimmy Wilson, went to Valley Forge and the World's Fair with the Boy Scouts.

Then, on August 27, 1964, the Seniors of '65 began their big year at SHS. Everything seemed more special. To begin with, SHS initiated a new class schedule with hours beginning at 8:15 a.m. and ending at 2:30 or 3:30 p.m., depending upon each individual's grades.

The 37 members of the class chose Dick Hardgrave as their president, Peggy Grobe as secretary, Jimmy Wilson as vice-president, and Cindy Galbreath as treasurer. Student Council representatives were Jo Ann Lowe and Teddy Wheelis. Mrs. Shelly Lowe, Mrs. Zilpha Joy, Mrs. Ed Grobe, and Mrs. Billy Galbreath were elected room mothers.

Club elections resulted with many seniors in offices. Carla was president of the Speech Club, Irene Davis was the secretary, and Peggy Grobe was the treasurer. Jimmy Wilson was vice-president of the band, Carla was the secretary-treasurer. Irene Davis was the editor of the Bronco annual. Jimmy Wilson was the editor of the Bronco school paper (there was only one issue, but it was a good one!).

Class favorites were Peggy Grobe and Bill Elliott. Jo Ann Lowe was the Halloween Queen. Candidates for the All-School Favorites were Karen Davis and Teddy Wheelis. Karen was honored as All-School Favorite girl. Senior cheerleaders were Allison Espy, Irene Davis, and Peggy Grobe. Elsa Martinez was named FHA Sweetheart.

Senior officers of the National Honor Society were president Carla Whitworth, vice-president Cindy Galbreath, secretary Irene Davis, and treasurer Bill Elliott. Senior initiate of the National Honor Society was Jimmy Wilson. GAA elected Allison Espy and Peggy Grobe as president and secretary, respectively. Co-Mr. and Miss SHS were Irene Davis, Carla Whitworth, and Bill Elliott and John David Fields. President of the Choral Club was Irene Davis and Diana Black was secretary-treasurer.

Drum Major for the Bronco band was Carla Whitworth, and Karen Davis was the twirler from the senior class.

The main money-making project for the year was the sale of magazines. Team captains were Rande Fawcett and Roy Glasscock. Rande was the top magazine salesman, Joyce Ibarra won the contest of selling the Spanish Edition of Reader's Digest, and Jimmy Wilson won the drawing for the pink bull. Band Sweetheart was Karen Davis. Peggy Grobe was the Football Sweetheart. Proud recipients of band jackets were Jimmy Wilson, Carla Whitworth, Barbara Holland, Frank Neely, Kay Campbell, Karen Davis, Dick Hardgrave, and Teddy Wheelis.

At the 4-H Gold Star banquet, Jo Ann Lowe received the Gold Star Award. Allison Espy was presented the leadership award, and Jo Ann received the public speaking award.

On the football field, Sonora saw some fine action from senior boys. It was so fine that Bill Elliott, Maxie Delrie, "Square" Sanchez, and Roy Glasscock won All-District honors. Receiving honorable mention was Mike St. Clair.

In the Make It with Wool Contest, Diana Black won second and was entered in the State contest. Jo Ann Lowe's entry placed fourth. Cindy Galbreath was named Betty Crocker Home-maker of Tomorrow. Seniors in the one-act play were Carla Whitworth as Grandmother and Cindy Galbreath as Mommy.

After the Soil Conservation Essays were judged, several seniors found themselves winners: Carla Whitworth first, Barbara Trees second, Cindy Galbreath third, Irene Davis fifth, and Diana Black seventh.

Sonora's speech meet was an especially big occasion for the seniors. It was about that time that they began to realize that "this is the last time we'll be doing this." Carla did very well at the meet—she placed first in impromptu, poetry, prose, extemp, and humorous; second in persuasive; best actress; and outstanding contestant. John David Fields won first in after dinner, and Carol Hopf placed third in after dinner.

At the regional band contest, Barbara Holland was the only senior from SHS who placed; she got a second with her Class I solo.

On April 1, 1965, Bill set two new track records: he went 22 feet and 9/4 inches in the broad jump and sailed 6 feet 5 inches in the high jump.

The seniors were honored with a beautiful banquet and prom by the juniors. The theme had to do with the Gay Nineties—everyone enjoyed the good food, the fine entertainment, and the excellent music.

At the district UIL meet, Cindy won first in poetry, Carol placed first in prose, and Carla won first in extemp. Bill won number sense. At regional Carla and Cindy won first in their events. Bill won 1st in high jump, 1st in broad jump, 2nd in the 120 high hurdles, and 3rd in the low hurdles. In state, Carla won first, Cindy won third, and Bill placed first.

Peggy Grobe was selected to represent Sonora Downtown Lion's Club in the queen's contest in Sweetwater.

The senior assembly "Senior Camera," was definitely a success. Originality, hard work, and good timing made it the best production.

Shortly before the senior trip, a deadly epidemic cut senior attendance to classes greatly; but nearly everyone was recovered in time to go to Bandera. The Lost Valley Dude Ranch was a wonderful place to go on a senior trip—an activity which is full of fun. Early on a Saturday morning all the Seniors except Elsie Earwood, Carol Hopf, and Barbara Trees, boarded the bus with all the necessary equipment for a successful senior trip. The starving group was delighted to see a box of cookies Mrs. Dameron sent to them, and they ate every one before they got to Junction. Soon, they received a refill of cookies. Needless to say, after eating all those cookies, the seniors were glad to pull into Junction to "tank up on water."

The minute they stepped off the bus at Lost Valley, several seniors were thrown into the pool with their clothes on—then they learned that they were not to go swimming in their clothes. Jo Ann Lowe reported that she had no dry clothes after the second day. Because of the 50 degree temperature and the desire to go swimming, all the seniors caught colds to remember the trip by.

Sonora had the dance floor alone because none of the other schools were familiar with western dancing. Then when it came time to play the juke box, Sonora monopolized it to make sure they didn't have to listen to all that other music. Once, when some popular music was playing, Maxie Delrie danced the MONKEY! Now, where'd he learn that?

The only really bad thing that happened on the trip was that someone stole the bus and drove it around the place without anyone's catching them. Wonder who did it? Then, too, some of the boy's rooms were deodorized.

The whole group welcomed the trip into town Sunday morning to church so that they could stock up on food—some of them couldn't make it to meals on time, and food was served only at certain hours. One of the best parts of the whole trip was coming home to find a mile-long parade of cars to meet them. For the first time, the seniors rode the decorated bus through town to let the townspeople know they were back home.

Baccalaureate services brought tears to nearly every senior's eyes. They all realized that they love SHS and always will. On May 25 the Commencement Exercises were held. Carla Whitworth presented the Salutatory address, and Cindy Galbreath gave the Valedictory address. All of the Seniors will miss SHS, and they even regret leaving. Their attitude is well-expressed by the musical selection they gave at the Commencement.

A special thanks goes to the faithful sponsors of the class: Mrs. W. H. Dameron, Coach Wuest, and Coach Snodgrass.
