has been made in the Texas publicity on senator's infidelity disclosure of all fees loans.

Following a longshoreman strike of more than 100 days duration, ships of the Pacific coast last Saturday resumed service. Details of the strike settlement have not yet been made public.

Admiral Richard E. Byrd, the only one to explore both ends of the earth is planning another trip to the South Pole to further explore and claim territory for the United States.

Harold Lloyd paid $40 last week to kiss Ginger Rogers. It came as a climax when Ginger offered to throw in a kiss with a doll that was being auctioned off for Ohio refugees benefit. Harold got both.

Statistics published last week reveal there are about 5,000 or more child brides under the age of 15 in the United States. Including those over 15, the total reaches 20,000. For several years past the number of child brides has been on the increase.

Following recent marriage of a nine year old girl to a six foot two year old man in Tennessee, many citizens of that state are highly incensed over the "baby bride" idea and two measures have been introduced in that legislature placing a minimum age of 16 for any female marriage.

A bill has been introduced in the Nebraska Legislature providing for "mercy deaths" for those of incurable afflictions. Medical examination by a committee and final action of district judge would be required before permitting such action.

The Circuit Court Judge, Flint, Mich. last week decided sit-down strikers must vacate plants of General Motors.

witnessed during the floods in the Ohio and Mississippi river valleys. Newspapers and radio carried the story of anguish and suffering into which millions of men, women and children had been plunged. And no sooner had the first cry of distress gone up than citizens in every section of the land were digging into their pockets, bundling up food, medicine, clothing and bedding and defying all obstacles in their haste to get it into the stricken area.

Those around Muleshoe who availed themselves of the opportunity to aid their fellowmen through that greatest of all humane agencies—the Red Cross—are deserving of the highest praise. The spirit of giving when there is distress in the land is the true spirit of Americanism. There can be no over-thrust of a government whose people are always ready and always willing to share their worldly possessions with those overtaken by disaster. You can never reach a country that puts human relief and human welfare above all else.

FILL UP THE BINS
"Fill up the storage bins now depleted by two years of drought" is the order now emanating from the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. No matter what may be said of the curtailment of production in the past, it is now admitted that if this country runs into one more season of drought and crop shortages, conditions are going to be extremely serious.

HAVE YOU TRICHINOSIS?

Trichinosis is a rather large word, yet it may affect little people. In fact statistics show that between 15 and 20 million people or about one out of seven in the United States, are afflicted with it, and that number probably includes several in and around Muleshoe.

You may not know you have it; chances are you don't for it is almost impossible to diagnose until after one is dead and post mortem examination makes the revelation. It is caused by a little worm about one-twenty-fifth of an inch long which jolks take into their systems from eating pork that has not been thoroughly cooked. These little white creatures bore their way through all muscles and tissues of the body producing symptoms of intestinalitis, malaria, rheumatism, heart disease and a host of other disease indications for which victims are being treated for something else because physicians find correct diagnosis impossible in practically all cases.

People eating rare hamburgers at cafes should be particularly careful, for beef hamburgers frequently contain some pork. There is no danger in rare beef from this particular source; but there is plenty of danger from the rarely cooked pork. Hogs grown by farmers residing near towns often become affected with trichinosis from garbage hauled out and fed to them from town restaurants where the pork has not been thoroughly cooked, and thus members of such households fall victims to this insidious disease.

A RURAL PROBLEM

Few Muleshoe people realize that of the 6,800,000 farmers in the U. S., 2,800,000 are "full tenants," renting the land they operate. Now Congress is preparing to remedy this, and to tackle what will probably prove to be one of the toughest rural problems it ever sought to solve.

With 42 percent of all farmers working land they do not own, Uncle Sam will seek some method whereby this high percentage can be reduced, and while it is very desirable that every man till the soil should own all or a portion of that soil any plan looking to that end must be worked out and administered with due caution. Unless the greatest care is taken, Uncle Sam will be left holding the bag and not only the tenants themselves

Senator Hobart Nelson, this District and Representative William Fox Push Measure for Greater Law Efficiency and Reduction of State Expense. Other State: Are Also Interested in One House Body.

Again attempting to establish the unicameral legislature in Texas, Sen. G. H. Nelson, has introduced his bill in the Senate for the creation of a single chamber legislature. The bill is substantially the same as proposed last year by the Senator, and is similar in most respects to a bill introduced by Rep. William Fox this session which proposes the one-house idea.

"Passage of the proposed amendment seems favorable at this session," Sen. Nelson declared. "I believe it will be passed by the 21 Congressional districts of Texas. Term of office would be for four years, with half the members being elected every two years, thus having a rotating personnel.

No person could serve that was not 25 years of age, and each legislator could receive an annual salary of $5,000. This is a larger salary than received at the present time, yet it is interesting to note that even though this is a substantial increase of salary, still in comparing the amount paid now to the mileage per diem provisions.

FARM AGENT WORK RESULTS IN SOME PHASES ON SOUTH PLAINS DOUBLE THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF THE YEAR 1935

The annual reports of the county agricultural agents administered the Agricultural Conservation Program which brought many thousands of dollars of farmers for soil conserving practices.

Several demonstrators in the district were in 1936 than in any previous year, according to O. G. Turnbull, Lubbock county agent supervising the work. Increases are evident in virtually every line of endeavor, and in many cases, the totals of achievement have doubled over 1935 figures.

An increase in 4-H club enrollment in the district when the 1935 enrollment of 804 grew to 1619 in 1936.

County agricultural agents carried terracing demonstrations to 238 communities in the district, and 881,766 acres were terraced or contoured on 2,485 farms in the district. This figure does not include the thousands of acres contour listed under the supervision of county agricultural agents of 11 counties in the wind erosion control program early last year. The administrative cost of carrying out the mammoth wind erosion task was only seven tenths of a cent per acre.

Several demonstrators in each of the 238 communities received training in operating farm levels and in the principles of terracing. These demonstrators are qualified to run terrace lines and to do terracing work with a minimum of supervision. Many community farm associations bought levels and other equipment.

Trench site demonstrations conducted throughout the district resulted in the construction of 681 trench silted in which were stored 73,075 tons of feed. The silted soil is conservatively valued at $300,000. Much of this feed would have been lost save in the trench silt.

In addition to carrying a greatly increased volume of demonstrations dur-

FIRE TAKES ITS TOLL IN TEXAS

There were more than 450 people in Texas who lost their lives from fire during 1936, as say nothing of millions of dollars worth of property loss, says Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner, 52 per cent of these fires occurring in the home, and a large number of them either preventable or caused by carelessness, he said in his report released this week.

Explosion of lamps and stoves and starting fires with kerosene heads the list of fire causes. Gasoline and explosives, clothing ignited by standing too close to an open stove, automobiles burning, children playing with matches smoking in bed are among other causes.

UNICAMERAL LEGISLATURE BILL IS NOW INTRODUCED IN HOUSE, SENATE FOR ACTION OF LEGISLATIVE BODY

Senator Hobart Nelson, this District and Representative William Fox Push Measure for Greater Law Efficiency and Reduction of State Expense. Other State: Are Also Interested In One House Body.

Again attempting to establish the unicameral legislature in Texas, Sen. G. H. Nelson, has introduced his bill in the Senate for the creation of a single chamber legislature. The bill is substantially the same as proposed last year by the Senator, and is similar in most respects to a bill introduced by Rep. William Fox this session which proposes the one-house idea.

"Passage of the proposed amendment seems favorable at this session, Sen. Nelson declared. "I believe the bill will be reported out of the constitutional committee as favorable. If so, the bill of the members in each house uphold the bill it will then be submitted to the people at an election in 1938, and if passed then, would become effective January 1st."

No bill has ever been introduced in the history of the State that provides for such drastic changes in the fundamental structure of the government, but the talk of such a change has become more and more popular of late. Newspaper men over the state have repeatedly expressed favor-bless comments on the bill, and it is believed many people are likewise in favor of since it aims to cut the expense of operating the government in almost half.

A careful reading of the bill as proposed shows that it intends for a simple procedure of government similar to the one now in operation in Nebraska. Instead of two chambers as exist today, there would be only one composed of 42 members elected popu-

The near approach of springtime was heralded in the Panhandle area last Sunday by a sandstorm high, from reports, must have been quite general. A GOOD PRAYER

"Oh Lord: Let me go up the mountainside of life carrying my part of the responsibility of my community.

"May my load be heavy enough that I may gain a place in the hearts of my fellowman, and may it be light enough that I may be able to stoop and reach the upstretched hand of my neighbor and lift him over the rough and rugged places of life.

"May my load be heavy enough that at times, I too, will need the assistance of a friend to lift me over the rough and rugged places of life.

"And, when I have finally come to the mountain peak of life, and there deposited my load of responsibility, may my shoulders be stooped with the load it has been my privilege to carry and may my temples be grooved with the search for the path of right.

"So when I come to that great river that divides this life from the life beyond, may I not find there a pot of gold I have accumulated, nor nations unending reaching into the heavens, and may that monument be builded of unending reaching into the heavens, and may that monument be builded of the purest and finest stone in this monument represent a friend like you, and you, and you—Amen." Quoted by Lee Thompson, Bovina, at a recent meeting of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce.

COMMERCIAL BODY INTERESTED IN CALICHE SPREAD IN CITY; E. D. MERRIMAN EXPLAINS SOCIAL TAX

Edwin D. Merriman, field representative of the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission of this district, from Lubbock, was the principal speaker at the regular Chamber of Commerce meeting held last Friday afternoon at the Methodist church, he explaining many of the details regarding that social tax.

He said there were 10 distinct phases of the act; but most business men were interested principally in titles eight and nine, the latter one being under his attention.

All employers who, during 1936, had eight or more people working for them during any part of twenty different weeks must pay the tax under the Texas law. However, certain occupations are completely exempted from the law. These exemptions are agriculture, governmental work, domestic service in a private home, non-profit organizations, such as a Community chest, and agents of insurance companies who are paid on a commission basis. In addition, a father working for his son, his wife, or his daughter, or a child working for his parents is exempt.

Under title 9 the employer is responsible for payment of both the employee's and employer's tax nine-tenths of which goes to the state and one-tenth to the federal government. Merriman explained that it was a kind of enforced saving to help people during any coming depression that might befall the nation, and during such depression certain amounts of funds could be drawn by people unemployed for stated periods within the year. It was explained that all money thus paid in would be paid back to employ, less actual cost of administration, now estimated at about six per cent.

Business concerns effected by title 9 begin paying on last year's business, and there is provision that the percentage payments shall increase as the program continue.

J. M. W. Alexander, commissioner of Parmer county, was present as a guest and solicited the favorable action of Muleshoe citizens toward securing that recognition and improvement of the highway leading from Friona to Muleshoe his suggestion meeting with favor of the commercial body.

Upon representation by Neil Rockey and Delma McCarty that caliche spread on State Highway 214 through Muleshoe would be only 22 feet wide as is now being placed on this highway in the country, it was suggested that the city commission be asked to collaborate with the PWA in spreading the caliche out the full 60 feet width of the street. It was estimated such cost would be approximately $250.00.

The following resolution was adopted by the body:

WHEREAS the work of securing right-of-way, making road-bed and grading with caliche on State Highway No. 214 between Muleshoe and Needmore under joint direction and expense of WPA and Bailey county is progressing satisfactorily, and such work will extend through the town of Muleshoe for a distance of approximately two and one-half blocks not now having caliche base on said road, and

WHEREAS the WPA-Bailey County contract calls for spreading of said caliche width of only 22 feet, and said contract provides for 60 feet wide and

WHEREAS it is conservatively estimated that the cost of the city's part in spreading such caliche base a total width of 60 feet upon such highway the estimated distance will be approximately $250, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce in regular business session assembled, do hereby endorse such action and prays it may have the favorable consideration of the City Commission of Muleshoe.

The Water Level Of Irrigation Wells Is Said To Be Rising

That the water level in irrigation wells of the Blackwater valley is slowly raising, is the statement of several farmers, owners of such type wells, who claim that within the past two weeks such level has increased an average of about 18 inches and is still raising.

While there never has been any serious indication of loss of underground water in this valley, yet during the past three years of comparative dry weather when rainfall has been somewhat below normal, there has been noticed by practically all irrigators a lowering of the pumping water level.

Engineers generally claim the underground water of this valley used for irrigation purposes is the result of the storage of rainfall during the numerous years past. However, there are many of the local farmers who claim that much of it is here as result of rains and snow in the mountains of New Mexico which have percolated their way through the porous substrata into this section, constantly replenishing the supply of this area.

Since there have been no recent rains in this area which would have any visible effect upon raising the underground water table, and there have been rains and snows in New Mexico which might have this effect if the run-off flowed through porous stratum, indications are the raised-local water level may be attributed to that cause. During the past two years when there has been little rain and snow in New Mexico there has been noticed no raise of the water level in wells of this valley.

THE 25-MILLIONTH

HAS JUST BEEN BUILT

It has never occurred before in automobile history that 25 million cars of one make, bearing one name, have been manufactured under one management. The 25,000,000th Ford car rolled off the Ford Rouge Plant production line on January 18, 1937.

25 million cars since 1903... more than one-third of all the cars ever built... enough cars to transport the entire population of the United States.

The figures represent a remarkable contribution to the social welfare, the industrial stability and the general progress of our country.

People respect Ford efficiency. They know Ford uses fine materials, the best workmanship at good wages, the most exact precision measurements. They know these things are passed along to purchasers in the form of extra value. Naturally, they like to do business with such a company.

That is the only reason it has been required to produce 25 million cars. Naturally, too, they expect more of a Ford car, more this year than last year—more each year than the year before. They have every right to. The experience gained in building 25,000,000 cars enables Ford to produce today a really superb motor car at a really low price—with the Beauty, Comfort, Safety and Performance of much more expensive cars.

The 1937 Ford V-8 combines advanced design, all-steel construction, extra body room, and brilliant brakes with a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines—the most modern type of power-plant on land, sea, or in the air.

The 85-horsepower engine provides top performance with unusually good economy for its high power.

The 60-horsepower engine gives good performance with the greatest gasoline mileage ever built into a Ford car—and wears the lowest Ford price tag in years.

People expect more of a Ford car because it's a Ford—and they get more, for the same reason. It is undeniably the quality car in the low-price field.

Bula Citizens Pays Tribute To Spirit Shown BB Tourny
(By a Bula Citizen)

The basketball tournament held at Bula with finals coming off Friday night of last week, between Bula and Muleshoe was a huge success. Both games were very interesting.

The Muleshoe girls ran away with the game to a score of 10 to 29. Rosa Brown was an outstanding guard from Muleshoe, while Nickels was the outstanding guard for Bula. The Muleshoe girls could hit the basket from any angle, and kept a heavy lead from the first.

The boys from Bula turned the tables on the Muleshoe lads. The Bula boys got away at the start ending the half at a score of 7 to 28 in favor of Bula, and came back to finish the game to a score of 25 to 41.

From the very start the Bula boys were never in danger of being caught, although the Muleshoe boys showed some good passing ability in the last half when the Bulldogs only picked up one score more than the Yellow Jacks.

Johnnie Starkey, Bula's scoring midge thrilled the crowd with a perfect shot from the center ring, and easily made him the outstanding guard of the tournament. Robert Lambert was the constant threat for Muleshoe. Howell and Lambert tied for high point scorers with Blackman and Robert Starkey running a close second tie Loney and Parsons were the spectacular players on the two teams as they scored from all shapes and positions.

The Bula boys team has been very successful in their season's schedule, winning 36 games and losing only 5. All but two of the team will be back next year. Five of the Bula team went out with flu, but will be back in for the district meet.

Splendid sportsmanship by both teams, in fact, all teams in the county was noticed. Bula is always glad to have Muleshoe at their school and feel at home when they go to Muleshoe. Eula Morris for Goodland was the best forward of the tournament, placing the Muleshoe girls in second place. Suitable trophies have been ordered and will be received soon.

Annually 'Law War' Tax

Washington, Feb. 10.—"Take the Profit out of War" is the aim of legislation introduced by Senator Tom Connally in Congress. Through taxation, the Connally measure drafts industry and wealth, and effectively prevents war-time profiteering. Should the United States become engaged in war, increased tax rates and reduced exemptions for individuals would automatically become effective. Personal exemptions would be lowered to $800 and $1,600 for single and married persons, respectively, and the rate of tax would be 10 percent, with a surtax beginning with 6 percent on the first thousand dollars in excess of the exemption and reaching a maximum of 80 percent. Corporation taxation would multiply in like manner.

Disturbing economic and social conditions, particularly in the European areas, lend impetus and need for the enactment of war revenue legislation at this session of Congress; such action will be sought by Senator Connally who made the following statement:

"The War Profits bill provides for the drafting of industrial plants and factories and munitions and supplies. It muzzles money as well as men. It calls to the colors a vast industrial army as well as the manhood of America. It announces the policy that dollars shall not be more sacred than human life. It enunciates the doctrine that in time of war and crisis every resource and every instrumentality to secure victory and the triumph of American arms shall be at the command of the government of the United States."

The measure effectively carries out the policy of the American Legion to draft industry and wealth as well as individuals in the prime of their life. Senator Connally believes that with profits from war removed, one of the major causes of war will be removed.

WEEKLY LAY SERMON

THE CIRCLE

By JESS MITCHELL

There may still be found here and there a few people who insist that the world is flat; but most folks decided long ago to take the word of scientists and geographers to the effect that it is round. In fact, we came to realize several years ago that this is only one of multiplied millions of planets which are spherical, and that all probability the universe is built on the plan of a monster circle which has no beginning and no ending, for there was no place for it to start nor any for it to stop. Such reasoning may be beyond our finite conception, yet it appears to be a fact.

with straight lines, acute and obtuse angles, diagonals, quadrangles and parallelograms; but I am quite sure the circle, the spheroidal and the ellipse were the favorite figures of the great Creator.

The circle is the smoothest possible geometrical scheme, and should be used more frequently. Figures and design having corners always have something abrupt to run into; but there is smooth sailing around anything curvilinear. All churches and other auditoriums should be seated in circular form. Not only is such position of the audience members more congenial but the acoustics of such a building are invariably clearer and more harmonious. Circular built structures have not the rumble, the vibrations, the echoes, the overtones possessed by angular construction.

The family circle is the ideal arrangement for human existence. It is conducive to continuity, community of thought and action and harmonious restfulness. The fellow who sits off in some angular corner can not participate and enter in the full enjoyment of that eternally blessed circle. The history of the world often goes in a circle, perhaps always so. If we could accurately trace it. Each period of earth's history has its particular and peculiar manifestation; but they blend the one into another until the ending of one and the beginning of the other has no point of demarcation. It is a slight sliding, circular action not discernable at first. Perhaps there goes with it a gradual spiral action, for notwithstanding outstanding incidents to the contrary, it is our opinion that by the passing of each epoch of the world it climbs a little higher toward the apex of perfection and the human race occupying it grows a little nearer celestial requirements and predictions.

Some one has said "opportunity flies in a straight line; but echoes fly in a circle." I am not so sure as to the former; but I am quite positive as to the latter, for our own actions for good or for evil so frequently come back to us that the fact is almost axiomatic. How often the folly of our own lives fall upon our own pates. How often we pay the penalty of some sin we have committed on someone else!

Sometimes that payment may be exacted quickly, at other times it may be indefinitely prolonged; but the result appears to be inevitable. It finally circles back. The man or woman who mistreated their parents or wondered why and when the old folks would die and get out of the way invariably has the same feeling manifest toward him by his children when he or she grows old. Children who are harsh with their parents generally have the same spirit meted out to them when they in turn become parents. Hate hurts no one like the hate. Slander slips from between your teeth. You take a keen delight in uttering it, for you know the pain it would do. In time you forget it entirely; but later on I see the circumstances beginning to curve, and the curtain action begins to show until it is finally aimed at your own character. You may seek to thwart it, to turn it aside, to dodge it; but the circle continues true. "With what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again." The same rule holds true as to the good one does in this world, only the return of the curve may be quicker and the circle more rapidly completed yes, in some instances it may become a veritable boomerang for you. Just a little act of mercy, a little word of consolation, a spatula of sarcasm, a kindly act in time of need; but what a blessing, what an inspiration, what a buoyant hope it contained. Even then it brings to you a blessing of duty well done. A joy of helpfulness ungrasped, a satisfaction of kindred sympathetic feeling manifest. As the days and weeks slip by and one observes the increasing benefits of their good deeds the favorable reaction of the bestower is increased. The law of the conservation of energy is just as true in the spiritual world as it is in the physical. You cannot fire a rifle without it kicking, nor explode a cannon without a recoil, so for every good word and deed there is a corresponding reaction of blessing and benefit.

Even one's influence travels in a circle. The influence of St. Paul and that of the tyrant Nero is still flying out through space, affecting the generations nearly 2000 years since they lived; that of the one for good; that of the other for bad. After awhile it will curve and come back to them in generous reward or vehement damnation. The influence of the human race stands at the judgment bar of the Eternal to receive just recompense for their lives here on earth. No one today knows the far-reaching extent of the good influence of the noble and pure, nor the accumulating damning despair of the false, ignoble and unclean—nor can that fact ever be truly known until the appointed Geometrist issues his eternal edict on that final day.

Perhaps we sometimes grow weary of the curve for the circle to be completed. It seems a long time before merit obtains its reward, and, if prechance a deed is done for the particular purpose of obtaining greater benefit to the doer, the circle may not in infinite wisdom be fully completed until another generation has begun. Sincerity of purpose counts for much with the general run of humanity as it does specifically with the mathematician.

History tells us it took 2,000 slaves nearly two years to bring just one stone from the quarries along the Red Sea and build it into Cheops' the giant pyramid. Geologists now tell us it took Omnipotence millions of years to build just one rock. We wind up our little watches every day to make them keep time with the great clock of the universe whose pendulum takes a thousand years to swing this way and a thousand to swing that way. Scientists are busy now building and dining galore at a sumptuous banquet wherein there were also numerous chin excursions of a vocal nature. While it was hinted there wasn't a drop of water on board the excursion train, J. Sam (not Ham) Lewis, tiny reporter and space filler on the Lubbock Avalanche, and E. B. Miller, of the Plainview Herald, who preaches the doctrine: "Keep advertising and advertising will keep you," declares the local Chamber of Commerce president and prominent member of the Second Baptist church of this city, having taken a big dose of "truth serum" and joined the W. C. T. C. before leaving for the "Mile High" city, was a very enthusiastic and gentlemanly representative of that one town where the headquarters is the headquarters, and bipeds like the quadrupeds of that famous hybrid type are always kicking in true male style for something bigger and better. "Branzy Booster Bob" is reported by his associates to have lost no time; but improved every available moment of the trip to spread the gospel of the Blackwater valley, its virtues of irrigation, abundant crop production and delightful climatic conditions, together with its near future possibility of becoming another famed oil center of the Lone Star state. Brown extolled the merits of this new railway line, opening a section of country hitherto not enjoying rail facilities, praised the fine courtesy of Santa Fe officials and their delightful entertaining, declaring the delegation enjoying the trip to be as fine a bunch of business men as it was ever his privilege to be associated with.

WOULD CHANGE MEMBERSHIP SUPREME COURT

Roosevelt's Idea Puts Congress Into War For and Against.

President Roosevelt threw a "bomb" into Congress Friday of last week when he issued a proposal to inject "new blood" into the U. S. Supreme court which, in the past, has been hostile to many New Deal acts. He would raise the personnel of that court from its present number to 15.

Following break of the President's information, Congress immediately split into warring camps pro and con, and all over the nation there are being heard other rumblings regarding the new recommendation.

The President's proposed changes are as follows:

1. Power for the president to nominate an additional judge in any court when an incumbent has reached the age of 70, has held office for 10 years and within 6 months after reaching 70 has neither resigned or retired.
2. Power for the supreme court to appoint an administrative assistant or "protector" to watch lower court calendars and permit the chief justice to assign district and circuit judges temporarily to areas where the dockets are congested.
3. Provision that no decision, injunction, judgment or decree on any constitutional question be promulgated by any federal court without previous and ample notice to the attorney general of the United States to present evidence and be heard.
4. Provision that when any inferior court determines a question of constitutionality, there shall be a direct and immediate appeal to the supreme court and that such cases take precedence over all other matters pending in that court.

Less Than 2,000 Of State Trees Ordered For Bailey Planting

A tree-planting demonstration and explanation of the shelterbelt idea will be given at the H. G. Harvey farm, near Needmore, this county February 18, beginning at 1:00 o'clock under the direction of Hugh A. Randolph of the Texas Forest service, according to announcement of Miss Alma Stewart, Bailey county home demonstration agent. All citizens of the county interested in learning proper method of planting trees in this area so as to obtain greatest benefit from them, are urged to be present.

State Furnishes Trees

About three months ago it was announced that several varieties of trees adapted to this Plains area could be purchased very cheaply from the State Experiment station, Lubbock on the policy of first come first served, as the quantity of more than a dozen different kinds was limited.

To date less than 2,000 trees have been ordered from this station this spring. It is stated some varieties are already becoming short. Those desiring to participate in this purchase should see the county farm agent W. C. Taylor or Miss Stewart for the proper application blank. They may be ordered in quantities of not less than 100 at $1.25 per 100 trees.

Millions Of Acres In Terraces In 1936 By Agents & 4-H Clubs

College Station—County agricultural agents in 220 Texas counties reached 16,324 farms and ranches in their fight to save soil and water, and 2,338,419 acres were terraced or contoured under their supervision during 1936, according to the annual report on agricultural engineering compiled by M. B. Bentley, Extension agricultural engineer.

A total of 3,975,244 acres was terraced or contoured in Texas by various agencies during the year. County agricultural agents supervised the work on almost two-thirds of this total, and the remaining 1,629,626 acres were handled by individuals and organizations working independently of the Extension agents.

Members of 4-H clubs in 68 counties carried on terracing demonstrations in which they learned to run lines and construct terraces. These boys ran terrace lines on 22,849 acres.

More than a hundred thousand acres of permanent pasture were terraced or contoured during the year, according to Bentley, and 742,514 acres were chiseled to store additional subsoil moisture.

Mrs. Jesko Tells Of Flood Conditions In Ohio River Valley

Mrs. Matt Jesko, resident of the Jesko community, a few miles north of Muleshoe, returned last week from the Ohio river flood area, reporting some exciting scenes and conditions.

She was in Cincinnati when the flood waters rose to a new all-time high of 80 feet and everything was completely inundated. Boats and rafts of all kinds were in popular demand as people entered their homes through second story windows and some of them through the roofs. Mrs. Jesko was located in the College Hill section on much higher ground away from danger.

Some of her relatives in business in that city were heavy losers from the flood, most of the merchandise stocks being put under water. Most people had plenty of time to move considerable of their personal property to higher ground; but few of them realized the truth of the government warning that the flooded waters would be deeper than ever before.

Thousands of people are in destitute circumstances, she said. Many homes had been lost entirely, and while the Red Cross and other humanitarian organizations are doing everything possible to alleviate human suffering, there is still much of it that can not be overcome for weeks yet in the future.

Many unfortunates are undergoing suffering from want of adequate food and pure water. Most of the water had to be boiled before drinking, she said. "We had plenty of kinds of food where I was; but the variety was limited." Rain fell most of the time while she was in the city, sometimes coming down in torrents. When she decided to return home, it took her about three days to secure train accommodations.

NEW SHORTER ROUTE MOUNTAIN STATES and the GULF COAST

between the

The Santa Fe is happy to announce the completion and opening to service, on February 1st, 1937, of the longest piece of new railroad undertaken in the United States in the past year—the 112 miles of new line linking Las Animas, Colorado, with Boise City, Oklahoma

The new line carries rail facilities to and through a considerable area of potentially rich country, but it has an even broader purpose—to provide finer Santa Fe service for the shippers and consumers of a tremendous and already developed territory.

In a word, the new road, linking together existing Santa Fe lines, provides to the shippers and consumers of a vast and productive area of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado, and of the northern mountain states clear to the Pacific Northwest, through facilities and "shorter" routings for the rapid interchange of their shipments. It reduces the previous shortest rail distance between Amarillo, Texas, and Denver, Colorado, by over 25 miles. It saves from 142 to 228 miles in the movement of freight over the Santa Fe to and from Colorado, from and to points in Texas, and on portions of the Santa Fe in Oklahoma and New Mexico. Today, Amarillo is placed but 435 miles from Denver, via the Santa Fe. Products of the Pacific Northwest, connecting with the Santa Fe at Colorado points, can now have direct routing to the markets of Texas and the Gulf ports, while producers in the Lone Star State will benefit from similar service in reaching Colorado and the great Northwest.

The new line has been carefully sited and solidly constructed, with every facility for the handling of business offered at new stations located in a territory that had been making progress even in advance of the advent of the rails. Here is good wheat country, and corn, grain sorghums, broom corn and other crops have done well with natural rainfall. In the Las Animas area, where irrigation farming is done with water from the Arkansas River, there is promise of greatly increased production of sugar beets, melons, vegetables, onions, and alfalfa. West of Springfield, Colorado, and Boise City, Oklahoma, and north of Amarillo, general farming and livestock raising are important activities. Among the towns on the new line north of Amarillo, in Texas, are Dumas and Stratford.

In the construction of the new Boise City-Las Animas line, the Santa Fe reaffirms its abiding faith in the future of that vast Southwest in which it pioneered and with which it has grown. Your local Santa Fe representative will be glad to point out how the new line can best be of service to you
