U. T. International Students To Visit Here June 25-27

A weekend of recreation, fellowship, and education in Sonora has been scheduled for the 11 graduate and senior students who are participants in the International Student Program being sponsored jointly by the Sonora Woman's Club and the Church of the Good Shepherd.

These students, who are presently attending the University of Texas, hail from countries such as Korea, Iraq, India, Ceylon, Venezuela, Pakistan, and Thailand. During their weekend in Sonora, June 25-27, the students will visit in the homes of host families that include Mr. and Mrs. Armer Earwood, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hopf, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Coker, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Teaff, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Bundy.

Friday afternoon the students will leave Austin for the Stanton Bundy ranch, making a brief stop-over at the L. B. J. Ranch. At the Bundy ranch, a barbecue with the host families has been slated. Saturday morning the group will meet at the Church of the Good Shepherd and will participate in a tour of Sonora that will include visits to the Lea Allison ranch, the woolhouse, stockpens, irrigated farm project, Devil's River News, and the Figure 7 Feed Yards. Lunch has been scheduled at the Caverns of Sonora, and a tour of the Caverns will follow.

Saturday afternoon will be spent swimming, with a hamburger dinner on the lawn of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Sunday the students will attend church and after church will have luncheon at the Episcopal parish hall. The students will return to Austin at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

PIONEER JIM MERCK PURCHASES 100 SHARES OF STOCK in the Diamond Jubilee Corporation from Bob Teaff, vice-president of the corporation. Merck is said to be probably the oldest person in Sonora who was born and reared here. He is looking forward to attending the coming Jubilee.

Funeral Rites Held For E. R. Middleton

Euwel Ray Middleton, 20, died in his home here Saturday, June 19, after a long illness.

He was born August 17, 1944, in Natchitoches, La., and was a former resident of San Angelo. He moved to Sonora with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Euwel Middleton, about three weeks ago.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning, June 16, in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Charles Middleton of Fort Worth officiating. Burial was in Sonora Cemetery with arrangements by Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home.

Survivors include his parents; three sisters, Mrs. Clara Whitney of Santa Ana, Calif., Sue Middleton, and Janice Middleton both of Sonora; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kesselberg.

Pallbearers were Van Schaffer, Roy Glasscock, Forrest Reed, Gene West, Mike Gentry, and Maxie Delrie.

1890 Clothes Will Be Height of Style Here

Clothing of the 1890's will be in style here on August 15, 20, and 21, and costumes will be judged and prizes awarded.

Each person is urged to wear authentic clothes of the 1890's when they are available. "Hard-to-get items, such as high-button shoes, high collars for men, and tight coats with cutaway effect at the waistline, have not been mentioned."

The committee's findings about clothing of the early days of Sonora include the following:

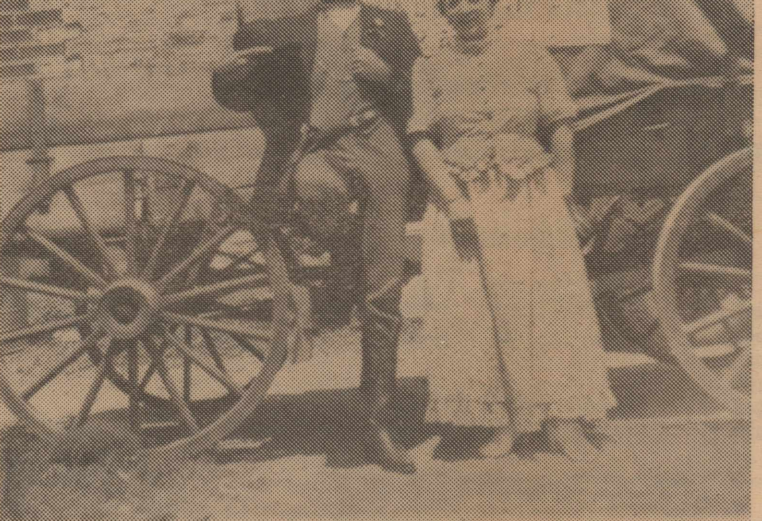

LITTLE BOYS—Short pants, black stockings, white shirts with choir boy collars, and windsooties. Hats similar to men.

LITTLE GIRLS—Long waisted dresses with pleated skirts, black stockings, braided hair or bows at back of neck. Dresses reach to mid-calf.

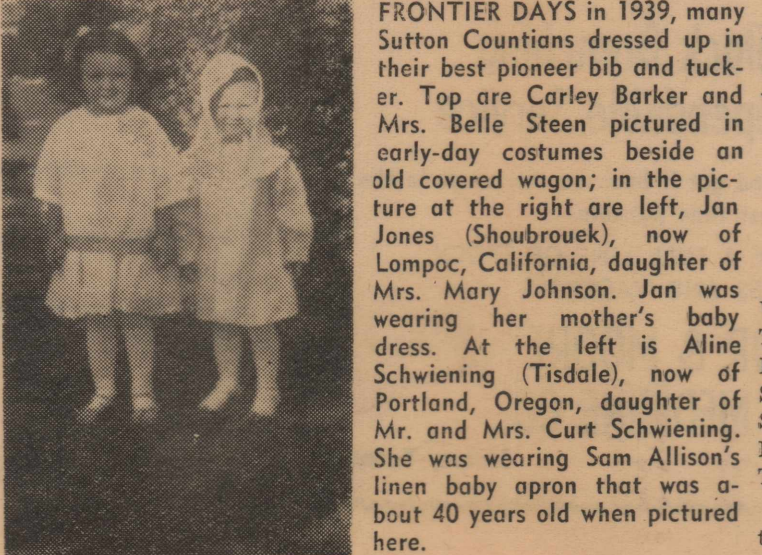

MEN—boots and hats with uncreased crowns and brims, vests (plain or fancy), bow ties or long ties with stick pins, large gold watch chains, sleeve holders (garters), beards, hair with middle part.

WOMEN—floor length dresses in somber, subdued colors, leg-o-mutton sleeves, bustles, skirts straight in front and full in back, tight bodices, lots of lace and tucks on blouses (buttons and bows), bell-shaped skirts on dresses, gloves or mitts, small hats in off-face styles.

The committee hopes that people who are employed in businesses will wear full costumes during the celebration week. Permits will be sold to uncostumed persons.

Polio Case Reported in Sonora

To date only three cases of paralytic polio have been reported in the state, and one was reported from Sonora, says Dr. Charles F. Browne, City Health Officer.

The City Health Officer urges all unprotected persons to take the two-dose immunization, which neither tastes bad nor hurts. He says that a number of persons here were exposed to the disease from the person who had it. The Health Department says that one thing in common with the three cases is the fact that none of them had received polio vaccine. It was added that there is still time for people to secure protection before the height of the danger season starts.

The highest incidence of polio occurs in July, August, and September, reports the Texas State Department of Health.

TWIN SISTERS is what Mrs. Alvis Johnson has named these century plants that are growing in her ranch yard. These two look alike are offsprings of two original century plants brought to the ranch by Alvis Johnson about 40 years ago from the Big Bend territory. The blooms will last the major portion of the summer, explains Mrs. Johnson, and then the upper part of the plant will die leaving only the stalk. It will be some years before a new plant sprouts, grows, and blooms.

Livestock Auction Scheduled

A combination sheep and goat sale has been slated at the Sonora Livestock Exchange Co. for Monday, June 28.

Sale of sheep begins at 11 a.m. and the goat sale will follow immediately.

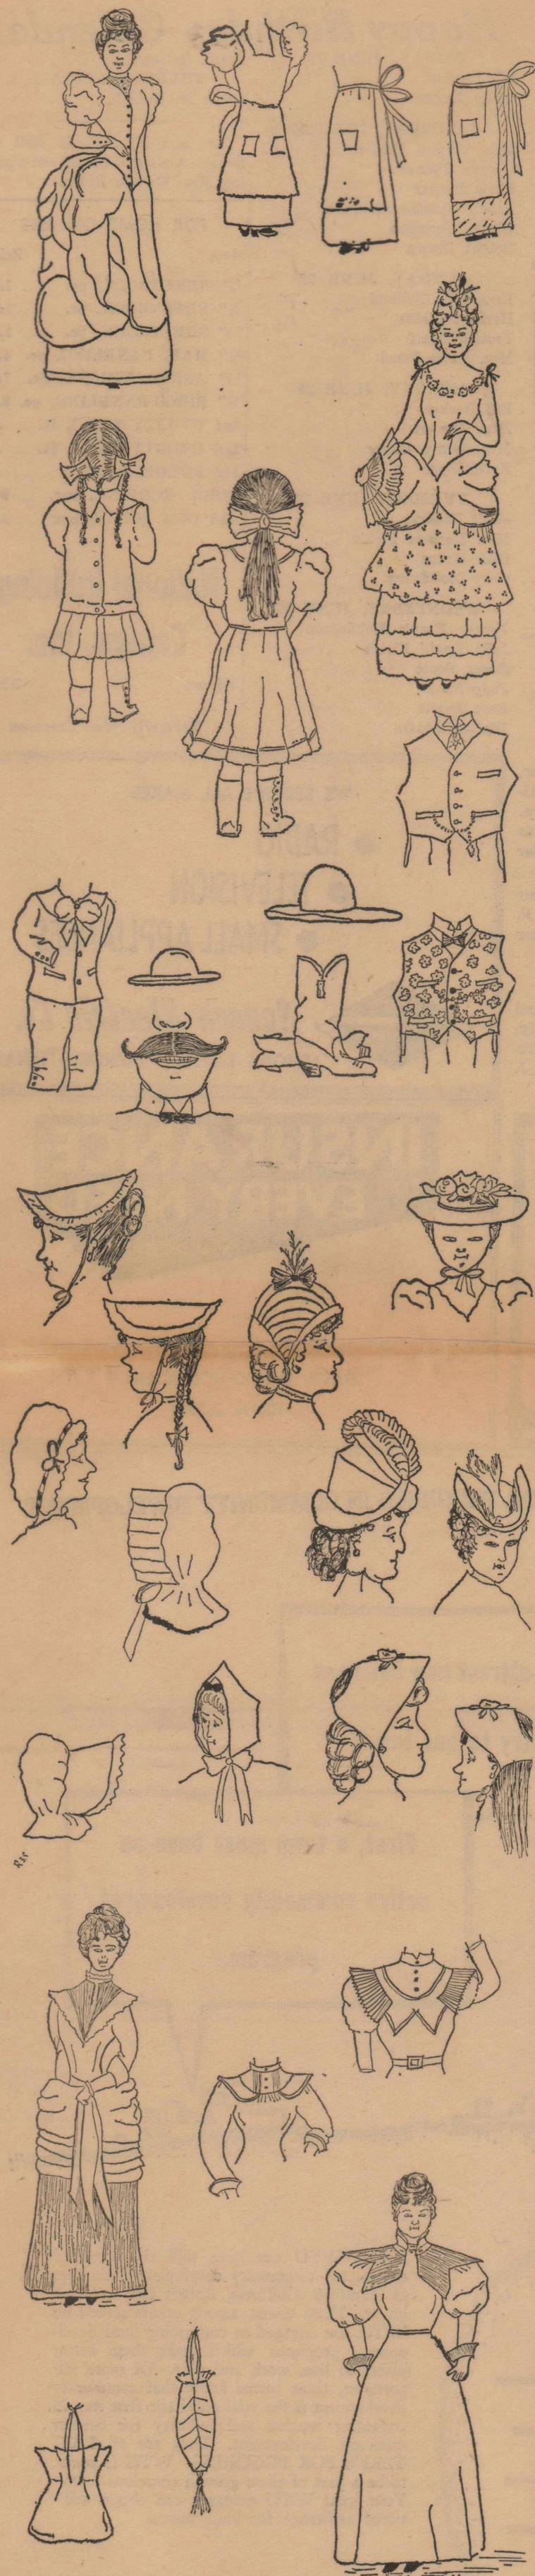

Exchange operators said that the sale will feature quality animals and that consignments are welcome.

PEAK OF BEAUTY

Sonora may be about to reach a peak of beauty.

With several general rainfalls this year the surrounding country is unusually green and in many spots covered with wild flowers along the roadside. In town the lawns and gardens seem especially pretty.

And the work in the sunken garden has certainly improved Sonora's appearance. The colorful zinnias, dahlias, morning glories, and other flowers are a pleasure for passersby.

Now all that remains is that finishing touch—a good cleanup job to bring Sonora to a peak of beauty.

The City Commission has declared the last of June through July 9 as Cleanup Time, and

A. E. Prugel, mayor, has urged all citizens to cooperate. Refuse piled at the street's edge will be removed free of charge by the City.

At this time we have reasons in addition to our usual pride in our community for wanting to spruce up Sonora. With visitors for the Diamond Jubilee Celebration and the flow of summer tourist traffic, many people will be seeing Sonora for the first time, and numbers of former residents will be viewing the town again for the first time in years.

So let's all work together to brighten our town. Let's cut weeds, clear away litter, clean vacant lots, and clean around our businesses. Let's make Sonora sparkle.

Miss Shurley Receives 2-Year Degree

The Rev. and Mrs. Ronnie Bostick and son James Keith of Big Spring visited with her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Rodney Dowdy over the weekend. They have completed a two-year course at William Woods College, Fulton, Missouri, and has earned Sunday evening sermon at the First Baptist Church.

Miss Derry Kay Shurley, daughter of Mrs. Edgar D. Shurley, has completed a two-year course at William Woods College, Fulton, Missouri, and has earned Sunday evening sermon at the First Baptist Church. She was among 164 students to receive degrees in the college's 95th annual commencement ceremonies on the college campus Saturday, June 5.

Dr. Joseph Carlyle Sitterson, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, delivered the commencement address. Dr. Sitterson, an historian, is an expert on the history of the South and has written and edited publications and numerous articles on the subject.

Cindy Galbreath has returned from a trip to New York and the World's Fair.

Mrs. James Stewart and her son, James, have been visiting in Whitney.

Mrs. Charles Shannon and sons, Matt, 7, and Savell, 4, have been visiting with Mrs. Miens Savell and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Savell and family.

Consider the Sandwich
Use two or more slices of round bread, spread each with a different kind of meat spread or sausage. On top place a circle of pickle slices, cream cheese and a rolled anchovy. This is a pyramid sandwich.

Like a pizza-type sandwich? Toast and butter English muffins, spread with canned pizza sauce to which you've added browned pork sausage. Top with pizza-type cheese (Mozzarella) and broil.

Put together ham and American cheese, dip in egg-milk and toast in butter in a skillet.

Use French bread cut in long pieces, butter and serve with hot broiled steak cut to fit the bread. Spread apple butter on raisin bread and butter outside, then toast in skillet. These are wonderful for a "sweet" sandwich.

Blend together minced shrimp and hard-cooked egg. Add chopped green pepper and celery. Fill hot dog buns and top with whole shrimp.

Helen's Favorite:
Sausage-Bean Skillet (Serves 4)
1 small onion, chopped
2 (1 pound) cans baked beans
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1/4 cup molasses
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 pound pork sausages
Mix onion, beans, mustard, molasses, sugar and salt. Cook sausages in skillet until brown. Pour off fat. Add bean mixture. Cover and heat for 20 minutes. This may also be served in a chafing dish.

J. A. Has Solid Advice On Secretary of Cities

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Devil's River has some advice for big cities this week.

Dear editor:

As I understand it, the mayors of over 300 big cities in the United States are trying to get a new department set up in Washington with full cabinet standing to represent the metropolitan areas and their troubles.

It would be, I understand, a sort of Department of Cities, with a secretary of Cities, similar to the Secretary of Agriculture.

The mayors argue that agriculture has had cabinet recognition for years, why not cities?

Well now there's nothing wrong with the argument, so long as the big city mayors understand the new department won't necessarily eliminate their problems.

What I mean is, take agriculture. Sure, we need a Department of Agriculture, don't know how we'd get along without one, but the city mayors ought to be reminded that in the 100 years we've had one the percentage of farmers has dropped from 70 percent of the population to 10 percent. Right now, the farmer and rancher's share of the national income is the lowest of any other group, outside maybe blacksmiths and lightning rod salesmen. And without a Department of Agriculture, no telling where we'd be today. Probably completely out of sight.

Therefore, I'd suggest to these

156 Youth Receive Summer Instruction

Approximately 156 youths were registered at the St. Ann's Catholic Church Summer School held from May 31-June 11. Classes were taught by three missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart from San Angelo.

Between 8:45 a.m. and 12 noon each day, those in grades four to eight were given two periods of instruction in religion, a period of singing and Spanish dancing, Holy Mass, and a period of recreation in the parish hall.

In the afternoon classes, the first three grades received two periods of religious instruction and a period of singing and dancing.

The evening found an average of 38 adults taking two periods of instruction for an hour and a half.

Friday night, June 11, 235 persons attended a program of singing and dancing presented by the youths who attended the summer session.

Saturday morning concluded the summer session with a swimming party at the municipal pool.

Eighteen children received First Holy Communion Sunday morning in the parish church.

45 4-H Boys, Dads Go to County Camp

About 45 4-H Club boys and their fathers attended County 4-H Camp on the Devil's River June 14-18. D. C. Langford, county agent, says the campers relaxed, fished, ate, and had fun. Their fishing catch included a 20-pound catfish.

This week Ray Glasscock, Mark Jacoby, Bill Green, and Langford are attending District 4-H Camp at Scott Able 4-H Camp in New Mexico.

May, June Cattle Prices Average Above Those Received Last Year at Same Time

Cattle prices during the last two months have averaged well above those of the same period a year ago, reveals John G. McHaney, Extension economist, Texas A&M University.

"With few exceptions, range and pasture grasses are in good condition in Texas, and grazing prospects through the early part of the summer are excellent," he explains. "Range feed is generally showing good growth over the Western range area of the United States."

This is favorable from a price standpoint because it permits producers to hold feeder cattle on the range longer. This produces orderly marketing.

Feeder cattle prices in the fall and early winter of 1965 will depend largely upon range conditions at that time, McHaney adds.

He points out that fed cattle prices were steady through the winter, averaging $2 to $3 above those recorded a year earlier. In late April, they were about $4 above prices in the early spring of last year.

These prices may decline slightly about mid-year 1965, but in the third quarter, July, August and September, they are expected to average about the same as those of a year earlier.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Crime Bait

Eve, caught eating the forbidden fruit, offered God a defense: "The serpent beguiled me."

Today, too, many a person caught in a wrongful act blames it on temptation—often, by the very policeman who arrested him. Is "The policeman beguiled me" a good defense to a criminal charge?

It might be, if the circumstances are strong enough. Consider this case:

A plain-clothes detective asked a bellhop to place an illegal bet for him. The bellhop, having neither experience nor inclination in that direction, said no.

Undeterred, the detective kept coaxing him for days, promising to reward him for the favor. At last the bellhop did as he was asked—and was promptly placed under arrest.

But a court ruled later that he had a valid defense. The judge pointed out that the detective had planted the criminal intent in a previously innocent mind.

It is a different story, however, if the officer merely provides the opportunity for a criminal intent that already exists.

A detective, noticing an ad for spicy photographs, sent in his money under an assumed name. By return mail he received a batch of obscene material. And, in due course, the seller was arrested for misuse of the postal service.

At the trial, he protested that the detective had deliberately brought about the mailing. But the court threw out this defense. For, even though the detective had baited the trap, the seller had obviously been ready to step in.

"A line must be drawn," the United States Supreme Court has said, "between the trap for the unwary innocent and the trap for the unwary guilty."

Tricks by the police are particularly necessary in certain types of crime. A robbery is likely to be reported by the person who is robbed. But a sale of dope, or a sale of illicit whiskey, is not likely to be reported by the buyer. To get evidence of such offenses, the police generally have to go after it themselves. HOSPITALS AND YOU Visit Should Be Enjoyed - - Not Endured

By John A. Bradley, Ph.D. Chairman, Council on Public Education Texas Hospital Association

Many people do not realize it, but in the role of a visitor to a friend or loved one in the hospital, you play a part in the patient's recovery. Every person who visits a patient may do something to promote or retard the patient's recovery.

Hospital rules and regulations may seem unnecessary and possibly too stringent, but they have been established over a long period of time in the best interests of the patient. Many times rules governing visits are the result of the doctor's wishes or perhaps those of the patient.

When calling upon a friend in the hospital, the first thing to remember is to limit your visit to 15 minutes. If the patient wished to discuss his illness, be a good listener, but don't ask questions or add comments to prolong the discussion and try tactfully to switch the topic away from his sickness.

When the patient has several other visitors in his room, and after you make your presence known, if they do not indicate that they are leaving, it is desirable that you leave and return another time. Actually, only two visitors should be in the room at a time to avoid overcrowding which may hinder the activities of the nursing staff or physician.

If the physician or minister should call upon the patient while you are visiting him, you should immediately withdraw. Such consultations are privileged and should be conducted in private.

If you notice signs of weariness or discomfort, it is a good time to cut your visit short. It could be that the patient may have personal needs that he is not able to attend to until you leave.

If the patient does not bring up the nature of his illness, do not probe for information. His illness is a personal thing and he may find it embarrassing to discuss.

The patient looks forward to getting well and returning home. It is inconsiderate to discuss unpleasant situations or bad news that will have to be faced. Any added worry or anxiety will tend to hinder the patient's recovery. Besides, chances are he will not be able to resolve an unpleasant situation at home until he is back in familiar surroundings.

One of the most abused liberties taken by a visitor is to smoke during a visit. Even though the patient may be a smoker, an excess of cigar, cigarette or pipe smoke may make him feel nauseated or a little more sick.

Remember, visits should be enjoyed, not endured.

Weeds Commonly Found in Shallow Tanks

Nuisance pond weeds or "moss" is a major problem interfering with fishing and fish production in many ponds and tanks, says Wallace G. Klussman, Extension specialist in wildlife conservation, Texas A&M University.

"The old problem of catching more weeds than fish can be remedied if proper practices are followed," he adds.

Weed control should begin at the very start of pond or tank construction, Klussman goes on to explain. Unwanted weeds are most prevalent in tanks with an excessive amount of shallow water. If the water is shallow enough for sunlight to penetrate to the bottom, then unwanted weeds are sure to grow.

To overcome this problem, new tanks should be constructed so that there is very little water with a depth less than three or four feet.

If the pond has already been constructed, two other weed control practices may be used effectively, Klussman says.

One method used to control weeds that grow beneath the surface of the water is proper fertilization. Commercial inorganic fertilizer used to increase fish production can also help keep weeds under control by increasing plankton production. Plankton, a bloom in the water, may retard plant growth by reducing the amount of sunlight that penetrates the water.

However, if these plants are already a problem, chemical herbicides probably offer the most satisfactory means of destroying them. A large number of chemical herbicides are effective in controlling certain aquatic plants.

Klussman points out that no single herbicide is effective in controlling all different types of pond weeds. For this reason, it is essential that the weed or weeds to be killed are identified and the proper herbicides applied in the correct amounts.

He emphasized that most herbicides will not cause apparent harm to fish, livestock or humans, if the necessary precautions are taken. Because of this, it is mandatory that the instructions on the label of herbicides be read and strictly followed.

The local county agent has a new bulletin giving aquatic plant identification characteristics and control suggestions, and Klussman says it is available for the asking.

be rich because they will have a source of help and comfort in any trouble. The Bible can make your family rich spiritually also, because it is the inspired Word of God. Fathers and Mothers, read the Bible to your family today and let them become rich. Amen!

In these days shortly after Father's Day our attention is drawn to the family. How can parents raise their children right and give them the things they need to get along in the world? How can the whole family become rich? These are questions which cross the minds of most parents. Various ways have been tried. For example, both Mother and Father can work to make extra money to give the children a good education. Children can be placed in as many good clubs and organizations as possible to teach them how to get along with people. In all the activity most parents forget to teach their children the Word of God in the home.

The family that accepts the Scriptures as the inspired Word of God and lives according to it, is rich indeed! All the members of the family will grow richer spiritually each time they hear and study this Word.

We know this is true because Jesus promised, blessed are they that hear the Word of God and keep it.

The Word of God can be used in many ways. It is used for devotional purposes telling about a Savior that died on the cross so we might have forgiveness of our sins. It tells us how we are to live loving God and our fellow-man. It shows us how to correct past mistakes by asking for forgiveness and strength to do better in the future.

The Word of God was given as a guide and inspiration to our daily living. The family that uses it as such will be rich. They will have a common tie that will draw them closer together in love toward one another and toward their neighbor. Such families will

An Idle Mind Column

By Della King

Word of Sonora's Diamond Jubilee celebration seems to be spreading. At least as far away as Senatobia, Miss., people are seeing bumper stickers telling about the anniversary.

Carl M. Farrar, a former resident, wrote from Senatobia last week asking for two of the stickers.

Mr. Farrar also said that he is looking forward to coming to the celebration. "We have our glad rags ready and want to meet all our good friends," he wrote.

I have been delighted to hear about the enthusiasm the Jubilee is sparking. Several persons have mentioned plans for class reunions, while others are talking about building floats and making or renting costumes.

Sounds like lots of fun, doesn't it?

Teen Scene

By Margaret Bundy

This column is written by teenagers about facts — not fiction. (That's a hint to the great fiction writer, Grady Roe.) "Teen Scene" is written on Noble Type-writer, and not ridden on Gallant Steed. Let's see what Noble Type-writer has to say this week.

Visiting Linda McBride this week is Marilyn Plasek of Rosebud. Linda and Marilyn, along with Guy Askew were at the Miss Wool of Texas pageant in Odessa this week.

Our heart-felt sympathy goes to Eddie Howell, who has a bad case of the flu.

Another visitor in Sonora is Janis Reese of Houston. She is visiting Mrs. Pearl Martin.

Mickey Hardegree got back from California Sunday. By the way, Happy Birthday Mickey. Happy Birthday greetings also go to Dick McMillan and Andy Moore.

The 4-H boys took a fishing trip to Devil's River last week. It is reported that they caught a 20-pound catfish and a 9-pound catfish.

Robert Kelley was in San Saba last Thursday and Friday helping set up tents for a camp.

A few people were missed last week in the round-up of kids working or going to school this summer. Betty Jack Cooper is at T.C.U. Janice Caviness is doing some typing for George Stewart; Gil Trainer is working for the Highway Department.

If any of ya'll have a little bit of news ya'd like to see in "Teen Scene", I wish ya'd call me at 2-7551. Try and see if ya can't beat me at findin' news.

A guest of the Clifford Fehls has been their niece, Cheryl Hastings of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Renfroe visited Mr. and Mrs. Norris Loeffler, Mark, Lynn, and Lisa in Austin last weekend.

Mrs. Davis, Daughter, and Granddaughter All Celebrate Birthdays on Same Date

"Birthdays are most common, but when they all come at once, that makes news. And when several of the guests are over 80 years of age, that makes an even more unusual story," reported the Brownwood Bulletin last week.

Budget Increase Enables Expansion Of TTDA Program

The Texas Tourist Development Agency reported recently that the 59th Legislature has voted to invest an additional $240,233 in the development of the Texas tourist industry in the 1966-67 biennium. The 82 percent increase boosts the Agency's budget to $592,525 for the two-year period beginning September 1, 1965.

This budget increase will enable TTDA to enter several new fields, agency officials explained. In addition to the expansion of advertising volume itself, the state will have the following services, said Agency officials:

A press bureau will cover the nation's travel editors with periodic illustrated feature stories about places to go and things to do, a travel exhibit will be entered in six of the nation's leading sports and vacation shows annually, a consulting service will be available to Texas communities anxious to discover, develop and publicize their attractions, and a closer liaison with the nation's travel agents and carriers will help market new package tours of Texas.

'King and I' Stated At Point Theater June 16 to July 5

Rodgers' and Hammerstein's "The King and I" is now the production of the Hill Country Arts Foundation in Ingram. The musical is being presented at the Point Summer Theater for three weeks beginning June 16, with Jerry Fitzgerald and Vicki Hall starred as the bawky, puzzled and polygamous king of Siam, and the straight-laced English governess he engages to tutor his children.

"The King and I," which scored a run in New York almost as long as the record-holding runs of "Oklahoma!" and "South Pacific" by the same collaborators, is based on the actual story of an Englishwoman who was brought to the Siamese court in the middle of the 19th century to serve up Western culture to the King's numerous progeny.

This was a Mrs. Anna Leowens who, after seven years' duty returned to England and published a book about her experiences in 1871. Seventy years later, a British novelist, Margaret Landon, fictionalized this story into a novel, "Anna and the King of Siam," which was made into a successful movie, starring Irene Dunne and Rex Harrison as the tutor and king, in 1946.

In 1951 Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II followed their successes with "Oklahoma!", "Carousel," and "South Pacific," by adapting this story into the musical play, which ran for three years—minus nine days—in New York, from 1951 to 1954, under the title "The King and I." Deborah Kerr and Yul Brynner (who had been the Siamese king in the original stage version) made a film of the musical in 1956.

"The King and I" tells a more absorbing story than is usually found in musical comedies—the story of a conflict of ideas between western civilization, as represented by a dauntless English governess, and oriental culture as represented by an autocratic but well-meaning king, who is a mixture of brutal force and child-like curiosity about western ways.

Sprinkled through this story of a battle of sexes and a collision of races are some of the most tuneful songs from the music rack of Rodgers and Hammerstein—"Getting to Know You," "Hello, Young Lovers," "I Whistle a Happy Tune," "Something Wonderful," "We Kiss in a Shadow" and "Shall I Tell You What I Think of You?"—not forgetting the king's philosophical soliloquy "A Puzzlement."

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Long of Clute were visiting Gene Lightfoot, the Libb Wallace, J. T. Penick, and other friends in Sonora recently.

Who Else?

By Grady Roe
Well, once again I sneak my way into the paper to continue my attempts at column-writing. I guess that everyone is breathlessly awaiting the fate of Sweet Sal. I had considered letting the elephants trample her to death, but that would be too messy; so, I will get on with the story.

Casey, speeding toward Sweet Sal decides to go ahead with his idea to save her from a terrible death. He cleverly remembers that all elephants have a keen sense of smell, and will go wild at even a tiny unpleasant odor. So, Casey quickly takes his gallant steed, Gallant Steed, to a nearby lake and gives the animal a bath. His idea is to stampede the elephants the other way with the smell of his wet horse. If you have ever smelled a wet horse you know that this is a plenty good idea. Eeeeeech!

But, to Casey's alarm, his horse smells sweet and clean. You see, Casey had forgotten that you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him stink. He has failed!

So, the elephants are sure to trample Sal to death! There is no way at all to save her. Poor Sal! There she is, staked down in front of a stampeding herd of elephants. No one can save her, and her life is at stake.

But wait! Since the stakes are so high, the elephants run right under them, and Sweet Sal is saved.

Casey rides sheepishly over and unties her. "Well," Sal asks, "what took you so long? Were you with that blonde hussey again?" (You see Casey and Sal had been to a dance the night before and Casey had waltzed with a strawberry blonde while the band played on.)

"No," he said, "I got held up downtown. They took my watch, money, everything."

"Oh well," sighs Sal, "let's ride off into the sunset like we always do at the end of an adventure." She turns to mount his horse. "Oh, Casey," she sighs, "someone has stolen your horse."

So, we come to the end of the exciting serial as Casey and Sal walk off into the sunset. Black Bruce is never heard from again, and it is said that he finally went straight and became a Ruler.

MRS. EUGENE ALEXANDER BRODHEAD
Miss Cole, Eugene Brodhead Repeat Vows

After a wedding trip to Mexico City and Acapulco, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander Brodhead will be at home at 1224 South High Street, Longview.

Miss Elizabeth Lynn Cole became the bride of Eugene Brodhead in a wedding ceremony Saturday, June 12, at 8 p.m. in the First Methodist Church of San Angelo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dillard of Sterling City. Brodhead is the son of Mrs. E. A. Brodhead of Grand Prairie, formerly of Sonora.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Miss Jeanine Jones of Houston. W. C. Broyles of Cincinnati, served as best man.

Bridesmaids were Misses Nancy Hitchcock of Midland, Sandra Scott of Houston, Kathy McClure of Midland, Mrs. J. W. Holt of Lubbock, and Mrs. Mike Clark of Longview.

Groomsmen were James Riley of Fort Worth, Joe David Ross, Robert Shirley of Anna, Don Reynolds of Irving, Richard Kircheville of San Antonio, Gordon Wallace of Dallas, and the brother of the bride, Jack Cole of Sterling City.

The bride chose a gown of candlelight silk peau de soie veiled in English net and appliqued with hand-run Alencon lace encrusted with crystals and tiny seed pearls. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a high bateau neckline and sleeves above the elbow complimented by wrist length kid gloves.

The A-line skirt with the jeweled lace was enhanced by a chapel length train of English net with jeweled appliques of the Alencon lace bordered by a wide band of the peau de soie.

Her veil of imported silk illusion fell in tiers from a coil of the matching lace.

Her attendants were identically attired in carpet length gowns of maize yellow crepe. The fitted jacket was fashioned with a bateau neckline and elbow length sleeves with wrist length kid gloves. A looped bow and streamers of moss velvet ribbon enhanced the front of the gown. They wore matching bows with a whimsy veil. Their shoes were tinted to match.

After the wedding there was a reception at the River Club.

The bride is a graduate of Texas Christian University, where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta social sorority. Brodhead, also a graduate of T.C.U., is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity.

BEEN SHOPPING LATELY?

Sure! People go shopping for many things. Even a Church! But, then, they take Dad along!

Before you go shopping for a Church, make sure you know what you're looking for. For a Church isn't a theatre to provide entertainment, nor a club to fortify one's social position, nor a foundation to channel our charities.

A Church is a SCHOOL that trains whole families in spiritual perception. It is a FACTORY that makes earnest Christians. They're in evidence all over town.

A Church is a TOWER, giving a glimpse of life's horizons, far beyond the petty problems of each day.

A Church is a WORK-SHOP where one volunteers his talents in the most challenging tasks that confront humanity.

And, of course, a Church is HOME — the place where we're appreciated, where we're one of the Family!

But it doesn't hurt to admit that in one respect our churches are like our stores: There wouldn't be one in town if we didn't need what they offer!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Colts, Cardinals, Indians Capture Second Half Wins

The Colts tallied two victories and the Indians and Cardinals racked up one each as the second half of Sonora's Little League play got underway last week.

In the first game of the new period the Cardinals took a forfeit victory June 15 from the Dodgers, who fielded an insufficient number of players.

Also that night, the Colts captured a 14-6 win from the Indians. Pitching for the Colts was Lino Martinez who allowed two hits and got two strikeouts. Rick Street tallied three hits in five times at bat, and James Noel hit a home run.

Earning hits for the Indians were Richard Bernal, Chuck Browne, and Ricky Hill. Pitcher Ramiro Gandar allowed six hits and struck out six batters.

In their next game, however, the Indians scored a triumph by topping the Cardinals 4-0 on June 17. The Indians got two hits, and the winning pitcher was Richard Bernal with 13 strikeouts. Jim Elliott struck out five batters for the Cardinals, who had no hits. Scoring hits for the Indians were John Martin Beckham and Chuck Browne.

Colts' pitcher Alfred Virgen chalked up eight strikeouts. For the Dodgers, Kerry Joy struck out 14 batters and got two hits and a home run. The Dodgers got four hits.

Board Determines Plane Crash Cause

Pilot fatigue was the cause of the crash of the Beechcraft C18 near Sonora last March, ruled the Civil Aeronautics Board recently.

Six persons were killed in the crash. "The most probable reason for the accident was disorientation of the pilot during night flight over an area of dark, sparsely lighted terrain, resulting in a loss of control," reported the board.

CINDERS

By John T. King

Leo Merrill, explaining to the men at his table at Lions Club Tuesday how it rained frogs, said that many times at the Experiment station they would register no rain at all if it was not for the frogs in the rain gauge.

Members at the Downtown Lions Club this week were conducted on a tour of the newly completed swimming pool. The Lions, who paid about a third of the cost of the pool, were given a demonstration of how the filter system is cleaned by Jerry Hopkins and Bob Painter.

Water normally flows from the pool to the filter system, is sucked through sand and gravel, and is returned with a metered amount of bromine to the pool. At cleaning time the cycle is reversed and water is flushed up through the filtering sand and gravel carrying paper, dirt, and debris out to the sewer.

Next week's Lion's program will be given by E. B. Keng.
