Association, criticized the Federal Aviation Administration for not pushing development of warning equipment designed to prevent an aerial collision such as this.

He said ALPA wants a collision avoidance system, known as CAS, installed in aircraft to give pilots direct, immediate knowledge of any impending threat.

"I think we have all the major portions of bodies picked up," said Warren Chambers of the San Diego County coroner's office. "I know the death toll is upwards of 150."

Using a device invented by Alexander Graham Bell, he demonstrates the practicality of converting soundwaves into electrical waves and transmitting them over lightwaves. The device is called a "photophone," and was one of Bell's inventions in 1880 that never saw the light of day. Bell was never encouraged to perfect the instrument. Haehnel will also discuss the Touch-a-Matic automatic dialing telephone. Available with 16 or 32 buttons, Haehnel said, it allows the customer to dial at the touch of one button 10 or 31 frequently called local or long distance numbers. The last button will automatically dial the last number that was manually dialed by the customer.

Development proceeding on farm to market road

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) is proceeding with development of the proposed improvement of Farm to Market Road 750 (McColough Street) in Pampa from State highway 273 west of U.S. Highway 90. A.L. McKee, DHT Amarillo District Engineer, said current plans call for the 2 1/2-mile section of FM 750 to be reconstructed and widened along the existing route of the roadway. The road will be converted to a two-lane urban arterial street with parking lanes.

The street now has a 20-foot wide asphalt pavement and 4-foot wide graded shoulders. The proposed improvement calls for widening the roadway to a 49-foot wide back to back of curb and gutter city street, including two 12-foot wide traffic lanes and two 12-foot wide parking lanes.

The DHT conducted a public meeting on the project Sept. 7 in Lamar Elementary School. That meeting "concluded our environmental problems," said Richard C. Crandall, DHT public affairs officer. "We're looking at letting the contract about the middle of next year, in June or July," said Crandall. He estimated the improvement project will cost "about $691,000."

Perkins also serves on the National Board of Trustees for the March of Dimes. He will address volunteers and staff during a Thursday luncheon on the general mission of the National Foundation - March of Dimes.

Programs in the prevention of birth defects are made possible through public contributions.

Still takes part in conference

AUSTIN — Lois Still of Pampa recently participated in the first Texas State Conference for Drug Abuse Program Directors and Planners sponsored by the Texas Department of Community Affairs' Drug Abuse Prevention Division. She is director of Genesis House, Inc.

The (September 12 - 14) conference attracted about 150 participants from around the state who are actively involved or interested in drug abuse prevention, treatment, planning and education. The sessions provided a forum for the discussion of local, state and national program priorities and plans for drug abuse prevention.

Among the notable speakers addressing the conference were Karst Besteman, acting director of the National Institute of Drug Abuse, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare; Muriel Nellis, president of National Research and Communications Associates, Inc. in Washington, D.C.; Dr. Saul Sells, Director of the Institute of Behavioral Research at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth; and Dr. Louis Gibson, chairman of the Statewide Health Coordinating Council and a clinical professor at the University of Texas Health Center at Dallas, Southwestern Medical School.

Roundup in sales sets record

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — Fueled by the highest cattle prices in the nation Monday for heavy-fed beef, the Cattlemen's Roundup for Crippled Children cattle sale grossed a record $153,444 at Abilene Livestock Auction.

Of that, $116,444 came from auctioneering 305 head of donated livestock while $37,000 came directly from out-of-pocket cash donations and sale of specialty items.

Specialty items aided the record cattle prices. A "blue rooster" was sold 17 times for a total of $12,780. Many big-hearted cattlemen, after buying the spirited rooster, decided they just didn't have a place to keep it and "redonated" it to be sold again.

A delicately dressed pig, donated by the Clyde Future Farmers of America chapter, sold 14 times for $4,005.

Last year's sale and donations totaled $127,530.

Psychiatrist testifies in hearing Powell 'goal directed' in killing

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A psychiatrist has testified that under the circumstances of possible arrest on drug, theft and gun charges, David Lee Powell's machine-gunning of Patrolman Ralph Ablanedo was "goal directed."

Dr. Richard Coons of Austin said Monday he found Powell, 27, to be legally sane, contradicting testimony by a Detroit psychiatrist who has specialized in homicide.

A psychologist, George Parker of Austin, also said he believed Powell was sane.

Parker acknowledged, however, that his written report said Powell "probably needs environmental help (such as incarceration) to provide the degree of control that would manage his impulses for him."

Powell could be executed with a lethal injection if the jury finds he killed Ablanedo deliberately and without provocation and that he would pose a continuing threat to society if allowed to live.

Ablanedo died in a burst of fire from an AK-47 automatic rifle, the kind used by Communist troops in Vietnam, after stopping Powell's red Mustang on May 18.

Prosecutor Steve Edwards set up a "hypothetical situation" of a man with outstanding arrest warrants, several hot check charges on driving a car whose contents included $5,000 to $14,000 worth of methamphetamine — "speed" — and several illegal weapons, including the AK-47.

"Would the reaction of killing the policeman indicate that person is mentally ill?" asked Edwards.

"It certainly could be considered" goal-directed behavior that could lend itself most readily to the interpretation of avoiding arrest," Coons said.

Asked about the diagnosis by Dr. Emmanuel Tanay of Detroit that Powell was a paranoid schizophrenic, Coons said, "I saw no evidence of psychosis. I saw no evidence of paranoid schizophrenia."

Tanay said Powell, valet-dictorian of his senior class at Campbell, began showing signs of mental illness at about age 16.

Asked by defense lawyers whether Powell felt remorse for the Ablanedo death, Tanay testified

"He believed he was in a fire fight — a Vietnam-type fire fight. He describes it as a military encounter. There was a war. He was prepared for it. He had a machine gun and grenades," Tanay said. Tanay said he asked Powell how he felt about "killing an innocent human being."

"He said, 'Death is not tragic. Life is tragic,'" Tanay related.

Tanay also called Powell a "drug pusher" whose heavy use of methamphetamine aggravated his mental illness.

He said Powell lived at the time of the slaying with two women he referred to as his "lovers." One, Sheila Meinert, 27, also is charged with capital murder in the Ablanedo shooting.

"He tried to imply in a Manson-type style that he had a whole band dependent on him. That he was the leader of a big movement. But you try to pin him down, and there's nothing there," Tanay said.

Legal Stealing

At 19, Ron LeFlore was about as far away from major league baseball as a player can get. He was in prison, doing time for armed robbery. Today, at 30, he's not only playing big league ball, he's setting records. LeFlore has already set one American League record this year, with 27 straight successfully stolen bases. Now he has a chance to become the first Detroit Tiger since Ty Cobb to lead the majors in steals. He is also the first Tiger since 1940 to score at least 100 runs two years in a row. Billy Martin, then managing Detroit, signed LeFlore to a major league contract after spotting him on a prison team.

Migrant office gets support

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe said Monday the Governor's Office of Migrant Affairs will continue to operate with his full support.

"This division was created for the specific purpose of delivering more effective service, more effective help to migrants and the children of migrants. This was the purpose of establishing GOMA. It will be the continuing purpose of the office and it will continue to operate," Briscoe said in a statement.

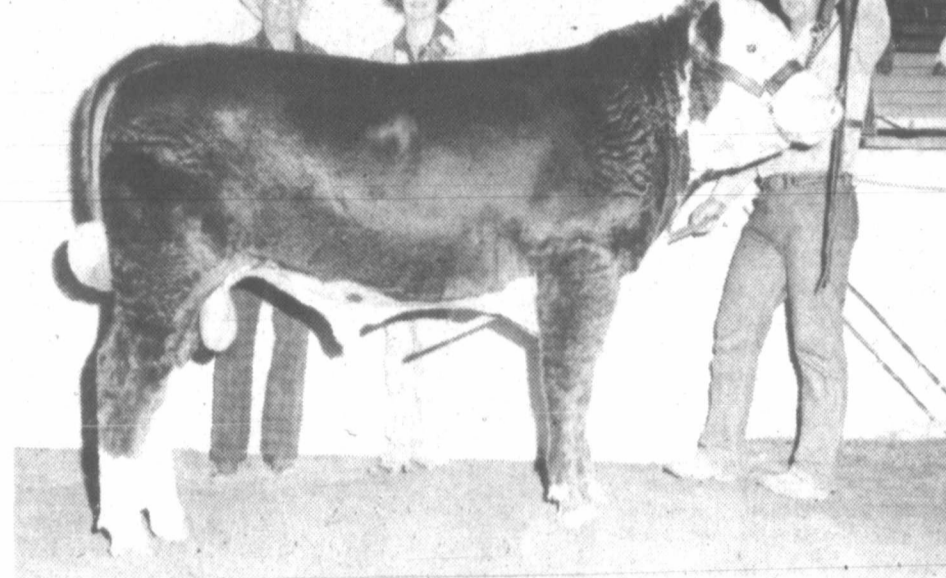

Earlier this year there was considerable criticism of the operations of the office and it was the subject of several investigations, along with other agencies involved in alleged abuse of federal job training funds. Rojelio Perez, GOMA director was suspended and later indicted on charges of tampering with a witness.

American journalists receive major setbacks

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — American journalists have sustained recent setbacks in efforts to preserve confidential news sources, the president of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association says.

Barclay Jameson, managing editor of The Santa Fe (N.M.) New Mexican, cited the U.S. Supreme Court's decision earlier this year in a Stanford University student newspaper case as one of the most serious setbacks. "not only for the press, but for the public."

STITCH IN TIME WASHINGTON (AP) — Spokesmen for the nation's textile and apparel industry say federal laws are needed to provide safeguards against the impact of imports on the domestic industry.

In testimony before a Senate subcommittee, officials of the American Textile Manufacturers Institute said textile and apparel imports in the first five months of 1978 were 28 percent higher than at the same time last year.

In the Stanford case, the court ruled that police have the right to search newspaper offices for notes and pictures on a "third party" warrant, although no reporter is suspected of any crime.

"It is the public who is being hurt by this and similar decisions," Jameson said Sunday in an interview on the eve of the association's national convention in Portland. "The First Amendment — guaranteeing freedom of speech, freedom of the press — is a public right, not just a press privilege."

"People who know of wrongdoing in public business can't fight the battle alone," he added. "And the press can't fight wrongdoing effectively unless it can protect the confidentiality of its sources."

Jameson said the ruling in the Stanford case "could be construed to apply to businessmen, doctors, even lawyers, even private homes."

He said the case of Myron Farber, a New York Times reporter jailed for refusing to turn over to a New Jersey judge his notes on a murder investigation, is "another indication of the crisis of a sort between the press and the judiciary."

"The press is accused of being arrogant sometimes — and sometimes it has been arrogant," Jameson said. "But it is the New Jersey courts which are being arrogant in this case. They have put themselves above the law and thrown Farber into jail without a hearing."

No Work At Home

DETROIT (AP) — Glenn and Kathy Latinen, married just four months, have already arrived at one strict rule: No Pets.

But then, he works with Siberian tigers and she copes with snakes all day.

They have jobs at the Detroit Zoo, the first husband-wife team in the zoo's 50-year history.

"We seldom see each other at work ... but we're both outdoor types," said Mrs. Latinen.

But out of the cage and at home, the no pets rule prevails.

"We have so many animals to care for here, we just don't have enough time at home," said Latinen.

Cowfight Next?

DETROIT (AP) — It was sort of a staring match—but it was supposed to be the Midwest's first bullfight.

And bloodless, at that. Each armed with "a cape, a rose and two legs to run with," four matadors in glittering gold danced before the bulls Saturday night.

The animals, flown in from Mexico, weren't too interested in the bright pink and red capes.

"These bulls aren't worth a damn," scoffed Antonio Del Toro, one of 2,100 people who paid $10 for the event.

"The bulls used in Mexico are twice this size and are thrashing around in their stalls. These matadors aren't risking anything," Del Toro said. "A kicked cow would respond better than these bulls."

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — President Anwar Sadat and his wife were hosts to 1,500 guests at an outdoor wedding reception for their only son, Gamal, and his bride, Dina Erfan, the daughter of a wealthy businessman.

The bride is a freshman journalism student at American University in Cairo, and Gamal is a third-year engineering student at Cairo University.

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The Iranian freighter Southern Cross has landed more than 1,000 Vietnamese refugees it rescued from small boats in the South China Sea on the small uninhabited Indonesian island of Pengibu, between the Malaysian peninsula and Borneo, a U.N. refugee official reported.

The official, R. Sampat Kumar, said U.N. officials will visit the refugees today. Both Malaysia and Singapore said they would allow the refugees to land only if a third country agreed to take them, and the U.N. refugee agency is trying to get the United States to accept them.

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Chinese Foreign Minister Huang Hua has ended a four-day visit to NATO member Greece on his way to New York for the U.N. General Assembly.

Hua met with businessmen, signed a cultural accord with Foreign Minister George Rallis and invited Premier Constantine Caramanlis to visit Peking.

The Socialist and Communist parties charged the visit was anti-Soviet, but Hua made no direct criticism of the Soviet Union in his public remarks. He is the second high-ranking Chinese official to visit Eastern Europe this year. Communist Party Chairman Hua Kuo-feng having visited Romania and Yugoslavia last month.

DACHAU, West Germany (AP) — Poland's Roman Catholic primate, Cardinal Stefan Wyszynski, honored 10,000 Poles who died in the Nazi death camp at Dachau in a service attended by hundreds.

Most of Dachau's wartime victims were Jews, but the Poles who died there included 858 priests.

SOMERSET, N.J. (AP) — The U.S. Olympic Committee's Executive Board has approved the contract between the City of Los Angeles and the International Olympic Committee for the 1984 Olympic Games.

Robert Kane, committee president, said Sunday the USOC membership will be polled for their approval of the actions taken by the board. The Los Angeles City Council also must approve the contract. The United States has not served as host for the summer Olympics since 1932 — at Los Angeles.

MIAMI (AP) — Serious outbreaks of disease aboard ships has declined from 11 in 1975 to four in 1977 and two so far this year, the U.S. Public Health Service reports.

John Yashuk, Miami ship inspector for the agency, says public awareness of ship sanitation problems has pressured cruise liners to adhere more strictly to health rules. He also said improved refrigeration and drinking water systems has helped.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The chief justice of the state Supreme Court has suggested that television cameras be permitted in courtrooms in the state for a one-year test.

Chief Justice Richard Hughes, in an address to the Philadelphia Bar Association on Saturday, said he will recommend the experiment to the seven-member state Supreme Court.

BOSTON (AP) — Talks between publishers and printers of Boston's two largest newspapers are to resume Tuesday, after negotiations brought progress in job security matters.

Henry Vitale, president of the International Typographical Union, Local 13, which represents about 800 employees, said the union will meet Tuesday with publishers of The Boston Globe and The Boston Herald American. The two dailies have been operating on a day-to-day basis following a union vote Sept. 10 giving union executives the authority to call a strike anytime.

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — A large solar storm will cause widespread disturbances in the high frequency radio spectrum until tonight, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration says.

Bill Flowers, deputy forecaster at the NOAA's Space Environment Services Center, said fades and blackouts of high frequency radios and some radar, were reported Saturday in northern latitudes. Slower moving radiation was expected to reach the Earth by today, with residual effects most severe during nighttime hours. Flowers said.

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — More than 30 people were arrested during the weekend at the end of a seven-month narcotics investigation. Authorities said they confiscated three pounds of cocaine worth nearly $400,000 in street sales, $20,000 in cash and two pistols.

Four of the defendants were picked up in the Minneapolis area, and the others were arrested at Rochester, some 85 miles to the south. One agent described the cocaine as "pure stuff," and probably was shipped in from Colombia.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nonprofit nursing homes are averaging higher charges than profit-making institutions, a government health survey reports.

The National Center for Health Statistics said initial results showed the average monthly charge in the profit-making homes was $641, compared to $722 in the non-profit homes run by the government, churches or other groups.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A revamped method of providing federal aid to rehabilitate railroad freight lines has been approved by the Senate.

Under existing law, federal assistance can go only to rehabilitate branch lines that have been abandoned. The measure approved Saturday by the Senate would enable the $360 million in aid to also go to deteriorating branch lines still owned and operated by private railroads.

Europeans countries face social security woes

EDITOR'S NOTE — U.S. Social Security taxes were recently raised to forestall long-term financial problems. It may be of little comfort to American taxpayers, but similar problems exist throughout Europe.

By DONALD M. McNICOLL
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Until he retired a couple of years ago, Piet Meinema used to complain about the hefty social security deductions that took 16.4 percent of his pay packet.
"Like most people, I thought I was paying too much for too little in return, but now I can say it was worthwhile."
As a married man, age 66, he gets $1,005 a month in pensions: $590 from the compulsory Netherlands state pension plan and $415 from the Dutch national airline KLM, for which he worked 20 years. Taxes cut this to $670 a month, but, "together with a little bit of my savings it enables me to do most things I want to do," Meinema says.

Retired workers in Europe generally agree with him that it pays to be in pension and other social security plans, especially if employers operate them in addition to those of the state, an Associated Press survey shows.
But inflation and mounting bills are forcing European governments to take a hard second look at social security. One after the other, they are having to subsidize the programs and often bail them out.
The costs are astronomical, since social security in Europe extends far beyond pensions for the elderly.

Years ago it was dubbed "womb to tomb" security. Now it's even pre-womb and post-tomb. It can include free or subsidized contraceptive pills, unemployment and sickness benefits, funeral costs, and pensions for widows and orphans as well as the retired.

In Britain, the publicly funded National Health Service will foot the bill (amount undisclosed, but sure to be big) for the sophisticated technology and medical care that led to a test tube pregnancy for Mrs. Lesley Brown in a hospital at Oldham.

And British social security shells out $250 a week to finance "Big John Knight," 42, a jobless man who goes on fathering children although there are already 21 in the two homes he keeps for his legal wife and for another woman in the rugged hills of Cornwall.

This year, the government raised its social security budget to $16.8 billion from last year's $12 billion.

Besides pensions — which last year averaged $90, just under half the average monthly salary — Spaniards get hospital and other medical care, including 80 percent of the costs of medicines.

The elaborate welfare system in the Netherlands now accounts for 22 percent of the national income, compared with only 9 percent in 1960. The state paid one-third of the $22 billion cost last year.

The Center-Right coalition that came to power last December says it plans cutbacks.

In Denmark, 40 percent of the state budget goes to social benefits, and less than 10 percent for defense. Of the half million state employees, 200,000 work in the social and health services.

But Denmark's heavy taxes on incomes, liquor and tobacco keeps the social security system going smoothly. Some 811,000 of Denmark's 5.2 million people get state pensions averaging $200 a month, plus payments from widespread private pension funds.

In Britain, just over 10 percent of the nation's income is devoted to social security. That works out to some $16.5 billion, which goes for medical expenses, death benefits, child allowances, and pensions.

The average worker pays about 5.75 percent of his earnings into the funds and the employer 8.75 percent. When a man retires at 65, he and his wife get a pension of $45.33 a week. This can be supplemented in various ways, such as with allowances to help meet electricity charges or local taxes, and by cheap or free travel.

The government has been trying to cut back, but frequently runs into furious protests.

"As a result of persisting economic problems, most European governments have lost their appetite for bigger and better social programs," says Donald F. Poden, director of William M. Mercer Benefits Ltd. and an expert on European social security.

"Many are caught in a dilemma, for an increase in social security taxes would have a deflationary effect on their already depressed economies, while a reduction in benefits is politically unthinkable."

The costs would be even higher if everyone claimed everything to which he is entitled. It's estimated that 900,000 people in Britain don't claim all they could — a total of $355 million.

Italy's economy is far from strong, yet of an estimated 57 million Italians, 16.5 million are receiving state retirement pensions worth $25 billion a year. The state's pension funds yield $11 billion a year less than that, so the state has to make good the deficit by loans and subsidies.

On top of this, the number of pensions paid to Italians who claim they are unfit for work soared from 1 million in 1959 to 5 million in 1976. And of 2.3 million Italian farmers enrolled in the National Institute of Social Security, all but 90,000 get some sort of pension. As a result, for every $100 farmers pay into the institute, farmers draw out $1.575.

"The terrific national illness of cunning has infected all social classes," says Leonardo Vanente, an Italian social security specialist.

An Italian worker pays 7.15 percent of his wages and his employer 16.46 percent to social security. The government is considering plans to shoulder part of the employers' contributions on top of the $11 billion annual deficit the government already meets.

Unlike other European nations, Switzerland, one of the world's richest countries, has no trouble providing retirement pensions of between $404 and $808 a month, financed by contributions of 5 percent each from employes and employers. West Germany's social security system is also relatively stable, although poorer economic conditions of late have led some opposition Conservatives to predict a deficit of $16 billion a year in the next decade. To forestall that, the government has restricted increases in pension payments for the next several years.

An official of the Ministry of Labor says $610 a month was paid on average in 1977 to people who retired after 40 to 45 years work.

In contrast to West Germany's 50-50 contributions from employers and workers, the French employer must pay into social security an average of 35.5 percent of wages and workers must pay 11.6 percent.

In 1976, the French system piled up a relatively modest deficit of $195 million. Economies have now brought a surplus of $60 million.

The average Frenchman can count on a pension of half his final salary when he retires at 65, up to a maximum of $435 a month. Women and some manual workers get the same deal at 60.

In 1630, the village of Shawmut, Mass., changed its name to Boston.

Astro-Graph

By Bernice Bede-Usol

September 27, 1978

Following realistic approaches and operating within your capabilities this coming year gains you that brass ring you've been after. Your sunny disposition also reinforces your chances.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Again today you must take care how you spend your money, especially on untested projects. Reserve the day for listening, studying and observing. Find out to whom you're romantically suited by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth sign.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) An unexpected roadblock could halt a personally important goal today. However, that inner resolve of yours quietly finds an alternate route.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Friends will come to your aid and buoy your spirits when you momentarily find yourself down in the dumps. It'll be impossible to remain blue.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Continue to keep friends and business dealings separated today. Although you may be tempted to do otherwise, the two won't mix well.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Impulsive, erratic agreements must not be made today. Your success depends upon knowledge gained through research or experience.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Safety precautions should not be ignored for the sake of expediency today. Carefully follow all such procedures to guarantee success.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) In attempting to gratify a whim today, you could impulsively indulge in foolish, costly behavior. Avoid trouble. Consciously strive to maintain high standards.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You may have a tough time getting going today because of several false starts. Through perseverance and second tries success does come.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You're uninterested in doing things for yourself today and are careless with personal chores. Doing something for or with someone else is quite another story.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Because you feel you've worked hard and deserve to treat yourself, you may impulsively buy the first things you see. Your purchases could be senseless.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Much to your embarrassment you could display a temper today if things don't quickly go your way. Otherwise, you're a pretty charming person.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This is not one of those days to follow your hunches. Ignore that inner voice. Rely solely upon your logical evaluations.

Switzer's Sooners replaced Alabama as the No. 1 team in the poll, while defending national champion Notre Dame took its second loss in as many outings and slipped out of the Top 20.

"I am a little surprised that we jumped up to number one. We haven't really been tested yet."

Oklahoma got 27 first-place votes and 1,235 of a possible 1,320 points from a nationwide panel of 66 sports writers and broadcasters. The Sooners moved up from a third place tie last week with Penn State following a runaway, 66-7, victory over Rice.

Oklahoma's effort was aided by Southern California's 24-14 upset of previously first place Alabama and a fairly close 19-7 Arkansas win over Oklahoma State that kept the Razorbacks in second place.

Arkansas kept the race close by getting 17 first-place votes and 1,208 points.

Though a number of the Top 20 teams still have undefeated seasons going, Switzer said the odds are against any team finishing up without a loss.

"There is just too much talent around this year," he said. "The way things are right now isn't near as important as the way things are at the end of the season. If we beat Missouri this week, I'll feel more like we are the best in the country."

Southern Cal's impressive triumph over Alabama lifted the Trojans from seventh to third with 14 first-place votes and 1,189 points.

Michigan climbed from fifth to fourth with six first-place votes and 1,144 points by beating Notre Dame 28-14, sending the Fighting Irish reeling out of the rankings.

Penn State, which came from nine points behind in the third period to edge Southern Methodist 26-21, slipped to fifth place. The Nittany Lions received the other two first-place ballots and 1,087 points.

Rounding out the Top Ten were Texas, Alabama, Texas A&M, Pittsburgh and Florida. Texas remained No. 6 with a 17-3 decision over Wyoming. Texas A&M edged from ninth to eighth with a 37-2 rout of Boston College while Pitt and Florida State moved into the Top Ten from last week's 11-13 spots. Pitt defeated Temple 20-12 while Florida State downed Miami, Fla., 31-21.

UCLA and Louisiana State dropped to the Second Ten. UCLA, No. 8 last week, was upset by Kansas 28-24 and fell to 18th while Louisiana State struggled past Wake Forest 13-11 and slipped from 10th to 11th.

The rest of the Second Ten consists of Nebraska, Ohio State, Missouri, Maryland, Colorado, Iowa State, UCLA, Georgia and Stanford.

Georgia and Stanford were ranked for the first time this season. Georgia blanked Clemson 12-0 while Stanford whipped Illinois 35-10. They replaced Notre Dame, which was 14th last week, and No. 15 Washington, which lost to Indiana 14-7.

Last week's Second Ten consisted of Pitt, Nebraska, Florida State, Notre Dame, Washington, Ohio State, Missouri, Maryland, Colorado and Iowa State.

Tarkenton leads Viking victory

By HOWARD ULMAN
AP Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — For a long time, Fran Tarkenton has taken his knocks both on and off the football field, from fans and reporters as well as defensive linemen.

His latest lumps came after he was replaced by young Tommy Kramer at the end of two of the Minnesota Vikings' first three games this National Football League season.

A Viking defeat against Tampa Bay Sept. 17 spurred hometown boos and speculation that the 38-year-old Tarkenton might not start Monday night against the Chicago Bears.

Even Bears General Manager Jim Finks said, "I wouldn't be surprised to see Minnesota run Tommy Kramer out at quarterback, if not at the outset, then very early."

He was wrong.

Tarkenton completed 14 of 20 passes for 152 yards and a touchdown on the sixth play from scrimmage, Kramer did not play. The Vikings led all the way and won a big National Football Conference Central Division matchup 24-20.

"Next question," Tarkenton replied when a reporter asked in jest how it felt to have the starting job nailed down.

With the game just 2:49 old, Tarkenton hit Sammy White with a 33-yard scoring strike. Less than five minutes later it was 14-0 as Chicago quarterback Bob Avellini fumbled a center snap and Mark Mullaney recovered and lateraled to Matt Blair, who romped 49 yards to score.

With nine straight regular-season victories, including three this season, the Bears seemed ready to threaten the Vikings' stranglehold on the Central Division.

But Monday night's victory evened the Vikings record at 2-2. The Bears are 3-1 and tied with Green Bay for the division lead.

The Bears closed to within 14-7 with 1:26 left in the opening period after Len Walterscheid blew up the middle without being blocked to bat down a punt by Mike Wood. The Bears started at the Minnesota 13 and, helped by an offside penalty that gave them a first down, scored on Walter Payton's 3-yard run.

Bob Thomas' 27-yard field goal in the second quarter and 32-yarder in the third made it 14-13.

Tarkenton then engineered a 69-yard drive capped by Chuck Foreman's 1-yard touchdown run. Tarkenton completed all five passes he threw in the series.

Rick Danmeier added a 29-yard field goal for the Vikings early in the fourth quarter before Payton scored from 1 yard out with 13 seconds left in the game.

"We were victims of the Vikings and our own mistakes tonight. Don't get me wrong, they made mistakes too in crucial situations," said Bears Coach Neil Armstrong. "But ours hurt us more. That's the first long pass (White's touchdown) that's been scored against us and then they got that cheap one on a bad exchange on a quick count."

Coryell new Charger coach

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A dream has come true for Don Coryell, the new head coach of the San Diego Chargers.

Coryell, who gained prominence as head coach at San Diego State for 12 years, now is in familiar territory after being chosen by the Chargers to succeed Tommy Prothro.

Prothro resigned as the National Football League team's coach Monday, one day after a 24-3 loss to the Green Bay Packers.

"I'm pleased with the opportunity to coach again in San Diego," said the 53-year-old Coryell, who went from San Diego State to the NFL's St. Louis Cardinals in 1973, where he coached for five seasons. "It's like a dream come true."

Coryell became the Cardinals' coach after directing San Diego State to an outstanding 104-19-2 record from 1961-72. At St. Louis, where he coached through last season, his teams were 42-27-1 and qualified for the playoffs three times.

Coryell was not rehired after the Cardinals lost their last four games in 1977 and finished 7-7. But he still had two years remaining on his St. Louis contract. In order to obtain his services, the Chargers agreed to give the Cardinals their third-round draft choice in 1980.

"I certainly hope I'm worth it," said Coryell. "I thought I could take the year off without coaching football but I started to get itchy when I attended a Dallas-San Diego rookie scrimmage in July."

"I haven't seen the Chargers play this season except on television, but with a few breaks the team could be 4-0," Coryell said he plans to keep the staff of assistant coaches and said the offensive philosophy of the Chargers, both offensively and defensively, was very close to his own.

Prothro, 58, was in his fifth season as the Chargers' coach. Before going to San Diego, he was the head coach at Oregon State for 10 seasons starting in 1955, the head coach at UCLA from 1966-70 and the Los Angeles Rams' head coach in 1971-72. He sat out the 1973 season.

Coach Lynn Wolfe will split her squad this weekend, taking most of the varsity players to Abilene for a tournament Friday and Saturday. The rest of the girls will stay at home to host the Pampa tournament.

Other teams expected to participate in the Pampa tourney are Borger, Hereford and Perryton.

Spiker mark now 10-1

PERRYTON — Winning is becoming a habit with the Pampa High School volleyball team.

Since dropping a 12-10, 15-5 decision to Borger in the finals of that school's tournament Sept. 9, the girls have lost just one game — an 18-16 overtime decision to Amarillo High in the opener of the West Texas State Tournament championship game — and haven't dropped a match.

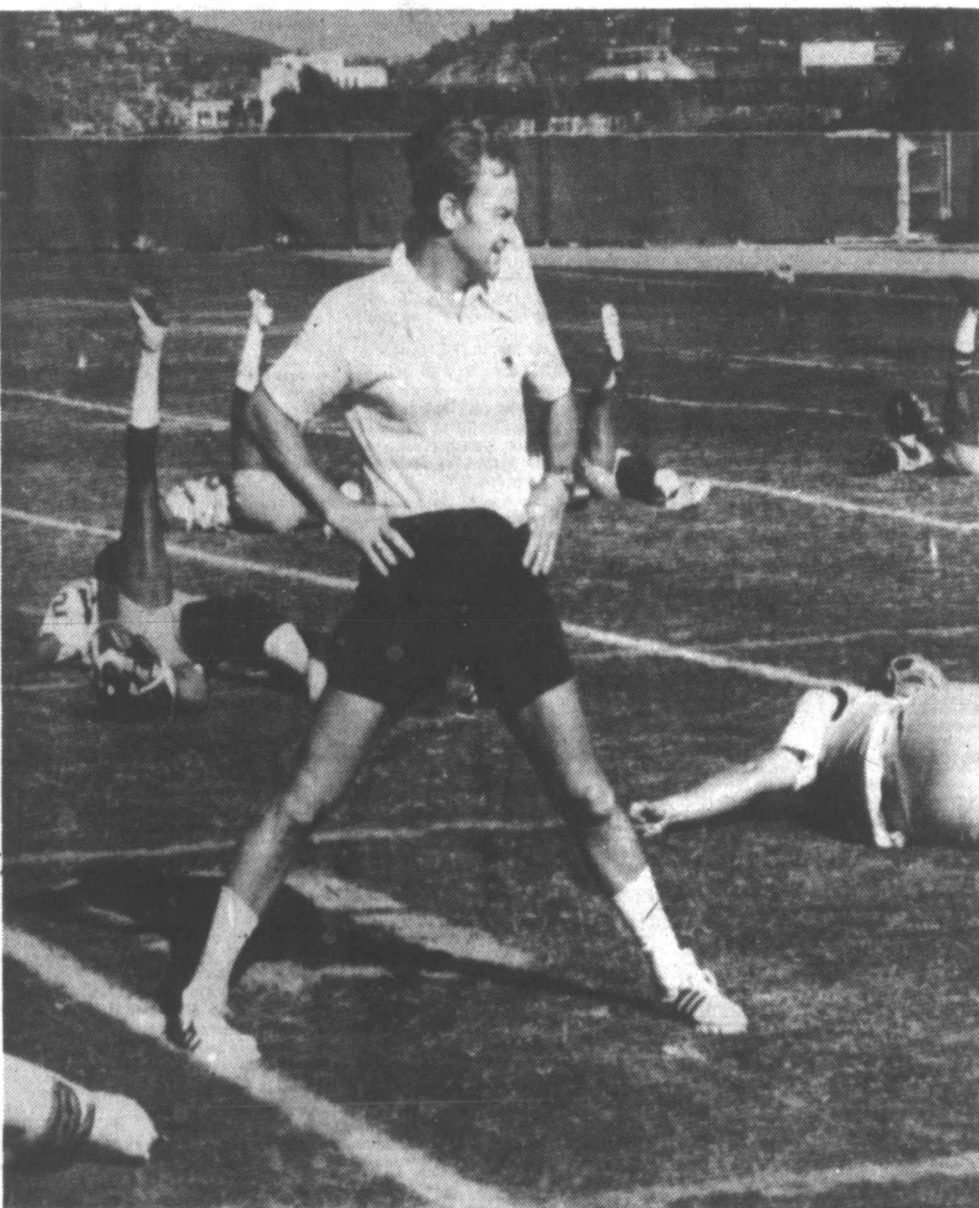

They came back to whip the Sandies 15-2, 15-2 in the next two games and take the WTS title. Monday night, the Harvesters spikers rolled to a 15-3, 15-11 victory over Perryton and upped their season's mark to 10-1.

The Pampa junior varsity, meanwhile, remained unbeaten in five outings with a handy 15-8, 15-2 win over the Rangerettes JV.

Perryton is probably happy to see the season's series with Pampa come to an end. A week ago, Pampa romped to 15-4 15-2 victories on the varsity level and recorded two 15-1 wins on the JV scale when Perryton visited.

Coach Lynn Wolfe will split her squad this weekend, taking most of the varsity players to Abilene for a tournament Friday and Saturday. The rest of the girls will stay at home to host the Pampa tournament.

FORMER ST. LOUIS Cardinals head coach Don Coryell puts his new team, the San Diego Chargers, through their first drill since he succeeded Tommy Prothro Monday. The change came after the Chargers fell to 1-3.

Swiss getting best deal on money

By HANS NEUERBOURG
Associated Press Writer
BASEL, Switzerland (AP) — Christmas is still three months away but many Swiss are on a shopping binge that is working businessmen in this city, reputedly the wealthiest in the Western world.

Retailers are concerned because bargain-hunters from Basel and a growing number of other Swiss realize spectacular savings are in store if they spend their francs across the border, in neighboring West Germany or in France.

Switzerland is a small country geographically, and it would be as if most U.S. shoppers realized they were only miles from tremendous savings in some neighboring country.

As both the German mark and the French franc — along with the dollar and all other currencies — are plunging almost daily to ever new lows against Swiss money, the buys were never better for the Swiss, statistically proven to be the thriftest people on earth.

"I would be crazy if I would not come here," said a middle-aged Swiss housewife as she fed a parkometer in Loerach, a West German border town of 35,000 about a 10-minute ride from here.

Loerach, where the flow of Swiss-licensed cars is causing traffic jams almost every weekend, has become a favorite shopping place for Basel citizens. The French town of St. Louis is equally close but the buying there is chiefly for food and wine.

With the average monthly salary of a sales clerk now at 3,753 francs — $2,470 — the Swiss have impressive purchasing power in the two neighboring countries where salaries — and prices — are now roughly about 30 per cent lower.

Often, the bargains are much better than even the average price gap. Three bottles of Scotch cost a Swiss buyer in Germany as much as a single bottle of the same make costs in Switzerland.

Two pounds of steak bought in France — the maximum allowed per border crossing — cost a Swiss about $10.45 across the border and $20.90 at a local butcher.

A German-made hi-fi in Loerach costs $846, compared with $1,257 for exactly the same model when bought in a Swiss store.

For a German-made washing machine, the difference is even more staggering: $445 in Germany, $913 in Switzerland.

Cheating customs would be silly because even with taxation, the savings are still substantial.

The most tempting bargains are cars, Switzerland, where there is one car for every three inhabitants, has no auto production of its own. Dealers are reluctant to pass up huge profits, thus the potential economy for a "private import" is impressive.

A BMW 528 that carries a $18,500 tag in Switzerland costs $2,950 less when the buyer imports the car directly from Germany.

Price cuts of up to 8 percent during the past few weeks in Switzerland have not stopped the trend, although direct imports still make up only a fraction of total Swiss car sales.

For Swiss general retailers, especially those in border regions, the impact has been harder. According to some estimates, sales at Basel stores are running at up to one-third below last year's. One department store in Loerach says about one-third of its clients are Swiss.

Producers companies have instructed French and German dealers not to publicize the advantages of "direct importing" — the bringing in of the car by the individual buyer — in order not to hurt their Swiss dealers. But word of the windfall opportunities has been spreading, and recently Swiss newspapers have started publishing lists comparing the prices.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stricter federal measures are being put into effect to help slow the loss of prime farmland to urban development and other non-agricultural uses.

The Environmental Protection Agency said Monday it will look over its own regulations and programs to see if it can reduce what the agency called the "disturbing rate" of loss inflicted on the nation's most productive farmland.

EPA administrator Douglas M. Costle said roughly 31 million acres of productive farmland have been lost to development or other uses in the last decade.

The causes of this agricultural vanishing act are many, he said. They include private development of new homes and shopping centers, higher costs for farm equipment and the energy to operate it and in some cases the desire of young people to pursue non-farm careers.

"But some of the responsibility lies with the federal government."

Farmers now are cultivating about 400 million acres of cropland, down from 431 million in 1967, Costle said.

The Agriculture Department said Monday that as of Sept. 22 farmers had committed about 286.2 million bushels of corn to the reserve, up about 30 million bushels from the week before.

Meanwhile, Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland said today in Illinois that the farmer-owned grain reserve "can increase the corn price" and "also give corn growers the best opportunity to participate in the long-term growth of America's agricultural exports."

Crane celebrates birthday

LUFKIN, Texas (AP) — Officials here were swagging as much as some of the animals as the first birthday of the Ellen Trout Zoo's newest West African Crowned Crane approached.

Only about five other zoos and five private collections in the country are breeding them," said Bob Smith. "This is a real achievement for our zoo here" — not to mention Mr. and Mrs. Crowned Crane.

Their offspring is one week old today. The rare bird — worth about $1,300 — was reported in excellent health Monday. Hopes were high among zoo experts it would survive to adulthood.

Two West African Crowned Crane chicks were hatched in the Dallas Zoo last week too, but they died a short time later, Smith said.

The Lufkin chick has not been named yet because zoo officials say it is too young at present to determine its sex.

Smith said the baby crane was snatched from its parents shortly after birth as a way to encourage the adults to mate again.

"It is the same thing as if it were in the wild. If you take the first clutch from the parents, they will go back and try to hatch another one."

Officials are looking forward to hearing a tell-tale "kawonk" sound coming from the parents' cage again soon. "You can usually hear it most just before breeding season," Smith said.

At the department, like EPA, is concerned that much of the most productive land in the country is being irretrievably lost from farming.

There is no package of federal laws currently that sets up national land-use policy or restrictions. Congress has shied away from adopting national curbs on how land is used.

Costle said federally funded construction of highways or sewers "often drives up the value of farmland to the point where taxes on it exceed what a farmer can earn from cultivating."

At the same time, he said, developers "often are pressuring the owner to sell." And many owners do because of financial difficulties.

Costle said EPA's agricultural land-protection policy will require employees of the agency to:

- Support state and local farmland protection efforts and strengthen technical assistance to state and local governments for the protection of agricultural land.
- Consider in agency enforcement actions the local significance and economic value of farmlands to communities.
- Encourage regional water quality management and solid waste disposal plans that safeguard fertile soils.
- Identify additional areas for research on the environmental roles of farmland.
- Increase public awareness of the environmental value of agricultural land.

Bergland's remarks were prepared for a meeting with farmers near Ottawa, Ill. He is on a three-day trip to Illinois to help boost Carter administration farm programs.

The grain reserve figures showed that the program also included as of Sept. 22 about 396.6 million bushels of wheat, 31.8 million of barley, 35.7 million of oats, and 42.4 million of sorghum.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hens stepped up their efforts in August by producing an estimated 5.48 billion eggs, 2 percent more than they did a year earlier, says the Agriculture Department.

As of Sept. 1, there were about 274 million hens in the nation's egg-laying flocks, approximately the same as a year ago.

Background figures were based on surveys and studies by the Agriculture Department which also has warned in recent years of the disappearance of prime farmland.

USDA experts say there is no danger of the United States running out of cropland in the near future and that potentially there are millions of acres not now being cultivated that could be brought into crop production.

But their rate of lay on Sept. 1 was 65.2 eggs per 100 hens, up from 64.0 a year earlier, officials said.

Costle said EPA influences farmland in a number of ways including "decisions on the location of sewage treatment plants" and related facilities, rulings on where new sources of pollution may build up and financial assistance to local governments to plan waste-water treatment in river basins.

"The practical effect of the new policy will be to limit the WASHINGTON (AP) — With the legal mandatory age now boosted to 70, early indications are that most people are choosing early retirement, even before 65.

That has been the trend for the past 10 years. The American Council of Life Insurance reports 84 percent of those questioned in a national survey agreed that retirement often makes a person feel useless.

Other authorities say there are valid reasons why people retire early despite stated misgivings.

These include more liberal Social Security benefits and private pensions plans with generous early retirement provisions.
