ONE OF THE FREIGHT PAYERS DISCUSSES STRIKE

In passing down the streets of Baird, I saw and read some placards posted up denouncing what was termed "a scab, a rattlesnake was a nice kind of varmint, compared to a scab."

Upon inquiry I found out that some men working under union rules made this strong denunciation against men who wanted to work and were willing to take the wages that they refused. I also hear and see in the papers of men insisting that other men follow only one line of work and that they do nothing but that particular kind of work.

That in railroad and other mechanical work—electricians, plumbers, carpenters, bricklayers, masons, &c., must not touch or do anything outside of his particular trade, although on a small job any of these men could fix the whole thing without calling on the men from the other lines of trade. But no, Mr. Editor, this is not allowed. If such a man did so his name would be "scab."

Now, Mr. Editor, you have spent your life in Brown and Callahan Counties and are among the first settlers. Before you put your feet under a desk and gave us The Star, which is still shining and appreciated, you knew all about the ins and outs of the old settler's life. Did they confine themselves to one particular trade? Did they draw from $5 to $10 per day, with double pay for overtime? Did they get their pay regularly? Did they kick if they did not get "three squares" a day? or kick if the feather bed had a few lumps in it?

It seems to me Mr. Editor, according to the union scale, those old timers were a scabby lot. Some years ago, about sunup one morning, I met Tom Windham, of Oplin and another man, driving three or four car loads of steers to Baird for shipment. The cattle had just come off the bedding ground, they had taken a count of them and they were all there.

That was the simple and economical way of getting the cattle to market—a matter of two days or two days and a-half drive for two men and two horses. When the cattle laid down to rest the men did the same. When the cattle started, the two men and the two horses did so also.

Now, Mr. Editor, if the union had had the raising and handling of these cattle, what would have been the cost per pound? Should the producers organize similar to other trades, they could easily make these other unions look like nothing at all. It is a grand thing for the country at large that they do not. They are so independent that an order issued to a man one thousand miles away would be laughed at.

There are men here in the county today who have ridden thousands of miles horseback over the country, when roads were trails, mostly from one government post to another. He usually rode one horse, carrying a slicker and a little budget of grub in a flour sack. Out of curiosity let us look into the contents of the flour sack. About a dozen biscuits, a piece of mast fed bacon, scraped good and clean and about a half

PITY THE POOR RAILROADS!

Why? Because They Are More Prosperous Today Than Ever Known Before?

"Poor But Proud!" is the title of a romance of other days.

The railways of the United States employ high-priced writers to concoct for the readers of this generation, romances which deserve that title. All daily newspaper editors and millions of ordinary folk swallow those romances and ask for more. They believe the carriers are heroically wearing last year's clothes in order to make ends meet and serve the public. Unless the railway employes accept repeated cuts in pay, the poor carriers will soon be stripped bare and the sheriffs will take over the roads.

The carriers are poor and proud of it!

Spare your tears, brothers!

Be realists and analyze the romances of the railroad propagandists. You will find that the carriers are more prosperous today than at any time in their history and that bigger money is in sight. They can pay living wages and still collect royal dividends.

In 1920, acting on pleas of the railroads, the Interstate Commerce Commission increased transportation rates to give the railroads $1,600,000,000 additional annual revenue. It was estimated that $500,000,000 of this increase would cover the increase in wages granted employes by the Railroad Labor Board. That left a cool billion to bolster up the (alleged) tottering revenue of the carriers.

A series of decisions of the Railroad Board has lopped off a billion dollars from the wages of rail employes. Operating expenses of the carriers have been reduced another half billion by decreases in the cost of supplies.

Rate reductions, on the other hand, amount to only a measly $450,000.

The carriers, have, therefore, added a billion dollars to their profits. Curiously enough that is the sum they have taken out of the pay envelopes of their employes.

If that line of reasoning fails to convince you, consider the statement of Frederick Hanssen in the July 1, 1922 issue of The Financial World, a paper published for investors and banks and not interested in perpetuating the poverty legend about the railroads. After pointing out that recent earning reports of the railroads indicate on a whole that they are getting close to the 5.75 per cent return on property valuation fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission as a "fair" return, Hanssen says:

"Railroad earnings in 1915, 1916 and 1917, were record breaking and resulted in the most prosperous three-year period in the history of American railroading, the average net return on the net capitalization being 5.75 per cent. Now for the next thirty-eight months these record earnings were used as a basis and the roads were guaranteed exactly this same record return through Federal control and government guarantee. Then, fifteen months

FORMER BAIRD GIRL TAKES 3222-MILES JAUNT IN AUTO

"Texas? Whew! You're a long way from home!" and "Think of four girls traveling this far all by themselves!"

Such were some of the remarks that were made to Miss Bernice Foy, daughter of our Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Foy, and her three girl friends, Miss Helen P. Toombs and Miss Frances Dirr, of Fort Worth, and Miss Louise Anderson, of Houston, as they made their 3,222-mile trip by auto through Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee. They left Fort Worth July 30, returning August 19.

Miss Foy is a member of the staff of the Star Telegram and in Monday's issue of that paper, she gives a graphic sketch of the quartette's itinerary.

Leaving Fort Worth at the early hour of 4 a. m. July 30, the young women made 322 miles the first day, taking turns, as they did throughout the trip, in driving the car. The up trip was made through the scenic Ozarks. On the fifth day out of Fort Worth they reached Chicago—and Miss Dirr was delegated to drive through the city's streets.

Chicago had a street car strike, and the young woman report that there was just one command from the traffic cops, that was: "Drive faster!"

Zion City proved a curiosity, especially the great signs that line the highway, warning against the use of tobacco and other such "sins."

"We expected to get arrested in Zion City—or later we were surprised that we were not arrested, for you see we wore trousers—and the women of Zion City have very strict rules set out for them in matters of dress," said Miss Foy.

The young women reported that the trip cost them a cent a mile per person for transportation. They had no car troubles.

JOHN I. ESTES DEAD

John I. Estes, railroad man and long time citizen of Baird, died at Marshall Thursday morning at 6 o'clock. He underwent a surgical operation Monday and was thought to be getting along all right. Mrs. Estes, who was with him, wired her son, J. C., yesterday afternoon that his father was getting along nicely, but later in the evening he received another message that his father had taken suddenly worse. J. C. left for Marshall on No. 6. A message was received Thursday morning stating that Mr. Estes died at 6 o'clock and that the body would arrive on the 3:05 train this afternoon. The funeral will possible be held tomorrow.

Mr. Estes is survived by his wife and one son, J. C., his mother, and other relatives. John Estes and the editor of The Star were from Washington county. Both our ancestors were pioneers in that county 80 odd years ago. Naturally we feel a personal loss in the death of John Estes. He was a good man and an honorable upright citizen. He was a member of K. of P. Lodge No. 47, of Baird. May his soul find rest and peace beyond this life. We extend sincere sympathy to his wife, son, mother and other relatives.

FIRST BAILE FOR BAIRD

Grown By Sam McClendon Of Admiral Sold For 20 Cents And Got $25 Premium

Sam McClendon, of Admiral, got the first bale in at Baird this year. He sold it to B. L. Boydston for 20 cents, and a premium of $25 extra made up by the merchants. This bale was brought in about ten days ago but was not ginned until yesterday.

The Baird Gin, south of the railroad started first and up to noon yesterday had ginned 26 bales.

The Callahan County Gin in town had a lot of new machinery put in and had a lot of trouble getting started. They began yesterday, but hope to have things working all right today.

The yard had many loads of cotton yesterday waiting for the gin to get started all right. They ginned two bales yesterday morning, but had to stop to adjust the suction pipe.

Carpenter elected, 61 majority.

There may be some errors in the above, as we could not find Wiley Tisdale Chairman of the County Executive Committee to compare our report with the official count.

Ferguson carried Baird and every one of the other eighteen voting boxes except Clyde, Cross Plains and Dressy. Davidson for Lieutenant Governor, Marrs for Superintendent of Public Instruction, Terrell for Treasurer and Banton for Congress all carried Callahan County and all but Ferguson were nominated. Long was nominated for District Attorney. Mayfield's majority in the State is about 60,000.

BIG GASSER HOLDS STEADY.

The gas well of Westfield & Martin, in the northeastern part of Callahan County, near the Eastland County line, continues to make better than eight million feet of gas, at a depth of 300 feet.

Mr. Martin says that this well is one of the most remarkable wells on record. However, it is the intention to go deeper, when it is hoped a fine flow of oil will be found. The offset to this well, also the property of Westfield & Martin, is gassing at a depth of 155 feet.

A number of rigs are going up in the vicinity of these wells.

"The Heart of a Hero," with a splendid cast, will be well worth seeing at The Tabernacle next Friday night.

CROPS IN 43 STATES LARGEST IN HISTORY

While There Will Be a Bumper Harvest, Farmer May Get Only Low Financial Returns.

Washington.—With the exception of South Carolina, Georgia, New Mexico, Washington and Oregon, which are suffering from the ill effects of prolonged drouths, every State in the Union will produce crops this year; and, for the first time in four years, North Dakota and Wyoming will be favored with an extraordinary yield. In fact, these two States stand one and two, respectively, in the official reports of the Department of Agriculture's harvest predictions, showing an actual bumper crop margin over every other State in the Union.

The corn belt has made a remarkable showing, and an estimated crop of more than 3,000,000,000 bushels is forecast. This anticipated corn crop will be one of the five largest harvests ever recorded by the Department of Agriculture. The largest corn crop on record was 3,209,000,000 bushels and was gathered in 1920.

The potato crop will be the largest on record—about 440,000,000 bushels—with New Jersey leading her sister States in this production. Sweet potatoes also will reach a new high mark. Garden truck, fruits and melons have registered record-breaking bumper crops, with the exception of the popular watermelon, whose chances to share in the honors, along with many other agricultural products, went awry when the prolonged drouth struck Georgia.

The farmer shares with the consumer in the paradoxical situation, relative to bounteous crops and little returns. The bumper harvest, based on the law of supply and demand, forecasts low financial returns to the agriculturist, whose buying power has declined to sixty-nine points compared to the high mark of purchasing power 100 points, established in 1913. This year's mark is the lowest purchasing power status reached by the farmer in the history of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, with but one exception in 1921, when a low ebb of sixty-seven points in purchasing power was recorded.

Prayers Interspersed By the Crack of Snipers' Rifles As Body Passes.

Dublin.—A basket draped in the tri-color of Ireland, containing the body of Michael Collins, slain chief of Ireland's new Free State Government, was landed here from the steamer Classic and borne through the streets amid an impressive tribute from the assembled multitude.

General Collins' body was met at the dock by large throngs of mourners, including Richard Mulcahy and other prominent representatives of the army. The body was taken on a gun carriage, preceded by a band of pipers to St. Vincent's Hospital.

Prayers were said as the procession passed in silence, broken only by the distant crack of snipers' rifles in various parts of the grief-stricken city.

LADY WAS IN A BAD FIX FROM NERVOUS INDIGESTION

Biloxi, Miss.—"I had, for a year or more, nervous indigestion, or some form of stomach trouble," says Mrs. Alonzo Ford, 1117 Clay Street, this city. "The water I drank at that time seemed to constipate me. I would suffer until I got so nervous I wanted to get down on the floor and roll. I felt like I could tear my clothes.

"Every night, and night after night, I had to take something for a laxative, and it had to be kept up nightly. My side would pain. I looked awful. My skin was sallow and seemed spotted. I would look at my hands and arms, and the flesh looked lifeless.

"I happened to get a Birthday Almanac, so I told my husband I would try the Black-Draught, which I did. I took a few big doses. I felt much better. My liver acted well. I made a good, warm tea and drank it that way. Soon I found that nervous, tight feeling was going, as was the pain in my side. I found I did not have to take it every night. Soon, after a few weeks, I could leave it off for a week or so, and I did not suffer with constipation. . . I gained flesh. I have a good color, and believe it was a stubborn liver, and that Black-Draught did the work.

"I went to my mother's (Mrs. Deeters) one day, and she wasn't well at all. . . I told her we'd try Black-Draught. We did, and now she keeps it to take after eating. It certainly helped her, and we neither will be without it in our homes. It is so simple, and the dose can be regulated as the case may be. We use small doses after meals for indigestion, and larger doses for headache or bad liver."

SEES PLOT TO SMASH UNIONS SAYS JEWELL

Hale Holden and Others of Western Lines Deny There Is Split Over Seniority Issue.

New York.—A majority group of the Association of Railway Executives by a vote of 254 to 4 rejected the proposal of the big five train service brotherhoods, that carriers end the nationwide shopmen's strike by reinstating the men with seniority unimpaired, and Bert M. Jewell, official spokesman for the strikers, declared the association had closed the door to peace and voted for a lockout to smash unionism.

Splitting away from the majority was a group of twenty-five railroads, principally Western lines, which debated a new suggestion of the brotherhoods that individual settlements be effected. This minority, while professing to stand with the majority on seniority, indicated that it desired to hear further regarding the individual settlement suggestion.

Hale Holden, president of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, joined with members of the majority group in denying that there was any split. "There is no question of a split," he asserted. "The railroads are all standing pat on seniority, and any individual settlement will have to be made in the light of that understanding."

The association met as a whole and almost unanimously decided to continue its stand against restoring the strikers with their ranking unaffected, and directed its committee which met last week with the brotherhood chiefs to draw up a resolution embodying this decision.

The committee submitted the resolution after the noon recess, and after its adoption left for the Grand Central Station and transmitted the message to the committee representing the running trades, who have stepped into the shoes of mediators. These mediators before going into conference issued a statement asserting that the strike must be settled because the public demanded it, and setting forth that "the crews who now operate the trains form that part of the public which knows best why a settlement must come."

SOON TO OPERATE THE MINES IN THE SOUTHWEST

Agreement to Terminate Coal Strike Has Been Reached at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo.—An agreement to end the coal strike in the Southwest and resume operations of mines immediately was reached at a conference here of miners' union officials and operators from Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and Oklahoma. Vote on the settlement was unanimous, which was based on the Cleveland agreement.

The basis of the agreement, it was announced, was the extension of the wage scale which expired March 31 last to March 31, 1923. A condition of the settlement was that miners now employed in mines under operation shall not be discriminated against. Operators declared newly-mined coal would be on the tracks at mine sidings by Sept. 1.

ROADS MUST AGREE TO PAY ALL OLD DEBTS

Ruling Made This Step Necessary Where New Charters Are Being Sought.

Austin, Texas.—It was announced by Secretary of State S. L. Staples that in agreement with the Attorney General, he had ruled that railroad corporations reorganizing and applying for new charters or amending old charters must file agreements by the purchasers obligating themselves to pay the legal debts of the old company which was taken over in the receivership. This was made ironclad as to the International & Great Northern and will be exacted of all the others, Mr. Staples said.

A Washington dispatch, touching the application of the Katy to the Interstate Commerce Commission for approval of the reorganization plans, says "the new company intends to acquire all the Katy properties free from other obligations or liabilities."

It was learned from Mr. Staples that the Katy has made application for a Texas charter, but that the Attorney General had ruled that it was premature. After the reorganization and sale is made it is expected the charter will again be presented for approval by the Attorney General and filing by the Secretary of State, but not before then.

Arrange for Parker Fair.

Weatherford, Texas.—The Weatherford Chamber of Commerce, Ladies' Federation and other organizations of Parker County are arranging to have the Parker County Fair this fall at Weatherford for three days.

Hereford Breeders' To Hold Auction.

Midland, Texas.—For the purpose of advertising the high-grade range cattle of the Midland country to cattle feeders of the North, the Midland Hereford Breeders' Association will hold an auction sale of car lots of calves during the fair at Midland in October. Five hundred or more calves will be entered.

HARDING THREATENS SEIZURE OF RAILROADS

HARDING CONTEMPLATES TAKING OVER RAILROADS AND ANTHRACITE MINES.

GOOD SERVICE ALTERNATIVE

Otherwise Administration Will Seek Legislation Authorizing U. S. Operation.

Washington.—The administration will seek legislation from Congress authorizing the taking over of certain railroads and anthracite mines if there is not a radical improvement in the industrial situation within a few days, it was indicated after Senator Cummins, chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, and Attorney General Daugherty had conferred with President Harding for more than an hour.

Railroads will be given an opportunity to demonstrate their ability to furnish adequate service, it was declared, but those which can not give proper service will be taken over by the Government under present plans.

If production of anthracite is not resumed "within a few days," it was added, a bill will be introduced in Congress to authorize the Government to take over the mines and produce coal. Legislation to enable such seizures, Senator Cummins predicted, would quickly be rushed through Congress.

Likewise, he said, the railroads would be given a "reasonable" time in which to demonstrate their ability to furnish adequate service and that those unable to do so would be taken over.

It was indicated that consideration of these steps would not operate to interfere with the proposed legislation now pending and designed to curb profiteering in coal.

The White House conference followed a survey of the whole situation at the regular Cabinet meeting and the termination without result of the conference at New York between railroad executives and union officials.

GERMANY BASSES HOPES ON OFFER OF GOODS

New Treaty Suggestion After Stormy Week of Negotiations.

Berlin.—With the French threatening to march into Germany in an effort to compel the payment of war indemnities, a slender hope remains that a reparations agreement may be reached.

This hope is the proposal of Germany that treaties be negotiated with Belgium and France, calling for the delivery of goods from large industrial establishments. The German Government would reimburse those making the deliveries. Heavy penalties would be attached for failure to live up to the terms of the proposed agreement.

The reparations commissioners who for a week carried on stormy and unsatisfactory negotiations with the Government are returning to Paris, there to present the latest proposal for the consideration of Premier Poincare and his advisers.

The idea for a "delivery treaty" originated with Hugo Stinnes, German industrial leader, who is anxious to prevent the complete demoralization of German finance and national business, in which he is the biggest participant.

Stinnes came forward with his suggestion after the Government spokesmen and the reparations commissioners had completely disagreed, and the latter were ready to go home to report failure. Stinnes suggested to Chancellor Wirth that maybe the French would relent if treaties could be made with the German industrialists with suitable penalties.

Make Two Bales to Acre.

Abilene, Texas.—A waste water from one of the sewer discharge pipes, E. J. Ellison of Abilene has developed a small patch of cotton in the outskirts of town to the point where it will produce two bales per acre. The cotton has been irrigated and kept clean, with the result that the ten-acre patch will yield the grower twenty bales, valued at present prices at over $2,000.

To Vote on Liquor in Sweden.

Stockholm.—The Swedish people will give their decision at the polls for or against prohibition. No election in Sweden has ever caught the public mind as this, which is to be the first on a question submitted under the newly instituted referendum.

THE RUN-OFF PRIMARY

The run-off primary has passed and there is much vexation of spirit among the friends of defeated candidates. Let us forget it. Some people have said things that they will be sorry for, that is if they have any conception of the rights of others to think for themselves and vote as they please. Be easy! Don't get the idea that you carry all the wisdom and righteousness of the present age under your hat. The other fellow may know as much as you do and a blamed sight more and his life, both public and private, as compared with yours, might make you blush, if both were bared to the public gaze. If all will think twice before condemning the other fellow either before or after the election, everybody would feel better in the long run.

"I am a Democrat and promise to support the nominees of this primary."

That is what everyone who voted in the Democratic primary said, because the above pledge was printed at the head of every ticket voted in the two primary elections this year. Now take your medicine, ladies and gentlemen. Oh, yes! We know that many Mayfield supporters said before the primary that if Ferguson was nominated that they would not vote for him and further, we have heard that there was a Statewide understanding to that effect among Mayfield supporters, to vote for an independent for Senator if Ferguson was nominated.

Of course we do not believe that all would have done this, because all honorable men and women regard a pledge of any kind as sacred, and all Mayfield voters claimed to be honorable men—and women.

Anyway, we want Ferguson supporters to prove that they are real Democrats by strictly observing the pledge. If there is any nominee on the Democratic ticket that you cannot conscientiously vote for, then don't vote at all, or at any rate do not vote for any opposing candidate. We maybe old-fashioned about this, but we learned our fealty to Democracy from such men as John H. Reagan, Colonel Mills, Governors Coke, Ireland, Ross, Hubbard and Throckmorton, and they would never have thought of voting against a nominee of their party when they took part in any convention to elect delegates or participated in the County or State Conventions that made nominations, no matter how bitterly they may have opposed the nominee.

Democrats need not worry and Republicans need not delude themselves with the idea that they can defeat Mayfield for the senate with an "independent" candidate. All that talk is mere political froth. There are perhaps enough voters in Texas who oppose Mayfield to defeat him if they could all be rounded up before the November election, but that is impossible and besides most of those who voted against Mayfield in both primaries will either vote for him at the general election or refuse to vote against him. Mayfield has with him an army of organized voters of more than twice the strength of the Republican party, and sixty days is too short a time to organize those who oppose him. Mayfield, so far as human ken can determine, will succeed Culbertson.

R. B. Creager, Chairman of the Republican Committee in Texas, is quoted as saying that with the nomination of Mayfield the Democratic party in Texas has ceased to exist, and that it is now the Klanocratic party. It is all bosh to claim that the Democratic party ceased to exist because the Klan succeeded in nominating one of the three candidates the Klan endorsed in the two last primaries. If a faction can change the name of a party, both the Democratic and Republican parties ceased to exist years ago, because the Anti-Saloon League has virtually dictated the nomination and election of a majority of Republicans and Democrats to congress. Today the Anti-Saloon League at Washington, with brazen effrontery dictates, or tries to dictate, all liquor legislation. We see no reason for the Republicans criticising the Democrats of Texas for nominating a Klansman for senator when the Republicans at Washington so meekly submit to the dictation of the Anti-Saloon League. The Democrats of Texas defeated two out of three Klan nominees in the runoff. So at most the Democratic party is only one-third Klanocratic. Let us see if the Republicans in Texas do any better before we accept the dictum of the Republican chairman that the Ku Klux Klan has absorbed the Democratic party of Texas. Of course we do not accept Mr. Creager's opinion as true, no matter what his party does about the Klan.

"Colonel" E. M. House outlines a plan to prevent world upheaval.—Headline. "Col." House has about as much right to the title of Colonel as the Editor of The Star has to be called general, possibly not as much, because the editor did hold the rank of 2nd Lieutenant in a school boy company during the civil war, and the only office we ever heard of "Col." House holding was State Revenue Agent during part of Colquitt's administration. He was just plain Ed House then and not generally known outside of Houston, where his father was a well known commission merchant before the civil war, but when Wilson was elected president Ed House blossomed out as Col. Edwin M. House, who was responsible for the nomination of every governor of Texas from Coke to Colquitt and he became the confidential advisor of President Wilson and made several trips to Europe as Wilson's special envoy. Ed House became famous for two things, first he did not want any office, something remarkable for a Texas Democrat, and he refused to talk. At once the newspaper correspondents at Washington took him up and published all sorts of absurd stories about Ed House's prowess as a dictator in Texas politics and he sailed on flowery beds of ease and considered the power behind the throne and responsible for Wilson's policies. Then came the break between Wilson and House during the consideration of the treaty in Paris after the war. Now Col. Edwin M. House is in London telling the world how Europe can prevent itself from being blown up by another war. War and political upheavals always throw a lot of lightweight politicians to the surface like Ed House and Jas. M. Cox and a lot of others that could be named, but why mention them. If Ed House and Jas. Cox find pleasure in telling the world how to save itself, let them rip. The world does not know that these two men do not know what they are talking about. When men like Woodrow Wilson, Lloyd George and Clemenceau failed to solve the world's troubles, how can little pop guns like Ed House and Jim Cox be expected to know how to disgnose the world's political diseases.

ATTICUS'S PLEA DURING LATE RUN-OF CAMPAIGN

"My Dear Friend:

"Please send me at least Five Dollars. Make your donation as liberal as possible. I am compelled to spend THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS during these four weeks.

"Signed,

"ATTICUS WEBB,

"President Anti-Saloon League."

CLEANUP CAMPAIGNERS STILL BUSY

Sheriff George Houston, County Attorney L. Willard Green and two State Rangers raided a supposed abandoned house southwest of Cross Plains last Tuesday evening and arrested F. M. Toddy, R. B. Cellars and B. D. Thomas, all middle-aged men, charged with violations of the provisions of the Eighteenth Federal Amendment.

The prisoners were locked up in the county jail, but Wednesday gave bail in the sum of $5,000, $2,500 and $2,500 respectively, before Justice of the Peace George E. Printz, for their appearance at the next term of Callahan District Court, wealthy Eastland County men becoming their sureties.

In connection with their arrest the officers made the biggest haul of illicit booze ever made in the county, consisting of 1072 bottles of "Chock Beer" and two fifty gallon barrels of this milky looking and decidedly jazzy beverage. The bottled intoxicant was destroyed by smashing the bottles and emptying the barrels, a specimen of the booze being brought to Baird as evidence.

The Honorable W. R. Ely is still keenly determined to "clean up" the bootleggers, moonshiners, gamblers and phony check passers in Callahan County, and will keep on the job until every evil doer is rounded up and punished.

ETHICS OF THE COUNTRY PAPER

"Sometimes we are criticised for withholding unpleasant facts from the paper, and it may be a short-sighted policy to pursue. But there are always willing to forego a real scoop for the satisfaction of treating a fellow-creature as we would have him treat us." Thus remarks Austin Callan in the Del Rio News.

Mr. Callan speaks further:

"A man may commit some very grave offense. His conduct might be such that he doesn't deserve any consideration, and what a juicy, fat story the wreck of his honor makes for a newspaper. People love to read of such misfortunes, too. We all start the day with the recitals of crime and distress. But somewhere there are eyes that see each story of that kind through scalding hot tears; there are hearts that almost break as they read the ugly charges. And, when it is not altogether inconsistent, might we not have a care for such unfortunates?"

"We had rather suppress a piece of real news that shoots a dart into the heart of a sorrowing wife or mother, than to print a damaging innuendo under the disguise of keeping our readers informed of 'carrying on' in the great battle for moral uplift.

"Our mission is to help, not to hurt. We harbor no hatred and herald no harsh intimations against human creatures. When we fight it is in support of a principle and against some falsely founded klan that seeks to usurp governmental powers and to tear down the guarantees of the United States Constitution. This we consider our duty, because it involves the welfare of the Republic. But such a duty stands above little veiled persona attacks that are not only cowardly, but odious to real men."

WHAT IS CHIROPRACTIC?

NOT OSTEOPATHY
NOT MEDICINE
NOT RUBBING
NOT CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
BUT CHIROPRACTIC

(Kiro-Practic)

Chiropractic is unknown in this section. My intentions are to explain so you may know what Chiropractic is and what it will do. Chiropractic is the science, art and philosophy of adjusting, with the hands, the movable segments of the spinal column to normal position for the purpose of relieving the impinged nerve so that the life force can flow over the nerve to the tissue cell and thus restore the abnormal to normal.

The question with those who suffer is, will Chiropractic adjustments help me? Get this. A thing that can't stand investigating can't stand. Don't pass judgment or condemn until you know the facts. Come down to my office and talk it over with me. It will cost you nothing to find out what I have to offer.

If you have a backbone brain, and spinal cord you have a good chance to regain your health by taking spinal adjustments.

Chiropractic has grown in the short space of 25 years from the discovery of one man to one of the greatest healing arts in the world. There are 15,000 practicing Chiropractors now in the field and we have millions of followers. Why? Because sick people who took adjustments got well.

If you are interested ask me for names of people who are taking adjustments so you may inquire of them and find out what benefit they have received.

TO CALLAHAN COUNTY PEOPLE

I appreciate very much the honor you have conferred upon me. I wish to thank all of my friends for their support, and I shall try to fill the office of Tax Collector in such a manner that you will never regret helping me.
Sincerely,
Clyde White.

MR. EVANS THANKS HIS FRIENDS

I want to thank the people for the nomination August 26, as your Tax Assessor, and I trust that all political differences may be forgotten. I shall devote my best efforts to that end and ask for the cooperation of the people.
Wm. J. Evans.

L. Allen, M. D., of San Antonio, who has large property interests at Cross Plains, was autoing about and to and from that town and Baird several days the latter part of last week, to attend to legal business connected with his property. His traveling companion was Ed J. Pierce, a Southern Pacific Railway official, also of San Antonio.

W. D. Clinton, of Seranton, was in town Wednesday. He recently spent four months on his Lower Rio Grande Valley purchase. He says that country is the worst blown up country he ever saw, and he came back to the old home. He still has his ten acre purchase and will hold it. Poor markets for the stuff they raise down there seems to be the main drawback.

Mrs. J. T. Lockaby was quite sick for several days this week. Her daughter, Mrs. A. Mayo, who was in Dallas was sent for, also two daughters, Mrs. Ben Robinson and Mrs. H. C. Croon, of Strawn and a granddaughter, Mrs. V. O. Hildreth of Fort Worth, were called to her bedside. Mrs. Lockaby was reported much improved yesterday morning.

SHERIFF CORN THANKS FRIENDS

To the Voters of Callahan County:
I wish to express my sincere thanks to all the voters who supported me in the Primary Election just held.

I appreciate each of you as my friend and shall always appreciate you as such. The result of this election will in no wise affect me in the enforcement of all our laws. It is my purpose now, as it has always been, to see that those who violate the laws shall answer in Court for the same; but, in order to make an efficient officer, the officer must have the cooperation of the good people.

My earnest desire is that every good citizen of Callahan County not only assist me, but at the expiration of my term of office they will assist Mr. Brav, and by so doing keep Callahan County on the list as one of the best law enforcing Counties in the State.

Yours very respectfully,
G. H. Corn.

MR. CARPENTER THANKS FRIENDS

I wish to thank my loyal friends at Oplin, Tecumseh, Eagle Cove, Denton, Belle Plaine and Rowden for their support in the run-off primary, and I promise my whole constituency to exert my utmost endeavor that my duties as your Commissioner may be performed faithfully and efficiently.

Gratefully,
J. H. Carpenter.

MR. BRAY THANKS LOYAL FRIENDS

I wish to thank my friends for the splendid vote you gave me in the recent primary. I certainly feel grateful to you and I also wish to tell you how I appreciate your loyalty and your hospitality when I visited your homes. I will never cease to remember your kindness and will do my very best to make you an efficient officer.

Yours sincerely,
O. R. Bray.

SIMMONS COLLEGE

To Build New Hall For Men At Cost Of $150,000 To Replace Burned Building

Simmons College suffered a serious loss in May, when Cowden Hall, its only hall for men was destroyed by fire. The college faces the problem this fall of taking care of the men attending the institution in private homes. The citizens of Abilene responded generously and nobly, however, and every young man entering Simmons College will have the privilege of staying in a good private home.

Plans are being drawn for the erection of a modern hall for men to cost $150,000. Work on the proposed building will begin about the middle of January, 1923.

Simmons College has two halls for women, Mary Frances Hall and Smith Hall. Both of them are practically full already. Those who expect to have accommodations in either would do well to seek reservations early.

The plant of Simmons College has had a most valuable addition made to it for the coming year. The Fine Arts Building, construction of which was begun about twenty months ago, will be completed and opened for use. It will be devoted to the fine arts—piano, voice, expression, public speaking and painting. The building is one of the most beautiful in design, finish and appointment in connection with any college in the southwest.

Indications now point to a large registration in Simmons College this fall. The plant and equipment will not accommodate more than seven hundred at one time. To the end that those who expect to enter Simmons may not be disappointed, the college authorities have put on a campaign among former and prospective students, urging that every one who expects to enter for the fall term register by mail, in advance.

FIGHT BOLL WEEVIL WITH CRUDE OIL AND SULPHUR

W. R. Wright, living about three miles northeast of Cross Plains, requests The Review to make known a simple remedy which he can thoroughly recommend, by having seen it tried, and believes it will be a great help to the farmers of Callahan County in their fight against the boll weevils.

Mr. Wright witnessed experiments with the remedy on a number of the cotton farms in the eastern part of the State and says that it will effectively protect the cotton from the ravages of the weevils, if properly applied. He witnessed that on the farms where the remedy was tried, where the entire crop had been destroyed up to the row thus treated, and a full crop was gathered from the rows where the remedy, which is given below, was applied:

To one barrel of crude oil add about three pounds of sulphur. Saturate tow sacks with this solution. Attach the sacks to the beams of cultivators or plows, letting the sacks drag between the cotton rows, but not permitting too great a quantity of the solution to come in contact with the plant.

This remedy will be worth trying, beginning with a few rows, to ascertain how much of the remedy the plants will stand without injury, and then apply the treatment to the entire crop. The crude oil is easily and cheaply obtained in Callahan County.—Cross Plains Review.

POPULAR SWEATERS

In the bright lexicon of youth is written the sweater, and a sweaterless wardrobe is not to be imagined—either for young or old. The tuxedo or sweater-coat is deservedly the most popular style, made of wool or of silk yarn like that one pictured here. It is shown in many colors and in black or white. Collar and cuff sets of checked silk or plain linen are fashionable with the quieter colors.

A Triumph for Value

IN the past two months Firestone has built and marketed more tires than in any similar period in its history.

This steadily increasing public preference is proof of the recognition by car owners of the greater values offered by Firestone. It is a tribute to Firestone men—all stockholders in the company—all actuated by the operating principle of Most Miles per Dollar.

The high average performance of Firestone Cords is without equal in the annals of tire making and is reflected by the general tendency to specify Firestone for hard service. Taxicab and bus lines, buying tires by the mile, are universally equipping with Firestone Cords.

There are many reasons for the high quality of Firestone tires but chief among the special manufacturing processes are double gum-dipping, thus eliminating internal friction by insulating each cord strand, and air-bag cure, insuring a well-balanced and perfectly shaped product.

Don't speculate in tires—you will find the right combination of price and quality in Firestone. Come in and let us tell you about the service these Cords are giving other car-owners whom you know.

The Modern Pied Piper

In days of old the Pied Piper of Hamelin is said to have piped a lay so seductive as to have lured all the children out of the ancient village. This modern piper is sounding a clarion call of invitation to every school boy and girl in Texas to be present at the State Fair at Dallas, on Oct. 6—Children's Day—as guests of the Fair and the City of Dallas.

SCHOOL CHILDREN OF TEXAS TO ATTEND FAIR

Oct. 6 Their "Day" at State Fair of Texas—Guests of City and Fair

As has been the custom for the last several years, school children of Texas by the thousands, will attend the State Fair at Dallas this year, as guests of the Fair Association and the City of Dallas.

Oct. 6—opening day—Is Children's Day this year, and while every child knows or will know about the annual celebration, a more formal invitation will be issued in ample time.

It has been the custom of the mayor and the president of the Fair, to extend the invitation in the form of an open letter to the pupils of all Texas schools, sent them through their principals and teachers. Such a letter will be issued again this year, and it is the expressed hope of State Fair directors that embryo Texans will be present in the largest numbers ever known.

Plans for entertainment of the youngsters are already under way and there will be no dearth of fun, frolic and amusement for all of them. Each child will be admitted to the Fair grounds at the main gates, free on Oct. 6, and also to the Coliseum and grandstand for the afternoon of that day.

Boy Scouts will also be present in number and will carry out an interesting program of exercises before the grand stand. These exercises will consist of Scout drills, singing, wall scaling and the like. First mating by semaphore, bridge building—class Scouts will also aid in policing the grounds on Children's Day, and in taking care of the smaller youngsters.

STATE FAIR RADIO SHOW TO BE IN EXHIBIT BUILDING

Space has been assigned in the main Exhibit building at the State Fair of Texas, for the radio show to be given during the progress of the Fair, Oct. 6-15.

In connection with the broadcasting station to be operated at the Fair grounds and in connection with the Radio show, steel towers will be erected on the plaza in front of the exhibit building.

It is declared the utmost interest is being manifested by people interested in radio and that the exhibition of the latest appliances will be most complete and highly instructive.

FINE LIVE STOCK SHOW SURE FOR STATE FAIR

Much Interest Shown by Breeders; J. E. Boog-Scott Pleased Over Entries and Prospects

Early indications are for the finest kind of a display of all sorts of live stock at the State Fair of Texas, at Dallas, Oct. 6-15.

General Live Stock Superintendent J. E. Boog-Scott, in an interview at Dallas the other day, declared himself highly pleased with the interest that has been shown even thus early, and also with the number of entries that have already been made.

Men prominent in the live stock industry will act as judges at the State Fair this year. Among the judges thus far named, and who have accepted appointment, are the following, with the class of live stock over which they will have jurisdiction:

Short-horns—Harry Hopley, Atlantic, Iowa.

Herefords—H. J. Gramlich, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb.

Holsteins—W. H. Standish, Lyons, Ohio.

Swine—E. Z. Russell, department investigator, Washington, D. C.

Sheep—John E. Webb, Indianapolis, Ind.

Goats—Bob Davis, Rio Frio, Texas.

Horses—H. J. Gramlich, Lincoln, Neb.

Jack and mules—T. E. Collins, Belleville, Kansas.

Musical "high brows" have been criticizing the saxophone here lately. But folks like saxophone music. A "Saxotette" is to be one of the musical feature acts on the State Fair Coliseum bill this year. The word is significant—six saxophones.

Representative Hill, Republican, Maryland has addressed a letter to Secretary Mellon requesting the immediate removal of Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes who, Mr. Hill charged, "engaged in defrauding the United States Government, in that he is using and causing to be used the official mail franks of the Treasury Department for the sending out of personal political propaganda in the interest of himself and his associates, the Anti-Saloon League."

ensued which were really lean for the railroads (although industrial companies, as a whole, fared much worse) and but 3.25 per cent was earned on the valuation."

The average return for seven years, Hanssen summarizes, was therefore 5.27 per cent and is now, in the middle of August, 1922, again approaching the 5.75 per cent mark.

As further evidence of the prosperous condition of the carriers, Hanssen cites the improved condition cash and current assets position of roads comprising over fifty per cent of the total mileage of the United States:

"Cash or its equivalent on hand as of December 31, 1921, was $650,004,000, as compared with $302,666,000 for the same roads at the close of 1917, an increase of 118 per cent.

"Material and supplies on hand December 31, 1921, amounted to $407,206,000, as compared with $292,180,000 in 1917, an increase of 39 per cent."

Hanssen analyzes the history of freight rates and wages between 1888 and 1916 and shows that while freight rates declined and wages increased, railroad net operating incomes rose to unheard of heights.

That punctured the railroad argument that wage reductions are prerequisite to rate reductions.

Another blow to that argument is found in the Interstate Commerce Commission Report on Reduced Rates, 1922: "Under present rates, and with an increase of 10 per cent or more in traffic over that of 1921, not only would the net operating income of the carriers, as a whole, for the next twelve months, be substantially in excess of the fair return herein determined, but it would greatly exceed the corresponding figure for any year in the history of railroad operation."

Following up that line of argument, the railroads could secure net earnings of at least $1,250,000,000 without recourse to a reduction in the inadequate wage rates paid employees prior to July 1, 1922. This is nearly a quarter of a billion dollars in excess of the "fair return" as designated by the Commission.

The railroads were not satisfied with that generous profit. They obtained additional cuts. The rail employees refused to inflict any additional hardships on their families and went on strike against the cuts. They are still out and they are going to stay out until they get a fair deal on wages.

Respectfully submitted,
T. V. Anderson,
R. E. Hall,
Committee.

pound of coffee parched in the berry, which he beat up in the corner of the sack.

A little before sundown he camped, starting a little after sunup the next morning. If in the summer time and the grass was good, he would make about one hundred miles in three days. Those people on the range would be astonished to drop in on the civilized City of Baird, with its three different armed camps, and all because some men want to work and others don't.

What kind of a civilization is it, that after a man has worked for an outfit these many years, with never a lapse in the full pay every day, this man, quits and the outfit he has worked for has to secure armed guards to protect their property?
