Tractorcades bring traffic jams to D.C.

By BRIAN B. KING
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of farmers plowed a field of political dissent today as they jammed commuter arteries and blocked bridges in a motorized protest of prices they receive for their crops.

"The Farmers Are Here!" declared banners flapping from tractors and trucks that entered the city at a snail's pace in the chill of dawn, ahead of normal rush-hour traffic.

Five arrests were reported. In one case, police used tear gas to subdue a driver who tried to block an intersection and allegedly resisted arrest.

At least four separate cavalcades, totaling an estimated 1,500 to 2,000 vehicles, edged into the city from staging areas in Virginia and Maryland. The George Washington Memorial Parkway, a principal north-south route for tens of thousands of commuters from both states, was closed by police to all but the farm traffic.

Meanwhile, a 25-mile-long line of 750 farm vehicles crossed the Potomac River from the south over the city's busiest bridge, emptying into Washington just short of the Agriculture Department and creating a huge traffic jam at the height of rush hour. Police tried to divert commuters to a branch artery that serves Capitol Hill, but the congestion mounted to a complete standstill.

One group of farmers threatened to bar entrance to the Agriculture Department. Three tractors, chained together, were driven within feet of one door to the building, while other vehicles blocked all six lanes of Independence Avenue.

Police offered almost full cooperation to the protesters, giving them priority access to major roadways while blocking some routes to exasperated commuters. "It's the old story of a 900-pound gorilla in a cocktail lounge," said U.S. Park Police spokesman George Berkley. "You serve the gorilla first."

Police urged regular motorists to choose mass transit or car pools for their ride into the city, and suggested alternate routes to those normally selected. But those alternatives were few in a city that offers access for many commuters over just a handful of bridges.

The farmers represented the American Agriculture Movement, which staged a similar but smaller demonstration in the capital a year ago that produced some isolated violence. Police said they expected up to 30,000 farmers in the city this time.

The stated plans were for two days of demonstrations, followed by at least two weeks of small-group lobbying of members of Congress. But police weren't counting on a set agenda.

Capitol Police Chief James M. Powell said, "They say that no one is in charge, they have no leaders." He gave permission for 9,000 people to rally today and Tuesday on the Capitol steps.

Protesters said they left for Washington angry and aren't feeling any happier after driving from as far away as Texas

Good afternoon

News in brief

COLDER

The forecast for Pampa calls for cold temperatures today with a slight chance of snow flurries. It is expected to be partly cloudy tonight and fair with warmer temperatures on Tuesday. The high today should be in the low 30s, dipping to 20 tonight and reaching the upper 40s Tuesday. Winds will be northerly from 10-15 mph today becoming light and variable this evening.

Assistant fire chief named

The Pampa Fire Department today announced the appointment of Davie Turner as assistant fire chief. Turner replaces Paul Jones, who became chief last month.

Turner, 38, has worked as a driver at North and Central stations since he joined the department Oct. 15, 1962. He is a native of Mobeetie, and resides here with his wife and two daughters.

33 fire runs reported for January

The fire department made 28 city runs and five county runs in January, according to Fire Marshall L.V. Bruce.

Dwelling fires accounted for 13 of the runs, while 5 runs resulted from automobile fires.

Witness says Davis will kill him

DALLAS (AP) — David McCrory, the state's key witness in the Cullen Davis murder-for-hire trial, said he is a prisoner in the solitude of his own fear.

McCrory, 40, exchanged his testimony for federal protection, relocation and a new identity under terms of the Federal Witness Protection program.

"The price has been too damned high," McCrory told the Dallas Times Herald in a telephone interview.

Davis is free on $30,000 bond after jurors in Houston failed to reach a verdict.

But McCrory said he is confined by his fear and restricted to his new hometown by provisions of the witness protection program.

"All I try to do is stay alive," said McCrory, who added he inspects his car each time he gets in it, checking under the hood before trips to the grocery store.

"I'm constantly looking over my shoulder," the former Davis employee said.

"I know he'll (Davis) try to have me killed sooner or later. Somebody with that kind of money can buy information to find where I am. Sooner or later somebody will make a mistake. I have to stay hid real well."

Davis' defense lawyer Richard "Racehorse" Haynes said McCrory's allegations that Davis has spent $100,000 looking for him are "absolutely, unequivocally wrong."

"We've not spent one dime looking for him," said Haynes.

"I just feel sorry for the folks of the community in which he is residing."

McCrory branded the Houston mistrial as absurd. But said "Haynes may be the most brilliant person I have ever met."

McCrory said a U.S. attorney from Fort Worth suggested the witness protection program.

Iran gets 'shadow head'

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini today named 70-year-old oil engineer and veteran opposition politician Mehdi Bazargan as prime minister of a "transitional government" to pave the way for creation of an Islamic republic in Iran.

Khomeini called on the people of Iran to obey the new "revolutionary" government.

The announcement set the stage for a possible showdown with Prime Minister Shahpour Bakhtiar, who has threatened to arrest Khomeini if the religious leader tries to supplant Bakhtiar's sitting government.

"I am appointing Mehdi Bazargan, who is an honest and religious person, as head of a transitional government to appoint his ministers and introduce them to me," Khomeini said at a news conference.

Bazargan, a long-time human-rights activist and a Moslem nationalist, was seated next to Khomeini during the meeting with reporters at a Moslem school.

There was a press report earlier today that the Iranian military, which has pledged support to the Bakhtiar government, was reinforcing troops stationed outside and inside some government ministries.

Bakhtiar has warned his foes he would "answer Molotov cocktail for Molotov cocktail" if they carry out Khomeini's threat to launch a holy war to oust him.

Bazargan is believed to have acted as a go-between in secret negotiations between Bakhtiar and the Khomeini camp.

Khomeini says the Bakhtiar government, appointed by the shah, is illegal and vows to abolish the monarchy.

Again Sunday the prime minister refused to step down. But he told the newspaper Ettelaat that Khomeini could create a "shadow Cabinet" as British political parties out of power do.

Boy to be asked about dead driver

VIDOR, Texas (AP) — Police hope a 16-year-old passenger can help answer a string of inquiries spawned by the slaying of a truck driver with a history of sex crimes.

Officers plan to interrogate the youth about the activities during the past year of James Davis, 48, of Los Angeles, who was stabbed to death last week near here.

Detective Sam Kittrell said Sunday that Vidor police have received "numerous inquiries" about Davis since the man's record of sex crimes was disclosed.

"We plan to question the boy extensively. We hope he will tell what transpired since he's been with Davis. We've got all these inquiries out nationwide as to crimes Davis could have committed," said Kittrell, who said Davis had dodged sex or assault charges in numerous states.

Davis and Rex Patrick Atencio, 31, of Albuquerque, were stabbed to death about midnight Jan. 28. A hitchhiker from a small community in Montgomery County north of Houston — has been charged with two counts of first-degree murder.

Tony D. Adams, 17, of Hufsmith remained in Orange County Jail on $50,000 bond.

Davis was originally identified as James Hinchey, 50, of Albuquerque, but police learned through a fingerprint check his real identity. Kittrell said records checks across the nation turned up five aliases and a criminal record for Davis in Texas and California.

Police said the men were stabbed by a hitchhiker when they refused to let him out of their westbound truck at Vidor.

Adams was arrested in a motel room in nearby Vinton, La., shortly after the bodies were found. A citizen monitoring police band radio had called police after seeing him, his clothes spattered with blood.

The 16-year-old boy whom police plan to question Monday was lying in the bunk behind the driver's seat when police arrived at the truck. He claimed at first that "Hinchey" was his father.

Petition confuses

By EUGENE LAYCOCK
Pampa News Staff

John Hancock came to me in a dream last night and said that it was time for the colonies to revolt.

Thinking my dream was inspired by the great American spirit, I accepted the mission my forefather set before me as my civic duty in the quaint city of Pampa.

First, I xeroxed a copy of the Declaration of Independence, on which Mr. Hancock's signature boldly sits.

The document's name and the signatures at the bottom were left off, and a clean piece of notebook paper was attached, so that it looked like a petition.

I roamed about town and asked residents to read, evaluate and sign the petition.

The words on it echoed the rights of men, a disenchantment with the violation of these rights and a declaration of rebellion against an oppressive government.

What do you want was usually the first question asked of me. Stares of disbelief and of distrust at the paper labeled petition were common reactions.

One man received the petition enthusiastically, but said that signing it could cost him his job as a public worker.

He said that the government is oppressive and overbearing, which can be seen in its tax system. But he felt his signature would do no good in changing things.

The man was then stupefied and shook his head with an embarrassed smile when the title of the original document was mentioned.

A veteran recognized the document as a Communist ploy while another man, reading petition at the top, said don't bother me.

One woman said that she recognized the document and agreed with it. She refused to sign it, however, because she worked in a public place. After some thought, she said that a new government would probably create other problems.

Another woman, a public servant, read the contents and stepped outside the building to sign the petition.

She said that public officials are forbidden to sign petitions or give opinions in their office buildings. But she also said to call her if some help is needed in starting a new government.

A fellow in his mid-20s said that the government spends too much money in the wrong areas. "I wouldn't pay my taxes if I didn't have to," he added as he grabbed the pen and paper from my hands.

He added that Americans are fortunate to be guaranteed the freedom of religion which our forefathers had sought. He said signing it would be Communist.

One signer said that the situation reminded him of his divorce, which was caused by a wife who tried to tell him how to spend his money. He said, "Whenever someone tries to compel another person against his will, naturally he'll react."

Two people said that this petition would be worthless, but wanted to know the form of government that the petition would advocate. I had no answer, but the irony of the situation overwhelmed me.

The writers of the Declaration of Independence wanted all men to be treated justly by the government and hastily discharged the English rule without any written plan of their own.

The Constitution was formulated and ratified 13 years after the American Revolution.

State briefs Charges to be filed

McKINNEY, Texas (AP) — Authorities said charges would be filed today in connection with the deaths of two persons whose skeletal remains were hauled from an abandoned water well.

Lt. John Thompson of the Collin County sheriff's department said officers recovered a body late Saturday thought to be that of a 75-year-old McKinney man missing since May 3, 1978. And he said early Sunday they recovered another body thought to be a 51-year-old McKinney woman missing since June, 1977.

Officers have tentatively identified the dead man as Jess Leroy Lovelady.

Officers found the woman's remains several feet deeper than the man's and near the bottom of the well. She has been tentatively identified as Ruth McCarty.

A purse with her identification was found in the bottom of the well, said Collin County Chief Deputy Royce Abbott.

Officers said the well was about four miles east of McKinney.

"Right now, we believe the motive (for the slayings) was robbery," said Thompson.

Officers found the body with help of a map supplied by Billy Battenfield, 25, of McKinney, now serving a 50-year prison term in New Mexico for murder, Thompson said.

Officials widen investigation

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) — Federal investigators apparently have widened their already sweeping investigation into allegations of gambling, prostitution, drug trafficking and official corruption in Gregg County.

Two newspapers reported Sunday that federal investigators are also looking into possible civil rights violations and the alleged misuse of county funds and equipment.

The Longview Morning Journal reported Sunday that the financial records of more than 20 prominent residents and elected officials of the East Texas county have been subpoenaed. Longview is the Gregg County seat.

And the Dallas Morning News reported in its Sunday edition that indictments are expected to be returned against some prominent county residents.

Authorities expect as many as 250 persons to testify before a federal grand jury during the investigation that could take up to six months. The grand jury is scheduled to convene Feb. 21 in Tyler.

"We're not seeking indictments. We're investigating. Once that grand jury starts returning indictments, we can't use it to investigate anymore," said William L. Hinshaw, supervisory special agent of the Tyler FBI office.

Final trial arguments begin

WICHITA FALLS, Texas (AP) — Final arguments begin today in the capital murder trial of John W. McCrory, accused of the rape-strangulation of a 17-year-old Lewisville High School girl.

Defense attorneys rested their case Saturday after successfully challenging a confession McCrory allegedly made to a Dallas psychiatrist.

McCrory, 27, of Argyle, Texas, is accused of the brutal slaying last June 2 of Jeana Melissa Walker.

Dr. John Holbrook had testified during the trial that McCrory told him in a June 12 interview that he raped and beat the girl, but that he did not know she was dead when he left.

Robert Eames, a Denton attorney, testified Saturday that Holbrook gave an almost identical testimony in another rape trial in Gainesville last May 15.

Raise called reasonable

ORANGE, Texas (AP) — Orange County Judge Pete Runnels said he figures his request for a $9,000-a-year pay hike isn't unreasonable, even though the commissioners he's asking to approve the raise will get only one-tenth that amount.

"I don't think just because I get a big raise everybody else should," Runnels said. "If a plant manager gets a raise, they don't give everybody a raise."

Runnels' proposed 45 percent raise would up his salary to $28,870 on Feb. 16. The judge also receives a $4,200 annual car allowance and $990 a year as a member of the juvenile board.

Runnels said President Carter's voluntary wage guidelines holding raises to 7 percent don't concern him at all.

Constable has 'honorary' tasks

By DAN LACKEY
Pampa News Staff

"I just found out I'm the only official that can arrest the sheriff— besides the highway patrol," Precinct 2 Constable Herman Keith said over a chuckle in the hallway of the Gray County Courthouse. "But I hope I never have to, considering his size."

they'd rather have me go along as much as anybody else. It can get monotonous sitting in here (his own office). "If they ask me for help, I'll go."

Keith said, however, "I'm

Keith took over as Precinct 2 constable in 1975 when Bill Langley quit after three months. Keith ran unopposed in the last election. It doesn't seem to be an elected office a lot of people are eager to land and Potter County, for one, has reduced the post to an honorary one, paying $1 a year.

Keith is responsible for "everything that comes out of the justices of the peace offices" of Nat Lunsford and Otto Mangold, which includes serving arrest warrants for simple assault cases, citations for unpaid bills and notices for small claims. But he sometimes functions as a garded arm of the sheriff's office, accompanying deputies transferring prisoners.

"I enjoy making these trips to Huntsville, once we went down to Mexico, one time to Missouri. I get to see a lot of country I might not have seen and I guess really my own boss— except for the commissioners."

Although the constable usually carries a gun ("I wouldn't go out without one"), Keith said people he serves papers on are usually cooperative. "Once in a while I'll have a little trouble, usually on a simple assault case but not very often. I enjoy talking and visiting with some of the people I have to deal with."

Keith said he never makes any arrests.

"I could if I wanted to but that's something I leave up to the Sheriff's Department."

Since the constable had no prior law enforcement experience before taking the job, he had to attend a six week training session in law enforcement which he described as "Not an easy thing, since I hadn't been to school in more than 40 years."

Asked if he thought there was a need for the constable's office, Keith said "If they didn't have a constable, the sheriff would have a hell of a job, as many papers as I've served."

But he said that a redrawing of precincts in 1980 will give Precinct 2 only a little more than 8,000 people, leaving his office with a much smaller territory.

Keith was born in Texola and has lived in Pampa since 1936, working here for the city, water, and fire departments as well as a building and painting contractor. He says he sees the post as a way to ease his way into retirement.

"It's not much of a job," he said. "It's just being on the job that counts."

The people's pharmacy

by Joe Graedon

Q. I've got gas. It may sound funny to you, but it's driving me crazy because it is a painful problem that just does not want to go away. I have tried all kinds of medicine, but nothing seems to be effective. Isn't there something that will eliminate this embarrassing and uncomfortable situation?

A. Gaseousness is not a laughing matter. No one really knows why some people suffer more from belching, bloating and flatulence than others, but it is thought that diet may play an important role. Swallowed air may also contribute to the problem. Excessive swallowing may be caused by poorly fitted dentures or a dry mouth produced by certain drugs such as cold remedies, antidepressants, or blood pressure medications.

Belching may not be helpful even though it may seem to bring temporary relief because the very process of burping may cause you to swallow more air.

Instead of gulping down food, try eating very slowly in a relaxed atmosphere. Avoid soda pop, beer or any other carbonated beverage. Foods that have a bad reputation for causing gas should also be avoided, if possible. They include onions, beans, cabbage, limas, radishes, cauliflower, turnips and cucumbers.

People who are unaware that they are allergic to milk can get themselves into a gaseous nightmare if they consume dairy products. Keep a food diary and if possible try to determine which foods are causing your misery.

When it comes to remedies, there is some doubt that over-the-counter drugs will be helpful for your kind of problem. Simethicone, a common ingredient in many popular products, breaks up small bubbles to form larger ones. Whether this is particularly beneficial still remains to be established. Since you mentioned that you haven't obtained relief from any of the medications you have purchased it is unlikely that a non-prescription drug will do the job.

If none of the dietary suggestions is helpful and if air swallowing does not seem to be causing the problem, you had best visit a doctor. There are prescription drugs that may be helpful, such as bethanechol. Even more important is a good check-up. You could be suffering from something more serious, and excessive gas may only be a symptom.

Q. I'm a big coffee drinker but my doctor told me to lay off for awhile because the caffeine is giving me trouble. He says it is partly responsible for my insomnia and may contribute to my problems with diarrhea, heartburn and irregular heart beats. I don't care for decaffeinated coffee and am considering drinking tea instead. But my neighbor says that tea has the same amount of caffeine as coffee. Is that true?

A. Your average six-ounce cup of brewed coffee contains between 100 and 150 milligrams (mg) of caffeine, which is enough to have an effect on your system. Tea, on the other hand, generally ranges from 18 to 107 mg of caffeine, depending upon the brand and how it's prepared.

A recent article in "The American Journal of Clinical Nutrition" evaluated various kinds of tea and different methods of steeping in order to determine caffeine content. It reported that Tetley had the lowest level, closely followed by Lipton and Salada. Red Rose was at the high end, as was Twinning's Darjeeling.

Caffeine is all around you. Besides tea and coffee, cola beverages may contain anywhere from 35 to 72 mg in a 12 ounce bottle, and cocoa runs to around 50 mg per cup. Pain relievers such as Anacin or Empirin Compound contain around 32 mg per tablet, while Excedrin manages about twice that much (64.8 mg). A person who drinks four cups of coffee and a couple of cola drinks and then takes a headache remedy, might end up consuming over 800 mg of caffeine. As little as 250 mg (the amount in two of three cups of coffee) has been reported to raise diastolic blood pressure 14 percent.

The bottom line in all this caffeine confusion is that tea really is a good substitute for coffee if your doctor wants you to cut back. Your neighbor is all wet. Even a tea bag that has been allowed to steep four minutes usually only contains around half the caffeine of a cup of brewed coffee.

Got a question? Write to Joe Graedon, in care of this newspaper.

Speaker raises ire

AUSTIN (AP) — The chairman of the House Mexican-American caucus has vowed to block House Speaker Billy Clayton's election to any statewide office in 1982.

Rep. Paul Moreno, D-El Paso, said Sunday he expects Clayton to run for governor, and he will do everything he can to prevent the Speaker's election.

Clayton has said this term will be his last as speaker as he is thinking of running for a state office.

Henry II and Eleanor of Aquitaine were crowned rulers of England in 1155.

Jail issue may be revived

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — An old controversy over locating a new prison in the Lower Rio Grande Valley could come to life again in the Texas Senate this week.

Sen. Bill Moore, D-Bryan, served notice he will try to bring up his bill (S.B. 245), enabling the prison system to sell its Blue Ridge farm and spend the money on land elsewhere in the state.

Sen. Raul Longoria, D-Edinburg, said he will attempt by amendment to limit the bill unless he receives assurances from prison officials they would not try again to put a prison close to Edinburg.

Without such assurances, Longoria said Saturday, he will offer an amendment prohibiting construction of a prison in Hidalgo County west of U.S. 281.

Moore's bill would drop a legal requirement that any proceeds from selling the Blue Ridge farm in Harris County be used to buy land within a 75-mile radius of Huntsville. It also would enable the prison system to swap the farm for other land.

The bill would clear away the legal impediments cited by former Attorney General John Hill, an opinion that blocked the $8 million purchase of 6,740 acres near Edinburg last April.

Edinburg city officials opposed purchase of the land, saying they do not want their city to become a prison town.

Longoria said prison board member Joe La Mantia of McAllen, who heads the site selection committee, had told me they will not recognize any place where the local people don't want a prison.

He said he wants further assurances from W.J. Estelle, director of the Texas Department of Corrections.

An assistant director, Jack Kyle, told the Senate Finance Committee last week the department still wants the Edinburg site.

"The Edinburg Independent School District is adamantly against it because it would take all that good farm land from the tax rolls. That would mean a lot of money taken from the school district," Longoria said.

Teng liked state rodeo

HONG KONG (AP) — When Chinese Vice-Premier Teng Hsiao-ping went to Houston Rodeo last week he saw the courage of American cowboys rather than their trigger-happy drinking and gambling portrayed in Western movies, China's official Hsinhua news agency says.

The Hsinhua report from a Chinese journalist who accompanied Teng to Houston became available here today.

The reporter described the rodeo as "one of the three American contributions to world sports, the others being baseball and basketball.

"Rodeo is a unique and most American sports event, comprising competitions in such cowboy skills as bronco riding, wild bull riding and calf roping," he said.

"The show gave some indications of the rugged life and courage of the cowboys who made their share of contributions to the development of America's once wild and desolate West, instead of the gambling, drinking and trigger-happy cowboys one sees in the Western movies," the report said.

Lubbock man dies

GREEN RIVER, Utah (AP) — A Lubbock, Tex., truck driver was killed Sunday morning when the brakes on his Digby Freight Lines truck failed at the top of Spotted Wolf Pass, the Utah Highway Patrol reported.

The victim was identified as 28-year-old Dennis Craig Treece. Authorities said his rig went off the road on Interstate 70 about 14 miles west of Green River.

Passenger William Allen Silvis, 33, Norwalk, Calif., suffered a broken back and was in critical condition Sunday night at LDS Hospital in Salt Lake.

Weather

Texas weather

By The Associated Press
Snow and sleet glazed western parts of Texas early today and threatened to spread icing conditions southeastward into North Central Texas.
San Angelo, Abilene and Wichita Falls, were reporting sleet, snow or freezing drizzle at dawn, and travelers advisories were issued for the northern half of the state. But North Texas did not have a monopoly on the bad weather.
Fog was so thick in the Corpus Christi area that visibilities in parts of the Coastal Bend area were reduced to zero, and the National Weather Service issued a travelers advisory for motorists in that area too—as well as for ships at sea.
The National Weather Service said even usually sunny El Paso was threatened with the possibility of snow later today.
South of the line of freezing temperatures, widespread rain and fog made for miserable weather throughout the rest of the state.
The outlook was for generally continued cold temperatures and wet or icy weather.

National

Rainshowers dampened a wide area of the Gulf Coast today, extending from northern Florida and southern Georgia through much of Texas.
Some rain also fell in southeastern Arizona.
Rain turned into sleet across parts of north Texas where travelers advisories were posted. Accumulations of up to 4 inches of sleet and snow were expected in the area between Wichita Falls and Paris, Tex., with freezing rain mixed with sleet expected through much of today in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

WEATHER FORECAST by the National Weather Service calls for snow from the northern Plains into the upper Midwest and Great Lakes. Rain is predicted for most of the Southeast while snow flurries are expected in the northern Rockies. Cold weather is predicted across the nation.

Chinese leader concludes visit

SEATTLE (AP) — Teng Hsiao-ping concludes his visit to the United States today, leaving behind an invitation for U.S. leaders to forsake detente with the Soviet Union and join China in an informal alliance against the Russians.
The Chinese vice premier drew friendly crowds in Atlanta, Houston and Seattle. But long after the smiling little man in the gray Mao suit has left, the Carter administration is likely to be wrestling with the choices Teng has presented.
Interviews with administration officials who traveled with Teng indicate that there is no consensus in the White House or State Department on how to handle some of the specific policy questions that will arise in the wake of Teng's journey.
He has invited the West and Japan to give China science and technology, allowing Peking to modernize. He is also asking the West to join the world's largest country in a common cause against the Soviets — at a time when many in American politics are questioning the wisdom of detente with the Soviets.

Teng also issued separate invitations to President Carter and former President Richard M. Nixon to visit China. Both men accepted although no times were set. "It would be Nixon's third visit to China. Carter also got a commitment in principle for Premier Hua Kuo-feng to visit the United States.
Teng's Seattle stay ends with a scheduled breakfast meeting with editors and publishers from area newspapers.

Full trade relations, which most of the administration's China experts want next, will require quick resolution of the problems of frozen assets and property claims.
The United States has certified $196 million in claims against the Chinese for American property seized in the 1949 revolution. It has frozen about $90 million in Chinese assets. And, officials say, the Chinese are linking that problem to the recovery of the valuable Chinese embassy property in Washington, which the Taipei government has "sold" to a pro-Taiwan foundation for $1.
The officials saw progress on the claims issue during Teng's visit, and they think it possible Treasury Secretary Michael Blumenthal will be able to resolve it during his visit to Peking later this month.

But a solution to the claims question would only open the door to a trickier issue — whether to grant China most-favored nation status.
China has to get this status to be eligible for favorable tariff rates and credit and loan guarantees from the U.S. Export-Import Bank. Without credits, it is unlikely China can afford the American capital and equipment the Chinese want for modernization.
The Soviets have sought most-favored status for years but have been denied it under a 1974 amendment that requires a communist country to allow free emigration — unless the president asks Congress to waive this because it will lead to freer emigration.
Pressure is mounting to give the Chinese most-favored nation status. Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., a co-author of the amendment, spoke with Teng here Sunday and said he was told China would soon give public assurances that it has relaxed its emigration policies.

Although the Soviets have recently opened their gates wider for Jewish emigration, there is no indication Congress would approve a waiver for the Soviet Union.

Post office finances called good

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of mailing a letter probably won't rise for two years, unless inflation plays havoc with the Postal Service budget, the postmaster general says.
William F. Bolger, head of the U.S. Mail, says the Postal Service's finances are in good shape and no rate increases appear needed until the spring of 1981.

But there is a string attached — inflation. Most of the cost of handling mail is in salaries for workers, who get automatic cost-of-living pay increases tied to the inflation rate. Inflation pushes up Postal Service expenses and, consequently, postal rates.
"For every $200 million in additional expenses we incur, the next rate increase will have to be about one month sooner," Bolger said in an interview.
He also predicted that the current fiscal year that ends Sept. 30 will show a $180 million surplus, the first 12-month surplus since the postal reorganization of the early 1970s.
"Inflation is giving us the same problem that everyone else has, but I still think we can have the surplus because the volume of mail continues to go up," Bolger said.
Asked how much the next increase will be, Bolger said, "I have no idea. We haven't even started to put together the documentation for that."

Joint ventures appear very promising for you this coming year. One in particular, where you will be associated with someone very practical and ambitious, should pay off.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You have an instinctive knowledge of what is valuable to others as well as for yourself today. If you're looking to acquire something, do a little old-fashioned horse trading. Like to find out more about yourself? Send for your copy of the all-new Astro-Graph Letter for 1979 by mailing $1 for each and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth sign.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't be shy about accepting help when offered. Others want to lend a hand and will be hurt if you don't allow them to do so.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Starting the day in a good frame of mind helps you to tackle your work. You'll do a better job because it won't seem like drudgery.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You're a good friend to have around today. If you see a pal needing help with anything, you'll pitch in before you're asked.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Although you're not a stay-at-home, that's where your interests lie today. You need to touch home plate once in a while to recharge yourself.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Extra money jingling in your pocket will be the result of paying attention to small details today. Things have a way of adding up.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) By tackling priority issues first you'll reap unexpected benefits that will put you on a good track for the next couple of days.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Patience is your long suit and it'll pay off today. The clock is in your corner, giving you more time to gain control over important situations.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Take the time to digest new or revolutionary ideas presented to you over the weekend. You'll then be able to put them to the proper use.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The little things you'll remember to do for people today make you popular among your peers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There's a world of difference between your outlook today, as opposed to yesterday. With a positive attitude you'll apply effort necessary for success.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) There's no pulling the wool over your eyes today and you'll let others know it. You've done your homework and know the answers.

Dear Abby

by abigail van buren

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to K in Pontiac had to be your biggest blunder of 1978. K, a young married woman, was asked during a job interview, "Do you plan to start a family in the near future?" K was flabbergasted. She then asked you, Dear Abby, the great oracle, "Is that a proper question to ask a female applicant, or am I getting all shog up about a legitimate request for information?"

Your naive response: "When a new employee is hired, the employer makes an investment in time and training, and therefore has the right to know if the applicant plans to have a family or not—and, if so, when."

Abby, that question was not only improper, it was ILLEGAL. Please set the record straight.

DEAR J: I did set the record straight in my column of Jan 15, but I'm still being assaulted by a hail of mail! There's a lesson to be learned here: that which is logical is not always legal.

DEAR ABBY: Concerning the woman who was asked in a job interview if she planned to have a baby in the future: It is unlawful for a job interviewer to ask that question. The following are some do's and don'ts for questions during employment interviews. Bear in mind that some questions may not be asked prior to hiring because the law forbids them. Other questions, while not forbidden by law, might later be the basis for legal action.

- Questions that should not be asked:
- What is your age?
  - What is your date of birth?
  - Do you have children? If so, how old are they?
  - What is your race?
  - What church do you attend?
  - Are you married, divorced, separated, widowed or single?
  - Have you ever been arrested?
  - What kind of military discharge do you have?
  - What clubs or organizations do you belong to?
  - Do you rent or own your own home?
  - What does your wife (husband) do?
  - Who lives in your household?
  - Have your wages ever been attached or garnished?
  - What was your maiden name (in interviews with female applicants)?
- Questions that may be asked:
- How many years experience do you have?
  - (To a housewife) Why do you want to return to work?
  - What are your career goals?
  - Who have been your prior employers?
  - Why did you leave your previous job?
  - Are you a veteran? Did the military provide you with job related experience?
  - If you have no phone, where can we reach you?
  - What languages do you speak fluently?
  - Can you do extensive traveling?
  - Who recommended you to us?
  - What did you like, or dislike, about your previous jobs?
  - What is your educational background? What schools did you attend?
  - What do you think are your strong points? Weaknesses?
  - Do you have any objection if we check with your former employer for references?

Dr. Lamb

by lawrence lamb m.d.

DEAR DR. LAMB: I was watching the Mike Douglas show and heard a discussion on surrogate mothers. Mike Douglas interviewed a couple and the wife was sterile. A girlfriend of the wife then became the surrogate mother. As I understood it, the sperm cells from the husband were used to cause the other woman to get pregnant. She bore the child, and then the child belonged to the married couple.

My question is, whose child is this, really? I mean, won't the child be half like the mother who birthed it rather than half like the mother who raised it?

DEAR READER: Yes, you're right. Genetics isn't very much concerned with social arrangements. A child born because of the union of an egg (ovum) and sperm cell has the genetic characteristics of the woman who produced the ovum and the father who produced the sperm cell. It doesn't matter whether this union is induced in a test tube by artificial insemination or by the natural sex act. The end result, genetically, is the same.

After that, it doesn't matter if the child is adopted by entirely different parents or who raises the child; it will have no real influence on the genetic origins of the child. In the situation you describe, even though the woman who bore the child was not the wife, she is genetically the mother, whether or not the man's wife is the legal mother.

The same thing would apply to any surrogate mother. All children that she births, as a result of her ova, are all half hers, genetically.

DEAR DR. LAMB: My 22-year-old son has recently been diagnosed as having mononucleosis. Can you tell me something about it?

Watch your calories carefully-exercise

COUNT CALORIES CAREFULLY

(This is the twelfth in a series of 15 articles in which Josephine Lowman, author of "Why Grow Old?" and leading authority on health and beauty, tells you exactly what to do to lose 20 pounds in eight weeks. You may want to save these menus and exercises to refer back to during the eight-week period.)

Forget the crystal and wine! Turn off the soft music and blow out the candles! Today, emotional and psychological factors are credited with being important in the development of obesity. Many studies have indicated that overweights are much more influenced by the atmosphere in which they eat than by the internal mechanism which tells them when their body needs food and when they have had enough.

A recent study of St. Luke's Hospital in New York City showed that overweight people will eat more than twice as much food, if the surroundings are pleasant. Also, it is now recognized that boredom, frustration, grief, loneliness or any kind of emotional turmoil, either conscious or unconscious, often leads to overweight. Such people turn to food for comfort, security and pleasure. There has been a lot of reasearch to discover the differences between the eating patterns of overweights and people of normal weight. The time of day, or habit, seems to play a part. Overweights are hungry when it is the usual time to eat. Even if they had a many-caloried lunch they are just as hungry again at dinner time. In other words, they respond to time and environment rather than to the internal signals or cues from their bodies.

This doesn't mean that all overweights are unhappy or have problems, or that all slim gals are happy. However, if you have difficulty losing pounds you would be wise to discover the reasons for your overeating. All of us have a tendency to eat when we are worried or troubled. I think the above facts will be helpful to every reducer.

Perhaps you should not glamorize the atmosphere at meal time when losing weight: Someone suggested that a reducer should sit in front of a mirror when eating. I cannot imagine anything that would take my appetite more quickly or be more boring. Can you? I fear that would speed me through my meal.

Count calories at first! This is crucial if your internal mechanism has stopped jelling

You, too, can lose from 15 to 20 pounds in eight weeks and get ready to spring into spring! Send for the BIP kit. This gives you all of the instruction necessary. 14 full days of NEW calorie-counted menus, spot reducing exercises, a calorie chart and a wall chart on which to plot your progress and see your beauty line rise as your weight line drops. For your kit, send $1 and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the BIP kit to Josephine Lowman, in care of this newspaper.

NEXT MONDAY: DON'T BE A LATE RAIDER

Deafness didn't slow woman

By Carolyn Ondrejas

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (NEA) - Kitty O'Neil isn't afraid of anything.

She plunges from atop 13-story buildings, crashes speeding cars and motorcycles into brick walls, tumbles from galloping horses and staggers engulfed in fire from burning vans just after they explode.

"I've never been afraid... I grew up with speed. I love to be on fire, to wreck, to go fast," says the daring darling of the stunt world.

Except for the time she sped down a steep hill on a bicycle at age 12 and got "all scratched up," O'Neil says she has never been hurt—not while performing numerous movie and television stunts and not while attempting to break the speed of sound, a goal she is determined to reach.

O'Neil hopes to break the sound barrier by 1980 in the hydrogen peroxide-powered rocket dragster that is being built for her. She reached a terminal speed of 618 miles per hour in a similar craft two years ago to break the women's land speed record. (The current world land speed record of 622 miles per hour is held by Gary Gabelich.)

The fastest woman on wheels has been deaf since birth. But that has never held her back.

"Being deaf is not a handicap or defeating. It is a challenge to conquer, similar to being called on to do a difficult stunt," O'Neil insists.

"I want to show I can do anything," she adds. Eventually she wants to work with other deaf people—"teach them to get involved with sports or other challenges and overcome their handicaps."

Tiny, dark and vivacious, O'Neil reads lips and answers questions with her blue-green eyes sparkling. The half-Indian, half-Irish daredevil stands only 5 feet 3 inches tall and weighs 98 pounds.

The stunt woman says she must be in good physical condition for her work. So, she practices karate and stunts faithfully and runs at least three miles a day at the ranch home in Fillmore, Calif., that she shares with her husband, stuntman Duffy Hambleton.

O'Neil says her work takes "a lot of faith." A born-again Christian, she whispers a prayer before every stunt and every attempt at breaking a speed record.

"The first time they had her heartbeat and voice and breathing hooked up to a loudspeaker to monitor them—and this little voice suddenly came over the loudspeaker, praying, 'Dear God, help me,' there wasn't a dry eye in the place," recalls Dolly Hicklin, O'Neil's sister-in-law.

Born in the Texas town of Corpus Christi, O'Neil settled with her family in Wichita Falls, where she lived until moving to California at 16 to train for the 1964 Olympic diving team. As an AAU Junior Olympics diving champion, O'Neil won 38 blue ribbons, 17 first-place trophies and 31 gold medals.

Only a bout of spinal meningitis prevented her from competing in the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo. O'Neil says that was the only goal she ever had to abandon.

In addition to becoming a diving and swimming champion despite her handicap, O'Neil also learned to play the cello and piano. Her early music teacher recalls that the child would know she had played a wrong note before the tone sounded; she could sense the vibrations before the sound reached the teacher's ears.

O'Neil attributes her success to God—and, perhaps surprisingly, to her deafness. "I can concentrate better and my equilibrium is better," she explains.

O'Neil's story will be told in a two-hour television special starring Stockard Channing that is scheduled to air in late February.

And Mattel has developed a Kitty O'Neil doll that she says looks so much like her that it's uncanny. But it's difficult to imagine that O'Neil ever sat still long enough to enjoy anything as safe and peaceful as playing with dolls.

Gwyn achieves New York 'miracle'

By Norman Nadel

NEW YORK (NEA) - "Kid, if you come into town like this and you've found people who want to show your work, you've experienced an unadulterated miracle."

Ivan Carp of the O.K. Harris galleries in Lower Manhattan's SoHo art colony was telling it as it is. Every year, thousands of emerging painters try to get one New York dealer to exhibit their creations. Seldom does one succeed. They must compete not only with each other, but with well-known artists whose market value is well established. Breaking in is tough.

Nevertheless, a few weeks ago, Woody Gwyn (no "kid" at 34, though he has that look), flew east from his home just outside Santa Fe, N.M., to show some of the things he's been doing. Result: offers from three Manhattan dealers.

He accepted the one from the prestigious Allan Stone galleries, well-situated on upper Madison Avenue, and will have his first exhibition there in June. If it's anything like the showings at galleries in his native Southwest, it will sell out.

Although he's worked with a variety of subjects, including a series of highway scenes, Gwyn decided about five years ago that he wanted to concentrate on landscapes. As luck would have it, something called post-modernist landscape painting happens to be the style that is just coming into wide popularity around here. So Gwyn's canvases couldn't have hit the local market at a better time.

All his work is strong, crisp, explicit, with dramatic shadows contrasting bright, clarion light. Often there is a dominant diagonal—frequently the line between sun and shadow, or the converging sides of the highway pavement—that commands your attention the moment you walk into a room.

Several years ago my wife and I spent more than we ever had before (or since)

WIDOWS PLENTIFUL WASHINGTON (AP) - A recent survey shows there are more than 10 million widows in the United States, and they outnumber widowers 5 to 1.

The American Council of Life Insurance says women not only outlive men in this country by an average of about eight years, they also tend to marry men who are at least several years their seniors.

to realize that I could live out here in New Mexico for the rest of my life and sell my work and make a good living, and still never be heard of in New York," he explains. "That's why I'm going out on a limb; it's a challenge."

Right now he doesn't have anything in the Elaine Horowitz galleries in Santa Fe and Scottsdale, Ariz., at all. As soon as he paints anything, somebody buys it, at prices ranging from $1,500 to $7,500. He has to work hard to build a stock for the New York showing in June, and keep it out of the hands of prospective buyers until then.

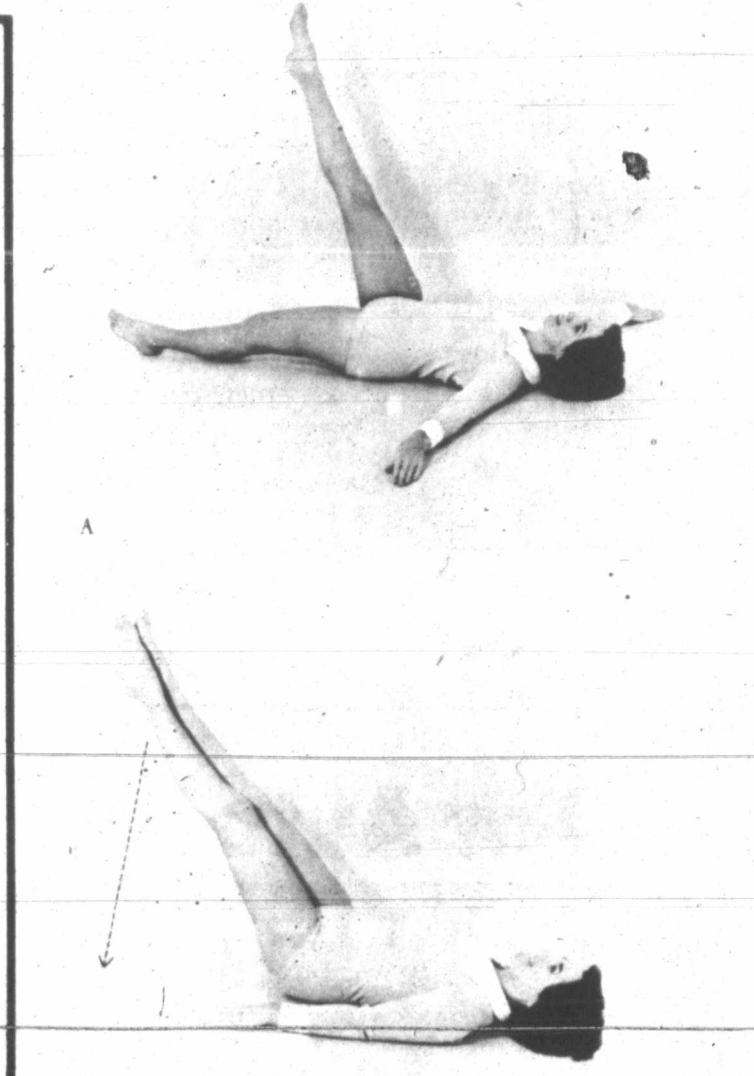

Born in San Antonio, Woody grew up in West Texas, around Stanton, about 15 miles west of Big Spring. Having started painting at 12, he knew at 18 that he wanted to be an artist.

"The closest thing to an artist in Texas was Peter Hurd," he relates. "So I phoned him up one day and asked if I could come out and talk with him. He and Mrs. Hurd (another of the Wyeth girls) advised me to go East to study, so I did for a while with her sister, Carolyn Wyeth, when I was 19."

"The people in the East suggested that, as I could draw about as well as they could teach drawing, I should go home and just paint."

About five years ago I decided that—whether it was pertinent to anybody besides me didn't matter—landscape was my strongest impulse as an artist. That's why we (including wife and two daughters) moved to New Mexico. We'd been living about 60 miles from San Antonio, on the Guadalupe river. Out here in New Mexico the landscape is so fantastic—the quality of the light, the clarity of the atmosphere. That was a very liberating decision."

Trim your abdomen

This is an easy abdominal exercise. Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight, arms extending out from your shoulders, palms toward the floor. Raise your left leg with a stiff knee as high as you can. Raise your right leg up to the left. Slowly lower legs to the floor with straight knees. This time raise your right leg. The left joins the right and both are lowered to the floor. Continue, alternating.

Hinkle wins three-man playoff at Crosby

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Things were going so bad for Lon Hinkle that his competitors — the men who were trying to beat him — were feeling sorry for him.

"I didn't think I had a chance," he said. Somehow, with the famed Pebble Beach Golf Links taking its exacting toll of the challengers, Hinkle survived a split finger, his own 77 and "the worst looking putting you've ever saw" to win the Bing Crosby National Pro-Am in a three-man sudden death playoff. He did it by sinking his only birdie of the day on the third playoff hole. "This probably was the toughest day I've ever had," the emotionally drained Hinkle murmured Sunday after he holed a 10-footer to turn back

Mark Hayes and Andy Bean in the playoff that was blocked out to half the country. CBS went to regular programming in the Eastern and Central time zones while the playoff was in progress. Highlights were shown later in the night of one of golf's stranger tournaments. Hinkle started with a 5 shot lead, but blew it in eight holes.

Hayes had a 3-shot lead at one time. He blew it in 90 seconds with a four-putt green. Bean had a chance to win it all, after starting the day eight shots back.

Hinkle came from 3 behind without benefit of a birdie to gain a spot in the playoff. "I was sweating blood," he said.

Tennis, girls golf join PHS sports calendar

Golf and tennis join basketball in this week's schedule for Pampa High School sports activities.

David Martin's tennis team, which opened its spring season over the weekend with a tie for third place in the Snyder Tournament, will host Lubbock Estacado (10 a.m.) and Dunbar (2 p.m.) for dual matches Saturday.

The girls golf team, under coach Beth Bowman, tees off for the first time in 1978 at Friday's Plainview Invitational.

Pampa's girls and boys varsity basketball teams will continue district play. The boys will travel to Palo Duro Tuesday and Amarillo High Friday to close out their regular season, while the Lady Harvesters host the Dons and Sandies to open the second half of their District 3-AAAA competition.

All of Pampa's junior high basketball teams will play in district tournaments Friday and Saturday, with the girls ninth grade event scheduled for the Pampa Middle School.

MONDAY

Basketball — Junior high girls teams vs. Canyon Purple, Pampa Middle School, 4 p.m.; Junior high boys Blue teams vs. La Plata, Pampa Middle School, 4 p.m.; Junior High boys Red teams vs. Canyon Purple at Canyon.

TUESDAY

Basketball — Boys junior varsity and varsity vs. Palo Duro at Palo Duro, 6 and 7:45 p.m.; Girls junior varsity and varsity vs. Palo Duro, Harvester Field House, 6 and 7:45 p.m.

FRIDAY

Golf — Girls varsity at Plainview Tournament.

Basketball — Girls varsity vs. Amarillo High, Harvester Field House, 6 and 7:45 p.m.; Boys junior varsity and varsity vs. Amarillo High at Amarillo, 6 and 7:45 p.m.; Girls ninth grade district tournament, Pampa Middle School; Boys ninth grade district tournament at Borger; Girls eighth grade district tournament at Hereford; Boys eighth grade district tournament at Plainview.

SATURDAY

Tennis — Pampa High vs. Lubbock Estacado, PHS courts, 10 a.m.; Pampa High vs. Lubbock Dunbar, PHS courts, 2 p.m.

Basketball — Girls ninth grade tournament, Pampa Middle School; Boys ninth grade tournament in Borger; Girls eighth grade tournament in Hereford; Boys eighth grade tournament in Plainview.

Thompson MVP of All-Star game

West plodders rip East

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — The National Basketball Association's All-Star game may have helped dispel the myth that the Western Conference is dominated by big but plodding players.

After 6-foot-3 David Thompson of the Denver Nuggets scored 25 points, led the West to a 134-129 triumph and earned the game's Most Valuable Player honors Sunday, West Coast Len Wilkens of the Seattle SuperSonics said: "People have said that the West teams have been big and slow. I thought we were big but not slow."

"This game goes to show that the balance of power is not strictly in the East, as people have thought," Wilkens said. It was Thompson, Denver's third-year forward, who supplied the power Sunday.

Thompson, who missed the only All-Star practice Saturday because his plane arrived late, was the runaway star of the run-and-gun contest.

"I thought David had an outstanding game," said Wilkens. "I would concur (with the MVP voting). I thought he deserved it."

For Washington Coach Dick Motta, who handled the East, the game had more fun than disappointment. "I learned a lot about other people I compete against for a living," he said. "If a fan didn't get what he came for today, he's not really a fan. There were stiff shots and there was great individual play. It was not a guard's game."

With most of the world's best players under one roof, and the teams taking only a token practice, it was inevitable that the game would be an offensive show.

"Usually the team that comes in and takes the tempo takes the game," Wilkens said. "I think that's what we did."

The East was hurting, he said, because it had only three guards in its 11-man lineup and lacked the quick backcourt which might have been able to stop the West's fast breaks.

"We were trying to push the ball down the court as fast as we could," Wilkens said.

So, even though the wind-chill factor made it 19 degrees below zero outside the Silverdome, the court was red-hot. And the 31,745 fans at the giant stadium loved it.

Thompson and guard Paul Westphal of the Phoenix Suns topped the West with 14 and 13 points, respectively, in the first half as the winners built an 80-68 lead. The East pulled to within five points early in the final period, but Thompson scored four baskets in the last five minutes to put the victory away.

Thompson collected 76 of a possible 114 MVP votes from the sports writers and broadcasters in attendance. The East's Julius Erving of Philadelphia was the runnerup with 29 votes.

Erving led all scorers with 29 points and grabbed eight rebounds in 39 minutes, the most court time of any player. George Gervin of San Antonio added 26 points, Washington's Elvin Hayes had 13 points and led with 13 rebounds, and Rudy Tomjanovich of Houston chipped in 12 points.

Also in double figures for the East were Detroit Pistons star Bob Lanier and New Orleans' Pete Maravich with 10 each.

Westphal had 17 points and Thompson's teammate George McGinnis 16 for the West. Seattle's Dennis Johnson and Jack Sikma excelled down the stretch and wound up with 12 and 8 points, respectively.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of Los Angeles scored 11 and led the West with eight rebounds while Marques Johnson of Milwaukee contributed 10 points.

The West's 80 points in the first half were six short of the All-Star game record for a half, set by the 1962 West squad. The team tied a pair of game records with 19 field goal attempts in the second quarter and 35 in the first half. Both marks had been set in 1962 when the West won 150-130.

Carner garners 2nd Triple Crown

RANCHO MIRAGE, Calif. (AP) — JoAnne Carner wishes the Ladies Professional Golf Association would stage more match play tournaments. The other touring pros are probably thankful there's only one.

Playing devastating golf in the head-to-head competition, Carner swept to her second consecutive championship in the $100,000 Triple Crown with a 4-and-3 victory over Pat Bradley Sunday at Mission Hills Country Club.

"Let's make all the LPGA tournaments match play," a smiling Carner said after she collected the $23,000 first prize check.

The 39-year-old Carner, who didn't join the LPGA tour until she was 30, posted four decisive victories in her Triple Crown matches.

Douglass takes crown at Snyder Tournament

SNYDER — Kris Douglass won five straight matches on her way to the No. 1 girls singles crown at the Snyder Tennis Tournament over the weekend.

The Pampa High netters opened their spring season by finishing in a tie for third in the six-team standings. Brownwood won the team trophy, with Brownfield second and the Harvesters and Snyder tied for third.

Douglass started off her victory skein with a 6-3, 6-1 decision over Sylvia Jayfield of Sweetwater, whipped Rose Linda Garcia of Brownfield 6-2, 6-3 and polished off Brownwood's number one player by a 7-5, 6-1 count.

Seminole's Rochelle Cox fell 6-4, 6-1 before Snyder's Diane Centell was a 6-1, 6-1 victim in the finals.

Jack Redus, playing in the No. 2 boys singles slot, recorded a pair of victories. He topped John Cody of Brownfield 7-5, 1-6, 6-1 and Seminole's Russ King 4-6, 6-1, 6-1.

Other victories recorded by the Harvesters included Kurt Krause's 7-5, 6-1 decision over Bronson Textiller of Seminole and Laura Johnson's 6-4, 7-6 triumph over Brownwood's number two girls player.

Krause was playing in the No. 1 boys slot, while Johnson was Pampa's No. 2 entry in girls singles.

The Harvesters didn't win a doubles match, but Coach David Martin gave Mark Spence and Greg Trolinger credit for holding their own against more experienced competition as Pampa's No. 1 boys duet.

Lubbock Estacado and Dunbar will invade the Pampa for dual matches. The Harvesters will meet Estacado at 10 a.m. and Dunbar at 2 p.m.

Dallas group wants franchise

DALLAS (AP) — A group of Dallas businessmen has executed its version of a full-court press in efforts to get the National Basketball Association to turnover a franchise for Texas' second largest city.

The Dallas group already had its foot in the door when the NBA Board of Governors voted Saturday in Detroit to consider applications for two new teams the league hopes to add in the 1980-81 season.

Donald Carter heads the group that had an application on file even before the board of governors took its vote.

Dallas' downtown Reunion Arena is expected to be completed by 1980. And promoters here hope the new sports center will lend muscle to the city's push for a franchise.

However, Dallas is just one of seven cities competing for the two teams, and NBA commissioner Larry O'Brien said that list is not exclusive.
