Haskell loses out in contest

Haskell didn't make the finals in the state beautification program, but there is no doubt it emerged a winner.

"Any town that can show more change and more community togetherness deserves the governor's award and we congratulate the finalists," commented Bobby Hobgood, chairman of the Beautify Haskell Council.

Finalists among the 16 entrants in Haskell's population category are Caldwell, Forney and Gun Barrel City. One of these will be chosen for the top honor.

"We all share a disappointment that the choice was not Haskell, but we also share tremendous pride in our joint accomplishment in making Haskell more beautiful," Hobgood said.

Co-sponsored by the City of Haskell and the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, the local effort involved virtually every organization, every business, every school and every church.

Citizens are urged to drive up and down the streets in the residential areas and throughout the business district to see the results of man and nature, and to continue to clean up, repair and beautify their premises out of pride and self-satisfaction.

Hobgood thanked the hundreds of participants who have worked so hard on the project.

Patchwork workshop next month

Two Haskell County extension homemakers, Kim Crawford and Kay Smith, will conduct a two-Saturday Seminole Patchwork workshop next month.

A $15 fee, covering both sessions, will be due at the first session.

Enrollment will be limited to the first 15 people who sign up. Deadline for sign up is 5 p.m. Wednesday, June 1. Enrollment may be made by calling the county extension office (864-2546) or by coming by the office at 101 S. Ave. D.

A list of items needed for the workshop will be given to each person enrolling.

All teenagers of the area are invited to attend.

Haskell to welcome planes, pilots Saturday

Final preparations are underway for the Haskell Fly-In and Pilot's Breakfast, to be held Saturday at Haskell Municipal Airport. The fly-in is sponsored by the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

Bud Lane, project chairman, pointed out that this is a great opportunity for Haskell to showcase the fine airport facilities here. "Aviation plays such a vital role in the economy of West Texas, we want to remind everyone what an asset it is for a community to have a good airport," said Lane. "We also want to determine the possibilities of hosting a large air show at some point in the future."

The event is scheduled to coincide with the 11th annual Breckenridge Air Show which will be Sunday. Commitments have been secured from several pilots of World War II aircraft to bring their historic planes to Haskell for the fly-in. The Big Country Squadron of the Confederate Air Force is also scheduled to bring at least two vintage airplanes, including a 1941 BT-13 trainer.

In addition, the Texas Chiefs Model Airplane Club has agreed to participate Saturday. This local group of radio-controlled aircraft flyers will bring several of their miniature planes and put on a demonstration of their piloting skills.

Numerous local citizens and groups have assisted with planning this event. Some of these include Bud Lane, project chairman and fundraising; Cliff Ray, contact and fundraising; Dusty Garrison, CAP Mason and public relations; Tom Watson, food committee; Don Comedy and local pilots, safety and air operations; and Bob Baker, airport operations.

Mayor Greg Melton and State Rep. Rick Perry will welcome everyone to the event. Gene Plunkett and members of the American Legion will handle parking, and Chamber of Commerce members will register pilots and handle guest relations. Jim Bridwell and Bridwell Spraying

Pecan tree spraying dates given

The pecan nut casebearer is the most damaging pest of pecans in Haskell County.

The first generation pecan nut casebearers cause most of the damage. One larva can often destroy all the nutlets in a cluster. Timing of control measures for the pecan nut casebearer is important. The insecticidal application should be made to control the larvae after they hatch and before they have entered the small nutlets.

For best control of this insect, pecan trees should be sprayed from May 28 to June 3.

A second spray application will be needed when new casebearer nutlet damage is observed six to seven days after the first spray application.

Plunkett heads Legion

Gene Plunkett was installed as commander of the Haskell American Legion in ceremonies last Tuesday, conducted by Gus Satterfield of Burkburnett, 13th district commander.

Installation ceremonies followed the election of officers.

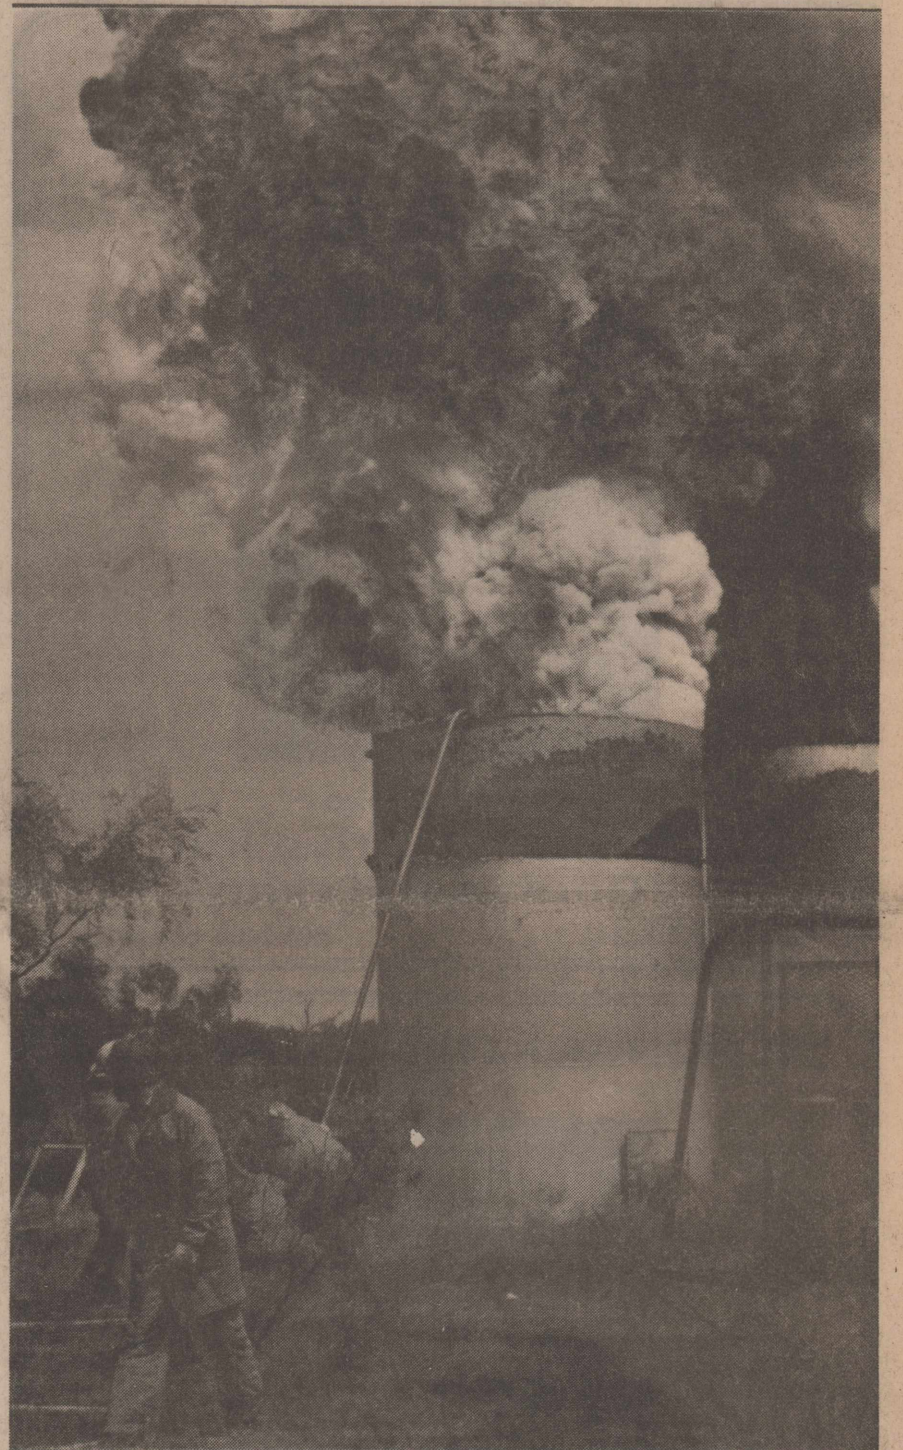

Other officers installed included Truett Parson, adjutant; D. N. Foil, first vice commander; David Davis, second vice commander; Danny Green, finance officer; D. E. Livengood, service officer; Jay Strickland, chaplain; Roy Pittman, sergeant-at-arms; and Olen King, judge advocate.

Service are providing hangar space to host the breakfast.

Fly-in activities will begin at 7:30 a.m. and conclude around 11 a.m. Admission is $2 per person. The price includes breakfast which will be served until 10 a.m. All visiting pilots will be able to purchase aviation fuel for $1 per gallon. Prizes will be awarded for the oldest pilot, the longest flight and the best warbird.

"The Chamber believes there is tremendous local interest in aviation," said Lane. "We want to encourage everyone to come out to the airport Saturday morning, eat breakfast, see the planes and have a good time. It should be a lot of fun for the whole family."

Fight fire

Haskell firemen help extinguish a fire Friday afternoon, caused when lightning struck an oil storage tank battery near Rule.

Many prizes await Party '88 guests

Response of merchants and individuals to Party '88 has been exciting. Many gifts have been collected and additional prizes are being purchased with donated funds from participating merchants.

The generous outpouring of funds and the time spent in party planning and preparation are evidence of the concern of Haskell County adults for their youth.

Tickets to Six Flags, Wet 'n Wild and Ranger baseball games, games, color TVs, microwaves and a host of other gifts will be awarded during the night.

Among cash awards are two $250 scholarships marked for college-bound seniors and a $200 gift in memory of Renee Martin of Aspermont. Had Renee not died in an accident a few years ago she would have graduated with the class of 1988. Her family made the donation to the Haskell County safe graduation party in appreciation of local merchants' contributions to the Aspermont party held each year in Renee's memory.

Only Haskell County students are eligible for drawings to be made from the three registration containers. Teens presently in grades 9-12 will register in one. Seniors only will sign cards for the senior bucket. The third is for college-age kids. All names will remain in the containers throughout the party.

Students are entitled to keep only one gift drawn from each bucket. If the same name is drawn twice from the same registration container, that person must choose which of the two prizes to keep, returning one to be awarded to another student. (Seniors are registered twice, and they alone may keep two gifts--one from the senior bucket and one from the 9-12 grade bucket.)

Certain gifts are specified for a particular type individual---a Rochester senior, a Haskell student, etc.--and names will be drawn until one fits the donor's requirements.

Owens Electric and Debi Burson will video the party and the "That's Someone's Daddy" style show, back by popular demand. Copies of the video may be purchased at Owens.

Come party with Triple Shot, watch a movie or try the game room. Have a Kiwanis hamburger and a stack of Lions pancakes with breakfast meats, cooked by party hosts. You're guaranteed a good time and a good chance to take home a nice prize.

She wore a halo wreath of lace and lillies of the valley fell to her shoulders in the back. The bride's bouquet was a long cascade of white, blue and mauve roses with stephonitis and English Ivy.

Following the tradition, for something old the bride carried a white linen handkerchief which belonged to her late great-grandmother, Mrs. J. A. Felker. Something new was her dress and headpiece, something borrowed was a pearl necklace belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Albert Hannsz, and something blue was her garter. She also wore a lucky sixpence in her shoe.

The double-ring vows were pledged before large arched candelabras holding mauve tapers and bows. The pews were marked with blue and mauve bows.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Michelle Stout of Abilene. Bridesmaids were Emily Thornhill of Haskell and Susie Griggs of Fort Worth. They each wore blue satin tea-length dresses featuring low-cut necklines with large double ruffles and gathered midriffs. They wore halo wreaths of blue, mauve and white roses and carried stems of roses matching their halo wreaths.

Junior bridesmaid was Breann Peiser and flower girl was Bergen Peiser, both of Haskell and cousins of the bride. They wore identical dresses of blue satin accented with white lace and puff sleeves and wore halo wreaths identical to the bridesmaids'. The flower basket was white accented with mauve ribbon and mauve rose petals.

The groom was attired in a light gray tuxedo with white shirt and blue bow tie and cummerbund. His boutonniere was small blue and mauve rosebuds that complimented the bride's bouquet.

Serving the groom as best man was Bobby Lowack of Old Glory. Groomsmen were Lanham Martin of Albany and Jimmy Teichelman of Sagerton, brother-in-law of the groom.

Junior groomsman was Chad Teichelman of Sagerton, nephew of the groom.

Each of the groomsmen wore a light gray tuxedo with white shirt and blue bow tie and cummerbunds and boutonnières were blue, mauve, and white rosebuds.

Ring bearer was Clay Hannsz, cousin of the bride. He wore a gray tuxedo identical to the groomsmen and carried a white satin and lace pillow.

Ousted school head charges 'politics'

AUSTIN—Southwest Texas State University President Robert Hardesty was fired last week by a 5-4 vote of the Texas State University System regents.

Regents named Michael Abbott, 43, SWTSU executive vice president, as interim president.

Hardesty claims his allegiance and relationship with former Gov. Mark White caused the dismissal, effective June 30. Hardesty said he was accused by regents last ground on two fronts last week. He picked up several endorsements for his plan to remedy school funding inequities, and his active campaign to win the 1990 lieutenant governorship is gaining popular support.

After Bullock's recent speech to a crowd of 1,600 in Midland, one man commented he saw Democrats conversing there who hadn't spoken to one another for years.

Bullock warned rich school districts not to hold out against his plan hoping for a better deal, because it was likely that alternative plans would treat them much worse.

He will likely lobby those districts by saying his plan avoids what rich districts fear: consolidation of districts and loss of local control.

Mountains, Molehills

Is there some astrological reason why candidates who ought to know better are resorting to cheap tricks to get media coverage?

Or is it just another status quo election year?

Railroad commission hopeful Ed Emmett held a news conference to demand that opponent Jim Nugent fire his political consultant for "making personal threats" against Emmett.

The individual in question, Jim Baker, had commented in jest that Emmett had better lock up his oldest child and his wallet because they were coming after him.

Emmett made it into a vicious threat to get media attention, which it did.

So did Nugent's reply that Baker hadn't worked for him since 1980, and that from what he knew of Emmett, his wallet wasn't worth taking.

Other Highlights

- Former Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace is mentioned more and more as the man Texas should send to monitor OPEC meetings, rather than a sitting commissioner or candidate.

- Houston Congressman Mike Andrews said he's not interested in running for U.S. Senator against Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower, who has all but formally announced for the 1990 race.

- His campaign manager said Texas Supreme Court Justice William O. Kilgarlin checked into a Florida weight clinic for two weeks and denied the rumor it was for alcoholism. He weighed over 300 pounds when he left, one colleague said.

- State highway officials will consider building a $489 million "Southern Border Highway" from Brownsville to Fort Stockton. Supporters say it will help the area economy as well as control illegal aliens and drug smuggling.

November of writing political speeches for White.

A one-paragraph statement was issued quoting board chairman Ruben Escobedo of San Antonio of saying only that Hardesty was fired due to "philosophical differences" with regents.

Of the five regents who voted to dismiss Hardesty, three were appointed by Gov. Bill Clements and two, including Escobedo, were named by White. The terms of the latter two expire next year.

Among White's campaign financial supporters were Hardesty and his wife, Mary, who had been White's press secretary when he was attorney general and was on his staff when he was governor.

Clements Seeks S&L Aid

Gov. Bill Clements went to Washington last week in seek of aid for Texas lenders. While he was there, the feds merged five Texas savings and loan associations in the largest such transaction thus far.

Federal officials also told Texas it ranked second behind Illinois in the site selection process for the lucrative supercollider.

Texas plans to spend $6.7 million to convince the feds to build the $5.3 billion project near Waxahachie.

Maverick Bank Account

State Treasurer Ann Richards said the Texas Department of Commerce has deposited more than $50,000 in a private bank account instead of with the state treasury.

She says it violates a 1987 state law mandating that private donations raised by the agency must be deposited in the treasury.

The agency contends no law is being broken because the donations are to a non-profit foundation, which was established for tax purposes. The funds are used for travel, entertainment and gifts.

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

It's a whole new world out there. Fast-paced. Fleeting. Not enough hours in the day. Gotta make every minute count. No room for wasted words.

Columnist Barbara Nanes of Staten Island, N.Y., tells of this recent family conversation:

"Did you catch the NFC/AFC playoffs on TV?" my husband asked.

The kid shook his head. "Nope. That was on ABC, right?"

"NBC," said his father. "Opposite the FDR documentary on PBS."

"Missed 'em both. But I caught this great movie on HBO about a former POW who returns home to LA after his family's given him up for MIA. Loses his job with UPS when they find out he's been exposed to DDT, so he ends up spending all his time guzzling J&B and OJ and tripping out on LSD. Lives on junk food—M&Ms, PB&J. All his friends are working for places like IBM and ITT, but he never bothers to change out of his PJs."

"I think I saw that once," my husband said. "He finally O.D.s and has an NBD, thinks he's JFK."

"Yep. So they send him to a VA hospital where he meets an RN whose got PMS and a touch of TB. She showers him with TLC. Next thing you know she finds out she's got the Big C because her mother took DES. She also smoked three packs of L&Ms a day. Well, she gets through OR just fine, but dies in ICU because everyone is busy BSing and they don't notice that her IV has run dry."

"Right, right," said my husband. "Then he freaks out and steals a late-model BMW. Takes off for DC and before you know it he's mixed up with the KKK. But when the NAACP gets on his case, the poor SOB ends up selling military secrets to the KGB. Then the FBI puts out an APB, and when they catch up with him, he loses his US citizenship."

"Then one day he goes into convulsions," continued the kid, "and by the time they get him to the nearest ER, he's DOA. Never even knew he had VD. The worst part is he's got no ID on him, so all it says on his tombstone is RIP."

Does my family have a way with words, or what? Of course, we're just your typical American family. We shop at JC Penney, watch old WC Fields movies on MTV, own our own AT&T phones, pay the IRS, voted for LBJ and we understand each other completely. But I shudder to think what would happen if ET ever landed his UFO in our backyard. He'd be KO'd for sure.

"Can we talk about something more pleasant?" I asked finally.

"OK," said my husband. "Did you hear GMC is coming out with a great little sports car—33 MPG."

"Forget it," I said. "We still haven't paid off the LTD. And we need a new air conditioner. When that TH1 starts climbing, the old one just doesn't have enough BTUs."

"We need a new VCR too," the kid pointed out.

"There's nothing wrong with the old one," said his father, "that a new AC adaptor won't fix."

"Well," the boy informed him, "the stereo isn't working right either. Too much static on FM."

"Then listen to AM. You think I'm JP Getty or something?"

"By the way," I said, "I've signed up for the CPR course I've been meaning to take. And I made you an appointment for that EKG you keep putting off."

"I've been thinking," he said, "maybe we should switch to an HMO. At the rate we're going, we'll end up living on SSI unless we can invest in an IRA or a CD."

"Maybe you're right," I agreed. "After all, I do want to finish my MBA one day. Did I tell you my friend Helen became a CPA? And Cousin Julie should be an MD by now."

"Is she still planning to go into OB-GYN?"

"Mm hm. Now there's a success story. Dropped out of MIT to marry a UN diplomat. She finally left him for an RCA repairman who didn't mind one bit that she became the CEO for NOW. Next thing you know, she's attending UCLA while working part time at the A&P. She should be graduating from NYU Medical School any day now."

"It's a whole new world out there," he said as he rolled up his sleeves and prepared for his nightly KP duty. "Hand me the SOS, will you?"

Bobby Albert predicts victory

Bobby Albert, Republican candidate for State Senate, visited The Free Press last Tuesday and predicted he would emerge the winner of the Aug. 13 special election because he is a conservative who can gain the support of conservative Democrats and Independents.

The 35-year-old Wichita Falls businessman said the conservative Democrats "have been shut out of the process" by the selection of Steve Carriker as their standard bearer.

"The Democratic county chairmen have chosen the most liberal of the three candidates," said Albert. "Steve Carriker is part of the problem of more government, more spending and more taxes. We've been ready to run against anybody, but now the voters have a clear choice between a liberal, Carriker, and a conservative, myself."

He continued: "Steve Carriker has voted for every increase in spending, every increase in taxes and against every attempt to cut the budget."

Albert pledged to sponsor a constitutional amendment to ban a state income tax and legislation that would limit the size of the state bureaucracy.

The candidate voiced his strong support for local control of schools, tougher penalties for drug pushers and proposed establishing an innovative working partnership with all elected state and local officials in the 30th district to be called "Team 30" to ensure that North and West Texas get their fair share from Austin.

Albert is a candidate in the Aug. 13 special election which will determine a replacement for the resigned Ray Farabee. The winner of that election will serve out the remainder of Farabee's unexpired term, which runs through this year. He also will be the Republican candidate for a full term in the November election.

Democratic county chairmen of the 30-county district recently selected

Carriker as their choice for the party's nominee for the general election. Their decision apparently eliminated the campaigns of two other Democrats, Charles Finnell and Helen Farabee, both of whom had announced they would run in the special election.

Since the winner of the special election will be elected only for the remainder of Farabee's term, Finnell and Mrs. Farabee are not expected to file for election. If Carriker files for the special election, he will face Albert in the non-partisan August voting, and again in the November general election.

You are reading The Haskell Free Press and we thank you.

Bobby Albert

PUBLIC NOTICE
Farmers National Bank of Rule is looking for the last secretary-treasurer of Brazos West Economic Development Corp. which last met in 1973. Will you please contact Patrick Pace 997-2216 or Leon Biffle 997-2104. 20-23c

NOTICE
The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has adopted requirements that all public water systems notify their customers about lead exposure. This notification is intended to educate and inform consumers on this issue in light of the fact that your drinking water may be a potential source of lead exposure. This is being done even though your water system is not in violation of the current standard. There are also other potential sources of lead contamination in the environment. The following specific language is required by EPA in this notice: The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm). Based on new health information, EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly. Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard. EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women. Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:
1. if your home or water system has lead pipes, or
2. if your home has copper pipes with lead solder, and
- if the home is less than five years old, or
- if you have soft or acidic water, or
- if water sits in the pipes for several hours.
Ways to avoid potential lead exposure are to "flush" faucets before use and to use cold water for drinking and cooking. You may wish to have your home tap water tested for lead content by a competent laboratory. You may also wish to check to see if lead pipes, solder, or flux were used in your home plumbing. The City of Haskell monitors the water system on a regular basis for any potential health hazard as does the North Central Municipal Water Authority from whom the city's water is obtained. If you have any questions regarding this notice or desire further information, please call the City of Haskell at 864-2333. 21c

Drunk driving still big problem

By Diane K. Steed
Administrator
National Highway Safety Administration

Drunk driving remains the No. 1 killer on our roads, striking with a frequency and ferocity that would be national news if its victims were reported in total each day instead of individually in obituaries in thousands of cities and towns where the tragedies occur.

Its victims are a cross-section of America: the rich, the poor, the young, the old, the safety-conscious and the not-so-safety-conscious.

But they share a common demise that is always unexpected, always needless and often grudgingly tolerated because our social norms won't quite permit them to be characterized as other than accidental deaths.

For many years in this country we talked about drunk driving in statistical terms only; lives lost and public expenditures. The higher the numbers, the more the public would pay attention, or so we thought. But the opposite was true. The numbers were largely ignored because they were, after all, just numbers. There were no faces or shattered lives attached to tug at the heart strings.

But something changed all that in the early 1980s. Citizen activist groups, like Mothers Against Drunk Driving, moved drunk driving off the bar graphs and brought it up close and personal, laying its dire consequences squarely on the doorsteps of virtually every American community.

Suddenly the blinders came off, the outrage swelled and things began to change--and change dramatically.

Thanks to the awakening, the United States, to its credit, has made remarkable progress in just a handful of years. Forty-one percent of the total traffic deaths in 1986 involved at least one driver or pedestrian who was intoxicated, a shocking figure but one that represents a significant decline from the 46 percent that was tallied in 1982. The percentage of intoxicated teenage drivers involved in fatal crashes also dropped, from 28 percent in 1982 to 21 percent in 1986, the largest decrease among all age groups.

As promising as the improved statistics are, they are not much comfort to the families and friends of the 19,000 people who were killed last year in alcohol-related crashes. We are holding our own--keeping things from getting worse--but we are still a long way from the point where we can drive our roads, reasonably assured that the approaching car or truck is not driven by someone who has had too much to drink.

Alcohol has played and probably will continue to play a major role in how we socialize in this country. The challenge is to convince people to use alcohol in moderation and to avoid driving after drinking. This is especially true during the Christmas/New Year's holiday season when travel increases, office parties abound and it's common to get together with family, friends and neighbors for "a little holiday cheer."

Tougher laws, more enforcement and increased public and media attention over the past few years helped reduce alcohol-related crashes by nearly 30 percent in some parts of the nation. Many responsible people have gotten the message and have modified their drinking habits for the better. But the problem is far from solved and complacency should not replace the concern and anger of the early 1980s that motivated government, the private sector and citizen groups to stop wringing hands over drunk driving and start fighting it.

We continue to be too tolerant of a dangerous minority who leave parties, bars and restaurants with attitudes like "I driver better when I'm drunk," "I only had a few," and "nobody drives my car but me."

It may be difficult as a host to stick your neck out and actively prevent someone from driving who has been celebrating too much. But isn't it better to call a cab, offer a ride or provide a bed than to allow friends or co-workers to put themselves and everyone else at risk?

The old adage about an ounce of prevention being worth a pound of cure is particularly appropriate when developing strategies to curb drunk drivers. Remember, drunk driving IS preventable and drinking too much and then getting behind the wheel and killing someone is not an accidental event. People know better today, and we should all be held accountable for our actions.

But the concept of accountability is dependent on public awareness. The news media has played a significant role in bringing about a greater awareness of the drunk driving problem. In fairness, an unprecedented amount of news and public service has been devoted to the subject for a far longer period of time than most issues. But as media attention wanes, the public's awareness and heightened sensitivity wane with it. Drunk and Drugged Driving Week is the one special week during the year when we stop and take stock of something that deserves special emphasis.

Paint Creek students use Haskell library

Members of the Paint Creek eighth-grade class traveled to the Haskell secondary school last Tuesday in order to use the library facilities for research on the Civil War.

Twelve students in Mrs. Monique Morgan's history class spent two hours in the library using history books, vertical files, books dealing with weapons and uniforms and other reference sources.

Haskell librarian, Mrs. Cathy Kemp, said, "We were very pleased to have the Paint Creek students here to use our library, and in the future we hope to be able to share our library materials with other students in the surrounding school districts."

McMurry offers reading classes

A pre-reading program for 5- and 6-year-old children who have not been in the first grade will be offered again this summer by McMurry's Education department. The program will start June 6 and go through June 30 from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Monday through Thursday.

Fee is $40 for the four-week program. Contact Dr. Ann Cook at 915-691-6369 for further information.

Pointe info

The spines of many cactuses, such as the hedgehog variety, help the plants shade themselves.

According to International Wildlife magazine, most cactuses have very thick skin that helps keep life-giving water inside. But this thick skin also means the plants have a hard time keeping cool. That's where the spines come in. They cover the plant so thickly that their skins are always in the shade.

WTC students to register

Western Texas College in Snyder will hold registration for summer classes May 31 and begin classes June 1.

Both day and evening classes are on the schedule. Day classes will meet for six weeks, ending July 8. Evening classes will meet for nine weeks and end July 29.

Students who have completed their junior year in high school may enroll in summer school with written permission of their high school principal and a parent. College hours will be credited to their transcripts following high school graduation.

Information about registration and classes on the schedule can be obtained by calling WTC at 915-573-8511.

WTC also will be offering summer evening classes at extension centers in Crosbyton, Haskell, Rotan, Spur and Sweetwater.

By Myrtle Phemister

We received approximately 1/2 inch of rain over the weekend, with no storms or hails. The high winds continued until Monday morning, and the calm seemed strange but nice, after days and days of high winds.

Our sick includes Mrs. Lupe Castorena, who underwent gallbladder surgery in the Haskell Hospital last week. She is recuperating at home and doing well.

Willie Moeller has been very ill in a Dallas hospital, suffering from an abscessed bladder condition, but is improving. His wife, Betty, is with him.

Don Haney, our postmaster, had cataract surgery last week.

Stacy Hester, son of Jerry and Wanda, has been very ill and is spending some time in Humana Hospital in Abilene for tests. He is improving, and hopes to be home in a few days.

Helen Turnbow is improving but still needs help with her broken arm. With Buck having only one hand, they are both handicapped.

Faye Brian has returned to her home after the surgery on her left hand she underwent in a Ft Worth Hospital last week. Because of adhesions and proud flesh from a previous surgery, and constant pain she endured, prompted her to re-enter the hospital.

Our prayers are for a speedy and complete return.

Alton and Mildred Sanders were in Corsicana, Texas for the weekend, where they helped conduct a Lay Renewal Revival at the Northside Baptist Church.

Alton served as Music Coordinator and Mildred was coordinator for the children's classes, grades 1 thru 6. They were shown on the local TV station. They returned home safely Sunday night after services.

Bob and Melanie Wood "endured" a family night camping out at Lake Stamford, Saturday night to assist their son Cary in qualifying for his campers badge he received at Den #2 Monday night.

Melanie received no honors for her frozen toes and fingers, just motherly satisfaction for doing her part.

Francis Moeller and Dora Bruggeman have entertained a lot of relatives who were in town because of their brother, Willie Moeller's, severe illness.

Willie's sister, Erna Bruggeneau, with her son Richard, of Ft Worth; Willie's son, Donnie Moeller of Mesquite, and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Lucky Holcombe, with Shannon, and Lillie Holcombe of Paducah; Mr. and Mrs. Mondy Greenwood of Moody; and Frank and Wanda Weinsberger of Odessa. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moeller, a brother, of Haskell.

Dale and Doris Carroll were in Abilene Sunday night to visit a cousin, Stacy Hester, in Humana.

They also attended a "new parents" class, in preparation for their "blessed" event in August.

Mayor and Mrs. Ed Murphy hosted an end of school party for the teachers and staff of the Weinert schools in their home on Monday night.

Table games were played and refreshments of homemade ice cream and cake were served to all.

Mary Offutt of Wichita Falls was in Weinert to visit his grandparents, Mildred and Bud Offutt and Myrnie and Eddie Sanders.

Marty will be a Junior student at Midwestern University in the fall semester and works at McDonalds when not in school. He is the son of Wayne and Shirley Offutt.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Estrada were in Lubbock for the weekend to attend the Pentecost 88 group meeting of the Catholic Church which was held at the Christian Renewal Center in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hackney of Cleburne were in town to visit Larry's Mathis brother, Robert and Bennie Haran.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jetton were in Holliday to attend the annual reunion of their children and grandchildren. Their daughter, Jimmie and Claude Young, hosted the reunion in their home, and all the descendants were present except two grand-children. There were 34 in attendance.

The Jettons other children are Jackie and Earnie Frazut of Dallas, Sandra and Don Stafford of Denton and Bill and Dorothy Jetton of Brownwood.

We extend Birthday Greetings to Tina Herricks, Ted Jetton and Henrietta Rueffer this week. And Congratulations to Eddie and Mynnie Sanders who will celebrate their 52nd anniversary on May 30th.

Congratulations are extended to Douglas Boling and Christy Rowan who were married, Wednesday, May 18th, in Haskell. The couple will make their home in Weinert. Douglas is employed for Bob Wood Construction, Co., of Weinert and Christy is looking for employment.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Keil, with daughters Becky and Heather all of Edinburg, spent a few days in the home of their daughter, Debbie and Donnie Crump of Weinert, and grandchildren David and Tabitha.

Steve McGuire brought the first load of the 1988 wheat crop into the Weinert Grain Co. last week and he received $2.80 per bushel for the load. Congratulations, Steve. The harvest will soon be underway in full swing.

Many of our residents attended the State track events at Austin last week, and rejoiced with Munday and Haskell for their first place wins.

One who traveled a long way was Capt. Keith Sanders of Del Rio, who met his family, the Kenneth Sanders, there and enjoyed a weekend with family and friends.

Betty Sanders will serve as chairman for Weinert's American Cancer Societies annual fund drive next week. She hosted a meeting of her six co-workers on Tuesday afternoon.

Paul Chambers, pastor of the Four Square Gospel Church, had an attentive, full house to hear the final Baccalaureate sermon to be delivered to Weinert's Graduating Seniors.

He was introduced by Kevin White after the Senior Processional and song "Through It All", sung by the senior class.

He stated he could not remember his class speaker or any of the message so he wanted to leave something this class will use. He used I Corinthians 13:13 for his text, and enlarged on the Faith, Hope, and Charity in his speech.

A slide presentation of the Seniors, from Kindergarten through 12th grade was shown and the class sang "So Gently Through the Years."

Jerry Hester gave the invocation, and Jerry Don Hudgens gave the benediction. Karen Harlow, at the piano, played "Through the Eyes of Love" for the Processional and the Recessional.

The service was held in the school gym at 8 p.m. on Sunday, May 22, 1988.

Final Commencement services will be held on Friday, May 27th, at 8 p.m. Visitors are welcome, as there is plenty of space in Weinert and you do not need a ticket to attend.

Photographs of the school, and the students, have been taken, and are available at the school office.

Greetings to you all by correspondence from 95 year old Ruby Wilson of Ft Worth; Edna Boykin of Nashville, Ark.; Margaret Bruton, of Decatur; and Ila Moody of Kingsville. They send love and best wishes. They are all doing ok, but mess Weinert friends. They all read the Haskell Free Press.

Have a nice day!

Rochester band has fund-raiser concert

By Cindy Friley

Tuesday evening, May 27, in the Rochester school courtyard, an old-fashioned outdoor concert was presented by the Rochester Steer Band, Yearling Band and Stage Band as a fund-raiser to benefit the Haskell county '88 graduation party. The party will be to honor all Haskell County graduates and will be open to all Haskell County high school and college-age students.

A special thanks to the high school students' mothers who furnished and managed the concession stand, which was stocked full of sandwiches and other homemade goodies, and to the weatherman, who gave us a near-perfect evening for the gala event.

The band opened its portion of the program with Miss Liberty March, which was written to commemorate the 100th birthday of the Statue of Liberty. This was also the march the band played while marching down Congress Avenue in the Governor's Inaugural Parade in Austin last year.

The remainder of the program included a number of marches and the three numbers the band performed at the University Interscholastic League contest in Abilene last month. It was during this contest that the band placed second in the region with a 2-1 rating behind Baird.

A very special part of the program for the band members was the introduction of their dear and special friend who served as guest conductor for the evening--State Rep. Rick Perry. He was introduced as a man with a genuine willingness to work for the youth of Rochester, Haskell County and the area and as a person who always makes time for them whenever he is needed, whether to sit and talk, listen or just answer their questions.

These are just a few of the reasons why the members of the band felt very privileged and honored to invite Rep. Perry to come and take part in the evening's activities. The crowd soon learned that Rep. Perry had many hidden talents--one of which was a natural flair for directing bands.

The Yearling Band presented a superb performance of four marches before the Steer Stage Band took the stage for a brilliant finale to the evening's activities. The Stage Band had the distinct privilege of having two very talented guests "sittin' in and jammin'" with them during Tuesday's gig. They were Coach Kristie Winnie, "pickin' and grinnin'" on the guitar, and Mary Wyatt, French and English teacher, "ticklin' the ivories," which added a sparkling luster to a near-flawless performance.

Rep. Perry took the stage one more time and as a "full service special guest," we found that he also made announcements. He took a moment to reflect on the band, saying that they were a very special group of young people to him, that he remembered when they went to Austin to represent the people of Haskell County, how proud it made him to be from Haskell County, and proud to be the representative of this part of the county. He then took a moment and had the audience show their appreciation for what the band has done for them. Then, he turned to the "real announcement" of the evening and told the people that out of the generosity of their hearts, they had donated $1,500 to benefit the youth of Haskell County.

The proceeds from Tuesday night's benefits were $515, with the rest of the $1,500 plus being donated by the local businesses, churches and clubs of Rochester.

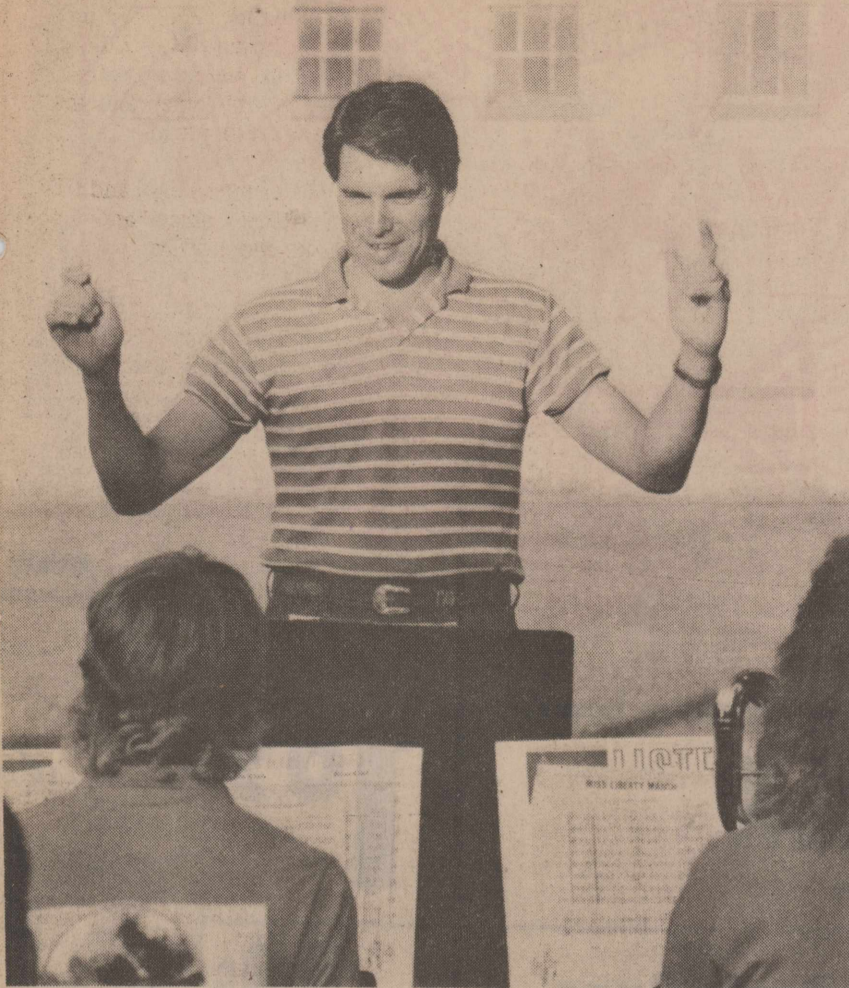

The band would like to thank Rep. Perry for taking time out of his busy schedule to come and join us for the evening, and a very special thank you to all the hometown folks, because without your support, we realize that none of this would have been possible.

Former teacher

Deborah Jennings, former Haskell and Weinert teacher, has been chosen Teacher of the Year at Ballinger.

She is the wife of Curtis Jennings, former Lone Star Gas Co. manager in Haskell.

Mrs. Jennings, an English and speech instructor, is a graduate of Angelo State University and has been with the Ballinger school system for the past eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ulmer accompanied, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Ulmer and Paige of Plano to Carbondale, Ill. for the graduation of Mark Ulmer from the University of Southern Illinois. He received a degree in mechanical engineering with highest honors. After a two weeks training he will be employed by E.D.S. in Troy, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ulmer attended funeral services for Mrs. Emily Kuykendall of Wichita Falls which was Tuesday. Mrs. Kuykendaal was a cousin of Alvin.

Our little community will be buzzing this weekend with people coming for the homecoming. This used to be a pretty good size town.

Mrs. Clota Engleman of Spur came to get John L. Brooks to go with her to see Mrs. Engleman's doctor in Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gibson have come to attend the homecoming this weekend.

Erna and Walter Schaake of Stamford visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knipling Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Monse spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Sundown with their daughter and family, Donny, Diane, Eric and Mitzi Barbee. On Tuesday night they attended the Sundown Band spring concert. Their grandson Eric is a member of the sixth grade band which took the Sweepstakes award and best performance award at the Regional Band Concert in Hale Center the Saturday before. They also enjoyed the high school band performance and viewed the film made in Austin earlier this year when the Sundown band was named Class A champion.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Monse and DeWayne on Mother's Day weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Donny Barbee, Eric and Mitzi of Sundown and Amy White of Abilene.

Mrs. Doris Lehrmann, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Mrazek and Bubba ate lunch in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Monse Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Monse, Mrs. Franklin Mrazek went to Abilene.

Monday morning to take Mr. Monse to see his doctor.

The Faith Circle met in the Fellowship Hall about two weeks ago with a nice group of women being there. Pastor Mel Swoyer had the topic. After the business meeting, Mrs. Arthur Knipling served refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, chips, cake, coffee and soda pop. Those who attended were Mrs. Louise Stegemoeller, Mrs. Betty Balzer, Mrs. Dorothy Toney, Mrs. John L. Brooks, Mrs. Alice Bredthauer, Mrs. Lillie Lehrmann, Mrs. Norma Tredemeyer, Mrs. Mary Neinast, Mrs. Frieda Quade, Mrs. Frieda Knipling, Pastor Mel Swoyer.

Mary Neinast was honored on her birthday, May 7th, with a party in the home of Glyn and Ethel Quade. After a buffet dinner, games were played by the following, Coyt and Sophia Hix, Glen and Jona Caddell of Haskell, Reece and Francis Clark, Joe and Dorothy Clark, Larry Cornelson and honoree and hosts.

Relatives of Glyn Quade's gathered in their home for a barbecue and quilting bee. Ruby and Wesley Rask of Lake Whitney spent the week to make a quilt for Ruby. Others joining them were Louise Lawrence, Calvin, Dolores and Jennifer Lawrence, Deryl and Polly Lawrence and Dwayne, Barbara and Stacey Lawrence. The nieces were learning a new skill of quilting, for the first time.

Fry-Bateman tennis duo takes third

Trina Fry of Rochester and Kim Bateman of Knox City, region II-A girls' doubles tennis champions, brought back a third-place medal from Austin May 14. They were defeated in the semifinals by the team from Nueces Canyon, which went on to win first in the state.

Trina started out the first day of the UIL state girls' golf tournament by teeing off with the top five girls in the state tournament. The regional medalists with the top scores from all over the state teed off first, with Trina ranked fourth out of 40.

She didn't get to play her second day of golf, however, since she was playing in the state tennis semifinals at the same time everyone else was playing the last 18 holes of golf.

Scouts have outing at Copper Breaks

Fifteen Boy Scouts and four leaders of Troop 136 drove 80 miles to Copper Breaks State Park near Crowell on Friday, May 13, for a weekend of work and play.

Saturday morning the Scouts did some work on the Juniper Trail at the park. The rest of the day was spent fishing and swimming. They caught two small bass and killed a rattlesnake.

Sunday morning they ate breakfast and broke camp. After the morning worship service they returned home.

Scouts expressed their appreciation to Dr. Wayne Cadenhead for the loan of his pickup to transport the boys and equipment, and to Lynn Pace for setting up the conservation work for them.

The following Thursday, scoutmaster Bill Perry received a letter from the state park commending the boys for their work on the trail.

Next planned outing for the troop is the scout camp June 12-18.

Play night set for Saturday

The Haskell Horse Club will sponsor a trophy play night, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Events will include barrels, flags, poles, goat tying and calf roping. Participants will compete in four age groups and an open barrel race.

Scouts at work

Haskell Boy Scouts from Troop 136 worked on the Juniper Ridge Trail at Copper Breaks State Park when they camped there over the weekend of May 13-15.

Blood pressure tests to be given June 3

A high blood pressure screening will be conducted June 3 at the Haskell National Bank.

Sponsored by the American Heart Association, the screening will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and will be done by volunteers of Haskell County's medical facilities. All residents are encouraged to have their blood pressure checked.

Each person screened will receive literature about the importance of maintaining a healthy blood pressure. Any person found to have an elevated pressure during the time of the check will be referred to a physician.

Most people with high blood pressure have no symptoms. There are no specific warning signs. Although persistent headaches, dizziness, fatigue, tension and shortness of breath sometimes go with high blood pressure, they may result from a variety of causes.

High blood pressure is the force of blood against the walls of the arteries. This force is created by the heart as it pumps blood to all parts of the body. In some people, blood pressure is nearly always higher than it should be. If high blood pressure continues for a long period, the heart and the arteries may not function as well as they should and other body organs may also be affected. There is increased risk of stroke, heart failure, kidney failure and heart attack.

Fifty-four million people have high blood pressure. The American Heart Association estimates that 50 percent of these people do not know it. Statistics show that in 1985, 50.4 percent of the people who died in Haskell County died of cardiovascular disease.

Soccer camp 'Shoot Out' to be tonight

The North American Soccer Camp "Shoot Out" will be today (Thursday) at the Lee Complex in Abilene. It begins at 6:30.

All participants of the camp are eligible for the shootout.

Remember - Safety First Around Electricity!

Enjoy a safe summer while working in your yard by following these safety tips.

- Use only properly grounded electrical equipment and replace all worn and damaged cords.
- Never use electric tools in rain or on any wet surface.
- Keep electric cords clear of your working area.
- Keep ladders or long-handled tools clear of power lines. Even wooden ladders can conduct electricity.
- Be careful when digging. Call your Local WTU Office to locate underground power lines in your area.
