J. Charles New

Couple plans July wedding

Ronnay Gay Herndon of East Bernard and J. Charles New of Sagerton have set a July 23 wedding date. The wedding will be in the First United Methodist Church in East Bernard.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Jack R. Herndon of East Bernard and the late Janie Herndon. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. New of Sagerton.

Miss Herndon graduated from East Bernard High School and Texas Tech University with a BA in public relations.

New is a graduate of Rule High School and Texas Tech with a BS in agricultural engineering.

Norman-Cauthorn exchange vows

In an afternoon ceremony at the University Christian Church in Fort Worth on June 11, Keri Michelle Norman became the bride of James Guy Cauthorn. The Rev. Carl Rahlfs, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Del Rio, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Keri is the daughter of Mrs. Carolyn Josselet Norman of Fort Worth and the late James M. Norman. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney William Cauthorn of Del Rio.

Given in marriage by her mother, the bride was escorted to the altar by her grandfather, Marion Josselet. She wore an original gown by Demetrios for Ilisa, fashioned of ivory satin. Her gown featured a sabrina neckline ending in a vee in the back. The moulded basque bodice was adorned with jeweled re-embroidered alecon lace imported from France. The long blown puffed sleeves extended into points over the hands. More of the exquisite lace accented with pearls and paillettes was lavishly applied on the chapel train.

She wore a chapel length veil of illusion that fell from a tiny circle of satin roses enhanced with pearls and paillettes. The bride's bouquet was a short cascade of gardenias, white roses and stephanotis filled with baby's breath.

Following the tradition of something old, the bride carried a white linen handkerchief which her grandmother Norman carried at her wedding. Her dress and headpiece were something new. Something borrowed was a tiny sterling heart that her aunt Betty Burson wore when she was a teenager, and she wore a sixpence in her shoe.

Vows were pledged before an arrangement of mixed white flowers flanked by tiers of candles set in masses of greenery. Pews were marked with ivory satin bows.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Sharla Dawn Norman of Fort Worth. Bridesmaids were Julia Coston of Fort Worth, Jessica Canalis of Alice, Kristy Fetherree of Fort Worth, Stacey Scheps of Houston and Lori Lindsey of Fort Worth.

Each of the attendants wore an identical ivory satin dresses with puffed sleeves fitted just above the elbow. The fitted bodice was low in the back with a large clover bow with straight ankle length skirts. They wore matching silk bows in their hair and carried bouquets of lillies, pink and mauve roses filled with baby's breath and tied with satin ribbon.

The groom was attired in a black tuxedo with ivory pleated shirt, squared bow tie and cummerbund. His boutonniere was stephanotis that complimented the bride's bouquet.

Serving the groom as best man was his brother, Robert Sidney Cauthorn of Del Rio. Groomsmen were Todd Cauthorn of San Marcos, Clay Cauthorn of San Marcos, Graham Cauthorn of New York City, Mike Norman of Fort Worth and Mark Bruce of Dallas. Ushers were Lee Luden of Austin, Bob Simpson of Austin, David Murrey of Corpus Christi, James Esquivel of Dallas and David Worley of Wichita, Kan.

Groomsmen and ushers wore black tuxedos with ivory pleated shirts, black bow ties and multicolored cummerbunds. Boutonnières were small pink and mauve rosebuds.

The mother of the bride selected a textured emerald green silk dress. The mother of the groom chose a green and white pout-de-soie dress.

Soloist was Dave Cove who sang the bride's chosen song, "Ava Maria."

Guests were registered by Laura Coston and Stacy Coston, cousins of the bride. The registry table featured an arrangement of lillies, pink and mauve roses and the bride's book.

Following the ceremony the bride's mother hosted a reception at the Petroleum Club. The bride's table was covered with an ivory satin cloth. An all white cake with amaretto filling, fresh flowers cascading down the four-tiered cake. The cake was an all white with amaretto filling. Fresh flowers of gardenias, pink and mauve roses and baby's breath cascaded down the four-tiered cake. Punch was served from a crystal bowl. Appointments were silver and crystal.

The groom's table was covered with an ivory satin cloth. A chocolate covered cake filled with chocolate mousse and covered with chocolate-covered strawberries was served with silver appointments.

Bags of confetti in ivory illusion tied with pink and mauve ribbon were passed out to guests.

The bride is a 1983 graduate of Arlington Heights High School in Fort Worth and is a graduate of Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos. The groom is a 1982 graduate of Del Rio High School and a graduate of Southwest Texas State University.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner June 10 at the Petroleum Club. The bride's chosen colors of ivory, pink and mauve were carried out in decorations.

THE BUSINESS NUMBERS GAME

Perhaps you've heard about the guy who was buying topsoil for $10 a yard, trucking it across town and selling it for $9 a yard. When he discovered he was losing money, he thought the solution was to get a larger truck.

The solution to his problem is obvious to most of us. This price versus cost dilemma is very common in small businesses. The more products, the more employees and the more equipment you have, the more difficult it is to analyze your cost-price ratios.

What is the true cost of doing business? Your record system must provide you with current information on the cost of products and labor, other direct costs, and indirect overhead.

If you are selling your product or service for too little, you may not know it until it is too late. The cash flow generated by underpricing, coupled with loans or capital additions, may give you the false feeling that your business is profitable.

It is essential for businesses to have proper financial information. If you have current numbers to compare, you can spot a reduction in gross profit, a slow-moving inventory item, a drop in reorder, or a cash flow problem in time to take corrective action.

Some companies find it too easy to borrow operating capital. Perhaps the past performance of your company or your family assets make it very easy for the banker to say yes when you want additional funds. Are you borrowing money to expand or to fund operations? Except for seasonal peaks or occasional growth spurts, operations should be funded from operations, not from debt.

Good financial information lets you know where your company has been, where it is now, and better yet, it will help you plan where you are headed.

Fuel shortage

More than a third of the world still relies on wood for cooking and heating.

When wood demand outstrips the growth of new trees the results can be disastrous. In some parts of the world, the search for wood has resulted in the leveling of whole forests.

Aubrey Carroll

50 years with the same outfit

(J. A. Carroll, former superintendent at Paint Creek for West Texas Utilities, was the subject of an article in the April issue of the company magazine, The Electric Times. It is reprinted herewith.)

"I've been with the same outfit for over 50 years."

Not many people can say that. But there is one person who can. His name is J. A. (Aubrey) Carroll, plant superintendent at the Rio Pecos Power Station.

Since Aubrey is planning retirement soon, it seemed appropriate that someone of his high caliber be set apart. But we can't do that. Aubrey has already set himself apart in many ways. He's a unique person, a person beloved by all who meet him. He may not say so, but as a friend, husband, father, grandfather, great-grandfather, boss and Christian, we'd say that Aubrey Carroll was a success.

It all started back in 1937 when Aubrey graduated from Quanah High School. On October 10 Aubrey married a beautiful high school senior after they drove to Altus, Oklahoma. Jean Day became Mrs. Carroll, and they have lived as husband and wife for over fifty years.

In early 1938 Aubrey was working odd jobs at Quanah, Acme and Pacific Railroad, a bakery, and United Foods. Lake Pauline Power Station was only 10 years old then, and his father-in-law persuaded him to keep trying after he was turned down for employment. J. E. Skipper was plant (chief engineer) then.

"Go back out there and hit him up again," Jean's father would say.

Finally, Aubrey was hired as a laborer in March 1938, which meant that he clipped the grass, trimmed the shrubbery, and did general work around the plant for his immediate boss, Zeb Ritchey.

Yet his father-in-law would say, "If you learn how to do things around the plant you'll get a promotion." Aubrey soon learned. He was made a fireman. Then he learned the switchboard, and it wasn't long after that that he was on the turbine room and shift supervisor.

Aubrey and Jean lived at the Lake Pauline Company Camp, a nice place in those days.

"People used to drive out just to look at it (the camp)," said Aubrey. "They had a kids' playground and a swimming pool. It was a real showplace built in Spanish style stucco design."

When Unit No. 2 was being constructed at Lake Pauline, he worked closely with R. V. Sass, who put the unit in.

"I also got a lab job there," he said, "because the water had to be tested and treated."

After C. M. Sample passed away, Russell Johnson became acting Lake Pauline superintendent. Aubrey was made assistant. But he had an option to move to the Abilene Power Plant, so he transferred and became assistant to R. E. Ralph Howington there in 1951. That was Carroll's first move away from home--from Quanah.

At that time all the old units were yet operable at the Abilene plant. The ice plant was also operating in 1951.

In August 1957, a crucial time in Aubrey's career came about.

"Just before school began I was moved to Rio Pecos," Aubrey smiled. "They wanted me in on the installation of a new unit there." That was Unit No. 5, the combined cycle. Simply put, a combined cycle unit uses hot exhaust from a gas turbine to boost the heat in a steam unit. For many years the No. 5 unit was the lowest cost unit in the United States. Unit No. 6 was started up in 1969 when the present plant's facilities were completed.

At Rio Pecos, Aubrey served as plant superintendent from 1957 to 1975. It was in 1975 that C. O. Holt retired at Paint Creek, and Aubrey was the man for the job. He served there until 1983 when the company told him, "We need you for another five years." At that time he had already reached his 65th birthday.

He had an option. He could remain at Paint Creek or he could move back to Rio Pecos. He and Jean moved to Rio Pecos where they had many friends and a good community nearby (McCamey) in which to serve. Aubrey says that no one should get the idea that "that old desert country near the place" can't get wet.

"I've seen the plant flooded twice in the years I've been here," he said. "The first time was right after Unit 6 went in. It rained heavy north of the camp, and the water came down fast." The second flood raised the Pecos River rapidly after 15 inches of rain hit the flat-topped mountains west of Girvin.

The Carrolls' oldest son, James Aubrey II, and his wife, live in Lagos, Nigeria, where he works for Shamrock. They also have a home in Austin. Son Aubrey II also has three children, one of which, Dana, had Aubrey's first great-grandchild in January. Second son, Michael, was killed in 1973. Michael's daughter, Julie, lives in San Angelo. Pat Blackwell, the Carrolls' third child, lives in Lubbock where her husband works for AMOCO. They have two children, a daughter who is a registered nurse, and a son going to Texas Tech.

"We've bought a home in McCamey," Aubrey explained as he considered his coming retirement years. "We like the community, and have many friends here."

Aubrey is a director in the Chamber of Commerce, is very active in the First United Methodist Church and the Lions Club, where he served as president on three occasions, twice at McCamey.

In 1965 he received the George B. McCamey award, an honor similar to other towns' "Man of the Year". He is presently program director of the McCamey Lions Club.

Jean is also active in their church. She is a member of the McCamey Garden Club and Study Club.

What plans does he have? "Jean and I plan to do just what we want to do. That means playing a lot of bridge," he smiled. He also indicated he'd remain active in the Chamber of Commerce and Lions Club.

"We don't plan to travel," he added.

Ask VA

Q: Am I entitled to VA compensation if the condition for which I apply existed prior to military service?

A: Veterans may receive compensation for a pre-existing condition if the condition was aggravated during service beyond the normal progression of the disability. You should apply for compensation for any disability that might fit this category so that a determination of eligibility can be made.

Q: Does the recent increase in maximum guarantee of VA home loans qualify me for a higher mortgage?

A: The increase in the maximum entitlement increases the amount you can borrow without a down payment. The loan must not exceed your ability to repay and must not exceed the reasonable value of the property as determined by the appraisal.

Q: I applied for a VA-guaranteed home loan. I was advised it could not be processed until I paid an outstanding debt for education benefits. Is that true?

A: Yes. It is the policy of the VA to reconcile all outstanding debts to the U.S. Government prior to approving a home loan application.

Q: I received a certificate of eligibility for a VA home loan guaranty several years ago but never had the opportunity to use it. Have my benefits expired?

A: Loan guaranty entitlement is not subject to an expiration date.

"We're not interested in seeing the world. We like to camp 'on the carpet."

What would Aubrey say to a young person joining the company?

After a brief pause, he stated, "I don't think they could find a more enjoyable life."

"You know, the thing that helps me," he said, "is to look back at the people I've trained, and see where they are now."

Aubrey was thinking of Bill Anderson, now manager of Plant Operations; Charles Brown, plant superintendent at Fort Phantom Power Station; Loren Henson, maintenance engineer in Plant Maintenance; and Bill Holley, plant superintendent at the Oak Creek Station--and perhaps many others he'd worked with during the past 50 years.

Recently the Carrolls were feted at a special occasion in Abilene's Briarstone Manor. Many of those friends they had during the years were there. On July 1 Rio Pecos and McCamey friends will have an opportunity to wish Aubrey and Jean "all the luck in the world."

The Gonzales Courthouse in Gonzales County was completed in 1896 for a mere $64,450. It is the second such building for the 150 year old county, the first having burned in 1893. The town was once called the "Lexington of Texas" because the first skirmish of the Texas Revolution was fought here. Gonzales was named for Rafael Gonzales, the governor of the joint state of Coahuila-Texas in the 1820s. Today, Gonzales is a major producer of pecans, cattle and poultry. Some are eligible for energy bill help

Some low-income families may be eligible for help in paying cooling bills this summer through the Home Energy Assistance Program, according to Marlin Johnston, commissioner of the Texas Department of Human Services.

The one-time payment is available to many low-income households. Applications for energy assistance were mailed to households that received food stamps, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, or Supplemental Security Income in May.

If those households have at least one member who will be 60 or older in 1988 or a member with a medical condition that is aggravated by heat, they may qualify for assistance. Other low-income individuals may request an application from local DHS offices during the enrollment period of June 15 through July 19.

Eligibility is limited by gross income and resources. This year, because of budget cuts and participation rates, the benefits for the cooling program may be lower than last year's. Aid is available for one-person households having less than $589.40 gross income per month. Other gross income limits are $781.49 for households of two persons, $973.49 for three, $1,165.49 for four, $1,357.49 for five and $1,549.49 for six.

Households are eligible if the cost for cooling is included in the rent payment or if the household pays a portion of its home energy costs.

Energy assistance checks are sent directly to the people who are eligible for assistance. However, the checks are made payable to the energy company.

Persons receiving one of the assistance checks should mail it or take it in person to the energy company business office with the regular energy bill. If the HEAP check is more than the energy bill, the additional amount will be credited to the person's account for the next month's bill. If the energy bill is higher than the check, the person is responsible for paying the difference.

Melanoma cancer increasing rapidly

Two years ago Christine Carr noticed a dark spot on the right side of her leg.

"Almost overnight I noticed it, but I'm sure it had been there for eight or nine months. It was dark, oblong, rough and uneven in its layering," described the fair-skinned, red-headed Carr of her mysterious growth.

A biopsy at the University of Texas M.D. Anderson Cancer Center revealed malignant melanoma, a dangerous type of skin cancer.

While a relatively rare disease, melanoma is increasing at a rate of 3.4 percent a year. The American Cancer Society estimates that melanoma will strike 27,000 Americans this year.

Melanoma can be successfully treated with surgery if detected early, but can be deadly if it spreads to the lymph nodes or other organs in the body.

Doctors at M. D. Anderson Cancer Center are studying new treatment options for patients with early and advanced melanoma and note that the results seem encouraging.

Patients with early melanoma of one millimeter or less in thickness are benefiting from conservative surgery that doesn't require skin grafts or leave them with large disfiguring scars.

"The advantage of doing conservative surgery is that we can achieve a much more pleasing cosmetic scar," explained Dr. Eva Singletary, chief of the melanoma section at M. D. Anderson. "And if we can do that and still have the same survival rates, then of course, the patient prefers not to have the more radical surgery common several years ago."

Clinical studies in immunotherapy also are showing promise over traditional chemotherapy for patients with advanced melanoma. One of these involves a vaccine, which appears to boost the body's defenses against the invading cancer.

"Chemotherapy hasn't been that successful for patients whose cancer has spread to their lymph nodes, so we are encouraged by this vaccine. We think trying to get the person's own body acting as a war front against melanoma would be better treatment than chemotherapy," said Dr. Singletary.

However, a study involving a combination of drugs and another study, using Interleukin-2, a synthetic hormone that boosts the body's immune system, are showing successes in clinical studies.

In the meantime, Dr. Singletary noted that evidence is strong that the sun is the culprit in many melanoma cases. The best defense is still to avoid excessive exposure to the sun by wearing protective clothing and sun block. Any change in color or size in a mole or patch of skin should require a visit to a doctor.

Research shows that melanoma occurs more often in middle-aged people than in younger people, indicating that melanoma takes years to develop.

Carr was lucky. Her melanoma was caught early and today she has only a small scar to remind her of the dangers of the sun.

"I'm just more cautious now. We all have to be," she said.

"Our organization is making tremendous strides at the grassroots," said Keep Texas Beautiful executive director Mary Ellen Shoop. "Literally thousands of business and civic leaders, community volunteers, school and government officials worked together to produce our third big year of results involving people in not messing with Texas."

Finalists were selected through a rigorous judging process based on stringent criteria in six areas: extensive community involvement in short- and long-term cleanup solutions, the teaching of a curriculum in schools, stricter enforcement of ordinances, increased awareness, recycling, and quality of life.

Through the awards, Keep Texas Beautiful has worked closely with 300 cities to provide blueprints for positive action related to solid waste handling that result in measurable litter reduction. Of the 71 participating cities in 1988, the awards program attracted 19 new participants, 14 communities entering for the third consecutive year, and 38 returning to competition, including first-time winners Austin, Corpus Christi, Forney and Muenster.

Farm Bureau sues over hay designation

The Texas Farm Bureau and five of its members have filed suit against Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng and the USDA, seeking inclusion of hay as a perishable crop under the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986.

In a letter to Lyng, TFB President S. M. True of Plainview explained that hay is "perishable, labor intensive and has critical and unpredictable labor demands." True said hay's inclusion as a perishable crop will alleviate serious labor problems experienced by hay producers.

Haskell County Farm Bureau President Bob Aycock said, "Making hay a perishable crop will make it eligible for the Special Agricultural Worker (SAW) program. This is a chance to help livestock producers who have been shut out of this important source of labor."

A similar suit was filed in Lubbock last year seeking inclusion of cotton in the Act. That suit resulted in cotton being classified as a fruit, making it eligible for the SAW program.

The five plaintiffs joining Texas Farm Bureau in the suit are Don Smith of Sulphur Springs, Russ Arnold of Trinity, James Wood of Gilmer and Warren and Anna Madson of McLennan County.

The gestation of Father's Day: The brainchild of one devoted daughter Mrs. Dodd had a great idea in 1910—Father's Day! Well, 1909 to be exact. That's when the idea of Father's Day, to celebrate the dedication of her own father, and all other American dads, came to her.

But good ideas take time to gestate. And it took a year till Father's Day was born—on the third Sunday of June, 1910.

Mrs. Dodd had wanted the first Father's Day to be on her own father's birthday, which in that year was the first Sunday of June.

But fate intervened—the local ministry failed to document their sermons in time—so the first observance was put off till the third Sunday of the month, a time niche that has been enshrined forever as a national holiday, by Joint Congressional Resolution in 1971.

And, Mrs. John Bruce (Sonora) Dodd had good reason for her concept. She was a product of the Far West, a child of the turn of the century.

She was reared, along with five brothers, by a loving and dedicated father, after her mother died. William Smart was a Civil War vet, and one who understood the meaning of family responsibility and cohesiveness.

So, from a small beginning in the churches of Spokane, was wrought a national and international event, with implications for all mankind.

Today, Father's Day is observed in almost 80 nations around the world—in North America, in Europe, in Africa, in the Orient and in Australia.

In the United States, more than nine out of 10 Americans observe Father's Day, a 24-hour span devoted to the man-around-the-house, out of gratitude for his caring and sharing, and in the spirit of good fun that characterizes all Father's Day events.

Father's Day has become a popular holiday because our families willed its popular acceptance. We don't take to a new holiday unless we think it best for our culture.

Thanks to Mrs. Dodd's idea and perseverance, thanks to the Ministerial Association of Spokane, and thanks to the good offices of the Spokane YMCA, the Mayor of Spokane and the other civic organizations which banded together to back Mrs. Dodd, we have our Father's Day!

Early on, the new Father's Day caught the attention of national leaders—William Jennings Bryan, the great populist of the late 19th and early 20th century, and President Woodrow Wilson and President Calvin Coolidge, both of whom urged the citizens of these United States to pause to celebrate their dads.

But it wasn't until the National Father's Day Committee was founded in 1931 that the Father's Day movement became an organized country-wide tide. (Before then, Father's Day was loosely observed, community by community, but without the semblance of national purpose.)

Thus, long before Father's Day was proclaimed a national holiday by Congress, and President Nixon's first Father's Day Proclamation in 1972, most America had embraced the idea as "their own."

Ever since our forefathers landed in Virginia and New England, our fathers have been protectors and guardians of the family, and moral and ethical leaders in our society.

We express our love and caring for our dads in many different ways. Most fathers get a gift. Even more get a greeting card or a special telephone call from the children.

Then, there are millions of backyard cookouts, Sunday afternoon visits, family photographs and dinners on the town.

William Smart, in whose honor Father's Day came to be, passed away in 1919, but not before "his holiday" was accredited by millions of Americans. And his loving daughter, Sonora Smart Dodd, continued to maintain an active and lively interest in the movement she founded until her death in 1978 at the age of 96.

Father's Day is not in jeopardy of decline. In fact, it becomes more popular every year, and now heralds in the real summer season throughout most of the country.

Through peace and war, through prosperity and recession, Father's Day has expanded its appeal. In 1988, Father's Day reaches its zenith of celebration—and its popularity is still on the grow! Don't forget your dad on Sunday, June 19, 1988!

GIVE YOUR FATHER THE LOVE AND RESPECT HE DESERVES

With your father on hand to be there in command
Of his household, when you were so small,
You had later to learn of his constant concern
For the problems you couldn't recall.
Then before you were grown, you created your own!
When you thought you were smarter than he;
Until much later on, when it started to dawn,
He was wiser in every degree.
So examine your heart; as your faith will impart:
Let your love for your father abound;
He will never object to the warmth and respect
You can show him, while he's still around.

Hobby calls for fund guidelines

AUSTIN—While Texas Republicans convened in Houston, state Democratic officeholders gathered behind Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby's call for new guidelines for public school funding.

Meanwhile, more groups and state officials are coming to the rescue of ten parole officers who

Attorney General Jim Mattox is siding with Mexican-American Legal Defense and Education Fund lawyers to fight a federal lawsuit brought by Eastern states which blocks illegal aliens from being counted in the next census.

Mattox said Texas could lose three or four members from its congressional delegation. Certainly, the case will affect the way the Legislature re-draws state senate and house seats in 1991.

Business Taxes

A new report from Comptroller Bob Bullock concludes that taxes aimed directly at Texas businesses—corporate, insurance, occupation licenses and state property—add up to 12 percent of the total tax burden.

The report says the business burden is high because Texas has no state income tax as most other states do.

After Alaska and Wyoming, Texas ranks third highest in overall business tax burden in a national study of state and local taxes paid by businesses.

'Trumped Up' Charges

Regents who voted to fire Southwest Texas State University President Robert Hardesty have compiled a list of charges alleging that he spent lavishly and was away from the campus too much, the San Antonio Light reported last week.

The case against Hardesty, much of which was developed after his May 19 firing, will be made when regents meet this week to reconsider the action.

"These are charges that have been trumped up since they fired me," Hardesty said. "Five days after they fired me, they called for my expense vouchers and travel vouchers. They're looking for after-the-fact reasons."

Royalty Halt Denied

- An Austin judge refused to halt $400,000 in royalty payments to the heirs of a man the state says defrauded the public school fund of millions in an oil lease deal.

But, Land Commissioner Garry Mauro said the ruling does not harm the state's chances of winning a jury trial verdict.

Other Highlights

- Third Court of Appeals Judge Jim Brady resigned his seat effective Aug. 31 to return to private practice. Brady, who lost his primary re-election bid, is appealing a reprimand by a judicial conduct commission.
- An appeals court last week upheld the constitutionality of city "barking dogs" ordinances by finding an Austin woman guilty of harboring barking dogs which annoyed neighbors.
- A July 21 bond sale to finance court-ordered prison construction was approved last week. New prisons will be built at Amarillo, Marlin and Woodville.

Jim Byrd, assistant chief of the Haskell volunteer fire department for a number of years, was named chief of the department at the annual election of officers Monday night. He succeeds Ray Lusk who has headed the fire department for the past 10 years. In a letter to the department, Chief Lusk asked that a successor be named to the post, in light of increasing duties with the highway department.

Membership of the City of Haskell in the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority was authorized by a majority vote of more than 3-to-1 in a confirmation election held Tuesday. The vote was 584 for and 176 against.

Plans have been announced by the Weinert Study Club for sponsoring a political rally to be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, June 28 at the Community Center in Weinert. All candidates for office in Haskell County will be mailed invitations to take part in the rally, and speaking time will be allotted to each candidate on the evening's program.

What is billed as a "World Champion All-Colored Rodeo" is scheduled to get underway here this afternoon for a three-night run.

A Lions Club 30-year chevron has been presented to Marvin H. Post of Denver City, who was the first president of the Haskell Lions Club when it was chartered in 1928.

A. L. (Ace) Davis has been appointed constable of precinct No. 1 to fill the vacancy created by the recent death of J. C. (Bob) Marlow.

One of the few early-day landmarks remaining in Haskell was destroyed last Sunday when fire spreading from burning weeds levelled a two-room frame house one block west of the county jail. The house, unoccupied in recent years, had stood for more than 70 years and was known to oldtimers as the "Grandma Posey" place. She died sometime in the early 20s and since then the house had deteriorated into a ramshackle structure. Albert English, who came here as a boy in 1889, remembers the small house as one of the few homes in Haskell at that time. Located on the west side of Spring Creek, it was occupied then by Grandma Posey, Mr. English recalls.

50 Years Ago June 10, 1938

Paul Roberts and Lynn Pace spent the weekend in Denton. Audra Gayle Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spain accompanied them home for a short visit in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fouts.

Proposed consolidation of the Irby and Douglas common school districts was vetoed by voters Saturday.

Mary Helen Baldwin, student at TSCW, Denton, is at home for the summer.

Crockett English, who has been attending the University of Texas, has returned home for the summer.

Marvin Letz, proprietor of the Letz Barber Shop, made a business trip to Austin the first of the week.

The first political rally of the current campaign will be held at O'Brien June 17. In addition to county and district candidates, several candidates for state offices have been invited to speak at the rally.

Mooreland Glass, student in Texas A&M College, is at home for the summer.

70 Years Ago June 22, 1918

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Atchison returned from College Station Tuesday where their son Earl is in training.

John Harwell of Post loaded his threshing machine Monday for shipment to Grayson County to make a run in that section.

S. B. Robertson, wholesale grain buyer of Stamford, was in the city Friday. He reports he has paid out to men in Haskell County several thousand dollars for empty sacks since the first of the year.

Mrs. R. C. Couch and two children left Monday for Colorado Springs where they will spend several days.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Davis of Sagerton were here Wednesday to hear Governor Hobby speak.

Ernest Poteet left for Austin last week to enter the State University for the summer. He was principal of Haskell High School during the past term.

80 Years Ago June 20, 1908

Expense of holding the general primary election July 25 has been prorated among candidates. Expenses ranged from $1 for the constable to $10 for county and district clerk, sheriff and tax collector and county superintendent.

J. J. Stein met a party of Germans at Stamford the early part of the week and showed them a large section of Haskell County, making a tour in his auto.

Miss Louise Lamar, who has been one of the operators here for the telephone company, left Monday to visit relatives at Graham.

Miss Dulin Fields went up to Munday last week to meet her sister, Miss May, who has been teaching at Willis Point.

90 Years Ago June 25, 1898

Work on the reunion grounds is progressing, and several loads of lumber arrived this week for use in building stands and otherwise improving the site.

Fred James, who has been attending school at Brownwood, got home this week.

Walter Wright got back Saturday from Indian Territory. He says he found plenty of grass and water and got his cattle located on a fine range.

Rev. C. C. Anderson, late of Virginia, who is to take charge of the Presbyterian Church will preach his first sermon here Sunday morning.

There is no little complaint among the freighters and others, who have to use the road from this place to Seymour, of the recent changing and fencing of the road which lengthens the distance some eight or ten miles, besides throwing it on worse ground and over rough crossings on a number of ravines. All this has been done in Baylor County.

Stamford playday to be on Saturday

The Stamford Junior Sheriff's Posse will host a play night Saturday, beginning at 7:30.

This will be a trophy play night and will be a change from the usual Sunday afternoon play day to Saturday night.

plain talk

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

A story in the Perryton Herald about a new bean processing plant to be constructed in that city reveals this startling statistic: "Texans consume 60 percent of all the pinto beans sold in the United States."

A recent scientific study of spelling problems concludes that good spelling is not related to intelligence or perseverance. Spelling is, in the words of the report, "just a basic neuromuscular ability."

Spelling rules are haphazard at best. Our language is a mixture of German, French, Spanish, native Indian, Dutch, Latin, and who knows what else.

The only certain way to learn to spell many words is to memorize the spelling. We have rules, but there are so many exceptions to them that they often become worthless. You know, "i before e, except after c"? Then there are all kinds of exceptions---neighbor, weigh, height, veil, vein, Heidenheimer's, etc.

George Bernard Shaw, known as a terrible speller, made excuses. He once said the word "fish" could be spelled "ghoti" if you used the gh from "enough", the o from "women" and the ti from "nation".

Many great writers were, and are, poor spellers. F. Scott Fitzgerald once wrote to his publisher and complained that one of his books had over 100 "misspellings" in it.

I had an English teacher who counted off just as much for wrong punctuation as she did for misspelled words. I never did get the connection, but she said punctuation was a form of spelling.

One of Mark Twain's New York publishers wrote the author and complained about his lack of punctuation in one of his manuscripts.

Samuel P. sent him back a typewritten page filled with periods, commas, quotation marks, semicolons, etc. "Use whatever punctuation symbols you deem necessary and throw away the rest," he penned on the side of the sheet.

As most Texans know, or should, the name of the city in Howard County is Big Spring (singular) and not Big Springs (plural).

But it's Big Springs Elementary School in Richardson.

It seems like years ago, but it's been only months since the 1988 presidential campaign started with the Iowa caucuses.

Remember? Bob Whathisname and Dick Who were the winners.

Crime doesn't pay: When Bud Lane decided to bypass channels to save 35 cents by "stealing" a copy of The Free Press from Bill Comedy's Suburban parked at Pogue's, the pilferage turned out to be an old issue.

Letting the presidential candidate choose his own running mate is an idea that has been around a long time--and with surprisingly good results.

In this century, four vice presidents who rose to the presidency after the death of the president have been liked well enough that they were elected to another term--Theodore Roosevelt, Calvin College, Harry Truman and Lyndon Johnson.

That's a much better record than presidents have had. During the same period, William H. Taft, Herbert Hoover and Jimmy Carter were defeated after one term.

Only vice president to become president in this century without getting a term of his own was Gerald Ford, who wasn't elected vice president in the first place.

This is quite a contrast from 19th century politics. Of the four vice presidents who took over after presidents died in the 1800s, not one could get elected to a full term (John Tyler, Millard Fillmore, Andrew Johnson and Chester A. Arthur).

The picture of Dr. Milford Howell which appeared on the front page last week, brought back memories to Tom Watson.

Tom said he bought a second-hand suit, his first, from Howell for $4. That was back when they were boys in Rule. Tom's dad worked for Milford's dad.

Thank you for reading The Haskell Free Press.

Heath Hudson

Hudson competes in high school rodeo

Heath Hudson, a May graduate of J. Earl Selz High School in Pilot Point, competed in the North Texas High School Rodeo Association (NTHSRA) finals held June 2-4 at the Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth.

Heath has been a member of the NTHSRA for four years, participating in tie-down calf roping, ribbon roping and chute dogging. More than 650 high school students from the North Texas area compete in the NTHSRA each year, rodeoing on weekends throughout the school year.

Twenty-eight rodeos were held this year between September and May. To qualify for the finals, a contestant must rank in the top 15 in the year's standings in an event. Heath ranked in the top 15 in all three of his events.

Attending the NTHSRA finals were Heath's grandparents, Ernest and Lil Peiser of Haskell. He also is the grandson of Nell Hudson of Benjamin and the late G. H. Hudson.

A gold hunter, Jimmy Angel, was the discoverer of the highest uninterrupted waterfall in the world (3,312 feet) when he flew through one of the canyons in southeastern Venezuela in 1935.

--Weinert--

By Myrtle Phemister

My Dear Friends:
I appreciated your very kind comments about this column, and I feel constrained to say "Thank You", publicly, but if I have any talent, as you say, it is a gift from God, and he alone deserves praise.

Many of you have said "It's like receiving a letter from home," and it warms my heart to think I have a small part in brightening your day. I try to keep each of you in mind as I attempt to convey the news from Weinert.

May God bless each of you today, and every day!
Very sincerely, Myrtle.

That dark cloud has hovered over us the past few days, and we have several who have been on the "sick" list.

Mrs. Joe Yates underwent surgery at the Stamford hospital last week. She is at home and doing well.

Heath Guess, son of Cindy and Hall Guess, fell from the pickup and almost broke his arm. He is wearing splints for a badly jammed bone.

Mitch Mayfield had some repair surgery done on his arm last week, caused from a basketball injury. He is back at work at the Weinert Grocery. You can't keep a good man down!

D. I. White, after attempts to restore life to the finger he lost in a farm accident failed, had surgery done at Humana Hospital on Friday to amputate the forefinger on his left hand. He is at home, but is in quite a lot of pain.

Faye Brian is almost her old happy self after suffering for years with her hand. The surgery she underwent in Ft. Worth has relieved the pain and she is able to use her hand more each week.

Chet and Jeanie Forehand enjoyed a visit from Chet's sister, Dorthea and Leroy Hix of Odessa. The Forehands will be with Jean's mother, Grace Skipworth when she undergoes hip surgery in San Angelo on Wednesday.

On June 11-12, fifty-four descendants of Ivy and Clara Cypert gathered at Lake Fort Phantom for their annual family reunion. Bobby and Rowena Hester hosted the affair at their lake home.

Those from Weinert who attended included Alice and Toby Yates, with their children Mary and Ed Murphy, Shanna and Lane; Joe and Karen Yates, with Jace, Dusty, and T.J.

Jerry and Wanda Hester, Laurie and Stacy were in the reunion party also.

Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Crump, pastor of the First Baptist Church, are attending the Southern Baptist Convention being held this week in San Antonio.

Betty and Bobby Raynes, with Michelle Johnson, Wade and Gay, Robin and Renetta Raynes all attended the memorial services for Jerry Weatherly which were held on Monday in Memphis, Texas.

Jerry is a former administrator of the Haskell hospital. He was killed in a plane crash near Elgin on Friday. They were very dear friends of the Raynes family.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sanders, with Kregg, Kent and Kole attended the wedding ceremony of her niece, Kristen Campbell and Christopher Grand, on Saturday, June 11.

The wedding was held at the East Side Baptist Church in Haskell.

Molly Estrada is enrolled in Midwestern University's summer session in Wichita Falls. She is the daughter of Julian and Andrea Estrada.

Christie Herricks, daughter of Saran and H. L. Guess is also taking some courses at Midwestern this summer.

Charlene and Bill Harlan of Houston is spending a few days with her parents, J. I. and Florence Alexander.

David, Greg and Marcus Phemister, of Round Rock were in town for a visit with relatives.

Marcus remained for a longer visit, and is attending the Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar, hosted by the San Angelo State University, this week.

Doyle Boykin, with sons, Tommy and Michael of Texas City were in town to visit with his mother and other relatives and attended his wife's family reunion held in Anson.

We welcome our very newest business to Weinert! Jace Yates, son of Joe and Karen, is organizing a paper route of Abilene Reporter News and service should begin by June 15th, and no later than July 1st.

Subscribers may call Jace for details.

We also welcome our newest resident! Sandra Mathison Nicholson with 7 year old son T., is moving back "home" from Houston. She is living in the Foursquare parsonage until her home can be built on the Mathison farm east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cypert of Odessa are spending a few days with his sister, Alice and Toby Yates.

Rene Vojkufka and her grandson, Cory Wood, are attending Bible Camp at Whispering Oaks Camp in Buffalo Gap.

Heather Guess, daughter of Hal and Cindy accompanied a group of young people from the Munday Church to the Baptist Encampment in Lueders this week.

We extend condolences to Gracie

Griffis, whose uncle Manford Reid, and is attending the Rochester on Monday.

Gracie and Donald with Darla are attending a seminar in Greenville, Mississippi this week. Dianne Carroll accompanied the Griffis family on the trip.

Guests in the Dale Carroll home include Darlene and Kerry Therwhanger of Megargel and Jason and Joshua Briles, Doris' nephews of Odessa.

Our birthday people this week includes Mabel Derr, Rene Vojkufka, and Francisco Diaz. Happy Birthday to all.

Congratulations to Mark and Kim Stewart, and Gilbert and Sophia Jimenez who are celebrating wedding anniversaries. Love you all!

CALL 864-2621 FOR APPOINTMENT

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Appointments may be made by calling 864-2621.

The Mobile Breast Cancer Detection Unit will be in Haskell on Friday, June 17th.

The American Cancer Society has established guidelines for a mammography in asymptomatic women. (Women who have no symptoms of disease). Those guidelines have been adopted by the American Academy of Family Physicians, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, and The American College of Radiology. Those guidelines are:

1. 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- II. 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- III. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- IV. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $50.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, VISA, MasterCard and American Express.

For more information or to make an appointment call 864-2621.

Pony team splits pair of games

The Haskell Pony League team played two games last week, losing to Aspermont 16-10 on Tuesday, but coming back Friday to defeat Rule, 32-7.

Jay Miller and Mark McMillin combined their pitching efforts in the loss to Aspermont and both got on base every time they batted.

The combined pitching of McMillin, Cody Josselet and Mark Jones gave Haskell its victory over Rule. Jay Miller hit two homeruns, while Mike Layland and Greg Williams each had one homerun.

Haskell will play Knox City there this week.
